THE ALL INDIA DIGEST, CRIMINAL

1836—1915.

SANJIVA ROW'S

ALL INDIA DIGEST

SECTION I—CRIMINAL: 1836—1915

REVISED AND BROUGHT UP-TO-DATE

BY

P. RAMANATHA IYER, B.A., B.L.,

First Grade Pleader, Trichinopoly, and

P. HARI RAO, B.A., B.L.,

High Court Vakil, Madras

AT THE LAWYER'S COMPANION OFFICE, TRICHINOPOLY AND MADRAS.

SECOND EDITION: IN TWO VOLUMES

Vol. I.—A to E.

PUBLISHED BY

T. A. VENKASAWMY ROW & T. S. KRISHNASAWMY ROW

PROPRIETORS, THE LAW PRINTING HOUSE AND THE LAWYER'S COMPANION OFFICE, TRICHINOPOLY AND MADRAS.

1915

[All Rights Reserved.]

K
R8834 S3
1915
V.1

PRINTED AT
THE LAW PRINTING HOUSE
MOUNT ROAD, MADRAS.

First Edition, 1910; Second Edition, 1915.

To

THE HON'BLE SIR CHARLES ARNOLD WHITE, Kt.,

BARRISTER-AT-LAW,

FORMERLY CHIEF JUSTICE OF THE HIGH COURT OF JUDICATURE, MADRAS, AND NOW MEMBER, COUNCIL OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA,

THIS WORK

IS

BY KIND PERMISSION
MOST RESPECTFULLY AND GRATEFULLY

DEDICATED.

CONTENTS.

	Page
Preface to the Second Edition	ix
Preface to the First Edition and Postscript	xi
List of Reports Digested	xvii
Abbreviations Explained	xix
Table of Headings, Sub-headings, and Cross-References ...	xxi
Digest of Cases	1

PREFACE TO THE SECOND EDITION.

Copies of the first edition of the Criminal Section of the late Mr. Sanjiva Row's All India Digest having been rapidly exhausted, it has been found necessary to bring out a second edition to satisfy the constant demand of the learned profession for the work.

In the preparation of this edition, opportunity has been taken to correct the few errors and to remove the few repetitions that were found in, and to make good the omissions of some cases unwittingly left out from, the first edition, and generally to revise the whole work in an exhaustive manner. The cross-references have been in several cases re-written, and have been made fuller. The notes of subsequent cases appended to each main case at its end have been brought completely up-to-date.

The names of parties to all the cases have, in this edition, been cited at the close of each main case in the body of the Digest. Also, two tables of cases, one containing the names of parties in their alphabetical order and the other containing, in numerical order, the volumes and pages of the Reports wherefrom the cases have been taken, are furnished at the end of the second volume.

The cases have been brought down to the end of 1915. A few cases, however, that appeared too late for insertion in the body of the Digest have been collected at the end of the second volume in the form of a supplement.

The Lawyer's Companion Office,
Trichinopoly and Madras.
Dated 8th November, 1915.

P. RAMANATHA IYER.
P. HARI RAO.

PREFACE TO THE FIRST EDITION.

In the year 1905, at the earnest call of many members of the legal profession, I undertook the issue of my Current Index. It has now run through a course of five years and has started upon the sixth year of its existence. I am glad to state that, since the publication was launched into existence, it has been acquiring a widely increasing popularity throughout the length and breadth of India and Burma. It focuses within its pages decisions of each and every province in India, so that the use of the book is not confined to this province or that, but extends to all the provinces in India, in short, wherever the laws of the country are administered; so much so that I have often had requisitions from my esteemed constituents in the various provinces to send them type-written copies of the cases to be found in some of the rarer original reports, which cannot be had in the libraries of their own provinces. While the profession appreciate the utility of the publication as keeping them in easy touch with all the latest case-law of the country, they have, for the last few years, been feeling, and justly, that, as the numbers of these annual digests increase, the task of hunting up references is becoming more and more troublesome and laborious, as it involves the consultation of a number of stray volumes—a trouble which the profession would always like to see as far minimised as possible. My constituents have, on the one hand, been asking me for the consolidation of my Current Indexes from the year 1905. On the other hand, they have been asking me to bring out a consolidated Digest from the earliest times up to date, since Woodman's Digest stops with 1900 and there has been no consolidation since then. In order, therefore, to minimise, to some extent at least, this inconvenience, I published in 1908 my "Triennial Key," which was intended to serve the purpose of the consolidation of the Current Indexes for the years 1905 to 1907, and had an idea of consolidating this "Triennial Key" from time to time as years rolled by. But, partly as the "Triennial Key" removed the difficulty, a small consolidation for three years went but a little way towards meeting this widely felt need.

The want of a consolidated Digest from the earliest times up to date being thus a standing grievance among the profession, I have, for some time past, been earnestly urged to bring out one on the lines of my Current Index. The only publication that professes to supply the place of a comprehensive digest is the time-honoured and well-renowned Digest of Woodman, not to speak of many other minor Digests of a limited and varying scope. But Woodman's Digest, great as may be its merits, is antiquated in many ways. In the first place, the consolidated edition of Woodman's Digest stops with 1900. And, though separate Digests have been, from time to time, published for the subsequent years, they stand isolated and without consolidation and there seems to be but little prospect of these Digests being consolidated and brought down to date. Besides, Woodman's Digest was compiled when Acts XIV of 1882, XV of 1877 and III of 1877, were in force; and the cases have been grouped under the sections of these old Acts. A practitioner, therefore, who has now to prepare his cases under Act V of 1908, Act IX of 1908 and Act XVI of 1908 will experience no small difficulty when he finds for his guide a book in which the cases have been arranged under the sections of the older and repealed Acts.

Again, Woodman's publication digests only a few of the reports that now form the available sources of information for the modern lawyer in respect of the Chartered High Courts. Reports, like the Madras Law Journal, the Madras Law Times, the Allahabad Law Journal, the Calcutta Law Journal and the Bombay Law Reporter, do not find a place in Woodman's Digest, not to mention works like Weir's Criminal Rulings and Ratanlal's Unreported Criminal Cases.

There is yet another point in which Woodman's Digest is also defective. Standard commentators of great renown embody in their works cases from the Punjab Record, the Oudh Cases, the Central Provinces and the Nagpur Law Reports and the Burma Law Reports. Of late years, a practice is also coming into existence for Judges of the Chartered High Courts to hear cited, in the arguments before them, decisions of the Chief Courts and the Courts of the Judicial Commissioners of the various provinces and to refer to them in their judgments. Vide I.L.R. 30 A. 334 (342), I.L.R. 34 C. 216 (220), 4 M.L.T. 404 (410), where cases of the highest Courts other than the Chartered High Courts have been referred to by the learned Judges of the several High Courts. Woodman's Digest has altogether left out of consideration cases decided by these Courts which find no place in it. The ever-increasing popularity of my Current Index is proof positive of the recognition of the above fact.

With the object of satisfying all these requirements, I set about, more than a year ago, compiling an "ALL INDIA DIGEST" from the earliest times up to date. Considering the gigantic nature of the task as well as the inadvisability of jumbling up the criminal and the civil cases together in one and the same volume or volumes, I have thought it expedient to separate the criminal from the civil cases and to issue separate volumes dealing with these distinct subjects, such of the cases having a two-fold aspect being given in both the criminal and the civil sections as well. The advantages of such a separation are obvious. The criminal cases will be contained in one handy and portable volume; the entire field of Criminal Law will be ready before the practitioner when he is conducting a case in the Criminal Courts. Such of the members of the profession as confine their practice to the Criminal Courts only, Magistrates, members of the Police Department and others similarly circumstanced, will be saved the expense of having to purchase the volumes containing the civil cases also.

It is but a small part of the work of a practitioner preparing his case to get at an authority for a certain position. To fix its exact value with reference to the case-law on the particular point is the next, but a more important and difficult, task. The value of the decisions of one High Court, in a case argued in a different High Court, by way of supporting or distinguishing a decision of the latter High Court, is incalculable. Even a mere observation, unconnected with the facts of the case, of a single Judge of the High Courts acquires very much the weight of a decided case, when such observation is cited with approval by their Lordships of the Privy Council. Again, even the Full Bench case of a particular High Court loses much of its value, when it has been constantly dissented from by all the other High Courts and distinguished in later cases by the same High Court. It has, therefore, been deemed essential to indicate, at the end of almost every case, whether it has been followed, referred to, or distinguished, etc., in subsequent cases. For similar reasons, it has also been found desirable to give, wherever possible, a list of such of the earlier cases as the later case has followed, referred to, distinguished, &c.

A rectangular bracket at the end of a case contains the subsequent cases, wherein such case has been followed, referred to, &c., whereas a circular bracket at the end of a case contains the previous cases which have been dealt with by such case. Examples :—1 B. 15 [D., 19 B. 105] means 1 B. 15 has been distinguished in 19 B. 105, see column 9; 15 P. R. 1901, Cr., (16 A. 437, 21 A. 263, F.), means that 16 A. 437 and 21 A. 263 have been followed by 15 P.R. 1901, Cr., see column 15; and 8 A. 18 (A.W.N., 1884, 37, A.W.N., 1885, 30, 7 B. 82, R.). [F., 7 C.P.L.R. 21, Cr.] means that A.W.N., 1884, 37, A.W.N., 1885, 30 and 7 B. 82 have been referred to in 8 A. 18 and that 8 A. 18 has been followed in 7 C.P.L. R. 21, Cr. The reader will thus be pleased to see the immense advantages offered by this publication. If he should light upon any one case on any subject, he will be able to understand the development of the case-law on the subject from the earliest times down to the present date—an advantage not to be had in any other publication known hitherto.

The cases will be brought down to June, 1910, and the "ALL INDIA DIGEST," as its title indicates, will contain all the cases from all the reports, official and non-official, in the country. (Vide list of Reports digested.)

Numerous cross-references have been given to facilitate the task of picking up authorities on any particular subject. The cases decided under an Act have been arranged under the sections of the latest Act on the subject, the corresponding sections of the older and repealed Acts being also given within brackets at the commencement of the sections.

I trust I have done almost everything that ingenuity can devise to make this book a work of ready reference and I believe I have spared no labour in achieving this end. I would consider my labours amply rewarded if the profession should generously appreciate the publication and humbly hope that it will also be of use to the Government in its great work of Legislation.

"MADHWA VILAS."
TEPPAKULAM P.O., TRICHINOPOLY.
Dated 19th April, 1910.

T. V. SANJIVA ROW.

POSTSCRIPT TO THE FIRST EDITION.

A WORD of explanation may be deemed necessary regarding the arrangement of the cases herein collected under the several headings and sub-headings. It was the desire of the late Mr. T. V. Sanjiva Row that the ALL INDIA DIGEST should be modelled on the lines of his Current Index of Indian Cases. The main principle which he endeavoured to follow in the compilation of this Digest has been to group all the cases coming under a legal conception, say Abetment, under that particular heading alone, and to give cross-references to the other headings under which such cases may fall, so that the reader may have the whole case-law on that conception at one and the same place in the Digest. But this, he found, was not always quite practicable. Owing to the nature of the subject, it has been considered desirable to group the cases dealing with the same subject, some under one heading and some under another, and to give cross-references to the other heading ; for instance, cases dealing with the subject, "Dispute as to possession of immoveable property," have been put, some under the heading "Criminal Procedure Code, 1898, s. 145," and some under the heading "Dispute as to possession of immoveable property," and vice versa, with cross-references to each other. The reader, therefore, who wishes to be exhaustive in his researches, will find the case or cases he may require by searching for them under all the headings under which they may be expected to appear.

The cases will be brought down to the end of the year 1910, though the original intention was to bring them only down to the end of June, 1910. An appendix will be added, which will contain all the cases that may appear too late to be inserted in the body of the Digest. The quantity of the Mss. having far exceeded the original estimate, the Criminal Section of the Digest has to be issued in two volumes.

For the sake of thoroughness and to help the reader in his investigations, it will be seen that, in the case of the various legislative enactments, a short historical survey, showing the effect of the later enactments on the earlier ones under consideration, has been appended to the Acts, Imperial and Local, wherever possible. In the preparation of this historical note, the latest Government editions of the Unrepealed Acts of the Imperial and the Local Legislatures have furnished the main guidance.

Two tables of cases have been given. One gives the list of the cases digested by the number and page of the volumes of the Reports in their chronological order and the other gives the list in the alphabetical order of the names of the cases.

"MADHWA VILAS,"
TEPPAKULAM P.O, TRICHINOPOLY.
Dated 26th November, 1910.

P. RAMANATHA IYER.
P. HARI RAO.

LIST OF REPORTS DIGESTED IN THE ALL INDIA DIGEST SECTION I—CRIMINAL.

No. of Volumes.	NAMES OF REPORTS.	Period.
3	Agra High Court Reports	1866—1868
1	Agra High Court Reports, Full Bench Volume	1866—1868
13	Allahabad Law Journal	1904—1915
28	Allahabad Weekly Notes	1881—1908
15	Bengal Law Reports	1868—1875
1	Bengal Law Reports Supplemental Volume	1862—1868
12	Bombay High Court Reports	1862—1875
3	Bombay Criminal Cases	1913—1915
17	Bombay Law Reporter	1899—1915
1	Bourke's Reports	1865
22	Calcutta Law Journal	1905—1915
13	Calcutta Law Reports	1877—1884
19	Calcutta Weekly Notes	1896—1915
17	Central Provinces Law Reports	1886—1904
1	Coryton's Reports	1862—1863
16	Criminal Law Journal of India...	1904—1915
31	Criminal Rulings of the Bombay High Court	...
2	Hay's Reports	1862—1863
2	Hyde's Reports	1863—1864
29	Indian Cases	1909—1915
2	Indian Jurist, New Series	1862
2	Indian Jurist, Old Series	1866—1867
37	Indian Law Reports, Allahabad Series	1876—1915
39	Indian Law Reports, Bombay Series	1876—1915
42	Indian Law Reports, Calcutta Series	1876—1915
38	Indian Law Reports, Madras Series	1876—1915
3	Joy Gobind Shome's Reports	...
3	Knapp's Reports	...
42	Law Reports, Indian Appeals	1868—1915
1	Law Reports, Indian Appeals, Supplemental Volume	1872—1873
2	Law Weekly	1914—1915
1	Lower Burma Selected Judgments	1872—1892
1	Lower Burma Printed Judgments	1893—1900
7	Lower Burma Rulings	1900—1915
8	Madras High Court Reports	1862—1875
11	Madras Jurist	...
29	Madras Law Journal	1891—1915
18	Madras Law Times	1906—1915
7	Madras Weekly Notes	1910—1915
1	Marshall's Reports	1862—1863
14	Moore's Indian Appeals	1836—1872
15	Moore's Privy Council Cases	...
11	Nagpur Law Reports	1905—1915
7	North-West Provinces High Court Reports...	1869—1875
18	Oudh Cases	1898—1915
1	Oudh Select Cases	...
16	Punjab Law Reporter	1900—1915
50	Punjab Record	1866—1915
10	Punjab Weekly Reporter	1906—1915
1	Ratanlal's Unreported Criminal Cases	1862—1898
8	Sind Law Reporter...	1907—1915
8	Saraswati's Privy Council Judgments	End of 1906
2	Sutherland's Privy Council Judgments	1831—1874
26	Sutherland's Weekly Reporter	1864—1876
1	Sutherland's Weekly Reporter Full Bench Volume	1862—1863
1	Sutherland's Weekly Reporter Gap Number	1864
1	Upper Burma Rulings	1892—1896
1	Upper Burma Rulings	1897—1901
1	Upper Burma Rulings	1902—1903
12	Upper Burma Rulings	1904—1915
2	Weir's Crimiual Rulings	...
746

ABBREVIATIONS EXPLAINED.

REPORTS.

A.	Indian Law Reports, Allahabad Series.
Agra.	Agra High Court Reports.
A. L. J.	Allahabad Law Journal.
A. W. N.	Allahabad Weekly Notes.
B.	Indian Law Reports, Bombay Series.
B. H. C.	Bombay High Court Reports.
B. L. R.	Bengal Law Reports.
Bom. Cr. C.	Bombay Criminal Cases.
Bom. L. R.	Bombay Law Reporter.
Bourke.	Bourke's Reports.
Bur. L. R.	Burma Law Reports.
Bur. L. T.	Burma Law Times.
C.	Indian Law Reports, Calcutta Series.
C. L. J.	Calcutta Law Journal.
C. L. R.	Calcutta Law Reports.
C. P. L. R.	Central Provinces Law Reports.
C. W. N.	Calcutta Weekly Notes.
Cor.	Coryton's Reports.
Cr. Rg.	Bombay Criminal Rulings.
Cr. L. J.	Criminal Law Journal.
Hay.	Hay's Reports.
Hyde.	Hyde's Reports.
I. A.	Law Reports, Indian Appeals.
Ind. Cas. or I. C.	Indian Cases.
Ind. Jur. N. S.	Indian Jurist, New Series.
Ind. Jur. O. S.	Indian Jurist, Old Series.
J. G.	Joy Gobind Shome's Reports.
Knapp.	Knapp's Reports.
L. B. R.	Lower Burma Rulings.
L. W.	Law Weekly.
M.	Indian Law Reports, Madras Series.
Marsh.	Marshall's Reports.
M. H. C.	Madras High Court Reports.
M. I. A.	Moore's Indian Appeals.
M. J.	Madras Jurist.
M. L. J.	Madras Law Journal.
M. L. T.	Madras Law Times.
Moo. P. C. C.	Moore's Privy Council Cases.
M. W. N.	Madras Weekly Notes.
N. L. R.	Nagpur Law Reports.
N. W. P. H. C. or N. W. P.	North-West Provinces High Court Reports.
O. C.	Oudh Cases.
O. L. J.	Oudh Law Journal.
P. L. R.	Punjab Law Reporter.
P. R.	Punjab Record.
P. W. R.	Punjab Weekly Reporter.
Rat. Un. Cr. C.	Ratanlal's Unreported Criminal Cases.
Sar.	Saraswati's Privy Council Judgments.
S. C. Oudh.	Select Cases, Oudh.
S. L. R.	Sind Law Reporter.
Suth.	Sutherland's Privy Council Judgments.
U. B. R.	Upper Burma Rulings.
W. R.	Sutherland's Weekly Reporter.
Weir.	Weir's Criminal Rulings.

OTHER ABBREVIATIONS.

Appl.	Applied.
Appr.	Approved.
Cons.	Considered.

D. or Distd.	Distinguished.
Disc.	Discussed.
Diss.	Dissented from.
Exp.	Explained.
F.	Followed.
(F. B.)	Full Bench.
Obs.	Observed on.
(P. C.)	Privy Council.
R. or Refd. to.	Referred to.
Rel. on.	Relied on.
(S. B.)	Special Bench.

N.B.— In the Punjab Record and the Punjab Law Reporter, and also in the Punjab Weekly Reporter, the cases are known by their numbers and not by the pages where they are printed; (e.g.) 4 P. R. 1910, Cr., would mean Case No. 4 Cr., in the Punjab Record of 1910. The same explanation applies to the Punjab Law Reporter as well as to the Punjab Weekly Reporter also. It has also to be remarked that the Punjab Record, the Punjab Law Reporter and the Punjab Weekly Reporter, have been divided into two sections, Civil and Criminal.

TABLE
OF
HEADINGS, SUB-HEADINGS AND CROSS-REFERENCES.

The headings and sub-headings under which the cases are arranged are printed in this table in Capitals, and the sub-headings in Small Capitals. The cross-references are printed in ordinary type.

ABANDONMENT OF CHILDREN ... 1
ABATEMENT OF APPEAL ... 3
Abatement of Nuisance ... 4
ABATEMENT OF PROSECUTION ... „
ABATEMENT OF REVISION ... „
ABDUCTION ... „
ABETMENT ... 6
ABETTOR ... 27
Abkari ... 28
Abkari Officer ... „
Absconding ... „
ABSCONDING OFFENDER ... „
Absence ... 34
Absentee Co-sharer ... „
Abuse ... „
Abusive Language ... 35
ACCEPTING INSTRUMENT NOT DULY STAMPED ... „
ACCESSORY ... „
Accident ... „
Accident, Fatal ... „
ACCOMPLICE ... „
1.—GENERAL ... „
2.—ACCOMPLICE EVIDENCE—JUDGE'S CHARGE TO JURY 41
3.—ACCOMPLICE EVIDENCE—NECESSITY FOR CORROBORATION ... 43
Account Books ... 60
ACCOUNTS ... „
ACCUSED PERSON ... „
ACKNOWLEDGMENT ... 85
Acknowledgment of Debt ... „
ACQUIESCENCE ... „
Acquisition of Land for Public Purposes „
ACQUITTAL ... 86
ACTS ... 93
1.—IMPERIAL ACTS. ... „
Act II of 1839 (Fines by Magistrates) ... „
ACT V OF 1840 (OATHS) ... „
ACT X OF 1841 (INDIAN REGISTRATION OF SHIPS) .. 93
ACT XI OF 1841 (MILITARY COURTS OF REQUESTS) ... „
ACT XIV OF 1843 (INLAND CUSTOMS—AGRA) ... 94
ACT XXIX OF 1845 (JOINT ZILLA AND SESSIONS JUDGES) ... „
Act I of 1846 (Legal Practitioners) ... „
ACT XX OF 1847 (INDIAN COPYRIGHT) ... „
Act XXI of 1848 (Wagers) ... 95
ACT I OF 1849 (OFFENCES IN FOREIGN STATES) ... „
ACT XVIII OF 1850 (JUDICIAL OFFICERS' PROTECTION) ... 96
ACT XXI OF 1850 (CASTE DISABILITIES REMOVAL) ... 99
ACT XXVI OF 1850 (IMPROVEMENTS IN TOWNS) ... 100
Act XXXIV of 1850 (State Prisoners) ... 102
Act XXXVII of 1850 (Public Servant Inquiries) ... „
Act VIII of 1851 (Indian Tolls) ... „
ACT VII OF 1853 (JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATES) ... 103
Act XIX of 1853 (Recusant Witnesses)... „
ACT VII OF 1854 (FUGITIVE FOREIGN OFFENDERS) ... „
ACT XVII OF 1854 (POST OFFICES)... 104
ACT XVIII OF 1854 (RAILWAYS) ... „
Act II of 1855 (Evidence) ... 106
Act XIII of 1855 (Indian Fatal Accidents) 107
ACT XXII OF 1855 (PORTS AND PORT-DUES) ... „
Act XXXVI of 1855 (Contraband Salt) ...
Act XV of 1856 (Hindu Widows' Remarriage) ... „
ACT III OF 1857 (CATTLE TRESPASS) ... „

Act V of 1857 (Oriental Gas Company) ... 109
Act VI of 1857 (Acquisition of land for Public Purposes) ... „
ACT XI OF 1857 (STATE OFFENCES) „
ACT XIII OF 1857 (OPIUM) ... 110
ACT XXV OF 1857 (FORFEITURE)... 111
ACT X OF 1858 (CONFISCATION, ETC., FOR REBELLION) ... 113
ACT XXXVI OF 1858 (INDIAN LUNATIC ASYLUMS) ... „
ACT I OF 1859 (MERCHANT SHIPPING) ... „
Act VIII of 1859 (Code of Civil Procedure) ... 114
Act IX of 1859 (Forfeiture) ... 115
ACT XIII OF 1859 (WORKMAN'S BREACH OF CONTRACT) ... „
Act XIV of 1859 (Limitation) ... 149
ACT XXVII OF 1860 (COLLECTION OF DEBTS ON SUCCESSIONS) ... „
ACT XXXI OF 1860 (ARMS) ... 150
Act XXXII of 1860 (Income-tax) ... 152
ACT XXXVI OF 1860 (STAMPS) .. „
ACT V OF 1861 (POLICE) ... „
ACT IX OF 1861 (MINORS) ... 164
Act X of 1861 (Repealing Enactments relating to Civil Procedure) ... 165
ACT XVI OF 1861 (STAGE CARRIAGES) ... „
Act XXIII of 1861 (Code of Civil Procedure) ... 166
ACT XXIX OF 1861 (NATIVE ARTICLES OF WAR) ... „
ACT X OF 1862 (STAMP-DUTIES) ... „
ACT XV OF 1862 (AMENDING THE CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE) ... 168
ACT XVII OF 1862 (REPEALING ENACTMENTS RELATING TO CRIMINAL LAW) ... „
ACT XVIII OF 1862 (CRIMINAL PROCEDURE SUPREME COURTS)... 169
ACT XX OF 1863 (RELIGIOUS ENDOWMENTS) ... 171
ACT III OF 1864 (FOREIGNERS) ... „
ACT VI OF 1864 (WHIPPING) ... 172
ACT XIII OF 1864 (EMIGRATION OF NATIVE LABOURERS) ... 187
ACT XXII OF 1864 (MILITARY CANTONMENTS) ... 188
ACT V OF 1865 (INDIAN MARRIAGE). 189
ACT VII OF 1865 (GOVERNMENT FORESTS) ... 190
Act XI of 1865 (Mofussal Small Cause Courts) ... 190
ACT XIII OF 1865 (HIGH COURTS' CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE AMENDMENT) ... „
ACT XX OF 1865 (PLEADERS, MOOKTEARS AND REVENUE AGENTS) ... „
Act VIII of 1866 (Criminal Procedure)... 194
ACT XIV OF 1866 (INDIAN POST OFFICE) ... „
ACT XX OF 1866 (INDIAN REGISTRATION) ... 195
ACT III OF 1867 (PUBLIC GAMBLING) ... 197
ACT XII OF 1867 (PRESIDENCY JAILS) ... 214
ACT XXI OF 1867 (LICENSING PROFESSIONS AND TRADES)... „
ACT XXV OF 1867 (PRESS AND REGISTRATION OF BOOKS) ... 215
ACT XXIX OF 1867 (AMENDING ACT XXI OF 1867) ... 219
ACT I OF 1868 (GENERAL CLAUSES) 220
Act VIII of 1868 (Repealing Act, 1868)... 221
ACT IX OF 1868 (TAXING PROFESSIONS AND TRADES) ... „
ACT XIV OF 1868 (CONTAGIOUS DISEASES) ... 222
Act IV of 1869 (Divorce) ... 223
Act VIII of 1869 (Code of Criminal Procedure Amendment) ... „
ACT IX OF 1869 (INCOME-TAX) ... 224
ACT XV OF 1869 (PRISONERS' TESTIMONY) ... 225
ACT XVIII OF 1869 (GENERAL STAMPS) ... 226
ACT XXII OF 1869 (GARO HILLS) ... 228
Act XXIII of 1869 (Income-tax) ... „
ACT VII OF 1870 (COURT FEES) ... „
ACT VIII OF 1870 (FEMALE INFANTICIDE PREVENTION) ... 235
ACT XI OF 1870 (INDIAN WEIGHTS AND MEASURES) ... 236
Act XII of 1870 (Native Passenger Ships) „
ACT XXVI OF 1870 (PRISONS) ... „
ACT XXVII OF 1870 (INDIAN PENAL CODE AMENDMENT) ... 237
ACT I OF 1871 (CATTLE-TRESPASS)... „
ACT IV OF 1871 (CORONERS) ... 247
Act V of 1871 (Prisoner's) ... 249
ACT VIII OF 1871 (REGISTRATION). „
Act IX of 1871 (Limitation) ... „
ACT X OF 1871 (EXCISE) ... 250

ACT XXV OF 1871 (RAILWAY ACT AMENDMENT) ... 252
ACT XXVII OF 1871 (CRIMINAL TRIBES) ... „
ACT XXXI OF 1871 (WEIGHTS AND MEASURES OF CAPACITY) ... 253
Act I of 1872 ... 254
ACT VI OF 1872 (OATHS) ... „
ACT IX OF 1872 (CONTRACT) ... „
Act X of 1872 (Crim. Pro. Code) ... 259
ACT XI OF 1872 (FOREIGN JURISDICTION AND EXTRADITION) „
ACT XV OF 1872 (CHRISTIAN MARRIAGE) ... 260
ACT XIX OF 1872 (PENAL CODE AMENDMENT) ... 262
ACT VIII OF 1873 (NORTHERN... INDIA CANAL AND DRAINAGE) „
ACT X OF 1873 (OATHS) ... 263
Act IV of 1874 (Foreign Recruiting) ... 271
ACT XI OF 1874 (CRIMINAL PROCEDURE AMENDING ACT X OF 1872) ... „
ACT XIV OF 1874 (SCHEDULED DISTRICTS) ... „
Act XV of 1874 (Laws Local Extent) ... 274
ACT XVI OF 1874 (REPEALING ACT) „
Act IX of 1875 (Indian Majority) ... 275
ACT X OF 1875 (ADVOCATE GENERAL'S POWERS) ... „
ACT XII OF 1875 (INDIAN PORTS)... 278
ACT V OF 1876 (REFORMATORY SCHOOLS) ... „
Act XVI of 1876 (Stage Carriages Act, 1861, Amendment) ... 281
Act XIX of 1876 (Dramatic Performances) ... 282
ACT I OF 1877 (SPECIFIC RELIEF) „
Act III of 1877 (Registration) ... 285
ACT IV OF 1877 (PRESIDENCY MAGISTRATE'S COURT-FEES) 292
Act X of 1877 (Code of Civil Procedure) 295
ACT XV OF 1877 (LIMITATION) ... „
ACT I OF 1878 (OPIUM) ... 300
ACT VI OF 1878 (TREASURE TROVE) 321
ACT VII OF 1878 (FOREST) ... 322
ACT VIII OF 1878 (SEA CUSTOMS) ... 330
ACT XI OF 1878 (ARMS) ... 331
ACT XVII OF 1878 (NORTHERN INDIA FERRIES) ... 356
ACT I OF 1879 (STAMP) ... 357
ACT IV OF 1879 (RAILWAYS) ... 369
ACT XIV OF 1879 (HACKNEY CARRIAGE) ... 371
ACT XVIII OF 1879 (LEGAL PRACTITIONERS) ... 372
ACT XXI OF 1879 (FOREIGN JURISDICTION AND EXTRADITION) 390
ACT III OF 1880 (CANTONMENT) ... 394
ACT IV OF 1880 (PORTUGUESE TREATY) ... 396
ACT XII OF 1880 (KAZIS) ... 397
ACT XIII OF 1880 (VACCINATION)... „
ACT V OF 1881 (PROBATE AND ADMINISTRATION) ... 398
ACT XV OF 1881 (INDIAN FACTORIES) ... „
Act XVI of 1881 (Obstruction in Fairways) ... 401
ACT XXII OF 1881 (EXCISE) ... „
Act IV of 1882 (Transfer of Property) ... 405
Act V of 1882 (Easements) ... 406
ACT VI OF 1882 (COMPANIES) ... „
Act VIII of 1882 (Indian Penal Code Amendment) ... 410
Act XI of 1882 (Indian Tariff) ... „
ACT XII OF 1882 (SALT) ... „
ACT XIV OF 1882 (CODE OF CIVIL PROCEDURE) ... 411
ACT XV OF 1882 (PRESIDENCY SMALL CAUSES COURTS) ... 414
ACT XX OF 1882 (INDIAN PAPER CURRENCY) ... 415
ACT XXI OF 1883 (EMIGRATION) ... „
ACT III OF 1884 (CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE AMENDMENT) ... 417
ACT IV OF 1884 (EXPLOSIVES) ... 418
ACT VI OF 1884 (STEAM-VESSELS) 419
Act VI of 1885 (Excise Amending Act XXII of 1881) ... 420
ACT XIII OF 1885 (TELEGRAPH) ... „
ACT II OF 1886 (INCOME TAX) ... „
ACT XI OF 1886 (TRAMWAYS) ... 421
ACT XII OF 1886 (PETROLEUM) ... 422
ACT I OF 1887 (GENERAL CLAUSES) „
Act IX of 1887 (Provincial Small Causes Courts) ... „
ACT IV OF 1889 (MERCHANDISE MARKS) ... „
ACT X OF 1889 (PORTS) ... 425
ACT XIII OF 1889 (CANTONMENTS) „
ACT XV OF 1889 (OFFICIAL SECRETS) ... 427
ACT VIII OF 1890 (GUARDIANS AND WARDS) ... „
ACT IX OF 1890 (RAILWAYS) ... 428
ACT XI OF 1890 (PREVENTION OF CRUELTY TO ANIMALS) ... 443

ACT IV OF 1891 (CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1882, AMENDMENT ACT) ... 445
Act IX of 1891 (Merchandise Marks and Sea Customs Acts Amendment) ... „
ACT XVIII OF 1891 (BANKER'S BOOKS EVIDENCE) ... 446
ACT I OF 1894 (LAND ACQUISITION) „
ACT IX OF 1894 (PRISONS) ... 447
ACT III OF 1895 (CRIMINAL LAW AMENDMENT) ... 448
Act VIII of 1895 [Police Act (1861) Amendment] ... „
Act VI of 1896 (Penal Code Amendment) ... 449
Act XI of 1896 (Legal Practitioners) ... „
ACT XII OF 1896 (EXCISE) ... „
Act II of 1897 (Criminal Tribes Amendment) ... 463
ACT III OF 1897 (EPIDEMIC DISEASES) ... „
ACT IV OF 1897 (FISHERIES). ... 464
ACT VIII OF 1897 (REFORMATORY SCHOOLS) ... 465
ACT X OF 1897 (GENERAL CLAUSES) 475
ACT VI OF 1898 (POST OFFICES) ... 476
ACT II OF 1899 (STAMP) ... 478
ACT VIII OF 1899 (PETROLEUM) ... 483
ACT III OF 1900 (PRISONERS) ... „
ACT V OF 1900 (WHIPPING) ... 484
ACT XV OF 1903 (EXTRADITION) ... „
ACT III OF 1907 (PROVINCIAL INSOLVENCY) ... 487
Act V of 1908 (Code of Civil Procedure). 488
Act VI of 1908 (Explosives) ... 489
ACT VII OF 1908 (NEWSPAPERS, INCITEMENTS TO OFFENCES) 490
Act IX of 1908 (Limitation) ... „
ACT XIV OF 1908 (CRIMINAL LAW AMENDMENT) ... 491
ACT III OF 1909 (PRESIDENCY TOWNS INSOLVENCY) ... 492
ACT IV OF 1909 (WHIPPING) ... 493
ACT I OF 1910 (PRESS) ... „
Act II of 1911 (Patents and Designs) ... 498
ACT V OF 1912 (PROVIDENT INSURANCE SOCIETIES) ... „
Act VII of 1913 (Companies). ... „

2.—BENGAL ACTS. ... 499

Act IV of 1840 (Affrays, Bengal) ... „
ACT I OF 1848 (FORGERY, BENGAL). „
ACT XI OF 1849 (ABKARI, CALCUTTA) ... 499
Act XVIII of 1852 (Pleaders, Lower Provinces) ... „
ACT XXXVII OF 1855 (SANTHAL PARGANAS) ... „
ACT XXI OF 1856 (ABKARI, BENGAL) ... 500
ACT XXI OF 1857 (HOWRAH OFFENCES) ... 502
Act II of 1858 (Port Dues, Cuttack) ... 503
ACT X OF 1859 (RENT) ... „
ACT XXII OF 1860 (CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS) ... „
ACT IX OF 1862 (REGISTRATION OF DEEDS) ... 504
ACT III OF 1863 (TRANSPORT OF NATIVE LABOURERS) ... „
ACT VI OF 1863 (CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY) ... „
ACT III OF 1864 (DISTRICT MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENT) ... 505
ACT V OF 1864 (CANALS) ... 508
ACT VII OF 1864 (SALT) ... „
ACT VI OF 1865 (TRANSPORT OF NATIVE LABOURERS) ... 510
ACT VII OF 1865 (BENGAL MUNICIPAL SLAUGHTER-HOUSES AND MEAT MARKETS) ... 511
Act I of 1866 (Ferries, amending Bengal Regulation VI of 1819) ... „
Act II of 1866 (Calcutta Suburban Police) „
ACT IV OF 1866 (CALCUTTA POLICE) 512
Act VI of 1866 [Calcutta Municipality (amending Ben. Act VI of 1863).]... 515
ACT II OF 1867 (GAMBLING) ... „
Act VI of 1868 (District Towns) ... 519
ACT VIII OF 1869 (LANDLORD AND TENANT PROCEDURE). ... „
ACT VI OF 1870 (VILLAGE CHAUKDARI) ... 520
ACT VI OF 1871 (BENGAL CIVIL COURTS ACT) ... 521
ACT II OF 1872 (JUTE WAREHOUSE AND FIRE BRIGADE) ... „
ACT V OF 1875 (BENGAL SURVEY). 522
Act I of 1876 (Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces) ... „
ACT IV OF 1876 (CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL CONSOLIDATION) ... „
ACT V OF 1876 (BENGAL MUNICIPALITY) ... 524
ACT VII OF 1876 (LAND REGISTRATION) ... „

ACT VIII OF 1876 (ESTATE'S PARTITION) ... 525
ACT VII OF 1878 (BENGAL EXCISE AND LICENSING) ... 526
Act IX of 1880 (Cess) ... 530
Act IV of 1881 (Excise Amendment) ... 531
ACT II OF 1882 (EMBANKMENT) ... „
ACT III OF 1884 (MUNICIPAL) ... 532
ACT I OF 1885 (FERRIES) ... 540
ACT III OF 1885 (LOCAL SELF-GOVERNMENT) ... „
ACT VIII OF 1885 (BENGAL TENANCY) ... 542
ACT II OF 1888 (CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL CONSOLIDATION) ... 544
ACT II OF 1889 (PRIVATE FISHERIES PROTECTION) ... 548
ACT I OF 1892 (VILLAGE CHAUKIDARI AMENDMENT) ... „
ACT I OF 1895 (PUBLIC DEMANDS RECOVERY) ... 549
Act I of 1889 (Bengal General Clauses)... „
ACT III OF 1899 (CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL) ... „
ACT VI OF 1901 (ASSAM LABOUR EMIGRATION) ... 565
ACT III OF 1903 (BENGAL MOTOR-CAR AND CYCLE) ... 566
Act VII of 1905 (Bengal and Assam Laws). „
ACT III OF 1906 (BENGAL DISORDERLY HOUSE) ... 567
ACT II OF 1907 (EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM DISORDERLY HOUSES) ... „
ACT V OF 1909 (EXCISE) ... 568
ACT I OF 1910 (EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM EXCISE) ... 572
Act III of 1910 (Calcutta and Suburban) „
ACT VIII OF 1912 (BENGAL, BIHAR, ORISSA AND ASSAM LAWS) ... „

3.—BOMBAY ACTS. ... 573

ACT XXVII OF 1837 (SALT) ... 573
ACT XIX OF 1838 (COASTING VESSELS, BOMBAY) ... 574
Act XI of 1843 (Hereditary Officers, Bombay) ... „
ACT XI OF 1846 (KHANDESH AND AHMEDNAGAR) ... „
ACT XXXI OF 1850 (SALT REVENUE, BOMBAY) ... 575
ACT XXXV OF 1850 (FERRIES, BOMBAY) ... 576
ACT III OF 1852 (SPIRITUOUS LIQUORS, BOMBAY) ... 576
ACT XIII OF 1856 (POLICE, PRESIDENCY TOWNS) ... „
ACT XLVIII OF 1860 (POLICE, PRESIDENCY TOWNS, AMENDING ACT XIII OF 1856) ... 577
ACT V OF 1862 (BHAGDARI AND NARWADARI TENURES) ... 579
Act V of 1863 (Gas Companies) ... „
ACT VI OF 1863 (PUBLIC CONVEYANCES) ... 580
ACT IX OF 1863 (COTTON-FRAUDS). 582
ACT II OF 1864 (CIVIL AND CRIMINAL JUSTICE, ADEN) ... „
ACT V OF 1864 (MAMLATDARS' COURTS) ... 584
ACT I OF 1865 (SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT) ... 585
Act II of 1866 (Divesting Revenue—Courts of Certain Suits) ... „
ACT III OF 1866 (GAMBLING) ... „
ACT VIII OF 1866 (SALE OF POISONS) 587
ACT XII OF 1866 (COURTS, SINDH). „
ACT III OF 1867 (BOMBAY CANTONMENT) ... „
ACT VII OF 1867 (BOMBAY DISTRICT POLICE) ... 590
ACT VIII OF 1867 (VILLAGE POLICE) 595
ACT II OF 1868 (BOMBAY FERRIES) 600
Act IV of 1868 (City Surveys and Survey and Settlement Amendment Act) ... „
ACT III OF 1872 (BOMBAY MUNICIPAL ACT) ... „
ACT VI OF 1873 (BOM. DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES) ... 601
ACT VII OF 1873 (SALT) ... 612
ACT I OF 1874 (TRAMWAYS) ... 613
ACT II OF 1874 (JAILS) ... „
Act III of 1874 (Hereditary Offices) ... „
ACT III OF 1876 (MAMLATDARS' COURTS) ... 614
Act IV of 1878 (Bom. Municipal Act, Amendment and Continuance) ... „
ACT V OF 1878 (BOM. ABKARI) ... „
ACT VII OF 1878 (BOM. COTTON FRAUDS) ... 629
ACT V OF 1879 (BOMBAY LAND REVENUE CODE) ... „
ACT VII OF 1879 (BOMBAY IRRIGATION) ... 632
ACT XVII OF 1879 (DEKKHAN AGRICULTURISTS' RELIEF) ...

ACT II OF 1884 (DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES AMENDMENT) ... 633
ACT III OF 1886 (GENERAL CLAUSES) „
ACT IV OF 1887 (PREVENTION OF GAMBLING) ... 634
ACT III OF 1888 (CITY OF BOMBAY MUNICIPAL) ... 644
ACT I OF 1890 (GAMBLING, AMENDING BOM. ACT IV OF 1887) ... 655
ACT II OF 1890 (SALT) ... 656
ACT IV OF 1890 (DISTRICT POLICE) 657
ACT II OF 1891 (BOMBAY BOILER INSPECTION) ... 662
Act I of 1901 [Salt (amending Bom. Act II of 1890)] ... „
ACT III OF 1901 (DISTRICT MUNICIPALITY) .. „
ACT IV OF 1902 (CITY OF BOMBAY POLICE) ... 666
Act I of 1904 (General Clauses) ... 669
ACT II OF 1904 (MOTOR VEHICLES) „
ACT II OF 1906 (MAMLATDAR'S COURTS) ... 670

4.—BURMA ACTS. „

ACT II OF 1873 (FERRIES) ... „
ACT VII OF 1875 (BURMA FISHERIES) ... „
ACT XVII OF 1875 (BURMA COURTS) 671
ACT II OF 1876 (LAND AND REVENUE ACT) ... „
ACT XIII OF 1877 (EMBANKMENT) 672
ACT II OF 1880 (BURMA DISTRICT CESSES AND RURAL POLICE) „
ACT V OF 1880 (BOUNDARIES) ... 673
ACT XIX OF 1881 (FOREST) ... „
ACT XVI OF 1884 (GAMING) ... 674
ACT XVII OF 1884 (MUNICIPALITY) „
Act XX of 1886 (Upper Burma Laws) .. 675
ACT III OF 1889 (LOWER BURMA VILLAGE) ... „
ACT XI OF 1889 (LOWER BURMA COURTS) ... 678
ACT IX OF 1892 (LOWER BURMA TOWNS) ... „
ACT II OF 1898 (FERRIES) ... 679
ACT III OF 1898 (MUNICIPALITY). „
ACT I OF 1899 (GAMBLING) ... 684
ACT IV OF 1899 (RANGOON POLICE) 698
Act II of 1900 (Burma Vaccination Law Amendment) ... 699
Act I of 1901 (Lower Burma Land and Revenue Act Amendment) ... „
Act IV of 1901 (Lower Burma Courts Act (1900) Amendment) ... „
Act II of 1904 (Towns and Village-Laws Amendment) ... 699
ACT VI OF 1907 (VILLAGE) ... „
ACT I OF 1909 (VACCINATION LAW AMENDMENT) ... „

5.—CENTRAL PROVINCES ACTS. 700

ACT XI OF 1873 (CENTRAL PROVINCES MUNICIPAL) ... „
Act XVIII of 1881 (Land-Revenue Act). „
ACT XVIII OF 1889 (C.P. MUNICIPALITY) ... „
ACT II OF 1904 (C. P. COURTS) ... 701

6.—MADRAS ACTS. 702

Act XXIV of 1839 (Ganjam and Vizagapatam) ... „
ACT XVII OF 1840 (SALT LAWS, MADRAS) ... „
Act IV of 1842 (Boat Regulations, Madras Roads) ... „
ACT IX OF 1846 (BOATS IN HARBOURS, MADRAS) ... „
ACT I OF 1858 (COMPULSORY LABOUR, MADRAS) ... 703
ACT XXIV OF 1859 (POLICE, MADRAS) ... 704
Act I of 1863 (Subordinate Magistrates, Second Class) ... 711
ACT II OF 1864 (RECOVERY OF ARREARS OF REVENUE) ... 712
ACT III OF 1864 (ABKARI) ... „
Act IV of 1864 (Cess in lieu of Village Fees) ... 716
ACT III OF 1865 (OFFENCES AGAINST SPECIAL AND LOCAL LAWS) ... „
Act V of 1865 (District Police Amendment) ... „
ACT X OF 1865 (TOWNS IMPROVEMENT) ... „
ACT I OF 1866 (CANTONMENT) ... 717
ACT VII OF 1867 (MADRAS PORT DUES) ... „
ACT III OF 1869 (REVENUE SUMMONSES) ... 718
Act VIII of 1869 (Madras Inams) ... 720
ACT III OF 1871 (TOWNS IMPROVEMENT) ... „
ACT IV OF 1871 (LOCAL FUNDS)... 723
ACT VI OF 1871 (SALT EXCISE ACT, MADRAS) ... „
ACT III OF 1878 (LICENSE) ... 724

ACT V OF 1878 (CITY OF MADRAS MUNICIPALITY) ... 724
ACT VIII OF 1878 (COFFEE-STEALING PREVENTION) ... 725
Act V of 1879 (Abkari Laws Amendment). „
ACT I OF 1882 (SALT LAWS AMENDMENT) ... „
ACT V OF 1882 (FOREST) ... 726
ACT I OF 1884 (CITY MUNICIPALITY) ... 734
ACT IV OF 1884 (DISTRICT MUNICIPALITIES) ... 736
ACT V OF 1884 (LOCAL BOARDS)... 748
Act I of 18-5 (Police, Amending Act XXIV of 1859) ... 751
ACT III OF 1885 (OUT-PORTS LANDING AND SHIPPING FEES) ... „
ACT I OF 1886 (ABKARI) ... „
ACT III OF 1888 (CITY POLICE) ... 757
ACT III OF 1889 (TOWNS NUISANCES) ... 758
ACT IV OF 1889 (SALT) ... 762
ACT III OF 1890 (LOCAL BOARDS AND RENT RECOVERY AMENDMENT) ... „
Act III of 1897 (District Municipalities Amendment) ... 763
ACT I OF 1900 (MALABAR COMPENSATION FOR TENANTS' IMPROVEMENTS) ... „
Act VI of 1900 (Local Boards Amendment) ... „
ACT I OF 1903 (PLANTERS' LABOUR). „
ACT III OF 1904 (CITY MUNICIPALITY) ... „
ACT I OF 1907 (MOTOR VEHICLES) 767
ACT II OF 1907 (HILL MUNICIPALITIES) ... „
ACT I OF 1908 (ESTATES LAND) ... „

7.—PUNJAB ACTS. ... 768

ACT XXI OF 1856 (EXCISE) ... „
ACT XV OF 1867 (MUNICIPAL COMMITTEES, PUNJAB, OUDH, CENTRAL PROVINCES) ... „
ACT IV OF 1872 (PUNJAB LAWS) ... „
ACT IV OF 1873 (MUNICIPAL) ... 772
ACT XIII OF 1884 (MUNICIPAL ACT). 773
ACT XVIII OF 1884 (PUNJAB COURTS) 776
ACT XVII OF 1887 (PUNJAB LAND REVENUE) ... 777
ACT XX OF 1891 (PUNJAB MUNICIPALITIES) ... 778
ACT I OF 1903 (PUNJAB MILITARY TRANSPORT ANIMALS) ... 785
ACT IV OF 1904 (NORTH-WEST BORDER MILITARY POLICE) ... „
ACT III OF 1911 (PUNJAB MUNICIPAL) ... 786
ACT V OF 1912 (COLONIZATION OF GOVERNMENT LANDS) ... „

8.—UNITED PROVINCES ACTS. ... „

ACT VI OF 1868 (MUNICIPAL IMPROVEMENTS) ... „
ACT XV OF 1873 (N.W.P. AND OUDH MUNICIPALITIES) ... 787
ACT XVI OF 1873 (VILLAGE AND ROAD POLICE) ... 788
Act XVIII of 1873 (Agra Rent) ... „
ACT XIX OF 1873 (AGRA LAND REVENUE) ... 789
ACT XV OF 1883 (UNITED PROVINCES MUNICIPALITIES) ... „
ACT I OF 1891 (UNITED PROVINCES WATER-WORKS) ... 791
ACT I OF 1892 (U. P. LODGING HOUSE) ... 792
Act III of 1892 (Village Courts) ... „
ACT I OF 1895 (MUNICIPALITIES, AMENDING ACTS XV OF 1873 AND XV OF 1883) ... „
ACT I OF 1900 (U.P. MUNICIPALITIES ACT, 1900) ... „
ACT II OF 1901 (AGRA TENANCY) ... 802
ACT III OF 1901 (U.P. LAND REVENUE) ... „
ACT IV OF 1910 (EXCISE) ... 803
ACT II OF 1911 (MOTOR VEHICLES) „
Acting Judge of the High Court ... „
Actionable Claim ... „
Actionable Wrong ... „ Act, Construction of ... „ ACT OF STATE ... „
Actor ... 804
ADDITIONAL DISTRICT MAGISTRATE ... „
Additional Evidence ... „
Additional Fine ... „
Additional Judge ... „
ADDITIONAL SESSIONS JUDGE ... 805
Addition of Charge ... „
ADEN ... „
Aden Courts Act ... 806
Aden Laws ... „
ADJOURNMENT ... „
Administrator-General ... 809

ADMISSION ... 809
Adoption ... 812
Adulterated Mustard Oil ... „
Adulteration ... „
Adulteration of Food ... „
ADULTERY ... „
Advance ... 817
Adverse Possession ... „
Advertisement ... „
Advocacy ... „
Advocate ... „
ADVOCATE-GENERAL ... „
Advocate-Generals' Powers Act ... 818
Aerated-Waters ... „ AFFIDAVIT ... „
Affirmation ... 819
AFFRAY ... „
Affrays, Bengal ... 820
Afghans ... „
AFRICA ORDER IN COUNCIL, 1889, 1892, 1893 ... „
Age ... „
AGENCY TRACTS (GANJAM) ... „
AGENT ... 821
Aggrieved Person ... „
Agra ... „ Agreement .. „
Agricultural Purposes ... „
Agriculturist's Relief, Dekhan ... 822
Ahmednagar and Khandesh ... „
Air-gun ... „
Akbar's Coin ... „
ALIBI ... „
Alluvial Land ... „
ALTERATION ... „
Alteration of Charge ... 823
Alteration of Conviction ... „
Alteration of Judgment ... „
Alteration of Register ... „
ALTERATION OF SENTENCE ... „
Alternative Charges ... „
Alternative Conviction ... 824
ALTERNATIVE FINDING ... „ Alternative Plea ... „
Alternative Sentence ... „
Alyasantana Law ... 825
AMEEN ... „
Amending Act XXI of 1867 ... „
Amending Act II of 1890, Bombay ... „
Amending the Code of Criminal Procedure ... „ Amendment ... „
Amendment of Charge ... „
Amendment, Railway Act ... „
American Law ... 825
AMERICANS ... „
Amin ... „
Amins, Munsifs, Sadar Amins and Principal Sadr ... „
Ammunition ... 826
Angling ... „
ANIMALS ... „
Animals, Punjab Military Transport of.. „ Anonymous Communication ... 827
Anonymous Petition ... „
Ante-dating Sentence ... „
Apostacy ... „ APPEAL ... „
1.—GENERAL ... „
2.—CASES WHERE APPEAL LIES. 849
3.—CASES WHERE APPEAL DOES NOT LIE ... 852
4.—ACTS ... 856
5.—APPEAL FROM ACQUITTAL ... 859
6.—APPEAL—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE ... 869
7.—APPEAL TO PRIVY COUNCIL... 873
Appearance ... 878
Appellant ... „
APPELLATE COURT ... „
APPLICATION TO HIGH COURT ... 887 Apprentice ... „
APPROVER ... „
ARBITRATION ... 900
Arbitrator ... „
ARMS ... „
Army ... 901
Arrack Shop ... „ ARREST ... „
Arrest of Judgment ... 908
Articles of War, Native ... „
Artificer ... „
ARTISAN ... „
Assam ... „
Assam Forest ... „
Assam Frontier Tracts ... „
Assam Labour and Emigration Act ... „ ASSAULT ... „
Assessment ... 911
ASSESSORS ... „
ASSISTANT SESSIONS JUDGE ... 917
Asylums ... 918
ATTACHMENT ... „
ATTEMPT ... 919
ATTENDANCE OF WITNESSES ... 930
Attestation ... „
Attorney ... „
Auction Sale ... „

AUTREFOIS ACQUIT, PLEA OF	...	930
AUTREFOIS CONVICT, PLEA OF	...	933
Award	...	"
BAD CHARACTER	...	"
BAIL	...	934
BAIL BOND	...	943
Bailiff	...	944
Balance Sheet	...	945
Ballads	...	"
Bamboos	...	"
Bank	...	"
BANKER	...	"
Banker and Customer	...	"
Bankers' Books Evidence Act	...	"
Barrister	...	"
BAR TO PROSECUTION	...	"
Bar to Trial	...	"
Basini	...	946
BASTARDY PROCEEDINGS	...	"
Bathing	...	"
Battle-axe	...	"
Bazaar	...	"
Beating	...	"
Beggar	...	"
Begin, Right to	...	"
Benami Transactions	...	"
BENCH OF HONORARY PRESIDENCY MAGISTRATES	...	"
BENCH OF MAGISTRATES	...	"
BENEFIT OF DOUBT	...	951
Benefit Society	...	952
Bengal Acts	...	"
Bengal Regulations	...	"
Berar Criminal Code	...	"
BERAR MUNICIPAL LAW, 1886	...	"
Berar Penal Code	...	953
Betel	...	"
BETTING		"
Bhagdari and Narwadari Tenures	...	"
BICYCLE	...	"
Bidding at auction	...	"
BIGAMY	...	"
Billiard Saloons	...	960
Bill in Legislative Council	...	"
Birds	...	"
Blackart	...	"
Blood Stains	...	"
Blow	...	961
Board of Revenue	...	"
Boat	...	"
Boatman	...	"
Boat Rules	...	"
Boats in Harbours, Madras	...	"
BOAT THEFT	...	"
Boiler Inspection Act (Bombay) as applied to Berar	...	961
BOMB	...	"
Bombay Acts	...	"
Bombay and Madras Land Customs Act.		"
Bombay Regulations	...	"
Bombay Supreme Court	...	"
Bona fide claim of right	...	962
BONA FIDES	...	"
Bond	...	"
Book of Science	...	"
Books	...	"
Books, Bankers Books, evidence	...	"
Books, Press and Registration of	...	"
Booth	...	"
Boundaries Act	...	"
Boundary Officer	...	963
Boy	...	"
Boycott	...	"
Brake Van	...	"
Branding	...	"
Breach of Bond	...	"
Breach of Contract	...	"
Breach of Contract of Service	...	"
Breach of Contracts, Workman's	...	"
Breach of Etiquette	...	"
BREACH OF THE PEACE	...	"
Breach of Trust	...	964
BRIBE	...	"
BRIBERY	...	965
Bricks	...	967
Bridges	...	"
Brief	...	"
British Baluchistan	...	"
British Baluchistan Criminal Justice	...	"
British Born Subject	...	"
British Courts	...	"
British India	...	"
British Indian Subject	...	"
British Seaman	...	"
British Subject	...	968
Broker	...	"
Brothel	...	"
BUDDHIST LAW	...	"
1.—GENERAL	...	"
2.—DIVORCE	...	"
3.—MAINTENANCE	...	"
4.—MARRIAGE	...	"
Buddhist Woman	...	969
BUILDING	...	"
Building Sites	...	970
Bull	...	"
Bullock	...	971
Bund	...	"

BURDEN OF PROOF ... 971
Burglary ... 974
Burial ... „
BURIAL GROUND ... „
Burma Acts ... „
Burma Courts ... „
BURMA FOREST ACT, 1902 ... 975
Burman ... „
Burma Regulations ... „
Burning Ghat ... „
Burning Ground ... „
Bustee Land ... „
Butchers ... „
BYE-LAW ... „
Calcutta Acts ... 976
Calcutta Supreme Court ... 977
CALENDAR ... „
Canal and Drainage, Northern India, Act ... „ Canals ... „
Canals Act ... „
Canara Forest Rules ... „
Cancellation ... „
Cancelling Order ... „
Canongoe ... „
CANTONMENT CODE, 1899 ... „
CANTONMENT MAGISTRATE ... 985
Cantonment Officer ... „
CANTONMENT RULES ... „
Cantonments Act ... 986
Cantonments, Military ... „
Capital Cases ... „
Capital Sentence ... „
Capitation Tax ... „
Carcase ... „
Cards ... „
Carelessness ... „
Carriage, Hackney ... „
Carriages, Stage ... „ Carrier ... „
Cart ... 987
Cart-men ... „
Cartridge ... „
Cart Stand ... „
Case-diary ... „
Cash ... „
CASTE ... „
Caste Disabilities Removal ... 988
Casting Vote ... „ Cattle ... „
Cattle Lifting ... „
Cattle Pen ... „
CATTLE THEFT ... „
CATTLE TRESPASS ... 989
Census Register ... 989
Central Provinces Acts ... „
Central Provinces Courts ... „
Central Provinces, Municipal Committees, Punjab, Oudh ... „
Central Provinces Municipality ... 990
CERTIFICATE ... „
Certificate of Administration ... „
Certificate by Political Agent ... „
Certified Copies ... „
CERTIORARI, WRIT OF ... „
Cess ... 992
Cesses and Rural Police, District ... „
Cess in lieu of Village Fees ... „
Cesspool ... „
Chairman ... „
Chairman Delegate of Municipality ... 993
Chairman of Local Board ... „
Chairman of Municipality ... „
"Chandul" ... „
Chanks ... „
Channel ... „
Character ... „
CHARGE ... „
1.—GENERAL ... 994
2.—ADDITION OF CHARGE ... 1005
3.—ALTERATION OF CHARGE ... 1006
4.—ALTERNATIVE CHARGE ... 1009
5.—AMENDMENT OF CHARGE ... „
6.—EXPLANATION OF CHARGE ... 1010
7.—FORM OF CHARGE ... 1011
8.—FRAMING OF CHARGE ... 1017
9.—WITHDRAWAL OF CHARGE ... „
Charge Sheet ... 1018
CHARGE TO JURY ... „
1.—GENERAL ... „
2.—MISDIRECTION ... 1024
Charitable Endowments ... 1047
Charm ... „
Charter-party ... „
Chaukidar ... 1048
CHEATING ... „
1.—GENERAL ... „
2.—FALSE PERSONATION ... 1061
Chemical Examiner ... 1065
CHEMICAL EXAMINER'S REPORT. „
Chewing Betel ... 1066
CHHAVI ... „
Chief Constable ... „
Chief Court ... „
Chief Court (Burma) ... „
Chief Court Circular No. 849 G, dated 15th February, 1900 ... „
CHIEF JUSTICE, POWERS OF ... „

CHILD ... 1066
Child Wife ... 1067
Child Witness ... 1068
China and Corea Order in Council, 1904. „
Chin Hills ... „
Chittagong Hill Tracts ... „
Chittas ... „
Cholera ... „
CHOWKIDAR ... „
Chowkidar, Village ... 1069
Chowkidari Village amending Bengal Act VI of 1870 ... „
Christian ... „
Christian Marriage ... „
CIRCULAR ORDER ... „
CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE ... „
City Municipality .. 1071
City of Bombay Municipality ... „
City of Madras Municipality ... „
City Police ... „
City Survey and Settlement Amendment Act ... „
Civil and Criminal Justice, Aden ... „
Civil and Criminal Proceedings ... „
Civil Appeal ... „
Civil Courts ... 1072
Civil Courts Act, Bengal ... „
Civil Dispute ... „
Civil Law ... „
Civil Procedure, Arrears of Rent ... 1073
Civil Procedure Code ... „
Civil Rights ... „
CIVIL SUIT ... „
Civil Surgeon ... „
Civil Trespass ... „ Claim ... „
Clasp Knife ... „
"Clearing" ... „
Clerk ... „
Cloths ... 1074
CO-ACCUSED ... „
Coasting Vessels, Bombay ... „ Cobra ... „
Cocaine ... „
COCK-FIGHTING ... 1075
Co-defendants ... „
Code of Civil Procedure ... „
Code of Criminal Procedure Amendment. „
Codification .. „
Coercion ... „
Coffee stealing Prevention ... „
COGNISABLE OFFENCE ... „
COGNISANCE OF OFFENCE ... 1076
Co-habitation ... 1077
COIN ... 1077
Collection of debts on Successions ... 1078 COLLECTOR ... „
Collectorate Pedah ... 1079
COMMISSION ... „
Commission Agent ... 1081
Commissioner ... „
Commitment ... „
COMMITMENT TO SESSIONS COURT 1082
Committal ... 1103
Committing Magistrate ... „
Common Assembly ... „
Common Carriers ... „
Common Gaming House ... 1104
Common Intention ... „
Common Object ... „
Communication ... 1105
Commutation of Sentence ... „ Company ... „
Companies Act ... „
Companies, Gas ... „
Comparison of Native Seals ... „
Comparison of Signatures ... „
Compartment ... „
COMPENSATION ... 1106
1.—GENERAL ... „
2.—TO ACCUSED ... 1129
3.—TO COMPLAINANT AND HIS RELATIVES ... 1133
COMPLAINANT ... 1139
COMPLAINT ... 1141
1.—GENERAL ... „
2.—WHAT IS, AND WHO SHOULD INSTITUTE ... 1143
3.—INSTITUTION OF COMPLAINT —PRELIMINARIES ... 1149
4.—PROCEDURE ON RECEIPT OF COMPLAINTS ... 1155
5.—DISMISSAL OF COMPLAINT ... 1163
6.—WITHDRAWAL AND REVIVAL OF COMPLAINT ... 1176
Compoundable Offence ... 1183
COMPOUNDING OFFENCE ... „
COMPROMISE ... 1192
Compulsory Labour ... 1193
Compulsory Labour, Madras ... „
Concealment of Birth ... „ Conception ... „
Concubinage ... „
Concubine ... „
Concurrent Finding of Fact ... „
Concurrent Sentences ... „
Conditional Order ... „
Conduct ... „

CONFESSION ... 1193
1.—GENERAL .. 1194
2.—CONFESSIONS MADE TO POLICE OFFICERS ... 1205
3.—CONFESSIONS TO MAGISTRATES — ADMISSIBILITY — RECORD OF CONFESSIONS... 1217
4.—CONFESSIONS OBTAINED BY INDUCEMENT, THREAT, ETC. 1239
5.—RETRACTED CONFESSIONS ... 1244
6.—CONFESSIONS BY CO-ACCUSED —ADMISSIBILITY ... 1258
7.—MISCELLANEOUS ... 1274
Confinement ... 1277
Confirmation of Sentence ... „
CONFISCATION ... 1278
Confiscation, etc., for Rebellion ... 1280
Confiscation of Salt ... „
Conflicting Claims ... 1281
CONJECTURE ... „
Conjugal Rights, Restitution of ... „ Consecutive Sentences ... „ CONSENT ... „
Conservancy Mohurrir ... „
Conservancy Rules (Forests and Jungles) „
Consideration ... 1282
CONSPIRACY ... „
Constables ... 1291
Construction of Act ... „
Construction of Documents ... „
Construction of Statutes ... „
Constructive Murder ... „
Constructive Possession ... 1292
CONSULAR COURT ... „
Contagious Disease ... „
CONTEMPT OF COURT ... „
CONTEMPT OF LAWFUL AUTHORITY ... 1310
CONTINUING OFFENCE ... 1311
Contraband Salt ... „ CONTRACT ... „
Contract Act ... 1312
Contract, Breach of ... „ Contractor ... „
Contract, Workman's Breach of ... „ Contradictory Depositions ... „
CONTRADICTORY STATEMENTS ... „
Contributory Negligence ... 1313 Convenience ... „
CONVERSION ... „
Conveyances, Public ... 1314
CONVICT ... „ CONVICTION ... „
Convict Warder ... 1323
Cook ... 1323
Cook's Knife ... „
Cooly ... „
Cooly Sirdar ... „
Co-owners ... „
Co-prisoner ... „
COPY ... „
Copy of Judgment ... 1325
Copyright ... „
CORONER ... „
Coroner's Act ... „
Coroner's Inquest ... „ Corporation ... „ Corpse ... „
CORPUS DELICTI ... 1326
Correction ... „
CORROBORATION ... „
Corroborative Evidence ... 1327
Co-sharers ... „
COSTS ... „
Cotton Frauds ... 1329
Councillor ... „
Council of Elders ... „
Counsel ... „
COUNTER CASE ... 1330
Counter Charge ... „
Counterfeiting ... „
COUNTERFEITING COIN ... „
Counterfeiting Government Stamp ... 1333
COUNTERFEITING TRADE-MARK. „
COURT ... 1334
COURT, DUTY OF ... 1336
COURT FEES ... „
Court Fees Act ... 1337
Court Fees, Presidency Magistrates Act. „
Court Inspector ... „
Court of competent Jurisdiction ... „
Court of Record ... „
Court of Wards ... „
Courts, Bengal Civil Courts Act ... „
Courts, Burma ... „
Courts, Central Provinces ... „
Courts, Mamlatdars' ... „
Courts of Requests, Military ... „
Courts, Presidency Small Causes ... „
Courts, Punjab ... 1338
Courts, Village ... „
Cow ... „
Cowdung ... „
COWRIES ... „
CRABS ... „
Credible Information ... „
Creditor ... „
Cremation ... 1339

Cremation Ground ... 1339
Crimes and Offences ... „
Crimes Regulation, Punjab Frontier ... „
Criminal and Civil Justice, Aden ... „
CRIMINAL BREACH OF CONTRACT. „
CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST ... „
CRIMINAL CASE ... 1353
CRIMINAL COURTS ... 1355
CRIMINAL FORCE ... „
CRIMINAL INTIMIDATION ... „
Criminal Justice Regulation ... 1359
Criminal Justice, Upper Burma (Amending Reg. VII of 1886) ... „
Criminal Justice, Upper Burma (Amending Reg. V of 1892) ... „
Criminal Law ... „
Criminal Law Amendment Act ... „
Criminal Law, Repealing enactments relating to ... „ CRIMINAL MISAPPROPRIATION ... „
Criminal Procedure Amendment Act ... 1368
CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT XXV OF 1861) ... „
CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT X OF 1872) ... 1371
CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT X OF 1882) ... 1375
CRIMINAL PROCEDURE CODE (ACT V OF 1898) ... 1376
Criminal Procedure Code, 1882 (Amendment Act) ... 2267
Criminal Procedure Code (Amendment) ... „
Criminal Procedure Code (Amendment—High Courts) ... „
Criminal Procedure (Supreme Courts Act) ... „
CRIMINAL PROCEEDINGS ... 2268
CRIMINAL PROSECUTION ... 2273
Criminal Rules of Practice (Madras) ... „
CRIMINAL STATEMENTS ... 2274
CRIMINAL TRESPASS ... „
Criminal Trial ... 2293
Criminal Tribes ... „
Crops ... „
Cross Cases ... „
CROSS COMPLAINTS ... 2294
CROSS-EXAMINATION ... „
CROWN ... 2296
CROWN GRANTS ... 2297
Cruelty ... „
Cruelty to Animals ... „
Cruelty to Animals (Prevention of, Act).. „
Cul-de-sac ... „
CULPABLE HOMICIDE ... „
Culpable Homicide amounting to Murder ... 2303
CULPABLE HOMICIDE NOT AMOUNTING TO MURDER ... „
Cumulative and Separate Sentences ... 2312
Currency—Indian Paper Currency ... „
Currency Notes ... „
Custody ... 2313
CUSTODY OF CHILDREN ... „
Custody of Minor ... 2314
Custody of Wife ... „
CUSTOM ... „
Customary Right ... „
Customs House ... „
Customs Officers ... 2315
Dacoit ... „
DACOITY ... „
Daffadar ... 2322
Dagger ... „
Daily Fine ... „ Dam ... „
DAMAGES ... „
Dancing Girls ... 2324
Danger ... „
Dangerous Building ... „
Dangerous Weapon ... „
Dashe-upyat ... „
Datura ... „
Deadly Weapon ... „
DEAF AND DUMB PERSON ... „
Deaf Mute ... 2326
DEATH ... „
Death by Negligence ... 2327
Death of Party ... „ Debt ... „
Debtor ... „
DEBTOR AND CREDITOR ... „
Debts, Collection of, on Succession ... 2328
Debutter Estate ... „ Decision ... „
Declaration ... „
DECLARATORY DECREE, SUIT FOR ... „ Decree ... „
Decree, Construction of ... „ Decree-holder ... 2329
Decree nisi ... „
Decree, not inter partes ... „
Deeds, Registration of ... „ De-facto Holder ... „ DEFAMATION ... „
Default ... 2364
Default in giving security ... „
DEFENCE ... 2365

Defence Witness ...	2365
Defile ...	,,
Defraud ...	,,
Dekhan Agriculturists' Relief Act ...	,,
DELAY ...	,,
Delay in claiming maintenance ...	2366
Delegation of authority of public servant ...	,,
Delegation of authority, powers or functions ...	,,
Delusion ...	2367
Demeanour ...	,,
Demon ...	,,
Departmental Enquiry ...	,,
Departmental Punishment ...	2368
DEPOSITION ...	,,
Deputy Collector ...	2369
Deputy Collector, Jurisdiction of ...	,,
DEPUTY COMMISSIONER ...	,,
Deputy Commissioner of Police ...	,,
Deputy Tahsildar ...	,,
Deserter ...	,,
Destruction of Records ...	,,
Destruction of Unstamped Document ...	,,
Detective ...	,,
Detention ...	,,
DETENTION OF ACCUSED BY POLICE ...	,,
DETENTION IN CUSTODY ...	,,
Devils ...	,,
Dewan ...	2371
Dhatura Poisoning ...	,,
Diary ...	,,
Dictionary ...	,,
Directors ...	,,
Disabilities Removal, Caste ...	,,
Disaffection ...	,,
Disapprobation ...	,,
Discharge ...	,,
DISCHARGE OF ACCUSED ...	,,
Discrepancies in evidence ...	2384
Discrepancies in oral evidence ...	,,
DISCRETION ...	,,
Discretion of Magistrate ...	2387
Disease ...	,,
Diseases, Contagious ...	,,
Diseases, Epidemic ...	,,
Dishonest Intention ...	,,
DISHONESTY ...	,,
DISMISSAL FOR DEFAULT ...	,,
Dismissal of Appeal ...	,,
DISMISSAL OF COMPLAINT ...	,,
DISOBEDIENCE ...	2390
Disobedience of Order ...	,,
Disorderly House Act ...	2390
Disposal ...	,,
Disposal of Dead Body ...	,,
DISPOSAL OF PROPERTY ...	,,
DISPUTE AS TO POSSESSION OF IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY ...	2391
DISQUALIFICATION OF MAGISTRATES ...	2467
Distance ...	2468
Distinct Offences ...	,,
Distraint ...	,,
DISTRESS ...	,,
District Board ...	2469
District Cesses and Rural Police ...	,,
DISTRICT JUDGE, JURISDICTION OF ...	,,
DISTRICT MAGISTRATE ...	2470
DISTRICT MAGISTRATE AND COLLECTOR ...	2476
District Magistrate, Jurisdiction of ...	,,
DISTRICT MAGISTRATE, POWERS OF ...	,,
District Municipal Improvements Act ...	2477
District Municipalities Acts ...	,,
District Municipalities Amendment Acts.	,,
District Munsiff ...	,,
District Police Act ...	2478
District Registrar ...	,,
Disturbance ...	,,
Divisional Court ...	,,
DIVISIONAL MAGISTRATE ...	,,
Division Bench ...	,,
DIVORCE ...	,,
DOCUMENT ...	2479
Document, Inspection of ...	,,
Document, Production of ...	,,
Domestic Servants ...	,,
Dominoes ...	,,
Doors ...	,,
DOUBLE CONVICTION ...	2480
DOUBT ...	,,
Drain ...	,,
Drainage ...	2481
Drainage, Northern India Canal ...	,,
Drainage Water ...	,,
Dramatic Performances ...	,,
Driving ...	,,
Drug ...	,,
Drunkenness ...	,,
Dumb Person ...	,,
Dunlop's Proclamation ...	,,
DURESS ...	,,
Duty of Magistrate ...	2482
Duty on Opium and Spirits ...	,,

DYING DECLARATION ... 2482
Earth ... 2483
EASEMENT ... „
Easements Act ... 2484
Eastern Bengal and Assam Disorderly Houses Act ... „
Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction ... „
Effigy ... „
EJECTMENT, SUIT FOR ... „ Ejusdem Generis ... „
Elephant ... 2485
Elephant Driver ... „
Emasculation ... „
Embankment ... „
Embankments Act ... „
Embezzlement ... „
Emergent Order ... „
Emigrant ... „
Emigration Act ... „
Emigration, Assam Labour Act ... „
Emigration of Native Labourers Act ... „
ENCROACHMENT ... „
Endowments, Religious Act ... 2487
Engine ... „
Engineer ... „
English Decisions ... „
ENGLISH LAW ... „
ENGLISH MEN ... 2488
English Practice ... „
English Translation ... „
Enhancement of Sentences ... „
Enquiry ... „
ENTICING AWAY MARRIED WOMAN ... 2489
Entry ... 2491
Epidemic Diseases Act ... „
Epilepsy ... „
ERRATUM ... „
Error ... „
Escaped Prisoner ... „
ESCAPE FROM LAWFUL CUSTODY ... „
Estates Partition Act ... 2499
Estoppel ... „
European British Soldier ... „
EUROPEAN BRITISH SUBJECT ... „
Europeans ... 2503
European Soldier ... 2504
EVIDENCE ... „
1.—GENERAL ... „
2.—ADMISSIBILITY OF EVIDENCE. 2535
3.—NON-ADMISSIBILITY OF EVIDENCE ... 2537
4.—CHARACTER EVIDENCE ... 2542

EVIDENCE—concluded.
5.—DYING DECLARATION ... 2545
6.—EXPERT EVIDENCE ... 2549
7.—GENERAL REPUTE ... 2551
8.—HEARSAY EVIDENCE ... 2552
9.—MEDICAL EVIDENCE ... 2553
10.—REFRESHING MEMORY ... 2555
11.—STATEMENTS MADE TO POLICE ... 2556
Evidence Act ... 2558
EVIDENCE ACT (I OF 1872) ... „
Evidence Bankers, Books Act ... 2664
Evidence of Prisoners ... „
EVIL SPIRITS ... „
Exaggeration ... „
Examination ... „
EXAMINATION OF ACCUSED ... „
Examination of Complainant ... 2668
EXAMINATION OF WITNESS ... „
Examination Papers ... 2669
Exchange ... „ EXCISE ... „
Excise Act ... „
Excise (Amendment) Act ... „ Excise Collector ... „
Excise Officer ... 2670
Exclusion of Time ... „
Excommunication ... „
EXECUTION ... „
Execution of Decree ... „
Execution of order for Maintenance ... 2671
EXECUTION PROCEEDINGS ... „
Executive Order ... „
Executive Officers ... „
Executive, Powers of the ... „ EXECUTIVE PROCEEDINGS ... „
Exemption from Personal Attendance ... 2672
Exercising Evil Spirits ... „
Exhibits ... „
EXPARTE ORDER ... „
Ex-parte Proceedings ... „
Expenses of Witnesses ... „
EXPERT ... „
Expert Evidence ... „
Expiry of Sanction ... „
Explanation of Charge ... „
Explosives Act ... 2673
Extension of Time ... „
EXTORTION ... „
Extradition ... 2676
Extradition Act ... „
Extradition and Foreign Jurisdiction Act ... „

SANJIVA ROW'S
ALL INDIA DIGEST
1836—1915.

Section I.—Criminal—Vol. I.

Abandonment of Children.

(1)—When abandonment is offence—Penal Code, s. 317—Object of section.—The real object of s. 317, Penal Code, is the prevention of the abandonment or desertion by a parent of his or her children of tender years in such a manner that children, not being able to take care of themselves, may run the risk of dying or being injured. CRIMINAL REVISION OF PROCEEDINGS IN THE CASE OF FELANI HARIANI, 16 W.R. Cr. 12. [R., 24 M. 662].

(2)—Intention of wholly abandoning child is gist of offence.—The gist of the offence, under s. 317, Penal Code, is the exposure or leaving of the child in any place with the intention of wholly abandoning it; and the manner of exposure or leaving and the consequences likely to ensue from it are not essential ingredients of the offence under the Indian Law, though they may often be properly taken into consideration in estimating its gravity and in apportioning the sentence. KING-EMPEROR v. ANTAKKEE, 24 M. 662 = 1 Weir 332. (16 W.R. Cr. 12, 18 A. 364, R.)

(3)—Intention of abandoning child.—Under s. 317, Penal Code, the only intention required to complete the offence is an intention of wholly abandoning the child. It is not necessary that there should be an intention to abandon the child so as to endanger its life. In re BOYA SUNKULAMMA, 1 Weir 331.

(4)—Leaving child near place of public resort—Penal Code, ss. 307 and 317—Attempt to murder.—A mother would be liable to be punished under s 317, and not under s. 307, Penal Code, although she left her child in a place which was quite close to a village and also near a public road where it was, in fact, shortly after discovered. EMPEROR v. KUNDAN, A.W.N. 1903, 43.

(5)—Leaving child near a road—Murder.—A newly-born child was left by its mother in an enclosure near a road not far from the village, was there discovered by a passer-by and shortly after breathed its last. Held that the mother could not be convicted of murder, the child not having been left on a barren heath or in an unfrequented place, but of an offence under s. 317, Penal Code. MOSST. NANKEE v. CROWN, 23 P.R. 1866, Cr.

(6)—Death remotely due to exposure.—Where a child does not die on account of the exposure except in a remote degree, the mother that exposed the child would not be guilty of murder, but only of an offence under s. 317, Penal Code, which contemplates cases in which death is caused from cold or from some other result of exposure. QUEEN v. KHODABUX FAKEER alias KHUDIRAM FAKEER, 10 W.R Cr. 52.

(7)—Penal Code, ss. 304, 317—Exposure of child knowing that death was likely to ensue.—Where a mother exposed an infant child, knowing that such abandonment by her was likely to cause its death, and death ensued in consequence thereof, held that she could properly be convicted of culpable homicide under s. 304, and not under both s. 304 and s. 317. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. BANNI, 2 A. 349.

(8)—Penal Code, ss. 300, 304, 317—Starving child to death.—An accused person who caused the death of her infant child by deliberately starving it, but did not either abandon or part with it, was held to have been wrongly convicted under s. 317, Penal Code, and it was pointed out that the Sessions Judge, in convicting the mother under s. 304, ought to have specified the exception under s. 300, which covered the case. MUSSAMMAT RAM DAI v. CROWN, 18 P.R. 1870, Cr.

(9)—When no offence—Penal Code, s. 317—Leaving children under care of others.—The mother of an illegitimate child, aged 6 months, made over the child to a blind woman in whose company she was, and promised to return with food which she said she was going to beg; she went off to another village and probably had no intention whatever of returning. Held (per Blair and Aikman, JJ., Knox, J., dissenting) that she was not guilty of an offence under s. 317, Penal Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MIRCHIA, 18 A. 364 = A.W.N. 1896, 117. [Rel., 4 Ind. Cas. 801 = 5 N.L.R. 189; R., 24 M. 662].

(10)—Newly-born babe left in charge of husband's sister.—Where a woman left her daughter's newly-born babe with the sister of her son-in-law, who was then absent from the place, saying that it was her brother's child, and the infant died shortly after her departure, held that the woman was not guilty of an offence under s. 317 and that her daughter had not abetted any such offence. CROWN v. MUSSUMAT KHAIRO, 33 P.R. 1872, Cr.

Abandonment of Children—concluded.

(11)—Woman eloping leaving infant under husband's care.—A married woman, who eloped leaving her suckling baby a month and a half old in the house of her husband, was held not to be guilty of an offence under s. 317, Penal Code, as she knew that her husband would surely take care of it. CROWN v. BHURAN, 5 P.R 1878, Cr. [R., 4 P.R. 1879, Cr.]

(12)—Child being taken care of by husband.—A married woman quarrelled with her husband and left for her parent's home when he had gone out, leaving her child six months old in his house. The husband took charge of the crying infant on his return home; held that the woman was not guilty of an offence under s. 317, Penal Code. EMPRESS v. BHAGAN, 4 P.R. 1879, Cr. (5 P.R. 1878, Cr., Appr.)

(13)—Charge to jury in a case of—Duty of Sessions Judge in summing up.—Where the Jury doubted whether a woman had abandoned her child at all, or whether she was the mother of it, although the Sessions Judge had no reasonable doubt from the evidence on these points, it was pointed out that it was his duty in summing up the evidence to lay before the Jury all the facts requiring to be determined by them. 1 W.R. Cr Letters, 10.

(14)—Circumstances mitigating crime.—In this case which was one of abandonment of child, the circumstances which were revealed in evidence precluded the idea, that appellant intended to do more than abandon her illegitimate child, and even this was done in a way to give the child every chance of being rescued. Held that under such circumstances the finding and sentence of the Sessions Judge must be modified. MOSST. NANKEE v. CROWN, 23 P.R. 1866, Cr.

Abatement of Appeal.

(1)—Death of appellant, effect of.—The death of the appellant during the pendency of the appeal causes the appeal to abate. AMIR SINGH v. CROWN, 16 P R. 1878 Cr. [Diss, 9 Cr. L.J. 103=24 P.R. 1908, Cr.; R., 6 P.R. 1893, Cr.]

(2)—Crim. Pro. Code (1872), ss. 283, 297—Death of convict who appealed—Revision.—The Crim. Pro. Code has not made any provision for the continuance of an appeal either by the heir, devisee, or executor of a deceased convict, or by any other person, an appeal lodged by such convict abating on his death. The High Court has, however, the right to call for the record and make such order thereon as it may deem to be due to justice. IMPERATRIX v. DONGAJI ANDAJI, 2 B. 564.

Abatement of Appeal—concluded.

(3)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 431—Remedy of deceased appellant's legal representatives.—Case where the High Court held that the appeal of a deceased appellant abated on his death and declined to take it up under its revisional powers as the decision depended on the appreciation of evidence. The legal representatives of the deceased appellant were, however, referred to the Government for redress. In re NABI SHAH, 19 B. 714=Rat. Un. Cr. C. 707=Cr. Rg. 40 of 1894.

See APPEAL—APPEAL—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 2 B. 564.

See REVISION—MATTERS PERTAINING TO EVIDENCE, 19 B. 714=Rat. Un. Cr. C. 707 =Cr. Rg. 40 of 1894.

Abatement of Nuisance.

See BEN. ACT III OF 1899, s. 3, cl. 29, and s. 632, 8 Ind. Cas. 530=15 C.W.N. 316.

Arising from privy on public road—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), Ch. X and s. 133, 4 Bom. L.R. 882.

See PENAL CODE, ss. 99, 141, 425, 2 C.L. R. 62.

Abatement of Prosecution.

(1)—Effect of complainant's death on prosecution.—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 198.—The death of the complainant, during the course of criminal proceedings for defamation, necessarily terminates those proceedings. ISHAR DAS v. KING-EMPEROR, 8 P.W.R. 1908=7 Cr. L.J. 290=10 P.R. 1908, Cr.=112 P.L.R. 1908. (31 C. 993, F.B., F.)

(2)—Penal Code, s. 497—Adultery—Husband's death.—A prosecution for adultery, under s. 497, Penal Code, is not necessarily put an end to by the death of the husband. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 13th July 1869, No. 1261, 4 M.H.C App. 55=2 Weir 235.

Abatement of Revision.

Death of applicant during pendency of revision—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 431.—The death, during the pendency of revision proceedings, of the applicant for revision causes, by analogy to s. 431, Crim. Pro. Code, the revision to abate. KHAZANA v. EMPRESS, 6 P.R. 1893, Cr. [R., 9 Cr. L.J. 103=24 P.R. 1908, Cr.]

Abduction.

See KIDNAPPING.

See PENAL CODE, ss. 359—369, 494, 498.

(1) When punishable—Penal Code, ss. 362, 363.—Bare abduction, without the intention pointed out in the different sections dealing with the subject, is not per se an offence. Where persons charged for abduction and also for rioting with the common object of abducting a certain woman were acquitted of the former charge but convicted on the latter charge, held, that the conviction was bad, as the common object which made the act punishable was not proved. KHALIL NASYA v. EMPEROR, 6 C.W.N. 208. (15 W.R. Cr. 4=6 B.L.R. 121, F.)

Abduction—continued.

(2)—Force or deceit not practised.—A conviction of abduction was quashed, no force or deceit having been practised on the person abducted. QUEEN v. KOMUL DASS, 2 W.R. Cr. 7.

(3)—Promise of marriage not fulfilled.—Where a man by a promise of marriage induces a woman to leave her house, but does not marry her or get her married, he is guilty of deceiving her within the meaning of s. 362, Penal Code. MAHCUB v. KING-EMPEROR, 4 A.L.J. 482.

(4)—Penal Code, ss 362, 366—Marrying girl with idea of prostituting her.—Where an accused person dishonestly induced a girl to marry him and leave her home with the view of causing her to prostitute herself, held that the fact of such marriage did not exculpate him from being guilty of abduction under s. 362, Penal Code, or of an offence under s. 366. BAHADUR v. EMPRESS, 7 P.R. 1881, Cr.

(5)—Penal Code, ss. 362, 368, 498, 116—Enticing by procuress.—The conviction of a procuress was changed from abduction to enticing, where the woman alleged to have been abducted was of mature age and a free agent, and the conviction of the other prisoners was also changed from abetting wrongful concealment under s. 368, to abetment under s. 116, Penal Code. QUEEN v. SRIMOTEE PODDEE, 1 W.R. Cr. 45.

(6)—Magistrate to take evidence of marriage and not to refer complainant to civil suit—Penal Code, s. 498.—The procedure of a Magistrate discharging an accused person, charged with enticing away a married woman, on the ground that she denied having been married to the complainant and referring the complainant to a civil suit was held to be irregular; the Magistrate being under an obligation to take evidence as to the fact of the marriage. In cases under s. 498, Penal Code, marriage could not be proved by the evidence given in a civil suit. EMPRESS v. ALI BAKSH, 3 P.R. 1881, Cr. [R., 40 P.R. 1882, Cr.]

(7)—Married woman, if can abet her own abduction.—Neither under the Penal Code nor under the Frontier Regulations is it an offence for a married woman to abet her own abduction. JHUNDOO v. AHMED DEEN, 40 P.R. 1866. Cr. See also PHALLA v JIWAN SINGH, 6 P.R. 1871, Cr.; CROWN v. MUSSUMMAT WAHABJI, 14 P.R. 1875, Cr.; NATHA SINGH v. EMPRESS, 11 P.R. 1883, Cr.

Women abetting her own—See ABETMENT, Colm. Dig. Cr. No. 4 (1871).

See COMPLAINT — DISMISSAL OF COMPLAINT, 17 P.R. 1874, Cr.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), ss. 188, 537, 4 P.R. 1902, Cr=21 P.L.R. 1902. F.B.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), ss. 199, 238, 27 M. 61=2 Weir 236.

Abduction—concluded.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), ss. 248, 345, 8 P.R. 1871, Cr.

With intent to hold up to ransom—See PENAL CODE, ss. 71, 364, 365, 383, 111 (b) and 387, 6 L.B.R. 160=19 Ind. Cas. 167=14 Cr. L.J. 167=6 Bur. L.T. 77.

Carrying off a woman by force—When punishable.—See PENAL CODE, ss. 142, 299, 302, 304, 325, 366, 12 P.W.R. 1911, Cr.=193 P.L.R. 1911=12 Cr. L.J. 393=11 Ind. Cas. 577.

See SENTENCE—GENERAL, 7 M.H.C. 375.

Abetment of—and wrongful confinement—Penal Code, ss. 343, 498.—See SENTENCE—CUMULATIVE AND SEPARATE SENTENCES, W. R. 1864, Cr. 21.

See SENTENCE—CUMULATIVE AND SEPARATE SENTENCES, 8 W.R. Cr. 84.

Abetment.

See PENAL CODE, ss. 107—114.

(1)—Abetment, what constitutes—Penal Code. ss. 109, 114 and 118.—To substantiate a charge under s. 109, I.P.C., it is necessary to show intentional aid by some act or illegal omission. Where a person admittedly conceals the existence of a design to commit an offence which he is bound to disclose, and by this concealment intentionally facilitates or is likely to facilitate the commission of the offence, he is guilty of abetment under s. 118, I.P.C. A conspirator, who stands out of a house while his friends enter inside and loot it and watches out in pursuance of the common design, is, if he is near enough to render assistance, guilty of abetment under s. 114, I.P.C. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KHANDU VISHNU SATHE, 1 Bom.L.R. 351.

(2)—Test of abetment—Guilty knowledge of abettor.—The test of culpability, in cases of abetment, must always be whether, having regard to the immediate object of the instigation or conspiracy, the act done by the principal is one which, according to ordinary experience and common sense, the abettor must have foreseen as probable. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MATHURA DAS. 6 A. 491=A.W.N. 1884, 251. [R., 11 A.L.J. 997=U.B.R. 1897--1901, Vol. I, 249].

(3)—Penal Code, s. 108—Abetment—Concert—Intention.—To constitute a man the abettor of another's crime, it must be clearly established that both intended to commit or to further the same crime. REG. v. HAMAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 93=Cr. Rg. 47 of 1875.

(4)—Presence at offence, how far abetment.—To be present and aware that an offence is about to be committed does not constitute an abetment, unless the person present holds some position of rank or influence such that his countenancing what takes place may, under the circumstances, be held to be a direct encouragement, or unless some specific duty of prevention rests on him, which he leaves unfulfilled, in such wise that he may be safely taken as having joined in a conspiracy for the perpetration of the offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS

Abetment—continued.

v. LAKSHMI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 303 = Cr. Rg. 51 of 1886.

(5)—Abetment — Presence — Inaction—Criminality—Probability compatible with innocence—Conviction, justification for.—Where, in a murder case, a co-accused stated that she remained an unwilling spectator while the offence was being committed by the other accused. Held, that the alleged omission of a co-accused to intervene or raise an alarm did not constitute an abetment of murder, inasmuch as her inaction did not constitute criminality. Where the circumstances of a case point to the conclusion that the accused committed the offence, but there is also a reasonable probability compatible with his innocence, there is no sufficient justification for the conviction of the accused. SARJU PRASAD v. EMPEROR, 15 Cr. L.J. 617 = 25 Ind. Cas. 625.

(6)—Mere presence—No offence.—The mere presence at the commission of a crime of a person, who has no authority to interfere, will not constitute an abetment of the offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHIDLINGAPPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 844 = Cr. Rg. 13 of 1896.

(7)—Commission of offence in presence of Village Chowkidar.—The mere fact of the commission of the offence of extortion in the presence of the Village Chowkidar, without any disapproval on his part, will not constitute him an abettor. GOPAL CHUNDER SIRDAR v. FOOLMONI BEWA, 8 C. 728 = 11 C.L.R. 223.

(8)—Penal Code, s. 114—Abetment of offences under ss. 330, 348, I. P. C., by constable—Evidence of active instigation, whether necessary.—Where a Village Magistrate, being present on an occasion in which a police constable was causing hurt to and wrongfully confining a person, did not attempt to interfere with, or stop the criminal acts of the constable, committed in his presence, nor did he report them to the Magistrate, held, that he was guilty of the abetment of offences punishable under ss. 330 and 348, Penal Code, although there was no evidence that he actively instigated the police to commit the offence, which they committed. In re APPANNA HEGADE AND ALI BEARY, 1 Weir 52.

(9)—Policeman present at beating of prisoner—Penal Code, s. 330.—A policeman, who is present at the beating of a prisoner by another policeman for the purpose of extorting a confession and does not remonstrate with him, is guilty of the abetment of an offence under s. 330, Penal Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LATIFKHAN, 20 B. 394.

(10)—By intentionally aiding.—Where A gave a dao to B, who had given out his intention to coerce the party against whom he was acting and who inflicted grievous hurt on such party with the dao, A was held to be guilty of abetment within the second head of the 3rd clause of s. 107, Penal Code. QUEEN v. ESHAN MEAH, 12 W. R. Cr. 52. [R., 1 Bom. L.R. 351].

(11)—Abetment by instigation—Depends on abettor's intention.—The offence of abetment by instigation depends upon the intention of the person who abets, and not upon the act which is actually committed by the person whom he abets. QUEEN v. IMAMDI BHOOZAH, 21 W. R. Cr. 8.

(12)—Instigation by means of letter sent by post—Place of trial.—Where a person sends a letter to another through the post, inviting him to the commission of a criminal offence, he is guilty of the offence of abetment as soon as the letter is received by, and the contents become known to, the addressee, and is triable at the place where the letter is received. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHEO DIAL MAL, 16 A. 389 = A. W.N. 1894, 135. [F., 2 C.W.N. 606; R., 36 B. 524 = 14 Bom L.R. 147 = 13 Cr. L J. 426 = 14 Ind. Cas. 970.]

(13)—Doctor supplying woman with medicine to poison her son-in-law—Instigation.—Where an accused person asked a native doctor to supply her with medicine for poisoning her son-in-law, held that it was no attempt to murder, it being simply an act by way of preparation to commit an offence and not being a transaction which would necessarily have ended in murder if not interrupted; but that it amounted to an instigation by the native doctor to abet the accused in committing murder, punishable, with reference to s. 108, Expln. 4, Penal Code, under ss. 116 and 302 of the Code. EMPRESS v. BHAKHTAWAR, 24 P.R. 1882, Cr.

(14)—Sympathy with an unlawful assembly, if abetment.—The mere fact that persons of influence, being aware of the objects of an unlawful assembly, deliberately absented themselves from the locality, would not make them guilty of instigation within the meaning of s. 107, Penal Code, or abetment of an offence under s. 143, Penal Code. ETIM ALI MAJUMDAR v. EMPRESS, 4 C.W.N. 500.

(15)—Act abetted should result from abetment—Penal Code, s. 109.—The act abetted should, under s. 109, Penal Code, be committed as the result of the abetment. QUEEN v. RAJCOOMAR BANERJEE, 1 Ind. Jur. O.S. 105.

(16)—Commission of act abetted unnecessary.—It is not necessary, to constitute the offence of abetment, that the act abetted should be committed. In the case of DINONATH BUROOA, 18 W.R. Cr. 32.

(17)—Abetment of abetment.—To constitute the offence of abetment of an abetment of an offence, the original offence need not have been actually committed. EMPRESS v. TROYLUKHO NATH CHOWDHRY, 4 C. 366 = 3 C.L.R. 525.

(18)—Abetment where offence not committed—When conviction will be quashed—Crim. Pro Code (1861), ss. 404, 405.—Notwithstanding that the offence abetted has not been committed, there may be an abetment of it; but the Chief Court will, on appeal or revision, quash the conviction of the alleged abettors, where the principal offender is acquitted, if the following rule of the Sudder Court of Agra be applicable:—" In any case in which a person convicted of an offence is acquitted on appeal on grounds of fact and the decision of the appellate Court proceeds on grounds common to other convicted persons in the same case who have not appealed, the appellate Court is competent to acquit such persons also; it being held that. under the finding of the appellate Court which has reversed the general finding of the lower Court common to the appellant and other persons, the sentence on the non-appellant convicted person has become inconsistent with the finding, and by consequence, is contrary to law and is, therefore, reversible under s. 404 or s. 405, Crim Pro. Code (1861), as the case may be." LAL KHAN v. KUREEM KHAN, 71 P.R. 1866, Cr.

Abetment—continued.

(19)—Intention of accused to employ means physically incapable of producing effect—Penal Code, ss. 108, 109 and 511.—Under s. 108, Expl. (2), and s. 511, Penal Code, the abetment of an offence is possible, even though the means intended to be employed are such that they are physically incapable of producing the effect essential to constitute the offence. SAHIB DITTA v. EMPRESS, 20 P.R 1885, Cr. See, also, REG. v. PESTANJI DINSHA, 10 B H C. 75.

(20)—Of act after its commission, if abetment.—There is no abetment of an act after it has been committed. A person cannot be convicted of the abetment of a false charge, merely because he gave evidence in support of it. That offence must be committed either before or at the time when the act was committed. JUGUT MOHINI DASSEE v. MODHU SUDHAN DUT, 10 C.L.R. 4.

(21)—Abetment of offence after its commission impossible.—A young man, sent out of his paternal house for criminal intimacy with a woman, carried away from his father's house things, which he presented to her; on his conviction for house trespass in order to commit theft and the woman's for abetting him, held that the latter's conviction was bad, as no act subsequent to the commission of an offence could be construed as an abetment. CROWN v. LOODDUN, 11 P.R. 1869, Cr.

(22)—Attempt to abet offence—Penal Code, ss. 40, 109, 511.—The attempt to abet an offence is not legally impossible, and such an offence is punishable; for, the abetment of an offence, as defined in s. 40, Penal Code, is itself an offence punishable by the Penal Code under s. 109 and other sections of Ch. V and an attempt to commit the offence of abetment is provided for by s. 511, Penal Code. SPIER v. EMPRESS, 49 P.R. 1887, Cr.

(23)—Charge of attempting and abetting same offence.—Where a person was charged and convicted of attempting as well abetting the same offence, the High Court set aside the conviction and sentence on one of the counts EMPEROR v. FATEHKHAN BAHADURKHAN, 8 Bom. L. R. 855 = 4 Cr. L.J. 450. (23 B. 706 = 1 Bom. L.R. 142; 17 M. 235 F.B., R.)

(24)—Cumulative charges of abetment of offence and commission of offence—Penal Code, ss. 109 and 114.—A man cannot be charged as an abettor by conspiracy as well as a perpetrator of the offence abetted cumulatively. KING-EMPEROR v. THIRUMALAI REDDI, 24 M. 523 = 2 Weir 340 = 1 Weir 340.

(25)—Woman abetting her own abduction.—A woman cannot be convicted with the abetment of her own abduction. POLICE v. UMRAO LODI, Colm. Dig. Cr. No. 4 (1871).

(26)—Abettor when punishable as principal—Penal Code, s. 114.—An accused, who, when absent, is liable to be punished as abettor, is liable to be punished as principal, if he is present at the time of committing the offence. EMPRESS v. MINDAI LAL, A.W.N. 1883, 39.

(27)—Abettor present at commission of offence punishable as principal—An abettor, when present at the commission of the offence, must be reckoned as a principal party. 1 W.R. Cr. Letters, 2.

(28)—Penal Code, ss. 109 and 114—Abettor when liable as principal.—Held that to bring a prisoner within s. 114, I.P.C., it is necessary first to make out the circumstances which constitute an abetment, so that, if absent, the person charged with abetment would have been liable to be punished as an abettor, and then to show that he was also present when the offence was committed. Instigation, engaging in a conspiracy, and intentionally aiding by an act or illegal omission make a person an abettor, even though he is not present when the offence, the commission of which he has instigated, conspired to effect, or intentionally aided by an act or illegal omission, is committed; and if he is present, though merely as a spectator, he is punishable as a principal, under s. 114, I.P.C. Held, further that, when no conspiracy, instigation, act or illegal omission is proved and the abetment consists only of participation in the actual commission of the offence, s. 109 is the section applicable. ABDULLA KHAN v, QUEEN-EMPRESS, 5 P.R. 1900, Cr. = 15 P.R. 1899, Cr. (7 W.R. Cr. 9, F.)

(29)—Principal's acquittal no bar to abettor's conviction.—The offence of abetment under the Penal Code is a substantive offence. Its punishment, when the culprit has been present at the commission of the principal offence, is the same as for that offence; and the trial of it is not, in any way, dependent on the conviction of the person charged with the principal offence. An abettor may be convicted before the principal is arrested. REG. v. MARUTI DADA, 1 B. 15. [D., 19 B. 105.]

(30)—Cognisance of offence under s. 494, Penal Code.—A Magistrate should not take cognisance of the abetment of an offence under s. 494, Penal Code, without a complaint. JITMAL v. EMPRESS, 4 P R, 1888, Cr. [F., 12 Cr. L.J. 50 = 8 Ind. Cas. 1160 = 32 P.R. 1910 = 39 P.L. R. 1911, 51 P.W.R. 1910, Cr.]

(31)—Abetment beyond territorial jurisdiction of a Magistrate—Crim. Pro. Code (1898) s. 180.—Although the abetment of an offence might have taken place beyond the territorial jurisdiction of a Magistrate, yet under s. 180, Crim. Pro. Code, the abettor can be tried by a Magistrate within whose territorial jurisdiction the offence abetted was committed. In re CHENNANNA GOWD, 1 Weir 155.

Abetment—continued.

(32)—Abetment in British India of offence committed outside British India—Penal Code, ss. 109, 115, 148, 302—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 188.—Where a British subject abets in British India an offence committed outside British India, he is not charged with an offence punishable under the Penal Code, and cannot, therefore, be tried by British Courts. S. 188, Crim. Pro. Code, does not apply to such a case. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANPATRAO RAMACHANDRA, 19 B. 105. (7 B.H.C. Cr. 89, 5 M. 338, F.) [R., 22 B. 54 ; D., 24 B. 287.]

(33)—When triable by Jury.—Abetments are triable by Jury only when they relate to offences which are themselves so triable. 1 W.R. Cr. Letters, 2.

(34)—Joint trial of principal and abettor—Penal Code, s. 114—Evidence Act, s. 30.—Two persons, jointly tried, the one for committing a theft and the other for having abetted it previously and of being present at its commission, were held to be jointly tried for the same offence within the meaning of s. 30, Evidence Act ; a person answering the description given in s. 114, Penal Code, cannot be properly called an abettor, he being, for practical purposes, identical with a principal. BAG SHAH v. CROWN, 3 P.R. 1879, Cr. [F., 32 P.R. 1882, Cr.]

(35)—Whether abettor and principal tried for same offence.—Two persons jointly tried, one for committing an offence and the other for abetting it, were held not to be tried for the same offence within the meaning of s. 30, Evidence Act. But see s. 4 of Act III of 1891 or the explanation to s. 30, Evidence Act, which enacts that "offence, as used in this section, includes the abetment of, or attempt to commit, the offence." NUR AHMED v. CROWN, 8 P.R. 1874, Cr. [F., 39 P.R. 1885, Cr. ; R., 3 P.R. 1879, Cr.]

(36)—Act XXI of 1856 (Excise).—The Excise Act, XXI of 1856, makes no provision for punishing abetment. QUEEN v. KULLIMOODDEEN, 7 W.R. Cr. 53.

(37)—Act XIV of 1866—Scope of s. 109, Penal Code.—Act XIV of 1866 does not provide for the punishment of abetting an offence under that Act. Under s. 109, Penal Code, the abetment must be of an offence punishable under that Act, and not of an offence punishable under a distinct and special law. QUEEN v. RAMLUGUN LALL MOONSHEE, 7 W.R. Cr. 54.

(38)—Abetment of assault—Unlawful assembly.—Of several persons constituting an unlawful assembly, some only were armed with sticks, and A, one of them, was not so armed but picked up a stick and used it ; B the master of A, who gave a general order to beat, was held to be guilty of abetting the assault made by A. QUEEN v. RASOOKOOLLAH, 12 W.R. Cr. 51.

Abetment—continued.

(39)—Abetment of bigamy — Penal Code, ss. 368, 494, 109, 420.—Case where the Court acquitted the accused holding that they had not committed the offence of concealing a kidnapped person but that there was sufficient prima facie evidence that they had committed the offences of cheating (s 420) and of abetment of bigamy (ss. 109 and 494), and leaving the District Magistrate to act as he thought fit. IBRAHIM v. EMPRESS, 7 P.R. 1894, Cr.

(40)—Abetment of bigamy—Mahomedan Law.—To establish a charge of abetment, the accused must be proved either to have instigated or aided some other person, or to have conspired with another for the commission of an offence. Therefore, a Mahomedan guardian of a married female infant, who, during her husband's life-time causes a marriage ceremony to be performed in her name with another man, but without her taking any part in the transaction, does not commit the offence of abetment of bigamy, because, in doing the act, he is the sole actor, and the act, though illegal, is not, if done by one person alone, an offence provided for by the Penal Code. An act of the above description, instead of being the subject of a criminal prosecution, ought properly to be decided in a Civil Court. EMPRESS v. ABDOOL KURREEM, 4 C. 10=3 C.L.R. 81. [D., 6 C. W.N. 343.]

(41)—Offering bribe to public servant to drop prosecutions under Opium and Excise Acts—Trial for graver offence under s. 161, Penal Code—Penal Code, ss. 214, 161, 116.—An accused person offered a bribe of Rs. 90 to an Excise Officer not to prosecute him under the Opium and Excise Acts, the offence under the former Act being the possession of 4 annas weight of opium and that under the Excise Act being the possession of 12 bottles of seinye. For the former offence the sentence inflicted was a fine of Rs. 10, and for the latter Rs. 75. The Magistrate, besides sentencing the accused to pay a fine of Rs. 50, also ordered the confiscation of the ninety rupees offered as bribe. Held that, as the accused offered an illegal gratification to a public servant whose duty it was to prosecute for offences against the Excise Act, the accused should have been tried for the more serious offence of abetting an offence under s. 161, Penal Code, but that the gravity of the offence rather depended upon the gravity of the offences he wished to conceal than upon the amount he offered, though the amount offered, as representing the degree of temptation, ought also be taken into consideration. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RE BAW, L.B.R. 1893-1900, 338.

(42)—Giving bribe to public servant.—Even if a public servant is corrupt and solicits a bribe directly or indirectly, the giving him a bribe is none the less an abetment of his offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MA KA, U.B.R. 1892-1896, Vol. I, 158.

(43)—Abetment of cheating.—Where an accused person, in possession of a double pice, quicksilvered it so as to cause it to resemble a rupee and subsequently gave it to B to get copper changes for it, held that the accused was not guilty under s. 241, Penal Code, nor under s. 232, unless at the time of whitening the coin he intended thereby to practise deception or knew it to be likely that deception would thereby be practised; if the idea of uttering the white coin as a rupee was an afterthought, the accused might be convicted of abetting B to cheat the person to whom he was sent with the counterfeit rupee, under ss. 116 and 420, Penal Code. EMPRESS v. MIHARBAN, 9 P.R. 1884, Cr.

Abetment—continued.

(44)—Penal Code, ss. 417 and 419.—Where an accused person, by falsely representing to the prosecutor that a notorious and well-skilled gambler was a rich seth, who would fall an easy prey, induced the prosecutor to gamble with such expert and the prosecutor lost all his property thereby, held that the accused was guilty of the abetment of cheating under ss. 417 and 419, Penal Code. JAHANA v. EMPEROR, 4 P.R. 1905, Cr. = 125 P.L.R. 1905.

(45)—Of cock fighting.—A person, who is present at a cock fight in a public place, and encourages it by his presence, being present not against his will or accidentally, is guilty of aiding and abetting the fight. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SHWE KYA, U.B R. 1892-1896, Vol. I, 119.

(46)—Conspiracy under English and Indian Laws—Penal Code, s. 169.—Under the Indian Criminal Law, conspiracy, except in certain cases, is a mere species of abetment, when an act or an illegal omission takes place in pursuance of the conspiracy and amounts to a distinct offence for each distinct offence abetted by the conspiracy. But, under the English Law, the agreement or combination to do an unlawful thing by unlawful means amounts, in itself, to a criminal offence. The Penal Code follows the English Law of conspiracy only in a few exceptional cases, which are made punishable under ss. 311, 400, 401, 402 and 121-A. In these cases, whether an act is done or not or an offence committed in furtherance of the conspiracy, the conspirator is punishable, and he can also be punished separately for every offence committed in furtherance of the conspiracy. In all other cases, conspiracy is only one species of "abetment of an offence" and stands on the same footing as abetment by "intentional aiding." KING-EMPEROR v. THIRUMALAI REDDI, 24 M. 523 = 2 Weir 340 = 1 Weir 340 = 2 Weir 712. [R., 8 Cr. L.J. 393, 13 Cr. L.J. 39 = 16 C.W.N. 69 = 13 Ind. Cas. 279, 11 O.C. 328.]

(47)—Conspiracy—Penal Code, s. 108, exp. 5.—Under Expln. 5, s. 108, Penal Code, it is not necessary to the commission of the offence of abetment by conspiracy that the abettor shall concert the offence with the person who commits it. It is sufficient if he engage in the conspiracy in pursuance of which the offence is committed. QUEEN v. GOBIND DOBEY, 21 W.R. Cr. 35.

Abetment—continued.

(48)—Penal Code, ss. 107, 109, 379, 382 and 393—General intention to commit robbery — The conviction under ss. 109, 382, Penal Code, of the resident of a foreign territory, found concealed with three others in a deserted house, for assembling to steal certain Government camels that were grazing in the village or any other property that may be available was altered by the confirming Court to one under s. 393, but the Chief Court quashed it as unsustainable. Held (per Smyth, J.)—The mere fact that a number of persons assembled together with the general intention of committing theft, and not a specific theft or theft of specific property, does not amount to the abetment of an offence of theft, so as to be punishable under ss 116 and 379, Penal Code, or under ss 116 and 382, Penal Code. A design to commit a specific offence must be proved before holding a person guilty of the abetment of such an offence by having conspired with others to commit it. Per Elsmie, J. (contra) That the case was covered by the 2nd clause of s. 107, Penal Code, and that the conviction was proper. Per Plowden, J.—On a charge of abetment of conspiracy, it is necessary to allege and prove not only that the person charged engaged with one or more other person or persons in a conspiracy for the commission of an offence (specifying the offence), but also that some act or illegal omission (specifying the act on omission) took place in pursuance of that conspiracy, and in order to the commission of the said offence. Held, further (per Plowden, J.) that a charge against several persons of engaging in a conspiracy to commit an offence of a particular kind (as, for instance, theft) as opportunity should offer within a determinate area (as, for instance, a village) would not be improper as being too vague. KARM ILAHI v. MORRISON, 16 P.R. 1879, Cr.

(49)—Of criminal breach of trust by servant, proof of.—In order to sustain a conviction for the abetment of criminal breach of trust by a servant, it must be proved that the transaction was a dishonest one and that the accused knew that, in respect of such transaction, the servant was acting dishonestly and was committing a breach of trust, and that the accused abetted the servant in doing it. BAL GOBIND SHAHA v. EMPRESS, 4 C.W.N. 309.

(50)—Criminal breach of trust by servant—Misappropriation.—The accused, appointed as the treasurer of the Punjab Bank at Mooltan, shortly afterwards introduced X as his agent or his gumastah and removed himself to Amritsar on some other duty of the Bank. X misappropriated some of the Bank's money and absconded. The accused, being convicted of criminal breach of trust as a servant and of abetting the same, as he had, according to the Sessions Court's finding, received some of the misappropriated money and had connived at X's embezzlement, appealed, on the ground that he had no control over the Bank's property, being only treasurer in name, that he had not abetted X, and, that, X being the Bank's and not his servant, he, the accused, had not committed criminal breach of trust. Found by the Chief Court, that the accused and X were servants of the Bank, that X had committed breach of trust as such, and that the accused had received the misappropriated money from X with a guilty knowledge, and held that, although no act done by the accused after X's offence was committed would make the former guilty as an abettor, yet as the accused, who was, as the Bank's treasurer, bound to disclose the fact that he had irregularly received the Bank's money on the first defalcation, did not do so, he was guilty of an illegal omission, by which he voluntarily caused the safe abstraction and transmission to himself of the second sum and had thereby abetted the breach of trust by a servant. KALOO RAM v. CROWN, 30 P.R. 1868, Cr.

Abetment—continued.

(51)—Of criminal trespass and theft—Penal Code, ss. 107 and 108—Execution of document giving lease over property not belonging to the lessor—Lessor's liability as abettor for criminal trespass and theft of crops by lessee.—It is necessary to satisfy the requirements of ss. 107 and 108, Penal Code, that the act done should aid the commission of an offence or the commission of an act, which would be an offence, if committed by a person capable by law of committing an offence with the same intention or knowledge as that of the abettor. The accused gave a lease of the pepper on certain hills, described to be the property of his tarwad. The lease granted comprised within the boundaries stated, not only land belonging to the accused, but also other land stated to be the property of the Government. The lessee conveyed his right to others, and, under the color of the lease, the sub-lessees entered upon the Government land comprised therein and took the pepper. The accused was convicted of the abetment of criminal trespass and of theft. Held that the essential ingredient of criminal trespass and theft being unlawful entry and unlawful taking, the mere execution of a document cannot be said to aid either the entry or the taking, and was, by itself, consistent with an intention that the person in whose favour the document was executed should assert his claim thereunder in due course of law. Held, also, that, as there was no evidence that the accused suggested the entry on the land or the taking of the pepper, the accused was not guilty of the charge of abetment. PARAPRAVANBAVOTHI HADGI v. HENRY RHODES MORGAN, 1 Weir 48.

(52)—Abetment of dacoity, what constitutes.—Per Fulton, J.—If A asks B and others to come with him to commit dacoity, he instigates these men to dacoity just as much as if he asks them to go under some other leader. Similarly, if he asks B to ask C and others to join a dacoity, he abets the abetment of dacoity. An instigation to wage war against the Government includes an instigation to dacoity as such was necessarily includes robbery. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ANANT PURANIK, 25 B. 90=2 Bom. L.R. 653.

Abetment—continued.

(53)—Penal Code, s. 107—Abetment of dacoity.—An accused person, who was present when a dacoity was planned, from whose hut the dacoits set out and to which they subsequently returned with their booty, was held to have been properly convicted of abetment of dacoity. EMPEROR v. SHAM LAL, A.W.N. 1903, 2.

(54)—Penal Code, ss. 109. 395 and 397—Abetment—Dacoity.—Where certain persons simply pointed out to the dacoits the house to be robbed or actively participated in planning the dacoity and in taking charge of the camels used by the party during the commission of the offence, the abettors should be punished under ss. 109 and 395, Penal Code, and not s. 397, which applies only to persons actually committing a dacoity in which one of the acts specified is done. CHATAR SINGH v. EMPEROR, 15 P. R. 1901, Cr. (16 A. 437, 21 A. 263, F.)

(55)—Giving evidence in support of a false charge—Abetment of such charge.—A person cannot be convicted of the abetment of a false charge solely on the ground of his having given evidence in support of such charge. QUEEN v. RAM PANDA, 9 B.L.R. Ap. 16.

(56)—Giving evidence in support of false charge—Abetment —The lower Criminal Courts cannot punish, as abettors, persons who gave evidence in support of false charges, or other charges found by such Courts to be false. S. 108, Penal Code, does not contemplate any acts of subsequent abetment, or provide for the punishment of such offences, except when they are such as are defined in ss. 212 to 218. QUEEN v. PAUN PUNDHAH, 18 W. R. Cr. 28.

(57)—Penal Code, ss. 109, 211—False charge—Abetment —The offence of making a false charge before the police falls within the first portion of s. 211, Penal Code. Where, in a quarrel between one of the accused and the complainant, the other accused, espousing the cause of the former, beat the complainant and lodged a false complaint of theft against him acting on the former's advice, held that the first accused was guilty of abetting an offence under s. 211, and that his conviction for the substantive offence, instead of for abetment, had not prejudiced him. RAM LOGAN LAL v. EMPEROR, 7 C.W.N. 556 (14 C. 633, F.) [R., 32 C. 180.]

(58)—Abetment of giving false evidence—Proof—Intention.—In order to convict a person of abetting the commission of a crime, it is not only necessary to prove that he has taken part in those steps of the transaction which are innocent, but, in some way or other, it is absolutely necessary to connect him with those steps of the transaction which are criminal. There can be no offence of the abetment of giving false evidence, unless the person charged with abetment intended, not only that the statement should be made, but also that the statement should be made falsely. QUEEN v. NIMCHAND MOOKERJEE, 20 W R.Cr. 41. [F., 8 C.L.R. 236; R., 1 Bom. L.R. 351].

Abetment—continued.

(59)—Penal Code, ss. 181 and 193—Accused inducing a witness to suppress certain facts—Abetment of giving false evidence.—Where an accused person asked a witness to suppress mention of certain facts in giving evidence against him before a Magistrate in reference to a charge of defamation, held that the act of the accused constituted an abetment of giving false evidence in a judicial proceeding and not of an offence under s. 181. In re ANDI CHETTI, 1 Weir 114=2 M.H.C. 438=1 Weir 156.

(60)—Of preparation of false record.—A, who was in the habit of preparing records from certain abstracts made and read to him by B was made to prepare an incorrect record by B who made and read false abstracts. Held that B was guilty of the abetment of the offence described in s. 218, Penal Code, even though A had no guilty intention or knowledge in the matter. QUEEN v. BRIJ MOHAN LALL, 7 N.W.P. 134.

(61)—Knowledge of pleader—Client not an abettor but principal—Common intent—Penal Code, s. 471.—The fact that the document filed by a pleader was known by him to be forged must be established before he can be convicted of an offence under s. 471, Penal Code. In such a case, the client who gave the document is liable to be punished, not as an abettor, but as a principal, under s. 471, Penal Code. EMPRESS v. JIWAN, A.W.N. 1887, 195.

(62)—Of causing grievous hurt.—A ordered B and C to seize and forcibly take D in the contemplation of an assault upon D, and D was so beaten and tortured as to have died in consequence. Held that A was guilty at least of abetting the commission of voluntarily causing grievous hurt. QUEEN v. DOORGESSUR SURMAH, 7 W.R. Cr. 61

(63)—Abetment of house trespass by woman with whom adultery committed.—Where a person entered another's house and committed adultery with his wife, held that he could be severally convicted and punished for the house trespass and the adultery but that the woman could not be convicted of abetting the house trespass. CROWN v. SHEIKH MUNGLI, 5 P.R. 1871, Cr

(64)—Use of house for illegal marriage, if abetment.—The mere act of allowing an illegal marriage to take place at one's house does not amount to the abetment of an illegal marriage. QUEEN v. KUDUM, W. R. 1864, Cr. 13.

(65)—Illegal marriage—What constitutes abetment.—Where persons simply consent to be present at an illegal marriage, or are present thereat in pursuance of such consent, or grant the accommodation of a house for the marriage, they do not necessarily abet such marriage. EMPRESS v. UMI, 6 B. 126. [R., 19 B. 363.]

(66)—Kidnapping from lawful guardianship—Penal Code, ss. 366, 109—Kidnapping not a continuing offence.—The offence of kidnapping a minor is complete as soon as he or she is enticed or taken out of the keeping of his or her lawful guardian. The taking of a minor from lawful custody is not the same as keeping the minor out of such custody, and, therefore, during the time the minor is kept out of the custody of his or her guardian, the offence of kidnapping does not continue; consequently, a person who assists a kidnapper after the enticement in keeping the minor, cannot be convicted of the abetment of kidnapping, unless the kidnapping was itself the outcome of a preconcert. EMPEROR v. TIKA, 26 A. 197=A. W. N. 1903, 233 (1 M. 173, 19 A. 109, 2 C.W.N. 81, R.) [R., 15 O C. 351.]

(67)—Penal Code, s. 363—Carrying kidnapped girl from place to place—On a charge of kidnapping a minor girl out of her lawful guardianship, two of the accused were convicted under s. 363, Penal Code, but the third was, on proof, of having conveyed the girl from place to place, though he was not connected with the "taking," convicted of the abetment of an offence under s. 363, I.P.C. Held that the conviction was bad, as kidnapping from lawful guardianship was not an offence which continued so long as the minor was kept out of the lawful custody and as conduct, which commences only after the custody of the lawful guardian is put an end to by the minor once for all being fully removed from such custody, cannot amount to an abetment of "taking." Held, also, that, as the third accused's acts were distinct from those of the rest and formed a different offence, if at all any was committed, his trial jointly with them was wrong. CHANDA v. EMPRESS, 13 P. R. 1893, Cr. (1 M. 173, Not F.) See also CHANDA v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 6 P.R. 1894 Cr.

(68)—Woman kidnapped to be compelled to marriage—Penal Code, ss. 109, 366—Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 182—Continuing offence.—Kidnapping being complete as soon as the kidnapped is taken out of the lawful guardian's custody, no abetment of it is possible under the law after the kidnapped has once been so removed and it is not a continuing offence under s. 182, Crim. Pro. Code. MUHAMMAD BAKHSH v. EMPRESS, 8 P. R. 1894, Cr. (6 P. R. 1894, Cr., 7 P.R. 1894, Cr., F.) [R., 12 Cr. L.J. 91 =9 Ind. Cas. 511=56 P.L.R. 19]

(69)—Conspiracy—Abetment of kidnapping—Evidence Act, s. 10.—Where a child was kidnapped after a visit to the accused's house by the servants of the person whose paramour the accused was, and she was charged with abetment of kidnapping and it was proved that she was very fond of the child, held, that the evidence was insufficient to establish the charge of abetment, or that, if there was any conspiracy, she was a party to it. A conspiracy, within the terms of s. 10, Evidence Act, contemplates something more than the joint act of two or more persons to commit an offence. S. 10, Evidence Act, could not be properly applied so as to convict the woman by admitting evidence as to what had been said, done or written by others. NOGENDRABALA DEBEE v. EMPRESS, 4 C.W.N. 528.

Abetment—continued.

(70)—Abetment of murder—Proof of murder. —There can be no conviction for abetment of murder without proof of murder. QUEEN v. ASKUR, W. R. 1864, Cr. 12.

(71)—Abetment of murder by impossible means — Sorcery.—As to whether the abetment of murder by sorcery or other impossible means is an offence under the Penal Code. REG PESTONJI DINSHA 10 B.H.C. 75.

(72)—Penal Code, s. 108, Expl. 3—Abetment of murder.—Under s. 108, Expl. 3, it makes no difference in the guilt of the abettor that the agent carries out the desired object under a mistaken belief that the act which he is employed to do is an innocent act. This is clear from the 3rd Explanation to s. 108, I.P.C. The offence consists in the abetment; the consequences are only material as effecting the punishment. EMPEROR v. DHANIRAM, 14 C.P.L.R. 192.

(73)—Penal Code, ss. 109, 111—Murder—Abetment—Different Act.—The accused accompanied his brother who was taking a child to murder it; after accompanying him for a while, he refused to go further along with his brother, but at the same time, though knowing full well that the child was being taken to be murdered, he made no attempt to take the child back with him: and the child was subsequently murdered. Held that, under ss. 109 and 111, Penal Code, the accused was guilty of murder. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SADHU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 207.

(74)—Of murder—Punishment—Penal Code, ss. 302, 109, 114.—A sentence less than transportation for life is not a legal sentence for the abetment of murder under ss. 302, 109, Penal Code, when the offence of murder is actually committed in consequence of the abetment. The legal punishment for such abetment is the punishment provided for murder, that is, death or transportation for life. Where the abettor is present when the offence abetted is committed, the abettor should be charged and convicted as a principle under s. 114, Penal Code. NGA KYAW DIN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L B R. (1893—1900), 269.

(75)—Informing husband against intriguing wife and her lover—Murder—Abetment.—A person informed a certain husband, who had been for some time suspecting his wife, that she had arranged to meet her paramour at a certain place, to which the husband, armed with a stick, and the informant went together and caught them committing adultery. The husband pursued the paramour and killed him with his stick and then mortally struck his wife, who had been detained by the informant but who escaped severely thrashed. The Sessions Court convicted the husband of murder and the informant of abetting it, but the Chief Court quashed the latter's conviction, holding that he had not committed any crime and altered the husband's to one of culpable homicide not amounting to murder. HUSSUN v. CROWN, 30 P.R. 1872, Cr.

Abetment—continued.

(76)—Assisting in suicide.—Persons who assisted a leper in the ceremonies connected with the performance by the leper of the sacrificial act preparatory to suicide were held (Pearson, J., dissenting) to have been rightly convicted of the abetment of suicide. GOVERNMENT v. GOPAL SINGH, 1 Agra 21, Cr.

(77)—Penal Code, ss. 107, 306—Conspiracy to commit suicide—Suttee.—Where there was evidence that a woman prepared herself for suicide in the accused's presence and that they followed her to the pyre and stood by her, her step sons crying "Ram Ram" and one of the accused admitted that he exhorted her to say "Ram, Ram," and told her that she would then become suttee, held that the evidence was sufficient to prove active connivance and unequivocal countenance on their part, and to justify the inference that they had engaged with her in a conspiracy for the commission of suttee. QUEEN v. MOHIT PANDEY, 3 N.W.P. 316. [R., 11 A.L.J. 997.]

(78)—Omission to inform police when an offence had been committed, if abetment.—A person omitting to give information that a crime has been committed does not abet the crime, unless such omission involves the breach of a legal obligation. A private individual is not bound by any law to give information of any offence which he has seen committed. QUEEN v. KHADIM SHEIKH, 4 B.L.R.A. Cr. 7.

(79)—Abetment by illegal omission, proof of. —To prove abetment under s. 107, I.P.C., by "illegal omission," it would be necessary to show that the accused intentionally aided the commission of the offence by his non-interference. KHAJAH NOORUL HOSSEIN alias KHAJAH WAHEED JAN v. MR. C. FABRE TONNERRE, 24 W.R. Cr. 26.

(80)—Penal Code, ss. 107 and 109—Abetment by omission—Bombay Motor Vehicles Act (II of 1904), ss. 9 and 13—Infringement of rules—Master and servant.—It is not an abetment of the offence for the master to omit to give information to his servant, unless the omission were illegal, that is to say, in disobedience of an obligation imposed upon him by law. EMPEROR v. COOVERJI NASARWANJI, 9 Bom. L.R. 161 = 5 Cr. L.J. 176.

(81)—Penal Code, s. 109—Abetment by omission—Bombay Motor Vehicles Act (II of 1904), s. 12—Rules under the Act—Omission of the owner to give information of the rules to the driver.—Abetment by omission is punishable, only if the omission is an illegal omission. The owner of a motor car cannot, therefore, be held guilty of abetment, in merely omitting to give information to his employees as to the rules framed under the Bombay Motor Vehicles Act, 1904. EMPEROR v. COOVERJI NASARWANJI, 9 Bom. L.R. 159 = 5 Cr. L J. 173.

(82)—Of rash navigation—Penal Code, ss. 280, 109—Omission to load ballast.—A ferry boat contractor was convicted under ss. 280 and 109 Penal Code, of abetting the rash navigation of a vessel on the evidence that the boat hired by him in fulfilment of the contract was upset from not containing sufficient ballast. Held that, there being no evidence to show that the contractor intentionally omitted to provide the ferry boat with what he knew to be necessary for safe navigation, the conviction for abetment was untenable. REG. v. SAKARAM GOVIND, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 35 = Cr. Rg. 28-7-1870.

Abetment—continued.

(83)—Abetment of sale of printed defamatory matter.—The principles of the Criminal Law as to the allegations required to be made and proved in a complaint, under s. 198, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), of the offence of abetting the sale of a newspaper containing defamatory matter discussed. SARDAR DYAL SINGH v. EMPRESS, 8 P R. 1891, Cr. (12 P.R. 1883, Cr., 18 P.R. 1889, Cr., R.)

(84)—Penal Code, s. 107 - Abetment—Supplying food to a person known to be engaged in crime.—The supplying of food to a person known to be engaged in crime is not per se criminal; but, if food were supplied in order that the criminal may go on a journey to the intended scene of the crime, or conceal himself while waiting for an opportunity to commit the crime, the supplying of food would be in order to facilitate the crime and might facilitate it. In re LINGAM RAMANNA, 2 M. 137 = 1 Weir. 46. [R., 1 Bom. L.R. 351.]

(85)—Penal Code, s. 107, Expl. 1.—Abetment of theft.—A person can be convicted of the abetment of theft under the 1st Explanation to s. 107, Penal Code, only if he either procures or attempts to procure the commission of the theft. Mere subsequent knowledge of the offence is insufficient. QUEEN v. SHUMEERUDDEEN, 2 W R.Cr. 40.

(86)—Abetment of theft.—The carrying off of certain buffaloes, belonging to the complainant, by order of the accused and the retention of them in the custody of the latter's servant were held to amount to an abetment of theft as defined in the Penal Code. In the matter of the petition of TARINEE PROSAUD BANERJEE, 18 W.R. Cr. 8. [Cons., 22 C. 669; R., 22 C. 1017, F.B.]

(87)—Abetment of theft—Presence at commission of offence after resiling—Penal Code, s.107, cls. 2 and 3, 109. — A prisoner, who consented to form one of a party that committed theft and resiled from his agreement but was present at the commission of the theft, does not come within cl 2, s. 107, Penal Code, and ought not to be convicted of the theft, but of the abetment thereof under cl. 3, s. 107, and s. 109, Penal Code, read together. QUEEN v. BOODHUN MOOSHUR, 8 W.R.Cr. 78.

(88)—Zemindar lending house to police officer—Police officer putting illegal pressure in extorting confession—Knowledge of zemindar of that purpose—Zemindar an abettor—Penal Code, ss. 107, 330.—Where a zemindar, who had lodged a complaint of theft, lent his house to the police officer conducting the investigation into the theft case, knowing that it was likely to be used for the purpose of putting illegal pressure upon persons suspected of complicity in or knowledge of the theft, and he was present at times while the police officer was engaged in actual torturing, held, that, under the above circumstances, the zemindar was properly convicted, under s. 107, Expl. 2, Penal Code, of doing an act in order to facilitate the commission of an offence, namely, the offence punishable under s. 330 of the Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. FAIYAZ HUSAIN, A.W.N. 1896, 194.

(89)—Constable keeping out of way knowing that offence is likely to be committed.—Where a Head-Constable, who knew that certain persons were likely to be tortured for the purpose of extorting confessions, purposely kept out of the way, held that he was guilty of abetment under the words of s. 107, Expl. 2, Penal Code. QUEEN v. KALI CHURN GANGOOLY, 21 W.R. Cr. 11. [R., 20 B. 394.]

(90)—Persons all engaged in torture, if abettors.—Where several prisoners were all concerned in a case of torture and were prosecuting a common object, held, each was as guilty as a principal, and not as an abettor of the others. QUEEN v. TARINEE CHURN CHUTTOPADHYA, 7 W.R.Cr. 3. [Appr., 1 C.L.R. 275, 20 W.R. Cr. 41, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 222, 254, 850, 10 B. 506, 20 B. 394, 26 C. 863, 3 C.W.N. 653.]

(91)—Riot, abetment of.—As to whether there can be an abetment of a riot, see DADAN GAZI v. EMPEROR, 33 C. 1023 = 10 C.W.N. 890 = 4 Cr. L J. 79.

(92)—Unlawful assembly— Right of private defence —A person, who obtained a decree against some others, sent four of his men to take possession of the property from the defendants, who opposed the assailants with the result that one of the defendants' men died. In an appeal by the first party against their conviction for being members of an unlawful assembly and for culpable homicide, held that there was no common object on the part of the two factions, the second party having merely exercised their right of private defence and that the first party, being less than five, were not unlawful, but that the person, who gave the fatal blow among them, was guilty of culpable homicide and the rest of abetting him. KULLAN v. CROWN, 13 P.R. 1870, Cr.

(93)—Penal Code, ss. 114, 379— Unlawful assembly for the commission of theft—Liability of a member who did not commit theft.—Where the accused was a member of an unlawful assembly, the common object of which was to commit theft, but he was not proved to have himself committed any theft by removing any property, or to have made any previous preparation for committing any theft, or to have aided any one in the commission of theft, held that he could not be convicted under s. 379 read with s. 114. HANSA PATHAK v. BANSI LAL DAS, 8 C.W.N. 519. (27 C. 566, R. 16 C. 442, F.B., D.) [D., 7 C.L.J. 172 = 7 Cr. L.J. 200.]

(94)—Penal Code, s. 107—Acceptance of unstamped receipt, if abetment.—The mere accept-

Abetment—continued.

ance by the payer of an unstamped receipt does not constitute an abetment of the execution of the document within the definition of the term "abetment" in s. 107, Penal Code. EMPRESS v. MADAN SINGH, 7 C.P.L R. 21 Cr. (8 A. 18, 7 B. 82, F.)

(95)—Stamp Act, 1879, s. 61.—A Mahajan, who gets a promise from a debtor to pay interest added to an acknowledgment of debt in his account book without a proper stamp, abets an offence under s. 61 of Act I of 1879. EMPRESS v. BHANSIDHUR DEORIA, 10 C.P. L.R. 1, Cr. (7 B. 82, D.)

(96)—Stamp Act — Receiving unstamped instrument — It is not an abetment of the execution of an unstamped instrument to receive it, any more than the acceptance of stolen property is abetment of theft. EMPRESS v JANKI, 7 B. 82. [R., 8 A. 18=A.W.N. 1885, 317, 20 A. 440=A.W.N. 1898, 108, 7 C.P.L.R. 21, 1 N.L.R. 163; R., U.B.R. 1904, II qr. Stamp, 1; D., 10 C.P.L R. 1.]

(97)—Stamp Act, 1879, s. 61—"Accepting" meaning of.—The term "accepting" in s. 61—Stamp Act, 1879, does not mean "receiving" but "executing as an acceptor." The mere receiver of a pro-note not duly stamped does not render himself liable to the penalties under the section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NIHAL CHAND, 20 A. 440=A W.N. 1898, 108. (7 M. 71, 24 W.R. Cr. 1, 7 B. 82, A.W.N. 1883, 145, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1904, II. qr., Stamp, p. 1.]

(98)—Stamp Act, 1879, s. 61—Receipt of insufficiently stamped instrument— Abetment—Penal Code, ss. 40, 109.—The mere fact of the acceptance of an insufficiently stamped instrument cannot amount to an abetment of the offence under s. 61 of the Stamp Act. EMPRESS v. GOPALDAS, A.W.N. 1883, 145. [R., 20 A. 440,] See also NAUBAT RAM v. HARNAM DASS, A.W.N. 1888, 37.

(99)—Receiving pronote executed on plain paper —Want of stamp.—The conviction of a person, who merely received a promissory note executed on plain paper in his favour, of the abetment of an offence under s. 62 of the Stamp Act, 1899, is bad in law. The person, who makes an unstamped instrument, and not the person in whose favour it is made, commits the offence, and the receiving by the latter of the unstamped instrument made by the former does not constitute an abetment of the execution of it, EMPEROR v. RAJLINGAM, 1 N.L.R. 163 (24 W.R. Cr. 1, 7 M. 71, 20 A. 440, F.; 7 B. 82, 10 C.P L.R. 1 Cr., R.)

(100)—Abetment of making an unstamped receipt.—Where an accused person paid a sum of money to his creditor, accepted a receipt from the latter without a stamp, and promised himself to affix one, held, that the accused was not guilty of abetting the offence of making an unstamped receipt, as he did not aid the offence by an act, nor omitted to do anything which he was bound by law to do QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MUTTHA LALL, 8 A. 18=A. W. N. 1885, 317. (A. W. N. 1884, 37, A. W. N. 1885, 30, 7 B. 82, R.) [F., 7 C.P.L.R. 21, Cr.]

(101)—Penal Code, ss 213 and 347—Wrongful confinement by chowkidars sent by Head Constable for getting money extorted from arrested person.—A Head Constable in charge of an outpost agreed to drop proceedings against a certain person, arrested on a charge of illicit possession or manufacture of country liquor, on payment of a sum of money. For this purpose, the Head Constable sent that person in charge of chowkidars to procure the money. The chowkidars, in effecting this object, confined the person, ducked him in a pond and beat him. Held, that it would be impossible to hold that the Head Constable was guilty of abetting an offence under s. 347 in the absence of proof that he gave definite orders. EMPEROR v. LUCHMUN SINGH, 31 C. 710. [D., 13 Cr. L.J. 457= 15 Ind. Cas. 89=U. B. R. 1911, 100.]

See ABANDONMENT OF CHILDREN, 33 P. R. 1872, Cr.

See ABDUCTION, 40 P.R. 1866, Cr.

See ACT XIV OF 1866, 7 W.R.Cr. 54.

See ACT XX OF 1866, s. 91, 23 P.R. 1869, Cr.

See ACT XVIII OF 1869, 23 P.R. 1876, Cr.

See ACT XXVI OF 1870, 4 N.W.P. 4.

Of false personation—See ACT III OF 1877, 7 W. R. Cr. 63.

Punishment for—See ACT III OF 1877, s. 82, 8 W.R. Cr. 16.

See ACT III OF 1877, s. 82 (c), 5 Bom. L. R. 138.

See ACT I OF 1878, s. 9 (c), A.W N. 1901, 117.

Of making an unstamped receipt — See ACT I OF 1879, s. 61, 18 P. R. 1895, Cr.

See ACT XXII OF 1881, ss. 42, 49, L.B.R. 1872-1892, 373.

See ACT IX OF 1890, s. 126, 1 Bom. L. R. 682.

See ACT XII OF 1896, s. 49, 55 P.R. 1905, Cr.=201 P. L. R. 1905=3 Cr.L.J. 135.

See ACT XII OF 1896, s. 52, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 100.

Mere receipt of an unstamped instrument does not constitute—of an offence—See ACT II OF 1899, s. 62, 1 N.L.R. 163.

See ACT II OF 1899, s. 62, U.B.R. 1904, 2nd Qr., Stamp, 1.

See BEN. ACT XXI OF 1856, 7 W.R. Cr. 53.

See BOM. ACT IV OF 1890, ss. 44, 68, 71, Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 708=Cr. Rg. 41 of 1894.

See BOM. ACT IV OF 1890, s. 52, 20 B. 394.

See BUR. ACT I OF 1899, s. 10, U.B.R. 1892, —1896, Vol. I, 117, 119.

See ATTEMPT, 24 B. 287=1 Bom. L.R. 678.

See BIGAMY, 6 C.W.N. 343.

Forgery—Using false document—of forgery—See CHARGE—GENERAL, 6 W.R. Cr. 20.

Abetment—continued.

See [CHARGE—GENERAL, 1 W. R. Cr. Letters, 9.

See COCK-FIGHTING, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 163.

See CONSPIRACY, A.W.N. 1902, 143, 28 C. 797.

Of criminal breach of trust by servant—See CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST, 4 C.W.N. 309.

Manager of Provident Institution permitting proprietor to receive monies which should have been in deposit in Bank—Contract so to permit —Manager not guilty of breach of trust or—See CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST, 5 M.L.T. 141.

Conviction of abettor on the uncorroborated confession of the principal offender—See CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST, 5 C W.N. 294.

Of commission of offence involving a breach of the peace by a zemindar—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 110, 31 C. 419.

Of an offence specified in S. 195 (c), Crim. Pro. Code—Abettor not party—No sanction necessary—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 195 (1) (c), (3), 4 Ind. Cas. 105=6 A.L.J. 983=32 A. 74.

Party to proceeding—Witness—of forgery—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 195, cl. (1) (c) and cl. (3), 12 Cr. L.J. 101=9 Ind. Cas. 577= 15 C.W.N. 565.

Women charged with—of bigamy. Vague complaint—No allegation of specific acts—Exemption from personal attendance—Right to be allowed—See CRIM PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 205, 7 S.L.R. 161=15 Cr. L.J. 539=24 Ind. Cas. 947.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, Ss. 423, 247 238, 7 M.L.T. 79.

Appellate Court whether entitled to alter conviction for principal offence into one of abetment—Abettor present at commission of offence whether can be convicted of principal offence—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 424, 15 Cr. L.J. 694=26 Ind. Cas. 142.

Whether "offence" in s. 30, Evidence Act, includes abetment also—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 30, S.C. 143, Oudh.

Of framing incorrect record by public servant —See FALSE EVIDENCE, 7 N.W.P. 134.

See FALSE EVIDENCE, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 191, 7 W.R. Cr. 49.

See FORGERY, 25 C. 207=1 C.W.N. 681, 3 M. 4=1 Weir 543.

Of prosecution—See HUSBAND AND WIFE, 2 Weir 235=4 M.H.C. App. 55.

See JOINDER OF CHARGES—MISJOINDER OF CHARGES, 9 C.W.N. 1027=2 Cr.L.J. 847.

Abetment of waging war against Queen—See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS —GENERAL, 9 B.L.R. 36=17 W.R. Cr. 15.

See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS —GENERAL, 24 B. 287=1 Bom.L.R. 678.

See KIDNAPPING, 8 C. 969=11 C.L.R. 6, 1 M. 173=1 Weir 353, 26 M. 463=1 Weir

Abetment—continued.

574, A.W.N. 1902, 143, 2 C.W.N. 81, 6 P. R. 1894, Cr., 13 P.R. 1904, Cr,=114 P.L.R. 1904.

See MURDER, A W.N. 1892, 233.

See OFFENCE, 24 B. 287=1 Bom. L.R. 678.

Conspiracy at Cambay—of forgery—Forgery committed accordingly in British India—Trial for abetment in British Indian Court—Jurisdiction—Place of trial—Offence continued and completed in British India though initiated in foreign territory--Abetment—See PENAL CODE, ss. 4, 34, 107, 14 Bom. L.R. 147=14 Ind. Cas. 970=13 Cr.L J. 426=1 Bom. Cr. C. 88=36 B. 524.

See PENAL CODE, s. 34, 14 B. 115.

See PENAL CODE, ss. 34, 111, 149, 395, L.B.R. 1893-1900, 150.

Person causing disappearance of evidence of his own crime—See PENAL CODE, s. 201, 8 A. 252.

See PENAL CODE, s. 218, 7 N.W.P. 134.

See PENAL CODE, s. 302, 1 U.B.R. 1902—1903, Penal Code, 5.

Of a negligent act — See PENAL CODE, s. 304-A, 13 C W.N. 362=36 C. 202=9 C.L.J. 204=9 Cr. L J. 393=1 Ind. Cas. 894.

See PENAL CODE, s. 318, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 775=Cr. Rg. 40 of 1895.

See PENAL CODE, ss. 352, 114, 34, 4 L.B. R. 271.

See PENAL CODE, s. 362, 11 P.R. 1883, Cr.,

Of the offence of kidnapping from lawful guardianship—See PENAL CODE, ss. 362, 361. 15 O.C. 351=14 Cr. L.J. 93=18 Ind. Cas. 653.

Kidnapping—Continuing offence — Mother can be guilty of kidnapping her own child—See PENAL CODE, ss. 363, 498, 9 Ind. Cas. 511 =56 P.L.R. 1911=12 Cr L.J. 94.

See PENAL CODE, ss. 366, 372, 419, 420, 114 P.L.R. 1904=13 P.R. 1904, Cr.

See PENAL CODE, s. 471, A.W.N. 1887, 195.

See PENAL CODE, s. 498, 11 P.R. 1883, Cr.

See POLICE OFFICER, 20 B. 394.

See PREVIOUS CONVICTION, 10 Bom. L.R. 26=3 M.L.T. 122=7 Cr. L.J. 32.

Power of appellate Court to sanction for prosecution of—Offence committed before lower Court—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—AUTHORITIES COMPETENT TO GRANT SANCTION, 15 W.R. 352.

See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION —NECESSITY, SUFFICIENCY AND VALIDITY OF SANCTION, 30 C. 905.

Sanction to prosecute for—of the offence of preferring a false charge. See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—NATURE AND FORM OF SANCTION, 2 Weir 167=2 Weir 243.

Abetment—concluded.

See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—NATURE AND FORM OF SANCTION, 6 A.L.J. 337=2 Ind. Cas. 467, 55 P.R. 1887, Cr.

See SENTENCE—GENERAL, 4 W.R. Cr. 23.

Of abduction and wrongful confinement—Penal Code, ss. 343, 498, See SENTENCE—CUMULATIVE AND SEPARATE SENTENCES, W.R. 1864, Cr. 21

See SENTENCE—CUMULATIVE AND SEPARATE SENTENCES, 16 C. 725.

See THEFT — MISCELLANEOUS, 2 A.L.J. 53=2 Cr. L.J. 22.

See UNLAWFUL ASSEMBLY, 5 C.W.N. 250.

Abettor.

See ABETMENT.

See PENAL CODE, ss. 107—114.

(1)—When person an abettor—To constitute a man the abettor of another's crime, it must be clearly established that both intended to commit or to further the same crime. REG v. HAMAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 93=Cr. Rg. 47 of 1875.

(2)—Who are not abettors—Persons, who are present at the scene of offence against their will, or accidentally or for a legitimate purpose, are not persons that aid or abet the commission of the offence. CRIMINAL REVISION CASE, NO. 301 OF 1892, U. B. R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 117.

(3)—Employing innocent agent, effect of.—An abettor's guilt is not affected by the circumstances of his employing an innocent agent for carrying out his object. EMPRESS v. DHANIRAM, 14 C.P.L.R. 192.

(4)—Abettor guilty when principal innocent.—An abettor may be guilty, though the principal has committed no offence. KING-EMPEROR v. MUKHTAR KHAN, 55 P.R. 1905=201 P.L.R. 1905=3 Cr. L.J. 135.

(5)—Treasure Trove Act VI of 1878, ss. 20 and 21, liability of abettors under.—The mere fact that s. 21 of Act VI of 1878 makes the owner of a land, where treasure is found, liable to a special penalty does not exclude the punishment, under the Penal Code, of persons who abet an offence under s. 20 of Act VI of 1878. In re KASIM BEE, 1 Weir 919.

(6)—Abettor more serverely punished than principal—Registration Act, 1866, s. 94.—Under s. 94 of the Registration Act (XX of 1866), an abettor may be punished more severely than his principal can be. QUEEN v. GOPAL PROSAUD SEIN, 8 W.R. Cr. 16.

See BEN. ACT V OF 1909, ss. 54, 56, 15 C.L.J. 692=13 Cr. L.J. 255=14 Ind. Cas. 607.

Joint trial of principal and—Prejudice—Retrial by another Judge—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 239, 19 C.W.N. 121.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 30, 39 P.R. 1885, Cr.

See PENAL CODE, ss. 34, 114, 3 L.B.R. 264 =5 Cr. L.J. 414.

Abkari.

1.—Abkari Acts.

See 1. BENGAL ACT XI OF 1849.
2. BENGAL ACT XXI OF 1856.
3. BOMBAY ACT V OF 1878.
4. MADRAS ACT III OF 1864.
5. MADRAS ACT I OF 1886.

2.—Excise Acts.

See 1. ACT X OF 1871.
2. ACT XXII OF 1881.
3. BENGAL ACT VII OF 1878.

3.—Opium Acts.

See 1. ACT XIII OF 1857.
2. ACT I OF 1878.

4.—Spirituous Liquors Act.

See 1. BOMBAY ACT III OF 1852.

Akbari Officer.

Peon, whether an—See MAD. ACT I OF 1886, s. 62, 4 M.L.T. 107=18 M.L.J. 455.

Absconding.

See ABSCONDING OFFENDER.

Effect of—Presumption—See CONVICTION, 31 P.W.R. 1913, Cr.=314 P.L.R. 1913=21 Ind. Cas. 473=14 Cr. L.J. 601.

Not incompatible with innocence, omission to point out—Retrial by a new Judge—See MISDIRECTION, 18 C.W.N. 180.

In order to avoid being served with a summons, notice or order—Running away to avoid an arrest under a warrant—See PENAL CODE, s. 172, 2 C.L.J. 625=3 Cr.L.J. 117.

Absconding Offender.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 87, 88, 89.

See PENAL CODE, s. 172.

(1)—"Abscond," meaning of the term—Penal Code, s. 172.—The term "abscond" is not to be understood as implying necessarily that a person leaves the place in which he is. Its etymological and its ordinary sense are to hide one-self; and it matters not whether a person departs from a place or remains in it, if he conceals himself; nor does the term apply to the commencement of the concealment. If a person, having concealed himself before process issues, continues to do so, after it has issued, he absconds. SRINIVASA IYENGAR v. QUEEN, 4 M. 393=1 Weir 76=1 Weir 891.

(2)—Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 87—Absconder, meaning of.—It should not be laid down as law that no person can be deemed an absconder until he has been proclaimed as such under s. 87 of the Code; but an absent person should not be too readily assumed to be an absconder without due enquiry and notice. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 18TH OCT. 1886, NO. 522, JUDICIAL, 2 Weir 40.

(3)—Evidentiary value of absconding—Absconding is but slight evidence of guilt usually. QUEEN v. SOROB ROY, 5 W.R. Cr. 28.

Absconding Offender—continued.

(4)—Procedure for trial of.—Absconding by a person against whom a warrant has been issued must be dealt with in the manner provided for by the Code of Criminal Procedure and not under s. 172, I.P.C. QUEEN v. AMIRJAN, 7 N.W.P. 302. [F., 2 C.L.J. 625.]

(5)—Contempt of Court due to absconding, whether solved by striking out case.—An order striking off a case, on account of the little prospect of bringing the guilty parties to trial, cannot dispose of the question of contempt of Court arising out of the fact of the accused having absconded to evade justice. QUEEN v. MADHOOSURUN, 7 W.R. Cr. 40.

(6)— Proclamation against an absconding offender, effect of.—An accused person, against whom a proclamation has been issued, until he has come in and surrendered, must be regarded as in contempt; and no petition will be entertained on his behalf, until he has surrendered. QUEEN v. BISHESHUR PERSHAD, 2 N.W P. 441.

(7)—Absconder appearing before attachment—Effect on proclamation and attachment.—Where the accused did not appear on the date mentioned in the proclamation, but appeared before the attachment, held, that, as attachment of property under s. 88 is intended to enforce the attendance, required by a proclamation issued under s. 87, within the time therein specified, it was illegal to wait till that period was over and to order attachment because the proclamation has not been obeyed. EMPRESS v. MULCHAND PEMRAJ, 6 C.P.L.R. 38, Cr.

(8)—Proclamation and attachment authorized for what offences.—Ss. 183, 184, Crim. Pro. Code (1861) (proclamation and attachment of property of absconding parties) do not apply to offences punishable with imprisonment extending to six months only. There is no rule which requires a Magistrate to satisfy himself that a party has absconded, before issuing a proclamation ; but the party, on suing to recover his property, may prove by evidence that he had not absconded. Before a Magistrate proceeds to declare attached property forfeited, he should take evidence to prove compliance with the formalities laid down by law with regard to proclamation. QUEEN v. MUDDUN MOHUN PODAR, 3 W.R. Cr. 34.

(9)—Essentials for issuing proclamation for appearance—Appearance after fixed time—Attachment—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), ss. 183, 184.—In order to lay a sufficient foundation for the issue of a proclamation under s. 183, and the accompanying order of attachment under s. 194, Crim. Pro. Code (1861), the Magistrate must, upon some sufficient materials, find judicially that the person against whom the proclamation is to be issued has absconded or concealed himself for the purpose of avoiding service of the warrant of arrest previously against him. The period of thirty days, which is prescribed in s. 183 as the minimum period within which the person is to be required by the proclamation to appear, was intended by the Legislature to run from the date on which the publication, in the mode prescribed by the same section, should be effected. The declaration of forfeiture directed to be made in s. 184, if not made before the person affected by the proclamation has come in, ought not to be made at all. In re RAM KISHORE SEIN, 19 W.R. Cr. 12 = 10 B L.R. Ap 14. See also KING-EMPEROR v. PO NI, 3 L.B.R. 116.

(10)—Proceedings of Magistrate under s. 88, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), whether judicial—Attachment.—The law makes no provision for investigation by a Magistrate of the claims of third persons to property which has been attached under s. 88 of the Code. Therefore, the proceedings of the Magistrate under s. 88 are not "judicial proceedings" in the sense of s. 4 (d) of that Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHEODHIAL RAI, 6 A. 487 = A.W.N. 1884, 214. [F., 4 L.B.R. 109 = 7 Cr. L.J. 81; R., 9 P.R. 1908 = 29 P.W.R. 1908 = 3 P.L.R. 1908.]

(11)—Order for attachment to be issued with proclamation—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), s. 184. —The words "order the attachment of any moveable and immoveable property" of an absconding party in s. 184 are enabling and not restrictive. The Magistrate may attach both kinds of property. But the words "at the same time" must be taken in their literal sense, and he must issue his warrant of attachment simultaneously with the proclamation if he thinks fit to resort to attachment at all. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 12TH MAY 1869, 4 M. H. C. App. 48.

(12)—Attachment of undivided interest in a joint family of an absconding party—Crim. Pro Code (1898), ss. 87, 88.—S. 88 is not intended to apply to the undivided property of a Hindu family, for it cannot be seized, being unascertained. A receiver cannot be appointed, nor can an order be made prohibiting the payment of rent or delivery of the property to the managing member of the family. Nor can the undivided interest of the absconding person be sold under sub-section 7 of s. 88. In re CHINNIYAN, 2 Weir 43.

(13)—Attachment of interest of member of undivided family.—There is nothing in the language of s. 88 to restrict the meaning of the word "property" and it includes the rights and interests of persons who, as members of an undivided family, are jointly entitled to the property of the family. CRIMINAL REVISION CASE, NO. 560 OF 1883, 2 Weir 43, Foot Note.

(14)—Irregularity in the proclamation—Attachment of property, effect on—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 87, 88, 89.—On a person, for whose arrest a warrant was issued, absconding, a proclamation under s. 87, Crim. Pro. Code, was issued on the 6th of November, the date fixed for the appearance of the accused being the 11th of December, 1893. The proclamation was published by affixing of a copy on the court house on the 6th of November, but it was not published in the place where the accused resided until the 15th of November. The accused surrendered on the 25th June, 1894, and applied for the property attached under s. 88, which was refused by the Magistrate. Held, that there was no legal proclamation under the Code and the attachment of the property was void. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SUBBARAYAR, 19 M. 3 = 2 Weir 40 = 1 Weir 86. [R., 1 Bom. Cr. Cas. 104 = 14 Bom. L.R. 163 = 13 Cr. L.J. 293 = 14 Ind. Cas. 757.]

Absconding Offender—continued.

(15)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 87, 88, 90, 436, 437—District Magistrate issuing a warrant before setting aside order of discharge.—On the discharge of an accused person, the District Magistrate issued a notice to him to appear and show cause why he should not be retried and, on the same day, before setting aside the order of discharge, issued a warrant against him requiring him to execute a bond with sureties for his presence till the decision of the case, but, learning that the accused had absconded, issued a proclamation under s. 87, Crim. Pro. Code, and, after some months, ordered the accused's property to be attached under s. 88, Crim. Pro. Code. Held that the proceedings of the District Magistrate, calling upon the accused to appear and show cause, were legal but that the subsequent proceedings, issuing the warrant, the proclamation and the attachment order were without jurisdiction. KANWAR SINGH v. EMPRESS, 15 P.R. 1893, Cr. [R., 17 P.R. 1895, Cr.]

(16)—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 87, 88 and 190—Overawing police officer—Attachment of property of absconders—Penal Code, ss. 99, 143 and 183.—A Magistrate issued a proclamation under s. 87 of the Code and an order for attachment of the property of certain persons who, being accused of an offence, had absconded. In the course of the attachment, an objection was raised by another person that the property, which the police had attached, did not belong to the absconders. The Police Officer, being informed by the patwari, that it was the property of the absconders, proceeded to make the attachment. Then, certain persons, among whom were the accused, combined to overawe the police officer in the execution of his duty, by threatening language and attitude. Held, that the accused were rightly convicted under ss. 143 and 183 of the Penal Code. Held, also, that, under the circumstances of the case, the rightful owner had no right of private defence of his property, even supposing that the absconders, were not the rightful owners, inasmuch as the Police Officer was acting in good faith and under colour of his office. Where, in the case mentioned, the attaching Police Officer sent a person to inform the Magistrate of what had taken place, and the latter, thereupon sent the Senior Inspector to the spot to take up the case, instructing him, in order to comply with the law, that he should take the statement of the attaching Police Officer as the first information of the occurrence and send it to him, held, that the proceedings, instituted under such circumstances, were properly instituted. BHAI LAL CHOWDHRY v. EMPEROR, 29 C. 417 = 6 C.W.N. 680. [R., 9 C.W.N. 125.]

Absconding Offender—continued.

(17)—Forfeiture of property.—Procedure by Magistrate before declaring a forfeiture of the property of an absconded offender indicated. SHEODOYAL SINGH v. GRIBAN SINGH, 6 W.R. Cr. 79.

(18)—Forfeiture of property.—Before passing an order declaring the property of an accused person, who cannot be found, to be at the disposal of the Government, there must be a proclamation under s. 183, Code of Criminal Procedure, 1861, fixing a time within which such person should appear. But, before a Magistrate can issue such a proclamation, he must be satisfied that such person had absconded or was concealing himself for the purpose of avoiding the service of the warrant. SHEWDYAL SINGH v. GRIBAN SINGH, 6 W.R. Cr. 73.

(19)—Enquiry to precede order of forfeiture.—Where an absconding offender appears within two years from the attachment of his property, the order for forfeiture of his property should not be carried into effect until after a regular enquiry into the causes of the offender's absence. In re BISHONATH SIRCAR, 3 W.R. Cr. 63.

(20)—Irregular enquiry into other charges.—When an accused person was arrested as an absconding offender, and, without evidence being gone into that charge, an enquiry was made into his mode of livelihood without any summons being issued under s. 306, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, such proceedings were held to be irregular. QUEEN v. HUTTOOA, 3 N.W.P. 2.

(21)—Title given by Magistrate's sale superior to other titles.—Where property belonging to an absconding accused was attached, under s. 172, Crim. Pro. Code, and subsequently sold, and the same property was in the meantime also attached and sold in execution of money-decree, held, the title conferred on the purchaser in the Magistrate's sale was the superior one. So long as the attachment by the Magistrate continued, no title could be conferred by any attachment subsequently made. GOLAM ABED v. TOOLSEERAM BERA, 9 C. 861 = 12 C.L.R. 411 = 8 Ind. Jur. 40.

(22)—Attachment—Effect on purchaser's title.—Where the property of an absconder had been attached and sold and had vested in a third person, the purchaser, held, that the sale could not be set aside on the ground of irregularity in the proclamation, as the property had vested in a person who was not a party to the proceedings in which the proclamation was made. ABDULLAH v. JITU, 22 A. 216 = A.W.N. 1900, 28. [R., 8 Cr. L.J. 260 = 9 P.R. 1908 = 29 P.W.R. 1908 (Cr.) = 12 Cr. L.J. 142 = 9 Ind. Cas. 826 = 8 P.R. 1911 = 104 P.L.R. 1911 = 13 P.W.R 1911 Cr.]

(23)—Court if can investigate claim of third parties to attached property.—Ss. 184 and 185 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (1861) make no provision for any investigation by a Magistrate of the claims of third persons to property which has been attached. The claimants are not barred by the sale and may bring a suit in a Civil Court against the purchasers to establish their rights. QUEEN v. CHUMROO ROY, 7 W.R.Cr. 35 [F., 17 W.R. Cr. 10, 6 A. 487.] See also GOLAB SINGH v. ABDUL RASHID, L B.R. 1893–1900, 324.

Absconding Offender—continued.

(24)—Claims to attached property—Remedy by civil suit.—The proper remedy of claimants to the property attached, as belonging to an absconding offender, is by a civil suit. In re CHUNDER BHON SINGH, 17 W R.Cr. 10

(25)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss 88 and 386—Claims to attached property.—Where property is attached under s. 88 of the Code of Criminal Procedure as belonging to a person absconding to avoid a warrant and where a claim by another person is made to such property, the Magistrate should stay the sale of the property seized to give the claimant time to establish his right. If the Magistrate errs in not giving the claimant an opportunity of proving his case, the remedy of the aggrieved party is by civil suit. The same applies to s. 386, Crim Pro. Code, QUEEN-EMPRESS v KANDAPPA GOUNDAN, 20 M. 88=2 Weir 42. [F., 7 Cr.L.J. 81=4 L.B.R. 109, Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 976; R., 8 Cr. L.J. 260, 12 Cr. L.J. 392=11 I C. 256=U.B.R. 1910, I. 66, 29 P.W.R 1908, Cr.=9 P.R. 1908, Cr.] See, also, In re JHUNDOO SING, 5 W.R. Cr. 8.

(26)—High Court's power to make order about absconder's property at Government's disposal.—The High Court cancelled a previous order made by it (under an error of law caused by a misrepresentation of facts) directing the restoration of the moveable property of a prisoner which was under attachment : the Court not having been informed at the time that the property in question had, under s. 184, Crim. Pro. Code (1861), been declared to be at the disposal of the Government. Property so declared to be at the disposal of the Government can only be restored by the Government. In the matter of the petition of the GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL, 9 B.L.R. 342=18 W.R. Cr. 33.

(27)—Burden of proof as to manner of proclamation—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 45, 87, 88—Omission by zamindar to give information of presence of proclaimed offender—Proof of proclamation.—Where a zemindar was convicted of having intentionally omitted to inform a public servant, of the resort to the village of a proclaimed offender, and the fact of his being a proclaimed offender was presumed from the fact that the property belonging to him was attached and sold under the provisions of s. 88, Crim. Pro. Code, held, that the conviction was bad, as it was on the prosecution to prove that the proclamation was made in the manner prescribed by s. 87, Crim. Pro. Code. In the matter of the petition of PANDYA NAYAK, 7 M. 436=1 Weir 102.

(28)—Admissibility of evidence recorded in accused's absence—S.327, Crim. Pro.Code, 1872.

Absconding Offender—concluded.

—The conditions laid down in s. 327, Crim. Pro. Code, 1872, should be strictly complied with before admitting against an accused person the record of depositions taken in his absence, and, hence, without a finding, by the Court making the record, that the accused absconded and could not, after due pursuit, be arrested and without any evidence upon which the Court could base such a finding, such record should not be used against the accused. WAHID v. EMPRESS, 21 P.R. 1883, Cr. [R., 26 P. R. 1885, Cr.]

(29)—Absconding to avoid service of summons—Gist of the offence—Penal Code, s. 172.—In order to prove the commission of an offence under s. 172, Penal Code, the existence of a summons, notice or order is necessary. It is not sufficient to show that a person apprehended that a process will be issued, and has, therefore, absconded. It must also be shown that the accused knew or had reason to believe that the process had issued. SRINIVASA IYENGAR v. QUEEN, 1 M. 393=1 Weir 76=1 Weir 891.

(30)—Penal Code, s 172—Absconding by person against whom warrant issued, if covered by s. 172, I P. C.—A warrant is not a summons, notice or order within the meaning of s. 172, I. P. C., and, therefore, the offence of absconding by an offender, against whom a warrant has been issued, is not punishable under the above section of the Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v LAKSHMI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 152=Cr. Rg. 24 of 1881, (5 W.R. Cr. 71, F.)

See ACCUSED PERSON, 1 L.B.R. 60.

See FORFEITURE OF PROPERTY, 7 W.R. P.C. 18=11 M.I.A. 223.

See PENAL CODE, s. 172, 7 N.W.P. 302, 5 W.R. Cr. 71, 9 W.R. Cr. 70.

See PENAL CODE, s. 174, 1 Weir 69=7 M. H.C. App. 43.

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR, 3 N.W.P. 2.

Time to be given for appearance of person against whom proclamation issued under s. 87, Crim. Pro. Code (1898).—See SECURITY PROCEEDINGS, 17 M.L.J. 438=6 Cr. L J. 332.

Absence.

Of some of the members at the adjourned trial, effect of—See BENCH OF MAGISTRATES, 2 C.L.R. 348.

Bench of Magistrates—of one of them during a portion of the trial—See BENCH OF MAGISTRATES, 13 C.L.R. 212.

Absentee Co-sharer.

See PENAL CODE, S. 155, 8 C.W.N. 908.

Abuse.

Whether obstruction—See PENAL CODE, s. 186, 1 Weir 134=1 Weir 621.

Suit for damages for, not barred by failure to prosecute—See RIGHT OF SUIT, 16 W.R. 83.

Abusive Language.

Acquittal on an erroneous view of the law—Using abusive language.—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 258, 11 C.L.J. 113.

See PENAL CODE, S. 294, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 309.

See MAD. REG. XI OF 1816, s. 10, 5 M.H.C. App. 33.

Two Magistrates engaged jointly in Magisterial duty—Use of, by one against the other—Sanction—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION—NECESSITY, SUFFICIENCY AND VALIDITY OF SANCTION, 2 Bom. L.R. 1079.

Accepting Instrument not duly stamped.

See ABETMENT.

(1) — Act II of 1899, s. 62—"Accepting," meaning of.—The term "accepting," in s. 62 (1), Act II of 1899, does not mean receiving, but executing, as an acceptor; and the mere fact that a person receives from another a promissory note without the same being duly stamped does not make him guilty under that section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JADU MAL, 4 O.C. 168. (20 A. 440, F.).

(2)—Act XVIII of 1869, s. 28—Acceptor of unstamped receipt.—The acceptor of an unstamped receipt is not punishable, unless it can be shown that he abetted the making of the receipt, but the maker of such receipt is. SHAMBHU SINGH v. RAGHUBAR, S.C. 33, Oudh.

Accessory

See ABETMENT.

See PENAL CODE, ss. 107—114.

Accessory after the fact— Punishment, liability to.—Under the Indian Law, an accessory after the fact is not liable to be punished. RAKHAL NIKARI v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 2 C.W.N. 81.

Accident.

See PENAL CODE, ss. 80, 304-A, 3 Bom. L.R. 678.

Attempt at murder—Liability for act done—Consequences intended not happening —See REFERENCE TO HIGH COURT, 9 C.L.J. 432 = 2 Ind. Cas. 593.

Accident, Fatal.

See ACT VII OF 1854.

Accomplice.

1.—GENERAL.

2.—ACCOMPLICE EVIDENCE — JUDGE'S CHARGE TO JURY.

3.—ACCOMPLICE EVIDENCE — NECESSITY FOR CORROBORATION.

——1.—General.

See ACCUSED PERSON.

See APPROVER.

See CONFESSION.

Accomplice—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 337.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872 ss. 30, 114, 133.

(1)—Meaning and definition of.—The term "accomplice" signifies a guilty associate in crime. Per Subrahmania Ayyar, J. Where the witness sustains such a relation to the criminal act that he could be jointly indicated with the defendant, he is an accomplice. Where a witness is not concerned in the commission of the crime for which the accused is charged, he cannot be said to be an accomplice in the crime. RAMASAMI GOUNDEN v. EMPEROR, 27 M. 271 = 2 Weir 803 = 14 M.L.J. 226.

(2)—Accomplice, how differs from spy.—An accomplice confesses himself a criminal and may have a motive for giving information, as it may purchase immunity for his offence. A spy, on the other hand, may be an honest man; he may think that the course he pursues is absolutely essential for the protection of his own interests and those of society: and, if he does so, if he believes that there is no other method of counteracting the designs of wicked men, there can be no impropriety in his taking upon himself the character of an accomplice. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAVECHARAM, 19 B. 363.

(3)—Spy or detective, not accomplice.—Spies do not partake of the criminal contamination of accomplices, who enter into "communication with the conspirators with an original purpose of discovering their secret designs and disclosing them for the benefit of the public." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAVECHARAM, 19 B. 363,

(4)—Person supplying marked money if accomplice.—The act of a detective in supplying marked money for the detection of a crime cannot be treated as that of an accomplice. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAVECHARAM, 19 B. 363. (16 B. 661, F.)

(5)—Person charged with offence by police but discharged by Magistrate if accomplice.—A person charged with an offence by the police, but discharged by the Magistrate after the examination of the witnesses for the prosecution, because he found that no case had been made out which, if unrebutted, would warrant his conviction, cannot be said to be an accomplice, simply because he had been sent up by the police for trial. Not being an accomplice, his evidence should not be considered as insufficient for a conviction. NGA MAUNG v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 467 (L.B.R. 1872-1892, 322, R).

(6)—Accused discharged by Magistrate for want of evidence if accomplice.—There is no law or principle which prevents a person who has been suspected and charged with an offence, but discharged by the Magistrate for want of evidence, being afterwards admitted as a witness for the prosecution. QUEEN v. BEHARY LALL BOSE, 7 W.R. Cr. 44. [D., 2 A. 260; R., 16 B. 661, 33 C. 1353 = 4 Cr. L.J. 145 = 10 C.W.N. 962.]

Accomplice—continued.

——1.—General—continued.

(7)—Treating person as accomplice on mere suspicion.—An accomplice confesses himself a criminal. No man ought to be treated as an accomplice on mere suspicion, unless he confesses that he had a conscious hand in the crime or makes admissions of facts showing that he had such hand. If the evidence of a witness falls short of these tests, he is not an accomplice; and his testimony must be judged on principles applicable to ordinary witnesses. EMPEROR v. N. PERCY HENRY BURN, 11 Bom. L.R. 1153 =4 Ind. Cas. 268=10 Cr. L.J. 530.

(8)—Who are accomplices—Person offering bribe to public officer.—A person offering a bribe to a public officer is an accomplice. No distinction can be drawn between accomplices who volunteer to assist in the receipt of illegal gratifications and those who assist under compulsion. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAGANLAL, 14 B. 115. [F., 26 B. 193=3 Bom. L. R. 694; R., 27 C. 144, 33 C. 649=10 C.W N. 669.]

(9)—Offer to give bribe to public servant.—Witnesses, who, in order to avoid pecuniary injury or personal molestation, offer or give bribes to a public servant are abettors of the offence of taking an illegal gratification, and their evidence should be treated as that of accomplices. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHAGAN DAYARAM, 14 B. 331 [R., 19 B. 51, 20. B. 394, 26 B. 193, 35 M. 247=13 Cr. L.J. 305= 14 Ind. Cas. 849=22 M.L.J. 490=11 M.L.T. Sup. 1=1912 M.W.N. 207, 13 Cr. L.J. 352=14 Ind. Cas. 896=12 M.L.T. 1=1912 M.W.N. 549, Rat. Un Cr. C. 720, 746; D., 27 C. 144.]

(10)—Offer to give bribe.—A person, who gives bribes, is an accomplice of the person who receives them; and, while it is usually unsafe to convict an officer on the uncorroborated testimony of a person or persons who say that he or they have given them bribes, the question as to the amount of corroboration depends upon the circumstances of each case. KING-EMPEROR v. MALHAR, 26 B. 193=3 Bom. L.R. 694. [R., 33 C. 649=10 C.W.N. 669=3 Cr. L.J. 452, 35 M. 247=13 Cr. L J. 305=14 Ind. Cas. 849=22 M.L.J. 390=11 M.L.T. Sup. 1=1912 M.W.N. 207, 35 M. 397=13 Cr. L.J. 352=14 Ind. Cas. 896=12 M.L.T. 1=1912 M.W.N. 549, 6 Bom. L.R. 443.]

(11)—Persons present during the giving of bribes.—Where a person gave bribes to a salt officer for the purpose of obtaining due deliveries of the salt he was purchasing from the Government, on being threatened by the salt officer that his weighments would not be done properly if rupees were not paid, held, that there was not such a threat as would excuse the person from the offence he was committing in giving bribes to a public servant. He was, therefore, an accomplice and his evidence given against the salt officer would require corroboration. So, also, the person who had actually paid the bribe to the officer would also be an accomplice and his evidence would require also material corroboration. But persons, who were merely present on the occasion but took no part in the transaction and another who merely cooked the account after the transaction was over, were not accomplices. The degree of credit to be attached to the evidence of such witnesses would depend on all the facts and circumstances of the particular case. EMPEROR v. EDWARD WILLIAM SMITHER, 26 M. 1=2 Weir 521. [R., 35 M. 397=1912, M.W.N. 549 =12 M.L.T. 1=13 Cr. L.J. 352=14 Ind. Cas. 896, 22 M.L.J. 490=1912 M.W.N 207.]

(12)—Persons accompanying another to witness payment of bribe.—Persons who accompany another, who is entrusted with and carries the money intended to be given as a bribe, are accomplices, if they know that the money is to be paid as a bribe and if they go to see and assist, although they do not actually carry the money or tender it RAJONI KANT BOSE v. ASAN MULLICK, 2 C.W.N. 672. [D., 27 C. 144.]

(13)—Who are not accomplices—Witnesses to payment of bribes.—Witnesses to payment of bribes are not accomplices, unless they co-operate in the payment of the bribes, or are instrumental in the negotiation for the payment of the same, DEO NANDAN PERSHAD v. EMPEROR, 33 C 649=10 C.W.N. 669=3 Cr. L.J. 452. [R., 35 M. 247=22 M.L.J. 390=11 M.L.T. 1, Sup=1912 M.W.N. 207=14 Ind. Cas. 849=13 Cr. L.J. 305, 35 M. 397=12 M.L.T. 1=1912 M.W N. 549=14 Ind. Cas. 896=13 Cr. L.J. 352, 12 Cr. L.J. 150=9 Ind. Cas. 897=21 M. L.J 283=10 M.L.T. 84=(1911) 1 M.W.N. 327]

(14)—Being present on the occasion of giving bribe.—The mere presence of a person on the occasion of giving bribes and his omission to inform the authorities will not make him an accomplice, unless it is shown that he somehow co-operated in the payment of the bribes or was instrumental in the negotiations for their payment. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DEODHAR SINGH, 27 C. 144. (24 W.R. Cr. 55, 14 B. 115,14 B. 331, 17 C. 642 21, C. 328, 2 C.W.N. 55, 2 C.W.N. 672, 23 C, 361, D.)

(15)—Wrongful confinement—Money paid to obtain release—Receiving illegal gratification—Extortion.—Where money was paid to a Police Sub-Inspector by a money-lender for obtaining the release of a person wrongfully confined, the money not being voluntarily given nor given in consideration of the Sub-Inspector not proceeding against the person so confined for the purpose of bringing him to legal punishment, held, that such payment was not an illegal gratification, but money extorted and that the money-lender advancing the money could not be regarded as an accomplice of the Police Officer. AKHOY KUMAR CHUCKERBUTTY v.

Accomplice—continued.

— 1.—General - continued.

JAGAT CHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY, 27 C. 925 =4 C.W.N. 755. [Appr., 33 C. 649=10 C.W. N. 669; R., 12 Cr.L.J. 150=9 Ind. Cas. 897=21 M.L.J. 283=10 M.L.T. 84=(1911) 2 M.W. N. 327.]

(16)—Accomplice, whether a competent witness —Person under trial in same case—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 494.—An accomplice, if he is not an accused under trial in the same case, is a competent witness and may be examined on oath. So, if the prosecution be withdrawn and the accused discharged under s. 494, Crim. Pro. Code (1898), he would be a competent witness. Where, however, the Court, purporting to act under s. 494, Crim. Pro. Code (1898), sanctioned the withdrawal of the prosecution but omitted to record an order of discharge and the accused continued to be kept in custody, held that his position was in no way changed from that of an accused. BANU SINGH v. EMPEROR, 33 C. 1353=10 C.W N, 962=4 Cr. L.J. 145. (1 B. 610, 11 A. 260, 16 B. 661, 23 B. 213, 1 Q B. 289, 1 C.C.R. 349, 7 W.R. 44, 10 C.L.R. 553, 20 A. 426, 3 B.H.C. 59, Cowp. 331, 10 C.W.N. 847, R.) [R., 37 C. 340=14 C.W.N. 422=11 Cr.L J. 121=5 Ind. Cas. 365, 7 A.L.J. 86=5 Ind. Cas. 21, 18 C.W.N. 1213, 9 Cr. L. J. 370=4 L.B.R. 362.]

(17)—Accused person, when can be examined as witness.—Unless an accused person is convicted or acquitted, he should not, except in the case where he is made queen's evidence, be examined as a witness touching the matter of which he is accused. EMPRESS v. SHAKUR, 5 C.P.L.R. 1, Cr.

(18)—Accomplice to whom the Local Government has made a promise not to prosecute.—An accomplice, to whom the local Government has made a promise not to prosecute him and by whom the promise has been accepted, after the commencement of the trial, is not a competent witness. Such grant of pardon does not alter the position of the accomplice as an accused person and make him cease to be an accused person. No oath could be administered to him. ALLADAD v. KING-EMPEROR, 9 P.R. 1906, Cr.=4 Cr L.J 282=113 P.L.R. 1907. (12 P.R. 1902, Cr., R.; 21 P.R. 1904, Cr., D.)

(19)—Power of Local Government to tender conditional pardon to accomplice.—A Local Government in India has no power to tender a conditional pardon to an accomplice for the purpose of his being examined as a competent witness against others accused with him. BANU SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR, 10 C.W.N. 962=4 Cr.L.J. 145=33 C. 1353. (10 C.W.N. 874, 1 B. 610, R.)

(20)—Person arrested by police as accomplice.—A person arrested by the Police as an accomplice in an alleged burglary sent up to a Magistrate for trial under s. 457, Penal Code, and examined by him as a witness, was held to be an accused person, having been neither discharged nor acquitted, who could not be examined as a witness. NABI BUKSH v. EMPEROR, 12 P R. 1902. Cr. (38 P.R. 1887, Cr., 1 B. 610, 2 A. 260, 10 B. 190, R.; 16 B. 661=10 C.L R. 553, D.) [F. 9 P.R. 1906, Cr; R., 21 P.R. 1904, Cr.; D., 8 P.R. 1904, Cr.]

Accomplice—continued.

——1.—General—concluded.

(21)—Application for sanction to prosecute approver, how to be made—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s 339.—Sanction to prosecute an approver for giving false evidence should be applied for by motion on behalf of the Crown in open Court and not by a letter of reference. CROWN v BULAKA SINGH, 10 P.R. 1904, Cr. (24 C. 492, R.) [F., 230 P.L.R. 1912, Cr.=30 P.W.R. 1912 Cr.=175 P L.R. 1912=15 Ind. Cas. 83=13 Cr.L.J. 451.]

(22)—Evidence Act, s. 30—Statement of co-prisoner, value of.—The statement of one prisoner cannot be taken as evidence against another prisoner under s. 30. Evidence Act, unless the confessing prisoner implicates himself to the full, as much as his co-prisoner whom he incriminates. QUEEN v. BAIJOO CHOWDHURY, 25 W.R.Cr. 43.

(23)—Admissibility of evidence of bribing person.—The evidence of the person who bribes is admissible against the person bribed. QUEEN v. OBHOY CHURN CHUCKERBUTTY, 3 W.R. Cr. 19.

(24)—Persons paying illegal gratification under compulsion—Evidentiary value of their testimony — Probative force.—The testimony of persons who have been compelled to pay illegal gratification has much greater probative force than that of ordinary accomplices. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCER v. UPENDRA KUMAR GHOSE, 12 C.W.N. 140=6 Cr. L.J. 434.

Trial for murder— Conditional pardon to accomplice—King's witness— Contradictory statement before Magistrate—Sanction to prosecute—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 339 (3) 11 A.L.J. 964.

Summary dismissal of appeal—Discretion, exercise of— Circumstantial evidence, conviction based on —Revision by High Court v—Evidence Act, s. 27—Statements made by accomplice elsewhere than before the Court, admissibility of— See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898. s. 421, 13 O C. 309=8 Ind. Cas. 379=11 Cr. L. J. 631.

English practice as to evidence of—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 114 (h), 133, A.W N. 1882, 13.

Informer—Difference--Need for corroboration —See INFORMER, Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 428=Cr. Rg. 91 of 1888.

Evidence—Necessary for corroboration—See PENAL CODE, s. 400, A.W.N. 1886, 65.

See SPY, 19 B. 363.

Accomplice—continued.

——2.—Accomplice Evidence — Judge's Charge to Jury.

See CHARGE TO JURY—MISDIRECTION.

(1)—Judge's charge to Jury as to accomplice evidence.—The Legislature intended to lay down in s. 114, Evidence Act, the rule that the testimony of an accomplice is unworthy of credit so far as it implicates an accused person unless it is corroborated in material particulars in respect to that person; and it is the duty of a Court which has to deal with an accomplice's testimony to consider whether this maxim applies to exclude that testimony or not, and, in a case tried by jury, to draw the attention of the jury to the principles relative to the reception of an accomplice's testimony. The Court should charge the Jury that the mere confessions of the prisoners tried simultaneously with the accused for the same offence are only to be rated as evidence of a defective character and that they require a specially careful scrutiny before they can be safely relied on. QUEEN v. SADHU MUNDUL, 21 W.R. Cr. 69.

(2)—Points of law and fact that a Judge should lay before jury.—The Judge should inform the Jury or assessors (1) that there is no rule of law prohibiting the conviction of an offender upon the uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice; (2) that, as a general rule of practice, it is considered unsafe to convict upon such evidence; and (3) to point out any circumstances in the particular case which, in the opinion of the Judge, afford a sufficient reason for relying upon the evidence. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 20th March 1868, No. 496, 2 Weir 798 = 4 M.H.C. App. 7.

(3)—Improper advice given by Judge to Jury—Omission to give proper advice—Judge to make proper observations on accomplice's testimony—Error in law—High Court, interference of.—Improper advice given by a Judge to the Jury upon a question of fact, or the omission of the Judge to give that advice which he, in the exercise of a sound judicial discretion, ought to give the Jury upon questions of fact, amounts to such an error in law in summing up as to justify the High Court, on appeal or revision, in setting aside a verdict of guilty. The evidence of accomplices should not be left to a Jury without such directions and observations from the Judge as the circumstances of the case may require. In re ELAHEE BUKSH, 5 W. R. Cr. 80 = B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 459.

(4)—Practice, where accomplice's testimony uncorroborated—Judge's charge to Jury.—Where the evidence of an accomplice is uncorroborated, the correct practice requires Sessions Judges not merely to tell the Jury that it is unusual to convict on such evidence, but also to tell them that it is unsafe, and contrary both to prudence and practice to do so. But his omission to state the above particulars does not amount to an error in law REG. v. GANU BIN DHAROJIET AL, 6 B. H. C. Cr. 57. (3 B. H. C. Cr. 57, Commented on). [R., 14 B. 331]

Accomplice—continued.

——2.—Accomplice Evidence — Judge's Charge to Jury—continued.

(5)—Assessors.—As a general rule, Courts ought not to convict upon an accomplice's testimony, unless confirmed not only as to the offence, but also as to the identity of the individual prisoner as the person or one of the persons who participated in the offence, and juries ought to be so advised and directed. But it cannot be laid down that, if a Judge, aided by assessors, considered an accomplice entitled to credit, though unconfirmed in both these respects, the conviction must be set aside on appeal. In re PALAVASAM, 2 Weir 796.

(6)—Judge's charge to Jury—What it should contain—Omission, effect of.—On a trial by Jury, the Sessions Judge, in summing up, should give a full and detailed statement of the evidence on both sides; he should point out the legal bearing of it, and what weight the Jury ought to attach to its several parts. His omission to do so, if the accused is thereby prejudiced, amounts to such an error in law as would justify a Court of Appeal in setting aside the verdict. REG. v. FATTECHAND VASTACHAND, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 85. [F., 5 Bom, L.R. 207; R., 6 B.H.C. 47; 16 A. 84. F.B., 19 B. 741, 19 B. 749, 23 B. 316, 3 S.L.R. 102 Rat. Un, Cr. C. 644, 719, 720, 748, 806, 850, 917,]

(7)—Admissibility at Sessions trial of accomplice's deposition taken at the preliminary enquiry—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 288.—If an accomplice who has accepted an offer of pardon is examined as a witness at the sessions trial, he is a witness for the purposes of s. 288, Crim. Pro. Code, and his deposition at the preliminary enquiry can be used as evidence at the trial, Though it is not a rule of law, it is yet correct to say that the evidence of an accomplice requires just as much corroboration or as little corroboration as is needed to convince a prudent person of the truth of the facts alleged against the accused. MAMUN v. EMPRESS, 14 P.R. 1894, Cr.

See CONFESION—CONFESSIONS BY CO-ACCUSED—ADMISSIBILITY. 9 C. P. L. R. Cr. 35.

See CONFESSION—CONFESSIONS MADE TO POLICE OFFICERS, 19 B. 363.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 288, 2 L.B. R. 214.

Evidence of illegally pardoned accomplice—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 337, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 51.

See DISTRICT MAGISTRATE, L.B.R. 1893. 1900, 323.

See EVIDENCE ACT. 1872. s. 30, Rat. Unr. Cr. Cas. 771 = Cr. Rg. 35 of 1895.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 114, 22 M. 491 = 2 Weir 746.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872. ss. 114, 133, 14 B. 331, 6 Bom. L.R. 1091 = 29 B. 264.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 114, ill. (b) and 133, 14 B. 115.

Accomplice—continued.

——2.—Accomplice Evidence Judge's Charge to Jury—concluded.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 133, L.B.R. 1872-1892, 322.

Rule as to—See ILLEGALITY, Rat. Unr. Cr. Cas. 466=Cr. Rg. 21 of 1889.

When can be proceeded against—See PARDON, 13 C.P.L.R. Cr. 123.

——3.—Accomplice Evidence—Necessity for Corroboration.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 114, 133.

(1)—Conviction based on uncorroborated testimony of accomplice, legality of—Evidence Act, s. 133.—S. 133, Evidence Act, in unmistakeable terms lays it down that a conviction is not illegal merely because it proceeds upon the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice, and to hold that corroboration is necessary is to refuse to give effect to this provision. REG. v. RAMASWAMI PADAYACHI, 1 M. 394=2 Weir 799, Appr., 35 M. 247=1912. M.W.N. 207=22 M. L.J. 490=11 M.L.T 1=14 Ind. Cas. 849=13 Cr. L.J. 305, 35 M. 397=13 Cr. L J. 352=14 Ind. Cas. 896=1912 M.W.N. 549=12 M.L.T. 1.] QUEEN v. LUCHMEE PERSHAD. 19 W.R. Cr. 43. QUEEN v. KOA, 19 W.R. Cr. 48.

(2)—Conviction based upon uncorroborated testimony of accomplice.—A conviction founded upon the uncorroborated evidence of one or more accomplices alone is valid in law. In re ELAHEE BUKHSH, APPELLANT, 5 W.R. Cr. 80=B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 459.

(3)—Conviction based on uncorroborated testimony of accomplice.—A conviction based on the totally uncorroborated story of an accomplice is bad in law. QUEEN EMPRESS v. SHIDLINGAPPA. Rat Un. Cr. C. 844=Cr. Rg. 13 of 1896.

(3-a)—Conviction based on uncorroborated testimony of accomplice.—The tardily obtained evidence of an approver would not, if unsupported, warrant the conviction of the accused. CROWN v. HEERA MAHAR, 74 P.R. 1866, Cr.

(3-b)—Conviction based on uncorroborated testimony of accomplice.—The evidence of an approver should be received with caution CROWN v. MOTUM, 11 P.R. 1867, Cr.

(4)—Conviction based on uncorroborated testimony of accomplice.—The uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice will not by itself suffice to support a conviction. ATOI v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1892-1896, Vol. I, 103.

(5)—Conviction on uncorroborated evidence of accomplice improper.—A Magistrate should not convict a person upon the evidence of witnesses who are no better than accomplices and whose evidence is not corroborated in material respects by other independent evidence in the case. JOGENDRA NATH BHAWMICK v. SANGAP GARO, 2 C.W.N. 55. [D., 27 C. 144.]

(6)—Conviction based on uncorroborated testimony of accomplice.—Case where the conviction based solely on the evidence of an accomplice, whose story itself was not altogether satisfactory and was not corroborated in any material point connecting and identifying the accused with the offence, was held bad. Although s. 133, Evidence Act, enacts that "a conviction is not illegal, merely because it proceeds upon the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice," a conviction solely based on such testimony will be upheld only under very exceptional circumstances. WAZIR KHAN v. EMPEROR, 5 P.R. 1902=57 P.L.R. 1902.

(7)—Approver — Evidence — Corroboration required—Penal Code, s. 397—Lathi, whether a deadly weapon.—An approver's evidence cannot be accepted unless it is corroborated in material particulars by other and independent evidence. Doubted whether a lathi can be rightly described as a deadly weapon within the meaning and for the purposes of s. 397 of the Penal Code. LAD KHAN v. CROWN, 19 P.W. R. 1912 Cr., =13 Ind. Cas. 998=13 Cr. L. J. 182=17 P.L.R 1912.

(8) Accomplice evidence—Necessity for corroboration in important particulars—Reason of the rule.—It is an established rule of practice that an accomplice must be corroborated by independent evidence as to the identity of every person he impeaches. The value of the rule is due to this. The accomplice may know every circumstance of the crime, and, while relating all the other facts truly, may, in order to save a friend or gratify animosity, name some person as one of the criminals who was innocent of the crime. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KRISHNABHAT, 10 B. 319, (11 B.H.C. 196, 1 B. 475, F.) [R., 35 M. 247=13 Cr.L.J. 305=14 Ind. Cas. 849=22 M.L J. 490=11 M.L.T. Sup.1=1912M. W.N. 207, 35 M. 397=13 Cr.L.J. 352=14 Ind. Cas. 896=12 M.L.T. 1=1912 M.W.N. 549.]

(9) Evidence — Accomplice — Corroboration necessary—Conviction thereon.—Though it had been held in recent cases that a conviction based upon the evidence of an accomplice or even on the confession of a co-accused is not illegal, it has been also repeatedly and uniformly laid down that it is quite unsafe to convict a man on such testimony unless there is reliable corroborative evidence in material particulars. P. S. NARAYANA IYER v. EMPEROR, (1914) M. W.N. 363=15 Cr.L.J. 417=24 Ind. Cas. 153.

(10) Value of accomplice evidence—Nature of corroboration.—Generally an accomplice must be corroborated by independent evidence, though a conviction based on the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice is not illegal. It has been said that the evidence of one accomplice does not really corroborate that of another accomplice, and that the confession of an accused person, taken into consideration under s. 30, Evidence Act, should not be regarded as corroborative of the accomplice's evidence. But this must be taken as a general rule only and not as applicable in all cases. A confession must be considered and the accomplice's evidence must be weighed, and the Court cannot be prevented from taking into account

Accomplice—continued.

——3.—Accomplice Evidence—Necessity for Corroboration—continued.

their bearing on each other. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA TUN BAW, U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. I, 173. (21 W.R.Cr. 69, 9 A. 528, R.)

(11)—Nature and extent of corroboration required.—Per Edge, C.J., and Straight, J.—As a general rule, it would be most unsafe to convict an accused person on the uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice. But such evidence must like the evidence of any other witness, be considered and weighed by the Judge, who, in doing so, should not overlook the position in which the accomplice, at the time of giving his evidence, may stand, and the motives which he may have for stating what is false. If the Judge, after making due allowance for these considerations and the probabilities of the story, comes to the conclusion that the evidence of the accomplice, although uncorroborated, is true, it is his duty to act upon the strength of his convictions. Every case, as it arises, must be decided on its own facts, and not on supposed analogies to other cases. Per Brodhurst, J.—Held, on the analogy of decided cases, that the corroboration, in the case before the Court, of the evidence of an accomplice, was not sufficient to convict the accused. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOBARDHAN, 9 A. 528 =A.W.N. 1887, 156. (1 M. 394, A.W.N. 1884, 286, 8 A. 306, R.) [Rel. on, 12 Cr.L.J. 170=9 Ind. Cas. 978=9 M.L.T. 503; R., 35 M. 247=22 M.L.J. 490=11 M.L.T. 1 Sup.=1912 M.W.N. 207=14 Ind. Cas. 849=13 Cr.L.J. 305, 35 M. 397=1912 M.W.N. 549=12 M.L.T. 1=13 Cr. L.J. 352=14 Ind. Cas. 896, 11 Cr.L.J. 71=4 Ind. Cas. 884=12 O.C. 418, 10 M L.T. 84=21 M.L.J. 283=(1911) 1 M.W.N. 327=12 Cr.L.J. 150=9 Ind. Cas. 897, Rat. Un. Cr. C 750, U.B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 173.]

(12)—Nature of corroboration required.—Not only as to the persons spoken of by an accomplice must there be corroborative evidence, but also as to the corpus delicti there must be some prima facie evidence pointing to the same direction. REG. v. CHATUR, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 102=Cr. Rg. 17-1-1876.

(13)—Nature of corroboration required.—There must be independent corroboration with respect to the identification of the persons whom accomplices charge and with respect to the facts they state; and their testimony ought to be confirmed by other evidence against each person they name. GUNDA SINGH v. CROWN, 21 P.R. 1866. Cr. See, also, ESUR SINGH v. CROWN, 1 P.R. 1868, Cr.

(14)—Nature of corroboration required.—The confirmation usually required of an accomplice must be not merely as to the circumstances of the crime, but as to the identity of the accused persons also. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DHONDI BIN RAOJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 840.

(15)—Nature of corroboration required.—The testimony of an accomplice is not alone sufficient for a conviction. The corroboration must be on matters directly connecting the prisoner with the offence of which he is accused; and the evidence of two or more accomplices requires confirmation equally with the testimony of one. QUEEN v. DWARKA, 3 W.R. Cr. 18 =1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 100. [R., 5 W.R. Cr. 80].

(16)—Nature of corroboration required.—Although a conviction based on the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice is legal, yet having regard to human conduct, credence should not be given to it unless corroborated as to some material facts which go to prove that the prisoner was connected with the crime charged. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KUNJAN MENON, 1 M.L.J. 397.

(17)—Nature of corroboration required.—A conviction cannot be ordered merely on the testimony of an accomplice. There should be corroboration on matters directly connecting the prisoner with the offence of which he is accused. Even the evidence of two or more accomplices requires confirmation equally with the testimony of one. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHIDLINGAPPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 844=Cr. Rg. 13 of 1896.

(18)—Accomplice, competency of, as witness—Corroboration required, nature of.—An accomplice is a competent witness and there is no absolute rule of law which enacts that the conviction on the evidence of an accomplice is bad, but there is an established practice, founded on the judicial experience of generations, which requires corroboration by some untainted evidence and that in a material particular pointing not only to the crime but to the participation of the accused in that crime. SIAR NONIA v. KING-EMPEROR, 18 C.W.N. 550=15 Cr. L.J. 438=24 Ind. Cas. 174.

(19)—Evidence of several accomplices also requires corroboration.—The evidence of several accomplices requires corroboration equally with that of a single accomplice. The mere statements of a confessing co-prisoner are of still less value than that of an accomplice, especially where any improper motive for confession exists. NGA PAW v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L.B. R. 1872-1892, 54.

(20)—Amount of corroboration—English practice to be followed.—The English practice should be followed as to the amount of corroboration required to support the evidence of an accomplice. According to such practice, when an accomplice speaks as to two or more persons having been concerned in the same offence, his testimony should be confirmed, not only as to the circumstances of the case, but also as to the identity of the prisoners; and any prisoner as to whom his testimony is not supported should be acquitted. REG v. IMAM VALAD BABAN, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 57. [R., 14 B. 331, 6 B.H.C. Cr. 57, 13 Cr. L.J. 305=14 Ind. Cas. 849= 1912 M.W.N. 207=22 M.L.J. 490=11 M.L.T. Sup. 1, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 840, 848.]

Accomplice—continued.

——3.—Accomplice Evidence—Necessity for Corroboration—continued.

(21)—Amount of criminality to be considered.—In dealing with the question what amount of corroboration is required in the case of testimony given by an accomplice, the Court must exercise careful discrimination and look at all the surrounding circumstances in order to arrive at a conclusion, whether the facts deposed to by the person alleged to be an accomplice are borne out by those circumstances, or whether the circumstances are of such a nature that the evidence purporting to be given by the alleged accomplice should be supported in essential and material particulars by evidence aliunde as to the facts deposed to by that accomplice. The amount of criminality is a matter for consideration, and when a person is only an accomplice by implication or in a secondary sense, his evidence does not require the same amount of corroboration as that of a person who is an actual perpetrator with the principal offender. [R., 7 Bom. L.R. 969.] Although a conviction is not illegal, merely, because it proceeds upon the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice, the evidence of an accomplice, ordinarily speaking, should be corroborated in material particulars, and such evidence should be accepted with a great deal of caution and scrutiny. KAMALA PRASAD v. SITAL PRASAD, 5 C.W.N. 517 = 28 C. 339.

(22 and 23)—Nature and attributes of corroboration required — Previous statements by accomplice, if corroboration.— Previous statements made by the accomplice himself, though consistent with the evidence given by him at the trial, are insufficient for the corroboration of the evidence of the accomplice. The evidence requisite for the corroboration of the testimony of an accomplice must proceed from an independent and reliable source. REG. v. MALAPA BIN KAPANA, 11 B.H.C.A.C. 196. [F., 10 B. 319, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 840, 6 Bom. L. R. 481. 35 M. 247 = 22 M.L.J. 490 = 11 M.L.T. Sup. 1 = M.W.N. 1912, 207 = 13 Cr. L J. 305 = 14 Ind. Cas. 849, 36 M. 501 = 2 Bom. Cr. Cas. 123 = 15 Bom. L.R. 910 = 18 C.L.J, 365 = 14 Cr.L.J. 577 = 17 C.W.N. 1110 = 20 Ind. Cas. 369 = 25 M.L.J. 518 = 14 M.L.T. 263 = M.W.N. 1913, 806, 35 M. 397 = 13 Cr. L.J. 352 = 14 Ind. Cas. 896 = 12 M.L.T. 1 = M.W.N. 1912, 549, 12 Cr. L.J. 150 = 9 Ind. Cas. 897 = 21 M.L.J. 283 = 10 M.L.T. 84 = (1911) 2 M.W.N. 327.]

(24)—Corroboration must be of material particulars.—The corroboration of the evidence of an accomplice, when required, should be such corroboration in material particulars as would induce a prudent man, on the consideration of all the circumstances, to believe that the evidence is true, not only as the narrative of the offence committed, but also so far as it affects each person thereby implicated. EMPEROR v. SHRINIVAS KRISHNA, 7 Bom. L.R. 969 = 3 Cr. L.J. 33. [Rel., 12 Cr. L J. 170 = 9 M.L.T. 503 = 9 Ind. Cas. 978; R., 35 M. 397 = 13 Cr. L.J. 352 = 14 Ind. Cas. 896 = 12 M.L.T. 1 = (1912) M.W.N. 549, 11 Cr. L.J. 71 = 4 Ind. Cas. 884 = 12 O.C. 418, 12 Cr. L.J. 150 = 9 Ind. Cas. 897 = 21 M.L.J. 283 = 10 M.L.T. 84 = (1911) 2 M.W.N. 327, 22 M.L.J. 490 = (1912) M.W. N. 207.]

(25)—Confession of one prisoner cannot corroborate accomplice evidence.—The confession of one of the prisoners cannot be used to corroborate the evidence of an accomplice against the others. REG. v. MALAPA BIN KAPANA, 11 B.H.C.A.C. 196, (19 W.R. Cr. 68, R.). [R., 1 B. 475, 10 C. 970, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 750].

(26)—Tainted evidence cannot corroborate another tainted evidence.—Tainted evidence is not made better by being corroborated by other tainted evidence. QUEEN v. BAIJOO CHOWDHRY, 25 W.R. Cr. 43. QUEEN EMPRESS v. RAM SARAN, 8 A. 306 = A.W.N. 1885, 311. QUEEN v. DWARKA, 5 W.R. Cr. 18 = 1 Ind. Jur N. S. 100.

(27)—Caution in using approver's evidence.—The utmost caution is necessary in admitting or using the evidence of an approver. It not only requires corroboration in material particulars for its use, but its evidentiary value depends considerably upon the circumstances under which his evidence is tendered. BANU SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR, 10 C.W.N. 962 = 4 Cr. L.J. 145 = 33 C. 1353.

(28)—Rule of practice regarding testimony of accomplice—Corroboration.—It is unsafe to convict a person on the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. IMDAD KHAN, 8 A. 120 = A.W.N. 1886, 7. (8 A. 306 = A.W N. 1885, 311, F.)

(29)—Law and practice in England and India.—The law as expressed in ss. 114 (b) and 133 of the Evidence Act is in no respect different from the law of England, but simply reproduces a rule of practice, viz., that a conviction based on the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice is not illegal, that is, it is not unlawful. But experience teaches that it is not safe to rely upon the evidence of an accomplice, unless it is corroborated, and hence, it is the practice of the Judges, both in England and in India, when sitting alone, to guard their minds carefully against acting upon such evidence when uncorroborated; and, when trying a case with a Jury, to warn them that such a course is unsafe. Not only is it necessary that evidence should be corroborated in material particulars, but the corroboration should extend to the identity of the accused person. There must be some corroboration independent of the accomplice, or of the accomplice and the co-confessing prisoner, to show that the party accused was actually engaged directly in the commission of the crime charged against him. It is of no value and makes no difference if there are two accomplices. A second accomplice does not improve the position of the first, nor does the fact that there are two make it unnecessary that both should be corroborated. The accomplice must be corroborated not only as to one, but as to all, of the persons affected by the evidence; corroboration of his evidence as to one prisoner would not justify his evidence against another being accepted without corroboration. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAM SARAN, 8 A. 306 = A.W.N. 1885, 31. [F., 8 A. 120, 8 A. 509,1 L B.R. 29; Appr., 1 A L J. 110; R., 21 C. 612, Rat. Un Cr. C. 750, 11 Cr. L.J. 71=4 Ind. Cas. 884=12 O.C. 418, 14 Cr. L.J. 225=15 Bom. L R. 288=19 Ind. Cas. 321=2 Bom. Cr Cas. 39, 35 M. 397=M.W.N. 1912, 549=12 M.L.T. 1=13 Cr. L.J. 352=14 Ind. Cas. 896, 13 Cr. L.J. 305=14 Ind. Cas. 849=1912 M.W.N. 207=22 M.L.J. 490=11 M.L.T. Sup. 1=35 M. 7.]

Accomplice—continued.

——3.—Accomplice Evidence—Necessity for Corroboration—continued.

(30)—Evidence Act, s. 114, rule as to accomplice evidence— English Law and Practice.—The rule as laid down in s. 114 corresponds with the rule observed in England. Although the tainted evidence of an accomplice should be carefully scanned and received with caution, and may be treated as unworthy of credit, yet, if the Jury or the Court credit the evidence, a conviction proceeding upon it is not illegal. REG. v. RAMASAMI PADAYACHI, 1 M. 394=2 Weir 799=2 Ind. Jur. 600. [Appr., 35 M. 247=1912, M.W.N. 207=22 M.L J. 490=11 M.L.T. Sup. 1=14 Ind. Cas. 849=13 Cr. L.J. 305, 35 M. 397=13 Cr.L J. 352=14 Ind. Cas. 896=1912 M.W.N. 549=12 M.L.T. 1.]

(31)—Evidence Act, ss. 114, 133—Presumption as to accomplice testimony.—The substantive rule of law is (s. 133, Evidence Act), that a conviction is not illegal, merely because it proceeds upon the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice. But the approved rule of practice is that a Court may presume that an accomplice is unworthy of credit unless he is corroborated in material particulars (s. 114, Evidence Act, ill. (b)). The initial presumption, therefore, is that the evidence of accomplices is unworthy of credit, and it is so only where there are any special circumstances that rebut this presumption and leave no reasonable doubt that the evidence of the accomplices is worthy of belief. NGA WA GYI v. KING-EMPEROR, 1 U.B.R. 1902-1903, Evidence, 1.

(32)—Evidence Act, ss. 114. ill. (b), 133, 155—Presumption regarding accomplice evidence.—According to the provision of the law (s. 133, Evidence Act) an accomplice is a competent witness against an accused person and a conviction based on the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice is not illegal. But the Court, having regard to human conduct, may presume that an accomplice is unworthy of credit, unless corroborated in material particulars. [s. 114, ill. (b).] As an accomplice is a competent witness, it follows, as an inevitable consequence, that, if credit is given to his evidence, it requires no confirmation from another witness. But it has now come to be considered, as a general rule of practice, that the Judge ought to advice the Jury to acquit unless the evidence of the accomplice is corroborated in some material part by unimpeachable evidence. If some part of his evidence is satisfactorily corroborated, there is good ground for believing him in other parts in which there is no corroboration. Under s. 155, independent evidence of facts unconnected with the crime itself may be given in corroboration of the statement of an accomplice. It is, however, well established that an accomplice must be corroborated as to some material facts which go to prove that the prisoner was connected with the crime charged. In this case, it was held that the evidence of the giver of a bribe was sufficiently corroborated by the evidence adduced in the case so as to justify the conviction of the accused under s. 164, Penal Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KUNJAN MENON, 1 M.L.J. 397, F B. [R., 35 M. 397=13 Cr. L.J. 352=14 Ind Cas. 896=12 M.L.T. 1=1912, M.W.N. 549, 22 M.L.J. 490=1912, M.W.N. 207.]

(33)—Persons accompanying to witness bribery —Rule regarding corroboration—Presumption of law—Evidence of one accomplice not sufficient corroboration of that of another—Evidence Act, s. 114, ill. (b).—A person, who accompanies another in order to witness the payment of a bribe, must be treated as an accomplice. (2 C. W.N. 672, F.) Further, the evidence of a person, who was a witness to the payment of a bribe in April or May, but who did not give information about it till the 21st June following, must be treated in the same way as that of an accomplice. (21 C. 328, F.) The rule regarding the evidence of accomplices is that it must be carefully scrutinized before it is accepted. In dealing with such evidence, a Judge or Jury must start with the rule stated in illustration (b) to s. 114, Evidence Act, and presume that an accomplice is unworthy of credit unless he is corroborated in material particulars. There may be circumstances in particular cases which are sufficient to overcome such presumption, and, in such cases, a conviction is not illegal. Such cases are provided for by s. 133, Evidence Act, but, in the case of a Judge who has to give reasons for his decision, the reasons which have led him to believe the uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice should be clearly and fully set out. (14 B. 331, F.) The evidence of one accomplice is ordinarily not sufficient corroboration of that of another. NGA PO THET v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 1 L.B.R. 29. (8 A. 306, F.)

(34)—Presumption regarding accomplice testimony.—Though, before convicting on the evidence of an accomplice, corroboration is not legally necessary, a Court should follow the maxim that an accomplice is unworthy of credit if not corroborated in material particulars (s. 114, Evidence Act), unless circumstances justifying a disregard of such maxim exist. ILAHI BAKHSH v. EMPRESS, 16 P.R. 1886, Cr.

(35)—Amount of corroboration varies in different cases— Compulsory payment of bribe—

Accomplice—continued.

——3.—Accomplice Evidence—Necessity for Corroboration—continued.

Persons paying bribes whether accomplices—Value of their testimony.—When the accomplices were persons who paid a bribe to a public servant, accused under s 161, Penal Code, not of their free will but rather of necessity, and particularly when they did not strive to save themselves by throwing the blame for the offence on the accused but were rather doing the reverse and their guilt, such as it was, plainly not being used as an instrument to induce them to give evidence, held, that their testimony even without corroboration might justify the conviction of the accused; at any rate, their evidence would require a much slighter degree of corroboration to establish their credit than would be the case, if they were entirely voluntary accomplices in the offence which they spoke to. It is generally unsafe to convict an accused person on the testimony of an accomplice, unless it is corroborated in material particulars connecting the accused with the offence. But, in considering whether this rule applies to any particular case, it must be remembered that all persons coming technically within the category of accomplices cannot be treated as precisely on the same footing, and no general rule on the subject can be laid down. DEO NANDAN PERSHAD v. EMPEROR, 33 C. 649=10 C.W.N. 669=3 Cr. L.J. 452. (27 C. 925, 27 C. 144, Appr.; 26 B. 193, R.; 24 W.R. 55, D.) [R., 35 M. 247=22 M.L.J. 390=11 M.L T. 1, Sup=1912 M. W.N. 207=14 Ind. Cas. 849=13 Cr. L. J. 305, 35 M. 397=12 M.L.T. 1=1912 M.W.N. 549=14 Ind. Cas. 896=13 Cr. L.J. 352, 12 Cr. L.J. 150=9 Ind. Cas. 897=21 M.L.J. 283=10 M.L. T. 84=(1911) 1 M.W.N. 327.]

(36 & 37)—Evidence Act, ss. 114, ill. (b), 133 —Corroboration, rule as to, a rule more of prudence.—It is not a rule of law but one of mere practice and prudence that an accomplice is unworthy of credit unless he is corroborated in material particulars. The High Court will not disturb a conviction under its revisional jurisdiction, simply because this rule of practice has not been observed by the convicting Court, unless there are exceptional circumstances calling for the exercise of that jurisdiction in the interests of justice. EMPEROR v. LALLUBHAI PRANBHAI, 11 Bom. L.R. 858=3 Ind. Cas. 963=10 Cr. L.J. 433.

(38)—Infringement of rule of practice, if error of law.—The omission to follow the established rule of practice as to the corroboration of accomplice evidence does not constitute an error in law; but, where the evidence of an accomplice is not of a character to warrant the refusal of a Court to apply to it the maxim enunciated in ill. (b) of s. 114, Evidence Act, a conviction based on such evidence alone would be of questionable propriety. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHAGAN DAYARAM, 14 B. 331.

(39)—Reason for requiring corroboration—Person bribing if requires corroboration.—The evidence of an accomplice requires to be accepted with a great deal of caution and scrutiny, because, among other things, he is likely to swear falsely in order to shift the guilt from himself. But this consideration hardly applies to the evidence of one, who testifies that he has bribed the accused; for, by his own testimony, so far from shifting the offence from himself, he, in fact, thereby fastens it upon himself, for it is by making himself out to be a briber that he shows another has been bribed. EMPEROR v. SHRINIVAS KRISHNA, 7 Bom. L.R. 969=3 Cr. L.J. 33. [Rel., 12 Cr. L.J. 170=9 M.L.T. 503=9 Ind. Cas. 978; R., 25 M. 397=13 Cr. L.J 352=14 Ind. Cas. 896=12 M.L.T. 1=1912 M.W.N. 549, 11 Cr. L.J. 71=4 Ind. Cas. 884=12 O.C. 418, 12 Cr. L.J. 150=9 Ind. Cas. 897=21 M.L.J. 283=10 M.L.T. 84=(1911) 2 M.W.N. 327, 22 M.L.J. 490=1912 M.W.N. 207.]

(40)—Principle applies to persons receiving conditional pardon.—Held, that the rule that an accomplice, unless corroborated by evidence other than that of another accomplice, is unworthy of belief, applies to persons to whom a pardon has been tendered on condition of their making a full and true disclosure of all the circumstances of the crime in which they profess themselves to have been participators and subject to the penalty of being themselves placed upon their trial if, in the opinion of the Court, they have spoken falsely or kept back anything important. It does not apply to a case in which the question is as to the degree of reliance to be placed upon the evidence of accomplices who have been convicted of the offence and have undergone the full term of imprisonment inflicted upon them for their share in it. The evidence of such witnesses, if corroborated by the statements made by them at the time of their trial, is good corroborative evidence under s. 157, Evidence Act. EMPRESS v. TANTIA BHIL, 4 C.P.L.R. 1.

(41)—Evidence of person cognizant of crime.—Where a witness admits that he was cognizant of the crime as to which he testifies and took no means to prevent or disclose it, his evidence must be considered as no better than that of an accomplice and consequently requires corroboration. QUEEN v. CHANDO CHANDALINEE, 24 W.R. Cr. 55. [D, 27 C. 144; Expl., 26 M. 1; Diss., 26 M. 271.]

(42)—Accomplice, who is an—Person cognizant of crime.—The mere fact that a person is cognisant of an offence and omitted to disclose it for six days is not sufficient to constitute him an accomplice, when it does not appear that he helped in the commission of the offence. But the testimony of such person will not be sufficient to justify a conviction except when he is corroborated. ISHAN CHANDRA CHANDRA v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 21 C. 328 [Diss., 27 M. 271=2 Weir 803=14 M.L.J. 226; R., 27 C. 144, 1 L.B R. 29; Com., 26 M. 1=2 Weir 521.]

(43)—Spy, whether requires to be corroborated.—The Government are justified in employing

Accomplice—continued.

——3.—Accomplice Evidence—Necessity for Corroboration—continued.

spies and a person so employed does not deserve to be blamed if he instigates offences no further than by pretending to concur with the perpetrators. They are entirely to be distinguished in fact and in principle from accomplices, and, although their evidence is entirely for the Jury to judge of, yet, they are not such persons as would require their evidence to be corroborated. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAVECHARAM, 19 B. 363.

(44)—Accomplice—Spy or detective—Difference between—Evidence of spy—Corroboration.—One, who, as a spy or a detective, associates with criminals solely for the purpose of discovering and making known their crimes, and who acts throughout with this purpose and without any criminal intent, is not an accomplice, and it is immaterial that he encouraged or aided the commission of the crime. If a witness has made himself an agent for the prosecution before associating with the wrong doers or before the actual perpetration of the offence, he is not an accomplice, and his evidence does not stand in need of corroboration; but he may be an accomplice if he extends no aid to the prosecution until after the offence has been committed. An Excise Deputy Collector deputed B to purchase cocaine from the accused, and B purchased it with money supplied by the Excise Sub-Inspector and handed the same over to the Deputy Collector. The accused was tried for illicit sale of cocaine. B in his evidence deposed to the purchase of cocaine from the accused under instructions from the Excise Deputy Collector, who stated that he gave such instructions, and received the cocaine from him. The accused was convicted upon the uncorroborated testimony of B: Held, that B was not an accomplice and the conviction was good. Although the testimony of a spy does not stand in need of corroboration in order to be acted upon, it is entirely for the Judge of facts to decide in each particular case what weight he will attach to this kind of evidence, the question depending upon the character of each individual witness. EMPEROR v. CHATURBHUJ SAHU, 8 Ind. Cas. 119 = 11 Cr. L. J. 560 = 15 C.W.N. 171. (19 B. 363, R.)

(45)—Witnesses proved to have participated in offence.—Where, from the facts of the case, it appeared that certain witnesses took an active part in carrying away the person, whose death the accused had been charged with having caused, after he had been grievously assaulted and left him in a field where he was subsequently found dead, held that the evidence of the witnesses was no better than that of accomplices; at any rate it would be unsafe for the Court to rely upon their evidence, unless corroborated in some material respects, in convicting the accused. ALIMUDDIN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 23 C. 361. [R., 27 M. 271 = 14 M.L.J. 226 = 2 Weir 804; D., 27 C. 144.]

(46)—Retracted confession—Conviction of co-accused based on such confession, whether proper—Admissibility of accomplice's confession against co-accused.—A conviction on an uncorroborated and retracted confession of an accomplice is improper and bad. The accusation made by an accomplice in a confession may be considered against a co-accused, if that statement is put in evidence against him, but its evidential value would be very slight. YASIN v. KING-EMPEROR, 28 C. 689 = 5 C.W.N 670 [R., 38 C. 559 = 15 C.W.N. 98 = 8 Ind. Cas. 1059 = 12 Cr. L.J. 2, 12 Cr. L.J. 286 = 15 C.W.N. 593 = 10 Ind. Cas. 582.]

(47)—Evidence of accomplice previously convicted on her confession.—Case where the Court refused to convict on the uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice, who had previously been convicted of the same offence on her own confession. (Per Mitter and Pontifex, JJ., Glover, J., dissenting.) QUEEN v. RAMSODOY CHUCKERBUTTY, 20 W. R. Cr. 19.

(48)—Evidence of persons pleading guilty, if sufficent for corroboration.—Four accused, B, C, M and T, being committed for trial, B was made an approver, M and T pleaded guilty, and the trial proceeded against C alone. Held that the statement of M and T could not be used against C to corroborate the evidence of B. Held, further, that, as M and T pleaded guilty and as the trial was against C alone, he was not being tried together with them and s. 30, Evidence Act, had no application. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHAND, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 400 = Cr. Rg. 60 of 1888.

(49)—Evidence of accomplice made witness after pardon tendered.—A prisoner should not be convicted on the sole and uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice, who was made a witness after a pardon was granted to him. QUEEN v. NUNHOO, 9 W.R. Cr 28.

(50)—Evidence of pardoned accomplice.—The evidence of a pardoned accomplice, taken with that of an unpardoned co-prisoner, is not sufficient by itself to warrant the conviction of one who never confessed. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHAGYA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 750.

(51)—Evidence of accomplice promised not to be prosecuted—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 337—339 and 342.—Held, that an accomplice, whom the Local Government had promised not to prosecute in respect of an offence to which ss. 337-339, Crim. Pro. Code, did not apply, was not an accused person within the meaning of s. 342, Crim. Pro. Code, that an oath could be administered to him, and that his evidence was, therefore, admissible against his accomplices. SARDAR KHAN v. EMPEROR, 21 P.R. 1904, Cr. (12 P.R. 1902, Cr., 38 P.R. 1887, Cr., R. & D.; 16 B. 661, 23 C. 493, F.) [D., 9 P.R. 1906, Cr.]

(52)—Admissibility of statement made as an approver after withdrawal of pardon.—Should the pardon granted to an approver be withdrawn for the reason that he has not told the truth, his evidence is admissible against him or any one else. HARGALAL v. EMPEROR, 24 P. R. 1902, Cr. [R., 4 P.R. 1903, Cr: Disc., 41 P. R. 1905, Cr.; Doubted, 31 P.R. 1904, Cr.] See, also, SUBA v. KING-EMPEROR, 41 P.R. 1905, Cr., F.B.

Accomplice—continued.

—3.—Accomplice Evidence—Necessity for Corroboration—continued.

(53)—Pardon tendered by Police Superintendent to accomplice.—Where an accomplice is tendered a pardon by the District Superintendent of Police under the orders of the District Magistrate, the evidence of such accomplice was held admissible. In the matter of NGA PO AUNG, L.B.R. 1872-1892, 246.

(54)—Policeman procuring illegal sale of liquor to obtain conviction—Excise Act.—Where a policeman procures an illegal sale of liquor in order to obtain a conviction, held that he was to be considered an accomplice and that his evidence ought not to be believed in without corroboration. MI THE U v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L.B.R. 1872-1892, 146.

(55)—Policeman procuring sale of liquor to obtain conviction, if an accomplice—Spy or informer distinguished from—Corroboration—Evidence Act, ss. 144, 133.—A policeman or other person procuring an illegal sale of liquor in order to obtain a conviction is not an accomplice, whose evidence, if uncorroborated, ought not to be accepted as sufficient for conviction. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BASTIN, L.B.R. 1893-1900, 365. (L.B.R. 1872-1892, 146, Overruled; 19 B. 363, R.) [F., U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. I, 176.]

(56)—Accomplice-Conviction based on uncorroborated evidence of—Legality—Corroboration—Necessity—Excise cases.—A conviction may be upheld when it is based on the uncorroborated evidence of accomplice, even although a Court should, especially in excise cases, require corroboration. AH TAT v. KING-EMPEROR, U.B.R (1911) 3rd Qr. 96 = 14 Ind. Cas. 968 = 13 Cr.L. J. 424. (6 L.B.R 4, F.)

(57)—Murder—Uncorroborated evidence of accomplices.—Case of murder where the prisoners, whose conviction depended on the uncorroborated evidence of accomplices and an accessory after the fact, were acquitted. QUEEN v. CHUTTERDHAREE SINGH, 5 W.R. Cr. 59; QUEEN v. BAIKANTHA NATH BANERJEE, 3 B.L.R. F.B., 2, note.

(58)—Confession—Corroboration.—The accused was convicted of offences under ss. 392, 109 and 411, Penal Code. The case against the accused rested (1) on the confession of a co-accused; (2) on his confession before a lumbardar; and (3) on his production of stolen property. It was proved that there was enmity between the accused and the lumbardar who took an active part in the investigation and the confession before him was made in the presence of the Deputy Inspector of Police. The property found was such as could not be identified. Held, that the confession made by the accused was inadmissible in evidence and the other evidence against him was insufficient and that he must be acquitted. DASU v. EMPEROR, 11 P.L.R. 1904.

Accomplice—continued.

—3.—Accomplice Evidence—Necessity for Corroboration—continued.

(59)—Evidence Act, s. 24—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 339—Admissibility of approver's statement where pardon withdrawn before completion of trial—Statement made by suspected persons.—An approver's statement, where the pardon is withdrawn before the trial is completed, could not be used against him or against any one with whom he was being jointly tried, such statement being inadmissible under s. 24, Evidence Act, notwithstanding the special provisions of cl. (2) of s. 339, Crim. Pro. Code. It is unsafe to implicitly rely on statements made by men who knew themselves to be under a suspicion, and to whom it is represented that their only hope of escape consists in telling a story by which each may throw the blame chiefly on the other, while the corroborative evidence, which, coming after the disclosures, is necessarily of a questionable nature when it follows closely on conventional lines. GHULAM MAHOMED v. CROWN, 4 P.R. 1903, Cr. (23 B. 493, 20 A. 529, 5 P.R. 1899, Cr., 24 P.R. 1902, Cr., R.) [R., 41 P.R. 1905, Cr.]

(60)—Accomplice's deposition taken prior to commitment—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 288—Evidence Act, s. 157. Where an accomplice, produced before the District Magistrate previous to his commitment and accepting an offer of pardon, made, in the accused's absence, a statement, part of which he retracted before the committing Magistrate; but the Sessions Court admitted in evidence the approver's first statement; held that the statement made in the absence of the accused could not be admitted in evidence against them, under s. 288, Crim. Pro. Code, and was not admissible under s. 157, Evidence Act, to contradict the retraction before the committing Magistrate. Although the mere repetition of a statement, without contradiction or material discrepancy, is, under s. 157, Evidence Act, some corroboration of the truthfulness of that statement, that section does not justify the use against accused persons of a previous statement by an approver relevant to contradict his retraction. PATHANA v. EMPEROR, 3 P.R. 1904, Cr. (10 C. 970, R.)

(61)—Person under arrest pending appeal—Admissibility of his evidence against persons concerned in the same offence.—Per Stuart, C. J.—Where a person accused of an offence was discharged by the Sessions Judge but he was rearrested by the Magistrate, pending an appeal from the acquittal to the High Court and before the appeal was admitted, held, that the re-arrest was lawful and absolutely necessary in the interests of justice, and his statement, after his re-arrest and pending his appeal, was admissible in the trial of another person who was arrested subsequently to the arrest of the former as being concerned in the same offence. Per Spankie, J.—Assuming that the re-apprehension after an acquittal and on the same charge was unlawful, his statement and evidence although admissible, was not such evidence, as the Court would place much reliance upon. If his re arrest was lawful, he was in the position of an accused person and the Magistrate should not have examined him as a witness in the trial of the other accused. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. KARIM BAKSH, 2 A. 386.

Accomplice—continued.

——3. Accomplice Evidence - Necessity for Corroboration—continued.

(62)—Admissibility of evidence of accomplice whose appeal against his conviction dismissed.—When a convicted person, whose appeal against his conviction has been dismissed, is tendered as a witness in a further enquiry ordered to be held as regards other persons jointly tried with him who had been discharged, he is, in no sense, an accused person and his evidence is admissible against those discharged. KING-EMPEROR v. SOBHA RAM, 8 P R. 1904, Cr. = 70 P.L.R. 1904 = 1 Cr L J. 514. (12 P.R. 1902, 45 P.R 1885, Cr. D.) [F., 12 Cr. L.J. 50 = 8 Ind. Cas. 1161 = 33 P.R. 1910 Cr., 50 P. W.R. 1910, Cr.]

(63)—Corroboration, when not necessary.—Corroboration is not necessary in the case of persons apparently accomplices, who have entered into communication with conspirators, but who have disclosed the conspiracy to the public authorities, under whose direction they continue to act, till the matter can be so far matured as to ensure a conviction. To such persons the rule as to corroboration does not apply. The early disclosure is considered as binding the party to his duty and though a great degree of disfavour may attach to him for the part he has acted as an informer, yet his case is not treated as that of an accomplice. In re SHANKER SHOBAG, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 428 = Cr. Rg. 91 of 1888. [F., 19 B. 363; Appr., 38 C. 96 = 8 Ind. Cas. 119 = 11 Cr. L.J. 560.]

(64)—Case where corroboration may be unnecessary — Revision.—There may be cases of an exceptional charactor in which the accomplice evidence alone convinces a Judge, and, if he acts on that conviction, with the character of the witnesses clearly present to his mind, a Revisional Court ought not to interfere in the absence of other circumstances showing a want of judicial discretion. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MOGANLAL, 14 B. 115. [R., 16 B 580 = Rat. Un. Cr. C. 577.]

(65)—Judge's duty to convict where corroboration exists.—Although it would generally be most unsafe to convict an accused, on the uncorroborated evidence of an accomplice, yet, if the Judge, after considering and weighing the evidence, thinks that it is true, and, if believed, establishes the guilt of the prisoner, it is his duty to convict. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOBARDHAN, 9 A 528 = A.W.N 1887, 156. (1 M. 394, A W.N. 1884, 286, 8 A. 306, R.) [Rel. on, 12 Cr. L.J. 170 = 9 Ind. Cas. 978 = 9 M.L.T. 503; R., 35 M. 247 = 22 M.L.J 490 = 11 M.L.T. 1, Sup = 1912 M.W.N. 207 = 14 Ind. Cas. 849 = 13 Cr. L.J. 305, 35 M. 397 = 1912 M.W N. 549 = 12 M.L T. 1 = 13 Cr. L J 352 = 14 Ind. Cas. 896, 11 Cr. L.J. 71 = 4 Ind. Cas. 884 = 12 O.C. 418, 10 M.L T. 84 = 21 M.L.J. 283 = (1911) 1 M.W.N. 327 = 12 Cr. L J. 150 = 9 Ind. Cas. 897.]

Accomplice—continued.

——3.—Accomplice Evidence—Necessity for Corroboration—continued.

(66)—Judge and Jury when may act on accomplice evidence.—A Jury may convict upon the evidence of an accomplice, though not corroborated so as to show the prisoner's actual participation in the offence. QUEEN v. GODAI RAOUT, 5 W.R.Cr. 11

(67)—Magistrate erroneously treating a witness as accomplice —Where a Magistrate erroneously treats a witness as an accomplice and grants him a conditional pardon, his evidence does not require corroboration. REG. v. FATTECHAND VASTACHAND, 5 B.H.C.Cr. 85. [R., 35 M. 397 = 13 Cr. L J. 352 = 14 Ind. Cas. 896 = 12 M.L.T 1 = M.W N 1912, 549, 22 M. L.J. 490 = 1912 M.W.N. 207.]

(68)—Further investigation ordered without reversing conviction based on accomplice's evidence.—Case where the Chief Court declined to reverse the conviction of an accused person based on the statement of a co-accused, but ordered a further investigation to be made on the ground that other evidence would be forthcoming. CROWN v. HOOSAINEE, 27 P.R. 1869, Cr.

(69)—Validity of separate trial of accomplice.—The evidence of an accomplice is insufficient without corroboration to support the conviction of another accused. An accomplice should be tried along with the other accused and not tried separately and examined as a witness. EMPRESS v. SHAKUR, 5 C.P L.R. 1, Cr.

(70)—Rule of practice prior to the evidence Act, 1872—Prior to the Evidence Act, the rule, not of law, but of practice was that a conviction could not be based on the unsupported evidence of an accomplice, that the accused person's statement was no evidence against a fellow-prisoner or one tried jointly with the person making the statement and that such statement was only admissible in evidence when made in the witness-box. CROWN v. NIHAL SINGH, 31 P.R. 1866, Cr. See also GHAZOO v. CROWN, QUEEN v. JUMEEYUTA. 124 P.R. 1866, Cr. QUEEN v. BOORA, 125 P.R. 1866, Cr. DEWA SINGH v. CROWN, 27 P.R. 1867, Cr. CROWN v. JAI RAM, 28 P.R 1867, Cr. CROWN v. MUSSUMMAT RUHEEMEE, 38 P.R. 1867, Cr.

(71)—Evidence of accomplice—Practice—S. 28 of Act II of 1855.—S. 28, Act II of 1855, applied only to the old Supreme Courts and the rules and practice prevailing in them and does not show that, in the Courts of the Mofussil, corroborative evidence is legally requisite to support the testimony of an accomplice. QUEEN v. GODAI RAOUT, 5 W.R. Cr. 11.

(72)—Evidence—Conviction on—of a man sent by Police officer with marked money to purchase Liquor.—The accused was convicted on the evidence of a man who was sent by a

Accomplice—continued.

—— 3.—Accomplice Evidence—Necessity for Corroboration—continued.

Police Officer with marked money to purchase liquor. The District Magistrate considered that it was improper to obtain convictions in this way and directed the discontinuance of the practice. Held that a Policeman or other person procuring an illegal sale of liquor to obtain a conviction is not an accomplice whose evidence, if uncorroborated, ought not to be accepted as sufficient for conviction. QUEEN EMPRESS v. NGA SWE, U.B.R. 1897—1931, Vol. I, 176.

Who is or who is not an—See BEN. ACT V OF 1909, ss. 54, 56. 15 C.L.J. 692=13 Cr. L. J. 255=14 Ind. Cas. 607.

Evidence of—See CONSPIRACY, 16 C.W.N. 1105=16 Ind. Cas. 257.

Accomplice evidence — Not corroborated —Conviction—Legality—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 257, 21 M.L.J. 283=9 Ind. Cas. 897=12 Cr. L.J. 150=10 M.L.T. 84=(1911) 1 M.W.N. 327.

Sanction of High Court for prosecution of, how to be obtained—Practice—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 337, 339 (3). 30 P.W.R. 1912, Cr.=175 P.L.R. 1912=15 Ind. Cas. 83=13 Cr. L.J. 451=230 P.L R. 1912.

Breaking conditions of pardon— Discharge of his co-accused—Subsequent trial of—Committal of, to Sessions—Order of fresh enquiry against discharged accused—Joint trial with — See CRIM. PRO. CODE. 1898, ss. 337, sub-s. 3, 339, 437, 209, 14 Bom. L.R. 897, 1 Bom. Cr. Cas. 193=13 Cr. L.J. 842=17 Ind. Cas. 714 =37 B. 146.

Evidence of—Value—Bribery—Evidence of persons from whom money was extorted—Credibility—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 3, 34, 114 (b), 133, 6 S.L.R. 195=14 Cr. L.J. 262=19 Ind. Cas. 534.

Position of—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 24, 30, 133, 166 P.L.R. 1911=10 Ind. Cas. 340 =9 P.R. 1911, Cr.=22 P.W.R. 1911, Cr.=12 Cr. L.J. 267.

Evidence of — Presumption of untrustworthiness—Whether corroboration necessary —Extent and nature of corroboration—Former statements of, whether amount to corroboration—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 25, 26, 114, ill. (b), 133, 157. 1912 M.W.N. 549=12 M.L.T. 1=13 Cr. L.J. 352=14 Ind. Cas. 896= 35 M. 397.

Uncorroborated and retracted confession of—Conviction based thereon—Legality—See EVIDENCE ACT (1872), ss. 30, 14, 113, 14 Cr. L.J. 179=19 Ind. Cas. 179=6 Bur. L.T. 47.

Testimony of—Corroboration—Witness being relation of accused—Effect—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 30, 114, ill. (a), (b), 19 P.L.R. 1911=1 P.W.R. 1911, Cr.=9 Ind. Cas. 39=12 Cr. L.J. 5.

Evidence of an—What is not corroboration —See MURDER (1911), 2 M.W.N. 375=12 Cr. L.J. 562.

Accomplice—concluded.

——3.—Accomplice Evidence—Necessity for Corroboration—concluded.

In murder cases—Who is—See PENAL CODE, ss 39, 94, 1912 M.W.N. 1108=19 Ind. Cas. 207=14 Cr. L.J. 207.

Evidence of—Value and admissibility—See PENAL CODE, s. 121-a. 15 C.W.N. 593=10 Ind. Cas. 582=12 Cr. L.J. 286.

Evidence of—Necessity for corroboration—Kind of corroboration required—See PENAL CODE, s. 121-a, 1912 M.W.N. 207=13 Cr. L. J. 305=22 M.L.J. 490=11 M.L.T. Sup. 1=35 M. 247=14 Ind. Cas. 849.

and spy—Distinction —See PENAL CODE, ss 121-a, 123, 15 C.L J. 517=16 Ind. Cas. 257 =13 Cr. L.J. 609.

See PENAL CODE, s. 400, 1 Bom. L.R. 156.

Account Books.

Entries of loans in—See ACT XVIII OF 1869, s. 3, 2 N.W.P. 453.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 96, 99, 104, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 880=Cr. Rg. 2 of 1897.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s 34, 10 C. 1024.

Accounts.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 34.

(1) Account books relevant as admissions.—Though certain account books are proved not to have been regularly kept in course of business, yet if they are proved to have been kept on behalf of a firm of contractors by its servant or agent appointed for that purpose, they are relevant as admissions against the firm. REG. v. HANMANTA, 1 B. 610.

See ACT I OF 1878, s. 9, 1 Weir 831.

Evidentiary value of kabuliyats, chittas—receipts and survey maps — See EVIDENCE (GENERAL), 29 C. 187=29 I.A. 24=6 C.W.N. 386, P.C.

'Books of account' in s. 34, Evidence Act, what are—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 3, 34, 114 (b), 133, 6 S.L.R. 195=14 Cr. L.J. 262= 19 Ind. Cas. 534.

Falsification of accounts—Fraudulent intent necessary—See PENAL CODE. ss. 465, 471, 477-a, 36 C. 955.

Accused Person.

See ACCOMPLICE.

See APPROVER.

See CO-ACCUSED.

See COMPENSATION—TO ACCUSED.

See CONFESSION.

See DETENTION BY POLICE OF ACCUSED.

See DISCHARGE OF ACCUSED.

See EXAMINATION OF ACCUSED.

See REVISION—DISCHARGE OF ACCUSED.

(1)—Definition of.—The word "accused" has not been defined in the Criminal Procedure Code, and, in ordinary parlance, it means any person against whom an allegation has been made requiring the action of a Criminal Court.

Accused Person—continued.

MUHAMMAD KHAN v. THE CROWN, 131 P. L. R. 1905 = 42 P.R. 1905, Cr. (21 A. 107, Diss.; 27 C. 662, F.)

(2)—Meaning of term.—The word "accused" does not necessarily mean and include any person over whom a Magistrate or other Court is exercising jurisdiction. HIRANANDA OJHA v. EMPEROR, 2 C.L.J. 149 = 9 C.W.N. 983 = 2 Cr. L.J. 575. (16 B. 661, 23 C. 493 and 21 A. 107, D.)

(3)—Meaning of the term.—By "accused" is meant a person over whom the Magistrate or other Court is exercising jurisdiction. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MONA PUNA, 16 B 661. [F., 23 C. 493, 21 A. 107 = A.W.N. 1898, 185 ; R., 23 B. 213, 15 P.R. 1900, Cr. = P.L.R. 1900, 59, 5 C.W.N. 749 = 28 C. 709, 15 C.P L.R. 112. 24 P.R 1903, Cr., 21 P R. 1904, Cr. = 135 P.L.R. 1904, 131 P.L.R. 1905 = 42 P.R. 1905, Cr., 13 C.W.N. 151 = 36 C. 163 = 8 C.L J. 565, 4 N.L.R. 81 = 8 Cr. L.J. 20; D., 9 C.W.N. 983.]

(4)—Person required to furnish security to keep the peace—Crim.Pro.Code (1898), s. 107.—The party against whom proceedings under s. 107, Crim. Pro. Code, are instituted is in the position of an accused person. HOPCROFT v. EMPEROR, 13 C.W.N. 151 = 36 C. 163 = 8 C.L J. 565 = 9 Cr. L.J. 36 = 9 Cr. L J 359 = 1 Ind. Cas. 737.

(5)—Person required to furnish security for good behaviour.—A person called upon to furnish security for good behaviour is an accused person, and a District Magistrate is competent under s. 437, Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, to order further enquiry in cases where the subordinate Magistrate has discharged the person under s. 119, Crim. Pro. Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MUTASADDI LALL, 21 A. 107 = A.W.N. 1898, 185. (16 B. 661, 23 C. 493. F.) [Diss., 42 P.R. 1905, Cr. = 131 P.L.R. 1905; F., 35 B. 401 = 13 Bom. L.R. 505 = 1 Bom. Cr. Cas. 49 = 12 Cr. L.J. 430 = 11 Ind. Cas. 614, 36 C. 163 = 8 C.L.J. 565 = 13 C.W.N. 151 = 9 Cr. L.J. 36 = 1 Ind. Cas. 717 ; Appl., 25 A. 375 = A.W.N. 1903. 79 ; R., 24 A. 148 = A.W.N. 1901, 206, 34 A. 533 = 10 A.L.J 27 = 13 Cr. L.J. 452 = 15 Ind Cas. 84, 36 A. 147 = 12 A.L.J. 167 = 15 Cr. L.J 39 = 22 Ind. Cas. 183, 28 C. 709 = 5 C.W.N. 749, 36 M. 315 = 14 Cr. L.J. 559 = 21 Ind. Cas. 159.]

(6)—Person called upon to furnish security.—Although a person, who is called upon to furnish security for good behaviour, is not accused of an offence, yet, he is an accused person, as the word "accused" means a person over whom the Magistrate or other Court is exercising jurisdiction. JHOJA SINGH v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 23 C. 493. [F., 21 A 107 = A.W.N. 1898, 185; R., 34 A. 533 = 10 A.L.J. 27 = 13 Cr. L.J. 452 = 15 Ind. Cas. 84, 28 C. 709 = 5 C.W. N. 749, 36 C. 163 = 13 C.W.N. 151 = 8 C.L.J. 565 = 1 Ind. Cas. 737 = 9 Cr. L.J. 36 = 9 Cr. L. J. 359, 2 L.B.R. 80, 135 P.L.R. 1904 = 21 P.R. 1904, Cr., 131 P.L.R. 1905 = 42 P.R. 1905, Cr., 8 Cr. L.J. 20 = 4 N.L.R. 81, 11 Cr. L.J. 501 = 7 Ind. Cas. 606 = 4 S.L.R. 49 ; D., 2 C.L.J. 149 = 9 C.W.N. 983.]

(7)—Person against whom security proceedings are taken.—An accused person, within the meaning of s. 437, Crim. Pro. Code, includes also a person against whom proceedings are taken under s. 110, Crim. Pro. Code. MANNA v. EMPEROR, 24 P.R. 1903, Cr. [Overruled, 30 P.W.R. 1911 = 6 P.R. 1911 = 10 Ind. Cas. 178 = 12 Cr.L.J. 232 = 153 P.L.R. 1911.] See, also, CHETU v. GOKHA SINGH, 33 P.R. 1905, Cr. MUHAMMAD KHAN v. KING-EMPEROR, 42 P.R. 1905, Cr.

(8)—Accused pleading guilty, but neither convicted nor acquitted—When accused becomes competent witness against co-accused.—Until an accused person, who has pleaded guilty, is convicted or acquitted, he is still an accused person and is, therefore, not a competent witness against the co-accused. It is open to the Court to refuse to accept the plea of guilty returned by an accused and to try the question of the accused's guilt. Where one of two accused pleaded guilty, but the Magistrate took no action on the plea, but, proceeding to try the case as against the other accused, directed his mind and his judgment entirely to the case as it stood on independent testimony (as he was of opinion that, if the second accused was not guilty, the plea of the first was valueless), held, the trial was good. SUKDEL TEWARI v. KING EMPEROR, 9 C.L.J. 291 = 13 C.W.N. 552. (23 A. 53, 30 A. 540, 19 B. 195, D.)

(9)—Convicted person, if accused.—A convicted person is not an accused person within the meaning of s. 390 of Act X of 1872. QUEEN v. THAKUR PARSHAD, 1 A. 151, F.B.

(10)—Person who has been convicted under s. 411, Penal Code, if accused person.—The words "accused person" in s. 436, Penal Code, are inapplicable to a person who has been convicted by the Magistrate under s. 411, from whose sentence no appeal lies. BAGDEE MANJEE v. MOHINDRO NARAIN, 10 W.R. Cr. 16.

(11)—Person discharged under s. 119, Crim. Pro. Code, 1898 —A person discharged under s. 119, Crim. Pro. Code, 1898, is not an accused person within the meaning of s. 437, Crim. Pro. Code. 1898, and a District Magistrate is, therefore, not competent to pass an order for further inquiry into the case of such a person. MUHAMMAD KHAN v. EMPEROR, 42 P.R. 1905, Cr. = 131 P.L.R. 1905. (21 A. 107, Not F.; 27 C. 662, F. ; 24 C. 395, 20 C. 729, R.) [F., 30 P.W.R. 1911, Cr. = 6 P.R. 1911 = 10 Ind. Cas. 178 = 12 Cr. L.J. 232, 154 P.L.R. 1914; Appr., 5 P.R. 1914, Cr., 153 P.L.R. 1911, R., 36 A. 147 = 12 A.L.J. 167 = 15 Cr. L.J. 39 = 22 Ind. Cas. 183.]

(12)—Party to proceeding under s. 133, Crim. Pro. Code, 1898.—Proceedings under s. 133, Crim. Pro. Code, are more of the nature of civil than of criminal proceedings and a party to such a proceeding is not an accused person within the meaning of s. 369 of the Code; there is nothing to prevent his being examined on oath, and, if such a person gives false evidence, he may be prosecuted for an offence under s. 193, Penal Code. HIRANANDA OJHA v. EMPEROR, 2 C.L.J. 149 = 9 C.W.N. 983 = 2 Cr. L.J. 575.

Accused Person—continued.

(13)—Manner of describing accused persons.—Accused persons must be designated by name and not by number. QUEEN v. BIDADHUR BISWAS, 7 W.R Cr. 53.

(14)—Identification of accused.—In serious cases triable by the Court of Session, the witness should not be allowed to identify the numerous persons in a body, and such statement as "I identify all the prisoners as having taken part in the dacoity" are inadmissible. The witness should be called on to identify each individual prisoner, and the identification of each should be separately recorded. Moreover, when the witness has pointed out each individual prisoner to the Judge, it is not sufficient for the Judge to make a note that the witness has done so. He should record the words in which the witness identifies the prisoners as part of the witness's deposition. SHANKAR v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 3 O.C. 72.

(15)—Accused— His position in a criminal case.—The accused in a criminal case is merely on the defensive, and, unless there is any positive admission of a fact by him, any omission on his part to explain what indeed can be explained without his explanation, should not be pressed against him. EMPEROR v. BANKATRAM LACHIRAM, 28 B. 533 = 6 Bom. L.R. 379.

(16)—Court importing its own knowledge into case.—In a dacoity case, the Magistrate stated in his judgment that the identification at the jail was carried out in his presence in such a manner "as to admit of no fraud." Held that the Magistrate could not import his own knowledge into the case except as a witness. SRI KISHEN v. KING-EMPEROR, 6 O.C. 204 [Diss., 11 O.C. 328 ; R., 8 Cr. L.J. 393.]

(17)—Accused being a pardanashin woman—Personal attendance.— Where a pardanashin woman, of good position, is accused of an offence, the Magistrate should dispense with her personal attendance and permit her to appear by pleader, until such time as he has before him clear, direct, and reliable prima facie proof that the accused has a real charge to answer. In the matter of the petition of RAHIM BIBI, 6 A. 59 = A.W.N. 1883, 207. [R., 20 P.W R. 1908, Cr.]

(18)—Incapability of accused to understand proceedings—Deaf and dumb accused—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 341. Where an accused, being deaf and dumb, cannot be made to understand the proceedings against him, and it becomes impossible to say that he knew the nature of the act committed or that he acted with any dishonest intention therein, he must be acquitted and discharged. KING-EMPEROR v. MONYA, 4 Bom. L.R. 296.

(19)—Deaf and dumb accused.—The conviction, under s. 457, Penal Code, of an accused person, proved to have been deaf and dumb from his birth, in consequence of which he could not understand the nature of the proceedings taken against him, was set aside and he was ordered to be discharged, under s. 341, Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, although the Court below found that the complainant's stolen property was produced by the accused after his arrest and the prosecution evidence established the offence against him. ATU RAM v. EMPRESS, 34 P R. 1885, Cr. (22 W.R. Cr., 35, F.) [Diss., 12 Cr. L.J. 386 = 11 Ind Cas. 250 = U B.R. 1910, I, 57; D., 12 Cr. L. J. 613 = 12 Ind. Cas. 989 = 13 P.R. 1911, Cr. = 39 P.W.R. 1911, Cr.]

(20)—Crim. Pro. Code, 1872, s. 186 — Deaf and dumb accused —Where a person aged nearly 16 years, whose understanding was of the most limited kind, and who had been deaf and dumb from his birth, was convicted of house breaking by night, the High Court, considering the facts stated above and considering also that sheer hunger had driven him to break into the house and that he had never been in arrest before, recommended that he should be made over to his father. QUEEN v. GANGA, 7 N.W.P. 131.

(21)—Deaf and dumb person.—The inability of the accused, a deaf and dumb woman, to understand the proceedings is not a ground for refraining from passing sentence on her. EMPRESS v. MATHURIA, A.W.N. 1881, 54.

(22)—Crim. Pro. Code, 1872, s. 186—Deaf and dumb accused.—Where a deaf and dumb accused is charged with an offence, the Judge should proceed with the trial, and if he considered that the accused had not understood the proceedings and the trial resulted in conviction, the case should be reported. EMPRESS v. MATHURIA, A.W.N. 1881, 15.

(23)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 341, 471—Deaf and dumb person —A Magistrate should not, after convicting a deaf and dumb person of an offence charged against him, proceed to pass sentence on him, but should submit the matter for the orders of the High Court, and, in the absence of any clear and specific provision in the Code, should treat such accused as a lunatic and report the matter to the Local Government. EMPRESS v. GAHNA, 37 P.R. 1889, Cr. [Diss., 12 Cr.L J. 386 = 11 Ind. Cas. 250 = U.B.R. 1910, I, 57 ; F., 12 Cr. L J. 613 = 12 Ind. Cas. 989 = 13 P.R. 1911, Cr. = 39 P.W. R. 1911.]

(24)—Attempt to communicate with deaf and dumb accused essential—Effect of failure to do so.—Where a deaf and dumb person was tried without any attempt being made to communicate with the prisoner, held, that the accused was prejudiced by the irregularity. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 5th December 1870, No. 2190, 2 Weir 403 = 6 M.H.C. App. 7.

(25)—Crim.Pro.Code (1861), s. 186 (3) (s. 341 of the Code of 1898)—Dumb accused—Procedure.—Where a dumb person is placed on his trial, some means of communicating with him should be adopted. The omission to do so will not invalidate the trial, unless the accused has been prejudiced thereby. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 24TH MAY 1870, NO. 1024, 2 Weir 402.

Accused Person—continued.

(26)—Accused found to be insane—Enquiry into his state of mind to be held.—When an accused is found to be insane at the trial, the Court ought to make a proper enquiry into the state of the mind of the accused at the time of the commission of the offences charged. KIMG-EMPEROR v SHEODIN, A.W N. 1902, 131. [R., 14 Cr. L.J. 81=18 Ind. Cas. 640=15 O. C. 321.]

(27)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 464—When enquiry can be held by Magistrate having reason to believe that accused is of unsound mind and incapable of making defence.—Chap. XXXIV of Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, contains only subsidiary provisions for dealing with an exceptional class of persons charged with offences. These provisions are not to be construed so as to override the general rules of procedure, except in so far as any special provision is clearly incompatible with the general provisions. Held, that, in the case of a charge of an offence under Ch. XVIII Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, made before a Magistrate, he ought to make an enquiry into the truth of the charge, and it is only when the Magistrate is satisfied after such enquiry that a prima facie case is made out against the accused, that he can hold the enquiry prescribed by s. 464, into the question whether the accused is unsound in mind, and consequently cannot make his defence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAKHAN SINGH, 11 P.R. 1894, Cr.

(28)—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 464, 466, 439—Lunacy of accused—Procedure.—Detention in asylum—Appeal—Revision — Penal Code, s. 326.—A Magistrate who finds that an accused person was of unsound mind both when he committed the offence and at the time of the trial, should not continue the trial but pass orders under ss. 464 and 466 of the Crim. Pro. Code. It is not a trial in which a verdict of guilty or not guilty could be legally pronounced. Where, in the above case, the Magistrate finished the trial and finding the accused guilty of an offence under s. 326, I.P.C., ordered his detention in the lunatic asylum, held that the order being a non-appealable one was open to revision under s. 439 of the Crim. Pro. Code. EMPRESS v. CHADAMI LAL, A W.N. 1900, 47.

(29)—Crim. Pro. Code (1872), ss 186, 297, 423—Accused being of unsound mind.—S. 186, Crim. Pro. Code, 1872, is intended to provide for cases in which the accused person is deaf and dumb, or, from ignorance of the language of the country and the want of an interpreter, is unable to understand, or make himself understood. In such cases, the High Court would probably order the prisoner to be detained during Her Majesty's pleasure. But when the accused is unable to understand the proceedings owing to unsoundness of mind, the Magistrate should adopt the procedure provided in Chap.XXXI. Where an imbecile, who was, consequently, unable to understand the proceedings and was incapable of making any defence. was convicted by the Magistrate, the High Court, under s. 297, directed that the accused should be released on sufficient security being given that he would be properly taken care of and would be prevented from doing injury to himself or to any other person and for his appearance when required; and that, in default of such security being given, the case should be reported for the orders of the Government. EMPRESS v. HUSEN, 5 B. 262. [R., 7 B. 15, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 696, U.B.R. 1892-1896, 38, Cr.]

(30)—Crim. Pro. Code, Act X of 1872, s. 426—Accused lunatic—Procedure.—Where a Magistrate finds that the accused under trial is of unsound mind, but, instead of staying the trial and acting under s. 426 of the Crim. Pro. Code, proceeds with it and acquits him under s. 84 of the Penal Code, held that the procedure was irregular. EMPRESS v. RATTI, A.W. N. 1882, 106.

(31)—Proceedings against persons of unsound mind—De novo trial.—Where the trial of an accused person, who was remanded to custody on the ground of insanity, was resumed upon receipt of a letter from the Zillah Surgeon, at the point at which it had been stopped, held, that the trial should have been commenced de novo after finding with the aid of assessors that he was capable of making his defence, and that the Judge should not have acted on the letter of the Zillah Surgeon, which was not legal evidence. ACTING GOVERNMENT PLEADER v. KUNNUKAN CHETTI, 2 Weir 582.

(32)—Crim. Pro. Code (1872), s. 186 (3) (s. 341 of the Code of 1898)—Conviction, when accused does not understand the proceedings.—Where the Magistrate was uncertain whether the accused understood the proceedings, held, that he would not be justified in convicting and sentencing the accused. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 18TH NOV. 1875, NO. 285, 2 Weir 403.

(33)—Penal Code, s. 84—Accused killing his own children when ill with fever—Insanity—Homicidal mania — Reduction of sentence—Pardon.—The accused killed his two young children with a hatchet. The reason given for the murder was that, being ill with fever for several days, he was vexed with the crying of the children. It was alleged that during fever he was very irritable, sensitive to noise, and confused in his thoughts, but that he did not become delirious. His manner was quiet, when questioned, and there was no attempt at concealment. He fully confessed, but showed no signs of sorrow or remorse. Held that the evidence was not sufficient to prove that he was not conscious of its nature. If he was conscious of its nature, he should be presumed to have been conscious of its criminality. Held, therefore, that s. 84, I.P.C., did not apply to the case and that he was punishable under s. 302, I.P.C. But the High Court forwarded the proceedings to H.E. the Governor in Council, observing that "there is good ground for classing the case with those of Greensmith and Brixey, as to which so high an authority as Dr. Taylor has observed that they fairly establish the occasional existence of homicidal mania, in which the mental condition of the accused persons at the time of perpetrating the acts of murder is such as to justify their acquittal on the ground of insanity." The case is one where future symptoms may, perhaps, throw more light on the accused's state of mind, and possibly justify a commutation or reduction of sentence, if not pardon. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LAKSHMAN DAGDU, 10 B. 512. [F., 23 C. 604; Appr., 12 M. 459=1 Weir 43, 11 Cr.L.J. 105=4 Ind. Cas. 985=6 M.L.T. 101=94 P.L.R. 1909=16 P.W.R. 1909; R., 17 C.P.L.R. 113, 13 Cr.L.J. 164=13 Ind. Cas. 916=7 N.L.R. 185, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 698, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 818; D., 14 B. 564, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 279.]

Accused Person—continued.

(34)—Substantially defective criminal proceedings cannot be cured by accused's waiver.—Criminal proceedings, which are substantially bad, cannot be cured by any amount of waiver or consent on the part of the accused not personal to the latter. QUEEN v. BHOLANATH SEN, 2 C 23. [F., 12 C.W.N. 140=6 Cr.L.J. 434; R., 6 C. 96, 4 Bom. L.R. 53, 7 Bom. L. R. 527, 15 C.P.L.R. 66; D., 6 C. 83=6 C.L.R. 463.]

(35)—Waiver of irregularity.—Where criminal proceedings are substantially bad in themselves, defect will not be cured by any waiver or consent of the accused or their pleaders. HOSSAIN BUKSH v. EMPRESS, 6 C. 96=6 C. L.R. 521. (2 C. 23, R.)

(36)—Waiver of irregularity.—If criminal proceedings are substantially bad, they will not be cured by any waiver or consent of the prisoner. EMPEROR v. KASIM, 15 C.P.L.R. 66. (2 C. 23, R.).

(37-38)—Waiver of irregularity by—If throwing one-self on Court's mercy amounts to a plea of guilty.—Except where the law expressly permits waiver, the right of an accused person should not be held to be lost by his consent to a procedure, or to the admission of evidence which the law does not authorize. The prisoner on his trial can consent to nothing. It is the duty of Magistrates and all Criminal Courts to follow the procedure prescribed by law, and the consent of the accused cannot be invoked against irregularity in procedure. [Not F., 39 C. 781=13 Cr. L. J. 218=14 Ind. Cas. 314; Diss., 35 C. 457=7 C. L. J. 488=7 Cr. L.J. 220=12 C.W.N. 216; Appr., 32 M. 218=5 M.L.T. 218=9 Cr. L.J. 146=1 Ind. Cas. 54.] Where the accused did not formally plead guilty, the fact that he threw himself on the mercy of the Court should not prejudice him. The testimony of persons, who have been compelled to pay illegal gratification, has much greater probative force than that of ordinary accomplices. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCER v. UPENDRA KUMAR GHOSE, 12 C.W.N. 140=6 Cr. L.J. 434. (24 W.R. Cr. 53, 10 C.W.N. 669=33 C. 649, F.; 13 W.R. Cr. 40, Not F.)

(39)—Plea of guilty when offence was not correctly stated—Effect.—The plea of guilty of an accused person cannot be accepted, when it is not clear that the offence was correctly stated to him. NGA PYO v. KING-EMPEROR, U. B. R. 1907, 3rd Qr, Penal Code, 9=7 Cr. L.J. 208=14 Bur L. R. 216.

(40)—Joint trial of accused—Discharge of co-accused—Co-accused called as witness—Same transaction.—The police sent up two accused, A and B, separately, A charged under s. 324, Penal Code, with causing hurt to B, and B under s. 326 with causing grievous hurt to A. The Magistrate inquired into the case against both the accused jointly, and, finding that the evidence against B was insufficient, discharged him and examined him as a witness against A, who was convicted. Held that, as it was proper to take the evidence of A against B, as well as that of B against A, the different offences were not committed in the same transaction, and that there should have been separate inquiries against each accused. NGA THA DUN AUNG v. KING-EMPEROR, 2 L.B.R. 106 (1 L. B. R. 56, 20 C. 537, 5 C.L.R. 574, L.B.R. 1893-1900, 536, R.)

(41)—Joint trial of two or more persons—Competency of one of them to be witness against another.—When two or more persons are jointly tried, one of such persons cannot be called as a witness either for or against another of such persons. EMPEROR v. VINAYAK JAGESHWAR, 15 C. P. L. R. 112. (5 C. L. R. 574, 1 B. 610, 2 A. 260, 7 W.R. Cr. 44, 16 B. 661, 23 B. 213, R.)

(42)—Examination of accused, object of—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 342, 364.—The object of the examination of an accused person contemplated by ss. 342 and 364, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), is to enable him "to explain the circumstances appearing in evidence against him" and it is not to empower a Judge, before any evidence has been given, to extract damaging admissions from him, upon which to build up the case for the prosecution. EMPRESS v. BUDHA, A.W.N. 1884, 106; QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HARGOBIND SINGH, 14 A. 242=A.W.N. 1892, 83.

(43)—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 342, 362—Examination of accused.—The examination referred to in s. 364, Crim. Pro. Code, is subject to the purpose referred in s. 342, that is, to explain any circumstances appearing against the prisoner, but not to fasten the guilt on him. A Judge should not so examine an accused person as to enable him to supplement the case for the prosecution and show that he is guilty. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RANGI, 10 M. 295=2 Weir 361=2 Weir 407.

(44)—Object of examining accused.—The object of the examination of the accused is to enable him to explain circumstances appearing in the evidence against him and not to supply defects in the evidence. THA ZAN v. CROWN, 1 L.B.R. 292.

Accused Person—continued.

(45)—Examination of accused.—It is the duty of the Magistrate, both in summons and warrant cases, after the witnesses for the prosecution have been examined, to examine the accused for the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against him. QUEEN EMPRESS v NGA PYAUNG, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 82.

(46)—Entrapping accused to give incriminating answer, impropriety of.—The sole object of the examination of the accused should be to enable him to explain the evidence which has been given against him. Courts ought not to try to entrap the accused into giving some incriminating answer. Failure to prove an alibi, or even proof that an alibi is false can rarely be safely regarded as evidence supporting the case for the prosecution. ALI HUSSAN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L.B R. 1893—1900, 349.

(47)—Accused not bound to make admissions against himself.—No man charged with any criminal offence is bound or is under any obligation to make any admission injurious to his own interest, nor should any judicial officer attempt to compel any accused person to make any admission detrimental to his interest. In the matter of the petition of GUDAR SINGH, 19 A. 291=A.W.N. 1897, 52.

(48)—Examination of accused — Admission of previous conviction — Value of such admission—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 342 (1) and 511.—Under s. 342, cl. (1), Crim. Pro. Code, the purpose of the examination of an accused person is to enable him to explain any circumstance appearing in the evidence against him. The accused should not, in his examination, be asked if there was against him a previous conviction of which there is no evidence; nor, without proof of the authorized kind of previous conviction, does the mere admission of an accused person justify the use of the conviction to affect the punishment to be inflicted. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO THET, 1 L.B.R. 8.

(49)—Examination of accused—Practice.—To put accused persons through severe examinations is unfair to them. The examination of the accused should be conducted with the object of enabling them to explain matters appearing in the evidence against them and not of endeavouring to prove the charge against them by their admissions and contradictory statements. EMPRESS v. NAGIA, 5 C.P.L.R. 9, Cr. See, also, HURRY CHURN CHUCKERBUTTY v. EMPRESS, 10 C. 140=13 C.L R. 358.

(50)—Examination of the accused by a Sessions Judge—S. 250, Crim. Pro. Code of 1872.—A Sessions Court, by the exercise of the power under s. 250, ought not to establish a Court of Inquisition and to force a prisoner to convict himself by making some criminating admissions, after a series of searching questions, the exact effect of which he may not readily comprehend. The real object of the power granted by the section is to enable a Judge to ascertain from time to time from a prisoner, particularly, if he is undefended, what explanation he may offer regarding any fact stated by a witness, or after the close of the case, how he can meet what the Judge may consider to be damnatory evidence against him. HOSSEIN BUKSH v. EMPRESS, 6 C. 96=6 C.L.R. 521. [R., 10 M. 295=2 Weir 373.]

(51)—Examination of accused—Opportunity to explain circumstances.—The accused should be given an opportunity of explaining all circumstances of importance appearing in the evidence against him. QUEEN EMPRESS v. NGA THA DIN, U.B.R., 1892—1896, Vol. I, 144.

(52)—Examination of accused—Confession by accused before evidence recorded.—Courts should not make an accused person, before any evidence is recorded, confess his guilt and admit facts that may go to incriminate him. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHAIRAB CHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY, 2 C.W.N 702.

(53)—Nature of the question to be put to accused.—The questions put to the accused by the Court must be strictly limited to the purpose of enabling him to explain any circumstances appearing in the evidence against him. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HARGOBIND SINGH, 14 A. 242=A.W.N. 1892, 83; HURRY CHURN CHUCKERBUTTY v. EMPRESS, 10 C. 140=13 C.L.R. 358. [R., 4 N.L.R. 163=9 Cr. L.J. 56.]

(54)—Examination of accused—Object of legislature.—The Legislature did not intend that, under the colour of an examination, under s. 342, Crim. Pro. Code, an accused person should make statements such as he might make if he were being examined as an approver. SRI KISHEN v. KING-EMPEROR, 6 O.C. 204. [Diss., 11 O.C. 328, 8 Cr. L.J. 393.]

(55)—Examination of accused.—The examination of an accused person must not be made with a view to eliciting, by constant questions, the truth out of his mouth, as though he was a witness. EMPRESS v. BAJI, 5 C.P.L R. 13, Cr.

(56)—Examination of accused—Practice.—The discretion given by the law for questioning a prisoner has not been allowed for the purpose of driving him to make statements criminatory of himself. This discretion can only be properly exercised for ascertaining from a prisoner how he may be able to meet facts in the evidence appearing against him, so that these facts should not stand unexplained. It is declaredly within the competency of the accused to decline answering any question, while the Court is at liberty to weigh his answers whether they tell for him or against him. Ex parte VIRABUTHRA GOUD, 2 Weir 253=1 M.H.C. 199. [F., 10 M. 295=2 Weir 361, 1 C.L.R. 436, 2 C.W.N. 702.]

(57)—Accused not to be cross-examined.—It is opposed to the principles of English justice to commence proceedings by subjecting an accused person, who has not offered to make a confession, to a searching cross-examination ; thus, in examining an accused under s. 364, Crim. Pro. Code, it would not be fair to put him such a question as, "If you did not commit the murder, who did?" CHEDAN v. KING-EMPEROR, 7 O.C. 191.

Accused Person—continued.

(58)—Eliciting admission by cross-examining accused —To obtain an admission by putting it into the accused's mouth by cross-examining the accused and trying to prove the charge out of their mouths is unfair. EMPRESS v. MUSSAMMAT BHURA, 5 C.P.L.R. 11, Cr.

(59)—When accused's examination should be made.—An accused person, according to s. 342, Crim. Pro. Code, should be examined by the Court before he is put on his defence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BAVA CHELA, Rat Un. Cr. C 227.

(60) Crim. Pro. Code, 1872, s. 250—Examination of accused person.—A Sessions Judge should examine an accused person, whether defended or undefended, before he is called on for his defence, the terms of s. 250, being in this respect mandatory. In the event of non-response on the part of the accused, that fact should be recorded before proceeding with the trial. EMPRESS v. BAIJU, A.W.N. 1881, 99.

(61)—Examination of accused—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 342.—S. 342, Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, imposes an obligation on the Magistrate that he should question an accused generally on the case, after the prosecution witnesses have been examined and before he is called on for his defence. QUEEN EMPRESS v. MANCHI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 625 = Cr. Rg. 50 of 1892.

(62)—Examination of accused—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 342, nature and scope of.—It is obligatory on the Court to examine an accused at the close of the case for the prosecution, s. 342. Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, being imperative, as it is a means of enabling the accused to explain what appears against him. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAHADHU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 720 = Cr. Rg. 46 of 1894.

(63)—Magistrate questioning accused—Practice.—A Magistrate cannot, before evidence is taken for the prosecution, put questions to the accused of the nature of cross-examination. If such questions are put, the procedure is illegal, as it could not be said that the questions are put "for the purpose of enabling the accused to explain any circumstances appearing against him in the evidence" within the meaning of s. 342 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HOWTHORNE, 13 A. 345 = A.W.N. 1891, 102. [R., 9 Cr. L.J. 56 = 4 N. L.R. 163, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 679.]

(64)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 342—Magistrate's authority to question the accused in the absence of evidence against him.—Where there is no evidence on the record against the accused, a Magistrate will not be justified, under s. 342, in putting any question at all to him, since it is only for the purpose of enabling an accused person to explain the circumstances appearing against him that a question even can be put; and, still less, is a Magistrate justified in putting questions for the purpose of incriminating the accused, a procedure which s. 342 was specially designed to prevent. Per Parker, J. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VIRAN, 9 M. 224 = 2 Weir 125 = 2 Weir 705. [F., 7 O.C. 191 ; R, 9 Cr. L. J. 56 = 4 N.L.R. 163, 2 C.W.N. 702.]

Accused Person—continued.

(65)—Examination of accused persons by Magistrate immediately after making confessional statements—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 344.—The practice of pressing for the examination of accused persons by Magistrates, immediately after they have made confessional statements, is most undesirable and is calculated to defeat the objects which the police have in view. If there is any suspicion that the accused has been sent to the Magistrate with the express object of securing from him a reiteration of statements made by him while in police custody or previously the statements cannot be entitled to the same weight as when it is clear that they were voluntarily made in the first instance by the accused. REFERRED TRIAL NO. 54 OF 1885, 2 Weir 414.

(66)—Questioning accused at close of prosecution for explaining circumstances appearing against him, when essential.—Where it does not appear on the record that a prisoner leaves his case entirely in the hands of his legal adviser, the Judge is bound, under s. 342, Crim. Pro. Code, after the conclusion of the case for the prosecution, to ask the accused to explain any circumstances appearing in evidence against him. In the matter of GANDI TATAIYA alias VENKAIYA, 2 Weir 405.

(67)—Accused cannot be examined as witness in his own case.—Unless an accused person has been convicted or acquitted, he should not, except in the case where he is made Queen's evidence, be examined as a witness touching the matter of which he is accused. EMPRESS v. SHAKUR, 5 C.P.L.R. 1, Cr.

(68) — Difference between accused making statement under s 342, Crim. Pro. Code (1898) and as witness—Evidence Act, s. 132 and Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 342.—When an accused person is making a statement under s. 342, Crim. Pro. Code, he can refuse to answer any question. But, as a witness, he is not excused from answering any question as to any matter relevant to the matter in issue. There is, however, an important proviso that no such answer which a witness shall be compelled to give shall be proved against him in any criminal proceeding except a prosecution for giving false evidence by such answer. EMPRESS v. DURANT, 23 B. 213.

(69)—Written statement by accused cannot take the place of examination of accused—Written statement, if can be put in at Sessions trial.—It is doubtful whether, in a trial before a Court of Session, the accused may put in a written statement of defence. But it is certain that such a statement cannot be allowed to take the place of the examination of the accused, which s. 342, Crim. Pro. Code, imperatively orders to be made. EMPEROR v. ANSUIYA, A.W.N. 1903, 1.

Accused Person—continued.

(70)—Sessions trial—Accused's examination before committing Magistrate — Confessional statement signed by accused—Admissibility before Sessions Judge—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 205.—Where the accused makes a confessional statement when examined by the Magistrate, the mere signing of the statement by the Magistrate would not be sufficient to make the examination legal evidence in the Sessions Court. The certificate under the Magistrate's hand required by s. 205 of the Code of Criminal Procedure should be attached. A confession should be recorded in the language in which it was made. The question must be put to him in a language which the accused understands, and his answers are to be recorded in full. They are to be shown and to be read to him. It is obvious that a Magistrate who shows or reads a confession, taken in English, to a Native who does not understand English, cannot be said to comply with the provisions of the law in s. 205, Crim. Pro. Code. Or if the Magistrate translates both the questions and answers, this cannot be said to be a showing or reading of the questions actually put, or the answers actually given. QUEEN v. BHEEBEEKEE, 4 N.W.P. 16.

(71)—Record of accused's statement—Absence of questions—Admissibility.—The mere absence of the questions in a prisoner's statement does not render it inadmissible. EMPRESS v. SAGAMBUR, 12 C.L.R. 120. [R., 9 Cr. L. J. 250=1 S L.R. Cr. 6]

(72)—Examination of accused, record of.—The omission of a Magistrate to have recorded in the vernacular the questions asked in the examination of the accused person does not necessarily render that examination inadmissible as evidence. TITU MAYA v. QUEEN, 8 C. 618, Note=1 C.L.R. 1, F.B. [F., 14 C. 539.]

(73)—Sessions Judge—Trial—Examination of accused.—The provisions of s. 342, apply to the case of an accused tried before a Sessions Judge, even when he has been questioned on the case generally by the Committing Magistrate. EMPEROR v. RAJU AHILAJI, 9 Bom. L.R. 730=6 Cr.L J. 74.

(74)—Irregularity in examining accused—Evidence Act, ss. 21, 29.—Where a trying Magistrate examined the accused under s. 342, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), prematurely at a time when no evidence sufficient to connect them with the crime, with the commission of which they were charged, had been recorded against them, held that, although the Magistrate was wrong in examining the accused under s. 342, Crim. Pro. Code, when it was impossible that they could have been questioned for the purpose of enabling them to explain any circumstances appearing in evidence against them, still their statements actually made cannot, if apparently freely and voluntarily given, be rejected as inadmissible in evidence on account of this irregularity of procedure; and that prima facie, as admissions, these statements were relevant under s. 21, Evidence Act, there being no other section to exclude them, s. 29 of the Evidence Act going to show that the mere fact of a statement being made in answer to questions is by itself no ground for exclusion. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NARAYAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 679=Cr. Rg 45 of 1893 (13 A. 345, R.) [F., 37 C. 467=11 Cr.L J. 453=7 Ind. Cas. 359.]

(75)—Accused's statements whether evidence—Cross-examination by co-accused—Evidence Act, ss. 3, 133 and 30.—Statements made by an accused person are not evidence within the definition of "evidence," given in s. 3, Evidence Act. An accused person does not make these statements on oath or solemn affirmation and cannot be cross-examined by his co-accused. S 133, Evidence Act, does not apply to such statements. They can only be taken into consideration under s. 30, Evidence Act. NGA THA NYAN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L B R. 1893—1900, 368. (1 M. 163, 15 B. 66, 4 C. 483, F.)

(76)—Accused's statements to be taken as a whole—Evidence.—The statements of the accused persons should be taken in their entirety, and not in part, even as against those who made it. Such statements are no evidence against any of the accused other than those who made or adopted it. WAFADAR KHAN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 21 C. 955.

(77)—Confession, how recorded.—A confession should be recorded in the language in which it is made. QUEEN v. BHEEBEEKEE, 4 N.W.P. 16.

(78)—Certificate attesting statement by accused person.—A certificate, when attesting the statement of an accused person recorded under s. 364 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, need not be appended in the Court's own handwriting; it is enough if it is signed by the presiding officer of the Court before which the statement is made. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAIZ ALI, A. W.N. 1900, 203. (8 W.R. Cr. 55, R.).

(79)—Statement of accused to Magistrate—Language of record.—The Magistrate need not record the statement of an accused in the words of the very language in which it is made, when it is a foreign language; the record must be in the language in which it is interpreted. EMPRESS v. VAIMBILEE, 5 C. 826.

(80)—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), ss. 426 and 439—Omission to record in extenso statement made by prisoner.—The omission to record in extenso the statement made by a prisoner was held not to have prejudiced the accused, inasmuch as the substance of his statement was recorded and considered by the Magistrate. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 10TH NOV. 1871, 6 M.H.C. App. 45. [D., 2 Weir 612.]

Accused Person—continued.

(81)—Recording of statement of accused before evidence for prosecution taken down.—It is contrary to law to record the statement of an accused person under s. 164, Crim. Pro. Code, 1898, before any sort of evidence for the prosecution has been taken. CHEDAN v. KING-EMPEROR, 7 O.C. 191.

(82)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 364—Procedure—Recording statement by accused.—In this case a Bhil accused was examined by a Magistrate in the Marathi language and the accused's answers were given in Marathi with a very large sprinkling of Bhil terms. The Magistrate recorded the accused's statement in English. Held that the Magistrate's procedure was irregular, as he should have recorded the accused's statements in Marathi. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SURMAL, Rat. Un. Cr C. 633=Cr. Rg. 4 of 1893.

(83)—Signature of accused person to statement recorded under s. 364, Crim. Pro. Code.—A Magistrate ought to see that the signature of an accused person to a statement recorded under s. 364, Crim. Pro. Code, is made in the immediate presence and under the careful control of the Magistrate himself. Taking the signature of the accused in an adjoining room before a clerk and not in the immediate presence of the Magistrate, is not what is intended by the section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHIKA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 687=Cr. Rg. 8 of 1894.

(84)—Duty of Court towards accused—Undefended prisoner.—Where a prisoner is not defended, the Court ought, in the interests of justice, to test the accuracy of the statements made by witnesses, by questions in the nature of cross-examination. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KALLU, 7 A. 160=A.W.N. 1884, 314.

(85)—Presumption—Duty of Court towards accused—Punishment of accused person.—When an accused person is brought before a Magistrate charged with the commission of a certain act which makes him liable to be dealt with as an offender, the Court, in dealing with him, is bound to take into consideration all the circumstances before it which may affect the measure of punishment awarded, and must be taken to have considered them, whether it has in fact done so or not. In the matter of PARBUTTI CHURN BOSE, 3 C.L.R. 406.

(86)—Right of accused—Accused should be given opportunity to be heard.—Although a question may be very clear to a Magistrate, yet he ought to give the accused already discharged an opportunity to be heard. JOY GOPAL BANERJEE v. EMPEROR, 11 C.W.N. 173=5 Cr. L.J. 16.

(87)—Opportunity for, being heard.—No order should be passed against an accused person, without giving him an opportunity of being heard. BRIJ KISHORE GHOSE v. GOPAL RAI, 11 C.W.N. 316=5 Cr.L J. 112.

(88)—Prosecution for false charge—Necessity for opportunity to accused to prove his case.—It is illegal to put a man on his trial, without giving him an opportunity to prove his case. BHOKTERAM v. HEERA KOLITA, 5 C. 184. [R., 6 C. 496=7 C.L R. 467.]

(89)—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 242—Opportunity to be given to accused to defend himself.—When a case has been begun as a warrant case, it must be continued as such. A charge should be framed when there is a prima facie case against the accused and the accused should be given an opportunity of pleading and defending themselves. CROWN v. LA PYU, 1 L.B.R. 308.

(90)—Right of accused to know the charge.—An accused is entitled to know, with certainty, the matter with which he is charged and, unless he has this knowledge, he cannot but be seriously prejudiced in his defence. EMPEROR v. VINAYAK JAGESHWAR, 15 C.P.L.R. 112.

(91)—Sessions trial—Accused's right to have information of the case he has to answer.—The law contemplates that, in the serious cases of which a Court of Sessions may take cognisance, the accused should have some information of the case he has to answer. QUEEN v. CHINNA VEDAGIRI CHETTI, 4 M. 227=2 Weir 584.

(92)—Right of, to services of pleader.—A Sessions Judge ought, under s. 340, Crim. Pro. Code, 1898, to hear the pleader appointed by a person ordered to give security under s. 118. CROWN v. IDA, 15 P.R. 1900, Cr.=P.L.R. 1900, Cr., 59. (9 C. 878, 16 B. 661, 23 C. 493, F.)

(93)—Right of accused to be heard by pleader.—In an appeal from a conviction by a Sessions Court, the Chief Court ought to hear the appellant's counsel, and the Public Prosecutor, if he appears (s. 423, Crim. Pro. Code, 1882) but, beyond this, it is not incumbent upon the Court to hear any one. AKBAR v. EMPRESS, 29 P.R. 1886, Cr.

(94)—Right of accused to appear by pleader.—A District Magistrate, having refused to allow a pleader to appear on behalf of two accused persons under trial in his Court, the Chief Court directed him to allow the accused to be defended by counsel or pleader, with liberty to re-summon witnesses, and afterwards to record a fresh judgment. NANAK v. CROWN, 9 P.R. 1877, Cr.

(95)—Admissions by pleader of accused, accused not bound by.—The admissions made by a pleader who is appointed by the Court to help the accused in his defence are not binding on the accused. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SANGAYA, 2 Bom. L.R. 751.

(96)—Right of accused to have evidence against him recorded as early as possible—Detention of accused person in jail for inordinate period, grounds for.—An accused person has a right to have the evidence against him recorded at as early a period as possible, and the fact that there is or may be a great body of evidence forthcoming against him is not a good ground for detention for an inordinate period. MANIKAM MUDALI v. QUEEN, 6 M. 63 = 2 Weir 409 = 2 Weir 656 = 2 Weir 577. [R., 11 M. 98.]

Accused Person—continued.

(97)—Magistrate bound to question accused when brought before him—Accused's right to have evidence recorded — Crim. Pro. Code, (1898), ss. 242, 344.—The trial of a case should not be adjourned till all the absconders are found. An accused has the right to have the evidence against him recorded at as early a period as possible. The absence of some of the men suspected is not a reasonable cause for adjourning the enquiry into the guilt of the accused who appear before the Magistrate. QUEEN-EMPRESS v NGA TUN HLA, 1 L.B. R. 60. (6 M. 63, F.)

(98)—Accused whether bound to produce any evidence.—There is no obligation whatever imposed on an accused person to produce any evidence, and no inference could be drawn against him from non-production of such evidence until a strong case is made out against him. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NARAYAN NATHU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 779 = Cr. Rg. 43 of 1893. (16 B. 423, 19 C. 65, R.)

(99)—Quantity of evidence to be placed before the Jury—Right of accused to decide.—It is for the accused person and not for the Judge to say what amount of evidence it would be proper to place before the Jury in order to establish the case for the defence. The Sessions Judge should not refuse to enforce the attendance of certain witnesses for the defence, on the ground that there was ample record in the evidence about the matter for which they were summoned. BROJENDRA LAL SIRKAR v. KING-EMPEROR, 7 C.W.N. 188.

(100)—Right of accused to recall witness after charge—Record of evidence—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 350, 256, 356 and 357.—Although the law does not speficially require it, yet, in the case of accused persons, who are undefended, and who are probably ignorant of their strict rights, it is desirable that the Magistrate, who continues a trial, under s. 350, Crim. Pro. Code, should inform the accused of their rights under that section and should record the fact that he has done so and the reply of the accused. After having pleaded to the charge, the accused should be asked whether they wished to cross-examine any of the witnesses for the prosecution. S. 256, Crim. Pro. Code, requires this to be done. In this case, again, the Code does not explicitly require the Magistrate to record that he has observed the provisions of the section. But it is a safe and sound rule that, when the law requires anything to be done, the fact that this thing has been done should be recorded. The omission to record compliance with s. 256, Crim. Pro. Code, is not an irregularity of procedure, in the absence of any express provision on the subject. It is not a sufficient compliance with the provisions of the Crim. Pro. Code, whether s. 356 or 357 is applicable, to record that a witness corroborates another. That is a deduction from a comparison of the depositions. The evidence of each witness must be recorded as it is given. CHIT TUN v. CROWN, 1 L.B.R. 238.

(101)—Right of accused to recall prosecution witnesses—Omission to give accused opportunity to recall—Effect.—The omission of the Magistrate, who tried a case under s. 353, I.P.C., after framing a charge, to ask the accused whether he wished to recall all or any of the prosecution witnesses, and the rejection by the Magistrate of an application made by the accused with that object on the ground that it was too late, was held to be an irregularity that might have caused the accused substantial injury in his defence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HENRY C. KAPS, A.W.N, 1902, 5.

(102)—Refusal to allow accused to cross-examine prosecution witnesses before framing of charge—Transfer, grounds for.—In a case under s. 380, Penal Code, the Magistrate should at once give the accused an opportunity to cross-examine the prosecution witnesses, if they should so desire, even though the charge may not be framed. But a refusal to give such opportunity is not, when the Magistrate acts bona fide from a mistaken view of the law, a good ground for transferring the case. ASHIRBAD MUCHI v. MAJU MUCHINI 8 C.W.N. 838.

(103)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 256, 257 —Right of accused to have the case postponed for adducing evidence.—Under ss. 256, 257, Crim. Pro. Code, the accused is entitled, as a matter of right, to ask that the case might be postponed to some other day, so as to allow him an opportunity to adduce evidence in support of his defence. SHEIKH EMTAZ ALI v. JAGAT CHANDRA BANERJEE, 1 C.W.N. 313.

(104)—Right of accused to make a statement.—Where the accused wants to make a statement, a Magistrate is not competent to refuse it. In the matter of ABDUL GUFFOOR, 10 C.L.R. 54.

(105)—Movements of accused at the time of offence, when to be accounted for by him.—Unless there has been prima facie sufficient legal evidence to convict an accused of an offence, he would not be bound to account for his movements at or about the time of the commission of the offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BEPIN BISWAS, 10 C. 970.

(106)—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 342—Right of accused to refuse to answer questions.—An accused person does not render himself liable to punishment by refusing to answer questions put to him by a Magistrate, and the same rule applies to his examination before the Police patel. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAYAPA NAGAPPA DESAI, 1 Bom. L R. 435.

(107)—Right of re-trial by Jury where conviction set aside for misdirection.—When a case has been tried before a Jury and the conviction is set aside on the ground of misdirection, the accused is entitled to have his case re-tried before a Jury. Quære—Whether in setting aside a conviction on the ground of misdirection to the Jury, the High Court has any power to re-try the case having regard to s. 423, Crim. Pro. Code. SADHU SHEIKH v. EMPRESS, 4 C.W N. 576.

Accused Person—continued.

(108)—Disobedience by accused already bound to appear before a Magistrate—Disobedience to an oral order given by police officer to remain at a certain place —Proper course to be followed by the police, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 160.—An accused person arrested by the police and bound to appear before a Magistrate on and from a particular date was on the next day orally directed by the police not to leave a place, K. He disobeyed these directions. Held that an accused person is not legally bound to obey an oral order given by a police officer to appear at a certain place, nor are the police authorised to give such an order; nor are they authorised to require the attendance of an accused person by an order in writing under s. 160, Crim. Pro. Code, 1882. The proper course for the police to follow is to take bonds from the accused for his appearance before the District Superintendent of Police at K, in lieu of the bonds for their appearance before the Magistrate. NGA KWE v. QUEEN-EMPRESS. L.B.R. 1893—1900, 317. (7 M. 274, F.)

(109)—Special diary—Right of accused person or his agent to see it or have copies of it.—A Criminal Court may permit the police officer, who made the special diary, to look at it for the purpose of refreshing his memory, or may use it for the purpose of contradicting such police officer. [F., 4 A.L.J. 811 = A.W.N 1908, 22; R., 21 A. 159.] Where the Police Officer does look at an entry in the diary for the purpose of refreshing his memory, the provisions of s. 161 of the Evidence Act apply, and the accused or his agent is entitled to see such diary and to cross-examine such police officer thereupon. A special diary cannot be used to enable any witness other than the Police Officer who made it to refresh his memory by looking at it, and it cannot be used to contradict any witness other than such Police Officer. It is the Court which is entitled to use the special diary for the purpose of seeking for sources and lines of enquiry, and for the names of persons who may be in a position to give material evidence. Neither the accused nor his agent is entitled to see the special diary for any purpose, unless it has been used by the Court for enabling the Police Officer who made it to refresh his memory for the purpose of contradicting him. In no case is an accused person or his agent entitled to a copy of the special diary or of any part of it. His right is limited to that of inspection in certain cases. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MANNU, 19 A. 390, F B. = A W.N, 1897, 174.

(110)—Occurrence reports — Charge sheet—Public documents—Evidence Act, s. 74—Right of accused to copies before trial.—Held, by the Full Bench (Subramania Ayyar, J., dissenting):— An occurrence report made by a subordinate police officer under s. 157, Crim. Pro. Code, is not a public document within the meaning of s. 74, Evidence Act, and the accused is not entitled to a copy of such report before trial Held, by Collins, C.J., and Benson, J. (Shephard and Subramania Ayyar, JJ., dissenting).—The charge sheet referred to in s. 173, Crim. Pro. Code, is not a "public document" within the meaning of s. 74 of the Evidence Act, and an accused person is not entitled to a copy of the charge sheet before trial. As to whether an accused person is entitled to call for the occurrence report under s. 157, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), the report by a subordinate police officer under s. 168, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), and the police charge sheet under s. 173, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), at the trial, See QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ARUMUGAM, 20 M. 189 = 2 Weir 763, F.B = 2 Weir 120 = 2 Weir 142 = 2 Weir 144 = 7 M L J. 167. [R., 17 M.L.J. 471 = 3 M.L.T. 14 = 6 Cr. L.J. 346 = 30 M. 466.]

(111)—Police charge sheet—Right of accused to a copy at the commencement of the inquiry —A Presidency Magistrate is entitled to refuse to give the accused a copy of the police charge sheet at the commencement of the trial, as such charge sheets put in by the Madras City Police, contain a good deal of information for the use of the Magistrate, and are extracts from, if not copies of the police diary. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VENKATARATNAM PANTULU, 19 M. 14 = 2 Weir 143. [R., 20 M. 189 = 2 Weir 763, F.B.]

(112)—Accused, right of, to inspect documents filed as exhibits.—An accused person is entitled to the inspection of all the documents filed as exhibits in the case. In re FRANCIS DOMINGO FERNANDES, 1 Bom. L.R. 433.

(113)—Confession of co-accused, whether sufficient for conviction of accused.—An accused person ought not to be convicted where the only evidence against him is the confession of a co-accused and circumstantial evidence, which, although true, would not itself support a conviction. SRI KISHEN v. KING-EMPEROR, 6 O.C. 204. [Diss., 11 O. C. 328; R., 8 Cr. L J. 393.]

(114)—Co-accused — Punishment of some, whether an excuse for refusal to try others.—If a body of men commit an offence, the Magistrate cannot say that he considers the punishment on some of them to be sufficient in regard to others who may be equally guilty, though probably in a different degree. BISHEN DOYAL RAI v. CHEDIKHAN, 4 C.W.N. 560.

(115)—Character of accused—Measure of punishment.—The character of an accused person may fitly be taken into consideration in fixing the measure of punishment, but there must be discretion in the matter. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SEIK, U B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 318.

Accused Person—continued.

(116)—Youthful accused.—Sentence.—Courts may take into consideration the youth of the accused in awarding sentence NGA KYA MYIN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 209.

(117)—Appearing without summons—Practice—Absence of summons or complaint.—If an accused appears voluntarily in order to answer a charge, the absence of summons, or the want of a complaint antecedent to the issue of a summons, is immaterial. REG. v. SUDASEVAPPA, Rat Un. Cr. C. 8.

(118)—Doubt leading to acquittal must be reasonable.—The doubt, which entitles an accused person to an acquittal, is a reasonable doubt and no other. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DAYA, S.C. 221, Oudh.

Bribing a public servant punishable as abettor—See ABETMENT, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 338.

Evidence taken in absence of—See ABSCONDING OFFENDER, 21 P.R. 1883, Cr.

See U P. ACT I OF 1900, s. 88, 9 O C. 29=3 Cr. L.J. 205.

Appeal by accused in jail and by those not in jail—See APPEAL—GENERAL, 2 Weir 467.

Change of place of hearing of appeal—Notice to—or his pleader—See APPEAL—GENERAL, 7 P.R. 1891, Cr.

Right of accused person to know the exact value of the charge brought against him—See CHARGE—EXPLANATION OF CHARGE, 11 C. 106.

Accused's privilege of recalling prosecution witnesses—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 35, 256, 14 Cr. L.J. 388=20 Ind. Cas. 212=6 Bur. L T. 67.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 94, 96, 342, 36 P.R. 1914, Cr.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 106, 226, 354, 7 M.L.T. 104.

Whether a person from whom security has been demanded is an accused person—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 107, 119, 437, 153 P.L.R. 1911=6 P.R. 1911 Cr.=10 Ind. Cas. 178=12 Cr.L.J. 232=30 P.W.R. 1911.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 110, 118, 437, 20 P.L.R. 1904.

Person proceeded against under s. 110, Crim. Pro. Code—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 123, 340, 25 A. 375=A.W.N. 1903, 79.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 133, 342, 488, 9 C.W.N. 983=2 C.L.J. 149.

'Accused person,' who is—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 145, 526, 10 A.L.J. 27=13 Cr.L.J. 452=15 Ind. Cas. 84=34 A. 533.

Accused's disobedience to Police Officer's requisition to appear—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 160, 4 Bom. L. R. 644.

Accused Person—continued.

Statements made by witnesses before the investigating officer—Right of accused to call for and inspect such statements—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 161, 172, 537, 16 C. 612, note.

Statements recorded by Magistrate — Right of accused person to have copies of such statements—Evidence Act, ss. 74, 76—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 162, 164, 173, 30 M. 466=17 M.L J. 471=3 M.L.T. 14=6 Cr.L.J. 346.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 167, 23 B. 32.

Omission of Magistrate to inform accused of his right to be tried by another Court—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 190, 191, 537, 28 A. 212=A.W.N. 1905, 258=2 A.L.J. 745=2 Cr.L.J. 809.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 195 and 477, S.C. 303, Oudh.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 202, 14 C. 141.

Right of accused to reserve cross-examination of prosecution witnesses—Refusal to grant leave to reserve—Revision—See CRIM PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 208, sub-s. (2), 14 M.L.T. 532.

Remand of accused to jail without examining witness—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 208, 252 and 344, 6 M. 63=2 Weir 409=2 Weir. 577=2 Weir 656.

Fined by the Magistrate without notice or summons and proceedings recorded subsequently to trial, validity of—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 243, 262, 263, 555, 15 M. 83=2 Weir 326=2 Weir 729.

Right of accused to cross-examine prosecution witnesses after charge framed—Duty of Magistrate—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 256, 11 P.R. 1914 (Cr.).

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 256, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, p. 74.

Examination of the accused, whether allowed, when no evidence has been recorded, and whether can be in the nature of cross-examination—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 271 (2), 342 (1), 439, 494, 5 M.L T. 216.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 287, 289, 342, 1 O.C. 85.

Right of accused to cross-examine witnesses before commitment and to communicate with pleader—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 288, 342, 21 C. 642.

Examination of accused at Sessions trial—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 289, S.C. 95, Oudh.

Right of accused to examine as witness any person in Court and use as evidence any document in Court—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 291, 16 C. 610.

Deaf and dumb accused unable to understand proceedings—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 341, 9 C.P.L.R 38 Cr.

Accused Person—continued.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 341, 3 Bom. L.R. 371.

Object of examination of accused — See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 342, 9 Bom. L.R. 356=5 Cr. L.J. 332.

Examination of—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 342, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 320.

Ill health of—High Court's power to dispense with the attendance of—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 353, 14 Bom. L. R. 236=15 Ind. Cas. 96=13 Cr. L.J. 464=1 Bom. Cr. C 111.

Right of accused to refuse to disclose witnesses to be examined by him in Sessions Court —See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 364, 14 A. 242=A.W.N. 1892, 83.

Examination of accused before a Magistrate —Admissibility in Court of Sessions—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 364, 5 M.H.C. App 4.

Right to examine accused —Nature of such, examination—See CRIM. PRO CODE, 1898. s. 364, 15 C.L J. 323=14 Ind. Cas. 667=13 Cr.L.J 283

Refusing to sign record—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 364 (2), 4 Cr.L.J. 205=3 L.B. R. 199.

Legality of trying accused twice on same facts—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 403, 3 L.B.R. 253=5 Cr.L J. 412.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 437, A.W. N. 1891, 106.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 439, 464, 466, A.W.N. 1900, 47.

See CRIM PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 464, 466, 2 Weir 581.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 464, 466, 470, 2 Weir 580.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 470, 2 Weir 583.

Crime committed while suffering from temporary insanity—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 470, 471 (1 and 2), 2 Weir 582.

Prosecution against one of two accused withdrawn—Such accused if competent witness —Confession and prior statement of such accused if should be produced for cross-examination and contradiction—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 494, 18 C.W.N. 1213=15 Cr.L J. 693=26 Ind. Cas. 141.

Proper place for accused persons in Courts—Allowing accused to remain outside the dock—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 526 (8), 13 Cr.L.J. 584=15 Ind. Cas. 1000=5 Bur.L.T. 137.

Omission to call upon the accused to enter upon his defence, whether cured by s. 537, Crim. Pro. Code—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 537, 23 C, 252.

Sessions trial for murder—Application by defence counsel for postponement of cross-examination till next-day—Refusal by Sessions

Accused Person—continued.

Court—Effect—Accused prejudiced — Re-trial by another Sessions Court ordered—See CROSS-EXAMINATION. 41 C. 299=15 Cr.L.J. 596=25 Ind. Cas. 348.

See DEAF AND DUMB PERSON, 27 C. 368 =4 C.W.N. 421.

Defended by Counsel making defamatory statements about a witness—See DEFAMATION, 15 M. 414=1 Weir 588=2 M.L.J. 142.

Statements by—See EVIDENCE—GENERAL, 2 N.W.P. 336.

Deposition of — Admissibility in evidence against him in subsequent proceedings, condition of—See EVIDENCE—ADMISSIBILITY OF EVIDENCE, 11 C. 580.

Record in the presence of the—See EVIDENCE—DYING DECLARATION, 8 C. 211= 10 C.L.R. 11.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 132, 23 B. 213.

See FALSE CHARGE, 6 C. 496=7 C.L.R. 467.

Judge's notes of evidence and proceedings—Right of accused—See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF—REVISIONAL POWERS OF HIGH COURT, 1 M.H.C. 138.

See INSANITY, 2 C. 356.

Entitled to benefit of doubt—See INTENTION, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 316.

See IRREGULARITY, 16 C.P.L.R. 9.

Voluntary statement by—Statement of witness under compulsion — Distinction — See PENAL CODE, ss. 2, 499, 500, 17 C.W.N. 297=14 Cr. L.J. 100=18 Ind. Cas. 660=40 C. 433.

Re-calling of warrant after acquittal of co-accused—Jurisdiction of District Magistrate to issue fresh warrant on same materials—See PENAL CODE, ss. 34, 107, 18 C.W.N. 580=15 Cr. L.J. 402=41 C. 754=23 Ind. Cas. 1002.

Under 12 years—Duty of Magistrate—See PENAL CODE, s. 83, 27 C. 133.

Examination of accused before completion of prosecution evidence—Legality—See PENAL CODE, ss. 99, 105, 147, 378, 15 Cr.L J. 436= 24 Ind. Cas. 172.

Explanation consistent with innocence of accused—Duty of prosecution—See PENAL CODE, ss. 192, 196, 1 P.R. 1914 Cr.=139 P.L. R. 1914=15 Cr.L.J. 344=23 Ind. Cas. 696.

Lengthy examination of, before prosecution evidence is over—Legality—See PENAL CODE, s. 307, 1 P.W.R. 1910 Cr.

Nature of defence which accused can set up —Duty of Court—Deficiency in prosecution evidence—Defence not bound to fill up—Right of defence to comment on such deficiency—Case of fraud set up by defence—Opportunity of explanation to prosecution—See PENAL CODE, ss. 399, 402, 18 C.W.N. 498=41 C. 350=15 Cr. L.J. 385=23 Ind. Cas. 985.

Accused Person—concluded.

Cross-examination of accused, with a view to induce him to incriminate himself—Legality—See PENAL CODE, ss. 464, 465, 467, 17 C.W.N. 354 = 18 Ind. Cas. 881 = 14 Cr. L.J. 129.

Accused adopting false line of defence—Doubt as to offence—Conviction—Legality—See RAPE, 12 Cr. L.J. 584 = 12 Ind. Cas. 848 = 4 Bur. L.T. 136.

See REMAND, 11 M. 98 = 2 Weir 142.

Accused's right to be restored to property on acquittal—See RESTORATION OF PROPERTY, 27 A. 415 = A.W.N. 1905, 19 = 2 A.L.J. 64 = 2 Cr. L.J. 24.

See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR, 27 C. 656, 6 O.C. 262.

Whether person required to furnish security is—See SECURITY TO KEEP THE PEACE—EVIDENCE AND PROCEDURE, 9 A 452 = A.W.N. 1887, 111.

Good character of the accused—Mitigation of punishment—See SENTENCE—GENERAL, 16 C. 310.

See SESSIONS JUDGE, JURISDICTION OF, 1 M.H.C. 4.

Failure by accused to call material witnesses if unfavourable to accused—See WITNESS—EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES, 8 C. 121.

See WITNESS—EXAMINATION OF WITNESSES, 20 C. 469.

See WITNESS — MISCELLANEOUS CASES, 2 N.W.P. 49.

Acknowledgment.

Stamp duty on mere—See ACT X OF 1862, 43 P.R. 1867, Cr.

Refusal to deliver a receipt—Money sent by money-order—Acknowledgment signed—Second receipt refused—Whether person refusing guilty—See ACT II OF 1899, s. 65, 9 A.L.J. 97 = 13 Cr. L.J. 122 = 13 Ind. Cas. 778 = 34 A. 192.

Acknowledgment of Debt.

See ACT I OF 1879, sch. I, art. 1, 10 C. P. L. R. 7 Cr.

Acquiescence.

Acquiescence of accused will not cure irregularity.—Mere acquiescence on the part of the accused in an irregularity committed by the Court will not cure the defect. If criminal proceedings are substantially bad, they are not cured by any waiver or consent of the accused. EMPEROR v. KASIM, 15 C.P L.R. 66.

Substantial by defective criminal proceedings cannot be cured by accused's waiver—See ACCUSED PERSON, 2 C. 23, 6 C. 96, 12 C.W.N. 140.

Order of demolition—Acceptance of rates in respect of the premises pending negotiation, if—See BEN. ACT III OF 1899, s. 449, 14 C.W.N. 912 = 6 Ind. Cas. 800 = 11 Cr.L.J. 406 = 37 C. 883.

Acquisition of Land for Public Purposes.

See ACT VI OF 1857.

Acquittal.

See APPEAL—APPEAL FROM ACQUITTAL.

See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT, PLEA OF.

See COMPLAINT.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 403.

See REVISION.

(1)—Discharge, whether amounts to acquittal—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), s. 250.—A discharge under s. 250, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, does not amount to an acquittal. QUEEN v. HUR PERSHAD, 4 N.W.P. 23.

(2)—Discharge whether amounts to acquittal—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 259, 403.—The order of discharge under s. 259 is not an acquittal under s. 403 and has not the effect of an acquittal. CHINNATHAMBI MUDALI v. SALLA GURUSAWMY CHETTY, 28 M. 310 = 2 Weir 325-A = 2 Cr. L J. 758.

(3)—When acquittal bars a fresh trial—Crim. Pro. Code, (1861), ss 250, 255—Under s. 250, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, the mere discharge of a person accused of an offence, after his examination by the Magistrate, but before the preparation of the charge, would not enable the accused to plead any previous acquittal, if fresh proceedings be taken against him for the same crime on other evidence before the same authority. In order to plead autrefois acquit successfully, the accused must have been once before formally put on his trial after the charge had been legally drawn up, and formally acquitted under s. 255, Crim Pro. Code. CRIMINAL CIRCULAR NO. 1099 OF 1864, 1 W. R. Cr. Letters 10.

(4)—When previous acquittal bars subsequent trial—Acquittal on previous charge if bars subsequent trial for different offence—Prisons Act, s. 45—Per Stuart, C. J.—Where a person charged with the offence of criminal trespass in having taken food to an under-trial prisoner in a havalat against the orders of the officer guarding it was acquitted, held that a subsequent trial for an offence under s. 45, Prisons Act, was not barred. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. LALAI, 2 A. 301.

(5)—Acquittal, effect of—Acquittal on charge of conspiracy under s. 121-A, Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860)—Subsequent trial of others on identical charge—Evidence in latter trial of what acquitted prisoner had said or done, if admissible.—It would be a dangerous principle to adopt to regard a verdict of not guilty as not fully establishing the innocence of the person to whom it relates. (2 K.B. 339, Relied upon). One I was charged with conspiracy to wage war against the King under s. 121-A, I.P.C., and acquitted. In a subsequent trial of others on an identical charge, it was held that what he said or did cannot be admitted in evidence at such trial in view of his acquittal. EMPEROR v. NONI GOPAL GUPTA, 15 C.W. N. 646 = 11 Ind. Cas. 580 = 12 Cr. L.J. 396.

(6)—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 403—Previous acquittal when does not bar subsequent trial.—The acquittal of the accused for preparation to commit dacoity is no bar to a subsequent trial on the same facts for collecting men and arms to wage war against the King, under s 403 (1), Crim. Pro. Code. SANBAW v. CROWN, 1 L.B. R. 340.

Acquittal—continued.

(7)—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 403 (1)—No complaint—Order of acquittal If fresh complaint barred —A soldier from Burma (complainant) sent an intimation to the District Magistrate that he had authorised his brother to file a complaint against the accused for enticing away his wife. When the case came on for hearing, it appeared that the brother had no such authority and the Magistrate acquitted the accused. The complainant then filed a complaint personally. Held, that the previous acquittal was no bar to the trial of the present complaint, inasmuch as the finding of the Magistrate amounted to this, that there was no complaint before him. UMER-UD-DIN v. KING-EMPEROR, 6 A.L.J. 262=31 A. 317=9 Cr. L.J. 526=2 Ind. Cas. 219. (9 A. 134, F.B., R.).

(8)—Acquittal of some of the accused—Revival of proceedings against others, validity of.—Where only some of the persons charged with having committed an offence were sent up for trial and acquitted, and an application to issue process against the other persons charged was refused by the magistrate, on the ground that the case against them was false, held that, until this decision was set aside, no order for the prosecution of those persons could be made. KEDAR NATH BISWAS v. ADHIN MANJI, 7 C.W N. 711. (4 C. W. N. 346, 7 C.W.N. 493, F.) [F., 34 M. 253=9 M. L. T. 93=9 Ind. Cas. 253= 12 Cr. L. J. 41.]

(9)—Appellate Court hearing appeal against acquittal.—Principles which should guide an appellate Court hearing an appeal against an acquittal indicated. QUEEN EMPRESS v. MAUNG BAW, L.B.R 1893—1900, 42.

(10)—Revision by High Court of order of acquittal.—The High Court will not interfere in revision, with an order of acquittal. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF DACCA v. HANGOO RAJ, 8 C. 895. [F., 5 N L.R. 4=9 Cr.L.J. 211=1 Ind. Cas. 238; R., 9 Cr. L. J. 437, L. B. R. 1893—1900, 41. U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 91.]

(11)—Revision by Chief Court of order of acquittal.—The Chief Court will generally not interfere with an acquittal, simply because the accused's witnesses were unworthy of credit, but, if it finds that the Court below erred on a point of law, it will revise such order. SAUNDERSON v. WILSON, 10 P. R. 1900, Cr [R., 157 P.L.R. 1908, Cr.]

(12)—Power of High Court to revise order of—Right of appeal by Local Government—Crim. Pro. Code, (1882), *ss.*417,439.—The High Court ordinarily does not interfere with an order of acquittal in the exercise of its revisional jurisdiction, because an appeal can always be made by the Local Government under s. 417 of the Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. A. HAUNG, L.B. R. 1893—1900, 126. (15 B. 349, F.)

(13)—Revision—Penal Code, s. 447—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), *ss.*438, 439.—Where no appeal has been preferred to the Government, it is very rarely correct to interfere, on revision, with an acquittal. MUNSHI v. CROWN, 13 P.W.R. 1907, Cr.=72 P.L.R. 1908=5 Cr. L.J. 438. (13 P. R. 1905, Cr. Overruled ; 12 P.R. 1906, Cr. R.)

(14)—Order of acquittal based on incorrect view of law—Revision.—When an acquittal proceeds on a mistaken view of the law the High Court can interfere in revision. The complainant agreed to receive money which the accused charged with criminal misappropriation, promised to pay in three days. The Magistrate thereupon acquitted the accused. Held, that the acquittal was illegal. MUSSAMMAT NANHI BAHU v. DHUNDE, 6 A.L.J. 758.

(15)—High Court — Revision—Acquittal—Practice and procedure—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 439.—Although the High Court does not ordinarily interfere with orders of acquittal in revision, yet, it cannot be expected that it would hesitate to do so, where the acquittal is based, not upon an appreciation of doubtful evidence, but upon a manifest error in law appearing on the face of the judgment. It is not open to the Courts to question the discretion of public bodies, vested in them by law. AHMEDABAD MUNICIPALITY v. MAGANLAL KUSHALDAS, 9 Bom. L.R. 156=5 Cr L.J. 171.

(16)—High Court's power to remedy improper acquittals.—The last clause of s. 439, Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, contains nothing to prevent the High Courts from remedying improper acquittals in the exercise of their jurisdiction under this section. For instance, they may reverse an acquittal and order a retrial. SAIYID HASSAN RAZA KHAN v. MIR MASHHADI HUSAIN, S.C. 191, Oudh.

(17)—Acquittal on appeal to Sessions Court—Revision and order for retrial—Proper tribunal for retrying the case—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 439.—With reference to a person convicted by a Magistrate, but acquitted by the Court of Sessions in appeal, such order of acquittal being reversed by the High Court under s. 439, the order of the High Court must be one directing the re-trial of the proceedings wherein the final order has been found to be bad, and the Sessions Court of appeal is the proper tribunal for the re-trial of the appeal, or such other Court of equal jurisdiction as the High Court might entrust with the trial of the appeal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BALWANT, 9 A. 134, F.B.=A. W.N. 1886, 322.

(18)—Power of Sessions Judge to set aside an order of acquittal—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 437.—Where an accused person is acquitted without any charge being framed or any witnesses being produced for the defence, the Acquittal—continued.

Sessions Judge is not competent to set aside the order of acquittal. SAYID KHAN v. KING-EMPEROR, 1 A L J. 415.

(19)—Power of District Magistrate to set aside acquittal.—The power of setting aside an order of acquittal is not conferred on District Magistrates by the Upper Burma Criminal Justice Regulation. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA CHIN, U.B.R. 1892–1896, Vol. I, 11. [R., 12 Cr. L. J. 383=11 Ind Cas. 247=U.B.R. 1910, Vol. I, p. 70].

(20)—Magistrate to explain circumstances under which confessing prisoner was acquitted.—Where a confessing prisoner was acquitted, the officer acquitting him should be called upon to explain under what circumstances he acquitted the prisoner for the information of the Court. 1 W.R. Cr. Letters, 2.

(21)—Grounds of commitment to be reported to High Court in cases of acquittals by Jury.—Case where Sessions Judges and Judicial Commissioners were directed to enter, in the column of "Remarks" of Sessions Statement No. 3, whether, in cases of acquittal by a Jury, the verdicts have their approval, and, if they have, or where the trial has been "with Assessors," whether the committing officers had good grounds for making the commitment, a special report of the circumstances being made in any case which appears to call for particular notice. CRIMINAL CIRCULAR No. 2 OF 1869, 11 W R. Cr. Cir. 1.

(22)—Acquittal of one of a number of accused the rest of whom have not appealed—Procedure.—If an appellate Court acquits an accused person on a question of fact on grounds common to the appellant and other accused persons who have not appealed, the Chief Court should acquit the latter on its revision side. CROWN v. ACHHUR SINGH, 6 P.R. 1867, Cr.; LAL KHAN v. KUREEM KHAN, 71 P.R. 1866, Cr

(23)—Of an accused person on the ground of insanity, procedure in case of.—The finding of a Court should state specially whether the accused committed the act charged or not, if he be acquitted on the ground that, at the time at which he was charged to have committed the offence, he was, by reason of unsoundness of mind, incapable of knowing the nature of the act charged, or that he was doing what was wrong or contrary to law. CRIMINAL CIRCULAR No. 22, 10th DECEMBER 1864, 1 W.R. Cr. Cir. 9.

(24)—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 495—Officer appointed to conduct prosecution—Withdrawal of case by Police Inspector not specifically permitted to conduct the prosecution—Acquittal of accused—Illegality.—Criminal Courts have no jurisdiction to acquit accused persons, on a motion for withdrawal of the case by a Police Inspector, who is not specifically permitted to conduct the prosecution under s. 495, Crim. Pro. Code. CHOCKANADA GOUNDAN v. SALAMBURA GOUNDAN, 4 Ind. Cas. 132.

See ABETMENT, 71 P.R. 1866, Cr.

Acquittal—continued.

High Court when will interfere in revision with an order of acquittal—See ACT IX OF 1890, ss. 3, cl. (4), 122, 138, (1914) M.W.N. 124 =15 Cr. L.J. 225=23 Ind. Cas. 177.

Order of—Revision—See BEN. ACT III OF 1899, ss. 3, cls. 35, 361, 416 (1) (5), 419, 17 C.W.N. 1250=14 Cr. L.J. 511=20 Ind. Cas. 991.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1888, ss. 308, 309, 342, 4 Bom. L.R. 575.

See APPEAL—APPEAL FROM ACQUITTAL, 29 P.R. 1885 Cr., 10 P R. 1897 Cr.

See COMPLAINT — DISMISSAL OF COMPLAINT, 5 C.L R. 359, 7 M. 356=2 Weir. 309.

See COMPOUNDING OFFENCE, L.B.R. 1893 —1900, 240.

Effect of—See CONSPIRACY, 16 C.W.N. 1105=16 Ind. Cas. 257.

Legality of order of acquittal where accused not directed to appear at all—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 107, 112, 117, 118, 119, 145, 253, 403, 495, 36 M. 315=14 Cr. L.J. 559=21 Ind. Cas. 159.

Summons case tried as warrant case—Discharge of accused, effect of—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 245, 253, 437, 6 Ind. Cas. 385 =8 M.L.T. 78=11 Cr. L.J. 350.

Order of acquittal on account of complainant's absence, passed on a date not fixed for hearing of the case—Effect—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 247, 18 C.W.N. 1180.

Summons case—Non-appearance of complainant on date fixed for argument and consequent acquittal of accused if proper—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 247, and Ch. XX, 18 C. W.N. 584=15 Cr. L.J. 163=22 Ind. Cas. 739.

Complaint by servant on behalf of master —Acquittal on death of complainant—Complaint of same offence by another servant—Previous acquittal if bar to Magistrates taking cognizance of second complaint—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 247, 203=18 C.W.N. 1211=15 Cr. L.J. 726=26 Ind. Cas. 174.

Acquittal of accused under s. 247, Crim. Pro. Code, procured by his own trick—Whether a revision or appeal lies against the acquittal—Admission of additional evidence in appeals—Powers of Court—Grounds for setting aside order of acquittal—English and Indian Law—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 247, 403, 417, 435, 439, 26 M.L.J. 160=1914 M.W.N. 273 =15 Cr. L.J. 236=23 Ind. Cas. 188.

Report of process-server—Prosecution instituted by District Judge on such report—Acquittal of accused—Process-server—Liability to pay compensation—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 250, 25 P.R. 1910, Cr. =8 Ind. Cas. 382=11 Cr. L.J. 634=195 P.L.R. 1910.

On an erroneous view of the law—Interference by High Court at the instance of a private prosecutor—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 258, 11 C.L.J. 113.

Acquittal—continued.

Setting aside of acquittal in revision on application of complainant—Powers of High Court—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), ss. 258, 417, 439, 19 C.W.N. 184.

Order of acquittal set aside by High Court in revision on merits, on the application of the complainant—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 258, 439, 18 C.W.N. 1244=15 Cr. L J. 722=26 Ind Cas. 170.

Power of High Court to set aside order of—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 260, 439, 13 Cr. L.J. 771=17 Ind. Cas. 403.

Upon the result of local inspection and without taking oral evidence—Order of, if may be set aside on revision—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 263, 417, 16 C.W.N. 984=39 C. 931=17 Ind. Cas. 71=13 Cr L J 759.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), ss. 287, 289, 342, 1 O.C. 85.

Fighting in the course of which a person was killed—Accused charged under s. 325, I.P.C.—Compounding of the offence by the relations of the deceased—Order of acquittal—Legality—Revision—Re-trial—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss 345 (2), 439 (5), 7 S.L.R. 200 =15 Cr. L.J. 553=24 Ind. Cas. 961.

Acquittal on charge of murder if bar to trial on charge of culpable homicide—Acquittal on charge under s. 302/34, I.P.C. if bar to trial on charge under s. 302/114, or 302/109, I.P C.—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 403, 305, 308, 271, 272, 18 C.W.N. 723=15 Cr. L.J. 460=24 Ind. Cas. 340=41 C. 1072.

Order of—Bar to subsequent proceedings until order set aside—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 403, 423, 530, 556, 8 A.L J. 1129=12 Cr. L. J. 575=12 Ind. Cas 839.

Power of appellate Court—Altering finding of acquittal into one of conviction—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 423, 8 A.L.J. 1239=12 Ind. Cas. 836=12 Cr. L.J. 572.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 423, 26 M. 478=2 Weir 483=13 M.L.J. 263.

Appeal not preferred by Government from—Revision—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 435, 438, 439, 24 A. 316=A.W.N. 1902, 89.

Revision against—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 438, 25 A. 128=A.W.N. 1902, 200.

Interference with an order of—Revisional powers of High Court—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 439, L B.R. 1893—1900, 41.

High Court's powers of revision—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 439, 27 A. 359=A.W.N. 1904, 278.

Accused when entitled to acquittal on revision—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, s. 439, 28 P.W. R. 1914 Cr.=168 P.L.R. 1914=15 Cr. L.J. 591=25 Ind. Cas. 343.

Of accused, when illegal — See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 495, 4 Ind. Cas. 132.

Acquittal—concluded.

See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 535, 258, A.W.N. 1881, 142.

Accused's failure to exercise right of appeal—High Court's power to acquit—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 550, 14 P.W.R. 1909 Cr.

Effect on acquittal of omission to prepare charge—See DISCHARGE OF ACCUSED, 3 A. 129.

See DISCHARGE OF ACCUSED, 5 M.H.C. App. 2, 3 P.R. 1874, Cr.

Previous—Bar to trial—See JOINDER OF CHARGES—GENERAL, 12 Bom. L.R. 226.

Acquittal by District Magistrate — See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF—COMMITMENT TO SESSIONS COURT, 2 N.W.P. 132.

See MURDER, 3 Ind. Cas. 622=8 P.W.R. 1909 Cr.

Re-calling of warrant after acquittal of co-accused—Jurisdiction of District Magistrate to issue fresh warrant on same materials — See PENAL CODE, ss. 34, 107, 18 C.W.N. 580=15 CR. L.J. 402=41 C. 754=23 Ind. Cas. 1002.

Erroneous interpretation of law—Acquittal—Interference of High Court—See PENAL CODE, ss. 97, 101, 354, 13 Cr. L.J. 53=13 Ind. Cas. 389=4 Bur. L.T. 268.

Acquittal—Appeal by Local Government—Interference when justifiable — See PENAL CODE, ss. 318, 302, 26 P.W.R. 1913, Cr.=20 Ind. Cas. 1005 =14 Cr.L.J. 525.

High Court's power to alter acquittal on one of two alternative charges into conviction—See PENAL CODE, ss. 399, 402, 18 C.W.N. 498=41 C. 350=15 Cr. L.J. 385=23 Ind. Cas. 985.

Effect of—See PENAL CODE, s. 400, 16 C. W. N. 69.

Value of first report to Police—Report falsifying prosecution story—Acquittal—See PENAL CODE, s. 498, 29 P.W.R. 1911 Cr.=12 Cr. L.J. 500=224 P.L.R. 1911=12 Ind. Cas. 220.

See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, U. B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 91.

Accused's right to be restored to property on—See RESTORATION OF PROPERTY, 27 A. 415=A.W.N. 1905, 19=2 A.L.J. 64=2 Cr. L. J. 24.

When retrial ordered in case of—See RE-TRIAL, 6 C.P.L.R. 15 Cr.

On a charge under s. 211, I.P.C.—Subsequent sanction for perjury by the same Magistrate under s. 193, I. P. C.—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTIE—CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION — NECESSITY, SUFFICIENCY AND VALIDITY OF SANCTION, 1 A.L.J. 388.

See SESSIONS JUDGE, JURISDICTION OF, 4 L.B.R. 49=6 Cr. L. J. 287.

See SUMMARY TRIAL, 1 L. B. R. 9.

Acts.

1.—IMPERIAL ACTS.
2.—BENGAL ACTS.
3.—BOMBAY ACTS.
4.—BURMA ACTS.
5—CENTRAL PROVINCES ACTS.
6.—MADRAS ACTS.
7.—PUNJAB ACTS.
8.—UNITED PROVINCES ACTS.

I.—Imperial Acts.

Act II of 1839 (Fines by Magistrates).

[REP. ACT XVII OF 1862].

See ACT XVIII OF 1850, 3 B.H.C. App. 1.

See ACT XXVI OF 1850, s. 7, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 58=Cr. Rg. 7-12-1871.

Act V of 1840 (Oaths).

[REP. ACT X OF 1873.]

See OATH.

See SOLEMN AFFIRMATION.

(1)—"Oath," meaning of—" Oath " means a solemn affirmation under Act V of 1840, taken instead of an oath. 1 W. R. Cr. Letters, 13.

Act X of 1841 (Indian Registration of Ships).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PT. ACT XVI OF 1874. REP. IN PT. AND AM,—ACT XI OF 1850; ACT VII OF 1891. AM., ACT V OF 1883. S. 38, DECLARED IN FORCE THROUGHOUT B. I. EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3.]

Temporary additions to open vessels — " Strake "— Meaning of the term— Rule of measurement made by the Marine Department in 1873.—As there is no express provision applicable to temporary additions to open vessels either in the Indian Acts XIX of 1838 or X of 1841, or in the Merchant Shipping Act of 1854, the rules of measurement issued in 1873 by the Marine Department are ultra vires, so far as they require the measurement being taken from the top of a temporary addition to the upper strake. An additional structure of a temporary character to the bulwarks, to be removed at the end of the voyage, does not come within the meaning of "strake," which is a structural portion of the vessel, defined as a "continuous line of planking or plates on a vessel's side reaching from stem to stern." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAMUDIN valad MAHOMED, 14 B. 170.

Act XI of 1841 (Military Courts of Requests).

[REP. ACT VIII OF 1887.]

(1)—Ss. 2 and 17 — Military Court of Requests, jurisdiction of.—Act XI of 1841 does not confer jurisdiction on a Military Court of Requests to entertain a suit against the Cantonment Magistrate as representing the Government. It only provides for the trial of suits brought against persons subject to the Articles of War and against settlers, camp followers, and other persons, who may reside and carry on business in a Military bazaar, and who are subject to certain Military regulations. In this sense, the Government cannot be said to reside and to carry on business in the Cantonment. JODHRAJ v. CANTONMENT MAGISTRATE OF MORAR, 1 N.W P. 253.

(2)—S. 17—See No. 1, supra.

Act XIV of 1843 (Inland Customs—Agra).

[REP., ACT VIII OF 1875.]

And Act XXXVI of 1855—Possession of unlawfully manufactured salt—Rules of Administration Board.—Rule 32, of the Rules issued by the Punjab Board of Administration, dated 29th May, 1851, for the protection of the salt revenue, makes it an offence to be in possession of more than one seer of unlawfully manufactured salt. CROWN v. VELAYAT, 9 P. R. 1872 Cr.

Act XXIX of 1845 (Joint Zilla and Sessions Judges).

[REP., ACT X OF 1872.]

S. 5—Appointment of Joint Judge.—The consent of the Governor-General in Council required by Act XXIX of 1845 for the appointment of a Joint Judge must be a previous consent. The subsequent ratification of the appointment by the Governor-General in Council would not validate all intervening judicial acts of the Joint Judge appointed by the Local Government. REG v. RAMA GOPAL, 1 B.H.C. 107. [R., 9 B. 288, 10 B. 263, 6 Bom. L.R. 131.]

Act I of 1846 (Legal Practitioners).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PT., ACT XVI OF 1874; ACT XII OF 1876. REP. IN PT. AND AM., ACT XII OF 1891. AM., ACT XX OF 1853, S. 4 REP. (LOCALLY), ACT XX OF 1865; ACT XVIII OF 1879, S. 42 (INSERTED BY ACT IX OF 1884, S. 9). REP. (IN BURMA), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 18. DECLARED IN FORCE THROUGHOUT THE PRESIDENCIES OF MADRAS AND BOMBAY, EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, SS. 4, 5.]

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS— PLEADER, 7 B.H.C.A.C. 102.

Act XX of 1847 (Indian Copyright).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897; REP IN PT., ACT XVII OF 1862; ACT XIV OF 1870; ACT IX OF 1871; ACT XVI OF 1874; ACT XII OF 1876; ACT I OF 1879. DECLARED IN FORCE THROUGHOUT BRITISH INDIA EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3 IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XX of 1847 (Indian Copyright)—concld.

See ACT XXV OF 1867.

See ST. 5 AND 6 VIC. C. 45.

(1)—Ss. 3 and 6—Expunging entry from the catalogue of books kept in Bombay—Jurisdiction of High Court of Calcutta —By s. 6 of the Act, the only Court having jurisdiction to deal with the Register of Copyright for the purpose of varying or expunging an entry was the Supreme Court in Calcutta. It had, therefore, jurisdiction over the Book of Registry wherever it happened to be kept. By s. 9 of St. 24 and 25 Vic. Cap. 104, the High Court of Calcutta took over all the powers of the Supreme Court, including the powers exercised absolutely in respect of any copyright register. Held that the Calcutta High Court, therefore, has jurisdiction to order the expunging of an entry in the catalogue of books kept in Bombay under s. 18 of Act XXV of 1867. ISMAIL bin SHAIK BADAL v. ALI BHOY SARAFALI, 9 C.W.N. 591 = 1 C.L.J. 278.

(2)—S. 6—See No. 1, supra.

Act XXI of 1848 (Wagers).

[REP. ACT IX OF 1872].

See TAZI MANDI CHITTIS, 8 B.L.R. 412.

Act I of 1849 (Offences in Foreign States).

[REP., ACT XI OF 1872].

(1)—Arrest in British territory by H. H. the Nizam's authorities.—H. H. the Nizam's authorities have no power to make an arrest in British territory. Unless it is clearly alleged by the complainant that the accused had been resident in British India for six months before the offence was committed, the accused should not be imprisoned. In any case, he should not be detained in custody without the orders of Government obtained under Act I of 1849. KALADGI MAGISTRATE'S QUARTERLY RETURN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 35.

(2)—Ss. 2, 3 and 9—Jurisdiction over offences committed in foreign territory.—When the accused, who has been living in a foreign territory for six months, is apprehended in foreign territory and delivered to a British Magistrate, held, that the Magistrate was competent to hold the preliminary enquiry, but, before trial, he should report the case to the Deputy Commissioner of the Division and obey his orders. CROWN v. RAM SAHAI, 19 P.R. 1868 Cr.

(3)—S. 3—See CHARGE—AMENDMENT OF CHARGE, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 33.

(4)—S. 3—See No. 2, supra.

(5)—S. 9—Breach of trust committed in Goa tried by Sessions Judge of Mangalore, but no order being recorded—New trial.—Where a tindal of a small vessel had been convicted of criminal breach of trust, which appeared to have been committed in Goa, but no order was recorded by the Sessions Judge of Mangalore who tried the case under s. 9 of Act I of 1849, it was held that there ought to be a new trial. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 10th Jan. 1870, 5 M.H C. App. 13.

(6)—S. 9.—See No. 2, supra.

Act XVIII of 1850 (Judicial Officers' Protection).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. DECLARED IN FORCE THROUGHOUT BRITISH INDIA EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICT ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3: IN THE SONTHAL PARGANNAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3; IN THE CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS, REG. I OF 1900, S. 4; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4; IN CERTAIN TRACTS IN THE CHIN HILLS, REG. V OF 1896, S. 3; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3.]

(1)—Liability of judicial officers—"Jurisdiction," scope of.—Act XVIII of 1850, not only protects a Judicial Officer from suits for acts done or ordered to be done by him in the discharge of judicial duties within the limits of his jurisdiction, although the act is done maliciously, with gross and culpable irregularity and without believing, in good faith, that he had jurisdiction to do the act complained of, but also protects him from suits for acts done or ordered to be done in the discharge of judicial duties, without the limits of his jurisdiction, provided that he, at the time of doing the act or ordering it to be done, believed himself, in good faith, to have jurisdiction to do or order the act complained of. The term "jurisdiction" means authority or power to act in a matter, and not authority or power to do an act in a particular manner. In the matter of warrants, the protection afforded by the section is not against suits for executing lawful warrants or orders, but against suit for executing warrants or orders, not lawful, provided that such warrants or orders have been issued by a judicial officer in a matter within his jurisdiction, and not merely in a matter in which such judicial officer has authority or power to issue the particular warrant. The term "jurisdiction" should not be construed as meaning authority or power to issue the warrant in a particular matter and in the particular manner in which it is issued. TEYEN v. RAM LAL, 12 A. 115 = A.W.N. 1890, 32. (2 M.I.A 293, R.) [Diss., 10 M.L J. 232; R., 59 P.W.R. 1908.]

(2)—Magistrate, acting in "good faith."—Suit for damages against Magistrate for false imprisonment.—A Magistrate, who fails to act reasonably, carefully, and circumspectly, cannot be said to have "in good faith believed himself to have jurisdiction" within the meaning of Act XVIII of 1850; and consequently he cannot claim the protection of that Act in an action brought against him in a Civil Court. Where an action in trespass for damages was brought against a Magistrate who had ordered the imprisonment of the plaintiff under Reg. I of 1874, while the plaintiff was not a domestic servant falling under the scope of the Regulation, while there was no crime imputed to him and while he had entered a defence of not guilty, held that the Magistrate had not acted in good faith believing himself to have jurisdiction, but carelessly, precipitately and without caution, and that Act XVIII of 1850 did not protect him from liability. VITHOBA MALHARI v. ARTHUR KING CORFIELD, 3 B.H.C. App. 1.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1850 (Judicial Officers' Protection)—continued.

(3)—Judicial Officers—Person bona fide believed to be dangerously insane—Bona fide detention by public servant—Liability.—The Act is for the protection of judicial officers, acting judicially, and officers acting under their orders, and never for the protection of the Police or a Magistrate in the exercise of Police duties. There is no law which authorises the Police or a Magistrate in the exercise of of Police duties, or an officer in command of a cantonment, in consequence of a bona fide belief that a person is dangerous by reason of actual lunacy to put him into confinement, in order that he may be visited and examined by medical officers, and to keep him in confinement, until such officers can feel themselves justified in reporting whether the person is a dangerous lunatic or not; a fortiori, this cannot be done in the case of a bona fide belief of danger from impending lunacy; so that such officer would not be protected from liability in respect of such acts. E. D. SINCLAIR, v. L. P. D. BROUGHTON, 9 C. 341 = 3 C.L.R. 185, P.C. = 9 I. A. 152 = 5 Shome L.R. 136 = 4 Sar. 387 = Rafique & Jackson's P. C. No. 69.

(4)—Policy and scope of Act.—The protection afforded to judicial officers rests on public policy. And though thereby a malicious Judge or Magistrate may be given a protection designed not for him, but for the public interest, it does not follow that he can exercise his malice with impunity. His conduct can be investigated elsewhere and due punishment awarded. GIRJASHANKAR NARSIRAM v. GOPALJI GULABBHAI, 7 Bom. L. R. 951.

(5)—Local nuisance—Jurisdiction of Magistrate.—A Magistrate is not warranted in convicting and imprisoning a person for disobeying an order, the legality of which was then properly under the consideration of an appellate Court. REG. v. DALSUKRAM HARIBHAI, 2 B H.C. 384.

(6)—Bona fide discharge of duty by Judicial Officers—Liability of Secretary of State.—A Magistrate, acting bona fide, is not liable for anything done by him in the exercise of his duty, however wrong the Act may be. The Legislature, by Act XVIII of 1850, while freeing the agent, the person who actually commits the tort complained of, and who would be the person primarily responsible, from all responsibility, could not have intended to leave the principal liable. MOTI LAL GHOSE v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA, 9 C. W. N. 495 = 1 C.L.J. 385. (4 M. 344, 1 C. 11, R)

(7, 8)—Liability of Magistrate—Order under Crim Pro. Code (1861), ss. 62, 308.—Act XVIII of 1850 does not protect a Magistrate who has not acted with due care and attention. The mere absence of mala fides is no defence. A Magistrate cannot be said to have "in good faith" believed himself to have jurisdiction to do or order the act complained of, unless he, in arriving at that belief, acted reasonably, circumspectly, and carefully. A Magistrate would not be personally liable for an act done by him under a misconstruction or misinterpretation of the law, if his proceeding were in other respects regular, and if the misconstruction or misrepresentation were one which might have been put upon the law by reasonable man, acting with ordinary care and attention. But a Magistrate is not protected by saying he misconstrued the law, unless his proceedings have been in other respects regular, and the view of the law taken by him is such as a reasonable and careful man might take. [Expl., 15 W.R. 293; R., 16 W.R. 63.] When a Magistrate violates the plain language of the law and the very first principles of judicial inquiry, his proceedings presumably are characterized by want of care. TARAKNATH MOOKHOPADHYA v. COLLECTOR OF HOOGHLY, 4 B. L. R. A. C. 37 = 13 W. R. 13; COLLECTOR OF HOOGHLY v. TARAKNATH MUKHOPADHYA, 7 B.L.R. 449 = 16 W. R. 63.

(9)—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), ss. 68, 212—Liability of Magistrate.—In a suit for damages against a Magistrate who had ordered the search of the plaintiff's house and detained plaintiff (woman) till she furnished bail, without any proof of the commission of any offence by her held that neither Act XVIII of 1850 nor ss. 68, 212 of the Crim. Pro. Code (1861), protected the Magistrate who had failed to act reasonably, carefully and circumspectly in taking the steps complained of in the discharge of his duty as a Magistrate, since such conduct was inconsistent with good faith. VINAYAK DIVAKAR v. BAI ITCHA, 3 B.H.C.A.C. 36; (3 B.H.C. App. 1, F.) [R., 12 A. 115, 6 Bom. L. R. 131, 13 W. R. 13.]

(10) Magistrate acting bona fide without jurisdiction—" Jurisdiction"—Order for compensation to the accused—Warrant to bring complainant to hear judgment.—Where a Magistrate acts without jurisdiction in the bona fide belief that he has jurisdiction, he is protected by Act XVIII of 1850, and no suit will lie. The act of issuing a warrant for the arrest of the complainant to hear an order, which directed him to pay compensation to the accused is not an act within the " jurisdiction " of the

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1850 (Judicial Officers' Protection)—concluded.

Magistrate within the meaning of that word, as used in Act XVIII of 1850. MAHALINGA AIYAR v. RAJAM AIYAR, 10 M.L.J. 232.

(11)—Cantonment officer making bona fide mistake in discharging duty.—The Commanding Officer in a Cantonment is vested, within the cantonment, with all the police powers which a District Magistrate can have in his district and any bona fide mistake committed by him in the performance of his duty is excusable in law. L. P. D. BROUGHTON v. E. D. SINCLAIR, S. C. 19, Oudh. [Reversed, 9 C. 341, P.C.]

(12)—Negligent and wrongful payment of money by a Judge—Cause of action not disclosed—Locus standi.—A Judge knowingly pronouncing illegal orders is responsible to the State only, and cannot be sued so long as he keeps within his jurisdiction, though he may, in certain cases and by a particular procedure, be held criminally responsible. A contrary system would produce great inconvenience by allowing "every losing party of whom there must be one in every suit, to bring an action against the Judge, and the Judge in his turn, if unsuccessful, suing the other Judge who had pronounced against him. MAUNG MYAT MIN v. MAUNG WAIK, L. B. R. 1872—1892, 83.

(13)—Delay in trial of prisoners—Civil action for damages—S. 22, Crim. Pro Code (1861).—A Deputy Magistrate, who, without reasonable cause, delays proceeding with the trial of persons whom he keeps in jail, is liable, notwithstanding the above Act, to an action in damages if the prisoners are eventually acquitted. By s. 22, Crim Pro. Code (1861), a Magistrate may, by a written order, from time to time, adjourn an enquiry for a period not exceeding 15 days. QUEEN v. SAHOO, 11 W.R. Cr. 19.

(14)—See BAIL, 2 M.H.C. 396.

(15)—See DEFAMATION, 4 P.W.R. 1910, Cr.

(16)—S. 1—See ACT XI OF 1878, s. 25, 8 C. L. J. 75.

(17)—S. 1—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 96, 105, 165, 13 C.W.N. 458=9 C.L J. 298=36 C. 433=5 M.L.T. 367.

Act XXI of 1850 (Caste Disabilities Removal).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. DECLARED IN FORCE--THROUGHOUT BRITISH INDIA EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3; IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT (WITH MODIFICATIONS), REG. IX OF 1874, S 3.]

(1)—Exclusion from caste.—Exclusion from caste is, after the passing of Act XXI of 1850, not a ground for exclusion from inheritance. BHUJJAN LAL v. GYA PERSHAD, 2 N.W.P. 446.

(2)—Ss. 49 and 90 — Intoxicating drug—"Post."—"Post" or the poppy head in which

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXI of 1850 (Caste Disabilities Removal)—concluded.

opium has been allowed to ripen, and which is expressly grown for the purpose of mixing with water to drink, is an "intoxicating drug." CROWN v. GUNGA RAM, 9 P.R. 1870, Cr.

(3)—S. 90 – See No. 2, supra.

Act XXVI of 1850 (Improvements in Towns).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XIV OF 1870. REP. (IN AGRA), ACT VI OF 1868, S. 5; (IN PUNJAB), ACT IV OF 1873; (IN BOMBAY), BOM. ACT VI OF 1873; (IN BENGAL, EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM), BEN. ACT V OF 1876; (IN SINDH), BOM. ACT I OF 1879; (LOCALLY IN MADRAS), MAD. ACT X OF 1865.]

(1)—Municipal Commissioner, if public servant.—A Municipal Commissioner, appointed under the above Act, is a public servant within the meaning of Reg. II of 1827, s. 43 GREANES v. BHAGVAN TULSI, 4 B H.C.A.C.J. 93. [Appr., 1 B. 628; D., 14 B. 286.]

(2)—Municipal Chairman, if a public servant—Penal Code, s. 174.—The Chairman of the Municipal Commission, appointed under Act XXVI of 1850, although a public servant, is not legally competent as such to issue an order for attendance before him. Hence, disobedience to such an order is not an offence within s. 174, I.P.C. REG. v. PURUSHOTAM VALJI, 5 B H. C. Cr. 33. [R., Rat. Un Cr. C. 488.]

(3)—Fine by pound-keeper whether bars trial under this Act.—A fine levied by a pound-keeper is not a punishment imposed on conviction for an offence, and it is an error to hold that a person cannot be tried for an offence under the above Act, because he has paid a fine under s. 6 of Act III of 1857. REG. v. DURGARAM MADHAV RAM, 7 B H.C. Cr. 55.

(4)—Order forbidding nuisance—Power of Magistrate.—A Magistrate, as the President of a Municipal Committee, has no power to issue an order forbidding as a nuisance, an act not included in the rules passed under Act XXVI of 1850. GOVERNMENT v. SHAM SOONDER, 1 Agra 34, Cr.

(4-a)—Right of Subordinate Magistrate to take cognizance of offence against Municipal rules.—By virtue of the last para. of the schedule, headed "Offences against other laws," added to the Code of Criminal Procedure by Act VIII of 1869, a Subordinate Magistrate, second class, can take cognizance of the offence of a breach of the Municipal rules promulgated under the above Act. REG. v. DHARMAYA valad SANGAPA, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 12. [Appr., 8 B.H.C. Cr. 39, F.B.]

(4-b) — Jurisdiction of Magistrates to try offenders against such rules.—The authority to try offenders against such Rules or Bye-laws is vested in the Magistrate of the country, and subordinate as well as other Magistrates have jurisdiction to try such offenders. REG. v. YENKU BAPUJI, 8 B H.C. Cr. 39, F.B. (8 B. H.C. Cr. 12, Appr.)

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXVI of 1850 (Improvements in Towns) —continued.

(5)—See CONTEMPT OF COURT, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 33.

(6)—See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF—MISCELLANEOUS, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 39, F.B.

(7)—See POUND-KEEPER, 7 B.H.C. Cr. 55.

(8)—S. 7—Prospective fine. — Where the accused, being convicted of disobedience to the order of the Municipal Commissioner, was ordered to pay a fine of Rs. 20, and was allowed 8 days within which to comply with the order, but failing to do so, a fine of Rs. 2 was imposed upon him for each day during which such disobedience should be wilfully continued, held that the latter portion of the order was not legal. REG. v. JAGANNATHBHAT bin APPABHAT, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 103.

(9)—S. 7—Crim. Pro. Code, Act XXV of 1861, s. 61—Conviction under Act XXVI of 1850—Act II of 1839—Fines.—The provision in s. 61, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, for imprisonment in default of fine is not applicable to a penalty imposed under the Rules framed under s. 7 of Act XXVI of 1850, since such fines are to be levied under Act II of 1839. It is illegal to pass a sentence of imprisonment until a warrant for distress and sale has been returned unsatisfied. REG. v. TUKARAM KALU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 58 = Cr. Rg. 7-12-1871.

(10)—S. 7, cl. 5—Rules passed by Town Commissioners—Jurisdiction of Sub-Magistrates.—A Subordinate Magistrate has no jurisdiction to impose a fine for breach of a rule passed by Town Commissioners under cl. 5 of s. 7 of Act XXVI of 1850. REG. v. MALHARJI bin NAULOJI, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 36.

(11)—Ss. 7 (5), 10—See PENALTY, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 77.

(12, 13, 14)—Ss. 7, 10, 12—Municipal Commissioners, if can assume jurisdiction—Rules empowering Municipal Managing Committee to try offenders—Ultra vires—How far rule ultra vires.— Municipal Commissioners, appointed under the above Act, have not, by that Act, conferred upon them, nor are they entitled to assume judicial powers with reference to the breach of Rules or Bye-law made by them under that Act. (5 B.H.C. Cr. 10, F.) [R., 8 B.H.C.A.C.J. 213.] Rules made under the above Act, which purported to give the Managing Committee of such Municipal Commissioners power to try offenders against such Rules, or to levy fines upon them are ultra vires and illegal. Rules of the Municipalities of Balsad, Surat, Malcolmpet and Ahmedabad referred to and commented on. How far a rule, partially ultra vires and partially intra vires, can be enforced as to the latter portion, considered. REG. v. YENKU BAPUJI, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 39.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXVI of 1850 (Improvements in Towns) —concluded.

(15)—S. 10—Power of Managing Committee of Municipal Commissioners to fine for breach of rules —The Managing Committee of the Municipal Commission has no power to try and convict a person for breach of the rules made under the Act. S. 10 of Act has provided for the recovery of fines by Magistrates. REG. v. MAVJI DAYAL, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 10. [F., 8 B.H.C. Cr. 39, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 213.]

(16)—S. 10—See Nos. 11, 12, supra.

(17)—S. 12—See No. 12, supra.

Act XXXIV of 1850 (State Prisoners).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1891. SUPPLEMENTED, ACT III OF 1858. DECLARED IN FORCE—THROUGHOUT BRITISH INDIA EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3; IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3; IN THE CHITTAGONG HILL-TRACTS, REG. I OF 1900, S. 4; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3.]

Sse BEN. REG. III OF 1818, 6 B.L.R. 392.

Act XXXVII of 1850 (Public Servant Inquiries).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT I OF 1897. REP. IN PART, ACT XIV OF 1870; ACT XVI OF 1874; ACT XII OF 1876; (LOCALLY), ACT XVI OF 1868. AMENDED, ACT I OF 1897. DECLARED IN FORCE — THROUGHOUT BRITISH INDIA EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3; IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S 3; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT (SS. 2 TO 22 AND 25), REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 16; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION, NECESSITY, SUFFICIENCY AND VALIDITY OF SANCTION, 18 P.R. 1898, Cr.

Act VIII of 1851 (Indian Tolls).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PART, ACT XIV OF 1870; REP., IN PART, ACT XII OF 1876; REP. IN PART, ACT II OF 1901; REP. IN PART, AMENDED, AND SUPPLEMENTED, ACT VIII OF 1888; AMEND-ACT XV OF 1864; SUPPLEMENTED, ACT ED LOCALLY), VIII OF 1892; REP. (IN BOMBAY), BOM. ACT III OF 1875. DECLARED

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1851 (Indian Tolls)—concluded.

IN FORCE--IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), WITH A MODIFICATION, ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4; IN THE CENTRAL PROVINCES AND THE SAMBALPUR DISTRICT (EXCEPT S. 1 AND THE SCHEDULE), ACT XX OF 1875, S. 3; IN THE PUNJAB, ACT VIII OF 1888, S. 1.]

(1)—Ss. 2, 3, 6—See TOLLS, 22 W.R. Cr. 76.

(2)—Ss. 2 and 6—See TOLLS, 6 W.R. Cr. 48.

(3)—S. 3—See No. 1, supra.

(4)—S. 6—See Nos. 1 and 2, supra.

Act VII of 1853 (Jurisdiction of Magistrates).

[REP., ACT X OF 1872.]

(1)—Jurisdiction—British-born subject—Justice of the Peace—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—A Magistrate being also a Justice of the Peace has no jurisdiction to try a British-born subject under the Penal Code. His jurisdiction in the trial of such subjects is governed and limited by 53 Geo. III, c. 155, s. 105, and Act VII of 1853, neither of which gives him power to award imprisonment in default of payment of a fine. REG. v. DIXON, 6 B.H.C. Cr. 14.

(2)—See JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, 6 B.H.C. Cr. 14.

Act XIX of 1853 (Recusant Witnesses).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT V OF 1897; S. 40, REP., ACT X OF 1855; SS. 1 TO 18, 20 TO 25, 27 TO 39, 41 TO 44 REP., ACT X OF 1861; S. 19 REP., ACT I OF 1872; S. 26 REP. IN PT., ACT XII OF 1891; REP. (EXCEPT IN ASSAM), ACT I OF 1903.]

S. 28—See WITNESS—SUMMONS TO WITNESS, 1 B.L.R.A. Cr. 186 = 10 W.R. 233.

Act VII of 1854 (Fugitive Foreign Offenders).

[REP., ACT XI OF 1872.]

(1)—The Act does not govern the procedure relating to the surrender of persons charged with the commission of "heinous offences" within Act VII of 1854 in Independent States conterminous with the Punjab who took refuge in British territory. The rules of the Chief Commissioner of the Punjab framed in 1856 and declared applicable to the States mentioned by the Judicial Commissioner's circular apply to such words. CROWN v. TOKHA, 4 P.R. 1870, Cr. [R., 21 P.R. 1886, Cr.]

(2)—S. 23—Act XVII of 1862—Warrants—Repeal—Treaty with Gaikwar—Arrest of accused.—S. 23 of Act VII of 1854 was not repealed by Act XVII of 1862. The section applies to cases of delivery of accused persons upon requisition by the Gaikwar of Baroda and the British Government would not be justified in delivering up such persons without holding a preliminary inquiry into his guilt. A warrant, therefore, issued under the section, directing an accused person to be produced before the British Resident at Baroda, should state whether such an inquiry has been held or is about to be held. But it may be presumed in the case of such a warrant that the intention was that the Resident might institute such an inquiry as is required by the section. REG. v. SOUTER, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 13.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1854 (Fugitive Foreign Offenders)—concluded.

Act XVII of 1854 (Post Offices).

[REP., ACT XIV OF 1866.]

(1)—S. 50 (= s. 52 of the Post Office Act VI of 1898)—Jurisdiction of Magistrate.—A conviction and sentence recorded by a Magistrate, F.P., under s. 50 of the Post Office Act XVII of 1854 (corresponding with s. 48 of the Act of 1866) were held to be illegal, as the Magistrate had no jurisdiction finally to dispose of the case, but was bound to have committed it for trial before the Court of Session. REG. v. ATMARAM WAMAN BHANDARKAR, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 8.

(2)—Separate sentences for offences arising out of the same transaction.—Where a person had been previously committed and sentenced on a charge of fraudulently secreting a letter under s. 50 of the above Act, his subsequent conviction upon the charge of having fraudulently made away with the same letter upon the same occasion was held to be invalid. QUEEN v. DALAPATI RAU, 2 Weir 454 = 1 M.H.C. 83. [R., 1 Bom. L.R. 15.]

Act XVIII of 1854 (Railways).

[REP., ACT IV OF 1879.]

(1)—Railway passenger travelling in higher class--Act XVII of 1854 (Railways)—Penal Code, s. 417.—A railway passenger travelling in a class higher than that for which he had paid his fare is not liable to be convicted of cheating under s. 417, I.P.C. REG. v. DAYABHAI PARJARAM, 1 B.H.C. 140.

(1-a)--Attempt to evade railway fare--Attempt to cheat—Attempt to evade payment of railway fare, when amounts to an attempt to cheat—See ATTEMPT, 6 P.R. 1868, Cr.

(2)—See COMPLAINT — INSTITUTION OF COMPLAINT—PRELIMINARIES, 4 B.H.C. Cr. 4.

(3)—S. 3—Return ticket—Transfer—Attempt.—The act of buying the unused half of a return ticket does not in itself amount to attempt to travel within the meaning of the Indian Railways Act, 1854. Quære:—Whether it is fraud in A to travel with a ticket purchased by B—albeit the words "not transferable" are printed thereon? QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MUGGAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 123.

(4)—S. 17—Jurisdiction of Subordinate Magistrate.—A Subordinate Magistrate (First Class)

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1854 (Railways)—continued.

has no jurisdiction to punish for an offence under s. 17 of Act XVIII of 1854. It was suggested that the Act in this respect required amendment so as to give Subordinate Magistrates such jurisdiction. REG. v. TRIBHUVAN ISHVAR, 3 B. H. C. Cr. 54.

(5)—S. 25—Jurisdiction of Magistrates.—Accused was tried and convicted by a Magistrate of an offence under s. 25 of Act XVIII of 1854, punishable with transportation for life or imprisonment for any term not exceeding seven years. Upon a reference, held that by virtue of Madras Act III of 1865, the Sub-Magistrate had jurisdiction, that Act not being repealed by the schedule attached to Act VIII of 1869. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 29TH JUNE 1872, 7 M.H.C. App. 8.

(6)—S. 26—Jurisdiction.—A full power Magistrate has no jurisdiction to convict a person of an offence punishable under s. 26 of Act XVIII of 1854. REG. v. LAKSHMAN BALAJI, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 10.

(7)—S. 26—Jurisdiction of Magistrates—Madras Act III of 1865, s. 1.—Although all offences under s. 26 of the Railways Act (XVIII of 1854), should, under that Act, be committed to the Sessions, yet s. 1 of the Madras Act III of 1865 operates to remove this bar to the Magistrate's jurisdiction and renders every Magistrate competent to take cognisance of offences against any special or local law, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in any Act or Regulation, provided only that the several grades of Magistrates do not exceed the limits of their ordinary jurisdiction as to the amount of punishment they may inflict. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 2ND APRIL 1868, 4 M.H C. App. 9.

(8)—S. 26—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), s. 435.—A Sessions Judge has no authority to direct a fresh trial of a charge of an offence under s. 26 of the Railway Act which has been dismissed by the Magistrate. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 20TH NOVEMBER 1871, 6 M. H.C. App. 41.

(9)—S. 27—Railway police—Neglect of duty.—The Railway Police, who are in the pay of a Railway Company, are amenable for neglect of duty to the provisions of the above section, notwithstanding that they hold commissions from the Commissioner of Police under s. 9 Bom. Act VII of 1867. REG. v. SAYAD KAZI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 51=Cr. Rg. 15-6-1871.

(10)—S. 27—See ACT XVIII OF 1862, s. 35, 1 M.H.C. 193.

(11)—S. 27—See BOM. ACT VII OF 1867, s. 9, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 51=Cr. Rg. 15-6-1871.

(12) S. 29 — Railway accidents — Duty of guard.—Where some coolies were employed in assisting a ballast train into motion at a Railway station, and one of them, after pushing the train or in attempting to do so, fell and was so injured that he afterwards lost his life, held that the evidence did not show that it was the duty of the guard to see that no one got up on the train, when in motion. QUEEN v. R. FLOOD, 8 W.R. Cr. 43.

(13)—Ss. 30, 35—Crim. Pro. Code, Act X of 1872, s 2—Jurisdiction.—S. 30 of Act XVIII of 1854, and s. 2 of the Crim. Pro. Code, show that offences under the former Act, punishable with fine exceeding twenty rupees, are not triable by Magistrates inferior to a First-class Magistrate. REG. v. MIRZA MAHOMED, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 83=Cr. Rg. 28-7-1874.

(14)—S. 34—Fine, how to be recovered.—S. 34 of Act XVIII of 1854 prescribes the mode in which fines are to be recovered by distress and sale. It is only on the return of the warrant of distress unsatisfied, or on the Magistrate being otherwise satisfied that no sufficient distress exists, that imprisonment can be imposed. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 13TH NOVEMBER 1871, 6 M.H.C. App. 37.

(15)—S. 35—Jurisdiction—By s. 35 of the Act, District Police Officers in the Presidency of Bombay could punish, to the extent of the powers conferred upon them, in petty offences, any offence made punishable under the Act, by fine not exceeding Rs. 20. But s. 5 of Reg. II of 1827 (authorising the appointment of District Police Officers), and s. 41 of the same Reg. (defining the limits of their jurisdiction) being both repealed by Act XVII of 1862, held that a Subordinate Magistrate had no jurisdiction to impose a fine under s. 17 of the Railways Act. REG. v. TRIBHUVAN ISHWAR, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 54.

(16)—S. 35—See No. 13, supra.

Act II of 1855 (Evidence).

[REP., ACT I OF 1872.]

See EVIDENCE.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872.

(1)—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—PLEADER AND CLIENT, 3 B.H.C.Cr. 126.

(2)—See PRIVILEGED COMMUNICATION, 15 W.R. 340.

(3)—Ss 6 and 8—See EVIDENCE—GENERAL, 7 B.L.R. 63=15 W.R. Cr. 25.

(4)—S. 8—See No. 3, supra.

(5)—S. 24—See PRIVILEGED COMMUNICATION, 1 B.L.R. A Cr. 8=10 W.R. Cr. 14.

(6)—S. 32—See CONFESSION—GENERAL, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 103.

(7)—S. 48—See EVIDENCE—GENERAL, 6 W.R. Cr. 5.

(8)—S. 67—See EVIDENCE—GENERAL, 6 W. R. Cr. 41.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1855 (Indian Fatal Accidents).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PART, ACT IX OF 1871. DECLARED IN FORCE—THROUGHOUT BRITISH INDIA EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S.3; IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S.3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S 3; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3.]

See COMPENSATION — TO COMPLAINANT AND HIS RELATIVES, 7 P.R. 1877, 17 P.R. 1898, Cr., F.B.

Act XXII of 1855 (Ports and Port-dues).

[REP., ACT XII OF 1875.]

(1)—Ss. 46, 62—"Magistrate"—Jurisdiction.—The word "Magistrate" in s. 62 of Act XXII of 1855 may be construed as including a Subordinate Magistrate. He has, therefore, jurisdiction to try the master of a vessel for an offence under s. 46 of the Act REG. v. TUNGA TUKA, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 14.

(2)—S. 62—See No. 1, supra.

Act XXXVI of 1855 (Contraband Salt).

[REP., ACT VIII OF 1875.]

See ACT XIV OF 1843, 9 P.R. 1872, Cr.

Act XV of 1856 (Hindu Widows' Re-marriage).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. DECLARED IN FORCE—THROUGHOUT BRITISH INDIA EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3; IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3.]

See DEFAMATION, 6 M. 381=1 Weir 595.

Act III of 1857 (Cattle Trespass).

[REP., ACT I OF 1871.]

See ACT I OF 1871.

See CATTLE TRESPASS.

(1)—Repeal of Act by Act I of 1871—Procedure.—Where a prisoner was properly convicted on the evidence of illegally seizing cattle, but was sentenced under the old law (III of 1867), but that Act had been repealed by Act I of 1871, the High Court declined to interfere with the sentence as the latter Act was in force at the time of the conviction and sentence, and no injustice had been done. MOHESH NATH v. HURRO MOHUN GHOSAL, 16 W. R. Cr. 12.

(2)—See NUISANCE UNDER PENAL CODE, 9 W.R. Cr. 70.

(3)—See SENTENCE—POWERS OF APPELLATE COURT—GENERAL, 16 W.R. Cr. 12.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1857 (Cattle Trespass)—continued.

(4)—S. 6—See ACT XXVI OF 1850, 7 B.H. C. Cr. 55.

(5)—S. 6—See POUND-KEEPER, 7 B.H.C. Cr. 55.

(6)—S. 13—Act XVII of 1862—Effect of repeal.—The latter portion of s. 13 of Act III of 1857 having been repealed by Act XVII of 1862, the offences created by that section can be dealt with by the ordinary criminal tribunals subject to the Crim. Pro. Code. REG. v. MATHUR PURSHOTAM, 4 B.H.C.Cr. 13.

(7)—Jurisdiction of Magistrate.—A Magistrate has no jurisdiction, under this section, to punish, except for an act of forcible opposition to the seizure of cattle-damage feasant. JAMES HILLS v. SREE HUREE ROY, 7 W.R. 155.

(8)—Procedure—Witness for defence—S. 262, Crim. Pro. Code (1861).—In a case of forcibly rescuing cattle under this section of the Act, in which the accused did not summon any witnesses, it was held that, even if the accused wanted them summoned, the Magistrate under s. 262, Crim. Pro. Code (1861), need not have summoned them, unless persuaded that they were likely to give material evidence, and that they would not attend voluntarily. AKBAR TAGUDGEER v. PUNCHOO BISWAS, 10 W.R. Cr. 42.

(9)—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—Although s. 13 of Act III of 1857 had not provided for awarding imprisonment in default of payment of fine, the High Court refused to interfere with a sentence of 15 days' imprisonment and fine or in default additional imprisonment for seven days, as unconditional imprisonment for six months in addition to fine would have been valid under the Act. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 9TH MARCH 1870, 5 M.H.C. App. 21. [Overruled, 7 M.H.C. App. 22.]

(10)—S. 13—See ACT XVII OF 1862, 1 B.H. C. 100.

(11)—S. 14—Illegal seizure of cattle and detention of cattle—Complaint—Stamp.—The illegal seizure and detention of cattle, to which s. 14 of Act III of 1857, refers, is not an "offence" within the meaning of s. 31 and Sch. II, No. 1, cl. (b), of the Court Fees Act, VII of 1870. Complaints of such illegal seizure and detention do not require a stamp. If such complaints be stamped, it is not competent for the Court to direct that the accused shall repay the amount of such stamp to the complainant. REG. v. AVJI NARU, 8 B.H C. Cr. 22.

(12)—S. 17—Mischief — Cattle-trespass — S. 425, I.P.C.—S. 425, I.P.C., supposes that the destruction was caused with the intention to cause wrongful loss or damage, and does not apply to cases of mere carelessness; and s. 17 of Act III of 1857 supposes the mischief (cattle-trespass) was done intentionally, and not by negligence. In the matter of ARAZ SIRCAR, 10 W.R. Cr. 29.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1857 (Cattle Trespass)—concluded.

(13)—S. 18—Jurisdiction of first-class Magistrate.—By virtue of s. 21, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, a Sub-Magistrate of the first class has jurisdiction to try an offence under s. 18 of the above Act, there being no provision in that Act as to the authorities by which offences committed under it are to be tried. REG. v. GANGA kom MHASU, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 13.

(14)—S. 18—Pigs—Public road—Damage—Trespass—Mischief.—Where a person, through neglect, permitted a public road to be damaged, by allowing his pigs to trespass thereon, it was held that it amounted to an offence under s. 18 of Act III of 1857. Held, also, that the conviction was not illegal, because the land damaged was a public road, and that the right to use a public read is limited to the purposes for which the road is dedicated. REG. v. LINGANA GIUBANA, 4 B.H.C. Cr. 14.

Act V of 1857 (Oriental Gas Company).

[EXTENSION AUTHORIZED, WITH AMENDMENTS IN SS. 3, 7 AND 22, ACT XI OF 1867.]

S. 11—See RIOTING, W.R. 1864, Cr. 21.

Act VI of 1857 (Acquisition of Land for Public purposes).

[REP., ACT X OF 1870.]

S. 2—See MANDAMUS, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 24.

Act XI of 1857 (State Offences).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PART, ACT XVII OF 1862; ACT XII OF 1876. DECLARED IN FORCE—THROUGHOUT BRITISH INDIA EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3; IN KACHIN HILL-TRACTS AS REGARDS HILL TRIBES, REG. I OF 1895, S. 3; IN CERTAIN TRACTS CHIN HILLS, REG. V OF 1896, S. 3; IN CHITTAGONG HILL-TRACTS, REG. I OF 1900, S. 4.]

(1)—Abetting the waging of war against the Queen—Forfeiture, Retrospective effect of—Act XXV of 1857, s. 3.—The property of a judgment-debtor convicted of an offence under Act XI of 1857, which has been attached intermediately between the time of the commission of the offence and the time of conviction, is property forfeited to the Crown under s. 3 of Act XXV of 1857. The forfeiture relates back to the time of the commission of the offence. GUNNESH LALL v. AMEERKHAN, 17 W.R. 80 = 8 B.L R. 83.

(2)—S. 1—Conviction for rebellion—Remission of punishment—Effect of Queen's Proclamation.—Where two persons were convicted of rebellion under Act XI of 1857, s. 1, and sentenced, the former to be transported for life and have all his property confiscated, and the latter to have all his property confiscated, held that the sentence of confiscation, was absolute, and did not depend upon the amount of punishment, and the fact of the punishment being remitted by the Governor-General did not restore the property. The Government having left the property of the convicts in the hands of the Administrator-General as administrator to the estate of the convicts' father whence it was derived, in whose hands it was allowed to accumulate pending a separate litigation in respect of that estate, while it asserted its right by virtue of the confiscation to the other property of the convicts the title to which was undisputed, held that the Government had sufficiently declared and acted upon its intention to enforce the confiscation. The Queen's proclamation of amnesty (November 1858), coming after the conviction and confiscation, was held not to have the effect of re-vesting in the convicts the property confiscated. Held, also, that the property in question, being Government paper, was liable to confiscation; and lastly, that the widow of the first convict was not entitled to maintenance out of the property confiscated by the State. GUNGA BAEE v. HOGG, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 124 [R., 1 C. 365.]

(3)—S. 1—See FORFEITURE OF PROPERTY, 8 B.L.R. 83 = 17 W.R. 80.

Act XIII of 1857 (Opium).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT I OF 1903. S. 1 REP., ACT XIV OF 1870; S. 2. REP., ACT I OF 1878; PREAMBLE REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1891; REP. (IN ASSAM), ACT V OF 1897). DECLARED IN FORCE—THROUGHOUT BENGAL (EXCEPT THE SAMBALPUR DISTRICT), EASTERN BENGAL AND AGRA, EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS. ACT XV OF 1874, SS. 6 AND 7; IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE CENTRAL PROVINCES AND THE SAMBALPUR DISTRICT (SS. 21 TO 23, 25 TO 29), ACT XX OF 1875, S. 3; IN OUDH (WITH MODIFICATIONS), ACT XVIII OF 1876, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY ACT XII OF 1891.]

(1)—S. 24—Crim.Pro.Code (1882), ss 4, 155, 156, 165—Non-cognizable offence—Offence under s. 9, Opium Act (I of 1878)—Illegal search—Act XIII of 1857, s 24—Power of arrest.—An offence under s. 9 of the Opium Act is not one for which a Police Officer may arrest without a warrant, as it is a non-cognizable offence. He cannot, therefore, investigate the case without the order of a Magistrate, nor can he make a search in respect of it. Therefore a Police Officer making a search under s. 9 of Act I of 1878, without being authorized to investigate into the offence, is liable to be sued for damages. S. 24 of Act XIII of 1857 does not authorize a Police Officer, unconditionally to arrest a person against whom the information mentioned in that section has been received. It only authorizes a Police Officer to take security from the person informed against, and the power to take such person into custody arises only upon his default in giving security that may be demanded of him. But the power of arrest, under s. 4 (g), Crim. Pro. Code, is an unqualified power. BAHABAL SHAH v. TARAK NATH CHOWDHRY, 24 C. 691.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1857 (Opium)—concluded.

(2) S. 26 —See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 8 B.L.R. App. 7 = 16 W.R.Cr. 65.

Act XXV of 1857 (Forfeiture).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897, REP. IN PART, ACT V OF 1869; ACT IX OF 1871. REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT XII OF 1891. SUPPLEMENTED, ACT IX OF 1859. DECLARED IN FORCE—THROUGHOUT BRITISH INDIA EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—Attachment against forfeited property.—A judgment-creditor, who has bona fide attached property, at the time when the property of the debtor become forfeited to Government under the above Act, is entitled in priority to Government. OODIT DAS v. GOVERNMENT, 2 Hay 117 = Marsh. 259.

(2)—See FORFEITURE OF PROPERTY, 14 W.R. 114.

(3)—Ss. 2 and 7—Forfeiture of rebel's property—Annuity.—The plaintiff joined with the rebels and took a leading part with them. A reward was set upon him as a rebel leader and, after a time, he was captured; no formal proceedings were taken, under ss. 2 and 7 of the Act, for adjudicating his property (which consisted of little more than annuity) to be forfeited. The property charged with the annuity was in the hands of the Collector as the Manager under the Court of Wards, the annuity was withheld and was no longer regarded as a charge on the estate but was treated as merged. Held that the mere withdrawal of the payment of annuity by these who had the management of the estate which was charged with the payment would be an illegal act in no way affecting the plaintiff's right, but, as the withholding of the payment was under the authority and direction of the official who was authorized to make the attachment of the rebel's property, it was with reference to the nature of the property equivalent to an attachment or seizure and could not be questioned except under the provisions of s. 18 of Act IX of 1859, nothwithstanding there had been no adjudication of forfeiture. CHUNDA v. ROOP SINGH, 3 Agra 281.

(4)—S. 3—See ACT XI of 1857, 17 W.R. 80 = 8 B.L.R. 83.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXV of 1857 (Forfeiture)—concluded.

(5)—Ss. 3 and 9—Grants for maintenance—Mitakshara Law—Impartible estates—Limitation—Infants—Custom.—A person who was in possession of an estate was found to be guilty of rebellion. All his property was forfeited to the Government, and he was subsequently sentenced to death and executed. A suit was eventually instituted on behalf of his infaut son for the restoration of the land and the house which had been confiscated. The case made had two aspects:—One, that the estate, which had been granted towards maintaining the title and dignity of the Thakur was inalienable; the other, that it was subject to the Mitakshara Law, modified by the family custom of primogeniture, and that the plaintiff became, on his birth, a co-sharer with his father: Held that the grant being for maintenance, and the descent being to the heirs male, did not make the estate inalienable. So long as their was an heir male, the grantor or his heirs could not resume such an estate; but a particular law or custom is necessary to convert an estate, which is conditional upon there being an heir male, into an estate which cannot be aliened: Held that the Mitakshara, by which each son has by birth a property in the ancestral estate, is inconsistent with the custom that the estate is impartible, and descends to the eldest son, and was not applicable to this estate: Held that the suit was barred by s. 9 of Act XXV of 1857, which contains no exception in favour of infants, and that the right of action, having been extinguished, was not revived by the repeal of the Act. THAKUR KOPILNATH SAHI DEO v. GOVERNMENT, 22 W.R. 17 = 13 B.L.R. 445. [Appr., 3 C. 331; F., 4 C. 283, 13 M. 197; R., 22 M. 383, 1 C.L.J. 557; D., 3 C.L.J. 521.]

(6)—S. 7—Seizure and attachment of the property of rebels—Procedure.—The procedure in regard to the seizure and attachment of property under Act XXV of 1857, and the adjudication of claims to such property under Act IX of 1859, pointed out. Held that it was not incumbent on a party aggrieved by acts done under these laws to bring a suit at all; but if he brought a suit, it must be brought within a year of the attachment of seizure complained of. A seizure within the meaning of s. 20, Act IX of 1859, meant such a taking possession of the property forfeited, as was referred to in s. 7, Act XXV of 1857—not only formal but actual. BYJNATH SINGH v. MESSRS. E. R. SOLANO, 14 W.R. 114.

(7)—S. 7—See No. 3, supra.

(8)—S. 8—Order under the section—Cancellation.—If a Special Commissioner appointed under the Act makes an order under s. 8 acquitting a person and directing the release of his property, he cannot afterwards on his own motion cancel such order. JANKI PRASAD v. RAI PARTAP CHAND BAHADUR, A.W.N. 1897, 129.

(9)—S. 9—See No. 5, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1858 (Confiscation, etc., for Rebellion).

[REP., ACT VIII OF 1868.]

Effect of forfeiture.—The confiscation of a village under the above Act cancels the right of the tenants, and the fact that they were permitted to retain their holding on rent and enjoy the produce of the trees for some years subsequent to the confiscation does not revive the rights which are absolutely avoided by the confiscation. TEEKUM SINGH v. DULLO, 2 Agra 324.

Act XXXVI of 1858 (Indian Lunatic Asylums).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897, REP. IN PART, ACT XVI OF 1874. REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT XX OF 1889. AMENDED ACT XVIII OF 1886, S. 17 B. AMENDED IN BENGAL, BENGAL ACT I OF 1909. DECLARED IN FORCE—THROUGHOUT BRITISH INDIA, EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3; IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S 3; AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3.]

(1)—Duty of Magistrate—Illegal confinement—Safeguards against designing people. — A Magistrate has no power to consign a lunatic to an asylum or a jail on his own mere unprofessional opinion. He must have before him the deliberate statements of a Medical Officer. Even then he has to form his own judicial opinion on the question of lunacy; and if he commits, the lunatic comes at once into a custody superintended by the Chief Commissioner. A long experience has shown that, if these safeguards are lost sight of, designing or careless people will use the Court's process against the alleged lunatic for nefarious purposes. In the case of females, the hardship and danger are more to be feared than in the case of men. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MOI LAN, L.B.R. 1872 -1892, 87.

(2)—S 4—See ACT XXII OF 1864, s. 11, 9 C. 341 = 13 C.L.R. 185 = 9 I.A. 152 = R. and J. No. 69, P.C.

Act I of 1859 (Merchant Shipping).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897; REP. IN PART., ACT XV OF 1863; REP. IN PART. ACT XIV OF 1870; REP. IN PART. ACT XVI OF 1874; REP. IN PART. ACT IV OF 1875; REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1876; AM. ACT XIII OF 1876, SS. 9, 10; AM., ACT V OF 1883, SS. 34—37; AM., ACT VI OF 1891, SS. 1—5; AM., ACT XII OF 1891; SS. 23, 24 A; AM., ACT VI OF 1906. DECLARED IN FORCE THROUGHOUT B.I., EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1859 (Merchant Shipping)—concluded.

(1)—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), s. 409 (s. 408, proviso of the Code of 1898)—Sentences under Merchant Seamen's Act—Appeal.—Sentences of Justices of the Peace under the Merchant Seamen's Act (I of 1859) are appealable, and the Courts of Sessions are, therefore, competent to entertain such appeals. In re W. M. EVANS, 2 Weir 461 = 2 M.H.C. 473.

(2)—See EUROPEAN BRITISH SUBJECT, 2 Weir 578 = 7 M.H.C. App. 32.

(3)—S. 83, cls 1 and 2 —Liability of seamen in Calcutta to imprisonment for desertion.—The amendment of cls. 1 and 2 of s. 243 of the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, by 43 and 44 Vic., c. 16, does not affect the liability of seamen in Calcutta, under s. 83 of Act I of 1859, to imprisonment. J. BRUCE v. C. CRONIN, 12 C. 438.

(4)—S. 83 (4)—Magistrate of Cochin—Justice of the Peace—Jurisdiction.—Where the Magistrate of Cochin, a Justice of the Peace but not a European British subject, convicted and sentenced a merchant seaman, a European British subject, for the offence of wilful disobedience to orders under cl. 4, s. 83 of the Act, it was held that, by force of s. 72 of the Crim. Pro. Code, 1872, the Magistrate had no jurisdiction. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 18TH DEC. 1872, No. 2243, 2 Weir 578 = 7 M.H.C. App. 32.

(5)—S. 83 (5)—European British subjects—Jurisdiction of Magistrate.—A Magistrate has no jurisdiction to try an European British subject for an offence under s. 83 (5) of Act I of 1859. The jurisdiction to try the case vests only in the High Court. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 22ND DEC. 1868, 4 M.H.C. App. 23.

(6)—S. 83 (5)—Applicability of Merchant Shipping Act, 17 and 18 Vic., Ch. 104, to India.—The Merchant Shipping Act, 17 and 18 Vic., Ch. 104 has no application to British India. Where the offence mentioned in that section is committed in India, the punishment must be under s. 83 (5) of Act I of 1859. In re WILLIAM JOHN REARDON, 1 Weir 898 = 8 M. H.C. 85.

(7)—S. 83 (5) (7)—Combining to disobey.—Where two or more persons wilfully disobey lawful commands, they cannot be convicted both of combining to disobey and also of disobedience, under cls. 5 and 7 of s. 83 of Act I of 1859, the transaction being one and the same. KING-EMPEROR v. PHILIP, C. L., 3 Bom. L. R. 539.

(8)—S. 111—Deposition of absent witness.—The deposition of a person, other than a merchant seaman, is not admissible in evidence under the above section of the Act. QUEEN v. RAMCOMAL MITTER, 1 Hyde 195.

Act VIII of 1859 (Code of Civil Procedure).

[REP., ACT X OF 1877.]

(1)—S. 81—See RIGHT OF SUIT, 18 W.R. 27.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1859 (Code of Civil Procedure) —concluded.

(2)—Ss. 276, 278—See SUBSISTENCE—MONEY, 5 B.L.R. Ap. 79.

(3)—S. 278—See No. 2, supra.

Act IX of 1859 (Forfeiture).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897; REP. IN PART, ACT VIII OF 1868; REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1891; SS. 16 TO 18 AND 20 DECLARED IN FORCE—THROUGHOUT B.I., EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN (EXCEPT THE LAST PARA. OF S. 18), REG. I OF 1890, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—S. 18—See ACT XXV OF 1857, SS. 2 and 7, 3 Agra 281.

(2)—S. 18—See FORFEITURE OF PROPERTY, 3 Agra 281.

(3)—S. 20—See ACT XXV OF 1857, S. 7, 14 W.R. 114.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897; REP. IN PART, ACT XVI OF 1874, APPLICATION SUSPENDED IN CERTAIN CASES, MAD. ACT I OF 1903, S. 2.]

(1)—Strict construction of the Act—Advance essential.—Act XIII of 1859 being a Penal Act must be construed strictly. An advance of money is an essential preliminary to the creation of an obligation under the Act. In re CHINNABATHUDU, 1 Weir 693.

(2)—Advance essential for operation of Act.—Unless it is shown that money has been received in advance from the complainant, no case arises to which the provisions of the Act can become applicable. The supply of material with which work is to be done cannot be treated as equivalent to payment of money and the fact that the material was a precious one cannot make any difference. In re MATHURAIMUTHU ASARY, 1 Weir 692.

(3)—Application of the Act — Advance of money essential.—Act XIII of 1859 only applies where there has been "an advance of money on account of any work," which words do not include mere loans or old debts, and the language used shows plainly that the interference of the Magistrate is limited to cases where the neglect or refusal to perform is wilful and without lawful and reasonable excuse. As a rule, a mere breach of contract ought not to be an offence, but only to be the subject of a civil action. Act XIII of 1859 is, like Ch. 19 I.P.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

C., an exception. But the Magistrate has to use a judicial discretion and to consider whether any excuse averred is lawful and reasonable. And a man cannot be treated as a criminal for not performing a contract which could not be enforced against him by civil process. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAJAB, 16 B. 368. (8 W.R. 69, Cr., 9 B.H.C. 271, 2 M.H.C. 427, 11 A. 262, 14 W.R. Cr. 29, 18 W.R. Cr. 53, 7 B. 379, 7 M. 131, 3 A. 744, 11 M. 362, R.) [F., 11 Cr. L.J. 329=5 Ind. Cas. 914=9 P.R. 1910 Cr.= 12 P.W.R. 1910, Cr., 23 P.R. 1913 Cr.=15 Cr. L.J. 166=22 Ind. Cas. 742, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 874.]

(4 & 5)—Advance to labourer must be on account of work—Under Act XIII of 1859, there must be an advance of money on account of work which a labourer has contracted to perform; though the labourer might lawfully consent to take paddy in lieu of money, it is essential that the advance should be on account of the work to be performed. In re THOLEGA RAMA, 1 Weir 683.

(6)—Advance must be in payment of work.—Where sovereigns were advanced to the accused, not in payment of the work, but as material to be worked up, held, that there was no advance within the meaning of Act XIII of 1859. In re KOTHIATH CHOYI, 1 Weir 693.

(7)—Advance must be in payment of work to be done—Where money is advanced to a workman, not in payment of work to be done, but merely to be used as raw material, the money advanced is an advance within the meaning of Act XIII of 1859. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 26TH APRIL 1871, 1 Weir 701=6 M.H.C. App. 24. [R., 1 Weir 692.]

(8)—There must be some balance left in the advance for which work has not been done.—This Act relates to fraudulent breaches of contract, and does not apply where an advance has not only been worked off by a labourer, but an actual balance is due to him. TARA DOSS BHUTTACHARJEE v. BHALOO SHEIKH, 8 W.R. 69. Cr. [Diss., 11 A. 262; R., 16 B. 368.]

(9)—Advance immediately returned—Where the accused, who owed a certain sum to the complainant, agreed to work upon the complainant's estate for a certain period, and the complainant, in order to make the contract a valid one, advanced the amount to the accused, who received it and immediately returned it to the complainant, held, that there was no advance within the meaning of the Act. INNASI MAISTRY v. THOMAS MURRAY, 1 Weir 685.

(10)—Bond—Repayment of sum advanced by instalments.—Where the money was not advanced on account of work contracted to be done, but was a mere loan to be repaid by monthly instalments out of the wages earned during the contracted period of service, such a contract was held to be not one within the provisions of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NINGAPPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 754.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(11)—Agreement to repay advance by deduction from wages accruing due.—Where in an agreement for work there was a clause that the advance was to be repaid by a deduction from wages that were to accrue due for services, held, that there was nothing oppressive in the contract, as the clause for re-payments by deduction from wages was controlled by the agreement to work only for a specific number of months in the aggregate, and as a breach of the agreement, at a time when the wages due were in excess of the advance remaining unpaid, would not be fraudulent though wrongful. In re CHOWRI MUTHU, 1 Weir. 707.

(12)—Contract providing for portion of wages going periodically in reduction of advance—Effect.—A contract to the effect that the workman shall work for wages, deducting from his wages a certain sum periodically to make good an advance, is within the Act XIII of 1859. JELAGAN SUBRAMANIA NAIDU v. SINGARA MUDALI, 27 M L.J. 616. (7 M. 131, 23 M. 208, F.)

(13)—Advance made to labourer for marriage expenses.—Where a certain amount of money was advanced to the accused for marriage and other expenses, but not for work to be performed, held, that the advance was not one within the meaning of Act XIII of 1859. In re GOPALA PADAYACHI, 1 Weir. 684.

(14)—Advance in the nature of debt.—The provisions of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, 1859, do not apply where the advance is literally or practically in the nature of a debt, and where, even assuming that the advance is not in the nature of a debt, the conditions are inequitable. The Act does not apply where the advance is not to be paid off by the work done but out of the wages the workman was to receive. In re ABDUL RASUL ISMAILJI, 13 Bom. L.R. 548 = 11 Ind. Cas. 586 = 12 Cr. L.J. 402. [R., 14 Bom. L.R. 956 = 13 Cr. L.J. 853 = 17 Ind. Cas. 789, 15 Cr. L.J. 383 = 23 Ind. Cas. 751 = 7 S.L.R. 100.]

(15)—Advance by way of loan.—The provisions of the Act in question can only apply to the case of a workman, who has received from his employer an advance of money on account of any work which he has contracted to perform; they do not apply to a case, in which the workman has only received a loan from his master or employer, without any reference to his wages for the work which he has agreed to do, and the loan has to be repaid by monthly instalments extending over a certain period, without any deductions being made from the wages in respect of those instalments. The Act (XIII of 1859) which is of a penal nature has to be construed very strictly. GANESHI LAL v. SHUGAN CHAND, 9 P. R. 1910, Cr. = 5 Ind. Cas. 914 = 12 P.W.R. 1910, Cr. = 11 Cr. L. J. 329. (3 A. 744, F.; 16 B. 368, 17 P.R. 1890, Cr., R.) [R., 23 P. R. 1913, Cr.]

(16)—Contract to work in consideration of previous debt.—Where the accused agreed to serve the complainant for 972 months in consideration of money due to the complainant on account of former debts, but left the service after three months, held that there was no fraudulent breach of contract within the meaning of Act XIII of 1859, so as to render the accused liable to be dealt with criminally, and that the Act was not applicable, as no money was received in advance, the consideration for the agreement to work being an old debt. REG v. JETHYA valad VESTYA, 9 B. H. C. 171. [F., 16 B. 368, 11 Cr. L. J. 329 = 5 Ind. Cas. 914 = 9 P. R. 1910 = 12 P.W.R. 1910 Cr.]

(17)—Agreement to work until re-payment of personal and ancestral debts.—Where the accused bound himself to work for the complainant, until the repayment of a sum found due to the complainant on a settlement of accounts in respect to certain personal and ancestral debts, held, that such a contract did not come under the provisions of Act XIII of 1859. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 2ND NOV. 1880, No. 2197, 1 Weir. 680.

(18)—Advance without interest, but not on account of work to be performed.—Where an advance without interest was made to the accused, on condition that he should perform service, but not on account of work to be performed, held, that the provisions of Act XIII of 1859 were not applicable to that contract. In re KALI, 1 Weir. 684.

(19)—Advance of money to be repaid without interest.—Where an employer advanced a sum of Rs. 100 to the accused, who bound himself to work for the complainant with his wife for a certain period, during which he received wages both for himself and for his wife and after which the loan was to be repaid without interest, held, that the contract was not one contemplated by Act XIII of 1859. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 9TH JAN. 1880, No. 39, 1 Weir 681. [F., 23 M. 203 = 1 Weir 687 = 1 Weir 682, 1 Weir 683.]

(20)—Advance to induce workman to enter into contract of service.—Where an advance is made to a person to induce him to enter into a contract of service, but not for work which such person contracts to perform, the contract is not one within the meaning of Act XIII of 1859. In re RAJAH SAHIB, 1 Weir. 684.

(21)—Loan given to labourer on condition that the latter should enter into a contract of service.—Where, by a written agreement entered into with the proprietors of certain estate,

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

a number of workmen agreed to work on that estate for a period of four years and one month for an initial advance of one rupee each, in respect of which it was expressly stipulated that it should not be repaid till after the expiration of the agreement, held, that the sum of one rupee given on the date of the agreement was not "money advanced on account of work to be performed," but rather a loan, made without interest, on the condition that the defendants would enter into a contract of service for the duration of the loan, namely, four years and one month. The provisions of Act XIII of 1859 were, therefore, held to be inapplicable to that loan TANGI JOGHI v. HALL, 23 M. 203 = 1 Weir 687. [F., 17 Ind. Cas. 420 = 23 M. L. J. 513 = 1912 M. W. N. 1152; R., 22 Ind. Cas. 742 = 23 P. R. 1913, 14 Cr. L. J. 400 = 20 Ind. Cas. 224.]

(22)—Receipt of advance—Contract of loan on condition that debtor will work for complainant.—Where an accused received an advance from the complainant and contracted that he would work for a year under the complainant and would then repay the advance, held, that the Act does not apply to a contract of this nature. The contract was a loan, with a condition attached that the borrower should work for the complainant. The Act applies only where there has been a contract for work, with money given as wages in advance. EMPEROR v. GOOROOMOONDIAN. 4 Cr. L. J. 200 = 3 L. B. R. 187. (3 A. 774, F.)

(23)—Receipt advance—Contract to work until repayment—Construction of the Act.—Such a construction of the Act as would enforce a contract in violation of law of a more stringent nature must not be adopted. Where a labourer agreed, in consideration of an advance of money received from the complainant, to work for the latter until the repayment of the amount advanced, held, that the contract was not within the Act. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS 12TH DEC. 1873, No. 2181, 1 Weir 680 = 7 M. H. C. App. 30. [F., Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 754, 1 Weir 680, 681; D., 1 Weir 686.]

(24)—Advance of money by employer.—In consideration of the accused agreeing to work for wages in a tannery, the proprietor advanced to him Rs. 10, which was to be worked off, annas 8 per week being deducted from the wages which would accrue due. Held, that the provisions of Act XIII of 1859 would apply to such a case. QUEEN v. TULUKANAM, 7 M. 131 = 1 Weir 685. [F., 14 Cr. L. J. 400 = 20 Ind. Cas. 224; R., 16 B. 368 (370), 23 M. 203, 22 Ind. Cas. 742 = 23 P. R. 1913.]

(25)—Advance of money by employer to be repaid out of wages.—Where an employer advanced a sum of Rs. 10 to a workman, which was to be repaid out of the wages earned by instalments of 1 rupee in each month, held that the money should be regarded as money advanced on account of work to be performed and the provisions of Act XIII of 1859 were applicable to the case. TANGI JOGHI v. HALL, 23 M. 203 = 1 Weir 687. [F., 17 Ind. Cas. 420 = 23 M.L J. 513 = 1912 M W.N. 1152; R., 22 Ind. Cas. 742 = 23 P.R. 1913, 14 Cr.L.J. 400 = 20 Ind. Cas. 224.]

(26)—Application of Act—Specific work—Advance for work which workman was already doing.—The loans that can be recovered under Act XIII of 1859, are the loans which are advanced by employers to their workmen for doing specific work. When the money was advanced, not for doing any particular work, but for the work which the workman was already doing, and the work was finished by the time of prosecution, held that the Act did not apply. Giga v. Muhammad Amin, 10 A.L.J. 468 = 13 Cr. L.J. 863 = 17 Ind. Cas. 799 = 35 A. 61.

(27)—Order for immediate repayment of advance.—An order to repay the advance on the spot is not absolutely illegal, provided the Magistrate has passed the order in accordance with the option of the complainant. In re PULLENCHERI HYDER, 1 Weir. 699.

(28)—Certain cases that do or do not fall within the scope of this Act—Contract to supply labour.—A person who merely undertakes to supply labour, but does not undertake to be present and see the work done, is not a labourer within the meaning of the Act. In re KOLANTHAI GOUNDAN, 1 Weir. 678.

(29)—Contract to supply labour and to get labour performed.—A contract to supply labourers and to get labour performed, although the nature and extent of the work to be performed are not clearly specified, comes under the provisions of Act XIII of 1859. ROWSON v. HANAMA MESTRI, 1 M. 280 = 1 Weir 675.

(30)—Contract to supply goods.—Where the accused did not undertake to give his personal labour to the complainant, but only agreed to supply lime for him, held, that his contract did not fall within the scope of Act XIII of 1859. In re LAL KHAN, 1 Weir. 691.

(31)—Contract to do or get work done on supply of materials.—An agreement to do or get done a specific work within a given time, and to do that work with the tools supplied by the employer, falls within the scope of the Act. In re VARADA CHETTI, 1 Weir. 686.

(32)—Contract for the bringing and letting of carts.—The letting of carts, whether at the place where the bargain is made or elsewhere, at a specified rate for the journey is not a contract for the employing of an artificer, workman, or labourer, within the meaning of the Act. In re KESHAV RAMACHANDRA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 349 = Cr. Rg. 39 of 1887. [F., Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 537.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(33)—Contract to perform agricultural work—Stipulation to pay penalty in the event of non-performance — Applicability of the Act.—The preamble and the other provisions of the Act show that it was not intended to apply to a contract to perform agricultural service (7 B. 379, R.). Where a contract prescribes a penalty for its breach, the remedy prescribed by this Act cannot be availed of. CROWN v. KHUDA BAKSH, 38 P.R. 1914 Cr. (96 P.L.R. 1914, R.)

(34)—Contract to carry salt by boat.—A contractor for the transport of salt from certain factories entered into an agreement with another to convey salt by boat taking an advance. Held, that the contract did not fall within the provisions of Act XIII of 1859, as there was nothing to show that the defendant pledged himself to render personal labour, nor the complainant could be considered as an employer of labour. CALURAM v. CHENGAPPA, 13 M. 351 = 1 Weir. 691. [F., Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 537 ; R., 9 Cr. L.J. 107 = 28 P.R. 1908, Cr. = 16 M.L.T. 235 = 1914 M.W.N. 651.]

(35)—Liability of contractor.—As the Act applies to cases in which a workman has undertaken to get work performed, as well as to cases in which he undertakes personally to perform it, there may be cases in which a contractor is liable to proceedings under the Act. But the contractor must himself be a workman. A person whose ordinary business is that of a contracting bricklayer, and who does not himself work, is not a workman within the meaning of the Act with reference to the contract for earthwork. GIBLY v. SUBBU PILLAI, 7 M. 100 = 1 Weir. 690. [F., 10 B. 96, U.B.R. 1903, 4th Qr., W.B. of Contract, 3 ; R., U.B.R. 1904, 1st Qr. W. B. of Contract 1, 15 Cr. L.J. 235 = 23 Ind. Cas. 187 = 7 L.B.R. 82 = 16 M.L.T. 235 = 1914 M.W.N. 651.]

(36)—Contractor.—Act XIII of 1859 applies to cases in which the workman has undertaken to get work performed, as well as to cases in which he undertakes personally to perform it, so that there may be cases in which a contractor is liable to proceedings under the Act. But, in such cases the contractor must be himself a workman. The Act does not apply to a contract made by a person who is not himself an artificer, workman, or labourer, but merely a contractor ASGAR ALI v. SWAMI, U.B.R. 1902—1903, Vol. I, W. Br. Cont. 3. (7 M. 100, R.) [R., 4 Ind. Cas. 827 = U.B.R. 1909, Vol. II, W. Br. of Contract, 1.]

(37)—Artificer, labourer or workman. — A person who, in the ordinary course, would himself take part in the work he contracted for, is an artificer, labourer or workman, within the scope of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, 1859. The terms of a contract were as follows : "The petitioner should provide the materials and labour and the sum was fixed at Rs. 269. Out of this sum Rs. 100 had already been paid and Rs. 50 were to be paid when the payment of the ghat contracted to be done was begun. The work was to be completed within a month ; and if it should be washed away in the monsoon, the petitioner was to re-build it. If the complainant herself had to finish the work, the petitioner would pay her." Held that the petitioner came within the scope of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. AMIR KHAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 204 = Cr. Rg. 24-7-1884.

(38)—Artificer, workman or labourer—Head-carpenter—Whether falls under the term — Liability to prosecution.—A person who is a 'carpenter-contractor' or 'head-carpenter' under whose supervision and direction the house was to be built by journeyman-carpenter, is 'an artificer, workman or labourer' within the meaning of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act, and is not exempted from liability to prosecution under the Act. SEIN YIN v. AH MOON SHOOKE, 7 L.B.R. 82 = 15 Cr. L.J. 235 = 23 Ind. Cas. 187. (7 M. 100, D.)

(39)—Employer—Broker or middleman is not employer—Construction.—A person, who does not himself employ labour, but is a mere broker or middleman supplying labour to an employer or master, is not entitled to take proceedings as an employer against the workman under the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act. The Workmen's Breach of Contract Act should be strictly construed. EMPEROR v. NAGA TIMA, 14 Bom. L.R. 956 = 1 Bom. Cr. C. 200 = 13 Cr.L.J. 853 = 17 Ind. Cas. 789. [R., 15 Cr. L. J. 383 = 23 Ind. Cas. 751 = 7 S.L.R. 100].

(40)—Cooly.—Where a cooly received from the complainant, a maistry, a certain sum, and agreed to work for nine months in an estate, receiving four annas a day for his wages and to repay the money advanced after the fulfilment of the contract, held, that the sum of money paid to the accused was not money advanced on account of work to be performed, but it was a payment made on condition that the defendant would enter into a contract of service for nine months, to which the Act was not applicable. In re KANDAPPA GOUNDAN, 1 Weir 682. [F., 1 Weir 683, 1 Weir 687 = 23 M. 203.]

(41)—Coolies in Assam.—Coolies in Assam, who have received advances in contemplation of work to be done, may be proceeded against under the Act. QUEEN v. GAUB GORAH CACHAREE, 8 W.R. Cr. 6.

(42)—Cooly gaung.—A cooly gaung may be a workman or labourer within the terms of the above Act, even though such cooly does none of the work with his own hands. MAUNG TUN v. FASIL KADRE, U.B.R. 1904, 1 Quarter Workman's Breach of Contract 1. [R., 11 Cr. L.J. 58 = 4 Ind. Cas. 827 = U.B.R. 1907—1909, Vol. II, Work man's Breach of Contract 1.]

(43)—Agreement to collect coolies—Agreement for personal service in default.—An agreement

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

by a person, in consideration of an advance of money, to collect coolies to work on a coffee-estate, and to pay penalty for every day's delay in supplying labour and to serve as a cooly for five years in the event of the contract not being fulfilled, was held to be an agreement within the scope of Act XIII of 1859. The penalty prescribing personal service would not take the case out of the scope of the Act, inasmuch as, even if that part of the agreement was invalid, the complainant was still entitled to claim the performance of the substantive agreement, if still capable of performance, or the re-payment of the advance. RAMASWAMI v. KANDASAMI, 8 M. 379=1 Weir. 679. [R., 3 L.B.R. 33, 1 Weir 686.]

(44)—Cobblers.—The accused, cobblers, received from the complainant an advance of Rs. 25, promising to work under him till the sum advanced was worked off by deducting the value of the shoes stitched by him, held, that the contract was within the purview of Act XIII of 1859. In re VEERAN, 1 Weir. 687.

(45)—Applicability of Act to domestic servants.—Act XIII of 1859 does not apply to private domestic servants, e.g., a horsekeeper, but applies only to artificers, workmen or labourers. In re SULLIMON KHAN, 1 Weir 688. [F., 1 Weir 689].

(46)—Factory labourer.—A labourer, who contracted with the manager of a silk-factory for a money consideration to work at the factory for four months in a year for a period of three years, and broke the terms of the contract, was held liable to a prosecution under the Act, and the order of the Magistrate, holding that such a contract was an unreasonable one, and, therefore, one which ought not to be enforced by him, was set aside. KOONJOBEHARRY LALL v. RAJAH DOOMNEY and KOONJOBEHARRY LALL v. RUGHOONATH DOME, 14 W.R. Cr. 29. [R., 16 B 368.]

(47)—Contract to work at factory.—Case where the High Court declined to exercise its powers of revision, on the ground that Act did not apply to this contract, which was a contract to work at a certain factory. JAMES LYALL AND CO. v. RAM CHANDER BAGDEE, 18 W.R. Cr. 53. [R., 16 B. 368.]

(48)—Surety of workmen.—Act XIII of 1859 does not extend to a surety for the "artificer, workman or labourer." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHILA NANA SHET, 1 Bom. L.R. 523.

(49)—Agreement to convey clay within the Act.—A conveyance of clay by the personal labour of the person who undertakes the same is 'work' within the meaning of the Workmen's Breach of Contract Act. The requirements to make the Act applicable discussed. MAMU BEARI v. EMPEROR, 16 M.L.T. 235=(1914) M.W.N. 651=27 M.L.J. 392=15 Cr. L. J. 651=25 Ind. Cas. 979.

(50)—Where work is actualy completed at time of complaint, Act does not apply.—The Act has no application to cases in which the work has actually been completed at the time of the complaint. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 29TH MAR. 1865, 1 Weir. 670. [F., 23 M. 37=2 Cr. L.J. 149=1 Weir. 671, A].

(51)—Contract for work—Indefinite terms, effect of.—Where the accused engaged to cut a channel and received advance in money and grains, but the contract did not contain any definite term in accordance with which the work was to be executed, held that there was no contract for the breach of which the accused would be liable under Act XIII of 1859. In re ANNAMALAI, 1 Weir. 692.

(52)—Agreement to complete a specific work within a specified time.—Where a carpenter agreed to build, in a month's time, a bandy out of the materials to be supplied to him, and a Magistrate, on default being made, ordered him to perform the contract 8 months afterwards, held, that the order was legal, inasmuch as the essential part of the agreement was that a certain specific article should be made within a reasonable time, the month being fixed as a guide to what would be a reasonable period. In re MADURAI CHETTI, 1 Weir. 705.

(53)—Contract of service for limited period.—Where the defendant received an advance of Rs. 6 and agreed to work as an agricultural labourer for a period of one year, held, that there was nothing illegal in the contract, because the period was a limited one. In re KADAPANATHAM MUNIGADU, 1 Weir. 706.

(54)—Contract to work for a specific period and for a further period in case of default.—Where the accused receiving an advance, agreed to work with a cooly on the plaintiff's estate from the 4th June, 1884 to the 30th April, 1885, and to continue to work for as many days after the 30th April as he should have made default in working during the term, held, that the special agreement to work for an additional number of days after the 30th April, 1885, in case of default was not bad in law. A Magistrate, on such default occurring, should specify the number of days the accused was bound to work after the 30th April, 1885. In re CHOURI MUTHU, 1 Weir. 707.

(55)—Contract to work for twelve years.—A contract to work 8 hours a day for 12 years, for wages not shown to be above the market-rate, and to live in any house that may be provided, being otherwise a form of slavery, is illegal. Where an advance made to a workman is merely a loan, Act XIII of 1859 does not apply. In re AMBU, 15 Cr. L.J. 384=23 Ind. Cas. 752.

(56)—Contract of service for a long period, not within scope of the Act.—The Act does not contemplate a contract involving a service extending over a long period, in the circumstances which would probably leave the contractor, at the close of the period, indebted to the employer and make it necessary for him to re-arrange himself for a further period, a result which would practically countenance a kind of slavery. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 9TH JAN. 1880, No. 39, 1 Weir. 681.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(57)—Inquiry under the Act, nature of.—When a complaint has been made against an artificer, workman, labourer, under Act XIII of 1859, that, having received an advance, he has failed without reasonable excuse to perform his contract, the inquiry to be made under the first part of the second section of the Act is not an inquiry into an offence which may be tried summarily. It is an inquiry of a special character, which, in some cases, may require to be conducted with much care and patience. POLLARD v. MOTHIAL, 4 M. 234=1 Weir 695=2 Weir 325. [F., 33 B. 22 (24)=6 Bom. L.R. 255=1 Ind. Cas. 378, 2 L.B.R. 163 (164), U.B.R. 1902, 3rd Qr.. Workman's Breach of Contract Act 1 ; R., 27 C. 131 (132)].

(58)—Inquiry under the Act—Terms of contract should be ascertained.—In a proceeding under the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, 1859, the first thing to be ascertained is, whether the artificer, workman or labourer entered into a valid contract, and if so, has, wilfully and without lawful or reasonable excuse, neglected or refused to perform work according to the terms of the contract. In order that this may be ascertained, it is quite clear that the terms and circumstances of the contract must be accurately ascertained. EMPEROR v. NAMDEO SAKHARAM, 12 Bom. L.R. 135.

(59)—Several contracts—Procedure.—Where the contracts are several, each defendant should be proceeded against separately. In re RAYA, 1 Weir. 707.

(60)—Summary trial under the Act.—An offence under the Workman's Breach of contract Act, cannot be tried summarily. EMPEROR v. DHONDU KRISHNA KAMBLYA, 6 Bom. L.R. 255. (4 M. 234, F.; 1 Weir. [494, 11 A. 262, N.F.) [F., 33 B. 25=10 Bom. L.R. 1126=8 Cr. L.J. 409.]

(61)—Summary punishment—Practice.—An offence under the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, 1859, cannot be punished summarily. EMPEROR v. BALU SALAJI, 10 Bom. L R. 1126=33 B. 25=8 Cr. L.J. 409=1 Ind. Cas. 387. (6 Bom. L.R. 255, F.).

(62)—Madras Act III of 1865 — Extent of punishment.—Madras Act III of 1865 authorises any Magistrate to take cognizance of any offence against any special or local law in force, notwithstanding any provision to the contrary in any existing Act or Regulation, and inter alia of offences under Act XIII of 1859. But as to the amount of punishment, he shall be restrained within the limits of his ordinary jurisdiction. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 9th August 1869, 4 M.H.C. App. 64.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract) – continued.

(63, 64)—Proceedings under the Act—Jurisdiction of Magistrate, condition precedent, for issuing a warrant.—Either the Court within whose local limits, a workman, labourer or an artificer resides, or the Court within whose local limits the refusal to perform his contract occurs has jurisdiction to hear the complaint. The warrant issued by the latter Court may be executed outside its local jurisdiction. Before a warrant is issued under Act XIII of 1859, a Magistrate should inquire into the fact and satisfy himself that a good prima facie case is made out. When such case is made out, the Magistrate is bound to issue process and should not refer the complainant to a Civil Court. MANA LAL v. VAHIA, 17 P.R. 1896, Cr. [Foll, & Appr., 6 Ind. Cas. 618=12 P.R. 1910 Cr.=13 P.W.R. 1910 Cr.=11 Cr. L.J. 380.]

(65)—Issue of warrant—Power of Magistrate.—Act XIII of 1859 authorises the Magistrates, on a complaint being made, to issue a warrant, and the provisions of the Crim. Pro. Code apply to that warrant. Therefore, s. 83 of the Crim. Pro. Code (1882) is applicable to warrants issued under the provisions of Act XIII of 1859. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KATTAYAN, 20 M. 235=2 Weir. 40=1 Weir. 697. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MUTTIAYYA, 20 M. 457. [F., 20 A. 124=A.W. N. 1897, 220; R., 6 Bom.L.R. 255=33 B. 22=1 Ind. Cas. 378.]

(66)—Applicability of s. 83, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), to warrants under Act XIII of 1859.—S. 83, Crim. Pro. Code, is applicable to warrants issued under the provisions of Act XIII of 1859. GAURI SHANKAR v. MATA PRASAD, 20 A. 124 =A.W.N. 1897, 220.

(67)—By whom this Act is to be put in motion—Magistrate—Power to take proceeding under.—Act XIII of 1859 can only be put in motion by the employer, and a Magistrate has no jurisdiction to pass orders under that Act, when the case before him is one under the Penal Code. CHEDDI v. MAHOMED ALI, 11 A.L J. 117=18 Ind. Cas. 885=14 Cr. L.J. 133=35 A. 143.

(68)—Provision for payment of penalty, no bar to Act's operation.—The provision for payment of penalty in the contract does not bar the operation of Act XIII of 1859. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 15TH MARCH 1877, No. 673, 1 Weir. 674.

(69)—Breaches of contract under the Act, whether offences.—The term "offences" must be construed according to its natural meaning, in the absence of any clause restricting the meaning. Act XIII of 1859 is intended to provide for breaches of contract and to inflict penalties. The matter to which these penalties are attached are offences. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 16TH NOV. 1874, No. 1810, 1 Weir. 697.

(70)—Power of Magistrate to enforce a contract to labour outside British India.—Although a contract for work is made in British India, the

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

Courts in British India have no power to proceed under Act XIII of 1859, if the work contracted for is to be performed in a foreign territory. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 15TH DEC. 1876, No. 2940, 1 Weir. 671. [F., 10 M. 21=1 Weir 671].

(71)—Case where work was to be performed in foreign territory.—Where a Magistrate had directed a man, who had contracted for work in Travancore, to pay up a sum under Act XIII of 1859, and, in default, ordered him to be kept in rigorous imprisonment for one month, held, that the order was illegal, inasmuch as the work was to be performed in a foreign territory. GREGORY v. VADAKASI KANGANI, 10 M 21 =1 Weir. 671. [R., 11 Cr. L.J. 380 (381)= 6 Ind. Cas. 618=12 P.R. 1910, Cr.=185 P.L.R. 1910, Cr.=13 P.W.R. 1910, Cr.].

(72)—Contract to be performed in foreign territory—Applicability of the Act.—An order cannot be passed under Act XIII of 1859 to enforce the performance of a contract, if such performance is to take place in foreign territory. SINNA KARUPPAN, 16 M.L.T. 303. (10 M. 21, R.)

(73)—Enforcement of contract—Extent of enforcement.—A contract coming under Act XIII of 1859 can only be enforced according to its term. Where the defendant agreed with the complainant, receiving an advance, to work with four coolies on the complainant's estate for ten months between a specified period, and on default being made, the Magistrate ordered the defendant to work with the four coolies for ten months from the date of his order, held, that, as the agreement was not to do work for any ten months, but for a specific season, the order of the Magistrate should be confined to directing the accused to work for the residue of the period originally contracted for, remaining after the date of his order. In re CHIKKA PUTTA, 1 Weir. 704. [F., 1 Weir. 705; R., 35 C. 1028=8 C.L.J. 312=8 Cr. L J. 134=12 C. W.N. 869]. In re MATHA GOUNDAN, 1 Weir 705. [R., 35 C. 1028=8 C.L.J. 312=8 Cr. L J. 134=12 C.W.N. 869; D., 1 Weir 705].

(74)—Claim barred in Civil Court—Prosecution also barred.—Where a bond to work as weaver for 13 months or in default to pay back the sum advanced could not be enforced in a Civil Court on account of lapse of time, it cannot be made the basis of a prosecution under Act XIII of 1859. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOVIND valad LAKSHMAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 874=Cr. Rg. 50 of 1896.

(75)—Imprisonment of defendant by order of Magistrate whether bars jurisdiction of Civil Court.—An order of a Magistrate for the repayment of the money advanced under Act XIII of 1859 is not so satisfied by the subsequent imprisonment of the defendant, as to deprive the plaintiff of his remedy by a civil suit. VERNEDE, C. A. A. v. ABDUL GIRI CHINNA SWAMI, 2 M. H. C. 427. [R., 16 B. 368].

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(76)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 545—Compensation for costs of suit.—An order calling on the accused to pay the complainant a sum of money for his costs cannot be made in a case under Act XIII of 1859. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHAGOOJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 625=Cr. Rg. 52 of 1892.

(77)—Order by Magistrate for extra work in anticipation of default—Illegal.—Where a Magistrate ordered a person, who had made default in fulfilling his contract to work, to work from the date of the order to a certain date, and, in case of default, during that period, to work for an extra number of days for such default, held, that it was not competent for the Magistrate to make the order in anticipation of a default. In re CHOURI MUTHU, 1 Weir. 707.

(78)—Preamble—Scope of preamble.—Where the language of the enacting sections of a statute is clear, the terms of a preamble cannot be called in aid to restrict their operation or to cut them down. The purpose for which a preamble to a statute is framed is to indicate what in general terms was the object of the Legislature in passing the Act, but it may well happen that these general terms will not indicate or cover all the mischief which in the enacting portions of the Act itself is found to be provided for. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. INDRAJIT, 11 A. 262 =A.W N. 1889, 85. [R., 26 B. 757, 16 C.P. L.R. 99.]

(79)—Preamble and s. 5—Application of the Act to City of Mirzapur —Where, in a suit under the Act by an employer at Mirzapur City against certain workmen, it was found that the money advanced by him was by way of loan and had no reference to the wages of such workman, and that no deduction on account of such advance was ever made from their wages or the payments made to them; held that the contract between the parties was not one contemplated by the Act, which, therefore, was inapplicable to the case. Held, also that it was not certain whether the Act applied to the City of Mirzapur, as the Local Government had extended the Act only to the "station" of Mirzapur. RAMPRASAD v. DIRGPAL, 3 A. 744=A. W.N. 1881, 50. [F., 15 C.W.N. 15=8 Ind. Cas. 123=11 Cr. L.J. 564, 11 Cr. L.J. 329=5 Ind. Cas. 914=9 P.R. 1910, Cr.=12 P.W.R. 1910, Cr., 3 L.B.R. 187=4 Cr. L.J. 200; R., 16 B. 368, 15 Cr. L.J. 166=23 P.R. 1913, Cr.=22 Ind. Cas. 742, 96 P.L.R. 1914.]

(80)—S. 1—Loan—Agreement to serve—Interpretation of agreement.—The accused took, from the applicant, Rs. 170 in advance under a written agreement, whereby he agreed, in consideration of the loan, to work at the latter's factory as a shoe-maker for three years. The Magistrate discharged the accused on the ground that the contract was not for work to be done, but was in order to bind the accused down to work for a period of three years. Held, setting aside the order of discharge, that the terms of the contract were clear and brought it within the provisions of the Act. In re SHEAMBER RAM TEHAL, 9 Bom. L.R. 362 = 5 Cr. L.J. 337.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(81)—S. 1—Whether proceedings under Act are "trial."—The proceedings of the Magistrate up to and inclusive of the passing by him of an order for either the repayment of the advance or the performance of the contract do not constitute a "trial" for any offence as defined in Crim. Pro. Code. EMPEROR v. DHONDU KRISHNA KAMBLYA, 6 Bom. L R. 255.

(82)—S. 1—Joint advance to three labourers.—S. 1 of Act XIII of 1859 deals with advances to individuals, not with cases of advances to several persons jointly. BHAW ABAJI v. RAMA MARUTI, 2 Bom. L.R. 545.

(83)—S. 1—Fraud, whether an essential ingredient of an offence under the section.—It is the wilful, and without lawful and reasonable excuse, neglecting or refusing to perform the contract entered into by the persons whom the Act concerns, that constitutes the offence under s. 2 of the Act. Notwithstanding the preamble of the Act, which speaks of "fraudulent breach of contract," fraud is not an essential ingredient of that offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. INDRAJIT, 11 A. 262 = A.W N. 1889, 85. (8 W.R. Cr. 69, Diss.) [R., 16 B. 368, 27 C. 131.]

(84)—S. 1—Case which was held not to be within the scope of the Act—Fraudulent breach of contract—Condition precedent to application of the Act.—A entered into an agreement with K to work for K as a grinder and polisher of surgical instruments, on a salary of Rs. 30. He was entitled to get the work done by contract. He was also entitled to get a statement of accounts annually, and to receive a certain percentage of the profits, and in the event of the company being wound up, to a percentage of the reserve fund. A left his employment, as, according to him, his employers failed to perform their part of the agreement. Held, that A was entitled to privileges far above those of an ordinary artificer or labourer, and that the Act (XIII of 1859) had no application. That a fraudulent breach is a condition precedent to the operation of the Act, and that the breach was not fraudulent in this case. The preamble shows that the Act aims at the prevention of fraudulent breaches of contract. Though the preamble is not to be considered as part of the Act, yet the words "shall wilfully and without lawful or reasonable excuse—etc." in s. 1 are, for all practical purposes, equivalent to the expression "fraudulent breach," in the preamble. PURNA CHANDRA NANDAN v. TARACK NATH CHANDRA, 36 C. 917. [R., 7 S.L.R. 100.]

(85)—S. 1—Jurisdiction—S. 177 of Act V of 1898.—The proceedings under Act XIII of 1859 can be instituted either in the Court of the

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

Magistrate within the limits of whose local jurisdiction the defendant resides, or in a Court within whose local limits the refusal to perform the contract has taken place, and not where the contract has been actually made and money received. GANESHA SINGH v. KARM DIN, 13 P.W.R. 1910. Cr. = 12 P R. 1910, Cr. = 6 Ind. Cas. 618 = 11 Cr. L J. 380 = 185 P.L. R. 1910. (17 P.R. Cr. 1896, 10 M. 21, F. and Appr.; 25 C. 637, 24 M. 660, 28 M. 37, 4 C.W. N. 253, D.)

(86)—S. 1—Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Conditions—Labourer's failure to perform—Work finished through others—Effect.—In order to give jurisdiction to a Magistrate under Act XIII of 1859, there are only two conditions required by the Act, namely, an advance of money and a wilful failure to perform the work. If these conditions are fulfilled, the Magistrate is bound either to order the repayment of the advance or so much of it as remains due, or to order the work to be performed. The only effect of the work having been performed by the agency of others is to leave open the one alternative of recovering the advance or so much as is still due, because the work cannot be ordered to be done over again and the law will not compel the performance of the impossible HABIBULLAH v. SUMAR wd. USMAN, 3 S.L.R 223, Cr. = 6 Ind. Cas. 879 = 11 Cr. L.J. 414. (28 M. 37, Diss.)

(87)—S. 1—Jurisdiction—Where proceedings under this Act to be instituted.—Proceedings under the Act can be instituted either in the Court of the Magistrate, within the limits of whose local jurisdiction the defendant resides, or in a Court within whose local limits the refusal to perform the contract has taken place, and not where the contract has been actually made and money received. GANESHA SINGH v. KARM DIN, 13 P.W R. 1910, Cr (17 P.R. 1896 Cr., 10 M. 21, F.; 25 C. 637, 24 M. 660, 28 M. 37, 4 C.W.N. 253, D.)

(88)—S. 1—Contract entered into with Secretary of State to work in Government rubber plantations, Burma—Neglect of labourer to do work contracted for—Right of Secretary of State to proceed under the Act.—Certain persons were proceeded against under the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, 1859, for having neglected to perform work which they had contracted to do in Government rubber plantations, Burma, under contracts entered into by them in Madras Town with the Secretary of State for India in Council, represented by an Extra Assistant Conservator of Forests in Burma. The following question was referred to the Full Bench for decision. "Is the Secretary of State for India or the Government of India or the Local Government of any Province of India a master or employer resident or carrying on business in any place to which the Act applies within the meaning of s. 1 of that Act?" Held (per Thirkell White, C.J.).—The words "any master or employer" in the enacting part of the statute should not be construed so as to limit them to masters or employers of the classes specified in the preamble. The fact that the Government cannot be considered as a person or entity of the same class as a manufacturer or tradesman does not preclude it from being a master or employer within the meaning of the section. Further, in conducting the rubber plantations on commercial principles, the Secretary of State is carrying on business for gain, not of course for his personal gain, but for the pecuniary gain of the State which he represents. Consequently, the reference should be answered in the affirmative. Per Fox and Birks, JJ.—No doubt the Secretary of State is a "master or employer" within the meaning of the Act, but he does not carry on the business in a place to which the Act extends. For, in dealing with matters relating to the general public, statutes are presumed to use words in their popular sense. The words "carrying on business" mean, in ordinary language, that the person, who is engaged in the business, does it with the object of acquiring gain or profit for himself or for himself and those jointly concerned with him. This view is strengthend by the preamble to the Act. Therefore, the question referred to should be answered in the negative. KING-EMPEROR v. RAMIAH, 3 L.B R. 33 F.B (Bourke A.O.C. 166, 5 B.H.C. App. 11, 1 M.H C. 286, 1 Hyde 37, 8 M. 379, 14 C. 256, R.) [Diss., 11 Cr. L.J. 58=4 Ind. Cas. 827=U.B.R. 1909, 2nd Qr., Workman's Breach of Contract, p. 1.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(89) S. 1—Advance of money to be reimbursed by monthly deductions from wages—Applicability of the Act.—An advance of money paid to a workman on condition of its being reimbursed by monthly deductions from his wages is 'an advance of money on account of any work which he shall have contracted to perform, etc.,' within the meaning of Act XIII of 1859. GOVINDA CHETTY v. MUNNOANY NAIK, 14 Cr. L.J. 400=20 Ind. Cas. 224. (23 M. 203, 7 M. 131, F.)

(90) S. 1—Effect of dismissal for default of application—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 247, 403.—An application under s. 1 of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act was dismissed for default before any order was passed by the Magistrate under s. 2 of the Act. Three years later, when the offender was found by the applicant, the application was renewed but dismissed by the Magistrate, who held that there was no sufficient ground for going on with a case determined so long ago. Held, (1) that no "offences" against the Act having yet been committed, there was no "acquittal," and s. 403 of the Code of Criminal Procedure did not bar the re-opening of the proceedings; (2) that, as the delay was due to the applicant's inability to find the offender, there was no ground for refusing to continue the inquiry. KRISHNA

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

PARDAN v. PASAND, 7 L B.R. 35=20 Ind. Cas. 228=14 Cr. L.J. 404=6 Bur. L.T. 108. (24 M. 660, F.; 15 Ind.Cas. 996=6 L.B.R 89=5 Bur.L.T. 133=13 Cr.L.J. 580, R.)

(91)—S. 1—Complaint under s. 1, Workman's Breach of Contract Act, 1859—Complaint dismissed—Prosecution for false charge.—The preference of a complaint to a Magistrate under s. 1 of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act amounts in law to bringing a false charge of an offence or to the institution of criminal proceedings. Proceedings under the first paragraph of s. 2 of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, 1859, are criminal proceedings; and a prosecution under s. 211 of the Penal Code, for instituting proceedings without just cause under s. 1 of that Act, will lie. V. KARUPPANNA v. MADANADAN, 2 L B R. 300. (4 C.W. N. 253, 201, 2 L.B R. 163, R.)

(92)—S. 1—See CRIM PRO. CODE (1898), ss. 5, 83, 11 P.R. 1898, Cr.

(93)—Ss. 1 and 2—Gist of the offence created by the Act.—The offence created by the Workman's Breach of Contract Act is not a neglect or refusal of the workman to perform his contract, but the failure by the workman to comply with an order made by the Magistrate that the workman do re-pay the money advanced or perform the contract. KING-EMPEROR v. TAKASI NUKAYYA, 24 M. 660=1 Weir 673. [F., 28 M. 37=2 Cr. L.J. 149=1 Weir 671-B.; R., 8 Cr. L.J. 134=12 C.W.N. 869=8 C.L J. 312=35 C. 1028, 11 Cr. L.J. 380=6 Ind. Cas. 618=185 P.L.R. 1910=13 P. W.R. 1910=12 P R. 1910, 14 Cr. L J. 404=20 Ind. Cas. 228=7 L.B.R. 35.]

(94)—Ss. 1 and 2—Summary trial of an offence under sections—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 260.—A Magistrate has jurisdiction to try a case under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859 summarily. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. INDRAJIT, 11 A. 262=A. W.N. 1889, 85. [R., 16 B. 368, 33 B. 22, 6 Bom. L.R. 255, 1 Ind. Cas. 378, 27 C. 131, 11 Cr.L.J. 58=4 Ind. Cas. 827=U.B.R. 1909, Workman's Breach of Contract, p. 1, U. B. R. 1902, 3rd Qr., Workman's Breach of Contract, p. 1.]

(95)—Ss. 1 and 2—Summary trial.—Proceedings under ss. 1 and 2 of the Act should not be tried summarily. KING-EMPEROR v. PERIASAMY ACHARI, 2 L.B.R. 163. (4 M. 234, F.; 11 A. 262, Diss.)

(96)—Ss 1, 2—Jurisdiction after the expiration of term of contract or completion of work—Preamble—Object of the Act to punish workmen who receive advances and then break their contracts to work.—In a case under the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, where either the work has been completed or the term of the contract has expired, a Magistrate has jurisdiction to entertain a complaint under s. 1 and to order re-payment of the advance under s. 2 of that

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

Act. (28 M. 37, 2 Cr. L.J. 149, Diss). One object of the Act may have been to provide against workmen a speedy remedy for employers who have made advances on account of work; but the main object was, as the preamble shows, to provide for the punishment of workmen who have taken advances and have fraudulently broken their contracts to work. The impossibility of a master being able to exercise the option of demanding an order from a Magistrate ordering a workman to perform the work, does not affect his right to ask for an order for the re-payment of the advance and subsequently for an order for the workman's punishment by imprisonment if he fails to comply with the order. GURUDEEN TAILY v. MUTTU SERVAI, 13 Cr. L.J. 580, F.B.=15 Ind. Cas. 996=5 Bur. L.T. 133=6 L.B.R. 89. [R., 14 Cr. L.J. 404=20 Ind. Cas. 228=7 L.B.R. 35.]

(97)—Ss. 1, 2 (1)—Whether Government officer is 'person carrying on business'—Competency to prefer complaint—Construction of preamble—Object of the Act.—Held, that the provisions of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act are applicable to a contract made with the Government, and that the Deputy Conservator of Forests was carrying on forest business on behalf of Government in the locality in question, and was competent under s. 1 of the Act to prefer a complaint as an employer under the Act. The preamble of the Act cannot be construed as limiting the operation of the Act to (private) manufacturers, etc., carrying on business (for their private gain). The mischief aimed at is the breach of contract by workmen, artificers and labourers, who have received money in advance for work they have contracted to perform, and the insufficiency of the remedy open to the master or employer by way of civil suit. Proceedings under s. 2 (1) of the Act are not in the nature of a regular case at all, but of miscellaneous proceedings, in which the appropriate order would be one dismissing the complaint. KING-EMPEROR v. NGAN TUN ZAN, U.B.R. 1909, 2nd Qr., W. B. of Contract Act, 1. (3 L.B.R. 33, Diss.; 11 A. 262, U.B.R. 1902-1903, I, W.B. of Contract 1, U.B.R. 1904-1906, I, Crim. Pro. Code 19, U.B.R. 1904-1906, I, W.B. of Contract 1, R.)

(98)—Ss. 1, 2, 4—Accused bound himself to work until re-payment of amount advanced—No advance on account of any work—Advance as loan.—Where the accused, in consideration of an advance received from the complainant, bound himself to work for the complainant until the re-payment of the amount advanced: Held that the advance was made, not on account of any work contracted to be performed, but as a loan, and that the accused could not be proceeded against under the Workman's Breach of Contract Act for breach of the contract. GOBINDA RAJWAR v. H. J. APKAR, 8 Ind. Cas. 123.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(99)—Ss. 1, 2 and 5—Applicability of the Act.—Employer resident or carrying on business at any place outside Presidency Towns. Held that the Act applies to cases in which money has been advanced by masters or employers, resident or carrying on business in the Punjab and not in one of the places, specified in the first section of the Act. The object of s. 5 of that Act is not merely to enable employers, resident or carrying on business in places specified in s. 1, to prosecute, at other places, persons who have received advances, but to extend all the provisions of the Act to other places and to confer a remedy on employers, resident or carrying on business in such other places; and the effect of the section is to interpolate into s. 1 of the Act the name of any place to which the Act is extended. CROWN BY MUHAMMAD ISHAQ v. MUHAMMAD SHAFI, 66 P.L.R. 1902, F.B.

(100)—Ss. 1, 4—Jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate—Breach of contract beyond jurisdiction—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 3.—Under s. 3, Crim. Pro. Code, the expression "Magistrate of Police" in s. 1, Act XIII of 1859, shall be deemed to mean Presidency Magistrate. A Presidency Magistrate of Calcutta has jurisdiction, under s. 1 of Act XIII of 1859, in respect of a contract made in Calcutta, but the breach of which has taken place beyond his local jurisdiction. LAL MOHAN CHOWBEY v. HARI CHARAN DAS BAIRAGI, 25 C. 637.

(101)—S. 2—Contract in foreign territory for labour in British territory—Arrest of the person in foreign territory—Jurisdiction of British Courts.—Where a person, having contracted in a foreign territory to work for the complainant in British territory, and, having been arrested in the foreign territory and brought into British territory, was convicted under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859 and was ordered to do the work contracted for, held, that the Court had no jurisdiction over him. SIDDHA v. BILIGIRI, 7 M. 354=1 Weir 672.

(102)—S. 2—Contract to get work performed.—Where the accused agreed to get performed three weeks' plantation work with 25 coolies, held, that the contract was not merely one for the supply of coolies, but was one for the performance of a specific work and, therefore, would be covered by the provisions of s. 2 of the Act. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 13TH JULY 1867, 1 Weir 675=3 M.H.C. App. 25. [F., 1 M. 280=1 Weir 675.]

(103)—S. 2—Contract to serve as domestic servants.—This Act does not apply to contracts to serve as domestic servants, but to contracts to serve as an artificer, workman, or labourer. In the matter of DOMESTIC SERVANTS, 2 B. L. R. A. Cr. 32. QUEEN v. SOOBHOI, 12 W. R. Cr. 26.

(104)—S. 2—Domestic servant.—Act XIII of 1859 does not apply to domestic servants, e.g., a cook. In re MURUGAN, 1 Weir 689.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(105)—S. 2—Domestic servant.—The words "an artificer, workman or labourer" in s. 492, I.P.C., do not apply to domestic servants. CROWN v. KALLU, 20 P. R. 1876, Cr.

(106)—S. 2—Clerk.—A clerk, who has executed a bond to work as such, under the complainant, does not come within the provisions of Act XIII of 1859. In re GOLLA HANUMANTHA, 1 Weir 689.

(107)—S. 2—Temple servants.—The Act is not applicable to temple servants holding the positions of stanik and othuvar in the temple. In re MUTHU PANDIYA GURUKKAL, 1 Weir 689.

(108)—S. 2—Butchers.—A butcher contracting to supply skins is not within the Act. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 26TH NOV. 1872, No. 2028, 1 Weir 690=7 M.H.C App. xii.

(109) S. 2—Contract to serve as actor in theatrical company.— The words "artificer, workman or labourer," in s. 492, I.P.C., and in s. 2, Act XIII of 1859, have reference to the occupations in which manual labour, i.e., the use of muscles and sinews, is an essential element, and this is most, if not exclusively so, in the connotation of "labourer," less so in "workman," which has the most extended signification of all, and least so in "artificer," which connotes a special class of work requiring skill and power of contrivance. Further, the word "artificer" has reference to the industrial arts and not to the fine arts. Hence, a contract to serve as an actor in a theatrical company does not fall within the purview of the Act. IMAMUDDIN v. HURMAZJEE, 28 P.R. 1904, Cr. (12 W.R. 76, Cr., 4 B.L.R. App. 1, 7 B. 379, 14 W.R. Cr. 29, R.)

(110) S. 2.—Cooly sirdar or recruiter, whether an artificer, workman or labourer--A cooly sirdar or recruiter is not an artificer, workman or labourer within the meaning of s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859. KHETO DAFADAR v. FREDERICK DIXON, 6 C.L.J. 180=6 Cr. L.J. 191.

(111)—S. 2.— Contract to supply coolies.—A contract to bring labour to a certain estate is not a contract within the provisions of Act XIII of 1859. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 23RD FEB. 1876, NO. 628, 1 Weir 676. [D., 1 Weir 676= 1 M. 280.]

(112)—S. 2—Contract to supply coolies.—Only a contract to supply coolies which amounts also to a contract to work or to get certain work performed, comes within the provision of s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 11TH OCT. 1879, NO. 1747. 1 Weir 677.

(113)—S. 2—Receipt of advance of money on promise to supply coolies—Penal Code, ss. 406 and 450.—Where the accused received an advance from the complainant for the purpose of bringing a number of coolies to the complainant's estate, but failed to bring the coolies and also denied that he had ever received the money. Held, that the accused was neither guilty under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859, nor, under s. 406 of the Penal Code, of criminal breach of trust, but would be guilty of cheating under s. 415 of the Penal Code. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 11TH OCT. 1879, NO. 1747, 1 Weir 677.

(114)—S. 2—Sub-contractor.—A sub-contractor, who does not actually work, is not a workman, labourer or artificer within the meaning of s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859. In re BALKRISHNA SHALIGRAM, 10 B. 96.

(115)—*S.*2—Breach of contract to supply wood.—A breach of contract to supply wood does not fall within the purview of the Act, the contractor being not an artificer, a workman or labourer. UPPER ASSAM TEA COMPANY v. THOPOOR, 4 B.L.R, App. 1=13 W R. Cr. 1. [F., 20 W.R. Cr. 23, 10 C.W.N. 775, R., 6 M. 63, 18 A. 380.]

(116)—S. 2—Contract to carry wood—Workman.—A person who contracts only to convey wood is not an artificer, workman, or labourer within the meaning of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HANMA, Rat. Un.Cr. C. 537=Cr. Rg. 9 of 1891. (13 M. 351, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 349, F.)

(117)—S. 2—Contractor or commission agent.—A person undertaking to do work as a contractor or a commission agent does not make himself amenable to the penal provisions of Act XIII of 1859, and it makes no difference that he was seen, on occasions, taking part in the work contracted to be done. In re CHINTO, 2 Bom. L.R. 801.

(118)—S. 2—Cart-men.—A cart-man does not come under any of the three clauses, viz., artificers, workmen, and labourers, and the Act is not, therefore, applicable to him. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS 13TH JULY 1877, NO. 1427, 1 Weir 690. [F., 13 M. 351=1 Weir 691.]

(119)—S. 2—Lambardar owning cart.—An agreement by a village lambardar owning a cart, which he worked through his son or a servant and not personally, to cart certain bricks but not by personal labour, was held not to fall within the purview of s. 2, Workman's Breach of Contract Act, 1859, as such lambardar would not be a workman or labourer within the section. PIR BAKSH v. IMAM DIN, 28 P.R. 1908, Cr.=9 Cr. L.J. 107. (13 M. 351, F.)

(120)—S. 2—Mahout, whether an artificer.—A mahout or elephant driver does not come within the provisions of Act XIII of 1859. MUNI CHUNDRA v. HARIRAM AHOM, 8 C.L.R. 254.

(121)—S. 2—Contract of service for agricultural and other purposes.—A contract by which a person, in consideration of receiving Rs. 45, bound himself to render service for agricultural and other purposes for a period of one year, was held not to be covered by the provisions of Act XIII of 1859. EMPRESS v. BHAGVAN BHIVSAN, 7 B. 379. [R., 9 B. 100, 16 B. 368, 28 P.R. 1904, Cr.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(122)—Contract to work as weaver—The defendant executed a deed of contract, whereby he agreed, in consideration of Rs. 62 paid in advance, to work as a weaver for 31 months repaying each month Rs. 2 out of the wages he might earn, and the bond extended the time of service in case of default of payment. For a breach of this contract without repaying the amount, the Magistrate directed the defendant to perform the work according to the terms of the contract, under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859. Held that the contract was not within the Act, as the sum of Rs. 62 was not money advanced on account of work contracted to be performed; it was a loan to be repaid by monthly instalments of Rs. 2 each, out of the wages earned during the contracted period of service. In case of any default, the time of service was extended. The case came within the purview of such a case as that reported in 7 M.H.C. App 30. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NINGAPPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 754 = Cr. Rg. 18 of 1895.

(123)—S. 2—Enquiry under the Act, nature of—The enquiry to be made, under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859, is not an enquiry into an offence triable summarily. In re GOVINTHAN, 1 Weir 696.

(124)—S. 2—Summary trial.—The offence of criminal breach of contract under Act XIII of 1859 is triable summarily. In re HIGGINS, 1 Weir 694.

(125)—S. 2—Proceedings under—Not trial—Summary procedure—Applicability—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 260.—The proceedings of a Magistrate up to the order under s. 2, Workman's Breach of Contract Act, do not constitute a trial, and, therefore, the procedure under s. 260, Crim. Pro. Code, is not applicable. THE CROWN v. SOHRAB, 6 S.L.R. 165 = 14 Cr. L.J. 256 = 19 Ind. Cas. 512. (33 B. 22 and 33 B. 25, R.) [R., 15 Cr. L.J. 372 = 23 Ind. Cas. 740 = 7 S.L. R. 80.]

(126)—S. 2—Nature of the offence created by the section.—The offence created by the Act is not the neglect or refusal of the workman to perform his contract, but the failure of the workman to comply with an order made by the Magistrate that the workman do re-pay the money advanced or perform the contract. In the matter of ANUSOORI SANYASI, 28 M. 37 = 1 Weir 671-A = 2 Cr. L J. 149. [Diss., 11 Cr. L.J. 414 = 6 Ind. Cas. 879 = 3 S.L.R. 223, 13 Cr. L. J. 580 = 15 Ind. Cas. 996; R., 11 Cr. L.J. 380 = 6 Ind. Cas. 618 = 185 P.L.R. 1910 = 12 P.R. 1910 = 13 P.W.R. 1910; 13 Cr. L.J. 863 = 17 Ind. Cas. 799 = 10 A.L.J. 468, 13 Cr. L.J. 853 = 17 Ind. Cas. 789 = 14 Bom. L.R. 956.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(127)—S. 2—Written agreement—Contract of service for two years—No reference to manual labour—Re-payment of advance out of last 2 months' wages—No 'workman' within the meaning of the Act—No 'advance'—Applicability of the Act—Proceeding under s. 2, Part 1 of the Act—Not a criminal proceeding—No jurisdiction to interfere.—R entered into a written agreement which made no reference to manual labour to serve S at his butcher's shop for two years on a monthly wages of Rs.30, receiving Rs. 60 in advance for which he agreed to give credit from the pay of the last 2 months. The only service expressed in the contract was that of sales and rendering account of sales. R left service without lawful excuse in the third month and the Magistrate ordered him to re-pay the advance of Rs. 60 under s. 2 of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act. Held, that R was not a workman within the meaning of the Act, and that the act did not apply. (14 Bom. L.R 956, 36 C. 917, R.) Held also, that the sum of Rs. 60 was only a loan re-payable out of wages and not an advance made on account of any work which the workman shall have contracted to perform. (13 Bom. L.R. 548, R.) A proceeding under the first part of s. 2 of the Act is not a criminal proceeding and the Judicial Commissioner has no jurisdiction to interfere with such a proceeding. (33 B. 25, R.) Held, per Kemp, A.J.C., that, in this case, though R might have left service without lawful excuse, there was no 'wilful' refusal by him to perform. RAMZAN v. NOOR MAHOMED YACUB, 7 S.L.R. 100 = 15 Cr. L J 383 = 23 Ind. Cas. 751.

(128)—S. 2—Scope of the section.—S. 2 of the Act empowers a Magistrate at the option of the complainant, either to order that the money advanced to a labourer be re-paid, or that the work be performed. The section only applies when the work is uncompleted when the complaint is made. If the work has been completed when the complaint is made the Magistrate has no jurisdiction under this section. In other words, an employer, by doing the work himself, or employing a third party to do it for him, loses his right to proceed under the section. In such a case the employer's civil remedy is, of course, open to him, but he cannot avail himself of the penal enactment. In the matter of ANSOORI SANYASI, 28 M. 37 = 1 Weir 671 = 2 Cr.L.J. 149. [Diss, 11 Cr. L.J. 414 = 6 Ind. Cas. 879 = 3 S.L.R. 223, 13 Cr. L J. 580 = 15 Ind. Cas. 996, R. 11 Cr. L J. 380 = 6 Ind. Cas. 618 = 185 P.L.R. 1910 = 12 P.R. 1910 = 13 P. W.R. 1910, 13 Cr. L.J. 863 = 17 Ind. Cas. 799 = 10 A L J. 468, 13 Cr. L.J. 853 = 17 Ind. Cas. 789 = 14 Bom. L.R. 956.]

(129)—S. 2—Ascertainment of complainant's wishes—Under s. 2, the Magistrate should ascertain from the complainant which of two orders, viz., either to finish the work or to repay the advance, he desires, and should pass that order. The complainant has the option. In an enquiry under s. 2 of the Act, the procedure for trying offences in a summary trial should not be adopted, especially in Upper Burma, where the Act has been recently brought into force. PHOOL SINGH v. NGA SAN HLA, 1 U.B.R. 1902–03, Workman's Breach of Contract, 1. (11 A. 262, 27 C. 131, 4 M. 234, R.) [Relied upon, 11 Cr.L J. 58=4 Ind. Cas. 827=U.B.R. 1907-09, Workman's Breach of Contract, 1.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(130)—S. 2—Breach of contract of service—Previous conviction—Further conviction for not returning to service on the same contract.—A servant, who has once been convicted for a breach of contract of service under Act XIII of 1859, cannot be again convicted on the same contract for a further breach for not returning to service. In cases under the Act, a Magistrate's order should, at the option of the complainant, be either for repayment of the advances made in whole or in part at the Magistrate's discretion, or performance of the contract, and it is only on failure to comply with such order that a sentence of imprisonment can be passed. GRIFFITHS v. TEZIA DOSADH, 21 C. 262.

(131)—S.2—Award of imprisonment without interval for obeying Magistrate's order.—S. 2 clearly implies that, after the order is passed for re-payment under the first part thereof, an interval should occur in order to see whether he should comply with it or not. The imposition of punishment without any such opportunity being afforded is illegal, inasmuch as no offence was committed at the time of the passing of the order. Per Pargiter, J. The order which was passed under the second clause of s. 2 concurrently with an ordor under the first portion of the section is within the jurisdiction of the High Court to deal with. Per Woodroffe, J. SEW BALAK RAUT v. BANWARI SINGH, 35 C. 1036, note=9 Cr. L.J. 188. (5 M. 376, F. ; 27 C. 131, D. ; 23 C. 121, R)

(132)—S. 2—Order for re-payment of advance and simultaneous sentence in default.—A Magistrate ordering an artificer, workman or labourer to repay the money advanced, or any part thereof or to perform or get performed the work according to the terms of the contract, under s, 2 of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, cannot at the same time sentence him to imprisonment in case he should fail to comply with the order. Such a sentence cannot be passed until the failure is proved to have occurred. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SAKHARAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 380=Cr. Rg. 31 of 1888.

(133)—S. 2—Power of Magistrate—Imprisonment and order for performing the work and repay advance.—A Magistrate has no power to order a workman both to repay the advance made by the employer and to perform the work and to suffer imprisonment. He can only pass an order for imprisonment when the workman neither repays the advance nor performs the work according to his contract. TIRKHA v. ITWARI, 12 A.L. J. 678=15 Cr. L J 592=25 Ind. Cas. 344.

(134)—S. 2.—Sentence for default in anticipation.—A Magistrate, in convicting a person under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859 for neglecting to perform work, and ordering him to work for a certain period, has no jurisdiction to add that, in case he fails to do so, he should suffer rigorous imprisonment for some time, for the failure has not occurred and has not been proved. REG. v. JOMA bin BALU, 4 B.H.C. Cr. 37 [F., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 375 ; R., 18 B. 636.]

(135)—S. 2—Sentence for default in anticipation.—A Magistrate can, under s. 2 of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, only order a person to perform the work undertaken ; he cannot, then, also order that, in default, the workman should suffer a sentence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BABAJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C 375=Cr. Rg. 24 of 1888.

(136)—S. 2—Sentence for default in anticipation.—Where an order has been passed for repayment of the advance, an order for imprisonment in default can only be passed on a complaint of non-compliance and after allowing the defendant to make any defence which he may have. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 26TH APRIL 1871, 1 Weir 701=6 M.H.C. App. 24.

(137)—S. 2—Sentence for default in anticipation.—S. 2, Act XIII of 1859, does not authorise a Magistrate to order imprisonment in anticipation of non-compliance with an order to perform work. The sentence of imprisionment can only be passed on a complaint of non-compliance with the Magistrate's order, after hearing any defence which the accused may have to make. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 27TH JULY 1877, NO. 1583, 1 Weir 702.

(138)—S. 2—Conviction without complaint and without taking statements from accused, validity of.—Upon complaint that the accused refused to perform work for which they had received advances from the complainant, an order was made by a Magistrate, under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859 that the work should be performed, the order being made upon the last day on which the work under the contract should be performed. The accused in their defence having stated their inability to perform the work, the Magistrate, without complaint having been made that his order had been disobeyed, and without taking any statement from the accused, sentenced them to 10 days' rigorous imprisonment. Held, that the procedure of the Magistrate was irregular and illegal. SRINIVASA MUDALI v. PONNAMBALAM, 5 M. 376=1 Weir 702. [F., 35 C. 1036, N.=9 Cr. L.J. 188.]

(139)—S. 2—Order for imprisonment without directing the repayment of the advance or completion of work.—Where a Magistrate sentenced the accused to imprisonment, without first ordering the accused, at the option of the complainant, to pay the sum advanced to him or to work, held, that the order was bad and that the Magistrate should be directed, after giving due notice to both parties, to pass a fresh order according to law. In re KRISHNASWAMI, 1 Weir 703.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(140)—S. 2—Order under the section without notice to the accused—Harsh terms in a contract, effect of.—The accused agreed to work for five years, receiving an advance of Rs. 15 and getting nothing more in the way of wages than his food. He worked for 18 months and then left working, because his son was beaten by the complainant. The Magistrate passed an order under s. 2 directing him to work for the remaining period without giving the accused an opportunity of proving his defence. Held, that the accused was entitled to have an opportunity of proving his defence. Held, also, that the contract, though harsh in its terms, should be enforced for the Act, did not confer any discretion on the Magistrate with reference to the terms of the contract, but he could, in dealing with such a contract, take the terms into consideration in framing the order against the defendant. In re KUPPAN, 1 Weir 703.

(141)—S. 2—Nature of order as to imprisonment under s. 2.—Where an order for repayment of money advanced has not been complied with, the Magistrate in sentencing the accused to imprisonment for a certain term under s. 2, Act XIII of 1859, should also specify that the imprisonment is to continue "until the amount ordered to be repaid be sooner repaid." In re PELLENCHERI HYDER, 1 Weir 699.

(142)—S. 2—Order subsequent to the expiry of period of contract—Right of employer to repayment of advance.—On the 7th January, 1907, the respondent received an advance from the petitioner, and signed an agreement to work for him up to the 8th January, 1908. On the 20th December, 1907, petitioner applied to the Magistrate for a warrant under s. 2 of the Act, alleging that the respondent had worked for about 15 days only and had subsequently absconded, and the petitioner had "now" learned where he was hiding. The warrant was issued the same day, and the case fixed for the 30th December, but, on that day, it was adjourned to 7th January at the request of the respondent's pleader, i.e., the last day of the period of contract. On the 8th January, the case was dismissed on the ground that no order could be made after the expiry of the term for which the respondent had engaged to work. Held that the delay in the disposal of the case did not defeat the petitioner's right to compel the refund of the money advanced. RAMASWAMI PILLAI v. AMANADAR, 4 L.B.R. 270. (11 C. W. N. 247, Diss.) [R., 13 Cr. L.J. 580 =15 Ind. Cas. 996=5 Bur. L. T. 133.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(143)—S. 2.—Order for compensation, validity of—Part performance of contract—Order for refund of money.—An order for payment of compensation made under Act XIII of 1859 is illegal. In the terms of s. 2, there is no provision as to what is to be done in case the contract has been partly performed and partly not performed. It appears to be left to the discretion of the Magistrate to say whether it is just and proper that the whole sum advanced or any and what part thereof ought to be paid. But such portion of the money advanced as has been appropriated to the fulfilment of the contract or as could justly be set off against a part fulfilment of the contract, ought not to be ordered to be refunded. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 17TH AUGUST 1869, 1 Weir 698=4 M.H.C. App. 67.

(144)—S. 2—Advance by employer of grain and money—Order for repayment of advance received in kind.—Where an employer of labour offers the advance to a labourer in money and the labourer asks to have part of the advance in grain as the equivalent of money, there will be a sufficient compliance with the requirements of the Act, inasmuch as the advance may in such case be treated as an advance in money, part of which was exchanged for grain supplied by the employer at the request of the labourer where the facts of the case do not warrant such an inference, the Court is bound to adhere to a strict interpretation of the Act, which is of a penal character. Where there was not sufficient evidence to justify the Court in holding that there was an actual offer, by the employer, of the money equivalent to the grain accepted in advance, held, that it was not competent for a Magistrate on failure by the labourer to complete the work, to direct repayment of the balance of the advance (not worked off by the labourer inclusive of the advance) in grain. He could only order a repayment of the advance in money. KONDADU v. RAMUDU, 8 M. 294=1 Weir 700.

(145)—S. 2—Stores received as advance—Inapplicability of the section—Stores not 'money.'—Where a workman received advance in the shape of stores and not in cash, it cannot be said that he received 'money' as required by s. 2, Act XIII of 1859, and that section is therefore inapplicable to such a case. CROWN v. CHIRAGH, 23 P.R. 1914, Cr.=15 Cr. L.J. 603 =25 Ind. Cas. 515.

(146)—S. 2—Order for return of money advanced and of goods.—The payment of the money advanced to a workman and the return of the goods given to be worked on are not provided for in the Act directly. It is only by an order to perform the contract and enforcing the performance that the return of the goods and money can be got. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 29TH OCT. 1880, NO. 2169, 1 Weir 700.

(147)—S. 2—Order for refund of stamp-duty and process-fees.—A Magistrate, convicting a person under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859, should pass an order for the refund of stamp-duty and process-fees. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 17TH MARCH 1879, NO. 466, 1 Weir 697.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(148)—S. 2—Liability of workman to pay Court-fee in addition to the penalty imposed—Court Fees Act, s. 31.—The punishment under the Act is for the disobedience of the Magistrate's order and not for the fraudulent breach. So, where the workman admits the advance and repays the same, it is not open to the Magistrate to make him pay to the complainant the Court fee paid on the petition of complaint; for, no penalty can be imposed till the person complained against had disobeyed the order for the payment of the sum advanced to him by the complainant. EMPEROR v. DHONDU KRISHNA KAMBLYA, 6 Bom. L. R. 255. (20 M. 235, R.) [R., 33 B. 25=10 Bom. L.R. 1126=8 Cr. L.J. 409.]

(149)—S. 2—Re-payment of sum advanced and of Court-fee.—An accused person ordered, under s. 2 of the Act, to repay the sum advanced to him, cannot also be ordered to pay the Court-fee on the complaint under s. 31 (1) of the Court Fees Act, since such an order could be made only in addition to a penalty imposed while none had been imposed in the case. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BUDHU Rat. Un. Cr. C. 534=Cr. Rg. 2 of 1891.

(150)—S. 2—Breach of contract whether amounts to an offence—Order for compensation—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 4 and 250.—A breach of contract under the first part of s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859, is not an offence within the meaning of s. 4, Crim. Pro. Code. No compensation can, therefore, be legally awarded. In the matter of RAM SARUP BHAKAT, 4 C.W.N 253. [R., 11 Cr.L.J. 380=6 Ind. Cas. 618=12 P.R. 1910, Cr.=185 P.L.R. 1910=13 P.W.R. 1910, Cr.]

(151)—S. 2—Order for compensation.—An order directing compensation under the Act is illegal. Such portion of the money advanced to the defendant as has been appropriated to the fulfilment of the contract, or as could be justly set off against a part fulfilment of the contract, ought not to be ordered to be refunded. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 17TH AUG. 1869, 4 M.H.C. App. 67=1 Weir 698.

(152)—S. 2—Jurisdiction of Magistrate, to what confined—Power to order delivery of jewel.—Under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859, a Magistrate has only power to order the repayment of the money advanced or to order the performance of the work. He has no power to order the delivery of a jewel contracted to be made. MUNUSWAMI BUTHAR v. STREENIVASALU CHETTY, 3 M.L.T. 292=7 Cr. L J. 359.

(153)—S. 2—Applicability of Limitation Act.—Act XIII of 1859 is a penal enactment, and the Limitation Act is no bar to the enforcement of a penal provision. A plea of limitation, which is available only in civil suits, cannot be taken to bar punishment for what is an offence. The Limitation Act is not, therefore, a bar to recover an advance made to a labourer. In the matter of KITTU, 11 M. 332=1 Weir 672=1 Weir 789 [Diss., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 874; R., 16 B. 368, 1 Weir 671 (a)=28 M. 37]

(154)—S. 2—Advances paid to labourers—Application for recovery of same—Limitation.—The mere fact that an advance was made to a labourer so long ago that the money could not be recovered by a civil action is no sufficient ground for refusing altogether to give effect to the penal provisions of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KONDA, 16 M. 347=1 Weir 672=3 M. L J. 180. [R., 8 C.L J. 312=8 Cr. L.J. 134=12 C.W.N. 869.]

(155)—S. 2—Contract under the Act—Liability of third parties—Where a contract for labour is made with one, who dies before the fulfilment of the contract, persons, who are not parties to the contract, cannot be made liable under Act XIII of 1859, even though they acknowledge a joint responsibility with the deceased for the money advanced. In re HIGGINS, 1 Weir 694.

(156) S. 2—Liability of undivided co-parcener of the workman—Where a person, who had received an advance of a sum and agreed to perform certain work, died before he could complete the agreement, held, that the deceased's undivided brother could not be proceeded against under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859, although he had undertaken to complete the work. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 24TH OCT. 1879, NO. 1858, 1 Weir 693.

(157)—S. 2—Magistrate's power to reconsider order—Where a Magistrate has made an order in the first stage of a proceeding under s. 2 of the above Act for the repayment of the money advanced to the workman by the complainant, it must always be open to him to reconsider the legality of his order when it becomes necessary for him to inflict a penalty for failure to obey the first order. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HANMA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 537=Cr. Rg. 9 of 1891.

(158)—S. 2—Order directing payment of money advanced without fixing time.—An order directing the payment of the sums of money received by the workman in advance, without specifying any time within which those sums were to be paid back, is bad for uncertainty. In re GOVINTHAN, 1 Weir 695.

(159)—S. 2—Time for repayment.—It is not competent to a Magistrate, under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859, to fix a time within which the money advanced is to be paid. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHAU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 418=Cr. Rg. 85 of 1888.

(160)—S. 2—Submission of calendar.—A calendar should be submitted to the appellate authority immediately after an order under the first part of s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859 is passed.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

When further proceedings under the latter part of the section are taken, it will suffice to send a simple copy of the order containing a reference to the calendar. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 5TH JANUARY 1872, 7 M.H C. App. 1.

(161)—S. 2—Order directing performance of work after period fixed in the contract—Illegality.—A Magistrate cannot, under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859, order work to be performed after the expiry of the term fixed in the contract of the parties. BALLA v. THE DISTRICT MAGISTRATE OF SOUTH CANARA, 8 Ind. Cas. 163 =9 M.L T. 81=1910 M.W.N. 854.

(162)—S. 2—Contract to work for a year after reasonable time from the date of the contract.—Where the defendant contracted to do plantation work for a year, such year to commence at or within a reasonable time after the date of the contract, held, that an order under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859, made three years after the date of the contract was illegal, since the time contracted for had expired. In re BETTAY, 1 Weir. 706. [F., 35 C. 1028 =8 C.L.J. 312=8 Cr.L.J. 134=12 C.W.N. 869.]

(163)—S. 2—Order under the Act, whether appealable.—An order, under Act XIII of 1859, directing the repayment of money advanced is appealable, for, although no sentence in the proper sense has been passed, yet, it is open to the Magistrate, if default is made in the payment of the money, to pass a final sentence. In re HIGGINS, 1 Weir 694.

(164)—S. 2, order under—Right of appeal from the order—Proper orders to be made under s. 2.—No appeal lies to the Sessions Court from the order of the Magistrate under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859. The Magistrate, while making an order under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859, cannot make an order of imprisonment in default, but such an order could be made after there has been non-compliance with the order of re-payment or carrying out the contract. ANUKUL CHANDRA ROY v. KAMARALI SARDAR, 18 C.W.N. 1271=15 Cr. L.J. 697=26 Ind. Cas. 145.

(165)—S. 2—Orders passed under s. 2 (1) part 1 or part 2—No appeal lies against either order.—Where a Magistrate ordered the appellant, under the first part of s. 2 (1) of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, to repay a sum of money received by him as advance, and where, on his failure to comply with that order, the Magistrate sentenced him, under the second part of s. 2 (1) of the Act, to a term of imprisonment, held, that no appeal lies from either of the orders. THAIRIO WD. FAIZO v THE CROWN, 7 S.L.R. 80=15 Cr. L.J 372=23 Ind. Cas. 740. (33 B. 25, 6 S.L.R. 165, 9 C. 878, R.)

(166)—S. 2—Workman told not to do any more work—Settlement to repay balance advanced—Failure to pay—Workman, liability of.—If an employer tells his workman not to do any more work and arrives at a settlement with him for the re-payment of the balance due, the case is taken out of the Workman's Breach of Contract Act, the liability of the workman becomes purely a civil liability and his failure to act on the settlement cannot bring the case back under the Act. JUGARAM v. NGA TUN BAW, U.B R. (1914), 2nd Qr., 18=25 Ind. Cas. 990=15 Cr. L.J. 662. (4 L.B.R. 365, D.)

(167)—S. 2—See Nos. 93 to 99, supra and No. 182, infra.

(168)—Ss. 2 and 3—Period of imprisonment exceeding period of contract—Contract upheld against weight of evidence.—Where the period of imprisonment imposed under s. 2 of the Act exceeds the period for which the accused is under a contract to work, and where no interval is granted for the order to be complied with, such order is illegal. On the District Magistrate referring to the circumstance that the contract was upheld in spite of the evidence against it, held that it was unnecessary to say the point.—Per Stephen, J., that the contract was illegally upheld and that circumstance also occasioned a serious miscarriage of justice.—Per Holmwood, J. NARWANJI PRASAD SINGH v. LACHMAN HAJAM, 35 C. 1035=9 Cr. L.J. 187.

(169)—Ss. 2 and 3—Contract, breach of—Expiry of term—Recovery of advance and enforcement of contract after term expired—Successive complaints, dismissal of—Effect.—When the term of a contract coming within Act XIII of 1859 expires, the contract cannot be specifically enforced, nor can the money advanced be recovered, by a proceeding before the Magistrate under that Act. When successive complaints against a workman were dismissed, held, that any remedy the complainant might have had under the Act was barred. KHODA BUKSH v. MOTI LAL JOHORI, 11 C.W.N. 247=5 Cr. L J. 66. [Diss., 35 C. 1028=8 C L J. 312=12 C.W.N. 869=8 Cr. L.J. 134, 4 L.B.R. 270=8 Cr. L.J. 470 ; R., 5 Bur. L.T. 133=13 Cr. L. J. 580=15 Ind. Cas. 996.]

(170)—Ss.2,3—Crim.Pro.Code. Act X of 1882, s. 560.—Act XIII of 1859 makes punishable, not the failure to do work according to contract, but the failure to obey the Magistrate's order. A complaint under the Act is not a complaint of an offence, and an order for compensation under s. 560 of the Crim. Pro. Code. is illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NAMDEO, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 617=Cr. Rg. 40 of 1892.

(171)—Ss. 2, 3—Summary trial not allowed —Order for imprisonment, when to be made. A case under the Workman's Breach of Contract Act is not triable summarily. An order directing the labourer to re-pay the money within a certain time or in default to undergo imprisonment is bad in law. An order for imprisonment in default can only be made after the labourer has failed to comply with the order calling on him to refund the money or get the work performed as the case may be. EMPEROR v. HAR LAL, 13 Cr. L. J. 194=14 Ind. Cas. 194=5 P.R. 1912 Cr. (33 B. 22, 1 Ind. Cas. 378, 6 Bom L. R. 225, 1 Cr. L. J. 263, R.).

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(172)—Ss. 2, 3—Contract to work for more than three years—Effect of s. 21 (g), Specific Relief Act—Contracts under Act XIII of 1859 when not enforceable—Contract providing a penalty for breach—Effect.—The accused accepted an advance from the proprietor of a factory and promised to work there for 5 years and so executed an agreement in 1910 but left away the work in 1912. Held that, by s. 21 (g) of the Specific Relief Act, no contract can be specifically enforced, the performance of which involves the performance of a continuous duty extending over a longer period than three years from its date. As such contracts cannot be enforced at all, neither the civil nor the criminal Courts would have any discretion to enforce them even up to the limit of three years. However, ingeniously the terms of contract may have been framed, where the advances cannot be treated as anything more than loans, subject to the condition that the borrowers should work for the factory and not transfer their services elsewhere until the money has been repaid, held, that such a contract was not enforceable under the Act. In the contracts in this case there was a distinct provision of a penalty to be recovered by the employer in case of breach of the contract by the workmen concerned. Held that, though the penalty may be unenforceable by a civil suit owing to the fact that the contracts themselves cannot be specifically enforced, yet, as they prescribed a definite penalty for breach, the employer could not, under any circumstances, adopt an alternative remedy by proceeding in terms of Act XIII of 1859. CROWN (THROUGH JHANDA SINGH) v. MUHAMMAD DIN, 23 P. R. 1913 Cr.=96 P. L. R. 1914=15 Cr.L. J. 166=22 Ind. Cas. 742. (9 P. R. 1910 Cr., 3 A. 744, 16 B. 368, R.) [F., 22 P. W. R. 1914=61 P.L.R. 1914, Cr.]

(173)—Ss. 2, 3—Contract, breach of—Form of order by Criminal Court—Case of civil nature.—The Magistrate, upon a complaint under Act XIII of 1859, gave the option to the debtor of paying off the debt or working it off. Held, that the irregularity was one of which the creditor and not the debtor could complain. The contract provided for re-payment of advance made to the debtor in a period over three years, and the debt was to be worked off by work, and the debtor was not to pay by cash or taking money from any other shop-keeper. And the contract prohibited the debtor from selling his work to any other person. Held that the contract bound down the debtor to work for the creditor and for no other person until the loan was paid off, and it could not be enforced under the Act. THE CROWN v. AMIR BAKHSH, 61 P.L R. 1914=22 P W.R. 1914 Cr.=15 Cr. L.J. 423=24 Ind. Cas. 159. (23 P.R. 1913, F.)

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—continued.

(174)—Ss. 2, 3—Workman, agreement by, to work for a fixed period in lieu of advance made to him by the employer—Contract contemplated by the Act.—Held, that an agreement by a workman at Mirzapore to do work in a certain factory for a fixed period of time and until repayment in a particular manner of an advance made to him by the owner of the factory, is a contract contemplated by Act XIII of 1859, and the accused must continue to work until he has worked for the period stipulated for and paid up the sum taken in advance ; he is also liable to the penalties imposed upon a workman under s. 3 of the Act. C. J. LUCAS v. RAMAI SINGH, 12 A.L.J. 152=23 Ind. Cas. 185=15 Cr. L.J. 233.

(175)—S. 2, cl. 1 and s. 3—Nature of the trial under the Act—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 370.—A proceeding under the first clause of s. 2 and under s. 3 of Act XIII of 1859 is not a criminal proceeding. Therefore, s. 370 of the Crim. Pro. Code does not apply to a case under those sections, because no offence has been committed and there is no accused ; and a Presidency Magistrate is not bound to frame his record in such a case in accordance with the provision of s. 370 of the Code. AVERAM DAS MOCHI v. ABDUL RAHIM, 27 C. 131=4 C. W.N. 201. [R., U.B.R. 1902, 3rd Quarter, Workman's Breach of Contract, 1.]

(176)—Ss. 2, 5—Contract to do some work, by a workman earning his living by laying and burning bricks—Criminal breach of contract—Workman—Expiry of the term of contract—Magistrate's power to order refund.—A contract to do some work by one who is a workman earning his living by laying and burning bricks is not a contract to supply bricks and falls within the purview of Act XIII of 1859. Where a workman, or labourer neglects or refuses to perform the work which he has contracted for, the mere fact that the time for which the contract was entered into has elapsed is no bar to a Magistrate passing an order for the refund of the money that may have been advanced to him by his master or employer. BHAROSA V. KING-EMPEROR, 12 A.L.J. 490=15 Cr. L.J. 599=25 Ind. Cas. 351. (11 C.W.N. 247, 35 C. 1028, R.)

(177)—S. 3—Order for bail for repayment of money advanced—Scope of section—S. 3 refers only to finding bail for compliance with an order directing an artificer, workman, or labourer to perform or cause to be performed the work for which he has contracted. An order, therefore, directing a workman to enter into recognisances for the repayment of the money advanced is illegal. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 21ST AUG. 1880, No. 1484, 1 Weir 699.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1859 (Workman's Breach of Contract)—concluded.

(178)—S. 3—See Nos. 168 to 174, supra.

(179)—S. 4—See Nos. 98, 100, supra.

(180)—S. 5—Scope of the Act.—The Act applies to cases where money has been advanced by employers resident or carrying on business in the Punjab. It is not necessary that they should reside in any of the places specified in the first section. CROWN v. MUHAMMAD SHAFFI, 11 P.R. 1902, Cr. F.B. (11 P.R. 1898, Cr. R.)

(181)—S. 5—Exercise of powers under Act outside the Presidency towns.—Powers under Act XIII of 1859, outside the Presidency towns can only be exercised under s. 5 by officers who have been specially appointed. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHONIA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 701 = Cr. Rg. 32 of 1894.

(181-a)—S. 5—See Nos. 99, 176, supra.

(182)—Ss. 5 and 2—Extension of the Act under s. 5—Effect—Money advanced, whether recoverable when contract expired.—When Act XIII of 1859 is extended to a certain place under the provisions of s. 5 of the Act, a master or employer residing or carrying on business in the place has the same rights as are conferred by the Act on masters or employers resident or carrying on business in any Presidency town. Per Stephen, J.—Under s. 2 of Act XIII of 1859, a master or employer can enforce the repayment of the money advanced, by a proceeding under the Act, even after the term of the contract has expired. Per Holmwood, J. (contra)—When the term of the contract has expired, a master or employer cannot enforce the repayment of the money advanced by a proceeding under Act XIII of 1859. NARSING PROSAD SINGH v. EMPEROR, 35 C. 1028 = 8 C.L.J. 312 = 12 C.W.N. 869 = 8 Cr L J. 134. (16 M. 347, 11 C.W.N. 247, 1 Weir 704, 705, 706, F.) [R., 35 C. 1035 = 9 Cr. L. J. 187.]

Act XIV of 1859 (Limitation).

[REP. (EXCEPT PART OF S. 15), ACT IX OF 1871. RESIDUE REP. (EXCEPT AS TO SCHEDULED DISTRICTS), ACT I OF 1877. THE UNREPEALED PART OF S. 15 DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

(1)—S. 1, cl. 7—See ACT XV OF 1877, art. 47, 3 N.W.P. 171.

(2)—S. 15—Possessory suit under section barred by award under Crim. Pro. Code.—See ACT I OF 1877, 20 W.R. 12.

Act XXVII of 1860 (Collection of Debts on Successions).

[REP., ACT VII OF 1889.]

(1)—Jurisdiction—Dispute as to succession to a mutt—Certificate.—A Magistrate cannot proceed under s. 318, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, in case of a dispute arising out of a right of succession to a mutt and its appurtenances, but should apply to the Judge, under the provisions of Act XIX of 1841 (Succession, Property Protection) to appoint a curator, or make some order with regard to the property, till the right of succession is determined. The grant of a certificate under this Act does not decide the title to such land QUEEN v. SREEPUTT GIRI GOSSAIN, 11 W.R. Cr. 23.

(2)—Certificate of administration—Crim. Pro. Code (1872), s. 530.—The grant of a certificate under Act XXVII of 1860 is not sufficient proof of possession to entitle the holder to an order under Crim. Pro. Code (1872), s. 530, declaring him to be in possession. MUSSAMMAT ANURAGEE KOOWAR v. RAMRUCHAYA DASS, 25 W.R. Cr. 16.

(3)—See CERTIFICATE, 2 B.L.R. A. Cr. 27.

Act XXXI of 1860 (Arms).

[REP., ACT XI OF 1878.]

See ACT XI OF 1878.

(1)—Ss. 5 and 35—Jurisdiction to try an offence under s. 5 of the Act.—Under s. 35, Arms Act, a Sub-Magistrate of the First Class has no jurisdiction to try an offence under s. 5 of the Act. CROWN v. BHOOPA, 3 P.R. 1869 Cr.

(2)—Ss. 5, 44—Manufacturing and selling gunpowder without license—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—As s. 5 Act XXXI of 1860, gives the power to imprison or fine a person for manufacturing or selling gunpowder without a license, a Magistrate can legally pass a sentence of fine or imprisonment in default. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 1ST JUNE 1870, 5 M.H.C. App. 23. [Overruled, 7 M.H.C. App. 22.]

(3)—Ss. 19 (f), 29 and 32 (2)—S. 32 (2) not extended to Lower Burma—Prosecution for possessing arms—Sanction of District Magistrate essential.—No prosecution can be instituted for the possession of arms under s. 19, cl. (f) of the Indian Arms Act, without the previous sanction of the District Magistrate. The mere passession of arms, other than those mentioned in s. 14, is not a punishable offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO KA, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 536.

(4)—S. 26—See PENAL CODE, s. 188, 3 B.L.R. Ap. 149.

(4-a)—S. 29—See No. 3, supra.

(5)—S. 32—Possession of arms without a license.—The proceedings of the Magistrate directing the issue of a summons to appear, and of a warrant of arrest, against a person for the possession of arms without a license under the Act were held to be illegal. The mere possession of certain arms without a license would be an offence, only if the provisions of s. 32, Act XXXI of 1860, had been extended to and were still in operation in the district. In the matter of the petition of BABOO RAMESHAR PRASAD NARAYAN SING, 9 B.L.R. Ap. 34=13 W.R. Cr. 1.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXXI of 1860 (Arms)—continued.

(6)—S. 32—Possession of arms without license.—The mere possession of arms without a license is no offence whatever under the Arms Act, where the provisions of s. 32 have not been extended to a district. In re MODNARAIN PURI, 18 W.R. Cr. 26.

(7)—S. 32—Conviction in a place where the provisions of the section were in force.—In a place where the prohibitory and penal clauses of s. 32, Act XXXI of 1860, were not in force, a conviction under that section was set aside. QUEEN v. MOHAN LALL, 119 P.R. 1866 Cr.

(8)—S. 32 (1 and 2)—XI of 1878, ss. 15, 19—Unlicensed possession of arms.—S. 32 (2) of Act XXXI of 1860 can be said to apply, in any specific sense, to a certain Taluka, only if one or other of these conditions has been fulfilled, that is, if either :—(a) an order of disarmament has been duly published, or (b) a general search for arms has been ordered. If there is also no notification in the local official gazette extending s. 15 of Act XI of 1878 to the Taluka, the possession of arms without a license in that place is not punishable under s. 19. GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY v. DODYAMA bin BASAPA, 9 B. 478.

(9)—S. 32 (2)—Unlicensed possession of saltpetre.—The unlicensed possession of saltpetre is not an offence under the Arms Act, as it is not an ammunition within the meaning of the Act, notwithstanding the rules of the Chief Commissioner to the contrary. CROWN v. RAM RUTTUN, 25 P.R. 1869 Cr.

(10)—S. 32 (2)—See ACT XI OF 1878, s. 19 (f) and 29, 1 Weir 663.

(11)—S. 32 (6)—Possession of arms—Illegality of search.—When the mere possession of arms was made an offence in a certain district, the accused would be punished for the illegality of their possession if there were satisfactory evidence that the prisoners were in possession of arms, notwithstanding that the police might have also committed an illegality in their procedure in conducting the search. QUEEN v. SHEOPERSHUN RAE, 2 N.W.P. 57.

(12)—S. 32 (6)—Fine—Imprisonment.—A sentence of fine only, or imprisonment only, under s. 32 (6) is a legal sentence. REG v. BHISTA bin MADANNA, 1 B. 308, F.B. [R., 16 B. 689.]

(12-a)—S. 32 (2)—See No. 3, supra.

(13)—S. 35—Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Crim. Pro. Code, (1872), s. 2.—The term "Magistrate," in s. 35 of Act XXXI of 1860, applies only to the Magistrate of a District as defined in s. 2 of the Crim. Pro. Code. REG. v. BASAPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 80=Cr. Rg. 15-1-1874.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXXI of 1860 (Arms)—concluded.

(14)—S. 35—See No. 1, supra.

(15)—S. 44—See No. 2, supra.

(16)—S. 46—Imprisonment in default of fine.—Only when it has been ascertained in the manner provided in s. 46, that no sufficient distress can be had, can an order for imprisonment in default of fine be passed. QUEEN v. GHOLAM HOSSAIN, 120 P.R. 1866 Cr.

(17)—S. 46—See SENTENCE—IMPRISONMENT—IMPRISONMENT IN DEFAULT OF PAYMENT OF FINE, ETC , 120 P.R. 1866, Cr.

Act XXXII of 1860 (Income-tax).

[REP., ACT VIII OF 1868.]

See ACT IX OF 1869, ss. 24, 25, 2 N.W.P. 113.

Act XXXVI of 1860 (Stamps).

[REP., ACT X OF 1862.]

(1)—Act X of 1862—Unstamped instrument made in Australia, dated 26th May, 1862. sought to be used in Madras—Penalty under Act I of 1879.—An unstamped instrument, comprising an assignment by will and also a power of attorney executed in Australia and dated 26th May, 1862, is not chargeable either under Act XXXVI of 1860 or Act X of 1862 with stamp duty. Consequently no penalty can be levied under Act I of 1879. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 14 M. 255.

(2)—Ss. 26, 37—See CONVICTION, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 34.

(2-a)—S. 37—See No. 2, supra.

(3)—S. 52—Non-compliance—Irregularity.—A conviction under the Stamp Act is illegal where the procedure under s. 52 is not complied with. REG v. CHINTO ATMARAM, 3 B. H. C. Cr. 36 (Note).

Act V of 1861 (Police).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PART, ACT IX OF 1871; ACT XVI OF 1874; ACT X OF 1882. REP. IN PART (IN BENGAL) (EXCEPT THE SAMBALPORE DISTRICT, AND EASTERN BENGAL, BEN. ACT VII OF 1869; REP. (IN PART IN RANGOON), BUR. ACT IV OF 1899, S. 2, WHEN NOTIFIED (AND SEE SS. 3 AND 4). REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, IN NORTH WEST FRONTIER PROVINCES, REG. 7 OF 1901, SS. 3, 13. AMENDED, ACT III OF 1888; ACT VIII OF 1895; S. 34 AMENDED ACT I OF 1903; SUPPLEMENTED, BEN. ACT VII OF 1869. PORTIONS EXTENDED TO CALCUTTA AND SUBURBS, WITH MODIFICATIONS, BEN. ACT I OF 1898. DECLARED IN FORCE IN—SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT, EXCEPT S. 11, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3; UPPER

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act V of 1861 (Police)—continued.

BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4; BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S 3; THE ANGUL DISTRICT REG. I OF 1894, S. 3; THE CHITTAGONG HILL-TRACTS, REG. I OF 1900, S 4.]

(1)—Penal Code, ss. 99, 351 and 353—Assault on a police officer—Police officer trying to secure thumb impression of a surveille—Assault to deter the police officer from taking the impression —Police Code—Rule regarding surveille.—A rule of the Police Code, to the effect that when any surveille is at home, proof of his presence can be secured by taking a thumb impression on the report, does not impose an obligation upon him to give a thumb impression when required, and he cannot be forced to do so, if he objects. Where a surveille, on a domiciliary visit to him by a Sub-Inspector of Police, object to the taking of the impression, and when the Police officer extended his hand to take the impression, he produced a lathi and said that he would not allow the impression to be taken and that, if any one asked for it, he would break his head, held, that the act did not amount to an offence under s. 351, Penal Code, and that, had the act amounted to an offence by itself, s. 99 would have been applicable. BIRBAL KHALIFA v. EMPEROR, 30 C. 97 = 6 C.W.N. 342.

(2)—Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, officers of—Public servants—Penal Code, s. 21.—Officers of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, appointed under Act V of 1861, are public servants within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code. The mere fact that the certificates of appointment given to such officers are not strictly in conformity with the form prescribed in the Schedule to Act V of 1861, does not invalidate their appointment or take them out of the category of public servants. UPENDRA KUMAR GHOSE v. KING-EMPEROR, 3 C L J 475 = 10 C.W.N. 727 = 3 Cr.L J. 420.

(3)—Appeal from convictions under Police Code.—Convictions under this Act are appealable like other convictions. Where the appellants were convicted by an officer exercising the powers of a Magistrate and sentenced to imprisonment exceeding the limit prescribed by s. 411, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, the appeal lies to the Sessions Court. THAKOOR DASS and GODAI SHEK, 5 W.R. Cr. 22.

(4)—Appeal.—Act V of 1861 is a special law on the subject of police, and persons charged with offences punishable under that law must be tried under the provisions of the Crim. Pro. Code. Convictions under Act V of 1861 are appealable in the same way as other convictions. CRL. CIR NO. 2, 7TH FEBRY, 1866, 5 W.R Cr. Cir. 1.

(5)—Jurisdiction of Magistrate to direct enquiry by Police officer.—A Magistrate is competent, under s. 133, Crim. Pro. Code, (1861), to direct an enquiry to be made by a police officer into an offence punishable under a Local Act, such as the Police Act. QUEEN v. PRANKISTO PAL. 14 W.R. Cr. 41.

(6)—Police officer committing offence, while not on duty.—A Police constable is liable to be punished under the Penal Code, and not under the Police Act if he commits any offence when not on duty. AUTAR v. NARAIN SINGH, 96 P R. 1866, Cr.

(7)—Applicability to unauthorised playing of music at night.—Where it does not appear that an occasion such as that furnished by playing music at midnight on a marriage ceremony without permission, required any intervention or interference on his part, or that he issued any direction or gave any order in the matter of the playing of music, the Police Act does not apply. EMPRESS v. PURAN, 5 C P.L.R. 92.

(8)—See APPEAL—ACTS, 5 W.R Cr. 22.

(9)—See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF—MISCELLANEOUS, 14 W.R. Cr. 41.

(10)—See PENAL CODE, ss. 167, 188, 47 P. R. 1867, Cr.

(11)—S. 4—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—AUTHORITIES COMPETENT TO GRANT SANCTION—REFUSAL TO GRANT SANCTION, ETC., 6 P.R. 1910 Cr.

(12)—Ss. 4, 7, 24 and 42—See DEFAMATION, 4 P.W.R. 1910 Cr.

(13)—Ss. 5 and 36—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 195, 439—Complaint to the Inspector-General, Police—Investigation by District Superintendent of Police—Its dismissal—Sanction to prosecute —Revision.—Where H D. sent to the Inspector-General of Police a few specific charges of bribery against the Sub-Inspector of Police and asked for investigation, the Inspector-General, who is a Magistrate under s. 5 of Act V of 1861 and is empowered by s. 36 of the Act to enquire into and determine as a Magistrate any charge against a police officer above the rank of a constable, ordered the District Superintendent of Police to investigate, and that officer forwarded the result of his investigation to the District Magistrate, held that a false charge of an offence, preferred to a person empowered to order investigation by the Police, though not followed by further proceedings in any Court, brings the matter of the charge within the 1st part of s. 211, I.P.C. HAMAYUN v. KING-EMPEROR, 9 P.W R. 1908 Cr. = 7 Cr. L.J. 291. (14 P.R. 1879 Cr., 3 P.R. 1888 Cr., F; 5 C. 281, 6 C 620, R.; 5 P.R. 1888 Cr., 17 C. 574, D.).

(14)—S. 7—See No. 12, supra.

(15)—Ss. 7 and 29—Suspension and confinement for unlimited term—Cumulative punishment, legality of—An order for the suspension and confinement of a police officer for an unlimited period of time exceeding the limits laid down in cl. (b) of s. 7 of Act V of 1861, is illegal, and is not such an order as a District Superintendent of Police can legally pass at all, nor one which he can pass in the alternative under s. 7 of the Act; and no conviction under s. 29, for disobeying such order, is maintainable. RAM GOPAL GHOSH v. KING-EMPEROR, 2 C.L.J. 616=3 Cr. L.J. 110.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act V of 1861 (Police)—continued.

(16)—Ss. 13 and 15—Levy of cost of Police from individuals.—A Magistrate has no power to realize the cost of a constable from an individual. QUEEN v. ROHIMKANT GHOSE, 1 W.R. Cr. 15.

(17)—S. 15—See No. 16, supra.

(18)—S. 17—Object of appointing special constables—Refusal to serve—Penal Code, s. 173.—The only legitimate object for appointing special constables is to strengthen the ordinary Police force by the addition of suitable persons to their number, when the ordinary force find themselves too few to meet an emergency. In a case of dispute as to proprietary rights, it is an abuse of the law and an act of oppression to appoint active men on one side as special constables, in order to prevent their asserting their alleged rights and so to give an advantage to the other party. A refusal to serve as such is no offence under s. 173, I.P.C., and proceedings could not be taken under that section. GOPINATH PARYAH v. EMPRESS, 10 C.W.N. 82=2 C.L.J. 555=3 Cr. L.J. 169. [R., 10 C.W.N. 322, 12 C.W.N. 727.]

(19)—S. 17—See SUPERINTENDENCE OF HIGH COURT. 10 B.L.R. App. 4=18 W.R. Cr. 67.

(20)—Ss. 17 and 19—Penal Code, ss. 147, 149 and 353—Refusal to accompany a police officer to police station to receive appointments and badges of special constables—Resistance to police-officers in the arrest of such men.—Refusal to accompany a police officer to the Police Station, situated at some distance, not for any purpose of police duty, but simply to obtain the authority of appointment to serve as special constables and the necessary badges and arms, does not amount to a refusal to serve as special constables, and it does not, therefore, constitute an offence under s. 19 of the Police Act. An arrest made by a police officer on such a refusal is not lawful, and any resistance offered to such an arrest does not amount to an offence under s. 353, although it may amount to an offence under s. 147. RAMAN SINGH v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 28 C. 411=5 C.W.N. 134. (18 A. 246, Appr; 3 C.W.N. 605, D.). [R., 16 P.R. 1913, Cr.=155 P.L.R. 1913=14 Cr. L.J. 142=18 Ind. Cas. 894=20 P.W.R. 1913, Cr.].

(21)—Ss. 17 and 19—Special constables—Appointment, circumstances justifying—Disobedience of order under s. 17—No offence under s. 19.—The circumstances which justify the appointment of special constables under s. 17 of Act VI of 1861 are that a disturbance of the peace is apprehended and that the police force available is insufficient to preserve the peace and protect the inhabitants of the place where the disturbance is apprehended. In the absence of those circumstances an order under s. 17 of Act V of 1861 is improper and there should be no conviction of the persons appointed special constables for disobedience of the same. NANDA KISHORE SINGH v. EMPEROR, 35 C. 454=12 C.W.N. 366=7 Cr. L.J. 186. [R., 8 C.L.J. 66=12 C.W.N. 727=7 Cr. L.J. 507.]

(22)—Ss. 17 and 19—Appointment of Special Constables—Circumstances justifying appointment—Refusal to comply with an improper order of appointment.—The circumstances which justify an order under s. 17 of Act V of 1861 are that a disturbance of the peace is apprehended and that the police force available is insufficient to preserve the peace, and protect the inhabitants of the village where disturbances are apprehended. In a case where it was not clear that there was any danger of a disturbance of the peace or that, if there was such a danger, the ordinary police force available was not sufficient to cope with it, held that the appointment of the petitioner as a special constable was unnecessary and inexpedient, held, further, that the petitioner should not be prosecuted under s. 19 of Act V of 1861 for his refusal to act in accordance with such appointment. RADAKANTA LAL v. EMPEROR, 12 C.W.N. 727=8 C.L.J. 66=7 Cr. L.J. 507. (12 C.W.N. 366, 10 C.W.N. 82=2 C.L.J. 555, F.).

(23)—Ss. 18, 19, 29—Special constables—Order of appointment—Interference by High Court on revision—Object of appointment—Executive order—Refusal to act—Punishment—Prosecution.—A person, who has refused to act as a special constable, cannot be prosecuted under s. 29 of the Police Act. The provisions of that section were not intended to apply to special constables and cannot be interpreted as so applying by the operation of the provisions of s. 18. UMES CHANDRA GUPTA v. EMPEROR, 10 C.W.N. 322.

(24)—S. 19—See NOS. 20, 21, 22, 23, supra.

(25)—S. 20—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 14—Power of police officers to exercise Magisterial authority — Local Government should confer special power.—S. 20 of the Police Act and the last part of s. 14 of the Code of Criminal Procedure preclude police officers from exercising authority as Magistrates. Paragraph III of the Schedule of the Criminal Justice Regulation enables the Local Government to confer Magisterial powers on police officers notwithstanding these provisions, but such powers would have to be specially conferred and for particular purposes. QUEEN EMPRESS v. TUKAUNG, U. B. R 1892—1896, Vol. I, 10.

(26)—S. 23—Arrest—Duty of police officer.—Under this section a police officer is not bound to arrest a person against whom no proceedings have been directed, if he believes that he has not sufficient grounds for apprehending him. In re GRISH CHUNDER NUNDEE, 26 W. R. Cr. 8.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act V of 1861 (Police)—continued.

(27)—Order to purchase material for repairing thana, if an order under section.—Where money was given to a police constable by the assistant moharir of his thana to purchase rafter and bamboos for repair of the thana, held that the order to purchase rafters, etc., was not an order of the kind contemplated by this section. In the matter of the petition of DIDAR KHAN, A.W.N. 1891, 179 (12 C. 427, R.).

(28)—S. 24—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 190 (1) (b) and 4 (1) (h), 1 L.B.R. 18.

(29)—S. 24—See No. 12, supra.

(30)—S. 25—Timber washed on to an estate—Unclaimed property.—Timber claimed by a landowner as having been washed on to his estate by a river is not unclaimed property within the meaning of s. 25 and the following sections of the Act. CHUTTER LALL SINGH v. GOVERNMENT, 9 W. R. 97.

(31)—Ss. 25, 26—Claim of creditor to attach right, title and interest of—judgment-debtor—Whether covered by s 26—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 87, 88, 435, 439, 512, 6 L.B.R. 57=13 Cr. L.J. 568=15 Ind. Cas. 984=5 Bur. L.T. 113.

(32)—S. 26—See No. 31, supra.

(33)—S. 29—Scope of section—S. 29 of the Police Act has no application to persons who are not police officers. In the matter of RAM KUMAR, 10 C.L.R. 521.

(34)—S. 29—Scope of section.—The section deals with offences constituted either by any violation of duty, or wilful breach, or neglect of any rule or regulation, or lawful order, made by competent authority on the part of a police officer. Any neglect of duty short of a violation of duty does not amount to an offence under the section. In the matter of the petition of BHOLANATH DAS, 12 C. 427.

(35)—S. 29—Applicability of.—The framers of s. 29 of Act V of 1861 could never have intended it to apply to a case, where the offence charged is absence from special constable's parade on certain dates without permission. The section is an exceedingly stringent provision of the law which should not be put in force except in extreme cases, and where milder remedies have been tried and failed. KASH MAHOMED v. EMPRESS, 10 C.W.N. 79=2 C.L.J. 565=3 Cr. L.J. 178.

(36)—S. 29—Offence under section, if cognisable.—An offence under the above section is not a cognizable offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO THIN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 295.

(37)—S. 29—"Lawful order," construction of.—The words "lawful order" in s. 29 of the Police Act mean an order which the authority mentioned therein is competent to make; so that they would not cover an order for extra drill given by a District Superintendent of Police to his constables, for their failing to cut down the jungle in the vicinity of their lines as per his orders. In the matter of BHOLANATH DAS, 12 C. 427.

(38)—S. 29—Violation of duty must be deliberate.—Before a police officer can be convicted of an offence under s. 29 of the Act, it must be found that he is guilty, not of mere neglect, but of deliberate and intentional violation of duty. In re RADHOO SINGH, 17 W R. Cr. 34=8 B. L.R. Ap. 60. [F., 19 W.R. Cr. 7.].

(39)—S. 29—Gist of offence.—It is wilful neglect or violation duty only, that is a criminal offence in the sense of the Police Act, 1861. Mere indiscretion and even carelessness with negligence in the conduct of inquiries preliminary to trial could not be held to be a criminal offence. EMPRESS v MUHAMMAD HUSAIN, A.W.N. 1883, 42.

(40)—S 29—Gist of offence.—Mere rashness or negligence on the part of a police officer, before ordering the search of a man's house for stolen property, does not constitute an offence amounting to a violation of duty under s. 29 of the Act. The violation there intended must be wilful, intentional violation of some clear duty, or other. QUEEN v. BOLAKI LALL, 19 W.R. Cr. 7. (17 W.R. 34 Cr.=8 B.L.R. App. 60, F.)

(41)—S. 29—Acts or omissions punishable under the Act.—Acts or omissions punishable under s. 29 of the Act, come within the category of "offences punishable under any law other than the Indian Penal Code" and those offences likewise fall within the terms of s. 148 of the same Code. QUEEN v. GOLAM ARABEE, 25 W R. Cr. 20.

(42)—S. 29—Violation of constable's duty—Offence.—A constable who refused to turn out to drill on being ordered to do so by a Head Constable in charge of the thana committed an offence under s. 29 of the Police Act of 1861. EMPRESS v. YAR MUHAMMAD KHAN, A.W.N. 1896, 105. (15 C. 194, 12 C. 427, 17 W.R. Cr 34, R.)

(43)—S. 29—Overstaying of leave by a constable.—Where a constable obtained leave of absence for one month, a substitute being appointed, and overstayed his leave by 29 days, held, that such overstaying of one's leave would not amount to a "withdrawal from the duties of his office," within the meaning of s. 29 of Act V of 1861. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SALIG RAM, 6 A. 495=A.W.N. 1884, 215. [D., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 279.]

(44)—S. 29—Police constable overstaying his leave.—A police constable overstaying his leave without permission cannot be convicted under s. 29 of the Police Act. EMPRESS v. JANOKINATH GUPTA, 6 C. 625=8 C.L.R. 56.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act V of 1861 (Police)—continued.

(45)—S. 29—Deputing subordinate if amounts to neglect of duty.—When a police officer is authorised by law to depute his subordinate to proceed to a place where a crime is reported to have been committed, he cannot be supposed to have contravened the law by not proceeding to the spot himself; under such circumstances, the conviction of the prisoner on a charge of wilful violation of duty is illegal. GOVERNMENT v. KARAMUT KHAN, 1 Agra Cr. 1.

(46)—S. 29—Police officer under suspension if can be convicted for withdrawing from duty without leave.—A police officer under suspension cannot be convicted, under s. 29, of withdrawing from the duties of his office without permission. QUEEN v. DINANATH GANGOOLY, 17 W.R. Cr. 12=8 B.L.R. App. 58. [F., 10 A. 459.]

(47)—S. 29—Scope of.—The provisions contained in s. 29 of Act V of 1861 contemplates that the person, to be charged with an offence under that section, must have been, at the time of his doing the act in respect of which the charge is preferred, a police constable within the meaning of that statute. A suspended police officer ceases to be a police officer. Where a police constable was suspended, and was ordered to remain in the lines during the suspension, held, that he was not guilty under s. 29, for absenting himself therefrom without leave. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DURGA, 10 A 459=A.W.N. 1888, 169. (8 B.L.R. App. 58, F.).

(48)—Police officer making negligent or incorrect report of local investigation.—A police officer negligently or improperly submitting an incorrect report of a local investigation may be punished under s. 29 of the Act in cases where the proof is sufficient to bring the case under s. 218 of the Penal Code. In the case of BARODAKANT MOOKHOPADHYA, 15 W.R.Cr. 17.

(49)—S. 29—Jurisdiction over police officers of Deputy Magistrate exercising full powers of Magistrate.—A Deputy Magistrate exercising the full powers of a Magistrate has jurisdiction under this section, to fine police officers for violation of duty. REFERENCE UNDER S. 434 OF CRIM. PRO. CODE, 4 W.R. Cr. 2.

(50)—S. 29—Jurisdiction of Magistrate to try cases under Act.—A Magistrate only, and not a Sessions Judge, has power to try cases under the above section. S. 152, Crim. Pro. Code, (1861), does not apply to cases in which there has not been a continuous detention for 24 hours. In re INDROBEER THABA, 1 W.R. Cr. 5. [R., 19 A. 465.]

(51)—S. 29—Jurisdiction of Cantonment Magistrate.—A Cantonment Magistrate has power to try cases, under this section without complaint. GOVERNMENT v. GIRDHAREE LALL, 1 Agra Cr. 24.

(52)—S. 29—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 556—Trial by a District Magistrate of cases of breach of order of Inspector.—Held, that a District Magistrate is not precluded under s. 556, Crim. Pro. Code, on account of his being the head of the Police in the District, from trying a person under s. 29 of Act V of 1861, for a breach of an order issued by a Reserve Inspector. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NARAIN SINGH, 22 A. 340=A.W.N. 1900, 110. [E., 24 M. 238=2 Weir. 238.]

(53)—S. 29—Jurisdiction over European British subjects.—S. 29 of Act V of 1861 does not give a Magistrate jurisdiction over European British subjects. Where, in a prosecution under s. 29, the plea of being an European British subject is raised by the accused, the Magistrate is bound to enquire into and determine that plea. QUEEN v. HEARN, 3 N W.P. 128.

(54)—S. 29—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 263—Summary trial of an offence under s. 29—Duty of Magistrate.—In a summary trial of an offence under s. 29 of Act V of 1861, it is not sufficient to state that it consisted in the absence from special constable's parade on certain dates without permission, but it is necessary to state that the act consisted of a breach of duty lawfully imposed, and to specify how the duty was created, and in what act or omission the breach consisted. KASH MAHOMED v. EMPRESS, 10 C.W.N. 79=2 C L J. 565=3 Cr. L J. 178.

(55)—S. 29—Summary conviction and punishment.—The summary conviction and punishment of two police officers under this section, by a Cantonment Magistrate, without formal trial, was held to be irregular and illegal. GOVERNMENT v. GIRDHAREE LALL, 1 Agra Cr. 24.

(56-57)—S. 29—Power to make rules—General rules issued by District Superintendent—Validity—Disobedience to such rules—Special rule by the District Superintendent of police.—There is no express power given by the Act to any officer, save the Inspector-General of Police, to make rules; he can do so under s. 12 for, amongst other purposes, preventing abuse or neglect of duty. Such rules must be made subject to the approval of the Local Government. Therefore, a disobedience of an order of the District Superintendent to the effect that constables are to be within the lines at 9 P.M. is not an offence under s. 29 of the Act. Semble, such a general rule made by a District Superintendent would not come under the Act; probably a special order requiring the presence of an officer or of certain officers within the Police lines, issued expressly to him or each of them "would come under s. 29" as being not a "rule or regulation," but "a lawful order," made by a competent authority and relating to the duties of the officer, one of which is to be at hand when required for service. In the matter of the petition of ABDUL HOSSEIN, QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ABDUL HOSSEIN, 15 C. 194.

(58)—S. 29—Police rules—Table of punishment—Extra fatigue duty—Scope of a police constable's duties—Departmental punishment how far affects punishment by Courts.—The petitioner, a police-constable, was ordered by his officers to join a fatigue party for the purpose of removing certain furniture from the office of the Inspector-General of Police. He refused to do the work, and was, therefore, convicted upon a summary trial of an offence under s. 29 of the Police Act (V of 1861). On application for revision to the Chief Court, it was contended on his behalf that the order given was not lawful, because fatigue duty was really a punishment, and that a constable who had committed no offence or been guilty of no dereliction of duty could not legally be required to do work of a penal character. Held that per se there was nothing unreasonable or unlawful in an order of this kind, nor was it outside the scope of a constable's duties to perform work of this nature when necessary. In "extra guard, fatigue or other duties" in the table of punishments given in Chap. XVI of the Police rules, against serial No. 8, the word 'extra' qualifies all the subsequent words. It is not fatigue duty as such which is penal, but extra fatigue duty. Summary procedure should not be employed in cases in which Government servants, no matter what their rank, are concerned as accused persons. The power of a Court to punish a public servant for an offence against the law is not taken away, simply because the offender has also been punished by his departmental superiors. SOHAN SINGH v. EMPEROR, 9 Ind. Cas. 831 = 12 Cr. L.J 143 = 15 P.W.R. 1911 = 184 P.L.R. 1911.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act V of 1861 (Police)—continued.

(59)—S. 29—See CONVICTION, 8 W.R. Cr. 55.

(60)—S. 29—See PENAL CODE, s. 221, 11 P.R. 1874 Cr.

(61)—S. 29—See PENAL CODE, s. 463, U.B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. 1, 356.

(62)—S. 29—See POLICE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 150.

(63)—S. 29—See SESSIONS JUDGE, JURISDICTION OF, 9 W.R. Cr. 36.

(64)—S. 29—See NO. 15, supra and No. 83, infra.

(65)—Ss. 29, 42—Prosecution of police officer under the Act—Sanction—Notice.—Any person aggrieved by the acts of police officers can prefer a charge under s. 29 of Act V of 1861, without the sanction of the Government or other competent authority and without any previous notice in writing as required by s. 42, that section being applicable only to civil actions. DOOLOO MULL v. DEWA SINGH, 2 P.R. 1868, Cr.

(66)—S. 30—See PENAL CODE, s. 153, 29 A. 569 = A.W.N. 1907, 171.

(67)—Ss. 30 and 31—Singing in the streets at night.—S. 30 of the Police Act, 1861, as amended by Act VIII of 1895, only authorises the police to regulate the extent to which music may be used in the streets on the occasion of festivals and ceremonies. Neither s. 30 nor s. 31 empowers the police to issue a general order prohibiting any singing in the streets at night. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ANTONY, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 394.

(68)—S. 31—See No. 67, supra.

(69)—S. 34—Placing tanbans in a public thoroughfare.—Persons placing tanbans in a public thoroughfare are guilty of an offence under s. 34 of Act V of 1861. But a Magistrate is not competent on his own motion to set on foot a prosecution. QUEEN v. AMEER, 2 N. W P. 5.

(70)—S. 34—Penal Code, ss. 268 and 290—Public nuisance—Definition—Temporary obstruction of public thoroughfare.—M placed a board in front of his house over the water channel and a considerable portion of the roadway, leaving only a small space by which persons could pass by his house. On this board he sat writing and delivering to a large crowd of persons vouchers for bets which they had made with him about the Government opium sales. Held, that, under these circumstances, although M could not properly be convicted under s. 34 of Act V of 1861, he was liable to a conviction under ss. 268 and 390 of the Penal Code. EMPEROR v. MADHO RAM, 4 A.L.J. 44 = A.W.N. 1906, 317 = 4 Cr. L.J. 492.

(71)—S. 34—Slaughtering of cow in open verandah—Meaning of the term "open place."—The words "open place," coupled with "road," "street" or "thoroughfare" must not be interpreted ejusdem generis. The addition of the words "open place" by the Amending Act (VIII of 1895) gives the section a wider significance, and this is shown by another amendment in the same section made at the same time, in which the annoyance, etc., caused must not be to the "residents and passengers," but to "residents or passengers." The intention of the Legislature was, therefore, to extend the Act not only to passengers who would be on such a road, street or thoroughfare, but also to residents, who are not passengers. The slaughtering of a cow in an open verandah, so as to cause annoyance to the residents of that locality, and in spite of their remonstrances, constitutes a breach of s. 34 of the Act. KHAN BAPUTI DEWAN v. BISPATI PUNDIT, 27 C. 655.

(72) S. 34—Overloading an ekka.—Having in an ekka six persons besides the accused, the ekka driver, was held not necessarily an offence punishable under s. 34, Act V of 1861. MUKANDA v. EMPRESS, 28 P.R. 1885, Cr.

(73)—S. 34—Imprisonment imposed under the above section, nature of.—Imprisonment imposed substantively under the above section must be simple. It follows, under s. 66 of the Penal Code, that imprisonment in default of payment of fine under the same section must also be simple. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA IN, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 363.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act V of 1861 (Police)—continued.

(74)—S. 34—Nature of imprisonment under the section.– A sentence of imprisonment under s. 34, whether substantive or in default of payment of fine, must be simple. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA THA DUN U, L.B.C.R. 1872—1892, 434.

(75)—S. 34—Riot in a Municipal bazaar — The Municipal bazaar, though it is not a street or a road, is possibly a thoroughfare, and a riot committed in the bazaar comes under the above section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MI SHWE MI, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I. 296.

(76)—S. 34—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 250, A.W.N. 1901, 142.

(77)—S. 34, cl. (2)—Cruelty to animals.—The attention of one of the petitioners had been called by the District Superintendent of Police to the condition of two horses and he had been warned not to drive them. Evidence was let in to show that they were bleeding from collar galls badly galled and bleeding from both shoulders, and also suffering from running barseti sores and that the attention of the petitioners had been called to it. The petitioners were convicted of an offence under s. 34 of the Act. Held, on revision, that the conviction was proper on the ground that the using of the horses was a cruel one and that the barseti sores and the matter running from them were likely to be productive of damage and risk to the public and would cause annoyance to any person who saw them being driven. EMPRESS v. RAI BISHEN CHAND, A.W.N. 1887, 67.

(78)—S. 34, cl. 5—See OBSTRUCTION TO PUBLIC THOROUGHFARE, A.W.N. 1881, 61.

(79)—S. 34 (7)—Retrial of offender discharged of offence under s. 277, Penal Code.—Where an offender is discharged on a complaint under s. 277 of the Penal Code, he cannot be retried on the same facts under s. 34, cl. 7, of Act V of 1861. POLICE v. DEBI, Colm. Dig Cr. 50 of 1876.

(80)—Ss. 34, 37 to 40—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—The accused in this case was convicted of an offence under s. 34, Act V of 1861 and sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 2, or in default to 4 days' rigorous imprisonment. Held that the sentence of imprisonment in default was illegal and must be set aside. The Police Act lays down a special procedure for realization of fines imposed under the Act. NGA THA GAUNG v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L.B. R. 1872—1892, 473.

(81)—S. 36—See No. 13, supra.

(82)—S. 37—See No. 80, supra.

(83)—S. 38—See No. 80, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act V of 1861 (Police)—concluded.

(84)—S. 39—See No. 80, supra.

(85)—S. 40—See No. 80, supra.

(86)—S. 42—Scope of.—The prosecutions referred to in this section are for acts done or purporting to be done by a police officer, in the execution of his duty as a police officer, and not for acts done apart from the execution of his duty. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGAO, U.B.R. 1897—1901. Vol. I, 365. (7 N W.P. 237, R.)

(87)—S 42—See NOS. 19, 65, supra.

(88)—Ss. 42, 29 — Scope.—S. 42 has no bearing or connection with s. 29 of the Act. QUEEN v. HAZAR MIRKHAN, 7 N. W. P. 237, [R., U.B.R 1897—1901, Vol. I, 365.]

(89)—S. 42—Detention in custody for more than 24 hours—Crim Pro Code (1861), s. 152.—Three police officers detained a person, suspected of having committed theft, in custody without a special order for more than 24 hours for the purpose of enabling the officer in charge of the police station, who was absent, to go into the case. He was further detained in contravention of the provisions of s. 152, Crim. Pro. Code. Held, per Cunningham and Campbell, JJ. that they were answerable for detention only until the return of the superior officer. Held, per Lindsay, J., dissenting, that the prosecution instituted, more than three months after the detention, was barred by s. 42, Act V of 1861. SEWARAM v. CROWN, 36 P. R. 1870, Cr.

(90)—S. 42—Suit against police officer.—In a suit against a police officer, the objection under this section, that one month's notice has not been given, must be taken in the lower Court; and the objection, if not taken advantage of and pleaded in the first instance, cannot be made use of as a ground of appeal. NARAIN DEEN TEWAREE v. RAJA RAM DASS, 8 W.R. 425.

(91) — S. 44—Police officer—Penal Code, s. 177—Omission to give information.—Under the above Act, a police officer is bound to communicate information to his superior officer regarding the commission of a riot affecting the public peace, and to make an entry thereof in the diary which he is required by s. 44 to keep, and the omission to give such information brings him within the purview of s. 177, Penal Code. In re SYED FUTTEH MAHOMED, 21 W R. Cr. 30.

Act IX of 1861 (Minors).

[REP., ACT VIII OF 1890.]

See MINOR—CUSTODY OF MINOR.

(1)—Girl of sixteen, whether can legally consent to leave guardian's protection.—A girl under sixteen years of age has not such a discretion as enables her, by giving her consent, to protect any one from the criminal consequences of inducing her to leave the protection of a lawful guardian; but where the return to the writ of habeas corpus stated that a girl was above the age of 16 (though her mother stated her to be of the age of thirteen years and nine months), the Court held that she was of years of discretion to choose for herself under whose protection she would remain. QUEEN v. VAUGHAN, 5 B.L.R O. Cr. 418. [R., 5 B.L.R. 557, 9 M. 391.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1861 (Minors)—concluded.

(2)—Pegu—European British minors.—This Act applied to Pegu, and also to minors, the lawful children of European natural-born British subjects. In re W.H. HUTTON, 3 W. R. Rec. Ref. 5.

Act X of 1861 (Repealing Enactments relating to Civil Procedure).

[REP., ACT XIV OF 1870.]

See WITNESS—SUMMONS TO WITNESSES, 1 B.L.R A. Cr. 186 = 10 W.R. 233.

Act XVI of 1861 (Stage Carriages).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PART, ACT XIV OF 1870. AMENDED ACT XVI OF 1876 REP. IN PART AND AMENDED ACT I OF 1898.]

(1)—Scope of Act.—The Act does not apply to a carriage which is not ordinarily used for a journey of a greater distance than 20 miles. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMCHANDRA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 364 = Cr. Rg. 7 of 1888.

(2)—S. 7—Carriages plying in a town—Bom. Act VI of 1863 (Public Conveyances Act).—The Stage Carriages Act, 1861, does not apply to a carriage plying only within a town and its suburbs, to which the Bombay Public Conveyances Act would apply if extended thereto. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DAU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 327 = Cr. Rg. 17 of 1887.

(3)—Ss 7, 9, 21—References, under ss. 7 and 9—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 29—Jurisdiction of Magistrate to try offences under Act.—Reading the first para. of s. 29, Crim. Pro. Code, with s. 21 of Act XVI of 1861, it will be seen that all Magistrates have jurisdiction to try offences against ss. 7 and 9 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMCHANDRA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 364 = Cr. Rg. 7 of 1888.

(4)—S. 8—Running a horse not passed by the police or permitting stage carriages to be drawn by coolies not an offence.—Running a horse which had not been passed by the police in breach of a rule made by the District Magistrate or permitting a stage carriage to be drawn by coolies was not an offence under s. 8 of the Act. EMPRESS v. MCMULLEN, A.W.N 1883, 228.

(5)—Ss. 8, 9—Jurisdiction of second class Magistrate.—A Magistrate of the second class has no jurisdiction to try an offence under ss. 8 and 9 of Act XVI of 1861. The offence is triable only by Magistrate of the District or a Magistrate of the first class. EMPRESS v. MOTI RAM, 7 P.R. 1879, Cr.

(6)—S. 9—See NOS. 3, 5, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVI of 1861 (Stage Carriages)—concld.

(7)—Ss. 9, 10—Owner driving horse—Rules framed under Act.—A rule framed under Act XIV of 1861, as amended by Act XVI of 1876, to the effect "that a person who drives a horse more than two stages of a certain distance within twenty-four hours shall be considered to have overdriven the horse," was ultra vires. Whether or not a horse used in a stage carriage has been overdriven is a question of fact in each case. In the matter of the petition of NIAZ AHMAD, A.W.N. 1897, 27.

(8)—S. 10—See NO. 7, supra.

(9)—S. 21—See NO. 3, supra.

Act XXIII of 1861 (Code of Civil Procedure).

[REP. ACT X OF 1877.]

See ACT X OF 1877.

See ACT XIV OF 1882.

(1)—S. 16—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 478, 7 B.H.C. Cr. 29.

(2)—Ss. 16, 19—See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL COURTS, 7 W.R. 482.

(3)—S. 19—See No. 2, supra.

Act XXIX of 1861 (Native Articles of War).

[REP., ACT V OF 1869.]

Art. 85—Summary power of flogging.—Enlisted store lascars attached to the Royal Artillery are not a native detachment within the meaning of art. 85 of Act XXIX of 1861; so that the officer commanding the Artillery is not competent to inflict upon them summary flogging under that Act. FAIZ KHAN v. BAYLEY, 11 P.R. 1868, Cr.

Act X of 1862 (Stamp-duties).

[REP., ACT VII OF 1870.]

See ACT VII OF 1870.

(1)—Stamp duty on mere acknowledgment.—An acknowledgment that a sum of money was due, without any express promise to pay, need not be stamped. CROWN v. JETHOO MULL, 43 P.R. 1867, Cr.

(2)—Unstamped instrument—Liability of parties.—The writer of a document, if he is not a party to it, and the witnesses to the document are not liable, if the document is not properly stamped. The person, in whose favour the document is made, is not also liable, if he was not a party to its execution. KESRA SINGH v. CROWN, 15 P.R. 1869, Cr.

(3)—Reward to informer as to improperly stamped document.—A reward cannot be given to the reader or other ministerial officer of a Court who brings to notice that a document is improperly stamped. He is not an informer within the meaning of the Stamp Act. CROWN v. HAMEER CHAND, 13 P.R. 1875, Cr.

(4)—See ACT I OF 1868, s. 6, 1 Weir 781 = 7 M.H.C. App. 8.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1862 (Stamp-duties)—continued.

(5)—See PENAL CODE, ss. 21 (9), 161, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 36 = Cr. Rg. 28-7-1870.

(6)—S. 3—Scope of the section.—The restrictive words in s. 3 "unless in any case in which a higher penalty is imposed by this Act" mean "unless a penalty higher than that imposed by this section is imposed by some other part of this Act" and they apply both to a penalty exceeding Rs. 100 and to one higher than ten times the value of the omitted stamp. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 15TH FEB. 1867, 3 M. H. C. App. 27.

(7)—S. 3—Engrossing deed on unstamped paper.—The mere engrossing of a deed on an unstamped paper does not constitute an offence under s. 3 of Act X of 1862. REG. v JETHA MOTI; REG v. VIRJI KUVARSI, 2 B.H.C. 129.

(8)—S. 3—Liability of attesting witnesses for deficient stamp.—Attesting witnesses to the execution of a document and persons who draft it do not come within the words "make, execute, sign, or be a party to," as used in s. 3. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 15TH FEB. 1867, 3 M.H.C. App. 27.

(9)—S. 3—See COMPLAINT--PROCEDURE ON RECEIPT OF COMPLAINTS, 5 B.H.C. 48, Cr.

(10)—S. 3 (a)—Signing unstamped deed as witness.—The mere signing of an unstamped deed as a witness does not constitute an offence under s. 3 (a) of Act X of 1862. REG. v. JETHA MOTI; REG. v. VIRJI KUVARSI, 2 B. H.C. 129.

(11)—Ss. 3 and 52—Prosecution under s. 3 when may be instituted.—A prosecution under s. 3 of Act X of 1862, if it is not authorized by the Collector, or by any other officer specially authorized by Government to direct a prosecution, is irregular under the provisions of s. 52 of the Act. QUEEN v. ADJOODHYA PERSHAD, 2 N.W.P. 188.

(12)—Ss. 3 and 54—Engrossing document on unstamped paper.—Persons who have merely engrossed documents liable to stamp duty on unstamped papers are not liable to be fined under s. 54, Act X of 1862. REG. v. JOTI bin SATU, 1 B.H.C. 37.

(13)—S. 11—Copies of records of criminal trial—Stamp—Authentication of copies.—With the exception of the depositions of witnesses and the documentary evidence and final sentences or orders in the cases falling within the Governor-General's notification of 8th January 1863, copies of any part of the record of a criminal trial, whether authenticated or unauthenticated, can only be furnished to applicants on stamp paper. Copies of documents which the law requires to be on stamp paper, copies of orders which fall within the exemption of the Governor-General's notification, and copies which the law requires Courts to furnish to the parties, must in all cases be authenticated. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS 26TH JULY, 1869, 4 M H.C. App. 57.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1862 (Stamp-duties)—concluded.

(14)—S. 15—See ACT XXXVI OF 1860, 14 M. 255.

(15)—S. 50—Procedure—Collector—Sanction of Civil Court.—A Collector, to whom an application is made for a new stamp under cl. 2 of this section, is not a Court, Civil and Criminal, and the application, therefore, not being a document given in evidence in any proceeding of a Court, s. 170, Crim. Pro. Code, does not cover such a case. QUEEN v. GOUR MOHUN SEIN, 11 W.R.Cr. 48 = 3 B.L.R.A.Cr. 6.

(16)—S. 52—See No. 11, supra.

(17)—S. 54—See No. 12, supra.

Act XV of 1862 (Amending the Code of Criminal Procedure).

[REP., ACT VIII OF 1869.]

See ACT VIII OF 1869.

(1)—See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS—GENERAL, 22 P.R. 1867, Cr.

(2)—S. 1—Imprisonment—Transportation—Penal Code, s. 59—An officer, exercising the powers described in s. 1 of the Act, is competent, under the provisions of s. 59 of the Penal Code, to pass a sentence of transportation for seven years instead of awarding a sentence of imprisonment. In the case of BOODHOOA, 9 W.R Cr. 6 = B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 869.

(3)—S. 1—See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS—GENERAL, 32 P.R. 1868, Cr.

Act XVII of 1862 (Repealing Enactments relating to Criminal Law).

[REP., ACT X OF 1872.]

See CRIM. PRO. CODE.

(1)—Jurisdiction of Subordinate Magistrate—Act III of 1857, s. 13.—The repealing section of Act XVII of 1862 does not affect the power of a Subordinate Magistrate under s. 13 of Act III of 1857. REG. v. MIR SAHEB KASSAMIA, 1 B.H.C. 100.

(2)—Legality of conviction—Offences committed before Act XVII of 1862.—In the case of a conviction in 1876 of a prisoner, under Regulation IV of 1797, for an offence of culpable homicide committed in 1861, before the Penal Code came into operation, held, the conviction was illegal, inasmuch as Reg. IV of 1797 was repealed by Act XVII of 1862 and the latter Act was wholly repealed by Acts VIII of 1868 and X of 1872 and inasmuch as s. 6 of Act I of 1868, which provided that the repeal of any Act or Regulation shall not affect any offence committed before the Repealing Act came into force was not applicable to the case. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. DILJOUR MISSER, 2 C. 225, F B. [Appr., 1 A. 599.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVII of 1862 (Repealing Enactments relating to Criminal Law)—concluded.

(3)—See ACT VII OF 1854, s. 23, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 13.

(3-a)—See ACT XVIII OF 1854, s. 35, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 54.

(4)—See ACT III OF 1857, s. 13, 4 B.H.C. Cr. 13.

(5)—S. 1—Scope.—S. 23 of Act VII of 1854 is not repealed by the schedule to Act XVII of 1862. REG v. SOUTER, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 13.

(6)—Ss. 1, 2, 4—General Clauses Act (I of 1868)—Penal Code—Offences committed prior to 1*st January*, 1862.—A person could not be convicted of an offence committed prior to the 1st January, 1862, under Act XVII of 1862, because that Act was a repealing Act and not an Act providing for the punishment of such offences. But it is another question whether persons who have committed offences prior to 1st January, 1862, are not amenable to punishment under the Regulations. To the several repealing Acts, passed since the General Clauses Act came into operation, the provisions of s. 6 of the General Clauses Act apply, and the repeal of a Regulation subsequently to the passing of the Act does not relieve offenders from the penalties to which they were liable under the Regulations. It is a more difficult question whether the right of reference given by s. 3 of Reg. IV of 1797 remains after the repeal of Act XVII of 1862, if that right had not accrued before the Act was repealed, and the conviction had not taken place till after the repeal of the Act. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. MULUA, 1 A.599. (2 C. 225, F.B., Appr.)

(7)—S. 2—See No. 6, supra.

(8)—S. 4—See REVISION—SENTENCES, 15 W.R. Cr. 48.

(9)—S. 4—See SESSIONS JUDGE, JURISDICTION OF, 14 W.R. Cr. 76.

(10)—S. 4—See NO. 6, supra.

Act XVIII of 1862 (Criminal Procedure Supreme Courts).

[REP., ACT X OF 1882.]

(1)—S. 1—Amendment of charge—Prisoner prejudiced on merits.—Under s. 1 of this Act, the Court has power to order the amendment of a charge involving a change in the ownership of stolen property, provided such amendment does not prejudice the accused in his defence upon the merits. In cases where there is a doubt as to whether an amendment of a charge will or will not prejudice the accused in his defence upon the merits, the amendment ought not to be made. REG. v. GOVINDAS HARIDAS, 6 B. H. C. Cr. 76. [R., 22 C. 391.]

(2)—S. 1—See CHARGE—AMENDMENT OF CHARGE, 6 B.H.C. Cr. 76.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1862 (Criminal Procedure Supreme Courts)—continued.

(3)—S. 27—Defamation—Good faith—Onus probandi.—This Act refers only to the High Court in its original criminal jurisdiction, and is not applicable to mofussil Courts. S. 27 of the Act requires proof of the existence of the circumstances relied on as a defence, before good faith can be presumed in a case of defamation. The onus of proving good faith is on the person making the imputation. Before such person can claim the benefit of exception 9, s. 499, Penal Code, he must show that he has exercised due care and caution. MR. SEALY v. RAMNARAIN BOSE, 4 W.R. 22. Cr. [R., A.W. N. 1907, 235, 4 A.L.J. 605.]

(4)—S. 35—Scope of the section—Drunkenness whilst on duty.—The proper construction and effect of s. 35 of Act XVIII of 1862 is, that, if a person is accused of an offence committed whilst on a journey or voyage, he may be tried, if a part of the journey or voyage, during which the offence which the person accused is alleged to have committed, is within the local limits of the Court's jurisdiction. The offence of drunkenness of a guard in charge of a train, whilst on duty, is one of the offences contemplated by s. 35 of Act XVIII of 1862. REGINA v. MALONY, 1 M.H.C. 193.

(5)—S. 41—Omission in the charge to state that property obtained was property of complainant.—Under s. 41, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, an omission to state, in an indictment for an offence under ss. 415 and 420 of the Penal Code, that the money, which, it was alleged, the prisoner had, by deceit, fraudulently induced the prosecutor, to pay to him, was the property of the prosecutor, was held to be defective for uncertainty. The objection to such indictment, in order to be valid, should be taken before the jury was sworn. QUEEN v. WILLAMS, 1 Weir. 471=1 M. H. C. 31.

(6)—S. 41—Charge—Ground for arrest of judgment—Act XIII of 1865.—It ought to appear on the face of the charge that it had been delivered to the Clerk of the Crown, by a Justice of the Peace or by a Magistrate, but its not so appearing is a formal defect only, to which the objection could only be taken under s. 41 of Act XVIII of 1862 before the jury has been sworn, and it was not a ground for arrest of judgment. QUEEN v. THOMPSON, 1 B.L.R. O. Cr. 1.

(7)—S. 41—Caption of charge.—Where the High Court could have directed the preliminary investigation of a charge against N by a Deputy Magistrate, but it did not appear in the caption of the charge or in evidence that the Court had so directed it, held that it was no ground for arrest of judgment, but the objection might have been raised before the jury was sworn under s. 41 of Act XVIII of 1862. QUEEN v. NAVADWIP CHANDRA GOSHWAMI, 1 B.L.R.O. Cr. 15=15 W. R. Cr. 71, Note. [R., 16 W.R. Cr. 21, 17 W.R. Cr. 35, 19 A. 390, F. B.].

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1862 (Criminal Procedure Supreme Courts)—concluded.

(8)—S. 41—Amendment of charge.—The indictment may be amended at any stage of trial. QUEEN v. WILLIAMS, 1 Ind. Jur. O. S. 94.

(9)—S. 41—See CHARGE—AMENDMENT OF CHARGE, 1 M.H.C. 31=1 Weir 471.

Act XX of 1863 (Religious Endowments).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PART, ACT VII OF 1870; ACT XIV OF 1870; ACT XVI OF 1874. S. 3, AMENDED, ACT XII OF 1891. EXTENDED TO THE KANARA DISTRICT, BOM. ACT VII OF 1865.]

(1)—Suit for trespass—Expenses of criminal proceedings—See DAMAGES, 4 M.H.C. 410.

(2)—S. 20—Reg. VII of 1817, s 16—Jurisdiction of ordinary Criminal Courts—Criminal breach of trust by trustee of temple—Permission of committee, whether necessary before prosecution.—The ordinary criminal law is not excluded by Reg. VII of 1817 or by Act XX of 1863.—The permission of the Board of Revenue or the Committee of a temple is required only for the procedure prescribed in the special Acts, and the special provisions cannot be taken out of the Acts and applied as restrictions to the ordinary operation of the Criminal Law. Therefore, the trustee and manager of a temple can be prosecuted for criminal breach of trust, and the permission of the Committee appointed under Act XX of 1863 is not necessary. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 22ND FEBRUARY 1876, 1 M. 55=1 Weir 755.

Act III of 1864 (Foreigners).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1876. S. 24, AMENDED, ACT XII OF 1891. DECLARED IN FORCE—THROUGHOUT BRITISH INDIA, EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3; IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3.]

(1)—Cantonment Act III of 1864, Ch. III, r. 50—Lattice work to keep fowl.—A structure of lattice work erected in the compound of a house, to keep fowl in, is not a house or hut within the meaning of r. 50, Ch. III of the Cantonment Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHARLES MACLVOR, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 609=Cr. Rg. 29 of 1892.

(2)—Ss. 3 and 4—Validity and scope of Act—Warrant under section—Form.—Act III of 1864 was not ultra vires of the Governor-General of India in Council. Per Bayley, J.—The Act applies to all foreigners, although their residence in Bombay may not be likely to affect or endanger the peace and security of British India. Per Starling, J.—The Government would be the sole judges of what was necessary for the peace and security of British India, and if they acted in accordance with the letter of the Act, the High Court could not enquire into the sufficiency or otherwise of their reasons for so acting. A warrant issued under ss. 3 and 4 of Act III of 1864, should not comprise two distinct orders, one to the foreigner to remove himself from British India, the other to arrest him in case it is not duly obeyed. There should be a separate order directing him to remove himself from British India which should be duly served upon him. Then, in case of his refusal or neglect to comply with its terms, there should be a further order by the Governor in Council authorizing his arrest and detention in jail. The persons named in the warrant should be described with sufficient certainty and particularity. The particular route to be specified in the order referred to in s. 3 of Act III of 1864, is intended to be a route in British India and not a route beyond the High Seas. In the absence of statutory provision, the absence of a seal will render a warrant void. ALTER CAUFMAN v. GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY, 18 B. 636.

(3)—S. 4—See No. 2, supra.

Act VI of 1864 (Whipping).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PART, ACT X OF 1872; ACT XVI OF 1874; ACT X OF 1882. REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT V OF 1900. AMENDED ACT III OF 1895, S. 5. REP. EXCEPT IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT THE CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS, KACHIN HILL TRACTS, AND THE CHIN HILLS, ACT IV OF 1909. DECLARED IN FORCE, IN THE ANGUL DISTRICTS, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3, IN THE CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS (WITH A MODIFICATION), REG. I OF 1900, S. 4; IN KACHIN HILL TRACTS AS REGARDS HILL TRIBES (WITH A MODIFICATION), REG. I OF 1895, S. 3, IN CERTAIN TRACTS IN THE CHIN HILLS (WITH A MODIFICATION), REG. V OF 1896, S. 3].

See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), SS. 390 TO 395.

See JUVENILE OFFENDERS.

See SENTENCE—WHIPPING.

(1)—Limit as to number of stripes.—The number of stripes cannot exceed thirty and the punishment cannot be executed by instalments. BAMJUS v. SOOKHRAM, 82 P.R. 1866, Cr.

(2)—Time limit for executing sentence of whipping.—It is imperative to carry out a sentence of whipping in addition to imprisonment immediately on the expiry of 15 days from the date on which it was passed, unless an appeal be made within that time. CROWN v. RANJA, 31 P.R. 1878, Cr. See, also, CROWN v. GOOLAB, 54 P.R. 1866, Cr. EMPRESS v. MAN, 34 P.R. 1880, Cr.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1864 (Whipping)—continued.

(3)—Postponement of sentence of whipping.—It is not competent to a Judge to postpone the sentence of whipping till after the expiry of sentence of imprisonment imposed upon the accused. EMPEROR v. JAGANNATH SAGAR, 4 Bom. L.R. 929.

(4)—Postponement of sentence of whipping.—It is illegal to order a sentence of whipping to be inflicted on the prisoner at the time of release from jail. CROWN v. GOOLAB, 54 P.R. 1866, Cr. See, also, CROWN v. RANJA, 31 P.R. 1878, Cr. EMPRESS v. MAN, 34 P.R. 1880, Cr.

(5)—Postponement of sentence of whipping.—In passing a sentence of whipping in addition to six months' imprisonment, a Deputy Magistrate ordered that the prisoner should be brought before him at the termination of the imprisonment, and that the sentence of whipping should then be carried out. Held that the sentence of whipping should be cancelled as having become inoperative and incapable of being carried out. HURCHANDRA KULAL v. JAFER ALI, 20 W.R. Cr. 72. (6 M.H.C. App. 36, F.)

(6)—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 391 and 407—Sentence of whipping by a Magistrate—Application for postponement of sentence until hearing of appeal.—The Code makes no provision whereby a Magistrate imposing a sentence of whipping only can suspend its execution, nor does it provide for the detention of a person so sentenced to allow of his appealing, nor for his re-arrest to undergo the whipping if the sentence is confirmed on appeal. It is only when whipping is added to imprisonment in an appealable case, that whipping may, and ought to, be postponed. MEYYAN v. EMPEROR, 26 M. 465 = 2 Weir 447.

(7)—Expiry of the term fixed for whipping.—Where the term specified for the execution of a sentence of whipping has expired, and the punishment has not been inflicted, the sentence is no longer operative and should be cancelled. EMPRESS v. MAN, 34 P.R. 1880, Cr. See, also, CROWN v. GOOLAB, 54 P.R. 1866, Cr. CROWN v. RANJA, 31 P.R. 1878 Cr.

(8)—District Magistrate, interference of, in cases of whipping—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 395.—The words, "the Court which passed the sentence," in s. 395, Crim. Pro. Code (1898) do not mean the same officer who inflicted the punishment of whipping originally and, in the absence of the officer who originally passed the sentence, the District Magistrate can be held to be "the Court" which passed the sentence. CHHAJJU v. EMPEROR, 33 P.R. 1901, Cr. (10 P.R. 1889 Cr., R. & Expl.)

(9)—Jurisdiction of Second Class Magistrate to pass sentence of whipping.—A person, appointed as a Magistrate of the Second Class under Act X of 1872, is incompetent, since the coming into force of Act X of 1882, to pass a sentence of whipping, unless he is specially empowered so to do according to the provisions of s. 32 of the latter Act. EMPRESS v. BHAGVANTA RAVJI, 7 B. 303.

(10)—Whipping in default of payment of fine.—Whipping cannot be awarded in default of payment of fine. BUDHU v. BAHU, 5 P.R. 1866 Cr.

(11)—Appeal—Crim. Pro. Code (1861).—Appeals from sentences of whipping are regulated by the Crim. Pro. Code, and not by the Whipping Act. CROWN v. ESHREE, 29 P.R. 1866, Cr.

(12)—Whipping not authorized by the Act in cases of—S. 75, Penal Code, inapplicable to offences punishable under s. 511.—The Whipping Act does not deal with attempts to commit offences punishable with whipping, and s. 75 is not applicable to offences punishable under s. 511 which appears in Chapter XXIII of the Code and not in either of the chapters referred to in s. 75. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO HLAING, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 531. (3 A. 773, R.)

(13)—Sentence in lieu of whipping, Magistrate's power to award.—A Magistrate cannot inflict a sentence in lieu of whipping, when that sentence, together with the substituted sentence, is in excess of the maximum which he is competent to inflict. CROWN v. BARKAT ALI, 87 P.L.R. 1901 = 11 P.R. 1901, Cr. (21 A. 25, F.)

(14)—Solitary confinement, legality of—Imprisonment in lieu of whipping.—An award of solitary confinement to a person sentenced to rigorous imprisonment in lieu of whipping is not illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GAMAN, 14 P.R. 1899, Cr.

(15)—Simultaneous conviction for two offences—Sentence of whipping.—A simultaneous conviction for two offences of the same character does not warrant the sentence of whipping in addition to other punishment for one of them. EMPRESS v. SEWAK, 8 P.R. 1885, Cr. (22 P.R. 1872, Cr., R.) [R., 20 P.R. 1886, Cr.] See, also, EMPRESS v. JHANDU, 9 P.R. 1885. Cr.

(16)—Conviction for theft after previous conviction for same offence—Whipping.—A sentence of whipping can legally be awarded in a case where the accused, who has been previously convicted of theft, is subsequently convicted of theft in a building. JEEWUN v. BOODHA, 51 P.R. 1867, Cr. [F., 41 P.R. 1880, Cr.]

(17)—Evidence of previous conviction necessary for awarding whipping.—As a rule, before flogging is given as an additional punishment, there ought to be formal evidence upon the record of the previous convictions relied on. The conviction and the identity of the prisoner ought to be proved in the regular way. A mere kyfeut is no evidence whatever. QUEEN v. NUZEE NUSHYO, 15 W.R. Cr. 52.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1864 (Whipping)—continued.

(18)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 221—Previous conviction to be set out in charge.—If it is intended to use a previous conviction for the purpose of applying the Whipping Act, it must be set out in the charge. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PO THAUNG, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 337.

(19)—Previous conviction for dishonestly receiving stolen property.—A previous conviction for dishonestly receiving stolen property does not justify the infliction of whipping in addition to a sentence of imprisonment on a subsequent conviction for theft. KOURI v. EMPRESS, 39 P.R. 1880, Cr.

(20)—Previous conviction necessary.—The law does not authorize the infliction of whipping in addition to another punishment, unless where the offence has been committed after a previous conviction for the same offence. EMPRESS v. HAVAT, 20 P.R. 1886, Cr. (8 P.R. 1885, Cr., 9 P.R. 1885, Cr., R.)

(21)—Previous conviction for theft in foreign territory—Subsequent conviction for theft in British India.—A previous conviction of theft in a foreign territory does not justify a sentence of whipping in addition to imprisonment on a conviction for the same offence in British India. EMPRESS v. MATHLA, 4 P.R. 1881, Cr.

(22)—Previous conviction quashed by appellate Court.—Where a previous conviction was reversed on appeal and, a few days after, the subsequent conviction was upheld on appeal, the sentence of imprisonment and whipping inflicted by the lower Court being also upheld, held that the appellate Court should not have upheld the sentence of whipping, as there was no previous conviction on the date of the appellate Court's judgment. As the sentence of whipping had been inflicted, held, that the sentence of imprisonment should be quashed. KALU BEG v. CROWN, 16 P.R. 1875, Cr.

(23)—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), s. 46—Previous conviction.—Unless there has been a previous conviction, whipping cannot be awarded as one of two or more punishments awarded under s. 46, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861. CROWN v. PHEENA, 17 P.R. 1870, Cr.

(24)—Previous convictions in Berar.—Previous convictions had in Berar cannot be taken into consideration for the purpose of affecting the punishment, which a Court would be competent to award on a second conviction, either under the provisions of s. 75, of the Penal Code or under those of the Whipping Act. EMPRESS v. LAL SINGH, 7 C.P L.R. Cr. 24. [R., 9 Cr. L. J. 97=4 N.L.R. 177.]

(25)—Offence must be same in both convictions.—In order to legalize whipping in addition to imprisonment in the case of a second conviction the offence must be the same in both cases. QUEEN v. AMARUT SHEIKH, 4 W.R. Cr. 20.

(26)—And not merely similar—Dacoity committed prior to previous conviction.—Under the above section, a sentence of whipping in addition to imprisonment is not legal where the conviction was in respect of a dacoity committed prior to the previous conviction for a similar offence. KING-EMPEROR v. BABYA BHIVA, 3 Bom. L.R. 419=25 B. 712, F.B., (12 W.R. Cr. 68, 3 B.H.C. 38, R.)

(27)—Conviction for two or more offences—Whipping whether awardable as punishment for one of them.—The effect of the Whipping Act is to make whipping a punishment under the Penal Code, and it is, therefore, competent to the Magistrate on a second conviction at the same trial to award a sentence of whipping either in substitution for, or in addition to, imprisonment, subject to the restrictions in the Whipping Act, itself. Therefore, a Court is not precluded from sentencing a prisoner, convicted at one time of two or more offences punishable under the Penal Code, to rigorous imprisonment in one case and to whipping in the other. HIGH COURT. PROCEEDINGS 18TH FEB. 1870, 5M H C. App. 18. [F., 2 L.B R. 14.]

(28)—Cases where whipping can be awarded in addition to other punishments.—Only in cases where a person is convicted a second time for the same offence, and not merely of a similar offence, can whipping be awarded in addition to imprisonment. BUDHU v. BAHU, 5 P.R. 1866, Cr., CROWN v. GOOLAB, 54 P.R. 1866. Cr.; IMRAT v. BHOOMIA, 95 P. R. 1866, Cr.; SOORAJOODDEEN v. SAMUN, 35 P.R. 1869. Cr.

(29)—Whipping on conviction for two offences at the same time.—When the accused is convicted at the same time of two offences, he may be punished with whipping. CROWN v. DURRAB, 22 P.R. 1872, Cr. [R., 21 P.R. 1879, 8 P.R. 1885, 20 P.R. 1886.] See, also, EMPRESS v. SEWAK, 8 P.R. 1885, Cr.; EMPRESS v. JHANDU, 9 P.R. 1885, Cr. EMPRESS v. HAVAT, 20 P.R. 1886, Cr.

(30)—When whipping cannot be awarded in addition to other punishments—Whipping—Cumulative sentence.—In this case, the Magistrate in exercise of the powers conferred by s. 46 of the Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, passed a cumulative sentence against a person convicted at one and the same time of two or more offences punishable under the Indian Penal Code; held that he cannot, in addition to the penalties prescribed by the Penal Code, sentence the prisoner to whipping under the above Act, nor can he exceed twice the extent of his ordinary jurisdiction as defined by s. 22 of the Crim. Pro. Code. (Per Peacock, C.J.; Phear and Seaton-Karr, JJ). In the case of hardened offenders, a Magistrate can award whipping in addition to the maximum of imprisonment which he is competent to award. (Per Seaton-Karr, J. The Magistrate may, in such a case, in addition to awarding double the punishment which may be awarded for a single offence, award the punishment of whipping; but only one whipping can be awarded. (Per Macpherson and Jackson, JJ). NASSIR v. CHUNDER, B.L.R. Sup. Vol. 951=9 W.R. Cr. 41. [F., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 564, 955, 14 W.R. Cr. 7, 16 B. 357.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1864 (Whipping)—continued.

(31)—Illegal punishment of whipping—Chief Court's power.—Where whipping is illegally inflicted in addition to other punishments, the Chief Court should remit the latter punishment. QUEEN v. JOWIND SINGH, 121 P.R. 1866, Cr. See, also, SOORAJOODDEEN v. SAMUN, 35 P.R. 1869, Cr.; KALU BEG v. CROWN, 16 P. R. 1875, Cr.

(32)—Liability to whipping — Grounds of liability to be stated both in charge and judgment—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 221, 5 M. 158.

(33)—See OFFENCE, L. B. R. 1893—1900, 315.

(34)—S. 1—Application of the Act.—The Whipping Act applies to offences under the Penal Code only. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA TAW THA, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 392.

(35)—S. 1—Penal Code and Crim. Pro. Code to be read with Act VI of 1864.—The Penal Code and the Code of Criminal Procedure must be read as if the Whipping Act formed a part of the Penal Code from the date of its enactment, and s. 46 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (1861) is applicable to all offences and punishments as prescribed by the Penal Code in its present and amended form. MONIRUDDEEN SHAMADAR v. GOUR CHUNDER SHAMADAR, 15 W.R. Cr. 89=7 B.L.R. F.B. 165.

(36)—S 2—Scope.—S. 2 of the Act refers to the commission of the offences, not to attempts to commit offences. EMPRESS v. JAGROO CHAMAR, 12 C.P.L.R. 1, Cr.

(37) S. 2—Whipping only in lieu of other punishment.—In the case of adults on a first conviction, or in the case of juvenile offenders, whether for a first or for any other offence, whipping can only be in lieu of any other punishment. QUEEN v. ABDOOL KHIDMUTGAR, W.R. 1864, Cr. 38. [R., 13 W.R. Cr. 40.]

(38)—S. 2—Whipping whether can be inflicted for offences under s. 2 in additon to other punishments.—The law does not authorise the sentence of whipping for offences specified in s. 2 of the Whipping Act, in addition to any other punishment to which the offender may be liable under the Penal Code, unless where the offence has been committed after a previous conviction for the same offence. REG. v. SURXA bin KRISHNA MANDAVRAD, 3 B H.C. Cr. 38. [F., 25 B. 712=3 Bom. L.R. 419; 7 B.H.C. 70; D., 2 L.B.R. 14.]

(39)—S. 2—Whipping in addition to imprisonment, when legal.—In this case, the question was referred to the Full Bench, whether a sentence of whipping and imprisonment would be legal on a finding that the accused committed "house breaking by night and theft of property," an offence punishable under s. 457 of the Penal Code and had been previously convicted of theft under s. 380. Held, though, under the circumstances, it was open to the Magistrate to have selected s. 380 or s. 457 for convicting the accused under, and, if he had selected the former, he could have imposed both imprisonment and whipping on account of the previous conviction under s. 380, yet, since the conviction in question, as it stood, was solely one under s. 457, for the reasons stated in 1 L.B.R. 149, the sentence of imprisonment and whipping in this case is illegal. (Irwin, J., dissenting). KING-EMPEROR v. NGA TO, 3 L.B.R. 161, F.B. (1 L.B.R. 362 149, 279, R.)

(40)—S. 2—Fine or imprisonment in addition to whipping.—A sentence of fine or imprisonment in addition to whipping under s. 2 is illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA THA SIN, U B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 391. (16 B. 357, R.)

(41)—S. 2—Whipping and fine—Legality of sentence.—Where an accused person is sentenced to whipping, it is not legal to sentence him also to pay a fine, the sentence being opposed to s. 2 of the Whipping Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DAGDU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 564. (5 B.H.C. 83, Cr., R.)

(42)—S. 2—Penal Code, ss. 380, 379, 411—Whipping in addition to imprisonment—In order to justify a sentence of whipping in addition to a sentence of imprisonment under s. 380, I.P.C., for any of the offences mentioned in s. 2 of the Act, the previous conviction must have been for the same offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO SIN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 336.

(43)—S. 2—When whipping may be awarded in addition to other punishments.—Held (Kemp and Phear, JJ., dissenting) that, notwithstanding s. 46 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1861, a person convicted at the same time of two or more offences punishable under the Penal Code, may, in addition to the punishments prescribed by the Penal Code, be sentenced to whipping under Act VI of 1864. MONIRUDDIN SHAMADAR v. GOUR CHUNDER SHAMADAR, 15 W.R. Cr. 89=7 B.L.R. F.B. 165.

(44)—S. 2—Penal Code, ss. 456, 457—Whipping in addition to imprisonment.—Where an accused, previously convicted of an offence under s. 456 of the Penal Code, is again convicted of an offence under s. 457 of the Indian Penal Code, he is not liable to whipping in addition to the imprisonment. EMPRESS v. TITROO alias KISHNOO alias BHURA GOND, 14 C.P.L.R. 16.

(45)—S. 2—Validity of adding fine or imprisonment to sentence of whipping.—In a case where an accused person is sentenced to whipping under the Act, the punishment of fine, or imprisonment, or both cannot be legally inflicted under the Penal Code in addition to the whipping. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DAGADU, 16 B. 357. [F., 11 C.P.L.R. 13, Cr., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 391, 5 L.B.R. 22 ; Appl., 6 C.P.L.R. 34, Cr.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1864 (Whipping)—continued.

(46)—S. 2—"Punishment," meaning of.—The word "punishment" as used in s. 2 of the Act means the total of punishments awardable for the offence ; otherwise, it would be possible to substitute a whipping for the fine and to inflict imprisonment in addition. EMPRESS v. KIRPAL PATHARI, 11 C.P.L R. 13, Cr. (16 B. 357, F.) .

(47)—S. 2—"Punishment."—In s. 2 of the Whipping Act, which contains no mention of s. 53, I.P.C., the word "punishment" is used in a different sense from the word "punishments" in the preceding section, and may be interpreted to mean the total punishment awardable, i.e., in a case under s. 379, I.P.C., imprisonment and whipping. So, if the sentence of whipping is inflicted under s. 2 of the Whipping Act, no other punishment as prescribed by the Penal Code, either imprisonment, or fine or both, can be legally inflicted. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DAGADU, 16 B. 357. [F., 11 C.P.L. R. 13, Cr., 10 Cr.L.J. 120=2 Ind. Cas. 620=5 L.B.R. 22, U.B.R. 1897—1901, 391, Cr. ; Appl., 6 C.P.L.R. 34.]

(48)—S. 2—Theft in dwelling-house, etc.—Whipping.—Whipping may be substituted for any other punishment for the offence of theft in a dwelling-house, etc. QUEEN v. JUNGHOO KHAN, 3 W.R. Cr. 36.

(49)—S. 2—House-breaking in order to commit theft—Theft—Separate sentences.—In this case the prisoner was convicted of "house-breaking in order to commit theft," and of "theft," both offences being portions of one continuous criminal act, and was sentenced, on the first charge to one year's rigorous imprisonment, under s. 457 of the Indian Penal Code, and, on the second charge, to receive twenty stripes, under s. 2 of the Whipping Act. The separate sentences, though not illegal, were disapproved of as being contrary to the spirit and intention of the Whipping Act. REG. v. GENU bin AKU, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 83. [R., 16 B. 357=Rat. Un. Cr. C. 564, 4 Ind. Cas. 597= 3 S. L.R. 102.]

(50)—S. 2—Groups A and D—Previous conviction of offence of same group—House-theft—Subsequent house-breaking.—In s. 2 of the Whipping Act, an offence under Group D is distinguished from that under Group A, though lurking house-trespass or house-breaking is not punishable with whipping under s. 2, unless committed with a view to commit an offence punishable with whipping such as theft. In the case of a previous conviction for house-theft, a subsequent conviction for house-breaking will not render the offender liable to whipping, though the house-theft was included in the house-breaking. CROWN v. SHAN BYU, 1 L.B.R. 149. [F., 3 L.B.R. 161, F.B.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1864 (Whipping)—continued.

(51)—S. 2—Attempt to commit offence.—Attempts to commit offences, punishable under s. 2 of Act VI of 1864, not being also offences specified in the second schedule to the Burma Laws Act, 1886, are not punishable with whipping. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA NAUNG, U. B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 332. (S.J.L.B. 399, R.)

(52)—S. 2—Attempt Whipping.—A sentence of whipping may not be passed for an attempt to commit an offence which is punishable with whipping under that Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO HLE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 399.

(53)—S. 2—S. 5 of Act III of 1895—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 390—Whipping.— Where a sentence of whipping is passed as a sole punishment under the section (Act III of 1895, s. 5), it is not necessary first to pass a sentence provided for the offence under the Penal Code, and then to convert such sentence into one of whipping. S. 390, Crim. Pro. Code, authorises the Court passing a sentence of whipping, only to fix the place and time and for its execution, but it does not contemplate a postponement of the execution of the sentence to a future day. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MEDULLA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 906=Cr. Rg. 17 of 1897.

(54)—Ss. 2 and 3—Condition for whipping to be in addition to imprisonment.—A person convicted under s. 457, Penal Code, cannot be punished with whipping in addition to imprisonment, if he has not been previously convicted either of the same offence or of any offence falling under the group of offences specified in s. 2, Act VI of 1864. GAJJU v. KING-EMPEROR, 2 A.L.J. 173=2 Cr. L.J. 105.

(55)—Ss. 2, 3—Penal Code, ss. 378, 411.—Held, that, on conviction for dishonestly receiving stolen property, the accused could not be sentenced to be whipped in addition to rigorous imprisonment, on the ground that he had been twice previously convicted of theft, as the offence of theft, is not the same as that of dishonestly receiving stolen property. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. PARTAB, 1 A. 666.

(56)—Ss. 2 to 5—Juvenile offenders.—S. 5 of Act VI of 1864 is not meant to supersede ss. 3 and 4, but to be applied in the proper cases alternately with those sections. Ss. 2 to 4 apply also to juvenile offenders. REG. v. JEYKISON, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 78.

(57)—S. 3—Object of the section.—The addition of whipping for a second offence is apparently intended as a further deterrent to otherwise incorrigible offenders, for whose reform imprisonment alone had already proved insufficient. Whipping cannot be awarded on a second conviction, when the latter is for an offence committed previous to the former conviction. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 11TH AUG. 1881, No. 1556, 1 Weir 931.

(58)—S. 3—Penal Code, Act XLV of 1860, s. 511 — Attempt.—A sentence of whipping cannot be passed on a conviction for an attempt to commit house-breaking with intent to commit theft. REG. v. YELLA valad PARSHIA, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 37.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1864 (Whipping)—continued.

(59)—S. 3—Meaning of the expression "the same offence."—The words "the same offence" in s. 3 of the Act are to be construed literally. EMPRESS v. PEAREY, 6 C.P.L.R. 19, Cr.

(60)—S. 3—"Previously convicted," meaning.—The expression "previously convicted" in s. 3 of the Act is used in the sense of "convicted before the commission of the second offence." KING-EMPEROR v. LA SAING, U. B.R. 1907, 3rd Qr., Whipping 1=7 Cr.L.J. 212 =14 Bur. L.R. 186. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, I, 146, U.B.R. 1897—1901, I, 247, 4 B.L.R. App. Cr. 5, 2 L.B.R. 14, Diss.)

(61)—S. 3—Previous conviction, meaning of.—A previous conviction for the purpose of s. 75, Penal Code, and s. 3 of Act VI of 1864, is a conviction the penalty following which had been undergone by the accused (in whole or in part) at the time when he committed the offence for which he is being tried. EMPRESS v. BENI CHAMAR, 8 C.P.L.R.Cr. 17.

(62)—S. 3—Offence committed before previous conviction.—S. 3 of the Act is inapplicable when the second conviction is for an offence committed before the conviction. REG. v. KUSA LAKSHMAN, 7 B.H.C. Cr. 70. (3 B.H.C. Cr. 38, F.) [Diss., 2 L.B.R. 14; F., 3 Bom.L.R. 419=25 B. 712.]

(63)—S. 3—Juvenile offender — Offence committed before previous conviction.—S. 3 of the Whipping Act applies to juvenile as well as adult offenders. S. 3 of the Act is inapplicable when the second conviction is for an offence committed before conviction. REG. v. KUSA LAKSHMAN, 7 B.H.C.Cr. 70. (3 B.H.C. Cr. 38, F.) [Diss., 2 L.B.R. 14; F., 3 Bom.L.R. 419 =25 B. 712.]

(64)—S. 3—Imprisonment and whipping.—When the accused is convicted of two offences, for one of which he is sentenced to imprisonment and for the other to whipping, it is not permissible to postpone the whipping, merely because the accused appeals against the conviction of the first sentence. EMPEROR v. JAIWANT, 4 Bom.L.R. 436.

(65)—S. 3—When whipping awardable in addition to imprisonment.—In order to warrant a sentence of whipping in addition to imprisonment, the previous conviction should have been for the same specific offence as the subsequent conviction. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 25TH OCT. 1869, 5 M.H.C. App. 1.

(66)—S. 3—Whipping in addition to imprisonment or fine.—To justify the award of whipping in addition to imprisonment or fine, the previous conviction must have been for the same offence. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 28TH OCT. 1870, 5 M.H.C. App. 38. [Rel., 11 Cr. L.J. 57=4 Ind. Cas. 826=U.B.R. 1909, Penal Code, p. 25.]

(67)—S. 3—Cases in which whipping in addition to other punishment cannot be awarded.—Whipping cannot be added to a sentence of imprisonment in the case of a first conviction for the offence under punishment. QUEEN v. KANTERAM, 1 W.R. Cr. 24.

(68)—S. 3—Whipping and imprisonment.—This section does not allow of whipping in addition to imprisonment in the case of a fresh conviction. QUEEN v. TONAOKOCH, 2 W.R. Cr. 63.

(69)—S. 3—Whipping and imprisonment.—The sentence of whipping passed in addition to imprisonment under s. 457 of the Indian Penal Code, on an accused person who was previously convicted under s. 380, Penal Code, is illegal. EMPRESS v. PEAREY, 6 C.P.L.R. 19 Cr.

(70)—S. 3—Previous conviction of house-breaking—Subsequent conviction for attempt to commit house-breaking—Whipping and imprisonment.—A person, previously convicted of house-breaking and subsequently convicted of an attempt to commit the same offence, should not be sentenced to whipping in addition to imprisonment. EMPRESS v. MANSUKH, 42 P.R. 1880, Cr.

(71)—S. 3—Penal Code, ss. 379, 380—Previous conviction—Whipping and imprisonment.—An attempt to commit the offence of theft is not punishable with whipping. A conviction first of an attempt under s. 379, I.P.C., and then a conviction of an effected theft under s. 379, I.P.C., will not justify a double sentence of imprisonment and whipping. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ABDUL MASJID, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 338.

(72)—S. 3—Previous conviction for theft —Whipping and imprisonment.—It is doubtful when a previous conviction for theft that had occurred 14 days after the date of the theft for which the accused was subsequently charged would come within the provisions of s. 3, Act VI of 1864, so as to render a sentence of whipping in addition to imprisonment legal. GOBIND v. EMPRESS, 39 P.R. 1882, Cr. (19 P.R. 1872 Cr., F.B., R.)

(73)—S. 3—Subsequent conviction for an offence prior to that on which accused was convicted—Whipping and imprisonment.—Whipping in addition to imprisonment is awardable when the second conviction is for an offence committed prior to the offence on which the accused was first convicted. CROWN v. OOMRAH, 19 P.R. 1872, Cr. (41 P.R. 1867, Cr.; 29 P.R. 1869, Cr., Overruled).

(74)—S. 3—Previous conviction subsequent to commission of offence—Whipping in addition to imprisonment, legal.—A sentence of whipping, in addition to imprisonment under S. 3 of the Act, is lawful when the previous conviction is subsequent to the commission of the offence for which the prisoner is being tried. KING-EMPEROR v. NGA PO SEIN alias NGA THA YWE, 2 L B R. 14. (5 M.H.C. App. 18, F.; 3 B.H.C. Cr. 38, 7 B.H.C. Cr. 70, 4 B.L.R.A. Cr. 5, Diss.) [Diss., U.B.R, 1907, Whipping, 1; R., 14 Bur. L R. 186, 14 Bur. L.R. 67 = 7 Cr. L.J. 464 = 4 L.B.R. 199, 7 Cr. L.J. 212.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1864 (Whipping)—continued.

(75)—S. 3—Whether previous punishment for same offence necessary for awarding whipping in addition to imprisonment.—There is nothing in the language of the Act to support the contention that, in order that a person may be liable to whipping in addition to imprisonment, he should once before have been not only convicted of, but actually punished for, the same offence. The Act does not even require that the offence should have been committed after previous conviction, and certainly not that the sentence, which followed upon the conviction, shall have been undergone. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 26TH NOV. 1864, 1 Weir 932, Foot Note. [Overruled, 1 Weir 931.]

(76)—S. 3.—House-breaking by night—Previous convictions of theft—Double sentence of imprisonment and whipping, legality of—Power of Appellate Court to alter findings so as to legalise the sentence.—The accused was found in possession of stolen property, and, in consequence, was convicted of house-breaking by night with intent to commit theft. On his admitting two previous convictions for theft, he was sentenced to eighteen months' rigorous imprisonment and twenty lashes. On appeal the sentence of whipping was set aside by the Sessions Judge as illegal. Held, on revision, the double sentence of imprisonment and whipping was quite illegal as a sentence under s. 457, I.P.C., because the previous convictions were of theft; but, on the facts of the particular case it was obviously open to the Sessions Judge to alter the convictions and to convict the accused of both house-breaking by night and theft in a house. The double sentence would then be legal as a sentence for theft. KING-EMPEROR v. KYAW HLA AUNG, 3 L B.R. 112 = 3 Cr. L.J. 348.

(77)—S. 3—Penal Code. ss. 378, 380—Theft in a dwelling-house and simple theft.— An offence under s. 378 is distinct from one under s. 380, and a person convicted of theft in a dwelling-house, who has been previously convicted of simple theft is not liable to whipping. REG. v. CHANGIA valad SHUMIA, 7 B.H.C. Cr. 68.

(78)—S. 3—Sentence of whipping when the period of imprisonment is less than three months—Legality of.—This section as amended by Act III of 1895, is to be read subject to the provisions of s. 391 (3) of the Crim. Pro. Code; so a sentence of whipping, when imprisonment for less than three months is given, is illegal. EMPEROR v. JAIWANT, 4 Bom. L R. 436.

(79)—S. 3—Suspension of sentence.—A Sessions Judge has no authority to suspend a sentence in the absence of an appeal. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 25TH OCT. 1869, 5 M.H.C. App. 1.

(80)—S. 3—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 222, 2 Weir 267.

(81)—S. 3—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 391 (3), 4 Bom. L.R. 436.

(82)—S. 3—See PENAL CODE, s. 382, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 537 = Cr. Rg. 8 of 1891.

(83)—S. 3—See PREVIOUS CONVICTION, 8 C.P.L.R. 17, Cr.

(84)—S. 3—See SENTENCE — ENHANCEMENT OF SENTENCE, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 315, 378.

(85)—S. 3—See Nos. 54, 55, and 56, supra.

(86)—Ss 3, 4—See PREVIOUS CONVICTION, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 315.

(87)—Ss. 3 and 4—See BUR. REG. XIV OF 1887, s. 6, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 388.

(88)—Ss. 3 and 5—Juvenile offender, if liable to whipping and imprisonment.—No sentence of whipping on a juvenile offender can be passed with imprisonment under s. 5 of the Act. But such a combined sentence may be passed under s. 3. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA NWE, U.B. R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 331.

(89)—S. 4—Previous conviction essential for ordering whipping.—No whipping can be ordered where the accused had not been previously convicted of the same offence, in the case of an offence under s. 4 of the Whipping Act. REG. v. BABAJI valad BAPU, 4 B.H.C. Cr. 5.

(90)—S 4—Previous conviction necessary.—A sentence of whipping under s. 4 can only be inflicted in addition to other punishment on a second conviction of the offences specified therein, when the first offence was committed sometime previous to the second conviction, though after the passing of the Indian Penal Code. QUEEN v. UDOZ PUTNAICK, 12 W.R. Cr. 68 = 4 B.L.R.A. Cr. 5.

(91)—S. 4—Previous conviction.—When a person, who has been previously convicted, is a second time convicted at one time of two or more offences, he may be punished with only one whipping in addition to any other punishment to which, under s. 46 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1861, he may be liable. RUTTUN BEWA v. BUHUR; JHOWLA v. BUHUR, 14 W.R. Cr. 7. [R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 955.]

(91-a)—S. 4—See Nos. 56, 86 and 87, supra.

(92)—S. 5—Scope—Penal Code—Special Act.—This section applies only to cases of offences under the Penal Code and not to cases under any special law and a sentence of whipping in these cases is illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DAYA KASHIRAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 190 = Cr. Rg. 16th Aug. 1883.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1864 (Whipping)—continued.

(93)—S. 5—Scope and application of.— S. 5 of the Act applies only to offences punishable under the Indian Penal Code, and not to those punishable under the Railway Act. EMPRESS v. RAGIA, 11 C.P.L.R. 8, Cr.

(94)—S. 5—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s 392 —Act IX of 1875 (Majority Act), ss. 3 and 4.—The words "juvenile offender" in s. 5 of the Act mean an offender under 16 years of age. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PU, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 355.

(95)—S. 5—"Juvenile offender."—The words "juvenile offender" mean a person under sixteen years of age. EMPRESS v. LALJI KORI, 7 C. P.L.R. 32, Cr.

(96)—S. 5—Whipping can be awarded only in lieu of other sentences in case of juvenile offenders.—In the case of juvenile offenders, whipping can be awarded in lieu of the other punishment and not in addition to it. EMPRESS v. KASHI, A.W.N. 1885, 178.

(97)—S. 5—Fine in addition to whipping.—Under s. 5 of Act VI of 1864, the punishment of whipping is inflicted on a juvenile offender "in lieu of any other punishment to which he may, for such offence, be liable" under the Indian Penal Code. Hence, a sentence of fine in addition to whipping is illegal. EMPRESS v. THUSKU, 6 C.P.L.R. 34, Cr. (16 B. 357, R.)

(98)—S. 5—Substitution of whipping for imprisonment in cases of juvenile offenders.—When the accused, a lad of fourteen years was convicted of an unnatural offence under s. 377, I.P.C., and sentenced to imprisonment, the Chief Court held that the punishment of whipping was far more suitable for a juvenile offender, convicted of bestiality, than the sentence of imprisonment which had been inflicted and that it was competent to the Appellate Court to alter the nature of the sentence by setting aside the sentence of imprisonment and substituting whipping for the same. JIWAN v. EMPRESS, 3 P.R. 1884, Cr.

(99) S. 5—"In lieu of any other punishment," meaning of—Commutation of other sentence one of whipping.—Under the Whipping Act, the Court cannot, after passing a sentence of imprisonment, commute it to a sentence of whipping, which ought to be passed directly. Under s. 5, a juvenile offender may be punished with whipping in lieu of any other punishment to which he may be liable, but the words "in lieu of—" mean in lieu of the whole of the punishment to which he is liable. So, it is illegal to pass a sentence of whipping, in lieu of imprisonment, under the Whipping Act, and, at the same time, to pass a sentence of fine under the I.P.C. KING-EMPEROR v. THA KIN, 5 L.B.R. 22=2 Ind. Cas. 620.

(100)—S. 5—See Nos. 56 and 88, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1864 (Whipping)—continued.

(101)—Ss. 5, 10—Meaning of juvenile offender.—A juvenile offender under Act VI of 1864 is a person under sixteen years of age. REG. v. MUHAMMAD ALI valad ABDUL ALI, 8 B.H. C. Cr. 9. [R., 6 A. 482, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 79.]

(102)—Ss. 5, 10—"Juvenile offender."—Unless an accused person is found to be under sixteen years of age, he cannot be punished as a "juvenile offender" under the provisions of s. 5 of Act VI of 1864. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DIN ALI, 6 A. 482=A W.N. 1884, 213. [F., 7 C P.L.R. 32, Cr., L.B.R. 1893—1900, 79.]

(103)—S. 7—Scope.—A sentence of whipping cannot, with reference to Act VI of 1864, s. 7, be passed on a conviction for theft, as s. 7, only provides for sentences of imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years. QUEEN v. ESAN CHUNDER DEY, 21 W.R. Cr. 40.

(104)—S. 7—Scope and construction of.—The meaning of the law in s. 7 of the Whipping Act is that the status of women and that of persons under the sentence of death or of transportation or of penal servitude or of imprisonment for more than five years render it illegal to inflict the punishment of whipping. The words of the section are perfectly general. They do not touch the legality of the sentence, but only the legality of the punishment. If the sentence of whipping is passed before the sentences mentioned in the section, it might be a legal sentence; but the subsequent passing of the latter sentences renders the infliction of the punishment of whipping illegal. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 19TH APRIL 1876, 1 M. 56=2 Weir 448.

(105 and 106)—S. 7—See PUN. ACT IV OF 1887, 45 P.R. 1888, Cr.

(107 to 109)—S. 9—Time when it can be inflicted.—Whipping cannot be inflicted until after the expiry of 15 days from the date of the sentence and must be inflicted immediately on the expiry of 15 days. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 13TH NOV. 1871. 6 M.H.C. App. 38. [Appl., 7 M.H.C. App. 29.]

(110)—S. 9—Crim. Pro. Code, 1872, s. 310 —Whipping after expiry of sentence of imprisonment.—The accused was convicted on a trial before a Magistrate of theft under s. 379, I.P.C., for two years, and "to receive thirty stripes on the day of his release from prison." Held, that the portion of the Magistrate's order directing the postponement of the whipping was altogether illegal and improper. EMPRESS v. JIWA RAM, A.W.N. 1881, 138.

(111)—S. 9—Appeal—Carrying out of the sentence.—When a Court, whose sentence is open to revision, pronounces a sentence awarding whipping in addition to imprisonment, it must be carried out immediately after the expiry of 15 days from the date of the sentence, or, if an appeal be made within that time, then, immediately on the receipt of the order of the appellate Court confirming the sentence, if such order shall not be received within 15 days. It is illegal to direct in the sentence that the whipping shall be carried out at the expiration of the term of imprisonment. REG. v. SHEKH HUSEN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 68.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1864 (Whipping)—concluded.

(112)—S. 9—Crim. Pro. Code (1872), s. 310.—The rule that a sentence of whipping could not be postponed beyond the terms specified in s. 9 of Act VI of 1864 was held to be applicable to s. 310, Crim. Pro. Code, 1872. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 10TH DEC. 1873, 7 M.H.C. App. 29 [R., 13 Cr. L.J. 710=16 Ind. Cas. 518=23 M.L.J. 371=12 M.L.T. 350.]

(113)—S. 10—House-trespass when punishable with whipping.—Whipping can be inflicted under s. 2, sub-ss. 9 and 10 of the above Act, only when the house trespass or house-breaking is in order to the committing of an offence punishable with whipping under that section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA TUN BYE, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I. 354.

(114)—S. 10—See Nos. 101 and 102, supra.

(115)—Ss. 11 and 12—Scope of the sections.—Under ss. 11 and 12, a man, though sentenced to whipping, is not to be whipped unless in a fit state to suffer that punishment. The whipping is not to be commenced, if he is unfit to bear it at all, and then he is to be kept in custody, till the Court can revise the sentence. But if it be commenced, it is not to be continued longer than the man is fit to bear it, and when the man has had all he can bear, in the opinion of the Medical Officer, the whipping is to be stopped, and the sentence has been fully satisfied, for it cannot be executed by instalments. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 25TH JULY 1864, 3 M.H.C. App. 1.

(116)—S. 12—See No. 115, supra.

Act XIII of 1864 (Emigration of Native Labourers).

[REP., ACT VII OF 1871.]

(1)—Contract to carry coolies by ship.—Where a contract is entered into for the carriage of coolies, the shipowner would be held guilty of breach of contract if he appoints a master who was prohibited by an order of Government from commanding a ship carrying emigrants. EALES v. RUTTONJEE EDULJEE, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 131.

(2)—S. 71—False pretence by recruiters of emigrants—Jurisdiction—Place of trial.—The offence of holding out false pretences to the labourers and thereby inducing them to enter into a contract, by recruiters of emigrants, must be tried in the place wherein such inducement was made. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 16TH MARCH 1868, 4 M.H.C. App. 4.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1864 (Emigration of Native Labourers)—concluded.

Act XXII of 1864 (Military Cantonments).

[REP., ACT III OF 1880.]

See ACT III OF 1880.

See ACT XIII OF 1889.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1867.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1866.

See CANTONMENT CODE (1899).

(1)—See PUN. ACT XV OF 1867, ss 2, 3, 43 P.R. 1888, Cr.

(2)—Ss. 3, 5, 17 and 20—Assistant Cantonment Magistrate officiating as Cantonment Magistrate with second class powers—Trial of Breaches of Cantonment Rules.—An Assistant Cantonment Magistrate appointed to act as Cantonment Magistrate, with second class powers, is only an Assistant Cantonment Magistrate under s. 5. He has, therefore, no jurisdiction under s. 20 to try persons for breaches of Cantonment Rules. J. A. KEOUGH v. CROWN, 17 P.R. 1878, Cr. [R., 136 P.L.R. 1908, Cr.=1 P.R. 1908=4 P.W.R. 1908=7 Cr. L.J. 274; D., 1 P.R. 1908, Cr.]

(3) S. 5—See No. 2, supra.

(4)—S. 11—Lunatic Asylums Act (XXXVI of 1858), s. 4, direction of proceedings under.—Acting bona fide in the discharge of a public duty and under the belief that a person was dangerous by reason of lunacy, the commanding officer of a cantonment, who has control and direction of the police, would be justified in directing proceedings to be taken by the Police under s. 4, Act XXXVI of 1858. E. D. SINCLAIR v. L.P.D. BROUGHTON, 9 C. 341=13 C.L.R. 185=9 I.A. 152, P.C.=R & J. No. 69=5 Shome L.R. 136=4 Sar. 387.

(5)—S. 17—Compound not a "public place."—A compound is not a public place within the meaning of Rule 63 of Chapter III of the Cantonment Rules made under s. 17 of Act XXII of 1864 and kept in force by s. 2 of Act III of 1880. Consequently, convicting a person for being drunk and riotous in his master's compound is unsustainable. EMPRESS v. KALLAN KHAN, A.W.N. 1887, 19.

(6)—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 438, A.W.N. 1887, 219.

(7)—S. 17—See No. 2, supra.

(8)—Ss. 17 and 19 (f)—Rules 6 and 29 framed under the sections—Unregistered prostitutes.—Where certain women, arrested by the police on the Railway platform on a charge of having contravened the provisions of Rule 6 (that no woman not being a registered prostitute shall practice public prostitution within the limits of Cantonments), were fined by the Deputy Commissioner with a direction to have their names entered in the register and for their examination by the Civil Surgeon, held that the arrest was not proper, as it did not conform to the provisions of Rule 29 and that the Deputy Commissioner had no authority to direct the examination of the women after their receipt of tickets. MUSSUMAT BAHORO v. CROWN, 25 P.R. 1870, Cr.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXII of 1864 (Military Cantonments) —concluded.

(9)—Ss. 17, 19 and 25—Extension of rules framed under cl. 7 of s 19 outside cantonment limits—Jurisdiction of ordinary criminal Courts.—Where rules made under cl. 7 of s. 19, Act XXII of 1864, are extended to places outside the limits of cantonments by the Governor-General in Council under s. 25 of that Act, trials of breaches of rules should be conducted by the Criminal Courts under the general jurisdiction conferred by the Crim. Pro. Code, there being no authority specially mentioned in the above Act for holding such trials. MUSST. SURDAREE v CROWN, 12 P.R. 1870, Cr. [Appr., 2 P.R. 1885, Cr.]

(10)—Ss. 17, 20—Jurisdiction of Magistrate.—A District Magistrate, not being a Cantonment Magistrate, has no jurisdiction to try for breaches of rules made under s. 17 of Act XXII of 1864. EMPRESS v. F. TODD, A.W. N. 1882, 52.

(11)—S. 20—See Nos. 2 and 10, supra.

(12)—S. 25—See No. 9, supra.

(13)—S. 29—Unauthorized sale of spirituous liquor to an apothecary.—The sale of spirituous liquor to an apothecary in a Military Hospital, without the permission of the Commanding Officer, is not an offence. RAJ KISHAN v. CROWN, 23 P.R. 1870, Cr.

(14)—Ss. 29, 30—Previous conviction—Confiscation of liquor.—Where a person had not been previously convicted, an order directing the confiscation of wine and liquor in his possession would be illegal and must be quashed PESTONJEE v. CROWN, 20 P R. 1872. Cr.

(15) Ss. 29 and 30—See CONFISCATION, 20 P.R. 1872, Cr.

(16)—S. 30—See Nos. 14 and 15, supra.

Act V of 1865 (Indian Marriage).

[REP. (EXCEPT AS TO STRAITS SETTLEMENTS), ACT XV OF 1872. NOT IN FORCE IN BRITISH INDIA.]

(1)—Ss. 6 and 56—Hindu priest solemnising marriage between parties, one of whom being Christian.—A Hindu priest solemnising a marriage between parties, one of whom admittedly professes the Christian religion, is prima facie, liable under s. 56 of the Act. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 21ST MARCH 1871, NO. 596, 1 Weir 801=6 M.H.C. App. 20. [F., 1 Weir 813=17 M. 391.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1865 (Government Forests).

[REP., ACT XII OF 1891.]

(1)—Ss. 3 and 5—Confiscation—Fine—Legality.—It is illegal to impose a fine where the Forest Act provides the penalty of confiscation. CROWN v. PUNSADIN, Col. Dig. Cr. 69 of 1877.

(2)—S 5—Felling or removing trees from forest, whether punishable under Penal Code.—Felling or removing trees from a forest is either punishable under the Forest Act, or not punishable at all. The provision of the Penal Code relating to theft and mischief does not apply to such cases. CROWN v. JANG KHAN, 22 P. R. 1876, Cr. [Disappr., 10 P.R. 1885, Cr.]

(3)—S. 5—Penalty not provided for—Punishment under Penal Code.—Where the Local Government had framed no rule, as contemplated by the Forest Act, 1865, for punishing infringement of the rules, held that the accused should be tried under the Penal Code. CROWN v. JHUNDOO, 4 P R. 1869, Cr.

(4)—S. 5—See No. 1, supra.

Act XI of 1865 (Mofussal Small Cause Courts).

[REP., ACT IX OF 1887.]

(1)—S. 21—See FALSE EVIDENCE, 2 B.L. R.A. Cr. 1=10 W.R Cr. 31.

Act XIII of 1865 (High Courts' Criminal Procedure Code Amendment).

[REP., ACT X OF 1875.]

(1)—See HIGH SEAS. OFFENCES COMMITTED IN, 1 B.L.R.O. Cr 1.

(2)—S. 3—Duty of committing Magistrate or justice of the peace.—A justice of the peace or Magistrate, committing a prisoner for trial before the High Court was bound, under the above section, to frame and send up, with the depositions, a specific charge against the prisoner REG. v. JEETARAM SHAW, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 404.

(3)—Ss. 22 to 46—Sessions Judges and Magistrates to pay attention to these.—Sessions Judges and Magistrates should pay attention to ss. 22 to 46 of the Act, which have reference to the sittings under a commission of a Judge of the High Court, either alone or with an associate Judge, in the exercise of Original Criminal Jurisdiction, in places other than the usual places of the sitting of such Court; and especially, the attention of the Sessions Judge to ss. 35 and 41, and of Magistrates to ss. 28, 30 and 31 of the same law CRIMINAL CIRCULAR NO. 3, 13TH MAY 1865, 3 W R. Cr. Cir. 1.

(4)—Ss. 23 to 46—See No. 3, supra.

Act XX of 1865 (Pleaders, Mookteears and Revenue Agents).

[REP., ACT XVIII OF 1879.]

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XX of 1865 (Pleaders, Mookteârs and Revenue Agents)—continued.

(1)—Dismissal of mooktears — Powers of Magistrate.—A Magistrate has no power to dismiss a mooktear generally, unless he be convicted of an offence involving moral turpitude or infamy. QUEEN v. SHAM CHAND CHOWDRY, 1 W.R. Cr. 34.

(2)—Evidence to justify removal of mooktear from profession.—Evidence, which does not support a conviction on a criminal charge, cannot justify a removal from the profession of a mooktear. In the matter of NIL KUNT BISWAS, MUKTEAR, 9 W.R. Cr. 29.

(3)—S. 5—"Act," meaning of.—The word "act" in this section signifies the doing something as the agent of the principal party which shall be recognized or taken notice of by the Court as the act of that principal. Nothing in the words of the Act or in its spirit prevents a person as a private agent from going between the prisoner or the duly authorized vakil upon whom the real responsibility of the defence rests. In re FUZZLE ALI, 19 W.R. Cr. 8. [R., 6 C. 585, 14 C. 556, F.B., 26 A. 380.]

(4)—S. 11—Mooktear "acting" in Criminal Court.—The mere writing of a petition for a party, who afterwards presents that petition himself, is not "acting" as a mooktear in a Criminal Court within the meaning of this section. In re KALI CHARAN CHUND, 9 B.L.R. App. 18=18 W.R.Cr. 27. [R., 16 C. 585, 14 C. 556, F.B.]

(5)—S. 14—Charge against pleader—Nature of enquiry.—When conduct is charged against any pleader of a Subordinate Court which, if proved, would amount to an offence, the conduct should be enquired into, not simply as improper conduct, but as an offence to be made the ground (if established) of his dismissal under the above section. In the matter of GANESH CHUNDER GANGOOLY, 13 W.R. 456.

(6)—S. 14—Unprofessional conduct—Commission to mooktears—Criminal offence.—If a mooktear, who is paid for his services by his employer, were to receive in addition, without the knowledge of his employer, a percentage or commission from the pleader, he would be answerable, not only in the Civil Court, but also in the Criminal Court, to a charge of obtaining money improperly from his employer. In the matter of PEARY MOHUN GOOHO, 11 B.L.R. 312.

(7)—S. 15—"For any other reasonable cause," meaning of.—A mooktear may be suspended or dismissed for any reasonable cause, the words "for any other reasonable cause" in s. 15 referring to cases of other than professional misconduct. When a mooktear is alleged to have committed some impropriety for which he could not be criminally prosecuted, and which does not come under the denomination of professional misconduct, the High Court may institute inquiries suo motu, and, if it thinks that any reasonable cause other than professional has been established, may suspend or dismiss the mooktear without the necessity of either a written charge or notice, so long as the mooktear had every facility for knowing what he was charged with and for making his answer. In re GOLABKHAN, MOOKHTEAR, 16 W.R. Cr. 15=7 B.L.R. 179. [F., 27 C. 1023; R., 29 C. 890.]

(8)—S. 16—Charge of misconduct against pleaders and mooktears—Report to High Court.—Any charge of misconduct against a pleader or mooktear holding a certificate under the Act, other than a recorded conviction of a criminal offence, must be made and substantiated, and a report submitted to the High Court as provided by s. 16. In re SUDUROODDEN MAHOMED, MOOKTEAR, 7 W.R. 316.

(9)—S. 16—Initiating proceedings against pleader—Jurisdiction of Zillah Judge—Place of inquiry.—A Zillah Judge is incompetent to initiate proceedings against a pleader of the lower grade under the above section, which requires that the inquiry should be made by the Court in which the pleader committed the act of misconduct. In the matter of KOMLA KANT DEGHAL, 11 W.R. 127.

(10)—S. 16—Power of Zillah Judge to dismiss pleaders.—A Zillah Judge has no power, after the 1st January, 1866, to make an order under Act XVIII of 1852 dismissing a pleader. He should proceed under s. 16 of Act XX of 1865, and refer the matter, with his report, to the High Court. Even under Act XVIII of 1852, under which the Judge erroneously acted in this case, a pleader was liable to dismissal, only on proof of conviction of a criminal offence by a competent Court, or on proof of a declaration or finding by a competent Court (in a suit or proceeding to which the pleader was a party) that he was guilty of a breach of trust, or for fraudulent or dishonest conduct in the discharge of his professional duty; and this, also, after notice and adjudication as prescribed by s. 4. In the matter of the petition of AHMEENOODDEEN AHMED, 6 W.R. Mis. 5. [F., 27 C. 1023.]

(11)—S. 16—Power of Magistrate to suspend mooktear.—Where a Magistrate suspended a mooktear for three months for wilfully making a false statement, it was held that the Magistrate had no power to suspend the mooktear under the Act, and his suspension was set aside. In re BANCHANIDHI MAHANTY, 17 W.R. Cr. 6.

(12)—S. 16—Power of Magistrate to suspend mooktear.—Held that a Magistrate had no power to suspend a mooktear under the Act. ROOPO BEWA v. KEKAROO, 21 W.R. Cr. 41. [F., 7 C.L.R. 168.]

(13)—S. 16—Suspension or dismissal of mooktears—Procedure.—The procedure under

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XX of 1865 (Pleaders, Mooktears and Revenue Agents)—continued.

s. 16 refers only to cases of professional misconduct, the words " any such misconduct as aforesaid " being connected with the words "grossly improper conduct in the discharge of his professional duty." In re GOLAB KHAN, 16 W.R. Cr. 15=7 B.L.R. 179.

(14)—S. 16—Notice before suspending mooktear.—Before a Magistrate can suspend a mooktear from practice, he must observe the requirements of the above section, and furnish the mooktear with a copy of the charge against him, and a notice fixing a day on which such charge will be taken into consideration. In the matter of GOLABKHAN, MOOKHTEAR, 15 W.R. 171=6 B.L.R. App. 83. [R., 16 W.R. Cr. 15.]

(15)—S. 16—Using improper expressions during argument—Procedure.—In this case the High Court declined to strike a pleader off the rolls for using improper expressions during the argument of a case before a Zilla Judge, who recommended, after observing the requirements of s. 16 of the Act, that such punishment should be awarded. The Zillah Judge should have called the pleader to order, and required him to apologize. In the matter of CRUISE, PLEADER OF THE JUDGE'S COURT, PURNEAH, 14 W.R.Cr. 53.

(16)—S. 16—Acquittal of pleader.—In a case tried under the provisions of the above section, where the Subordinate Court is of opinion that the pleader should be acquitted, it is not necessary that there should be any report to the Judge. In the matter of RAM KINKUR SEIN, 13 W.R. 67.

(17)—S. 16—Omission to examine record before applying for stay of execution proceedings—Not verifying statement of parties.—The omission of a pleader to examine the record of the case before making an application to stay execution proceedings upon the ground of a compromise was held not to amount to grossly improper conduct. But his not verifying the statement of the parties who came to him and made their statements (one of them being a mooktear) was considered, at the most, to amount to carelessness but not grossly improper conduct; whilst his omission to obtain the authority or concurrence of the senior pleader in the case could not be said to be improper conduct within the meaning of the Act—certainly not such grossly improper conduct as called for the punishment of suspension for six months. In the case of SREENATH ROY, PLEADER, 17 W.R. 405.

(18)—S. 34—See MAGISTRATE, DUTY OF, 5 B.L.R. Ap. 89.

(19)—Ss. 44, 45—Suspension of High Court pleader by Zilla Judge.—A Zilla Judge has no power under the Act to suspend a pleader of the High Court from practising in the Courts of his district on the ground of incompetency.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XX of 1865 (Pleaders, Mooktears and Revenue Agents)—concluded.

His proper course is to make a representation to the High Court. In the matter of BABOO KISHOREE LALL SIRCAR, 14 W.R. 217.

(20)—S. 45—See No. 19, supra.

Act VIII of 1866 (Criminal Procedure).

[REP., ACT VIII OF 1869.]

See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF—MISCELLANEOUS, 7 W.R. Cr. 11.

Act XIV of 1866 (Indian Post Office).

[REP., ACT VI OF 1898.]

See ACT VI OF 1898.

(1)—Abetment—Penal Code, s. 109.— This Act does not provide for the punishment of abetting an offence under it. Under s. 109, I.P.C., the abetment must be of an offence punishable under that Act, and not of an offence punishable under a distinct and special law. QUEEN v. RAMLUGAN LALL MOONSHEE, 7 W.R. Cr. 54.

(2)—See ABETMENT, 7 W.R. Cr. 54.

(3)—Sentence under Post Office Act— See REVISION—SENTENCES, 17 W.R. Cr. 50.

(4)—Ss. 2, 47, 53—Jurisdiction over offences under s. 47.—Under the provisions of s. 53 of Act XIV of 1866, with the interpretation given in s. 2 of that Act, a subordinate Magistrate is competent to convict of an offence under s. 47. REG. v. VITHU bin MALLU, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 36.

(5)—S. 37—Postage stamps issued by the Government for the purpose of Revenue—Twice using them if an offence—Penal Code, s. 262.—Under the provisions of s. 37 of the above Act, postage stamps are stamps issued by Government for the purpose of revenue within the meaning of the Penal Code. Hence, a person is punishable under s. 262, I.P.C., for using a postage stamp twice. EMPRESS v. SITARAM, 5 C.P.L.R. 43, Cr.

(6)—S. 47—Jurisdiction of Subordinate Magistrate.—A Subordinate Magistrate has jurisdiction to try a prisoner for an offence under the above section. REG v. VITHU bin MALLU, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 36.

(7)—S. 47—Penal Code, s. 166—Post-master absenting himself from the station without notice.—A post-master, absenting himself from the station without giving notice and thereby causing delay in the despatch of the mail, is guilty of an offence under s. 47 of the Post Office Act, and not under s. 166, Penal Code. In re VIRASWAMI NAICK, 1 Weir 72. See, also, REVISION CASE NO. 1 OF 1877, 1 Weir 860.

(8)—S. 47—See No. 4, supra.

(8-a)—S. 48—Opening of a newspaper by a person employed in the Post Office—Fraudulent intention.—The opening of a newspaper by a person employed in the Post Office and replacing it in its envelope, does not constitute an offence under the above section as it could not be said that the accused stole, fraudulently appropriated, wilfully secreted, destroyed or threw away any letter or other article sent by post. There must be a fraudulent intention in the act of the accused before he can be convicted under the above section. In re PANNA LALL MOOKERJI, 19 W.R. Cr. 4.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIV of 1866 (Indian Post Office)—concld.

(9)—S. 48—Person assisting sorting clerk secreting bearing letters to be given to delivery peon for the purpose of sharing the bearing postage—Penal Code, ss. 378 and 403.—The accused, being in the employ of a Post Office, assisted the sorting clerk in sorting letters, and secreted two bearing letters with the intention of giving them to the delivery peon and to share with him the bearing postage which the latter would collect. Held, that the accused did not intend to wilfully secrete the letter within the meaning of s. 48, Indian Post Office Act, as there was not such secreting or concealment of letters as would frustrate or tend to frustrate their delivery to the addressees. Held, further, that he was guilty of stealing and of fraudulently appropriating the letters within the meaning of that section, and also of theft and of attempt to commit dishonest misappropriation of property within the meaning of the Penal Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VENKATASAMI, 14 M. 229 = 1 Weir. 860.

(10)—S. 48—Solitary confinement if can be awarded as part of sentence.—Solitary confinement cannot be awarded as part of a sentence passed under s. 48, Post Office Act. EMPRESS v. MUKH RAM, 24 P.R. 1879, Cr.

(11)—S. 48—See ACT XVII OF 1854, s. 50, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 8.

(12)—S. 50 (=s. 55 of Act VI of 1898)—Scope of the section.—The word "prepare" in s. 50 of the Act includes the obtaining of signatures to a book that a postman is bound to keep in proof of his having visited the villages in his capacity as postman. PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v. VEERABADRAN SERVAI, 1 Weir. 862.

(13)—S. 53—See No. 4, supra.

Act XX of 1866 (Indian Registration).

[REP., ACT VIII OF 1871.]

See ACT VIII OF 1871.

See ACT III OF 1877.

(1)—See FALSE EVIDENCE, 6 W.R. Cr. 81.

(2)—S. 91 (=s. 82, Act III of 1877)—Offence under section not triable by Jury.—An offence under the above section ought not to be tried with the assistance of a Jury. Where, however, such offence was tried with the assistance of a Jury, and the verdict of the Jury, who were unanimous in convicting the prisoner, was approved of by the Sessions Judge, the High Court considered it unnecessary to quash the proceedings. QUEEN v. ABDOOL KAREEM, 14 W.R. Cr. 32.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XX of 1866 (Indian Registration)—ctd.

(3)—S. 91—False statement before Sub-Registrar—Penal Code, s. 423.—A vendor, to defeat the claims of pre-emptors, stated in the sale-deed that the purchase-money was more than he actually received, but contradicted himself before the Sub-Registrar and admitted what he really received. The vendee, however, stated he was in fault, and, on the same day, brought the rest of the money to the Sub-Registrar, who refused either to receive it, or to register the deed. Held that the vendor was guilty of an offence under the section and that the vendee, though he had neither committed an offence under the section nor abetted one, was guilty of an offence under s. 423, Penal Code. CROWN v. SAUDAGUR, 23 P.R. 1869, Cr. [R., 10 P.R. 1902, 34 P.W.R. 1908 = 16 P.R. 1908, Cr. = 8 Cr. L.J. 486.]

(4)—Ss. 91, 95 (=ss. 82 and 83, Act III of 1877)—Commitment to Sessions.—The commitment to the sessions of a case of an offence under s. 91 of the Act is not illegal. REG. v. RAVLOJIRAV bin HANMANTRAV, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 7.

(5)—Ss. 93 and 94 (=ss. 82 and 83, Act III of 1877)—Cheating by personation—Registering document.—Where A intended to register a deed, but was too ill to do so, and B, who was known to A, personated A, and had the deed registered in her name, it was held that, in the absence of anything to prove that it was intended to defraud anybody, A was not guilty of cheating by personation under s. 419, Indian Penal Code but of an offence under s. 93 of the Registration Act. C and D, who abetted A, were convicted of an offence under s. 94 of the Act. In the case of LOOTHY BEWA, 11 W.R. Cr 24 = 2 B.L.R. 25, Cr. [R., 13 B. 506, 32 C. 775 = 1 C.L.J. 469 = 9 C.W.N. 807 ; F., 5 Bom. L. R. 138.]

(6)—Ss. 93, 94—False personation.— Three persons, who put up a fourth to personate one whose authority was required to complete a conveyance of immoveable property, were held guilty under the above section. QUEEN v. SOLEEMOODDEEN, 7 W.R. Cr. 63.

(7)—Ss. 93 and 95—See ACT III OF 1877, s. 82, 8 B.L.R. 422 = 17 W.R. Cr. 39.

(8)—S. 94—See Nos. 5 and 6, supra.

(9)—Ss. 94, 95 (=ss. 82 and 83 of Act III of 1877)—False personation before registering officer triable exclusively by Court of Session.—The offence of abetting false personation before a registering officer, punishable under s. 94 of the Act with imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years, is triable exclusively by a Court of Session. REG. v. SUPDU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 51.

(10)—Ss. 94, 95—Punishment for abettor.—Under the above section, an abettor may be punished more severely than his principal can be. QUEEN v. GOPAL PROSAUD SEIN, 8 W. R. Cr. 16.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XX of 1866 (Indian Registration)—cld.

(11)—S. 95 (=s. 83, Act III of 1877)—Offence.—A Sub-Registrar under the Act has no power to investigate into the committal of an offence committed before him in the registration of any document, but should cause the complainant to proceed, under s. 66, Crim. Pro. Code (1861), before the Magistrate, or before an officer authorised to receive such complaint. The sanction of the Registrar, under the above Act, relates to a prosecution to be instituted by the Sub-Registrar for an offence under the Act. QUEEN v. HARIDAS KUNDU, 4 B.L.R. App. 69=13 W.R. Cr. 21.

(12)—S. 95—See ACT III OF 1877, s. 83, 10 W.R.Cr. 21=6 B.L.R 693, note.

(13)—S. 95—See SESSIONS JUDGE, JURISDICTION OF, 6 B.L.R. 692=15 W.R. Cr. 58.

(14)—S. 95—See Nos. 4, 7, 9 and 10, supra.

Act III of 1867 (Public Gambling).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT V OF 1897. S. 18 REP., ACT XVI OF 1874. PREAMBLE AND S. 2 AMENDED, ACT XII OF 1891. TITLE, PREAMBLE AND S. 1 AMENDED, ACT I OF 1903. REP. (IN BURMA), BUR. ACT I OF 1899. DECLARED IN FORCE IN CERTAIN RAILWAY LANDS, ACT XIV OF 1874 S. 10; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3.]

See BEN. ACT II OF 1867.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1866.

See BOM. ACT IV OF 1887.

See BOM. ACT I OF 1890.

See BUR. ACT XVI OF 1884.

See BUR. ACT I OF 1899.

(1)—Construction of Act.—The Gambling Act is a penal law, and one of a very stringent character, and so its provisions are to be very closely interpreted; and are not to be extended so as to meet cases which do not strictly fall within them. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SO GYI, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 53. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA TU, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 86.

(2)—Gambling, when punishable.—Gambling is not ordinarily punishable as an offence. It is only so punishable when carried on in a common gaming house, or in a public street or place. QUEEN v. SHEOSHUNKUR SINGH, 3 N.W.P. 1.

(3)—Gambling, when punishable.—Gambling is not punishable by law, unless it be carried on in public places or thoroughfares or in common gaming-houses. QUEEN v. SUJJAD ALI, 3 N.W.P. 134.

(4)—What is common gaming house.—Common gaming-houses are houses, etc., in which instruments of gambling are kept or used for the profit or gain of the owner or occupier, whether by way of charge for the use of the instruments of gaming or of the house, or otherwise howsoever. QUEEN v. SUJJAD ALI, 3 N.W.P. 134.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1867 (Public Gambling)—continued.

(5)—S. 1—Common gaming house defined.—Where the occupier of a house, wherein games of chance are played, derives his profits, not from any charge for the use of the house, or of the instruments of gaming or in any manner ejusdem generis, but from the game itself, the house is a common gaming house. EMPEROR v. ABDUL SATTAR, 27 A. 567=2 A.L.J. 414=A.W.N. 1905, 106=2 Cr. L.J. 245.

(6)—Ss. 1 and 3—Garden enclossed with hedge.—A garden enclosed with a hedge or ditch, where gambling takes place, cannot be considered as a "common gaming house." ABBI v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 14 P.R. 1896, Cr.

(7)—Ss. 1 and 4—Lottery-tickets if instruments of gaming.—Lottery-tickets, by reference to which it is to be decided whether the holder or purchaser wins the whole, or any part, of any stakes, are instruments of gaming within the above sections; and they are instruments of gaming of a nature similar to cards. ANONYMOUS, 12 W R. Cr. 34.

(8)—Ss. 1, 4—Issuing a warrant of search on information given in general terms—Illegal.—A Magistrate, on a report made by the police that a great deal of gambling was going on and that it gave rise to numerous offences, issued a warrant directing the search of a certain house which the police report did not state was used as a common gaming house, and the owner of which was only accused of gambling. On searching the house, the accused was found with other persons seated round the board and dice. The accused was convicted under s. 4 of the Act. Held that the Magistrate was wrong in issuing a warrant upon the information given by the police in general terms and that there was nothing to show that the house was a common gaming house as defined in s. 1 of the same Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. YUSUF HUSAIN, A.W.N. 1889, 162. [R., 30 A. 60=5 A.L.J. 59=A.W.N. 1908, 9=7 Cr. L.J. 19.]

(9)—S. 2—Limits within which Act in force—Municipal boundaries — Subsequent alteration of Municipal boundaries.—Where the Lieutenant-Governor, under the powers conferred by Act III of 1867, declared by notification that the Act should be in force within the boundaries of the Municipality of Mirzapur and those boundaries were subsequently revised, and an offence was committed within the boundaries as existing at the time of the notification under Act III of 1867, but without the boundaries as revised, held, that the boundaries for the purpose of Act III of 1867 must be taken to be those as existing at the time of the notification under that Act. JANAK v. KING-EMPEROR, A.W.N. 1906, 133=3 Cr.L.J. 439.

(10)—S. 2—Notification extending provisions of the Act—Validity.—The Notification in the

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1867 (Public Gambling)—continued.

Punjab Gazette extending the whole of the provisions of the Act to a town, are not ineffectual by reason of their defining the limits of the town. ELLAHI BAKHSH v. EMPRESS, 12 P.R. 1886, Cr.

(11)—S. 2—Notification extending the provisions of Act to a town—Cantonment not included.—A notification, extending the provisions of the Act to a "town" cannot be held to include an extension of the Act to the cantonment. BAJA v. EMPRESS, 23 P.R. 1887, Cr.

(12)—Ss. 2, 3 and 4—Extending provisions of Act to a place — Notification in one issue of Gazette.—The Act, or any of its provisions, cannot be extended to a town or place, to which the Act does not ipso facto apply under the terms of s. 2, by the mere publication of a notification in one issue of the Gazette only. BHAN v. EMPRESS, 3 P.R. 1885, Cr.

(13)—Ss. 2, 13—Gambling—'Limits aforesaid' meaning of.—Gambling on a kachcha public road outside the limits of a Municipality, to which the provisions of the Gambling Act have been extended, is an offence under s. 13 of that Act, because the words "limits aforesaid" in that section refer to the whole of the territories under the administration of a Lieutenant Governor. RADHE v. EMPEROR, 12 Cr. L.J. 107 = 9 Ind. Cas. 630.

(14)—S. 3—Evidence of use of instruments of gaming essential for conviction.—In order to support a conviction under s. 3, Act III of 1867, of keeping a common gaming house as defined by s. 1 of that Act, there must be evidence that instruments of gaming were kept or used. AH KYI v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 532.

(15)—S. 3—The mere finding of cards, dice, etc., is not evidence that the house is a common gaming house. The owner or tenant must derive profit or gain from the gambling. CROWN v. CHUNNI MULL, 19 P.R. 1871, Cr. [R., 9 P.R. 1876, 29 P.R. 1881; Commented on, 7 P.R. 1882.]

(16)—S. 3—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 556, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 125.

(17)—S. 3—See Nos. 6 and 12, supra.

(18)—Ss. 3 and 4—Common gambling-houses—Keeping such houses and gambling in them by owner — Separate convictions.—A man, who keeps a common gaming house and gambles in it himself, cannot be convicted and separately sentenced under ss. 3 and 4 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA NGUE HLAING, L B.R. 1893—1900, 459.

(19)—Ss. 3, 4—Right of house-owner.—In a case under ss. 3 and 4 of the Gambling Act, the owner of the house should be allowed to prove that the house was not used as a common-gaming house. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SO GYI, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 53.

(20)—Ss. 3, 4— Convictions under sections, essential for.—In order to sustain a conviction under ss. 3 and 4 of Act III of 1867, it must be shown that the house in which the alleged offence was committed was a common gaming house within the meaning of s. 1 of the Act. CROWN v. FUTTAH, 46 P.R. 1867, Cr.

(21)—Ss. 3, 4—Misjoinder of charges—Discretion of Chief Court to hear pleader in revision.—Held, that, a person accused under s. 3 of the Gambling Act cannot be tried together with the persons accused under s. 4 of the Act, on the ground of misjoinder of charges. Obiter:—When the District Magistrate has refused to appoint a legal practitioner to represent the Crown in revision, the Chief Court must decline to hear him. MAKHAN v. CROWN, 5 P.W.R. 1910, Cr. = 5 Ind. Cas. 720. [R., 9 N.L.R. 68.]

(22)—Ss. 3, 4—Conviction when sustainable.—Before a conviction could be had under s. 3 or s. 4 of Act III of 1867, it should be proved that cards, dice, tables or other instruments of gaming were "kept or used for the profit or gain of the person owning, occupying, using or keeping the house." EMPRESS v. MUSSAMMAT KASHI, 6 C.L.R. 17, Cr. [Rel., 12 Cr. L.J. 28 = 8 Ind. Cas. 1127 = 6 N.L.R. 168.]

(23)—Ss. 3, 4—Sentence of imprisonment and fine.—A sentence of imprisonment and fine under s. 3 or s. 4 of Act III of 1867 is illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA THA DINU, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 434.

(24)—Ss. 3, 4.—Fine is a more appropriate form of punishment for a first offence under s. 4 than imprisonment. A Magistrate should strongly mark the distinction between offences under s. 3 and s. 4 of this Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO TU, L B.R. 1872—1892, 428.

(25)—Ss. 3 and 4—Presumption.—A warrant issued for the search of 'any house' which the Police officer to whom it was issued might consider proper to search was an illegal warrant within the meaning of the Gambling Act, and any search made under it was not such as was contemplated by the Act. The result of the illegal act, however, is that no presumption whatsoever can be drawn in accordance with the Act such as is allowed by the terms thereof to be drawn in the case of a legal search. Evidence can be given to show that the house is a gambling house. HARGOBIND v. KING-EMPEROR, 10 A.L.J. 355 = 17 Ind Cas. 576 = 35 A. 1 = 13 Cr L.J. 832. [Appl., 15 Cr. L.J. 19 = 22 Ind. Cas. 163 = 11 A.L.J. 933.]

(26)—Ss. 3, 4—Offences under—Joint trial—Legality—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 239, 35 P.R. 1914, Cr.

(27)—Ss. 3, 4, 5 and 6—Gambling not an offence per se.—Gambling in itself is not an offence, and only becomes punishable as an offence, when it takes place in a common gaming house or in a public place. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NIAZ AHMED, S C. 203, Oudh.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1867 (Public Gambling)—continued.

(28)—Ss. 3, 4, 5, 6, 10—Joint trial—One accused charged with keeping a common gaming house and the other, with gambling—Same transaction—Nature of offences—Legality of the trial—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 239—Search warrant under s. 5, Act III of 1867—Credible information—Presumption—Some gamblers cited as witnesses for prosecution—Legality—Effect and scope of s. 10 of the Act—Offences under the Act—Sentences of imprisonment—Impropriety of awarding such sentence.—In execution of a warrant issued by a Magistrate, H's house was raided. A number of persons among whom M was one were discovered gambling with, or in the presence of H, the owner of the house, who, if not gambling, was found engaged in levying his toll for the use of the house for purposes of gaming. H, M and some others found in the house during the raid were placed before the Magistrate for trial and certain others were taken as witnesses. In a joint trial, M was convicted under s. 4 of Act III of 1867, sentenced to undergo 15 days' rigorous imprisonment, and H was convicted under s. 4 and also under s. 3 of the said Act, for keeping a common gaming house in which M's offence was committed, and sentenced to undergo 15 days' rigorous imprisonment for each of his offences. Held that the joint trial of H and M was not illegal. The offences of the keeper and players arise out of facts so inseparably connected together as to form a single transaction, and therefore the house keeper who commits one offence in the transaction, and his customer who commits another (the house keeper in substance being an abettor of the gambling) are clearly within the purview of s. 239, Crim. Pro. Code, for joint trial as persons accused of different offences committed in the same transaction. It must be presumed that a warrant issued by a Magistrate under s. 5 of Act III of 1867 had been issued on credible information. If the prosecution choose to proceed only against some of the persons found gaming or present in a common gaming house, that does not prevent the officer conducting the prosecution from calling as witnesses persons who are not proceeded against. S. 10 has no application to such persons. It is an enabling section which empowers the Magistrate, out of the persons brought before him for trial, to convert any he may think fit into witnesses, and upon his doing so, and subject to their deposing truthfully, such persons are treated as approvers, and pardoned under s. 11 of the Act. Held, that the sentences of imprisonment inflicted upon the accused were improper. The wording of ss. 3 and 4, where, contrary to the usual rule, the punishment of fine precedes the alternative of imprisonment, suggests that the legislature intended that primarily fine should be used as the mode of punishment, and imprisonment only inflicted in aggravated cases. An offence under s. 3 is more serious than one under s. 4; but in any case under this Act, a Magistrate must have and must state, in his judgment, special reasons for inflicting a substantive sentence of imprisonment. SHEIKH MOTI v. EMPEROR, 9 N.L R. 68 = 14 Cr. L.J. 293 = 19 Ind. Cas. 949. (95 P.W.R. 1910, Cr., Not appr.)

(29)—Ss. 3, 4 and 6 — Search warrant — Credible information—Presumption.—When a search warrant purported to be issued upon credible information and after enquiry signed by the District Superintendent of Police, held, that it was open to the Magistrate to presume, until the contrary was made to appear, that the warrant was issued on credible information after sufficient enquiry and that the prosecution need not give evidence, in the first instance, of the information laid, and of enquiry, if any, held thereupon. EMPRESS v. MAZHAR ALI, 29 P.R. 1881, Cr. (19 P.R. 1871, Cr., 9 P.R. 1876, Cr., R.)

(30)—Ss. 3, 4, 5 and 14—Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Act XVI of 1884 (Gaming), s. 5 —Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 33 and 201.—Although a Second-Class Magistrate may not have been empowered under s. 5 of the Gaming Act, 1884, to proceed under s. 5 of the Gambling Act, 1867, there is no doubt that he has power, under s. 14 of the Gambling Act, 1867, and s. 201, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), on information given to him that an offence had been committed under ss. 3 and 4 of the Gambling Act (1867), to take cognizance of the same and to issue a summons upon the accused. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SON GAUNG, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 486.

(31)—Ss. 3, 4, 13, 16—Rewards to informers. —There is no justification in s. 16 for the payment of any portion of a fine imposed under s. 13 to the informer. There is no authority for rewarding an arresting officer out of the fine imposed under ss. 3 and 4 of the Act, or out of the moneys or sale proceeds of articles seized and ordered to be forfeited under the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA THA ZAN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 407.

(32)—Ss. 3, 4 and 15 — Question of what provision of the Act has been extended to a particular locality—Whether a question of law or fact—Evidence Act, s. 44.—Whether or not portions of the Act had been extended to a particular locality, and whether the steps taken in this view were sufficient in law to effect it, are questions of law and fact, which the Criminal Court has to decide for itself before convicting the accused. When once a decision has been arrived at, the point cannot be reopened in a subsequent case, except where the facts of a particular case bring it within s. 44, Evidence Act. GANGA v. EMPRESS, 41 P.R. 1885, Cr.

(33)—Ss. 3, 4 and 16—Fines — Rewards— Magistrate, Jurisdiction of.—When fines are inflicted under s. 3 or s. 4 and moneys or articles are forfeited, the Magistrate trying the case may award part or all of either the fines recovered, or the moneys or sale proceeds of articles forfeited, to the informer, but he cannot award both the fines and the moneys and sale proceeds of articles forfeited. The use of the disjunctive "or" in s. 16 puts it out of the power of the Magistrate to award both the fine and the confiscated property to the informer. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 378.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1867 (Public Gambling)—continued.

(34)—Ss. 3 and 5—Common gaming-house—Seizure of money on the persons of gamblers—Confiscation.—The order of a Magistrate confiscating the money found on the accused, while gambling in a common gaming-house, is illegal, if there is no evidence to show that there was reasonable ground for suspecting that such money was used, or was intended to be used, for the purpose of gaming. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SHWE TE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 281.

(35)—Ss. 3, 5, 6—Common gambling house, presumption as to—Search warrant — Judge importing his own knowledge into case—Signing warrant with pencil — Credible information, warrant issued on receipt of.—A person was convicted under s. 3, with seven others under s. 4 of the same Act. His house was entered and searched under a warrant, signed by the Magistrate with a pencil, reciting that the Magistrate had reason to believe upon credible information that the house was used as a common gaming-house, and authorising a police officer to enter and search it. The police officer was examined as a witness, and, in cross-examination, deposed that he informed the Magistrate that he had received "credible information that gambling was going on." The Magistrate in his judgment stated that "the search warrant obtained by the City Inspector was signed by me on credible information received from him to the effect that the house was used as a common gaming house." Held that "a Judge ought not, without giving evidence as a witness in the usual way, import into a case his own knowledge of particular facts" and that, therefore, the Magistrate ought not to have imported into the case his own knowledge as to the circumstances under which the warrant was issued ; also, that there was evidence that the warrant was legally issued, for, it stated that it was issued upon information that the house was used as a common gaming house, and there was a presumption that such statement was true ; further, that the statement of the police officer in cross-examination did not necessarily convey the meaning that he gave the Magistrate such information only ; and the presumption that the statement in the warrant was true was not rebutted by the statement ; held, further, that the absence of circumstances under which alone the presumption referred to in s. 5 can be drawn, is a ground for holding that the presumption cannot properly be drawn, but the absence of such circumstances has not the effect of making all the evidence taken in the case inadmissible and of vitiating and rendering the conviction illegal ; held, also, that it was objectionable to sign search warrants with a pencil. NARAIN DAS v. KING-EMPEROR, 5 O.C. 37.

(36)—Ss. 3, 5, 6—Conditions for issue of warrant.—Where a warrant for search was issued under s. 5 of Act III of 1867 in the absence of any record to show that the officer who issued it had reason to entertain a belief that the house was used as a public gambling house or that such belief was based on credible information, held that the warrant was defective and that the convictions consequent on such search were illegal. EMPRESS v. CHIRANJI, A.W.N. 1891, 111. [R., 30 A. 60=5 A.L.J. 59=A.W. N. 1908, 9=7 Cr. L.J. 19.]

(37)—Ss. 3, 5, 6—Construction—Information—Warrant for search.—The provisions of Act III of 1867, which is an extremely severe Act, must be construed strictly. A search warrant issued without credible information that a house was used as a common gambling house within the meaning of the Act, but merely on a report that gambling frequently took place there, is informal, and where a conviction is based on the ground that materials of gambling were found in such search, the finding cannot be used as presumptive proof under s. 6 and the conviction is illegal. EMPRESS v. RAM BHAROSE, A.W.N. 1890, 226. [R., 30 A. 60=5 A. L.J. 59=A.W.N, 1908, 9=7 Cr. L.J. 19, A.W. N. 1891 ; 111.]

(38)—Ss. 3, 6—Imperfect description of house to be searched.—A warrant was issued under Act III of 1867, for the search of "house No. 169 belonging to Jhunni Bakkal, mohalla Baniapara." The house in fact searched was a house in the occupation of Jhunni Bakkal, bearing No. 169, but in mohalla Shahnathan. But Shahnathan and Baniapara were adjoining mohallas and in mohalla Baniapara there was no No. 169. There was further evidence to show that the house which was searched under this warrant was the house concerning which information had been given and the house which the police intended to search. Held, that the wrong description given to the house, namely, that it was a house in mohalla Baniapara, was merely a misdescription which did not vitiate the warrant, nor prevent the presumption provided for by s. 6 of the Act from arising. EMPEROR v. JHUNNI, A.W.N. 1905, 105=2 Cr.L.J. 243.

(39)—Ss. 3 and 15—Magistrate incompetent to pass sentence exceeding Rs. 400, or six months' rigorous imprisonment.—Under ss. 3 and 15 of the Act, a Magistrate is incompetent to pass any sentence exceeding Rs. 400, or six months' rigorous imprisonment, and a sentence of fine of Rs. 600 or imprisonment for one year cannot be passed on the accused, until he had been convicted at one trial of two or more offences. EMPRESS v. CHUNNI, A.W.N. 1881, 111. [R., A.W.N. 1881, 129.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1867 (Public Gambling)—continued.

(40)—S. 4—Accused not found in the gaming house.—A conviction under this section is unsound, when the accused is not found in a common gaming house. POLICE v. LACHMIDAS, Colm. Dig. Cr. 63 of 1876.

(41)—S. 4—"Being found in a common gaming house."—A person seen actually in a gaming house by the officer executing the warrant and his subordinates, at the time of their reaching the house is "found" in the house within the meaning of s. 4. It is not necessary that he should be actually arrested in the house. VIR SINGH v. EMPRESS, 22 P.R. 1895, Cr. (35 P. R. 1894 Cr., Expl.).

(42)—S. 4—Imprisonment in default of fine—Penal Code, s. 65—General Clauses Act (1897), s. 25.—As the maximum term of imprisonment under s. 4 of the Gambling Act is one month, the accused could not, under s. 65, I.P.C., be sentenced to more than one week's imprisonment in default of payment of fine. S. 65 has been made applicable to fines imposed under the Gambling Act by s. 25 of the General Clauses Act, 1897. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. AH HEIN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 385.

(43)—S. 4—See Nos. 7, 8, 12, 18 to 33, supra.

(44)—Ss. 4, 5—Gambler being found in a common gaming-house—Magistrate acting upon information supplied by private individual.—In order to make a person punishable under s. 4, it is not necessary either that he should be found by a Magistrate or by a police officer acting in the manner provided by s. 5, or that information should be given by a police officer. A Magistrate may take action under s. 4 upon information given by a private individual, and may convict upon the evidence of a private individual. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA BA, L. B.R. 1893—1900, 321. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 486, L.B R. 1893—1900, 251, D.).

(45)—Ss. 4 and 5—Conviction of owner or keeper of a common gaming-house when there is illegality in warrant —A charge of being the owner or keeper of a common gaming house may be proved and conviction on it sustained, even if there has been no legal warrant and search. VIR SINGH v. EMPRESS, 22 P.R. 1895, Cr.

(46)—Ss. 4, 5—Search-warrant—Conditions for issuing.—Before issuing a search-warrant under s. 5, the officer, whether Magistrate or Police, shall have, upon credible information, reason to believe that the premises to be searched are used as a common gaming-house. It is not necessary that the informant should be examined upon oath or affirmation, or that further enquiry should be made or that a record should be prepared. KADA v. EMPRESS, 7 P. R. 1882, Cr., F.B. (19 P.R. 1871, Cr., 9 P.R. 1876, Cr. R.).

(47)—Ss. 4, 5—Search by officer other than the one named in the search-warrant.—The only person authorized to make a search is the officer named in the warrant. The officer named in the warrant is not competent to authorize any one else to make the search. VIR SINGH v. EMPRESS, 22 P.R. 1895, Cr.

(48)—Ss. 4, 5 and 6—Common gaming-house—Evidence—"Credible information."—Held, that when a house is searched by the Police on information that it is a common gaming-house, the finding of instruments of gaming will be admissible evidence that the house is used as a common gaming-house, notwithstanding that the warrant under which the search is conducted is defective, though the finding of such articles may not be evidence to the extent mentioned in s. 6 of Act III of 1867. Held, also, that the words "credible information" as used in s. 5 of Act III of 1867 have not the same meaning as "credible evidence." The "credible information" there mentioned need not be in writing. EMPEROR v. ABDUS SAMAD, A.W. N. 1905, 257=28 A. 210. [R., 30 A. 60=5 A. L.J. 59=A.W.N. 1908, 9=7 Cr. L.J. 19.]

(49)—Ss. 4 and 6—Gambling in a common gaming-house.—Persons who were not found in a common gaming-house, but in another house, under circumstances which warranted a presumption that they had been gambling in the common-gaming house were held not liable to be convicted under ss. 4 and 6. In order to support a conviction, the accused must actually be found in the house when search was made. FAZAL AHMAD v. EMPRESS, 35 P.R. 1894, Cr.

(50)—Ss. 4 and 13—Gambling in a private house.—S. 13 punishes gambling in a public street or place. S. 4 punishes gambling in a common gaming-house. Gambling in a private house is not an offence under the Act. QUEEN v. KHAYROO, 2 N.W.P. 289.

(51)—Ss 4 and 15—Limit of sentence.—A person who had been seven times previously convicted under the Gambling Act was convicted of the offence of being found in a gaming house and was sentenced, under ss. 4 and 15 of the Act, to rigorous imprisonment for six months. Held that the utmost punishment allowed by the law being a fine of Rs. 200 or rigorous imprisonment for two months, the sentence passed was illegal. EMPRESS v. GANAPAT, A.W N. 1881, 129.

(52)—S. 5—Jurisdiction of Magistrate to leave execution of warrant to discretion of police.—A Magistrate cannot issue a warrant of search under s. 5, leaving it to the discretion of the police to determine whether it shall or shall not be executed. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA TU, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 86.

(53)—S. 5—Search of two or more houses—Warrant addressed to several Police Officers—Signing a warrant—Meaning.—Two or more houses may be specified in one warrant, provided that they are clearly disunited in it. A warrant in the alternative to different police officers is not bad. When a warrant, signed by a District Superintendent of Police, contained the following words "there is reason to believe," held, that the signatory had reason to believe, and acted upon credible information, within the meaning of s. 5 of the Gambling Act. BASANTA MAL v. EMPRESS, 17 P.R. 1897, Cr. (A.W.N. 1891, 111, D.).

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1867 (Public Gambling)—continued.

(54)—S. 5—Illegal warrant, what is.—Held, that a warrant issued in the particular case, was bad for the following defects—(1) that it was not signed by a Magistrate or a District Superintendent of Police; (2) that, notwithstanding the presence of a Deputy Inspector of Police, it was addressed to a sargeant; (3) that there was no proof that the warrant was issued on credible information or upon enquiry; (4) and that it was a general warrant. BENWARI v. EMPRESS, 11 P.R. 1895, Cr. [F., 11 Cr. L. J. 570=8 Ind. Cas. 137=85 P.L.R 1910=23 P.R. 1910, Cr.=65 P.W.R. 1910, Cr.]

(55)—S. 5—Credible information, whether should be taken upon oath or affirmation.—The term "credible information" includes any information which, in the judgment of the officer to whom it is given, appears entitled to credit and which he believes. It is not necessary that such information should be taken upon oath or affirmation. KADA v. EMPRESS, 7 P.R. 1882, Cr. F.B. (19 P.R. 1871, Cr., 9 P.R. 1876, Cr., R.).

(56)—S. 5—Search-warrant, whether can be issued on police report.—A search-warrant cannot be issued on the mere report or information of a police officer, as such information does not amount to "credible information." SANDHI v. CROWN, 9 P.R. 1876, Cr. [R., 29 P.R. 1881; Commented on, 7 P.R. 1882, Cr.]

(57)—S. 5—Entry and search under the section, when justified.—To justify action under the section, the Magistrate must have "credible information" and reason to believe that the house is used as a "common gaming house" within the meaning of the term. QUEEN v. SUBSOOKH, 2 N.W.P. 476. [R., 9 Bom. L.R. 695=31 B. 438.]

(58)—S. 5—Finding of cards, etc., without search warrant, whether evidence.—The mere finding of cards, dice, etc., without the house being searched under the provision of s. 5, Act III of 1867, is not evidence that the house is a common gaming house. A search warrant can only be issued on credible information that the house is a common gaming house. CROWN v. CHUNNI MULL, 19 P.R. 1871 Cr. See, also, SANDHI v. CROWN, 9 P.R. 1876, Cr. [R., 9 P.R. 1876, 29 P.R. 1881; Commented on, 7 P.R. 1882].

(59)—S. 5—Finding of cards when prima facie evidence.—Only when a house is entered and searched under the provisions of s. 5 is the finding of cards, dice, etc., sufficient evidence against the accused, until the contrary is made to appear. QUEEN v. SUBSOOKH, 2 N.W.P. 476.

(60)—S. 5—Search-warrant issued without affixing Court-seal—Warrant signed by Magistrate outside his jurisdiction—Legality—Ss. 75, 537, Crim. Pro. Code (1898).—Even granting that the law required that a search-warrant issued under the Gambling Act should be sealed with the seal of the Court, the omission to affix the seal is a mere irregularity cured by s. 537, Crim. Pro Code. But the search-warrant, having been signed by the Magistrate at a place outside the local limits of his jurisdiction, is illegal. A warrant that is not legal warrant is no warrant at all for the purposes of the Gambling Act. GIRDHARI LAL v. CROWN, 23 P.R. 1910, Cr =85 P.L R. 1910=8 Ind. Cas. 137. (18 B. 636, Diss.; 11 P.R. 1895, Cr., R.; 1 B. 340, D.)

(61)—S. 5—Power to issue search-warrant—'Officer invested with the full powers of a Magistrate.'—The expression "the Magistrate of a district or other officer invested with the full powers of a Magistrate" used in s. 5 of the Public Gambling Act of 1867, means a Magistrate of the first class. The appointment of a Magistrate of the first class as sub-divisional officer gives the officer in question certain additional powers in that particular area, but does not deprive him of all his powers as a Magistrate. Hence, a search-warrant issued by such an officer for the search of a house outside the tahsil of which he was sub-divisional officer, was not illegal. ABBU SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR, 10 A.L J. 169=34 A. 597=16 Ind. Cas. 524=13 Cr.L.J. 716.

(62)—S. 5—See Nos. 27, 28, 30, 34, 35, 36, 37, 44 to 48, supra and No. 78, infra.

(63)—Ss. 5 and 6—Non-compliance with the provisions of s. 5—Finding of money.—Where the provisions of s. 5 of the above Act had not been complied with, the simple fact that some money in a small earthen pan and some cowries were found in the house of the accused is not sufficient evidence, under s. 6 of the fact that the house was a common gaming house. EMPEROR v. SHAKAR CHAND. A W.N. 1882, 132 [R.; 18 A. 23; D., 16 A. 420.]

(64)—Ss. 5, 6—Search warrant issued to Police Officer by Magistrate—Such Police Officer endorsing it for execution to another Police Officer—Legality of execution of search by the Police Officer.—Search warrants issued under Act III of 1867 (Gambling Act) are governed by those provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure which provided for the issue of the warrants in general. Consequently, a search warrant may be endorsed by a Police Officer, to whom it was originally directed, to another who is not of a rank below that authorized under the Act to enter and search. EMPEROR v. KASHI NATH, 5 A.L J. 59=A.W.N. 1908, 9=30 A. 60=7 Cr.L.J. 19. (28 A. 210=A.W.N. 1905, 257, R.)

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1867 (Public Gambling)—continued.

(65)—Ss. 5, 6—It is only when the house is searched under the provisions of s. 5 that the presumption allowed by s. 6 arises. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SO GYI, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 53.

(66)—Ss. 5, 6—Search under s. 5—Irregularity—Presumptions under s. 6—Conviction on the strength of such presumptions, when sustainable.—Irregularity in a warrant issued under s. 5 of the Act will not per se vitiate a conviction following on a search made under it, if there is evidence on which such conviction can be supported without invoking the presumptions prescribed by s. 6 of the Act. But those presumptions only arise when a search has been duly made under s. 5, and a conviction cannot be sustained, merely on the strength of such presumptions, in a case where the search was not duly made. EMPEROR v. UMERKHAN, 6 N.L R. 168. (A.W.N. 1881, 286, 4 C. 710, 4 C. 659, F.; 14 A.W.N. 291, Disc.)

(67)—Ss. 5, 6—Common gambling house.—Presumptive evidence —It is only in the case of a house searched under the provisions of s. 5 of the Gambling Act that a presumption arises, under s. 6, from the mere discovery of cards, dice, or other instruments of gaming, that it is a common gaming house. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SIT SHWE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 548.

(68)—S. 6—Sub-Inspector of Police—Crim. Pro. Code, Act X of 1882, s. 537.—The entrustment of a search warrant to a Sub-Inspector of Police at a station where there is an Inspector, though not proper under s. 6 of Act III of 1867, is an irregularity that could be covered by s. 537 of the Crim. Pro. Code, and cannot have the effect of nullifying the evidence of the Sub-Inspector. EMPRESS v. MUSA, A.W.N. 1884, 59. [R., A.W.N. 1884, 286.]

(69)—S. 6—Search by Sub-Inspector—Effect.—The entrustment of a search-warrant issued under Act III of 1867, to a police officer of a rank not competent to execute such warrants under s. 5 and the rules framed by the Government, is an irregularity which renders the special rule of evidence in s. 6 inapplicable to the case. The word "evidence" in the latter section means "proof." The irregularity, however, is not such as to vitiate the whole trial, under s. 537 of the Crim. Pro. Code. EMPRESS v. HARDEO DAS, A.W.N. 1884, 286. (4 C. 710, R.) [F., 12 Cr. L.J. 28=8 Ind. Cas. 1127=6 N.L.R. 168.]

(70)—S. 6—Defect in warrant of search—Effect.—The defect in the form of a warrant of search under Act III of 1867 in that it did not direct the search of a house but only the arrest of a person, is an irregularity that renders the rule of evidence in s. 6 of the Act inapplicable. But it does not vitiate the conviction if it had not caused any failure of justice and if the presumption ordinarily raised under s. 114 of the Evidence Act by the evidence as to search and the other evidence in the case support the conviction. EMPRESS v. MAN SINGH, A.W.N. 1884. 291 [F., 12 Cr.L.J. 28=8 Ind. Cas. 1127=6 N. L.R. 168.]

(71)—S. 6—Prsumption under the section, when arises.—It is only when a house is duly entered and searched, under the provisions of s. 5, under a warrant signed by an officer having authority to issue it, that the presumption referred to in s. 6 arises. But the fact of a certain house being a gaming house can be proved aliunde. RAM SARUP v. KING-EMPEROR, 1 A.L.J. 115.

(72)—S. 6—"Cowries," whether instruments of gaming.—Although cowries can be used for the purpose of gambling, they are not "instruments of gaming" within the meaning of s. 6, Act III of 1867. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHAWANI, 18 A. 23=A.W.N. 1895, 139.

(73)—S. 6—Cowries—Instruments of gaming.—Although cowries are not, ordinarily, instruments of gaming, yet, if they are used in a particular case as instruments of gaming, they are instruments of gaming; that is to say, the mere finding of cowries in a house would not raise the presumption that the house was used as a common gaming-house, but evidence that cowries were used in a particular house as a means whereby to carry on gaming would bring the case within the section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BALA MISRA, 19 A. 311=A.W.N. 1897, 117. (A.W.N. 1895, 139, R.) [R., 25 C. 432, 10 O.C. 225.]

(74)—S. 6—Instruments of gaming—Cowries.—Cowries are not instruments of gaming. GANDA v. EMPRESS, 3 P.R. 1896, Cr.

(75)—S. 6—Cowries cannot be taken to be instruments of gaming for the purpose of s. 6 of the Act. EMPRESS v. MUSSAMMAT KASHI, 6 C. P.L R. 17 Cr. [Rel., 12 Cr. L.J. 28=8 Ind. Cas. 1127=6 N.L.R. 168.] See, also, QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHAWANI, 18 A. 23=15 A.W.N. 139.

(76)—S. 6—Issue of search warrant, condition for.—It is an absolutely necessary preliminary to the issue of a search warrant under s. 6 of the Act, that the Magistrate or the District Superintendent of Police should have reason to believe on credible information that the house which it is proposed to search is used as a "common gaming-house." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NIAZ AHMAD, S.C. 203, Oudh.

(77)—S. 6—See Nos. 27 to 30, 35 to 38, 48, 49 and 63 to 67, supra.

(78)—Ss. 6 and 5—When presumption under section arises.—The presumption of s. 6 does not arise, unless the search is conducted in strict accordance with s. 5 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SHAN GYI, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 407.

(79)—Ss. 8 and 11—Confiscation of property, when can be ordered.—Forfeiture of property can be ordered only in cases where there is a conviction and is restricted to property belonging to convicted persons. JIWAN v. EMPRESS, 5 P.R. 1898, Cr.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1867 (Public Gambling)—continued.

(80)—S. 10—See No. 28, supra.

(81)—Ss. 10, 11—One of the accused examined as a witness against others.—Where the police, in making a search under Act III of 1867, were merely trespassers, owing to the warrant of search not being a legal one, held, that one of the co-accused could not be examined as a witness, as the entry into the house was not under the provisions of the Act. RAM SARUP v. KING-EMPEROR, 1 A.L J. 115.

(82)—S. 11—See Nos. 79 and 81, supra.

(83)—S. 13—Tharra.—A tharra, part of a private house by the side of but outside, a public street, is not a public place. MUL SINGH v. EMPRESS, 11 P.R. 1890, Cr.

(84)—S. 13—The accused were found to have gambled in an open piece of ground outside a town and far away from the road. Though, in general, people were allowed to make use of the place without interference, it had not been dedicated to the public. It was, further, the private property of a particular individual. The accused were convicted of an offence under s. 13 of the Act. Held, under the circumstances, the conviction could not stand, the reason being that the land had not been dedicated to the public. KING-EMPEROR v. FAJJA, 9 P.R. 1905, Cr = 2 Cr.L.J. 46 = 123 P.L.R. 1905. (17 P.R. 1882 Cr., 8 C.W.N. 592, 31 C. 542, R.)

(85)—S. 13—Gambling in a grove.—A person found gambling in a grove which is private property cannot be convicted under s. 13, as that section only refers to gambling in a public street, place or thoroughfare. AHMAD ALI v. KING-EMPEROR, 1 A.L J. 129.

(86)—S. 13—Gambling in zamindar's grove —Public place.—Gambling in a zamindar's grove near a village, the gambling taking place of the footpath running through the grove and commonly used by the tacit permission of the zamindars as a public way, was not gambling in a "public place" within the meaning of s. 13 of Act III of 1867. EMPEROR v. AJUDHIA PRASAD, A.W.N. 1904, 92.

(87)—S. 13—What are public places—Kwin. —A "kwin," or field from which the crops have been reaped, is a "public place" within the meaning of s. 13. Act III of 1867, as amended by s. 6, Act XVI of 1884. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA HMAT GYI, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 317.

(88)—S. 13—Chabutra of a temple.—The Chabutra of a temple, to which all classes of the public except the lowest classes have access is a public place within the meaning of s. 13 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHOTE LALL, A.W.N. 1895, 127.

(89)—S. 13—Fighting cocks not instruments of gaming.—Fighting cocks are not instruments of gaming within the meaning of s. 13 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA THA ZAN, L. B.R. 1872—1892, 407. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 317, F.)

(90)—S. 13—Fighting birds, bulls, or any other animals.—Fighting birds, bulls, or any other animals are not "instruments of gaming" and Magistrates cannot order their destruction. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA HMAT GYI, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 317.

(91)—S. 13—Tossing for pice—Instrument of gaming.—An instrument of gaming means an implement devised or intended for that purpose. Coins are not instruments of gaming within the meaning of s. 13 of the Gambling Act. In this case, a conviction for tossing for pice on a public road was set aside. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SIT TUN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 155. (6 B. 19, F.)

(92)—S. 13—Bullock race not an offence under the Act.—Holding a bullock race and betting thereon is not an offence punishable under s. 13 of the Gambling Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SHWE TON, L B.R. 1872—1892, 541.

(93)—*S.*13—Hindu temple.—A Hindu temple does not fall under the definition of "place." although the temple is situated in a thoroughfare and can be looked at from the road. GHODDU v. EMPRESS, 13 P.R. 1882, Cr.

(94)—S. 13—"Public place," meaning.—A place to which persons are in the habit of going, even without having any strict legal right to do so, is a public place. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAHABIR, S.C. 91, Oudh.

(95)—S. 13—The words "any public street, place or thoroughfare" in s. 13 of Act III of 1867 does not include the verandah of a private house facing such street, place, or thoroughfare. POLICE v. DHONDIA, Colm. Dig. Cr. 1 of 1871.

(96)—S. 13.—A "public place" is a place appropriated to the use of the public. A place near a public road and exposed to public view is not a public place. KASHI RAM v. EMPRESS, 17 P.R. 1882, Cr. [R., 9 P.R. 1905, Cr.]

(97)—S. 13—What are not public places—Verandah attached to a room.—A verandah attached to the room of a private house, looking on an alley, is not a 'public place" within the meaning of s. 13. EMPRESS v. BHAGWAN, A.W N. 1881, 17.

(98)—S. 13—The chabutra of a shop.—The chabutra of the shop of one of the accused, which was a part of his own premises, is not a "public place" within the meaning of s. 13 of the Act. EMPRESS v. RATAN, A.W N. 1881, 8. See, also, EMPRESS v. KALANDAR KHAN, A.W.N. 1887, 75.

(99)—S. 13—Gambling when punishable.—Gambling is not punishable under s 13 of the above, if it is not shown to have been carried on in any public street, place or thoroughfare. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ANANT, S.C. 63, Oudh.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1867 (Public Gambling)—continued.

(100)—S. 13—Magisterial proceedings against persons not apprehended by the police on the spot.—Although a Magistrate is not restrained from trying an offence punishable under s. 13 of the Act when the police have failed to exercise the power of arrest without warrant conferred upon them in respect of offences punishable under s. 13, yet it is not indiscreet and ill-advised for a Magistrate to issue a warrant of arrest against a person found gambling, who was apprehended by the police on the spot. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHWE THEIN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 251.

(101)—S. 13—Money found with gamblers—Confiscation of instruments of gaming.—Though a Magistrate is empowered by s. 13 to order any instruments of gaming that may have been seized by the police to be destroyed forthwith, he is not authorized to confiscate all the money the gamblers may have about them. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ANANT, S.C. 63, Oudh.

(102)—S. 13—Forfeiture of money and payment of reward.—In convicting the accused under s. 13 for gambling of a public thoroughfare, held, that the Magistrate was not competent to order the forfeiture of money found on the spot, and to direct the payment of certain rewards out of the fine. SANT v. EMPRESS, 18 P.R 1891, Cr.

(103)—S. 13—Instruments of gaming, seizure of.—On a conviction under s. 13, the Magistrate may order all instruments of gaming found in a public place, or on the persons of those arrested to be forthwith destroyed, but that section contains no provision such as is found in s. 8, authorising the forfeiture of money seized. EMPEROR v. TOTA, 26 A. 270=A.W.N. 1904, 11.

(104)—S. 13—Order for award to Police.—An order for award to the Police Officer, who arrested, of half the fine imposed under s. 13, Act III of 1867, is illegal. POLICE v. CHHOTA, Colm. Dig. Cr. 93 of 1877.

(105)—S. 13—Fine and imprisonment.—Under s. 13 of Act III of 1867, it is not legal to impose double punishment of fine and imprisonment. EMPRESS v. GOKAL, 25 P.R. 1880, Cr.

(106)—S. 13—Mere game of skill—Game of chance.—A game which consists of throwing a ring over a pin is a game of chance and not a mere game of skill, and is consequently punishable under s. 13 of the Public Gambling Act. AHMAD KHAN v. KING-EMPEROR, 8 A. L.J. 1262=12 Ind. Cas. 988=12 Cr. L.J. 512. (6 C.L.J. 708, R.) [R., 15 Cr. L.J. 276=23 Ind. Cas. 484.]

(107)—S. 13—Meaning of "public place"—Private property when to be deemed as 'public place'—Intention of accused simply to conceal themselves—Whether accused can be convicted of gambling in public place.—A place may be a public place though it is the private property of an individual. The expression 'public place' in s. 13, Public Gambling Act, must be interpreted in connection with the expressions

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1867 (Public Gambling)—concluded.

'public street' and 'public thoroughfare' with which it is joined. Where a place is owned privately, and has not been in any way dedicated to the use of the public, the question whether it is a public place depends on the character of the place itself and the use actually made of it. Where the, time place and circumstances connected with the alleged offence show that it was not the intention of the accused to obtrude themselves upon the members of the public, but it was their intention to conceal themselves, held, they cannot be treated as having gambled in a public place. VITHU v. EMPEROR, 9 N.L.R. 164=14 Cr. L.J. 670=21 Ind. Cas. 910. (31 C. 542, 29 B. 386, 6 C.W. N. 33, 30 B. 348, R.; (1864) 33 L.J. M.C. 58, (1885) 54 L.J.M.C. 14, D.)

(108)—S. 13—See ARREST, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 256.

(109)—S. 13—See COCK-FIGHTING, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 163.

(110)—S. 13—See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR, A.W.N. 1906, 13=3 Cr. L.J. 91.

(111)—S. 13—See Nos. 13 31 and 50, supra.

(112)—S. 14—See No. 30, supra.

(113)—S. 15—See Nos. 32, 39 and 51, supra.

(114)—S. 16—Fine—Payment out of it to police officer of his efforts.—Held that a Magistrate was not competent to order payment of a portion of the fine imposed upon the accused, on conviction under s. 13 to the police officer for his efforts in the case. CROWN v. RAM SURN, 2 P.R. 1870, Cr.

(115)—S. 16—See Nos. 31 and 33, supra.

Act XII of 1867 (Presidency Jails).

[REP., ACT V OF 1871.]

(1)—S. 14—Procedure on warrants.—Where a prisoner was arrested by a sheriff under a writ of ca. sa., it was held that it was necessary to bring him before the Court without delay, under this section. In re RAM COOMAR DUTT, 2 Ind. Jur. N. S. 340. [Doubted, 7 C. 421, 12 C. 629.]

Act XXI of 1867 (Licensing Professions and Trades).

[REP., ACT IX OF 1868]

(1)—S. 15—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—Where a Magistrate sentenced a person, who had neglected to take license, under the above section of the Act and Act XXIX of 1867, s. 3, to pay a fine of ten rupees, and in default of payment, to suffer seven days' simple imprisonment, held that so much of the sentence as awarded imprisonment should be reversed as the trying Magistrate had, under the Act, no power to make such an order. REG. v. CHENAPPA valad NAGAPPA, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 44.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXV of 1867 (Press and Registration of Books).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PART, ACT XIV OF 1870 ; REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT X OF 1890 ; ACT XII OF 1891. LOCAL GOVERNMENT EMPOWERED TO ANNUL DECLARATIONS MADE UNDER, AND S. 15, EXT. ACT VII OF 1908, SS. 7, 8, DECLARED IN FORCE—THROUGHOUT BRITISH INDIA, EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 3 ; IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3 ; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—Copyright whether infringed by translation.—A person by translating a book into another language does not render himself guilty of an infringement of copyright. MUNSHI SHAIK ABDUR RAHAMAN v. MIRZA MAHOMED SHIRAZI, 14 B. 586. [F., 19 B. 557.]

(2)—Translation not copy.—Translations are not copies and a person by translating a book does not infringe the author's copyright. MACMILLAN v. KHAN BAHADUR SHAMSUL ULAMA M. ZAKA. 19 B. 557.

(3)—Ss. 1, 3 and 12—"Publisher," who is—Penal Code, ss. 484, 486—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 439—Revisional powers of High Court.—In this case, the accused caused to be printed copies of certain books, which previously had been printed at the Government Press, Allahabad, and offered them for sale and sold some of them. Some of these books did not contain the name of the printer and the place of printing, or the name of the publisher and the place of publication. Other books had printed upon them the words "Government Press, Allahabad." Held, that, in respect of the former set of books, the accused was properly convicted of an offence under s. 12 of the Act, for, a man who causes a book to be printed and offers it to the public for sale is a publisher within the meaning of ss. 3 and 12 of the Act. Held further, that, in respect of the latter set of books the prisoner was guilty of an offence under s. 12, but not under s. 486, I.P.C. The High Court is competent, in revision, to alter a finding of conviction, maintaining the sentence. EMPRESS v. JOTI PRASAD, A.W.N. 1887, 95.

(4)—S. 3—Scope of the section.—The intention of the section, in requiring that the name of the printer and the place of printing and the name of the publisher and the place of the publication should be printed legibly on every book or paper was to inform the public who the responsible printer or publisher was and to convey that information on the face of the paper. Words, which contained no such information, would not amount to a sufficient compliance with the requirements of s. 3. The intention was not simply to provide some facility or other, but to provide a specific facility on the face of the paper. Where a newspaper was printed and published bearing the following words, "printed and published at Cochin for the Malabar Economic Company at the said Company's Goshree Vilasam Press," held, that these words were not a sufficient compliance with the requirements of s. 3, inasmuch as there was no name of the printer as required by the Act.—Per Collins, C. J., and Muttusamy Ayyar, J. Under s. 3 of Act XXV of 1867, it is not necessary that the actual name of the printer should be given. So long as a name or style, which sufficiently designates the printer, is given, it does not matter that it is not the actual name of the printer. It is sufficient that it is the name under which he chooses to do business and is generally known. Unless it can be said that the words do not convey to an ordinary reader the information required by the Act, the conviction for a non-compliance of the provisions of s. 3 cannot be supported—Per Shephard, J. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HARI SHENOY, 16 M. 443 = 3 M.L.J. 201 = 1 Weir 862.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXV of 1867 (Press and Registration of Books)—continued.

(5)—S. 3—Printer — Imprint of name — Printer of a portion of the book should have his imprint.—The printer of a book is bound to imprint his name and the place of printing, under the provisions of s. 3 of the Printing Presses ane Books Act, 1867, even if he has printed only a portion of the book. EMPEROR v. HARI, 14 Bom. L.R. 40 = 13 Ind. Cas. 827 = 13 Cr.L.J. 139 = 1 Bom. Cr. C. 70.

(5-a)—S. 3—See No. 3, supra.

(6)—Ss. 3, 5—See ACT I OF 1910, ss. 4 (i), 8, 9, 25, 6 P.W.R. 1913, Cr.

(7)—Ss. 3 and 12—Meaning of "publisher"—Booksellers.—The word "publisher" has been used in the Act in a restricted sense, and does not include a vendor of a newspaper or book. S. 12 read with s. 3 clearly indicates that such persons are not included in the word "publisher," for s. 3 enjoins the printing of the names of the printer and publisher. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BANKA PATNI, 23 C. 414.

(8)—Ss. 3, 12—Names of printer and publisher, not printed as such.—Where a copy of a vernacular newspaper contained the following words printed on the margin of the front page "ba ihtimam Ram Saran Datt printer, Hindustan Steam Press, Lahore men, Lala Bhawani Das Manager ke liye chapa." Held that they do not contain a clear intimation as to the publisher, as required by s. 3 of Act XXV of 1867. The rule in s. 3 of the Act requires that every paper printed and published in British India shall have legibly printed on it the name of the printer and the place of printing and the name of the publisher and place of publication, as such. An omission to comply with s. 3 is punishable under s. 12. Ss. 3 and 12 do not deal with intention. Printers and publishers cannot be allowed to select for themselves the description to be used in professing to comply with the Act, but they must use the descriptions prescribed by the Act. CROWN v. BHAWANI DAS, 5 P.R. 1909, Cr. = 15 P.W.R. 1909 = 10 Cr. L.J. 195 = 2 Ind. Cas. 978.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXV of 1867 (Press and Registration of Books)—continued.

(9)—S. 4—Change of place of printing press —New declaration.—The Act does not require a new declaration in cases where a press, as to which the printer has made the declaration prescribed by s. 4, is changed to another locality within the same local jurisdiction as the former place. BAWA NARAIN SINGH v. EMPRESS, 9 P.R. 1889, Cr.

(10)—S. 4—See PENAL CODE, s. 124-A, 12 Bom. L.R. 675.

(11)—Ss. 4, 5—See ACT I OF 1910, ss. 3, 5, 23 (1), 16 Bom. L.R. 87 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 186 = 16 Cr. L J. 297 = 23 Ind. Cas. 505.

(12)—Ss. 4, 5, 13—Offence of keeping printing press without making required declaration, if triable summarily—Necessity for a new declaration under s. 4, on change of place of printing. —Where an accused person convicted on a summary trial of an offence under s. 13, Act XXV of 1867, had removed his press, as to which he had made the declaration prescribed by s. 4 of the Act, from the building, in which it was originally kept, to another building and had not made a fresh declaration under s. 4 as to the new premises, on the ground that no fresh declaration was necessary, held, that the offence was not triable summarily, and that where the new place of business is within the same local jurisdiction as the former place, a fresh declaration was unnecessary ; there is no clause in s. 4 of the Act (corresponding to the provision in s. 5) requiring a new declaration as often as a change of place takes place. BAWA NARAIN SINGH v. EMPRESS, 9 P.R. 1889, Cr.

(13)—S. 5—Penal Code, ss. 499 and 500—Defamation by newspaper—Liability of printer and publisher—Presumption—Burden of proof. —Although s. 499 requires proof of publication in order to support a conviction for defamation, the intention of Act XXV of 1867 was to constitute the declarations made by a person that he was the printer and publisher of a newspaper into prima facie evidence of publication and to throw on the accused the burden of showing that the actual publisher of the libel was not the person mentioned in the declaration. The presumption could be rebutted if such person showed that he entrusted in good faith the temporary management of the newspaper to a competent person during his absence, and that the libel was published without his authority, knowledge or consent. RAMASWAMI v. LOKANADA, 9 M. 387 = 1 Weir 576 = 1 Weir 865. [F., 2 Ind. Cas. 193 (194); R., 22 B. 152 (158), 35 C. 945 = 8 Cr. L. J. 438, 32 M. 338 (340) = 9 Cr. L. J. 506 = 5 M.L.T. 415].

(14)—S. 5—See Nos. 6, 11, 12, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXV of 1867 (Press and Registration of Books)—continued.

(15)—S. 7—Declaration by printer—Liability of printer.—A person, who subscribes to the declaration under the Printing Presses and Newspapers Act, must be presumed, under this section, to be cognisant of all that he was printing and publishing and, in the absence of any evidence to the contrary, his liability in the matter cannot be gainsaid. APURBA KRISHNA BOSE v. EMPEROR, 7 C.L.J 49 = 7 Cr. L.J. 10 = 35 C. 141 = 2 M.L.T. 500.

(16)—S. 7—Liability of printer or publisher for seditious matter appearing in his newspaper. —This section, which applies both to civil and criminal proceedings, makes the printer or publisher responsible for whatever may appear in a newspaper, whoever the writer of the article in it may be ; and, therefore, a prosecution may proceed against the printer, unless he can prove absence from the newspaper office in good faith and without knowledge that the seditious articles would be published during his absence. But it is not absence in good faith for a printer, to go away knowing very well what is going to happen in his absence, and for the purpose of shirking his liability. EMPEROR v. PHANENDRA NATH MITTER, 35 C. 945 = 8 Cr. L.J. 438. [R., 32 M. 3 = 5 M.L.T. 1 = 1 Ind. Cas. 22 = 9 Cr. L. J. 108.]

(17)—S. 7—Responsibility of printer—Publication of seditious matter—Want of knowledge or intention, or absence not a good defence.—The registered printer of a paper, so long as he continues such printer, cannot escape from criminal liability for publication therein, of a seditious article, by the plea that he was temporarily absent from the station when the article was printed, or that he was ignorant of the contents thereof, or that he had no intention of committing any offence. RAM DITTA v. KING-EMPEROR, 1 P.R. 1905, Cr = 2 Cr.L.J. 31 = 69 P.L.R. 1905. (22 B. 112, D.).

(18)—S. 7—Liability of declared printer and publisher when absent during the period of publication of seditious articles.—Where certain articles appearing in a newspaper are seditious, the declared printer would be responsible for the said articles, unless he can make out on sufficient evidence, that he had in fact nothing to do with them. The editor of a paper was convicted under S. 124 A, I.P.C., and sentenced to one year's imprisonment on 22nd December, 1907. After his release from jail, however, he resumed his work as editor. The declared printer and publisher of the paper made his declaration under Act XXV of 1867 on the 16th June, 1908. He left the town of publication of the paper on 28th August, 1909, and returned on the 29th November, during which period he was engaged in his own business as a photographer and general dealer elsewhere. He did not take any interest in the paper, but his name still appeared therein as its printer and publisher. He was tried with the editor for two seditious articles appearing on the 10th September and 26th November, 1909, during his absence and was convicted. Held that, as he allowed his name to remain on the record as the printer, and as he did not make out the bona fides of his absence from the place of publication, he was legally responsible for the articles. SURENDRA PROSAD LAHIRI v. EMPEROR, 38 C. 227=10 Ind. Cas. 954=12 Cr. L.J. 354.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXV of 1867 (Press and Registration of Books)—concluded.

(19)—S. 7—See PENAL CODE, s. 124-A, 5 M. L.T. 415=32 M. 338=9 Cr. L.J. 506=2 Ind. Cas. 193, 69 P.L.R. 1905=1 P.R. 1905, Cr.=2 Cr. L.J. 31.

(20)—S. 12—See Nos. 3, 7, 8, supra.

(21)—S. 13—See No. 12, supra.

(22)—S. 18—See ACT XX OF 1847, ss. 3, 6, 9 C.W.N. 591=1 C.L.J. 278.

Act XXIX of 1867 (Amending Act XXI of 1867).

[REP., ACT IX OF 1868.]

See ACT XXI OF 1867.

See ACT IX OF 1868.

(1)—S. 3—Illegal assessment—Jurisdiction of Criminal Courts.—If a person thinks that he has been illegally assessed or assessed twice over for the same period with income and license tax, his remedy is first to pay the tax and then to take proceedings in the Revenue Department for its refund. Proceedings can only be taken in the Criminal Court, when a person fails or refuses to take out or pay for a license. The only points which the Magistrate is competent to consider, in such proceedings, are whether the accused has been assessed for license tax, whether he has been served with the prescribed notice and whether, thereupon, he has failed to take out license. He is not competent to enquire whether the assessment has been rightly or wrongly made. CROWN v. KINGSCOTE, 29 P. R. 1868, Cr.

(2)—S. 3—Person once fined, if liable to further fine or demand.—Under the above section, a person once fined for not taking out a license is not liable to a second fine or to any further demand for the tax. In the matter of DOORGACHURN GIREE, 9 W.R. Cr. 64. [R., 18 W.R. Cr. 11, 7 C. 385].

(3)—See ACT XXI OF 1867, s. 15, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 44.

(4)—S. 15—Fine, Amount of—Examination of accused.—Under the above section, the fine to be imposed for non-payment of the tax cannot be less than the amount stated in the notice. A Deputy Magistrate is bound to examine the accused under s. 266 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (1861), in answer to the charge brought against them. QUEEN v. BISSESSUR SEIN, 9 W.R. Cr. 62.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1868 (General Clauses).

[REP., ACT X OF 1897.]

See ACT X OF 1897.

(1)—S. 1, cl. 13—Village Munsiff, whether Magistrate—Evidence Act, s. 26.—The word "include" in cl. 13 and other clauses of s. 1 of Act I of 1868 is intended to be enumerative, and not exhaustive. When it is intended to exhaust the significance of the word interpreted, the word "mean" is used. Therefore, there is nothing in Act I of 1868 to restrict the meaning of the word 'Magistrate' to a Magistrate within the meaning of the Crim. Pro. Code, in force at the date of its enactment. The provisions of s. 26 of the Evidence Act are to the same effect. A Village Munsiff in the Madras Presidency is, therefore, a "Magistrate." EMPRESS v. RAMANJIYYA, 2 M. 5=2 Weir 123. [R., 22 B. 235; D., 17 B. 485.]

(2)—S. 2 (8)—Upper Tanamal — British India.—Upper Tanamal is an integral part of British India within the meaning cl. 8 of s. 2 of Act I of 1868. CROWN v. FAZL NUR, 6 P.R, 1878, Cr.

(3)—S. 2 (18)—Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 488—Imprisonment, nature of.—Looking to the terms of s. 2 (18) of the General Clauses Act, "imprisonment" in s. 488, Crim. Pro Code, (1882), may be either "simple or rigorous." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NARAIN, 9 A. 240= A. W.N. 1887. 54. [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 70.]

(4)—S. 2 (18)—See ACT XXII OF 1881, s. 35, 17 P.R. 1889, Cr.

(5)—S. 2 (18)—See SENTENCE—IMPRISONMENT—GENERAL, 18 W.R. Cr. 3.

(6)—S. 5—Application of.—S. 5 of the General Clauses Act applies only to offences and sentences passed under Acts which came into force after the General Clauses Act came into force. NGA THA GAUNG v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L.B. R. 1872—1892, 475.

(7)—S. 5—Crim. Pro. Code, Act XXV of 1861, ss. 21, 61—Fines.—S. 5 of the General Clauses Act does not apply to fines levied under Regulations and Acts passed prior to the passing of that Act. But s. 21 of the Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, has the effect of making s. 61 thereof applicable to the levy of such fines whether imposed under the Penal Code or under any special or local law, unless such law prescribed a method of levying of such fine. REG. v. GOVIND JHILGA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 57=Cr. Rg. 5-10-1871.

(8)—S. 5—See ACT IX OF 1869, 7 B.H.C. Cr. 76.

(9)—S. 5—See ACT IX OF 1890, s. 113, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 871=Cr. Rg. 43 of 1896.

(10)—S. 5—See BUR. ACT III OF 1889, s. 13, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 141.

(11)—S. 5—See MAD. ACT I OF 1866, s. 22, 8 M. 350.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1868 (General Clauses)—concluded.

(12)—S. 6—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 555—Person charged with offences, some triable by jury, others by assessors under the Code of 1872 —Change of procedure, effect of, on pending trial.—Where a person was tried, under the Code of 1872, by a Sessions Court, with the aid of assessors on charges some of which were triable by assessors, others by jury, and before the conclusion of the trial, the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1882, making such cases triable by jury, came into force, held, that reading s. 6 of the General Clauses Act with s. 555, Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, the functions of the assessors appointed at the commencement of the trial should continue to be those of assessors and were not converted into those of jurors and that the Judge was wrong in having treated the case as having been tried by a jury. SRINIVASA CHARI v. QUEEN, 6 M. 336=7 Ind. Jur. 301.

(13)—S. 6—Offence under Stamp Act, X of 1862—Repeal of a repealing enactment, effect of. —An offence committed under the Stamp Act (X of 1862), while it was in force (but since repealed), is still an offence and may be tried under that Act. The mere repeal of a Repealing Act or the repealing portion of a Repealing Act does not by itself, revive the original Act or the repealed portion thereof. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 30TH JULY, 1872, No. 1368, 1 Weir 781=7 M.H.C. App. 8.

(14)—S. 6—See ACT XVII OF 1862, 2 C. 225.

(15)—See ACT XVII OF 1862, ss. 1, 2, 4, 1 A. 599.

(16)—See ACT VIII OF 1871, s. 80, 18 W.R. Cr. 3.

Act VIII of 1868 (Repealing Act, 1868).

[REP., ACT XIV OF 1870].

See ACT XVII OF 1862, 2 C. 225, F.B.

Act IX of 1868 (Taxing Professions and Trades).

[REP., ACT IX OF 1869].

See ACT IX OF 1869.

(1)—Ss. 13 and 17— Dismissing complaint owing to want of evidence that accused's names were included in list—Procedure.—A Magistrate was held to have acted rightly in dismissing a complaint under s. 17 of the Act, because there was no evidence that the names of the accused were included in the list mentioned in s. 13. In prosecutions under this Act, a Magistrate must proceed in the manner laid down in Ch. XV of the Code of Criminal Procedure (1861), and must require proof of all the facts which go to constitute the offence. QUEEN v. KHETTAR NATH GHOSE, 11 W.R. Cr. 56.

(2)—S. 17—Fine, amount and remission of—License— Service of notice.—A Magistrate is bound, under the above section, to impose on every offender, on conviction for not taking out a license, after notice served on him, a fine equal to twice the sum mentioned in the notice and cannot remit any portion of the fine. The service under the Act must be personal, wherever personal service is practicable. QUEEN v. RAMGOBIND CHUCKERBUTTY, 2 B.L.R. App. 40=11 W.R. Cr. 13.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1868 (Taxing Professions and Trades)—concluded.

(3)—S. 17—Jurisdiction of Collector where penalty levied.—If it is sought to recover the penalty described by s. 17 of Act IX of 1868 from any person who omits to take out a certificate, the Collector, who issued the notice, should prefer a complaint before a Magistrate, but should not prefer the complaint before himself in his capacity as a Magistrate. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 26TH JULY, 1869, 4 M.H.C. App. 61.

(4)—S. 17—See TAX, 2 B.L.R. Ap. 40=11 W.R. Cr. 13.

(5)—S. 17—See No. 1, supra.

Act XIV of 1868 (Contagious Diseases).

[REP., ACT IX OF 1888.]

(1)—Common prostitute registered under the Contagious Diseases Act—Right to have name removed from the register on desire to discontinue business.—Every woman registered as a common prostitute under the Contagious Diseases Act has an absolute right to have her name removed "from the book," if she is desirous of ceasing to carry on such business; and any rule or portion of a rule, purporting to be made under the Act, which raises any obstacle to the exercise of such right is ultra vires. EMPRESS v. NISTAR RAUR, 6 C. 163=7 C.L.R. 197.

(2)—S. 11—Prosecution of prostitute for non-attendance for examination—Plea of application for removal of name from register.—A woman prosecuted under s. 11 of the Act is not precluded from pleading that she has ceased to carry on the business of a common prostitute and that she has taken the proper steps to have her name removed from the register. EMPRESS v. NISTAR RAUR, 6 C. 163=7 C.L.R. 197. (3 B. L.R.A. Cr. 70, Appr.)

(3)—S. 11—No appeal.—There is no appeal from a conviction under the above section for a registered prostitute neglecting to appear for examination. QUEEN v. BOYDONATH MOOKERJEE, 17 W.R. Cr. 11.

(4)—Ss. 11 and 21—Registration of prostitutes when to be made.—Under this Act, the police are not empowered to put a woman on the register of "common prostitutes" against her will. The penalty prescribed by s. 11, for disobedience of any of its rules is for a "woman who voluntarily registers herself as a common prostitute." The mere possession of a registration ticket, under the Act, does not necessarily make the holder of it a registered public prostitute under it, or the rules framed by the Government under the Act. The registration must be voluntary, and the mere fact that a woman appears in answer to a summons issued by the police, and answers questions put to her, is not sufficient to bring her within the Act. QUEEN v. SUKHIMONEE RAUR, 12 W.R.Cr. 55=3 B L.R. A.Cr. 70.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIV of 1868 (Contagious Diseases)—cld.

(5)—Ss. 11 and 21—See PROSTITUTION, 3 B.L.R. A. Cr. 70=12 W.R. Cr. 55.

(6)—S. 21—See Nos. 4, 5, supra.

Act IV of 1869 (Divorce).

[REP. IN PT., ACT VII OF 1870; REP. IN PT. ACT XII OF 1873; REP. IN PT. (IN PUNJAB), ACT XVIII OF 1884; REP IN PT., (IN THE CENTRAL PROVINCES AND THE DISTRICT OF SAMBALPUR). ACT IV OF 1901, S. 8. AM. (IN LOWER BURMA), ACT XI OF 1889. S. 97 (REP. BY ACT VI OF 1900), AND ACT VI OF 1900, S. 47. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT (EXCEPT SO MUCH OF SS. 47 AND 49 AS RELATES TO STAMPS), REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3.]

(1)—S. 14—See ADULTERY, 3 C. 688.

(2)—S. 17—Decree nisi by District Judge for dissolution of marriage—Direction to deliver up child to husband — Removal of child from husband's custody before confirmation of decree by High Court, if offence—See PENAL CODE, s. 363, 18 C.W.N. 484=15 Cr. L.J. 72=22 Ind. Cas. 424=41 C. 714.

Act VIII of 1869 (Code of Criminal Procedure Amendment).

[REP., ACT X OF 1872].

See CODE OF CRIMINAL PROCEDURE.

(1)—See ACT XVIII OF 1854, s. 25, 7 M.H.C. App. 8.

(1-a)—See BEN. ACT XXI OF 1856, 17 W.R. Cr. 7.

(2)—See APPEAL—CASES WHERE APPEAL DOES NOT LIE, 6 B.H.C. Cr. 64.

(3)—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1861, s. 237, 16 W.R. Cr. Cir. 1.

(4)—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 436, 437, 438 (1), 7 B.H.C. Cr. 72.

(5)—See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF —MISCELLANEOUS, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 39, F.B.

(6)—Ss. 203, 209, 211—See CONFESSION—GENERAL, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 103.

(7)—S. 209—See No. 6, supra.

(8)—S. 211—See No. 6, supra.

(9)—S. 435—See DISCHARGE OF ACCUSED, 4 B.L.R. A. Cr. 1=12 W.R. Cr. 65.

(10)—S. 445-B—See COMMITMENT TO SESSIONS COURT, 30 P.R. 1869, Cr.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1869 (Income-Tax).

[REP., ACT XVI OF 1870].

(1)—Income-Tax Act IX of 1869 and XXIII of 1869—General Clauses Act. I of 1868, s. 5 —Imprisonment in default of fine.—The Income-Tax Act being one passed after Act I of 1868, s. 5 of the latter authorizes the infliction of imprisonment in default of payment of fine for not paying the additional tax imposed on a person by the Income-Tax Act. REG v. SANGAPA bin BASHIAPA, 7 B.H C.Cr. 76.

(2)—Ss. 3, 25—Non-payment—Jurisdiction —Magistrate.—Under ss. 3 and 25 of the Income-Tax Act, a subordinate Magistrate of the second class has no jurisdiction to convict a person for non-payment of the income-tax. REG v. TAPEE POONJA, Rat. Un. Cr.C. 37.

(3)—S. 19—False statement—Penal Code, s. 193.—The accused, who was assessed with an income-tax of Rs. 500-0-0, objected to the tax on the ground that the tax which he paid for the previous years was only Rs. 225, that there was no increase in the income in the year in question. When asked to produce evidence in support of his statement, he withdrew his objection. His books, when examined, showed that the accused had lent between Rs. 5,000 and Rs. 6,000 to various villagers, but there was nothing to show the rate of interest. Held, that as the accused had failed to prove his allegation that his income was not more than Rs. 225, and that as his books showed that he had lent a large sum for interest, the usual rate ranging between 12 and 24 per cent. the accused was rightly convicted under s. 193. RAMPERSHAD v. CROWN, 7 P.R. 1870, Cr.

(4)—S. 19—Power of Tahsildar to hear petition under s. 19—False statements in that petition.—Held, that a Tahsildar was not an officer empowered to receive a petition under s. 19 of Act IX of 1869, and, therefore, a person making a false statement in such a petition cannot be convicted of perjury. In re MOONEAPPA OODIAN, 5 M.H.C. 326.

(5)—Ss. 24, 25—Conviction under the section —Appeal—Duty of appellate Court.—Although there are grounds for holding that the Legislature intended that convictions under ss. 24 and 25, Act IX of 1869, should be summarily disposed of by the Magistrate, the right of appeal conferred by the Crim. Pro. Code is not taken from persons convicted under the Income-Tax Act. It is not competent to judge, on appeal from a conviction under ss. 24 and 25 of Act IX of 1869, to reverse the conviction merely because he regards it as one of hardship, nor has he to determine whether or not the failure to pay the tax was in pursuance of an intention to avoid payment. Where the tax-payer fails to pay the amount within the time specified by the notice, he is guilty of an offence within the terms of s. 25 of Act IX of 1869, and subsequent payment would not take the case out of the provision of s. 25. QUEEN v. CHEIT RAM, 2 N.W.P. 113.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1869 (Income-Tax)—concluded.

(6)—S. 25—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine—Competency of Magistrate to award.—A Magistrate has no power under the above section to sentence to imprisonment in default of the payment of fine imposed for not paying the income-tax. QUEEN v. NODIA CHAND KOONDOO, 14 W.R.Cr. 70. [F., 22 W. R. Cr. 51; 19 A. 462.]

(7)—S. 25—Appeal against fine to Sessions Court.—No appeal lies to a Sessions Judge from the order of a Magistrate fining a defaulter under s. 25 of the Act. QUEEN v. MUDHOO DUTT, 14 W.R. Cr. 71.

(8)—S. 25—See Nos. 2, 5, supra.

(9)—Ss. 25, 27—Prosecution under s. 25—Collector's duty to institute prosecution.—The provisions of s. 27 seem to imply that the Collector ought in each case to exercise his discretion as to whether a prosecution should be instituted. The mere sending of the Tahsildar's report, containing an expression of the Collector's general desire to prosecute defaulters, cannot be held to tantamount to the institution of a prosecution at the instance of the Collector. QUEEN v. CHEIT RAM, 2 N. W.P. 113.

(10)—S. 27—See No. 9, supra.

Act XV of 1869 (Prisoners' Testimony).

[REP., ACT III OF 1900.]

(1)—Applicability of Act—Evidence Act, s. 118—Conviction for theft—Subsequent trial of witnesses for receiving stolen property—Evidence of person convicted of theft.—Two sonars A and B were convicted of theft and duly sentenced. R and G, who had given evidence as witnesses against them, were afterwards prosecuted under s. 411, I.P.C., in connection with the same property, and convicted on the evidence of A and B. Held (1) that the Prisoners' Testimony Act had no bearing on the point for decision and the two convicts were competent and compellable witnesses, there being no exclusion of them, nor privilege given them by law; (2) that, in the absence of any pardon or suggestion by any judicial authority of pardon, R and G had no privilege against prosecution or against the evidence of any admissible witness being used against them. Even if, as witnesses against A and B, they made full confessions of crime as being dishonest receivers, they would have no privilege, which can only be conferred by a special enactment of the legislature as in the case of confessing Mamlatdars by Act XIV of 1889. QUEEN EMPRESS v. RAMACHANDRA SAWAIRAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 776 = Cr. Rg. 41 of 1895.

(2)—See SMALL CAUSE COURT, MOFUSSIL, 5 B.L.R. 215 = 13 W.R. 278.

(3)—S. 3—Convict—Attendance as accused.—A Magistrate can, under s. 3 of Act XV of 1869, procure the attendance of a convict as an accused person without the intervention of the High Court. If the convict is in a jail in a District other than that in which he is required, the procedure to be adopted is under s. 3 of the Act. NASICK DIST. MAGISTRATE'S LETTER NO. 2619, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 66.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XV of 1869 (Prisoners' Testimony)—cld.

(3-a)—Ss 3, 4, 7—Prisoners confined in jail within High Court's Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction.—Power to take them out to answer charges.—No Court subordinate to the High Court has power to take away a prisoner, confined in a jail within the local limits of its Ordinary Original Civil Jurisdiction, to answer a criminal charge. In re LINGAM LAKSHMAJI PANDIT, 1 Weir 866.

(4)—S. 4—See No. 4, supra.

(5)—S. 7—See No. 4, supra.

(6)—Ss. 15, 16—Prisoners' Testimony Act, XV of 1869, ss. 15 and 16—Act XV of 1869, s. 16—Signature of jailer—Judicial notice.—The Court will take judicial notice of the signature of the jailer under s. 16, Act XV of 1869, Prisoners' Testimony Act. TAMOR SINGH v. KALIDAS ROY, 4 B.L.R.O C. 51.

(7)—S. 16—See No. 6, supra.

Act XVIII of 1869 (General Stamps).

[REP., ACT I OF 1879.]

See ACT I OF 1879.

See ACT II OF 1899.

(1)—Intention to evade duty.—Omitting to stamp an instrument is not punishable under the Stamp Act, if there is no intention to evade payment of the proper duty. When a Court, before which an unstamped instrument is produced, decides the question of intention to evade payment, that decision is final. If the decision is against the party, the Collector is bound to prosecute, and in such prosecution the question cannot be again considered. And the debtor who acknowledges a debt in his creditor's book is liable, in such cases, to be prosecuted as a principal and the other party as an abettor. CROWN v. PREMSINGH, 23 P.R. 1876, Cr.

(2)—See PENAL CODE, ss. 21 (9), 161, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 36 = Cr. Rg. 28-7-1870.

(3)—S. 3—Entries of loans in account books.—Entries of loans in account books cannot be treated as bonds within the meaning of cl. 5, s. 3 of Act XVIII of 1869. QUEEN v. BULDEO, 2 N.W.P. 453.

(4)—Ss. 20 and 29—Scope of the section—Intention to evade payment—Liability of donee under insufficiently stamped document.—S. 20 of Act XVIII of 1869 has reference only to civil Court, and its provisions are purely fiscal and inapplicable to a criminal prosecution. Intention to evade payment is not an essential ingredient in the offences described by s. 29 of Act XVIII of 1869. A donee under an insufficiently stamped deed of gift is not liable to punishment under s. 29 of the Act. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 28TH NOVEMBER, 1870, 6 M H.C. App. 5=1 Weir 900.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1869 (General Stamps)—contd.

(5)—Ss. 24, 29 and 44—Procedure.—That which the Magistrate has to adjudicate upon, on a prosecution coming before him under s. 24 of the Stamp Act, is whether an offence against the Act has been committed, and whether the prosecution has been brought before him by the proper officer. Any person who makes himself liable by committing an offence within the terms of s. 29 and the following sections, and who is prosecuted by the Collector or other officer duly empowered, may be convicted by the Magistrate under s. 44. If an instrument called a promissory note or other document of that kind, and as such liable to the duty imposed by the Act, is not duly stamped, the person subject to penalty is the person who makes it, and not the person in whose favour it is made. The Magistrate of the District should not himself try a case in which he instituted the prosecution as Collector. QUEEN v. NADI CHAND PODDAR, 24 W. R. Cr. 1. [F., 3 C. 622 ; R., 20 A. 440.]

(6)—S. 28 Acceptor of unstamped receipt.—The maker of an unstamped receipt is punishable, but not the acceptor unless it can be shown that he abetted the making of the receipt. SHAMBHU SINGH v. RAGHUBAR, S. C. 33, Oudh.

(7)—S. 29—Art. 38 (=Art. 31 of Act of 1899) —Intention to evade s. 29.—Where, out of lands bought by a certain person under a sale-deed, he transferred to the vendors some portions, getting, in lieu of such portions, certain other lands of the vendors and executed an instrument reciting the said transfer on a stamp paper of 8 annas, it was held that such document was an instrument of exchange chargeable under this article. For the purpose of ascertaining whether any and what penalty should be imposed, a Magistrate is bound to consider the question whether a person, prosecuted under this section, had any intention to defraud the Government by evading payment of stamp duty. EMPRESS v. DWARKANATH CHOWDHRY 2 C. 399, F.B., [D., 12 M. 231.]

(8)—S. 29—Intention to evade payment—Liability of donee under an insufficiently stamped document.—Intention to evade payment is not an essential ingredient to the offences described by s. 29 of Act XVIII of 1869. A donee under insufficiently stamped deed of gift is not liable to punishment under s. 29. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 28TH NOVEMBER, 1870, NO. 2153, 1 Weir 900=6 M.H C. App. 5.

(8-a)—S. 29—See Nos. 4, 5, supra.

(9)—S. 43—Competency of prosecuting Magistrate to try offenders — Procedure.—A Magistrate, authorised by the Collector of a district to prosecute offenders against the Stamp law, is not competent to try them for the same offence. The Collector should employ the Government Pleader or some person other than a Magistrate to conduct the prosecution under s. 43 of the Stamp Act. EMPRESS v. GANGADHUR BHUNJO, 3 C. 622=2 C L R. 179. (24 W.R. Cr. 1, F.). [F., 9 C.P.L.R. Cr. 26.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1869 (General stamps)—concld.

(10)—S. 43—Offence against the Stamp Act—Jurisdiction.—As the Stamp Acts of 1869 and 1879 recognise the Collector as primarily responsible for the institution of prosecutions for offences against them, he should not himself try, in his capacity as a Magistrate, a person charged with an offence under that Act. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. DEOKI NANDAN LAL, 2 A. 806. [D., L.B.R. (1872-1892) 400.]

(11)—S. 44—See No. 5, supra.

(12)—S. 48—Sale of Court-fee stamps without a license—See ACT I OF 1879, s. 68, 4 A. 216, F.B.

Act XXII of 1869 (Garo Hills).

[REP., ACT XIV OF 1874.]

S. 9—See LEGISLATURE, POWERS OF, 3 C. 63, F.B.=1 C.L.R. 161, 4 C. 172, P.C.=5 I.A. 178=3 C.L.R. 197.

Act XXIII of 1869 (Income-tax).

[REP., ACT XVI OF 1870.]

See ACT IX OF 1869, 7 B.H C. Cr. 76.

Act VII of 1870 (Court Fees).

[REP., IN PT., ACT XIV OF 1870 ; REP. IN PT., ACT VIII OF 1871 ; REP. IN PT., ACT XIII OF 1889; REP. IN PT., ACT VIII OF 1890; REP. IN PT., (IN PUNJAB), ACT XVII OF 1887 ; REP. IN PT. AND AM. ACT XX OF 1870 ; ACT VI OF 1889, S. 18 ; ACT XII OF 1891 ; S. 16, SCH. II, ART. 15, REP., SCH. I, ART. 1, SCH. II, ART. 9, AM., SCH. II, ART. 11, REP. IN PT., ACT V OF 1908 ; AM., ACT XV OF 1872, S. 2 ; AM., ACT XIII OF 1875, S. 6 AM., ACT VII OF 1889, S. 13 ; AM., ACT XI OF 1899, SS. 2, 3 ; AM., ACT X OF 1901 ; S. 7 (XI) AM., ACT VI OF 1905 ; AM. (IN PUNJAB) ACT XVIII OF 1884, S. 71 (AS AMENDED BY ACT XXV OF 1899, S. 6, AND BY ACT IX OF 1900); AM. (IN LOWER BURMA)—ACT XI OF 1889, S. 84, AND ACT VI OF 1900, S. 47 ; AM. (IN UPPER BURMA), REG. I OF 1896. S. 36 (PARTIALLY REP. BY REG. V OF 1903, S. 4); AM., IN BENGAL (EXCEPT THE SAMBALPUR DISTRICT) AND EASTERN BENGAL, BEN. ACT III OF 1898, SS. 7, (105 (3)). DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3 ; IN THE ANGUL SUB-DIVISION, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3 ; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S 4 ; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3.]

(1) S. 18 (16)—See COGNISABLE OFFENCE, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 70.

(1-a)—S. 18—See No. 38, infra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1870 (Court Fees)—continued.

(2)—S. 19 (xvii)—Petition by accused in his defence—Charge of Court fee—Summons case.—Clause (xvii) of s. 19 of the Court Fees Act exempts from the charge of a fee a " petition " by a prisoner, or other person in duress or under restraint of any Court " or its officers," but otherwise a petition from an accused person in his defence, at least in summons cases, appears to be liable to the payment of a Court-fee. QUEEN EMPRESS v. KARIMPUDEIN, U. B. R. 1892-1896, Vol. I, 9.

(3)—S. 19—See SURETY BOND, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 126.

(4)—Ss. 19 and 31—Court fees on complaint by Municipal Officers.—S. 31 of the Court Fees Act must be read with s. 19. No process fee is leviable under s. 19 on complaints made by Municipal officers, and the accused are not liable to refund what was illegally levied from the complainants as such fees. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KHAJABHOY, 16 M. 423 = 1 Weir. 723.

(5)—S. 20, cl. 2—See MAINTENANCE, 16 M. 234 = 2 Weir 252.

(6) S. 31—Ss. 22, 20, Act I of 1871—Penal Code, s. 186—Nazir delegating the authority to execute a warrant to peon—Obstruction—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 251.—Under the law and practice obtaining in the mofussil, a Nazir has authority to execute processes addressed to him through his deputies and subordinates. He is not debarred from delegating the authority to execute a warrant of attachment to a peon. The endorsement of the peon's name on the back of the warrant is sufficient prima facie evidence of the delegation, although the authority might well be conferred in more clear and explicit terms. A person obstructing the execution of attachment by such peon will be guilty of an offence under s. 186 of the Penal Code. The Court Fees Act distinctly contemplates that the peons are to be employed, not only for the service of summonses, notices or orders, but for the execution of other processes, such as warrants of arrest of attachment and distress. The number of the peons to be employed for the service and execution of processes in each district is, by s. 22, Court Fees Act, fixed by the District Judge and the remuneration is, by s. 20, settled by the High Court. The words " to be executed " in s. 251 of the Civ. Pro. Code (1882), would seem to imply that it was not intended that the " proper officer " should himself execute all warrants sent to him. There is nothing in the Code which indicates in any way that warrants of arrests, or of attachment or for distress and sale are to be executed by the " proper officer " in any manner different from the service of summonses. DHARAM CHAND LAL v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 22 C. 596. [F., 22 C. 759; D., 40 C. 849 = 17 C.W. N. 941 = 19 Ind. Cas. 706 = 14 Cr.L.J. 274.]

(7)—S. 31—Cattle Trespass Act (I of 1871), s. 22—Award of compensation and costs of the prosecution.—The words in s. 22 of Act I of 1871, " compensation for the loss caused by seizure and detention " do not necessarily refer only to such special damage as is sustained by the seizure and detention prior to the release of the cattle, but also include all expenses necessarily incurred by reason of such seizure and detention, though it may be after such release. The language is wide enough to include the Court and process fees necessarily paid on account of the refusal to make compensation or refund the fine paid. Where a Magistrate, on convicting two persons under s. 22, Cattle Trespass Act, directed the accused to pay not only the sum which the complainant had paid to procure the release of his cattle, but also the Court and process fees paid by the complainant in prosecuting the case under s. 31, Court Fees Act, held that the order for costs could not be made under s. 31, Court Fees Act, but was valid under s. 22, Cattle Trespass Act. SHAIK HUSSAIN v. SANJIVI, 7 M. 345 = 1 Weir 113. [R., 22 C. 139 (142), 11 C.P.L.R. 10 (11), Cr.; L.B.R. 1872-1892, 515 (516).]

(8)—S. 31—Scope of the section.—S. 31 of the Act is applicable to cases in which an offence other than the one, for which police officers may arrest without warrant, is the subject of complaint. SHAIK HUSSAIN v. SANJIVI, 7 M. 345 = 1 Weir 713.

(9)—S. 31—Applicability of the section to criminal trespass under s. 447, Penal Code.—Criminal trespass under s. 447, Penal Code, is an offence for which the arrest may be made without warrant, and, therefore, s. 31, Act VII of 1870, does not apply. In re ALAGA PILLAI, 1 Weir 721.

(10)—S. 31—Magistrate bound to award complainant the cost of the fee paid on the complaint—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 545.—Under s. 31, Court Fees Act, a Magistrate is bound to award to a complainant the cost of the fee paid on the complaint and the fees paid for the processes, and to direct the accused to pay the amount in addition to the fine. He can recover the amount as if it were a fine, but has no authority to order imprisonment in default. If, in addition to these costs, he wishes to award compensation to the complainant, he can only do so by awarding it out of the fine imposed. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA TUN, L.B.R. 1872-1892, 595.

(11)—S. 31—Court fee and the process fee to be paid in addition to fine imposed.—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 545 —Under s. 31 of the Act, the payment of the Court fees on the complaint and of the process fees incurred by the complainant should be made in addition to the fine imposed and not out of the fine imposed on the accused. The other Costs of the prosecution incurred by the complainant may, under s. 545, Crim. Pro. Code, be ordered to be paid out of the fine. CROWN v. PO HLAW, 1 L.B.R. 209. (L.B.R. 1872-1892, 595, F.)

(12)—S. 31—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 545—Order for re-payment of Court and process fees.—In cases to which s. 31 of the Court Fees Act applies, there ought to be an order for the repayment to the complainant of the fee paid by him in addition to the fine. The direction for the application of the fine, when realized, to the purposes indicated in s. 545, Crim. Pro. Code, is a matter of discretion with the Court. In re PAVADAI PILLAI, 1 Weir 722.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1870 (Court Fees)—continued.

(13)—S. 31—Conviction for cognizable offence —Court-fees of complainant—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 545.—Where a person accused of a non-cognizable offence is convicted of a cognizable offence, the Court cannot legally direct him to pay the expenses incurred by the complainant under s. 31, Court Fees Act, as that section applies only to cases where the accused has been convicted of a non-cognizable offence. The expenses so incurred can, however, be awarded to the complainant as compensation under s. 545, Crim. Pro. Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LIMBA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 397=Cr. Rg. 56 of 1888.

(14)—S. 31—Court-fee on power of attorney—Subsistence allowance and travelling expenses of witnesses—Accused not liable to be charged—Magistrate cannot award costs — Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 545.—An accused convicted under s. 352, I.P.C., and sentenced to pay a fine cannot be ordered to pay the costs of the prosecution. If the Magistrate desires to make the accused pay for the expenses for the prosecution, he should impose a sufficient fine out of which compensation can be awarded under s. 545, Crim. Pro. Code. Neither the amount of Court-fee on a power of attorney, nor the subsistence allowances and travelling expenses of witnesses could be charged to the accused. The former is not allowable under s. 31 of the Court Fees Act, and there is no authority for charging the latter. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA LU GALE, U.B.R. 1892-1896, Vol. I, 7.

(15)—S. 31—Complaint of cognizable offence—Order for costs.—Where a complaint is made of a cognizable offence, a Magistrate is not competent to direct the accused, on conviction, to pay the amount expended by the complainant on Court fees. NEELA KANTAM v. VENKATASUBRAMANYAM, 1 Weir 721.

(16)—S. 31—Order for repayment of fees.—S. 31 permits the Magistrate to order repayment of fees in non-cognizable cases "in addition to the penalty imposed." Therefore, a Magistrate should not order the repayment of fees out of the fine realized. In re KESAVA MUDALI, 1 Weir 723.

(17)—S. 31—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 545 —Order for costs of the complainant.—The duty of a Magistrate to order payment of Court and process fees under s. 31 of the Court Fees Act is imperative; whereas under s. 545 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, he has a discretion to award the expenses of the prosecution or to refuse to do so. It follows that s. 545 of the Crim. Pro. Code must be taken to exclude those expenses in regard which the Court has no discretion. A Magistrate, on convicting a person and sentencing him to pay a fine, ordered the accused to pay the complainant's costs of the prosecution. The Magistrate issued a warrant for the collection of a sum of Rs. 2-4, Court and process fees paid to the complainant, and Rs. 10 paid to a medical officer for a certificate and for giving evidence in the case, from the accused. Held, that the order of the Magistrate, as regards the Court and process fees, was properly made under s. 31 of the Court Fees Act, but that the order as to Rs. 10 was unsustainable, for, although the medical officer's fees were expenses properly incurred in the prosecution, they could only be awarded to the complainant out of the fine levied from the accused and could not be levied from the accused in addition to the fine. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. YAMANA RAO, 24 M. 305=2 Weir 722=1 Weir 723.

(18)—S. 31—Order to pay fine under section —When payable to complainant under s. 144, Crim. Pro. Code of 1861 (s. 545 of 1898).—A fee, which a Court may order to be repaid to a complainant under s. 31, Court Fees Act, is an integral part of the sentence and must be treated as a fine imposed by the Court under s. 144, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861; and such fines must be in deposit pending an appeal, where an appeal lies. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 20TH JULY 1870. 5 M H.C. App. 28=2 Weir 724. [F., 22 M. 153=1 Weir 724; D., 26 M. 421=2 Weir 488].

(19)—S. 31—Order to repay fees.—An order to repay the fees, under s. 31, Court Fees Act, is an integral part of the sentence, and the fee should be treated as a fine imposed by the Court. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 29TH JULY 1869, 1 Weir 724=5 M.H.C. App. 28. [F., 22 M. 153=1 Weir 724; D., 26 M. 421=2 Weir 488.]

(20)—S. 31—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 423, cl. (b)—Order of appellate Court awarding further costs, if fine.—Where a Magistrate convicting the accused persons directed, out of the fines imposed upon them, the payment of Rs. 2 to the complainant as process fees, and, on appeal, the Deputy Magistrate directed the accused to pay a further sum in addition to the fine already imposed on them as being the expenses incurred by the complainant for process fees, etc., under s. 31 of the Court Fees Act, held, that, an order to pay a fee under s. 31 being an integral part of the sentence, such fee should be treated as a fine imposed by the Court and the Deputy Magistrate had, therefore, enhanced the sentence which was illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. TANGAVELU CHETTY, 22 M. 153=1 Weir 724. [Diss., 26 M. 421; 29 M. 188=3 Cr. L.J. 460.]

(21)—S. 31—Fees ordered to be repaid under the section, nature of.—The fees ordered to be repaid under s. 31, Court Fees Act, are not fines within the meaning of s. 413, Crim. Pro. Code.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1870 (Court Fees)—continued.

Nor can they be held to be fines, in default of payment of which, imprisonment can be awarded under s. 33, Crim. Pro. Code. In re PARA MUNIYAN, 1 Weir 724.

(22)—S. 31—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 423—Conviction of two persons with order to pay Court and process fees in equal shares to the complainant—Acquittal of one of them on appeal—Enhancement of sentence.—Where two persons were sentenced and were also ordered to pay a certain sum in equal proportion on account of Court and process fees and, on appeal, the Magistrate altered the conviction in the case of one of them, but confirmed the sentence, and quashed the conviction of the other, the whole amount of the Court and process fees being ordered to be paid by the person whose conviction was confirmed, held, that the action of the appellate Magistrate was legal under s. 423, cl. (b), Crim. Pro. Code, and it did not amount to an enhancement of sentence within the meaning of s. 423 (b). Under s. 31, cl. 4 of the Court Fees Act, the fees ordered to be repaid under the section are to be recovered as if they were fines imposed by the Court, but there is no warrant for treating the same as part of the fine imposed as a punishment for the offences. In re VEMURI SESHANNA, 26 M. 421=2 Weir 488. (5 M.H.C. App. 28=22 M. 153, D.).

(23)—S. 31—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 413—Order directing the accused to pay Court-fee, if a fine.—An order under s. 31 of the Court Fees Act directing an accused person to pay the complainant the Court-fee paid on his petition is no part of the sentence so as to make it a sentence of fine within the terms of s. 413 of the Crim. Pro. Code. MADAN MANDUL v. HARAN GHOSE, 20 C. 687. [F., 1 Weir 724; Appl., 11 Cr.L.J. 194=4 Ind. Cas. 1130=5 M.L.T. 223 =31 M. 547=9 Cr.L.J. 83; Appr., 29 M. 188 =3 Cr.L.J. 460.]

(24)—S. 31—Two accused—Order for refund of fees on one only.—Where two persons are convicted of an offence, the Magistrate cannot order one only of the two persons to refund the fee paid on the petition of complaint. The repayment should be ordered to be made by both jointly. REG. v. SANKARA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 61=Cr.Rg. 11-1-1872.

(25)—S. 31—Sessions Court—Order for repayment to complainant.—When a case to which s. 31 of the Court Fees Act applies is disposed of by a Court of Session, such Court and not the committing Magistrate is the proper authority to order re-payment to the complainant of the fee paid by him for his petition of complaint. KHANDESH MAGISTRATE'S LETTER, NO. 19, Rat.Un.Cr.C 49.

(26)—S. 31—Power of appellate Court to order payment of fees.—The fees under s. 31 should be awarded by the Court of first instance. But a Court of appeal cannot make such an order. But the High Court, in revision can make the order that ought to have been made by the Court of the first instance. In re SENTHILATHIPATHIA PILLAI: In re ATHOOKUDA POGUNDAN, 1 Weir 723.

(27)—S. 31—See ACT XIII OF 1859, s. 2, 6 Bom. L.R. 255, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 534=Cr. Rg. 2 of 1891.

(28)—See ACT VII OF 1878, ss. 25, 63, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 695=Cr. Rg. 25 of 1894.

(29)—See ACT XIII OF 1880, s. 18, 6 Cr. L. J. 124=4 L.B.R. 12.

(30)—S. 31—See ACT IX OF 1890, ss. 113, 132 and 133, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 300.

(31)—S. 31—See APPELLATE COURT, 31 M. 547=5 M.L.T. 223=9 Cr. L.J. 83.

(31-a)—S. 31—See COMPLAINT—PROCEDURE ON RECEIPT OF COMPLAINT, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 79=Cr. Rg. 27-11-1873.

(32)—S. 31—Court fees and process fees to be paid in addition to fine—See COSTS, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 616.

(33)—S. 31—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 423, 29 M. 188=3 Cr. L.J. 460.

(34)—S. 31—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 545, L.B.R. 1878—1892, 409.

(35)—S. 31—See MAINTENANCE, 11 C.P.L. R. 14 Cr.

(36)—S. 31—See REFUND, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 79=Cr. Rg. 27-11-1873.

(37)—S. 31—See No. 4, supra.

(38)—Ss. 31, 18—Complaint of offence of wrongful restraint—Order for Court fees, validity of.—S. 31, Court Fees Act, does not apply to the offence of wrongful restraint, as the offence is an offence in which the police may arrest without a warrant, notwithstanding the fact that s. 18 makes specific mention of that offence. NAGIREDDI v. CHENNAMMA, 1 Weir 721.

(39)—S. 31 and sch. II, No. 1, cl. (b)—Complaint of seizure of cattle—Act III of 1857, s. 14.—A complaint of illegal seizure and detention of cattle such as is referred to in s. 14 of Act III of 1857 is not an offence referred to in s. 31 and sch. II, No. 1, cl. (b) of the Court Fees Act. The complaint does not require a stamp, as the words "plain paper" in the section are not repealed by the Court Fees Act. REG. v. RAVJI NARU, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 22.

(39-a)—S. 31, sch. II, art. 1 (b)—See MAINTENANCE, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 488=Cr. Rg. 56 of 1889.

(40)—S. 34—Stamp Act II of 1899, s. 69—Sale by thief of stolen stamps.—The words "sells or offers to sell" in s. 69 of Act II of 1899, and s. 34 of Act VII of 1870, include the case of a thief, who exchanges a stolen stamp for a sum of money, although such person cannot give a legal title in regard to the stamp stolen by him. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VIRASAWMI, 24 M. 319 = 1 Weir 725.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1870 (Court Fees)—concluded.

(41)—S. 34—Stamp given on promise that another of equal value would be returned—Transaction, whether amounts to sale.—A mukhtear, not having any use for a Court-fee stamp of eight annas, which he had purchased for a client, transferred it to another client who promised to return him another Court-fee stamp of the same value. Held, that the mukhtear had not sold a stamp within the meaning of s. 34 of the Court Fees Act and could not be convicted under that section. KEDAR NATH SHAHA v. EMPEROR, 30 C. 921 = 7 C.W.N. 704.

(41-a)—S. 34—Act XVIII of 1869 (General Stamps), s. 48—Act I of 1879 (General Stamps), s. 68—Sale of Court fee stamps without license.—The sale of Court-fee stamps without a license is not an offence. EMPRESS v. JALLU, 4 A. 216, F.B.

(42)—S. 34—Sale of Court-fee stamps without a license—See ACT I OF 1879, s. 68, 4 A. 216, F.B.

(43)—Sch. II, art. 1, cl. (b)—See Nos. 39, 39-a, supra.

(44)—Sch. II, art. 10—One vakalathnama by several persons—One case—Fee of eight annas only.—Art. 10 of sch. II of the Act requires a fee of eight annas for each mukhtearnama or vakalathnama presented for the conduct of any one case to any of the Courts or officers mentioned in cl (a). The mukhtearnama or vakalathnama may be executed by one person or by several persons, but, if it is only for the conduct of one case, it only requires a fee of eight annas. QUEEN EMPRESS v. AH HEIN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 385.

Act VIII of 1870 (Female Infanticide Prevention).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897, AMENDED IN BOMBAY PRESIDENCY, AND DECLARED TO EXTEND TO THAT PRESIDENCY, BOM. ACT III OF 1897.]

(1)—S. 2—Rule VI of Rules framed by N.W.P. Government—Liability of heads of families.—Though Rule VI of the Rules framed under s. 2, Act VIII of 1870, requires the chowkidar of a village to immediately report to the officer in charge of a police station, among other things, "also...on the occasion of his periodical visit to the police station other deaths, removals and arrivals," the last duty, viz., of reporting "other deaths, removals and arrivals is, though it may be a duty cast upon him under s. 8 (3) (f) of Act XVI of 1873 (Village and Rural Police), not a duty cast upon him by the provisions of Act VIII of 1870 and Rule VI is not, on this point, consistent with the Act. The heads of proclaimed families are not bound, by any of the rules framed under the Act, to give information to the chowkidar regarding the departure of the women of their families. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHUPAL, 6 A. 380 = A.W.N. 1884, 132.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1870 (Female Infanticide Prevention)—concluded.

Act XI of 1870 (Indian Weights and Measures).

[REP., ACT XII OF 1873.]

(1)—S. 2—Act X of 1871, ss. 19, 63—Selling spirituous liquor retail— Ser, meaning of.—S. 19 of Act X of 1871 provides that the quantity of country liquor, which unlicensed vendors may sell, should not be more than one "ser." Regarding the weight of one "ser," it was held that the weight of one ser as given in Act XI of 1870, s. 2, viz., a weight of metal in the possession of the Government of India, which weight when weighed in vacuum is equal to the weight known in France as the "Kilogrammedes Archives" was not very intelligible, and the contention of the Government that a ser was equivalent to 80 tolas, would not supersede the customary weight of a ser weight, which was 95 tolas. Therefore, when an unlicensed vendor was in possession of only 96 tolas of country liquor, held, that the excess of one tola over the local weight is not sufficient to warrant the presumption of the accused's guilt. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. HAIT RAM, 3 A. 404.

Act XII of 1870 (Native Passenger Ships).

[REP., ACT VIII OF 1876.]

S. 70—See MISCHIEF, A.W.N. 1908, 55 = 5 A.L.J. 159 = 7 Cr. L. J. 296.

Act XXVI of 1870 (Prisons).

[REP., ACT IX OF 1894.]

See ACT IX OF 1894.

(1)—Act XXVI of 1870 and Reg. XIV of 1816—Power of Superintendent of jail to convict watchman for aiding escape of a prisoner.—A Superintendent of a jail has no power under Act XXVI of 1870 to convict a night watchman on a charge of aiding and abetting the escape of a prisoner. QUEEN v. SHEOUMBER LAL, 4 N.W.P. 4.

(2)—Lock-up not a prison.—A lock-up is not a prison within the meaning of Act XXVI of 1870. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SHWE KUN, L.B.R. 1872 1892, 596.

(3)—S. 3—Havalat, whether a prison.—Held by Spankie and Oldfield, JJ. (Stuart, C.J., dissenting) that a havalat or lock up, in which prisoners under trial are confined, is a prison within the meaning of that term in s. 3 of the Act. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. LALAI, 2 A. 301.

(4)—Ss 45, 54—Taking food for an undertrial prisoner—Penal Code, s 442—House trespass.—Per Stuart, C. J.—Food is not an article within the meaning of s. 45. Per Stuart, C.J., and Oldfield, J. (Spankie, J., dissenting).—The act of conveying or attempting to convey food to a man confined in the havalat and under trial, does not amount either to house-trespass or to an offence punishable under s. 45 of the Prisons Act. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. LALAI, 2 A. 301.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXVI of 1870 (Prisons)—concluded.

(5)—Ss. 47, 48—Penal Code, s. 224—Attempt to escape by prisoner at work outside jail—The accused, a prisoner in the Gorakhpur jail, was employed in some brickfield outside the jail. While so employed, he endeavoured to escape, but, after he had got some little distance, was re-captured. Subsequently, after a form of trial of a very summary nature, he was sentenced for this offence by the Inspector-General of Prisons to receive thirty stripes, apparently under s. 47 of the Prisons Act. Held that, under the above circumstances, the offence committed was that punishable under s. 224, I.P.C., and was not punishable under s. 47 of Act XXVI of 1870, nor, if the Inspector-General of Prisons was acting in his Magisterial capacity, was the offence triable summarily under s. 260, Crim. Pro. Code, if indeed the offence was committed within the limits of the Inspector-General's jurisdiction as a Magistrate. In any event, if the offence was triable by the Inspector-General as a Magistrate, it should have been duly tried according to the procedure laid down in the Code of Criminal Procedure for the trial of warrant cases. EMPRESS v. HASAN ALI, A.W.N. 1894, 176.

(6)—S. 48—See No. 5, supra.

(7)—S. 54—See No. 4, supra.

Act XXVII of 1870 (Indian Penal Code Amendment).

[SHORT TITLE ACT XIV OF 1897, REP. IN PT. ACT X OF 1872; REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT XII OF 1891; ACT IV OF 1898, S. 5, REPEALED ACT I OF 1903; VIRTUALLY AMENDED—ACT VIII OF 1882; ACT X OF 1886, SS. 21 (1) AND 24 (1); DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SONTHAL PARGANNAS, REG. III OF 1872, S 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3. IN THE ARAKHAN HILLS DISTRICTS, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3]

(1)—Agreement to secure payment under Kuri — Penal Code, s. 294-A—VASUDEVAN NAMBUDRI v. MAMMOD, 22 M. 212.

(2)—Penal Code, s. 294-A—Lottery—Scope—"Publisher," meaning of—QUEEN EMPRESS v. MANCHERJI KAVASJI SHAPURJI, 10 B. 97.

(3)—S. 10—Sanction of Government—Lottery office.—The sanction of the Local Government is necessary before a charge for keeping a lottery office under s. 10, Act XXVII of 1870, can be instituted. GOVERNMENT v. NGA CHO, 15 W.R. Cr. 2=6 B.L.R. Ap. 98.

Act I of 1871 (Cattle-Trespass).

[AM., ACT I OF 1891. DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. 1 OF 1894, S. 3; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICTS, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES, ACT XIII OF 1898 S. 4; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. 1 OF 1890, S. 3]

See ACT III OF 1857. (CATTLE TRESPASS).

(1)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s 250—Frivolous complaint of illegal seizure of cattle—Compensation.—The illegal seizure of cattle under colour of Act 1 of 1871 is not constituted an offence under that Act or otherwise, and, therefore, a Magistrate is not competent to award compensation, under s. 250, Crim. Pro. Code, to the accused on a frivolous and vexatious complaint in respect of such alleged illegal seizure. PITCHI v. ANKAPPA, 9 M. 102=2 Weir. 315. [F., 13 C. 304, 23 C. 248; R., 18 A. 353=16 A.W.N. 98.]

(1-a)—See SENTENCE—POWERS OF APPELLATE COURT—GENERAL, 16 W.R. Cr. 12.

(2)—S. 10—Persons having power to seize cattle.—Where an indigo factory supplies the seeds, pays for the labour of sowing, and gives compensation to raiyats growing indigo on their own land, but no advance in cash has been made, held, that, although the indigo is grown for the factory, a servant of the factory is not a person authorized under s. 10 of the Act, to seize cattle doing damage to the indigo. RAM KARAN THAKUR v. EMPEROR, 9 C.W.N. 624=2 Cr. L.J. 345.

(3)—Ss. 10 and 20—Seizure of cattle, when legal.—Where a cattle, which trespasses on another's land, is not doing any damage, the owner of the land is not entitled to impound the cattle. In re CHINNAYA GOUNDAN, 1 Weir 709.

(4)—Ss. 10 and 20—Impounding of cattle.—It is only when cattle are actually trespassing that they can be seized and impounded under s. 10. In re DASARI, 1 Weir 709.

(5)—S. 11—See ACT VII OF 1878, s. 69, 22 B. 933.

(6)—Ss. 11 and 24—Rescue of cattle seized under s. 11.—It is not necessary that a person, who seizes or causes cattle to be seized, must take them in person, to the pound, in order that the rescuing of the cattle may amount to an offence under s. 24 of the Act. BASSAWA SINGH v. EMPRESS, 12 P.R. 1882, Cr.

(7)—S. 12—See ACT VII OF 1878, ss. 25 and 66, 19 P.R. 1885, Cr.

(8)—S. 18—Jurisdiction—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), s. 21.—As no special provision is made in Act III of 1857 as to the authority by which offences under s. 18 of that Act are to be tried, s. 21, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, gives jurisdiction to the First Class Subordinate Magistrate. REG v. GANGA kom MHASU, 5. B.H.C. Cr. 13.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1871 Cattle Trespass)—continued.

(9)—S. 19—See CRIMINAL BREACH OF TRUST, 8 B.L.R. Ap. 1=16 W.R. Cr. 52.

(10)—S. 20—Illegal seizure of cattle, complaint of—No claim for compensation—Refund of fee paid on complaint and process fees.—The complainant, who makes no claim for compensation for loss caused by the illegal seizure of cattle, is not entitled to any compensation. But he is entitled to a refund of the expenses incurred in procuring the release of the cattle from the pound-keeper and is also entitled under s. 31, Court Fees Act, to the refund of the fees paid on the complaint and the process fees which he had paid, because the word "offence" in the Crim. Pro. Code, includes any act, in respect of which a complaint may be made under s. 20 of the Cattle Trespass Act. KING-EMPEROR v. THA NYO U T U, 4 L.B.R. 11=6 Cr. L.J. 122.

(11)—S. 20—Complaint of illegal seizure of cattle—Compensation to accused, whether can be ordered—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 4 (a) and 250.—The illegal seizure of cattle is not an offence within the meaning of the Crim. Pro. Code, and the order for compensation to the accused, under s. 250 of the Code, cannot be made. KOTTALANADA v. MUTHAYA, 9 M. 374=2 Weir 315. [F., 23 C. 248; R., 18 A. 353=16 A.W.N. 98, 23 C. 442.]

(12)—S. 20—"Charges"—Meaning of.—The term "charges" in s. 20 of the above Act is used as equivalent to "complaint." KARIM KHAN v. NATHOOSA, 11 C.P.L.R. 10, Cr.

(13)—S. 20—See COMPENSATION—GENERAL, 18 A. 353=A.W.N. 1896, 98.

(14)—S. 20—See COMPENSATION—TO ACCUSED, 13 C. 304.

(15)—S. 20—See OFFENCE, 29 M. 517=5 Cr. L.J. 86.

(16)—S. 20—See Nos. 3, 4, supra.

(17)—Ss. 20, 21, 22, 23—Illegal seizure of cattle not a criminal offence.—The illegal seizure of cattle under the Act is not a criminal offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MI MIN KAUNG, L.B.R. 1872-1892, 515.

(18)—Ss. 20 to 23—Nature of jurisdiction—Applicability of Crim. Pro. Code—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 1 and 192—Transfer of cases—Appeal in cases under the sections.—The jurisdiction conferred by ss. 20 to 23 of Act I of 1871 is a special jurisdiction and as such, it is by s. 1, Crim. Pro. Code, unaffected by the provisions of the Code. S. 192 of the Code does not, therefore, authorize the transfer of a case to which ss. 20 to 23 of Act I of 1871 apply. [R., 11 C.P.L.R. 10 Cr.; D., 31 C. 350.] There is no provision for an appeal in a case to which ss. 20 to 23 of Act I of 1871 apply, which is quasi civil, the jurisdiction being intended to be limited to the Magistrate specially referred to. SHAMA v. LECHHU SHEKH, 23 C. 300. [Overruled, 34 C. 926=6 Cr. L. J. 633.]

(19)—Ss. 20 to 23—Illegal seizure of cattle—Summary trial—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 4 (p) and chap. XXII.—The illegal seizure and detention alluded to in ss. 20 to 23 of Act I of 1871 are not offences within the meaning of s. 4 (p) of the Crim. Pro. Code, and the cases connected therewith are accordingly not triable by the summary procedure described in chap. XXII of the Code. Where the accused charged under s. 22, Act I of 1871, was tried summarily and sentenced by a First-Class Magistrate, the High Court declined to interfere, as the defendant had had an adequate trial, and Act I of 1871 had not prescribed any particular procedure. NEDARAM THAKUR v. JOONAB, 23 C. 248. [R., 18 A. 353, 11 C.P.L R. 10, Cr.]

(20) Ss. 20 to 23—Special jurisdiction—Illegal seizure of cattle—"Offence"—Crim. Pro. Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 4 (o) 192 (1), and last clause sch. II—Power of District or specially empowered Magistrate to transfer such cases—Power of subordinate Magistrate to try the same.—The illegal seizure of cattle, mentioned in s. 20 of the Cattle Trespass Act (I of 1871), is an "offence" under s. 4, cl. (o) of the Crim. Pro. Code, and, according to the last clause of sch. II thereof, any offence, punishable with imprisonment for less than one year or with fine only, is triable by any Magistrate. Though a complaint under s. 20 of the Cattle Trespass Act must be entertained either by a District Magistrate or a Magistrate specially authorized, such Magistrate has no power under s. 192, sub-s. (1) to transfer the case, after taking cognizance of it, to any Subordinate Magistrate. BUDHAN MAHTO v. ISSUR SINGH, 34 C. 926=6 Cr. L J. 263. (23 C. 300, 23 C. 442, Overruled.)

(21)—Ss. 20 and 22—Compensation awarded by Magistrate not qualified—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 529 and 537.—An order awarding compensation under s. 22 of the Act by a Magistrate not coming under s. 20 of the Act is illegal, and is not protected by s. 529 of the Code, as the illegal seizure of cattle does not amount to an offence; nor is it covered by s. 537 as the action of the Magistrate amounts to an illegality and as the Magistrate is not a Court of competent jurisdiction. RAGHU SINGH v. ABDUL WAHAB, 23 C. 442. [Overruled, 34 C. 926; R., 11 C.P.L.R. 10, Cr.; D., 31 C. 350.]

(22)—Ss. 20 and 22—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 4 (o), 250, 29 M. 517=5 Cr. L.J. 86.

(23)—Ss. 20 and 23—Transfer of case under s. 20 of the Act—Crim. Pro. Code (1872), ss. 44 and 141.—A Magistrate receiving a complaint under s. 20 of Act I of 1871 may transfer the case to a Subordinate Magistrate for disposal.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1871 (Cattle-Trespass)—continued.

There is nothing in the provisions of Act I of 1871, which excludes the operation of ss. 44 and 141, Crim. Pro. Code (1872). LUCHMAN DAS v. ALA SINGH, 26 P.R. 1879, Cr.

(24)—S. 21—Complaint of seizure of cattle, by whom to be made.—The person entitled to complain, under s. 21 of the Cattle Trespass Act, 1871, is either the complainant in person or an agent personally acquainted with the circumstances; hence, where the cattle belonging to one person are in the custody of another, and are seized from his custody, the owner, if he is not personally acquainted with the circumstances, is not entitled to institute a complaint under s. 21 of the Cattle Trespass Act, 1871. EMPEROR v. DHANJISHA DADABHOY, 5 Bom. L.R. 205.

(25)—S. 21—Illegal seizure of cattle—Sentence of imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—A sentence of fine for illegal seizure of cattle and a sentence of imprisonment in default of payment of fine or compensation awarded for illegal seizure is illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MI MIN KAUNG, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 515.

(25-a)—S. 21—See Nos. 17 to 20, supra.

(26)—Ss. 21, 22—Illegal seizure of cattle, whether a criminal offence—Compensation—Fine—Imprisonment in default of payment of compensation.—Illegal seizure of cattle is not an ordinary criminal offence. Jurisdiction is given to certain Magistrates to adjudicate compensation to any person complaining of, and proving such, seizure for the loss caused by the seizure and detention, as well as any fines and expenses incurred by the complainant in procuring the release of the cattle. Court-fees paid by the complainant may form part of such compensation. [R., 23 C. 300, 23 C. 442.] The person illegally seizing cattle cannot be subjected to a fine, nor can he be imprisoned in default of payment of the compensation. In the matter of KETABDI MUNDUL, 2 C.L.R. 507. [F., 22 C. 189.]

(27)—Ss. 21 and 23—Illegal seizure of cattle—Compensation.—In awarding compensation for illegal seizure of cattle, the complainant's costs incurred in prosecuting his complaint may be included in the compensation awarded. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MI MIN KAUNG, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 515.

(28)—S. 22—Compensation—Appeal.—No appeal lies from an award of compensation passed under s. 22, Cattle Trespass Act. In re GUNESH PERSHAD, 3 N.W.P. 200. [F., 15 C. 712.]

(29)—S 22—Order awarding compensation—Appeal.—No appeal lies from an order awarding compensation under s. 22 of the Act, for wrongful seizure of cattle. DHIKU v. DENO NATH DEB, 15 C. 712. (10 B. 230, 3 N.W.P. 200, F.) [F., 19 M. 238.]

(30)—S. 22—Compensation for illegal seizure of cattle—Appeal.—No appeal lies from an order passed under s. 22 of Act I of 1871, awarding compensation for illegal seizure of cattle. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SADASHIV, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 520=Cr. Rg. 44 of 1890. (10 B. 230, R.)

(31)—S. 22—Penal Code, ss. 40 and 67.—When the accused is not convicted of an "offence" within the meaning of s. 40 of the Penal Code, the provisions of s. 67 thereof do not apply to it. S. 22 of the Act does not provide a punishment for an offence, and therefore a compensation order made under that section cannot be followed by a sentence of imprisonment in default under s. 67, I.P.C. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PAUNG TIN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 429.

(32)—S. 22—Nature of proceedings—Joint liability to pay fine.—A proceeding under s. 22 of the Act is not a regular criminal proceeding but a quasi civil proceeding in which a Magistrate is authorized to assess and enforce, in a summary manner, compensation for an injury, for which a civil action might be brought. Where such compensation is ordered to be paid by two persons, without specifying the proportionate amount payable by each, they are jointly and severally liable to pay it. NEAZ v. MONSOR, 14 C. 175.

(33)—S. 22—Illegal seizure of cattle—Fine on conviction, legality of—Compensation—Imprisonment in default, whether proper.—A Magistrate is not competent, under s. 22 of the Cattle Trespass Act, to pass any sentence of fine. He can only award compensation for an illegal seizure of cattle. An award of imprisonment, in default of payment of fine, is also illegal. BHAGIRATHI NAIK v. GANGADAR MAHANTY, 27 C. 992=5 C.W.N. 32.

(34)—S. 22—Illegal seizure of cattle—Penal Code, ss. 378 and 379—Theft.—Where an accused person was found to have loosened the complainant's cattle at night and to have driven them to the pound with the object of sharing with the pound-keeper the fees to be paid for the release, held, that the accused was not liable under s. 22 of the Cattle Trespass Act, inasmuch as there was no illegal seizure and detention of the cattle. The accused was ordered to be charged and tried for theft. PARYAG RAI v. ARJU MIAN, 22 C. 139. [R., 22 C. 669.]

(35)—S. 22—Compensation, amount of.—Compensation for wrongful seizure of cattle, under s. 22 of Act I of 1871, should be by way of reasonable compensation for the costs caused by the seizure and detention of cattle; and not by way of penalty, or of an award of general damages to the complainant. GULZARI MALL v. MALLA, 25 P.R. 1878, Cr.

(36)—S. 22— Compensation, amount of—Dàmage to reputation.—S. 22, Act I of 1871, does not contemplate the award of compensation for damages to the reputation of the complainant, nor does it warrant the infliction of a penalty upon the person complained against, in addition to the compensation awarded. SULTAN v. RUKAN DIN, 37 P.R. 1878, Cr.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1871 (Cattle-Trespass)—continued.

(37)—S. 22—Compensation, amount of.—The imposition of a penalty, in excess of the sum awarded to the complainant as compensation, is legal. WAZIRA v. DULLA, 36 P.R. 1878, Cr. [F., 5 P.R. 1880, Cr.]

(38)—S. 22—Penalty, amount of.—A Magistrate has no power to impose any penalty under s. 22 in excess of the sum which he has awarded to the complainant as compensation. JAHANA v. RAJA, 5 P.R. 1880, Cr.

(39)—S. 22—Appeal from order under the section.—A person against whom an order is passed under s. 22 of the Act, directing payment of compensation for illegal seizure of cattle, is not a person convicted on a trial, and, therefore, no appeal lies from the order. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAYA LAKHMA, 10 B. 230. [F., 15 C. 712, 19 M. 238, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 520.]

(40)—S. 22—Order for compensation—Appeal.—No appeal lies against an order made under s. 22 of Act I of 1871. In re KHADAR KHAN, 11 M. 359=1 Weir 712.

(41)—S. 22—Order for compensation—Appeal—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 404.—No appeal lies against an order under s. 22 of the Cattle Trespass Act. Where, in a case, there was evidence that the seizure of cattle was illegal and the trying Magistrate believed it, the High Court, as a Court of Revision, refused to interfere with the order of the Magistrate awarding compensation, for, the effect of weighing evidence in such a case would, in effect, be to admit an appeal, where the law did not allow it. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LAKSHMI NAYAKAN, 19 M. 238=2 Weir 461. [R., 31 M. 133=7 Cr. L.J. 267=18 M.L.J. 57=3 M.L.T. 230, 11 C. P.L.R. 10, 9 Cr. L.J. 192=5 M.L.T. 233.]

(42)—S. 22—Default in payment of compensation—Order for imprisonment, validity of—Order for imprisonment in default of payment of compensation awarded, under s. 22, Cattle Trespass Act, is illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LAKSHMI NAYAKAN, 19 M. 238=2 Weir 461. [R., 11 C.P.L.R. 10, Cr.]

(43)—S 22—Fine in addition to compensation.—S. 22 does not provide for a fine in addition to compensation. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 1ST AUGUST 1873, NO. 1379, 1 Weir 710=7 M.H.C. App. 24.

(44)—S. 22—Fine, whether leviable under the section.—A Magistrate is not authorised under s. 22 to fine, but only to award compensation. But he is also authorized to add to the compensation, fines and expenses paid to the pound-keeper by the owner on releasing the cattle, and order them to be paid by the party who made the seizure. In re KULANTHASWAMY PILLAI, 1 Weir 710.

(44-a)—S. 22—Power of Magistrate—Seizure of cattle and dispute as to ownership of land.—Where there was a dispute as to the ownership of land on which the complainant's cattle were found, the complainant stating the land belonged to A, who gave him the right to graze his cattle there, and the party charged (who had seized and impounded the cattle) claiming the land as his own, it was held that the order of the Magistrate referring the parties to the Civil Court was illegal, and that he should have disposed of the case himself under the Cattle Trespass Act, I of 1871, s. 22. SHEIK TUNNOO v. KUREEM BUKSH, 23 W.R. Cr. 2.

(45)—S. 22—Illegal seizure of cattle — Offence.—The illegal seizure of cattle under Act I of 1879 is not an offence. (But now, according to the Crim. Pro. Code, s. 4, sub-s. (o), the term "offence" includes also illegal seizure of cattle). HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 18TH FEB. 1879, NO. 227, 1 Weir 710. [F., 1 Weir 711.]

(46)—S. 22—Illegal seizure of cattle—Offence—An illegal seizure of cattle is not an offence. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 27TH NOV. 1879, NO. 2113, 1 Weir 711. [D., 1 Weir 712.]

(47)—S. 22—Order for compensation for illegal seizure of cattle—Appeal—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 4 (o), 241, 243, 245, 246, 407, 439.—Under s. 22, Cattle Trespass Act, an order for compensation for wrongful seizure of cattle is a conviction within the meaning of the Crim. Pro. Code and under s. 407 of the Code, an appeal lies against the order. KING-EMPEROR v MI HARI MA, 4 L.B.R. 10=6 Cr. L.J. 121.

(48)—S. 22—Imprisonment in default of payment of compensation.—A Magistrate is not competent to direct the imprisonment of the defendant in default of payment of compensation awarded under s. 22 of Act I of 1871. In re CHETTI VENKIAH, 1 Weir 712.

(49)—S. 22—Complaint under s. 20 of the Act—Offence—Appeal—Crim. Pro. Code, 1898, ss. 4 (o), 250—Applicability of the section to compensation awarded to the complainant under s. 22 of Act I of 1871.—By s. 4 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1898, the word "offence" includes an act in respect of which a complaint may be made under s. 20 of the Cattle Trespass Act. It follows, therefore, that a person against whom an order under s. 22 of the Cattle Trespass Act is made is a "person convicted on a trial" An appeal against the conviction lies, therefore, under s. 407, Crim. Pro. Code. S. 250, Crim. Pro Code, applies to a case in which the compensation is awarded to an accused person, because a frivolous complaint has been made against him. But where compensation is awarded not to the accused but to the complainant under s. 22 of the Cattle

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1871 (Cattle-Trespass)—continued.

Trespass Act, s. 250, Crim. Pro. Code, is not applicable. In re PONNUSAMI, 1 Weir 712=2 Weir 320.

(50)—S. 22—Order for compensation—Court and Process Fees.—Under the head of compensation for the loss caused by the seizure and detention of cattle, it is open to a Magistrate to include the Court and process fees. In re PASUPULETI GOVINDU, 1 Weir 713.

(51)—S. 22—Compensation in addition to sum allowed on account of fines paid and expenses incurred in procuring release of cattle—Sufficiency of the amount allowed. — Where some compensation was awarded in addition to the sum allowed on account of the fines and "expenses" or other charges incurred in procuring the release of the cattle, held, that the High Court would not consider the sufficiency or insufficiency of the amount allowed. In re MATTEPU CHENDRAIYA, 1 Weir 715.

(52)—S. 22—Order under s. 22—Verbal irregularity in naming the order, effect of.—Where an order under s. 22 directed that the amount mentioned be paid to the complainant as compensation for the cost and damages incurred by him, and the words with which the decretal part of the judgment began was, namely, "I therefore fine the accused," held, that the latter portion was a mere surplusage and that, although the order was inaccurately worded, the intention to award compensation was clear. In re MATTEPU CHENDRAIYA, 1 Weir 715.

(53)—S. 22—Crim. Pro. Code, Act X of 1882, Ch. XXII—Applicability to Act I of 1871 (Cattle Trespass), s. 22.—The summary procedure laid down in Ch. XXII of the Crim. Pro. Code, is applicable to the trial of offences under s. 22 of the Cattle Trespass Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAWAHIR, A.W.N. 1896, 136.

(54)—S. 22—See ACT VII OF 1870, 7 M. 345 =1 Weir 713.

(55)—S. 22—See APPEAL—ACTS, 10 B. 230, 3 N.W.P. 200.

(55-a)—S. 22—See COMPENSATION — TO COMPLAINANT AND HIS RELATIVES, 1 Weir 710=7 M.H.C. App. 24.

(56)—S. 22—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 4 (o) 250, 29 M. 517=5 Cr. L.J. 86.

(57)—S. 22—See Nos. 17 to 22 and 26, supra.

(58)—Ss. 23 and 27—Imprisonment in default of payment of compensation, validity of.—S. 23 of the Cattle Trespass Act provides that the compensation awarded under s. 22 may be recovered in the same manner as fines imposed by a Magistrate. The procedure which should be adopted, in default of payment of the compensation, is, therefore, the procedure described in s. 307, Crim. Pro. Code, 1872 (s. 386 of the Code of 1898). Therefore, a Magistrate is not competent to pass a sentence of imprisonment in default of payment of fine. But where a Magistrate passes such an illegal sentence, no appeal lies against it. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 27TH NOV. 1879, NO. 2113, 1 Weir 711. [F., 1 Weir 712.]

(59)—S. 23—Appeal from compensation order.—No appeal lies against an order, under s. 23, Ch. V, Act I of 1871, awarding compensation for the illegal seizure of cattle. EMPRESS v. BAKHSH, 22 P.R. 1886, Cr.

(60)—S. 23—See Nos. 17, to 20, 23 and 27, supra.

(61)—S. 24—Seizure of cattle escaped from pound.—Certain cattle impounded in a cattle pound escaped: the next day they were found grazing in charge of their owner. The Police patel attempted to seize them again, when the owner resisted. The Police patel, thereupon, instead of attempting to seize the cattle, lodged a complaint before a Magistrate, who under s. 24 of the Cattle Trespass Act, fined the accused. Held that to resist the seizure of the cattle under the circumstances was not an offence punishable under s. 24 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KAOJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 294=Cr. Rg. 38 of 1886.

(62)—S. 24—Opposition to unlawful seizure of cattle.—Where the complainant was induced by a lie to refrain from seizing cattle grazing within the precincts of a rakh, and was opposed in his attempt to seize the cattle, which had meanwhile left the rakh and were at a private well, held, that the accused was not guilty of an offence under s. 24, Act I of 1871. HADU v. EMPRESS, 4 P.R. 1891, Cr.

(63)—S. 24—Forest Act VII of 1878, s. 25 (d)—Trespass, meaning.—The word "trespass" in s. 24 of the Cattle Trespass Act does not mean that the cattle should enter into the forest themselves and not be driven into it by some person. GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY v. KALLAPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 602=Cr. Rg. 22 of 1892.

(64)—S. 24—Frivolous and vexatious complaint of illegal seizure of cattle—Compensation to accused.—In cases of frivolus and vexatious complaints of illegal seizure of cattle compensation may be awarded to accused. ALLA DITTA v SHERE MAHOMED, 1 P.R. 1872, Cr.

(65)—S. 24—Removing of cattle from a pound with intention of returning it to the owner.—Where a person removed cattle from a cattle-pound and returned them to their true owner, held that the accused was guilty under s. 24. Act, I of 1871 but not of theft in a building. In re PACHA SAHIB, 1 Weir 716.

(66)—S. 24—Rescue of cattle, when amounts to an offence.—A conviction under s. 24 of Act I of 1871 can only be supported if the cattle were "liable to be seized" under the Act. If not, their rescue is no offence. Where the officers of the Public Works Department seized certain cattle and there was no evidence that the land on which the cattle were seized was public property in charge of that Department, held, that the person rescuing such cattle could not be convicted under s. 24 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LAKSHMANNA, 24 M. 318=1 Weir 716.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1871 (Cattle-Trespass)—concluded.

(67)—S. 24—See COMPENSATION—GENERAL, 5 M. 381=2 Weir 316.

(68)—S. 24—See No. 6, supra.

(69)—Ss. 25, 26—See MISCHIEF, 7 B. 126.

(70)—S. 26—Proof of neglect of owner.—There can be no conviction under s. 26 of the Cattle Trespass Act, unless it is proved or can be inferred from the circumstances of the case that the owner has been guilty of neglect. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMZAN SHAKEBHAI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 867=Cr. Rg. 36 of 1896.

(70-a)—S. 26—See MISCHIEF, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 60=Cr. Rg. 11-1-1872.

(70-b)—S. 26—See No. 69, supra.

(71)—S. 27—Penal Code, ss. 409, 511—Pound-keeper—Falsifying accounts.—Where a pound-keeper having levied a charge of Rs. 5, gave receipt for only Rs. 4 and entered only the latter figure in the account, but, before the money was paid into the Treasury, altered the figure in the account into Rs. 5, held that no offence was committed under s. 27 of the Cattle Trespass Act, but that the conviction should be for an offence under ss. 409 and 511 of the Penal Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHULA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 632=Cr. Rg. 2 of 1893.

(72)—S. 27—Pound-keeper.—A person, who was not himself a pound-keeper, but had been merely entertained, by a Police Patel, who was ex officio the pound-keeper, was not a pound-keeper within the meaning of s. 27 of Act I of 1871, and could not, therefore, be convicted under that section. REG. v. VAKTA valad LAKHU, 9 B.H.C.A.C. 164.

(73)—S. 27—See COMPENSATION—GENERAL, 1 P.R. 1872, Cr.

(74)—S. 27—See No. 58, supra.

Act IV of 1871 (Coroners).

[S. 42 REP. IN. PT., ACT IX OF 1871; S. 7 REP., S. 38 REP. IN. PT, ACT X OF 1873; S. 2, SCH. I REP., ACT XII OF 1873; S. 1 REP. IN. PT., ACT XVI OF 1874; S. 1 REP. IN. PT., SS. 8, 17, 20, AM., ACT X OF 1881; S. 3 AM., ACT V OF 1889; S. 4 REP. IN. PT., ACT XII OF 1891; SS. 9, 11, 15, 17, 21, 25, 26, 28, SCH. II AM., S. 18A INS., S. 27 REP., ACT IV OF 1908.]

(1)—Coroner's Act IV of 1871—Inquiry by Coroner—Jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate.—The jurisdiction of a Presidency Magistrate is not ousted by an inquiry having been conducted by the Coroner under Act IV of 1871. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JOHN PAUL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 540=Cr. Rg. 14 of 1891.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1871 (Coroners)—concluded.

(2, 3)—Ss. 24, 25, 26 and 29—Coroner's inquisition—Commitment to High Court Sessions—Jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate to try or enquire a case committed by Coroner—Effect of discharge or acquittal by Magistrate—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 213, 214, 215, 477, 478 and 498.—Prisoners Act III of 1900, ss. 2, 11—Commitment to jail after inquisition—Bail, power to grant.—An inquisition drawn up by a Coroner, though it may have the effect of a valid commitment, upon which the High Court, in the exercise of its Original Criminal Jurisdiction, may act, has not that effect, until it has been accepted by the High Court, and the Officers of the Crown have drawn up a charge in accordance with it. Therefore, the mere drawing up of an inquisition by the Coroner does not of itself oust the jurisdiction of a Presidency Magistrate to enquire into or try the case of an accused person. Any order of acquittal or discharge made by him will be operative, subject to the discretion of the High Court, when the time comes for it to consider whether it should take action upon the Coroner's inquisition as an effective commitment. If, in any case, the accused person objects to the Magistrate proceeding with the case on the ground of his being already committed to the High Court, in the exercise of its Original Criminal Jurisdiction by virtue of the inquisition drawn up by the Coroner, an inquisition which has the chance of being accepted as a valid commitment, and which, if so accepted, might subject him to a second trial, notwithstanding that the Magistrate might try and acquit him, the difficulty raised would be one that could be solved only by a proper application to the High Court, which, having regard to the circumstances of the individual case, will make such order as it thinks fit, as to whether the commitment by the Coroner is to be acted upon, or whether it is proper for the Magistrate to proceed with the case. (16 B. 159, R.) After a Coroner has drawn up an inquisition and committed a person to jail refusing bail, the only Court which has power to grant bail is the High Court. EMPEROR v. JOGESHWAR PASSI, 31 C. 1=7 C.W.N. 889.

(4)—S. 25—Commitment by Coroner—Jurisdiction of Presidency Magistrate to hold preliminary enquiry.—A Presidency Magistrate is not ousted of his jurisdiction to hold a preliminary enquiry into a charge of murder, because the Coroner has held an enquiry into the cause of death and has committed the accused to the High Court under Act IV of 1871, s. 25. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAHOMED RAJUDIN, 16 B. 159. [R., 31 C. 1=7 C.W.N. 889.]

(5)—S. 25—See No. 2, supra.

(6)—S. 26—See No. 2, supra.

(7)—S. 29—See No. 2, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act V of 1871 (Prisoner's).

[REP. (EXCEPT S. 15), ACT III OF 1900. DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES) ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3.]

See ACT III OF 1900.

See LOCAL GOVERNMENT, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 827=Cr. Rg. 70 of 1895.

Act VIII of 1871 (Registration).

[REP., ACT III OF 1877.]

See ACT XX OF 1866.

See ACT III OF 1877.

(1)—S. 80 - Nature of imprisonment to be specified in conviction.—Held that, under Act I of 1868, s. 2, cl. 18, the Sessions Judge should have specified in his warrant whether the imprisonment awarded to a person convicted under s. 80, Act VIII of 1871, should be simple or rigorous, but that, as he had omitted this at the proper time, simple imprisonment should now be set forth in the sentence and warrant. LEGAL REMEMBRANCER v. RADHOO CHURN ASH, 18 W.R. Cr. 3. [R., 11 C.W.N. 740; F., 5 C.L.J. 445.]

(2)—S. 80—Offence of making a false statement.—The offence of making a false statement under s. 80 of this Act was held not at all to have been committed by parties, who, when presenting a mortgage-deed before the Sub-Registrar for registration, first alleged that the money, recited by the deed to have been paid, had been paid; but who, on being further questioned, stated that a portion of the money had been adjusted in discharge of a former debt and that the balance still remained unpaid. CROWN v. ISHUR DASS, 17 P.R. 1871, Cr. [R., 32 P.R. 1879.]

(3)—S. 80—See SENTENCE — IMPRISONMENT—GENERAL, 18 W.R. Cr. 3.

(4)—S. 82—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 3, 13 B.L.R. App. 40=22 W.R. Cr. 10.

Act IX of 1871 (Limitation).

[REP., ACT XV OF 1877.]

See ACT XV OF 1877.

See APPEAL.

See LIMITATION.

(1)—Sch. II, art. 46—See ACT XV OF 1877, art. 47, 7 N.W.P. 35, 6 C.L.R. 93, 1 M. 309.

(2)—Art. 152—See APPEAL—APPEAL, PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 1 M. 304=2 Weir 469.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1871 (Excise).

[REP., ACT XXII OF 1881.]

See ACT XXII OF 1881.

See ACT XII OF 1896.

(a)—See ACT I OF 1878, s. 45, Book Cir. 3 of 1872, Oudh.

(b)—S. 2—See BEN. ACT XXI OF 1856, 22 W. R. 31, Cr.

(1)—Ss. 12, 57 and 62—Illicit sale of liquor—License.—Where a license for the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors by retail expired on a certain date, and the accused did not attempt to renew it, till after he had been convicted before the Magistrate for selling spirituous liquors, held, that the case was distinguishable from 1 A. 630, and that he was properly convicted as he violated s. 12 of the Act. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. DHARAM DAS, 1 A. 635. (1 A. 630, D.) [R., 1 A. 638.]

(2)—Ss. 19 and 63—See ACT XI OF 1870, s. 2, 3 A. 404.

(3)—Ss. 32, 57, 62—Illicit sale of liquor.—Where the lapsing of a first license for the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors, was not noticed by the authorities, and was only brought to their knowledge by the accused going to the Collector's office ten days after, and they simply renewed the license, and accepted the whole fee, for the new period, held, that the accused was not guilty, as he had given no notice of his intention not to renew the license, nor had the Collector recalled it. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. SEYMOUR, 1 A. 630. [F., 1 A. 638; D., 1 A. 635.]

(4)—Ss. 32, 57, 62—Illicit sale of liquor—License.—Where a license for the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors by retail expired and the license-holder gave no notice of his intention not to renew the license, nor had the license been recalled by the Collector, but, liquor being sold without the renewal of the license for a week, the license holder's servants were prosecuted, held, that they could not be convicted under the provisions of s. 22, but only under s. 57, for not paying the monthly license fee in advance. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. MAHINDRA LAL, 1 A. 638. (1 A. 630, F.)

(5)—Ss. 45, 46, 63—Illegal search—Liability for prosecution.—The Excise Act contains no provision, which would relieve any person from liability to prosecution under the Act, because the offence had been discovered by an illegal search. RUSSELL v. HIRA GIR SAHD, 37 P.R. 1880, Cr. [F., 11 P.R. 1906, Cr.]

(5-a)—S. 46—See No. 5, supra.

(6)—S. 57—See Nos. 1, 3 and 4, supra.

(7)—Ss. 57, 62—Breach of the conditions of the license by servant of licensed vendor.—The servant of a licensed vendor is not liable to be convicted under s. 57, for the offence of selling liquor contrary to the conditions of the license.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1871 (Excise)—concluded.

But he may be liable to be convicted under s. 62. EMPRESS v. GAHLA, 4 P.R. 1882, Cr., F.B. (19 P.R. 1878, R.)

(8)—S. 62—See Nos. 1, 3, 4 and 7, supra.

(9)—S. 63—License to sell opium—Transferability—Licensed vendor—Importing opium from foreign country.—The license granted to a licensed retail vendor of drugs is not transferable, but such vendor may employ agents and servants in his own business, and, if a transfer be made in good faith, the offence of the transferee, in being in possession of unauthorized quantities of opium and drugs, is not one calling for severe punishment. A licensed vendor cannot be convicted under ss. 63 and 65, Act X of 1871, for importing opium or charas without a pass from foreign territory. PURAN v. CROWN, 12 P.R. 1878, Cr.

(10)—S. 63—See Nos. 2 and 5, supra.

(10-a)—S. 65—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—When a fine is imposed under s. 65, the Court is competent to award imprisonment in default under s. 5 of Act I of 1868. CROWN v. POLU, 6 P.R. 1872, Cr.

(11)—S. 65—Scope of the section —The words "like offence" in s. 65 of Act X of 1871, include an offence committed prior to the passing of the Act and are not applicable only to a previous offence against the Act. CROWN v. POLU, 6 P.R. 1872, Cr.

(12)—S. 66—"Traveller."—Where a sepoy, who had come to his home on leave, had in his possession opium for his own use, but not for the use of others, held, that the sepoy was not a traveller within the meaning of s. 66 (b). CROWN v. BUR SINGH, 23 P.R. 1873, Cr.

(13)—Ss. 78 and 79—Punjab-grown opium—Reward to informer.—Certain sections of Act X of 1871 are modified by Act XXVI of 1872, regarding Punjab-grown opium, but ss. 78 and 79 of Act X of 1871 are not repealed by Act XXVI of 1872. Therefore, an award to an informer of a portion of the fines imposed, on a conviction for unlawful possession of Punjab-grown opium, was held not to be illegal. CROWN v. NIHAL SINGH, 6 P.R. 1877, Cr.

(14)—S. 79—Breach of opium rule--Informer's claim for half the fines, when not allowable.—On a conviction of the accused, who cultivated poppy under cultivator's licenses, under Rule No. 14 of Rules framed under s. 49 of Act IV of 1872, for not entering in their licenses the actual turn out of opium, the Magistrate directed the payment of the proceeds of sale of confiscated opium to the informer, but refused to order the payment of half of the fines imposed on the accused. Held, that, as the conviction was not a conviction for unlawful possession of opium within the meaning of s. 79, Act X of 1871, the Magistrate's order was legal. MOLUK RAM v. CROWN, 23 P.R. 1879, Cr.

(15)—S. 79—See No. 13, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXV of 1871 (Railway Act Amendment).

[REP., ACT IV OF 1879.]

(1)—S. 19 (s. 125, cl. 1 of Act IX of 1890)—Allowing cattle to stray on a Railway line.—The defendant was convicted of being the owner of a cow which strayed on a railway provided with fences. On the date of the offence, no rules had been published under s. 1 of the Railway Act Amendment Act (XXV of 1871) determining what kind of fences should be deemed to be suitable for the exclusion of the cattle. No evidence was offered as to the state of the fences, and the conviction proceeded solely on the confession of the prisoner that he was the owner of the cow. Held, that the conviction was wrong, as the state of the fences was in this case matter requiring specific proof. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 18TH JAN. 1875, 1 Weir 874 = 8 M.H.C. Ap. 1.

(2)—S. 29—Gist of the offence.—The prisoner was convicted under s. 29 of Act XXV of 1871 of endangering the safety of persons in a certain goods train by negligence. Although he was shown to have neglected his duty, there was no evidence whatever of the safety of any person in any train having been endangered by his neglect of duty ; held, that he could not be convicted under s. 29 of Act XXV of 1871, as it was plainly apparent that, by reason of the precautions taken by other persons any possible danger which might have resulted from his neglect was avoided. QUEEN v. MANPHOOL, 5 N.W. P. 240. [F., 11 Cr. L.J. 362 = 6 Ind. Cas. 483 = 8 P.L.R. 1910, 7 Bur. L.T. 101; Rel., 15 Cr. L.J. 17 = 7 L.B.R. 72 = 22 Ind. Cas. 161 ; D., 59 P.L.R. 1907 = 13 P.R. 1906, Cr. = 5 Cr. L.J. 81, 11 C.W.N. 173 = 5 Cr. L.J. 16.]

Act XXVII of 1871 (Criminal Tribes).

[S. 1 REP. IN PT., ACT XVI OF 1874 ; SS. 1, 18, 21, 22 AM., ACT VII OF 1876 ; S. 23 REP., ACT XII OF 1876 ; SS. 1, 19 AM., SS. 1A, 17A, 19A, 19B INS., SCH. ADDED, ACT II OF 1897 ; ACTION IN SIND VALIDATED, AND S.14 AM. (IN BOMBAY PRESIDENCY), BOM. ACT I OF 1909.]

(a) See SECURITY FOR GOOD BEHAVIOUR, 1 P.R. 1895, Cr.

(1)—S. 18 (7), Rule 13—Roll-calls of registered persons—Power of calling roll-calls—Delegation—Superintendent of Police—Further delegation.—Under Rule 13 framed under s. 18 (7) of the Criminal Tribes Act, 1871, the only persons who can order a roll-call are the District Magistrate, and, if specially authorised by the District Magistrate, the District Superintendent of Police ; and the latter, when so authorized cannot delegate his powers to his subordinates, as, for instance, by giving general authority to Sub-Inspectors to order roll-calls. Such an order would be ultra vires. CHARNUN v. KING-EMPEROR, 23 P. R. 1908, Cr. = 9 Cr. L.J. 94.

(2)—S. 19 (1) as amended by Act II of 1897—Absence from village without leave—Sentence—Revision.—A member of a declared criminal tribe was convicted under s. 19 (1) of the Act and sentenced only to whipping for being absent from his village without leave and thereby committing a breach of the rules. The District Magistrate reported the case to the Chief Court on the ground that the sentence was illegal, because, under s. 19 (1) of the Act as amended by Act II of 1897, a sentence of imprisonment must form part of the substantive sentence and the accused having two previous convictions against him deserved no consideration. The Chief Court declined to interfere on the ground that, though under s. 5, as amended, of the Act, imprisonment should have been awarded, the convicting Magistrate might have considered a sentence of imprisonment only sufficient and, the sentence of whipping being carried out, no enhancement was desirable. CROWN v. JHANDU, 166 P.L.R. 1905=3 Cr. L J. 77.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXVII of 1871 (Criminal Tribes)—concld.

(3)—Rule 7 framed under cl. 4, s. 18 of Act as amended by notification No. 249 of the Punjab Government, dated 12*th August*, 1907—Liability of registered persons, absent without permission from their village, to punishment.—Rule 7 of the Rules framed by the Local Government, under s. 18, cl. 4 of the Criminal Tribes Act, 1871, as amended by the Punjab Government Notification No. 249, dated 12th August, 1907, is perfectly valid and intra vires. Therefore, a registered person who should, without permission, leave or be absent from the village in which he resides, is liable to conviction. KING-EMPEROR v. UDMI, 20 P.R. 1908, Cr.=9 Cr. L.J. 1.

Act XXXI of 1871 (Weights and Measures of Capacity).

(1) Fraudulent possession of false weights and measures, what amounts to— S. 266. Penal Code—Joint trial of 68 persons—Legality.—The petitioners (68 in number) were shopkeepers and traders who were convicted under s. 266, I.P.C., of using short weights. The Magistrate who tried the 68 cases took the prosecution evidence in one case only, and a joint reply purporting to be on behalf of all the accused was then put in, headed as being a statement on solemn affirmation with reference to the weights found by the police to be wrong. The Magistrate treated this joint statement of all the accused as being a confession of guilt and thereupon proceeded to conviction and sentence. No Goverment Notifications were issued under Act XXXI of 1871, nor were there any standard weights in the place in question, and it did not appear against which weights the Police weighed the weights of the accused. There was no evidence of fraud or that the accused knew that their weights were false. Held that fraudulent intent was an essential element in s. 266, I.P.C., that the joint statement of all the accused could not be read as an admission of such an intent, that the method of joint trial was irregular and the conviction could not be upheld. Held also that until a set of standard weights is provided for purposes of comparison, it is impossible to say with accuracy whether any particular set of bazaar weights differs so widely from that standard as to justify an inference of fraud CROWN v. NANAK CHAND, 20 P.R. 1913, Cr.=36 P.L.R. 1914=15 Cr. L.J. 11=22 Ind. Cas. 155.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXXI of 1871 (Weights and Measures of Capacity)—concluded.

Act I of 1872.

See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872.

Act VI of 1872 (Oaths).

[REP., ACT X OF 1873.]

(1)—S. 5—Evidence—Oath—Municipal Commissioner—Illegality.—Under the above section, the omission to take any oath, or any other irregularity in the form in which it is administered, does not invalidate the proceedings. The High Court declined to interfere, under s. 296, Act X of 1872, with the order of a Municipal Commissioner, who was the editor of a newspaper, who had, prior to the disposal of the case, made very strong remarks on the case in the newspaper of which he was editor, holding that there was nothing illegal in his order, though he would have exercised a wise discretion if he had refused to sit as one of the Commissioners in the case. QUEEN v. TARINEE CHURN BOSE, 21 W.R. Cr. 31. [F., 25 W.R. Cr. 6.]

Act IX of 1872 (Contract).

[REP. IN PART, ACT I OF 1877; REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT VI OF 1899; AMENDED, ACT IV OF 1886; ACT XII OF 1891.]

(1)—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 145—Partnership property—Claim of exclusive possession by a partner as manager.—Where there are several partners, the claim of one of them to exclusive possession of the partnership property, as manager, is a question outside the purview of s. 145, Crim. Pro. Code. RADHA RAMAN GHOSE v. BALIRAM, 32 C. 249=8 C. W. N. 885. [R., 10 C.W.N. 1088.]

(2)—S. 23—Part of consideration being the withdrawal of prosecution, effect of.—Where a plaintiff, who claimed with two of the defendants to be entitled to the office of the archaka of a temple, sued for a declaration of his title and for a declaration that an agreement previously entered into by them with the other defendants was void as being the result of coercion and as part of its consideration was the stifling of a prosecution for criminal trespass and theft pending against them, the agreement was held to be void, notwithstanding that such stifling formed only a part of its consideration. SRIRANGACHARIAR v. RAMASWAMI AYYANGAR, 18 M. 189=4 M.L J. 106. (Lound v. Grimwade, 39 Ch. D. 605, R.) [Diss., 8 A.L. J. 498=10 Ind. Cas. 216; F., 29 M. 195, F.B.= 16 M.L.J. 41=1 M.L.T. 25=3 L.B.R. 42, 54.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1872 (Contract)—continued.

P.R. 1904 ; R., 22 A. 224, 8 Ind. Cas. 1117 = 6 N.L.R. 148, 11 Ind. Cas. 321 = 31 P.R. 1911 = 192 P.L.R. 1911, 16 Ind. Cas. 555 = 8 N.L.R. 97, 82 P.R. 1904, 41 P.L.R. 1901 ; Cons., 24 M. 444 ; D., 1 S.L.R. 47.]

(3)—S. 23—Consideration for agreement used for suppressing prosecution for criminal breach of trust—Validity of agreement—Penal Code, s. 214, excep.—A person suing for possession of property would not be disentitled to a decree, simply because the sale to him was made to raise money for suppressing a criminal prosecution, if there is no evidence to show the plaintiff's knowledge of such unlawful purpose or of any money having been paid in pursuance thereof. Under the exception to s. 214, Penal Code, it is not every compromise of a criminal prosecution out of Court which is a breach of the positive law. RAJ KRISTO MOITRO v. KOYLASH CHUNDER BHUTTACHARJEE, 8 C. 24.

(4)—S. 23—Validity of Kobala executed for forbearance from criminal proceedings.—A contract whereby the defendant agreed to execute a Kobala of certain lands in favour of the plaintiff in consideration of the latter's not taking criminal proceedings against the former in regard to a compoundable offence is neither to be deemed as forbidden by law nor as against public policy and might be enforced. AMIR-KHAN v. AMIR JAN, 3 C.W.N. 5.

(5)—S. 23—Burden of proof where contract is based on condonation of criminal complaint.—Where, in a suit to enforce the performance of a contract, the defendant pleads that it was based on the condonation of a criminal complaint against the plaintiff which might have been of a nature not condonable by law and that the contract was, therefore, void, the burden of proof is on him to show the nature of the offence complained of. KUMOLANATH SEIN v. BEHAREE KANT ROY, 11 W.R. 313.

(6)—S. 23—Validity of transfer of property to complainant, by accused after conviction, as compensation.—Certain parties convicted of a criminal offence, in order to avoid apprehension, entered into a compromise with the complainant, who agreed to accept a sum of money as costs and as compensation for the disgrace he had suffered. They accordingly sold him some property in lieu of cash. Held that the sale was not made under illegal pressure. Though the offence was one in which a compromise could not be legally admitted, yet, as the Magistrate did admit it, and the parties acted in good faith, the position of the latter was held not to have been affected. SHEIKH NUBBEE BUKSH v. MUSSAMMUT BEBEE HINGON, 8 W.R. 412.

(7)—S. 23—Legality of contract to pay money for suppressing prosecution for causing death accidentally.—Where, to suppress a criminal prosecution for having accidentally caused the death of his wife, the plaintiff voluntarily paid money to the defendant, knowing the defendant to be the nearest relative of the deceased who could take a part in the prosecution, the contract was held to be void as against morality and public policy, and the plaintiff was held not entitled to sue for the money so paid. JEETOO MAHATO v. MONEERAM MAHATO, 17 W.R. 84.

(8)—S. 23—Suit to recover consideration for compounding charge of wrongful restraint.—Where A was criminally prosecuted by B for wrongful restraint, and he came to terms with B to pay him for the withdrawal of the complaint, or to deposit money or property with C to be paid over to B on the disposal of the case according to B's petition of withdrawal ; and the Magistrate, instead of allowing the with drawal of the charge, punished A criminally, held that A could sue for the recovery of the money or property, as the charge was not one which it could have been illegal for A to withdraw with the consent of the Magistrate, the offence charged consisting of an act for which B might have sued for damages in the Civil Court. MOTHOORANATH BHOOMICK v. KENARAM KURMOKAR, 7 W.R. 33.

(9)—S. 23—Validity of agreement to stifle prosecution—Non-compoundable offence.—An agreement, the object of which is to stifle a prosecution, e.g., to compound an offence which cannot by law be compounded, is against public policy and cannot be recognized in any way by a Court of law. DALSUKRAM HARGOVINDAS v. CHARLES DEBRETTON, 6 Bom. L.R. 73.

(10)—S. 23—Whether guarantee given for not taking criminal proceedings enforceable.—A guarantee which a surety gave to the creditors of D, for the payment of the debts due to them by D, on consideration that they were to abstain from taking criminal proceedings against D, for criminal breach of trust for 15 days and by implication to abstain from taking such proceedings altogether if the said debts were paid within that time, was held not to be enforceable by the creditors. A man, to whom a civil debt is due, may take securities for that debt from his debtor, even though the debt arises out of a criminal offence and he threatens to prosecute for that offence provided he does not, in consideration of such securities, agree not to prosecute. He must not, however, by stifling a prosecution obtain a guarantee from third parties. KESSOWJI TULSIDAS v. HURJIVAN MULJI, 11 B. 566. [R., 28 A. 718 = 3 A.L.J. 506 = A.W.N. 1906, 212, 11 C.L.J. 131 = 5 Ind. Cas. 98, 11 Ind. Cas. 321 = 31 P.R. 1911 = 192 P.L.R. 1911, 16 Ind. Cas. 555 = 8 N.L.R. 97, 57 P.W.R. 1914 = 39 P.R. 1914, 17 O.C. 213 ; D., 9 P.R. 1906 = 19 P.L.R. 1906, 1 S.L.R. 47.]

(11)—S. 23—Agreement not to prosecute for giving false evidence.—It is essential to the well-being of society that persons who commit offences which are of a public nature, and which are punishable as crimes, should be brought to justice. Therefore, a Court cannot take cognizance of a bargain to abstain from the prosecution of a person for such an offence as that of wilfully giving the false evidence. QUEEN v. BAL KISHAN, 3 N.W.P. 166 = Agra F.B. Ed., 1871, 252.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1872 (Contract)—continued.

(12)—S. 23—Contract to pay money for forbearing from criminal prosecution.—A contract to pay money in consideration of foregoing a criminal prosecution is opposed to public policy and will not be enforced; the consideration to support the promise in such a contract being a vicious consideration. KANDAN CHETTI v. COORJEE SEIT, 2 M.H.C. 187. (6 Q.B. 208, E.C. in error, 9 Q.B. 371, Observed.)

(13)—S. 23—Contract compounding assault.—A contract compounding an assault is not illegal, and may be sued upon. The fact of two of the defendants being Mahomedans does not affect the principle of the decision. MOTHOORANATH DEY v. GOPAL ROY, 5 W. R.S.C.C.R. 16.

(14)—S. 23—Compounding prosecution for fraudulent abstraction of documents.—The plaintiff, a resident of Pondicherry, held a bond from one of the defendants (the 2nd) for a certain sum of money. This bond the plaintiff charged the said defendant before the French legal authorities with having fraudulently abstracted from his house in Pondicherry and he obtained the arrest and the extradition from British territory of the 2nd defendant, as also of his brother the 1st defendant. The latter on his way to Pondicherry met the plaintiff, and a settlement of accounts took place. The 5th, 6th, 7th and the 8th defendants made themselves liable by executing the bond sued on for the sum found due to the plaintiff, and took indemnity bonds to themselves from the 1st defendant, the consideration being the agreement of the plaintiff to discontinue further proceedings on the criminal charge. The Court at Pondicherry sanctioned the agreement as a compromise by Civil redress, and suspended further proceedings in accordance with the law in force in the settlement. Held, that the contract was enforceable, the facts of the case not showing the compromise to be in its nature prejudicial as being in contravention of public policy under the Government of British India, or injurious to the good order and interest of society, in regard to the administration of public justice. The English Common Law rule, that contracts for the compounding or suppression of criminal charges of offences of a public nature are illegal and void, has no application to a contract for compounding the prosecution of criminal proceedings for an offence against the Municipal Law of a foreign country. The rule of International law that the law of the place of a contract governs its validity is subject to the qualification that every state may refuse to enforce a contract when it is for the fraudulent evasion of its laws, or injurious to its public institutions of interests. SUBRAYA PILLAI v. SUBRAYA MUDALI, 4 M.H.C. 14.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1872 (Contract)—concluded.

(15)—S. 23—See WITHDRAWAL OF CASE, Old S. C. 43, Oudh.

(16)—Ss. 23 and 24—Illegal contract—Contract to indemnify surety for his bail bond—Crim. Pro. Code (Act V of 1898), s. 513—Whole consideration—Part of one single consideration cannot be separated to validate an agreement.—Pending a criminal charge against L, his pleader stood bail for him; and as an indemnity for the bail took from him a sale-deed and a rent note regarding his house, in the name of the plaintiff. The consideration for the sale-deed was a sum of Rs. 8,000, of which Rs. 5,000 were the indemnity for the bail-bond, and the remaining Rs. 3,000 represented the advances to be made thereafter by the plaintiff. The plaintiff sued on the rent note to recover from L the sum of Rs. 2,000 as rent. Held that the contract for indemnifying this pleader for his bail-bond was illegal; and this illegality rendered the sale-deed void in law; that the rent note was tainted with the same illegality which affected the sale-deed and could not stand on any separate footing; that the agreement was an indivisible agreement; part of a single consideration for one object was unlawful and, therefore, the whole agreement was void under s. 24 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872. Held, further, that the deposit allowed under s. 513, Crim. Pro. Code, is allowed in substitution only of the bond which the principal himself would otherwise execute, not in substitution of any bond which his surety executes. LAXIMAN LAL K. PANDIT v. MULSHANKAR PITAMBARDAS, 10 Bom. L.R. 553. [R., 10 Cr. L.J. 410 = 3 Ind. Cas. 895 = 3 S.L.R. 88.]

(17)—S. 24—See No. 16, supra.

(18)—Ss. 76, 108—Government currency notes whether "goods."—The change of a Government currency note for money is not a contract for sale and the transaction being the exchange of money in one form for money in another is not governed by the Contract Act. EMPRESS v. JOGGESSUR MOCHI, 3 C. 379 = 1 C.L.R. 339. [Dist., 25 B. 702 = 3 Bom. L.R. 392; R., 115 P.L.R. 1904 = 18 P.R. 1905.]

(19)—S. 108—See RESTORATION OF PROPERTY, 2 P.R. 1908, Cr. = 6 P.W.R. 1908 = 140 P.L.R. 1908 = 7 Cr.L.J. 279.

(20)—S. 108—See STOLEN PROPERTY, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 84.

(21)—S. 108—See No. 18, supra.

(22)—S. 178—See JURISDICTION OF CIVIL AND CRIMINAL COURTS, 4 L.B.R. 25 = 6 Cr. L.J. 135.

(23)—S. 178, proviso 2—See RESTORATION OF PROPERTY, 4 L.B.R. 13 = 6 Cr.L.J. 125.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1872 (Crim. Pro. Code).

See CRIM. PRO. CODE.

Act XI of 1872 (Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition).

[REP., ACT XXI OF 1879.]

See ACT XXI OF 1879.

(1)—Ss. 3, 9—See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS—GENERAL, 2 A. 218, F.B.

(2)—Ss. 3, cl. (2) and 9—Native State.—Amenability of Native Indian subjects to British Courts for offences committed beyond India. CROWN v. DAD GAL, 29 P.R. 1878.

(3)—S. 9—Act XXI of 1879, s. 9—Offence by British subject in Native State—Extradition—Native subject.—S 9, Act XI of 1872, runs thus: —"All British subjects, European and Native, in British India, may be dealt with, in respect of offences committed in any Native State, as if such offences had been committed in any place within British India in which such subject may be or may be found." In re-enacting the provision in s. 9 of Act XXI of 1879, the Legislature omitted "may be" and retained only "may be found." Held that, looking to the purposes of these Acts and to the fact that the words "may be," "may be found," really mean one and the same thing, the alteration in the recent Act was merely to avoid redundancy, and the expression "found" used in it must be taken to mean, not where a person is discovered, but where he is actually present. Where a person charged with the offence of theft in a dwelling house in Rajputana, being found in Sirdhi territory, another Native State, was brought from that place to Ahmedabad, and was charged before the Courts there, held that those Courts had jurisdiction to try him. Where it was proved that a place in British territory was the home of the accused's parents, and that he himself was born and educated there, and that he only went 1½ years previously to a Native State for purposes of trade, living, during that time, sometimes in British territory and sometimes in the Native State, held that there was a legal presumption in favour of the accused being a Native Indian subject of Her Majesty, and, therefore, amenable to the jurisdiction of the British Courts. EMPRESS v. MAGAN LAL, 6 B. 622. [F., 13 B. 147 ; R., 35 B. 225 = 13 Bom.L.R. 296 = 1 Bom. Cr. Cas. 26 = 12 Cr.L.J. 356 = 10 Ind. Cas. 956, 12 Cr.L.J. 113 = 9 Ind. Cas. 677 = 1 P.R. 1911, Cr. = 84 P.L. R. 1911 = 4 P.W.R. 1911, Cr.]

(4)—S. 9—See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS—GENERAL, 1 M. 171.

(5)—S. 9—See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL JURISDICTION, Rat. Un. Cr.C. 79 = Cr. Rg. 18-11-1875.

(6)—S. 9—See Nos. 1 and 2, supra.

(7)—S. 11—Receiving property stolen in Indore State.—An accused person who received in British territory property stolen in the commission of a dacoity in the Indore State cannot be surrendered under the warrant of the Political Agent at Indore. HUKAM CHAND v. CROWN, 14 P.R. 1873, Cr.

Act XV of 1872 (Christian Marriage).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XVI OF 1874 ; REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT XII OF 1891. AMENDED, ACT VI OF 1886, S. 30; ACT II OF 1891; ACT I OF 1903.]

(1)—Ss 3 and 68—Unauthorised marriage of a Christian child.—The words "person who professes the Christian religion," as used in Act XV of 1872, mean not only adults who profess that religion, but also their children, who are in law presumed to follow their father's religion. Where an unauthorised person solemnised the marriage of a child of the age of three years born to a Christian who was baptized, held, that the person was guilty of an offence under s. 68 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VEERADU, 18 M. 230 = 1 Weir 813.

(2)—Ss. 5, 10, 12, 13, 38, 68, 70 and 73—Solemnisation of marriage by an Episcopally ordained person without publishing notice of such marriage.—Where a Syrian Priest, who had received an Episcopal ordination, solemnised a marriage according to the Roman ritual, being so authorised by the Patriarch of Antioch, under whose jurisdiction he was, without the notice of the banns of marriage as required by Part 3 of the Act, and where there was nothing to show that a marriage solemnised with the Roman ritual under the sanction of the Bishop of a Syrian Church was not solemnised according to the rules, rites or ceremonies and customs of the Syrian Church, held, that the priest was not liable to be convicted for an offence under s. 73 of the Act. REV. FATHER CAUSASEL v. REV. SAUREZ, 19 M. 273 = 1 Weir 814.

(3)—Ss. 5, 68 — Celebration of Christian marriage by unauthorised person—Presence of Marriage Registrar.—Where the Lay Trustee of a Church, not coming within one of the four classes of persons mentioned in clauses 1, 2, 3 and 5 of s. 5 of the Act, solemnised a marriage between Christians, according to the rights of the Church of England in the presence of the Marriage Registrar, who was present, not in his official capacity as Marriage Registrar, but as a relative of the bride, during the absence of the incumbent of the Church and of the Native Pastor, who had previously published the banns of marriage, held, that the Lay Trustee was properly convicted under s. 68 of Act XV of 1872. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. FISCHER, 14 M. 342 = 1 M.L J. 458 = 1 Weir 802, F.B.

(4)—S. 10—See No. 2, supra.

(5)—S. 12—See No. 2, supra.

(6)—S. 13—See No. 2, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XV of 1872 (Christian Marriage)—contd.

(7)—Ss. 18, 66—" Ignorantia juris non excusat," applicability of, to a false declaration under s. 18.—Inasmuch as the declaration required by s. 18 is one as to the best of the deponent's belief and as s. 66 only makes penal the " intentionally making a false oath," the doctrine " ignorantia juris non excusat " is not applicable to a declaration, alleged to be false, but only made to the best of the deponent's belief. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ROBINSON, 16 A. 212 = A.W.N. 1894, 49.

(8)—S. 33—See No. 2, supra.

(8-a)—S. 66—See No. 7, supra.

(9)—Ss. 66 to 76—Scope of the sections.—Ss. 66 to 76 apply to all persons, who are not authorised to do so, solemnising a marriage between Christians, and do not apply simply to marriages that are to take place before a Marriage Registrar. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. FISCHER, 14 M. 342 = 1 M.L.J. 458 = 1 Weir 802, F.B.

(10)—S. 67—See No. 9, supra.

(11)—S. 68—Requisites for convicting a person under the section.—The only facts necessary to support a conviction under s. 68 are these :—first, it must be proved that the accused was not authorised under the Act to solemnise a marriage in the absence of a Marriage Registrar, and secondly, that he knowingly solemnised the marriage in the absence of such Registrar between persons, one or both of whom was or were a Christian or Christians. The word " knowingly " only applies to the fact that the person so solemnising the marriage is aware that he is solemnising it and that the person or persons he is professing to marry is or are a Christian or Christians. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. FISCHER, 14 M 342 = 1 M.L.J. 458 = 1 Weir 802 = 1 Weir 40 ; F.B.

(12)—S. 68—Unauthorised persons solemnising marriage when one of the parties is a Christian.—S. 68, as amended by s. 6, Act II of 1891, makes punishable the solemnisation of a marriage between persons of whom one is a Christian, unless the person solemnising such a marriage has been authorised for that purpose under s. 5. Where a Hindu celebrated the ceremony of marriage according to the Hindu form between a Native Christian and a Hindu girl, held, that the person performing the ceremony was liable to be convicted of an offence under s. 68 inasmuch as he was not authorised under s. 5. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. YOHAN, 17 M. 391 = 1 Weir 813. (6 M.H.C. App. 20, R.)

(13)—S. 68—Meaning of the term " solemnise."—The term " solemnise " in s. 68 of Act XV of 1872 means " conduct, celebrate or perform " and should not be limited as applying to only such marriage ceremonies as are performed by some person possessing, or claiming authority to perform them by virtue of ecclesiastical authority. Therefore, an unauthorised person, not being the persons being married, who actually takes part in performing the marriage, that is, in doing any act that is supposed to be material to constitute the marriage, is guilty under s. 68 as a party either solemnising a marriage or professing to do so. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PAUL, 20 M. 12 = 1 Weir 820.

(14)—S. 68—See Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 9, supra.

(15)—S. 69—See No. 9, supra.

(16)—S. 70—See No. 9, supra.

(17)—S. 71—See No. 9, supra.

(18)—S. 72—See No. 9, supra.

(19)—S. 73—Scope of the section—Notice of marriage whether to be given by an Episcopally ordained person.—S. 73 is a highly penal section, and must be construed strictly and in favour of the liberty of the subject. The section does not require that a person, who has received Episcopal ordination, and who is not one of the classes specially excepted by that section, should publish a notice of any marriage which he intends to solemnise. REV. FATHER CAUSASEL v. REV. SAUREZ, 19 M. 273 = 1 Weir 814.

(20)—S. 73—See No. 9, supra.

(21)—Ss. 74 to 76—See No. 9, supra.

(22)—Part 3—Applicability to Episcopally ordained persons.—Part 3 of the Act only applies to Ministers of religion licensed under the Act, and not to Episcopally ordained persons. REV. FATHER CAUSASEL v. REV. SAUREZ, 19 M. 273 = 1 Weir 814.

Act XIX of 1872 (Penal Code Amendment).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3 ; IN THE ARAKAN HILL DISTRICT, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3.]

(1)—Penal Code, s. 230—" Coin " defined.—It is not necessary, to satisfy the ordinary definition of money, that coins should be alegal tender receivable at a value in rupees fixed by the law. Gold Mohurs having no absolutely fixed value, but having a current value, which is not ascertained merely by weighing them as lumps of gold, but attaching to them as coin, are " coins " for the time being used as money. QUEEN v. KUNJ BEHAREE, 3 N.W.P. 187. [D., 29 A. 141 = 4 A.L.J. 43 = A.W.N. 1906, 308 = 4 Cr.L.J. 453.]

Act VIII of 1873 (Northern India Canal and Drainage).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1873 ; ACT XVI OF 1874. REP. IN PART (IN PUNJAB), ACT XVI OF 1887. AMENDED ACT XII OF 1891 ; ACT XVI OF 1899, (IN PUNJAB), REG. IV OF 1898.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1873 (Northern India Canal and Drainage)—concluded.

(1)—Ss. 7, 70—Cutting walls of canal—Punishment—Law applicable—See PENAL CODE, s. 426, 9 A.L.J. 162=13 Ind. Cas. 829=13 Cr. L.J. 141=34 A. 210.

(2)—S. 45—Resistance to a Naib Nazir—Distraint for canal dues under Act—Order for distraint not formally drawn up—Penal Code, s. 186.—S. 47 of Act VIII of 1873 refers to the recovery of canal dues by the Collector from the lambardars who have been required under that Act to collect and pay such dues. But, under s. 45, the Collector may recover dues from such persons as have actually used canal water, although a lambardar has been appointed. Hence, where a Naib Nazir who was a public servant proceeded to distrain certain crops for an amount due on account of canal rates, under an order from an Assistant Collector, and the persons against whom distraint was issued offered resistance to the Naib Nazir in the discharge of his duties, held, that they were guilty of the offence under s. 186, I.P.C., although the order of the Assistant Collector might not have been formally drawn up. EMPEROR v. ABDULLAH, 27 A. 499=A. W.N. 1905, 74=2 A.L.J. 219=2 Cr. L.J. 183. (21 M. 296, R.)

(3)—S. 70 (4)—Authorized distribution means distribution expressly made by canal authorities —Private arrangement of water, disturbance of —Offence — Civil remedy.—The 'authorized distribution' spoken of in s. 70 (4), Canals Act, 1873, refers only to such distribution as has been expressly made by the canal authorities, and any further distribution between a landlord and his tenant is a matter of private contract which merely entitles the tenant to bring a civil claim. BASAN v. EMPEROR, 217 P.L.R. 1913=19 Ind. Cas. 713=21 P.W.R. 1913, Cr. =14 Cr. L.J. 281=19 P.R. 1913 Cr.

(4)—S. 70—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 33, 1 A. 461, F.B.

(4-a)—S. 70—See No. 1, supra.

(5)—Ss. 70 and 74—Definition of "Canal"—Damage to trees growing on canal banks.—Held, that damage to trees growing on a canal bank is damage to a canal within the meaning of s. 70, cl. (1), read with s. 74 of Act VIII of 1873. EMPEROR v. UMRAO SINGH, A.W.N. 1907, 18=4 A.L.J. 204=5 Cr. L.J. 196.

(6)—S. 74—See No. 5, supra.

Act X of 1873 (Oaths).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1873; ACT XII OF 1876; ACT VI OF 1900, S. 48.]

See ACT VI OF 1872.

(1)—Oath not to be administered to person, whose statements are recorded under s. 164.—A Magistrate has no power to administer an oath or affirmation to any person whose statements he records under s. 164, Crim. Pro. Code. His function is to prepare a record in the manner and subject to the conditions prescribed in s. 164. LALU v. EMPRESS, 2 P.R. 1893, Cr.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1873 (Oaths)—continued.

(2)—Omission to record the fact that oath was administered—Presumption—See ACT XII OF 1896, s. 60, 11 A.L.J. 933.

(3)—S. 4—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 122—Inquiry as to the fitness of surety—Recording evidence on oath.—A Magistrate holding an enquiry as to the fitness of a surety has power to record evidence on oath in the exercise of the power and duty conferred and imposed by s. 122. EMPEROR v. GHULAM MUSTAFA, 26 A 371=A.W.N. 1904, 52. (A.W.N. 1898, 154, A.W.N. 1903, 36, R.) [R., 10 Cr. L. J. 225=2 S.L.R. 11.]

(4)—S. 4—Investigation into collision by a Special Court—Examination on oath of Serang of colliding vessel—See ACT VI OF 1884, ss. 31 to 35, 12 Cr. L.J. 577=12 Ind. Cas. 841=4 Bur. L.T. 130.

(5)—S. 4—See FALSE EVIDENCE, 2 L.B.R. 272.

(6)—S. 4—See PERJURY, 29 M. 89=3 Cr. L. J. 370.

(7)—Ss. 4, 5, 6, 7, 13, 14, 15—Omission to take oath or affirmation.—The evidence of a boy aged 10, to whom no oath or affirmation was advisedly administered, was held to be admissible. The provisions of the Oaths Act and of s. 108, Evidence Act, were discussed in this case. BUDHA v. EMPRESS, 31 P.R. 1889, Cr. (10 A. 207, Diss.)

(8)—Ss. 4, 5 and 14—Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 164—Person making a statement under s. 164, whether can be bound by an oath—Evidence Act, s. 3.—The direction in s. 164, Crim. Pro. Code, that the statement shall be recorded in one of the manners prescribed for recording evidence is merely a direction as to procedure. The statement itself is one which the law permits to be made before the Court by a witness, and is, therefore, evidence within the definition of s. 3 of the Indian Evidence Act. The person making it is a witness within the meaning of s. 5 of the Oaths Act, and therefore one to whom an oath or affirmation might be administered. A charge under s. 193, Penal Code, can, therefore, be framed as regards a statement under s. 164, made on oath before a Magistrate, in a stage of inquiry which he was authorised to conduct under the Code of Criminal Procedure. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ALAGU KONE, 16 M. 421 =1 Weir 175=2 Weir 142=1 Weir 822. [F., 29 M. 89=3 Cr. L.J. 370, 8 Bom. L.R. 589=4 Cr. L.J. 183; R., 14 Bom. L.R. 753=13 Cr.L. J. 709=16 Ind. Cas. 517; D., 13 Cr. L.J. 33= 13 Ind. Cas. 273=5 S.L.R. 174.]

(9)—Ss. 4, 14—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION—NECESSITY, SUFFICIENCY AND VALIDITY OF SANCTION, 18 P.R. 1898, Cr.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1873 (Oaths)—continued.

(10)—S. 5—S. 164, Crim. Pro. Code, 1882—Evidence Act, s. 80.—A confession recorded under s. 164, Crim. Pro. Code, purporting to have been taken on oath in violation of the express provisions of the Act is not a confession recorded in accordance with law and, therefore, the record is not admissible under s. 80, Evidence Act, to prove that confession. EMPRESS v. BANKO BIHARI, 10 C.P.L.R. Cr. 16.

(11)—S. 5—Penal Code, ss 191 and 193—Examination of a person for obtaining information for the purpose of taking proceedings—Contradictory statements made by such person as a witness at the trial—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 190 (c).—Although a Magistrate might examine a person for the sake of obtaining information upon which a case might be started against some person not before the Court, he cannot examine him on oath as such person is not a witness. There is no authority, that, being so examined, such person is bound, by any express provision of law, to state the truth. Consequently any charge for giving false evidence founded on such statement is bad and it, therefore, follows that a conviction based on the statement, as being contrary to another statement made at the regular trial without any proof or finding that the second statement was false cannot be maintained. HARI CHARAN SINGH v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 27 C. 455=4 C. W.N. 249. [Diss., 8 Bom. L.R. 589; Rel. on, 12 Cr. L.J. 326=10 Ind. Cas. 622=7 N.L.R. 65.]

(12)—S. 5—Examination of child without affirmation—Evidence Act, s. 118.—Whether a child understands the nature of an oath or not, he should, when examined as a witness, be examined on oath or affirmation. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHEORATAN, S.C 242, Oudh. (16 M. 105, R.)

(13)—Ss. 5, 67—Oath—Solemn affirmation—to whom to be administered—Omission.—All witnesses whether they are men or only boys aged 6 or 7, if they are competent witnesses under s. 118 of the Evidence Act, i.e., if they are able to understand what goes on in Court, must be affirmed under s. 5 of the above Act. The word "omission" in the above section includes any omission and is not limited to accidental or negligent omission. EMPRESS v. SAMBHIA MAHAR, 11 C.P.L.R.Cr. 16. (16 B. 359, 14 B L.R. 294, Appr.; 10 A. 207, Contra; 16 M. 105, R.)

(14)—S. 5—See Nos. 7 and 8, supra.

(15)—Ss. 5, 6, 7 and 13—Evidence Act, s. 118—Evidence of children taken without affirmation—Admissibility.—Where a Sessions Judge, after being fully satisfied himself of the intellectual capacity of a child to give evidence, intentionally omitted to administer an affirmation, as it appeared to him that the child was of too tender years to render any attempt to bind his conscience expedient or practically operating but enjoined the child to tell the truth and admitted his evidence, held, (Per Collins, C.J.) that the action of the Sessions Judge in not administering an oath or affirmation was irregular and that the irregularity was not cured by s. 13 of the Oaths Act and that the evidence of the child was, therefore, inadmissible. Held, per Parker, J. (contra), that such intentional omission to administer an oath or to affirm the child, when the child was otherwise competent to give evidence, was cured by s. 13 of the Oaths Act and the evidence was admissible. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VIRAPERUMAL, 16 M. 105=1 Weir 823. [R., 7 Cr. L.J. 89=10 O.C. 337, 41 C. 406=14 Cr. L.J. 485=20 Ind. Cas. 741=18 C.L.J. 582 =18 C.W.N. 147, 11 C.P.L.R. 16, Cr., 15 Cr. L.J. 161=22 Ind. Cas. 737.]

(16)—Ss. 5, 6, 13—Evidence Act, s. 118—Competency to give evidence—Persons of tender years—Omission to take evidence on oath or affirmation.—Whilst the limit of age as to the competency of witnesses has been removed, the general principle that they should be competent to give "rational answers" to questions has been affirmed, as shown by s. 118 of the Evidence Act. The necessity of oaths or solemn affirmations has been maintained and imperatively required, as shown by s. 6 of the Oaths Act. The omissions or irregularities in the administration of oaths or solemn affirmations are to be overlooked in certain cases contemplated by s. 13 of the Oaths Act. The evidence of a child of eight or nine years of age, who has not attained such maturity of mind as would enable him to realize the solemnity or obligation of an oath or affirmation, is inadmissible, if it has been deliberately and advisedly taken without any oath or affirmation, and s. 13 of the Oaths Act does not apply to it. An inability, from tender years, to comprehend either the spiritual or legal obligations of an oath or solemn affirmation is intellectual incompetency, and makes the child incompetent to be examined as a witness at all. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MARU, 10 A. 207=A.W.N. 1888, 86. (14 B L.R. 294, Diss.) [Diss., 16 B. 359, 15 Cr. L.J. 161=22 Ind. Cas. 737, 31 P.R. 1889, Cr.; R, 11 A. 183=A.W.N. 1889, 65, 41 C. 406=18 C.W.N. 147=18 C.L.J. 582=14 Cr. L.J. 485=20 Ind. Cas. 741, 16 M. 105=1 Weir 826, 11 C.P.L.R. 16, 2 L.B.R. 322, 7 Cr. L.J. 89=10 O.C. 337, 20 P.R. 1902, Cr.]

(17)—Ss. 5, 6 and 13—Evidence Act, s. 118—Competency to be a witness, of old men and young children.—There is no direction or intimation in s. 118 to a Court, which has to deal with the question whether a person should or should not be examined, that it is to enter upon enquiries as to his religious belief or to open such a field of speculation as is involved in the query "What will be the consequence here or hereafter, if you will not tell the truth?" But a Court is to ascertain, in the best way it can, whether, from the amount of intellectual capacity and understanding of a young or old person, that the person is able to give a rational and intelligent account of what he has seen, heard, or done on a particular occasion; and if the Court is satisfied that a child of twelve years or an old man or woman of a very advanced age can satisfy those requirements, the competency of the witness is established. (10 A. 207, R.) [Appr., 16 B. 359; R., 16 M. 105 = 1 Weir 826.] Having regard to the language of the Oaths Act, neither a Judge nor a Magistrate has any option, when once he has elected to take the statements of a person as evidence, but to administer either an oath or an affirmation to such a person as the case may require. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LAL SAHAI, 11 A. 183 = A.W.N. 1889, 65. [R., 16 B. 359, 41 C. 406 = 18 C.L.J. 582 = 18 C.W.N. 147 = 14 Cr.L.J. 485 = 20 Ind. Cas. 741, 16 M. 105 = 1 Weir 823, 11 C.P.L.R. 16, 7 Cr.L.J. 89 = 10 O.C. 337.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1873 (Oaths)—continued.

(18)—Ss. 5, 6 and 13—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 118, 10 O.C. 337 = 7 Cr. L.J. 89.

(19)—Ss. 5, 13—Evidence Act, s. 118—Child witness—Failure to administer oath—Evidence, whether inadmissible—Insanity of accused, plea of—Time.—A child's evidence is not inadmissible merely because no oath was administered to it. Although s. 5 of Oaths Act is imperative, still s. 13 of the Act governs cases of this sort. (16 M. 105, 1 Weir 823, F.; 10 A. 207, Diss). Where an accused pleads insanity, the evidence relating to it must refer to the time when he committed the offence and not to the state of his mind long afterwards. GOLLA CHINNA VENKADU v. EMPEROR, 15 Cr. L. J. 161 = 22 Ind. Cas. 737.

(20)—Ss. 5 and 13—See DEFAMATION, 30 M. 222 = 6 Cr. L.J. 130.

(21)—Ss. 5, 13—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—NOTICE OF SANCTION, 9 C.L J. 690 = 13 C.W.N. 942 = 10 Cr.L. J. 150 = 36 C. 808 = 2 Ind. Cas. 697.

(22)—S. 6—Penal Code, ss. 191, 193—Offence of giving false evidence.—The offence of giving false evidence may be committed, although the person giving evidence has been neither sworn nor affirmed. GOBIND CHANDRA LAL v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 19 C. 355.

(23)—S 6—See Nos. 7, 15, 16, 17 and 18, supra.

(24)—Ss. 6 and 7—Exemption from taking oath—Muhammadan required to repeat kalma—Refusal—Penal Code, s. 173—Witnesses, interpreters and jurors, who are Hindus or Mahomedans, are exempt from taking oath. As repeating of the Kalma, by a Muhammadan witness, is not in accordance with the form prescribed by the Chief Court under s. 7 of the Act, his refusal to do so cannot be punished under s. 173, I. P.C. BHAI KHAN v. EMPEROR, 20 P.R. 1902, Cr. = 47 P.L R. 1902. (10 A. 207, R.)

(25)—S. 7—See Nos. 7, 24, supra.

(26)—Ss. 8 to 11—Applicability to criminal proceedings.—The term "party to any judicial proceedings" in s. 8 of the Oaths Act does not include the complainant in a criminal proceeding nor the accused, ss. 8—11 of the Oaths Act do not apply to criminal proceedings. A prisoner on his trial can consent to nothing. Where the pleaders for the prosecution and the defence in a case of assault agreed that, if the principal witness would give his evidence on an oath specially binding on him—to wit, on the Gita—they would, under ss. 8 to 11, Oaths Act, accept the evidence as conclusive proof of the matter stated, held, that the Magistrate was not bound to decide the case on such evidence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MURARJI GOKUL DAS, 13 B. 389. [Rel., 13 Cr. L J. 23 = 13 Ind. Cas. 215 = 5 S.L.R. 129; R., 33 C. 386 = 10 C.W.N. 501, 3 Bur. L. T. 124 = 11 Cr. L. J. 738 = 8 Ind. Cas. 952 = 5 L.B.R. 241, 4 Cr L.J. 471 = 3 L.B.R. 208, 6 Cr. L. J. 434 = 12 C.W.N. 140.]

(27)—Ss. 8, 9, 10, 11—Criminal proceedings—Applicability.—The provisions of Ss. 8—11 of the Oaths Act, do not apply to criminal proceedings. IMPERATOR v. HAJI ALU, 5 S.L.R. 129 = 13 Ind. Cas. 215 = 13 Cr. L J. 23. (13 B. 389, F.)

(28)—S. 9—See Nos. 26 and 27, supra.

(29)—Ss. 9, 10 and 11.—The provisions of Ss. 9 to 11 of the Oaths Act are inapplicable to criminal proceedings. They are appropriate to proceedings in which the matters litigated are civil rights which the parties are at liberty to forego and of which the Courts are competent to enforce a renunciation. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 1ST MARCH, 1881, NO. 398, 1 Weir 822.

(30)—S. 10—See Nos. 26, 27 and 29, supra.

(31)—S. 11—See Nos. 26, 27 and 29, supra.

(32)—S. 13—Oaths Act, X of 1873—Child-witness—Procedure.—In the case of a child-witness, the Judge is bound first to ascertain by questioning the child whether it is by tender years prevented from understanding the questions put or from giving rational answers to those questions. Then, if the Judge elects to take the statements of the child as evidence, he should proceed to administer the affirmation; but if he deliberately refrains from so doing, on the ground that the child cannot understand the nature of a solemn affirmation, under s. 13 of the Oaths Act, the deposition of the child will be admissible. The ignorance of a child on such a matter as the nature of a solemn affirmation is not necessarily equivalent to an inability to understand ordinary questions and give rational answers. EMPEROR v. KUSHA YAMAJI SUTAR, 5 Bom. L.R. 551. (16 B. 359, F.)

(33)—Evidence given on simple affirmation.—Held, by the majority (Jackson J, dissenting), that the evidence of a witness who was examined on simple affirmation under the direction of the Judge is admissible as evidence. The word "omission" in s. 13 of the Oaths Act (X of 1873) includes any omission, and is not limited to accidental or negligent omissions. QUEEN v. SEWA BHOGTA, 23 W.R. Cr. 12 = 14 B.L.R. F.B., 294.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1873 (Oaths)—continued.

(34)—S. 13—Intentional omission to administer oath or affirmation to a witness.—The omission referred to in s. 13 of Act X of 1873 is not limited to accidental or negligent omissions to administer an oath, but also to deliberate omissions. But having regard to the language of the Oaths Act, neither a Judge nor a Magistrate has any option when once he has elected to take the statement of a person as evidence, but to administer either the oath or the solemn affirmation to such persons as the case may require. Where in a charge of murder, the Judge allowed one of the witnesses, a girl of about ten years of age to be examined without any oath or affirmation being administered to her, as it was found that she did not understand the nature of either, held that the girl's evidence was admissible under s. 13, Oaths Act, if she was not by tender years prevented from understanding the questions put to her and from giving rational answers to those questions. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHAVA, 16 B. 359. (14 B.L.R. 294 = 23 W.R. 1, Appr.; 10 A. 207, Diss.) [F., 16 M. 105 = 1 Weir 826, 5 Bom. L R. 551, 7 Cr. L.J. 89 = 10 O. C. 337, R., 41 C. 406 = 18 C.L.J. 582 = 18 C.W.N. 147 = 14 Cr. L.J. 485 = 20 Ind. Cas. 741, 11 C.P. L.R. 16, Cr., 1 Cr. L.J. 1131 = 2 L.B.R. 322.]

(35)—S. 13—Evidence of child of nine years of age examined without oath.—The Court in this case declined to act on the evidence of a child, 9 years old, who had been examined without oath, although she was a competent witness under s. 118 of the Evidence Act, I of 1872, inclining to the opinion that s. 13 of the Oaths Act, by which the evidence of a witness may be received in evidence, although no oath was administered, did not render the deposition of a child of nine years, whose deposition had been taken advisedly, and not by omission, without oath or solemn affirmation, admissible as evidence. QUEEN v. ANUNTO CHUCKERBUTTY, 22 W.R.Cr. 1 = 14 B.L.R. 295, Note. [R., 16 M. 105, 10 A. 207.]

(36)—S. 13—Omission to administer oath to an infant witness.—Where a Sessions Judge omitted deliberately to administer an oath to a prosecution witness on the ground that the witness was of too tender years to render any attempt to bind her conscience expedient, held, that she ought not to have been examined as a witness until she had made the necessary affirmation. But the irregularity was saved by s. 13 of Act X of 1873, as the section would include any omission. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PERUMAL, 1 Weir 827, Foot-note. [R., 16 M. 105 = 1 Weir 823.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1873 (Oaths)—continued.

(37)—S. 13—Evidence of child taken on simple affirmation.—The evidence of a child of immature age—who the Sessions Judge considered understood the questions which were put to her, and who was, therefore, a competent witness under s. 118 of the Evidence Act,—taken by the Sessions Judge on a simple affirmation, because she was not aware of the responsibility of an oath, was held to be admissible as evidence under s. 13 of the Oaths Act, X of 1873. QUEEN v. MUSSAMUT ITWARYA, 22 W.R.Cr. 14 = 14 B.L.R. 54. [R., 16 M. 105, 16 B. 359.]

(38)—S. 13—Evidence of child witness—Oath—Affirmation—Practice.—When a Judge or Magistrate has elected to take the statements of a person as evidence, he has no option but to administer either the oath or affirmation to such a person as the case may require. The proper course in such case is to record the questions and answers put to the witness to ascertain whether he is competent to testify under s. 118 and, if the Court comes to the conclusion that he is competent, an oath or affirmation should be administered. A child is generally competent, if it is old enough to understand that it ought to speak the truth. PWA NYUN v. KING-EMPEROR, 2 L.B.R. 322. (10 A. 207, R.; 14 B.L.R. 294, 16 B. 359, Diss.)

(39)—S. 13—Omission to swear jury.—As to whether if the jury in a Sessions trial are not sworn, the omission is one which could be covered by s. 13 of the Oaths Act, X of 1873. QUEEN v. RAMSODOY CHUCKERBUTTY, 20 W.R. Cr. 19.

(40)—S. 13—Omission to record deposition as on solemn oaths or affirmation—Effect—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 195, 18 C.W.N. 1323.

(41)—S. 13—Applicability—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 422, 14 Cr. L.J. 485 = 20 Ind. Cas. 741 = 18 C.L.J. 582 = 18 C.W.N. 147.

(42)—S. 13—See Nos. 7 and 15 to 21, supra.

(43)—S. 14—Crim Pro. Code, s. 282—Order for trial of a witness for giving false evidence in a Sessions trial—De novo trial of the Sessions case owing to the incompetency of one of the jurors, effect of—Penal Code, s. 193—During the trial of a dacoity case, a person was examined as a witness, and the Sessions Judge, considering his evidence to be false, committed him for trial before his own Court under s. 193, Penal Code. Subsequently the dacoity case was tried de novo owing to the incapacity of a juror who was found to be deaf and partly blind. Held, that there was nothing in the retrial of the dacoity case to absolve the witness from the obligation under which he lay to speak the truth when examined as a witness in the first trial, although such trial became null and void owing to the incapacity of a juror. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VIRASAWMI, 19 M. 375 = 2 Weir 680 = 6 M.L.J. 195 = 1 Weir 154 = 1 Weir 831. [F., 6 C.W.N. 717].

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1873 (Oaths)—concluded.

(44)—S. 14—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 282, 19 M. 375=2 Weir 680=6 M.L.J. 195.

(45)—S. 14—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 132, 12 B. 440=Rat. Un. Cr. C. 360= Cr. Rg. 2 of 1888.

(46)—S. 14—See Nos. 7 8 and 9, supra.

Act IV of 1874 (Foreign Recruiting).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1876.]

See BOM. ACT XI OF 1846, s. 3, 25 B. 637.

Act XI of 1874 (Criminal Procedure Amending Act X of 1872).

[REP., ACT X OF 1882.]

(1)—S. 6—Withdrawal of case by District Magistrate—Crim Pro. Code (Act X of 1872), ss. 47, 491 and Act XI of 1874, s. 6 —Under s.47 of the Crim. Pro.Code (1872) as amended by Act XI of 1874, a District Magistrate may withdraw a case falling under s. 491 of the same Code (= s. 107 of the Code of 1898). In the matter of DINENDRO NATH SHANIAL, 8 C. 851. [R., 31 C. 350.]

(2)—S. 23—See APPEAL—CASES WHERE APPEAL DOES NOT LIE, 11 B.H.C.A.C.J. 117.

(3)—S. 26—Power of appellate Court rejecting appeal to enhance sentence.—When the appellate Court rejects an appeal, under s. 278, Crim. Pro. Code, 1872, it has, by s. 26, Act XI of 1874, no power of enhancing the sentence. AKOOL SIRCAR v. PARTAMA, 24 W.R. Cr. 29. [R., 10 C.L.R. 57, 23 B. 221.]

(4)—S. 26—See APPEAL—GENERAL, 24 W. R. Cr. 29.

(5)—S. 28—Power of High Court to order retrial under Crim. Pro. Code (1872), s. 280.—The High Court has full power, as a Court of Revision, to order a re-trial when necessary; it can, as a Court of Appeal, also exercise the like power under Act XI of 1874, s. 28, in cases tried with assessors. In re LUCKHY NARAIN NAGORY, 24 W.R. Cr. 24. (5 W.R.F.B. 80, F.)

(6)—S. 28—Power of Sessions Judge.—An appellate Court has the power to order a case to be retried, if it thinks fit to do so. A Sessions Judge is competent to order the re-trial of a case, which is before him on appeal, In the matter of SHER MAHOMED, 2 C.L.R. 511.

Act XIV of 1874 (Scheduled Districts).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XIX OF 1879; ACT XIV OF 1881, S. 14; ACT XXV OF 1881; ACT VIII OF 1883; ACT VII OF 1885; ACT XX OF 1890, S. 8 (1); ACT VI OF 1902; REG. I OF 1900. REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT XII OF 1891. AMENDED, ACT II OF 1893].

(1)—Jurisdiction of High Court to transfer cases from Agent to Governor in Agency Tracts

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIV of 1874 (Schedules Districts)—contd.

of Ganjam and Vizagapatam—Scheduled Districts Act (XIV of 1874)—Crim.Pro. Code, 1882 —Letters Patent, s. 28—Madras Act XXIV of 1839, s. 3.—On the coming into force of Crim. Pro. Code of 1861, the state of affairs in the Agency Tracts of Ganjam and Vizagapatam, which are scheduled districts, was that a special jurisdiction and a special procedure were created by Madras Act XXIV of 1839. But after the passing of the Crim. Pro. Code, the Government of Madras, by notifications dated 29th January and 17th February, 1862, issued under s. 445, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, extended the Code to the Agency Tracts. By an order dated 6th January, 1863, the Government of Madras withdrew the rules,there to fore regulating the administration of criminal justice in the Agencies, constituted the Agent a Sessions Judge under the Code and substituted, for the rules then in force, all the rules and conditions under which Sessions Judges exercise the powers conferred on them by the Code. Where the High Court set aside the conviction of an accused person by the Agent to the Governor in Vizagapatam on the charge of culpable homicide not amounting to murder, and directed the re-trial of the accused before the Sessions Court of Vizagapatam, held, that the High Court had jurisidiction to make such an order both under the Crim. Pro. Code and the Letters Patent, s. 28. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BUDARI JANNI, 14 M. 21=2 Weir 7.

(2)—See BOM. ACT XI OF 1846, s. 3, 15 B. 505.

(3)—See APPEAL—ACTS, 15 B. 505.

(4)—Ss. 1 to 7 and 11—Laws Local Extent Act (XV of 1874), ss. 3 and 4—Applicability of Penal and Crim. Pro. Codes to the Laccadive Islands.—The Penal Code and the Crim. Pro. Code, not having been, by any notification under s. 3 of the Scheduled Districts Act, expressly declared to be inapplicable to the Laccadive Islands are in force in such Islands. Any act done in these Islands contrary to the provisions of the Penal Code can, therefore, under the provisions of s. 2 of that Code and of s. 5 of the Crim. Pro. Code, be inquired into and tried only in accordance with the provisions of the latter Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHERIA KOYA, 13 M. 353=2 Weir 1. [D., 14 M. 121=2 Weir 7.]

(5)—S. 2—See No. 4, supra.

(6)—S. 3—Act comes into force in Scheduled Districts only on notification by the Government.—The Scheduled Districts Act comes into force in each of the scheduled districts only on the issue of the notification under s. 3 of the Act; and under s. 4, it is only on the issue of such a notification that the enactments notified shall be deemed to be or not to be in force, and the notification thereof is binding on all Courts of law. The effect of the notification issued by the Madras Government under s. 3, dated 19th

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIV of 1874 (Scheduled Districts)—ctd.

February, 1889, is to place all the Madras scheduled districts in a position to be operated on by further notifications under s. 3 of the Act, declaring that such and such Acts are in force or are not in force in such districts. To those places regarding which no such further notification or notifications are issued, laws applicable to British India generally, and not specially excluded from operation by the mere fact of a district being a scheduled district, are applicable. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHERIA KOYA, 13 M. 353=2 Weir 1. [D., 14 M. 121=2 Weir 7.]

(6-a)—S. 3—See No. 4, supra.

(7)—Ss. 3, 5, 6—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 526—Power of High Court to transfer cases—Aden Act II of 1864.—Per Jardine, J.—After the High Court had annulled the proceedings in the Court of the Resident at Aden as being without jurisdiction, the case could not be treated as pending in his Court, as there was no Court of Session in existence to which the Magistrate could send the case, and the case remained in the Magistrate's Court. Whether the case be pending in the Court of the Resident or of a Sessions Judge or of a Magistrate, the High Court had the power to transfer the case, if the circumstances of the case would justify such transfer. Per Birdwood, J.—The Government of Bombay in exercise of the powers conferred by ss. 3 and 5 of Act XIV of 1884, and with the previous sanction of the Government of India, declared that Act to be in force in the island of Perim, and extended to the island the whole of Act II of 1864 with the exceptions of ss 2, 17 and 23 At the same time, the Resident at Aden should "exercise the same jurisdiction and powers in respect of the trial of persons by the Court of Sessions for the island of Perim as are vested in him at Aden by the said Act." Held that this extension of Act II of 1864 to Perim must be practically inoperative. The Act contains no provision for its extension and it makes only provision for litigation in certain Courts constituted for a certain local area. It follows that the Code of Criminal Procedure is still in force at Perim unaffected by Act II of 1864, just as it was before the notification. Held also that, by appointing the Resident at Aden to be "Sessions Judge for Perim, the Government made an appointment under clause (a) of s. 6 of Act XIV of 1874 (Scheduled Districts). That portion of the notification which regulates, presumably under clause (c) of the section, the exercise by the Resident of his power with reference to Act II of 1864, is ineffectual. The appointment made under clause (a) of the section must be held to be effectual with reference only to the provisions of the Code. So, after the annulling of the proceeding in the Court of the Resident (see previous case), and after the establishment of the Court of the Resident as the Court of Session for Perim by the Government Notification of 1885, the commitment to that Court originally made by the Magistrate of Perim may be held to have been accepted. The High Court may legally transfer the case as the case is now properly before a Criminal Court subordinate, under the Crim. Pro. Code, to the authority of the High Court, to any other Criminal Court of equal or superior jurisdiction, or to itself. [R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 825, 96 P.L.R. 1901.] The transfer of a case can only be directed from a Court having jurisdiction to receive and try it. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MANGAL TEKCHAND, 10 B. 274.

(8)—S. 4—See No. 4, supra.

(9)—S. 5—See Nos. 4, 7, supra.

(10)—S. 6—Assam Frontier Tracts Regulation, 1880, s. 2—Withdrawal of the operation of Crim. Pro. Code—Power of High Court.—The effect of the rules laid down under s. 6 of Act XIV of 1874, and under the notification of 6th May, 1884, issued by the Chief Commissioner of Assam under s. 2 of Assam Frontier Tracts Regulation directing that the Crim. Pro. Code should cease to be in force in the North Cachar Hills from the date of the notification, is to supersede in that place all previously existing criminal revisional authority by that of the Chief Commissioner. SOONDERJEE NANJEE v. MAYLON, 26 C. 874=3 C.W.N. 564.

(11)—S. 6—See Nos. 4, 7, supra.

(12)—S. 7—See No. 4, supra.

(13)—S. 11—See No. 4, supra.

Act XV of 1874 (Laws Local Extent).

[REP. IN PART, ACT VIII OF 1875; ACT XII OF 1876; ACT XVIII OF 1877; ACT VI OF 1878; ACT XI OF 1878; ACT XIX OF 1879; ACT XIV OF 1881, S. 14; ACT XXVI OF 1881; ACT X OF 1882; ACT VIII OF 1883; ACT VII OF 1885; ACT VIII OF 1887; ACT IX OF 1887; ACT VII OF 1889; ACT XIII OF 1889; ACT VIII OF 1890; ACT XX OF 1890; S. 8 (1); ACT IV OF 1891; ACT IX OF 1891; ACT XI OF 1901, S. 3; ACT I OF 1903; REP. IN PART AND AMENDED ACT XIV OF 1881, S. 15; ACT XII OF 1891; DECLARED (EXCEPT SS. 4 TO 7) TO BE IN FORCE IN THE ARAKHAN HILL DISTRICT, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 16.]

(1)—Ss. 3 and 4—Applicability of Penal and Crim. Pro. Codes to the Laccadive Islands—See ACT XIV OF 1874, ss. 1 to 7 and 11, 13 M. 353=2 Weir 1.

(2)—S. 4—See No. 1, supra,

Act XVI of 1874 (Repealing Act).

[REP., ACT XII OF 1876; REPEALED AS TO ACT XXIII OF 1867 (IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN), REG. IV OF 1901, 16].

(1)—Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Effect of the repeal of Madras Act III of 1865 (Offences against special and local laws) by Act XVI of 1874.—Although Act III of 1865 is repealed by

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVI of 1874 (Repealing Act)—concluded.

Act XVI of 1874, a Magistrate has jurisdiction over offences created by special and local laws given to him by Madras Act III of 1865. REG. v. KANDAKORA, 1 M. 223.

(2)—Jurisdiction of Magistrates—Madras Act, III of 1865—Act XVI of 1874—Crim. Pro. Code (1872), s. 8.—The jurisdiction conferred on Magistrates by the Madras Act III of 1865 is controlled by the provisions of s. 8 of the General Act of the Government of India, viz., the Crim. Pro. Code of 1882. That Act while it declared that offences punishable under any law other than the Penal Code containing no distinct provision as to the Court or officer before which or before whom they are to be tried may be inquired into and tried by the Criminal Court appointed by such Act, also provided that Magistrate of third class should be incompetent to try offences punishable with imprisonment extending to one year, and a second-class Magistrate incompetent to try offences punishable with imprisonment extending to three years. Act XVI of 1874 repealing Act III of 1865 has left unaffected the jurisdiction of Magistrates under that Act so far as it remained in existence at the time of the passing of the Act, second and third class Magistrates whose jurisdiction was already restricted by Act X of 1872 cannot have their jurisdiction extended by reason of Act XVI of 1874 as it was before the passing of Act X of 1872. EMPRESS v. ACHI, 2 M. 161 = 1 Weir 887.

(3)—S. 1—See MAD. ACT III OF 1865, 1 Weir 886, F B.

Act IX of 1875 (Indian Majority).

[AMENDED ACT VIII OF 1890, S. 52, DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE ARAKHAN HILL DISTRICT, REG. IX OF 1874, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 16, IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES) ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—Ss. 2 and 3 — See COMPOUNDING OFFENCE, 17 P.R. 1891, Cr.

(2)—S. 3 — Minority when ceases — See PENAL CODE, s. 363, 37 M. 567.

(3)—S. 3—See No. 1, supra.

(4)—Ss. 3 and 4—See ACT VI OF 1864, s. 5, L B R. 1872—1892, 355.

(5)—S. 4—See No. 4, supra.

Act X of 1875 (Advocate General's Powers).

[REP. ACT V OF 1898. SHORT TITLE GIVEN ACT XIV OF 1897.]

See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), Ch. XXIII, ss. 266—336.

(1)—S. 14—High Court, Jurisdiction of.—Applications under s. 14 of the Act should be disposed of by the High Court in its ordinary original criminal jurisdiction. CHAROO CHUNDER MULLICK v. EMPRESS, 9 C. 397.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1875 (Advocate General's Powers)—continued.

(2)—Ss. 32 to 37—See JURY, 1 B. 232.

(3)—S. 33—Selection of jury.—The nine persons, who are to be chosen by lot to form the jury, ought to be selected from the entire number of persons summoned to act as jurors, and the selection, which is to be by lot, ought to be made from one box. REG. v. VITHALDAS PRANJIVAN DAS, 1 B. 462.

(4)—Ss. 33 to 37—See No. 2, supra.

(5)—S. 76—See COMMISSION, 6 B. 285.

(6) — S. 101 —See LETTERS PATENT—LETTERS PATENT, 1865—BOMBAY, cl. 25, 2 B. 61.

(7)—Ss. 115, 147—Power of High Court to issue certiorari.—Order for delivery of property.—The term "case" mentioned in s. 147 of Act X of 1875 refers to some question in the nature of a criminal proceeding, and could not refer to a matter of quasi-civil character, of which a reference under s. 115 to the Police Magistrate partakes. But the jurisdiction of the High Court to issue writs of certiorari can only be taken away by express enactment, and the High Court has still jurisdiction to issue the writ in cases to which s. 147 does not apply. [R., 19 C. 52.] The word "property" in s. 115 of Act X of 1875 includes not only property that has been seized by the police or has been found on the person of the prisoner, but also property produced before the Police Magistrate by a witness. Proceedings before a Magistrate under s. 115 of Act X of 1875 were not intended to take the form of a regular trial, wherein the rights of the parties were to be finally determined, but rather of a preliminary proceeding wherein the Magistrate, upon the statements of the respective cases of the rival claimants, should make an order for delivery of property to the one, who he considered had made out a prima facie case. If the correctness of the Magistrate's decision be impugned, that may be done in a civil suit. It was not, therefore, incumbent upon the Magistrate to hear the applicant's witnesses, nor was it competent to the High Court, to review the decision of the Magistrate, even when the Court was of opinion that the Magistrate had come to a wrong conclusion as to the disposal of the property upon the statements before him of the cases of the respective claimants. REG. v. RAMDAS SAMALDAS, 12 B H.C. 217.

(8)—S. 147—High Court's power to order refund of fine on quashing a conviction.—Held that the Court had no power, under s. 147 of the Act, to order the repayment of a fine on quashing a conviction. QUEEN v. HADJEE JEEBUN BUX, 1 C. 354. (15 B.L.R. Ap. 14, R.)

(9)—S. 147—Transfer of case without notice to Crown—Practice—Penal Code, ss 292 and 294.—Where an application is made for the transfer of a case under s. 147, Act X of 1875, in which the prisoner has been convicted and is undergoing imprisonment, the Court has the discretion to order, if a sufficient prima facie cause be shown, that the case be removed, without notice to the Crown. Semble:—A charge in respect of offences under ss. 292 and 294, Penal Code, must be specific in regard to the representations and words alleged to have been exhibited and uttered and to have been obscene. It is desirable, also, that the Magistrate should state, in his judgment, the representations and words he adjudges to be obscene. In the absence of any such specific decision, the High Court, when the case has been transferred under s. 147, Act X of 1875, may either try the case de novo, or dismiss it on the ground that the Magistrate has come to no finding on which the conviction can be sustained. QUEEN v. UPENDRONATH DOSS, 1 C. 356.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1875 (Advocate General's Powers) —continued.

(10)—S. 147—High Court—Power to issue mandamus—To transfer case.—The High Court had no power, under Act X of 1875, to issue a mandamus to a Presidency Magistrate to commit to the High Court for trial, an accused person acquitted by such Magistrate, when the Magistrate did not decline jurisdiction but, having exercised jurisdiction, committed an error of law: nor could the High Court, under s. 147 of the above Act, order a transfer of a case of the above description to itself. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. GASPER, 2 C. 278. [R., 9 C. 317.]

(11)—S. 147—Commitment, application to quash.—The words "or other proceeding," in s. 147 of Act X of 1875, do not include a commitment; and no application to have a commitment quashed can be entertained under the section. CHAROO CHUNDER MULLICK v. EMPRESS, 9 C. 397. (2 C. 278, R.)

(12)—S. 147—Transfer of case to High Court —Costs.—In a case transferred to the High Court under s. 147, the Court has no power to give costs. The case may be transferred after final determination by the Magistrate. Notes of the proceedings before them should be taken in all cases by the Judicial Officers of all Criminal Courts subject to the Act. In the matter of J. LOUIS, 15 B.L.R. Ap. 14.

(13)—S. 147—High Court's Criminal Procedure Act (X of 1875), s. 147—Powers of a Division Bench of the High Court over matters arising within its original territorial jurisdiction. —A Division Bench of the High Court, engaged for the time being upon appellate work, is not disqualified from exercising jurisdiction in matters within the cognisance of the High Court arising within its original territorial jurisdiction, whether they be of civil or criminal nature. The powers to be exercised under s. 147 which replaces the old writ of certiorari, are very similar, if not identical, with the revisional power conferred by the Code of Criminal Procedure; and the exercise of them is not confined to any particular branch of the High Court. In the matter of JOTHARAM DAVAY, 2 M. 30 = 1 Weir 525.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1873 (Advocate General's Powers) —concluded.

(14)—S. 147—See TRANSFER OF CRIMINAL CASES—MISCELLANEOUS CASES, 2 C. 290.

(15)—S. 147—See NO. 7, supra.

Act XII of 1875 (Indian Ports).

[REP., ACT X OF 1889.]

(1)—S. 22—Master, non-liability of, for servant's criminal acts.—Where the servants of a contractor committed an offence under s. 22 of the Indian Ports Act, by throwing ballast from a ship into a river within the limits of the port, held that the contractor was not liable, in the absence of proof of abetment, for his servants' acts. CHUNDI CHURN MOOKERJEE v. EMPRESS, 9 C. 849 = 12 C.L.R. 508.

Act V of 1876 (Reformatory Schools).

[REP., ACT VIII OF 1897.]

See ACT VIII OF 1897.

See JUVENILE OFFENDER.

(1)—Accused directed to be placed in Reformatory Schools—Validity of order—Penal Code, s. 379.—After convicting the accused of theft under s. 379, Penal Code, a Magistrate ordered him to be placed in a Reformatory School for five years, but the Chief Court, in revision, set aside the order as not authorised by law, for Act V of 1876 was not in force in the Punjab, under s. 1 of the Act. EMPRESS v. MUHAMDU, 6 P.R. 1882, Cr.

(2)—Crim. Pro. Code, Act X of 1882, s. 399—Repeal by Reformatory Schools Act V of 1876.—S. 399 of the Crim. Pro. Code was repealed in Bombay in 1889 by the introduction of Act X of 1876 into that Presidency. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. TUKARAM KESHAV SONAR, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 864 = Cr. Rg. 28 of 1896.

(3)—See ACT VIII OF 1897, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 936 = Cr. Rg. 45 of 1897.

(4)—See CRIM. PRO CODE, 1898, s. 399 (1, 2) Rat. Un. Cr. C. 929 = Cr. Rg. 38 of 1897.

(5)—S. 1—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 399 (1, 2), Rat. Un. Cr. C. 180.

(6)—Ss. 2 and 7—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 399—Power of Second Class Magistrate to send a youthful offender to reformatory.—The introduction of the Reformatory Schools Act, 1876, repeals the operation of s. 399, Crim. Pro. Code, "so far as may be practicable." Under ss. 7 and 8 of the former Act, only a first-class Magistrate can send a male youthful offender to a reformatory school. Therefore, an order by a second-class Magistrate sentencing a male juvenile offender to rigorous imprisonment to be sent to reformatory instead of being imprisoned in the criminal jail was held to be not valid inasmuch as only the first-class Magistrate should pass an order for sending such person to the reformatory schools and as only reformatory schools have been established and not reformatories. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MADASAMI, 12 M. 94 = 1 Weir 875 = 2 Weir 11 = 2 Weir 454. [R., 25 C. 333.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act V of 1876 (Reformatory Schools)—contd.

(7)—Ss. 2 and 7—Order of detention in Reformatory Schools—See ACT VIII OF 1897, ss. 1, 2, 3 and 8, 25 C. 333 = 2 C.W.N. 11.

(8)—Ss. 2 and 7—Repeal by Act V of 1876 of s. 318, Crim. Pro. Code, 1872—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 399, 25 C. 333 = 2 C.W.N. 11.

(9)—Ss. 3 and 7—Minor—Furnishing security—Youthful offender.—A minor called upon to furnish security is not a youthful offender within the meaning of ss. 3 and 7, because failure to furnish the security ordered is not an offence under Chapter VIII of the Crim. Pro. Code. QUEEN EMPRESS v. NGA SHAN, L.B. R. 1893-1900, 129. (4 M H.C. Ap. 46, 2 C. 384, L.B.R. 1872-1892, 364, F.)

(10)—S. 7—Procedure as to order.—In the case of a juvenile offender whom it is desirable to confine in a Reformatory, a Magistrate must first sentence him according to law and on sentencing him to imprisonment whether rigorous or simple, he may then make a further order such as is contemplated in s. 7 of the Reformatory Schools Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PURSHOTAM, QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LALL, Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 518 = Cr., Rg. 41 of 1890.

(11)—S. 7—Sentence—Procedure.—Where it is deemed necessary to have a convicted person sent to the Reformatory, the proper procedure is, not to order him, on conviction, to be detained there for some period, but to impose a substantive sentence and order that, in lieu thereof, he be detained in a Reformatory. QUEEN EMPRESS v. BABU RAM, A.W N. 1896, 27.

(12)—S. 7—Power of High Court to interfere—Boy—Murder—Sentence.—The High Court has no power to interfere with an order under s. 7 of Act V of 1876, directing detention in a Reformatory in lieu of some substantive sentence. The proper punishment to be imposed on a boy convicted of having murdered another boy for the purpose of taking his jewels, is transportation for life and not detention in a Reformatory. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ANRUDH SINGH, A.W.N. 1896, 43.

(12-a)—S. 7—See Nos. 6, 7, 8, 9, supra.

(13)—Ss. 7, 8—Jurisdiction.—Where a youthful offender was sentenced to two years' rigorous imprisonment and in appeal the Sessions Judge, acting under s. 7 of the Reformatory Schools Act, ordered the offender's detention in a Reformatory School for two years and 8 months, held that s. 7 applies only to the Court by which the offender is sentenced and that the procedure which should have been adopted was that laid down in s. 8. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LALLUBHAI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 536 = Cr. Rg. 6 of 1891.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act V of 1876 (Reformatory Schools)—contd.

(14)—Ss. 7, 8 and 10—Confinement in Reformatory School.—A direction to confine a prisoner in a Reformatory School could only be made under s. 7 of Act V of 1876, and that only after a sentence of transportation or imprisonment. In cases under ss. 7 and 8, the age of the prisoner should be ascertained in order that the limit of age provided by s. 10 be not exceeded. It is not every juvenile offender in respect of whom the order under ss. 7 and 8 should be made, and the inmates of the Reformatory ought not to be obliged to associate with a person convicted of a serious offence under the Penal Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOPALA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 726 = Cr. Rg. 54 of 1894.

(15)—S. 8—Determination of age.—It is necessary that a Magistrate passing an order under s. 8 of the Reformatory Schools Act should determine the age of the convict, and it is not enough to state that he is under 16 years of age. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MANAJI, QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 494.

(16)—S. 8—Changing sentence passed on juvenile offender—Procedure.—If a District Magistrate is of opinion that the sentence upon any juvenile offender should be changed into one of detention in a Reformatory, he should communicate with the officer in charge of the jail and request him to send the juvenile offender to be dealt with under s. 8. If he refuses to comply with such request, the District Magistrate should bring the matter to the notice of the Inspector-General of Prisons or before Government. NARYA valad KHANDU, Cr. Rg. 55 of 1889.

(17)—S. 8—Proceedings under the section—Judicial proceedings—Crim. Pro Code. ss. 4, 435.—Under s. 8 of the Reformatory Schools Act, evidence should be taken by the Magistrate as to the age of the offender. This would seem therefore a judicial proceeding. The proceeding, moreover, involves the alteration of the sentence of a competent Court. The alteration can only be made after he is satisfied on two points which are submitted for his decision, and in arriving at a decision, he must exercise a judicial discretion. Therefore, such proceeding is a judicial proceeding within the meaning of ss. 4, 435, Crim. Pro. Code. The High Court is, therefore, competent to revise the proceedings. QUEEN EMPRESS v. MANAJI, 14 B. 381. [F., 25 C. 333; Rat. Un. Cr., 726, 13 P.R. 1891, Cr.]

(18)—S. 8—Judicial proceeding—Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 4, 435—High Court—Revision—Letters Patent, s. 28 "Case."—Though it is doubtful whether the order of a Magistrate under s. 8 of the Reformatory Schools Act is a "case" within the meaning of s. 28 of the Amended Letters Patent, it is clear that it is a "judicial proceeding" within the meaning of s. 435 of the Crim. Pro. Code and the High Court has jurisdiction to revise such an order. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MANAJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 494.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act V of 1876 (Reformatory Schools)—concld.

(19)—S. 8—See SENTENCE — JUVENILE OFFENDERS, SENTENCES ON, A.W.N. 1889, 131.

(20)—S. 8—See Nos. 13 and 14, supra.

(21)—S. 10—See No. 14, supra.

(22)—S. 22—Act VIII of 1897, s. 8—Rules framed under the old Act, whether in force, after the passing of the new Act.—Rules framed by the Governor-General in Council under s. 22 of Act V of 1876 must be deemed to have been passed under the existing Act (Act VIII of 1897). A Magistrate acting under the new Act must order the detention of a juvenile offender in a Reformatory School until he attains the age of 18. QUEEN EMPRESS v. RAMALINGAM, 21 M. 430=1 Weir 880. [R., 21 A. 391=A.W.N. 1899, 138.]

(23)—S. 22—Rule by Government as to sending youthful offenders to Reformatory Schools.—Under a Rule published under s. 22 of the Act by the Governor-General in Council "no boy shall be sent to a Reformatory School, if under 10 years of age, for a less period than 7 years, if over 10 years of age, for a less period than 5 years, unless he shall sooner attain the age of 18 years." Where a boy over 14, but whose exact age was not ascertained, was sent to the Reformatory School to be detained therein for a period of two years, held, that such an order was illegal, and that the proper procedure would be for the Magistrate to ascertain the precise age of the boy at the date of his order, and to make an order that he be detained for such period as would be equivalent to the period intervening between his then age and eighteen. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NARAIN, 15 A. 208=A. W.N. 1893, 107. [R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 708).]

(24)—Ss. 22 and 78—Rule made by Governor-General in Council under the Act—Minium period of detention in a Reformatory School—Youthful offender.—A rule made by the Governor-General in Council on the 14th March, 1889, directs that the minimum period for which boys shall be sent to a Reformatory School shall be, in the case of boys under 10 years of age, 7 years and in the case of boys over 10 years of age, 5 years, unless the boys shall sooner attain the age of 18 years. It is not every boy that is convicted of an offence that can be sent to the Reformatory Schools, but only such boys as are found to be proper persons to be inmates of such a school. As a rule, no boy should be sent to a Reformatory on a first conviction, unless there is reasonable cause for supposing that he is likely again to lapse into crime. In re ABDUL GAFFAR, 1 Weir 878.

(25)—S. 78—See No. 24, supra.

Act XVI of 1876 (Stage Carriages Act, 1861, Amendment).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897, S. 2, REP. ACT I OF 1891.]

See ACT XVI OF 1861, ss. 9, 10, A.W.N. 1897, 27.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIX of 1876 (Dramatic Performances).

[DECLARED IN FORCE IN UPPER BURMA, EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES (WITH THE EXCEPTION OF S. 12), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

S. 10—See PWES, U. B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 368.

Act I of 1877 (Specific Relief).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1891, REP. IN PART (LOCALLY)—ACT II OF 1882; ACT IV OF 1882, S. 21: APPLICATION RESTRICTED AND DECLARED IN FORCE IN UPPER BURMA EXCEPT THE (SHAN STATES) ACT XIII OF 1898; S. 4, S. 9 DECLARED IN FORCE IN BRITISH BALOOCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890 S. 3; REPEALED IN IT (LOCALLY), ACT IX OF 1899, SS. 3, 21,]

(1)—Ss. 7 and 45—See ACT IV OF 1877, s. 170, 8 C. 166=10 C.L.R. 190.

(2)—S. 9—"Dispossessed otherwise than in due course of law," meaning of—Crim. Pro. Code (Act V of 1898), s. 145, effect of an order under—If dispossession within the meaning of s. 9, Act I of 1877.—The plaintiff sued for recovery of possession of a mica mine under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act, on the allegation that he was dispossessed by the defendant therefrom on the 13th February, 1907, in consequence of the final order of the Magistrate of Giridih, passed under s. 145 of the Crim. Pro. Code, on the 11th February, 1907, after the property had been in attachment under the proviso to cl. (4) of the section. Held, that, under these circumstances, the plaintiff could not be said to have been dispossessed otherwise than in due course of law and the plaintiff is, therefore, not entitled to maintain an action under s. 9 of the Specific Relief Act. Although s. 145 of the Crim. Pro. Code does not expressly authorize the Court to put the successful party into possession, the effect of which is to entitle him to take it. Per Mookerjee:—A matter may be considered to have happened in due course of law, if it is the result of operation of the law, invoked by the ordinary method of any judicial proceeding. The view that the effect of an order under s. 145 of the Crim. Pro. Code. is to entitle the successful party to take possession is consistent with the observations of the Judicial Committee. LEO MOORE v. MANORANJAN GUHA, 7 C.L.J. 547. (26 B. 353, 20 W.R. 12, D.; 29 B. 213, Cons. & Rel.; 29 C. 187, 9 W.R. 602, R.)

(3)—S. 9—Suit for possession under s. 15, Act XIV of 1859 (Limitation)—S. 318, Crim. Pro. Code (1862).—The object of s. 15, Act XIV of 1859, is not to maintain, but to restore a party to possession; the object of s. 318, Crim. Pro. Code (1861) being to maintain a party in possession temporarily at least, whether that possession is a wrongful one or not, while s. 15, Act XIV of 1859, is to restore to possession parties dispossessed otherwise than by due course of law ; and an award under s. 318, Crim. Pro. Code, is, therefore, no bar to a possessory action under s. 15, Act XIV of 1859. CHYTUN CHUNDER ROY v. BROJO KANT ROY, 20 W.R. 12. [R., 26 B. 353=3 Bom. L.R. 919.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1877 (Specific Relief)—continued.

(4)—S. 9—See DISPUTE AS TO POSSESSION OF IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY, 5 A.L.J. 297=A.W.N. (1908) 142=30 A. 331 ; 13 C. W. N. 530=36 C. 370=9 Cr. L. J. 399=1 Ind. Cas. 817.

(5)—S. 9—See PENAL CODE, ss. 441, 447, 3 L.B.R. 278=5 Cr.L.J. 415.

(6)—S. 9—See PENAL CODE, s. 488, 138 P.L.R. 1904.

(7)—S. 42—Suit by the plaintiff for a declaration that the defendant is not his lawful wife—Crim. Pro. Code (Act V of 1898), s. 488.—A suit by a person against whom an order for maintenance in favour of defendant has been made by a Magistrate under s. 488 of the Crim. Pro. Code, is maintainable in a Civil Court for a declaration that the defendant is not his wife. MUSSAMMAT BAKHAN v. ALA BAKSH, 100 P.L.R. 1903. (21 P.R. 1894, Cr., 18 A. 29, 20 W.R. 58, Cr., 6 B.L.R 243, 41 P.R. 1876, R.)

(8)—S. 42—Suit to declare property found by Criminal Court to be plaintiff's to belong to plaintiff exclusively.—After criminal proceedings had been successfully taken against plaintiff's tenants for mischief done in respect to a nullah, coming under either s. 430, or 432, Crim. Pro. Code, 1872, plaintiff sued for a declaration that the nullah was his own exclusive property, and therefore not such a stream as could come under either of those sections. Held that the Court had discretion under s. 15, Civ. Pro. Code, 1859, to allow such a suit to be brought. KARTICK PARAMANICK v. KISHEN MOHUN MITTER, 22 W.R. 329.

(9)—S. 42—Dispute among rival haut-holders—Right of party aggrieved by order of Magistrate to declaratory decree on certain allegations.—Where a plaintiff alleges that he had been holding a haut on his own land for many years, that the defendant's setting up a rival haut on the same days led to disturbances, which ended in an order by the Magistrate, prohibiting him from holding the haut on those days, and that he has suffered loss in consequence, he would, if the facts are true, be entitled to a decree declaring his right, as against the defendant, to hold the haut on the days. GOPI MOHUN MULLICK v. TARAMONI CHOWDHRANI, 5 C. 7=4 C.L.R. 309 F.B.=2 Shome L.R. 217. F.B. (6 B.L.R. 74, 10 B.L.R. 434=18 W.R. Cr. 47, 2 C. 293, 6 N.W.P. 104, Referred to.)

(10)—S. 42—Suit for declaratory decree against order removing alleged obstruction—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 133—Effect of order under section.—In a suit for a declaration that certain land on which the plaintiff had erected an otta was his property and not that of the Government, where it appeared that the Magistrate had made an order, under s. 133, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), for the removal of the otta as an obstruction to the public way, held that the plaintiff (subject to the discretion of the Court) was entitled to a declaration as against the Government of his right to the land, without having to wait until the Government had taken possession of the land. Held, further, with regard to the contention that the jurisdiction of the Court was taken away by s. 133, Crim. Pro. Code, which provides that "no order duly made by a Magistrate under this section shall be called in question in any civil Court," that the Magistrate's order under this section was not a conclusive determination of the question of title. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL v. JETHABHAI KALIDAS, 17 B. 293. (15 C. 460, R.) [R., 22 B. 230.]

(11)—S. 42—Magistrate removing bridge in proceedings under Ch. XX, Crim Pro. Code (1861)—Declaratory suit to set aside the order of removal.—Where a Magistrate in proceedings under Ch. XX. Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, removed a bridge, held that no suit would lie for a bare declaration of right without any consequential relief against persons no further interested in the matter than that they had put the Magistrate in motion. MADHUB CHUNDER GOOHO v. KUMLA KANT CHUCKERBUTTY, 15 W.R. 293=6 B.L R. 643, (13 W. R. 13, R.)

(12)—S. 42—Whether order under s. 137, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), a bar to suit under s. 42, Specific Relief.—A suit by an owner under s. 42, Specific Relief Act, is not barred by an order of a Criminal Court under s. 137, Crim. Pro. Code (1882). CHUNILAL v. RAM KISHEN SAHU, 15 C. 460. (14 C. 60, Overruled.) [F., 17 B 293, R., 15 C. 564.]

(13)—S. 42—Right to declaratory decree if affected by order under s. 321, Crim. Pro. Code (1861), not being carried out.—A plaintiff is entitled to a declaratory decree as to the erroneousness of a Magistrate's order under s. 321, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, though the order has not been put into force. MEGHRAJ SINGH v. RASHDHAREE SINGH, 17 W.R. 281.

(14)—S. 42—Right to declaratory decree—Crim. Pro. Code (1872), Ch. 40.—Where a person, whose right to land is contested, obtained an order under Ch. 40, Crim. Pro. Code, 1872, from a Magistrate, declaring him entitled to retain possession, held he could sue for a declaration of his right to the land. NARASIMMACHARYA v. RAGHUPATHYACHARYA, 6 M. 176.

(14-a)—Claim of private right by plaintiff over land—Claim of public right by defendants—Cause of action—Parties—Persons claiming public right are alone necessary parties—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 30—Irregularity in not recording formal order—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 133, 6 Ind. Cas. 46.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1877 (Specific Relief)—concluded.

(14-b)—S. 45—See BEN. ACT II OF 1888, s. 31, 22 C. 717.

(15)—S. 45—See BOM. ACT XLVIII OF 1860, ss. 11, 12, 3 Bom. L.R. 653, 4 Bom. L.R. 1=26 B. 396.

(16)—S. 45—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1863, s. 6, 4 Bom. L.R. 768.

(17)—S. 45—See BOM. ACT IV OF 1902, ss. 28, 129, 7 Bom. L.R. 161.

(18)—S. 45—See No. 1, supra.

Act III of 1877 (Registration).

[REP. BY ACT XVI OF 1908.]

See ACT XX OF 1866.

See ACT VIII OF 1871.

(1)—False statement made to a Sub-Registrar in identifying a person.—Where a person was charged with having made a false statement before a Sub-Registrar, in having identified an unknown person who had borrowed money and executed a mortgage bond, as his neighbour to whom the mortgagee had agreed to advance the money on the mortgage, it was sought to prove a statement made by the mortgagee, who was not alive, at the time of the institution of proceedings, to a third person about a conversation which the mortgagee had with the accused. This was admitted in evidence, although objected to by the pleader for the accused. Further a memorandum of an alleged approval of the mortgage bond by the accused, a pleader, was tendered and received in evidence, without proof of its being in the hand-writing of the accused, but upon a mere comparison of the handwriting. Held, that both the statements and the memorandum were inadmissible and irrelevant. Held also, upon the oral evidence in the case, that the accused was guilty of an offence of having made the false statement alleged against him. NOBIN KRISHNA MOOKERJEE v. RASSICK LALL LAHA, 10 C. 1047. [R., 38 C. 309=12 C. L.J. 625=12 Cr.L.J. 22=8 Ind. Cas. 1103=15 C.W.N. 357; 11 M L.T. 424=14 Ind. Cas. 741.]

(2)—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 29, 2 Weir 25.

(3)—Ss. 6 to 14, 69 and 84—See PENAL CODE, ss. 21 and 161, 32 C. 664=2 Cr. L.J. 512.

(4)—Ss. 7 to 14—See No. 3, supra.

(5)—S. 34—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 195—Sanction to prosecute—Registration Act (III of 1877), s. 34—Sub-Registrar, whether a "Court".—A Sub-Registrar, acting under s. 34 of Act III of 1877, is not a "Court" within the meaning of s. 195, Crim. Pro. Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SUBBA, 11 M. 3. [F., 4 M.L.J. 189, R., 12 M. 201.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1877 (Registration)—continued.

(6)—Ss. 34, 35, 41—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 195—Sanction to prosecute—Presentation of forged document for registration — Sanction of Sub-Registrar whether necessary —A Sub-Registrar acting under ss. 34 and 35 of the Registration Act cannot determine whether a document was executed or not, and if execution is denied, he is obliged to refuse registration. The document cannot be said to be given in evidence before him by a party to the proceeding; whereas in the case of a will, s. 41 makes it incumbent upon the Sub-Registrar to satisfy himself that the document has been really executed by the testator, and the document has to be given in evidence before him in a proceeding in which the Sub-Registrar has to determine whether it shall or shall not be registered. In the former case the sanction of the Sub-Registrar is not necessary for a prosecution of a party to the transaction on a charge of forgery. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SOBHANDRI, 12 M. 201. (10 M. 154, 11 M. 3, Expl.) [F., 4 M.L.J. 189.]

(7)—Ss. 34 (b) and 82 (a)—Inquiry as to the identity of the executant of a document—Power of Sub-Registrar to take deposition on affirmation—False statement.—A Sub-Registrar, after commencing the proceeding of registration, should enter into evidence as to the identity of the persons appearing before him and alleging that they have executed the document. He is authorised, in such proceedings, to take depositions on affirmation or otherwise from the witnesses, and if any of the statements made therein is false, the deponents are guilty of an offence under s. 82 of the Act. In re POLURI BASAVARAZU, 1 Weir 884.

(7-a)—S. 35—See No. 6, supra.

(8)—S. 41—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 195—Sanction to prosecute—Sub-Registrar acting under s. 41 of the Registration Act, whether a "Court" —The term "Court" in s. 195, Crim. Pro. Code, is not restricted to a "Court of Justice," as defined in the Indian Penal Code, s. 6 of the Code of Criminal Procedure clearly contemplates the existence of Courts under other laws, and the Legislature has seen fit to use the general expression "Court" to the more restricted description "Court of Justice." A Sub-Registrar is, therefore, when acting under s. 41 of Act III of 1877, a "Court" within the meaning of s. 195, Crim. Pro. Code. In re, VENKATACHELA PILLAI, 10 M. 154=2 Weir 120=11 Ind. Jur. 140. [Appl., 15 M. 138, F.B.; D., 12 M. 201, 4 M.L.J. 189.]

(9)—S. 41—See No. 6, supra.

(10)—S. 69—See No. 3, supra.

(11)—Ss. 72 and 73—False statement before Registrar—Irregularities in proceedings—Effect with respect to jurisdiction of Criminal Courts. —In a criminal trial for making a false statement before a Registrar, the fact that the proceedings before the Registrar were under

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1877 (Registration)—continued.

s. 72 instead of under s. 73, of the Registration Act, would not matter, where no objection had been taken by the accused to the form of the proceedings before the Registrar. Nor would the want of verification of a petition of appeal, as provided in s. 73 of the Registration Act, interfere with the jurisdiction of the Criminal Court. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BATESAR MANDAL, 10 C. 604. (15 B.L.R. 157, 28 L.J.M.C. 86=8 Cox. C.C. 121, L.R 1 C.C.R. 320, 5 B. and S. 756; 4 Q.B.D. 614=1 14 Cox. C.C. 285, 1 C.C.R. 110=11 Cox. Cc. 10, F.)

(12)—Ss. 72, 73, 74 and 75—Registrar whether a "Court" within the meaning of s. 195, Crim. Pro. Code (1882).—A Registrar acting under ss. 72 to 75 is a Court for the purposes of s. 195, Crim. Pro. Code. ATCHAYYA v. GANGAYYA, 15 M. 138=2 M.L.J. 64, F.B. [Diss, 15 A. 141 =13 A.W.N. 59; R., 13 Cr. L.J. 508=15 Ind. Cas. 652=23 M.L.J. 50=(1912) M.W.N. 473, 10 Cr. L.J. 395=3 Ind. Cas. 886=3 S.L.R. 66; D., 2 M.L.J. 286, 4 M.L.J. 189.]

(13)—Ss. 72 to 75—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 195, 15 A. 141=A.W N. 1883, 59.

(14)—S. 73—See Nos. 11, 12, 13, supra.

(15)—S. 74—See Nos. 12, 13, supra.

(16)—Ss. 74 and 82—District Registrar's power to delegate to Sub-Registrar, functions prescribed by s. 74.—The functions prescribed by s. 74 are entirely in the Registrar himself. He cannot delegate them to the Sub-Registrar. Therefore, a Sub-Registrar, holding an enquiry under s. 74, acting under the orders of the Registrar cannot be said to be acting within the meaning of s. 82 of the Act. Where a witness makes a false statement before the Sub-Registrar in such a case, he cannot be prosecuted under s. 82 of the Act. MATA DAYAL v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 24 C. 755.

(17)—S. 75—See Nos. 12, 13, supra.

(18)—Ss. 80 and 82—Enquiry by a clerk of Registry office.—Where the clerk of a Registrar's office made inquiry, with a view to ascertain whether the person who brought a receipt to take back a document, which could not be returned in the first instance, and for which a receipt was accordingly given, was the person in whose possession the receipt ought to be, such enquiry is an enquiry within the meaning of Registration Act of 1871, s. 80. In re BUNWARY PODDAR, 23 W.R. Cr. 55.

(19)—S. 81—Previous acquittal, plea of, in a criminal trial upon the same facts—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 403—False certificate by Registrar—False declaration—Indian Penal Code, s. 197—General Clauses Act, s. 26—Criminal Revision —Crim. Pro Code, s. 439.—The accused was a Sub-Registrar. He registered a document on the back of which he certified that it was presented for registration by the executant who was personally known to him and who admitted its execution. This was a false certificate, as the accused admittedly had not actually seen and had no conversation with him. He was tried and convicted on a charge under s. 81, Act III of 1877, which alleged that he registered and endorsed the document in a manner which he knew to be incorrect, knowing at the time that he would thereby be likely to cause injury to certain persons. He was acquitted on this charge on the ground that it was not proved that he knew that it was likely that he would cause injury to any one by his act. He was subsequently tried and convicted on a charge under s. 197, I.P.C. He pleaded his previous acquittal as a bar to his conviction under s. 197, I.P.C., but his plea was disallowed. Held, that the accused's plea of previous acquittal was a valid plea and that effect should have been given to it. S. 26 of the General Clauses Act was only intended to enact that, provided that he is not twice punished for the act or omission, the offender may be prosecuted and punished at one and the same trial under either or any of the enactments and the accused's case was not taken out of sub-s. (1) of s. 403, Crim. Pro. Code, by that section. It was failure to prove that the accused endorsed a false certificate with the knowledge that he was likely to cause injury to certain persons which brought about his acquittal, and not doubt as to whether the facts alleged against him constituted an offence under s. 81, Act III of 1877. Held, therefore, that the last part of sub-s. (1) of s. 403 of Crim. Pro. Code, was not applicable. RAGHUBAR DAYAL v. KING-EMPEROR, 6 O.C. 153.

(20)—S. 82—Sanction to prosecute.—No sanction is necessary before instituting a charge under s. 82 of the Act. GOPINATH v. KULDIP SINGH, 11 C. 586, F.B. [R., 11 M. 500.]

(21)—S. 82—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 195—Sanction to prosecute for forgery under s. 82, Registration Act, whether necessary.—The sanction of a Sub-Registrar is not necessary for instituting a charge of forgery against a person presenting a forged document for registration, inasmuch as the forged document is not given in evidence in any proceeding before a Court. The provisions of s. 195, Crim. Pro. Code, do not apply to such a case. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VYTHILINGA, 11 M. 500.

(22)—S. 82—Prosecution under the Registration Act—Frame of charge by Magistrate on his own motion.—Except as directed by s. 82 of the Registration Act, a Magistrate cannot, on his own motion, frame a charge against the accused from the evidence of the registering officer before him, in respect of statements made to such officer in the course of the registration proceedings. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BATESAR MANDAL, 10 C. 604.

(23)—S. 82—False statement—Delegation of powers of District Registrar—Penal Code, s. 193.—S. 82 of the Registration Act only applies to a false statement intentionally made before any officer acting in execution of the Registration Act. A Deputy Magistrate directed by a District Registrar to enquire into certain matters regarding the registration of a document is not such an officer. RADHIKA MOHAN KURI v. LAL MOHAN SHA, 20 C. 719.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1877 (Registration)—continued.

(24)—S. 82—Prosecution for denial of execution—Stay of proceedings pending civil suit to declare the deed to be forged.—Where the accused denied the execution of a mortgage-bond, but the special Sub-Registrar held that he had executed it and directed a prosecution under s. 82 of the Act, upon which the petitioner sued for a declaration that the bond was a forgery, held, that the Criminal proceeding should be stayed, inasmuch as the proceedings in the Civil suit were much more likely to result in a proper conclusion than the summary proceeding taken before the Registration Officers. GOBERDHONE PRAMANICK v. ISWAR CHUNDER PRAMANICK 5 C.W.N. 44. [R., 31 C. 858, 13 Cr.L.J. 175 =13 Ind. Cas. 927, 115 P.L.R. 1912, 21 P.W. R. 1912, Cr.]

(25)—S. 82—Prosecution under—Time for ordering prosecution—Denial of execution of a document—Refusal to register—Appeal from the refusal—Limitation.—On the petitioner denying the execution of a document in favour of A, before the Sub-Registrar, that officer refused to register the document. Thereupon A lodged a complaint against the petitioner for cheating under s.417, I.P.C., which was dismissed under s. 203, Crim. Pro. Code, on the 26th March, 1906. On the 27th April, 1906, A appealed to the special Sub-Registrar who rejected the appeal for not having been preferred within the prescribed period of 30 days from the Sub-Registrar's refusal to register, but at the same time submitted a report to the District Registrar which ultimately led to an enquiry with the result that a proceeding was drawn up against the petitioner under s. 82 of the Registration Act. Held, that under the circumstances the petitioner should not be prosecuted under s. 82 of the Registration Act. That the presentation of an appeal to the special Registrar after the time limited therefor, against the refusal of the Sub-Registrar to register a document on denial of execution, does not give any locus standi for the institution of a proceeding for inquiry as to the execution of the document. SAKANBARI DEBI v. ADAITYA GANGULI, 12 C.W.N. 47.

(26)—S. 82—Falsely personating a party before the registering officer, dishonest intention not essential for the offence of—Silence not an omission constituting abetment.—S. 82 of the Act having been enacted with a view to punish acts, which are not offences under the Penal Code, a fraudulent or dishonest intent is not essential for the offence of falsely personating a party under the section before the registering officer. In the present case, there was nothing to create the presumption of common dishonest intent between the parties to the deed, sought to be registered, nor was there anything on the record, from which instigation or conspiracy was inferable; held, that, under such circumstances, the parties, other than the personators, who silently, stood by and saw the personation committed, could not be held guilty of abetment of any offence committed by the personators. KING-EMPEROR v. TUN AUNG GYAW, 3 L.B. R 222=4 Cr L.J. 483. (11 W.R. 24, 5 Bom. L.R. 138, R.)

(27)—S. 82 (c) — False personation. — To complete the offence of false personation, under s. 82 (c) of the Registration Act, fraudulent intent is not necessary. Hence, where a person at the instance of another goes to the Registrar and demands the return of a document which had been presented for registration, representing that he is that other person, he commits the offence of false personation within the meaning of s. 82. EMPEROR v. KALYA NAVA PATIL 5 Bom L.R. 138 [R., 4 Cr. L. J. 483=3 L B.R. 222.]

(28)—S. 82 (c)—Sub-Registrar trying case against his clerk in capacity of Magistrate.—A Sub-Registrar, also a Magistrate is not competent to investigate a case against one of his subordinates in his Registry Office, and afterwards himself try and convict him. In re BHARUT CHUNDER SEIN, 14 W.R.Cr. 74=8 B. L.R. 423, Note.

(29)—S. 82 (c)—Trial by Magistrate of charge instituted by him as Sub-Registrar.—Where a Magistrate tried prisoners charged with having committed offences under ss. 93 and 94, Registration Act, 1866, the proceedings are not illegal, and without jurisdiction or otherwise bad, merely because the prosecution was (with the sanction of the Registrar to whom he is subordinate) instituted against the accused by the same Magistrate in his capacity of Sub-Registrar, but where it can be done, it would be better if the case were tried by some other person. In the matter of the petition of the GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL. QUEEN v. HIRA LAL DAL, 8 B.L R. 422=17 W.R. Cr. 39. (13 W.R. Cr. 66, R.) [R., 25 W.R. 57, Cr.]

(30)—S. 82 (c)—Magistrate, jurisdiction of, to try offence committed before himself in judicial proceeding.—A Magistrate in whose presence the offence of intentionally giving false evidence in a judicial proceeding is committed may himself try and commit the persons so offending. QUEEN v. RAMLOCHUN SINGH, 18 W.R. Cr. 15. [Doubted, 12 B.L.R O.Cr. 35.] In the matter of RAMDYAL SINGH, 5 B.L.R App. 89.

(31)—S 82 (c)—Abetment of false personation.—Where three persons put up a fourth to personate one, whose authority was required to complete a certain conveyance of some immoveable property, they were held to be guilty under s. 94, Act XX of 1866. QUEEN v. SOLEEMOODDEEN, 7 W.R.Cr. 63.

(32)—S. 82 (c)—Abetment, punishment for.—Under Act XX of 1866, s. 94, the Legislature intended that the Court should have power in certain cases (as for instance when he is the chief offender, the person really pulling the strings, and for whose benefit the offence is, in fact, committed) to punish the abetter more severely than the person who actually commits the substantive offence. QUEEN v. GOPAL PROSAUD SEIN, 8 W.R.Cr. 16.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1877 (Registration)—continued.

(33)—S. 82—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 487, A.W.N. 1896, 181.

(34) S. 82—See PENAL CODE, ss. 109, 417, 457, 468, 471 and 511, 30 C. 22=7 C.W.N. 639.

(35)—S. 82—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE —CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION—NECESSITY, SUFFICIENCY AND VALIDITY OF SANCTION, 11 C. 566, F.B., 11 O.C. 358=9 Cr.L.J. 54.

(36) S. 82—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE —NOTICE OF SANCTION, 12 C.W.N. 822=8 C.L.J. 73=8 Cr. L.J. 51.

(37)—S. 82 (a)—" Acting in execution of the Act," what amounts to.—A District Registrar is not "acting in execution of the Act" in questioning the parties who have signed a document and presented it for registration, as to the circumstances under which they signed it. A false statement made in such inquiry is not an offence punishable under s. 82. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BABAJI RAGHUNATH, 1 Bom. L.R. 686. [D., 14 Cr. L. J. 102=18 Ind. Cas. 662=12 M.L.J. 376=1912 M.W.N. 1107.]

(38)—S. 82 (a)—See PENAL CODE, ss. 471 and 474, 5 C.L J. 233=5 Cr. L.J. 199.

(38-a)—S. 82—See Nos. 7, 16 and 18, supra.

(39)—Ss. 82 and 83 — Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 29 — Jurisdiction of Second-Class Magistrate over offences under Registration Act. —Under s. 83 of the Registration Act, an offence falling under s. 82 of the Act is cognisable by a second-class Magistrate, and such jurisdiction is not affected by the provisions of s. 29, Crim. Pro. Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KRISHNA, 7 M. 347=2 Weir 24=1 Weir 885. [F., 2 Weir 25.]

(40)—Ss. 82, 83—See ACT XX OF 1866, ss. 91, 95, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 7.

(41)—S 83—Competency of Registrar to institute prosecution under offence and under Act.—A Registrar under Act XX of 1866 is competent under s. 95, to institute a prosecution for any offence under that Act. QUEEN v. RAMDHARRY SINGH, 10 W.R. Cr. 5.

(42)—S. 83—Charge under Registration Act whether Magistrate bound to commit to sessions —Registrar transferring complaint to Magistrate and then as Magistrate transferring to police.—Under Crim. Pro. Code, a Magistrate has only jurisdiction, to entertain a criminal charge, either when a complaint is made before him by a person properly qualified to complain and prosecute, or when he himself of his own knowledge and discretion starts the proceedings in cases in which he has such power given him. Where, therefore, a Registrar under Act XX of 1866, transferred a complaint made before him to the Magistrate's Court, and afterwards himself sitting as Magistrate, ordered the matter to be made over to the Police, it was held that this did not amount to the institution of a criminal charge under Crim. Pro. Code. In the case of a prosecution under Act XX of 1866, a Magistrate has full power to entertain and finally adjudicate on the charge, and is not bound to commit to the Sessions; the words in s. 95 of that Act, "all prosecutions under this Act shall be instituted before a person exercising the powers of a Magistrate," being interpreted to mean that the whole of a criminal trial from complaint to adjudication shall be carried out before and by the same person. In re ASHANOOLLAH, 10 W.R. Cr. 21=6 B.L.R. 693, Note

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1877 (Registration)—concluded.

(43)—S. 83—Jurisdiction of Sessions Judge to try offences under Registration Act.—The Sessions Judge can try a case of abetting false personation of a witness before a Registrar of Assurances, under s. 95, Registration Act, 1866. The word "instituted" in that section should be construed to mean "commenced." QUEEN v. SHEOGOLAM DAS, 15 W.R. Cr. 58=6 B. L. R. F.B. 692.

(44)—S. 83—Power of Sub-Registrar to investigate—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), s. 66—Sanction to prosecute.—A Sub-Registrar under Act XX of 1866, has no power to investigate regarding the committal of an offence committed before him for registration of any document, but should cause the complainant to proceed, under s. 66, Crim. Pro. Code, before the Magistrate, or before an officer authorized to receive such complaint. QUEEN v. HARIDAS KUNDU, 4 B.L.R. App. 69=13 W.R. Cr. 21.

(45)—S. 83—See Nos. 39 and 40, supra.

(46)—S. 84—Sub-Registrar's office if a Court —Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Crim. Pro. Code (1872), ss. 435 and 436—Penal Code, s. 228—Evidence Act, s. 3—A Sub-Registrar is a public officer; his proceedings are judicial proceedings within the meaning of s. 228, Penal Code; and his Court is a Court within the meaning of that word in the Evidence Act. Where, in a case under s. 228, the Sub-Registrar, before whom the offence was committed, did not proceed under s. 435 or 436, Crim. Pro. Code (1872), it was held that a Magistrate had no jurisdiction. In re SARDHAREE LALL, 22 W.R. Cr. 10=13 B.L.R. App. 40.

(47)—S. 84—See No. 3, supra.

Act IV of 1877 (Presidency Magistrate's Court-fees).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. (EXCEPT s. 57), ACT X OF 1882.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1877 (Presidency Magistrate's Court-fees)—continued.

(1)—S. 39—Municipal corporation not a public servant—Preliminary sanction of Government not necessary.—A municipal corporation not being a public servant within the meaning of s. 39 of Act IV of 1877 may be prosecuted under the Penal Code without the preliminary sanction of the Government required by that section. In re MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA, 1 J.G. 70.

(2)—S. 39 —Municipal corporation not a public servant.—A Corporation, like the Calcutta Municipality, is not a public servant, so as to require the previous sanction of the Government for the purpose of its being prosecuted under the Penal Code. EMPRESS v. MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA, 3 C. 758=2 C.L.R. 520.

(3)—S. 41—Appeal.—Held that there was no appeal from the order of a Judge of the High Court directing a prosecution under s. 41 of the Presidency Magistrates Act. In the matter of JANOKEY NATH ROY, 2 C. 466.

(4)—S. 87—Discharge of accused by Presidency Magistrate, effect of—Malicious prosecution.—The discharge of an accused person by a Presidency Magistrate under s. 87 of the Act is such a termination of the prosecution as entitles the accused to maintain an action for malicious prosecution. VENU v. COORYA NARAYAN, 6 B. 376=6 Ind. Jur. 535=Chitty's S.C.C.R. 106. [R., 19 B. 717.]

(5)—S. 87, expl. 2—Examination of witnesses upon revival of prosecution.—Upon the revival of a prosecution in which the accused has been discharged, all the witnesses, on whose evidence the prosecutor intends to rely, as justifying the committal of the accused, must be examined before the Magistrate ; and, if any of them were examined at the time of the original prosecution, they must be examined de novo. A revival of a prosecution is not a continuation of the original prosecution, from which the accused has been discharged. EMPRESS v. CHUNDER NATH DUTT, 5 C. 121=4 C.L.R. 305

(6)—S. 124—Dismissal of complaint for default after partial hearing by Presidency Magistrate—Institution of fresh proceedings.—An order of dismissal under s. 124 of the Presidency Magistrates' Act (IV of 1877) does not operate as an acquittal and is no bar to the revival of fresh proceedings. EMPRESS v. THOMPSON, 6 C 523=8 C.L.R. 106=4 Shome L.R. 85. [R., 9 C. 397, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 422=13 B. 384.]

(7)—S. 129—Prosecution by Advocate or Attorney before Presidency Magistrate.—With the exception of certain officers, such as the Advocate-General, Standing Counsel, Government Solicitor, &c., no counsel for attorney can claim the right of conduct of a prosecution before the Presidency Magistrate without his permission. EMPRESS v. BUTOKRISTO DASS, 6 C. 59=6 C.L.R. 374.

(8)—S. 129—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—ADVOCATE, 6 C. 59=6 C.L.R. 374.

(9)—S. 129—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—ATTORNEY, 6 C. 59=6 C.L.R 374.

(10)—S. 167—Plea of guilty—Appeal.—The proviso to s. 161 of Act IV of 1877 provides that, when an accused person has been convicted on his own plea, no appeal shall lie, except as to the extent or legality of the sentence, although he is sentenced for a term exceeding six months or to fine exceeding Rs. 200. The object of this proviso, construed in its plain and obvious sense, is to limit the right of appeal, when the accused has pleaded guilty, to such matter as may be a special ground of complaint with respect to the sentence as distinguished from the conviction itself, whether on the ground that the extent of the sentence is beyond what the circumstances of the case required, or that the sentence is illegal as not authorized by law. EMPRESS v. JAFAR M. TALAB, 5 B. 85=5 Ind. Jur. 428.

(11)—S. 167—Sentences by Presidency Magistrate when appealable.—S. 167 which gives jurisdiction to the High Court to entertain an appeal from the sentence of a Presidency Magistrate refers in terms to a sentence of imprisonment exceeding six months or fine exceeding Rs 200. It does not refer either to a sentence which awards imprisonment and fine or to any alternative imprisonments in default of payment of fine. The words of the section are confined in their meaning to substantive sentences and cannot be extended to include an award of imprisonment in default of payment of fine, the operation of which is contingent only on the fine not being paid. In the matter of JOTHARAM DAVAY, 2 M. 30=1 Weir 525. [F., 16 C. 799 ; R., 33 C. 1036=4 C.L.J. 408.]

(12)—S. 168—Discharge by Presidency Magistrate—Setting aside.—The only course to be taken in seeking to set aside an order of discharge by a Presidency Magistrate having been laid down in s. 168 of the Presidency Magistrates' Act, which confines the right of appeal to Government, a complainant, who is a private individual, cannot indirectly obtain what is denied to him by the law, by invoking the aid of the High Court's extraordinary powers under s. 15 of the Charter. In the matter of POONA CHURN PAL, 7 C 447. [F., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 335 ; R., 9 C. 397.]

(13)—S. 170—Copies of order by, and depositions before, Presidency Magistrates, right to—Refusal by Presidency Magistrate to grant copies—Interference of High Court—S. 15 of the Charter Act—Specific Relief Act, 1877, ss. 7, 45.—All prosecutors whose charges are dismissed by the Presidency Magistrate, are affected, within the meaning of s. 170 of the Presidency Magistrates' Act, by the order of discharge, so as to entitle them to obtain copies of the order made by the Magistrate and the depositions. On a refusal by a Presidency Magistrate to grant copies of his order of dismissal and depositions to a prosecutor, the High Court can, certainly under s. 15 of the High Courts Charter Act, and also under s. 45 of the Specific Relief Act, compel the Magistrate to grant such copies. EMPRESS v. DINONATH ROY; BANK OF BENGAL v. DINONATH ROY, 8 C. 166 = 10 C.L.R. 190.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1877 (Presidency Magistrate's Court-fees)—concluded.

(14)—S. 234—See HUSBAND AND WIFE, 7 B. 180.

Act X of 1877 (Code of Civil Procedure).

[REP., ACT XIV OF 1882.]

(1)—Ss. 182, 183 — See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 91, 6 C. 762 = 8 C.L.R. 292.

(2)—S. 183—See No. 1, supra.

(3)—Ss. 341 and 342—See CONTEMPT OF COURT, 4 C. 655.

(4)—S. 342—See No. 3, supra.

(5)—S. 651—"Revenue Court," whether a Court of Civil Jurisdiction.—The term "any Court of Civil jurisdiction" in s. 651, is used for the purpose of including all Courts of Civil, in contradistinction to Criminal Courts. A Revenue Court being, therefore, a Court of Civil jurisdiction, the provisions of s. 651 are applicable to a person, who escapes from custody under the warrant of a Revenue Court. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. HARAKH NATH SINGH, 4 A. 27.

Act XV of 1877 (Limitation).

[REP., ACT IX OF 1908.]

(1)—S. 5, sch. II, art. 155 (=s. 4, art. 155 of 1908)—Criminal appeal.—The provisions of the Limitation Act are to be applied with as much strictness in criminal cases as they are in civil cases. That the appellant did not know that he had a right of appeal or that he thought his relatives would prefer an appeal is not a sufficient cause under s. 5 of Act XV of 1877 for not presenting his appeal in time. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHONI RAM, A.W.N. 1891, 10.

(2)—S. 5, art. 157—Delay in filing appeal—Excuse of delay.—S. 5 of the Limitation Act gives the Courts a discretion, which, in respect of jurisdiction, is to be exercised in the way in which judicial power and discretion ought to be exercised, upon principles which are well understood; the words "sufficient cause" receiving a liberal construction, so as to advance substantial justice, when no negligence, nor inaction, nor want of bona fides is imputable to the appellant. Delay in the filing of an appeal ought not to be excused, unless there are special circumstances, namely, a misleading by the other side or a mistake in the office itself or some sudden accident which could not be foreseen. EMPEROR v. SHIVA ADAR, 9 Bom. L.R. 893 = 6 Cr. L.J. 221. (13 M. 269, R.)

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XV of 1877 (Limitation)—continued.

(3)—S. 5, art. 157—Appeal by Government from acquittal— Limitation.— Art. 157 of the Limitation Act, which provides a period of six months for appeals by Government from acquittal is subject to the provisions of s. 5 of the same Act, which allows the Court to receive an appeal after the time limited when the appellant satisfies the Court that he had sufficient cause for not presenting the appeal in due time. In re GOVERNMENT PLEADER, 1 Weir 791 = 2 Weir 462.

(4)—S. 12 (=s. 12 of 1908)—Exclusion of time in obtaining copy of judgment.—The time taken in obtaining a copy of the judgment must be excluded in an appeal by the accused, in computing the period of limitation. In the matter of JHABBU SINGH, 10 C 642.

(5)—S. 12 — See APPEAL— GENERAL, 5 P. R. 1888, Cr.

(6)—S. 12—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE —EXPIRY OF SANCTION AND LIMITATION, 1 Weir 789 = 2 Weir 200.

(7) S. 12, sch. II, art. 154—Appeal by persons in jail—Time taken in obtaining copies of judgment.—For the purpose of computing the period of limitation for an appeal from a sentence of criminal Court by a person in jail, the time taken in forwarding applications for copies and in transmission of such copies to the jail, as well as the time occupied in the actual preparation of copies in the office of the Court, by which the judgment or order was passed, is to be included in "the time requisite for obtaining a copy," within the meaning of s. 12 of the Limitation Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LINGAYA, 9 M. 258 = 1 Weir 789.

(8)—S. 18 (=s. 18 of 1908)—See ACT XII OF 1882, s. 11, 20 B. 543.

(9)—S. 26 (=s. 26 of 1908)—See DISPUTE AS TO POSSESSION OF IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY, 13 C.W.N. 859 = 3 Ind. Cas. 468.

(10)—S. 28—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 146, 26 M. 410.

(10-a)—S. 28, art. 47—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 145, 9 M.L.T. 91 = 12 Cr. L. J. 47 = 9 Ind. Cas. 285.

(11)—Art. 47 (=art. 47 of 1908)—Order of attachment under Crim.Pro.Code (1861), s. 318 nature of.—The plaintiff sued for the establishment of his proprietary right to, and possession of, a certain ghat or bathing place. The lower Courts held that the suit was barred by limitation under cl. 46, sch. II, Act IX of 1871, the suit not having been brought within three years from the date on which the Magistrate, acting under Ch. XVIII of Act XXV of 1861, passed an order directing that the plaintiff and one of the defendants to the suits should put in personal recognizances of Rs. 500 each and that the Tahsildar should warn the parties not to go near the bathing place until a competent Court had settled the quarrel between them, the lower Courts being of opinion that the latter portion of the order amounted to an attachment of the property in dispute under s. 319, Act XXV of 1861. It was held that the order to the Tahsildar was not an attachment contemplated by that section. DURGA v. MANGAL, 7 N.W.P. 35.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XV of 1877 (Limitation)—continued.

(12)—Art. 47 (s. 1, cl. 7 of Act XIV of 1859) —Magistrate's order of attachment.—Where a Magistrate passed an order for attachment on the finding that neither of the parties then at issue was in possession, held that it was an order respecting possession within the meaning of cl. (7), s. 1, Act XIV of 1859, and, therefore, the limitation provided by the clause was not applicable. CHUJ MULL v. KHYRATEE, 3 Agra 65. [R., 2 Bom. L.R. 93.]

(13)—Art. 47—Order as to possession under Crim. Pro. Code (1861), s. 318.—Held, that s. 1, cl. (7), Act XIV of 1859, was not applicable to an order passed under s. 318, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861. DOORJUN SINGH v. SHIBBA, 3 N.W.P. 171.

(14)—Art. 47—Verbal order of Magistrate under Act IV of 1840.—A verbal order of the Magistrate under Act IV of 1840 cannot be regarded as an order, or award within the meaning of the term of cl. 7, s. 1, Act XIV of 1859. ALTAF HOSSEIN v. TASUD-DOOK HOSSEIN, 2 Agra 87.

(15)—Art. 47—Act XIV of 1859, s. 1 (7)—Limitation for suits for possession—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), s. 318.—The provisions of s. 318, Crim. Pro. Code (1861), differ from those of Act IV of 1840 in many important respects. No period of limitation is prescribed in s. 318, Crim. Pro. Code, within which a suit must be brought to set aside the Magistrate's award made under that section. GOBIND CHANDER SHAHA v. ASHRUF ALI MEAH, 8 W.R. 490.

(16)—Art. 47—Dispossession under s. 318, Crim. Pro. Code (1861).—A plaintiff was found to have been dispossessed from land by a Magistrate's order under s. 318, Crim. Pro. Code. Held that his right of suit for possession was not barred, under cl. 7, s. 1, Act XIV of 1859, by the lapse of more than three years from the date of the Magistrate's order. UNDHOOB NARAIN v. CHUTTAR DHAREE SINGH, 9 W.R. 480. [F., 17 W.R. 281.]

(17)—Art. 47—Order to record letter ending proceedings.—Where, in consequence of certain proceedings, under Act IV of 1840, a letter was written by a Judge directing the Magistrate to leave certain maliks not in possession of certain derah in dispute to their civil remedy, and the Magistrate ordered the Judge's letter to be put with the record, held that such order was not an order in the sense of Act XIV of 1859, s. 1, cl. 7. MOSHAHEB ALI v. NUND KISHORE, 20 W.R. 316.

(18)—Art. 47—Order dismissing complaint under Act IV of 1840.—Where a Magistrate passed an order dismissing a complaint under Act IV of 1840, on the ground that the complainant had not been forcibly dispossessed, it is not a binding award to which cl. 7, s. 1, Act XIV of 1859, would apply. HURRONATH CHOWDHRY v. HUREE LALL SHAHA, 11 W.R. 477.

(19)—Art. 47—Act IX of 1871, art. 46.—Held that art. 47 can only apply between the parties whose possession has been confirmed by the Magistrate and each one of the parties to that proceeding who claimed against them. It does not apply in favour of one of the parties who has subsequently succeeded by regular suit in ousting the parties put in possession by the Magistrate. AUKHIL CHUNDER CHOWDHRY v. MIRSA DELAWAR HOSSEIN, 6 C.L.R. 93. (2 B. L.R. A.C. 254, 3 B.L.R. Appx. 122, cited) [D., 23 C. 731.]

(20)—Art. 47—Possession of property—Order by Magistrate—Suit to recover.—The period of limitation (three years prescribed by art. 47, Limitation Act, 1877, for a suit to recover property that was the subject of an order under s. 530, Crim. Pro. Code, counts from the date of the Magistrate's order, and not from that of a confirmation order by the Sessions Judge. The above article has reference to immoveable as well as to moveable property. KANGALI CHURN SHA v. ZOMURRUDONNISSA KHATOON, 6 C. 709=8 C.L.R. 151. (1 M. 309, Appr.)

(21)—Art. 47—Act IX of 1871, sch. II, cl. 46. —The three years rule prescribed by art. 46 does not apply to a case where attachment proceedings are recorded and properties put in the charge of the Sub-Magistrate because the previous possessor is unascertained. AKILANDAMMAL v. PERIASAMI PILLAI, 1 M. 309=2 Ind. Jur. 98. [Appr., 6 C. 709 (711); R., 26 M. 410 (413); 20 A. 120 (123)=17 A.W.N. 214.]

(22)—Art. 47—Order under s. 145, Crim. Pro. Code.—Art. 47 applies to all the persons bound by, or parties to, an order under s. 145, Crim. Pro. Code, and to any other persons claiming under or through any such persons under the title derived subsequent to the order. JOGENDRA KISHORE ROY CHOWDHRY v. BROJENDRA KISHORE ROY CHOWDHRY, 23 C. 731, F.B. (6 C.L.R. 93, D.) [R., 28 B. 215 =5 Bom. L.R. 932.]

(23)—Art. 47—Scope of article—Scope of order by Magistrate, the order being under s. 145, Crim. Pro. Code, 1882 (corresponding with s. 530, Crim. Pro. Code, 1872).—Art. 47 contemplates a right to sue in ejectment being in existence at the time of the passing of an order under s. 145, Crim. Pro. Code, 1882; that is, it only bars

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XV of 1877 (Limitation)—continued.

those parties to the order, who, at the date of it, had a right to eject the successful party in the proceedings in the Criminal Court. BOLAI CHAND GHOSAL v. SAMIRUDDIN MANDAL, 19 C. 646. [R., 14 M L.T. 392=1913 M.W. N. 871=21 Ind. Cas. 564.]

(23-a)—Art. 47—See No. 10*a*, supra.

(24)—Arts. 47, 142, 144 (=arts. 47, 142, 144 of 1908)—Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, s. 146—Property attached under the section—Suit for possession.—A suit for possession of immoveable property attached under s. 146, Crim. Pro. Code, is not governed either by art. 47 or art. 120, but is governed either by art. 142 or art. 144. GOSWAMI RANCHOR LALJI v. SRI GIRDHARIJI, 20 A. 120=A.W.N. 1897, 214. (3 Agra 65, 1 M. 309, R.) [Rel. on, 16 C.W.N. 1073=16 Ind. Cas. 620; Cons., 26 M. 410.]

(25)—Art. 142—See No. 24, supra.

(26)—Art. 144 (=art. 144 of 1908)—*Possession—Lands under attachment by Magistrate—S.*146, Crim. Pro. Code.—Lands under attachment by a Magistrate under s. 146, Crim. Pro. Code, are presumed to continue in possession of the person, who is afterwards found to have title thereto. Where a person, who is, afterwards, found to have a title to a property, receives from the Magistrate the rents and profits thereof for the period during which it was held under attachment by the latter, under s. 146, Crim. Pro. Code, he is held to be in constructive possession thereof, until withdrawal of such attachment. Limitation does not run against him during such period. JAGABANDHU BHATTACHARJEE v. HARIMOHAN ROY, 1 C.W.N. 369. [R., 3 A.L.J. 680=A.W.N. 1906, 286, 29 A. 90.]

(27)—Art. 144—See No. 24, supra.

(28)—Art. 154—See No. 7, supra.

(29)—Art. 155 (=art. 155 of 1908)—Appeal from the Resident's Court, Bangalore—Limitation.—Where a person defended by counsel on a criminal charge interfered in the examination of a witness and made a defamatory statement with regard to his character was charged with defamation and convicted in the Resident's Court, Bangalore, held, an appeal to the High Court, preferred more than sixty days after the conviction, should be admitted. HAYES v. CHRISTIAN, 15 M. 414=1 Weir 588=2 M.L.J. 142. [R., 17 B. 573, 36 M. 216=14 Ind. Cas. 659=11 M.L.T. 416=13 Cr. L.J. 275=23 M. L.J. 39=1912 M.W.N. 476, 9 Cr., L.J. 276=5 M.L.T. 256, 9 Cr.L.J. 385=19 M.L.J. 217=6 M.L.T. 15, 1 Ind. Cas. 799, 248, 3 L.B.R. 255, 1 Weir 519.]

(30)—See APPEAL—APPEAL FROM ACQUITTAL, 2 C. 436, F.B.

(31)—Art. 155—See No. 1, supra.

(32)—Art. 157—See Nos. 2 and 3, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XV of 1877 (Limitation)—concluded.

(33)—Art. 178 (=art. 181 of 1908)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 195—Application for sanction to prosecute—Limitation.—Rules of limitation are foreign to the administration of criminal justice, and it is only by express statutory provision that any rule of limitation can be made applicable to criminal cases. There is no fixed period of limitation for making an application for sanction under s. 195, Crim. Pro. Code. Art. 178, Limitation Act, has no reference to applications arising out of proceedings under the Code of Criminal Procedure. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. AJUDHIA SINGH, 10 A. 350=A.W.N. 1888, 92=13 Ind. Jur. 36. [Appl., 20 B. 543; R., 11 C. P.L.R. 141, 13 Cr. L.J. 209=14 Ind. Cas. 305=22 M.L.J. 419=11 M.L.T. 367=1912 M. W.N. 499.]

Act I of 1878 (Opium).

[REP. IN PART, ACT IV OF 1894; REP. IN PART, AND AMENDED, ACT XII OF 1891. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—Opium cases—Undue severity of sentence—Measure of reward.—Rewards in opium cases should not, in the absence of exceptional circumstances, usually exceed Rs. 5 for each ½ tola of opium found. Magistrates should be careful so to limit a reward as to leave no doubt that it can be paid out of the fine and value of the opium combined. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. AH KYIN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 568.

(2)—Opium cases—Undue severity of sentence—Court to be guided by sound principles—Measure of reward.—In dealing with opium cases the Courts must be guided by sound principles, and must not, by the imposition of ruinous fines for petty offences, render the administration of the law unbearable. Rewards in such cases must be regulated by the quantity discovered and the amount of the fine which it is reasonable to inflict. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MIHET PU, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 567. (L.B.R. 1872-1892, 368, 425, 546, R.)

(3)—Possession of opium with intention of selling.—The accused kept $2\frac{10}{16}$ tolas of opium in his possession with the intention of selling it. Held that he did not thereby contravene any rule under the Opium Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LALU KHEM CHUND, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 287=Cr. Rg. 23 of 1886.

(4)—S. 3—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 191—Importing opium into British India without license—Jurisdiction.— A Second-Class Magistrate cannot refuse to take up a case of importing opium into British India without a license, although empowered, under s. 191, Crim. Pro. Code, and s. 3 of the Opium Act, to take cognizance of the offence and try the case, merely on the ground that the gravity of the offence required severer punishment than he was competent to inflict. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GEMA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 375 = Cr. Rg. 23 of 1888.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1878 (Opium)—continued.

(5)—S. 3—License to possess opium—Right to have opium transported from one place to another.—The accused, having a license for possession of opium as a medical practitioner limited to one seer, or eight pallams, sent his servant to another place to buy four pallams of opium from a licensed vendor of opium. The servant purchased the opium and took it to the accused at Madras. Held, that the accused was guilty of the offence of transporting opium by sending his servant to bring opium to Madras, which was illegal, except under Rules VIII to XIII of the Opium Act, and the license, which the accused held, did not authorise such transport either expressly or impliedly. Quære.—Whether, if the accused had carried the opium himself, the license to possess the opium would necessarily imply a right to transport it with him and so override the prohibition of transport? QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMANUJAM, 13 M. 191 = 1 Weir 834.

(6)—S. 3—Investiture of powers—Crim. Pro. Code, s 39—Magistrate—'Specially empowered'—Notification by Government empowering all second-class Magistrates to try cases under the Opium Act, if amounts to 'specially empowered'—Jurisdiction.—The word 'specially' in 'specially empowered' occurring in s. 3 of the Opium Act, is used in speaking of individuals and in contrast with the word 'generally.' When, by a notification of the Government, a class of officials is invested with powers to try certain offences, such officials are only 'generally empowered' and not 'specially empowered.' The language of s. 39 of the Crim. Pro. Code compared. Per Seshagiri Aiyar, J.—The notification empowering all second-class Magistrates to try such offences is ultra vires of the powers given by the Act, as its effect is to enlarge the definition of 'Magistrate' as given therein. MAHOMED KASIM v. KING-EMPEROR, 2 L. W. 233.

(7)—Ss. 3 and 4—Beinchi removed from pipe and reserved for further use is a preparation.—Beinchi or Pyaungchi which is the refuse of the opium pipe is, when removed, from the pipe and reserved for further use, a preparation of opium within the meaning of s. 3 of the Opium Act, and its possession is illegal under s. 4, inasmuch as it is not permitted by the rules framed under the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PAW GALE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 617.

(8)—Ss. 3, 4, 9—Illicit possession of opium—Jurisdiction—Extradition Act (XXI of 1879), ss. 4, 5—Government of India Notification No. 1007-1, dated 18*th March*, 1884.—In this case the accused was convicted by the District Magistrate of Gurgaon, under s. 9 on a charge of illicit possession of opium. The case for the prosecution was that the accused took delivery of four maunds of poppy heads, at the Railway Station of Bawal on the Rajputana-Malwa Railway. The Sessions Judge, on appeal, acquitted the accused, on the ground that he had been convicted of an offence against No. 32 of the rules framed under s. 5 and s. 13 of the Act, which forbids the importation of opium "into the Punjab," and that, conceding that I of 1878 was in force in Bawal, yet Bawal was not "in the Punjab" within the meaning of the Rules under the Act. Held, on an appeal by the Local Government, that, under s. 9 of the Act, the possession of opium in contravention of the Act being penal, as well as possession in contravention of rules made under s. 5 of the Act, it was (assuming the possession to be proved) for the accused, and not for the prosecutor, to establish that possession of four maunds of opium was permitted by the rules made under the Act. Held, also that the fact that the said rules were not in force at Bawal was of no avail to the accused, if it were sound. The order of acquittal was reserved, and the appeal of the accused returned to the Sessions Judge for disposal upon the merits. EMPRESS v. BHOLA LAL, 8 P.R. 1887, Cr.

(9)—Ss. 3, 5, 9, 14, 19—Power of Magistrate issuing a search warrant to conduct search.—A Magistrate who has the power to issue a search warrant has the power himself to search. EMPRESS v. GANESHI, A.W.N. 1884, 213.

(10)—Ss. 3 and 9—Illegal manufacture of chandu an offence under s. 9.—With reference to ss. 3 and 9 of the Act the illegal manufacture or preparation of chandu was an offence under s. 9 of the Act. EMPRESS v. GANESHI, A.W. N. 1884, 213.

(11)—Ss. 3, 9—Licensed cultivator transporting opium without pass.—Where a licensed cultivator transported opium from one district to another without a pass, held, that the accused, not being either a farmer, or a licensed vendor, or a whole sale licenced vendor, was not competent to transport opium from one district into another. Held, further, that, even supposing a licensed cultivator could be held to be a licenced vendor, that the accused was liable to be punished under s. 9, Act I of 1878, as he had not complied with the provisions of the rules by obtaining a pass. MEGHA v. EMPRESS, 13 P.R. 1884, Cr.

(12) S. 4—Admixtures of opium — Rules under the Act.—"Opium," as defined in the Opium Act, includes admixtures of it. Kunbon being an admixture of opium, the possession of it is not allowed by the rules under the Act. Hence, the possession of kunbon is, under the above section, illegal, irrespective of the method in which it was obtained. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA LU HLA, L.B.R. 1872-1892, 619.

(13)—S. 4—See PENAL CODE, s. 353, 105 P. L.R. 1904.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1878 (Opium)—continued.

(14)—S. 4—See Nos. 7 and 8, supra.

(15)—Ss 4 (c) and 9 (c)—Possession of opium—Burden of proof.—Under the Opium Act, the possession of opium is prima facie illegal, and the person in possession must shew that, in fact, his possession is legal. Rule III of rules framed under the Act provides that a person may possess 3 tolas of raw opium "provided such opium has been purchased from Government or from a farmer or licensed vendor or medical practitioner." In order, therefore, that a person in possession of opium may have the benefit of r. III, he must show that it was purchased as provided by the Rule. If he fails to do so, his possession is illegal by virtue of s. 4, and he is liable to punishment under s. 9 (c). In re RANGAN CHETTI, 1 Weir 832.

(16)—S 5—Omission to keep regular account of opium.—The accused was convicted of the offence of contravening a rule made and notified under s. 5 of the Opium Act, 1878, by not keeping a regular account of the opium in his possession in accordance with the stipulation in his license. Held that the person who contravenes a condition of a license imposed under a rule may be considered guilty of a breach of the rule. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JETHALAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 297 = Cr. Rg. 44 of 1886.

(17)—S. 5—Registered consumer—Presumption.—The ordinary presumption would be that a person producing a certificate and asserting or implying that he was the person named in the certificate was the registered consumer to whom the certificate had been granted, and, unless it was proved that the vendor had reason to believe that the person producing the certificate was not the person named in it, the vendor should reasonably be held to be permitted by the rules to sell opium to the person producing the certificate. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. A WE SHOKE, L B R. 1893—1900, 419.

(18)—S. 5, r. 9—Holder of cultivator's license—Consumption of opium.—The holder of a cultivator's license is not prohibited, by r. 9 of the rules framed under s. 5, read in connection with the other rules, from consuming the opium of which he is lawfully possessed under his license. CHANDA SINGH v. EMPRESS, 12 P.R. 1884, Cr.

(19)—S. 5, rr. 11, 21—Patwari's omission to furnish cultivator's license—Liability of cultivator.—Poppy cultivators, who were without licenses only because the Patwari has failed to furnish them, are not liable under r. 21. SOCHET SINGH v. EMPRESS, 46 P.R. 1885, Cr.

(20)—S. 5, r. 16—Scope of the rule.—The intention of r. 16 of rules framed under s. 5 of Act I of 1878, is to permit possession of either opium not exceeding 3 tolas or of intoxicating drugs not exceeding that quantity, or of both not exceeding 3 tolas in the aggregate. NABI BAKSH v. EMPRESS, 22 P.R. 1890, Cr.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1878 (Opium)—continued.

(21)—S 5—See No. 9, supra.

(22)—Ss. 5, 8, 9 (f)—Terms of license whether to be regarded as part of the rules.—The terms of a license issued under rules promulgated under ss. 5 and 8 of the Opium Act, 1878, are not to be regarded as part of the rules themselves; and consequently, an infraction of any of the conditions of a license issued under the said rules cannot be considered an infraction of the rules and punishable under s. 9 (f) of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAHOMED, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 332 = Cr. Rg. 23 of 1887.

(23)—Ss. 5, 9—Opium—Chundul.—Chundul is opium dissolved in water and boiled so as to be smoked. A man cannot be said to make a preparation or admixture of opium within the meaning of ss. 5 and 9 of the Opium Act of 1878 and s. 35 of the rules framed under that Act, for which a license would be required, by merely dissolving in water the opium which he has legally purchased for his own use in smoking. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHEKH HUSEN Rat. Un. Cr. C. 284 = Cr. Rg. 20 of 1886.

(24)—Ss. 5, 9—Rules framed under the Act—Rules 34 to 50—Form E, referred to in r. 39—Words "or in such other form as the Commissioner from time to time prescribes."—Ultra vires—Delegata potestas non potest delegari—Breach of conditions of a Commissioner's license, whether a breach of a rule under the Opium Act and an offence.—S. 5 (f) gives the Local Government power to make rules to permit absolutely or subject to conditions the sale of opium and to regulate its sale. Rule 39 of the rules so framed, inter alia, enacts that "such licenses shall be in the Form E hereto annexed or in such other form as the Commissioner from time to time prescribes." S. 9 (f) makes it an offence to sell opium in contravention of the Act or Rules. A holder of a license in form E would, if he committed a breach of the license, be selling in contravention of r. 39 and could be dealt with under s. 9 of the Act. The words "or in such other form as the Commissioner from time to time prescribes," in r. 39 are ultra vires The rule-making power is a power delegated by the Government of India to the Local Government and the Local Government cannot delegate it to the Commissioner, for delegata potestas non potest delegari. The conditions of a form of license prescribed by the Commissioner are, therefore, not rules under the Opium Act. Breach of the conditions of a Commissioner's license which is not in form E but in the form approved of by the Commissioner in Sind, is, therefore, not a breach of a rule under the Opium Act, even where the breach is committed by a person, and a fortiori he is not guilty of an offence under s. 9 when the breach is committed by his servant. CROWN v. VELGI LAKHAMSI, 1 S L.R. Cr. 70 = 8 Cr. L J. 188.

(25)—Ss. 5 and 9—Allowing sale of opium by an unauthorised person.—A person who has taken a license for the sale of opium is guilty of an offence under s. 9 of Act I of 1878, if he allows another person to sell it on his behalf, when that salesman's name is not endorsed on the license under the rules framed by the Local Government and published in the N.W.P. and Oudh Government Gazette, dated 11th June, 1898. MOHAMMAD YASIN v. KING-EMPEROR, 1 A.L.J. 245.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1878 (Opium)—continued.

(26)—Ss. 5 and 9—Preparation of incorrect account—Licensed vendor of opium—Keeping incorrect accounts—Liability under s. 9.—There is nothing in any of the rules made by the Bengal Government under s. 5 of the Act, which would make the preparation of incorrect accounts punishable under s. 9. S. 5 of the Act declares that the Local Government, with the previous sanction of the Governor-General in Council, may make rules consistent with the Act regulating the sale of opium. The Bengal Government in r. 15 (i) framed under s. 5, and art. 13, form No. 1, framed under r. 15 (1) has provided for the retail sale of opium in accordance with the conditions specified in the license and requires that the licensee is to keep an account showing the quantity of opium received and sold and other particulars. Held, that r. 15 (1) is not regularly made, and a licensee, who keeps an incorrect account in contravention of the above rule, is not liable to be punished under s. 9 of the Act. UMESH CHUNDER GHOSE v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 26 C. 571=3 C.W.N 365. [D., 1 A.L.J. 245.]

(27)—Ss. 5 and 9—Master and servant—Liability of master for act of servant.—Contrary to the conditions of his master's opium license, the salesman sold opium to a person under the age of fourteen years, in the absence of the master. Both the master and the salesman were convicted. Held, that the conviction of the master was legal, for the mere selling of opium in contravention of the conditions of his license constituted the offence. It was not a question of intention, of mens rea or of knowledge. BABU LAL v. KING-EMPEROR, 9 A.L.J. 288 =14 Ind. Cas. 666=13 Cr. L.J. 282=34 A. 319. (24 B. 423, F.)

(28)—Ss. 5 and 9.—Contravention of rules by licensed vendor—Vendor not being present when rules were contravened—Effect—Liability of master for acts of his servant.—The licensed vendor of madak was fined Rs. 25 under s. 9 of the above Act for contravening a rule made and notified under s. 5 of the Act and embodied in his license which provided that he "shall not allow any of the drug to be consumed on his premises." The Magistrate found that the vendor was not present at the time when the drug was consumed on his premises, but punished him on the ground of his direct responsibility to the Government for the fulfilment of the condition of his license and the obligation which lay upon him, if he chose to delegate the charge of his shop to a servant, to take precautions in order to secure that the rules under which he held the license should be observed. Held, that, although a master is not generally speaking criminally responsible for the acts of his servants, unless he expressly command, or personally co-operate in, them, still the vendor was under the circumstances liable for the breach committed by his servant. EMPRESS v. SHRIKISSEN MISRA, 7 C.P.L.R. Cr. 41.

(29)—Ss. 5 and 9—R. 9 (f)—Licensed cultivation—Entry of outturn of cultivation.—The omission by a licensed cultivator to have the outturn of his cultivation entered upon his license, is not a contravention of r. 9 (f). BUR SINGH v. EMPRESS, 10 P.R. 1893, Cr.

(30)—Ss. 5 (r. 38), 9—Selling opium in a quantity in excess of that allowed by law.—The act of selling opium by a licensed vendor in a quantity in excess of that permitted by law, is not a mere breach of the license, but is an offence under the Rules framed under the Abkari Act, and can be punished under s. 9 QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHHOTALAL VARAJLAL, 1 Bom. L.R. 677.

(31)—Ss. 5 and 9—R. 24—Illegal transport of opium.—The accused, licensed retail vendors of opium in one district, instructed a wholesale contractor of drugs in another district, to send them 2 maunds of poppy-heads. The latter did accordingly after obtaining a rowana from the Collector of his district, but without the permission of the Collector of the other district. The accused were convicted of violations of rule 24. Held, that the conviction was wrong, as it could not be supposed that the accused authorized or intended to authorize their vendor to transport the poppy-heads otherwise than in accordance with law and rules in force, and as the obligation of getting a pass for transport of opium is imposed upon the transporting farmer. BAKHU RAM v. EMPRESS, 40 P.R. 1887.

(32)—Ss. 5 and 9—R. 4 (iii) (c) framed under s. 5—Possession of opium of more than prescribed quantity in a den—Every member guilty of breach of rule—Ultra vires.—R. 4 (iii) (c) of the rules framed under s. 5 as provided by s. 9 (c) of the Opium Act, which enacts that if, in an opium den where a number of persons are gathered, opium is found in excess of the quantity allowed to be possessed by the Act, then each of such persons so present shall be deemed to have committed a breach of this rule, is a rule of evidence and not a rule strictly under s. 5 of the Opium Act and is therefore ultra vires GANDALAL MURARJI v. THE CROWN, 8 S.L R. 138.

(33)—Ss. 5, 9 and 13—Omission by poppy cultivator to inform patwari of outturn of poppy cultivation.—There is nothing in the rules framed under the Opium Act requiring a poppy cultivator to inform the patwari of the outturn of poppy heads from the area under cultivation, as in the rules opium is distinguished from poppy heads. GURDIT SINGH v. EMPRESS, 16 P.R. 1883, Cr.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1878 (Opium)—continued.

(33-a)—S. 8—See No. 22, supra.

(34)—S. 9—Possession of illicit opium, what amounts to.—The accused was a shop-keeper, and his neighbour was a licensed opium seller. The latter not being in the habit of sleeping in his shop used, when he went home, to put the opium with the books and license in a box, which he locked himself, and of which he kept the key, and to make it over to the accused for safe custody during the night. Held, that such custody did not amount to possession by accused of the opium which was locked in the box and that he could not, therefore, be held to be guilty of having opium in his possession in contravention of the Opium Act and the rules made thereunder. EMPEROR v. GAJADHAR, 25 A. 262=A.W.N. 1903, 29. [Rel., 11 Cr. L.J. 55=4 Ind. Cas. 823=U.B.R. 1909, Opium, p. 1; R., 2 L.B.R. 136.]

(35)—S. 9—"Possession"—Meaning of.—The "possession" referred to in s. 9 of the Act is possession with knowledge, and no presumption arises unless and until such possession is proved. EMPEROR v. KALU, 16 C.P.L.R. 13. [R., 17 C.P.L.R. 75.]

(36)—S. 9—R. 16—Possession of three tolas of opium—Plea of joint possession.—In order to succeed on a defence of joint possession in a charge of possession of more than one tola of opium, it must be conclusively shown that the possession of the accused was the joint possession of the accused and others and that he held on behalf and for the use of all. KING-EMPEROR v. BUTA SINGH, 34 P.R. 1905, Cr. =147 P.L.R. 1905. (13 P.R. 1879, Cr., 31 P.R. 1902, Cr., F.)

(37)—S. 9—Joint possession.—Where the defence of joint possession of more than one tola of opium is pleaded, it is not only essential to know that a certain number of people are living in the house, but that they all joined in the purchase, and that it was held by one for the use of all. CROWN v. SADIQ, 31 P.R. 1902, Cr. (13 P.R. 1879, Cr., R.) [F., 34 P.R. 1905, Cr.; D., 52 P.R. 1905, Cr.]

(38)—S. 9—Possession by several persons.—As it is the possession of more than one tola of intoxicating drugs that constitutes the offence under r. 16, and not the amount that the person in possession may himself own, the accused who was in possession of 2½ tolas was held to be rightly convicted under s 9, although there had been three other persons each using a fourth of it, and the accused's own share may have been one fourth. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SALARU, 13 P.R. 1897, Cr. [F., 31 P.R. 1902, Cr.]

(39)—S. 9—Opium, unlawful possession of, by member of joint family—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 103 (1)—Search by Police—Appeal, new plea taken in.—An accused person, who was convicted of being in unlawful possession of crude opium, contended that the witnesses, called on to attend the search, were not respectable inhabitants of the locality, in which the place searched was situated, and also, for the first time in appeal, that his father, who was alive, being the master of the house, he (the accused) was entitled to an acquittal, in the absence of good evidence as to exclusive possession by a junior member of the joint family. Held, that, in prosecutions under s. 9, Act I of 1878, against a member of a joint-family, the prosecution is bound to prove that the opium, found in the common room of the joint-family house, was in the exclusive possession and control of the particular member of the joint family charged with its possession, that such a defence could not be discarded simply because it was for the first time put forward in appeal, and that, under s. 103 (1), Crim. Pro. Code, it was the duty of the police officer to call two or more respectable inhabitants of the locality, in which the place searched was situated, to attend and witness the search. GANESHI v. CROWN, 2 O. C. 99. (15 A. 129, R.)

(40) S. 9—Possession of a railway receipt for parcel containing opium.—Where it was found that the accused had in his possession a railway receipt for a parcel containing opium. Held (dubitante).—That the possession of the railway receipt constituted possession of the opium to which the receipt related within s. 9 of the Opium Act. ASHRUF ALI v EMPEROR, 36 C. 1016=14 C.W.N. 233. (32 C. 557. F.) [D., 41 C. 537=18 C.L.J. 514=18 C.W.N. 309 =15 Cr. L.J. 4=22 Ind. Cas. 148.]

(41)—S. 9—Possession of railway receipt for opium parcel.—Where a railway receipt for a parcel which contained opium addressed to the accused was found, on search made in his house, carefully locked up and secreted in his box, held, that the possession of the railway receipt should be taken as possession of the opium within s. 9 of the Opium Act, inasmuch as the conduct of the accused showed that he was aware of the contents of the parcel and that it was sent to him with his full knowledge. KASHI NATH BANIA v. EMPEROR, 32 C. 557 =9 C.W N. 719=2 Cr. L.J. 470. (1 Den. C. C. 453, 2 Den. C. C. 37, R.) [F., 36 C. 1016=14 C.W.N. 233=11 Cr. L J. 29=4 Ind. Cas. 699; R., 40 C. 990=14 Cr. L.J. 318=19 Ind Cas. 1006; D, 41 C. 537=18 C.L.J. 514=18 C.W.N. 309=15 Cr. L.J. 4=22 Ind. Cas. 148.]

(42)—S. 9—Possession of opium without license—Legality of arrest—Conviction.—For a conviction under this Act it matters not, so far as the legality of a conviction goes, by whom the accused was arrested or found in possession of the opium. NGA PO THA v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 239.

(43)—S. 9—Illicit possession — Desire of Magistrate to induce accused to give up opium.—The desire of the Magistrate to induce an accused person to give up opium smoking is not in itself a sufficient ground for passing on him a sentence of imprisonment. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. THAUK KRA PYU, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 370.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1878 (Opium)—continued.

(44)—S. 9—Summary trial—Offence punishable with one year's rigorous imprisonment—Subsequent regular trial without summary trial being quashed—Ultra vires—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 530.—The accused was prosecuted for an offence under s. 9 of the Opium Act punishable with one year's rigorous imprisonment. The additional township Magistrate tried the case in a summary manner and imposed a sentence of four months' rigorous imprisonment. The District Magistrate having declared the trial void, the Magistrate re-tried the case in the regular manner and imposed the same punishment. Held, that both the trials were void ab initio. The summary trial was ultra vires, as the offence being punishable with one year's rigorous imprisonment, the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to try the case summarily. The regular trial was ultra vires, as the former proceedings not having been quashed by the High Court, the accused could not be tried over again. The whole proceedings were quashed and a re-trial ordered. EMPEROR v. NGA SIT CHO, 13 Cr. L.J. 58=13 Ind. Cas. 394=4 Bur. L.T. 271.

(45)—S. 9—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 239 and 537 —Joint trial—Misjoinder of parties, not mere irregularity — Possession, illicit, of opium—Opium found in accused's house during his absence, effect of — Suggestion by accused's pleader, whether Court can in its judgment pass remarks upon.—On a certain day A was arrested and found in possession of a seer of opium alleged to have been purchased by B, A's companion, from C's shop. On A's information D's house was searched on the same day and 6 seers of opium were found there in D's absence. These four persons and D's wife were jointly tried on the following four charges: The first charging all with having on that day engaged in illicit transport of opium, the second and the third charging A and B and D and his wife, with having been on that day in unlawful possession of one and six seers of opium, respectively, and the fourth charging C with having on that day sold opium against the contract terms of the license: Held, that the above joint trial was illegal and contrary to the provisions of s. 239, Crim. Pro. Code, inasmuch as the accused did not commit the same offence or different offences in the same transaction. A trial which takes place in defiance of the express provisions of s. 239, Crim. Pro. Code, must be held to be a void trial, and a misjoinder of parties thus taking place is not a mere irregularity which can be cured by applying the provisions of s. 537, Crim. Pro. Code. (25 M. 61=11 M.L.J. 233=3 Bom. L. R. 540=5 C.W.N. 866=28 I.A. 257 (P.C.)=2 Weir 271, F.) Where a person was convicted on a charge of being in illicit possession of opium, while the opium was found in his house during his absence: Held, that the conviction could not be sustained, inasmuch as the possession of the opium could not be attributed to him in the sense required by law. Where the lower Courts described a suggestion made by the accused's pleader as a daring attempt to mislead the Court, and it was found that the pleader was justified in making the suggestion. Held, that the lower Courts, apart from their own opinion upon it, ought not to have made the remark, which should be expunged from the record. LACHCHU v. EMPEROR, 15 Cr.L.J. 420=24 Ind. Cas. 156.

(46)—S. 9—Proof necessary for conviction.—The accused was charged with purchasing opium from unlicensed persons on the statement made by the accused to an Excise Darogha, who was directed by the Collector to question opium eaters in order to elicit information for the purpose of prosecuting unlicensed vendors, the accused did not admit the statement, held that the accused could not be convicted, as it had not been ascertained that the offence was actually committed. ATMAN SINGH v. EMPRESS, 19 P.R. 1890, Cr. [R., 13 P.R. 1894, Cr.]

(47)—S. 9—Manufacture of opium.—The conversion of opium into "Chandu," another form of intoxicating drug, is not the manufacture of opium. EMPRESS v. PIRANDITTA, 9 P.R. 1881, Cr.

(48)—S. 9—Illicit sale of opium—Evidence of sale.—Several persons were found in a house, and one of them was smoking chandu. On the premises were also found three pipes, two iron needles, one pair of tongs and a smoking pillow. The quantity of opium, however, found in the house was within the limit allowed by law. Held that the circumstances were not strong enough to warrant the presumption that chandu was being sold on the premises. MUSSAMMAT AJUBA v. KING-EMPEROR, 7 A.L.J. 25=11 Cr. L.J. 133=5 Ind. Cas. 450.

(49)—S. 9—Possession by one of excess quantity purchased for several persons—Legality of.—There is no rule allowing a person to possess opium purchased by another person, nor to possess opium in excess of the three tolas' weight which has been purchased for other persons or which has been handed over to him to carry. The law must be strictly construed and followed or its ends will be easily defeated. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. TAW WA, U.P.R. 1892—1896, Vol. 1, 137.

(50)—S. 9—Sentence for illegal possession of opium—Excessive.—It was not the intention of the Legislature to punish with severity trifling breaches of Opium Law. In this case a fine of Rs. 50, and in default one month's imprisonment for the illegal possession of one tola of opium was considered to be a very excessive sentence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA KAING, L.B.R. 1872-1892, 425.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1878 (Opium)—continued.

(51)—S. 9—Necessity for moderate punishment in certain cases.—On a conviction under this section, the punishment should, on considerations of fairness and common sense, be moderate in cases of confirmed opium-smokes from Burmese times for the continuance of a habit which has only recently been prohibited by a different Government. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SO, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 136.

(52)—S. 9—Moderate punishment, necessity for.—The accused was found in illegal possession of four tolas of opium and was sentenced to one month's rigorous imprisonment and to a fine of Rs. 100 and in default to a further period of three months' rigorous imprisonment. Held, the punishment was needlessly severe. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SHIVE LIN, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 368.

(53)—S. 9—Mere contemplation of violating a rule, whether punishable.—A person can be convicted for a breach of the rules framed under S. 9 of the Opium Act only when he does some act in contravention of such rule and not merely for contemplating such violation. In re P. VENKATACHALLAM CHETTI, 15 Cr. L.J. 667 = 25 Ind. Cas. 995.

(54)—S. 9—Rules 3 and 4 (1)—Manufacture of chandul by purchaser or opium for domestic use.—Reading rr. 3 and 4 (1) together, the intention must be held to permit the manufacture of chandul by a purchaser of opium from a licensed vender for his own (the purchaser's) domestic use from opium obtained from a licensed vendor. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KAGLO, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 676 = Cr. Rg. 42 of 1893.

(55)—S. 9—Illegal making over of opium—Selling of opium—Abetment of illegal possession of opium—Penal Code, s. 40.—The licensed cultivators of poppy employed another to prepare opium for them, giving him as remuneration $\frac{1}{4}$ of the juice extracted from the poppy-heads. The latter was thus in possession of $32\frac{1}{2}$ tolas of opium and was rightly convicted under s. 9. The licensed cultivators were convicted under s. 9 for selling opium. Held, that they could not be considered to have sold opium and were therefore not liable to be convicted under s. 9. Held, further that they were not liable to be convicted of abetment of possession of opium, as they were cultivators independent of each other, and as there was nothing to show the quantity made over by each of them. SHANKAR v. EMPRESS, 4 P.R. 1884, Cr.

(56)—S. 9—Sale of opium by servant of licensee.—In the absence of any prohibition in a license to sell opium granted under this Act against the employment of a servant to sell the same, a sale by a servant of the licensee on behalf of his master is not properly a sale of opium without a license, punishable under s. 9 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ZALIM, S.C. 285, Oudh.

(57)—S. 9—Liability of master for acts of servant.—Where the servant of a licensed opium vendor sold opium after sunset, contrary to the conditions of his master's license in his master's absence, and there was no evidence to show that the master had directly or otherwise authorised the illegal sale, the master was not liable to pay the penalty under s. 9 of Act I of 1878. In the matter of BHOOBUN CHUNDER SHAW, 11 C L.R. 464. [D., 1 N.L.R. 81; R., 13 C.L.R 336.]

(58)—S. 9—Neglect to keep accounts.—The rules made under the Opium Act do not make the neglect to keep accounts an offence punishable under the Act. In re TANGADU MARUO PATRO, 1 Weir 831.

(59)—S. 9—Breach of condition of license—Offence.—An infraction of a condition of a license cannot be considered an infraction of the rules and punishable under s. 9 of the Opium Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DATTER bin BALA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 860 = Cr. Rg. 24 of 1896.

(60)—S. 9—Form of charge.—In a charge under s. 9 of Act I of 1878, the rule under which the accused is charged should be specified clearly so that the accused may know precisely with what he is charged and may not be misled in his defence. MAJA SINGH v. EMPRESS, 10 P.R. 1888, Cr. MAHMUD v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 19 P.R. 1891, Cr.

(61)—S. 9—Commitment for an offence under s. 9 of the Act to the Sessions—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 29—A Sessions Judge has no jurisdiction over an offence under s. 9 of the Opium Act. The conviction under that section must be by a Magistrate. The latter is not, therefore, competent to commit the case to the Sessions. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SCHADE, 19 A. 465 = A.W.N. 1897 115. (1 W.R. 5, Cr., 5 M.H.C. 277, R.).

(62)—S. 9—Charges under s. 9—Specification of rule.—In framing charges under the Opium Act, the particular rule, alleged to have been infringed by the accused, rendering him liable to punishment under s. 9, should also be specified, no less than s. 9, which lays down the punishment for the breach of the several rules framed under the Act. MAHMUD v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 19 P.R. 1891, Cr.

(63)—S. 9—See ACT XIII OF 1857, s. 24, 24 C. 691.

(64)—S. 9—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 252, 243, 29 M. 372 = 4 Cr.L.J. 231.

(65)—S. 9—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 555, 15 A. 192, F.B = A.W.N. 1893, 79.

(66)—S. 9—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 556, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 400.

(67)—S. 9—See JOINT TRIAL, 113 P.L.R. 1906 = 4 Cr.L.J. 178.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1878 (Opium)—continued.

(68)—S. 9—See SENTENCE — JUVENILE OFFENDER, SENTENCES ON, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 330.

(69)—S. 9 (2)—Liability of cartman carrying opium seed.—Where accused No. 1 engaged accused No. 2 to carry illicit opium in his cart, held that, in the absence of proof that the accused knew that opium was transported in his cart, he was not guilty. QUEEN EMPRESS v. NARSIDAS, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 378 = Cr. Rg. 28 of 1888.

(70)—S. 9 (c)—Possession of opium beyond the prescribed quantity.—Any possession of opium beyond the prescribed quantity amounts to an offence under the Opium Act and Rules. It cannot be said that, when possession is on behalf of another, it is not possession within the meaning of the Opium Act and Rules. The offence consists in the possession of an amount beyond the prescribed amount, without reference to any question or to any alleged proprietary right to any portion of the opium. PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v. PELLURI RAMAYYA, 1 Weir 832.

(71)—S. 9, cl. (c)—Nature of possession of opium in contravention of Excise Law.—S. 9 (c) contemplates a criminal or guilty possession. In the case of a person charged with being in illicit possession of opium under this section, the fact that the opium was found in that portion of his dwelling-house, which was in his sole occupation, gives rise to a prima facie presumption of his guilty possession. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SALIM, S C. 236, Oudh. (S. C. 161, Oudh, F.)

(72)—S. 9 (c)—Presence in chandu den—Abetment of possessing more than the prescribed quantity of opium.—The fact of the presence of a person in a "chandu den" where several persons were smoking chandu, or even of his being found smoking there, could not warrant his conviction for abetment of the offence on the part of the master of the establishment of possessing chandu to a larger amount than that allowed by law. KING-EMPEROR v. CHOTE LAL, A.W N. 1901, 117.

(73)—S. 9, cl. (c)—Possession of opium, ingredients necessary to constitute—Whether crew of boat in which opium was found, could be said to be in possession of the opium.—For the purposes of an offence under s. 9, cl. (c) of the Opium Act (I of 1878), nothing is necessary beyond possession of the opium; no particular frame of mind of the person found in possession is necessary to constitute the offence. The mere fact that the accused were two of the crew of the boat in which contraband opium was found, is not sufficient to attribute to them possession within the meaning of s. 9 of the Opium Act. EMPEROR v. HAMID ALI, 37 C. 24 = 14 C.W.N. 308.

(74)—S. 9 (c)—Illegal possession—Severe punishments inadvisable.—Severe punishments for an offence under cl. (c) of this section are unsuitable in cases of possession by a Burman woman of a small quantity for her own use and in cases when Excise officers abet the commission of such offences. CRIMINAL REVISION CASE NO. 593 OF 1892, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 135.

(75)—S. 9 (c)—Smuggling—Necessity for fine and imprisonment.—When an accused person is convicted of an offence under the Opium Act under the conditions which lead the Magistrate to conclude that he is engaged in traffic in opium on a large scale or in transporting opium in considerable quantities, a substantive term of imprisonment may appropriately be awarded in addition to a substantial fine. When opium is smuggled or sold in large quantities, the profits are probably such that the prospect of a sentence of fine only does not act as a deterrent. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KUEIN KWUN, U B.R 1897—1901, Vol. I, 241. (U.B.R. 1892-1896, Vol. I, 139, D.).

(76 & 77)—S. 9 (c)—Burden of proof.—Where opium of any kind, and whether or not in excess of the prescribed maximum, is found in the possession of any person, and the legality of such possession is challenged by the Crown, the burden of proving that the possession was lawfully obtained lies on the person with whom the opium is found. EMPEROR v MUSSAMMAT GULBI, 17 C P.L.R. 75. (16 C.P.L.R 13, R.)

(78)—S. 9, cl. (c)—Possession of 'Beinchi' illegal.—'Beinchi' (or half-consumed opium), i.e, the remnant left in an opium pipe after once smoking, is itself a preparation of opium when retained for further use and its possession is therefore illegal under s. 9. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA THILA, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 133.

(79) S. 9 (c)—Opium Rules, 1910—Beinchi—Possession of three tolas legal, if bought from licensed vendor.—The Opium Rules, 1910, include beinchi in what is there called "defined opium," and allow the possession of such opium by a non-Burman up to three tolas in weight if brought by him from a licensed vendor. The ruling in Queen-Empress v. Thila (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 133, R.) no longer applies. EMPEROR v. AH PEIN SHOK, U.B.R. 1914, 1st Qr., 1 = 24 Ind. Cas. 844 = 15 Cr. L.J. 532.

(80)—S. 9 (c)—Servant's possession of opium, on master's behalf—Whether illegal—Conviction under s. 9 (c), Opium Act—Sustainability.—Mere possession by a Burman servant, on behalf of his master, a Chinaman, of three tolas of opium, is not illegal, and the servant cannot be convicted under the terms of s. 9 (c), Opium Act. KING-EMPEROR v. NGA PYA GYI, U.B.R. 1909, 2nd Qr., Opium, 1 (15 A. 27, 25 A. 262, 2 L.B.R. 136, U.B.R. 1897—1901, I, 1, 232, R)

(81)—S. 9 (c)—Servant's possession—Opium rules—Joint possession.—If the accused, a

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1878 (Opium)—continued.

Burman servant, had had the custody of no more than three tolas of opium, which his master was entitled to possess, it might have been found that he, although a Burman, had committed no breach of the Opium Rules on the ground that he was not in possession within the meaning of the law. But it is otherwise if the quantity of opium be more than three tolas. There is no provision in the Opium Rules for the possession of more than three tolas of opium by one man, nor for the joint possession of more than that quantity by several persons. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA KYAW GAUNG, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 232.

(82)—S. 9 (c)—Excessive opium found in a boat—Liability of the master and the crew.—Where 50 tolas of opium were found in a boat and there was nothing to show how the opium came there, the master of the boat was liable to be convicted under s. 9, but not the crew. CHEDI MALA v. KING-EMPEROR, 8 C.W.N. 349.

(83)—S. 9 (c) Possession—Opium found in accused's house.—Possession to be punishable must be possession with knowledge and assent. Where opium is found in an accused person's house, it must be shown that he was in possession of it, before he can be called upon to account for it under s. 10 of the Opium Act, in other words, that it was in his house with his knowledge and assent NGU PU v. EMPEROR, 13 Cr. L.J. 122 = 13 Ind Cas. 778 = 4 Bur. L.T. 270. (U.B.R. 1892—1896. I, 159; U.B.R. 1907—1909, 3rd Qr., Excise 1, 4 Ind. Cas. 898, 11 Cr. L.J. 77, F.)

(84)—S. 9 (c)—Possession—Person left in custody of a box—Knowledge that it contained opium.—Being in custody of a box of another, with knowledge that it contained opium, is to 'possess opium' within the meaning of s. 9 (c) of Act I of 1878. VENKATA VIZYAMMAL v. EMPEROR, 1911 M.W.N. 361.

(85)—S. 9 (c)—See MASTER AND SERVANT, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 232.

(86)—S. 9—See Nos. 8 to 11, 15 and 22 to 33, supra.

(87)—Ss. 9 (c) and 10—Possession of certain quantity of opium several days after last purchase, as recorded in consumption slip--Presumption of illegal possession of opium—Insufficient evidence.—An accused person was found in possession of only 3 tolas of opium on the 9th June, and it was proved, from his consumption slip, that he had purchased 3 tolas on the 4th June. It was presumed by the Magistrate that he must have consumed ½ a tola a day and that the 3 tolas found in his possession could not be opium bought from the Government. His defence was that he had borrowed opium from his friends, so that he had not consumed the opium he had bought from the shop on the 4th June. Held, that the presumption, under s. 10 of the Act, did not apply to a case of this kind, and that the Magistrate was not justified in drawing the inference, which he drew from the proved facts. KING-EMPEROR v. PAW YAN, 4 L.B.R 314. [R., 3 Bur.L.T. 82 = 11 Cr.L.J. 658 = 8 Ind. Cas. 461.]

(88)—Ss. 9 (c), 10—Holder of a mate's receipt—Constructive possession.—The holder of a mate's receipt is presumed, till the contrary is proved, to be in possession of the consignment covered by it. Under s. 10 where the accused is found in constructive possession of a package containing opium, he is bound to account satisfactorily for it and to prove that no offence is committed by him in respect of it. WAING SHWAN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U B.R., 1897—1901, Vol. I, 242. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 339, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 232, S J.L.B. 573, R.)

(89)—S. 9 (d)—Rule VIII of the Opium Rules, 1893—Taluqs formed separately—Transporting of opium—Pass from proper authorities.—Under Rule VIII of the Opium Rules of 1893, a farmer desiring to transport opium from one taluq to another of the same district must "when the taluqs of the district are farmed to different farmers" obtain a pass for each consignment from the officer in charge of the excise revenue of the district or from the Tahsildar of the Taluq. Where the taluqs of the districs are separately farmed, but only one person is the farmer of two of the taluqs, a person transporting opium from one of the taluqs to the other with permits signed by the farmer, and being found, in the course of transporating, in a place outside both the taluqs, has transgressed the rule. In re SARWARKHAN, 1 Weir 833.

(90)—S. 9 (e)—Importing opium.—The accused went on business into foreign territory and, while there. purchased one anna's worth of opium. He ate a portion of it there. and brought the rest in his turban into British territory. The Magistrate convicted him under s. 9 (e), Opium Act. The High Court reversed the conviction. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DHONDOO, Rat. Un. Cr 969 = Cr. C. Rg. 25 of 1898.

(91)—S. 9 (e)—Exporting opium—Parcel of opium tendered at Post Office—Seizure by Post Office—Not amounting to 'export'—Attempt to export—S. 511, I P.C.. not applicable.—B tendered a parcel containing opium at the Post Office at H for being despatched to Burma. The parcel was opened by the Postal authorities, marked 'doubtful' with a view to the identification of the consignee, and despatched it to Burma. The parcel not having been claimed was sent back to H. Held, that the parcel, having been seized by the Postal Officials before despatch, ceased to be in their hands on B's behalf and that it was not 'exported' by B. Held, also, that, though B doubtless attempted to export the parcel, that attempt was not punishable under s. 511, I.P.C. BOSTON v. CROWN, 2 P R. 1911, Cr. = 6 P.W.R. 1911 = 9 Ind. Cas. 682 = 12 Cr.L.J. 116 = 108 P.L.R. 1911.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1878 (Opium)—continued.

(92)—Ss. 9 and 10—Scope of the section.—The section provides that opium in respect of which an offence under the section is committed must be opium in the possession of the accused, although the possession need not be to the knowledge of the accused. The section is a penal one and must therefore be read plainly; the plain meaning is that if excessive opium is found in a man's possession, he is liable to be punished, unless he is able to account for it satisfactorily. CHEDI MALA v. KING-EMPEROR, 8 C.W.N. 349.

(93)—Ss. 9 and 10—Opium in the luggage of a child in charge of an adult—Presumption—Extent of punishment.—Where opium is found in the luggage of a child in charge of an adult, the presumption is that it is in the possession of the person in loco parentis to the child until the contrary is proved. The presumption under s. 10 should be imposed on the accused, only after giving him an opportunity to account for the possession of opium, and if he is then unable to account for it satisfactorily; and the punishment awarded under the Act should not be one beyond what the public interest demands. PIN YE v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 139. (S.J.L.B. 573, R.) [F., 11 Cr. L.J. 77=4 Ind. Cas. 898=U.B.R. 1909, III, Excise, p. 1, 13 Cr. L.J. 122=13 Ind. Cas. 778 =4 Bur. L.T. 270.]

(94)—Ss. 9 and 10—Presumption of guilt, rule of, in s 10—Meaning of—Circumstantial evidence of guilt.—In construing s. 10, Opium Act, some limitation must be placed upon the general words of the section, namely, "it shall be presumed, until the contrary is proved, that all opium for which the accused person is unable to account satisfactorily is opium in respect of which he has committed an offence under this Act." The effect of ss. 9 and 10 of the Opium Act seems to be that, when once it is proved that an accused person has dealt with opium in any of the ways described in s. 9, the onus of proving that he had a right so to deal with it is thrown upon the accused by s. 10. But the commission of an act which may be an offence must be proved before the presumption under s. 10 comes into play and the presumption cannot be used to establish the fact. Where the accused, after having purchased opium on behalf of his master, did not send it to the master's shop, but falsely said, when asked as to it, that the opium had been stolen. Held, these circumstances, though they raise a suspicion that the accused sold the opium, are not sufficient to prove that he had done so; and the rule of statutory presumption embodied in s. 10 of the Act does not apply and cannot be used to establish that fact. But as, on the facts proved, the accused might have been convicted of unlawful transport of opium, the conviction and sentence were not interfered with. ISHWAR CHANDRA SINGH v. EMPEROR, 37 C. 581=12 C.L.J. 19 =14 C.W.N. 710=6 Ind. Cas. 173=11 Cr.L.J. 256.

(95)—Ss. 9, 13—Fine—Power of Magistrate to distribute it among persons concerned in the detection.—A Magistrate is not competent to distribute fines among persons who may have been concerned in the detection of an offence under the Act. Rule No. 67, so far as it authorizes such payment is ultra vires. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANPAT, 13 P.R. 1894, Cr.

(96)—S. 9, Rule 16 and s. 14—Illegality of search, as a defence.—In this case the accused was prosecuted for being in possession of opium in excess of the quantity allowed by law. The accused pleaded that the discovery of the excess quantity was the result of an illegal search. Held, the fact that the discovery was the result of an illegal search cannot exonerate the accused from the criminal liability. CROWN v. NAHU, 11 P.R. 1906, Cr.=4 Cr. L J. 290=118 P.L.R. 1907. (37 P.R. 1880, Cr., R.).

(97)—S. 10—Interpretation of—"Possession," definition of the term—Proof of possession essential.—The terms "possession" implies knowledge on the part of the alleged possessor. A man has not the possession of that, of the existence of which he is unaware. Before an accused person is required to account for opium, there must be proof that such opium has been in his possession or under his control. QUEEN-EMPERSS v. CHIT AUNG, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 573.

(98)—S. 10—Satisfactory explanation of possession—Accused discharged of onus probandi.—Where an accused person gives an account of his possession of the opium, which, if true, is satisfactory, and there is no evidence to show that it is untrue, the burden of proving how he became possessed of the opium in question does not fall on him. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA CHAN E, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 597.

(99)—S. 10—Presumption — Onus.— Accused was tried for illegal possession of opium found on him on the 18th May, 1909. He counted for it by saying that he had purchased it from a licensed vendor. This fact was accepted by the prosecution, but they alleged that the date of his purchase was such that this explanation was not satisfactory. Held, that it lay upon the prosecution to prove that date, and only then, upon the accused failing to satisfactorily account for the large quantity of opium still in his possession on the date of his arrest, could any presumption be drawn against him under s. 10 of the Opium Act. EMPEROR v. PA, 8 Ind. Cas. 461=11 Cr. L.J. 658=3 Bur. L.T. 82. (4 L.B.R. 314, 9 Cr. L.J. 16, Cons.)

(100)—S. 10—Presumption in case of unlawful possession of opium.—Where a person, convicted of attempting to smuggle $5\frac{1}{2}$ seers of opium into the city of Lucknow for sale, was sentenced to two months' simple imprisonment and a fine of Rs. 50, the sentence was enhanced to two months' additional rigorous imprisonment, the Court pointing out that, although

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1878 (Opium)—continued.

s. 10 of the Act threw on the accused the burden of satisfactorily accounting for opium in his possession contrary to the provisions of the Act, the presumption against the accused is only a presumption which may be rebutted and that possession must be proved, as opium is not unfrequently maliciously placed in or upon a person's premises by an enemy, who, then, brings down the police to the spot where the opium is found, and as such finding does not prove the possession contemplated by law. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMDIN, S.C. 161, Oudh. [F., S.C. 236, Oudh.]

(101)—S. 10—Liability of common carriers under the section.—S.10 contains no reservation in favour of common carriers. One of the objects of enactments such as s. 10 is to induce persons like carriers, to exercise special vigilance in carrying on their business, and this would apply as much to a common carrier as to a carrier under a special contract. CHEDI MALA v. KING-EMPEROR, 8 C.W.N. 349.

(101-a)—S. 10—See Nos. 87, 88, 92, 93 and 94, supra.

(102)—S. 11— Confiscation of property—Proof—Appeal from order of confiscation.—Where a cart was hired by the accused and in the cart was found a bag containing opium belonging to the accused, held, that, the order for the confiscation of the cart was not legal, in the absence of evidence to show that the carter knew that the accused's bag contained opium and, even if he knew that there was opium in the bag, that the accused had no right to transport it. No appeal lies against an order of confiscation passed under s. 11 of the Opium Act. In re RAMANNA, 1 Weir, 835.

(103)—S. 11—Boat, unlawful user by hirer—Confiscation, without hearing owner.—An order of the Magistrate confiscating a boat under s. 11 of the Opium Act was set aside when such order was passed without giving the owner of the boat an opportunity of being heard. S. 11 of the Opium Act does not seem to contemplate that every receptacle in the nature of a ship or a house or a carriage in which a small quantity of opium may happen to be found is liable to confiscation ; liability arises from the owner of such conveyance using the conveyance for the purpose of transporting opium. SHAIKH ABDUL RAHMAN v. KING-EMPEROR, 15 C.W.N. 296 = 9 Ind. Cas. 587 = 12 Cr. L.J. 103.

(104)—S. 13—See Nos. 33 and 95, supra.

(105)—S. 14—See Nos. 9 and 96, supra.

(106)—Ss. 14, 15 and 16—Excise Act, s. 38—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 102 and 103—Search—Witnesses to search—Written information—Evidence.—S. 16 of the Opium Act lays down that searches under ss. 14 and 15 of that Act shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Under the Excise Act, it would appear from the wording of s. 38 of that Act, that it is not necessary for an Excise officer to conduct the search under the provisions of the Code of Criminal Procedure. It is objectionable to be constantly calling the same person to witness the search, and to do so is likely to prejudice the mind of a trying Magistrate against the prosecution. When searches are undertaken under the provisions of the Opium Act, neighbours or respectable houseowners near to the house searched, should be called in to witness the search. A written information is not evidence. If it is desired to make the matter contained in it evidence, a person who could directly testify to such matter should be produced as witness. MI HAUK v. KING-EMPEROR, 4 L.B.R. 121 = 14 Bur. L.R. 202 = 7 Cr. L J. 87. [R., 14 Bur. L.R. 81 = 7 Cr. L.J. 479 = 4 L.B.R. 213.]

(107)—S. 15—See No. 106, supra.

(108)—Ss. 15 and 19—Entry and search of boat between sunset and sunrise without warrant—Seizure of opium—Whether authorised—"In transit," meaning of—S. 15.—Opium which is being carried about from place to place in a boat is "in transit", although the boat is temporarily anchored or otherwise fastened. But, s. 15 of the Act does not authorise an officer to enter and search a boat, between sunset and sunrise, against the will of the person in charge of it, without a warrant from another officer authorised under s. 19 of the Act. KING-EMPEROR v. NAWZU, 5 L.B R. 56, F.B. = 2 Ind. Cas 546.

(109)—S. 19—Search—How to be made—Irregularity in search—Effect of evidence.—In conducting a search under this Act of premises occupied by the accused, the provisions of s. 103 of Code of Criminal Procedure are to be observed. The residents of the locality must be asked to be present and a list of property found should be made. The irregularity of the search will impair the value of the evidence regarding the discovery of opium. CRIMINAL REVISION NO. 871 OF 1892, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 135.

(110)—S. 16—See No. 106, supra.

(111)—S. 19—See Nos. 9 and 108, supra.

(111-a)—S. 39—License to sell muddut—Bengal Act IV of 1866.—The sale of muddut is regulated by Act I of 1878. Therefore, any license granted for the sale of muddut, will not be a license under ss. 36 and 37, Act IV of 1866. s. 39 of the Act applies, and, therefore, a license, from the Commissioner of Police is necessary for the sale of muddut. R. DAVIS v. KOYLAS CHUNDER GHOSE, 13 C.L.R. 336. (11 C.L.R. 464, R.)

(111-b)—S. 45—Strict compliance with legal preliminaries necessary before the search of house.—Before the house of a man is searched for the discovery of illicit opium, all the necessary preliminaries imposed by law must be strictly complied with, as opium cultivators are as much entitled to the possession of less than five tolas of opium as any other person. GOVERNMENT v. DHUNNOO, Book Cir. 3 of 1872.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1878 (Opium)—concluded.

(112)—Direction 71 - Obtaining opium by personation in excess of amount allowed by Excise Officer—Fraudulent act.—Where a person licensed to buy opium obtains from the licensed vendor, by personating a real or imaginary person, more opium than he would have got without such personation, he cannot be said to act dishonestly, as there would have been no wrongful gain or loss had the opium been sold to him. He does, however, act fraudulently, as his intention was to deceive the vendor and thereby obtain an advantage or privilege, which without such deception could not have been obtained. EMPEROR v. TAN KEP SI, 8 Ind. Cas. 596=3 Bur. L.T. 11.

(113)—Rule I, cl. XX—Presumption as to Burman when to be raised—Onus.—If the law declares that under certain conditions the burden of proof shall be shifted from the prosecution to the accused, the presence of all those conditions should be strictly proved. Before a presumption that a person is a Burman can be raised, it should be shown that he ordinarily wears Burman clothes and speaks Burmese as his vernacular. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA THA DUN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I. 144.

Act VI of 1878 (Treasure Trove).

[REP. IN PT., ACT XII OF 1891. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S 4.]

(1)—Ss. 4, 20—Coolies engaged by employer—Discovery by them of treasure in the course of performance of their work—Liability as 'finders'—Conviction under s. 20 of the Act - Validity—'Finder'—Meaning of the term.—Where two coolies, while engaged by their employers in the cutting of a tree, discovered, in the presence of their employers and several others, a box which, when opened before them, revealed treasure of value, and the box was removed by one of their employers who secretly disposed of them, and the coolies were prosecuted under s. 20 of the Treasure Trove Act and convicted. Held, that the coolies were 'finders' within the meaning of s. 4 of Act VI of 1878 and that they were rightly convicted under s. 20 of the same Act. In re MALA NAICKER, 27 M. L. J. 477=15 Cr.L.J. 632=25 Ind. Cas. 640.

(2)—S. 20—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 28—Offences under the Act—Jurisdiction of the third-class Magistrates.—Third-class Magistrates have no jurisdiction to try offences punishable under s. 20 of this Act. CRIMINAL REVISION CASE NO. 328 OF 1882, 2 Weir 23.

(3)—S. 20—See No. 1, supra.

(4)—Ss. 20, 21—See ABETTOR, 1 Weir 919.

(5)—S. 21—See No. 4, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1878 (Forest).

[REP. IN PT. (LOCALLY), ACT VI OF 1879; AM., ACT V OF 1890, SS. 2—14; AM., ACT XII OF 1891; REP. IN PT. AND AM., ACT V OF 1901; REP. (IN ASSAM), REG. VII OF 1891. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3; IN THE CHITTAGONG HILL-TRACTS, REG. I OF 1900, S. 4.]

(1)—Conviction—Reward—Crim. Pro Code, Act X of 1882, s. 545.—Where a conviction and sentence proceeds under the provisions of the Indian Forest Act, it is not competent to a Magistrate to pass an order of reward to the complainant for detecting the offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VITHU valad RAMJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 873=Cr. Rg. 48 of 1896.

(2-4)—Rules framed under the Act by Local Government—Conservator notifying periods and localities left unascertained by Government—Closing of forest for indefinite period—Misquoting of the section—Appeal.—A misquoting of the section of the Act under which a rule otherwise valid has been framed, does not render the rule void. When the Local Government has framed rules under the Forest Act, prohibiting hunting and shooting in reserved forests during such periods and in such portions as the Conservator may appoint, the Conservator, in notifying periods and localities left unascertained by the Local Government cannot be said to be exercising the authority delegated to the Local Government by the Act. A notification closing a forest for an indefinite period is not bad for indefiniteness, when it is not known at that time, how long it may be necessary to close the forest. BATES v. EMPRESS, 19 P.R. 1880, Cr.

(5)—Case challaned by Forest Department—Proceeding stopped by Magistrate—Effect—Further inquiry ordered by District Magistrate—See CRIM. PRO. CODE. 1898, ss. 249, 403, 437, 13 Cr.L.J. 860=9 P.R. 1913, Cr.=163 P.L.R. 1913.

(6)—S. 5—Trees cut from waste—Conviction—Land Revenue Code.—Where a person cuts trees in a plot marked as waste number, the prosecution should lie, not under the Forest Act, but under the Land Revenue Code or the Rules framed thereunder. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KOYA MAVJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 873=Cr. Rg. 49 of 1896.

(6-a)—S. 16—See MISCHIEF, 1 Weir 492.

(7)—S. 25—Summons case — Acquittal — Further enquiry—Revision—Crim. Pro. Codé (1898), s. 437.—In this case the accused was tried and acquitted by a Tahsildar of the offence under s. 25. The District Magistrate disagreeing with the decision of the Tahsildar sent the case for further enquiry to the Assistant Commissioner, Attock, who convicted the accused. The Sessions Judge declined to submit the case to the Chief Court for revision holding that the accused was tried in a summons case and could only be discharged, but could not be acquitted, and that the order directing further enquiry was not illegal. Held, that the order of the District Magistrate was illegal and that the view of the law taken by the Sessions Judge was erroneous. A case under s. 25 of the Forest Act is a "Summons case" and the Tahsildar, if he did not find the accused guilty, was bound to acquit him, and no order under s. 437, Crim. Pro. Code, directing further enquiry, could be passed. The order of the District Magistrate and conviction and sentence were set aside. AMIR KHAN v. EMPRESS, P.L.R. 1900, Cr., p. 50=19 P.R. 1900, Cr.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1878 (Forest)—continued

(8)—S 25—Levy of pound fines under Act I of 1871—Prosecution for an offence under s. 25, Forest Act.—The levy of pound fines under Act I of 1871, s. 12, in respect of an offence of allowing cattle to trespass in a reserved forest is not a punishment, and does not, therefore, bar a prosecution, under s. 25 of the Forest Act. EMPRESS v. GHAZI, 19 P.R 1885, Cr. [R., 19 P.R. 1900, Cr.]

(9)—S 25—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 437, 19 P.R. 1900, Cr.=P.L.R. 1900, p. 50.

(10)—S. 25 (1) – Shooting in reserved forest.—A conviction recorded under s. 25 (1) of the Forest Act, for shooting in a reserved forest in contravention of any rules which the Local Government from time to time prescribes, is illegal where no such rules have been passed by the Government. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HANMANTA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 684=Cr. Rg. 50 of 1893.

(11)—S. 25, cl. (b)—Permitting cattle to trespass — What amounts to trespass punishable under the Act—Test.—The question whether the owner of cattle, whose animals trespass in a reserved forest, is criminally liable for committing an offence under s. 25, cl. (b), Forest Act, 1878, depends upon the whole circumstances of each particular case. In a great many cases, the question will resolve itself into, 'did he or did he not take proper precautions to prevent such trespass,' and it does not depend upon the presence or absence of the owner at the moment. CROWN v. SAMANDAR NATHU, 16 P R. 1909, Cr.=40 P.W.R 1909, Cr =4 Ind. Cas. 866.

(12)—S. 25 (c)—Possession of flint or steel.—The mere possession of a flint or steel within forest limits does not constitute an offence under s. 25 (c) of Act VII of 1878. EMPEROR v. RANCHHOD KHUSAL, 4 Bom L R 935.

(13)—S. 25 (d)—Trespass in reserved forest—Human being—The trespass of a human being in a reserved forest is punishable under s 25 (d) of the Indian Forest Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. UMDYA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 602=Cr. Rg. 21 of 1892.

(14)—S. 25, cl. (i)—Hunt—Interpretation.—The accused was sitting in a reserved forest in a bhoja, or specially prepared screen devised for hunting, and had by his side a loaded gun. He was sitting there with the intention of hunting. Upon these facts he was proceeded against under s. 25, cl. (i), Forest Act, 1878, for hunting in a reserved forest without a license:—Held, that the accused was hunting within the meaning of s. 25, cl (i), Forest Act, 1878. The word "hunt" is used intransitively in s. 25, cl (i) of the Act. EMPEROR v. MALU HIRU BAGARA, 12 Bom. L. R. 520=7 Ind. Cas. 450 =11 Cr. L. J. 486.

(15)—Ss. 25, 32 (a)—Protected forest—Felling a tree without permission—Damage to the protected forest—Compensation for the damage.—There is no provision, either in the Act or the rules framed thereunder, to award compensation for damages in respect of the protected forest. EMPEROR v. KARIANNA HULIANNA, 8 Bom. L. R. 987=5 Cr.L.J. 9.

(16)—Ss. 25 and 54—Conviction under the Act—Order for confiscation.—An order for confiscation cannot be regarded as an order incidental on a conviction under the Act. The confiscation is by the terms of s. 54 declared to be a punishment, for it is in addition to any other punishment prescribed for the offence. Being a punishment, the order for confiscation should be passed simultaneously with the punishment for the offence. AINUDDI SHEIKH v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 27 C. 450. (4 A. 417, R.)

(17)—Ss. 25 and 63—Forest offence—Court-fees—Court Fees Act, s. 31.—Where persons convicted of an offence under the Forest Act, were each sentenced to pay a fine of thirteen annas, or in default to suffer one day's simple imprisonment, and all of them were ordered to pay annas five as compensation for the loss of Forest fuel or wood and Re. 1-4 as Court fee expenses under s. 31 of the Court Fees Act, held that the order as to payment of Court-fees was not a valid order, as offences under s. 25 of Act VII of 1878 are, under s. 63, of the kind for which Police officers may arrest without warrant. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOPAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 695=Cr. Rg. 25 of 1894.

(18)—Ss 25 and 66—Theft of wood from Government Forest, to which Forest Act does not apply—Penal Code, s. 379—In the absence of anything in a Special Act (like the Forest Act) to exclude the operation of the general criminal law, an intention on the part of the legislature to exclude it should not be inferred. Further s. 66 negatives any such intention. Theft of wood from a Government forest, to which the Forest Act had not been applied, is punishable under the Penal Code. EMPRESS v. IMAN BAKSH, 10 P.R. 1885, Cr. (22 P.R. 1876, Cr., disappr.)

(19)—Ss. 25, 75—Sentence—Payments of rewards out of fines and confiscations.—The payment of rewards out of fines and confiscations is not a part of the sentence, but is a matter for the Executive Government to deal with, in the exercise of the power vested in them by the rules framed under the Act. These rules give the Government the power to pay one half of the proceeds of fines and confiscations by way of reward without any order of the convicting Court, but more than one half cannot, however, be paid unless the Magistrate so directs. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MOGHJI KUKA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 960 = Cr. Rg. 13 of 1898.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1878 (Forest)—continued.

(20)—Ss. 28, 29-a, 31, 32, 34—Cutting trees reserved in protected forest.—In acquitting an accused convicted of cutting trees reserved in a protected forest under s. 29-a, held that a protected forest may be notified either under s. 28 or s. 34, but the powers under both those sections are restricted to lands which are forest or waste lands. Whatever liability the accused might be under in regard to the provisions of any other law, he could not be convicted under s. 32 of the Act, for, the land which formed part of a survey number in an occupant's holding and which was assessed, was not shown to be within the class of lands to which the powers of Government under ss. 28, 29 and 34 of the Forest Act applied. EMPEROR v. SHESHAGIRI RAO VITHAL RAO, 7 Bom. L.R. 462 = 2 Cr.L. J. 437.

(20-a)—S. 29—See No. 20, supra.

(20-b)—S. 31—See No. 20, supra.

(21)—S. 32—Notification No. 58, dated the 26th January, 1897.—Held, that the Forest Act, 1878, is one curtailing the proprietary rights of individuals, and the Act and the notifications under it must be construed strictly where the rights of individuals are trenched upon. CHATAR SINGH v. EMPEROR, 55 P.L. R. 1901.

(22)—S. 32—Cutting down forest trees—Conviction under forest Act and under s. 447, I.P.C.—Legality—See PENAL CODE, s. 447, 11 A.L.J. 340 = 14 Cr.L.J. 424 = 20 Ind. Cas. 408.

(23)—S. 32 (a), (b), (c)—Protected forest—Quarrying stone under orders of Public Works Department — Offence — See PENAL CODE, ss. 79, 40, 114, 14 Bom. L. R. 365 = 15 Ind. Cas. 802 = 13 Cr.L.J. 530 = 1 Bom. Cr. Cas. 128.

(24)—S. 32—See No. 15, supra.

(25)—Ss. 32, 54, 55—Theft of timber or forest produce—Conviction for—Order of confiscation—Legality—Sale proceeds to be credited to Forest Department—Handing over of stolen property to Forest Officer in specie—Proper procedure.—Where certain persons were convicted of a forest offence under s. 32, Act VII of 1878, with respect to certain timber or forest produce which was not wholly Government property, and where the timber or forest produce with reference to which the offence was committed was ordered to be confiscated and sold and the sale-proceeds credited to the Government. Held, that the order of confiscation was quite legal under s. 54 of the Forest Act, that, under s. 55, the sale-proceeds must go to the Government in the Forest Department, and that the Magistrates should always make over the timber or forest produce in specie to the Forest Officer. CROWN v. SADAPUR, 1 P R. 1912 (Cr.) = 37 P.L.R. 1912 = 13 Cr. L.J. 172 = 13 Ind. Cas. 924.

(26)—S. 34—See No. 20, supra.

(27)—S. 41 — Omission to return pass—Offence.—There is no rule made under s. 41 of the Forest Act, for the Khandesh District, which requires holders of passes to return them, and the omission to return a pass is not therefore an offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. UMEDA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 500.

(28)—S. 41 (Rules 21, 26)—Compensation in addition to imprisonment—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 545 (1).—Where a person is convicted of an offence under rules 21, 26, framed under s. 41, Forest Act, 1878, compensation cannot be awarded in addition to the imposition of fine. EMPEROR v. RAJUBHAI CHANDBHAI, 5 Bom. L.R. 126.

(29)—Ss. 45 and 51— Conviction under s. 51, when can be had. — Before a person can be legally convicted of a breach of the rules framed under s. 51, it must be shown that the timber of which he was found in possession, was timber that has gone below the catching places, that is to say, drift or stranded timber. Though the possession of unmarked timber within the area specified by the Local Government under s. 45 may be sufficient to establish that the timber was the property of the Government, yet it would not be sufficient to convict a person under s. 51. CHOGHUTTA v. EMPRESS, 13 P.R. 1883, Cr.

(30)—S. 51—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 260, 128 P.L.R. 1902.

(31)—S. 51—See No. 29, supra.

(32)—Ss. 52, 73—Sub- Assistant Conservator of Forests—Seizure and detention of timber—Want of a valid pass.—Where a Sub-Assistant Conservator of Forest seized timber under the suspicion that it was property stolen from the Government forests, held that he could justify the seizure on the ground of the commission of a forest offence arising from the want of a valid pass. According to s. 52, Forest Act (VII of 1878), a forest officer cannot justify the detention of goods on the ground of an offence against the forest laws, where he had not taken the course which that section prescribes of taking the matter before a Magistrate. WAMAN RAMCHANDRA GAUNDE v. DIPCHAND BALKISHAN, 15 B. 229.

(33)—S. 54—See Nos. 16 and 25, supra.

(34)—Ss. 54 and 55—Confiscation of forest produce, the property of Government—Power to confiscate.—No confiscation order is necessary, or can be made, in respect of forest produce, which is the property of Government, and regarding which a forest offence has been committed. All that need be done is, to direct that it should be taken by some forest officer. It is only in respect of forest produce with regard to which an offence has been committed, that power to direct confiscation is given by law. Such an order, regarding forest produce not belonging to Government, can only be made at the time when the offender is convicted. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. NATHU KHAN, 4 A. 417 = A.W.N. 1882, 93. [F., 27 C. 450.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1878 (Forest)—continued.

(35)—Ss. 54, 76—Reward—Forest produce.—Since there can be no legal confiscation of Government property, a reward cannot be paid out of such property. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. TULAJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 620 = Cr. Rg. 44 of 1892.

(36)—S. 55—Disposal of property.—Under s. 55, Forest Act, the property, regarding which an offence is committed, should be awarded to Government. EMPEROR v. MAHOMMED SHEKUBHAI, 5 Bom. L.R. 124.

(37)—S. 55—Government Forest produce, offence relating to—Proper order.—When the forest produce, in respect of which an offence is committed, is found to be the property of Government, the only order which the Magistrate can legally make regarding it, under s. 55 of the Indian Forest Act, is that it should be taken charge of by a Forest Officer. An order for its sale and the payment of a reward to the informer from its proceeds is therefore illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMAJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 361 = Cr. Rg. 3 of 1888.

(38)—S. 55—See Nos. 25 and 34, supra.

(38-a)—S. 56—Forfeiture for forest offence when a good title has vested in a third person.—Under the orders issued by the Collector of Kandesh, certain Bhils entered the forest, brought from it teak logs under the customary passes, and sold them in open market to applicants who purchased in good faith. The Government sought to forfeit them on the ground that a forest offence had been committed in respect of them, inasmuch as the permission under which the Bhils acted, only allowed them to cut deadwood and the logs did not fall under the description. Held, ordering the logs to be restored to the custody of purchasers, that it was clear from the terms of s. 56 that a forfeiture was not a consequence of a forest offence, under the conditions stated in that section, where a good title has vested in a third person. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHAU VEDU PATIL, 2 Bom. L.R. 675.

(39)—S. 58—Crim. Pro. Code (1872), s. 297—Revision by High Court of an order of a subordinate tribunal under s. 58 of Forests Act, VII of 1878.—The terms of s. 58 of the Forests Act do not exclude the ordinary revisional powers of the High Court over a subordinate tribunal in the exercise of its criminal jurisdiction, where there had been a judicial proceeding. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. NATHU KHAN, 4 A. 417 = A.W.N. 1882, 93.

(40)—S. 63—See No. 17, supra.

(41)—Ss. 64, 41, r. 26—Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, ss. 222, 223—Pass for forest produce belonging to Government—General charge.—An inamdar, the owner of a forest, obtained in October 1891, a book of passes authorising him to issue the same for the transit of forest produce belonging to himself. Between October 1891 and March 1892, he issued 50 of these passes covering forest produce exceeding altogether 10 khandis; of these, about one khandi may have belonged to the inamdar and the rest, it was presumed, belonged to Government, but it could not be made out what particular pass or passes covered the produce belonging to the inamdar. He was convicted, in respect of forest produce over and above his own, under ss. 411 and 109, I.P.C., and r. 26 of the Rules passed under s. 41 of the Forest Act, the charge being framed in general terms with reference to all the transactions between October 1891 and March 1892. Held that the conviction under r. 26 could not be sustained, there being no express prohibition in r. 3 against issuing such passes for forest produce belonging to Government, and r. 13 not applying to the case. Held, further, that the general charge as framed by the Magistrate was correct. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. WAMAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 659 = Cr. Rg. 24 of 1893.

(42)—S. 66—See No. 18, supra.

(43)—S. 67 (2) Receipt of compensation by officer not empowered—Legality of prosecution.—Where compensation for grazing cattle in a reserved forest is received by an officer not empowered to do so, such receipt does not in strict law bar a prosecution for the offence. "Such officer" in s. 67 (2) of the Forest Act means an officer empowered. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 591 = Cr. Rg. 6 of 1892.

(44)—S. 69—Cattle Trespass Act, I of 1871, s. 11—Cattle straying in reserved forest.—If cattle were found straying in a reserved forest, the seizure of the same would be legal even if no damage had actually been done, inasmuch as s. 69 of the Forest Act makes s. 11 of the Cattle Trespass Act applicable to forests. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BABAJI LAXMAN, 22 B. 933.

(45)—S. 73—See No. 32, supra.

(46)—S. 75, interpretation of—Excise law—Confiscation in the owner's absence.—The boat, in which excisable articles are carried in contravention of the excise law, should not be confiscated under the provisions of s. 75, unless it is found that the owner of the boat was in some way implicated in the offence under the excise law. GOLAP SAHA v. EMPEROR, 12 C.W.N. 139.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1878 (Forest)—continued.

(47)—S. 75, r. 1—Order of Court.—Under Rule 1 of the rules framed under s. 75 of the Forest Act, one half of the fine imposed is payable as reward without any order of the convicting Court. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ADIVAYA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 622=Cr. Rg. 46 of 1892.

(47-a)—S. 75, r. (1)—Apportionment of reward.—It is not competent to a Magistrate to order a reward to be less than half the amount of the fine. When the reward is to be distributed among more than one person, the apportionment vests in the Conservator of Forests. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ADEVEPPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 610=Cr. Rg. 31 of 1892.

(48)—S. 75, rr. 3, 13, 26—Pass-book—Contractor—Authority.—Of the rules framed under the Forest Act, r. 3, prohibits the removal of forest produce beyond certain limits without a pass from the Conservator or some person duly authorised in that behalf under r. 13. Held that a contractor under the Forest Department, to whom the Forest officer has given a pass-book containing passes bearing the office seal with an endorsement that he might thereby remove timber, was sufficiently authorised under r. 13 to issue passes. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BALVANTRAO, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 424=Cr. Rg. 88 of 1888.

(49)—S. 75—See No. 19, supra.

(50)—Ss. 75, 76—Offence under the section, what constitutes.—The offence under s. 75 of the Forest Act is only committed, under the express terms of the Act and rules, when the trees cut are the property of Government. The Court, before convicting, is bound to satisfy itself of Government proprietary rights in the usual modes and by means of the usual materials recognised in Courts of Justice. The declared opinion of the Executive Government merely as such can have no more weight with the Court than that of the humblest of Her Majesty's subjects. In re ANTAJI KESHAV TAMBE, 18 B. 670. [F., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 828.]

(51)—S. 76—See Nos. 35 and 50, supra.

(52)—S. 78—Penal Code, s. 187—Refusal to serve as member of panch.—A person refusing to serve as member of a panch appointed for the purpose of drawing a panchnama with reference to certain wood alleged to have been illegally cut in the reserved forests, was held not to be liable to be convicted under s. 187, I.P.C., as he was not shown to be a person contemplated in the provisions of the first three paragraphs of s. 78 of Act VII of 1878, and as the purpose for which he was called upon to give his assistance was also not one of the purposes mentioned in clauses (a) and (b) of that section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BABAJI, 22 B. 769.

(53)—S. 78—Duty of malguzar—Public servant—Assault—See PENAL CODE, ss. 21, 353, 9 Ind. Cas. 669.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1878 (Forest)—concluded.

(54)—S. 172—Forest officer, whether a public servant—Penal Code, s. 182.—Under s. 172, Forest Act, the Forest officer is a public servant within the meaning of the Indian Penal Code. Any false information given to him with the intent mentioned in s. 182, I.P.C., is punishable under that section, whether that information is volunteered by the informant, or given in answer to questions put to him by that officer. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMJI SAJABA RAO, 10 B. 124.

Act VIII of 1878 (Sea Customs).

[AM., ACT IX OF 1885, SS. 5, 6; AM., ACT II OF 1887, SS. 1—4; AM., ACT IV OF 1889, S. 10 (AS AMENDED BY ACT IX OF 1891, S. 3 AND S. 11); AM., ACT VIII OF 1889, SS. 1, 2; AM., ACT IX OF 1891, S. 3; AM., ACT XII OF 1891; AM., ACT VIII OF 1894, S. 11; S. 18 (E) REP. IN PT., ACT XVI OF 1904; SUPPLEMENTED, ACT VIII OF 1896; APPLIED WITH MODIFICATIONS, ACT II OF 1896; APPLICATION OF S. 150 EXTENDED, ACT XIII OF 1890, S. 9; DECLARED IN FORCE—(SS. 144—154) IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—Ss. 8, 18 (d)—See TRADE MARK, 4 C. L J. 268=10 C.W.N. 107.

(2)—S. 18—See TRADE MARK, 1 Weir 557=1 Weir 821.

(3)—S. 18—See No. 1, supra.

(4)—S. 19—See BOM. ACT V OF 1878, ss. 3 (10), 9 and 43, 11 Bom. L.R. 221=33 B. 380=1 Ind. Cas. 343.

(5)—Ss. 76, 167 (30)—Master of ship allowing boat-load to leave vessel without boat-note.—On reading ss. 76 and 167 (30) together, there is no doubt as to its being the duty of the master to see that each boat-load is accompanied by a boat-note specifying the number of packages sent and the marks and numbers or other descriptions thereof. It is further provided that each such note shall be signed "by an officer of the vessel." A duty is thus on the master of the vessel to see that no boat-load leaves his vessel without a boat-note. Failure to discharge this duty is punishable under s. 167 (30). In re EUSOOF, 1 Weir 897.

(6)—S. 79—Cargo Boat rules of the Rangoon Port, r. I—License for Cargo Boats—'Plying,' meaning of—"Plying for landing and shipping of merchandise within the port."—The word "ply" in r. I, of the Cargo Boat Rules of the Rangoon Port does not necessarily mean 'to ply for hire' but it means 'to do an action repeatedly.' The words in the rule "cargo boats which ply for the landing and shipping of merchandise within the port" need not be restricted in meaning to both landing and shipping merchandise within the port. They mean boats which ply for the landing and boats which ply for shipping, or both. MAUNG PO HLA v. EMPEROR, 12 Cr.L.J. 476=12 Ind. Cas. 84.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1878 (Sea Customs)—concluded.

(7)—S. 167—See No. 5, supra.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms).

[REP. IN PT., ACT XII OF 1891. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SONTHAL PARGANNAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 5; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XII OF 1898, S. 4.]

See ACT XXXI OF 1860.

(1)—Air-gun not adapted for use with explosives—Whether it comes under definition of arms—Tariff Act (No XI of 1882).—Where an air-gun was found to be similar to the 'gem' air gun which are not adapted for use with explosive substances and which have been classed as toys by the Government for the purposes of the Tariff Act, held, that the air-gun in this case was a toy and did not come under the definition of arms within the meaning of the Arms Act. EMPEROR v. MAUNG SHWE THET, 4 Cr. L.J. 239.

(2)— Sub Inspector, not of the 1st grade, presented by Government with a revolver, going armed with dagger—Whether offence.—A Sub-Inspector of Police, not of the 1st grade, who has been presented by Government with a six chambered revolver, was charged under the Arms Act of going armed with a dagger without a license. Held, that the exemption under cl. (18) of paragraph 1 of Notification No. 518 of 1879 covered a dagger also and that the Sub-Inspector committed no offence by the possession of the dagger. NGA KAING v. KING-EMPEROR, U.B.R. 1907, 4th Qr., Arms, 1. (U. B.R. 1897-1901, I, 1, R.)

(3)—Case not tried under Arms Act or Explosives Act—Re-trial not asked for—Conviction under either of the Acts—Legality.—Where a case might properly have been tried under the Arms Act or the Explosives Act, but the public prosecutor did not ask the High Court to order a re-trial, the High Court cannot convict the accused under either of those two enactments without a fresh trial. EMPEROR v. JOSEPH KANGANI, 8 M.L.T. 296=8 Ind. Cas. 397=11 Cr.L.J. 645.

(4)—See C. P. ACT II OF 1904, s. 8, sub-s. 1 (a) and sub-s. 3, 4 N.L.R. 134.

(5)—S. 1, cl. (b) and s. 5—Sale of arms by public servant in execution of decree whether covered by s. 1, cl. (b), Arms Act—Act XIV of 1882, Crim. Pro. Code, s. 226.—Held that the sale of arms by the Nazir of the Court, in execution of a decree, is a sale by a public servant in discharge of his duty, and, therefore, excluded by s. 1, cl. (b), from the operation of the Arms Act, XI of 1878; it would be a proper thing for the Court ordering the sale to give notice of the sale and of the purchaser's name and address contemplated by s. 5 of the Act. WALA HIRAJI v. HIRA PATEL, 9 B. 518.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(6)—S. 4—Term "Arms" defined—Parts of arms—Chavies.—There is no exhaustive definition in the Arms Act, of the expression "arms" which, though necessarily including the articles specified in the section, may also be held to apply to other instruments or weapons. Where the circumstances of a case show that a weapon or instrument is carried or possessed for the purpose of offence or defence and not as an article of domestic or agricultural utility, there is no reason why such weapon or instrument should not be held to fall within the category of "Arms." The word "arms" in s. 4 includes parts of arms and, therefore, chavies may be "arms" within the meaning of the Arms Act. EMPRESS v. KESAR SINGH, 20 P.R. 1900, Cr. =33 P.L.R. 1901.

(7)—S. 4—Arms, definition of—Sword-stick if sword.—A sword-stick is a sword sheathed in a cane-stick and comes within the definition of arms in s. 4 of the Indian Arms Act. Whatever can be used as an instrument of attack or defence, for cutting as well as for thrusting, and is not an ordinary implement for domestic purposes, comes within the meaning of the statute. EMPEROR v. SATISH CHANDRA ROY, 34 C. 749=6 C.L.J. 751=11 C.W.N. 971=6 Cr. L.J. 227. [F., 16 P.R. 1910, Cr.=91 P.L.R. 1910=23 P.W.R. 1910, Cr.=6 Ind. Cas. 952= 11 Cr. L.J. 421.]

(8)—S. 4— "Arms," definition of—Cook's knife, whether an arm.—The purpose for which an implement is primarily intended regulates whether it should be considered an arm or not. A cook's knife is not an arm. The accused's conduct in manufacturing a sheath for the knife to enable him to conveniently carry it about with him, does not convert it into an arm, unless the character of the knife is altered, e.g., by grinding it so as to make it double edged. KING-EMPEROR v. AUNG BA, 5 L.B.R. 130. (1 L.B.R. 271, 3 L.B.R. 1, F.)

(9)—S. 4—Empty cartridge case—Ammunition.—Empty cartridge case is ammunition as defined by s. 4 of the Arms Act, the possession of which is an offence. BALDEO SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR. 7 A L J. 102=4 Ind. Cas. 405=10 Cr L.J. 573=32 A. 152. (7 Bom. L.R. 474, F.) [F., 17 O.C. 92.]

(10)—S. 4—Revolver, with its trigger out of order, if fire-arm—A revolver, the trigger of which is out of order, is a fire-arm within the meaning of the Arms Act. In such cases, the question is not so much whether the particular weapon is serviceable as a fire-arm, but whether it has lost its specific character and has so ceased to be a fire-arm. Whether, in any particular case, the instrument is a fire-arm or not is a question of fact to be determined according to the circumstances. QUEEN EMPRESS v. JAYARAMU REDDI, 21 M. 360=1 Weir 659, F.B. [F, 148 P.L.R. 1908=6 P R. 1908, Cr. =14 P.W.R. 1908, Cr., 5 Cr. L.J. 435=3 N.L. R. 53 ; R., 11 Cr. L. J. 421=6 Ind. Cas. 952= 16 P.R. 1910=91 P.L.R. 1910=23 P.W R. 1910, Cr., 72 P.W.R. 1910, 1 S.L.R. 18=9 Cr. L. J. 259.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(11)—S. 4 — Possession of gun-barrel and nipple.—The term "arms" includes part of arms. Therefore, the possession of a gun-barrel and nipple without a license, in serviceable condition, is an offence under s. 19 (f). QUEEN v. VYAPURI KANGANI, 7 M. 70=1 Weir 658. [R., 12 C.P.L.R. 8, Cr., 3 N.L.R. 53.]

(12)—S. 4—Dashi-upyat, whether an arm.—It is the intention of the manufacturer, and not of the possessor of a weapon as to the use to which it is to be put, which determines whether a weapon is an arm or not. A dashe-upyat of the usual type is primarily intended for domestic and agricultural purposes and is not an arm within the meaning of the Arms Act. KING-EMPEROR v. HAMYIT, 5 L.B.R. 207=3 Bur. L. T. 91=8 Ind. Cas. 972.

(13)—S. 4 (3)—Battle-axe, whether an arm.—The word "includes" in s. 4 (3) is clearly not intended to be exhaustive. A battle-axe is an arm for the purposes of Act XI of 1878. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 4TH SEPT. 1879, NO. 1424, 1 Weir 654.

(14)—Ss. 4, 5 and 9—Manufacture or possession of fire-work—Rockets.—The manufacture or possession of fire works, including rockets which are mere fire-works, does not come within the prohibition of s. 5 of the Arms Act. The rockets referred to in s. 4 under the definition "ammunition" are war-rockets QUEEN v. SUPPI, 5 M. 159=1 Weir 655. [D., 8 M. 202.]

(15)—Ss. 4, 13—"Going armed" meaning of.—A person, who appears in a public place or issues from his own property or abode, having about his person a weapon of the sort described in s. 4, and not covered by a license, goes armed within the meaning of s. 13 of the said Act. The phrase "going armed" is not to be restricted to the meaning, carrying or bearing arms in the manner usual for the particular weapon in view. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SHWE TON, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 284.

(16)—Ss. 4, 14—Gun-barrel in good order is a fire-arm.—An old-fashioned muzzle-loading gun-barrel in good condition and with the touch-hole in good order is a fire-arm within the meaning of s. 14. There is nothing in s. 14 inconsistent with s. 4. "Fire-arms" in s. 14 includes parts of fire-arms. EMPEROR v. DHANSINGH, 3 N L.R. 53=5 Cr. L.J. 435. (12 C.P.L.R. 10, Diss.)

(17)—Ss. 4, 14 and 19 (f)—Gun-barrel.—A gun-barrel, so long as it can be used as a gun-barrel, is an arm within the definition of the Arms Act, s. 4, because it is a part of a fire-arm. But it is not a "fire-arm" within the meaning of s. 14 of this Act, nor is it one of the other articles mentioned in the section. EMPRESS v. BARWAR TELI, 12 C.P.L.R. Cr. 10.

(17-a)—Ss. 4, 14, 19 (6), 20—'Fire-arms,' whether includes parts of fire-arms—Possession of part of fire arms—Manufacture of fire-arms—Penal Code, ss. 109, 116, 120-B—Punishment on conviction under s. 120-B — Abetment — Joinder of charges—Transaction—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 239.—Unless there is something repugnant in the subject or context, wherever the word "arms" occurs in the Indian Arms Act, it has got to be read as including "parts of arms." By s. 4 of the Act the word "arms" also includes "fire-arms" Therefore, the word "fire-arms" as used in s. 14 includes "parts of fire-arms." The word "fire-arms" only means "arms that are fired by means of gun-powder or other explosive." Possession of parts of fire-arms is prohibited by s. 14 read with s. 4, Arms Act. (27 C. 692=4 C.W.N. 750, 5 Cr. L.J. 435=3 N L.R. 53, F.) An offence under s. 20, Arms Act, is different from an offence mentioned in s. 19 (6). The only additional element necessary to constitute an offence under s. 20 is that the possession should be in such manner as to indicate an intention that such act may not be known to any public servant. The keeping of arms under s. 19 (a), Arms Act, must be a keeping for sale, not keeping only. The term "transaction" in s 239 of the Crim. Pro. Code is not synonymous with the term "offence." A "transaction" cannot be said to be complete as soon as the offence is committed. It is clear that so long as the conspiracy continues the transaction which began with the forming of the common intention continues. (26 Ind. Cas. 307, F.) For an offence under s. 120-B, Penal Code, punishment is provided by s. 109 of the Code, if an offence has been committed ; but if an offence has not been committed, punishment is limited to the extent provided by s. 116. Perhaps, strictly speaking, in the former case there should not be a conviction for conspiracy but for abetment of an offence, for conspiracy followed by an act done to carry out the purpose of the conspiracy amounts to abetment. HARASH NATH CHATTERJEE v. EMPEROR, 16 Cr. L.J. 9=26 Ind. Cas. 313.

(18)—Ss. 4 and 19—Sword hilt, whether "arm."—The expression "arms" includes "parts of arms." Sword hilts are, therefore, "arms" within the meaning of the Act. NURDIN v. EMPRESS, 38 P.R.1889, Cr [R., 148 P.L.R. 1908, Cr.=14 P.W.R. 1908=6 P.R. 1908=7 Cr. L.J. 350.]

(19)—Ss. 4, 19—Revolver out of repair, whether an arm within Act—Possession of such weapon without license, whether an offence under Act.—A revolver, even if it is out of repair, is none the less an arm, within the definition of

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

s. 4 of the Arms Act, and a person in possession of such a weapon, without a license, is guilty of an offence under s. 19 of the Act. KING-EMPEROR v. SAMIULLAH, 6 P.R. 1908, Cr. =14 P.W R 1908, Cr. =7 Cr. L.J. 350=148 P.L.R. 1908. (38 P.R. 1889, Cr., 6 M. 60, F.B., R.; 21 M. 360, F.B., F.; 24 A. 454, D.)

(20)—Ss. 4, 19—Unserviceable fire-arms, possession of, without license.—In including parts of arms in the meaning of arms, the Legislature intended to provide against the importation and retention of arms in parts which might be put together any moment and used as fire-arms. A fire-arm, which is defective and otherwise unserviceable, is not within the meaning of the Act. Therefore, possession of a gun rendered unserviceable by the loss of the trigger is not an offence under s. 19 (1) of Arms Act. QUEEN v. SIDDAPPA, 6 M. 60, F.B. =1 Weir 657. [Overruled, 21 M. 360, F.B. = 1 Weir 659; Diss., 3 N.L.R. 53 (55), 6 P.R. 1908, Cr.; F.. 9 Cr. L.J. 259 (260) = 1 S.L.R. 18, Cr., 12 C.P.L.R. 8 (10), 7 Cr.L.J. 350=148 P.L.R. 1908, Cr. = 6 P.R. 1908, Cr. =14 P.W.R. 1908 Cr.]

(21)—Ss. 4, 19—Broken and unserviceable gun.—A broken and unserviceable gun will not fall under the designation of "parts of arms" within the meaning of s. 4, Act XI of 1878. In re RASOOL SAHIB, 1 Weir 658.

(22)—Ss. 4, 19—Ammunition—Lead moulded into bullets—Sentence for technical offences.—Held, that, although lead is exempt from the operation of s. 4 of the Indian Arms Act (XI of 1878), yet when it is moulded into bullets of 20 to 24 bore, it is ammunition within the meaning of the said section. The definition of ammunition given in the said s. 4 is not exhaustive, and the question whether a certain article falls within its purview is to be decided according to the circumstances of each case. (20 P.R. 1890, 21 M. 360, F.B. R.) Held, also, that, in a case of technical offence, a nominal sentence is always quite sufficient to meet the ends of justice. SANT SINGH v. CROWN. 23 P.W.R. 1910, Cr. =16 P.R. 1910=6 Ind. Cas. 952=11 Cr.L.J. 421=191 P.L R, 1910. (7 Bom. L.R. 474, 24 C. 749, F.)

(23)—Ss. 4, 19 (a)—Ammunition, definition of—Empty cartridge cases, possession of.—Empty cartridge cases fall within the definition of ammunition given in s. 4 of the Arms Act. Therefore, a conviction under s. 19 (a) of the Act for the possession of such cases is legal. In re RANGASAWMY AIYAR, 4 Ind. Cas. 405.

(24)—Ss. 4 and 19 (e)—"Going armed," meaning of—Clasp-knife not an arm.—The offence punishable under s. 19 (e) of the Act consists in going armed with a weapon falling within the meaning and definition of the term "arm" as used in the Act. No weapon can be held to be an arm within the Act, unless it is a weapon which would ordinarily be spoken of as an "arm." The purpose for which an implement is primarily intended regulates whether it would, in ordinary parlance, be spoken of as an arm, and if it is not designed for use as a weapon of offence and defence, although it may be used as such, then it is not an "arm." A clasp-knife does not fall within the ordinary natural meaning of the word arm. CROWN v. HMAT KYAN, 1 L.B.R. 271. (L.B.R 1893-1900, 416, 487, Commented on). [F., 11 Cr. L.J. 153 =4 Ind. Cas. 1028=5 L.B.R. 130.]

(25)—Ss. 4 and 19 (f)—See ACT IV OF 1884, ss. 5 and 7, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 193.

(26)—Ss. 4, 19, cl. (f) (a)—Empty cartridge cases.—The expression "all parts of ammunition" as used in s. 4 of the Arms Act includes empty cartridge cases. EMPEROR v. EBRAHIM ALIBHOZ, 7 Bom. L.R. 474=2 Cr. L J. 449. [F., 32 A. 152=7 A.L.J. 102=10 Cr. L.J. 573 =4 Ind. Cas. 405, 11 Cr. L J. 421=6 Ind. Cas. 952=16 P.R. 1910=91 P.L.R. 1910=23 P.W.R 1910.]

(27)—Ss. 4, 20—"Arms," definition of—Weapon, dangerous and likely to cause death if used—Pole-axe.—The definition of "arms" in the Arms Act is neither exhaustive nor altogether happy. (34 C. 749=11 C.W.N. 971 =6 C.L.J. 227=6 C L.J. 751, R.) The mere fact that a weapon is dangerous, and, if used, may probably cause death, does not make it "arms" within the meaning of s. 4 of the Arms Act. A weapon consisting of a plain lathi, a blade and two moveable screws, and so contrived that by loosing the screws the blade may be detached from the shaft made up of the lathi, is not "arms" as defined in s. 4 of the Arms Act, although the weapon may be described as a pole-axe. GAJJA v. EMPEROR, 15 Cr. L.J. 685=26 Ind. Cas. 133.

(28)—Ss. 4 and 27—Arms, definition of—Power of Government to exclude—Opinion of the Court—"Das."—The word "arms," except so far as the definition expressly includes other weapons, must be understood to mean weapons of offence, suitable for use in warfare. The Government of India have, under s. 27, the power of excluding any description of arms from the operation of the Act. But the Act does not empower the Government to define what is an arm within the meaning of the Act. If anything is not, in the opinion of the Court, an arm within the meaning of the Arms Act, it is immaterial whether Government have or have not excluded it from the operation of the Act. Das of the kind described in the Government of India, Home Department Notification No. 827, dated 15th June, 1893, as excluded from the operation of the Act, are not arms within the meaning of the Act, and it is, therefore, unnecessary to exclude them from the operation of Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA NE U, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 416. (L.B.R. 1893—1900, 320, overruled.)

(29)—S. 5—Keeping arms for sale—Dagger-shaped clasp-knives, whether 'arms' within the definition of.—The appellant in this case was convicted of having kept arms for sale in contravention of the provisions of s. 5 of the Act. The question for decision was whether the dagger-shaped-knives, known as clasp-knives, fell within the definition of 'arms' in the Act. Held, the purpose for which an implement is primarily intended regulates whether it would, in ordinary parlance, be spoken of as an arm. Applying this test, there could be no doubt that the manufacturer of the knives before the Court intended to supply weapons to persons who wanted efficient stabbing instruments. They could not be likely to serve any domestic purpose. Under the circumstances, the knives fell within the definition of 'arms.' EBRAHIM DAWOODJI BABI BAWA v. KING-EMPEROR, 3 L.B.R. 1=2 Cr. L J. 372=11 Bur. L.R. 183. [F., 11 Cr. L.J 153=4 Ind. Cas. 1028=5 L B.R. 130; R., 7 Bur. L.T. 165, 5 L.B.R. 129.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(29-1)—S. 5—See Nos. 5, 14, supra.

(29-a)—Ss. 5 and 19—License for match-lock—License converting it into percussion-gun.—There is no distinction drawn in the Act between the various kinds of explosive fire-arms; and, if reference is had to sch. II, it will be seen that a distinction is there drawn, not between the different kinds of gun, as for example, a rifle and a smooth-bore, but between fire-arms and fire-arm barrels and pistols and pistol-barrels. Where a person was charged with possessing a percussion-gun, while his license covered only a match-lock, and the defence was that, for convenience sake, he had the original gun altered from match-lock to a percussion gun after he obtained license, held, that the accused could not be convicted under s. 19 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BODAPPA, 10 M. 131=1 Weir. 665.

(29-b)—Ss. 5, 19 (a)—Repairing arms without license.—In the Arms Act, the word "repair" appears neither in the provision prescribing a license, nor in the provision prescribing a penalty, the word "convert" being used in substitution therefor. The term "manufacture" cannot be construed to include "repair." HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 4th Mar. 1879, No. 356, 1 Weir. 653.

(30)—Ss. 5, 19 (a)—Repairer of arms.—A repairer of arms is not within the purview of ss. 5 and 19 (a) of the Arms Act. In re YAGANTIAH, 1 Weir. 656

(31)—Ss. 5 and 19 (b)—Sale of gun used for private purpose, after notice, but before permission.—The sale of a gun, used for one's private purpose, after giving notice to the Magistrate, but before the receipt of his permission, is not an offence under s. 19 (b) of the Act. In re VENKIAH, 1 Weir. 657.

(31-a)—S. 9—See No. 14, supra.

(31-b)—S. 13—See No. 15, supra.

(32)—Ss. 13 and 14—Servant carrying arms under orders of master.—A person licensed to carry a gun, lent one of his servants his gun to shoot game with it. Held that the servant should not be convicted for carrying a gun without a license and that the gun should not be confiscated. In re HURLEY, A.W.N. 1881, 7. [R., 22 A. 118.]

(33)—Ss. 13, 14, 19 and 22—Master and servant—Delivery of gun to servant for shooting—Meaning of "possession" in s. 22—From s. 22 (1) of the Act, it is clear that the transfer of possession contemplated is something more than the entrusting of an arm to a servant. Moreover, in ss. 14 and 19, the Act deals with possession and control as distinct matters. A servant using a gun belonging to his master would no doubt have the weapon under his control, so long as the use continued, but the weapon would remain in the master's possession. Throughout the Arms Act the word "possession" must be taken to mean something different from mere "control." EMPEROR v. MUKUNDA, 4 N.L.R. 78=8 Cr. L J. 18. [R., 8 Cr. L.J. 406=4 N L.R. 146.]

(34)—Ss. 13,16 and 19—Unlicensed possession of a double barrelled gun by a reservist.—The notification of Government of India exempts all soldiers, in the service of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India, from the operation of certain provisions of ss. 13 to 16 of the Arms Act. The term "soldiers" includes reservists. Held, therefore, that a reservist of the 45th sikhs found in possession of double-barrelled gun without a license was not guilty under s. 19 of the Arms Act. EMPEROR v. BISHEN SINGH, 1 P.R. 1902, Cr.=5 P.L.R. 1902.

(35)—Ss. 13 and 19—License to carry arms covering one retainer—Failure to produce it on being required to do so.—The law does not require, nor the license provide, that a license to carry arms shall always be on the person of the bearer of arms. If, on being required to Show his license, the bearer of arms is prepared to produce it, on being given a reasonable opportunity to get it, and such license exists, he should not be prosecuted. The production of the license at the trial is a sufficient answer to the charge of infringing the Arms Act. [F., 3 C.W.N. 394.] A license to carry arms including a retainer authorises any retainer to carry the arms specified in the license with the permission of his master. The license should not be so construed as to restrict the retainer to carry the arms only in the presence of the master. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KISHUNWA, 20 C. 444.

(36)—Ss. 13, 19—Failure to take license.—S. 19 makes it punishable to go armed, in contravention of the provisions of s. 13 which prohibits any person from going armed except under license. These words cannot be held to mean that the licensee is bound to take his license with him whenever he goes armed. In re KORAGA, 1 Weir 661.

(37)—Ss. 13, 19, cl. (e)—Meaning of the term "going armed."—Term "going armed" in s. 13 of the Act means "carrying arms." In re VENKATARAYADU, 1 Weir 663.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(38)—Ss. 13 and 19 (e)—Going armed in contravention of s. 13—Gun carried by a servant for a master who is legally entitled to possess and go armed.—Carrying arms does not necessarily equal going armed.—It must constantly happen that sportsmen on their way to and from the field hand over their guns to their servants to avoid unnecessary fatigue to themselves, and by doing so it does not appear that the servants should be considered as going armed when they have no control over the use of the gun so far as intended, and are simply bearers of the gun as a load. If the gun were taken to pieces before being handed to the servant, it would be difficult to hold that he could be armed with it; and the moral restriction of the servant's duty to make no use of the gun seems in effect to make the same difficulty when the gun is left complete. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA MYAT AUNG, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 1. (15 A. 27, R.) [R., 7 Cr. L.J. 243, 10 Cr. L.J 361 = 3 Ind. Cas. 712 = 5 L.B.R. 83, U.B.R. 1907, 1, Arms 1; Relied upon, 11 Cr L.J. 55 = 4 Ind. Cas. 823 = U.B.R. 1907-1909, Vol. II, Opium p. 1.]

(39)—Ss. 13, 19 (e)—Going armed in contravention of s. 13.—In this case the accused was found in another man's house wearing dagger. He did not allege that the dagger was not his or that he had not brought it to the house. On the contrary, he specified the purpose for which the dagger was used. Held, that under the above circumstances the accused had committed the offence of "going armed with a dagger in contravention of s. 13." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA THA BYAUNG, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 4.

(40)—S. 14—See Nos. 16, 17, 17-a, 32, 33, supra.

(41)—Ss. 14 and 15—Order appointing an officer as commissioned officer with retrospective effect—Effect.—The petitioner, who was promoted from the rank of Haveldar to the rank of Jamadar on 30th August, with retrospective effect from the 1st June, was held to be a commissioned fficer from the 1st June, and therefore was held to fall within one of the classes exempted by the Government of India from the operation of the prohibitions contained in ss. 14 and 15 of the Arms Act. The possession of his gun by his servant without a license on the 22nd June was held not to be an offence. NARAIN SINGH v. EMPRESS, 27 P.R. 1885, Cr.

(42)—Ss. 14, 15 and 19 (f)—Possession of sword or dagger.—The possession of a sword or dagger without a license in a place to which s. 15 has not been rendered applicable, is not punishable under s. 19 (f). In re PAKIR AHMED, 1 Weir 666.

(43)—Ss. 14, 15 and 19, cl. (f)—Person liable to punishment under cl. (f) of s. 19.—Where the petitioner, having been in possession of a gun for sometime, made it over a year and a half ago to another person in whose possession the gun was without a license: Held, the petitioner could not be convicted of an offence under s. 19, cl. (f), Arms Act. The only person who can be punished under cl. (f) is the person who has in his possession or under his control any arm in contravention of the provisions of ss 14 and 15. AKHIL NATH DAT v. KING-EMPEROR, 13 C.W.N. 440 = 10 Ind. Cas. 688 = 12 Cr. L.J. 197.

(44)—Ss. 14 and 19—Dalwes—Spears—Forks.—Dalwes, spears, and forks do not come within the term "military stores" in s. 14, and the mere possession of such weapons is not a punishable offence in Burma under s. 19 of Arms Act. But going armed with swords or spears without a license is punishable under s. 13. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO TEIN, U B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 1.

(45)—Ss. 14 and 19 (f)—Fire-arm.—The unserviceable remains of a gun could not be fairly described as a 'fire-arm' within the meaning of s. 14 of the above Act and do not require to be protected by a license under that section. EMPRESS v. CHAITOO GOND, 12 C. P.L.R. Cr. 8. (6 M. 60, 7 M. 70, R.)

(46)—Ss. 14, 19 and 28—Being in possession of arms without license—Sanction of Collector to prosecute.—In order to prosecute a person for being in possession of guns without license, the Collector's sanction for the prosecution should be obtained under s. 28. QUEEN v. BOMMAYA CHETTY, 5 M. 26 = 1 Weir 662.

(47)—S. 15—Possession of bayonets.—The possession of bayonets without a license is not an offence punishable under the Arms Act except in districts proclaimed under s. 15 of that Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SHWE HLWA, L.B.R 1872—1892, 426.

(48)—S. 15—See Nos. 41, 42, 43, supra.

(49)—S. 16—Confiscation—Possession of gun without obtaining renewed license—Confiscation of gun illegal—Fine and detention of gun, proper punishment.—An order confiscating a gun because of mere delay in renewing the license to possess it is illegal. The imposition of a fine and detention of the gun in the Police Station till the production of the license would be a proper order. In re KATTUVA ROWTHEN, 15 Cr. L.J. 21 = 22 Ind. Cas. 165.

(50)—S. 16—See No. 34, supra.

(51)—Ss. 17 and 19—License to kill wild beasts—Killing wild beast for sport without sporting license.—Persons who are granted license to carry arms, under Form XI, Rule 16 of the Arms Act, to kill bisons which are notoriously in the habit of injuring crops, will be justified in going armed for the purposes of sport and no separate license under Form VIII, Rule 13, s 17, is necessary. QUEEN v. BOMMAYA CHETTY, 5 M. 26 = 1 Weir 662.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(52)—S. 19—Temporary possession of arms — The temporary possession of a gun by a servant who carries it from his master's house to the blacksmith's for repairs, and by the blacksmith for the purpose of repair, without a license, is not punishable under s. 19 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. TOTA RAM, 16 A. 276 = A.W N. 1894, 82. (A.W.N. 1891, 208, A.W.N. 1892, 221, R.) [F., 41 C. 11 = 17 C.W.N. 979 = 14 Cr. L.J. 377 = 20 Ind. Cas. 137 ; R., 4 N.L.R. 78, 8 Cr.L J. 406 = 4 N.L.R. 146.]

(53)—S. 19—" Going armed"—Meaning.— The term " going armed " in s. 19 of the Arms Act of 1878 means only carrying arms with intention to use such arms should occasion arise, and does not include taking arms for the purpose of repair. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ALEXANDER WILLIAM, A W N. 1891, 208. [Expl., 15 A. 27 ; R., 16 A 276 = A.W N. 1894, 82, 24 A. 454.]

(54)—S. 19—"Going armed" what amounts to. —The mere temporary possession, without a license, of arms for purposes other than their use as such, is not an offence within the meaning of s. 19 of the Arms Act. The above principle is not confined to the case of a servant carrying his master's gun, but applies also to a friend performing the same office to a friend. The essence of the offence is the going armed, i.e., carrying a weapon with the intention of using it as a weapon, when the necessity or opportunity arises. EMPEROR v. HARPAL RAI, 24 A. 454 = A.W.N. 1902, 123. (A.W.N. 1891, 208, A.W.N. 1892, 221, A.W.N. 1894, 82, R.) [F., 37 B. 181 = 1 Bom. Cr. Cas. 208 = 14 Bom.L R. 964 = 13 Cr.L J. 860 = 17 Ind. Cas. 796, 12 Cr L J. 122 = 9 Ind Cas. 720 = 4 S.L.R. 214 ; R, 5 L.B.R. 83, 4 N.L.R. 146 = 8 Cr.L.J. 406, 7 Cr L.J. 350 = 148 P.L R. 1908 = 6 P.R. 1908, Cr. = 14 P.W.R. 1908, Cr., 5 L.B.R. 83 = 10 Cr.L.J. 361 = 3 Ind. Cas. 712.]

(55)—S. 19—Spear exempted.—The carrying of a spear is not an offence under s. 19 (e) of the Arms Act, because, under cl. (j) of s. 2 of the Rules under s. 27 of the Act, spears are exempted from the operation of ss. 13 to 16 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANPAT, Rat. Un. Cr.C. 507 = Cr. Rg. 25 of 1890. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NUR MAHOMED, Rat.Un.Cr.C. 507 = Cr.Rg. 25 of 1890.

(56)—S. 19—Saltpetre in the Khandesh District.—As Khandesh is neither a district on the external land frontier of British India nor a seaboard District of British Burma, cl. IV of the Notification of the Government of India, No. 578 of 6th March, 1879, has no application to it and as the Government of India has not, by any other notification, extended s. 19 of the Act to saltpetre in the Khandesh District, a person cannot be convicted under s. 19 of the Arms Act, for keeping saltpetre without a license. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SAKHARAM, Rat.Un.Cr. C. 227 = Cr. Rg. 1 of 1886.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(57)—S. 19—Extension of time before renewal of license, effect of.—An order extending the time for renewal of a license has the effect of keeping a license previously granted practically in force. In re KALINATH SINGH, 3 C.W.N. 394.

(58)—S. 19—Sentence.—Under the provisions of s. 19 of the Arms Act, a Magistrate, on finding the accused guilty, is bound to pass some sentence, though, of course, it is open to him to pass a nominal sentence. In re GANGAMMA, 1 Weir 654.

(59)—S. 19—Offence not triable summarily.— An offence under s. 19 of the Arms Act is not triable summarily. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 13th Oct. 1879, No. 1757, 1 Weir 654.

(60)—S. 19—Possession of gunpowder without license.—The term "ammunition" is defined by the Act as meaning, among other things, any explosive material. Read in combination with the terms "arms and military stores," it is not unreasonable to infer that the intention of the Act was to deal with an explosive material capable of being used for purposes of warfare. Therefore, a person, in possession of a quantity of gunpowder without license is liable to be convicted under s. 19, although he may intend to employ the powder in the manufacture of fireworks or other harmless purposes, inasmuch as gunpowder is a material capable of being used for purposes of warfare. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KHASIM SAHIB, 8 M. 202 = 1 Weir 664. (5 M. 159, D.)

(61)—S. 19—Possession of room in which arms are found—Possession not shown to be exclusive.—When it is not shown that the accused had exclusive possession of the room in which arms are found, or that arms were placed there by him, or belonged to him, or that he knew they were there, the accused cannot be convicted of the offence under s. 19 of the Arms Act. SUNDER SINGH v. EMPRESS, 75 P.L.R. 1901. (25 P.R. 1883, F.)

(62)—S. 19—Arms—Possession without license —Possession must be exclusive.—A dagger was found in a room in a house. The room and the house were jointly occupied by a father and his adult son. There was no evidence to show that either of them was aware of its existence, Held, that neither of them could be convicted of an offence under s. 19 of the Act. KING-EMPEROR v. SHER ZAMAN, 158 P.L.R. 1905 = 52 P.R. 1905, Cr. = 3 Cr.L.J. 71.

(63)—S. 19—Servant carrying arms belonging to his master.—Exemption from the operation of the Act applies to the possession of a gun, so long as it is the property of the licensee, and the mere fact that it happened at the time to be carried by a servant, does not make the servant liable for not having himself a license under the Act. In the matter of KALINATH SINGH, 3 C.W.N. 394. [Rel on., 1 Bom. Cr. C. 208 = 14 Bom. L.R. 964 = 13 Cr. L. J. 860 = 17 Ind. Cas. 796; R., 13 C.W.N. 124 = 10 Cr.L. J. 555 = 4 Ind. Cas. 333.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(64)—S. 19 (a)—Persons licensed under the Explosive Act—Manufacture of fire-works with gunpowder at an unlicensed place.—Where the accused, who had a license under the Explosive Act to manufacture and sell gunpowder and fire-works on certain premises, manufactured fire works at a different place, held, that the accused could not be convicted under the Arms Act. In re RAMASWAMI PILLAY, 1 Weir 656 = 1 Weir 756.

(65)—S. 19 (a)—Sale of fire works without license.—The mere possession or sale of fire-works, without a license, is no offence under the Arms Act. But the possession of gunpowder without a license, even though for the innocent purpose of making fire-works, is an offence. In re BOYINAPALLI VENKATARAJU, 1 Weir. 655.

(66)—S. 19 (a)—Sale by agent of license-holder.—There is nothing in Act XI of 1878 or the rules, which renders a sale of sulphur and ammunition by the agent of a license holder illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SITHARAMAYYA, 12 M. 473 = 1 Weir 655.

(67)—S. 19 (a)—Clasp knives with the outer edge narrowing—For what use primarily intended—Can they be called arms in ordinary parlance?—Though the exhibit knives were stout formidable ones, the outer edge narrowing as the end of the blade is reached, they cannot be called arms as they could not, from their appearance, be said to have been primarily manufactured with the intention of using them—for offence or defence. They are useful for domestic use or for cutting sticks. KING-EMPEROR v. ME THIN, 7 Bur. L.T. 165 = 15 Cr. L.J. 585 = 25 Ind. Cas. 337.

(68)—S. 19 (c)—Person carrying arms—Presumption.—A man who is found going about with a pistol, gun, sword or other weapon within the definition of "arms" in s. 4 of the Act must, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be presumed to be carrying it with the intention of using it, should an opportunity for using it arise, and, unless he is licensed to carry the weapon and is not exceeding the terms of his license, he may be properly convicted under s. 19 (c) of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHURE, 15 A. 27 = A W N. 1892, 221. (A. W.N. 1891, 208 R.) [Rel, 11 Cr. L J. 55 = 4 Ind. Cas. 823 = U.B.R. 1909. 2nd Qr Opium 1; R., 8 Cr. L.J. 406 = 4 N.L.R. 146, 10 Cr. L.J. 361 = 3 Ind. Cas 712 = 5 L.B.R. 83; U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 1.]

(69)—S. 19 (c)—Landing in British India—Possession of revolver—Completion of offence—Intention.—As soon as a person lands in British India with a revolver, which he was not lawfully entitled to possess in this country, he commits technically an offence under s. 19 (c) of the Arms Act. It is not necessary that there should be any particular intention in the mind of an offender to complete the offence punishable under this section. In re MAHOMED ISMAIL ROWTHER, 35 M. 596.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(70)—S. 19 (c)—Offence under the clause, whether triable by the second-class Magistrate.—No Magistrate of the second class has the power to try an offence under s. 19 (e) of the Arms Act. In re SHEIK MOWLA SAHIB, 1 Weir. 660.

(71)—S. 19 (e) — Exemption if extends to servants and retainers of persons exempted.—The privilege conferred by the exemption referred to in Notification No. 518, dated 6th March, 1879, as amended by Notification No. 458, dated 18th March, 1898, is of a personal nature and protects only persons carrying fire-arms for their own personal use, and does not extend to the servants and retainers of the persons exempted. EMPRESS v. SONIA TELI, 14 C.P.L R. 112. (22 A. 118, Diss.) [R, 8 Cr. L.J. 406 = 4 N L.R. 146.]

(72)—S 19 (e)—"Going armed"—Dagger—"Dahmyaung," meaning of.—The meaning of Dahmyaung, in the Burmese translation of the Arms Act must be limited to the meaning of dagger. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA TUM BAU, L.B.R. 1893-1900, 320.

(73)—S. 19 (e), and Rangoon Police Act, s. 30, two convictions under, for same act of offender, illegality of.—The case against the accused was founded on facts, which constituted an offence under the Arms Act, as well as under s. 30 of the Rangoon Police Act. Held, that the accused should not have been charged and convicted twice as for two offences under each of the said Acts. The above s. 30 is a special provision for punishing a person, who may be found, under certain circumstances, raising the suspicion of his intending to commit certain offences and, so, when an offence has been actually committed by such a person, his prosecution for such offence and, at the same time, for an offence under the Police Act, would be illegal. Also, according to s. 26 of the General Clauses Act (X of 1897), when an act constitutes an offence under two or more enactments, the offender will not be liable to be punished twice for the same act. Further, a person, who has rendered himself liable under more than one clause of s. 30 of the Police Act, is to be held guilty of only one offence under the entire section and not of an offence under each of the clauses. (Per Hartnoll J.). KING-EMPEROR v. PO KA, 3. L.B.R. 218, F.B.

(74)—S. 19 (e)—Test whether a weapon is an arm—Clasp-knife not an arm.—The purpose for which a weapon is carried cannot be a sufficient test of whether it is an "arm" or not. A clasp-knife is not a dagger and is not designed or suitable, for warfare. Therefore, it does not come within the definition of "arms." QUEEN EMPRESS v. NGA PO THIN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 487. (L.B.R. 1893—1900, 417, F.)

(75)—S. 19-c—License to go armed for special purpose.—Where a license to go armed is granted for protection only, the licensee cannot use it for sport or display. In re VENKATARAYADU, 1 Weir 663.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(76)—S. 19 (e)—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 35, 123, 5 Bom. L.R. 26.

(77)—S. 19, cls. (e) and (f)—Possession of spear without license.—Under rule II-A of the notification of the Government of India, dated 6th March, 1879, spears of all kinds are, so far as regards the Presidency of Madras, excluded from the operation of any prohibition and direction contained in the Arms Act. In re BAPI NAICKEN, 1 Weir 660.

(78)—S. 19 (e) (f)—Possession of gun without ammunition.—The possession of a gun without ammunition, in the absence of a license, is not punishable under s. 19 (e); nor can the accused be convicted under s. 19 (f), in the absence of the previous sanction of the District Magistrate. In re TENKURAMAN BASSVAN, 1 Weir 662.

(79)—S. 19, (e) (f)—Guns without ammunition.—The carrying of a gun without ammunition, by an unlicensed person, is an offence under s. 19 (f), but not under s. 19 (e). HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 31st Aug, 1881, No. 1761, 1 Weir 661. [F., 1 Weir 662.]

(80)—S. 19 (f), prosecution under—Sanction.—A prosecution under s 19, cl. (f) requires the sanction of the District Magistrate. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SHWE HLWA, L.B.R. 1872—1892. 426.

(81)—S. 19 (f)—Prosecution—Sanction.—The sanction of the District Magistrate is necessary before a prosecution under s. 19 (f), can be instituted. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO TEIN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol I, 1.

(82)—S. 19 (f)—Prosecution—Sanction.—A prosecution under cl. (f) of s. 19 of the Act requires the previous sanction of the District Magistrate. EMPRESS v. KISAN KOHALEE, 9 C P.L.R. Cr. 26. (3 C. 622, 2 A. 405, 10 C. 1030, R.) [R., 14 Cr. L.J. 385=9 N.L.R. 81=20 Ind. Cas. 209.]

(83)—S. 19 (f)—Prosecution—Sanction.—The sanction of the District Magistrate is only required for proceeding under cl. (f) of s. 19. In re SHEIK MOWLA SAHIB, 1 Weir 660.

(84)—S. 19 (f) — Volunteers — Exemption from the operations of Arms Act, effect of.—The exemption of volunteers from the operation of the Arms Act, by Government of India Notification No. 458, dated 18th March, 1898, is not confined merely to purposes of volunteering. A volunteer is, by virtue of such exemption, entitled to keep fowling pieces and to use them for the purpose of protecting his cultivation. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SAMUEL LURE, 22 A. 323 =A.W.N. 1900, 92.

(85)—*S.*19 (f)—Reservist in possession of gun.—Held, that the possession of a double barrelled gun by the accused, who was a reservist, did not constitute any offence against the provisions of the Indian Arms Act. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. BISHEN SINGH, 5 P.L R. 1902=1 P.R. 1902, Cr.

(86)—S. 19 (f)—Temporary possession by servant if amounts to "possession" or "control"—Where a person who apparently had a license to go armed had come to shoot to a village wherein his cousin's servant was, feeling thirsty, went to get a drink, leaving the gun with the servant (a person not holding a license under the Arms Act), held, that such a temporary custody of the gun by the servant did not amount to the "possession" or "control" contemplated by cl. (f) of s. 19. EMPEROR v. KHUDDA GOND, 4 N.L R. 146. (15 A. 27, 16 A. 276, 24 A. 451, 35 C. 219, 4 N.L.R. 78, R.)

(87)—S. 19 (f)—Servant using master's gun.—Where the accused, a servant, was found using a gun which was lent to him by his master who had a license for the gun for his own purpose. Held, that the act of the accused was an infringement of the provisions of s. 19, cl. (f) of the Arms Act. MADHO LAL v. EMPEROR, 13 C W.N. 124=4 Ind Cas. 333. (3 C.W. N. 394, 35 C. 219=12 C.W.N. 272, 22 A. 118, R. & D.) [R., 12 Cr. L.J. 122=9 Ind. Cas. 720 =4 S.L.R. 214.]

(88)—S. 19 (f)—Servant's temporary possession of master's gun.—Where the license-holder left a gun with his servant, temporarily, held, that the servant could not be convicted under s. 19 (f). In re GURUVAN BOYI, 1 Weir 664.

(89)—*S.*19 (f)—Arms without licenses collected for worship in a temple—Arms Act (XI of 1878), s. 19, cl. (f), conviction under—Legality.—There is nothing in the Arms Act to exempt the custodians of a temple, which had a collection of fire-arms used as objects of worship, from complying with the requirements of the Act either by taking out a license or obtaining exemption under s 27, so that a conviction under s. 19, cl. (f), for neglect to take out license in respect of such arms, is not illegal. EMPRESS v. TEGHA SINGH, 8 C. 473.

(90)—S. 19 (f)—Possession of unserviceable fire arms.—A fire-arm, which is defective and otherwise unserviceable, is not within the meaning of the Arms Act, and, consequently, not one for which a license need be taken out, although it might be capable of being rendered serviceable by being repaired. In re KULLAPPA GRAMANI, 1 Weir 658.

(91)—S. 19 (f)—Possession of sword without license.—In a District which has not been disarmed, the possession of a sword without a license is not an offence under the Act, unless the person in possession goes armed with it. In re KUNJAN ASARI, 1 Weir 666.

(92)—S. 19 (f)—Gun—Possession of—Liability of servant.—The accused kept a gun as the servant of C, who was licensed to bear it. After C's death, the accused continued in the employ of C's undivided brother V, who succeeded C in the management of the property. The accused was convicted under s. 19(f) of the Indian Arms Act for having been in possession of an unlicensed gun. On appeal, it was contended that the liability, if any, was that of V, who had neglected to renew the license. Held, that the accused was rightly convicted, for he was the only person who had the possession and the control of the weapon. EMPEROR v. JAFU BABU, 14 Bom. L.R. 501 = 13 Cr L.J. 525 = 15 Ind. Cas. 797 = 1 Bom. Cr. Cas. 146.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(93)—S. 19 (f)—Arms—Possession of a Quackenbush rifle in the Kohat District without a license—Government of India, Home Department, Notification No. 3031, dated 16*th November*, 1900.—The accused was found in possession of a Quackenbush rifle of 22 bore, with an eighteen inch steel barrel, firing a small cartridge charged with gunpowder and a miniature bullet, without a license, was convicted of an offence under s. 19 (f) of the Arms Act, and was sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 10. He admitted his ownership and possession of a rifle, but pleaded that a license was not required for this weapon, as another man had applied twice to the Deputy Commissioner of Kohat for a license for a similar weapon in 1900 and 1904, but was informed that it was not necessary to take out a license for such a weapon. Held, that, as the Quackenbush rifle fired a cartridge charged with an explosive substance and a miniature bullet, which might prove deadly, and as it was neither a spring air gun nor a mere toy, it came within the general expression of "arms of the kind known as rifles," the possession of which, without a license, in the Kohat District, was illegal; and that the conviction must therefore stand; but, as the offence was of a technical rather than of an intentional kind, a nominal penalty would suffice. Fine reduced to four annas equivalent to the stamp duty chargeable upon a license for the weapon. HARNAM SINGH v. CROWN, 1 P.W.R. 1913 N.W.F.P. (Cr.) = 159 P.L.R. 1913.

(94)—*S.*19 (6)—Servant, temporary possession by, on behalf of master.—The petitioner was carrying a gun on behalf of his master, with the license to the Magistrate for the purpose of a renewal of the license. It was admitted that the object of the petitioner was merely to carry the gun to the Magistrate. The petitioner was convicted under s. 19 (6) of the Act for possessing a gun in contravention of the provisions of the Act:—Held, that the conviction of the petitioner cannot be upheld. CHARU CHANDRA GHOSE v. KING-EMPEROR, 17 C.W.N. 979 = 14 Cr.L.J. 377 = 20 Ind. Cas 137 = 41 C. 11. (16 A. 276, 35 C. 219 = 12 C.W.N. 272, F.)

(95)—S. 19, cl. (i)—Offence under the clause, whether triable by the second class Magistrate—Crim. Pro. Code, X of 1872, s. 8.—Held, that the offence of failing to deposit arms under cl. (i) of s. 19 was not triable by a second-class Magistrate under s. 8, Crim. Pro. Code, 1872. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 30th Aug. 1879, No. 1382, 1 Weir 660.

(96)—S. 19—See Nos. 17 to 26, 28 to 31, 33 to 39, 42 to 46 and 51, supra.

(97)—Ss. 19, 13—Arms—License—Possession of gun—Servant fetching a gun left by his master.—M, who was licensed to keep a gun, and his servant left Broach and went to a neighbouring village. They returned forgetting the gun behind them. M sent his servant to fetch the gun, and the latter, while so returning with it, was arrested by the Police at Broach for going armed in contravention of the provisions of s. 13, Arms Act. The servant was convicted and sentenced under s. 19 (e) of the Act. Held, acquitting the servant, that the mere temporary possession, without a license of arms, for purposes other than their use as such, was not an offence within the meaning of s. 19 of the Act. EMPEROR v. KOYA HANSJI, 14 Bom. L R. 964 = 1 Bom. Cr. Cas. 208 = 13 Cr. L.J. 860 = 17 Ind. Cas. 796 = 37 B. 181. (24 A. 454, F.)

(98)—Ss. 19 (f) and 14—*Possession of a gun, meaning of—Interpretation of s.*19 (f).—The provisions of s. 19 (f) of the Arms Act do not make the mere possession of a gun punishable; they make possession contrary to the provisions of s. 14 of that Act punishable. The snatching up of a gun, which was in the hand of another, and firing it at a mad dog, do not constitute the possession contemplated by s. 14 of the Arms Act. PRABHAT CHANDRA CHOWDHRY v. EMPEROR, 35 C 219 = 12 C W.N. 272 = 7 Cr. L.J. 242 = 7 Cr. L.J. 112 = 3 M.L.T. 190 [F., 41 C. 11 = 17 C.W.N. 979 = 14 Cr. L.J. 377 = 20 Ind. Cas. 137; R., 4 N.L.R. 146 = 8 Cr. L.J. 406.]

(99)—Ss. 19 and 20—Definition—Concealment of arms on search being made by the police—Mere denial of possession not concealment—Possession of unlicensed arms—Held, that the mere denial, on the part of a person, whose house is being searched by the Police for unlicensed arms, that he has any such arms in his possession does not constitute a concealment or attempt to conceal arms on search being made by the police within the meaning of the second paragraph of s. 20 of Act XI of 1878. Held, also, that where unlicensed arms are found concealed upon premises which, though legally the joint property of a joint Hindu family, are in fact, at the time of the finding, in the exclusive possession and control of one member of the family, that member of the family, can properly be held to be in possession of such arms. EMPEROR v. RAM SARUP, A.W.N. 1906, 11 = 3 Cr. L.J. 88 = 3 A. L.J. 833 = 28 A. 302. (15 A. 129, D.)

(100)—Ss. 19, 20—Ammunition — Empty cartridge cases—Machinery for manufacture.—Empty cartridge cases with exploded caps are not "ammunitions" as defined in the Arms Act. An instrument for re-capping cartridge cases of the Martini-Hurry rifles is not machinery for manufacturing ammunition within the meaning of the Act. JAMAN KHAN v. EMPRESS, 20 P.R. 1890, Cr. [N.F., 10 Cr. L.J. 573=4 Ind. Cas. 405; R., 23 P.W.R. 1910=16 P.R. 1910=91 P.L.R. 1910=11 Cr. L.J. 427=6 Ind. Cas. 952.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(101)—Ss. 19 (a), 20—Chhavi defined—Its possession by keeping it hidden—Question of exclusive possession raised for the first time in appeal.—Everything is chhavi which has a large axelike blade, curved or otherwise, with an arrangement of rings or rings for binding it to the handle, and a handle of a considerable length. Being in possession of a chhavi and keeping it hidden is simply punishable under s. 19, cl. (a) of Act XI of 1878. S. 20 is applicable only to those cases where the import or export of an arm is attempted. (9 P.R. 1912=44 P.W.R. 1912, Cr. F.) The question of exclusive possession of an arm cannot be raised for the first time in appeal. GAHNA v. CROWN, 1 P.W.R. 1914, Cr.=33 P.L.R. 1914=15 Cr. L.J. 505=24 Ind. Cas. 591.

(102)—Ss. 19, cl. (f) and 20—Unserviceable firearm, possession of —Whether in any particular instance an instrument is a fire-arm or not, is a question to be determined according to the facts of each case, and the circumstance that it is in an unserviceable condition is not sufficient to take it out of the category of fire-arms. Where certain fire-arms had been found from the possession of the accused, who had concealed them under a heap of straw, in order that visitors in his house should not see them: held, that the concealment was not with the intention specified in s. 20, and the accused could, therefore, be convicted only under s. 19, cl. (f) of the Arms Act. CROWN v. WAZU walad BANGAR, 9 Cr. L.J. 259, F.B.=1 S.L.R. 18, Cr. [F., 128 P.L.R. 1913=44 P.W.R. 1912=9 P.R. 1912=18 Ind. Cas. 265=14 Cr.L.J. 41.]

(103)—Ss. 19 (f), 20, 25 and 29—Having in possession or control arms and ammunitions without license—Search for arms—Legality of the search—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 55 and 165.—Where, on a search made by a Magistrate with a number of Police Officers into the house of the accused person, who, after his license for possession of arms and ammunitions had been concealed, was suspected of being in possession of them, and who was, preliminary to the search, arrested some arms and ammunition were found on the premises, and the accused, was committed to the Sessions and convicted of offences under ss. 19 and 20 of the Arms Act, held, that the conviction under s. 20 of the Act was not legal, but that the accused should be taken to have had, in his possession or under his control, arms and ammunitions, as defined by the Arms Act, within the meaning of sub-s. (f) of s. 19, and, therefore, the conviction under that section should be confirmed. Held, also, that the search, under the circumstances of the case, was not properly made, as it was not covered by the provisions of s. 25 of the Arms Act or s. 165 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. AHMED HOSSEIN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 27 C. 692=4 C.W.N. 750. [F., 14 Cr. L.J. 41=18 Ind. Cas. 265=9 P.R. 1912, Cr.=128 P.L.R. 1913=44 P.W.R. 1912, Cr.]

(104)—Ss. 19, 20 and 29—Sanction to prosecute, whether necessary for an offence under s. 20.—Ss. 19 and 20 of the Act are so interwoven that it is difficult to see how an offence can be committed under the first paragraph of s. 20, unless an offence under one of the enumerated sub-sections in s. 19 has also been committed: Therefore, before prosecuting a person under s. 20 of the Act, previous sanction should be obtained. AHMED HOSSEIN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 27 C. 692=4 C.W.N. 750.

(105)—Ss. 19 (f), 20, 29—Person arrested for being in possession of revolver—Concealment of arms after arrest—No offence under s. 20—Offence under s. 19 (f)—Necessity of District Magistrate's sanction before institution of proceedings under s. 19 (f)—Absence of such sanction—Proceedings null and void.—The first part of s. 20, Arms Act, does not apply to cases of concealments or of attempts at concealment made by a man who has arms on his person or in a bag which he is carrying or which is otherwise in his immediate personal possession, only on being arrested. It is meant to deal with cases of concealment before arrest. Where a man, finding himself arrested for being in possession of a revolver, attempts to throw it away, the act of such person would only come under s. 19, cl. (f). Where an offence under s. 19 (f) has been committed, no proceedings shall be instituted without the previous sanction of the District Magistrate (vide s. 29). If no such sanction has been obtained, all proceedings for an offence under s. 19 (f) must be null and void, and the absence of such sanction could not be treated as a mere irregularity in trial. GOPALAKRISHNA IYER v. EMPEROR, 9 M.L.T. 475=12 Cr. L.J. 234=10 Ind. Cas. 261=(1911) 1 M.W.N. 271.

(106)—Ss. 19 (f), 25—Search warrant, form of.—Magistrates before they issue search warrants, under the Arms Act, should record the grounds of their belief, that there are in the house, which it is proposed to search, weapons kept for an unlawful purpose. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SANGAM LAL, 15 A. 129=A.W.N. 1893, 48.

(107)—Ss. 19 (f), 25, 29—District Magistrate's sanction necessary for trial under Act—Conviction without sanction not mere error of procedure—No failure of justice necessary to set aside conviction—Fresh sanction may be ordered—Illegal procedure in search, effect of.—The trial of an offender under s. 19 (f), Arms Act, without the District Magistrate's sanction under s. 29, is not merely an error of procedure. The

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

Court has no power to allow proceedings to be instituted without such sanction. No failure of justice is necessary to set aside a conviction under the section made in proceedings without such sanction. The District Magistrate, in such a case, may, however, order a fresh sanction of the offence if he wishes to do so. Where the offence has been undoubtedly committed by the accused, who was in possession of arms, the fact that the legal procedure (s. 25) was not followed in making the search would not, by itself, be sufficient ground to acquit the accused. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PA TWE WA, U.B.R. 1892–1896, Vol. I, 2. [F., 8 Cr. L J. 65 = 4 L.B.R. 247.]

(108)—Ss. 19 (f), 25, 30—Scope and application of the section.—The Act appears to refer to cases in which the Magistrate considers that arms, whether under a license or not, are possessed "for an illegal purpose," or under circumstances such as to endanger the public peace. EMPRESS v. TEGHA SINGH, 8 C. 473.

(109)—Ss. 19, 27—Exemption from the provisions of the Act in the case of certain classes of persons—Government of India Notifications, 518 of 1879, and 458 of 1898—Arms carried by servants of exempted persons—Their liability.—By Government of India Notifications, Nos. 518 of 1879 and 458 of 1898, framed under the provisions of s. 27 of the Arms Act, certain classes of persons are exempted from the operation of the prohibitions and directions contained in ss. 13, 14, 15 and 16 of the Arms Act, "subject to the proviso that the arms and ammunitions carried or possessed by such persons shall be for their own personal use, etc., etc." Held, that the servant of a master so exempted was not liable to be convicted under s. 19 of the Act for being found carrying a gun and ammunition and using them for the purpose of shooting game for his master, as the use of the arms by the servant for that purpose should be considered to be within the meaning of the words "personal use." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANGA DIN, 22 A. 118 = A.W.N. 1899, 213. [Diss., 12 Cr. L.J. 122 = 9 Ind. Cas. 720 = 4 S.L.R. 214, 4 S.L.R. 211; R., 13 C.W.N. 124 = 10 Cr. L.J. 555 = 4 Ind. Cas. 333.]

(110)—S. 19 (e), rules under s. 27, r. 3, sch. I—Servant going about with master's gun—Shooting duck for master—Whether for master's 'own personal use'—Offence under s. 19 (e)—Interpretation of statutes.—Held, that the accused was going armed without a license within the meaning of s. 19 (e) and was not covered by his master's exemption under ch. I (r. 3) of the rules framed under s. 27. The words for his own personal use in sch. I (r. 3) are clear and unambiguous and cannot be interpreted to mean the use of the gun by a servant or any one else except the person exempted. (22 A. 118, Diss.; 24 A. 454, R.). Where the meaning of the words of the statute is clear and unambiguous, a Court is not at liberty to speculate as to the intention and to decline to give effect to the strict sense because of some apparent or supposed hardship. CROWN v. HATIMTAI WD. MEHRKHAN, 4 S.L.R. 214 = 9 Ind. Cas. 720 = 12 Cr. L.J. 122.

(111)—Ss. 19 and 29—Illegal possession of arms—Illegality—Going armed—Prosecution—Previous sanction of District Magistrate—Institution of proceedings—Framing of charge—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 190, 195, 535 and 537 (b).—An accused person was prosecuted by the police under s. 19 (e) of the Arms Act for going armed with a revolver. On taking the evidence, the Magistrate doubted whether a person could be said to go armed with an unloaded revolver wrapped up in a cloth. He, therefore, charged the accused in the alternative with going armed under cl. (e) or with possessing the revolver under cl. (f) of s. 19. After the framing of the charge the Magistrate submitted the record to the District Magistrate, owing to an objection being taken, for his previous sanction under s. 29 of the Arms Act. The District Magistrate wrote upon the diary, "I sanction the institution of proceedings under s. 19 (f) of the Arms Act against Kaka." The trial proceeded, and the accused was convicted under cl. (f). Held, that, the police having submitted a report in which it was stated that the accused was found carrying the revolver, and that being described as an offence under cl. (e) of s. 19, proceedings under cl. (f) were instituted only when the Magistrate framed the charge under that clause. Although the framing of the charge when the Magistrate did frame it, was without jurisdiction, yet, if the Magistrate had followed the proper course of amending the charge, and then obtained sanction as he did, there would be nothing to prevent him from again framing a charge under cl. (f), and proceeding with the trial. The Magistrate cannot be said to be without jurisdiction to try the case merely because he framed the charge before receiving sanction, and did not frame a fresh charge after receiving it. At the time when he took the evidence for the prosecution, no sanction was required, because proceedings in respect of an offence under cl. (f) had not then been instituted, and, under s. 256, Crim. Pro. Code, the accused had the right to recall all the witnesses for the prosecution after the charge was framed. He was, therefore, in no way prejudiced by the Magistrate's procedure. The Magistrate, therefore, had jurisdiction, notwithstanding the word 'previous' in s. 29, because, in the circumstances set forth, the proceedings in respect of the offence under cl. (f) cannot be said to have been instituted when the Magistrate received the police report. Considering the terms of the District Magistrate's order, it was held that proceedings in respect of the offence under cl. (f) were instituted again after the sanction was received, and the absence of a charge framed after sanction, in that case, is cured by s. 535 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. S. 29, Arms Act, must be read with s. 190, Crim. Pro. Code, under the provisions of s. 1 and s. 5 (2) of the same Code. Misuse of the word "prejudice" pointed out. S. 537 (b) does not cure the want of sanction in any case, except when the sanction is required under s. 195, Crim. Pro. Code. KAKA v. KING-EMPEROR, 4 L.B.R. 247=8 Cr. L.J. 65.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(112)—Ss. 19 (f) and 29—Sanction, necessity for—Legality of conviction where no sanction obtained till after commitment—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 532 and 537.—A conviction under s. 19 (f), Act XI of 1878, is illegal, where no previous sanction of the District Magistrate under s. 29 was obtained. Where sanction is obtained after commitment, neither s. 532 nor s. 537, Crim. Pro. Code, can cure the omission. In re ABDUL KADIR SAHIB, 5 M.L.T. 162.

(113)—Ss. 19 (f), 29—Sanction of District Magistrate for prosecution under s. 19 (f), Arms Act, XXXI of 1860, s. 32 (2).—Where there has been no proclamation or order under s. 32, cl. (2) of the Arms Act of 1860, for a general disarmament or search for arms, the sanction of the District Magistrate is necessary, under s. 29, Act XI of 1878, for the institution of proceedings against any person for an offence punishable under s. 19 (f). In re PERUMAL CHETTI, 1 Weir 663.

(114)—Ss. 19 (f), 29—Previous sanction of District Magistrate or other authority when necessary for prosecution for offence under s. 19 (f).—S. 29 of the present Arms Act (XI of 1878) provides that, where an offence punishable under s. 19 (f) has been committed, in any place to which s. 32, cl. 2, of Act XXXI of 1860 applies, within 3 months from the date on which Act XI of 1878 comes into force, the previous sanction of the Magistrate of the District, or in a Presidency town, the Commissioner of the Police, is a condition precedent to a prosecution for such offence. By Punjab Government, Home Department Notification No. 826 of the 26th February 1875, it was notified that the provisions of s. 32 of the Arms Act (XXXI of 1860), as modified by Act VI of 1866, were in force in the greater part of the Punjab, including the Karnal District. So, where a person resident in the Karnal District was found in possession of a double barrelled gun without a license, and this offence was committed many years after the Arms Act of 1878 came into force, held, there was no necessity for sanction for prosecution for an offence under s. 19 (f) of the Act. SUNDER SINGH v. CROWN, 24 P.R. 1913, Cr.=14 Cr. L.J. 688=21 Ind. Cas. 1008=274 P.L.R. 1914.

(115)—S. 20—Offence, by whom triable.—An offence under s. 20 is not triable by a first-class Magistrate. SHUNSHANISA v. KING-EMPEROR, 2 L.B.R. 244.

(116)—S. 20—Elements to constitute offence—Attempts to export or import arms—Ordinary concealment of arms—Not covered by section.—S. 20, Arms Act, directly applies only to cases where the import or export of arms is attempted. It does not apply to ordinary cases of concealment of arms. IBRAHIM v. CROWN, 9 P. R. 1912, Cr.=44 P.W.R. 1912, Cr.=18 Ind. Cas. 265=14 Cr. L.J. 41=128 P.L.R. 1913. (9 Cr. L.J. 259, F.B. and 27 C. 692, F) [F., 33 P. L.R. 1914=1 P.W.R. 1914, Cr.=15 Cr. L.J. 506=24 Ind. Cas. 594.]

(117)—S. 20—See Nos. 17*a*, 27, 99, 100, 101, 102, 103, 104, 105, supra.

(118)—S. 22—Selling military stores to unauthorized person by manager of licensed vendor of arms.—If the manager of a licensed vendor of arms and ammunition sells military stores to a person, without previously ascertaining that he is legally authorised to possess the same, the licensee becomes liable to punishment under s. 22; and it is no defence to plead that the delivery by the man in charge is not a delivery by the owner of the shop. The rule "whatever a servant does in the course of his employment with which he is entrusted and as a part of it, is his master's act" is applicable to certain criminal proceedings also. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. TYAB ALLI, 24 B. 423=2 Bom. L.R. 52. [R., 4 N.L.R. 78=8 Cr. L.J. 18.]

(119)—S 22—Rifle—Delivery into the custody of servant not authorized to possess—Whether amounts to delivery into possession—Conviction under s. 22 — Maintainability.—A and his servant N, while out on a shooting excursion, came across a deer recently killed by a tiger. A fixed his rifle over the killed deer so as to form a trap for the tiger and went home leaving the trap in charge of N. A was charged under s. 22 of the Arms Act, with having delivered the rifle into the possession of an unauthorized person. Held, that the delivery into possession contemplated by s. 22 of the Arms Act is such a delivery as gives the person into whose possession the arm is delivered control over the arm and authority to use it as an arm and that therefore A cannot be convicted for an offence under s. 22. ADAMS v. KING-EMPEROR, 5 L. B.R. 83. (U.B. R. 1897—1901, 1, 15 A. 27, 24 A. 454, R.)

(120)—S. 22—See No. 33, supra.

(121)—S. 24—Order for confiscation.—S. 24 shows that the order for confiscation is in addition to any sentence which may be passed. Therefore without the sentence, an order for confiscation cannot be passed. In re GANGAMA, 1 Weir 654.

(122)—S. 25—Arms found in house occupied by a Hindu joint family—Evidence of possession.—Although it is not laid down as an invariable rule that where weapons are found in a house occupied by the Hindu family living jointly, possession is necessarily that of the managing member only, yet in all such cases, where it is sought to establish that possession and control are with some member of the family other than the managing member, there must be good and clear evidence of the fact before the Court can arrive at such a conclusion. The Act is one highly penal and must be strictly construed. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SANGAM LALL, 15 A. 129 = A.W.N. 1893, 48. [Rel. on, 16 C.W.N. 145 = 13 Cr. L.J. 65 = 13 Ind. Cas. 771; Appl., 9 C.L.J. 663 = 13 C.W.N 861 = 10 Cr. L.J. 125 = 3 Ind. Cas. 681, 2 O.C. 99; R., 29 A. 598 = A.W.N. 1907, 187 = 6 Cr L.J. 23; D., 28 A. 302 = 3 A.L.J. 833 = A.W.N. 1906, 11 = 3 Cr. L.J. 83, 3 Cr. L.J. 71 = 52 P.R. 1905, Cr. = 158 P.L.R. 1905.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—continued.

(123)—S. 25—House-search—Code of Criminal Procedure (Act V of 1898), ss. 94, 105 and 165—Judicial Officers Protection Act (XVIII of 1850), s. 1.—The defendant, who did not, before causing the search of the plaintiff's house to be made, first record the grounds of his belief as provided for by s. 25 of the Arms Act, could not justify the search under the provisions of the said Act. As there was no proceeding pending before him, the defendant was not a 'Court' within the meaning of s. 94 of the Code of Criminal Procedure, and, therefore, the defendant could not direct a search to be made in his presence under the provisions of s. 105 of the Code. The search having been for the purposes of discovering arms generally, s. 165 of the Code did not apply. Conducting a search for arms is not an act done in the discharge of a judicial duty. Act XVIII of 1850 (Judicial Officers Protection Act) does not apply to such a case. Even where a defendant's bona fides, in conducting a search, is established, it does not release him from the obligation the law casts upon him, as being in supreme control of the search party, of seeing that the search was conducted in a proper and reasonable manner. In such a case, the damages should be substantial, and not merely nominal. BRAJENDRA KISHORE ROY CHOWDHURY v. CLARKE, 8 C. L.J. 75 = 12 C.W.N. 973.

(124)—S. 25—Search for arms, when legal—Search for arms would be illegal if it was not ordered by a Magistrate in pursuance of s. 25, Arms Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO TEIN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 1.

(125)—S. 25 — See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss 96, 105, 165, 13 C.W.N. 458 = 9 C.L. J. 298 = 36 C. 433 = 5 M.L.T. 367.

(126)—S. 25—See PENAL CODE, ss. 224, 225, 332, 353, 114 P.L.R. 1903.

(127)—S. 25—See Nos. 103, 106, 107, 108, supra.

(128)—S. 27—Army Regulations, effect of, on powers of Governor-General in Council.—The Army Regulation, India, cannot restrict the powers exercised by the Governor-General in Council under s. 27 of the Arms Act. EMPEROR v. BISHEN SINGH, 1 P.R. 1902, Cr. = 5 P.L.R. 1902.

(129)—S. 27—See Nos. 28, 109, 110, supra.

(130)—S. 28—See No. 46, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1878 (Arms)—concluded.

(131)—S. 29—See Nos. 103, 104, 105, 107, 111, 112, 113, 114, supra.

(132)—S. 30—Search under the Act—Procedure.—The Act appears to contemplate the presence of some specially empowered officer besides the officer conducting the search. EMPRESS v. TEGHA SINGH, 8 C. 473.

(133)—S. 30—See No. 103, supra.

Act XVII of 1878 (Northern India Ferries).

[SS. 8, 12 (b), 13, 15, 26 AM., ACT III OF 1886; S 36 REP., ACT XII OF 1891; S. 15 REP. IN PART, ACT II OF 1901; REP. IN PART IN N.W. FRONTIER PROVINCES, REG. VII OF 1901, S. 3, AM. (IN THE CENTRAL PROVINCES AND THE SAMBALPUR DISTRICT), ACT I OF 1883, SS. 43, 44; AM., (IN UNITED PROVINCES), U. P. ACT II OF 1906, S. 22; AM. (IN PUNJAB), ACT XX OF 1883, SS 78, 79; AM. (IN THE CENTRAL PROVINCES, THE SAMBALPUR DISTRICT AND THE PUNJAB), ACT XII OF 1891; S. 17 AM. (IN THE CENTRAL PROVINCES), ACT IV OF 1907.]

(1)—S 2—Public Ferry—Bengal Reg. VI of 1819, cl. 2—Right of District Magistrate to grant exemptions from payment of tolls.—An order by a District Magistrate declaring certain persons exempt from the payment of tolls for the use of a certain public ferry, is a valid order under s. 52 of Act XVII of 1878 and cl. 2 of Bengal Reg. VI of 1819. BUDH RAM v. SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, A.W.N. 1891, 135.

(2)—Ss. 4, 26—Change in course of river—No limit fixed by Government—Conviction—Illegal.—Where there has been a change in the course of a river and there has been no specification of limits under s. 4 of the Ferries Act subsequent to the change, a conviction under s. 26 of the Act for working a Ferry within the previously prohibited limits cannot be sustained. BANSI DHAR v. EMPEROR, 8 Ind. Cas. 221 = 11 Cr. L.J. 595.

(3)—Ss. 13 and 26—Government Notification No. 536, dated the 14th February, 1883—Ferry—Limits of public ferry.—A notification of Government published under the Northern India Ferries Act, 1878, laid down the limits of various public ferries in one column and in another column the distances within which a private ferry was not allowed to ply for hire. In the case of some ferries, very wide limits were assigned, and the prohibited distance was defined as the limits given in the column laying down the limits of the ferry. In other cases, where the limits of the ferry were not so wide, the prohibited distance was described with reference to s. 13 of the Act as two miles. Held, that in the former case the very wide limits given were deemed sufficient by the Local Government to guard the interests of the lessee of the ferry, and consequently the prohibited area was reduced to the space contained within these limits. EMPEROR v. BABAN, A. W.N. 1905, 262=3 Cr. L.J. 50.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVII of 1878 (Northern India Ferries) —concluded.

(4)—S. 22—Lessee taking less than lawful toll.—It is not an offence under Act XVII of 1878, on the part of lessee, to ask or take less than the authorized toll either once or habitually. But it is an offence to ask or take more than the lawful toll. SOBHA RAM v. EMPRESS, 65 P.R. 1887, Cr.

(5)—S. 22—Lessee of ferry—Servants exacting unauthorised tolls from passengers—Conviction of master illegal—Mens rea.—Where the servants of certain lessees of a ferry are guilty of exacting unauthorised tolls from passengers, the lessees not being present and taking no part in the extortion, held, that the conviction of the masters was illegal, inasmuch as the servants doing the act complained of had done something which was outside the scope of their employment. BEHARI LAL v. KING-EMPEROR, 8 A.L.J. 1324.

(6)—S. 26—See Nos. 2 and 3, supra.

Act I of 1879 (Stamp).

[REP., ACT II OF 1899.]

See ACT XXXVI OF 1860.

See ACT X OF 1862.

See ACT II OF 1899.

(1)—S. 3 (4) (b)—Bonds—Acknowledgment of debt attested by witnesses.—No document can be a bond, unless it is one which itself creates an obligation to pay money. But acknowledgments of advances, or of the purchase and receipt of goods, the obligation to pay for which is not created by the instrument, but arises from the promises to re-pay advances and to pay for goods, which the law always implies when the money is borrowed or goods are purchased, are not bonds. Documents which are, in form, aknowledgments only are not converted into bonds by the mere fact that they contain memoranda as to the rate of interest at which the loan is made, and are attested by witnesses. HIRA LAL SIRCAR v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 22 C. 757. [F., 14 Bur.L.R. 287=4 L.B.R 330; R., 35 P.R 1903=101 P.L.R. 1903; D., 10 C.P.L.R 1.]

(2)—S. 3, cl. 10—Promissory note on Hundi impressed stamp.—When a person was fined for accepting promissory notes payable on demand and written on Hundi impressed stamps instead of on paper to which adhesive stamps had been affixed, it was held that the promissory notes were "duly stamped" under the above section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HARDEO DASS, S.C. 201, Oudh.

(3)—S. 3, sub-s. 13—Mortgage—Definition for purposes of stamp duty—Transfer of Property Act, s. 54.—For the purpose of ascertaining what stamp duty is payable on an instrument, alleged to be a mortgage, the definition of mortgage as given in the Stamp Act and not that in the Transfer of Property Act is to be referred to. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DEBENDRA KRISHNA MITTER, 27 C. 587=4 C.W.N. 524. [R., 4 L.B.R. 2.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1879 (Stamp)—continued.

(4)—S. 3 (17)—Essentials of a receipt.—The chief essential of a receipt is an acknowledgment. A mere statement of the fact of the receipt of money is not enough. Where, at the request of a person who made a payment of money to another, a third person drew up a mere memorandum stating that money was received by that other, held that the memorandum was not a receipt. JAMNA DAS v. HARINARAIN, 23 B. 54. See, also, In re V. SUBRAMANIEN, 1 Weir. 901.

(5)—Ss. 3, 61 — Mortgage-deed.— A mere memorandum of a mortgage by a mortgagee in his accounts and signed by witnesses, but not so under the authority of the mortgagor, is not a "mortgage-deed" as defined in s. 3 of the Act; nor is such an instrument chargeable with stamp duty under any other section of the Act. EMPRESS v. MAYA MAL, 31 P. R. 1883, Cr.

(6)—S. 3 (10), 61—Absence of certificate as required by r. 5 (b) of the Rules made by the Governor-General in Council—"Duly stamped" instrument.—The absence of the certificate, required by r. 5 (b) of the Rules, dated 3rd March, 1882, issued by the Governor-General in Council, under the Stamp Act, does not make a document "not duly stamped" within the intention of the Act, and the person executing the document has not committed any offence punishable under s. 61 of the Act. The non-compliance by the treasury officer or the stamp vendor with the direction to give such a certificate is not an act for which the person purchasing the stamp from him can be punished by the invalidation of the stamps innocently brought by him. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. TRAILAKYA NATH BARAL, 18 C. 39.

(7)—Ss. 3 (17), 61—Receipt, what amounts to.—Certain ornaments were pledged by the accused to his creditor. They were given back by the creditor and were sold by the accused, and the proceeds were paid by him to the creditor, and the debt due by the accused was thus satisfied. A memorandum of the circumstances was made in the creditor's book and signed by the accused. The accused was subsequently charged with and convicted of, an offence under s. 61 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1879:—Held, reversing the conviction, that, although, in the memorandum, the receipt of the ornaments was acknowledged, it was not a receipt within the definition contained in cl. 17 of s. 3 of Act I of 1879, as the ornaments were not by it acknowledged to have been received in "satisfaction of a debt." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHANKARLAL, Rat. Un Cr. C. 356=Cr. Rg. 46 of 1887.

(8)—S. 3, sub-s. 13, arts. 29 and 44.—An instrument evidencing an agreement to secure the repayment of a loan of a certain sum of money with interest, for which a certain promissory note payable on demand was given as collateral security is a mortgage-deed as defined by s. 3, sub-s. 13 of the Stamp Act, and the Stamp duty on it is payable under art. 44 of the Act and not under art. 29. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DEBENDRA KRISHNA MITTER, 27 C. 587=4 C.W.N. 524.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1879 (Stamp)—continued.

(9)—S. 3 (17). arts. 52, 54—Release—Receipt.—Where A sold some of his lands to B for Rs. 5,499, instead of paying in cash Rs. 4,994, which was found due to the latter on accounts being settled, and A obtained from B the surplus amount in cash and a receipt for the sum of Rs. 4, 994, for the purchase money, the receipt containing the following words" the said amount I have received in full, there now remains this day nothing due by you to me in any manner whatsoever,"—held that the document was not a release as it was not a renunciation of a claim. The language used in the document brought it within the definition of " receipt " which includes an acknowledgment of satisfaction of a debt. The fact that a separate document was used rather than an endorsement on the sale deed of the same date did not distinguish this from 10 M. 64. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PANDURANG, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 732=Cr. Rg. 61 of 1894.

(10)—Ss. 11, 16, 17, 18, 61, 62, 69—Stamp.—A salary bill of a Government official sent to the treasury for payment was discovered to have an one-anna receipt stamp, affixed thereto, uncancelled. The Collector convicted the official of abetment of an offence under s. 62, read with s. 11. Held, that no offence was committed under s. 62, since the instrument in question was one required to be stamped at or before the time of execution, to which s. 11 did not apply—it being applicable to cases in which the instrument chargeable with duty may be stamped after execution—but that the offence committed was one under the second para of s. 61. But as in this case no sanction had been given by the Collector, under s. 69, for a prosecution under s. 61, the High Court merely set aside the conviction under s. 62, without making any further order. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAHMAT ALI KHAN, 9 A. 210=A.W.N. 1887, 5. [R., 1 L. B. R. 281.]

(11)—S. 16—See No. 10, supra.

(12)—S. 17—See No. 10, supra.

(13)—S. 18—See No. 10, supra.

(14)—Ss. 33, 62—Defrauding Government of stamp duty—Abetment—Sanction of collector.—The accused, a money lender, was convicted under s. 67 (2), Stamp Act, and fined Rs. 200 in respect of a document which the Magistrate considered to be a contrivance or device on the part of the accused to defraud Government of the stamp duty. Held, that, as the document was not executed by the accused who provided the blank printed form and got another to sign it without a stamp, the conviction was altered to one of abetment of an offence under s. 62 of the Stamp Act. Again it is not necessary in proceedings under the Act, that the document should be impounded under s. 33 of the Stamp Act. The only requisite to a prosecution is the sanction of the Collector or other officer authorized in that behalf. PERIANEN CHETTY S. R. M. M. v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 313. (24 W.R. Cr. 1, R.)

(15)—S. 34—See ACT XXXVI OF 1860, 14 M. 255.

(16)—S. 37 (b)—Scope of the clause —S. 37 (b) of the Stamp Act applies to the case of a document not duly stamped. In cases in which the omission to stamp at all or to stamp duly arises from negligence, inadvertence or ignorance of the provisions of the Stamp Law, it is the duty of the Collector to compel the payment of the duty. But where the stamp affixed to a document is, according to the valuation of the property set forth therein, correct, the Collector has no duty to perform under s. 37. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VENKATARAYUDU, 12 M. 231=1 Weir 903.

(17)—Ss. 37 and 40—Sanction for prosecution under the Act—Recording of a proceeding, whether necessary.—The Act does not require intention to be proved as a part of an offence under it, but, in order to prevent indiscriminate prosecutions, it confines the power of instituting the prosecutions to the Collector, and instructs him to exercise it only when it appears to him that the offence had been committed with an intention to evade payment of the proper duty. He is not required to make a formal enquiry or to record a proceeding when he gives a sanction in writing for a prosecution. It is to be presumed he has governed his decision by the rule prescribed. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PALANI, 7 M. 537=1 Weir 899.

(18)—Ss. 37, 40—Evading payment of stamp duty.—The Stamp Act is a fiscal enactment, and must be strictly construed; and before any person can be punished for an offence relating to the stamp revenue, the procedure prescribed by the Act must be strictly followed. On the discovery of a not duly stamped instrument, the procedure laid down in s. 37 of the Act should be followed ; the severer proceeding of a criminal prosecution under s. 40 is only intended for those cases where there is an intention to evade the stamp law. EMPRESS v. SODDANUND MAHANTY, 8 C. 259=10 C L.R. 365. [Appr., L.B. R. 1872—1892, 623; Cons., 12 M. 231 ; R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 307.]

(19)—Ss. 37 (b), 40, 61 and 63—Defrauding Government by understating the value of property in a deed—Prosecution.—A District Court having, under s. 33 of the Stamp Act, impounded a partition deed produced before it, forwarded it under s. 35 to the Collector, being of opinion that the executant of the deed had committed an offence under s. 63 of the Act,

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1879 (Stamp)—continued.

the accused not having properly valued the property with the intent to defraud Government. The Collector, under the provisions of s. 69, sanctioned the prosecution of the executant, who was punished under s. 63. The Sessions Judge reversed the sentence on the ground that the Collector had omitted to collect the deficient stamp duty before sanctioning the prosecution. Held, that the acquittal was wrong, because s. 37 (b) did not apply to the case, and because the conviction would not be bad, simply because the Collector failed to record proceedings under s. 40 to the effect that he had satisfied himself that there was an intention to evade payment of the proper duty. QUEEN EMPRESS v. VENKATARAYUDU, 12 M. 231 = 1 Weir 903. [R., U.B.R. 1892—1896, 307.]

(20)—Ss. 37, 40, 69—Execution of unstamped instrument—Scope of sections.—The effect of ss. 37, 40, Stamp Act, is that every one must be allowed an opportunity of paying the penalty before the Collector exercises his discretion under s. 69. In many cases, there may be a reasonable question as to whether any penalty is payable or not, and the duty may be recovered by an order which would be lost by a prosecution. He ought, at any rate, to do what the law commands as his duty before exercising a mere discretion. EMPRESS v. JANKI, 7 B. 82. [Appr., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 623; R., 12 M. 231, U.B.R. 1892—1896, 307.]

(21)—Ss. 37, 61—Holder of insufficiently stamped instrument.—No prosecution lies under s. 61, Stamp Act, against the holder of an insufficiently stamped pro-note. But the Collector, on the bond being impounded and sent to him, can levy the penalty under s. 37. EMPRESS v. MURAD ALI, 40 P. R. 1880, Cr.

(22)—Ss. 39 and 69—Charter-party, counterpart or duplicate of—Stamp duty, immaterial for purpose of securing a conviction—Sanction for prosecution by Collector when valid.—There is nothing in the law which renders it obligatory to execute a charter party in duplicate; but when the parties think proper to execute it in duplicate, they commit an offence punishable under s. 61 of the Stamp Act if they fail to stamp the counterpart as prescribed in the schedule. The mere fact that they may have intended it to be used merely as a private copy cannot alter its nature or make it any less a duplicate or counterpart if it is duly signed. Provided that the prosecution be duly instituted, the intention of the party prosecuted to evade the stamp-duty or otherwise is immaterial for the purpose of securing his conviction.—When a Collector without first calling on the party to pay the duty and penalty grants sanction to prosecute before the time had arrived for the exercise of his discretion under s. 40, his sanction is not a valid sanction. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NAWSEE DEWRAJ, L B.R. 1872—1892, 623.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1879 (Stamp)—continued.

(23)—S. 40—Scope of the section.—S. 40 only refers to cases in which a prosecution is instituted after penalty has been paid. It confines the power of instituting prosecutions to the Collector, and instructs him to exercise it only when it appears that the offence was committed with the intention to evade payment of the proper duty. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VENKATARAYUDU, 12 M. 231 = 1 Weir 903.

(23-a)—S. 40—See Nos. 17, 18, 19, 20, supra.

(24)—S. 46—Rule of Governor-General, 3rd March, 1882, 5 (e)—Construction—Stamped paper—Writing on reverse.—The rule is an enabling rule, authorising parties to use plain papers in addition to a stamp paper, where the whole of an instrument cannot be written on the side of the stamp paper which bears the stamp. The rule, while favouring the writing of an instrument only on that side, does not prohibit the writing on the reverse side, so as to make it an offence under s. 61, if they did so write. REFERENCE FROM THE BOARD OF REVENUE UNDER S. 46 OF THE INDIAN STAMP ACT 1879, 7 M. 176, F. B.

(25)—S. 51—Allowance for spoiled stamps—Power of Collector to delegate authority—False statement in enquiry before Deputy Collector—Penal Code, s. 193.—Under s. 51, and the rules made thereunder, the Collector himself, and none other, is the officer, to whom power is given by law to make enquiries into applications for allowance for spoiled stamps, to take the necessary evidence on oath, and to grant or refuse such application; and it is illegal and incompetent for him to delegate his authority in the matter where a Collector made over such an application to the Deputy Collector for enquiry, held, that, he being incompetent to put the witnesses produced by the applicant on their oaths, no charge under s. 181 or 193 could be framed against the witnesses in reference to their statements made before him. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. NIAZ ALI, 5 A. 17 = A.W.N. 1882, 161.

(26)—Ss. 58 and 64—Proof of demand of stamped receipt.—In order to bring home a charge under s. 64, it must be shown that the person accused had been required under s. 58 to give a properly stamped receipt and had refused to give it. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KHETTER MOHUN CHOWDHRY, 27 C. 324 = 4 C.W.N. 440.

(27)—Ss. 60 and 63—Intention to avoid payment of stamp.—Intention to avoid payment of stamp is not an essential ingredient of the offence described in s. 60 of Act I of 1879. But such intention is the essential ingredient of the offence made punishable by s. 63 of that Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VENKATARAYUDU, 12 M. 231 = 1 Weir 903.

(28)—S. 61—Penal Code, s. 107—Abetment of making an unstamped receipt.—Where the accused paid a sum of money to his creditor and when the money was paid and he was to receive a receipt, the creditor said that he could not give a stamped receipt, as he had no stamp and the accused, thereupon, accepted the receipt without a stamp, and promised himself to affix one, held, that the accused was not guilty of abetment of the offence of making an unstamped receipt, as he did not aid the offence by an act, nor did he omit to do anything which he was bound by law to do. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MITTHA LALL, 8 A. 18 = A.W.N. 1885, 317. (A.W.N. 1885, 30, 7 B. 82, A.W.N. 1884, 37, R.) [F., 7 C.P.L.R. 21, Cr.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1879 (Stamp)—continued.

(29)—S. 61—Receipt of insufficiently stamped instrument—Abetment—Penal Code, ss. 40, 109. —The mere fact of the acceptance of an insufficiently stamped instrument cannot amount to an abetment of the offence under s. 61 of the Stamp Act. EMPRESS v. GOPAL DAS, A.W.N. 1883, 145. [R., 20 A. 440.] See, also, EMPRESS v. BEHARI LAL, A.W.N. 1884, 37.

(30)—S. 61—Receiver of an unstamped instrument—"Accepting."—The term "accepting" in s. 61 of the Stamp Act does not mean "receiving" but "executing as an acceptor." The mere receiver of a pro-note not duly stamped does not render himself liable to the penalties under the section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NIHAL CHAND, 20 A. 440 = A.W N. 1898, 108. (7 M. 71, 24 W.R. Cr. 1, 7 B 82, A.W.N. 1883, 145, R.) [R., U.B.R. 1904, 2nd Qr., Stamp, p. 1].

(31)—S. 61—Receiving unstamped instrument—"Accepting."—The mere receiving of a pronote not duly stamped and suing upon it is not "accepting" within the meaning of s. 61 and is, therefore, not an offence under the section. EMPRESS v. SRIKISHAN DAS, 12 P R. 1887, Cr. [R., 18 P.R. 1895, Cr.]

(32)—S. 61—"Accepting" meaning of.—The term "accepting" in s. 61 does not mean receiving but executing as an acceptor. A person receiving a promissory note insufficiently stamped and subsequently putting it in a suit would not be guilty of an offence under s. 61. QUEEN v. GULAM HUSSAIN SAHEB, 7 M. 71 = 1 Weir 302. [F., 1 N.L.R. 163 (164), 11 P.R. 1891, Cr. Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 682; R., 20 A. 440 (441) = 18 A.W.N. 108, U.B.R. 1892—1896, 312, Cr.]

(33)—S. 61—Accepting.—An accused person, who had merely accepted an unstamped receipt without having either executed or signed it, commits neither an offence under s. 61, Stamp Act, nor does he, by such bare acceptance, become guilty of abetting its execution. HIRA v. EMPRESS, 18 P.R. 1895, Cr.

(34)—S. 61—Receiving unstamped instrument—Not abetment.—It is not abetment of the execution of an unstamped instrument to receive it, any more than acceptance of stolen property is abetment of theft. EMPRESS v. JANKI, 7 B. 82. [F., 8 A. 18 = A.W.N. 1885, 317, 20 A. 440 = A.W.N. 1888, 108, 7 C.P.L.R. 21, 1 N.L.R. 163; R., U.B.R. 1904, 2nd Qr., Stamp 1; D., 10 C.P.L.R. 1.]

(35)—S. 61—Receiving unstamped Khata—The mere receipt of an unstamped khata does not constitute an offence under s. 61, Stamp Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KASAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 682 = Cr. Rg. 47 of 1893. (7 M. 71, F.)

(36)—S. 61—Meaning of the term 'Signing otherwise than as a witness"—Agent authorised to sign on behalf of a firm—Liability of agent for granting unstamped receipt.—The words "signing otherwise than as a witness" in s. 61 of the Act includes the writing of a person's name by himself, or by his authority, with the intention of authenticating a document as being that of the person whose name is so written. An ordinary agent authorised to sign on behalf of his principal comes within the purview of the section. Where a clerk signs a firm's name under the authority of the firm, it makes little difference that he wrote the letters to the dictation of the Manager and he may be properly convicted under s. 61 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KHETTER MOHUN CHOWDHRY, 27 C. 324 = 4 C.W.N. 440.

(37)—S. 61—Acknowledgment of receipt of debt due by letter—Failure to properly stamp it.—Where a person acknowledges by letter the receipt of money in satisfaction of a debt for more than Rs. 20, the letter is a receipt and is as such chargeable with duty and the person signing it otherwise than as a witness without its being properly stamped is liable to be convicted under s. 61 of the Act. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, s. 46, 8 M. 11, F.B. = 1 Weir 902.

(38)—S. 61—Amount of fine.—Where a person is convicted of the abetment of an offence under s. 61 of the Stamp Act for not fixing a stamp to an acknowledgment signed by a debtor in his account, books, the amount of fine inflicted should not be excessive but proportionate to the fraudulent intent of the offender. EMPRESS v. BAHADUR SINGH, A. W N. 1885, 30. [D., 8 A. 18].

(39)—S. 61—Signing unstamped receipt.—Where the evidence shows that an unstamped receipt was granted for the acquittance of a debt due from the payer to the grantor's principal, the grantor would be guilty of an offence under s. 61 of the Stamp Act by signing such receipt otherwise than as a witness. EMPRESS v. ASHUTOSH, A.W.N 1885, 266.

(40)—S. 61—Gist of offence—Dishonest intention.—To constitute an offence under s. 61, Stamp Act, a dishonest intention must be made out. EMPRESS v. CHUNNI LAL, A.W. N. 1883, 239.

(41)—S. 61—Penal Code, s. 109, receipt of unstamped receipt.—Mere receipt of an unstamped instrument is not an abetment of an offence

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1879 (Stamp)—continued.

under s. 61 of the Stamp Act of 1879. EMPRESS v. BHAIRON, A.W.N. 1884, 37. (7 B. 82, F.) [F., 8 A. 18.]

(42)—S. 61—See ABETMENT, 20 A. 440=A.W.N. 1898, 108, 10 C.P.L.R. Cr. 1.

(43)—S. 61—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 190, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 55.

(44)—S. 61—See EVIDENCE — GENERAL, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 119.

(45)—S. 61—See Nos. 5, 6, 10, 17, 19, 21, supra.

(46)—Ss. 61 and 62—An unstamped letter acknowledging receipt of a cheque for Rs. 100—Chargeability of duty on, under s. 61—Conviction for not stamping, under s. 62—Legality.—A cheque for Rs. 100, was sent to the accused. He acknowledged its receipt by means of a letter which ran thus "Your cheque for Rs. 100 to hand," held, such a letter is an instrument chargeable with the stamp duty of one anna within the meaning of s. 61 of the Stamp Act I of 1879 and that the accused was rightly convicted under s. 62 of the same Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MUTTIRULANDI, 1 Weir 903= 11 M. 329.

(47)—Ss. 61 and 64—What constitutes an offence under s. 64.—Where a person neither refuses nor neglects to give a receipt, nor does he with intent to defraud the revenue give a receipt for less than Rs. 20 when he has received more, nor does he with like intent separate or divide the money or property paid or delivered, he cannot be convicted under s 64 of the Act. REFERENCE UNDER STAMP ACT, S. 46, 8 M. 11, F.B.=1 Weir 902.

(48)—Ss. 61, 64—Refusal to grant stamped receipt by a firm—Liability of the members of the firm.—The term "person" used in ss. 61 64 of the Stamp Act includes the members of a trading partnership. Where a firm carrying on business in Calcutta as general dealers acknowledged the receipt of certain sums from a customer, but refused to give a properly stamped receipt, held, that the members of the firm were liable to be prosecuted under ss. 61 and 64 of the Act, and that an enquiry as to the presence or the absence of the partners from Calcutta at the time the letters were written or their knowledge of the grant of an improper receipt or of the refusal to grant a proper receipt was immaterial, since they were, in the contemplation of law, the persons who signed the letters of acknowledgment and refused to give a proper receipt. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KHETTER MOHUN CHOWDHRY, 27 C. 324=4 C.W.N. 440.

(49)—Ss. 61 and 67—Execution of document requiring to be stamped but not stamped.—The execution of a document, which on its face requires to be, and is not stamped, cannot be said to be an "act, contrivance, or device not specially provided for" within the meaning of s. 67 of Act, because where the document is what on its face it purports to be, the act of the executant, if punishable at all, is provided for under s. 61 of the Act and cannot, therefore, fall under s. 67. The Act of the person receiving the unstamped document may amount to abetment of an offence, under s. 61, and would then be 'an act provided for by any other law for the time being in force,' namely, the Penal Code, and is, therefore, beyond the scope of s. 67 of the Act. The recipient and the writer of a letter requesting the granting of a loan to a certain person, the writer holding himself responsible for the amount of the loan, if the borrower does not repay it, cannot be prosecuted for an offence under s. 67 of the Stamp Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SOMASUNDARAM CHETTI, 23 M. 155=1 Weir 1907.

(50)—Ss. 61 and 69—Irregularity in mode of reference.—Criminal proceedings taken under the above Act are not invalidated by the mere fact that there was irregularity in the mode of reference by a Civil Court, provided the prosecution is instituted by the Collector or such other officer as the Local Government generally or the Collector specially authorized in that behalf. EMPRESS v. BHANSIDHUR DEORIA, 10 C.P.L.R. Cr. 1.

(51)—Ss. 61, 69—Crim. Pro. Code, Act X of 1882, s. 555—Unstamped receipt—Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Interest of Magistrate in case.—Where a Deputy Magistrate who was also the officer in charge of the Treasury, convicted a person for having given an unstamped receipt, held that the conviction was illegal both for want of the sanction required by s. 69 of Act I of 1879, and under s. 555 of the Crim. Pro. Code. EMPRESS v. BEHARI LAL, A.W.N. 1884, 37.

(52)—Ss. 61, 69—Prosecution in respect of offence against stamp law—Sanction.—The prisoner in this case was convicted by the District Magistrate of an offence under s. 61 of the Stamp Act, but the prosecution was not instituted with the sanction of the Collector. Held that this was an irregularity and not a mere technical objection, because the prosecution could not be conducted by the officer granting the sanction (if sanction had been granted by the Collector who was also the Magistrate). EMPRESS v DEO SAHAI, A.W.N. 1883, 98.

(53)—S. 62—See Nos. 10, 14, 46, supra.

(54)—Ss. 62, 30—Term "receipt" explained.—A receipt is something more than a document merely purporting to acknowledge the payment of money. It means a note or the like, whereby money, a debt or the like is intended to be acknowledged to have been actually paid or discharged. If there is no intention to acknowledge payment of satisfaction a man cannot be held to have given a receipt. In re SUBRAMANIEN, 1 Weir 901.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1879 (Stamp)—continued.

(55)—S. 63 (b)—Scope of the section.—S. 63 (b), being a penal one, must be construed strictly. If so construed, a purchaser or grantee under a conveyance cannot, without straining the meaning of the language, be held to be a person employed or concerned in or about the preparation of the document of conveyance. The language of the clause appears to point to the case of a person in whom trust and confidence has been reposed in connection with the preparation, writing, etc., of an instrument and who abuses such trust and confidence, e.g., an attorney's clerk or professional writer, and not to the case of a person materially interested or concerned in the instrument, when executed, such as a purchaser or grantee. In re SENGODA GOUNDAN, 1 Weir 905.

(56)—S. 63—See Nos. 19, 27, supra.

(57)—S. 64 (=s 65 of Act II of 1899)—Failure to grant receipt when demanded.—The failure to grant a receipt for money paid, though demanded, is an offence punishable, under s. 64 of Act I of 1879, with fine which may extend to Rs. 100. It is therefore not excluded by cl. (a) of s. 216 of the Crim. Pro. Code from the category of offences triable summarily. In re NAVOO ROUTHAN, 1 Weir 205=2 Weir 326.

(58)—S. 64—Four conditions to co-exist to bring an instrument under s. 64.—In order to bring an instrument within the terms of s.64, Stamp Act, four points are necessary and must co-exist or else the instrument is not liable:—(1) The debt must exceed Rs. 20, (2) The instrument must be signed by or on behalf of the debtor, and (3) In order to supply evidence of a debt, (4) The instrument must have been left with the creditor. Wherever a balance of account is struck, no stamp need be affixed unless the debtor signs an acknowledgment. The failure of the creditor to affix such stamp is not an offence under s. 64 of the Stamp Act. EMPEROR v. BANSIDHAR, A.W.N. 1884, 164.

(59)—S. 64—See Nos. 26, 47, 48, supra.

(60)—Ss. 64, 69—Prosecution under the former section—Collector's sanction.—To prosecute a person for having committed an offence under s. 64 of the Stamp Act, the previous sanction of the Collector as laid down in s. 69, is necessary. It is, therefore, essential that the record of conviction should evidence such sanction. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JETHMAL JAYRAJ, 9 B. 27.

(61)—*S.*67 (=s. 68 of Act II of 1899)—Execution of separate instruments in respect of single transaction.—The act, device, or contrivance which is referred to in s.67 must be either improper or prohibited. There is no provision in the Stamp Act which prohibits the execution of separate instruments and requires the execution of a single instrument in respect of a single transaction. Where a person executed as a security for a loan of Rs. 1,300, two mortgage deeds, one on a stamp of Rs. 10 for Rs. 1,000, and another on a stamp of Rs. 3 for Rs. 300 instead, of executing a single deed on a stamp of Rs. 15 for the whole amount, held that he was not guilty of an offence under s. 67 of the Act. In re HURRIBUNDHO DOSS, 1 Weir 907.

(62)—S. 67—Scope of.—The second clause in s. 67, Stamp Act, is not controlled by the first so as to restrict its application to negotiable instruments. The clause is of general application, and covers all cases in which a document is executed with the intention of defrauding the Government of its stamp duty. REFERENCE UNDER THE STAMP ACT, S. 46, 9 M. 138, F.B.

(63)—S. 67—See No. 49, supra.

(64)—S. 68—Act VII of 1870 (Court-fees Act), s. 34—Act XVIII of 1869 (General Stamp Act), s 48—Sale of Court fee stamps without a license.—The sale of Court fee stamps without license was no offence under Act XVIII of 1869, but was specially made so under s. 68 Act I of 1879. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. JALLU, 4 A. 216, F.B.

(65)—S. 68—Selling stamps without license.—The selling of a stamped paper previously brought from a licensed vendor, because the seller did not require it, is an offence under s. 68, as the accused was not "a person appointed to sell stamps." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHOBHARAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 317=Cr. Rg. 3 of 1887.

(66)—S. 69—See Nos. 10, 20, 22, 50, 51, 52, 60, supra.

(67)—Acknowledgment — Mercantile usage, sch. 1, art. 1.—The prosecution in this case related to the fact that certain entries in a Mahajan's cash book were signed by the person affected by these entries and it was contended that the mere fact that they were signed by the customers converted them into acknowledgments, though the entries in question were not in form acknowledgments of debt as contemplated by art. 1, sch. I, of the Stamp Act. Held that such a fact did not convert the document into an acknowledgment under art. 1, sch. I of the Stamp Act, unless it was established that according to mercantile usage or by the use actually made of the entry, it had the effect of such an acknowledgment. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KHALAK SINGH, 10 C.P.L.R. Cr., 7.

(68)—Sch. I, art. 5, cl. (c)—Promise to pay interest.—A promise by a debtor to pay interest in an acknowledgment of a debt in a Mahajan's accounts, is an agreement chargeable under art. 5, cl. (c), sch. I of the Act. EMPRESS v. BHANSIDHUR DEORIA, 10 C.P.L.R. Cr. 1. (4 B. 366, 22 C. 757, Diss.; 23 W.R. 403, 15 C. 150, R.)

(69)—Sch. I, art. 13—Guarantee bonds.—The material part of a document was as follows:—"If T and Z fail to redeem the paddy lands they mortgaged to P.I. L.G.N. will redeem them by paying the original mortgagee money and interest. Held, that this was not a security bond, but a guarantee bond, coming under art. 13, sch. (1), Stamp Act, 1879. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA LU GALE NGE, L. B. R. 1893—1900, 119.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1879 (Stamp)—concluded.

(70)—Art. 29—Scope of the article.—Art. 29 applies to an instrument evidencing an agreement to secure the re-payment of a loan, which means an instrument executed at the time the loan is made, and not to the case of an assignment by way of mortgage of a valuable security to secure a pre-existing debt. The article contemplates an instrument contemporaneous with the advance and with the deposit. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DEBENDRA KRISHNA MITTER, 27 C. 587 = 4 C.W.N. 524.

(71)—Art. 29—See No. 8, supra.

(72)—Art. 44—See No. 8, supra.

(73 & 74)—Art. 52—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 432—Reference under Stamp Act (1879)—Entry by creditor in debtor's book.—An entry recording the payment of the amount due made by the creditor in the debit side of the debtor's khatta book, and signed by him, is a "receipt" within the meaning of s. 3 (17) of the Stamp Act, and, as such, requires to be stamped under art. 52, sch. I of the Act. To decide questions of this kind, the Court must look to the intention of the parties. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JUGGER NATH, 11 C. 267. [R., 2 L.B.R. 307.]

(75)—Art. 52—See No. 9, supra.

(76)—Art. 54—See No. 9, supra.

(77)—Chap. VIII—Realization of penalty levied by Collector—Power of criminal Court.—A criminal Court trying an offence punishable under Chap. VIII of the Act cannot realise a penalty previously directed to be paid by the Collector under Chap. IV of that Act. EMPRESS v. BHANSIDHAR DEORIA, 10 C.P. L.R. Cr. 1.

Act IV of 1879 (Railways).

[REP., ACT IX OF 1890.]

See ACT XVIII OF 1854.

See ACT IX OF 1890.

See CARRIERS.

See RAILWAY COMPANY.

(1)—Ss. 15, 29—False accounts of goods despatched.—The duty imposed by s. 15, that of giving an account of the quantity or description of property sought to be despatched by rail being limited to the case of a demand being made, held, that a person giving false account of goods despatched without being so demanded by railway authorities could not be convicted under s. 29. HARYA v. EMPRESS, 36 P.R. 1885, Cr.

(2)—Ss. 17 and 31—Duty of passengers and their liability.—Under ss. 17 and 31, Railway Act, no passenger is to travel without a proper ticket (an ordinary one for the particular journey or a season ticket) furnished by the company. Every passenger is to show or deliver up his ticket when called upon; and any passenger, who fails in either of these points, is liable, whether a season-ticket holder or not to pay the ordinary fare for his journey, or if he cannot show where he got into the train, the ordinary fare from the starting point of the train. In the matter of the petition of E. G. BUSKIN; In the matter of the petition of C. F. THOMAS: E. W. HART v. E. G. BUSKIN, 12 C. 192.

(3)—S. 26—Liability under section when arises.—Persons are liable to conviction under s. 26 of the Act not by reason of consequences directly referable to default in observing the rules, but by reason of the danger or risk which it entails. Where it was required by a rule sanctioned and notified as required by law that the guard and driver of a ballast-train should, on a line worked on the block-system, stop the train at a station and should not leave the station till the guard has received from the Station Master and delivered to the driver a "line clear certificate," disobedience, of such rule by the guard and driver which endangered the safety of persons, was held to make them liable to be punished under s. 62. CHARLES SMELL v. QUEEN, 6 M. 201 = 1 Weir 867 = 7 Ind. Jur. 246. [R., 37 B. 685 = 15 Bom. L.R. 702 = 14 Cr. L.J. 460 = 20 Ind. Cas. 620, 7 Cr. L.J. 417 = 4 L.B.R. 139, 11 Cr. L.J. 362 = 6 Ind. Cas. 483 = 8 P.L.R. 1910 = 39 P.W.R. 1910.]

(4)—S. 29—See No. 1, supra and No. 14, infra.

(5)—S. 31—Order under, nature of—Season ticket holder travelling without ticket.—The order under s. 31 of the Railway Act, in case of a refusal by a passenger, travelling without a proper ticket, to pay the fare, should be one merely for the recovery of the amount due as the fare, and not an order to pay the sum as if it were a fine. [R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 435.] A passenger, who has a season ticket, which is still in force and in his possession, cannot be said to be travelling without a ticket within the meaning of s. 31 of the Railway Act, merely by reason of his inability to produce it when called upon, on account of his not happening to have the ticket with him: but he will be considered not to have shown the ticket, and will have to pay the ordinary fare. In the matter of the petition of E. G. BUSKIN; In the matter of the petition of C.F. THOMAS; E.W. HART v. E.G. BUSKIN, 12 C. 192.

(6)—S. 31—See No. 2, supra.

(7)—Ss. 31, 32—Fine — Fare—Fraudulent act.—S. 32, unlike s. 31 of the Railways Act, applies only to fraudulent acts, and requires the imposition of fine in addition to the fare.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1879 (Railways)—concluded.

Where there is no intent to defraud, the conviction should be under s. 31. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HUSSENDIN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 435 = Cr. Rg. 7 of 1889. (12 C. 192, R.)

(8)—S. 32—See ACT IX OF 1890, s. 112, 1 Weir 869, F.B.

(9)—S. 32—See No. 7, supra.

(10)—S. 45—Knowledge— Act likely to endanger safety of passengers.—Where there is no evidence that a Station Master, in sending a train without previously obtaining a line clear message, knew that his act was likely to endanger the safety of the passengers travelling therein, a conviction under s. 45 of the Act is illegal. EMPRESS v. SRIKISHEN, A.W.N. 1882, 172.

(11)—Ss. 45, 46—Placing obstruction on the rails.—Where the accused was charged with pulling up an iron mail post and placing it across the rails on a dark-night, held that the act being wrongful in itself, rashness cannot be usually predicated, and that the offence, falling within s. 45 of the Railways Act, should be committed to the Sessions Court and not tried by a Magistrate as falling within s. 46. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHIVAPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 458 = Cr. Rg. 14 of 1889.

(12)—S. 46—Failure to remove stone from rail.—A person who fails to remove a stone from a rail is not guilty of negligently doing an act which is likely to endanger the safety of persons travelling upon the railway, under s. 46, unless it be proved that he was legally bound to remove it. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PHAKEERA, Rat Un. Cr. C. 394 = Cr. Rg. 50 of 1888.

(13)—S. 46—See No. 11, supra.

(14)—Ss. 101 and 29—Negligence of Railway servant—Lives lost—Punishment.—Where a Railway servant was convicted under s. 29 of Act IV of 1879 for his gross negligence by which an accident happened in which several lives were lost, held that three months' simple imprisonment was too light a sentence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAGANNATH, A.W.N. 1890, 171.

Act XIV of 1879 (Hackney Carriage).

[S. 4.—REP IN PART, ACT XIII OF 1889; S. 3, AMENDED ACT I OF 1903, DECLARED IN FORCE IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—Ss. 3 and 7—Advertisement as to the hire of carriage—Hackney carriage— Liability under the Act.—A published an advertisement in a newspaper that he would supply carriages for hire and for sale. He was charged under s 7 of the Hackney Carriage Act, for hiring hackney carriages, without obtaining a license from the Municipality, in contravention of Rule 1 of the Rules framed by the Rangoon Municipal Committee under s. 3 of the said Act. Held:—

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIV of 1879 (Hackney Carriage)—cld.

(1) that a conviction cannot be up held under the section, if it is not proved that the accused had carriages in his possession to which it might be held that the advertisement referred, and that a mere insertion of a notice cannot be sufficient for a conviction; (2) and that it must also be shown that the accused also meant to offer his carriages for the conveyance generally of that portion of the public who are "passengers," and that the terms and conditions of the hiring must also be clear. GARSTIN, H A v. KING-EMPEROR, 4 L.B R. 80 = 7 Cr.L J. 71.

(2)—Ss. 6 and 7—Rule 1—Driving unlicensed carriage.—Rule 1 of the rules framed under Act XIV of 1879 for the Umballa Cantonment does not render driving an unlicensed carriage punishable under s. 7 of the Act. MAHA NAND v. EMPRESS, 7 P.R. 1892, Cr. [D., 39 P.W.R. 1910 = 8 P.L.R. 1910 = 6 Ind. Cas. 483 = 11 Cr.L.J. 362.]

(3)—Ss. 6, 7—Insein Rules, r. 15—Refusal of driver to ply hackney carriage for hire—Liability of driver and owner for such refusal.—The driver of a hackney carriage who refuses to ply it for hire is not punishable for infringement of r. 15 of the Insein Rules under the Hackney Carriages Act, because he cannot properly be said to "keep" the carriage which he happens to be driving. And the "owner" or keeper of a carriage is not punishable for the refusal of his servant, i. e., the driver. It must be shown that the hirer applied to the "owner" or "keeper" and was refused by him. EMPEROR v. KAMALI KHAN, 15 Cr. L.J. 552 = 24 Ind. Cas. 960.

(4)—S. 7—Breach of condition of license.—Breach of the condition of a license as set out in r. 7 of the above Act, not being a breach of a rule, is not punishable under s. 7. RAHIMAN SAHIB v. MUNICIPAL SECRETARY, U B. R. 1892--1896, Vol. I, 125.

(5)—S. 7—See Nos. 1, 2, 3, supra.

(6)—S. 9—Summary and not exclusive remedy.—The above section is merely intended to provide a simple and summary means of settling disputes between the hirers and letters of hackney carriages, and parties are not thereby excluded from having recourse to the Civil Courts. RAHIM BAKHSH v. P.C. WHEELER, A.W.N. 1893, 203.

Act XVIII of 1879 (Legal Practitioners).

[AM., ACT IX OF 1884; AM., ACT XI OF 1896; AM., (IN LOWER BURMA) ACT VI OF 1900, S. 47; S. 42 AM., ACT I OF 1903; SS 4, 7, 25, 38, AM., ACT I OF 1908; REP. IN N.W. FRONTIER PROVINCE (EXCEPT S. 36 AS SUBSTITUTED BY S. 4 OF ACT XI OF 1896), REG. VII OF 1901, S. 5; DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S.3.]

See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS.

(1)—Unprofessional conduct — Suspicion — Muktear—Renewal of license.—The renewal of the license of a legal practitioner cannot be refused on the mere suspicion that he was implicated in, and privy to, the sending of anonymous petitions making serious allegations against a Sub-divisional officer and other Government officers. In re BABU NIRAJAN PROSAD MOHANTY, 12 C.W.N. 919 = 8 Cr. L.J. 155 = 4 M.L.T. 155.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1879 (Legal Practitioners) —continued.

(2)—Nature of the enquiry under the Act—Judicial proceeding—False statements by witnesses on solemn affirmation — Penal Code, ss. 181, 193—False statements of the accused person made after being solemnly affirmed.—An enquiry under the Legal Practitioners' Act is a judicial proceeding, and false statements on solemn affirmation made by the witnesses therein should be charged as offences under s. 193, Penal Code, and the persons so charged should be tried separately. [F., 13 Ind. Cas. 215 = 5 S.L R. 129; D., 4 Bur. L.T. 130 = 12 Cr. L.J. 577 (578) = 12 Ind. Cas. 841 (842).] Where a pleader is called upon, in an enquiry under the Legal Practitioners' Act, to explain his conduct, it is not competent to the Court conducting the enquiry to take a statement from him on solemn affirmation. He is not, therefore, in such proceeding legally bound by an oath to speak the truth, and, if he states what is false, does not render himself amenable to the charge of making a false statement under s. 181 or giving false evidence under s. 193, Penal Code. KOTHA SUBBA CHETTI v. QUEEN, 6 M. 252 = 1 Weir 116 = 1 Weir 156 = 1 Weir 785 = 7 Ind. Jur. 247. [D., 12 Ind. Cas. 841 = 4 Bur. L.T. 130 = 12 Cr. L. J. 577.]

(3)—See FALSE EVIDENCE, 6 M. 252 = 1 Weir 116 = 1 Weir 156 = 1 Weir 785 = 7 Ind. Jur. 247.

(4)—Ss. 3 and 36—District Magistrate declaring a person to be a tout—Procedure—Personal inquiry necessary—Opportunity to show cause.—Before proceeding to declare a person to be a tout, the District Magistrate should himself make an inquiry as to the person's antecedents and give him an opportunity to show cause. Where a Sub-divisional officer called on a person to show cause why he should not be declared a tout and he showed cause and the Sub-divisional officer after recording evidence on both sides submitted the proceedings with his report to the District Magistrate, and the latter after perusing them passed an order declaring the person to be a tout, the order was set aside. In re CHANDI CHARAN DEY, 12 C.W.N. 842 (6 C.W.N. 289, F.) [F., 13 Cr. L.J. 510 = 15 Ind. Cas. 654; R, 11 Cr. L.J. 320 = 6 Ind. Cas. 327.]

(5)—Ss. 3 and 36—See TOUT, 27 P W.R. 1909, Cr. = 4 Ind. Cas. 1022 = 11 Cr. L.J. 148.

(6)—Ss. 6, 8—Scheduled Districts Act, ss. 3, 5, 6—Enrolment of vakils in the province of Kumaun and Garhwal — Jurisdiction. — The Commissioner of Kumaun is the High Court of that province and Garhwal for the purposes of the Legal Practitioners' Act. Therefore, a person enrolled as a vakil of the High Court of Judicature at Allahabad is not entitled, by virtue of such enrolment, to practise in the Courts of Kumaun and Garhwal. Where the Commissioner of Kumaun refuses to enroll a person as entitled to practise in the Courts of Kumaun and Garhwal, the High Court of Judicature at Allahabad has no right to interfere. In the matter of the petition of PADMA DAT JOSHI, 24 A. 348, F.B. = A.W.N. 1902, 86.

(7)—S. 8—See No. 6, supra.

(8)—S. 9—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s 4 (r), 5 A.L J. 40 = A.W.N. 1908, 11 = 30 A. 66 = 7 Cr. L.J. 21.

(9)—S. 10—Pleader or Mukhtear—Power to practise.—Unless a pleader or mukhtear comes within the exceptions to s. 10, Act XVIII of 1879, or within the proviso, he acts in contravention of the provisions of the section, if he performs, even on a single occasion, the functions of a pleader or mukhtear in a Court not established by Royal Charter. EMPRESS v. BAGI RAM 44 P.R. 1887, Cr.

(10)—Ss. 10, 32—Illegal practising by a pleader—Jurisdiction.—A pleader or mukhtear practising in the Court of a Subordinate Magistrate, in contravention of the provisions of s. 10 of the Act, is only punishable under s. 32, by such Magistrate, and not by the District Magistrate. In the matter of the petition of GANGA DYAL, 4 A. 375 = A W.N. 1882, 67.

(11)—S. 12—Conviction of pleader for cheating—Report to High Court—Arguments allowed to show that facts did not amount to offence.—Where, on a pleader being convicted of cheating under s. 417, I.P.C., the District Judge reported the case to the High Court under the Legal Practitioners' Act, Counsel for the pleader was allowed to go behind the conviction and show that his acts did not in law amount to the offence of cheating. In the matter of DURGA CHARAN, PLEADER, AND S. 12 OF ACT XVIII OF 1879, 7 A. 290, F.B = A.W.N. 1885, 48. [Diss, 18 A. 174; R., 11 Cr. L.J. 503 = 7 Ind. Cas. 622, 22 A. 49, P C.]

(12)—S. 13—Grossly unprofessional conduct.—Where certain parties to a suit executed an agreement in which it was stated that, as they were unable to pay the pleader's fees owing to poverty, a certain sum shall be paid to the vakil, in consideration of his conducting the case, when the case was won, held that it was, in effect, an agreement by which the pleader became entitled to a share of the property in suit in payment of his services as pleader in the suit, and that, in accepting such an agreement, the pleader was guilty of grossly unprofessional conduct. In the matter of the CONDUCT OF A PLEADER, UNDER S. 13 OF ACT XVIII OF 1879, LEGAL PRACTITIONERS ACT, 4 O.C. 229. (4 C.W.N. 104, 5 C.W.N. 184, R.)

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1379 (Legal Practitioners) —continued.

(13)—S. 13—Pleader taking sides against former client—Grossly improper conduct.—A pleader, after his dismissal without misconduct on his part, or after the close of the business, is at liberty to take sides against his former employer, provided always that he has no secrets to carry with him that can be used to his former client's prejudice. But he is not competent to do so when he is neither discharged by his client nor has the business, for which he was retained, closed. Where a mukhtear retained by the complainant defended the accused when the latter was retried after the order of his discharge was set aside on revision, held, that the conduct of the mukhtear was grossly improper. ALIMUHAMMAD v. BABU SHAM LAL, 45 P.L. R. 1904 = 2 P.R. 1904, Cr. (6 C. 79, 12 B. 95, R.)

(14) S. 13—Pleader taking sides against former client.—A pleader, after his dismissal without misconduct on his part, or after the close of the business, is at liberty to take sides against his former employer, provided always, that he has no secrets to carry with him that can be used to his former client's prejudice. "The Court will require a strong case to be made out as a ground for an order restraining a pleader from acting in any particular case; but from the nature of the thing it will, in general, be satisfied with the affidavit of a person who says he made confidential communication pertinent to the now pending suit, without requiring him to go into details, the statement of which would be a disclosure of the very matters which it is his purpose to keep concealed. In the matter of DANIEL, MR. J. L.B.R. 1893—1900, 18. (12 B. 91, F.)

(15)—S. 13—Pleader—Professional misconduct—Enquiry — Strict proof necessary.—In order to secure his own fee a pleader was an active party to placing his client in the hands of a money-lender who made a wholly unscrupulous and extortionate bargain with the pleader's client. The pleader knew the terms of that bargain: yet he did not advise or warn his client but permitted him to enter into the bargain. Held, that it was a professional misconduct of a grave kind: of a kind which, if permitted would tend to corrupt and demoralise the legal profession. A high standard of rectitude, diligence, duty and zeal is required of pleaders in the interests of the Bar. An enquiry into the professional misconduct of a pleader being of a quasi-judicial nature, the Court must have a strict proof of the pleader's misbehaviour. GOVERNMENT PLEADER v. RAGUNATH S. SULE, 10 Cr. L.J. 526 = 11 Bom. L.R. 1150 = 4 Ind. Cas. 266.

(16)—S. 13—Unprofessional conduct what amounts to—Interference by Privy Council with the punishment passed on a pleader by the High Court.—Where a certificated pleader, after his employment as a pleader by a Bank had ceased, commenced a correspondence with a suitor against whom the Bank had taken proceedings to recover a debt, which showed that he was guilty of grave improprieties in his professional conduct, held, such conduct amounted to a "reasonable cause" for suspending him under s. 13 of the Act. Where the quantum of punishment imposed on a pleader for conduct which amounted to a "reasonable cause" for suspending him under s. 13 of the Act, was neither unreasonable, nor excessive, the Privy Council declined to interfere with the decision of the High Court as to the punishment. In the matter of QUARY, F. W. 13 A. 93. P.C. = 17 I.A. 199 = 5 Sar. 638. [R., 29 C. 893 = 6 C.W.N. 556; 34 M. 29 = 8 M.L.T. 22 = 6 Ind. Cas. 313 = M. M.N., 1910, 163 = 11 Cr.L.J. 310 = 20 M.L.J. 500.]

(17)—S. 13—"Other reasonable cause"—Writing of an anonymous letter by pleader.—Where a pleader wrote a letter, which he did not sign, to an officer, who was conducting an enquiry into a charge of bribery against a Revenue Inspector, the letter making allegations, which were intended to prejudice the mind of the officer in connection with the matter, which he was investigating, held, that the pleader was guilty of misconduct and that he should be suspended "for other reasonable cause" under s. 13, cl. (f), Legal Practitioners Act. SUB COLLECTOR OF NORTH ARCOT v. C. SESHACHARIAR, 13 M.L.J. 65 = 26 M. 448.

(18)—S. 13—Professional misconduct, what amounts to.—A legal practitioner who, believing himself to be under a pecuniary liability to his client, endeavours to get the client to accept a less amount than that for which he is liable, is not guilty of grossly improper conduct within the meaning of s. 13 of the Legal Practitioners' Act. In the matter of AHSAN ALI, 5 A.L.J. 126 = A.W.N. 1908, 70.

(19)—S. 13—*Essentials of a charge under—*Munshiana.—In order to sustain a charge under cl. (c) of s. 13 of the Act, the gratification paid to the tout must be "out of any fee paid or payable to a pleader," but does not include a payment made out of the Munshiana of a pleader's Munshi. AMOLAK RAM v. CROWN, 31 P.W.R. 1909, Cr. = 4 Ind. Cas. 1022 = 11 Cr. L.J. 143. (15 C. 152, P.C., 27 C. 1023, D.) [R., 11 Cr. L.J. 396 = 6 Ind. Cas. 736 = 22 P.W.R. 1910.]

(20)—S. 13—Professional misconduct—Advocate—Grave moral turpitude—Instituting false case and supporting it by gross perjury—Evidence—Conviction—Interference of High Court in such cases.—Where an Advocate was found guilty of having committed gross perjury and where the course of his conduct displayed great moral turpitude in having instituted a false case and having supported it by false statement. Held, that he was unfit to remain an Advocate any longer, and should be ordered to be struck off the rolls. In proceedings under the Legal Practitioners' Act, the High Court will not go into the merits of the conviction, but will ordinarily accept the findings of Criminal Courts as final. In the matter of M.M.J., 13 Cr. L.J. 875=17 Ind. Cas. 811=5 Bur. L.T. 191.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1879 (Legal Practitioners) —continued.

(21)—S. 13—Professional misconduct— High Court Rules, chap. XV r. 25—General Civil Courts Rules, 1911, chap. XXI, r. 37—Civ. Pro. Code, 1908, O. XXI, r. 73.—If a pleader, acting for a decree-holder, purchases the property sold in execution of his client's decree, he is guilty of professional misconduct. The evil is equally great if he purchases the property for other persons. Therefore, where, in execution of his client's decree, a pleader made a purchase on behalf of his father, the Court held him guilty of misconduct. Per Chamier, J.—Rule 37 of Chap. XXI of the General Rules, Civil, 1911, applies even to a pleader of the High Court, when he is practising in the Subordinate Courts. In the matter of HAR PRASAD SINGH, 13 Cr. L.J. 795=17 Ind. Cas. 539, F.B.

(22)—S. 13—Pleader — Misconduct.—Every practitioner is bound to see, before he accepts a vakalatnama, that he has not been already engaged on the other side. To recklessly sign vakalatnamas without making proper note thereof, is very nearly approaching misconduct on the part of a pleader. IMAMUL HAQ v. FAIZUL HASAN, 14 Cr. L J. 44=18 Ind. Cas. 268, F.B.

(23)—S. 13—Rule 27 of the rules framed under—Neglect of pleader to appear after receipt of fees—Pleader engaging in trade—Actionable claim—Purchase by pleader—Position of vakil--Professional misconduct—High Courts disciplinary powers—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—PLEADER AND CLIENT, 23 M.L.J. 447=1912, M.W.N. 1029=12 M.L.T. 615=37 M. 238=13 Cr. L.J. 800=17 Ind. Cas. 544.

(24)—S. 13—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—PLEADER AND CLIENT, 4 Ind. Cas. 176.

(25)—S. 13 (b)—Misconduct—Mukhtar's writing an objectionable letter to the presiding officer of a Court—Apology—Suspension.—Held, that the conduct of a mukhtar, who writes for another person a letter to the address of the presiding officer of a Court, on the supervision of Courts subordinate to his Court, and uses highly objectionable language in it, came within the terms of s. 13 (b) of the Legal Practitioners' Act. For such misconduct the Chief Court suspended a mukhtar from practice for a period of three months and declined to accept an apology tendered by him before the presiding officer of the Court concerned and the Chief Court. In the matter of A MUKHTAR, 166 P.L. R. 1901.

(26)—S. 13, cls. (b) and (f)—Evidence Act, s. 126—Pleader refusing to disclose professional communication on being questioned by Court—Professional misconduct.—A pleader, during the course of the examination of a witness, asked the Court to make a note of what he represented the witness had stated and also his demeanour, but the Court observed that it did not hear what the witness had said. Thereupon the pleader left the Court-room saying that he would withdraw from the case. Afterwards he returned with an application stating that the Court had not noted the statement and demeanour of the witness, and got it presented by his client. The pleader, on being asked by the Court whether he was instructed by his client to write the application, declined to answer relying on s. 126 of the Evidence Act. Held, (1) that an action against the pleader under cls. (b) and (f) of s. 13 of the Legal Practitioners' Act could not be sustained, as it was not necessary for him to consult his client before drafting the petition, if the facts took place within his own cognizance and were such as to endanger his client's interest; (2) that, in relying upon s. 126 of the Evidence Act, the pleader showed no disregard to the Court's authority. SATGUR PRASAD v. EMPEROR, 14 Cr. L.J. 438=20 Ind. Cas. 598.

(27)—S. 13 (c) (d)—Payment by pleader out of his Munshi's fee to a person who brings a case to him—Misconduct.—Held by the Full Bench that Munshiana (Clerk's fee) does not mean the fee paid or payable to a pleader for his services, within the term of s. 13 (c) of Act XVIII of 1879 as amended; paying wholly or in part Munshiana to a person, who introduces a client to a pleader, is not objectionable under the said s. 13 (c), provided it is not done in pursuance of any previous arrangement between that person and the pleader, for the procuring by the former of clients for the latter. Obiter: —The Munshiana system is very similar to that in force in England, where a Counsel's clerk is paid by his employer and receives fees as well from that employer's clients. On receiving back the case from the Full Bench, the Division Bench (Johnstone and Williams, JJ.), after remarking as follows:—Held, that a pleader, who himself pays a sum of money to a procurer of clients or allows him to take his clerk's Munshiana in whole or in part as a gratification for having procured him a client, is as liable to be dealt with under s. 13 (c) of Act XVIII of 1879 as if he has paid out of his own fee. Remarks—"In referring the aforesaid question regarding it (s. 13-c) to the Full Bench, we rather assumed that the words "out of any fee...services" qualified "tenders" or "gives" as well as consents to the retention of; but examination of the structure of the clauses shows that this assumption was hardly correct —the real meaning of the clause is this:—"Who tenders or gives any gratification for procuring or having procured the employment, etc., or consents to the retention out of any fee paid or payable to him for his services, or any gratification for procuring, etc." In the case of AMOLAK RAM, PLEADER, 22 P.W.R. 1910, Cr. = 6 Ind. Cas. 736 = 11 Cr. L J. 396 = 27 P.R. 1910, Cr. = 69 P.L.R. 1910.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1879 (Legal Practitioners) —continued.

(28)—S. 13, cl. (f)—Pleader retaining in his service a man convicted of cheating and who was to be declared a tout, &c. and after his enrolment as a pleader's clerk was refused—Making false statement.—Held, that, a charge of the following description against a pleader constitutes a professional misconduct under s. 13, cl. (f) of Act XVIII of 1879, for which he is liable to be either dismissed or suspended for a certain period (which was six months in the present case). (1) That Mr. M, after having given a very clear promise to the Bar Council to dismiss N, whose name had been entered in the list of suspected touts and to whom notice had been issued to show cause why he should not be proclaimed as a tout, retained N, in his service and that he made a distinctly false promise in order to escape the further action of the Council. (2) That Mr. M in the 1st instance made a definite promise to escape further action of the Bar Council and he broke that promise, and subsequently when an enquiry was made from him he deliberately made a false statement false to his knowledge, regarding the employment and notice, &c., of dismissal of N. In the matter of MR. M., 49 P.W.R. 1914, Cr., F.B.

(29)—Ss. 13, 14—Power of High Court to transfer proceedings.—The Chief Court has no power, either under s. 25, Civ. Pro. Code, or under s. 526, Crim. Pro. Code, or under the provisions of the Punjab Chief Court's Act, or under its general powers of superintendence, to order the transfer of a proceeding under s. 14 of the Legal Practitioners Act. But the general powers of superintendence and control enables the Chief Court to look at the charge, and, if it appears that the allegations made do not establish a case justifying suspension or dismissal, to direct proceedings to be stayed. JAIMAL SINGH v. LALA BHAGWAN DAS, 41 P.R. 1888, Cr. [R., 11 P.R. 1909, Cr. = 115 P. L R. 1909, 28 P.W.R. 1909, 18 P.R. 1914, 3 P.R. 1900, Cr.]

(30)—Ss. 13, 14—Jurisdiction of Subordinate Courts.—The words, "any such misconduct as aforesaid," in s. 14, relate to all the cases set out in s. 13. A Court subordinate to the High Court, is, therefore, competent to try offences falling under cls. (c) to (f) of s. 13. In the matter of the petition of MUHAMMAD ABDUL HAI, PLEADER, 29 A. 61 = 3 A.L J. 811 = A.W.N. 1906, 268. (27 C. 1023, 15 C. 152, 26 M. 448, R.) [R., 11 C.L.J. 164 = 11 Cr. L.J. 214 = 5 Ind. Cas. 727.]

(31)—Ss. 13, 14—As amended by Act XI of 1896—Competency of District Judge to enquire into a charge of misconduct—Toutism—Chief Court's power of revision.—Held, that:—S. 14 of Act XVIII of 1879 applies to all clauses of s. 13 as amended by Act XI of 1896, when any of the charges mentioned in s. 13 of the said Act is brought to the notice of any Court within whose local limits the pleader is ordinarily practising, the presiding officer has jurisdiction to proceed against him (pleader) under its s. 14 and can report, in the manner prescribed thereunder, to the High Court for suspending or dismissing such pleader in case the charge is made out; in acting under s. 14 of the said Act the Court is bound to hold a preliminary inquiry in order to find out distinctly what is the charge, and after satisfying itself that it is prima facie a true one, but not before, the Court can proceed to issue notice required in paras. 1 and 2 of the same section. Such a notice if issued on a vague report is liable to be set aside on revision by the High Court; in order to sustain a charge under clause (c) of s. 13 of the Act, the gratification paid to the tout must be "out of any fee paid or payable to a pleader," but does not include a payment made out of the Munshiana of a pleader's Munshi. AMOLAK RAM v. CROWN, 31 P.W.R. 1909, Cr. = 4 Ind. Cas. 1022. (15 C. 152, P.C., 27 C. 1023, D.) [R., 11 Cr. L.J. 396 = 6 Ind. Cas. 736 = 22 P.W.R. 1910, R.]

(32)—Ss. 13, 14—Conduct of pleader as suitor.—A petition couched in disrespectful and improper language, drafted and presented by a Pleader to a Court not in his professional capacity but as a party, will not render him liable to the penalties provided in the Act for a professional man, as it is possible to take notice of his behaviour in any other way, viz., as one committed by a suitor. In the matter of a FIRST GRADE PLEADER, 24 M. 17. [F., 7 Cr. L.J. 333 = 18 M.L.J. 184 = 3 M.L.T. 237; R., 11 Cr.L.J. 310 = 6 Ind. Cas. 313 = 1910, M. W.N. 163.]

(33)—Ss. 13, 14—Pleader—Unprofessional conduct—Refusal of brief for political reasons—Right to refuse—Reasons for refusal if must be stated—Right to move High Court to quash proceedings when called upon to show cause.—A pleader is not bound to accept a brief offered to him, nor to state his reasons, for refusing to accept it. A pleader, having refused a brief offered to him, was subjected to a stringent examination to disclose his reasons, and, on its appearing that his reasons were political, proceedings were started against him under the Legal Practitioners' Act and he was called upon to show cause why he should not be reported to the High Court for unprofessional conduct. Without waiting to show cause, the pleader at once moved the High Court to quash the proceedings. Held that he was entitled to do so, that there was no rule of procedure to justify the examination to which he was subjected. In the matter of NABIN CHANDRA DAS GUPTA, 12 C.W.N. 381.

(34)—Ss. 13, 14—As amended by Act XI of 1896—Meaning of expression any 'other reasonable cause'—Misconduct prior to enrolment

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1879 (Legal Practitioners) —continued.

Permanent defect of character—Power of subordinate Court to proceed under s. 14.—Held, per Hill, J., (agreeing with Rampini, J., and dissenting from Ghose, J). Each of the clauses of s. 13 which precedes cl. (f) is generally distinct from the rest and is exhaustive of its own genus, and, where this is so, the principle of ejusdem generis can hardly apply. Cl. (f) was intended to cover misconduct, other than professional misconduct, and to embrace all clauses other than those previously enumerated in the section, which might reasonably be regarded as disqualifying a person from retaining the office of a pleader or mukhtear. S. 13 (f) was also intended to provide for causes disqualifying a person for retaining the office of pleader or mukhtear, and that a moral defect of character may be one of such causes. An offence committed prior to admission as legal practitioner may be made the foundation of a proceeding under s. 13, provided it is of such a nature as to imply a permanent defect of character of a disqualifying kind. Per Ghose, J., contra.—The words "or for any other reasonable cause" in cl. (f) of s. 13 should be construed according to the well-known canon of construction, that when general words follow particular words of the same nature, they are presumed to be restricted to the same genus as those words unless it can be shown from an inspection of the scope of the legislation that the general words were meant in a wider sense. It is extremely doubtful whether the words "any other reasonable cause" are intended to apply to any act other than professional misconduct, and occurring before or after the enrolment of a person as a pleader or mukhtear. As bearing upon the question, s. 12 which authorizes the suspension or dismissal of a pleader or mukhtear on conviction of a criminal offence may be referred to. The section could only refer to a conviction subsequent to his enrolment as a pleader or mukhtear. (7 B.L. R. 179, Relied on.) [F., 29 C. 890, F.B., 13 M. L.J. 65=26 M. 448; R., 166 P.L.R. 1901.] A reference was made by a Sessions Judge, under s. 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, recommending that a certain mukhtear, who has been practising as such in the criminal Courts, should be dismissed. The grounds for this recommendation were that the mukhtear was dismissed from the office of Sub-Inspector of Police, which he held previously, for gross misconduct and that, subsequently, he procured a certificate of good moral character from a pleader by concealing his previous history, and, by means of that certificate, thus improperly obtained, he gained admission to the examination of mukhtears. Held per Hill, J. (agreeing with Ghose, J. and dissenting from Rampini, J.), that the mukhtear ought not to be dismissed or suspended in consequence simply of his dismissal from the Police, specially in the absence of any "legal proof" of disqualification given in the presence of the mukhtear and that no case, either for dismissal or suspension, had been made out against him. (6 W.R Mis. 5, R.) Per Hill, J.—S 13 authorizes the High Court, after such enquiry, as it thinks fit, to suspend or dismiss a pleader or mukhtear for any of the causes specified in the section, but the power of Subordinate Courts is much more restricted under s. 14. The "taking of instructions" and "misconduct" referred to in s. 14 relates to cls. (a) and (b) respectively of s. 13, and it is only in such cases that a Subordinate Court is authorized to proceed under s. 14. In the matter of PURNA CHUNDER PAL, 27 C. 1023=4 C.W.N. 389. (15 C. 152, 14 I.A. 154, R.) [Diss., 29 A. 61=A.W.N. 1906, 268=3 A.L. J. 811; F., 11 Cr.L.J. 615=8 Ind. Cas. 282 =6 N.L.R. 129: R., 4 C.L.J. 229=10 C.W. N. 1059, 11 C.L.J. 164=11 Cr. L.J. 214=5 Ind. Cas. 727; D., 11 Cr. L.J. 148=4 Ind. Cas. 1022=31 P.W.R. 1909, Cr.]

(35)—Ss. 13, 14—Unprofessional conduct—Entering deliberately into false defences in suits with intention to defraud.—Entering deliberately into false defences with the intention to defraud others of their just claims, is a ground for action under ss. 13 and 14 of the Legal Practitioners Act. Therefore, where a Mukhtear made defences which were deliberately false, and colluded with third parties, with a view to injure and defraud his opponents who were other members of the same family; held, that this was a reasonable cause for taking action against the Muktear. In re AKHOY NARAIN, 12 Cr. L.J, 67=9 Ind. Cas. 362.

(36)—Ss. 13, 14—Pleader abandoning client's case in midst of client's examination in Court, to attend another case—Professional misconduct. See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—PLEADER AND CLIENT, 14 Cr.L.J. 379=20 Ind. Cas. 139.

(37)—Ss. 13, 40—"Other reasonable cause," meaning of, in s. 13—Not restricted to matters ejusdem generis with matters in cls. (a) to (e)—Charge, necessity to formulate with particularity —Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 132—Answers not objected to—No privilege.—An order under s. 13 of the Legal Practitioner's Act can only be made, after notice has been given to the pleader to show cause why he should not be suspended or dismissed. The notice must formulate the charges with sufficient precision, to enable the pleader to know the charge which he is called upon to meet. The words "other reasonable cause" in s. 13. cl. (f) are not restricted to matters ejusdem generis with the matters mentioned in cls. (a) to (e). Two pleaders organized a political meeting and one of the speakers at the meeting was convicted of sedition. The two pleaders were also charged with having published a leaflet to honour B.C. Pal. Held, these circumstances did not constitute "reasonable cause" for their suspension or dismissal. The evidence given by witnesses can be used against them in a subsequent proceeding, if they did not claim privilege or object to answer any of the questions which were put to them. In re GANAPATHY SASTRY, A. G. 6 M L.T. 253, F.B. =19 M.L.J. 504=3 Ind. Cas. 344=11 Cr. L J. 274.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1879 (Legal Practitioners) —continued.

(38)—Ss. 13, 40—Proceedings by subordinate Court against pleader—High Court's power of transfer.—S. 13, Act XVIII of 1879, does not contain in itself any power enabling the High Court to transfer proceedings taken in or by a Court Subordinate to it against a pleader for unprofessional conduct before such Subordinate Court. Whether the High Court has the power or not, it is obviously expedient, in all disciplinary matters, that the Court before which contempt or misconduct takes place should itself deal with the contempt or misconduct. The section contains in itself special provisions whereby the High Court can deal with the report when it has been made; in other words, the section is full and complete and independent of s. 13. In the matter of the petition of PIRTHI NATH, A.W.N. 1893, 33.

(39)— S. 14 — Professional misconduct by pleader—Charge before a Joint Magistrate—Transfer of the Magistrate—Right of District Magistrate— Pleader accusing Magistrate as acting maliciously, vexatiously, and with a vindictive spirit, whether amounts to professional misconduct.—A pleader was charged with professional misconduct in connection with the alteration of the date in a certain petition, which was presented to a Sub-Magistrate. The case came before the Joint Magistrate of that division for inquiry. The Joint Magistrate, before the date of the inquiry, was transferred to another division. The District Magistrate made an order transferring the charge to the same Joint Magistrate, on the ground that he had dealt with the matter in the first instance. Held, that the order of the District Magistrate transferring the charge to the Joint Magistrate of a different division was unauthorized, and that it should accordingly be set aside. There is no provision of law which authorizes the issue of either a summons or a warrant against a pleader who fails to appear in answer to a charge preferred against him under s. 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act. Where a Magistrate issued a warrant against a pleader in such a case, and the pleader attached a written statement to the warrant in which he stated that the Magistrate, in issuing the warrant, had acted maliciously, vexatiously and with a vindictive spirit, it was held, that such language, though to the last degree improper, did not amount to fraudulent or grossly improper conduct in the discharge of his professional duty, within the meaning of s. 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act. In re K.R. RAM CHANDRA IYER, 3 M.L.T. 237=7 Cr. L J. 333=18 M L.J. 184.

(40)—S. 14—Mukhtears practising in Civil and Criminal Courts—Charge of misconduct with reference to matters pending in the Civil Court—Power of Sub-Divisional Magistrate to frame charge—Jurisdiction.—When a Sub-Divisional Magistrate framed charges under s. 14 of the Act against certain mukhtears, who were authorized by their certificates to practise in both Civil and Criminal Courts, with reference to conduct relating to suits pending before the Court of the Munsiff: Held, that the Sub-Divisional Magistrate had acted illegally and without jurisdiction. In re RADHA CHURN CHUCKERBUTTY, 10 C.W.N. 1059=4 C.L.J. 229=4 Cr. L.J. 160. (4 C.W.N. 389=27 C. 1024, R.)

(41)—S. 14—Jurisdiction.—The Judge or Magistrate, who prefers a charge of misconduct against a mukhtear need not necessarily try it. CHARN DASS v. EMPRESS, 24 P.R. 1881, Cr.

(42)—S. 14—*Proceedings under the section—Offence punishable under the Penal Code—*Interim order of suspension.—Recourse should not generally be had to the special and summary jurisdiction provided by s. 14, where the misconduct imputed to a pleader or mukhtear amounts to an offence under the general and criminal law. No interim order of suspension can be made in a proceeding under s. 14, Act XVIII of 1879 by a subordinate Court. Only after the proceedings have been completed and a charge is made and a report is submitted either for the suspension or dismissal of the pleader or mukhtear, the subordinate Court can order suspension. BEECHEY v. COMMISSIONER OF RAWALPINDI, 26 P R. 1884, Cr.

(43)—S. 14 — Unprofessional conduct of a practitioner — Institution of proceedings by a Magistrate.—If an officer presiding in a Subordinate Court comes to learn that one of the practitioners before the Court has been guilty of unprofessional conduct, it will be within the scope of his duties, under s. 14 of the Act, to take steps for having the matter adjudicated upon. The presiding officer is to send him a copy of the charge, and also a notice that, on a day to be thereby appointed, such charge will be taken into consideration. Ultimately, it becomes the duty of such officer, if he finds the charge established, and considers that the pleader should be suspended or dismissed in consequence, to record his findings and the grounds thereof, and to report the same to the High Court, and the High Court may acquit, or suspend, or dismiss the pleader or mukhtear. In the matter of SOUTHIKAL KRISHNA RAO, 15 C. 152, P.C.=14 I.A. 154=5 Sar. 96. [R., 29 A. 61=A.W.N. 1906, 268=3 A.L.J. 811, 27 C. 1023=4 C.W.N. 389; D., 11 Cr. L J. 148= 4 Ind. Cas. 1022=31 P.W.R. 1909, Cr.]

(44)—S. 14—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE —AUTHORITIES COMPETENT TO GRANT SANCTION, ETC., A.W.N. 1908, 273=5 A.L. J. 749=31 A. 38=9 Cr. L.J. 29=1 Ind. Cas. 569.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1879 (Legal Practitioners) —continued.

(45)—S. 14—See Nos. 29 to 36, supra.

(46)—Ss. 14, 40—Mukhtear—Suspension by District Magistrate. before report to High Court —Right to be heard before suspension—Order for prosecution—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 476.—A legal practitioner cannot be provisionally suspended, pending investigation (under s. 14 of the Legal Practitioners Act) of a charge of misconduct brought against him, without being heard in defence under s. 40 of the Act, and before a report has been submitted to the High Court in terms of s. 14. The "investigation" referred to in the section is investigation by the High Court. Where upon a reference by the Sub-Divisional Officer relating to the conduct of a Mukhtear in a case tried before that officer, the District Magistrate suspended the Mukhtear, and on a perusal of the records directed his prosecution under s. 182, Penal Code: Held—That the order of suspension was without jurisdiction. Per Woodroffe, J.—That the order for prosecution could not be passed by the District Magistrate under s. 476, Crim. Pro. Code, as the proceeding, not being properly before him, was not a judicial proceeding Per Carnduff, J. —The District Magistrate was not acting in the course of a judicial proceeding. In the matter of an application of BAJRANGI SAHAI, MUKHTEAR. 15 C.W.N. 269=9 Ind. Cas. 225 =12 Cr. L.J. 33=13 C.L.J. 457.

(47)—S. 23—Enquiry by Magistrate under—Whether such Magistrate a Court—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 476, 9 A.L.J. 156=13 Cr. L.J. 190=13 Ind. Cas. 1006.

(48)—S. 32—Practising as pleader by unauthorized person.—The term practising in s. 32, Legal Practitioners' Act, does not connote the doing of acts habitually or often, but signifies the performance of an act by a person as a professional man which, as a private individual, he could not do. EMPEROR v. BENI BAHADUR, 26 A. 380=A.W.N. 1904, 56.

(49)—S. 32—Mukhtear practising without a certificate.—A mukhtear found to have practised for a number of years without renewing his certificate but to have paid to his clerk, year after year, the sum requisite for a renewal of the certificate, was fined a sum covering the value of the stamps requisite for the renewal of the certificate for the years during which he was so practising. In the matter of MUKHTEAR, A.W.N. 1897, 8.

(50)—S. 32—See No. 10, supra.

(51)—Ss. 32 and 14—R. 452 of rules of Court of 4*th April*, 1898—Refusal to renew certificate of mukhtear on account of pendency of proceedings under s. 193, I.P.C.—The fact that criminal proceedings in connection with an offence under s. 193, I.P.C., are pending against a mukhtear is not a sufficient reason within the meaning of r. 452 of the Rules of the Court of 4th April, 1898, for refusing to renew his certificate, unless the District Judge also takes action under s. 14 of the Legal Practitioners' Act. In the matter of the petition of ALAMDAR HUSAIN, A.W.N. 1901, 60.

(52)—S. 36—Tout—Court competent to declare—Punjab Courts Act (XVIII of 1884), s. 23.—A District Judge in the Punjab is not competent to declare a person a law-tout under s. 36 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, for under the Punjab Courts Act, s. 23, the Local Government has notified the Divisional Judge to be the District Court for purposes of the Legal Practitioners' Act. BAWA LACHMAN DAS v. DISTRICT JUDGE, GURDASPUR, 108 P.L.R. 1904=22 P.R. 1904.

(53)—S. 36—Act XI of 1896—Touts—Practice.—Where it appeared to the High Court, on evidence, that certain persons habitually acted as touts, they were asked to show cause why an order should not be made under s. 36 of Act XVIII of 1876, and, on their failing to give evidence that they were living by honest and legitimate means, they were included in the list of touts and a copy thereof ordered to be hung up in every Court. In the matter of KUAR BAHADUR, A.W.N. 1896, 107. [R., 11 Cr. L.J. 320=6 Ind. Cas. 327.]

(54)—S. 36—High Court's power of interference —Crim. Pro Code, s. 439—High Courts Act, s. 15.—The only provision under which the High Court would interfere with the order of a subordinate Court under s. 36 of the Legal Practitioners' Act is s. 15 of the High Courts Act. The High Court ought not to interfere, on the ground that the finding of the Sessions Judge was against the weight of the evidence, with the order of the latter under s. 36 of the Legal Practitioner's Act. In the matter of the petition of MADHO RAM, 21 A. 181=A.W.N. 1899, 15. [R., 31 A. 59=6 A.L.J. 22=A.W.N. 1908, 279=1 Ind. Cas. 143, 11 C.L.J. 513=11 Cr. L.J. 320=6 Ind. Cas. 327, 10 Cr. L.J. 443=3 Ind. Cas. 977=11 P.R. 1909=115 P.L.R. 1909=28 P.W.R. 1909, Cr., P.L.R. 1900, 17 Cr., 22 P.R. 1904=108 P.L.R. 1904.]

(55)—S. 36—Illegal gratification for furnishing cases—Letters Patent (N.W.P. High Court), s. 8.—A letter written by a High Court Vakil to another practising in the mofussil, asking the latter to send up cases to him and agreeing to share the fees, renders him culpable under s. 36 of Act XVIII of 1879, and the High Court has jurisdiction to take up the case, and suspend the pleader, as his conduct amounts to a "reasonable cause" within s. 8 of the Letters Patent of March 17th, 1866. In the matter of PARBATI CHARAN CHATTERJI, 17 A. 498=22 I.A. 193. P.C.=6 Sar. 635. [R., 29 A. 95=4 A.L.J. 34=9 Bom. L.R. 9=5 C.L.J. 130=11 C.W.N. 273=17 M.L.J. 74=2 M.L.T. 1, P.C., 32 B. 106=10 Bom. L.R. 21=3 M.L.T. 131=34 M. 29=20 M.L.J. 500=8 M.L.T. 22=1910 M.W.N. 163=6 Ind. Cas. 313=11 Cr. L.J. 310, 3 N.L.R. 40.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1879 (Legal Practitioners) —continued.

(56)—S. 36—Order declaring certain persons to be touts—Revision—Jurisdiction—Practice—Statutes 24 and 25 Vict., Cap. CIV, s. 15—Rules of High Court of the 18*th January*, 1898, rr. 1 (xiii) and 4.—The District and Sessions Judge of Meerut held an inquiry under s. 36 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, 1879, as the result of which he ordered certain persons to be proclaimed to be touts and excluded from the precincts of the Courts in the provincial division. The parties affected applied to the High Court against the Judge's order under s. 15 of Statutes 24 and 25 Vict., Cap. CIV. On this application being laid before a Division Bench for disposal, it was held :—(Per Karamat Husain, J.) that the disciplinary powers of the High Court, under s. 15 of the Statute, being exerciseable only by the full Court, a bench of two Judges had no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the application, neither had a single Judge jurisdiction to admit it. (Per Aikman, J.,) that the Court had inherent power to delegate to one or more of its members the power to deal with applications such as the present, and r. 1 (xiii) of the rules of Court of the 18th January, 1898, effected such a delegation. But the powers of the Court under s. 15 of the Statute were limited, and in this instance no case for their exercise had been shown. In the matter of KEDAR NATH, A.W.N. 1908, 279 = 6 A.L.J. 22 = 31 A. 59 = 9 Cr. L.J. 59 = 1 Ind. Cas. 143. (1 A. 101, 9 A. 104, R.) [Diss., 28 P.W.R. 1909 Cr ; R., 10 Cr. L.J. 443 = 3 Ind. Cas. 977 = 115 P.L.R. 1909 = 11 P.R. 1909 Cr., 11 Cr. L.J. 320 = 6 Ind. Cas. 327, 18 P.R. 1914 Cr.]

(57)—S. 36—Punjab Courts Act (XVIII of 1884), ss. 13, 70—Revision—Order declaring a person to be a tout.—Though, by virtue of the powers vested in the Chief Court, under s. 13 of the Punjab Courts Act, it is competent to the Court to revise an order passed by a subordinate Court under s. 36 of the Legal Practitioners' Act declaring a person to be a tout, yet, as very considerable discretion in the matter of preparing and publishing its list of touts is afforded to the subordinate Courts, the Chief Court will not interfere with any order passed under s. 36, unless it can be shown that the provisions of that section have not been duly complied with, or for other good and substantial reason ; for example, it would be a good ground for a petition to the Chief Court that the petitioner's name was included in a list of touts without any opportunity being given to him of showing cause against such inclusion. Similarly, the Chief Court will in a proper case interfere, if it finds that there is no evidence whatever to support the finding of the subordinate Court, or that the evidence, such as it is, cannot legally be accepted as proving that the petitioner is a tout. In this case, the Chief Court set aside the order passed by the Divisional Judge, on the ground that there was absolutely no evidence to the effect that the petitioner was a tout. MAN SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR OF INDIA, 115 P.L.R. 1909 = 11 P.R. 1909, Cr. = 28 P.W.R. 1909 = 3 Ind. Cas. 977. (3 P.R. 1900, Cr. = P.L.R. 1900, p. 17, Cr., 21 A. 182, 14 P.R. 1888, Cr., R.) [R., 11 Cr. L.J. 320 = 6 Ind Cas. 327.]

(58)—S. 36—Tout—Declaration of person as—Revision, powers of Chief Court—Evidence—Personal knowledge of Judge.—An order declaring a person to be a tout is one which very seriously affects the character and prospects of the person against whom it is passed. It is therefore competent to the Chief Court, in the exercise of its revisional jurisdiction, to scrutinize such orders, with the object of satisfying itself that there has been a compliance with the provisions of law, and that the person affected has been given full opportunity of meeting the charge brought against him. The District Judge is bound to examine witnesses named by him and summon them for the purpose, after the evidence against the person has been produced. Where the District Judge declined to do so, the Chief Court on revision set aside the order, and directed him to summon witnesses named by the person declared as a tout and record the evidence and pass orders on the whole evidence on the record. The District Judge ought not to impart his own personal knowledge in a case, unless he informs the person of the nature and source of his information and allows himself to be cross-examined thereupon —a process which is fraught with grave inconvenience. Where statements by certain pleaders made on a previous occasion were read to them by the District Judge and the persons against whom proceedings were held were allowed opportunity to cross-examine them. Held, that the irregularity in the procedure adopted by the District Judge was not a sufficient ground for interference by the Chief Court on revision. If a number of respectable pleaders in a particular District are found to be of opinion that a person is a tout, the fact is sufficient to justify the District Judge in holding that the person charged is by general repute a tout. The law was framed as it is, with the distinct object of evading the difficulty of compelling witnesses to give the specific grounds upon which their opinions were based, and in cross-examination the witnesses cannot be compelled to give particulars regarding specific instances, though no doubt it is open to the person charged to show that a particular witness has an animus against him or that for other reasons his testimony should not be accepted without demur. BUTE KHAN v. CROWN, 120 P.L.R. 1909 = 29 P.W.R. 1909, Cr. = 3 Ind. Cas. 982. [R., 11 Cr. L.J. 320 = 6 Ind. Cas. 327.]

(59)—S. 36—Order proclaiming a person "tout"—Power of Chief Court to interfere.—The Chief Court has jurisdiction, in pursuance of its general powers of general superintendence and control under s. 13, of Punjab Courts Act, 1884, to interfere with an order of a District Magistrate holding a person to be a "tout" where he has so held without considering the definition of the term "tout" as defined in s. 1 of Act XI of 1896. CHANNAN DAS v. EMPRESS, 3 P.R. 1900, Cr. [Cited, 22 P.R. 1904, Cr.; R., 11 Cr. L.J. 148=4 Ind. Cas. 1022=27 P.W.R. 1909 Cr., 3 Ind. Cas. 977=11 P R. 1909 Cr.=10 Cr. L.J. 443=115 P.L.R 1909; Disapproved, 18 P.R. 1914, Cr.]

I.--Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1879 (Legal Practitioners) —continued.

(60)—S. 36—Tout—Declaration without legal proof.—S. 36 of Act XVIII of 1879 requires proof by general repute or otherwise, before a man can be dubbed a tout. Such evidence must be taken in presence of the accused as in other criminal cases, and without doing so a declaration made is liable to be set aside on revision. SHANKER SINGH v. THE CROWN, 12 P.W.R. 1912 Cr.=112 P.L.R. 1912=15 Ind. Cas. 307=13 Cr. L.J. 467.

(61)—S. 36—Tout—Inquiry to be made by Magistrate himself—Power not to be delegated—Evidence to be recorded—Opportunity of cross-examination of witnesses to be given to alleged tout.—An inquiry, under s. 36 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, must be made by the District Magistrate himself, and he cannot delegate his powers to any subordinate officer. (12 C.W.N. 842, 12 C.W.N. 843, Note, F.) The decision of at Court determining that a person is a tout must be based on substantial legal evidence. (4 C.W.N. 36, Rel.) The person against whom the evidence is directed must have an opportunity of cross-examining the witnesses. In re HARI PADA MUKHERJI, 13 Cr. L.J. 510=15 Ind. Cas. 654.

(62)—S. 36—S. 3 (as amended by Act XI of 1896)—Order of District Magistrate framing a list of touts—Chief Court's power to revise the order—S. 13, Act XVIII of 1884 (Punjab Courts).—A District Magistrate, purporting to act under s. 36 of the Legal Practitioners' Act, directed that the names of certain persons specified in his order should be included in a list of 'touts' to be hung up in his Court and in Courts subordinate to him. Held, the Chief Court has no jurisdiction to revise the Magistrate's order. Proceedings under s. 36 of the Legal Practitioners Act are neither Civil Proceedings governed by the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, nor Criminal Proceedings governed by the Crim. Pro. Code, and as a result neither the Civil nor the Criminal jurisdiction of the High, or Chief, Court can be invoked for the purpose of revising orders passed under that section (21 A 181, 31 A. 59, 11 C.L.J. 513, 16 Ind. Cas. 895, 11 P.R. 1909, Cr., 41 P.R. 1888, Cr., R.)—S. 13 of the Punjab Courts Act gives the Chief Court a power of superintendence and control only over Civil Courts, and the provisions of that section are not relevant to a case such as the present where the Chief Court is asked to revise the order of a District Magistrate who has, in that capacity, taken action under s. 36 of the Legal Practitioners' Act. With such an order the Chief Court is not empowered by any provision of law to interfere. SADAR DIN v. CROWN, 18 P.R. 1914, Cr.=266 P.L.R. 1914=15 Cr. L.J. 601=25 Ind. Cas. 513=51 P.W.R. 1914, Cr, (3 P.R. 1900, Cr., Diss.).

I.--Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1879 (Legal Practitioners) —concluded.

(63)—S. 36—See SESSIONS JUDGE, JURISDICTION OF, 26 M. 596=13 M.L.J. 272.

(64)—S. 36—See TOUT, 108 P.L.R. 1904=22 P.R. 1904, Cr.

(65)—S. 36—See Nos 4, 5, supra.

(66)—S. 40—Unprofessional conduct of practitioner—Opportunity to defend himself.—The High Court, to whom a Subordinate Court makes a report on the unprofessional conduct of a pleader, could not suspend or dismiss a practitioner, without allowing him an opportunity of defending himself, under s. 14 of the Act, before that Court, merely on the evidence recorded by the Subordinate Court. In the matter of SOUTHEKAL KRISHNA RAO, 15 C. 152, P.C.=14 I A. 154=5 Sar. 96. [R., 24 M 83, 34 M. 29=11 Cr. L.J. 310=6 Ind. Cas. 313=20 M.L.J. 500=1910 M.W.N. 163.]

(67)—S. 40—See Nos. 37, 38, 46, supra.

(68)—S. 41—Duty of Advocates.—An advocate is bound to use his judgment, experience and discretion in the presentation of his client's case and, whatever be his instructions, to exclude all topics and observations of which the case does not properly admit. An advocate cannot shelter himself behind his clients, when he allows himself to be made the medium of reckless imputations on a Court of Justice. The publication of a libel on a Court of Justice is an aggravated misdemeanour. In the matter of PEN NELL A.P., 2 L.B.R. 130.

(69)—S. 41—Improper conduct—Advocate—Privilege as a suitor.—Although any action clearly taken as a private individual in the prosecution of a case, or the setting up of a defence would not, under ordinary circumstances, justify the High Court in taking notice of such action as a breach of professional good conduct, merely because the individual concerned happened to be an advocate, yet conduct, which is in itself indefensible and amounts to gross misconduct in an advocate, is not taken out of the purview of s. 41 of the Legal Practitioners' Act by a mere colourable pretence that it was the conduct of a suitor, defendant, or accused in that capacity. In the matter of MR. BARRISTER-AT-LAW, 143 P.L.R. 1901 F.B.

(70)—S. 41—See CONTEMPT OF COURT, 5 P R. 1902.

Act XXI of 1879 (Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition).

[REP. ACT XV OF 1903.]

See ACT XI OF 1872.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXI of 1879 (Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition)—continued.

(1)—Dacoity committed by foreign subjects in foreign territory—Jurisdiction of British Court.—Where the accused, foreign subjects, but who had only resided for about three years in British territory, committed dacoity in a foreign state, held, that they were not liable to be tried by British Courts. EMPRESS v. NAWABJI, 37 P.R. 1881, Cr. [R., 1 P.R. 1885, Cr.]

(2)—Offences committed outside British India —Jurisdiction of British Courts.—Act XXI of 1879 admits of proceedings being taken, in British India, regarding offences committed in Foreign States only on condition that the person charged is a Native Indian subject of Her Majesty and that the Political Agent of the Foreign State has given his sanction to proceedings being taken in British territory. BAPU DALDI v. QUEEN, 5 M 23 = 1 Weir 1. [R., 13 M. 423, 24 B. 287, 1 Bom. L.R. 678, 2 Weir 148.]

(3)—Competency of Justice of Peace at Mysore to commit a person to the High Court for an offence under Mysore Law—Obiter.—Where a person is charged with an offence against the Mysore Mines Regulation, 1897, a Justice of the Peace appointed under the Act of 1879, has jurisdiction to commit him for trial to the High Court under the powers conferred by s. 6 of the Act and the notification of the Government of India, dated July 21. 1881. ADAMS v. EMPEROR, 26 M. 607 = 1 Weir 13 = 1 Weir 757.

(4)—Civil and Military Station, Bangalore—Civil and Sessions Judge and District Magistrate of Bangalore—Justices of Peace for Mysore —Jurisdiction of High Court—Applicability of Crim. Pro. Code.—The Civil and Sessions Judge, as well as the District Magistrate, of the Civil and Military Station, Bangalore, though they are appointed justices of the peace in the state of Mysore, are, by virtue of their office, justices of the peace in the Civil and Military Station of Bangalore, by virtue of Act XXI of 1879 ; they are also Magistrates of the first class, and both their Courts are subordinate to the High Court under the same enactment. The Civil and Military Station of Bangalore is not British territory, but a foreign territory belonging to Mysore. The Code of Criminal Procedure is in force there in common with other Acts by virtue of declarations made by the Governor-General in Council in exercise of the powers conferred upon him by Act XXI of 1879. In re HAYES, 12 M. 39 = 1 Weir 10.

(5)—Ss. 1, 11, 12 and 18—Validity of warrant issued by Political Agent of Native State against British Indian subject.—Excepting in the case of a European British subject, the Political Agent for the Bhopal State may, at the request of the State, issue a warrant for the arrest of any person who has committed, or is supposed to have committed in the Bhopal State an offence under s. 409, Penal Code, (which is one of the offences mentioned in the schedule), and, on such person being forwarded, it will be the duty of the Political Agent to decide whether the accused shall be tried by him or be made over to the State Court for trial. It matters not whether a complaint against the accused has been made in the Political Agent's Court or not, and the Magistrate, to whom the warrant is directed, is bound, under the provisions of s. 12 of the Act, to execute it and has no authority to question the authority or discretion of the Political Agent to issue it ; a Deputy Commissioner, therefore, was held to have acted legally in ordering a warrant for the arrest of a Native Indian subject of His Majesty, issued by the Political Agent for the Bhopal State, to be executed. KABIR AHMAD v. BHOPAL STATE, 5 O.C. 55

(6)—Ss. 3 and 11—See PENAL CODE, s. 224, 21 P.R. 1885, Cr.

(7)—Ss. 4, 5—See ACT I OF 1878, ss. 3, 4, 9, 8 P.R. 1887, Cr.

(8)—Ss. 4 and 6—Power of Justice of the Peace to try an European British subject for an offence purely under Mysore Mines Regulations. —A Justice of the Peace, appointed under s. 6 of the Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition Act, 1879, has power to try an European British subject for an offence against the provisions of the Mysore Mines Regulations, the offence being solely against the law of Mysore, but not coming within any of the provisions of the Penal Code. ADAMS v. EMPEROR, 26 M. 607 = 1 Weir. 13 = 1 Weir. 757.

(9)—S. 5—See No. 7, supra.

(10)—S. 6—"Offences" under the Act.—The word "offences" as used in s. 6 of the Act of 1879 is not restricted to offences as defined by s. 40, Penal Code, nor to offences as defined in the Code of Criminal Procedure.—(Per White, C.J.) ADAMS v. EMPEROR, 26 M. 607 = 1 Weir 13 = 1 Weir 757.

(11)—S. 6—See No. 8, supra.

(12)—S. 8—Scope of the section.—S. 8 of the Act of 1879 extends to European British subjects in States in India in alliance with His Majesty the law relating to offences and the Criminal Procedure for the time being in force in British India. This section, as distinguished from s. 4, is an enactment and not a declaration. It is an entirely independent provision and ought not to be read so as to restrict the powers of the Governor-General which are declared by s. 4 and which may be delegated to his officers under s. 6. It is by virtue of s. 8 that an European British subject can be tried in Mysore for an offence against the I.P.C. The law which is extended to European British subjects in Mysore by virtue of s. 8 is not so extended to the exclusion of all other law. ADAMS v. EMPEROR, 26 M. 607 = 1 Weir 13 = 1 Weir. 757.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXI of 1879 (Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition)—continued.

(13)—S. 8 —High Court, jurisdiction of—European British subjects in Native States—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 526—Transfer.—S. 8 of Act XXI of 1879 extends, to all British subjects, Native or European, in Native States, the law relating to offences and criminal procedure for the time being in British India. The High Court of Bombay has the power, in the case of a European British subject, of transferring a case from the Cantonment Magistrate acting either as a Justice of the Peace and as a first-class Magistrate, or as a District Magistrate; with the increased powers given to him by Act III of 1884, to itself or to any criminal Court of equal or superior jurisdiction. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. EDWARDS, W D., 9 B. 333. [R., 14 B. 160, 20 B. 480.]

(14)—S. 9 Conviction in British India for offence committed outside.—A conviction in British India for an offence committed outside its limits is good under s. 9 of Act XXI of 1879.—(Per Garth, C.J., Pontifex and Morris, JJ.) EMPRESS v. KESHUB MOHAJAN, EMPRESS v. UDIT PRASAD, 8 C. 985, F.B. = 11 C.L R. 241 = 7 Ind. Jur. 136. [R., 9 C. 288, 16 C. 667].

(15)—S. 9—See ACT XI OF 1872, s. 9, 6 B. 622.

(16)—S. 11—See Nos. 5, 6, supra.

(17)—S. 12—See No. 5, supra.

(18)—S. 14, enquiry under—High Court's power to transfer enquiry to another Magistrate or to control the procedure therein.—The High Court had no power to order the transfer of an enquiry under s. 14 of the Extradition Act from the Court of the Magistrate specially authorised to hold the enquiry, because the competency of the Magistrate to hold the enquiry depended on the authorisation of the Executive Government. The law also did not empower the High Court to request the Government to appoint another Magistrate to enable it to transfer the enquiry to that Magistrate if appointed. The High Court refused to direct by what procedure the Magistrate should be guided in the further conduct of the enquiry, as it did not possess any power to control or interfere in the conduct of an enquiry held under s. 14 of the Act. In the matter of an application of MOHUNT DEVDAS, 15 C.W.N. 735 = 12 Cr. L.J. 346 = 10 Ind. Cas. 946 = 38 C. 550 (Note). [R., 12 Cr. L.J. 322 = 10 Ind. Cas. 618, 15 C.W.N. 737.]

(19)—S. 18—See No. 5, supra.

(20)—Rule No. 3, Book Circular XXXIV (c) —Jurisdiction of District Magistrate.—Rule No. 3 of the "Rules for the apprehension, demand and surrender of persons charged with heinous crimes" contained in the treaty with Jumna State, published in the Chief Court's Book Circular XXXIV (c) does not confer a lawful authority upon the District Magistrate as such, to take proceedings and pass an order upon an application by a foreign State for

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXI of 1879 (Foreign Jurisdiction and Extradition—concluded.

extradition of a subject of that State. Under that rule, it is competent for the Government to give direction to its executive officers, notwithstanding that they may be Magistrates. In re A HADJU, 21 P.R. 1886, Cr. (4 P.R. 1870, Cr., R.) [F., 18 C.W.N. 869 = 41 C. 400 = 14 Cr. L.J. 673; Rel., 21 Ind. Cas. 993.]

Act III of 1880 (Cantonment).

[REP., ACT XIII OF 1889.]

See ACT XIII OF 1889.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1867.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1866.

See CANTONMENT CODE, 1899.

(1)—Extension of Cantonment rules outside Cantonment limits—Jurisdiction of Criminal Courts.—Rules made under cl. 7 of s. 19 have been extended in Delhi outside the Cantonment limits. Held that an ordinary Magistrate is competent to exercise his jurisdiction, under the above rules, in a case which has come before him on complaint, and not on a report by the Police. MUSSAMMAT ALLADAI v. EMPRESS, 2 P.R. 1885, Cr. F.B. (12 P.R. 1870 Cr., Appr.)

(2)—S. 14—Sub-Conductor in the Commissariat Department, whether a "soldier."—A Sub-Conductor in the Commissariat Department is not a "soldier" within the meaning of s. 14 of Act III of 1880. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. DOSABHOY FRAMJI, 3 A. 214.

(3)—S 14—Bengal Excise Act VII of 1878, s. 14—Power to cancel license.—In his judicial capacity, a Cantonement Magistrate has no authority to cancel the license of a person convicted upon an offence under this section, as the power to cancel licenses belongs to the Revenue authorities. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMDHANI PASSI, 15 C. 452.

(4)—S. 14—"European soldier," meaning of.—Where a European soldier gets pay from the Civil Department for the discharge of Civil duties, as Telegraph Master, in which he is continuously employed, and lives in the Telegraph Office outside the Cantonment boundary and attends no drill, he is not a "European soldier," within the meaning of s. 14; and he cannot be convicted for selling liquor for the use of a European soldier. In the matter of JAHANGIR SHAH, S.C. 104, Oudh.

(5)—S. 20, cl. VII—Rules under section—Registration of woman as prostitute without her consent.—Where it was found that the name of the accused had been registered as a public prostitute without her consent, and that she was not carrying on the occupation of a prostitute, held that she was not liable to be convicted for not presenting herself for medical examination as directed. EMPRESS v. LATIFAN, A.W.N. 1887, 219.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1880 (Cantonment)—continued.

(6)—S. 22—Bombay Municipal Act III of 1872, s. 226—License fee — Tax.—A license fee imposed under the rules framed under s. 22 of the Cantonment Act is not a tax. Even if it were so, s. 22 of that Act does not empower the Government to extend s. 226 of Bombay Act III of 1872—which merely imposes a penalty for the use of stables without a license and does not provide for the assessment and recovery of a tax—to a Cantonment. A Regulation thus extending the provision is ultra vires and inoperative. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MARUTI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 413=Cr. Rg 80 of 1888.

(7)—Ss. 25 and 27—Rules framed under s. 25 —Valid rules.—The rule that "every person shall keep in proper repair the boundary wall, fence or other enclosures of his estate or premises" was held to be ultra vires of s. 25, read with s. 27. A breach of such a rule is not, therefore, punishable under s. 28. CHARDE v. EMPRESS, 40 P.R. 1884, Cr. [Appr., 48 P.R. 1887; R., 3 P.R. 1895 Cr.]

(8)—Ss. 25, 28—Rules framed under s. 28, breaches of—Jurisdiction of Magistrate acting as Cantonment Magistrate without Government's sanction to try case.—Held, that a Magistrate who was temporarily doing the Magisterial work of the Cantonment Magistrate, who was absent a few days from the cantonment, was not competent to try a breach of the rules under s. 28 of Act III of 1880, unless the sanction of the Government had been previously obtained to his officiating as Cantonment Magistrate. EMPRESS v. DEOKINANDAN, A.W.N. 1886, 289.

(9)—S. 27—Rules framed under s. 27—Ultra vires.—R. 68 of the Rules framed under s. 27 of Act III of 1880 requires owners of house or other property within Cantonment limits but residing outside such limits to appoint an agent to carry out the orders of the Cantonment Committee, the agent being answerable for the observance of all the present rules and regulations which refer to the owners of houses or other property. Held, that the rule was ultra vires requiring as it does the performance of an impossible act by the house-owner, viz., the appointing of an agent answerable in the sense contemplated by the section. Held, further, that the rule was not a valid rule, inasmuch as a rule which requires a person to do an act which merely facilitates the observance by, or enforcement against, another person of rules for maintaining the cantonment in a sanitary condition is not a rule for maintaining the cantonment in a sanitary condition within the meaning of cl. 6 of s. 27. RAI BAHADUR MELA RAM v. EMPRESS, 48 P.R. 1887, Cr.

(10)—S. 27—See No. 7, supra.

(10 a)—S. 28 — Disqualification of Cantonment Magistrate.—In every case where it is urged that there is a disqualification in the Judge, the circumstances creating the disqualification must be clearly determined before effect could be given to the objection, and they ought, therefore, to be specified in the objection. RAI BAHADUR MELA RAM v. EMPRESS, 48 P.R. 1887, Cr. (40 P.R. 1884, Appr.) [R., 3 P.R. 1895, Cr.].

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1880 (Cantonment)—concluded.

(11)—S. 28—Conviction under the section, not appealable —. Revision allowed. — Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 408, 413, 416.—There is no appeal by any person, whether a European British Subject or not, in any case tried under s. 28 of the Act, by whomsoever it has been tried. The proceedings of a Cantonment Magistrate under s. 28 are liable to be reversed by the Chief Court on the revision side on the ground of a disqualification in the Cantonment Magistrate in a particular case owing to personal or pecuniary interest or bias. CHARDE v. EMPRESS, 40 P.R. 1884, Cr.

(12)—S. 28—See No. 8, supra.

(13)—Ss. 28 and 29—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine levied under s. 28 of Act III of 1880 is not valid, as the act provides for the consequences of non-payment in s. 29. CHARDE v. EMPRESS, 40 P.R. 1884, Cr.

(14)—S. 29—See No. 13, supra.

(15)—Cantonment Rule, chap. III, r. II —Omission to report a case of cholera.—Omission to report an attack of cholera, notwithstanding a proclamation by the Cantonment Magistrate in the bazaars for two days that, whenever any grievous illness, especially diarrhœa occurred, the relations of the patient were at once to give warning to the police, was not a criminal offence, nor did it amount to a breach of r. II. RAMPERSHAD v. EMPRESS, 9 P.R. 1895 Cr.

Act IV of 1880 (Portuguese Treaty).

[REP. ACT I OF 1903].

(1)—Offence committed on High seas—Jurisdiction—Statutes 37 and 38 Vict., c. 27, and 30 and 31 Vict., c. 124, s. 11.—The rule in Regina v. Elmstone (7 B H.C. Cr. 89) to the effect that English, not Indian Law, is applicable to offences committed on the high seas and tried in India, is altered by Statute 37 and 38 Vict., c. 27. The accused, the captain of a native craft, was charged with having dishonestly sold his cargo at Sukeri, close to Goa, and scuttled his ship some three miles on the coast of Goa in the course of a voyage from Aleppy to Bombay. The accused was arrested in the Ratnagiri District and convicted by the Sessions Judge of Ratnagiri. The accused contended that the Sessions Judge had no jurisdiction, as the offence was committed within the territorial waters of Goa, and as, even if the offence was committed on the high seas, the English law and not the Indian law would apply. Held that, if the offence were committed within three miles of Goa, the Treaty Act IV of 1880 between England and Portugal as regard the

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1880 (Portuguese Treaty)—cld.

Goa territory, conferred the right to try such cases in British India. Held, also, that, if the offence were committed on the high seas beyond the territorial limits of three miles from the shore, the Sessions Court at Ratnagiri had jurisdiction, and the Indian Penal Code applied under the provisions of Statutes 30 and 31 Vict., c. 124, s. 11, and 37 and 38 Vict., c. 27. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHEIK ABDOOL RAHIMAN, 14 B. 227. [Diss., 39 C. 487 = 16 C. W.N. 471 = 13 Cr. L. J. 276 = 14 Ind.Cas. 598; R., 4 Bur. L. T. 58 = 10 Ind. Cas. 705 = 5 L.B. R. 221.]

Act XII of 1880 (Kazis).

(1)—Right of Kaziz appointed by Government to perform religious service in mosque.—Act XII of 1880 does not declare that only the Kazi appointed by Government is authorised to perform the religious service in the mosques within a given area. Such right, if it exists, must be established by a regular suit brought for that purpose in due course of law. MUHAMMAD MUSALIAR v. KUNJI CHEK MUSALIAR, 11 M. 323 = 2 Weir 117.

Act XIII of 1880 (Vaccination).

[SUPPLEMENTED (IN BURMA), BUR. ACT. II OF 1900; TITLE, PREAMBLE, ss. 1, 2 (b), REP. IN PT. AND AM., SS. 3A. 19A INS., SS. 5, 21, 22 (c), 23 AM., IN PROVINCE OF AGRA, U.P. ACT II OF 1907; DEFINITION OF "VACCINATOR" AM., DEFINITION OF "SUPERINTENDENT OF VACCINATION" ENACTED (FOR BURMA), BUR. ACT VI OF 1908, S. 5 (WHEN NOTIFIED). S. 9, PARA. 2, AND SS. 10—22 APPLIED TO MUNICIPALITIES, BUR. ACT I OF 1909, S. 4 (2) (WHEN NOTIFIED). SS. 15, 16, 19, 21 APPLIED, BUR. ACT I OF 1909, S. 12 (WHEN NOTIFIED). DECLARED IN FORCE IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—S. 6—See INOCULATION, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 545.

(2)—S. 17—As amended by Burma Vaccination Law—Amendment Act of 1900.—Failure to comply with a notice for the vaccination of a child issued under s. 17 of the Vaccination Act, 1880, is not punishable under s. 7 of the Burma Law Amendment Act, 1900. The Burma Act of 1900 is supplementary to the Act of 1880, and deals with quite different matters. It provides for matters not contained in the Act of 1880. It is not intended to provide a summary procedure for cases already provided for in the earlier Act. KING-EMPEROR v. ON ME, 2 L. B.R. 279.

(3)—S. 18—Order for costs and for refund of Court-fees—S. 31, Court-fees Act.—Disobedience to the notice issued by the vaccinating authorities is not an offence, and such officers' report to the Magistrate is not a complaint of any offence. A Magistrate, therefore, who makes an order under s. 18 of that Act for compliance with such notice, cannot order the payment of costs, as there is no authority for it in the Vaccination Act, and cannot direct the refund of Court-fees, as s. 31, Court Fees Act, does not apply. KING-EMPEROR v. PO KAN, 4 L.B.R. 12 = 6 Cr. L J. 124.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1880 (Vaccination)—concluded.

Act V of 1881 (Probate and Administration).

[REP. IN PT. ACT VII OF 1889; REP. IN PT. AND AM., ACT XII OF 1891; AM., ACT VI OF 1889, SS 11—17; AM., ACT II OF 1890, S. 16; AM., (IN LOWER BURMA), ACT VI OF 1900, S. 47; SS. 59, 60, 62, 64, 69 AM., ACT VIII OF 1903, S. 3; S. 156, REP., ACT IX OF 1908. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS (S. 154), REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, IN REG. I OF 1890, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—S. 89—See DEFAMATION, 8 P.W R. 1908, Cr. = 7 Cr. L.J. 290 = 112 P.L.R. 1908 = 10 P.R. 1908 Cr.

(2)—S. 98, cls. 3 and 4—Sanction to prosecute, without finding if omission to file accounts is intentional or accounts intentionally false.—N., was the executor to an estate. The probate was revoked. He had not filed an account during his executorship. After the revocation of the probate he was ordered to submit accounts. He failed to do so within the time appointed. Sanction was given to prosecute him under s. 98, cl. (c), Act V of 1881. The accounts were subsequently filed, whereupon the Court kept the order in abeyance; but after the examination of the accounts and suspecting its genuineness the Court restored the sanction for prosecution. Held, that the Judge was not right in making the order depend on the examination of the accounts themselves and that the Judge ought not to have made an order sanctioning the prosecution under s. 176 without an enquiry whether the omission to produce the accounts was intentional, or the accounts filed were intentionally false. NABA CHUNDRA CHOWDHURY v. TRIPURA CHARAN CHOWDHURY, 2 C.W N. 597.

Act XV of 1881 (Indian Factories).

[REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT XI OF 1891.]

See ACT XI OF 1891.

(1)—S. 2—Factory, definition of.—To constitute a 'factory,' certain processes must be carried on "for not less than four months in the whole in any year." LOCAL GOVERNMENT v. GOVIND RAO DESHMUKH, 1 N.L.R. 115.

(2)—Ss. 14, 15 and 17—Factory—Occupier—Notice under s. 14, effect of—Liability of the occupier for breach of the Act—Successor of the occupier.—The substance and import of s. 14 of the Indian Factories Act, 1881, are that the occupier of a factory shall send the notice prescribed, within one month after his occupation has commenced. If any individual sends such a notice, that is evidence of a representation by him that he is the occupier; but there is nothing in the Act which makes it necessarily conclusive evidence. The Court may treat the evidence of the notice as sufficient to discharge the onus of proof lying on the prosecution at the outset, and to shift the burden on to the person who gave the notice. The Court is not bound to treat it as such. Whether it should so treat it or not must depend on the circumstances of each case. There is nothing in the Act to make the mere successor in office of a person who has given notice under s. 14 an occupier himself, unless he is legally in occupation: What is an occupation is a question of fact in each case, to be determined with reference to some well-known principles of law. The question who is the occupier of a factory must depend among others, upon these considerations, namely:—who alone has the right of using the factory for the purposes for which it is constructed and worked; who has the right of regulating and controlling it; whose is the predominant possession of and general superintendence over it. EMPEROR v. TAYLOR, 10 Bom. L.R. 38 = 7 Cr. L.J. 44.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XV of 1881 (Indian Factories)—continued.

(3)—Ss. 14, 15, 17—Meaning of "occupier."—The words "occupier" is not defined in the Factory Act. The proprietor of a factory who lives for the greater part of the year in a house on the factory premises is an occupier for the purposes of the Act. In the case of a factory started before the Act of 1881 came into force, no notice as required by s. 14 is necessary, and an occupier is none the less so for not having given the notice. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MANORDAS HARAKHCHAND, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 902 = Cr. Rg. 11 of 1897. [D., 29 B. 423 = 7 Bom. L.R. 454].

(4)—S. 15 (1)—Intentional omission to give information, liability for. — The intentional omission to give any information required by the form of notice prescribed by Government would render the person bound to send the notice liable to punishment under s. 15 (1). QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JOHAR ENALT, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 407.

(5)—S. 15 (1) (e)—Manager residing on premises—Occupier.—The manager of a factory who resides in a part of the premises in which the factory is, is not an occupier of the factory within the meaning of the Act. EMPEROR v. RAMPRATAP MAGNIRAM, 29 B. 423 = 7 Bom L.R. 454 = 2 Cr. L.J. 428.

(6)—S. 15—See Nos. 2, 3, supra and No. 11, infra.

(7)—Ss. 15, cl. (g) and proviso (i) and 17—Liability for keeping factory in a filthy state—Bengal Municipal Act (III of 1884 B.C.)—Liability of Municipality.—In order to fix liability on any person other than the occupier of a factory, it is incumbent upon the latter to give the strictest proof of circumstances exonerating himself, and it is plain on the face of the section that the burden of proving absence of knowledge or consent on his part lies entirely upon him. The mere fact that a Municipality and the Factory were jointly responsible to keep a factory in a cleanly state will not discharge the occupier from his liability under s. 15 of the Factories Act and fix the liability on the Municipality under s. 17. The provision of s. 17 is of a highly penal character, and must be construed strictly in favour of the accused. CHAIRMAN, OF THE SERAMPORE MUNICIPALITY v. INSPECTOR OF FACTORIES, HOOGLY, 25 C. 454. [R., 29 B. 423 = 7 Bom. L.R. 454].

I.—Imperial Acts—continued,

Act XV of 1881 (Indian Factories)—concluded.

(8)—S. 15 (1) (c), r. 19 — Factory — Occupier of factory—Register of children—Duty to keep register — Personal responsibility — Delegation of duty, no defence.—The provisions of s. 15 (1) (c) of the Factories Act, 1881, throw upon the occupier the responsibility of keeping the register. The responsibility is personal; and he cannot get rid of it by saying that he had delegated the duty to another person. EMPEROR v. MANILAL BHOGILAL, 11 Bom. L.R. 12 = 9 Cr. L.J. 160 = 1 Ind. Cas. 102.

(9)—S. 15 (1) (e), r. 22 (iii) — Unfenced machinery—Ring frames with tail-ends unfenced.—It is not necessary that an order or notice from the Inspector of Factories should be issued to a person, who has not conformed to the rules made under the Act, before he can be charged for any offence under it. It is the duty of such person to obey the rules, and, in case of his disobedience, he becomes liable to conviction, whether there was any order or not from the Inspector, calling upon him to obey the rules. EMPEROR v. BANOOMIAN PIRBHAI, 12 Bom. L.R. 225.

(10)—S. 15 (1) (e), r. 22 (iii)—Disobedience of rules— Notice from Inspector not necessary before charge—Conviction —Liability for.—An order or notice from the Inspector of Factories is not necessary, before a person, who has not conformed to the rules made under the Act, can be charged for any offence under it. It is the duty of such person to obey the rules, and, in case of his disobedience, he becomes liable to conviction, whether there was any order or not from the Inspector calling upon him to obey the rules. EMPEROR v. BANOOMIAN PIRBHAI, 9 M.L T. (Suppl. B.), 17.

(11)—Ss. 17, 15 (g)—Occupier of factory—Owner is occupier.—The term 'occupier' as used in s. 17, Factories Act, means a person who controls the factory or workshop and the work that is done there, and includes the owner of the factory. EMPEROR v. DHANJI GOVINDJI BHATE, 15 Bom L.R. 328 = 20 Ind. Cas. 144 = 14 Cr. L J. 384 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 71.

(12)—Rule 19—See No. 8, supra.

(13)—Rule 22—See Nos. 9, 10, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVI of 1881 (Obstructions in Fairways).

See COMPENSATION TO COMPLAINANT AND HIS RELATIVES, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 241 = Cr. Rg. 8 of 1886.

Act XXII of 1881 (Excise).

[REP., ACT XII OF 1896.]

See ACT X OF 1871.

See ACT XII OF 1896.

See BEN. ACT III OF 1873.

See BEN. ACT II OF 1876.

See BEN. ACT VII OF 1878.

See MAD. ACT VI OF 1871.

(1)—Meaning of the term 'dispose of' in Excise License Form No. VII.—The expression "dispose of" in Excise License Form No. VII refers and was intended to refer to a disposition of the nature of a sale. There is nothing to indicate that a wider meaning was intended. PIR MAHOMED v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. I, 178.

(2)—Punishment of fine under the Act.—It was not intended that greater severity should be used towards persons infringing in an ordinary way the provisions of the Excise Act and a fine will suffice in such cases. EMPRESS v. SUMERE, 5 C.P.L R. 44, Cr.

(3)—Illegal sale of liquor to a Burman alleged to be a servant of person entitled to buy.—If the Burman was the agent of a disclosed principal, the sale should be considered to be made to the principal and not to the agent. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. A. FUT, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 187. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, 100, U.B.R. 1897—1901, 184, R.)

(4)—See ACCOMPLICE—ACCOMPLICE EVIDENCE—NECESSITY FOR CORROBORATION, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 146.

(5)—See PENAL CODE, s. 186, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 152.

(6)—Ss. 3, 12, 39—Unlicensed sale of Tari.—Tari or juice extracted from palm trees cannot be said to be "fermented" in the sense of s. 39, or s. 3 of the Excise Act, and a person selling it to passers-by cannot be convicted under ss. 12 and 39 of the Act. EMPRESS v. AJAIB, A.W.N. 1883, 238.

(7)—Ss. 3, 21, 41—Country and foreign liquor—Rum manufactured in India.—The words "country" and "foreign" liquor refers rather to the manner than the place of manufacture. Rum manufactured in the foreign method at a distillery in India, comes, for the purposes of Act XXII of 1881, under the definition of foreign spirit. EMPRESS v. HORMASJI, 24 P.R. 1885, Cr.

(8)—Ss. 3, 22, 41, 42—Rule 13—Illegal purchase of charas by a licensed vendor.—The accused, a licensed vendor of charas, purchased charas in contravention of r. 13 of the Rules in force under Act XXII of 1881, without a permit from the Collector and was convicted under s. 41. Held, that the conviction was illegal as he did not come under s. 22, and, therefore, did not come under s. 41. Held, further, that it was doubtful whether r. 13, which refers to farmers of the excise or intoxicating drugs, applied to the accused. Held, also, that the accused was liable to be punished under s. 42. BAKHU RAM v. EMPRESS, 40 P.R. 1887, Cr.

I—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXII of 1881 (Excise)—continued.

(9)—Ss. 3 and 38—Opium Act I of 1878, ss. 3, 5, 9, 14 and 19—Rules under Act—Search—Jurisdiction of Magistrate.—Though Chandu is not a drug referred to in s. 38 read with s. 3, cl. (h) of Act I of 1878, yet, it is a prohibited drug under the Rules framed by the Local Government under s. 5 of the Act, and an authorized preparation of the same is an offence, under s. 9 of the Act, though not under s. 38 of Act XXII of 1881. Though an Honorary Magistrate is not a person authorized to conduct a search under s. 14 of the Opium Act, he possesses the powers given by s. 19, and he can himself conduct a search on the analogy of s. 65 of the Crim. Pro. Code. An irregularity in the conduct of a search, unless it causes a failure of justice, is not material under s. 537 of the Crim Pro. Code. EMPRESS v. GANESHI, A.W.N. 1884, 213.

(10)—Ss. 3 (b) and 41—Yeast balls not intoxicating drugs, etc.—Possession prior to utilization not an offence.—Yeast balls not being intoxicating drugs, or spirit, or fermented liquor, their possession prior to their utilization for the manufacture of liquor is not punishable under s. 41 or any other section of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA LU GALE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 571.

(11)—S. 12—See No. 6, supra.

(12)—S. 21—See No. 7, supra.

(13)—S. 22—See No. 8, supra.

(14)—Ss. 27, 28, 29, 30, 34, 47—Act XII of 1896, ss. 36, 37, 38, 41, 57—Excise officer.—An officer, who before the coming into force of Act XII of 1896, is one of the class of officers on whom had been conferred powers to act as Excise Officer under ss. 27, 28, 29, Act XXII of 1881, and who had therefore power in certain events to take a case before a Magistrate under s. 32, is an Excise Officer within the meaning of s. 47, Act XXII of 1881. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAKUNDA, 20 A. 70 = A.W N. 1897, 162. (A.W.N. 1896, 105, Overruled). [F., 30 A. 377 = 5, A.L.J. 444 = A.W.N. 1908, 157 = 8 Cr. L.J. 5, 15 Cr. L.J. 336 = 23 Ind. Cas. 688 = 2 P.R. 1914, Cr. = 138 P.L.R. 1914; R., 103 P.L.R. 1903.]

(15)—S. 28—See No. 14, supra.

(16)—S. 29—See No. 14, supra.

(17)—S. 30—See No. 14, supra.

(18)—S. 34—See No. 14, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXII of 1881 (Excise)—continued.

(19)—Ss. 34-a, 36 and 47—Complaint by police officer invested with powers of an Excise Officer.—A Magistrate may take cognizance of an offence under s. 36 of Act XXII of 1881, upon the report of a police officer invested under the authority of s. 34-a of Act XXII of 1881, as amended by Act VI of 1885, with the powers of Excise officer specified in that section, as such officer must be deemed an Excise Officer for the purpose of s. 47. CHATRA v. EMPEROR, 15 P.R. 1887, Cr. (28 P.R. 1883, Cr., R.) [F., 4 P.R. 1893, Cr.; 8 P.R. 1901; R., 7 P.R. 1888, 9 P.R. 1897, Cr.]

(20)—Ss. 34, 47—Powers of police officer—Trial by investigating Excise officer.—A police officer invested by the Local Government with some of the powers under s. 34 of the Excise Act of 1881 is not authorized to make a complaint or report of the nature referred to in s. 47. [Overruled, 20 A. 70=A.W.N. 1897, 162.] An Excise-officer who himself took proceedings against the accused should not try him in respect of the offence for which he instituted the proceedings QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAM CHARAN, A.W.N. 1896, 105. (2 A. 806, R.) [Overruled, 20 A. 70=A.W.N. 1897, 162.]

(21)—S. 35—Conviction—Solitary confinement—Act I of 1868, s. 2 (18), Penal Code, s. 70.—A person, convicted under s. 65 of Act XXII of 1881, is liable only to imprisonment, simple or rigorous, but not to solitary confinement. EMPRESS v. GURDIT SINGH, 17 P.R. 1889, Cr.

(22)—Ss. 35, 47 and 49—Petition by Excise Darogah.—The petition of an Excise Darogah containing allegation of an offence under ss. 35 and 49, Act XXII of 1881, and presented by the Darogah in person to the Magistrate, who tried the case, was held to be the complaint of an Excise-officer within the meaning of s. 47, Excise Act. MUHAMMAD BAKHSH v. EMPRESS, 8 P.R. 1894, Cr. (6 & 7 P.R. 1894, Cr., R.) [R., 12 Cr. L.J. 94=9 Ind. Cas. 511=56 P.L.R. 1911.]

(23)—Ss. 35 and 49—Preparation of "Lahan."—"Lahan" is not a fermented liquor within the meaning of the Excise Act. The inference that can possibly be made from the possession of the vessels smelling of lahan is that that the accused had made preparations towards manufacturing liquor, but falling short of an attempt to commit an offence under s. 35. PARTAB SINGH v. EMPRESS, 29 P.R. 1884, Cr.

(24)—S. 36—See No. 19, supra.

(25)—S. 38—See No. 9, supra.

(26)—S. 39—See No. 6, supra.

(27)—Ss. 39 and 41—Penal Code, s. 71—Illegal possession and sale.—A person cannot be convicted of illegal possession as well as of illegal sale of the same spirit. QUEEN EMPRESS v. NGA TA LOK, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 350.

(28)—S. 41—Selling of surplus drugs to new contractor just before expiry of contract.—When a contractor of drugs sold, just before the expiry of his contract, his remaining stock or bhang to the newly appointed contractor for the ensuing year, held, that he had not infringed any of the Rules under the Excise Act. EMPRESS v. MUHAMMAD RAHIM, 26 P. R. 1883, Cr.

(29)—S. 41—Conviction for one offence by Magistrate altered into one for another offence by Sessions Court—High Court—Acquittal.—A conviction by a Magistrate of the offence of selling illicit opium and charas was altered by the lower appellate Court into one for possession of opium and charas. The Chief Court set aside the conviction and acquitted the accused, on the ground that there was no sufficient evidence to convict the accused. RAHIM BAKHSH v. EMPRESS, 1 P.R. 1894, Cr.

(30)—S. 41—Convictions on evidence of informer.—The Chief Court, on revision, set aside a conviction for an illicit sale of opium, which depended for proof upon the bare statement of a hired informer of the cooly class without any corroboration. GHANTE SHAH v. LALJI PERSHAD, 2 P.R 1894, Cr.

(31)—S. 41—Power to arrest and send accused before Magistrate—Illegal arrest if invalidates trial.—Under this section the power to arrest includes the power to send the accused before a Magistrate. Prosecutions can, therefore, be instituted on the report of an officer empowered under ss. 37 and 38 in cases in which he has arrested or caused the arrest of the accused. Held, also, that an illegal arrest does not invalidate the trial. AH HIN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 182.

(32)—S. 41—See Nos. 7, 8, 10, 27, supra.

(33)—Ss. 41 and 47—Offence under the Act—Complaint by whom to be made.—No offence under the Excise Act, Chap. VII, is cognizable by the police, within the meaning of s. 4, Crim. Pro. Code, and no information by the police or by a person other than the Collector or Excise officer can give a criminal Court jurisdiction to enquire into an alleged offence under the Act. The absence of a complaint either by the Collector or Excise officer is a defect to which the provisions of s. 537 does not apply. KIRPAL SINGH v. EMPRESS, 28 P.R. 1883, Cr. [R., 7 P.R 1888, Cr.]

(34)—S. 42—See No. 8, supra.

(35)—Ss. 42 and 49—Abetment — Sale in breach of license by servant.—A servant of a licensed liquor vendor sold liquor in contravention of the conditions of the license without his master's knowledge. Held, the master cannot be convicted under s. 42 of the Act for the breach of the conditions of the license. AH SHEIN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L.B R. 1872—1892, 373.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXII of 1881 (Excise)—concluded.

(36)—S. 47—Possession and sale of Chandu—Evidence of sale.—Several persons were found together in a room, some of them smoking chandu, and jars containing about 5 tolas of chandu, seven head rests, and the usual paraphernalia of the chandu den were also found in the room. Held that the circumstances disclosed led up to one inference only, namely, that the chandu found was exposed for sale, and that the persons found in the den were persons to whom it was being sold for smoking purposes. KING EMPEROR v. BAKIR, A.W.N. 1902, 17. [Dist., 7 A.L.J. 25 = 11 Cr. L.J. 138 = 5 Ind. Cas. 450.]

(37)—S. 47—Court taking cognizance of offence on report of Excise officer—Police officer invested with certain powers of Excise officer—Court acting on report of such officer. DEWA SINGH v. EMPRESS, 4 P.R. 1893, Cr. (15 P.R. 1887, Cr., R) [F., 8 P.R. 1901 Cr.] See also MANGAL SINGH v. EMPRESS, 8 P.R. 1884, Cr.

(38)—S. 47—See Nos. 14, 19, 20, 22, 23, supra.

(39)—S. 49—Sale of liquor in breach of license to European soldier.—It is only when the licensee knows that the vendee is a European soldier or a Burman that he is forbidden to sell to him. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. AHYU (1) Private P Tiernay (2) U.B.R 1897—1901, Vol. I, 184.

(40)—S. 49—See Nos. 22, 23 35, supra.

(41)—Ss. 49 and 52—Holder of out-still license leaving shops in charge of servant.—Where the holder of an out-still license left his servant in charge of his shop during his temporary absence to sell his liquor to customers, which the servant accordingly did, held, that neither the licensee nor his servant was guilty of any offence under Act XXII of 1881. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GUMNAN, A.W.N. 1894, 201.

(42)—Ss. 49, 52—License to sell liquor—Tari.—There is no license in Upper Burma to sell any liquor, except tari, to a Burman, and consequently any person, whether a licensee or not, who sells foreign spirit etc., to a Burman, sells in contravention of s. 21 and thereby commits the offence defined in s. 49. Therefore, as a penalty is provided in s 49, that section and not s. 52 is applicable to such illicit sale. A. HEIN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol I, 189.

(43)—S. 52—See Nos. 41, 42, supra.

Act IV of 1882 (Transfer of Property).

[AM., ACT III OF 1885; REP. IN PT. AND AM., ACT II OF 1900; SS. 1, 59, 69, 107, 117 AM., ACT VI OF 1904; SS. 85—90, 92—94, 96, 97, 99 REP. S. 100 REP. IN PT., ACT V OF 1908. APPLICATION OF CERTAIN SECTIONS EXT., ACT XIII OF 1889, S. 32 (1); REP. AS TO CROWN GRANTS, ACT XV OF 1895.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1882 (Transfer of Property)—concld.

(1) Ss. 3, 136—Actionable claim—Purchase by pleader — Professional misconduct—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS — PLEADER AND CLIENT, 37 M. 238 = 23 M L.J. 447 = 1912, M.W.N. 1029 = 12 M.L.T. 615 = 13 Cr. L.J. 800 = 17 Ind. Cas. 544.

(2)—S. 54—See ACT I OF 1879, s. 3, sub-s. 13, 27 C. 587 = 4 C.W.N. 524.

(3)—S. 55—See CHEATING—GENERAL, 27 A. 561 = A.W.N. 1905, 98 = 2 A.L.J. 268 = 2 Cr. L.J. 218.

(4)—S. 83—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE — CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION, ETC., A.W.N. 1895, 145.

(5)—S. 136—See No. 1, supra.

Act V of 1882 (Easements).

[S. 14 AMENDED ACT XII OF 1891, EXTENDED TO BOMBAY AND THE U. P. ACT VIII OF 1891.]

S. 24—Entry on Railway premises by dominant owner to effect necessary repairs, if an offence—See ACT IX OF 1890, s. 122, 22 B. 525.

Act VI of 1882 (Companies).

[REP. ACT VII OF 1913.]

(1)—Construction of words. — The Indian Companies Act cannot be properly resorted to for determining the meaning of words in the Municipal Act, as the two Acts are not in pari materia. MYLAPORE HINDU PERMANENT FUND v. CORPORATION OF MADRAS, 3 M.L.T. 400 = 18 M.L.J. 349 = 31 M. 408.

(2)—Table A—Banking Companies limited by shares—Payment of dividends from deposits.—Banking Companies limited by shares, when they do not register articles of association of their own, shall be bound by Table A of Act VI of 1882. The business of the Company is under the sole and exclusive management of the Directors. The Directors are bound not to pay dividends out of anything except the profits of the Company. They are not entitled to pay dividends to share-holders out of deposits, because when a Bank takes a deposit, it takes it on the understanding that the deposit is not to be used to pay dividends to share-holders at the time when the Bank is insolvent and cannot lawfully pay dividends. If the Directors pay dividends out of such deposits they are guilty under s. 409, as the money so deposited is "property" of the Bank within the meaning of s. 309, though not of the depositors, they being not entitled to receive the specific rupees they have paid and as the share-holders including the Directors have wrongfully gained, though it is doubtful whether such payment can be regarded as causing wrongful loss to the Bank. But the Manager, Assistant Manager and Accountant, although, not being entrusted with such property, they may not be directly guilty of an offence under s. 409, may yet be guilty o abetment, by conspiring with the Directors in the illegal payment of the dividend. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MOSS, 16 A. 88 = A.W.N. 1894,23.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued,

Act VI of 1882 (Companies)—continued.

(3)—See MAD. ACT III OF 1904, sch. V, 3 M.L.T. 400 = 18 M.L.J. 349 = 31 M. 408 = 9 Cr. L.J. 68.

(4, 5)—S. 35—Fine to be levied under the section —Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 32—Omission to duly stamp share warrants—Distinction between "forfeit" and "penalty".—If an offence under s. 35 of the Act is proved, the Magistrate is bound to impose a fine of Rs. 500 in respect of each offence of issuing a share warrant not duly stamped. The fact that s. 32 of the Crim. Pro. Code, gives the Magistrate power only to inflict a fine of Rs. 1,000 will not affect the Magistrate's jurisdiction to impose a fine of more than Rs. 1,000 in a case where more than two share warrants not duly stamped have been issued. An omission to stamp a share warrant is an offence under the Act, punishable by a penalty. A Magistrate has jurisdiction to enforce its payment. No distinction can be drawn between the word "forfeit" in s. 35 and the word "penalty" in the other section of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MOORE, 20 C. 676. [R., 35 A. 173 = 11 A.L.J. 196 = 18 Ind. Cas. 665 = 14 Cr. L.J. 105.]

(6)—Ss. 48 and 50—Officers of Company resigning their positions as such without resigning directorships—Liability under s. 50 not affected —Plea of ignorance of law.—Where a paid Managing Director and the Chief Secretary of a Company were prosecuted for an offence under s. 48, and convicted under s. 50, Companies Act. Held, that the fact of their having resigned their positions as Managing Director and Chief Secretary, before the prosecution was started, without resigning thereby their posts as directors, would not free them from their liability under s. 50 of the Act. The plea of ignorance of law cannot be accepted. CHHABIL DAS v. EMPEROR, 164 P.L.R. 1914 = 15 Cr. L.J. 300 = 23 Ind. Cas. 508 = 38 P.W.R. 1914, Cr.

(7)—S. 50—See No. 6, supra.

(8)—Ss. 55, 56—Right of share-holders to inspect the register of share-holders.—Under s. 55, every share-holder, without payment, and every member of the public, on payment, is entitled to inspect the register of members of the company during business-hours, except when the register is closed under s. 56, and "subject to such reasonable restriction as the company in general meeting may impose." Where the share-holders, in general meeting, have not placed any restriction on the right of inspection, even a temporary refusal to allow the inspection, on the ground that the meeting of the directors was going on, will render the director responsible for such refusal liable to pay the penalty prescribed by s. 55. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BEER, 20 A. 126 = A.W.N. 1897, 223.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1882 (Companies)—continued.

(9)—S. 56—See No. 8, supra.

(10)—S. 74 and Regulations under s. 220 (b) —Failure to file balance-sheet—Registrar only competent to prosecute—Power of High Court to interfere in a pending case—S. 439 of the Crim. Pro. Code.—(1) Held, that, under the regulations framed by the Local Government under s. 220 (b) of Act VI of 1882, the Registrar is the only officer authorised for instituting and conducting all prosecutions under the Act, specially where the prosecutions are in connection with breach of the rules relating to submission of balance-sheets and other periodical returns. So a complaint under s. 74 of the Indian Companies Act for wilful default in filing a balance-sheet, not brought by the Registrar but by a Clerk of his office and countersigned by the Public Prosecutor, is bad in law and not entertainable by a Criminal Court. (2) Held, also that, where, by any law or regulation, a certain person is only authorized to complain about a particular offence, the proceedings of a Magistrate based on a complaint relating to that offence, made by any unauthorized person, are ultra vires and liable to be set aside on revision by the High Court at any time during the pendency of the case. SHIB DAS v. SANGAM LAL, 35 P.W.R. 1910, Cr. = 8 Ind. Cas. 190. (20 P.W.R. 1908, Cr., 1 P.W.R. 1909, Cr., 3 P.W.R. 1909, Cr., R.)

(11)—S. 74—Complaint against Director for failure to file accounts—Jurisdiction of Magistrate.—A Magistrate has jurisdiction to entertain a complaint under s. 74 of the Companies Act against a director of a Company for failure to comply with the provisions of that section and for misappropriation of money or falsification of accounts, but ordinarily a Magistrate ought to be chary of proceeding except after reference to the Registrar or on the complaint of responsible persons. SIDHESHWAR GHOSE v. KING-EMPEROR, 8 A.L.J. 1260 = 12 Ind. Cas. 972 = 12 Cr. L.J. 596.

(12)—S 74—Filing balance-sheet within year —Director resigning before expiry of year—Not liable for failure to file—Mere ceasing to hold necessary qualification shares, effect of—Vacation of office of Directorship.—A Company is not by law obliged to file a balance-sheet till a year from its registration is complete, and a Director of the Company who resigns office before the expiry of the year cannot be fixed with liability under s. 74, Companies Act, for failure to file a balance-sheet with the Registrar of Joint Stock Companies. Act VI of 1882 is not precise on the point, but under English Law the mere ceasing to hold the necessary qualification shares involves vacation of his office by a Director, and this is made clear by s. 85 (2) of the new Act VII of 1913. CHANDAR BHAN v. EMPEROR, 15 Cr. L J. 380 = 23 Ind. Cas. 748 = 17 P.R. 1914, Cr. = 39 P.W.R. 1914, Cr. = 250 P.L.R. 1914.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1882 (Companies)—continued.

(13)—S. 74—Penalty—Crim.Pro.Code, s 439 —Revision—Criminal case—Sentence. enhancement of—Discretion of Chief Court.—Held, that the penalty provided by s. 74 of the Companies Act, 1882, is a fixed and not a maximum penalty. The Magistrate sentenced the accused to a fine of Rs. 300 under s. 74 of the Companies Act. The Crown moved for enhancement of the fine. Held, also, that, though the Chief Court had discretion to refuse to enhance a sentence, yet the present case was one in which enhancement was necessary. CROWN v. LALA HARKISHAN LAL, 37 P.L R. 1914=16 P W.R. 1914, Cr.=15 Cr. L J 260=23 Ind. Cas. 468 =19 P.R. 1914. Cr. (35 A. 173, F.; 19 P.W.R. 1910=63 P.L R. 1910, 29 P.W.R, 1913=58 P.L.R. 1913. 7 P.R 1859. 17 P.R. 1898, 19 P.R. 1905, Cr.=78 P.L.R. 1905, R.)

(14)—S. 74—Summary trial of case under—Penalty fixed—Lesser penalty—Powers of Magistrate—See CRIM.PRO.CODE, 1898, s. 260, 11 A.L J. 196=18 Ind. Cas. 665=14 Cr. L.J. 105=35 A. 173.

(15)—S. 82—Petition under s. 82 of the Act —Power of Magistrate to issue warrant—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 190.—A petition supported by an affidavit was presented to a District Magistrate under s. 82 of the Indian Companies Act. The Magistrate did not deal with the petition as an application under the Indian Companies Act, but having the petition and the affidavit before him and having examined the petitioner and purporting to exercise the powers conferred upon him by s. 190, Crim. Pro. Code, issued warrants for arrest and search. Held that, as there was no allegation either in the petition or affidavit that any offence, as defined by s. 4 (o), Crim Pro. Code, had been committed, nor anything to show that the Magistrate had information, knowledge or suspicion that any such offence had been committed, it was not competent for the Magistrate to proceed under s. 190 of the Crim. Pro. Code. In re PALAVESAM PILLAI, 1 Weir 720=2 Weir 46=2 Weir 149.

(16)—S. 215—False statements in balance sheet before winding up of Company—Balance sheet under the Companies Act, nature of.—S. 215 of Act VI of 1882 does not apply to false statements contained in a balance-sheet published before the commencement of the winding up of a Company. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MOSS, 16 A. 88=A.W.N. 1894, 23.

(17)—Balance-sheet under the Indian Companies Act, nature of.—The balance-sheet of a Company coming under the Indian Companies Act, in order to represent the assets and liabilities of the Company, must be a true balance-sheet. It must show the actual condition of the Company. It is not sufficient if it should accurately show the state of the account books; it must, to be a true balance-sheet, show the actual state of the Company. If the books are false and th ebalance-sheet represents the books, the balance-sheet is also false. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MOSS, 16 A 88=A.W.N. 1894, 23. [D., 9 M.L.T. 20=8 Ind. Cas. 325=11 Cr. L.J. 624.]

Act VIII of 1882 (Indian Penal Code Amendment).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897; VIRTUALLY AMENDED, ACT X OF 1886, S. 21, DECLARED IN FORCE, IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

(1)—See SENTENCE—IMPRISONMENT —IMPRISONMENT IN DEFAULT OF PAYMENT OF FINE, ETC., 6 A. 61.

(2)—S. 1—See PENAL CODE, s. 64, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 473.

Act XI of 1882 (Indian Tariff).

[REP., ACT VIII OF 1894.]

See ACT XI OF 1878, 4 Cr. L J. 239.

Act XII of 1882 (Salt).

[REP. IN PT., ACT XX OF 1884; REP. IN PT., ACT XII OF 1891; REP. IN PT., AND AM., ACT XIX OF 1890. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS (EXCEPT S. 31), REG.III OF 1872, S 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES) (SS. 1, 2, 6, 7 AND 8 AND CH. IV), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—S. 9—Evasion of salt duty—Law under which punishable—Lower Burma Land and Revenue Act (II of 1876), s. 39, cl. (c).—When salt-duty imposed under the Salt Act has not been compounded under any rules made under clause (c) of s. 39 of the Lower Burma Land and Revenue Act (II of 1876), and payment of such duty is evaded, the prosecution and conviction may be under s. 9 of the Salt Act (XII of 1882), under which the duty is primarily imposed, or under s. 39 of the Land Revenue Act (II of 1876), with reference to any rules made under s. 39, clause (c) of the Land Revenue Act, for composition with licensees. QUEEN EMPRESS v. SHWE THEIN, L.B R. 1893—1900, 252.

(2)—S. 9—Liability of licensee of salt factory.—The licensee of a salt factory is criminally liable for any evasion of payment of salt duty, unless he can show not only that he is personally unaware of the evasion but that he has exercised all proper precautions against such an event happening in his factory. In the matter of the petition of LATI RAM, A.W.N. 1891, 181.

(3)—S. 11—Limitation.—The general law of limitation and its schedules are chiefly intended for civil matters. The complaint of a criminal offence is not a suit or application within the meaning of s. 18, Limitation Act, and the peremptory terms of s. 11 of Act XII of 1882 are not affected by that section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NAGESHAPPA PAI, 20 B. 543.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIV of 1882 (Code of Civil Procedure).

[REP., ACT V OF 1908.]

(1)—Decree ordering wife to return to husband—Enforcing decree under a suit for restitution of conjugal rights against wife—Imprisonment.—Quære:—Whether, under the present procedure the Court can enforce its order upon a wife to return to her husband's by giving her over bodily into her husband's hands. Such disobedience would seem to fall within s. 200 of the Code, and to be enforceable only by imprisonment, or attachment of property, or both. MOONSHEE BUZLOOR RUHEEM v. SHUMSOONNISSA BEGUM, and JUDOONATH BOSE v. SHUMSOONNISSA BEGUM, 8 W.R.P.C. 3 = 11 M.I.A. 551.

(1-a)—Depositions before Land Registration Deputy Collector to be taken as directed in the Civ. Pro. Code—See BEN. ACT VII OF 1876, s. 88, 11 C.W.N. 470 = 5 Cr. L.J. 281.

(2)—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 439, 476, 26 A. 249 = A.W.N. 1904, 15.

(3)—See WARRANT, 3 C.W.N. 605.

(4)—S. 13—See RES JUDICATA, 14 Bur. L. R. 259 = 4 L.B.R. 337.

(5)—S. 25—See ACT XVIII OF 1879, ss. 13, 14, 41 P.R. 1888, Cr.

(6)—S. 30—Specific Relief Act (I of 1877), s. 42—Claim of private right by plaintiff over land—Claim of public right by defendants—Cause of action—Parties—Persons claiming public right are alone necessary parties—Civ. Pro. Code (Act XIV of 1882), s. 30—Irregularity in not recording formal order—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 133, 6 Ind. Cas. 46.

(7)—Ss. 51, 115—See FALSE EVIDENCE, 6 A. 626.

(8)—S. 52—See FALSE EVIDENCE, 27 P. R. 1894, Cr.

(9)—S. 70—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 332, A.W.N. 1899, 13.

(9-a)—S. 115—See No. 7, supra.

(10)—S. 174—See CONTEMPT OF COURT, 12 B. 63.

(11)—Ss. 194, 195 and 647—See SESSIONS JUDGE, JURISDICTION OF, 26 M. 596 = 13 M. L.J. 272.

(11-a)—S. 195—See No. 11, supra.

(12)—S. 251—See PENAL CODE, ss. 353, 149, 31 C. 424.

(13)—S. 258—See FALSE EVIDENCE, 10 B. 288.

(14)—S. 258—See PENAL CODE, s. 210, 16 C. 126.

(15)—Ss. 258, 643—See PENAL CODE, s. 210, 4 M. 325.

(16)—S. 268—See PENAL CODE, s. 188, U.B.R. 1909, 2nd Quarter, Penal Code, 23.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIV of 1882 (Code of Civil Procedure) —continued.

(17)—S. 269—See PENAL CODE, s. 186, L.B. R. 1872—1892, 336.

(18)—S. 274—See CRIMINAL MISAPPROPRIATION, 22 M. 151 = 1 Weir 424.

(19)—S. 318—See CRIMINAL TRESPASS, 1 C.L.J. 104.

(20)—Civ. Pro. Code, s. 337 (a)—Scope of the section—The accused, a judgment-debtor, was arrested and produced before the District Munsiff, who granted him five days' time for the payment of the judgment-debt, and also ordered the process-server to keep him in custody till then. The accused escaped from the custody. Held, that the language of s. 337 (a) would be wide enough to cover the case and that, under cl. 3 of the section, the District Munsiff was authorized to leave the judgment-debtor in the custody of the process server. The accused, therefore, was guilty of escaping from lawful custody. In re ARIYAPPA MUDALI, 1 Weir 717.

(21)—Ss. 350 and 359—Power of Court to send insolvent to Magistrate on an enquiry independent of that under s. 350, Civ. Pro. Code, 1882.—Where, on an application for declaring the petitioner an insolvent, an enquiry is held under s. 350, and an order is passed under s. 351, declaring the petitioner an insolvent, the Court has no jurisdiction to make a fresh enquiry under s. 359 and to send the petitioner to a Magistrate upon the basis of such fresh enquiry. Though s. 359 does not say "that an application under that section must be made at the hearing under s. 350 or soon thereafter, any order, under that section (s. 359), must be based on the findings arrived at in an enquiry under s. 350 No new enquiry is contemplated by s. 359. NARASAYYA v. SUBBAYYA, 15 M.L.J. 12.

(22, 23)—S. 359—Misconduct of debtor—Offence—Imprisonment by Civil Court, nature of.—Although the misconduct of a debtor is rendered punishable by the Civil Court only at the instance of a creditor, it is none the less a criminal offence, and the offender, when sentenced to be imprisoned, should be confined in the criminal, not in the civil, jail. Civil Courts, when sentencing an offender to imprisonment under s. 359 of the Civ. Pro. Code, should specify in the warrant, which should be addressed to the officer in charge of the criminal jail, whether the imprisonment awarded is simple or rigorous. The imprisonment which the Civil Court is empowered to award under s. 359, Civ. Pro. Code, may be either rigorous or simple. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 22nd Sept. 1879, No. 1572, 1 Weir 718.

(24)—S. 359—See No. 21, supra.

(25)—Ss. 359 and 662—Imprisonment of debtor under s. 359, Civ. Pro. Code—Power of High Court to order the creditor to provide for maintenance.—The High Court has no power under s. 652, Civ. Pro. Code, to frame a rule imposing on a creditor the obligation to provide for the maintenance of a debtor imprisoned, under s. 359, Civ. Pro. Code, the powers conferred by s. 652 being restricted to matters of procedure. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 22nd Sept. 1879, No. 1572, 1 Weir 718.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIV of 1882 (Code of Civil Procedure) —continued.

(26)—S. 366 — See PRIVATE DEFENCE, RIGHT OF, 2 C.P.L.R. 73.

(27)—Ss. 475, 481—See WRONGFUL CONFINEMENT, 4 L.B.R. 253=8 Cr. L.J. 68.

(27-a)—S. 481—See No. 27, supra.

(28)—Ss. 503, 505—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, s. 145, 22 A. 214=A.W.N. 1900, 22.

(29)—S. 505—See No. 28, supra.

(29-a)—S. 568—See No. 36, supra.

(29-b)—S. 569—See No. 36, supra.

(30)—Ss. 588 (29), 651—Conviction for escape from lawful custody—Appeal.—Whether a person who has been convicted under s. 651, for escaping from lawful custody and has been sentenced for one month, has the right of appeal under s. 588 (29), Civ. Pro. Code. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. AMAR NATH, 5 A. 318. [F., 27 A. 258=1 A.L.J. 595=A.W.N. 1904, 229.]

(31)—S. 591—See CONTEMPT OF COURT, 7 B. 5.

(32)—S. 622—See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF—REVISIONAL POWERS OF HIGH COURT, 1 A. L. J. 481=A. W. N. 1904, 170, 8 C.W N. 73.

(33)—S. 622—High Court's power of revision of District Judge's appellate order granting sanction to prosecute—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE — AUTHORITIES COMPETENT TO GRANT SANCTION, ETC., 6 O.C. 216.

(34)—S. 622—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE —AUTHORITIES COMPETENT TO GRANT SANCTION, ETC., 3 A. 508, 30 A. 38=9 Cr. L.J. 39=1 Ind. Cas. 569=5 A.L.J. 749= A.W.N. 1908, 273, 26 M. 139=2 Weir 197= 2 Weir 577, 3 A.L.J. 394=A.W.N 1906, 103= 3 Cr.L.J. 400=1 M.L.T. 219=28 A. 554.

(35)—S. 622—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE —REVOCATION OF SANCTION, 10 C.W.N. 1026 =4 Cr.L.J. 168.

(36)—Ss. 622, 647, 568, 569— Revisibility of proceedings under s. 195, Crim. Pro. Code, before Judges of Civil Courts—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—AUTHORITIES COMPETENT TO GRANT SANCTION, ETC., 2 M.L.T. 84=17 M.L.J. 123=5 Cr.L.J. 288=30 M. 311.

(37)—S. 640—Commission toexamine witnesses.—In an application to examine the plaintiff under commission, it was admitted that she had appeared personally in the Police Court and had been examined by the Magistrate. Ordered that a commission do issue to examine the plaintiff. PROVAT KUMAREE DASSEE v. OPURA KISSEN SETT, 3 C.WN. 753.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIV of 1882 (Code of Civil Procedure) —concluded.

(37-a)—S. 642—See ARREST, 4 A. 27.

(38)—S. 643—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), ss. 435, 476, 4 O.C. 96.

(38-a)—S. 643—See CRIM. PRO.CODE (1898), s. 476, 1 C. 450.

(39)—S. 643—See FALSE EVIDENCE, 30 P. R. 1888, Cr.

(40)—S. 643—See HIGH COURT, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL, 23 C. 532.

(41)—S. 643—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE — CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION, ETC., 23 C. 532.

(42)—S. 643—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE —EXPIRY OF SANCTION AND LIMITATION, 7 A. 871, F.B.=A.W.N. 1885, 267.

(42-a)—S. 643—See No. 15, supra.

(43)—S. 647—Effect of.—The effect of s. 647, Civ. Pro. Code, is not to make the provisions of the Civ. Pro. Code applicable to proceedings under s. 195, Crim. Pro. Code, which are of a criminal, rather than a civil, nature. RAMA AIYAR v VENKATACHALA PADAYACHI, 30 M. 311=2 M.L.T. 84=17 M.L.J. 123=5 Cr.L J. 288. [Appl., 11 Cr.L J 280=5 Ind. Cas. 881= 20 M.L.J. 102=7 M.L.T. 128=33 M. 90.]

(44)—S. 647—See Nos. 11 and 36, supra.

(45)—S. 651—Arrest of judgment-debtor—Warrant.— The officer arresting a judgment-debtor must have the warrant of arrest in his possession at the time of making the arrest, otherwise it is illegal. The escape of the judgment-debtor from the custody of the person apprehending without the warrant is not punishable under s. 651 of the Civ. Pro. Code, EMPRESS OF INDIA v. AMAR NATH, 5 A. 318 =A.W.N. 1883, 54. [F., 27 A. 258=1 A.L.J. 595=A.W.N. 1904, 229.]

(46)—S. 651—See PENAL CODE, ss. 224 and 225, 1 Weir 211.

(47)—S. 651—See No. 30, supra.

Act XV of 1882 (Presidency Small Causes Courts).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1891; ACT VII OF 1896; REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT I OF 1895; AMENDED; ACT VII OF 1892, S. 12; ACT III OF 1899, SS. 28, 39 (2), 69; AMENDED ACT IV OF 1906, S. 3, LAST PARA REPEALING ACT V OF 1908.]

(1)—S. 35—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE —REVOCATION OF SANCTION, 27 B. 130=4 Bom. L.R. 940.

(2)—S. 56—Room in chawl rented by a particular person—Dwelling.—Whether a room in a

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XV of 1882 (Presidency Small Causes Courts)—concluded.

chawl rented by a particular person is the dwelling house of that person, and its outer door an outer door which a bailiff who has entered the chawl cannot break open under s. 56 QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KAIKHUSRO CURSEDJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 949.

Act XX of 1882 (Indian Paper Currency).

[REP., ACT III OF 1905.]

(1)—S. 16—Contract Act (IX of 1872), s. 108 —Currency note — Legal tender — Bona fide transfer.—Under s. 16 of the Paper Currency Act, 1882, currency notes are legal tender within the circles of issue and cannot be treated as ordinary articles of moveable property. Transfer of a currency note for money cannot be called a sale of the note within the meaning of the Contract Act. Where the Criminal Court directed the plaintiff, a bona fide holder of a currency note stolen from the complainant, to make over the same to him and the plaintiff sued the defendant who had passed the note to the plaintiff. Held, that the defendant being a bona fide holder the suit did not lie. The order of the Criminal Court was wrong but it did not give a claim to the plaintiff which he did not possess. DASAUNDHI v. IMAMUDDIN, 115 P.L.R. 1904=18 P.R. 1905, Civ.

Act XXI of 1883 (Emigration).

[REP. IN PT. AND AM., ACT XVIII OF 1890, AM., ACT I OF 1896; AM., ACT VII OF 1897. PREAMBLE AND S. 6 AM., S. 105, PROVISO(a); REP. CH. XIV ADDED, ACT X OF 1902. S. 108; AM., S. 112-A, INS., ACT XII OF 1904. MEANING OF "INDIA" DECLARED, S. 6 (2), PROV. REP., S. 6A, INS., S. 18 (1) AM., 80 (1) REP; IN PT. AND AM., ACT XII OF 1908; REP. (EXCEPT IN SONTHAL PARGANAS), ACT XVII OF 1908; DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG III OF 1899, S. 3]

(1)—As amended by Act (X of 1902), ss. 6, 107, 111—Magistrate—Magistrate, First Class, in s. 111, includes Presidency Magistrate—Agreement with native of India to depart out of India by sea to work as an artizan—Agreement made without the permission of the Protector of Emigrants—Liability of master for criminal acts done by servant on the master's behalf—Master liable for agreements entered into on his behalf by his servant in violation of s. 111—Protector of Emigrants has power to impose reasonable terms before issuing permission—Summons, issue of—Fresh summons issued on the same information—Irregularity in procedure—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 537.—The term "Magistrate of the first class" used in s. 111 of the Emigration Act, 1883, means a Magistrate appointed to exercise the highest Magisterial powers, ordinarily prescribed by the Crim. Pro. Code, within his jurisdiction and includes a Presidency Magistrate. Where, on an information, a summons is issued to the accused, and owing to its disclosing no offence, a fresh summons is issued without any fresh or supplemental information, the error, omission or irregularity in the fresh summons, is not sufficient, under s. 537 of the Crim. Pro. Code, to upset the finding and sentence, unless it has in fact occasioned "a failure of justice," that is, unless it has unfairly affected the accused's defence on the merits. Sub-section 1 of s. 111 of the Emigration Act hits at not merely entering into an agreement, but also at any attempt to enter into it. An attempt consists in some external act, which shows that progress is made in the direction of it, or towards maturing and effecting it, that is, something tangible and ostensible, of which the law can take hold, which can be alleged and proved. Where a penal statute has been infringed by servants, and criminal proceedings are taken against the master, although it lies upon the prosecutor to establish the master's liability, yet the question whether he is liable turns necessarily upon what is the true construction to be placed upon the statute. The statute should be construed not merely with reference to its language, but also its subject-matter and object. Sub section 1 of s. 111 of the Emigration Act, 1883, does not break in upon the rule of law embodied in the maxim qui per alium facit per seipsum facre videtur (he who does an act through another is deemed in law to do it himself). The word "whoever" in the clause is 'whoever either by himself or through his agent.' In other words, the Act leaves untouched the right of every person to enter into such agreements through an agent. It merely provides that such agreements shall not be entered into, without the previous permission of the Local Government. The intention of the section is to hold the master liable for his servant's act, provided the act was done by the servant so as to bind the master according to the law of contract. The coupling of the word "conditions" with the word "terms" in s. 107 of the Act makes out the intention of the Legislature to be that the officer authorised to grant the permission should have power to impose any reasonable terms and conditions he thinks proper as conditions precedent to the grant, whether they relate to the terms of the agreement itself, or being extraneous to it, relate to the execution, or other considerations, which have to be taken into account, in order to protect the interests of the native of India departing out of it by sea. S. 29 of the Emigration Act, 1883, makes the execution of the agreement referred to there, in the presence of the protector, compulsory. In s. 108 of the Act, the power conferred on the Local Government, who have delegated their power to the protector, is discretionary, and it is left to that Government to decide whether in any particular case any agreement referred to in s. 107 shall be executed or not in its presence, that is, in the presence of the Protector acting as its delegated authority. The two sections being thus distinguishable, the language of one cannot be invoked to aid the construction of the other, especially, where the language of each is plain. EMPEROR v. JEEWANJI, A. M. 9 Bom. L.R. 967=31 B. 611=6 Cr. L J. 240. [F., 32 B. 10=9 Bom. L.R. 1059=7 Cr. L.J. 238.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXI of 1883 (Emigration)—continued.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XXI of 1883 (Emigration)—concluded.

(2)—S. 107—Master and servant—Servant violating the provisions of the Emigration Act in the course of his employment—Knowledge or consent of the master—Master's liability for servant's act—Artizan—Engine-driver on board a steamer.—If a servant, having been appointed as an agent for a particular business by his master, enters into an agreement in connection with that business, everything which he does within the scope of his employment, for that purpose, will be binding upon the master, and the master will be criminally liable for such acts of the servant under the Indian Emigration Act. In such a case, the master's express knowledge or consent to the act is not necessary, because, from the very fact of the appointment of the servant as an agent in such a business, the master's knowledge of, or consent to, every act done by the servant or agent, within the scope of his employment, is implied by law. A person engaged to drive an engine on board a steamer, is an artizan within the meaning of the Indian Emigration Act. EMPEROR v. HAJI SHAIK MAHOMED SHUSTARI, 9 Bom. L.R. 1059=32 B. 10=7 Cr. L.J. 238. [R., 39 C. 344=15 C. L.J. 401=16 C.W.N. 551=13 Cr. L.J. 591=15 Ind. Cas. 1007.]

Act III of 1884 (Criminal Procedure Code Amendment).

[REP., ACT V OF 1898.]

(1)—S. 8 (6)—Trial by District Magistrate of European British subject with a jury—Power of District Magistrate to refer case to High Court on dissenting from verdict of jury—Crim Pro. Code (1882), ss. 307, 418, 423—Powers of High Court, s. 307.—What is contemplated by s. 8 (6) of Act III of 1884 is to confer upon a District Magistrate trying an European British subject with the aid of a jury, precisely the same authority as the Sessions Judge had under s. 307 of the Code; and if he disagrees with the verdict of a jury so completely that he considers it necessary to submit the case to the High Court, he ought to do so, and the High Court should deal with the reference by the Magistrate in exactly the same way as it can upon a reference by a Sessions Judge, pure and simple, under s. 307. The expression "trial by jury" in s. 8 (6) of Act III of 1884 should not be limited to that period of time at which the jury pronounce their verdict. It refers, as in the similar case of s. 307, Crim. Pro. Code, to trial by jury as contradistinguished from trial with the help of assessors, or in any other manner mentioned in the Code. A trial by jury or any other trial cannot be, legally speaking, concluded until judgment and sentence are passed; in those cases in which the Sessions Judge trying with the help of a jury differs from the verdict of the jury, and suspending judgment, refers the case to the High Court, the trial cannot be said to have concluded, but remains open for the High Court, upon the reference, to conclude and complete it, either by maintaining the verdict of the jury and causing judgment of acquittal to be recorded, or by setting aside the verdict of acquittal, and causing conviction and sentence to be entered against the accused. The clear provisions of s. 307 are not in any way curtailed by ss. 418, 423. The High Court's jurisdiction to deal with a case referred under s. 307, Crim. Pro. Code, are not limited only to cases, where there has been an error in law in the proceedings below. In cases where the jury delivers a perverse or obtuse verdict, the District Judge should be afforded an opportunity of reporting to the High Court. The same applies to a reference by a District Magistrate under s. 8 (6) of Act III of 1884. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CARTHY, 9 A. 420=A.W.N. 1887, 39. [R., 14 B. 160.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1884 (Criminal Procedure Code Amendment)—concluded.

Act IV of 1884 (Explosives).

[REP. IN PT. ACT X OF 1889; ACT XII OF 1891; DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—"Patakhas" or crackers, whether "fireworks"—License, whether necessary for sale.—Patakhas, which are small packets, wrapped in a paper, of coloured potash mixed with small pieces of kankar, and which explode with a slight report when thrown with force against a wall or other hard surface, are not fire works within the meaning of the Explosives Act, and so no license is necessary for the manufacture or sale of "Patakhas." CROWN v BANSIDHAR, 8 P.R. 1910, Cr.=9 P.W.R. 1910, Cr.=5 Ind. Cas. 911.

(2)—S. 5—License for manufacture of explosives.—A licensee for the manufacture of explosives is not at liberty to associate other persons with himself in the manufacture and sale of explosives without such other persons being approved of by the authorities and being provided with licenses. In re SAMINADA PILLAI, 1 Weir 756.

(3)—Ss. 5 and 7—Rules framed under the sections—Possession of explosives.—Accused's house was searched for opium and in it were found three cartridges of blasting powder and three detonators. He was convicted under s. 5 of the rules for the manufacture, possession and sale of explosives in Burma, for possessing an explosive without a license. Held that licenses under these rules are not required for the possession of explosives of this nature in moderate quantities. The rules are not applicable to the case. But cartridges and detonators are "ammunition" as defined in s. 4, Indian Arms Act and the accused might properly have been convicted under s. 19 (f) of that Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA YE, U. B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 193.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1884 (Explosives)—concluded.

(4)—S. 7—See No. 3, supra.

(5)—Rules 32 (1) (b) framed under—Search for explosives in the presence of superior police officers—Legality—See JURISDICTION- GENERAL, 39 C. 119=15 Ind. Cas. 65=13 Cr. L.J. 433.

Act VI of 1884 (Steam-Vessels).

[S. 39 (2) (AS TO LOWER BURMA) REP., ACT VI OF 1900, S. 48. REP. IN PT. and AM. —ACT III OF 1890, SS 1—8, 12—14; ACT XII OF 1891 AM., ACT XIII OF 1891; AM., ACT VII OF 1899. S. 68A INS., ACT I OF 1909, S. 2. DECLARED IN FORCE IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—Ss. 31, 32, 33, 34, 35—Rules under the Act, force of—Investigation into collision by a Special Court—Examination on oath of Serang of colliding vessel—Oaths Act (X of 1873), s. 4—Serang charged with incompetency or misconduct—Sanction to prosecute for perjury.—A serang of a launch, which collided with and sank another vessel, was examined on the 4th July 1910 as a witness in an investigation under ss. 31 and 32 of the Inland Steam Vessels Act, 1884. He was then charged with incompetency or misconduct, and again examined on the 18th July. On both occasions he was put on solemn affirmation. The District Magistrate, Rangoon, considering that the Serang has given false evidence on both occasions, ordered his prosecution for perjury before the Sub Divisional Magistrate, who, however, discharged the accused, holding that the District Magistrate had no power under the Rules framed under the Act to administer as oath or affirmation to a party: Held, that the Sub-Divisional Magistrate was right as regards the statements made on the 18th July, as the Serang was then in the position of an accused person under s. 342, Crim. Pro. Code—but wrong as regards the statements made on the 4th July (6 M. 252, D.). The rules for the guidance of Special Courts under the Inland Steam Vessels Act have not the force of law. EMPEROR v. LAL MEAH, 12 Cr. L J. 577=12 Ind. Cas. 841=4 Bur. L. T. 130.

(2)—S. 32—See No. 1, supra.

(3)—S. 33—See No. 1, supra.

(4)—S. 34—See No. 1, supra.

(5)—S. 35—See No. 1, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1885 (Excise Amending Act XXII of 1881).

[REP., ACT XII OF 1896].

See ACT XXII OF 1881, ss. 34 A, 36, 47, 15 P.R. 1887, Cr.

Act XIII of 1885 (Telegraph).

[AMENDED, ACT XI OF 1888, DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3, IN BRITISH BELOOCHISTAN REG. I OF 1890, S. 3, IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES) ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—S. 29—Penal Code, ss. 71, 420, 465, 511—Attempt to cheat by means of forged telegram—Separate punishment.—Where, with the object of ultimately obtaining payment to the sender of a large sum of money to which he was not entitled, a false telegram was despatched under a fictitious name addressed to the person under whose authority the claim, if just, might have been discharged, held that the sender of such telegram might be properly convicted of an offence under s. 29, Act XIII of 1885, as well as of an attempt to cheat under s. 420, read with s. 511, and possibly also of forgery under s. 465; but that, at all events, as regards the two former offences, s. 71, I.P.C., applied, and he could not be punished for more than one such offence. EMPEROR v. SOHAN LAL, A.W. N. 1903, 26.

Act II of 1886 (Income Tax).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN PT., ACT XII OF 1891; REP. IN PT., ACT VI OF 1902. SS. 5, 41 AND SCH II. AM., ACT XI OF 1903. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S 4.]

(1)—Powers of Board of Revenue over Divisional Officers—Jurisdiction of High Court over proceedings of Divisional Officers under the—See CERTIORARI, WRIT OF, 1912, M.W.N. 1012=23 M L J. 393=16 Ind. Cas. 755=13 Cr. L.J. 723.

(2)—S. 25—Collector hearing objections—Revenue Court—Judicial proceedings—Power of Collector to order prosecution of the objector under s. 476, Crim. Pro. Code.—Accused put in an application objecting to his assessment as to Income-Tax. The Collector, who enquired into the matter, decided that the accused had made a false declaration, within the meaning of s. 25 of the Income Tax Act and ordered his prosecution for an offence under s. 177, Penal Code. The Magistrate, who tried the case, convicted the accused of an offence under s. 193, Penal Code. The Sessions Judge, on appeal, set aside the conviction for the reason, among others, that the Collector's order was not "an order under s. 476, Crim. Pro. Code, because the Collector, acting under the Income Tax Act, was not a Revenue Court," and that the proceeding wherein he ordered the prosecution was not a 'judicial proceeding' within the meaning of s. 476, Crim. Pro. Code. On appeal, from the acquittal on behalf of the Crown, held, that the Collector, hearing objections to assessment under the Income Tax Act was a Revenue Court and his proceedings were judicial proceedings so that it was competent for him to pass an order under s. 476, Crim. Pro. Code, for prosecution of the objector. EMPEROR v. RUP SINGH, 44 P R. 1905, Cr. = 187 P.L R. 1905 = 3 Cr. L J 128. (24 M. 121, R.; 27 C. 820, D.) [R , 22 Ind. Cas. 146 = 15 Cr. L.J. 2.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act II of 1886 (Income Tax)—concluded.

(3)—Ss. 25 and 28—See MAD. ACT III OF 1878, ss. 14 and 15, 1 Weir 782.

(4)—S. 28—See No. 3, supra.

(5)—Ss. 35 and 36—Prosecution for making false statement not to be ordered except at the instance of Collector—The form of the order to indicate that it has been passed by the Collector. —A person who has committed an offence under s 35 of the Income Tax Act cannot be proceeded against except at the instance of the Collector, and where it does not appear from the order that it was passed by the officer concerned in his capacity as a Collector, it is not legal. BANKAT LAL v. KING-EMPEROR, 12 A.L.J. 258 = 15 Cr. L.J. 296 = 23 Ind. Cas. 504.

(6)—S. 36—Collector's order under, whether falls within s. 435, Crim. Pro. Code—Collector deciding objections to assessment of income-tax as Revenue Court—Prosecution ordered for false statement in declaration—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 435, 476, 15 Cr. L.J. 2 = 22 Ind. Cas. 146.

(7)—S. 36—See No. 5, supra.

Act XI of 1886 (Tramways).

[REP. IN PT. ACT IX OF 1890, DECLARED IN FORCE IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES) ACT XIII OF 1898, s. 4.]

(1)—Bye-laws framed under the Act—Break of journey—Necessity for purchase of fresh ticket. —A passenger on a tramcar took and paid for a ticket entitling him to travel for a certain distance ; he alighted at an intermediate stopping place, and boarded another tramcar, which was performing the same journey, in order to get to the point which he might have travelled by the first car. He refused to pay the fare demanded of him on the second car, contending that he was entitled to complete his journey with his original ticket: Held, that the contract of carriage had been determined by the passenger's own act and that he was rightly convicted for travelling on the second tramcar without paying his fare. NGA BA THIN v. RANGOON ELECTRIC TRAMWAY CO , 14 Cr. L J 564 = 21 Ind. Cas. 164 = 7 L.B.R. 53 = 6 Bur. L.T.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1886 (Tramways)—concluded.

193. ((1906) 2 K.B. 288 = 75 L.J. K.B. 670 = 70 J.P. 343 = 4 L.G.R. 1073, (1904) 2 K.B. 313 = 73 L J K.B. 701 = 52 W.R. 655 = 20 T.L.R. 482 = 91 L.T. 349, R.)

Act XII of 1886 (Petroleum).

[REP., ACT VIII OF 1899.]

(1)—Ss. 2 (2), 10, 15—See ACT VII OF 1899, ss. 1 (3), 11 and 15, 7 C.W.N. 658.

(2)—S. 8, Rule 3—Importation of petroleum. —Rule 3 of the Rules framed for the regulation of the importation of petroleum, refers only to importation of petroleum from any port beyond the limits of British India and not from any place which is not a port. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHUNI LAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 643 = Cr. Rg. 16 of 1893.

(3)—S. 10—See No. 1, supra.

(4)—S. 15—See No. 1, supra.

Act I of 1887 (General Clauses).

[REP., ACT X OF 1897].

See ACT X OF 1897.

(1)—Ss. 2 and 7—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 195—Sanction to prosecute—Prosecution commenced six months after granting of the sanction—Intervention of holidays.—A sanction to prosecute can remain in force only for six months from the date on which it was given ; and the period for such sanction cannot be extended by reason of the period expiring during the Court holidays. S. 7 of the General Clauses Act will have no application to such a case, as the Code of Criminal Procedure was passed before the passing of the former Act. RAJ CHUNDER MOZUMDAR v. GOUR CHUNDER MOZUMDAR, 22 C. 176. [R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 803; D., 2 Weir 200.]

(2)—S. 7—See No. 1, supra.

Act IX of 1887 (Provincial Small Causes Courts).

[REP. IN PT., ACT X OF 1888 ; REP. IN PT. ACT XII OF 1891 ; REP. IN PT., (IN AGRA), U P. ACT II OF 1901. S. 36 REP., ACT IX OF 1908. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—S. 25—Order passed by Small Cause Court under s. 476, Crim. Pro. Code—Revision—Power of High Court—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 439, 476 = 14 Cr. L. J. 496 = 20 Ind. Cas. 752 = 7 L.B.R. 76 = 6 Bur. L.T. 144.

Act IV of 1889 (Merchandise Marks).

[REP. IN PT. AND AMENDED, ACT IX OF 1891 ; S. 10 REP. IN PT., ACT XVI OF 1904 ; DECLARED IN FORCE IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1889 (Merchandise Marks)—contd.

(1)—S. 2 (c)—Penal Code, s. 482—False property mark—Books, whether goods—False trade description—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 203.—The case against the accused was that he printed and published, in another press, without the complainant's permission, an unauthorised edition of a book known as "A Manual of Telugu Grammar by P. Abboy Naidu" with the contents and title page and outer cover exactly the same as in the authorised edition. The Magistrate dismissed the complaint under s. 203 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. On a Revision Petition to the High Court, held, that books are goods within the meaning of the Merchandise Marks Act (Act IV of 1889). Held, also, that the phrase "All rights reserved" in the outer cover of the spurious edition is a trade description under s. 2 (c) of the Merchandise Marks Act, and may be untrue, but the complainant should prove that it is untrue in a material respect. In order that the case may come under s. 482 of the Penal Code, the question will be, whether the accused has marked the book in a manner reasonably calculated to cause it to be believed that it is the manufacture or merchandise, which it is not, or belongs to one to whom it does not belong. In order to show that the name "P. Abboy Naidu" is a property mark, the complainant should prove that the buyers ask for and believe that they are getting not merely a work of which P. Abboy Naidu is the author, but a work of which the complainant is the proprietor. RAGHAVALU NAIDU, P. v. SUNDARAMURTI MUDALIAR, 17 M.L.J. 490 = 6 Cr.L.J. 374.

(2)—S. 2 (4)—Penal Code, s. 486—Selling books with counterfeit property mark.—Books are the subject of trade and are covered by the word "goods" in s. 2, cl. (4), Act IV of 1889. Therefore, a person selling a book with a counterfeit property mark is liable to be convicted under s. 486, Penal Code. KANAI DAS BAIRAGI v. RADHA SHYAM BASACK, 26 C. 232 = 3 C.W.N. 97. [F., 17 M.L J. 490; R., 3 Bom. L.R. 883 = 26 B. 289.]

(3)—Ss. 2 (2), 4, 7—Design or pattern covering the whole goods—Not a trade description—Copying such design—No offence—See TRADE MARK, 8 S L.R. 39 = 15 Cr. L.J. 670 = 25 Ind. Cas. 998.

(3-a)—S. 3—See PENAL CODE, ss. 485, 486, 27 C. 776 = 4 C.W.N. 423.

(4)—S. 4—See No. 3, supra.

(5)—Ss. 4 and 6—Using title of book—Trade mark—Trade description—See PENAL CODE, ss. 478, 482, 26 B. 289 = 3 Bom. L.R. 883.

(6)—S. 6—See No. 5, supra.

(7)—Ss. 6 and 7—Bengal Excise Act (VII of 1878), s. 61—Manufacturing and selling exciseable article without a license—Putting false trade marks upon cases containing exciseable articles—Penal Code, ss. 486 and 487—Distinct offences—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 403.—The offences of manufacturing and selling exciseable articles without a license, and being in possession of such articles without a license (ss. 53 and 61, Excise Act), and the offences of putting false trade mark upon cases containing exciseable articles, and making use of such false trade marks (ss. 486, 487, Penal Code, and 6 and 7, Merchandise Marks Act) are distinct offences, and, therefore, a previous conviction or acquittal on the former offences will not bar a trial on the latter offences. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CROFT, 23 C. 174.

(8)—Ss. 6, 7—See PENAL CODE, ss. 482, 485, 486, 17 C.W.N. 227 = 18 Ind. Cas. 404 = 14 Cr. L.J. 68 = 40 C. 281.

(9)—Ss. 6, 7—Liability of limited company to be convicted and punished—Meanings of words 'he,' 'person,' 'whoever'—See PENAL CODE, ss. 482, 486, 15 Cr. L.J. 337 = 23 Ind. Cas. 689 = 7 Bur. L.T. 116.

(10)—Ss. 6 and 7—See TRADE MARK, 31 C. 411.

(11)—S. 7—See TRADE MARK, 32 P.R. 1902, Cr.

(12)—S. 7—See Nos. 3, 7, 8, 9, 10, supra.

(13)—S. 14—Counterfeiting trade-mark—Costs of successful party—Costs in appeal—See PENAL CODE, s. 486, 16 Bom. L.R. 78 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 177 = 15 Cr. L.J. 522 = 24 Ind. Cas. 834.

(14)—S. 15—Penal Code, ss. 482 and 486—Using counterfeit-trade mark— Prosecution—Limitation.—S. 15 of Act IV of 1889 enacts that no prosecution for an infringement of a trade mark shall be commenced after the expiration of one year after the discovery of the offence by the prosecution. The reason for this limitation is obvious. Ordinarily the infringement of a trade mark is rather a civil than a criminal wrong, but as civil proceedings may require much time and expenditure to bring them to a conclusion, the Legislature, in its anxiety to protect trades, has allowed resort to the Criminal Courts to provide a speedy remedy in cases when the aggrieved party is diligent and does not by his own conduct show that the case is not one of urgency. If, therefore, the person aggrieved fails to resort to Criminal Courts within a year of the offence coming to his knowledge, the law assumes that the case is not one of urgency, and it leaves him to his civil remedy by an action for injunction. RUPPELL v. PONNUSAMI TEVAN, 22 M. 488 = 1 Weir 821 = 1 Weir 558. [F., 4 Bur. L.T. 83 = 12 Cr. L.J. 246 = 10 Ind. Cas. 787.]

(15)—S. 15—Prosecution time-barred—Interpretation of statutes—See PENAL CODE, s. 482, 12 Cr. L.J. 246 = 10 Ind. Cas. 787.

(16)—S. 19 (a)—See TRADE MARK, 4 C.L.J. 268 = 10 C.W.N. 107.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1889 (Ports).

[REP. ACT XV OF 1908.]

(1)—S. 6, cl. (k)—Rules 1 to 23 framed thereunder—Order making it obligatory on boat owners to ply for hire, validity of.—Rules 1 to 23 framed by the Government under s. 6 of the Act, in so far as they purport to make it obligatory on boat owners to ply for hire, are ultra vires, and therefore void and of no effect. It is only with regard to boats plying for hire that s. 6 of the Act leaves to the Government authorities to make rules. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. THOMMAYYA CHETTI, 17 M. 397 = 1 Weir 859.

(2)—S. 6 (k)—Rule 15—Causing impediment to service of boat.—When a tindal, or boatman in charge of a boat belonging to the agents of a steamer declines to wait for a letter which the Port officer desires to send to the captain of the steamer, the tindal or boatman does not, by wilful misconduct, cause an impediment to the service of a boat within the meaning of Rule 15 of Rules framed under the Act. In re BODE ERRAYYA, 1 Weir 860.

(3, 4)—Ss. 6 and 8—Rule VIII framed under s. 6—Validity of the Rule—Delegation of powers—Disobedience of order of conservator of ports—Rule VIII, made by the Government under s. 6 cl. (k) of the Act, requires boat owners to "carry out at all times all orders issued by the Conservator of Ports in connection with the plying of their boats which are not inconsistent with the regulations issued by Government." The rule, in so far as it purports to give the Conservator the power to make rules, is ultra vires, and therefore void. In the case of power being given by statute to the Government or other public body to make rules having the force of law, the maxim delegatus non potest delegare must be applied. When the Legislature entrusts to some public body, it may be the Executive Government or a corporation, the duty of making rules, such public bodies cannot relieve themselves of the responsibility and depute other agencies to discharge the duty. Where the accused, owners and tindals of two licensed cargo boats, were convicted under s. 8, cl. 2, by the Conservator for disobedience to an order issued under s. 6, cl. (k). Rule VIII, by the Port Conservator prohibiting the bringing in of boats into the Negapatam river while a certain flag was flying, held, that the order was ultra vires and that the conviction was illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MARIAN CHETTY, 17 M. 118 = 1 Weir 857 = 4 M L J. 38.

(5)—S. 8—See Nos. 3 and 4, supra.

Act XIII of 1889 (Cantonments).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1896; ACT V OF 1898. REP. IN PART AS TO BURMA ACT XIII OF 1898. S. 18. REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT XII OF 1891. AMENDED, ACT I OF 1891, S 11; ACT XV OF 1897; S. 6 (1) AMENDED ACT I OF 1903; SS. 13, 15 (1) AMENDED ACT V OF 1909. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN (WITH ADDITIONS). REG. I OF 1890, SS. 3 AND 4, AS AMENDED BY REG. V OF 1890, S. 45; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4]

See ACT III OF 1880.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1867.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1866.

See CANTONMENT CODE, 1899.

(1)—Ss. 2, 5 and 7—Appeal against convictions for offences punishable under Cantonment Rules—Rule 35, under Act XXII of 1864.—S. 7. Cantonment Act, 1889. has abrogated Rule 35 of the Rules framed under the Cantonment Act XXII of 1864, and appeals against convictions by Cantonment Magistrates of offences punishable under Cantonment Rules lie to the same extent as convictions by other Magistrates of the same class. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAULA BAKHSH, 1 P.R. 1897, Cr.

(2)—S. 5—See No. 1, supra.

(3)—S. 7—Crim. Pro. Code, Act X of 1882, s. 528—Jurisdiction of District Magistrate over Cantonment Magistrate.—S. 7 of Act XIII of 1889 makes the Cantonment Magistrate subordinate to the District Magistrate, and the latter can therefore decide, under s. 528 of the Crim. Pro. Code, whether a case pending before the former should be transferred or not. QUEEN-EMPRESS v RAMJI BAPUJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 849 = Cr. Rg. 16 of 1896. (9 B. 100, R.)

(4)—S. 7—See No. 2, supra.

(5)—S. 13—Intoxicating drug—Supply—Interpretation.—The word "supply" in s. 13 of the Cantonments Act, 1889, must have a restricted meaning put upon it. Its context "barters or sells" indicates that it has the same idea underlying it in common with the words preceding it. It relates to a transaction between two persons dealing at arm's length and, therefore, independent of each other for its purposes. Hence, the servant of a soldier, who buys liquor on his master's behalf and gives it to his master cannot be said to have "supplied" the liquor to his master within the meaning of s. 13 of the Cantonments Act, 1889. EMPEROR v. PASCAL SHIMAU, 9 Bom L R. 703 = 31 B. 523 = 6 Cr. L.J. 67.

(6)—S. 26—Rule 2—Additional fine for continuing offence, validity of.—The additional fine mentioned in r. 2 of the General Order of the Government of India framed under s. 26 of the Cantonments Act (XIII of 1889), is not only to be after the first conviction, but is to follow proof that the failure is persisted in. It cannot be imposed as a threat against possible persistence, which, being in the future, cannot be matter of present proof. The continuing failure must, therefore, be matter of later and separate enquiry and proof. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. WILLIAM PLUMNER, 22 B. 841. (22 B. 766, F.)

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1889 (Cantonments)—concluded.

(7)—S. 27—Penal Code, ss. 64 to 67—Applicability.—Ss. 13 and 14 of Bombay Act, III of 1867, having been repealed by the Cantonment Act of 1889, the provisions in ss. 64 to 67 of the Penal Code apply to sentences passed under s. 27 of the Cantonment Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PEDRU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 563= Cr. Rg. 36 of 1891.

Act XV of 1889 (Official Secrets).

(REP. IN PART AND AMENEED, ACT V OF 1904. DECLARED IN FORCE— IN BRITISH BALUCHISTAN, REG. I OF 1890, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—Ss. 3 and 4—Disclosure of Government departmental examination papers.—The disclosure of Government Departmental Examination papers may be an offence under the Indian Official Secrets Act. AUNG THEIN v. CROWN, 1 L.B.R. 133.

(2)—S. 4—See No. 1, supra.

Act VIII of 1890 (Guardian and Wards).

[REP. IN PART AS TO BURMA ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 18; ACT VI OF 1900, S 48, S. 53, ACT V OF 1908. (IN SAMBALPURE DISTRICT, AND CENTRAL PROVINCES), ACT XXIV OF 1899. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872; S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. 1 OF 1894, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA(EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—Custody of minor—Habeas Corpus—Act VIII of 1890.—The petitioner, an ayah earning only eight annas a month as wages, a poor woman of very feeble intellect, obtained under s. 491, Crim. Pro. Code, a rule in the nature of a Habeas Corpus calling on the respondent, the Superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal Girls' School, Bombay, to show cause why a certain minor, named Saithri, alleged to be illegally and improperly detained by her, should not be delivered to the petitioner, the mother of the girl. The girl was aged 15 years. She was a boarder from the age of eight in the Zenana Mission School. At her tenth year, she was removed to the respondent's school. The petitioner never contributed anything whatever towards the expenses of such education, after she became a boarder. The girl, in the meantime, become a convert to Christianity and would soon be in a position, if allowed to complete her education, to earn a decent livelihood. Held that assuming, but by no means admitting, that the rule that a Hindu girl under sixteen would be too young to be able to decide where she could reside, was applicable, it was the duty of the Court to refuse the present application, not being satisfied that it was made bona fide by the petitioner. Held, further, that having regard to the principles of Courts of Equity to be gathered from a consideration of English cases which were decided as well before as after the coming into operation of the Judicature Act of 1873, and the High Court since its establishment in 1862, being a Court governed by the doctrines of Courts of Equity, the petitioner by her conduct during the last eight years had precluded herself from demanding that her child should now be given up to her, to do which would be manifestly so detrimental to the welfare of the girl. Held, further, that, acting upon the doctrine laid down in the case of Skinner v. Orde (L.R. 4. P.C. 60), which, if applicable, the High Court was bound to follow, and not losing sight of the analogy furnished by the provisions of the Gaurdians and Wards Act, VIII of 1890, as it was clearly for the present and future welfare of the girl that she should remain where she was and that she should not be delivered over to the petitioner, the application should be refused. The girl was discharged from all restraint with liberty to go where she liked. In the matter of SAITHRI, 16 B. 307. [R., 25 C. 881=2 C.W N. 379, 15 M. L.T. 1=1914 M.W.N. 1=25 M.L.J. 661; 84 P. R. 1894, U.B.R. 1892, 1896, Vol. II, 415, U.B. R. 1897—1901, Vol. II, 435.]

(2)—See PENAL CODE, s. 188, 14 C.P.L.R. 174.

(3)—Lawful guardian setting up adverse title to property of minor, whether entitled to guardianship of the person of the minor—See PENAL CODE, s. 361, 15 Cr. L.J. 640=25 Ind. Cas. 840.

(4)—S. 25—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 100, 2 S.L.R. 2, Cr.=10 Cr. L.J. 219.

Act IX of 1890 (Railways).

[REP IN PART (AS TO BURMA) ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 18 REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT IX OF 1896, SUPPLEMENTED ACT IV OF 1905; DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

See ACT XVIII OF 1854.

See ACT XXV OF 1871.

See ACT IV OF 1879.

(1)—Ss. 3, cl. (4), 122, 138—Railway, meaning of—Staff and Residential quarters, not included—Employees holding over—Ejectment—Procedure—Ss. 138 and 122, when applicable—Penal Code, s. 27—Servant's possession—Master's, how far so—S. 141—Use of force—By less than five—Assertion of right, not legalised—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 55 and 439—Revision against acquittal—High Court will interfere only in clear interests of justice.—Although s. 3, cl. (4) of the Railways Act is wide, staff quarters are not part of the Railway. A summary procedure is laid down, in s. 138, for the recovery, by the Railway, of properties improperly held by the employees who are dismissed or discharged. This section is not concurrent with s. 122 which is intended merely for the administration of the Railway and for removing trespassers on the Railway. Where there is lawful entry, s. 122 cannot be applied. S. 27 of the Penal Code is not applicable, as the use by the employee of the premises, as his private residence cannot be said to be on account of his master. It is wrong to contend that when an act is not a civil wrong, it cannot be a criminal offence. Neither English nor Indian Law supports such a contention. S. 141 of the Penal Code cannot be read to lay down the measure of violence which a true owner may use in the assertion of his real right. It only provides for a special remedy in aggravated circumstances. The High Court will not interfere with an acquittal on revision, except in the clear interests of justice. MARGAM AIYAR v. MERCER, (1914) M.W.N. 124 = 15 Cr.L.J. 225 = 23 Ind. Cas. 177.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1890 (Railways)—continued.

(2)—S. 7—City of Bombay Municipal Act (Bom. Act III of 1888), s. 394—Railway Company storing sleepers on their premises—License from the Municipal Commissioner for the use of premises not necessary.—The G. I. P. Railway Company used certain plots of land in Bombay for the purpose of storing sleepers (timber) for the use of their line. In the Presidency Magistrate's Court, the Agent of the Company was charged, under s. 394 (i) (d) of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, with having used the plots for storing timber without a license from the Municipal Commissioners. Held, (1) that no license was necessary, as s. 7 (1) of the Indian Railways Act, IX of 1890, enabled the Railway Company to do all acts necessary for making, maintaining, altering or repairing and using the Railway, notwithstanding anything in any other enactment for the time being in force; (2) that the storing of sleepers was necessary for the maintenance, repairing, etc., of the railway line; (3) that, under sub-s. (2) to s. 7, the exclusive control of the Railway administration was vested in the Governor-General in Council, and if the Company was exercising its statutory powers in a manner inconsistent with the health of the inhabitants of Bombay or the safety of property therein, it was open to the Municipal Commissioners to make a representation to that effect to the Governor-General in Council. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER OF BOMBAY v. AGENT, G I.P. RAILWAY COMPANY, 11 Bom. L.R. 1181 = 34 B. 252 = 10 Cr.L.J. 543 = 4 Ind. Cas. 281.

(3)—S. 47 and rules thereunder—Criminal offences if created.—Neither s. 47 of the Railways Act, nor the rules made by a Railway Company under that section, create any criminal offence. The section merely gives to the Company power to frame rules and to enforce them by imposing fines on its own officers. In re BASANTA KUMAR BANERJI, 11 C.W N. 583 = 5 Cr. L J. 463. [R., 15 Cr.L.J. 468 = 24 Ind. Cas. 348 = 4 P.R. 1914, Cr. = 155 P.L.R 1914.]

(4)—S. 47 — General Rules—Great Indian Peninsula Railway Working Time Table, O VII —Rules not invalid— Ultra vires—Guard's duty to see the pair of points to ensure the safety of his train —The rules in O. VII of the G. I. P. Railway Working Time Table, though not made under s. 47 of the Indian Railways Act, are yet absolutely within the power of the Company to impose, so long as they are not inconsistent with the Railways Act or with the General Rules made under that Act. The rules in O VII are merely administrative orders or executive directions; nevertheless, the Company's servants are bound to obey them There is no inconsistency between the rules in O. VII and the Railways Act or the General Rules made under that Act. The object of r. 1, O. VII, is that the guard of a train waiting at a station on a loop line, in order to enable another train running in the opposite direction to cross at the station, is to prevent a collision with his own train, in other words, he is to secure the safety of his own train by seeing to the particular pair of points which lead into the line occupied by his train. EMPEROR v. DONALD BRUCE WEIR, 12 Bom. L R. 930 = 8 Ind Cas. 134.

(4-a)—S. 47—See No. 60, infra.

(5)—Ss. 47, 68 and 112-a—Railway ticket not used on the day of issue.—One of the rules made by a Railway Company under s. 47 of Act IX of 1890 is that tickets are only available on the day of issue. Therefore, a ticket not so availed of is not a proper ticket within the meaning of s. 68 of the Act. VEERARAGHAVACHARI v. FRENCH, 1 Weir 870.

(6)—S. 68—See No. 5, supra.

(7)—Ss. 68, 112—Travelling without ticket—Attempt to cheat—Penal Code, ss. 417, 511—Dishonest or fraudulent intention—Offence—Separate sentence—Construction of Statute—General and Special Acts—Repeal by implication—General Clauses Act (X of 1897), s. 26.—The essence of an offence under s. 112 of the Indian Railway Act is dishonest or fraudulent intention, the intention to defraud the Railway Administration of its just dues. Merely travelling without a ticket is not an offence under the section. Travelling with a false and entirely irrelevant ticket with fraudulent or dishonest intention is an offence under s. 112 (a) of the Railways Act. Facts which form the basis of a conviction and sentence under one charge cannot form the basis of a conviction and also a separate sentence under another charge. There cannot be cumulative sentences though a conviction might take place on an alternative charge or even both charges. It is ordinarily desirable that when an act or omission is made penal by two Acts, one general and the other special, the sentence should be passed under the Special Act. Quære.—Whether in this country a special penal law repeals by implication, in every case, a previously existing general law relating to an offence of the same nature. KULODA PROSAD MAJUMDAR v. EMPEROR, 11 C W.N. 100=4 Cr. L.J. 439=5 C.L J. 47. (3 Q B.D. 289, 20 A. 95, R.).

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1890 (Railways)—continued.

(8)—Ss. 68 and 112 (a)—Conviction under s. 112 (a) when sustainable—To justify a conviction under s. 112 (a) of the Railway Act, the prosecution must prove entry into a carriage in contravention of s. 68, that is, without a ticket and fraudulent intent in so doing. The mere fact that a man having a ticket travels beyond the station named on it does not necessarily warrant the inference that he entered the carriage with a fraudulent intent. In re SUBRAYA ASARI, 1 Weir 870.

(9)—Ss. 68, 112 and 113 — Intentionally travelling beyond place of ticket.—S. 112 does not apply to the case of a person, who, having entered a carriage with a proper ticket, travels on the strength of that ticket beyond the place authorised by it. The Act contains no provision for the judicial punishment of a person who intentionally travels beyond the place for which he has "a proper pass or ticket" and the only course open to the Railway officers is to proceed, in such cases, under s. 113 of the Act, which provides for a specially high "excess charge" where the passenger has not, before being detected by a Railway servant, notified to the Railway servant on duty with the train the fact of the charge having been incurred. BENGAL NAGPUR RAILWAY COMPANY v. DEVIDUTT, 9 C.P.L.R. Cr. 1.

(10)—Ss. 70 and 114— Sale or transfer of single ticket.—Ss. 17 and 114 of the Act apply only to return or season tickets. The sale or transfer of single tickets is neither prohibited nor rendered penal by the Act. Where the accused bought a large number of tickets from the Railway Company during a festival and sold one of them at a rate higher than those for which he had bought them, held, that the accused was not guilty of cheating under s. 417, Penal Code, inasmuch as the person who bought the ticket admitted that he was aware of the higher rate and was not misled. In re RAMASWAMI NAIDU, 1 Weir 872.

(11)—S. 100 —Charged and tried under the first part of the section—Procedure as in summons cases—Convicted, under the latter part, of a different offence—Procedure in warrant case—Not followed, effect of.—A Magistrate proceeded in the first instance as if the case fell under the first part of s. 100 of the Railways Act and adopted the procedure for summons cases. Eventually the accused was convicted of an offence, under the latter part of the section, which contemplates a warrant case. Held, that the action of the Magistrate was illegal. In re W. P. TROUSDELL, 5 M. L.T. 204.

(12)—S. 101—Disobedience of Railway rules and endangering the safety of any person, consequence of—Station-Master, duty and responsibility of.—Rule 247 of the Railway rules, throws on a Station Master the responsibility for ensuring that all points are correctly set and all facing points securely locked for the passage of trains. So, where a Station-Master omitted to inspect the points and satisfy himself that they were correctly set, before he ordered the signal to be lowered, and allowed the mail to enter the station, and the mail in consequence came in on a side line and collided with the goods train there, held, he disobeyed the rule which he was bound to obey and thereby endangered the safety of many persons, and that he therefore committed an offence under cl. (b), s. 101 of the Railway Act. KING-EMPEROR v. M N. ATCHATA RAMAYYA, 4 L. B.R 350=9 Cr.L.J. 352. (4 L.B R. 139, F.; 32 C. 73, D.) [R., 7 Bur.L T. 101=15 Cr.L.J. 17 =22 Ind. Cas. 161=7 L.B.R. 72].

(13)—S. 101—Disobedience of railway rules—Endangering safety of any person – Station master, duties and responsibilities of.—An Assistant Station-Master, after he gave a line-clear ticket to the guard of a down train waiting at his station, received information from the next station to cancel the line-clear so given, in order to allow an up train proceeding from that station. He at once gave line-clear for the up train to come, but without first taking back the line-clear he had already issued to the guard of the down train. So, before he went out to look for the guard, the down train had started and afterwards met the up train between the two stations, though the driver was able to stop the train in time and avoided a collision. Held, the act of giving a line-clear for the up train without first getting back the line clear he had given to the guard of the down train, was a flagrant disobedience of the Railway rules, and that he committed an offence under s. 101 of the Railway Act by endangering the safety of many persons by disobeying a rule which he was bound to obey. KING-EMPEROR v. PO GYI, 4 L.B.R 353=9 Cr.L.J. 348. (32 C. 73, D.) [D., 7 Bur. L.T. 101=7 L.B.R. 72=15 Cr. L.J. 17=22 Ind. Cas. 161.]

(14)—S. 101—Collision—Negligence of station master – Offence.—Where, in consequence of the omission of a Station-Master to take down the line-clear signal, a mixed train was run into the station and a collision took place, in which one waggon was derailed, but as the train was moving slowly no person was injured, held, that the omission on the part of the Station-Master constituted an offence under s. 101, Railways Act. JOY GOPAL BANERJEE v. EMPEROR, 11 C.W.N. 173=5 Cr. L J 16. (5 N.W.P. 240, D.) [D., 11 Cr L.J. 362=6 Ind. Cas. 483=8 P.L.R. 1910.]

(15) -S. 101—Engine-driver starting train without 'line-clear' ticket—No immediate danger — Whether driver guilty — Meaning of "danger."—A fireman (accused) in charge of a train breaks the rules of his service and does a rash and negligent act, in starting the train at all, and in driving it down the line, without having been given "line-clear." Although, owing to the distance of the other goods train, running in the opposite direction, and owing to the precautions taken by the drivers of both the trains, the danger was remote, yet a state of danger was created when the accused took his train on to, and proceeded to drive it down, the line. By so doing he "endangered" the 'safety' of the persons on the two trains within the meaning of s. 101. Danger, which means the risk of loss or injury, is a relative term. It may be immediate or remote, but it is none the less danger, because it is remote and there is, therefore, a better chance of avoiding it. Although the danger had been averted by the two trains being brought to a standstill at a distance of some 300 yards from one another, that is practically equivalent to an admission that, up to the time of stopping the trains, there had been danger. FAZAL DIN v. EMPEROR, 13 P.R. 1906, Cr = 59 P.L.R. 1907 = 5 Cr. L.J. 81. (5 N. W.P. 240, D.) [R., 39 P.W.R 1910 = 8 P.L. R. 1910 = 6 Ind. Cas. 483 = 11 Cr. L.J. 362.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1890 (Railways)—continued.

(16)—S. 101—Railway guard failing to give engine driver necessary signal — Consequent injury and death to a boy—Negligence—Penal Code, s. 304—Negligence.—A Railway guard failed to give to the engine-driver a signal to sound his whistle before starting the engine, which he was bound to do under s. 244 of the Railway Rules. The engine having been put in motion, caused a boy, who was painting a waggon on the line, injury which resulted in his death. The Magistrate convicted him, under s. 101, Railways Act, of endangering the safety of persons by a rash and negligent act, and sentenced him to undergo simple imprisonment for one day and to pay a fine of Rs. 20. Held, ordering a new trial, that, as the trying Magistrate had found that the injury on the deceased boy was caused by the negligence of the accused and that the boy died thereupon, s. 304-A, I.P.C., appeared more applicable, specially as the trial under it must take place before a higher tribunal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. FRANCIS THOMPSON, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 721 = Cr. Rg. 47 of 1894.

(17)—S. 101—Driver running his train at full speed with danger signals against him—Closed gate.—Where a driver ran his train at full speed with danger signals against him through a closed gate, held, that his act endangered the safety of himself and other persons in the train which he was driving and that the act, therefore, amounted to an offence under s. 101. In re APPASAMY, 1 Weir 869

(18)—S. 101—Railway driver passing danger signal—Gatekeeper sleeping and omitting to open gate.—For a Railway driver to pass a danger-signal and go when the line is not clear must necessarily endanger the lives of all persons crossing the line as well as those in the train. For a gate-keeper to go to sleep and omit to open the gates is productive of a similar danger. PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v. BENTLEY, 1 Weir 868.

(19)—S. 101—Gateman being absent not opening gate at the approach of train.—Where a gateman, being absent on duty, did not open a gate, when the train was approaching, held that he was liable to be convicted under s. 101, Act IX of 1890, and that he could not escape conviction because of the contributory negligence of engine driver. QUEEN EMPRESS v. FATHI, 9 P.R. 1892, Cr.

(20)—S. 101—Endangering life and property by disobedience to rules—Substantial conviction.—An Assistant Station-Master was charged with an offence under s. 101 of the Indian Railways Act. The offence consisted in the disobedience to the Railway rules, and thereby endangering the safety of persons travelling in a train, which collided with another train containing waggons. The Assistant Station-Master's duty under the rules was, to inspect all facing points over which the train would run, and he was personally responsible that all such points were correctly set and locked for the running through train. He was also responsible that the signals were not lowered, to admit a train, until all facing points over which the train would pass, were correctly set and secured, and the keys of all facing points over which the train would pass were in his possession. The Assistant Station-Master in the case, allowed the signal to be given for a train to run through his station without satisfying himself, that all the prescribed precautions had been taken by an official subordinate to him. Hence the collision. He was convicted and fined Rs. 30 by a Magistrate, who viewed the offence as a mere technical one, considering that the collision was the result of acts and omissions on the part of a subordinate official, the jamadar. Held, the Magistrate's opinion as to the offence of the Station-Master being a mere technical one, was wrong and that the station-master, considering the responsibility thrown on him by the rules, and considering also the extent of the danger to life and property, merited a more substantial punishment than the mere fine. Held, also that the essence of the offence consisted, not in the consequences directly referable to the default of the Station-Master, but in the danger of risk which it entailed. KING EMPEROR v. DASS 4 L B.R. 139 = 7 Cr. L.J. 417. [R., 9 Cr. L J. 352 = 4 L.B R. 350; D, 15 Cr. L J. 17 = 22 Ind. Cas. 161 = 7 L.B.R. 72 = 7 Bur. L.T. 101.]

(21)—S. 101 — Sanction.—No sanction is necessary to the institution of a complaint of an offence punishable under s. 101. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. FATTU, 9 P.R. 1892, Cr.

(22)—S 101—Railway—Rash or negligent act—Act endangering safety of a person.—Under s. 101 of the Railways Act, the offence consists in (1) disobeying rules or doing any rash or negligent act and (2) thereby endangering the safety of any person. It is not sufficient to show that the act of the accused or any omission on his part was likely to endanger the safety of any person. It must be proved affirmatively that it did, in point of fact, so endanger any person's safety. The Assistant Station-Master of Talwandi allowed a goods train to proceed to the next station Dogra, without informing the staff of the latter station of his doing so, and without previously obtaining a line-clear message from that station. A passenger train was nearing Dogra from the opposite direction, and the goods train was detained at the distant signal of the Dogra station till line was clear to receive the goods train. Held, that the Assistant Station-Master could not be convicted of the offence under s. 101 of the Railways Act. CROWN v. GANESH DAS, 8 P.L R. 1910, Cr. = 39 P.W.R. 1910 Cr. = 6 Ind Cas. 483. (13 P R. 1906, Cr. = 59 P.L.R 1907, 4 Bur L.R. 354, 6 M. 201, 4 Bur. L.R. 139, 11 C.W.N. 173, 32 C. 79, 7 P.R. 1892, R.)

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1890 (Railways)—continued.

(23)—S. 101—Conviction under, when sustainable—Mere possibility of endangering safety of some person whether sufficient for conviction.—A conviction under s. 101 of the Act would not be sustainable unless the Railway servant has, by his disobedience to the rules, actually endangered the safety of persons, s. 101 of the Act does not provide for cases in which the disobedience of a rule is merely likely or calculated to endanger the safety of any person. The intention of the legislature was apparently to leave it to the Railway authorities to deal departmentally with disobediences involving risk of danger without entailing actual danger. BA LIN v. KING-EMPEROR, 7 L.B.R. 72 = 22 Ind. Cas. 161 = 15 Cr. L.J. 17 = 7 Bur. L.T. 101. (5 N.W.P.H.C. 240, 6 Ind. Cas, 483, F.; 4 L.B.R. 139, 4 L.B.R. 350, 4 L.B.R. 353, D.)

(24)—S. 101—See PENAL CODE, s. 304-A, 32 C. 73 = 8 C.W.N. 645.

(25)—S. 101, sub-ss (a), (b), (c)—"General Rules and Regulations" applied to all Railways in India, r. 86—G.I.P.Ry. Working Instructions in force on and after 1st July 1911—Rule 9 applying General Rule 86 for protection of trains standing outside distant signal—Whether charge for breach of r. 9 should be under sub-s. (a) or (b) of s. 101 of the Railways Act—Construction and application of working rules framed by Railway.—Where a train is stopped outside a distant signal at danger, the omission of the guard to place detonators to protect the train is a disobedience of Rule 9 of G.I.P. Ry. Working Instructions and is punishable under s. 101 (b) and not under s. 101 (a) of the Railways Act. When the guard of a train charged under s. 101 (b) of the Railways Act, the burden of proof that he did not place the requisite number of detonators, as required by General Rule 86, read with rule 9 of the G.I.P. Ry. Working Instructions, is upon the prosecution. That burden can be discharged by the Railway authorities concerned inspecting the line, soon after the accident, and examining whether there were no matellic remnants of a detonator left near the place stated by the accused. The evidence of a District Traffic Superintendent that, under the circumstances of a case, a guard sufficiently complied with the said General Rule 86 (read with the G.I.P. Ry. Rule 9) when, instead of placing all the detonators as required thereby, he placed only one, cannot affect the interpretation of a rule which must be interpreted according to the ordinary rules of interpretation. But the opinion of such a witness will have to be taken into consideration when deciding the question of punishment. The standing of a train outside a distant signal at danger is an "authorised" detention and not on account of any "accident, failure, or obstruction." When the signals are lowered the delay or "stoppage" for nearly ten minutes in attempting to climb up a steep gradient is an "incidental" one within the meaning of General Rule 86. The wording of the G.I P. Ry. Rule 9, sub-rule 4, is somewhat inappropriate. When the Court finds that a man in the position of a District Traffic Superintendent mis-reads a rule, it should make allowance for an uneducated man, and infer that there may have been an error of judgment on the part of the accused. BEZANJI v. EMPEROR, 14 Cr. L.J. 676 = 21 Ind. Cas. 996.

(26)—S. 101, Rules 99 (c), 100—Endangering safety of passengers—Station Master—Line clear—Shunting on the line—Derailment of a waggon in shunting—Driver of the approaching train rushing in against danger signals—Collision—Liability of Station Master.—The accused, the Station Master of Kodabgoan, admitted a goods train on the chord line of his station. He then asked the driver of the goods train to detach his engine and shunt nine waggons from the loop line where they were standing to a dead end siding to make room for the down mail. On being asked for line clear from the next station for an up passenger train, the accused gave line clear. The nine waggons were taken from the loop to the main line, and whilst they were being shunted into the dead end siding, one of the waggons got derailed at the point where the siding joined the main line. At this time the distant and home signal were up against the passenger train. The driver of the passenger train however disregarded both danger signals and dashed into the derailed waggon causing injury to two of the passengers and the guard. The accused was on these facts tried under s. 101, Railways Act, for having endangered the safety of persons by breach of the rr. 99 (c) and 100. The Magistrate acquitted the accused on the ground that the act which led to the collision was the act of the driver of the up passenger train in disregarding the signals. On appeal by the Government: Held, setting aside the order of acquittal, (1) that the object of r. 100 being to lessen the risk of accidents through shunting on a through line after line clear had been given, the disregard of the rule enhanced the danger to passengers, and the risk thus entailed rendered the rule-breaker liable to punishment. (2) That, as regards punishment, the gravity of the offence should be estimated not by the actual ultimate consequences but by the risk involved, for the rule-breaker might be punished even though no accident occurred. EMPEROR v. RAMACHANDRA HARI, 15 Bom. L.R. 702 = 2 Bom. Cr C. 109 = 14 Cr.L.J. 460 = 20 Ind. Cas. 620 = 37 B. 685.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1890 (Railways)—continued.

(27)—Ss. 102, 108, 109, 120— Passenger defined—Resisting an attempt by a Railway servant to put into carriage more passengers—Assault—Indian Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 352.—Held, that, if a person objects to the coming in of more passengers, and stands against the door, he commits an offence falling under ss. 109 (2) and 120 (c) of Act IX of 1890, and is liable to removal, not only from the carriage, but also from the Railway by any Railway servant, and the latter does not commit an offence of assault under s. 352, I.P.C., or any other offence, if, in ejecting the passenger, he does not use more force or violence than is actually necessary for the purpose. Held, also, that, for the purposes of various sections of the said Act, e.g., 102, 108 and 109, a person who is a ticket-holder is regarded as a passenger, even before he has actually boarded the train. HARI SARUP SALEKH CHAND ABDUL BASIT v. CROWN, 31 P.W.R. 1910, Cr. = 7 Ind. Cas. 355 = 11 Cr.L.J. 451 = 26 P.R. 1910, Cr. = 200 P.L.R. 1910.

(28)—S. 107—See RASH AND NEGLIGENT ACT, CAUSING DEATH BY, 24 P.L.R. 1905 = 2 Cr.L.J. 207 = 22 P.R. 1905, Cr.

(29)—Ss. 107 and 134—Jurisdiction of Criminal Court - Goods sent by Railway from Karachi to Lahore—Goods falsely described—Loss in freight caused to Railway Administration—Cheating—Penal Code, s. 415—Abetment—Penal Code, s. 107—See GULAM ALI v. EMPRESS, 7 P.R. 1900. Cr. [F., 18 P.W.R. 1908, Cr.; R., 172 P.L.R. 1910 = 7 P.R. 1910 = 7 P.W.R. 1910 = 5 Ind. Cas. 830 = 11 Cr.L.J. 253.]

(30)—S. 108 – See No. 27, supra.

(31)—S. 109—See No. 27, supra.

(32)—S. 110—" Compartment," meaning of Smoking in compartment.—Per Jenkins, C. J., and Candy, J.—The term "compartment" in s. 110, Indian Railways Act, 1890, means a division of a Railway carriage, separated from the other divisions by partitions right up to the roof of the carriage; each such division being completely screened off from its adjoining divisions. Per Ranade, J., contra :—The word "compartment" is used in s. 110, Act IX of 1890, in the sense in which it is used throughout the Act, and does not necessarily mean a completely partitioned division. In re DADABHAI JAMSEDJI, 24 B. 293 = 1 Bom. L.R. 688.

(33)—S. 112—Entry into Railway carriage without ticket.—The mere entry into a Railway carriage without ticket, without any intent to defraud the Company, does not constitute an offence under s. 112, Act IX of 1890. KING-EMPEROR v. ATTA ULLAH, 27 P R. 1905, Cr. = 124 P.L.R. 1905.

(34)—S. 112—Act IV of 1879, s. 32—Father travelling with son aged six years without paying latter's fare.—Where the accused travelled in company with his son, aged six years, from one station to another station on a railway line without paying the half fare due to his son, held, that, even though the accused was not guilty as the principal offender, he was clearly liable as an abettor, to be punished under s. 32. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 15TH DEC. 1879, 1 Weir 869, F.B.

(35)—S. 112—Railway fare — Fine.—The reference in s. 112 of the Railways Act to the amount of the single fare does not mean that the payment of such fare may be ordered in addition to the fine but that the total fine imposed shall not exceed Rs. 100 plus the fare referred to. EMPEROR v. ABDUL, 17 C.P.L.R. 32.

(36)—S. 112 (a)—Travelling with forged pass —See PENAL CODE, ss. 419, 511, 21 M L.J. 748 = 11 Ind. Cas. 590.

(37)—S. 112—See Nos. 5, 7, 8, and 9, supra.

(38)—S. 113—Excess charge and fare, how recoverable—Imprisonment in default.—S. 113, sub-s. 4 of the Railways Act, which direct that on failure to pay on demand excess charge and fare when due, the amount shall, on application, be recovered by a Magistrate as if it were a fine, does not authorize him to impose imprisonment in default. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAMES CROWSON, 1 Bom. L.R. 166. (18 B. 440, 20 M. 1, F.) [F., 10 Cr. L.J. 519 = 4 Ind. Cas. 236 = 5 N.L R. 151.]

(39)—S. 113—Scope of.—The provision in s. 113 of the Railway Act, which directs that, on failure to pay on demand excess charge and fare when due, the amount shall, on application, be recovered by a Magistrate as if it were a fine, does not authorize the Magistrate to impose imprisonment on default. The excess charge and fare referred to in s. 113 is not a fine, though it may be recovered as such. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KUTRAPA, 18 B. 440. [F., 20 M. 385, 1 Bom.L.R. 166, 5 N.L.R. 151; R., 21 C. 985.]

(40)—S. 113—Scope of,—S. 113 of the Railway Act directs that on failure to pay on demand excess charge and fare, when due, the amount shall, on application, be recovered by a Magistrate as if it were a fine. The excess charge and fare referred to in s. 113 is not a fine, though it may be recovered as such. A Magistrate is not authorised to impose imprisonment in default of payment of the excess charge and fare. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SUBRAMANIA AIYAR, 20 M. 385 = 1 Weir 871. [F., 10 Cr. L.J. 519 = 4 Ind. Cas. 236 = 5 N.L. R. 151.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1890 (Railways)—continued.

(41)—S. 113—Application to recover excess fare—Magistrate not to exercise judicial functions—Procedure—A Magistrate is not to exercise judicial functions when an application is made to him by a duly authorized Railway servant to recover the amount of excess fare claimed, but is merely to take the necessary steps to recover it. QUEEN EMPRESS v. ALEXANDER AUGUSTUS ST. CLAIR MILLER, L.B.R 1872—1892, 606.

(42)—S. 113—Excess fare and charge—Applicability of s. 64, Penal Code.—S. 5 of the General Clauses Act makes s. 64 of the Penal Code applicable to the recovery of excess charge and fare ordered to be paid under s. 113 of the Indian Railways Act. QUEEN EMPRESS v. VAIDYALINGAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 871 = Cr. Rg 43 of 1896.

(43)—S. 113—Magistrate's order under the section—Revision.—A Magistrate's proceedings under s. 113, are open to revision under s. 435, Crim. Pro. Code. A. GREY v. NORTH-WESTERN RAILWAY, 13 P R. 1891 Cr. (14 B. 381, R.) [R., 11 Cr. L.J. 577 = 8 Ind. Cas. 190 = 35 P.W.R. 1910. Cr.]

(44)—S. 113, sub-s. 1—Travelling without a ticket.—Under s. 113, sub-s. 1 of the Act, it is an offence to travel without a ticket. It is immaterial to consider how many tickets were issued on that particular date. PANCHABIKESA AIYAR v. BONJOUR, 1 Weir, 871.

(45)—S. 113—See No. 9, supra.

(46)—Ss. 113, 118, 122—Amount recoverable under s. 113—' Should be recovered as if it were a fine '—Imprisonment in default of payment—Legality—Travelling on the footboard without ticket—Applicability of ss. 118, 122.—B was found travelling without a ticket on the footboard of the brake-van of a goods train. Under s. 113, Railways Act. he was ordered to pay Rs. 1-10-0 and to suffer, in default of payment seven days' simple imprisonment. Held (1) that the words ' shall be recovered as if it were a fine ' in s. 113 of the Act only authorize recovery by attachment and sale of moveable property, and not the infliction of imprisonment in default of payment. Obiter.—If B persisted in riding on the footboard after prohibition, he is liable to prosecution under the second clause of s. 118 of the Railways Act, whilst, if there was no such prohibition before he was finally discovered and removed, but he entered on the railway unlawfully, he is liable to prosecution under s. 122. EMPEROR v. BULLAKHI. 5 N.L R. 151. (1 Bom. L.R. 166. 20 M 385, F.)

(47)—Ss. 113, 132—Travelling without ticket—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—Travelling in a train by a passenger without having a proper ticket with him is not an offence under the Railways Act of 1890. A Magistrate is not, therefore, competent to sentence the accused to imprisonment in default of payment of the excess charge and penalty ordered to be paid. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAM PAL, 20 A. 95 = A W.N. 1897. 196. [R., 5 C.L.J. 47 = 11 C.W.N. 100 ; 11 Cr. L.J. 577 = 8 Ind. Cas. 190 = 35 P.W.R. 1910. Cr.]

(48)—Ss. 113, 132 and 133—Application of s, 133—Court Fees Act, s. 31—A person failing or refusing to pay an excess charge under s. 113 does not become guilty of an offence, and cannot be punished by a Magistrate, whose duty it is to recover a sum payable by a passenger as if it were a fine. S. 133 does not apply to proceedings under s. 113 ; neither does s. 31 of the Court Fees Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA KYAN SWA, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 300. (L.B.R. 1872—1892, 606, R.)

(49) S. 114—See No. 10, supra.

(50)—S. 118 (Railways Act, V of 1879, s. 33)—Applicability of the section to non-passengers.—Where the accused, a seller of fruit at the platform of a railway station, stood on the footboard of the carriage selling fruit to the passengers and continued so to stand after the bell for the departure of the train had been rung, held that the accused, not being a passenger, was not punishable under s. 33 of Act IV of 1879. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 15TH DEC. 1879, No. 2274, 1 Weir 873.

(51)—S. 118—Passenger—Licensed sweetmeat seller—Standing on foot-board of a carriage in motion to recover dues.—The accused a licensed sweetmeat seller at a railway station, stepped a foot board of a carriage in motion, to recover the price of some sweets he had sold to a passenger, and got down shortly after. For this act, he was convicted under s. 118 (2), Railways Act. The accused having applied to the High Court : Held, reversing the conviction and sentence, that the accused was not a passenger within the meaning of s 118, Railways Act ; and that the word "passenger" in the section denoted a person who, without the permission of a railway servant, entered any carriage of a railway for the purpose of travelling therein as a passenger. EMPEROR v. LADHU RAMJI JESSA, 15 Bom. L.R. 996 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 163 = 14 Cr. L.J. 654 = 21 Ind. Cas. 894.

(52)—S. 118 (2)—See CHEATING—GENERAL, 25 P.R. 1903, Cr.

(53)—S. 118 (2)—See PASSENGER, 31 P.R. 1905, Cr = 2 Cr. L.J. 711.

(54)—S. 118—See No. 46, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1890 (Railways)—continued.

(55)—S. 120—See PENAL CODE, s. 95, 1 N. L.R. 139.

(56)—S. 120—See No. 27, supra.

(57)—S. 121 — Right of way claimed by accused, charged with obstructing a Railway servant.—A Railway Company, cannot any more than a private individual, by their orders, make it the duty of their agent to interfere with an existing right of way. Where the accused was convicted under s. 121, Railway Act, with having obstructed the Resident Engineer in putting down a line for a fence, which the accused alleged would have interfered with his right of way. held that the conviction of the accused without deciding whether or not the alleged right of way existed, was not proper. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BOMANJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 675 = Cr. Rg. 41 of 1893.

(57-a) Ss. 121, 122—See PENAL CODE, S. 186, 1 C.W.N. 74.

(58) – S. 122—Easements Act, s. 24 – Entry on railway premises by dominant owner to effect necessary repairs.—The Company, whose servants the accused were, had a mill on one side of the Railway line and a ginning factory on the other, and to bring water from the one to the other, there was a pipe laid beneath the Railway line and brick reservoirs at each side to preserve the proper level of the water. The Magistrate had convicted the accused under s. 122, Railway Act, because they entered on the railway premises to do some repairs to the pipe and reservoirs, without having first obtained the permission of the Railway Company to their entry. There was evidence to show that the repairs were necessary. Held that as the pipe and reservoirs belonged to the Company, and were kept in repair by them, they, as the dominant owners, would have a right to enter on the premises of the Railway Company, the servient owners, to effect any repairs that might be necessary. The conviction was, therefore, wrong. IMPERATRIX v. VANMALI, 22 B. 525. [R., 30 B. 348 = 8 Bom. L.R. 22 = 2 Cr. L.J. 216.]

(59)—S. 122 – See Nos. 1, 46 ane 57-a, supra

(60)—Ss. 122, 47—Crossing railway lines without permission—Offence under s. 122—' Unlawfully in s. 122—Meaning—Absence of by-law under s. 47 (1)(g)—Effect—S. 122 not affected by s. 47.—Where a person crossed the railway lines without permission, in order to go to the goods shed after transacting business with the Station Master, Held, that his entry was unlawful within the meaning of s. 122 of the Railways Act and that he was guilty of the offence specified in the first part of the section. The word ' unlawful,' as used in s. 122, means ' without the leave of the Railway Administration.' S. 47 of the Railways Act has no bearing on the question and no by-law properly made under cl. (g), sub-s. 1 of s. 47, would have reference to a trespass by a member of the general public upon Railway lines as contemplated by s. 122. MOHAN MALICK v. CROWN, 4 P.R. 1914, Cr. = 155 P.L.R. 1914 = 15 Cr. L. J. 468 = 24 Ind. Cas. 348.

(61)—S. 125—Cattle left in charge of keeper—Permitting them to stray on a Railway—Liability of owner.—The owner of cattle, which have been allowed to stray upon a railway in consequence of the negligence of their keeper, is not liable to punishment. GUR PRASAD GIR v. KING-EMPEROR, 8 A L J. 1249 = 12 Ind. Cas. 990 = 34 A. 91 = 12 Cr. L.J. 614. (18 M. 228, F.)

(62)—S. 125, cls. 1 and 2—Permitting cattle to stray upon Railway—Respective liability of the owner and of person in charge of the cattle—Direction of Magistrate.—Where, owing to the negligence of the person in charge of any cattle, the cattle is allowed to stray upon a Railway, there is nothing in cl. 1 of s. 125 to restrict the discretion of the Court in ascertaining whether the owner or the person in charge is guilty, and awarding punishment accordingly. But, under the second clause of the section, which makes punishable wilful acts of driving or knowingly permitting cattle to be upon a Railway line, the Railway authorities are given the option to prosecute the owner instead of the person in charge. This provision is of a very penal character, and removes the discretion as to the person to be held liable to punishment from the Court to the Railway authorities. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ANDI, 18 M. 228 = 1 Weir 874. [F., 34 A 91 = 8 A.L.J. 1249 = 12 Cr. L J. 614 = 12 Ind. Cas. 990.]

(63)—S. 126—Offence under the section, what constitutes.—Where the accused unlocked and turned the turn-table at a railway station, held, that the accused was guilty of an offence under s. 126, although, in the circumstances of the case, there was little likelihood of injury being caused by him, no engines being on either side of the line just then. In re MUNISAMI, 1 Weir 875.

(64)—S. 126—Placing stones on rails—Defence.—A person charged with having placed a stone on the rails under s. 126 of the Railways Act cannot be allowed to plead that no train was due at the time. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KESHOW VIRUPAKSH, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 829 = Cr. Rg. 72 of 1895. (19 B. 716, F.)

(65)—S. 126—Abetment of the offence.—Where a person confessed that he knew of the plot to remove the rails and that he kept watch while the act was being done, held that he was guilty of abetment of the offence mentioned in s. 126, Railways Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KALIA KATIA, 1 Bom. L.R. 682.

(66)—Ss. 126 and 130—Throwing stones at a railway train.—An offence under s. 126 cannot be tried by a Magistrate of the first class. All such cases should be sent to the District Magistrate for trial. Provision for the whipping of minors under the Act pointed out. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO SAW, U.B.R. 1892-1896, Vol. I, 302.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1890 (Railways)—concluded.

(67)—S. 127—See ACT VI OF 1864, s. 5, 11 C.P.L.R. 8, Cr.

(68)—Ss. 127 and 130—Offences under—Jurisdiction to try.—An offence under s. 127 of the Railways Act is punishable with transportation for life, or with imprisonment for a term which may extend to ten years, and is triable only by a Court of Session, or by a Magistrate invested with special powers under s. 30 of Crim. Pro. Code. EMPEROR v. MANGLIA, 14 C.P.L.R. 176.

(69)—S. 128—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 235, 239, 537, 29 C. 385=6 C.W.N. 468.

(70)—S. 130—See Nos. 66 and 68, supra.

(71)—S. 131—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 190 (1) (h).—This section is not one of those mentioned in s. 131 which confers the power of arresting without warrant for certain offences under the Act, and the procedure applicable to non-cognizable cases must be followed QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JARGISSA, U B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 54. (U.B.R. 1897—1906, Vol. I, 28, 328, R)

(72)—S. 132—See Nos. 47 and 48, supra.

(73)—S. 133—Offences under section by whom triable.—Under s. 133 of the Railways Act, offences under that Act cannot be tried by Magistrates of the third class. QUEEN EMPRESS v. MI KIN, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 374.

(74)—S. 133—See No. 48, supra.

(75)—S. 134—See No. 29, supra.

(76)—S. 138—See No. 1, supra.

(77)—R. 99—See No. 26, supra.

(78)—R. 100—See No. 26, supra.

Act XI of 1890 (Prevention of Cruelty to Animals).

[DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3; AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3, IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—Ss. 2 and 3—Scope of the Act—Crabs.—The provisions of the act apply to cruelty exercised towards any animal which is either domestic or which being feræ naturæ has been captured and is in captivity. A crab being an animal, it may be presumed, in the absence of proof to the contrary, that to pull the legs of a living crab and to crush its shell are acts, which must necessarily cause pain to it. So long as an animal is feræ naturæ, and it is not brought under subjection and control of man, it is not protected by the Act. But when it is captured or domesticated, the law protects it from cruelty, if such cruelty is practised at a place, or in the manner, laid down in the Act. In the matter of TULSI BEWA, 1 C.W.N. 642.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1890 (Prevention of Cruelty to Animals)—continued.

(2)—Ss. 2 and 3—Scope of the Act—Crabs.—The provisions of Act XI of 1890 applied to cruelty exercised towards any animal which is either "domestic" or which being feræ naturæ has been "captured" and is in captivity. The word 'animal' ordinarily means an organised or living being having sensation and power of voluntary motion, an inferior or irrational being as distinguished from man, and crabs are "animals" within the definition of s. 2 of the Act. Where a person exposed live crabs for sale with all their legs pulled off, and broke the backs of some living crabs with the shell of a dead crab, held, that he was guilty under s. 3 of the Act. TULSI BEWAH v. SWEENEY, 24 C. 881.

(3)—S. 3—Whether the offence must be committed within sight of any person—Preparation of 'piri' dye from cow's urine.—Where it was found that the petitioner tortured his cows by depriving them of water and these cows were tied up and where the sufferings of the animals could be witnessed by persons from the lane on which the house of the petitioner was situated. Held, that the offence comes within the purview of s. 3 of the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals Act. MISRI GOPE v. ABDUL LATIFF, 17 C.W.N. 332=18 Ind. Cas. 884=14 Cr. L.J. 132.

(4)—S. 3, cls. (a), (c)—Starving a calf to death—Ill-treatment, if includes starvation.—The mere starving a calf to death is not an offence within the meaning of s. 3, cl. (c) of the Act, which applies only where a person offers, exposes or has in his possession, for sale, any live animal. Starvation, however, is, in view of the collocation of words in the said section, one kind of ill-treatment, and the words "otherwise ill-treats any animal" in s. 3, cl. (a) include starvation of an animal. MALUKA GOALA v. EMPEROR, 2 C.L.J. 624=3 Cr. L J. 116.

(5)—S. 3 (b)—Town Police Act, XLVIII of 1860, s. 21—Cruelty to animals by servants of Railway Company—Liability of Company.—Act XI of 1890 is aimed at the individual who actually practises the cruelty and was not intended by the Legislature to make a master penally liable for the act of his servant done in the course of the servant's employment, and certainly not when the act is done contrary to the orders of the master. When a Railway Company's servant inflicts cruelty to animals in spite of the Company's instructions to the contrary, the Company cannot be prosecuted for the acts of their servant under s. 3 (b) of Act XI of 1890. CAWASJI MERWANJI SHROFF v. THE GREAT INDIAN PENINSULA RAILWAY COMPANY, 26 B. 609=4 Bom. L.R. 209.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1890 (Prevention of Cruelty to Animals)—concluded.

(5-a)—S. 3—See Nos. 1 and 2, supra.

(6)—S. 5 — See CRIM. PRO. CODE. 1898, ss. 190, 191, 260 and 537, 31 P.L.R. 1905=2 Cr. L.J. 187.

(7)—S. 6 (1)—" Permit," explained.— The word "permit" in s. 6 (1) of Act XI of 1890, implies knowledge of that which is permitted. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LALTA PRASAD, 20 A. 186=A.W.N 1898, 20. [R., 9 A.L.J. 262=14 Ind. Cas. 658=13 Cr. L.J. 274.]

(8)—S. 6 (1)—"Permit," meaning of—Act done in spite of precautions.—Where a man takes all precautions to prevent the doing of an act and in spite of his precautions such act is done, it cannot be said that he has permitted the doing of that act. BAIJNATH DUBE v. KING-EMPEROR, 9 A.L.J. 262=14 Ind. Cas. 658=13 Cr. L.J. 274.

(9)—S. 6 (1)—Charge against both coachman and owner, whether illegal.—There is nothing in s. 6 (1) of Act XI of 1890 restricting the prosecution of either the "coachman or the owner." The prosecution of both or one after another is not illegal. A conviction of one does not operate as a bar to the trial of the other. EMPEROR v. RICE, 15 Cr. L.J. 695=26 Ind. Cas. 143.

Act IV of 1891 (Crim. Pro. Code, 1882, Amendment Act).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. REP., ACT V OF 1898.]

(1)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 250 and 560 —Order of compensation—Person not really the complainant.—A Civil Court peon was sent by a Munsiff to attach the property of a judgment-debtor. The peon reported to the Munsiff that he had been obstructed. The Munsiff sent the case to a Deputy Magistrate for investigation and trial. The Magistrate dismissed the case and directed the peon to pay compensation to the accused. Held, that the award of compensation was illegal, as the peon was not the real complainant, nor could the proceedings properly be said to have been instituted before the Magistrate upon his information. BHARUT CHUNDER NATH v. JABED ALI BISWAS, 20 C. 481. [F., 26 A. 183=A.W.N. 1903, 216; 11 Cr. L.J. 634=8 Ind. Cas. 382=25 P.R. 1910, Cr.=195 P.L R. 1910, 52 P.W.R. 1910, Cr.; R., 1 Bom. Cr. C. 237=14 Bom. L.R. 1166=14 Cr. L.J. 1=18 Ind. Cas. 145.]

(2)—See COMPENSATION—TO COMPLAINANT AND HIS RELATIVES, A.W.N. 1891, 120.

Act IX of 1891 (Merchandise Marks and Sea Customs Acts Amendment).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897.]

See ACT IV OF 1889.

See TRADE MARK, 31 C. 411.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XVIII of 1891 (Banker's Books Evidence).

[AMENDED, ACT I OF 1893, ACT XII of 1900. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1899; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—Ss. 2 and 4—Companies not coming under the Act—Admissibility of certified copies of entries.—Certified copies of entries in the books of a Bank are not admissible in evidence, if the Bank does not come within the definition of a "company" as defined in sub s. 2 of the Act. EMPRESS v. PATRICK MCGUIRE, 4 C. W.N. 433 F.B.

(2)—S. 4—See No. 1, supra.

Act I of 1894 (Land Acquisition).

[APPLIED TO THE CALCUTTA MUNICIPALITY, WITH MODIFICATIONS. BEN. ACT III OF 1899, S. 557. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 476, 27 C. 820.

(2)—See PENAL CODE, s. 193, 27 C. 820.

(3)—Ss. 9 and 10—Penal Code, s. 177—False information to Collector in proceedings under Act I of 1894.—A Deputy Collector made a complaint against the lessor and the lessee, claiming to hold a portion of the land taken up, under the Land Acquisition Act, that they had given false information within the terms of s. 177, Penal Code and s. 10 of the Land Acquisition Act in certain written statements that they had made to the Collector in response to a call from him under s. 9. But, neither in the complaint made by the Deputy Collector nor in his examination by the Magistrate was there any reference to any particular statement made by either of the accused as being a false statement. The complaint was that the written statements put in were false and they contained more than one statement. Further, the Deputy Collector did not put in the written statements upon which he desired to proceed, either with his written complaint or at the time of his examination by the Magistrate. Held, that the Magistrate had acted without proper discretion in issuing process for the attendance of the accused. He was bound to require from the complainant the particular statement or statements on which the accusation was made. DURGA DAS RAKHIT v. UMESH CHANDRA SEN, 27 C. 985=5 C.W.N. 131.

(4)—S. 10—See No. 3, supra.

(5)—S. 53—Collector acting under the Act, whether a "Court"—Power of Collector to administer oath.—S. 53 of the Act declares that the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure applies to the proceedings before the Court

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1894 (Land Acquisition)—concluded.

under that Act. But the context clearly shows that by the expression "the Court" a Collector is not included. The whole of Part VIII of the Act in which s. 53 appears distinguishes between orders by or before a Collector and those by or before a Judge or Court. There is no authority given to the Collector to administer an oath or to require a verification. The nature of his duties also shows this, as he can pass no final order save with the consent of parties. DURGA DAS RUKHIT v. QUEEN EMPRESS, 27 C. 820.

Act IX of 1894 (Prisons).

[REP. IN PT., ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 18. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

See ACT XXVI OF 1870.

(1)—S. 42—See SENTENCE — IMPRISONMENT — IMPRISONMENT IN DEFAULT OF PAYMENT OF FINE, ETC., 14 P.R. 1895, Cr.

(2)—Ss. 45 and 52—Separate sentences— Separate sentences should not be passed under ss. 45 and 52 at the same trial. CRIMINAL REVISION CASE No. 984 OF 1892, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 298.

(3)—S. 52—Trial — Procedure.— Where a Magistrate deals with an offence under s. 52 of the Prisons Act, he must frame a charge and record the examination of the accused under s. 364 of the Crim. Pro. Code and proceed otherwise in a regular manner. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAGANNATH, A W N. 1900, 183.

(4)—S. 52—Presidency Magistrate, whether a "District Magistrate" or "Magistrate of the First Class" under—Jurisdiction to try offences under the Act.—Held, that ordinarily a Presidency Magistrate would not be included in the terms "District Magistrate" or "Magistrate of the First Class," and that therefore a Presidency Magistrate has no jurisdiction to try offences under s. 52, Act IX of 1894. EMPEROR v. CHOTA SINGH, 32 M. 303.

(5)—S. 52—See No. 2, supra.

(6)—S. 54—Conviction of prison warder—Rule 217 of Jail Manual.—The Magistrate convicted a prison warder under s. 54 read with Rule 217 of the Jail Manual. But the accused was not a constable of the jail police guard and jail police guards became obsolete in 1884. As the accused was convicted under a rule not applied to him, the conviction was quashed. CRIMINAL REVISION CASE No. 521 OF 1892, U.B.R. 1892-1896, Vol. I, 299.

(7)—S. 54—Disobedience of rules in Jail Manual—Whether penal—Duty of medical subordinate to submit to search—Refusal to submit whether offence.—The accused was a subordinate medical officer in a jail. He was suspected of having conveyed a letter to the relation of a prisoner. The jailor ordered him to submit to be searched and he refused. Held that breach or disobedience of the rules in the Jail Manual is no doubt made penal by s. 54 of the Prison's Act; but it is no part of the duty of a medical subordinate to submit to search, and there is no rule which imposes upon an officer of prison any duty to submit to search qua prison officer, and in refusing to submit, the medical subordinate did not commit any offence under s 54 of the Act. IMPERATOR v. GOBINDRAM KIRPARAM, 7 S. L.R. 49 = 14 Cr. L J. 619 = 21 Ind. Cas. 667.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1894 (Prisons)—concluded.

(8)—S. 60 (t)—See LOCAL GOVERNMENT, Rat. Un. Cr. C 827 = Cr. Rg. 70 of 1895.

Act III of 1895 (Criminal Law Amendment).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897; S 5, REP., ACT IV OF 1909; S. 6 REP., ACT V OF 1900; S. 7, REP., ACT VI OF 1898. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3. AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

(1)—Sentence of whipping when to be executed.—It is not competent to a Judge to postpone a sentence of whipping till after the expiry of a sentence of imprisonment imposed upon the accused. EMPEROR v. JAGANNATH SAGAR, 4 Bom.L.R. 929.

(2)—See ACT VI OF 1864, 4 Bom. L.R. 436.

(3)—CRIM. PRO. CODE, s. 391 (3), 4 Bom. L.R. 436.

(4)—S. 4—Whipping in addition to imprisonment in case of dacoity.—Under s. 4 of the Whipping Act, 1895, a sentence of whipping in addition to imprisonment is not legal in the case of a conviction for dacoity which was committed prior to the previous conviction for a similar offence. KING-EMPEROR v. BABYA BHIVA, 25 B. 712 = 3 Bom. L.R. 419, F.B. (3 B.H.C. Cr. 38, 7 B.H.C. Cr. 70, F.)

Act VIII of 1895 [Police Act (1861) Amendment.]

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. REP. IN. PT. (IN RANGOON), BUR. ACT IV OF 1899, S 2 (WHEN NOTIFIED). PORTIONS EXTENDED TO CALCUTTA AND SUBURBS, WITH MODIFICATIONS, BEN ACT I OF 1898, S. 5. REP. IN. PT. IN N.W. FRONTIER PROVINCE, REG. VII OF 1901, S. 3. DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, s. 3.]

(1)—See ACT V. OF 1861, ss. 30, 31, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 394.

(2)—S. 34—See ACT V OF 1861, s. 34, 27 C. 655.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1896 (Penal Code Amendment).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897. DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

See PENAL CODE, ss. 28, 230, 235, 47 P.L. R. 1903.

Act XI of 1896 (Legal Practitioners).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XIV OF 1897.]

See ACT XVIII OF 1879.

(1) — See REVISION — MISCELLANEOUS CASES, P.L.R. 1900, p. 17, Cr.

(2)—See TOUT, 27 P.W.R. 1909, Cr. = 4 Ind. Cas. 1022 = 11 Cr. L.J. 148.

Act XII of 1896 (Excise).

[S. 1 (2) REP. IN PT. (AS TO BURMA), ACT XIII OF 1898; S. 18 REP. IN PT. AND AM. IN N.-W. FRONTIER PROVINCES, REG. VII OF 1901, S. 3; SS. 3, 65 SUPPLEMENTED IN BURMA, BUR. ACT III OF 1904; SS. 3. 18, 21 AM., ACT VII OF 1906. DECLARED IN FORCE IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—Possession of intoxicating drug, when punishable under—Possession of hemp whether punishable under—Majum, whether an intoxicating drug—Evidence Act, s. 25—Incriminating statement made by the accused to Police officer, whether admissible in evidence.—Possession of an intoxicating drug to be punishable must be possession with knowledge and assent. The Excise Act does not render the possession of hemp punishable, but only the possession of ganja, bhang or charas or any preparation or admixture of the same. Ganja, bhang and charas are the narcotic products of hemp. Unless ganja, bhang and charas represent all the parts or products of the hemp plant from which majum can be prepared, it is obvious that majum might not be an intoxicating drug within the meaning of the Excise Act. S. 25, Evidence Act, absolutely bars proof of an incriminating statement made by an accused person to a Police officer. V. R. VENKATARAMAN CHETTY v. KING-EMPEROR, U.B.R. 1909, 3rd Quarter, Excise, 1. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, I, 139, F.) [F., 13 Cr.L.J. 122 = 13 Ind. Cas. 778 = 4 Bur.L.T. 270.]

(2)—Penal Code, s. 201—" Offence, " if includes breach of provisions of Excise Act.—The term " offence " in s. 201, Penal Code, does not include a breach of the provisions of the Excise Act, as such breach is not punishable with imprisonment for a term of six months or upwards. CROWN v. LA PYU, 1 L.B.R. 308.

(3)—Magistrate giving information to the police and directing an enquiry—No such connection with proceedings as to oust jurisdiction—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 556, 11 A.L.J. 852.

(4)—Ss. 2 (2), 37, 41 and 57—Excise officers—Arrest—Report—Jurisdiction to try accused.—An Inspector of police is authorized by Punjab

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XII of 1896 (Excise)—continued

Government Notification No. 735½, dated the 26th March, 1885, which in force under s. 2 (2) of Act XII of 1896 to arrest persons for possession of prohibited articles under s. 37 of the Act. Under s. 41 such Inspector is required to report the arrest to his official superior and to take the accused with all convenient despatch to the Magistrate for trial. It is a sufficient compliance with s. 41 if the officer sends the accused to the Magistrate and a delay in sending the accused does not affect the jurisdiction of the Magistrate to hear the case. Held that under s. 57 of Act XII of 1896 a Magistrate is competent to try an offence upon a police report made by a Deputy Inspector of Police. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. CHET SINGH, 46 P.L. R. 1901 = 22 P.R. 1900, Cr. (9 P.R. 1897, D.) [R., 181 P.L.R. 1910 = 27 P.W.R. 1910 = 13 P.R. 1910 = 6 Ind. Cas. 717 = 11 Cr.L.J. 394.]

(5)—S. 3—Presumption as to spirits.—Ordinarily the presumption with respect to spirits, which were not imported and for the sale of which the license did not provide, found in the possession of a person other than a licensed vendor of distillery spirits was that such spirits were country spirits. AH YIN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 87.

(6)—S. 3—Joint possession—Father and son—Owner of house deemed in possession—"Spirit"—Accidental admixture of lahan with "spirit" ignored.—Where over one seer of liquor, being country spirit which had been added to by the boiling over of the lahan employed in distillation, was found in accused's house in which house also resided his son and his wife. Held (i) that the defence of joint possession was not set up, and on the facts disclosed the possession must be deemed to be of the owner of the house, and the head of the family, the presence of a son of 17 years of age making no difference; (ii) that the accidental admixture was a negligible element, as the whole was a " liquor containing alcohol obtained by distillation," which is the definition of "spirit" in s. 3 (1) (2) of the Act. EMPEROR v. WAZIR SINGH, 10 P.R. 1901, Cr. (13 P.R. 1897, Cr., F.) [D., 31 P.R. 1902, Cr., 52 P.R. 1902, Cr.]

(7)—Ss. 3, 30 and 38—Possession of liquor.—S. 3, cl. (k) of the above Act says that a person can legally possess 2 imperial gallons or 12 reputed quart-bottles of foreign liquor or fermented liquor, and Finance and Commerce Notification No. 42, dated 26-6-1890 says that beer manufactured at Mandalay Brewery shall be deemed to be foreign fermented liquor. Hence possession of the same within the said limits was no offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MI CHO AND NGA SAN BU, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 92.

(8)—Ss. 3 (1) (n), 30, 51—Illegal possession of larger quantity of liquor—Possession for private use—Burden of proof, on the accused—Evidence Act, ss 105 and 106.—Where a person is charged with having in his possession any quantity of fermented liquor larger than that specified in s. 3 (1) (n) of the Excise Act, and pleads that he purchased it for his private use and not for sale, the burden of proving such special exception lies on him under s. 105 or s. 106. Evidence Act. KING-EMPEROR v. MAUNG PWA, 5 L B R 52, F.B.=2 Ind. Cas. 543. (U.B R. 1904—1906, Excise, 7, 11 Bur. L.R. 227, overruled.)

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XII of 1896 (Excise)—continued.

(9)—Ss. 3 (1) (n). 51, 52—Scope—Quantity of liquor which may be possessed by a license—Penalty for excess —A licensee may possess liquor in excess of the amount specified in s. 3 (1) (n), and up to the amount specified in his license or pass, and, if he is in possession of more than the latter quantity, he is punishable under s. 51, which applies to "any person," s. 52 providing a penalty for certain offences not punishable by s. 51, the words for the breach of which rule, or condition, no other penalty is hereby provided" being clear and meaning that s. 52 does not apply to cases for which a penalty is provided by some other part of the Act. MANGAL SINGH v. CROWN, 21 P R. 1910, Cr.=7 Ind. Cas. 491=155 P.L. R. 1910=11 Cr. L J. 495.

(10)—Ss. 5 and 30—Manufacture and possession of liquor.—Manufacture and possession of fermented liquor form different offences under s. 33 of Excise Act, 1896. Hence s. 71 of I.P.C. is not necessarily applicable to these. It is possible for a person to contravene s. 5. without contravening s. 21 and to contravence s. 21 without contravening s. 5 of the above Act, and there seems to be no reason why he should not contravene both at the same time. S. 65, I.P.C., applies where an offence is punishable, not with imprisonment or fine, but with imprisonment as well as fine, which an offence under s. 33 of the Excise Act is. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PO TU, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 93. (S.J.L. B., p. 350, R)

(11)—S. 21—Sale—Not for profit.—P, who held no license under the Excise Act, obtained some methylated spirits from a shop for the Secretary of a club, sent it from there to the Club, but made no profit on the transaction; held, that the transaction did not amount to a sale within the meaning of s. 21 of the Act. PANNA LAL v KING EMPEROR, 6 A.L J. 238 =31 A 293=9 Cr. L.J. 503=2 Ind. Cas. 192.

(11-a)—S. 21—See No. 28, supra.

(11-b)—S. 22—See No. 28, supra.

(12)—S. 30—Possession of foreign spirits.—Foreign spirits found in the accused possession and purchased by him for his private use and not for sale, is no cause of offence under s. 30 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HIN WUN, U.B R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 97.

(13)—Ss. 30 (1), 30 (2) (a)—Meaning of the section—Possession of permissible quantity of each foreign spirit or liquor—Possession of large quantities of brandy and beer—Accused a well-to-do Chinaman—Presumption of possession for private consumption.—The meaning of s. 30 (1) of the Excise Act is that a man may possess 12 quarts of foreign spirit without reference to any other kind of spirit or liquor in his possession. The section permits a man to possess without pass or license 12 reputed quart bottles of foreign spirit, 12 reputed quart bottles of foreign fermented liquor, one reputed quart bottle of country spirit and 4 reputed quart bottles of country fermented liquor all at the same time. Cl. (a) of s. 30 (2) cannot mean that a man may keep foreign spirit for his private use without a pass or license, only if he has no foreign fermented liquor in his possession at the same time. The accused, a well-to-do Chinaman, who could afford to buy one to two hundred rupees worth of liquor for festive occasions, was charged with possessing a large quantity of brandy and beer when the annual Chinese festival was in fact near at hand: Held, that the accused was prima facie entitled to the benefit of the exception contained in cl. (a) of s. 30 (2). EMPEROR v. GU WA, 12 Cr. L.J. 581=12 Ind. Cas. 845=4 Bur. L.T. 146.

(14)—S. 30—See Nos. 7, 8 and 10, supra and No. 41, infra.

(15)—Ss. 30 and 46, cl. (c)—Introduction of foreign spirit into places to which the Act is applicable.—S. 46, cl. (c) of the Excise Act makes the bringing of any quantity of foreign spirits into any territory to which the Act extends, illegal and punishable under the Act, irrespective of the quantity or of the purpose for which it may have been brought. SHER SINGH v KING-EMPEROR, 14 P.R. 1907, Cr.= 41 P.W.R. 1907, Cr.

(16)—Ss. 30 and 51—What constitutes possession.—The Collection of toddy in pots on a tree is held to constitute possession, although the owner may have the pots hanging on the tree, till it suits him to remove them. If the contents of the pot exceed four reputed quart bottles, he will be liable to punishment under s. 30 of the Excise Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA ON CHO, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 98.

(16-a)—S. 36—See No. 32, infra.

(17)—Ss. 36, 37, 38, 41, 57—Excise Act (XXII of 1881), ss. 27, 28, 29, 30, 34, 47—Excise officer.—An officer, who, before the coming into force of Act No. XII of 1896, is one of the class of officers on whom had been conferred powers to act as Excise officer under ss. 27, 28, 29 of Act XXII of 1881, and who had therefore power in certain events to take a case before a Magistrate under s. 32. is an Excise officer within the meaning of s. 47 of Act XXII of 1881. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAKUNDA, 20 A. 70=A.W N. 1897, 162. (A.W.N. 1896, 105 overruled.) [F, 30 A. 377=5 A.L.J. 444=A. W.N. 1908, 157=8 Cr.L.J. 5, 15 Cr.L J. 336 =23 Ind. Cas 683=2 P.R. 1914, Cr.=138 P. L.R. 1914; R., 103 P.L.R. 1903.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XII of 1896 (Excise)—continued.

(18)—Ss. 36, 37, 38, 44, 47, 49 and 52—Police officer invested with powers under s. 44, whether Excise officer—His authority to make a complaint of an offence under s. 52 or 49.—A Police officer invested with powers under s. 44 can only be treated as an Excise officer for the purpose of ss. 36 to 38, but he is not an Excise officer within the meaning of s. 57, so as to be competent to make a complaint or report of an offence punishable under ss. 49 or 52 of the Act. CROWN v. NAIDER SINGH, 13 P.R. 1910, Cr.=27 P.W.R. 1910, Cr.=6 Ind. Cas. 717=11 Cr L.J. 394. (9 P.R. 1897, Cr., R.; 22 P.R. 1900, Cr., 8 P.R. 1901, Cr., D.) [D., 138 P.L.R. 1914=2 P.R. 1914, Cr.]

(19)—Ss. 36, 38, 45 and 57—Absence of complaint—Police report.—Held, that a Magistrate is competent to take cognizance of an offence under s. 45, Act XII of 1896, on the chalan of a Deputy Inspector of Police under s. 190 (b), Crim. Pro. Code. Under the Punjab Government Notification 735, dated 26th March, 1885, which, under s. 2 (2) of the Act, is still in force, Deputy Inspectors of Police are Excise officers with powers under ss. 36 and 38 of the Excise Act XII of 1896. EMPRESS OF INDIA v. SUNDAR SINGH, 76 P.L.R. 1901=8 P.R. 1901, Cr. (9 P.R. 1897, Cr., D.; 22 P R. 1900, Cr., 15 P.R. 1887, Cr., 4 P.R. 1893, Cr., F.)

(20)—S. 37—See Nos. 4, 17 and 18, supra, and No. 32, infra.

(21)—Ss. 37 and 41—Charas, possession of, in contravention of rules—Jurisdiction of Magistrate—Report—Complaint.—The accused was convicted for being in possession in contravention of rules of 'Charas' under s. 48 of Act XII of 1896. He was arrested by a Sergeant of Police, who reported the case at the Police Station. The case was investigated by a Sergeant of Police attached to the Police Station, who challaned the accused on the third day after his arrest to the District Magistrate, through the District Seperintendent of Police. The District Magistrate made the case over for trial to one of the Magistrates subordinate to him. The order sending the case for trial only bore the initials of the District Magistrate without any designation of his office. It was contended for the accused that the Magistrate was not competent to try the case, as there was no complaint or report of the Collector or an Excise officer to give the Magistrate jurisdiction. Held, that the contention was not valid. As the District Magistrate was the same individual as the Collector, and as the case would be reported to him in the same way by the Police whether as District Magistrate or Collector, it would be reasonable to hold that the order was passed by him in his capacity of Collector, as well as in his capacity of District Magistrate, and that the Magistrate had jurisdiction to try the accused. Held, further, that the Magistrate had jurisdiction under s. 41 of Act XII of 1896. MOTAN DAS v. EMPEROR, 103 P.L.R. 1903=9 P.R. 1903, Cr. (8 P.R. 1901, Cr.=76 P.L R. 1901, 20 A. 70, 22 P.R. 1900, Cr.=46 P.L.R. 1901, R.)

(22)—Ss. 37, 44 and 57—Court taking cognizance of an Excise offence on Police Chalan, Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 190 (6).—A Magistrate is competent to try a person accused under s. 57 of Act XII of 1896, on the report or Chalan of a Deputy Inspector of Police, authorised to make the report under the Notification under s. 44 of the Act on an arrest made by a Police Inspector who has, under Punjab Notification No. 735½, dated 26th March, 1885 (which notification under s. 2 (2) is still in force) to arrest the accused. The police chalan is a police report of the fact constituting an offence. EMPRESS v. CHET SINGH, 22 P. R. 1900, Cr=46 P.L.R. 1901. (9 P. R 1897, Cr., D.) [F., 8 P. R. 1901, Cr., 9 P.R. 1903, Cr., 15 Cr. L. J. 336=23 Ind. Cas. 688=2 P. R. 1914, Cr.=188 P.L.R. 1914 ; R., 181 P. L. R. 1910=13 P.R. 1910=27 P.W.R. 1910=6 Ind. Cas. 717=11 Cr. L.J. 394.]

(23)—S. 38—See ACT I OF 1878, ss. 14, 15 and 16, 4 L.B.R. 121=14 Bur. L.R. 202=7 Cr. L.J. 87.

(24)—S. 38—See Nos. 7, 17, 18 and 19, supra.

(25)—S. 39—Sale of liquor by licensed vendor's relative or servant.—Where an accused person, the aunt of the retail licensed vendor, sold liquor during his temporary absence to a customer, though she had no license in her name, held that she acted in every way as his servant, the license not prohibiting the employment of servants by a licensed vendor. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MUSSAMMAT BHAGANA, S. C. 179, Oudh.

(26)—S. 41—Accused being taken before Magistrate.—Under s. 41 of the Act it is not essential for an Excise officer that he should himself take the person arrested before the Magistrate; it is enough if an accused was with all convenient despatch taken before a Magistrate, by the ordinary procedure by which the accused are brought before the Magistracy. MOTAN DAS v. EMPEROR, 9 P.R. 1903, Cr. =103 P L.R. 1903. (8 P.R. 1901, Cr., 22 P. R. 1900, Cr., 20 A. 70, R.) [R., 11 Cr. L J. 394=6 Ind. Cas. 717=13 P.R. 1910, Cr.=181 P.L R. 1910=27 P.W.R. 1910, Cr.]

(27)—S. 41—See Nos. 4, 17 and 21, supra.

(28)—Ss. 41, 21, 22 and 3 (k)—What constitutes offence under s. 41.—Possession of liquor or spirit within the quantity allowed by s. 3, cl. (k), not punishable. To be punishable under s. 41, it must be proved or admitted that the person accused has contravened either s. 21 or s. 22. The possession of a quantity of liquor or spirit, illicitly manufactured or obtained within the quantity allowed by s. 3, cl. (k), does not contravene s. 21 and is not punishable under s. 41. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KYA BAN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 121.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XII of 1896 (Excise)—continued.

(29)—S. 44—See Nos. 18 and 22, supra.

(30)—Ss. 44 (1), (2), 46 and 57—Report by police officer invested with powers under s. 44 (1).—Police officer invested with powers under s. 44 (1) of Act XII of 1896 cannot be regarded as Excise officers, except for purposes strictly connected with the exercise of those powers. A licensed vendor of liquor cannot be prosecuted for the breach of his license on the report of a Deputy Inspector of Police. PIRAG v. EMPRESS, 9 P. R. 1897, Cr. [R., 181 P.L.R. 1910=13 P.R. 1910=27 P.W.R. 1910=6 Ind. Cas. 717=11 Cr. L.J. 394, 11 Cr. L.J. 67=4 Ind. Cas. 866=16 P.R. 1909, Cr.; D . 23 Ind. Cas. 688=2 P.R. 1914, Cr.=15 Cr. L.J. 336=138 P.L R 1914, 40 P.W.R. 1909, Cr., 22 P.R. 1900, Cr., 8 P.R. 1901, Cr.]

(31)—Ss. 44 (2), 48 and 57 — Definition — Excise officer—Jurisdiction.—Held, that a head constable is an Excise officer with the meaning of s. 57 of the Excise Act, 1896. EMPEROR v. LACHMI NARAIN, A.W.N. 1908, 157=30 A. 377 =5 A.L.J. 444=8 Cr. L J. 5. (20 A. 70, F.) [F., 15 Cr. L.J. 336=23 Ind. Cas. 688=2 P. R. 1914, Cr.=138 P.L.R. 1914.]

(32)—Ss. 44, 57, 36, 37, 38—Notifications of Government under s. 44—Police officer whether an Excise officer for purposes of s. 57.—Under the notifications of the Local Government made under s. 44 of the Excise Act, a Sub-Inspector of Police is an Excise Officer for all purposes connected with the excise power conferred on Excise officers, by ss. 36, 37 and 38 of the Act. And a Police officer, invested with powers of an Excise officer under s. 44, is to be deemed also an Excise officer for the purposes of s. 57. CROWN v. SHIBBAN, 2 P. R. 1914, Cr.=138 P.L.R. 1914=15 Cr. L.J. 336=23 Ind. Cas. 688. (22 P. R. 1900, Cr., 20 A. 70, 30 A. 377, 8 P.R. 1901, F.; 13 P.R. 1910, Cr., 9 P.R. 1897, Cr., D)

(33)—S. 45—Extracting tari, if an offence.—Extracting the sap of a tari tree is not manufacturing fermented liquor and is not an offence punishable under s. 45 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SHWE HMAN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 336.

(34)—S. 45—Illegal search— Conviction of offence—Reward.—An accused may be convicted of an offence under s. 45 of the Excise Act, 1896, though his house was entered and searched without legal authority. Persons, who make a search illegally, render themselves liable to be sued for damages, but their illegal action does not affect the question whether the person whose house is illegally searched has committed an offence against the Excise Law. It may, however, properly be made a ground for not granting a reward upon a conviction, which would be improper under such circumstances. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA TAU AUNG, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 369.

(35)—*S.*45—Hastening fermentation by artificial means is not " manufacturing " fermented liquor.—The use of artificial means to hasten the fermentation of what is already fermented liquor, and to preserve it or make it more palatable, does not amount to "making or manufacturing" fermented liquor within the meaning of s. 45. To manufacture is to convert, by some artificial process, raw material into something else. KING-EMPEROR v. NGA BEIK KYI, U.B.R. 1905, 4 Qr., Excise, 5. (U.B.R. 1905, Excise, p. 3, R.)

(36)—S. 45—Tapping tari tree or leaving sweet tari to ferment, whether, amounts to manufacturing tari (Burma).—The accused was convicted of manufacturing fermented tari. Held, that tapping a tari tree is not manufacturing tari and that leaving sweet tari to ferment is not manufacturing either, as sweet tari the moment it is tapped, is fermented liquor within the meaning of the Act. The offence of manufacturing fermented tari is a physical impossibility. Conviction set aside. KING-EMPEROR v. MIR THIT, U.B R. 1905, Excise, 3=2 Cr. L.J. 470. (1 L.B.R. 214, U.B.R. 1892—1896, 98, R.)

(37)—S. 45—Liquor — Country fermented liquor — Seinbat — Seinye — Preparation and attempt.—An accused found in possession of three viss of Seinbat, which is not country fermented liquor, intended for the manufacture of Seinye, which is a kind of country fermented liquor, cannot be punished under s. 45 of the Excise Act for the mere intention of manufacturing fermented liquor. Nor can he be punished for an attempt to manufacture as his act has not proceeded beyond the stage of mere preparation. EMPEROR v NGA KYAW, 14 Cr.L. J. 489=20 Ind. Cas. 745=6 Bur. L.T. 140.

(38)—S. 45—See REVISION—QUESTION OF FACT, 121 P.L.R. 1904.

(38-a)—S. 45—See No. 19, supra.

(39)—Ss. 45 and 51—Illicit working or possession of still—Illicit possession of spirits—Double conviction and sentence—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 235 and 35—Penal Code, s. 71.—Distinct and separable offences.—Separate convictions under ss. 45 and 51 of the Act for illicitly keeping a still and for being in possession of spirits manufactured in that still, are premissible but separate sentences under the same sections are illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. AW WA, 1 L.B.R. 33. [F., 19 Ind. Cas. 167=6 L.B.R. 160=14 Cr.L.J. 167.]

(40)—Ss. 45 and 51—Emptying a vessel containing lahan—Evidence of general repute not admissible.—Held, that B was neither guilty under s. 45 nor under s. 51 of the Excise Act, 1896, where the implements for preparing fermented liquor were found in the house of M and everything that happened took place on his premises and the only fact found against B, was that he assisted M to empty a vessel containing lahan especially when there was no proof of this fact independent of the evidence of the Darogah and two constables ; held, also, that the evidence of general rupute that B was in the habit of selling illicit liquor was not admissible against him. BHAGAT SINGH v. CROWN, 2 P.W.R. 1907, Cr.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XII of 1896 (Excise)—continued.

(41) — Ss. 45, 51 and 30 —Tapping tree—Drawing tari—Possession of more than four quarts without license, whether an offence.—Although a person may tap and draw tari from his own toddy-tree without committing an offence punishable under s. 45 of the Act, yet the moment that a quantity of it larger than four quarts is in his possession, he commits an offence punishable under s. 51 of the Act, unless he has a license contemplated by s. 30 of the Act. CROWN v. THAN NYIN, 1 L.B.R. 214.

(42)—S. 46 (c)—See REVISION — ACQUITTALS, 1 P.L.R. 1904.

(43) —S. 46 —See Nos. 15 and 30, supra.

(44)—S. 48—Trial under, when liable to be set aside—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 556, 5 P.W.R. 1912, Cr. = 64 P.L.R. 1912 = 14 Ind. Cas. 758 = 13 Cr. L.J. 294.

(45) – S. 48 (c) —Importing cocaine—Inference from facts—Presumption — Intention.—A registered postal parcel containing cocaine addressed to accused's daughter aged 10 years to a house, in which accused was not living, was received by appointment by the accused from the postman in charge; the parcel remained unopened for about 10 minutes when the Excise Officers entered and arrested the accused for importing cocaine. She pleaded that she had ordered some toys for her girl, that she took delivery of the parcel thinking it to be the expected one containing toys, that she had asked the parcel to be addressed at her friend's house as she contemplated moving from her own house, and that she hesitated to open the parcel as she could not identify the sender's name as being that of the person whom she had ordered the toys from, but offered no proof of any of these facts which were peculiarly within her sole knowledge: Held, that, in the absence of evidence that the accused was at the time expecting a parcel, addressed identically with that seized but with different contents, the inference was that the parcel seized was the one expected and it contained what she had ordered. EMPEROR v. STELLA. 14 Cr. L J. 440 = 20 Ind. Cas. 600 = 6 Bur. L.T. 129.

(46)—S. 48 (e)—See SENTENCE—FINE, 1 L. B.R. 89.

(47)—S. 48—See No. 31, supra.

(47-a)—Ss. 48, 53—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 239—Excise Act, ss. 48, 53—Joint trial of persons separately accused of offences under the two sections—Conviction to be set aside—Accused raising no objection to joint trial—Possession by mistress in house furnished by her protector—Presumption—Possession on account of protector—Penal Code, s. 27—What proof necessary to raise presumption.—Where the illicit possession of cocaine by A, is unconnected with its illicit sale by B, the joint trial of A and B under ss. 48 and 53 of Act XII of 1896, is illegal and a conviction based upon such trial will be set aside, notwithstanding that the accused raised no objection to the joint trial. (25 M. 61 = 11 M L J. 233 = 3 Bom. L.R. 540 = 5 C.W.N. 866 = 28 I A. 257, P.C. = 2 Weir 271, F.) When a man furnishes a house for his mistress' occupation, he may reasonably be presumed to be in possession of all articles therein which can reasonably be inferred to belong to him or to be in the possession of his mistress on his behalf. But the inference must be inapplicable to articles of which the mistress is in possession illegally or contrary to the provisions of law, especially when the article in question is such that he might well remain in ignorance that it was in his mistress' possession. To raise the presumption under s. 27, Penal Code, something more than mere possession by the wife or mistress must be proved. BANWAR LAL v. EMPEROR, 97 P.L.R. 1914 = 15 Cr. L. J. 172 = 25 P.W.R. 1814, Cr. = 22 Ind. Cas. 748 = 20 P.R. 1914, Cr.

(48)—S. 49—License, nature of.—A license is a personal grant, largely made for personal reasons, and it does not, after death of the licensee, attach itself in any way to his property or devolve upon his heirs, during the unexpired portion of the period mentioned in the license. In the matter of MADHO PERSHAD, 22 A. 441 = A.W.N. 1900, 151. [R., 32 B. 157.]

(49)—S. 49—Sale of liquor to Burmans.—Under the excise rules at present in force, the sale of liquor to Burmans is punishable under s. 49 of the Excise Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. AHYU SHOK, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 95.

(50) —S. 49 —Sale of charas to unlicensed person—Charas in custody of Excise authorities—Delivery agreed to be taken by vendee after obtaining license—No offence—' Sale '—What it is under the Act.—Where the accused, who held a 'sale-in-bond' charas license, sold certain charas, which remained in bond in the custody of the Excise authorities, to another who had no license for purchase or sale of the drug, on the understanding that the vendee could not obtain delivery and possession of the goods without taking a license, and where the vendee did not obtain delivery of the goods. Held, that the accused could not be convicted under s. 49, Excise Act, for selling charas in bond to one having no license. For the purposes of the Act, the sale would not be complete until delivery of the charas to the purchaser or some one on his behalf, and to an unlicensed person, delivery was not effected by retention-in-bond in the hands of Excise authorities on behalf of a person who could not obtain delivery until he took out a license. DHANPAT MAL v. CROWN, 4 P.R. 1911, Cr. = 5 P.W.R. 1911 = 89 P.L.R. 1911 = 9 Ind. Cas. 1082 = 12 Cr.L.J. 192 = 10 Ind. Cas. 682.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XII of 1896 (Excise)—continued.

(51)—S. 49 — Medical Practitioner putting brandy into medicine and selling it to a patient —Whether guilty under s. 49.—A Medical Practitioner who put a little brandy into one of the medicines prescribed and sold by him to a patient does not thereby contravene the provisions of the Excise Law. CROWN v. BHAGWAN DAS, 33 P.R. 1914, Cr.

(52)—S. 49—There is no legal presumption that a seller of tari is a seller of gin. Further an uncorroborated testimony of an accomplice is of very little value in evidence. ATOI v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 103.

(53)—S. 49—Revision.—To interfere without necessity on revision where there is evidence to support the conviction, would be practically to grant an appeal where the law says there shall be none. ASHE v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 101.

(54)—S. 49—Illegal sale by servant of manager or agent of a licensed liquor shop—Privity of manager or agent to such sales.—The manager or agent of a licensed liquor shop, who is not in any way privy to the illegal sale of liquor by his servant, or present at such sale cannot properly be convicted under s. 49. AH SIN or AH SAI v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 489. (L.B.R. 1893—1900, 373, Diss.).

(55)—S. 49—Causing a licensed vendor to contravene his license—Abetment—Abettor guilty though principal has committed no offence—Penal Code, s. 108.—The accused, in this case, purchased a bottle of liquor from a licensed vendor, for the use of a soldier and handed it to the latter in contravention of the vendor's license. The vendor sold it in good faith, not being aware of the intended use by the soldier. The lower Court acquitted the accused, holding that, as the vendor committed no offence, it could not be said that the accused abetted the commission of an offence. Held, on appeal, that, under s. 108, Penal Code, read with the exp. iii and illustration (d), the accused must be found guilty of abetment of the breach of the vendor's license, though the vendor himself might, under the circumstances, have committed no offence. KING-EMPEROR v. MUKHTAR KHAN, 55 P.R. 1905, Cr. = 201 P.L. R. 1905 = 3 Cr.L.J. 135.

(56)—S. 49—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 202, 204, 242, 244, 439, 1 P.W.R 1908, Cr. = 4 P.R. 1908, Cr. = 86 P.L.R. 1908 = 7 Cr. L. J. 202.

(57)—S. 49—See No. 18, supra.

(58)—Ss 49 and 52—Selling liquor to European soldier under officers permission.—To supply liquor to European soldiers travelling under the command of an officer, as provided in art, 542, or to soldiers travelling alone or in small parties without an officer, as provided in art. 543, Army Regulations, India, Vol. X, up to the amount allowed in that article, is not a breach of the condition of license, Form VIII, by which the sale of liquor to European soldiers is forbidden. ABDOOL v. KING-EMPEROR, 1 U.B.R. 1902—1903, Excise, 1.

(59)—Ss. 49, 59—Possession of spirit within the quantity allowed by law—Not an offence—Extorting admission from accused—New charge by Magistrate in the absence of evidence.—Possession of half a bottle of spirit is no offence and a man is not bound to account for such mere possession. Where no offence was committed and the accused was illegally arrested, the Magistrate should at once discharge him instead of proceeding to get him to plead guilty to the charge of committing an offence of which there was no evidence before the Magistrate. In the abesence of any evidence against the accused, it is improper on the part of a Magistrate to proceed to make a new charge against the accused. An admission of guilt should not be extorted from an accused person. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. TUN E, 1 L.B.R. 43.

(60)—Ss. 49 and 59—Sale of liquor to a Burman by a person without a license.—A native of India who buys liquor for a Burman from the liquor shop-keeper does not commit the offence of abetment of sale of liquor to a Burman since the purchase was legal, but commits an offence under s. 49 of selling liquor without a license. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. APALU, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 105.

(61)—S. 51—Liability to confiscation.—Animals and conveyances liable to confiscation under the Excise Act are those on which illicit liquor is loaded and an animal on which a man is merely riding with such liquor in his pockets does not come under that description. JAT SINGH v. EMPRESS, 10 P.R. 1898, Cr.

(62)—S. 51—Fermented liquor, meaning of Kazawye, if included in the definition of.—Kazawye, a generic term for fermented liquor, has not been declared to be included in the term "fermented liquor" as defined in s. 3 (h) of the Excise Act. In convictions under that Act for the illegal possession of fermented liquor, it is necessary to prove that the fermented liquor is one of those within the meaning of the term as used in the Act. CROWN v. PYA GYI, 1 L.B. R. 172.

(63)—S 51—Interpretation of the concluding words in the section.—The concluding words of s. 51, viz., that "the vessel or conveyance used in carrying the liquor shall be liable to confiscation" have not received judicial interpretation. The question of confiscation is a matter for the discretion of the Magistrate in each case. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA BA O, L.B.R, 1893—1900, 632. (L.B.R. 1893—1900, 405, R.)

(64)—S. 51—Bona fide custody of liquor.—A bona fide custodian of liqour is not liable to be convicted of unlawful possession under s. 51 of the Act. MA PI v. KING-EMPEROR, 2 L.B.R. 136 (25 A. 262, R.) [R., 4 Ind. Cas. 823 = 11 Cr. L.J. 55 = U.B.R. 1909, Opium, p. 1.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XII of 1896 (Excise)—continued.

(65)—S. 51—Liquor, joint possession of.—S. 51 of the Excise Act must be held to prohibit the joint possession by several persons of more spirit or liquor than may be sold retail to one person. The words "no person" in s. 51 are to be read in the plural as well as in the singular. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAJIA, L B.R. 1893—1900, 405.

(66)—S. 51—Punishment for illegal possession of liquor.—A Burman who possesses Malt liquor such does not commit any offence merely because liquor may not be sold to him. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO KYWE, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 107.

(67)—S. 51—Illegal possession of liquor, burden of proof of legality on the accused.—The possession of more than a prescribed number of quarts of beer being prima facie illegal under the Act, it was held that the onus lay on the accused, charged with such illegal possession, to prove that he purchased the beer for his private use and not for sale. KING-EMPEROR v. NGA CHI, U.B.R. 1906, Excise, 7. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, I, 107, U.B.R. 1897 1901, 1, 184, U.B R 1892—1896, I, 100, R, [F, 10 Cr. L.J. 80 = 5 L.B.R. 52 = 2 Ind. Cas. 543.]

(68)—S. 51—Finding of lahan, etc., in a person's premises outside the village under suspicious circumstances—Benefit of doubt—Revision under s. 439, Code of Criminal Procedure.—Held, that the finding of certain articles, viz., lahan, distilling pipe, bottle and glass containing liquor (which suggest illicit distillation) in an easily accessible part (such as ordinary cattle shed which usally remains open) of a person's enclosure belonging to that person and another man, and situate outside the village, raises a great doubt about the case and consequently is not sufficient for convicting that person under s. 51 of Act XII of 1896, particularly where the search has taken place at the instigation of that person's enemy and no other in criminating article has been found in any part of his dwelling house. Held, also, that in such a case unappealable sentence is not proper. In case of doubt even the concurrent finding of the Courts below are liable to be set aside on revision under s. 439, Crim. Pro. Code. WASAKHI v. CROWN, 43 P.W.R. 1913, Cr. = 98 P.L R. 1914 = 22 Ind. Cas. 257 = 15 Cr. L.J. 176.

(69)—S. 51—See CONFISCATION, 1 L. B. R. 3.

(70)—S. 51—See Nos. 8, 9, 16, 39, 40 and 41, supra.

(71)—S. 52—Licensee letting a Burman have liquor through a third person, not Burman.—If a license lets a Burman have liquor at all on payment of money through a third person not a Burman, he runs a risk of being charged under s. 52 of the Act along with the abettor, the Burman who purchased it. CRIMINAL REVISION CASE, NO. 1617 OF 1892, U B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 100.

(72)—S. 52—"Any person, etc., a," meaning of—License—Breach of condition by servant—License-holder, liability of Servant acting in the course of management—Master's liability.—The words "any person who breaks.........any condition of license granted under this Act" refer only to the actual licensee. A licensee, deputing a servant to manage a retail liquor shop, is responsible for the acts of the latter done within the scope of his employment, and is punishable for any breach of condition committed by him, even if he has expressly forbidden the servant to commit the same. The test of the master's liability in such cases is whether the servant's act was done in the course of management and within the scope of his authority. EMPEROR v. RUSTOMJI PESTOMJI, 1 N.L.R. 81 = 2 Cr. L.J. 659. (7 C.P.L.R. 41, F.)

(73)—S. 52—Scope of section—Master and servant.—It is not necessary for the purpose of convicting the accused under s. 52 that he should himself have sold the liquor in contravention of the terms of his license or that his servant should have done so with his knowledge or by his direction. The act of the servant, if within the scope of his authority, is the act of the master, and a breach of the terms of the license by the former under such circumstances is tantamount to a breach by the latter. PIRAG v. EMPRESS, 9 P R 1897, Cr. [R., 181 P.L.R. 1910 = 13 P.R. 1910 = 27 P.W.R. 1910 = 6 Ind Cas. 717 = 11 Cr. L.J. 394, 11 Cr. L.J. 67 = 4 Ind. Cas. 866 = 16 P.R. 1909, Cr.; D., 23 Ind. Cas. 688 = 2 P.R. 1914, Cr. = 15 Cr. L.J. 336 = 138 P.L.R. 1914, 40 P.W.R. 1909, Cr.]

(74)—S. 52—Master and servant.—A master is not ordinarily liable for the criminal acts of his servant. There must be some evidence to show instigation or complicity before the master can be held liable. TSANG WAW v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.P.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 109.

(75)—S. 52—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, s. 556, A.W.N. 1908, 95 = 5 A.L.J. 357 = 7 Cr. L.J. 393.

(76)—S. 52—See Nos. 9, 18 and 58, supra.

(77)—S. 53—See No. 47, supra.

(78)—S. 57—Cognizance of certain offences on complaint or report of the Collector or an Excise officer only.—All offences falling under the above section must be instituted by means of a complaint or a police report, or a report from the Excise officer. Otherwise the Court trying the offence has no jurisdiction, and all its proceedings are therefore void. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MA MIN THON, U.B.R 1892—1896, Vol. I, 111. [R., U.B.R. 1910, 4th Qr., 70.]

(79)—S. 57—Institution of complaint.—A prosecution of a licensed vendor, for a breach of the conditions of his license, instituted by a Deputy Inspector of Police was held to be not maintainable, as it was not instituted by a competent authority. PIRAG v. EMPRESS, 9 P.R. 1897, Cr. [R., 181 P.L.R. 1910=13 P.R. 1910=27 P.W.R. 1910=6 Ind. Cas. 717 =11 Cr. L J. 394, 11 Cr L.J. 67=4 Ind Cas. 866=16 P.R. 1909, Cr. ; D., 23 Ind. Cas. 688= 2 P.R. 1914, Cr.=15 Cr. L.J. 336=138 P.L.R. 1914, 40 P.W.R. 1909, Cr., 22 P.R. 1900, Cr., 8 P.R. 1901, Cr.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XII of 1896 (Excise)—concluded.

(80)—S. 57—See Nos. 4, 17, 18, 19, 22, 30, 31 and 32, supra.

(81)—S. 59—See Nos. 59 and 60, supra.

(82)—S. 60 — Absence of search warrant — Legality of conviction—Oaths Act (X of 1873)—Omission to record the fact that oath was administered—No presumption that it was not administered.—Absence of a search-warrant does not affect the legality of the trial of a case under the Excise Act. Where an Excise Inspector made a search without a search warrant and cocaine was found, held, that whether the search was legal or not, the conviction of the accused depended, not on the legality of the search, but on the fact that the cocaine was found illegally in his possession. There is no analogy between the Excise Act and the Gambling Act. (10 A.L J. 355, Appl.; 11 A.L. J. 442, R.) Where it does not appear from the record that oath was administered to a witness, the reasonable presumption would be, in the absence of any suggestion to the contrary, that the proper procedure in respect to the administering of oath to a witness was followed. There is no provision of law which requires a Court examining a witness to record the fact that an oath was administered. SYED AHMAD v. KING-EMPEROR, 11 A.L.J. 933=35 A. 575=22 Ind. Cas. 163=15 Cr. L.J. 19.

Act II of 1897 (Criminal Tribes Amendment).

[S. 1 REP. IN PT, ACT I OF 1903.]

See ACT XXVII OF 1871, s. 19 (1), 166 P.L. R. 1905=3 Cr. L.J. 77.

Act III of 1897 (Epidemic Diseases).

[REP. IN PT. (AS TO BURMA), ACT XIII OF 1898, S 18. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

(1)—See MAD. ACT IV OF 1884, BYE LAW NO. 48, 23 M. 213=1 Weir 750.

(2)—See PENAL CODE, s. 183, 1 Bom. L.R. 223.

(3)—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION, ETC., 24 M. 70=2 Weir 158.

(4)—Ss. 2 and 3—See QUARANTINE, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 966.

(5)—S. 3—Power of Local Government — Delegation to Collector—Delegation by Collector

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1897 (Epidemic Diseases)—concld.

—Ultra vires—Offence how proved—Rules under the Act — Meaning of 'taking measures.'—Under s. 3 of the Epidemic Diseases Act, it is unnecessary for the prosecution to prove in cases of disobedience that the accused's disobedience was likely to cause danger. The only important question is whether the disobeyed order was a lawful order made under that Act. In cases of offence under this Act, where the accused pleads not guilty, it is not necessary for the accused to deny the passing of the order or contest its legal validity. It lies on the prosecution to prove both the passing of the order and its legal validity. Under the Act, the Government itself can give power to an officer or officers to take measures, but it cannot give powers under the Act to any person so as to enable the latter to give such powers to others, unless such powers by their very nature can be exercised only through agents. The Collector has no power to delegate his own power, and the Local Government has no right to empower the Collector to delegate the power which the Local Government gave to the Collector, except in respect of performance of acts which by their very nature are or can be usually done only through agents and sub agents. The power 'to take measures' under the Act. which power may be granted to any person by the Local Government, is a different thing (though closely connected with the effective carrying on of the measures taken under the power) from the Regulations or orders which have to be observed or obeyed by the public or a person or class of persons in respect of those measures. A direction to the public to vacate their houses can only be made by a Regulation passed by the Government. A power given to the Collector to call on the people to evacuate a house cannot be delegated to the Divisional Officer. NAGAPPA THEVAN v. EMPEROR, 1913 M.W.N. 928= 14 M.L.T. 443.

(6)—S. 3—See No. 4, supra.

(7)—Rule 2 (Proviso)—See PENAL CODE, s. 188, 1 Bom. L.R. 51.

(8)—Rule 6—Information as to plague patient.—Rule 6, framed under the Epidemic Diseases Act, does not require the person who is himself attacked with plague to give information of his own sickness, albeit he is an occupant of the house in which he is attacked. Looking at the language in which the rule is worded, it refers to third persons only. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAHADEV GOPAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 978.

Act IV of 1897 (Fisheries).

See BOM. ACT XXXV OF 1850.

See BOM. ACT II OF 1868.

See BUR. ACT VII OF 1875.

(1)—S. 6—See MISCHIEF, 28 A. 204=2 A. L.J. 826=A.W.N. 1905, 255=2 Cr.L.J. 801.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1897 (Fisheries)—concluded.

(2)—Ss. 7, 8—Erecting obstructions in fishery without permission—Lessee, if criminally responsible for acts of sub-lessee—Burma Fisheries Act and Rules, ss. 7 and 30—Rule 30 made under s. 8, cl. (c) of the Burma Fisheries Act does not extend the scope of s. 7 of the same Act, and, therefore, does not give authority for holding the lessee criminally responsible for the acts of the sub-lessee. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO LWIN, L B.R. 1893-1900, 594.

(3)—S. 8—See No. 2, supra.

Act VIII of 1897 (Reformatory Schools).

[S. 30, REP., ACT III OF 1900. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

See ACT V OF 1876.

(1)—Reformatory Schools Act V of 1876 and VIII of 1897—Persons empowered under old Act—Jurisdiction under new Act.—After the repeal of Act V of 1876, by Act VIII of 1897, persons who were empowered to act under the Reformatory Schools Act, 1876, were held, unless they had been specially empowered by the Local Government, under s. 8 (2) of the Act of 1897, to be not competent to act under the latter Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHUJIA GUJIA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 936 = Cr. Rg. 45 of 1897.

(2)—Application of the Act. — A youthful offender convicted of murder and sentenced to transportation for life, is eligible for despatch to the Reformatory School. But he should not ordinarily be sent to such a school, e.g., where the conduct of the accused argued great depravity. RAMA v. EMPEROR, 4 N.L.R. 180 = 9 Cr. L J. 99.

(3)—Youthful offender—Detention in Reformatory—Period of detention to be fixed—See CRIM. PRO. CODE. 1898, s. 399, 15 Bom. L.R. 306 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 57 = 19 Ind. Cas. 512 = 14 Cr. L J. 256.

(4)—Ss. 1, 2, 3 and 8—Reformatory Schools Act (V of 1876), ss. 2 and 7—Order of detention in Reformatory Schools—Valid order.—The High Court set aside as contrary to law an order of a Magistrate substituting detention in a Reformatory School for two years for a sentence of imprisonment, on the ground that the order could not be sustained under s. 7 of Act V of 1876, as that Act had been repealed before the date of the order and the commission of the offence, nor under s. 8 of Act VIII of 1897 as the order did not comply with the provisions of the latter Act, the least period of detention being three years according to that Act. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCER v. AHMAD ALI, 25 C. 333 = 2 C.W.N. 11 [R., 19 A.W.N. 138 = 21 A. 391, F.B., 1 L.B.R. 68.] (12 M. 94, 14 B. 381, R.)

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1897 (Reformatory Schools)—ctd.

(5)—Ss. 1 and 16—Detention in Reformatory School in lieu of sentence of imprisonment—Jurisdiction of High Court to alter or set aside the sentence.—S. 16 of Act VIII of 1897 does not in any way take away the jurisdiction of the High Court, as a Court of revision, to alter or set aside the sentence in substitution of which an order for detention in a reformatory school is made. The power of the Court remains intact to consider the propriety or legality of any sentence passed upon a youthful offender. Where a young lad who was found abstracting a piece of coal from a waggon, was, on conviction for theft, sentenced to a month's rigorous imprisonment and ordered, in lieu thereof, to be detained in a reformatory school for 4 years, held, that, as the accused was a young lad and the offence was his first offence, the sentence of one month's imprisonment was improper The accused was directed to under-go a whipping of 5 stripes by way of school discipline. REASUT v. COURTNEY, 28 C. 423 = 5 C.W.N. 211.

(6)—S. 2—See No. 4, supra.

(7)—S. 3—See No. 4, supra.

(8)—S. 4 (a)—Youthful offenders—Proof.—Although a Magistrate is not incompetent to find from the appearance of a person convicted by him that he is a youthful offender within the definition given in the Act, yet, it is generally desirable that, when it is procurable, there should be some reliable evidence on the point, and especially when it may be necessary to determine the period of the detention, which is limited to his attaining 18 years of age. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAKIMUDDIN, 27 C. 133.

(9)—S. 4 (a)—Person over 15 years of age.—A Magistrate had no jurisdiction to order a person not under 15 years of age, to be confined in a Reformatory School, on and after the 11th March, 1897, when the Act came into force. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHAVSING, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 905 = Cr. Rg. 15 of 1897.

(10)—Ss. 4, 8, 16—Powers of High Court.—S. 16 of Act VIII of 1897 precludes the High Court from interfering in appeal or revision with an order for detention in a Reformatory School, passed in substitution for an order of transportation or imprisonment. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HIMAI, 20 A. 158 = A.W.N. 1897, 230. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOBINDA, 20 A. 159 = A.W.N. 1897, 230. [Overruled, 21 A. 391, F.B.; Diss, L B.R. 1893-1900, 441.]

(11)—Ss. 4 and 11—Jurisdiction of Magistrates.—In order that a Magistrate should have jurisdiction under the Reformatory Schools Act, it is necessary that the offender should be under 15 years of age at the time of the conviction. Unless the Magistrate is satisfied as to this matter, he should not proceed under the Act. S. 11 of the Act further requires a Magistrate before sending an offender to a Reformatory to make an enquiry, and record a finding, as to the exact age of the offender as nearly as may be. In re NACHI, 1 Weir. 879.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1897 (Reformatory Schools)—ctd.

(12)—S. 8—Power to order detention in Reformatory.—Where an accused, who was convicted of offences under ss. 454 and 380, I.P.C., was sentenced to one year's rigorous imprisonment, but being fourteen years old was directed to be detained in the Reformatory for the period; the High Court reversed this latter direction on the grounds that the Magistrate had not been specially authorised and that the order was opposed to the provisions of s. 8 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RHAGIA BHAOO, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 947 = Cr. Rg. 53 of 1897.

(13)—S. 8—Procedure under s. 8.—A Magistrate should first pass a sentence of imprisonment and then direct that, instead of undergoing the sentence, the offender should be sent to a Reformatory School for such period as the Act and the Rules framed thereunder direct. In re NACHI, 1 Weir 879.

(14)—S. 8—Procedure.—Under s. 8 of the Act, it is irregular for a Magistrate to sentence an accused between 15 and 16 years of age to be detained in a Reformatory for 4 years without first sentencing him to imprisonment. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO PE, L.B.R. 1893-1900, 648. (L.B.R. 1893-1900, 242, R.)

(15)—S. 8—Imprisonment in a reformatory passed in lieu of sentence of fine—Imprisonment as a substantive sentence and imprisonment in default of payment of fine—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 398.—S. 8 of the Reformatory Schools Act does not refer to imprisonment awarded in default of payment of fine to which an offender has been sentenced. There is no authority for directing that imprisonment in a reformatory shall terminate on payment of a fine. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO SIN, L.B R. 1893-1900, 491.

(16) S. 8—'Youthful offender,' definition of —Detention in Reformatory School in lieu of imprisonment—Term of such detention.—A youthful offender was sentenced to 3 years' detention in a Reformatory School in lieu of 3 months' rigorous imprisonment. The boy was over 13 years of age. Held, s. 8 of the Act, combined with the Judicial Department Notification No. 237, dated 12th June, 1897, and Rule 1, cl. (iii), provides that, if a youthful offender is over 13 years of age, he should be sent to a Reformatory School for such period as will bring him to the age of eighteen. Notice was issued to the accused to show cause why he should not be detained in the Reformatory School till he attains eighteen. SAN HLAING v. KING-EMPEROR, 3 L.B.R 46.

(17)—S. 8—Applicability of the section to cases where fine alone is inflicted.—Where a boy under 12 years was convicted of stabbing a companion with a knife and sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 100 or in default of payment to go to the Reformatory school for three years: Held, the order was illegal. Under s. 8 of the Reformatory Schools Act, before such an order is passed, the offender must have been sentenced to transportation or imprisonment and not to mere fine. NGA PO TOK v. EMPEROR, 12 Cr. L.J. 244 = 10 Ind Cas. 773.

(18)—S. 8—Rules framed under the old Act, whether in force, after the passing of the new Act—See ACT V OF 1876, s. 22, 21 M. 430 = 1 Weir 880.

(19)—S. 8—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 399, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 915 = Cr. Rg. 21 of 1897.

(20)—S. 8—Procedure to be adopted under section — See PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE, 2 L.B.R. 216.

(21)—S. 8—See Nos. 4, 10, supra.

(22)—Ss. 8 and 9—Order for detention in Reformatory School, when can be made.—An order for the detention of a youthful offender in a Reformatory School, when no sentence of imprisonment or of transportation has been passed, is bad in law. RADHA KRISTO BARAT v. GOKULA NUT, 5 C.W.N. 210.

(22-a)—Ss. 8, 9 (1), (2) — Magistrate not empowered under s. 8 of Act—Procedure—Case to be submitted to District Magistrate and not to his immediate appellate Magistrate.—A second class Magistrate, not empowered to act under s. 8 of the Reformatory Schools Act should, after convicting the accused, submit the case to the District Magistrate for passing sentence under s. 9 (2) of the Act, and not to the joint Magistrate to whom the second class Magistrate may be immediately subordinate. KANUKAYYA v. EMPEROR, 16 Cr. L J. 32 = 26 Ind. Cas. 336.

(23)—Ss. 8, 9 and 11—Power of appellate Court to pass order for detention in a Reformatory School.—An appellate Court is competent to pass an order for detention in a reformatory in supersession of the order for imprisonment, if he has sufficient materials before him on which such an order can be founded. If there is no evidence as to the age of the accused or to show that he is a youthful offender within the terms of the Act, or to indicate the period of detention in the Reformatory which he might be ordered to undergo, he must take evidence within the terms of s. 11 regarding these points before passing the order. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCER v. KOPIL KAHAR, 4 C.W.N 225.

(24)—Ss. 8, 9, 11, 13 and 16—Omission of Magistrate to mention the exact period of detention.—Magistrate to decide age of youthful offender.—Where a Magistrate, who sentenced a youthful offender for six months, and directed that, in lieu of the imprisonment, he should be detained in a Reformatory School, unless he shall attain the age of 18 years at an earlier date, held, that the order directing the detention of the boy in a Reformatory School was not properly made, inasmuch as it had not fixed the exact period. In some cases under the Act, it may not be necessary for the Magistrate, to ascertain the exact age of the boy. So long as he is not over 15, the Magistrate may rightly fix a period of 3 years, or if the boy is not over 11, he may fix a period of 7 years without further inquiry. But if inquiry is necessary in order to fix the period, as it would be when the boy is over 11 and the Magistrate wishes to make the period as long as possible, then the Magistrate must find, as well as he can, the exact age of the boy, and he is not at liberty to leave the decision of the question to Reformatory officials QUEEN-EMPRESS v RAMA, 24 M. 13=1 Weir 882. [F., 2 Bom. Cr. Cas. 57=15 Bom. L.R. 306=14 Cr. L.J. 256=19 Ind. Cas. 512.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1897 (Reformatory Schools)—ctd.

(25)—Ss. 8, 9 and 16—Accused to be sentenced before being sent to Reformatory School.—The language of ss. 8 and 9 of the Reformatory Schools Act shows that a sentence must be passed and then a direction given that instead of undergoing the sentence, the youthful offender shall be sent to a Reformatory School. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KAIDYA HUSSAIN, 1 Bom. L.R. 162. [R., 21 A. 391, F.B.]

(26)—Ss. 8, 9 and 16—Youthful offender—Absence of sentence of imprisonment—Order sending him to Reformatory—Illegality—Order under the Act—No bar to appeal against conviction—Effect of s. 16.—No order sending a youthful offender to the Reformatory School can be passed under Act VIII of 1897, unless a definite sentence of imprisonment has been passed on him. There is nothing in Act VIII of 1897 which deprives a convict of his right of appeal against his conviction. All that is provided by s. 16 of that Act is that, where proceedings on trial are complete up to and including the stage of a sentence of imprisonment, there can be no interference with a subsequent order directing him to be sent to a reformatory. CROWN v. BAKHTAWAR, 34 P.R. 1910, Cr.=8 Ind. Cas. 1166. (18 P.R. 1907, Cr., R.)

(27)—Ss. 8 (2), 11 (1)—Application of Act.—In this case the Sub-divisional Magistrate ordered the accused to furnish security for good behaviour under s. 110, Crim. Pro. Code, and in default to be rigorously imprisoned for one year. The accused appealed to the District Magistrate, who dismissed the appeal, but in his order stated that the Superintendent of the jail had pointed out that the accused prisoner should be confined in a Reformatory, and the District Magistrate added that "a revised warrant should be sent." Accordingly the Sub-divisional Magistrate issued another warrant directing that, instead of undergoing his sentence, the accused should be detained for a period of one year in a Reformatory School. Held that the order was illegal for the following reasons :—(1) The prisoner was 16 years old and was therefore not a youthful offender as defined in the Reformatory Schools Act, not being under the age of 15. (2) That the period of detention shall not be less than three years and the Magistrate ordered detention for one year. (3) The Magistrate had not been specially empowered to exercise the powers under the Act. (4) The accused had not been sentenced to imprisonment within the meaning of s. 8 of the Act. An order for imprisonment in default of furnishing security is not a sentence of imprisonment. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO SU, U.B.R. 1897-1901, Vol. I, 375.

(28)—Ss. 8, 11, 16 and 31—Order under the Act—High Court's power of revision.—The High Court is not debarred from altering or revising an order for detention in a Reformatory School in substitution for transportation or imprisonment, if such order is not properly passed, i.e., if it does not conform to the rules made by the Local Government, under s. 8 of the Act. Where a youthful offender was convicted for stealing a lota from the side of a sleeping man, and where it was admitted that it was a first offence, held, that the accused did not come within the definition of "youthful offenders" and that the case should have been dealt with under s. 31 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAKIMUDDIN, 27 C. 133. [F., 1 L.B.R. 68, 5 M.L.T. 296=9 Cr. L.J. 392=1 Ind. Cas. 807.]

(29)—Ss. 8 and 16—Order for detention in a reformatory in lieu of a sentence of whipping—Power of High Court to deal with such an order passed without authority.—S. 8 of the Reformatory Schools Act permits an order for detention in a Reformatory instead of the offender undergoing a sentence of transportation or imprisonment. Where there is no such sentence except one of whipping, no order for detention in a reformatory could legally be passed, in lieu of the whipping. Where the Magistrate has no authority to order detention in a reformatory, the provisions of s. 16 of the Act do not bar the jurisdiction of the Court of the Judicial Commissioner, acting as a High Court, to alter, on revision, the order of detention. PUTTU v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L.B.R. 1893-1900, 493. (L.B.R. 1893-1900, 441, F.)

(30)—S. 9—See Nos. 22, 22-a, 23, 24, 26, supra.

(31)—Ss. 9 and 16—Reference to District Magistrate—Transfer to Sub-divisional Magistrate—Proper procedure.—Under s. 9 of the Act, the District Magistrate alone has power to pass orders. The Sub-Divisional Magistrate has no jurisdiction to make any such order. He is empowered under s. 8, not under s. 9, of the Act. S. 16 does not prevent the exercise by the High Court of its revisional powers in cases where orders have been passed without jurisdiction. The proper procedure is that the District Magistrate should proceed to dispose of the case under s. 9, sub-s. (2) of the Act. KING-EMPEROR v. NGA PO KYAW, 2 L.B.R. 121.

(32)—S. 10—Enquiry into youthful offender's age—An inquiry must be made into the age of a youthful offender. S. 10 of the Act is inapplicable to the case of an accused who is not a youthful offender within the definition, and even if the accused is a youthful offender, a District Magistrate cannot without an appeal alter the nature of the sentence. EMPEROR v. JAGAN, 15 C.P.L.R. 151.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1897 (Reformatory Schools)—ctd.

(33)—S. 11 — Definition of "youthful offender"—Finding as to age of accused to be recorded before order of detention.—A youthful offender, under the Reformatory Schools Act, is one who is under the age of 15 years. By s. 11 (1) the Court, before directing any youthful offender to be sent to a Reformatory School, must inquire into his age and record a finding, and by s. 11 (2), a similar inquiry and finding must be made and recorded before the offender is sent by the trying Magistrate to the District Magistrate for his orders. The inquiry and finding under s. 11 must be held before the order of detention is made. Merely asking the accused his age and recording his reply is not a compliance with the provisions of s. 11, unless it happens that no further inquiry is possible. CROWN v. PO SEIN, 1 L.B.R. 126.

(34)—S. 11—See Nos. 8, 23, 24, 27, 28, supra.

(35)—Ss. 11 and 13—Rules for detaining a youthful offender in Reformatory School.—In respect to the time of detention of youthful offenders in Reformatory Schools, the Act lays down three rules :—first, the youthful offender must be a boy under the age of 15 years at the date of his conviction ; secondly, the period of detention in the school should not be less than three years ; and, lastly, that the period must not exceed seven years. In order to give effect to these rules, the Magistrate is directed (s. 11) to inquire into the question of age and the age so ascertained must be stated in his order of detention. The effect of the Government Notification regulating the period of detention of youthful offenders is only to fix a minimum of 5 years for all cases in which such a period is legally possible, and it does not prevent the Magistrate from fixing a period short of 5 years, but not short of 3 years, in the case of a boy over 13. QUEEN EMPRESS v. RAMA, 24 M. 13=1 Weir 882.

(36)—S. 13—See Nos. 24, 35, supra.

(37)—S. 16—"Imprisonment," meaning of.—Imprisonment in s. 16 means a legal sentence of imprisonment. When there has been no sentence of imprisonment at all, the High Court may give effect to its finding on that point by declaring the order for substitution void. MAHOMED KASIM v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 1 L.B.R. 42.

(38)—S. 16—Scope of the section—Revisional powers of the High Court.—S. 16 of the Act does not authorise the appellate court or the Court of revision to interfere with the finding of the Magistrate as to the age of a youthful offender, or to alter or modify an order of detention in substitution of imprisonment or transportation. But it does not affect the High Court's jurisdiction, to consider the legality or the propriety of the sentence or of any order other than that mentioned in that section. RADHA KRISHTO BARAT v. GOKULA NUT, 5 C.W.N. 210.

(39)—S. 16—Appellate Court, duty of—Revisional powers.—Under s. 16 of the Act, a Court of appeal is not authorised to alter or reverse, in appeal or revision, any order passed by the lower Court with respect to the age of a youthful offender, or the substitution of an order for detention in a Reformatory School, for transportation or imprisonment. But that section does not relieve an appellate Court of the duty of seeing whether a conviction or sentence passed on a youthful offender is maintainable according to law. RAM SINGH v. KING EMPEROR, 18 P.R. 1907, Cr.=43 P.W.R. 1907 =55 P.L.R. 1908. [R., 12 Cr.L.J. 56=8 Ind. Cas. 1166, 34 P.R. 1910, Cr.=49 P.W.R. 1910.]

(40)—S. 16—Order under the section, alteration of, in appeal or revision.—An order passed by a competent Magistrate relating to a youthful offender, contravening any rules made by the Local Government, though illegal, is yet an order made under the Reformatory Schools Act and cannot be altered in appeal or revision. When the Magistrate finds an accused to be 15 years of age and therefore not a youthful offender under the Reformatory Schools Act, the Act gives him no authority to order his detention in a Reformatory School. The Court of the Judicial Commissioner, as a High Court, is not barred from altering the order of detention passed against accused persons, who are not youthful offenders. S. 16 of the Reformatory Schools Act is a bar only in the case of an order passed by a competent Magistrate as to a youthful offender. QUEEN EMPRESS v. NGA NYAN WUN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 441. (20 A. 158, Diss.; 20 I.A. 165, Appl.)

(41)—S. 16—Appellate or revisional jurisdiction.—S. 16 of the Reformatory Schools Act does not exclude the exercise of appellate or revisional jurisdiction in all cases where a subordinate Court has ordered an offender to be detained in a Reformatory School. The exclusion is limited to the question of determination of the age of a youthful offender. EMPEROR v. AMIR BHIKAN, 6 Bom.L.R. 550.

(42)—S. 16—Substitution of imprisonment for an order of detention in Reformatory Schools by appellate Court—Object of Reformatory.—Under s. 16 of the Act, an appellate Court cannot convert an order of detention in a Reformatory School into one of imprisonment. It is to avoid contamination by association with the inmates of a jail that detention in a Reformatory School has been introduced by the Legislature. Before passing an order for detention of a boy in a Reformatory School, there should be a definite finding as to the age of the boy. EMPRESS v. HARIDAS MUKHERJEE, 3 C.W.N. 576.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1897 (Reformatory Schools)—ctd.

(43)—S. 16—Age of accused—Order for detention in a Reformatory in lieu of imprisonment—Power of High Court to interfere—Magistrate's order to be precise and definite.—Where an accused gave his age as 14 years, and the Magistrate, though apparently having reasons to suspect his statement as being below the mark, accepted it and sentenced him, in lieu of imprisonment, to be detained in a Reformatory until he attained the age of 18 years, held that the Magistrate should not have ordered the accused to be detained in prison until he attained the age of 18. S. 16 of the Reformatory Schools Act clearly debarred the High Court from altering the order passed by the Magistrate with respect to the age of the offender or from substituting an order for detention in a Reformatory School for imprisonment, and that the order of the Magistrate, not being illegal on the face of it or made without jurisdiction, the High Court had no power to interfere with such an order. A sentence or order by a Magistrate must be as precise and definite as possible and should not leave the term of detention to be ascertained by the authorities of the Reformatory School. CROWN v. VALU, 1 L.B.R. 63.

(44)—S. 16—Jurisdiction to interfere with orders under the section.—The exclusion of the exercise of revisional or appellate jurisdiction by s. 16 of Act VIII of 1897, in cases where a Subordinate Court has ordered an offender to be detained in a Reformatory School is limited to two specified matters. The first of these is the age of the youthful offender and the second is the substitution of an order for detention in a Reformatory School for transportation or imprisonment. If such substitution is made in the absence of jurisdiction, or is not made in compliance with the provisions of the Act, the High Court has jurisdiction, both in appeal and in revision, to interfere with the order. QUEEN EMPRESS v. HARI, 21 A. 391, F.B.=A.W.N. 1899, 138. (20 A. 158, 20 A. 159, 20 A. 160, 1 Bom.L.R. 162, 25 C. 333, 21 M. 430, 2 C.W.N. 572, 25 C. 852, R.) [F., 1 L.B.R. 68, 6 Bom. L.R. 550; Rel., 13 Cr.L.J. 44=13 Ind.Cas. 284 =5 S.L.R. 173; R., 3 L.B.R. 30]

(45)—S. 16—Finding of Magistrate as to age of a youthful offender, nature of.—The finding of a Magistrate regarding the age of a youthful offender ordered to be detained in a Reformatory School is final in the sense that it cannot be altered on appeal or in revision. But in case the Magistrate should have made a mistake and understated the age in the order for detention, it is competent to the Local Government, on the motion and report of the commission of visitors or the Board of management to order the removal of the boy, if and when he is found to have attained the age of 18 years. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMA, 24 M. 13=1 Weir 882.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1897 (Reformatory Schools)—ctd.

(46)—S.16—Reformatory—Order of detention improperly passed—High Court, powers of, to interfere—Term of detention, enhancement of.—A High Court has power to interfere in appeal or revision, when an order of detention in a Reformatory is opposed to the rules framed by the Local Government under Act VIII of 1897. If an order for detention in a Reformatory School is not properly passed, that is, if it does not conform to the rules made by the Local Government, the High Court is not debarred by s. 16 of the Act from altering or reversing such order. CROWN v. DAWOOD SAHIB, 1 L B.R. 68 (21 A. 391, 27 C. 133, F.; 25 C. 333, Diss.)

(47)—S. 16—Sentence of imprisonment—Substitution of detention in a reformatory—Alteration of sentence into whipping—Effect—Court's power.—Under S. 16, Reformatory Schools Act, 1897, the Court cannot interfere with an order substituting detention in a reformatory for imprisonment; but that does not preclude the Court from altering the sentence of imprisonment to one of whipping, in which case the order for detention in a reformatory which could not be passed in substitution of a sentence of whipping would fall to the ground. IMPERATOR v. RAJABALI, 5 S.L.R. 173=13 Ind. Cas. 284 =13 Cr. L.J. 44. (21 A. 391, R.)

(48)—S. 16—See Nos. 5, 10, 24, 25, 26, 28, 29, 31, supra.

(49)—Ss. 16 and 8—Powers of High Court.—Where an order for detention in a Reformatory School is not passed in substitution for an order for transportation or imprisonment, but is passed when the person to whom it relates has not been convicted of any offence, held, the High Court is not precluded from dealing with the order. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BILLAR, 20 A. 160=A.W.N. 1897, 231. [R., 21 A. 391, F.B.].

(50)—S. 31—Accused sentenced to whipping—Applicability of.—A boy aged 14 was convicted of causing hurt with a dangerous weapon and was sentenced, under s. 5 of the Whipping Act, to 15 stripes with a light rattan. The question for decision in the case was whether, under s. 31 of the Reformatory Schools Act, the boy could be delivered to his parents on their giving a bond. Held, that the section did not permit a bond being given after a whipping had been inflicted. KING-EMPEROR v. HA TAW, 3 L.B.R. 30.

(51)—S. 31—See HOUSE TRESPASS, 1 L.B. R. 279.

(52)—S. 31—See No. 28, supra.

(53)—S. 47—Youthful offender over 10 years of age.—The notification of the Government of India, dated 30th June, 1887, does not require that a youthful offender over 10 years of age shall be detained in the Reformatory, until he is 18 years of age in every case. It only requires that he should be detained for a period of at least five years, unless he would, before the expiration of that period, attain the age of eighteen. In the latter case his detention should be ordered only for such a shorter period as would bring him up to eighteen years of age. PUBLIC PROSECUTOR v. BANTOO, 1 Weir. 884.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1897 (Reformatory Schools)—cld.

Act X of 1897 (General Clauses).

[SS. 3, 20, 21, 24, AMENDED S. 2 AND SCHEDULE, REP. ACT I OF 1903. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS, REG. I OF 1900, S. 4; IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4.]

See ACT I OF 1868.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1886.

(1)—Doors whether immoveable property—See MAD. ACT V OF 1884, s. 81 (2), 16 M.L.T. 429=15 Cr. L.J. 637=25 Ind. Cas. 837.

(1-a)—See VILLAGE MAGISTRATE, 27 M. 223=2 Weir 208=14 M.L.J. 74=2 Weir 577.

(2)—S.3 (2)—Applicability to Bombay Abkari Act.—The General Clauses Act has no application to the Bombay Abkari Act, passed by the Governor of Bombay in Council. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PHEROJSHAH HORMUSJEE, 1 Bom. L.R. 164. (16 B. 669, F.)

(3)—S. 3 (27)—See EVIDENCE, GENERAL, 7 C.W.N. 635.

(4)—S. 3 (52)—See CRIM. PRO. CODE 1898, s. 164, 32 C. 550=2 Cr.L.J. 405.

(5)—Ss. 3, 21, 29—Government established by law, etc.—What it includes—See ACT I OF 1910, ss. 4 (1), 8, 9, 25, 6 P.W.R. 1913, Cr.

(6)—S. 7—Repeal of statute repealing another statute—Effect.—The repeal of a statute repealing a certain enactment does not revive the repealed enactment. The law on this point, as embodied in s. 7 of Act X of 1897, is the same as in England. DEPUTY LEGAL REMEMBRANCER v. AHMAD ALI, 25 C. 333=2 C.W.N. 11. (12 M. 94, 14 B. 381, R. & Appr.)

(7)—S. 10—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—EXPIRY OF SANCTION AND LIMITATION, 2 Weir 200.

(8)—S. 13—Words in singular number.—The General Clauses Act provides that words in the singular shall include the plural and vice versa; this provision applies only where there is nothing repugnant in the subject or context. BUDHAI SHEIKH v. EMPEROR, 33 C. 292=10 C.W.N. 32=3 Cr.L.J. 126.

(9)—S. 13—See JOINDER OF CHARGES—MISJOINDER OF CHARGES, 10 C.W.N. 32=33 C. 292=3 Cr. L.J. 126.

(9-a)—S. 21—See No. 5, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act X of 1897 (General Clauses)—concluded.

(10)—S. 25—See ACT III OF 1867, s. 4, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 385.

(11)—S. 25—See PENAL CODE, s. 65, L. B. B. 1893—1900, 494.

(12)—S. 25—See SENTENCE — IMPRISONMENT—IMPRISONMENT IN DEFAULT OF PAYMENT OF FINE, ETC., 1 L.B.R. 150.

(13)—S. 26—See ACT XI OF 1878, s. 19 (e), 3 L.B.R. 218, F.B.

(14)—S. 26—See ACT IX OF 1890, ss. 68, 112, 11 C.W.N. 100=4 Cr.L.J. 439=5 C.L.J. 47.

(15)—S. 29—See No. 5, supra.

Act VI of 1898 (Post Offices).

[REP. IN PT. (AS TO BURMA), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 18, S. 2 AM., ACT II OF 1903. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3, IN THE CHITTAGONG HILL TRACTS, REG. I OF 1900, S. 4, IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII of 1898, S. 4.]

See ACT XVII OF 1854.

See ACT XIV OF 1866.

(1)—Alternative charges for offences under the Penal Code and under the Post Office Act—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 236, 10 Ind. Cas. 168=12 Cr. L.J. 224=5 S.L.R. 16.

(2)—Ss. 20 and 61—Obscene advertisements through post cards.—The circulation, by post, of a postcard containing an advertisement regarding a patent medicine in language of an obscene character is an offence under s. 61, Post Office Act. SARAT CHANDRA GHOSE v. KING-EMPEROR, 32 C. 247=2 Cr. L.J. 201. (L.R. 3 Q.B. 360, 3 A. 837, 20 B. 193, Rel.)

(2-a)—S. 52—Misappropriation of Postal money order—Evidence, value of—Mere suspicion, whether sufficient evidence—Oral or documentary evidence to prove statements made in departmental inquiry whether admissible.—Where the only evidence against the accused, charged with misappropriating a Telegraphic money order, is that the postal account contained entries of delivery on dates different from those on which the actual deliveries were made, that merely creates a suspicion and is not sufficient to prove misappropriation. Oral or documentary evidence as to the statements made by a Postman in the course of a departmental inquiry are not admissible in evidence in his absence. In re KUPPILI PRAKASAROW, 16 Cr.L.J. 3=26 Ind. Cas. 307.

(3)—S. 52—See ACT XVII OF 1854, s. 50, 2 Weir 454=1 M.H.C. 83; 3 B.H.C. Cr. 8.

(4)—S. 55—See ACT XIV OF 1866, s. 50, 1 Weir 862.

(5)—S. 61—See No. 2, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts*—continued.

Act VI of 1898 (Post Offices)—continued.

(6)—Ss. 61 and 72—Transmission of obscene article—Prosecution—Complaint — Crim. Pro. Code, s. 4, cl. (h).—A prosecution under s. 61 of the Act, although authorized by the Post-master-General, is illegal, unless such prosecution takes place on a complaint as defined in s. 4, cl. (h) of the Code. EMPEROR v. ROHINI KUMAR SEN, 10 C.W N. 1029=4 Cr. L.J. 170.

(7)—S. 64—Order to send a parcel by value payable post insured—Bona fides of sender—Rule 133.—G ordered the accused to send her a parcel of clothes insured for a certain amount. The accused sent the parcel by value payable post uninsured and certified that it was sent in execution of a bona fide order. The Magistrate convicted him under the Post Office Act under s. 64, Rule 133. Held, that the bona fide order contemplated by Rule 133, is an order to send, without regard to the manner of sending, and that the accused could not be convicted under s. 64 of the Post Office Act. GHULAM RABBANI v. KING-EMPEROR, 6 A.L.J. 481= 9 Cr. L.J. 537=2 Ind. Cas. 228. [R., 33 M. 511=11 Cr. L.J. 215=5 Ind. Cas. 738=20 M. L.J. 402=7 M.L.T. 62.]

(8)—S. 64—V.P. Post—Rule framed under the Act requiring declaration as to existence of bona fide order - Signing false declaration — Whether offence under s 64 — Rules framed under the Act effective as the Act itself.—K sent a copy of his magazine by V.P. post to W, signing a declaration to the effect that the article was sent in execution of a bona fide order received by him ; without which declaration the Post Office would not, by reason of the rule issued under the Post Office Act (VI of 1898), have accepted the article for transmission by V.P. post. The accused was charged under s. 64 of the Act for making a false declaration in violation of the terms of the Act. It was found that the accused had received no order from W and that the declaration signed by him was false. But the Magistrate thought that the prosecution must fail, because the Post Office Act itself, that is, the sections in the body of the Act do not require such a declaration to be made and the rule framed under the Act is not part of the Act. Held that the Magistrate's view was wrong, and that the rules and bye-laws framed for the purpose of carrying out the objects of an Act under the powers conferred by it, shall have effect as if enacted by the Act. An order to send the article cannot be inferred merely because the addressee did not refuse to receive, nor returned by post any of the previous issues sent to him, and did not make a protest even after he received intimation that he had been enrolled as a subscriber and that the issue in question would be sent by V.P. post. But, if the addressee had paid for the issue sent to him by V.P., and continued to receive further issues, say for about an year, and then an issue was sent to him V.P. for the amount of subscription for that year, it might be well that one could infer an order under such circumstances. CROWN PROSECUTOR v. G. KOTHANDARAMIAH, 7 M.L.T. 69.

I.—Imperial Acts*—continued.

Act VI of 1898 (Post Offices)—concluded.

(9)—S. 72—See No. 6, supra.

Act II of 1899 (Stamp).

[AM. IN LOWER BURMA, ACT VI OF 1900, S. 47. SS. 2, 26, 29 (a), 40 (b), 56 (1), SCH. I ; AM., S 23A ADDED, ACT XV OF 1904. S. 2 (19) REP IN PT., SS 11, 29, 30, 32, 35, 40, 41, 51, 69, 74 AM., SCH. I, ARTS. 24, 41, 47, 53 AM., ACT V OF 1906. DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3. DECLARED NOT TO EXTEND TO THE HILL DISTRICT OF ARAKAN, REG. II OF 1901]

See ACCEPTING INSTRUMENT NOT DULY STAMPED.

(1)—Ss. 2 (24), 3, 11, 27, 31, 62, 64, sch. I, arts 33, 58—Instrument of gift or settlement—Execution. QUEEN EMPRESS v. MI NAN THA, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 303.

(2)—Ss. 2 (23), 62 and 63—Sarkhat—Memorandum of account—Receipt—Several items of over Rs. 20—Each item to be stamped—Adhesive stamp to be cancelled.—Where a sarkhat, in which entries of payments and receipts were made from time to time, in order to act as an acknowledgment thereof, showed on one side sums of money advanced, and on the other various sums of money re-paid, including certain items of more than Rs. 20, held, that each item of over Rs. 20 required to be stamped as a receipt. TULSHI RAM v. KING-EMPEROR, 11 A.L.J. 309=35 A. 390=14 Cr. L.J. 392=20 Ind. Cas. 216.

(3)—S. 3—See No. 1, supra.

(4)—S. 11—See No. 1, supra.

(5)—S. 27—See No. 1, supra.

(6)—Ss. 30 and 65—Refusing or neglecting to give a receipt when required to do so.—Where the accused had sent the complainant a stamped and receipted bill for a certain amount, and, on the complainant paying a portion of the bill by cheque, declined to give a receipt for the cheque, held that the accused had failed to comply with the requirements of the law and had been properly convicted under s. 30 of the above Act. JOHANNES, J.N. v QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 378.

(7)—S. 31—See No. 1, supra,

(8)—S. 33—Initiation of criminal proceedings under the Act—Impounding not necessary —Sanction of Collector.—The impounding of a document under s. 33 of the Indian Stamp Act was not requisite to the initiation of proceedings under the Act. The only requisite to a prosecution was the sanction of the Collector or other officer authorized in that behalf. S. R. M. M. PERIANEN CHETTY v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U. B R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 313. (24 W.R. Cr., 1, R.)

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act II of 1899 (Stamp)—continued.

(9)—Ss. 33, 38 (2), 40—Documents produced under search warrants—Disposal of impounded documents.—The words "comes in the performance of his function" in s. 33, sub-s. 1 are sufficiently wide to include documents produced before a Magistrate under a search warrant. Where certain documents had been impounded and forwarded to the Collector under s. 38 (2), held, that the Collector should return them to the impounding officer under s. 40, sub-s. 3 and, when they have been so returned, the latter officer might dispose of them according to law. KING-EMPEROR v. BALU KUPPAYYAN, 25 M. 525 = 2 Weir 670.

(10)—Ss. 35 (b), 42—Stamp and penalty—Admission of receipt—Endorsement.—In applying the proviso (b) of s. 35 of Act II of 1899, the Court should not levy the duty of one anna as well as the penalty of one rupee. When a receipt is admitted under the proviso, it should be endorsed in the manner provided for in s. 42. REFERENCE UNDER S. 57 OF ACT NO. II OF 1899, 24 A. 374 = A.W.N 1902, 72.

(11)—S. 38—See No. 9, supra.

(12)—S. 40—See No. 9, supra.

(13)—Ss. 40 and 70—Fraud—Offence—Procedure.—Where the essential ingredient of the offence is to defraud, it is not necessary nor possible for the Collector to collect any duty until it has been decided in a proper enquiry what was the real value of the property. Hence, if there is fraud, no action need be taken by the Collector under s. 40 before a prosecution is sanctioned under s. 70 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SET YO, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 307. (7 B. 82, 8 C. 259, 12 M. 231, R.)

(14)—S. 42—See No. 10, supra.

(15)—Ss. 43, 62—Offence under s. 62, necessity for intent to evade law—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 556—Magistrate disqualified under, is debarred from interfering in revision to prejudice of accused.—A Collector sanctioned a prosecution under s. 62 of the Stamp Act, after the deficient duty and penalty had been levied by a Civil Court. The Magistrate, who tried the case, discharged the accused on the ground that the object of the accused was not evasion of duty. But the District Magistrate, in revision convicted the accused and sentenced them to pay fine. Held, in a summons case, the accused must be either convicted or acquitted, and the accused having pleaded guilty to the offence, in which intent is not an ingredient, the Magistrate was bound to convict. In consideration of the absence of intent to evade the law, he might have inflicted a merely nominal penalty. Held, further, that the District Magistrate, having as Collector, directed the prosecution of the accused, was not competent to try them. If he was disqualified from trying the case, he was equally disqualified from interfering in revision to the prejudice of the accused. EMPEROR v. NATARAJ AYAR, U.B.R. 1905, Crim. Pro. Code 37 = 2 Cr.L.J. 468. (23 C. 44, U.B.R. 1897—1901, 133, F.)

(16)—S. 62—"Accepting"—"Presenting"—Meaning.—"Accepting" is a technical term and does not apply to the mere taking of a promissory note in one's favour from the debtor. 'Presenting' like 'accepting' is a technical term and is so used in s. 62 of the Act. It would be straining the provisions of s. 61 of the Act to apply them to the demand for payment of a promissory note made through the instrumentality of the Court in a suit. CRIMINAL REVISION CASE NO. 637 OF 1892, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 312. (32 B. 753, 7 M. 71, F.)

(17)—S. 62—"Accepting" meaning of—Held, that, 'accepting' does not mean 'receiving' but 'executing as acceptor.' QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA KWET GYI, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 311. (7 M. 71, R.)

(18)—S. 62—Offence under—Bond—Promissory note.—A document written on a paper, bearing a one anna stamp, whereby the maker promises to pay to the accused or to his order a certain sum of money, which he (the maker), had borrowed from the accused, cannot be treated as a bond, merely because it was attested by witnesses. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PEIN, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 380.

(19)—S. 62—Mere receipt of an unstamped instrument does not constitute abetment of an offence.—The conviction of a person, who merely received a promissory note executed on plain paper, in his favour, of abetment of the offence under s. 62 of the Act is bad in law. The person, who makes an unstamped instrument, and not the person in whose favour it is made, commits the offence and the receiving by the latter of the unstamped instrument made by the former does not constitute abetment of the execution of it. EMPEROR v. RAJLINGAM, G., 1 N.L.R. 163.

(20)—S. 62—Mere receipt of unstamped instrument.—The mere receipt of an unstamped instrument does not constitute the offence of abetment of the execution of the instrument. KING-EMPEROR v. NGA SHWE BWIN, U.B.R. 1904, 2nd Quarter, Stamp I. (7 B. 82, 20 A. 440, U.B.R. 1892—1896, 313, R.)

(21)—S. 62—Accepting instrument not duly stamped—"Accepting" meaning of.—The term "accepting," in s. 62 (1), Act II of 1899, does not mean receiving, but executing, as an acceptor; and the mere fact that a person receives from another a promissory note without the same being duly stamped does not make him guilty under that section. QUEEN-EMPRESS, v. JADU MAL, 4 O C. 168. (20 A. 440, F.)

(22)—S. 62—Arbitration award—Parties signing otherwise than as witnesses—Meaning of—Construction of Statute in favour of subject.—

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act II of 1899 (Stamp)—continued.

A penal Act must be read as favourably as possible to the subject. A dispute was referred to arbitration and an award was passed. The parties to the proceedings signed the award and acted upon it. The award not being stamped, the parties had to pay the duty and penalty. They were then criminally prosecuted. Held that the only person liable to sign the award was the arbitrator, and the other parties who signed it could not be said to have signed it otherwise than as witnesses within the meaning of s. 62 of Act II of 1899. BIRJI PAL SARAN v. KING-EMPEROR, 7 A.L J. 180 = 32 A. 198 = 11 Cr. L J. 52 = 5 Ind. Cas 180.

(23)—S. 62 (b)—Unstamped receipt issued by an unauthorised gomastha.—Where an unstamped receipt was issued by a gomastha of a firm evidencing payment of money to the firm, and the accused, the sole surviving member of the firm, admitted the receipt of the money paid, but there was no proof that the receipt was written or granted by the gomastha in the presence or under the authority of the accused, held, that he could not be convicted of an offence under cl. (b) of s. 62. GOLAM HOSSAIN ARIFFS v. EMPEROR, 8 C.W.N. 378. [F., 13 C. W.N. 188.]

(24)—S. 62 (1) (a)—Entry in creditor's book —Promissory note. — An entry of receipt of money made by a debtor in his creditor's book, with the addicn that the amount borrowed would be paid on a certain date, but to whom it did not appear, is not executing a promissory note without the necessary stamp, for, the entry does not amount to a promissory note. EMPEROR v. GULZARI MAL; EMPEROR v. KALLU MAL, A.W.N. 1903, 174.

(25)—S. 62—See Nos. 1, 2 and 15, supra.

(26)—Ss. 62 (1) (b), 64 (c)—Entry in account book made by debtor. — A money-lender and cloth-seller, being illiterate, kept a register divided into columns, in which his customers used to make or caused to be made entries of the loan taken or purchases made by them. They also noted or caused to be noted in the book the payments made by them. A pleader, who owed him a sum of Rs. 90-2-0, paid this sum, and caused his clerk to enter in the column of remarks in the account book with reference to this payment a note to the effect that the full amount had been repaid. No receipt for money paid was asked for. Held that the money-lender could not be convicted either under s. 62 (1) (b), Act II of 1899, as the entry was not made by the accused, or under s. 64 (c), of the commission of "any other act calculated to deprive the Government of any duty" under the Act. EMPEROR v. KALLU MAL, A.W.N. 1903, 173.

(27)—S. 63—See No. 2, supra.

(28)—S. 64 (a)—Non-disclosure of certain facts, liability for.—R purchased certain property for Rs. 20,000 paying Rs. 1,000 in cash and leaving Rs. 19,000 with the vendors to be drawn upon whenever necessary, but which was never paid. Subsequently R re-transferred the property to the vendors by a deed for Rs. 1,000, making no mention of the Rs 19,000 The Sub-Registrar impounded the document. Held that the real consideration was Rs. 1,000 plus an oral agreement cancelling the liability of the vendors for payment of Rs. 19,000, and that the omission in the sale-deed to make any reference whatever to the unpaid consideration could only have been intended to avoid the question of stamp duty being raised. The vendor therefore committed an offence under s. 64 (a) of the Stamp Act. RAMESHAR DAS v. KING-EMPEROR, 7 A.L.J. 110 = 32 A. 171 = 11 Cr. L J. 204 = 5 Ind. Cas. 697.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act II of 1899 (Stamp)—concluded.

(29)—S. 64—See Nos. 1 and 26, supra.

(30)—S 65—Refusal to deliver a receipt—Money sent by money order—Acknowledgment signed—Second receipt refused—Whether person refusing guilty.—One G sent more than Rs. 20 by money order to B. B signed the money order acknowledgment and handed it over to the Post Office official. G demanded a stamped receipt which B refused to give. Notification No. 785, S.R., dated 17th February, 1899, had exempted postal acknowledgment from being stamped. Held, that the conviction of B was illegal, inasmuch as B, having signed a receipt which was exempt from stamp duty and handed it over to the Post Office which was an agent of G for the purpose, B was not bound to give a second receipt, and his refusal to give a fresh receipt was not a refusal within the meaning of s. 65, Stamp Act. BALMAKUND v. KING-EMPEROR, 9 A.L.J. 97 = 13 Cr. L.J. 122 = 13 Ind. Cas. 778 = 34 A. 192.

(31)—S. 65—See ACT I OF 1879, s. 64, 1 Weir 906 = 2 Weir 326.

(32)—S. 65—See No. 6, supra.

(33)—S. 68—See ACT I OF 1879, s. 67, 1 Weir 907.

(34)—S. 69—See ACT VII OF 1870, s. 34, 24 M. 319 = 1 Weir 725.

(35)—S. 70—See No. 13, supra.

(36)—Sch. I, art. 33—See No. 1, supra.

(37)—Sch. I, art. 53 (c)—Stamp—Receipt for rent—Receipt for money paid out of Court in satisfaction of a decree for rent.—Although a receipt for the rent of an agricultural holding is exempt from a payment of stamp under art. 53 (c) of the Act, a receipt for payment out of Court, of money due under a decree for such rent is not so exempt. EMPEROR v. DUNGHAR, A.W.N. 1908, 272 = 5 A.L J. 747 = 9 Cr.L.J. 37 = 31 A. 36 = 1 Ind Cas. 568.

(38)—Sch. I, art. 58—See No. 1, supra.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1899 (Petroleum).

[S. 5 (1) REP IN PART, ACT XI OF 1901, SCH. III. SO MUCH AS RELATES TO DANGEROUS PETROLEUM AND THE IMPORTATION OF PETROLEUM DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

See ACT XII OF 1886.

(1)—Ss. 1 (3), 11 and 15—Repealed Act XII of 1886, ss. 2 (2), 10 and 15—Notification in Gazette extending repealed Act to Cuttack—New Act not expressly preserving the same—General Clauses Act, ss. 8, 24.—A notification in the Calcutta Gazette extending the operation of the Act XII of 1886 to Cuttack was held to have been preserved under Act VIII of 1899 by the operation of ss. 8 and 24 of the General Clauses Act, although the Act of 1886 itself was repealed and there was no provision in the present Act expressly preserving the notifications issued under the provisions of the repealed Act. PADAN SAHA v. EMPEROR, 7 C.W.N. 658.

(1-a)—S. 11—See No. 1, supra.

(2) Ss. 11, 15 (a)—Transporting at a time more than the maximum quantity of petroleum allowed by law—Liability of principal for acts done by agent or servant—Excise Act (V, B. C. of 1909)—Motor Cars Act (III, B. C. of 1903) —There is nothing in the Indian Petroleum Act, as there is in the Excise Act and in the Motor Cars Act, which makes the principal responsible for the acts of his agents or servants, and nothing can be read into the law which is not to be found in the law. Where one S.B., who was an agent of the petitioner and also of several other persons for the sale of petroleum, transported more than 150 tins, i.e., more than 500 gallons of petroleum at a time, and the petitioner took commission or profit of one pice per tin on every tin sold, but there was no finding that the petitioner knew that more than 150 tins were being transported at one time on his license and that he allowed this to take place with such knowledge: Held that the petitioner was not in any way responsible for his illegal proceeding. GANPAT RAI v. KING-EMPEROR, 17 C.W.N. 207 = 17 C.L.J. 390 = 13 Cr. L.J. 732 = 17 Ind. Cas. 536 = 40 C. 356.

(3)—S. 15—See Nos. 1 and 2, supra.

Act III of 1900 (Prisoners).

[S. 49 (2) (3) (AS TO LOWER BURMA) REP., ACT VI OF 1900, S. 48; S. 29 AMENDED, S. 31 REPEALED ACT I OF 1903; S. 11 AMENDED, ACT IV OF 1908, S. 13.]

See ACT V OF 1871.

See ACT XV OF 1869.

(1)—Ss. 2, 11—See ACT IV OF 1871, 31 C. 1 = 7 C.W.N. 889.

(2)—Ss. 7, 8, 9—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 307, 29 C. 286 = 6 C.W.N. 254.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1900 (Prisoners)—concluded.

(3)—S. 8—See No. 2, supra.

(4)—S. 9—See No. 2, supra.

(5)—S. 11—See No. 1, supra.

(6)—S. 40—Scope—Accused in British territory being prisoner in Native State.—The High Court of Bombay refused to address a letter to the Government of Bombay, under s. 40 of Act III of 1900, requesting them to ask the Kolhapur Durbar to permit a prisoner, who was in prison in that State, to come out of jail to answer charges in a criminal proceeding pending against him in British territory. EMPEROR v. RAJASAHEB IMAMSAHEB, 7 Bom. L. R. 566 = 2 Cr. L. J. 504.

Act V of 1900 (Whipping).

[REP., ACT IV OF 1909.]

See ACT VI OF 1864.

See WHIPPING.

(1)—S. 3—Accused not being juvenile offender—Whipping—Illegal.—Under s. 3 of the Whipping Act, juvenile offenders are liable to whipping for attempts to commit offences not punishable with death under the Penal Code or any other law. Therefore, a sentence of whipping for an attempt to commit an offence when the accused is not a juvenile offender is illegal. KING-EMPEROR v. NGA PO, 2 L.B.R. 123.

Act XV of 1903 (Extradition).

(1)—S. 3—Bail, High Court if may order.—As regards allowing bail to a prisoner, against whom proceedings are pending under the Extradition Act of 1903, the High Court has the fullest discretion, having regard to the provisions relating to bail in the Crim. Pro. Code, by which the matter must be regulated. RUDOLF STALLMAN v. EMPEROR, 15 C.W.N. 736 = 12 Cr. L.J. 358 = 10 Ind. Cas. 958.

(2)—Ss 3 and 4—Proceeding under, if may be quashed by the High Court—High Courts Act (24 and 25 Vict., c. 104), s. 15—Magistrate's jurisdiction, if may be questioned.—The Magistrate, who is authorized to hold an enquiry under the Extradition Act of 1903, is not subject to the appellate jurisdiction of the High Court. When, therefore, a person, against whom proceedings under S. 3 of the Act were pending in the Court of the District Magistrate of Alipur, moved the High Court for quashing the proceedings, on the ground that the Magistrate had no jurisdiction in the matter, and that there was no legal evidence before him to justify the detention of the prisoner:—Held that the High Court would not interfere under s. 15 of the Charter Act. RUDOLF STALLMAN v. KING-EMPEROR, 15 C.W.N. 737 = 38 C. 547 = 10 Ind. Cas. 618 = 12 Cr. L.J. 322. [R., 27 M.L.J. 227 = 16 M.L.T. 128; D., 39 C. 164 = 14 C.L.J. 375 = 15 C.W.N. 1053 = 12 Cr. L.J. 505 = 12 Ind. Cas. 273.]

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XV of 1903 (Extradition)—continued.

(3)—Ss. 3. 4 (1), 11, 14, 15—If excludes jurisdiction of High Court in habeas corpus—See HABEAS CORPUS, 15 C.W.N. 1053 = 14 C.L.J. 375 = 12 Cr. L. J. 505.

(4)—S. 4—See Nos. 2 and 3, supra.

(5)—S. 7—Power of Political Agent—Incompetency of Chief Court to interfere—Revision—Crim. Pro. Code, Act V of 1898, s 439.—Held, that the Chief Court has no power to interfere in respect of a warrant issued by a Political Agent of a Native State under s. 7 of Act XV of 1903, on the grounds either (1) that there is no prima facie case against the petitioner or (2) that the circumstances, under which that officer was originally moved, do not justify him to exercise his power under the said section. GIYAN CHAND v. CROWN. 36 P.W.R. 1908, Cr = 9 Cr.L J. 3 = 3 P.R. 1909, Cr.

(6)—S. 7 — Political Agent — Warrant — Accused surrendering—Certificate by Political Agent for trial of accused in British India—Recalling the certificate and allowing the Native State to try the accused—Practice and procedure—See CRIM PRO CODE, 1898, s. 188, 14 Bom. L R. 377 = 15 Ind. Cas. 809 = 13 Cr. L.J. 537 = 1 Bom. Cr. C. 140.

(7)—Ss 7 and 8—Magistrate's jurisdiction to hold to bail the person arrested to appear before a tribunal in a Foreign State—Neither Code of Criminal Procedure nor any provision in the Extradition Act authorizes a Magistrate to hold a person to bail to appear before a tribunal in a State to which the Act applies. The Magistrate could bind over the prisoner to appear before himself, and then, when the prisoner had surrendered to his bail, after receiving the warrant from the Political Agent for the State, could proceed to execute it under S. 7, cl. (2), or, if the warrant had been duly endorsed by the Political Agent under s. 8(1) could bind the prisoner over to appear at the time and place indicated in the warrant. In this case, the warrant had not been so endorsed by the Political Agent. BALTHASAR v. EMPEROR, 33 C. 1032 = 4 Cr. L J. 366.

(8)—Ss. 7, 10 15—High Court—Jurisdiction—Propriety of warrant — Warrant issued without evidence—No report to political Agent—Inquiry without warrant issued by Political Agent—Procedure unknown to Extradition Act.—Notwithstanding that s. 15 of the Extradition Act, 1903, ousts the jurisdiction of the High Court to inquire into the propriety of a warrant issued under Chap III of the Act, yet, where it is sought to justify the order of a Magistrate under an authority supposed to be derived from the law but which order was, in fact, made without jurisdiction, it must be assumed that the Magistrate has acted in his general jurisdiction and as such his order is open to revision by the High Court at the instance of the party whose liberty is affected by it. (7 Bom. L R 463, 2 Cr L.J 439, 21 P.R. 1886, Cr., Rel.) The Sub-Inspector of a Police station in British India sent an inquiry-slip through the Sub Divisional Officer of Madhubani to the Sub Divisional Officer of Hanumannagar in Nepal territory, inquiring if a certain person (Gulli Sahu) was wanted by the Nepal authorities in connection with a murder case. The Sub-Divisional officer of H. replied that he was and asked for his arrest, promising to send proof of criminality and nationality. The Sub Divisional Magistrate of Madhubani caused the person to be arrested and released him on bail. With the evidence of criminality and nationality was received a request for the arrest of another person, who also was arrested and released on bail. After examining witnesses for the prosecution and the defence, the Sub-Divisional Magistrate directed the surrender of both the accused to the Nepal authorities: Held, on a reference by the Sessions Judge, that the order of the Magistrate was bad, firstly, because he issued the warrant at least in the case of Gulli Sahu on mere information without any evidence, contrary to the provision of cl. (1), s. 10 of the Extradition Act, 1903; secondly because he did not report the issue of the warrants to the Political Agent in Nepal, as he ought to have done under cl. (2) of the same section; thirdly, because he made an inquiry into the case without a warrant or warrants issued by the Political Agent in or for the Nepal State as required by s. 7 of the Act; and fourthly, because he ordered the surrender of the accused on a procedure unknown to the Extradition Act. EMPEROR v. GULLI SAHU, 14 Cr. L.J. 673 = 21 Ind. Cas. 993.

(9)—Ss. 7, 15— Preliminary enquiry by Magistrate—Warrant by Political Agent—High Court, jurisdiction of.—Per Russel, J.—In all cases where enquiries are held by Magistrates with a view of extraditing accused persons, it would be desirable that the accused should, if possible, be present thereat. S. 15 of Act XV of 1903 ousts the jurisdiction of the High Court to enquire into the propriety of a warrant, but leaves open the question of the High Court's power to intefere with a Magistrate's action, if it was proved that such action was consquent upon a warrant issued by a Political Agent which was plainly illegal. Per Aston, J.—There is no provision in Act XV of 1903, or in the Code of Criminal Procedure or in any other law, making an enquiry by a competent British Court in British India into the truth of the accusation, whether, in the presence of the accused or otherwise a condition precedent to the issue and execution of the warrant of a Political Agent under s. 7 of Act XV of 1903. EMPEROR v. HUSEIN ALLY NIAZALLY, 7 Bom. L.R. 463 = 2 Cr L J. 439. [F., 41 C. 400 = 18 C.W.N. 869 = 14 Cr. L.J. 673 = 21 Ind. Cas. 993.]

(9-a)—Ss. 7, 15—Surrender of fugitive criminal to State other than Foreign State—Execution by District Magistrate of warrant issued by

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act XV of 1903 (Extradition)—concluded.

Political Agent if a judicial act—Jurisdiction of High Court—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 491.—Where a warrant is issued by a Political Agent under s. 7, Act XV of 1903, its execution by the District Magistrate in accordance with the Act is an executive act, and the High Court cannot interfere in revision with such execution. The power of the Court to interfere otherwise than by way of revision, e.g., under s. 491, Crim. Pro. Code, is untouched by this decision, GULLI SAHU v. EMPEROR, 19 C.W.N. 221.

(10)—S. 8--Warrant issued by Political Agent, endorsement in—Jurisdiction of Magistrate to release arrested person on bail, where no such endorsement —Where a person was arrested upon a warrant issued by a Political Agent, under the Indian Extradition Act, and was placed before a Magistrate, and such Magistrate passed an order releasing him on bail and directing him to appear before the Political Agent on a certain date, although there was no endorsement on the warrant, giving the Magistrate power to pass such an order. Held, that in the absence of such an endorsement under s. 8 of the Act, the Magistrate had no authority to pass such an order. RAJ KUMAR DUTT v. TOTHAL SIJO, 7 C L.J. 171=12 C.W N. 602=7 Cr. L.J. 198.

(11)—S. 8—See No. 7, supra.

(12)—S 10—Scope of section.—Under s. 10 of the Act, jurisdiction is distinctly conferred on the Magistrates in British India to make preliminary enquiries and to take evidence on the information given or complaint laid in regard to offences alleged to have been committed by Native Indian or British Subjects of His Majesty, within and beyond the limits of British India, not being in a Foreign State, as defined in that Act and to order warrant to issue for the arrest of such accused persons. EMPEROR v. MAHAMAD BUKSH KARIM BUKSH, 8 Bom. L. R. 507=4 Cr. L. J. 49.

(13)—S. 10—See No. 8, supra.

(14)—S. 11—See No. 3, supra.

(15)—S. 14—See No. 3, supra.

(16)—S. 15—See Nos. 3, 8, 9 and 9-a, supra.

(17)—S. 19 (c)—See ST. 44 AND 45, VICT., c. 49, s. 13. 8 M.L.T. 352=8 Ind. Cas. 301=11 Cr. L.J. 622=1910 M.W.N. 568.

Act III of 1907 (Provincial Insolvency).

(1)—S. 43—Bad faith of a debtor. Judge's power to take cognizance of—Act of bad faith, effect of.—Under s. 43 of the Provincial Insolvency Act, a Judge can take cognizance of the bad faith of a debtor at any time, whether before or after the making of the order of adjudication, although it may be that the Court has no power to refuse to make an order of adjudication merely because an act of bad faith is proved. NANHE MAL v. KING-EMPEROR, THROUGH RAGHUBIR PRASAD, 17 O.C. 138. (13 O.C. 94, 15 C.W.N. 213, D.)

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act III of 1907 (Provincial Insolvency)—cld.

(2)—S. 46 (1)—Additional Judge—Whether subordinate to District Court—Appeal—Order convicting the insolvent—Civil appeal—Practice—Interference with order in appeal —Held (by Richards, C. J., and Banerji, J., Knox, J., dissenting) that a Court of an Additional District Judge is not a Court subordinate to the District Court within the meaning of s. 46 (1) of the Provincial Insolvency Act and an appeal from the order of the Additional Judge lies to the High Court and not to the District Court. (34 A. 382, F.) Held by the Full Bench that an appeal from an order of an Additional Judge convicting the insolvent of concealing his account books is a Civil appeal. Where an insolvent knew that an enquiry was being made as to whether he had concealed his account books and he did not show to the Court that he had not done so and the Court convicted him, held that the High Court will not interfere in appeal, even though no proper charge had been made against him. CHIRANJI LAL v. KING-EMPEROR, 12 A.L.J. 1105=36 A. 576=15 Cr. L.J. 658=25 Ind. Cas. 986 F.B. (19 C.L.J. 430, 7 A.L.J. 602, R.)

Act V of 1908 (Code of Civil Procedure).

[S. 120 (2) REP., ACT III OF 1909, FROM 1ST JANY., 1910. SOME LOCAL MODIFICATIONS IN FORMER CODES, WHICH ARE TO BE READ INTO THE PRESENT CODE BY VIRTUE OF S. 158 OF THE LATTER:—AJMERE, REG. I OF 1877, S. 28; BOMBAY PRESIDENCY, BOM. ACT IV OF 1903, S. 10 (2); CENTRAL PROVINCES, ACT XX OF 1875. SS. 11, 12 (ADDED BY ACT II OF 1879, S. 2); COORG, REG. I OF 1901, SS. 11, 12; LOWER BURMA, ACT VI OF 1900, S. 16 (3); N.-W.FRONTIER PROVINCE, REG. VII OF 1901, SS. 46, 78. 84 (3); OUDH, ACT XVIII OF 1876, SS. 19, 20, 22; PUNJAB, ACT XVIII OF 1884, SS. 68. 70 (3), (INS., ACT XXV OF 1899, SS. 5, 6); SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. V OF 1893, S. 10.]

See ACT XIV OF 1882.

(1)—S. 11—See MAINTENANCE, 32 C. 479=13 C.W.N. 150.

(2)—S. 114, O. XLVII, r. 1—High Court's power to grant leave to appeal to Privy Council against order under cl. 10 of Letters Patent—Order granting leave whether may be reviewed at instance of Public Prosecutor—See LETTERS PATENT—LETTERS PATENT, 1865 — CALCUTTA, cls. 10, 39, 15 Cr. L.J. 52=22 Ind. Cas. 324=41 C. 734.

(3)—S. 115—Interference in revision when its effect will be to perpetuate wrong order—Dismissal for default—Restoration—Revision —See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 195, 15 Cr. L. J. 71=22 Ind. Cas. 423.

(4)—S. 115—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 476, 7 S.L.R, 187=15 Cr. L.J. 541=24 Ind. Cas. 949.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act V of 1908 (Code of Civil Procedure)—cld.

(5)—S. 115—Small Cause Court directing prosecution of a person under s. 476, Crim. Pro. Code—Revision—Powers of High Court—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss 476, 435, 17 O.C. 25 = 15 Cr. L.J. 217 = 22 Ind. Cas. 1001.

(6)—S. 115—Order passed by Civil or Revenue Court under s. 476, Crim. Pro. Code—Revision—Jurisdiction of High Court—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 476, 439, 17 C.L J. 245 = 17 C. W.N. 647 = 19 Ind. Cas. 197 = 14 Cr. L.J. 197 = 40 C. 477, F.B.

(7)—S. 115—See PROSECUTION, 8 A.L.J. 537 = 12 Cr. L.J. 432.

(8)—S. 115—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE — AUTHORITIES COMPETENT TO GRANT SANCTION, ETC., 13 C.W.N. 1038 = 37 C. 13.

(9)—Ss. 122, 151, O. XVIII, r. 5—Witness refusing to thumb-mark his deposition—Powers of Court—See PENAL CODE, s. 180, 8 P.R. 1912 Cr., = 37 P.W.R 1912. Cr., = 245 P.L.R. 1912 = 16 Ind. Cas 521 = 13 Cr. L.J. 713.

(10)—S. 148—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 195, cl. (6), 1914 M.W.N. 347 = 15 Cr.L.J. 359 = 23 Ind. Cas. 727.

(11)—S. 151—See No. 9, supra.

(12)—O. XVIII, r. 5—See No. 9, supra.

(13)—O. XXI. r. 24—See PENAL CODE, s. 186, 14 C.W.N. 282 = 37 C. 122.

(14)—O. XXI, r. 25—Warrant issued by Civil Court to bailiff—Effect of endorsement by Nazir—Execution by peon beyond time fixed by Nazir but within date when warrant returnable—Peon's custody if lawful—Rescuing from such custody if offence—See PENAL CODE, s. 147, 17 C.W.N. 941 = 14 Cr. L.J. 274 = 19 Ind. Cas. 706.

(15)—O. XXI, r. 52—Issue of attachment under—Property seized by Police—Effect of attachment — See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 87, 88, 435, 439, 512, 6 L.B.R. 57 = 13 Cr. L.J. 568 = 15 Ind. Cas. 984 = 5 Bur.L T. 113.

(16)—O. XLVII, r. 1—See No. 2, supra.

Act VI of 1908 (Explosives).

(1)—Ss. 3, 5—See PENAL CODE, s. 302, 7 M.L.T. 314 = 6 Ind. Cas. 51 = 11 Cr. L.J. 322 = 20 M.L.J. 657.

(2)—Ss. 4 (b), 7—S. 399, I.P.C.—Magistrate—Cognizance of offence under s. 399, I.P.C.—Facts disclosing also an offence under s. 4 (b), Explosives Act (VI of 1908) — Jurisdiction—Scope of s. 399, I.P.C., and s. 4 (b), Act VI of 1908—Distinction — See JURISDICTION — GENERAL, 39 C. 119 = 15 Ind. Cas. 65 = 13 Cr. L.J. 433.

(3)—S. 5—Bomb found in joint family house — Presumption—Liability of members—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 154, 167, 172, 13 Cr. L.J. 65 = 16 C.W.N. 145 = 13 Ind. Cas. 721.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1908 (Explosives)—concluded.

(4)—S. 5—See No. 1, supra.

(5)—S. 7—See No. 2, supra.

Act VII of 1908 (Newspapers, Incitements to Offences).

(1)—'Incitement,' meaning of, need not be direct—Liability of newspaper, how to construe—Printing Press, confiscation of.—Under Act VII of 1908, no question as to the criminality of any 'person' arises and there need not necessarily be any 'direct' incitement to murder or any other act of violence. Nor need the incitement be addressed to any particular person or persons. The only question is, whether the newspaper contains any incitement to murder or to any offence under the Explosive Substances Act, 1908, or to any act of violence, i.e., whether the article in question is caculated directly or indirectly to move to action, to stir up, to stimulate, to instigate or to encourage to murder or acts of violence. The word "incitement" bears the plain dictionary meaning. Per Ryves, J.—There can be no hard and fast canon to decide what words or whether a given set of words constitute an "incitement." The article must be read as a whole and read, as far as possible, in the sense in which it was read by that section of the public to whom it was addressed, bearing in mind the occasion and place of its publication and the class or status of persons who are likely to be affected by it. GIRIJA SUNDAR CHUCKERBUTTY v. EMPEROR, 36 C. 405 = 13 C.W.N 672 = 9 C.L. J. 143 = 9 Cr. L.J. 545 = 2 Ind. Cas. 285.

(2)—S. 3—Order—Forfeiture of press.—S. 3 of the Newspaper (Incitement to Offences) Act 1908, provides for the making of a conditional order, declaring the printing press used for the purpose of printing or publishing the offending newspaper to be forfeited. The section refers to the whole of the press, and no order could be made under it limited only to such portions of the press as were employed in printing the offending newspaper. In re DHONDO KASHI NATH PHADKE, 12 Bom.L.R. 120.

Act IX of 1908 (Limitation).

[AMENDED IN BRITISH BELOOCHISTAN, REG. IX OF 1896, S 95, AND SEE ACT X OF 1897, S. 8.]

See ACT XV OF 1877.

(1)—Not applicable to applications under s. 195 (6), Crim. Pro. Code—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 195 (6), 8 S.L.R. 49 = 15 Cr. L. J. 654 = 25 Ind. Cas. 982.

(2)—S. 5—Applicability—See ACT I OF 1910 s. 17, 126 P.L.R. 1914 = 15 Cr. L.J. 222 = 32 P. W.R. 1914, Cr. = 22 Ind. Cas. 1006 = 16 P.R. 1914, Cr., S.B.

(3)—S. 12—See APPEAL—GENERAL, U.B. R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 129, 130.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1908 (Limitation)—concluded.

(4)—S. 28, art. 47—See DISPUTE AS TO POSSESSION OF IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY, 9 M.L.T. 91.

(5)—Art. 47—See No. 4, supra.

Act XIV of 1908 (Criminal Law Amendment).

(1)—Barristers—Right of exclusive audience—Special Tribunal.—Barristers have the right of exclusive audience before the Special Tribunal formed to try cases sent up for trial to the High Court under the provisions of the Criminal Procedure Amendment Act, 1908. In re BARRISTERS AND VAKILS, 13 C.W.N. 605.

(2)—Trial under, subject to cl. 26, Letters Patent—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, Ss. 25, 26, 114, ill. (b), 133, 157, 1912 M.W.N. 549=12 M L.T. 1=13 Cr. L.J. 352=14 Ind. Cas. 896=35 M. 397.

(3)—Procedure under—Its object and applicability—See PENAL CODE, s. 121-A, 15 C.W.N. 593=10 Ind. Cas. 582=12 Cr. L.J. 286.

(4)—Ss. 12, 14 (1)—High Court's power to grant bail to accused tried under the Act—Crim. Pro. Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 498, 497—Discretion, exercise of—Cognizance, taking, what amounts to.—The power of the High Court to grant bail to an accused person under s. 498, Crim. Pro. Code, is untouched by the provisions of the Criminal Law Amendment Act (XIV of 1908). But, in exercising its discretionary power under that section, the High Court will take into consideration the terms of s. 12 of the Act, whereby the powers of Courts; other than the High Court and the Sessions Court, of releasing the accused on bail, given by s. 497, Crim. Pro. Code, have been made subject to the proviso that no person remanded to custody in the course of proceedings under the Act shall be released on bail, if there appear to be sufficient grounds for enquiry into his guilt. Taking cognizance of an offence does not involve any formal action or indeed any action of any kind, but occurs as soon as a Magistrate, as such, applies his mind to the suspected commission of the offence. SOURINDRA MOHAN CHUCKERBUTTY v. EMPEROR, 14 C W.N 512=6 Ind. Cas. 8=37 C. 412=11 Cr. L.J. 217. [R., 37 C. 439=14 C.W.N. 516=11 Cr. L J. 219=6 Ind. Cas. 10; D, 13 Cr. L.J. 433=39 C. 119=15 Ind. Cas. 65.]

(5)—S. 14 (1)—Sessions Judge's power to grant bail—Crim. Pro. Code (Act V of 1898), s. 498—Sessions Court, superior to District Magistrate—District Magistrate's duty to send records to Sessions Judge when called for.—Where the provisions of Part I of the Criminal Law Amendment Act have been applied to proceedings before a Magistrate in respect of an offence, the Sessions Judge ceases to have jurisdiction to grant bail under s. 498, Crim. Pro. Code, the exercise of such jurisdiction being inconsistent with the special procedure prescribed in the said Part. The proper Court to apply to for bail in such a case is the High Court, whose power to admit to bail is not affected by the Act. The District Magistrate acted improperly in not sending the records to the Sessions Judge, when he called for them. EMPEROR v. LALIT KUMAR CHATTERJEE, 14 C.W.N. 516=37 C. 439=11 Cr. L J. 219. (14 C.W.N. 516, R.)

(6)—S. 14 (1)—See No. 4, supra.

Act III of 1909 (Presidency Towns Insolvency Act).

(1)—Ss. 17, 103—Adjudged insolvent—"Suit or other legal proceedings" against the insolvent—Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860), s. 421—Fraudulent transfer of property—Magistrate's jurisdiction to try the offence.—M applied to the Insolvent Debtors Court at Bombay for relief under the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act, 1909, and was adjudicated an insolvent the same day. Ten days latter, a creditor of his filed a complaint in the Magistrate's Court, against him for an offence under S. 421, Penal Code, and against two others for abetment of the offence. M contended that the Magistrate's jurisdiction to entertain the complaint under s. 421 was excluded by the Insolvency Act, 1909, and that only the Insolvency Court at Bombay, had jurisdiction to entertain the complaint: Held, that the Magistrate's jurisdiction to try an adjudged insolvent for an offence under s. 421, Penal Code, was not taken away by the Insolvency Act, 1909. The expression "or other legal proceedings" in s. 17 of the Insolvency Act, 1909, following as it does the word "suit," a word of more limited application must be construed on the principle of ejusdem generis. Where the Insolvency Act, 1909, creates an offence, it is the Insolvency Court which has jurisdiction as to it. But as to offences under the Indian Penal Code, the ordinary jurisdiction of the criminal courts cannot be held to be excluded, unless expressly or by necessary implication the Act repeals the Code for the purposes of those offences. S. 103 of the Act does not substantially interfere with s. 421 of the Code. As its essential ingredient shows, it is more or less a new offence, created by the Act in addition to the offence under the Code. One statute may be impliedly repealed by a subsequent statute necessarily incosistent with it; but the inconsistency must be so great that they cannot both be to their full extent obeyed. EMPEROR v. MULSHANKAR HARINAND BHAT, 12 Bom. L.R. 750, Cr.=7 Ind. Cas. 963=11 Cr. L J. 548.

(2)—S. 103—Offence under—Presidency Magistrate—No jurisdiction to try.—A Presidency Magistrate has no jurisdiction to try a person accused of an offence under s. 103 of the Presidency Towns Insolvency Act. The offence is created by the Act and the Insolvency Court is constituted into a special tribunal to try that offence. LAKSHMI NARASAYYA v. NARASIMHACHARI, 25 M L J. 577 = 1913 M. W.N. 1010 = 14 Cr. L.J. 637 = 21 Ind. Cas. 683.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1909 (Presidency Towns Insolvency Act)—concluded.

(3)—S. 103—See No. 1, supra.

Act IV of 1909 (Whipping).

See ACT VI OF 1864.

See WHIPPING.

(1)—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 565, 12 Bom. L.R 901 = 8 Ind. Cas. 623.

(2)—See HABITUAL OFFENDER, 12 Bom. L.R. 901 = 8 Ind. Cas. 623.

(3)—Ss 3, 4, 5—Abetment—Abbettor whether punishable with whipping—Ss. 40, 41, Penal Code—Meaning of 'Special laws'—Scope and construction of Whipping Act.—The special laws contemplated in ss. 40 and 41 of the Penal Code are only laws, such as the Excise, Opium and Cattle Trespass Acts, creating fresh offences, that is, laws making punishable certain things which are not already punishable under the general Penal Code. The Whipping Act is not a special law in this sense; it creates no fresh offences, but merely provides a supplementary or alternative form of punishment for offences which are already punishable primarily under the Penal Code or (in the case or juvenile offenders) other enactments. Persons convicted of abetment of theft or abetment of any of the other offences mentioned in s. 3 of the Whipping Act, 1909, are not liable to the punishment of whipping. As the Whipping Act is a highly penal enactment, it must be construed in the sense most favourable to the subject. KING EMPEROR v. PO HAN, 7 L B. R. 63 = 22 Ind. Cas 147 = 15 Cr.L.J. 3 = 7 Bur. L.T. 99.

(4)—S. 4—See No. 3, supra.

(5)—S. 5—Finding as to age final—Sentence of whipping inadequate but carried out—Other punishment, whether can be awarded.—The finding of a Magistrate as to the age of the accused is final under s. 5 (Explanation) of the Whipping Act. Where the sentence of whipping has been carried out, no other punishment can be awarded, even if the sentence was inadequate. EMPEROR v. PO BA, 15 Cr.L.J. 538 = 24 Ind. Cas. 946.

(6)—S. 5—See No. 3, supra,

Act I of 1910 (Press).

(1)—S. 3. Printing Press—Deposit—Failure to make the deposit—Period of lodging security not expressed—Reasonable time.—S. 3, sub-s. 2 of the Press Act, makes no provision for the specification of any time within which the deposits required has to be made. On the 13th September, 1912, the Government of Bombay issued to the applicant a notice calling upon him under s. 3, sub s. 2 of the Act, to deposit with the District Magistrate security to the amount of Rs. 3,000. This notice was served upon the applicant on the 28th which was a Saturday. On the 30th the applicant forwarded by post letters to Government and the District Magistrate stating that he had closed the press. On the 2nd October, the applicant sold the press; and the next day had his declaration in respect of the press cancelled On the 5th October proceedings were taken against the applicant under s. 23 (1) of the Act, for keeping a press without having made a deposit. He was convicted of the offence. On appeal:—Held, (1) that, as no limit of time was given to the applicant within which to make the deposit ordered, the notice under S. 3 of the Act, must be construed as meaning that the deposit ordered should be made within a reasonable time. (2) That, under the circumstances of the case, the interval which elapsed between the 28th September and 3rd October could not be regarded as an unreasonable time. EMPEROR v. FULCHAND BAPUJI SHAH, 15 Bom, L R. 580 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 92 = 14 Cr. L.J. 448 = 20 Ind. Cas. 608 = 37 B. 555.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1910 (Press)—continued.

(2)—Ss. 3, 5, 23 (1)—Order asking for security—Exemption from security—Cancelment of exemption—Press Act (XXV of 1867), ss. 4, 5. —The accused, the proprietor of a printing press and the printer of a newspaper, in making declarations under ss. 4 and 5 of Act XXV of 1867, was exempted by the Magistrate from giving any security under s. 3, cl. (1) of Act I of 1910. Later on, the Magistrate rescinded the order and called upon the accused to furnish security in respect of the newspaper The accused thereupon did not any more print the newspaper and did not furnish the security demanded. He, however, continue to use the press for other work. He was for such user convicted under s. 23, cl. (1) of the Press Act, 1910. The accused having applied in revision: Held, that the conviction could not be upheld; for cl. (1) of s. 23 only covered the disobedience of an order under s. 3 or s. 5, of the Press Act, 1910; and that the order disobeyed was not such an order. EMPEROR v. PANDURANG BALKRISHNA PATHAK, 16 Bom. L.R. 87 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 186 = 15 Cr. L J. 297 = 23 Ind. Cas 505.

(3)—Ss. 4 (Exp. II), 6, 17, 19—Question to be decided—Articles of which the result is not to allay excitement, but to stir up fresh trouble —Vernacular Press—Government to determine how far real danger arises from such articles—Court's power to interfere—Application for interference to be rejected or accepted as a whole. —Under s. 19 of the Press Act, the question before the Chief Court would be, whether the Government, in view of the results which are likely to follow in India from violent agitation in the Vernacular Press, is fairly entitled to take exception to writings in the Vernacular newspapers in India, of which the result is not to allay excitement but to stir up fresh trouble. Where it appears impossible for the Chief Court to say that the Local Government, with which the responsibility rests for determining how far real danger arises from articles of the kind in question, has acted wrongly in taking those articles as ground for issuing orders of forfeiture, it will not set aside the order under s. 19 of the Act. Expressions of loyalty used by the paper in previous issues are not relevant as an excuse. According to the terms of s. 19 of the Press Act it is not open to the Chief Court, even if it should desire to do so, to do anything more than either reject the application or set aside the order of forfeiture as a whole. The Court can make no discrimination between the forfeiture of security and the additional forfeiture of the Press which is permitted by the terms of s. 9. GHULAM QADIR KHAN v. EMPEROR, 211 P.L.R. 1914 = 15 Cr. L.J. 493 = 24 Ind. Cas. 581 = 37 P.W. R. 1914, Cr. = 28 P.R. 1914, Cr.

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1910 (Press)—continued.

(4)—Ss. 4 (1), 8, 9, 25—Ss. 3 and 5 of Act XXV of 1867—X of 1897, s. 3 (21) and (29)—Notice when need not contain specific objectionable words—No right to show cause against notice under s. 9 (2) of Act I of 1910—Truth of allegations immaterial—Government established by law in British India, &c., defined—Forfeiture of security under S. 8 of the Act.—A notice issued under S. 9, Press Act (I of 1910), is not defective, simply because it does not contain the specification of the words alleged to be objectionable within the terms of s. 4 (1) (c) of the said Act, if full particulars as to the identification of the objectionable letter, communication or article in a newspaper are given, as the letter, communication or article is to be considered as a whole. The question whether the objectionable allegations made therein are true or false is immaterial in the proceedings under s. 17 of the said Act. All that the Court is to decide is whether the passages objected to are of the nature specified in s. 4 (1) of the Act. Under s. 3 (21) and (29) of Act X of 1897, the words "Government established by law in British India or the administration of justice in British India" do not apply only to the Supreme Government of India, but are equally applicable to Local Governments such as the Government of the N.W. Frontier Province. After the expiry of ten days from the date of issue of the notice under s. 9 (1) of the said Press Act, the declaration made by the Publisher of the Newspaper under s. 5 of Act XXV of 1867 becomes annulled, whether it is served or not within those ten days, as the Act does not provide for an opportunity being given to the Publisher for showing cause against the said notice. KARAM CHAND v. CROWN, 6 P. W.R. 1913, Cr = 18 Ind. Cas. 347 = 14 Cr. L.J. 59 = 37 P.L.R. 1913 = 14 P.R. 1913, Cr., F.B. [R., 36 P.W.R. 1914, Cr. = 210 P.L.R. 1914 = 15 Cr. L.J. 490 = 24 Ind. Cas. 578.]

(5)—Ss. 4, 12, 17, 19, 22—Whether mandatory or directory for Local Government to state grounds of opinion—Declaration of forfeiture to be conclusive evidence of forfeiture—Declaration illegal—High Court cannot question legality of forfeiture, High Court, power of—Press Act, scope of—Extension beyond criminal law—Words describing atrocities committed by Christians upon the Mahomedans—Tendency to make Mahomedans hate Christians.—The provision in s. 12 of the Press Act, 1910, that the grounds of the opinion on which the Local Government have acted in declaring any document to be forfeited to His Majesty, must be stated, is mandatory and not directory; and the Legislature has imposed on the Local Government an imperative obligation to state the grounds of its opinion. A notification under s. 12 of the Press Act, was to be effect that "whereas it appeared to the Local Government that a certain pamphlet contained words of the nature described in s. 4, sub-s. 1, of the Press Act, 1910, inasmuch as they are likely to bring into hatred or contempt certain classes of His Majesty's subjects in British India, therefore, the Government declared all copies of the pamphlet forfeited to His Majesty." Held, (1) that no grounds of the Local Government's opinion were stated in the notification, nothing in the nature of a fact was set forth therein, but that there was merely a citation of those words of the section which were invoked; (2) that the citation could not be its grounds; and that the notification was, therefore, insufficient and defective in form and not in compliance with the Act; (3) that the High Court was barred under s. 22 of the Act from questioning the legality of the forfeiture which the notification purported to declare. The provisions of the Press Act extended far beyond the criminal law. A pamphlet may not be seditious; but, as the burden of proof is cast on the applicant, if he cannot establish the negative that Act requires, his application must fail. He must show that it is impossible for the words in the pamphlet to have the tendency to bring into hatred or contempt any class or section of His Majesty's subjects in British India, either directly or indirectly and whether by way of inference, suggestion, allusion, metaphor, implication or otherwise. The object of the writers of a prescribed pamphlet was to put an end to the horrible atrocities which they alleged to have been committed by the Cristian Balkan States on Mahomedans. They told Englishman what was being done by their fellow Christians and appealed to them as Christians to stop it. In conclusion, the readers were informed that the Government of England would do nothing to stop the outrages unless forced by public opinion. Throughout the whole of the pamphlet, the outrages mentioned were imputed to the Allies whose Christianity was constantly referred to; and the almost avowed object of the pamphlet was to excite the indignation of Christians in England against the conduct of Christians in Macedonia so as to induce them to bring it to an end. Held, that the pamphlet would bring into hatred the unchristian Christians whose deeds of atrocity were described, that is, it was likely to make Mahomedans hate Christians,

I.—Imperial Acts—continued.

Act I of 1910 (Press)—continued.

and that, under s. 19 of the Press Act, the High Court could not set aside the order of forfeiture. MAHOMED ALI v. EMPEROR, 14 Cr. L J. 497 = 20 Ind. Cas 977 = 18 C.W N. 1 = 41 C. 466. [R., 15 Cr. L.J. 590 = 210 P.L.R. 1914 = 24 Ind. Cas. 578 = 36 P.W.R. 1914, Cr.]

(6)—Ss 4 (1) (c), 17, 19.—Whole tone and nature of article going beyond fair comment—Government established by Law in British India includes Local Governments—Court not concerned with motives but with results—Professions of loyalty on other occasions immaterial.—Where the whole tone of an article in a newspaper and the nature of the allegations made went much beyond any legitimate comment on the action of Government and was directly intended to bring Government into hatred and contempt. Held, that under the circumstances the Chief Court will not interfere under s. 19 of the Press Act with the order of forfeiture of security made by the Government in respect of the Press publishing the newspaper. The terms 'Government established by law in British India' used in s. 4 (1) (c) of the Press Act include Local Government as well as the Government of India. (18 Ind. Cas. 347 = 14 P.R. 1913, Cr. = 6 P.W. R. 1913, Cr. = 14 Cr. L.J. 59 = 37 P.L.R. 1913, R.) The Court is not concerned with motives, but with results. Whatever the ostensible motives for an article in a newspaper may have been, if the effect of the article would be to excite either hatred or contempt against any class or section of the subjects of His Majesty in British India, the Government cannot be said to have misapplied the Press Act in forfeiting the security of the Press publishing the paper. No amount of professed loyalty on other occasions can be taken as nullifying the probable effects of the violent writings contained in the particular articles dealt with under the Press Act, and the order of forfeiture must stand or fall by the terms of those particular articles. GHULAM QADIR KHAN v. EMPEROR, 210 P.L.R. 1914 = 36 P.W.R. 1914. Cr. = 15 Cr. L.J. 490 = 24 Ind. Cas. 578 = 27 P.R. 1914, Cr., F.B.

(7)—S. 5—See No. 2, supra.

(8)—S. 6—See No. 3, supra.

(9)—S. 8—Order for security if revisable by High Court.—An order under s. 8, Press Act, for the deposit of secuirty by the Publisher of a newspaper, is not revisable by the High Court. AGA SYED JALALUDDIN HASSAIN v. KING-EMPEROR, 17 C W.N. 1245 = 15 Cr.L.J. 145 = 22 Ind. Cas. 721.

(10)—S. 8—See No. 4, supra.

(11)—S. 9—See No. 4, supra.

(12)—S. 12—See No. 5, supra.

(13)—S. 17—" Within two months from the date of such order," meaning of—Limitation Act. 1908, s. 5, not applicable.—The words " within two months from the date of such order " in s. 17 of the Press Act, mean within two months

I.—Imperial Acts—concluded.

Act I of 1910 (Press)—concluded.

from the date of the order of forfeiture, and cannot be read as meaning within two months from the date on which notice of the order was served. Under this Act, the remedy given is by way of application and not of appeal, and in the absence of any specific provision in the Act giving the benefit of s. 5 of the Limitation Act to that application, it is not in the power of the High Court to extend the prescribed period, even if the Court held that sufficient cause for delay had been established. MOULVI ABDUL HAQ v. EMPEROR, 126 P.L R. 1914 = 15 Cr.L. J. 222 = 32 P W.R 1914. Cr. = 22 Ind. Cas. 1006 = 16 P.R. 1914 Cr. S.B.

(14)—S 17—See Nos. 3, 5 and 6, supra.

(15)—S. 19—See Nos. 3, 5 and 6, supra.

(16)—S. 22—See No. 5, supra.

(17)—S 25—See No. 4, supra.

Act II of 1911 (Patents and Designs).

(1)—S. 2 (5)—Design or pattern covering whole goods—No 'design' within the terms of the section—See TRADE MARK, 8 S L.R. 39 = 15 Cr. L.J. 670 = 25 Ind. Cas. 998.

Act V of 1912 (Provident Insurance Societies).

(1)—S. 2, sub-s. (8), ss. 6, 21—Registration if necessary of company with its share capital divided into shares.—A company under the name and style of the New King Insurance Co., Ltd., was started for the purpose of carrying on business as a provident insurance society. Two of the directors of the company were prosecuted for having failed to apply for registration under s. 6 of the Provident Insurance Societies Act of 1912 and thereby having committed an offence under s. 21 of the Act. The Chief Presidency Magistrate acquitted the accused on the ground that the company was one which had its share capital divided into shares and the provisions of the Act did not apply to such a company:—Held (on appeal by the Local Government).—That the Provident Insurance Societies Act was intended to prevent a company from embarking in the business of life insurance unless and until it had been registered under the Act and s. 2, sub-s. (8) clearly lays down that, whether the society already in existence is a corporate company before or whether its share capital is divided into shares or not, registration under the Act is necessary before business can be carried on under the conditions laid down in the Act. DEPUTY SUPERINTENDENT AND REMEMBRANCER OF LEGAL AFFAIRS, BENGAL v. SITAL CHANDRA PAL, 18 C W.N. 1182. (40 C. 570, R.)

(2)—S. 6—See No. 1, supra.

(3)—S. 21—See No. 1, supra.

Act VII of 1913 (Companies).

See ACT VI OF 1882.

S. 85 (2)—See ACT VI OF 1882, S. 74, 15 C. L.J. 380.

2.—Bengal Acts.

Act IV of 1840 (Affrays, Bengal).

[REP., ACT XVII OF 1862.]

See ACT XV OF 1877, Art. 47.

(1)—Nature and effect of Magistrate's decision order under—See DISPUTE AS TO POSSESSION OF IMMOVEABLE PROPERTY, 1 Agra 120.

(2)—See EVIDENCE—GENERAL, 7 W.R. 141.

(3)—S. 3—See BURDEN OF PROOF, W.R. F.B. 7, 1 Ind. Cas. O.S. 35.

Act I of 1848 (Forgery, Bengal).

[REP., ACT XVII OF 1862.]

(1)—Forgery committed before January 1st, 1862—Procedure.—A case of perjury of forgery, alleged to have been committed in a case before a Civil Court before the 1st January, 1862, can be dealt with only under the Old Procedure Law (Act I of 1848), according to which the sanction of the Court, before which the offence is alleged to have been committed, is necessary before criminal proceedings can be instituted. In re RADHAJEEBUN MOOSTAFFEE, 5 W R. Cr. 8 = 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 97. [F, 5 W.R. Cr. 43.]

Act XI of 1849 (Abkari, Calcutta).

[REP., BEN. ACT VII OF 1878.]

See BEN. ACT XXI OF 1856.

See BOM. ACT V OF 1878.

See MAD. ACT III OF 1864.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1886.

(1)—S. 9—License to sell liquor—Matter concerning revenue—Jurisdiction of High Court—Under s. 9 of the above Act as amended by Bengal Act III of 1878, s. 1, whenever a license was granted for the retail sale of intoxicating liquors, the Collector was authorized to demand, such fee, tax, or duty as may, from time to time, be fixed with the sanction of the Board of Revenue, or a fee, tax or duty, adjusted or regulated in such manner, and in accordance with such rules as the Board of Revenue might prescribe. In a case where the matter related wholly to revenue, it was held that, under 21 Geo. III, c. 70, s. 8, the High Court had no jurisdiction to interfere with the action of the Board of Revenue. In the matter of AUDHUR CHUNDRA SHAW, 11 B.L.R. 250.

Act XVIII of 1852 (Pleaders, Lower Provinces).

[REP., ACT XX OF 1865.]

See ACT XX OF 1865, 6 W. R. Mis. 5.

Act XXXVII of 1855 (Santhal Parganas).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT I OF 1903, S. 6; ACT XIV OF 1870; S. 1 REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1891; S. 3, REP. IN PART, SS. 4, 5 REP., REG. V OF 1893. SCHEDULE AMENDED, ACT X OF 1857. SUPPLEMENTED, REG V OF 1893. REP., ACT XIV OF 1874 (WHEN NOTIFIED). SS. 1, 2 AND 3

* These local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act XXXVII of 1855 (Santhal Parganas) —concluded.

DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

(1)—Act XXXVII of 1855—Appeal—Conviction—Sonthal Parganahs.—No appeal lies to the High Court, under the above Act from a conviction by the Deputy Commissioner of the Sonthal Pargannahs. QUEEN v. BOYDONATH MUKERJEE, 17 W.R. Cr. 11.

(2)—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 526, 18 C. 247.

(3)—S 4 (1) (Scheduled Districts)—Sentence of imprisonment—Revision.—Under s. 4, cl. 1, all sentences in criminal cases are final; so that an order, under the Act, sentencing an accused to imprisonment is not open to revision under chapter 32 of the Crim. Pro. Code, 1882. DULAR DAT RAI v. NIJABAT HOSEIN, 12 C. 536.

 Act XXI of 1856 (Abkari, Bengal).

[REP. (EXCEPT IN BENGAL, EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM), ACT X OF 1871; (IN BENGAL AND ASSAM), BEN, ACT VII OF 1878.]

See BEN. ACT XI OF 1849.

See BOM. ACT V OF 1878.

See MAD. ACT III OF 1864.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1886.

(1)—Realization of fine—Act VIII of 1869—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), s. 61.—The provisions of s. 61, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, did not apply to fines imposed under the Act; such fines cannot be levied by distress and sale of the offender's property. QUEEN v. JUNGLI BELDUR, 8 B.L R. App. 47.

(2)—Cultivation of ganja, if offence.—Cultivation of ganja without a license is not punishable under this Act. POLICE v. MILAN DHOBI, Colm. Dig. Crim. No. 2, 1871.

(3)—Act XXI of 1856—Abetment.—This Act contains no provision for the punishment of abetment. QUEEN v. KULLIMOODDEEN, 7 W.R. Cr. 53.

(4)—Power of Magistrate—Fine under the Act.—A Magistrate may impose a fine exceeding Rs. 1,000 under the above Act, s. 22 of the Crim. Pro. Code, notwithstanding. QUEEN v. SURROOP CHUNDER DUTT, 7 W.R. Cr. 29.

(5)—Levy of fines and forfeitures—Simultaneous imprisonment and distress The provisions of s. 61, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, as amended by Act VII of 1869, are not applicable to fines and forfeitures under the Act, so as to allow of imprisonment and distress going on simultaneously. GOVERNMENT v. JUNGLEE BELDAR, 17 W.R. Cr. 7.

(6)—Effect of Act X of 1871.—This Act has not been repealed, so far as it relates to the

* This Local Act was passed by the Imperial Legislature.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act XXI of 1856 (Abkari, Bengal)—continued.

Lower Provinces of Bengal, by Act X of 1871. QUEEN v. KHETTAR NATH SHAHA, 22 W.R. Cr. 31.

(7)—Ganja sale in excess of license—Responsibility of owner of shop.—Where a sale of an excess quantity of ganja took place, and the man effecting the sale pleaded that he was only a servant, while the owner contended that he did not conduct the shop, and gave no authority to his servant to sell ganja in excess of his license, held, that the owner of the shop was responsible for the offence committed, and liable to the fine which had been imposed on him. QUEEN v. SRISTIDHUR SHAHA, 25 W. R. Cr. 42.

(8)—Act XXI of 1856, s. 38—Revocation of license.—According to s. 38, Act XXI of 1856, a person whose license has not been recalled, cannot be convicted under s. 50. In the case of RAMDASS, 16 W.R. Cr. 59.

(9)—S. 43—Abkari licenses.—Under the above section only persons holding licenses, and not their servants, are subject to the penalties specified in the section. QUEEN v. RAM KISHEN, 8 W.R. Cr. 4. [R., 25 W.R. Cr. 42.]

(10)—S. 43—License—Liquor—Agent.—Where a person sells liquor in contravention, and under color of, a license which stands, not in his own name, but in that of the person for whom he is the recognized agent, he cannot be allowed to evade the provisions of s. 43 by setting up that it is not a license to himself. In re ISHUR CHUNDER SHAHA, 19 W.R. Cr. 34. [F., 8 C. 207, 9 C. 847; R., 17 C. 566, 2 Bom. L.R. 663; Expl, 29 C. 606, F.B.]

(10-a)—Ss. 48 and 51—District in which acreage on poppy cultivation had been introduced—Unlicensed vendors.—The prohibition of the possession of opium by other than licensed vendors contained in s. 51 was held not to be in force in districts in which an acreage on poppy cultivation had been introduced; held also, that s. 48 applied to such cases; but that the provision of the latter section which made it an offence, for a person authorized to supply licensed vendors, to sell opium to any person other than a licensed vendor was applicable to such area. MAYA v. CROWN, 14 P.R 1869, Cr.

(11)—Ss. 48 and 90—Abkari—Country-spirit.—To warrant a conviction under s. 48, the accused must have manufactured some country-spirit made by the native process of distillation as described in s. 90 of the Act, or they must have sold spirituous or fermented liquors or intoxicating drugs. QUEEN v. KOYLASH BOONA, 22 W.R. Cr. 8.

(12)—S. 49—Offences, convictions for which are allowed by confiscation—Summary trial—Crim. Pro. Code (Act X of 1872), s. 222 = s. 260 of the present Code.—Where fine is prescribed as a punishment for an offence, and confiscation of the accused's property follows as a consequence, the fact that such confiscation follows cannot alter the nature of the case as regards the mode of trial that may be adopted,

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act XXI of 1856 (Abkari, Bengal)—concluded.

(e.g.), an offence under s. 49, Act XXI of 1856, which is punishable with fine, can be tried summarily, though confiscation follows the sentence of fine as a necessary consequence. EMPRESS v. BAIDANATH DAS, 3 C. 366 = 1 C.L.R. 442.

(12-a)—Abkari Law.—S. 51 of Act XXI of 1856 (Abkari Law) which prohibits the possession of more than 5 tolas weight of opium by any person other than a licensed vendor, has no effect in districts of the Punjab in which an acreage duty on poppy cultivation has been introduced. CROWN v. GOLAB SINGH, 35 P R. 1867, Cr.

(13)—S. 53—Opium—Possession.—Where opium was found in the possession of a person who was a servant of the accused, and who alleged that he obtained it from the accused's wife who bought it from an opium cultivator, it was held that the accused could not be convicted under this section as it had not been shown that the purchase by his wife was authorized by the accused, and, therefore, her possession of the opium or that of the servant could not be considered as the possession of the accused. QUEEN v. GUNESH MANA, 20 W.R. Cr. 54.

(14)—S. 90—See No. 11, supra.

 Act XXI of 1857 (Howrah Offences).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT I OF 1903; TITLE, PREAMBLE, S 1 AND SCH REP. IN PT., ACT XVI OF 1874; S. 54 REP. IN PT., S. 58 REP., ACT XII OF 1891; SS 25—32, 38, 40—45, 47—50 REP., BEN. ACT V OF 1876; SS. 4—6, 8, 9, 16, 17, 24, 33—37, 39, 46 REP., BEN. ACT III OF 1884; S. 59 AM., BEN. ACT III OF 1897, S. 3; SS. 54, 57, 59 REP. IN PT., S. 55 REP., ACT I OF 1903.]

(1) S. 2 (1)—Suburbs of Calcutta—Station of Howrah—Order and good government—Reasonable suspicion—Accused found to be in possession of cement—No evidence that cement missing from complainant's premises—Penal Code, s. 411—Difference between s. 411 and s 2, cl. 1 of Act XXI of 1857—Stolen article—Possession.—The accused was convicted for being in possession of a certain quantity of cement; and because there was a heap of cement lying on the premises of the East India Railway Company, at L and because the accused was a mistry in the employ of the Company at L, it was assumed that the cement was stolen from the Company. Held, that, in the absence of any evidence that shortly or immediately previous to the finding of the cement in the possession of the accused, a quantity of cement belonging to the Company had been missing, there could not be any reasonable suspicion which would bring the case within s. 2 of Act XXI of 1857. The only difference which s 2 of this Act makes between an offence under this Act and one under s. 411, Penal Code, is that it is not necessary under this

* This local Act was passed by the Imperial Legislature.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act XXI of 1857 (Howrah Offences)—cld.

Act to offer proof that the stolen property has been in the hands of a third person who actually stole it, as is the case under s 411. ABDUL KARIM v. EMPEROR, 13 Cr. L.J. 492 = 15 Ind. Cas. 492.

(2)—S. 12—Rules under the Act.—This Act not being in force in the Punjab, the conviction of an accused under the above section was held to be illegal. ALI HASSAN v. KING-EMPEROR, 17 P.R. 1905, Cr. = 29 P.L.R. 1905 = 2 Cr.L.J. 185.

Act II of 1858 (Port Dues, Cuttack).

[REP., ACT XII OF 1875.]

S. 28—See ACCOMPLICE — ACCOMPLICE, EVIDENCE—NECESSITY FOR CORROBORATION, 5 W.R. Cr. 11.

 Act X of 1859 (Rent).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT I OF 1903; S. 37 REP., ACT XXXVI OF 1860; SS. 26, 40, 74, 79, 86, 150, 162 REP., BEN. ACT VI OF 1862; S. 71, REP. IN PT., S. 149 REP, ACT XX OF 1865; SS 15, 19, 120, 146, 161 REP. IN PT., ACT VII OF 1870; SS. 1, 167 REP., ACT XIV OF 1870; FORMS E,F. IN SCH. REP., ACT XII OF 1891; SS. 3, 15, 28, 29, 32, 33, 163, 168 REP. IN PT., SS. 136, 151 AM., ACT I OF 1903; REP. (IN THE CHOTA NAGPUR DIVISION, EXCEPT THE MANBHUM DISTRICT), BOM. ACT I OF 1879; REP. (IN THE MANBHUM DISTRICT), BEN. ACT VI OF 1908 WHEN AND WHERE NOTIFIED; REP. IN EASTERN BENGAL AND LOCALLY IN (BENGAL), ACT VIII OF 1885; REP IN PT. (IN AGRA), ACT XIV OF 1863, S 5; REP. (IN AGRA, EXCEPT CERTAIN AREAS), ACT XVIII OF 1873; REP. (IN CENTRAL PROVINCES AND THE SAMBALPUR DISTRICT), ACT IX OF 1883.]

See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1869.

(1)—Appeals against decrees and orders made by Deputy Collector.—Appeals against decrees and orders made by a Deputy Collector, acting under the provisions of Act X of 1859, ordinarily lie to the Collector, and not to the District Judge. SHAMACHARAN DAS v. KASI NAIK, 23 C. 971.

(2)—S. 145—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1869, 10 W.R. Cr. 46 = 2 B.L.R. S.N. 4.

 Act XXII of 1860 (Chittagong Hill Tracts).

[REP., REG. I OF 1900.]

(1)—S. 1—Appeals from conviction of offences within Chittagong Hill Tracts—Jurisdiction of the High Court.—By Act XXII of 1860, s. 1, the tracts of country described in the schedule to the Act and known as Chittagong Hill Tracts are removed from the jurisdiction of the existing Civil and Criminal Courts. Consequently, the High Court has no jurisdiction to hear appeals in respect of sentences passed on conviction of offences committed in those districts. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SONAI MUGH, 27 C. 654.

* These local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1862 (Registration of Deeds).

[REP., BEN. ACT II OF 1865.]

(1) — Mohurrir — Public servant.—Money, in the shape of fees paid by parties bringing deeds for registry and received by a mohurrir appointed under Bengal Act IX of 1862 would be money entrusted to the Mohurrir as a public servant. QUEEN v. DWARKANATH GHOSE, 20 W R. Cr. 49.

(2)—See PUBLIC SERVANT, 20 W.R. Cr. 49.

Act III of 1863 (Transport of Native Labourers).

[REP., BEN. ACT II OF 1870.]

(1)—Special law—Punishment—Fine—Sub-Magistrate of the first class.—A Sub-Magistrate of the first class has power to deal with the case of an offence provided for by a special law, as the above Act, when the punishment awardable is six months, fine and fine only. S. 67 and not s. 65, I.P.C., is applicable to such a case. In the matter of CHUNDER PERSHAD SINGH, 10 W.R.Cr. 30.

Act VI of 1863 (Calcutta Municipality).

[REP., BEN. ACT IV OF 1876.]

(1)—Construction of Act—Right of way.—The words "lands, walks, gangways, or other thoroughfares" must, in case of obstruction, be restricted to mean those spaces over which the public by consent or dedication of the owner, enjoy the right of passing and re-passing for market purposes. JUSTICES OF THE PEACE FOR THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA v. MAHARANE OF BURDWAN, 1 Ind. Jur. N.S. 102.

(2)—Conviction of owner of bazaar for permitting obstruction.—In order that a conviction may be sustained against the owner of a bazaar under bye-law 7 of the above Act, it must be shown that he actually permitted an obstruction in the paths of the bazaar. JUSTICES OF THE PEACE FOR THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA v. HERA LALL SEAL, Bourke O.C. 412.

(3)—S. 18—Duties of Justices of the Peace for the Town of Calcutta—Supplying tanks for water.—Where the Justices had closed a tank for the purpose of constructing in its place a different means of water supply, a mandamus was issued directing the Justices to maintain the tank and supply it with water, or to substitute another tank in its place and supply that with water. QUEEN v. JUSTICES OF THE PEACE FOR THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA, 2 Ind. Jur. N.S. 182.

(4)—Ss. 151, 226, 229 and 230—Liability of Justices for compensation for damage in making sewers, etc.—Negligence—Amount of damages Writ of mandamus. — JUSTICES OF THE PEACE FOR CALCUTTA v. ORIENTAL GAS COMPANY, 8 B.L.R. 433 = 17 W.R. 364.

(5)—S. 200—Warrant for search and seizure —Jurisdiction of Chairman of Justices—Procedure.—The above Act does not empower the Chairman of the Justices, as such, to issue a warrant under s. 200; such a warrant must show, on the face of it, that the Justice issuing it had jurisdiction; the application under the section must be reduced to writing; the evidence taken therefrom must be recorded; and notice must be given to the party proceeded against. DAY AND CO v. JUSTICES FOR THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA, Bourke O.C. 232.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1863 (Calcutta Municipality)—cld.

(6)—S. 226—Suit against Justices for damage in repairing drains—Contractors—Negligence—Cause of action—Notice of action.—ULLMAN v. JUSTICE OF THE PEACE, 8 B.L R. 265. [R., 34 C. 257 = 5 C.L.J. 148, 17 B. 307.]

(7)—S. 226—See No. 4, supra.

(8)—S. 229—See No. 4, supra.

(9)—S. 230—See No. 4, supra.

Act III of 1864 (District Municipal Improvement).

[REP., BEN. ACT V OF 1876.]

(1)—Power of Municipal Commissioner to close or divert public highways.—Act III of 1864, which vests public highways in Municipal Councillors, does not empower them to stop up or divert such public highways. JODOO NATH v. BROJO NATH, 1 J.G. 13.

(2)—Land let to tenants by owner—His liability.—When the owners has let the land to tenants, then for the filthy condition of that land the owner is not liable, but the occupiers. QUEEN v. PARBUTTY CHURN SIRCAR, 2 W. R. Cr. 57; QUEEN v. BROJO LALL MITTER, 8 W.R. Cr. 45.

(3)—Public highways—Powers of Municipality.—The fact that, under Act III of 1864 (B.C.), public highways are vested in the Municipality does not, ipso facto, empower it to stop up or divert them. EMPRESS v. BROJONATH DEY, 2 C. 425.

(4)—Ss. 6, 79—Power of Municipal Commissioners to administer oath—Order to close burning ground.—As every Municipal Commissioner is vested by s. 6 with the powers of a Magistrate under s. 23 of the Crim. Pro. Code, 1872, such Commissioner is authorised to administer an oath, if the purposes of the Act require that he should do so. BRINDABAN CHUNDER ROY AND OTHERS v. CHAIRMAN AND VICE-CHAIRMAN OF THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS OF THE TOWN OF SERAMPORE, 19 W.R. 309. [D., 25 C. 425.]

(5)—S. 19—Municipal Act (III of 1864), B. C.—Excavation of tank—Permission for Discretion of Chairman of Municipality.—Where the Chairman of the Municipality of Howrah, acting in the bona fide exercise of the discretion vested in him under s. 19 of the Bye laws of the Howrah Municipality framed under the Bengal Municipal Act (III of 1864), refuses permission for the excavation of a tank, held that the Civil Courts had no power to interfere. BHYRUB CHUNDER BANERJEE v. MR. G. E. MAKGILL, 17 W.R. 215.

(6)—S. 27—Warrant of arrest—Chap. XV, Crim. Pro. Code (1861).—A Magistrate or Municipal Commissioner has no power to issue a warrant for the arrest of a person who may have failed to appear on a summons to answer a charge under the above section, for using the premises as a straw or wood depot without a license. The provisions of Chap. XV of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1861, are not applicable to offences under the Act In re BISSESSUR CHATTERJEE, 16 W.R. Cr. 1.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1864 (District Municipal Improvement)—continued.

(7)—S. 57—Obstruction of drain by tree blown down.—The obstruction of a drain by a tree blown down by a cyclone was held not to be an obstruction within the meaning of the above section. That section refers to some obstruction raised purposely by a party. ANONYMOUS, 3 W.R. Cr. 33.

(8)—S. 57—Blocking up private drain.—The Municipal authorities have no power under the above Act, to impose a fine on a person for blocking up a drain which is not shown to be public property, or along the side of any highway. In re BANI MADHUB BANERJI, 14 W.R. Cr. 23.

(9)—S. 63—Right to pull down ruinous house—Notice of action.—Under the above section, if Municipal Commissioners deem a house or a building to be in a ruinous state, they may, after the notice prescribed by that section, cause the same to be taken down. GOPEE KISHEN GOSSAIN v. MR. W. H. RYLAND, 9 W.R. 279.

(10)—S. 63—Bye-law of Municipality—Roofs with inflammable material.—A bye-law made by the Howrah Municipality in the exercise of the authority vested in it by s. 63, forbidding the erection or renewal of the external roof and walls of buildings with inflammable materials, was held to forbid the renewal even of the portion of the roof with such material. CHAIRMAN OF THE HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY v. MONTANEE BEWAH, 24 W.R. Cr. 70.

(11)—Ss 65 and 66—Nuisance—Prospective fine.—In a case in which the accused was convicted of a nuisance under s. 66, Act III (B.C.) of 1864, and sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 10, and further fined Rs. 2 a day for every day the nuisance continued unabated, the High Court (following a precedent cited) set aside only so much of the order as inflicted the fine prospectively. CHAIRMAN OF THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS FOR THE SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA v. ANNESUDDEEN MEAH, 20 W. R. Cr. 64 = 12 B L.R App. 2. (18 W.R. Cr. 44, D.) [F., 25 W.R. Cr. 6.]

(12)—S. 66—See No. 11, supra.

(13)—S. 67—Fine for suffering premises to be in filthy state—Owners and occupiers.—Where a land was occupied by tenants and the owner lived in another district, and there was nothing to show that he suffered the land to be in a filthy state, the imposition of a fine on the owner would not be a proper exercise of the discretion given under the above section. QUEEN v. DWARKANATH HAZRA, 8 B.L.R. App. 9 = 16 W.R. Cr. 70.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1864 (District Municipal Improvement)—continued.

(14)—S. 67—Allowing ground to remain in filthy state.—It is no valid excuse for a man, who is bound by law to keep his ground clean to say "I did not make it dirty, but somebody else did" The owner of the ground is liable under the above section whether his ground was made dirty by himself or by somebody else. ANONYMOUS, 3 W.R Cr 33.

(15)—Ss. 67, 73—Omission to clear away jungle—Power of Magistrate as Municipal Commissioner—In this case upon a notice being served on a party under s. 73, he did not choose to clear away the jungle referred to. Held, it was open to the Magistrate, as Commissioner of the Municipality, either to clear the jungle at the expense of the party in possession or to inflict a fine under s 67. In the matter of GOPEE KISHEN GOSSAIN 21 W.R Cr. 79.

(16)—S. 68—See REVISION—QUESTION OF FACT, 17 W R Cr. 58.

(17)—S. 73—Expense of clearing away jungle after notice to defendant.—The Municipal Commissioners are entitled, under the above section, to recover from the defendant the expense of clearing away any jungle which they found on his land, upon his failure after the notice to clear it himself within the time specified in the notice. LORD ULICK BROWNE, H. v. WOMESH CHUNDER ROY, 7 W.R. 213.

(17-a)—S. 73—See No. 15, supra.

(18)—S 77—Notice of action—Suit against Municipal Commissioners.—A notice of action against Municipal Commissioners is absolutely necessary under the above section. A notice of objection to, and demand for, a reconsideration of the order complained of is not sufficient. ABHOYANATH BOSE v. CHAIRMAN AND THE DEPUTY CHAIRMAN OF THE MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF KISHNAGAR, 7 W.R. 92.

(19)—S. 77—Omission to take out license.—The accused was charged for not taking out a license for a wood yard. He pleaded that the yard had been in existence prior to 1864. Held, that the Magistrate was wrong in refusing to inquire into the allegation as to the existence of the yard prior to 1864. CHAIRMAN OF THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS FOR THE SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA v. UMBICA CHURN MOOKERJEE, 15 W.R. Cr. 84.

(20)—S 77—"Using premises" for offensive trades—The words "uses any premises" in the section means using and employing the premises as a place for the carrying on of the offensive trades mentioned in that section. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER FOR THE SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA v. ZAMIR SHAIKH AND OTHERS, 16 W.R Cr. 4.

(21)—S. 77—Burning bricks for private use.—This section refers to the burning of bricks for trading purposes. It does not refer to cases where bricks are made for the particular use of the person burning them; such person need not take out a license for that purpose. SRI RAM CHUNDER HALDAR v. CHAIRMAN OF THE HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY, 20 W R. Cr. 65.

(22)—S 79—Scope of section—Closing burning ground—Interference by Municipality—Proceedings under Act—Reports by medical men.—This section does not authorise Municipal Commissioners to close a burning ground which has been used for very many years, merely because they think that the burning of dead bodies is offensive. It allows them to interfere only when it shall appear to them upon the evidence of competent persons that any burning ghat or ground is in such a state as to be dangerous to the health of persons living in the neighbourhood thereof. [D., 25 C. 125.] Regular reports signed by Medical men would constitute evidence within the meaning of the above section. A proceeding taken under s. 79 is not a judicial proceeding, and the evidence referred to therein means evidence without oath. BRINDABUN CHUNDER ROY v. CHAIRMAN AND VICE-CHAIRMAN OF THE MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS OF THE TOWN OF SERAMPORE, 19 W.R 309.

(23)—S. 79—See No. 4, supra.

(24)—S. 87—See JUDICIAL OFFICERS, LIABILITY OF, 13 W.R. 340.

Act V 1864 (Canals).

[S. 19 REP. ACT XII OF 1873. PREAMBLE, SS. 1, 2, 3 REP IN PT., S 17, SCHEDULE REP, ACT I OF 1903. REP. (IN ASSAM), ACT V OF 1897.]

(1)—Conviction, when sustainable, under the Act.—A conviction cannot be had under the Act unless it is charged and proved that the accused wilfully obstructed the navigation. QUEEN v. KALIL, 11 W.R. Cr. 13 = 2 B.L.R.A C 23.

(2)—S. 16—See OBSTRUCTING NAVIGATION, 2 B.L.R.A.C. 23 = 11 W.R. Cr. 18.

Act VII of 1864 (Salt).

[AM. AS TO JURISDICTION OF MAGISTRATES BEN ACT I OF 1873. AM. (IN BENGAL) AS TO REFERENCES TO POLICE ACTS, BEN. ACT I OF 1873 SS. 2, 42, AND SCH. REP, ACT XII OF 1873. S. 9 REP, ACT XII OF 1882 SS 3, 40 REP. IN PT., SS. 35, 36 REP., ACT I OF 1903 REP. IN ASSAM, ACT V OF 1897. DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

See ACT XII OF 1882.

See BOM. ACT XXVII OF 1837.

See BOM. ACT XXXI OF 1850.

See BOM. ACT VII OF 1873.

See BOM ACT II OF 1890.

See MAD. ACT XVII OF 1840.

See MAD. ACT VI OF 1871.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1864 (Salt)—continued.

See MAD. ACT I OF 1882.

See MAD. ACT IV OF 1889.

See U.P. ACT XXXVI OF 1855.

(1)—Ss. 12 and 16—Confiscation of salt found without pass—Intention to sell.—When salt of a quantity exceeding five seers is found within the limits prescribed by s. 12, unprotected by a pass, the salt is contraband and such salt is liable to seizure, the parties transporting it being liable to be punished under s. 16. It matters not whether any attempt or intention to sell is proved or not. QUEEN v. OFATULLA, 6 B L R Cr. 381; GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL v. AKATOOLLAH, 15 W.R. Cr. 21.

(2)—S. 16—Rawana, endorsement of, by police or customs officers.—A rawana as defined by this Act is complete on the face of it without any certificate by way of endorsement, signed by the superintendent showing that the endorsement made by the preventive officers of customs have been examined by him. The section only gives power to fine when the salt is not specified in the rawana In re KISHORY MOHUN PRAMANICK, 23 W.R. Cr. 6.

(3)—S. 16—Salt carried partly by land and partly by water.—Where a person, who had taken a quantity of salt under a rawana for transit from Calcutta to his golah, part of the journey to be performed by water and part by land, conveyed a portion of it to his golah where the rawana was, and was conveying the rest in two separate batches by land, it was held that he could not be convicted under s. 16 QUEEN v. CHUNDEE CHURN DAS, 22 W R. Cr. 71.

(4)—S. 16—See No. 1, supra.

(5)—Ss. 16 and 18—Possession of contraband salt.—A conviction for possession of contraband salt would be set aside, if the salt had already reached its distinction and was not en route. QUEEN v. CHUNDRO MOHUN BHOOYA, 22 W.R. Cr. 82.

(6)—Ss. 16 and 21—Possession and sale of salt.—Where a person was convicted under s. 16 and another under s. 21 of the same Act, the former with having had in his possession salt not covered by a rawana and the latter with having sold to the former the said salt, held that the conviction of the former under s. 16 was illegal, the salt in his possession having been a portion of salt for which the latter had taken out a rawana, but that the conviction of the latter under s. 21 was proper, as he had failed to certify the salt sold by him to the former on the back of the rawana. In re BHAG BUT DEY, 18 W R. Cr. 64.

(7)—S. 17—Infliction of penalty on owner and servant.—In a case of conviction for having in possession contraband salt, the penalty cannot be inflicted on the owner of the salt and also on the servant or gomastha of the owner who has the salt in his possession. In the above case, the possession of the servant was held to be the possession of the master. In re GUNGADHUR SAHOO, 22 W.R. Cr. 9.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1864 (Salt)—concluded.

(8)—S. 18—Confiscation of salt—Power of releasing from confiscation.—Under the above section, salt not being conveyed by the route and to the place prescribed in the rawana becomes absolutely confiscated. The power of releasing any such salt is vested in the Board of Revenue under s. 39 and not in the Magistrate. QUEEN v. BOIDONATH, 7 W.R. Cr. 48.

(9)—S 18—Salt seized, power of Magistrate to release.—A Magistrate has no authority to release salt seized under circumstances in which the seizure is found, on the trial of an offender, to have been warranted by s. 18, Act VII of 1864 (B.C.). CRIMINAL CIRCULAR NO. 4 OF 12TH JUNE 1867, 8 W.R. Cr. Cir. 1.

(10)—S. 18—Conviction of both principal and agent.—A Magistrate can, under the above section, convict both the owner of contraband salt and his agent who transports it. The Magistrate need not pass sentence on the manjees of the boat in which the salt was being transported when seized, when their boat has been already confiscated by the Magistrate. QUEEN v. MODHUN MOHUN PAL CHOWDHRY, 23 W.R. Cr. 7.

(11)—S. 18—See No. 5, supra.

(12)—S. 21—See No. 6, supra.

(13)—S. 29—Power of Magistrate to confiscate salt.—The power of a Magistrate under s. 29 to confiscate salt not protected by a rawana in a prohibited district is not affected, because there was no attempt or intention to sell the salt within the prohibited district. GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL v. AKATOOLLAH, 15 W R. Cr. 21.

Act VI of 1865 (Transport of Native Labourers).

[REP., BEN. ACT II OF 1870.]

(1)—S 31—Procedure under section—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), s. 444,—The procedure under s. 31 must be conducted in accordance with s 444, Crim Pro. Code, 1861. In the matter of the NORTHERN ASSAM TEA COMPANY, 3 B L. R.A. Cr. 39 = 12 W R Cr. 29.

(2)—Ss. 31 and 32—Protector of labourers, power of—Wages of labourers—Mode of taking account.—Until an enquiry is made under s. 31 the Protector of labourers is not competent to act under s. 32 In the matter of the NORTHERN ASSAM TEA COMPANY, 3 B.L R. A. Cr 39 = 12 W.R. Cr. 29.

(3)—S. 32—Essentials for a conviction under section.—To support a conviction under s. 32, it must be shown that the wages or part of the wages due have remained unpaid for more than six months. But in an account current, the payments are not to be appropriated for the wages of the month in which the payment was made. In the matter of the NORTHERN ASSAM TEA COMPANY, 3 B.L.R. Cr. 39=12 W.R. Cr. 29.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1865 (Transport of Native Labourers)—concluded.

(4)—S. 32—See No. 2, supra.

Act VII of 1865 (Bengal Municipal Slaughter-houses and Meat Markets).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT I OF 1903. TITLE, PREAMBLE AND S. 8 REP. IN PT., S. 1 AM., ACT I OF 1903; REP. (IN ASSAM), ACT V OF 1897.]

(1)—License for carrying on slaughter-house—Notice of revocation.—The length of notice to be given to persons holding licenses for carrying on slaughter houses under the Act must be determined in each case according to its own particular circumstances. In re MR. E. VERE HALDANE, 6 W.R. Cr. 76.

(2)—S. 1—Using place as slaughter house.—No person is liable to any penalty under the section except a person who, without a license, uses a place or building as a slaughter-house either by letting it out for such purpose, or by employing servants and others for the purpose of killing cattle therein; but a person who may be the mere servant of a butcher killing cattle in a particular slaughter-house or a butcher resorting accidentally or occasionally to a slaughter-house for the purpose of killing an ox or a sheep there, does not use the place as a slaughter-house within the meaning of the above section. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS FOR THE SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA v. ZAMIR SHAIKH, 16 W.R. Cr. 4.

(3)—S. 7—Slaughtering cattle—Owner of a slaughter-house.—The owner of a slaughter house, by giving it in lease to another, parts with his interest in it, and ceases to have any power to allow or disallow the slaughtering of cattle therein, and in such a case, he does not bring himself within the terms of the above section. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS FOR THE SUBURBS OF CALCUTTA, v. PETITIONERS, 14 W.R. Cr. 67=6 B.L.R. Ap. 28.

Act I of 1866 (Ferries, amending Bengal Regulation VI of 1819).

[REP. (IN BENGAL AND EASTERN BENGAL), BEN. ACT I OF 1885; (IN ASSAM), ACT XII OF 1891.]

S. 2—Suit to re-open a ferry against the provisions of the section not maintainable—See FERRY, 15 W.R. 132.

Act II of 1866 (Calcutta Suburban Police).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT I OF 1903; SS. 25—30, 32 REP., BEN. ACT II OF 1867, S. 17; S. 40 (16) REP., BEN. ACT I OF 1869, S. 8; S. 49 REP., BEN. ACT I OF 1874; S. 41 AM., BEN. ACT II OF 1886, S. 2; S. 11 REP., BEN. ACT I OF 1890, S. 3; SS. 41A, 43A, INS., S. 43 AM., BEN. ACT II OF 1895; SS. 31, 52

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act II of 1866 (Calcutta Suburban Police)—concluded.

REP., S. 51 REP. IN PT., ACT I OF 1903; S. 10 REP., BEN. ACT VI OF 1905; S. 17 REP., NEW SS. 17, 17A, 17B, 17C INS., SS. 39, 40 (13), 43 AM., BEN. ACT III OF 1907.]

Ss. 39-A (4), 49-A—See BEN. ACT IV OF 1866, s. 62-a, cls. 4, 6, s. 102, 17 C.W.N. 505 =18 Ind. Cas. 685=14 Cr. L.J. 125=40 C. 470.

Act IV of 1866 (Calcutta Police).

[S. 52 REP., BEN. ACT II OF 1867, S. 17; S. 67 REP., BEN. ACT I OF 1869, S. 8; S. 2 REP., ACT XII OF 1873; S. 103 REP., ACT XII OF 1875; S. 40 AM., BEN. ACT II OF 1876, S. 12; SS. 22—24, 26—28, 30, 31, 69, 73, 82—84, 96—98 REP., S. 79 REP. IN PT., ACT IV OF 1877; SS. 63—65 REP., BEN. ACT IV OF 1879; SS. 68, 72 AM., S. 68A INS., BEN. ACT II OF 1886; S. 17 REP., BEN. ACT I OF 1890, S. 3; S. 72 AM., SS. 68B, 72A INS., BEN ACT II OF 1895; S. 3 AM., BEN. ACT III OF 1897; SS. 3, 77 REP. IN PT., SS. 25, 33, 95 AM., FORM B IN SCH. REP., ACT I OF 1903; S. 16 REP., BEN. ACT VI OF 1905; S. 43 REP., NEW SS. 43, 43A, 43B, 43C, INS., SS. 46, 62, 66 (13), 72, 80 AM., S. 51 REP. IN. PT. AND AM., BEN. ACT III OF 1907.]

See ACT V OF 1861.
See ACT VIII OF 1895.
See BOM. ACT XIII OF 1856.
See BOM. ACT XLVIII OF 1860.
See BOM. ACT IV OF 1902.
See BUR. ACT IV OF 1899.
See MAD. ACT XXIV OF 1859.
See MAD. ACT I OF 1885.
See MAD. ACT III OF 1888.

(1)—S. 5—Powers of Deputy Commissioner.—A Deputy Commissioner of Police, under s. 5 of Bengal Act IV of 1866, has all the powers of a Commissioner, subject to the control of that officer, that is to say, the Commissioner may at any time set aside his orders, or he may give, either in printing or otherwise, any special direction with regard to any matter. Apart from such special direction, any act of the Deputy Commissioner, provided it be within the powers of the Commissioner, is made valid under that section. No instructions either in writing or otherwise, or either general or in regard to specific acts, are necessary. FORSYTH v. WILSON, 20 C. 670.

(2)—S. 9—Circular order authorizing the Calcutta police to inquire into matters.—S. 9 of the Act authorizes the Commissioners to issue orders from time to time for various purposes, amongst which, one is "to render the police force efficient in the discharge of all duties." The circular order authorising the Calcutta police to inquire into matters comes within the scope of such a purpose. BIJOYENDRA LALL MITTER v. EMPEROR, 7 C.W.N. 883.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1866 (Calcutta Police)—continued.

(3)—S. 13 B, cl. (c)—Police officer being in possession of money when on duty—Contravention of order of Commissioner of Police—Order contravened, necessity of proof of—Plea of guilty, qualified —The petitioner was placed on his trial under s 13-B, cl. (c) of Act IV of 1866 (B.C.) for being, while on duty, in possession of annas four, contrary to an order of the Commissioner of Police. After the examination of one witness, the petitioner pleaded guilty to having the money in his possession. He, however, stated before the Magistrate that at the time in question he was not on duty, but engaged in the private business of a Police officer and also that he had been on duty the previous night The Magistrate convicted the accused on this plea of guilty. The order the contravention of which was the subject-matter of the prosecution was not proved. Held, that a copy of the Government order or an extract therefrom or a reference thereto should have been placed on the record. That the petitioner's plea of guilty was to be looked upon merely as an admission of the fact that he had at the time in question the sum found upon his person. The High Court set aside the conviction and sentence and directed a re-trial by a new Magistrate. GAYA RAY v. EMPEROR, 18 C W.N. 1273 = 15 Cr.L.J. 703 = 26 Ind. Cas. 151.

(4)—S 26—Power of Magistrate.—A Police Magistrate had power to convict summarily, under the above section, for an offence punishable under s. 16, Penal Code. QUEEN v. MAHBUB KHAN, 1 B.L.R.O. Cr. 39.

(5)—Ss. 36 and 37—See ACT I OF 1878, s. 39, 13 C.L.R 336.

(6)—S. 37—See No. 5, supra.

(7)—S. 44—Betting on cotton figures, if an offence—Calcutta Police Act (IV, B.C., of 1866, as amended by Act III, B.C. of 1897) —Distinction between gaming and wagering—Cotton gambling not a game of contest.—No form of batting or wagering without instruments other then rain-gambling is an offence as created by Act IV (B.C.) of 1866. Apart from legislation, rain-gambling is gaming only when a complete apparatus is used for the purpose, otherwise it is not. Gaming is playing at any game, sport, pastime or exercise, lawful or unlawful, for money or any other valuable thing which is staked on the result of the game, i.e., which is to be lost or won according to the success or failure of the person who has staked. (1 Ellis and Blackburn, 286 (1852). (1903) 2 K.B. 423, R.). Wagering which includes betting is making a contract on an unascertained event, past or future (in which the parties have no pecuniary interest other than that created by the contract), by which the parties are to gain or lose according as the uncertainty is determined one way or another. ((1892) 2 Q.B. 484, R.) Cotton gambling is betting pure and simple. Books, papers, notice boards and list of prices furnish evidence of gambling but are not instruments of gaming. RAM PRATAP NEMANI v. KING-EMPEROR, 16 C.W.N. 838 = 16 C L J. 250 = 13 Cr. L J. 603 = 16 Ind Cas. 171 = 39 C. 958.

(8)—S. 46 — Search warrants — Power of Deputy Commissioners.—A Deputy Commissioner is empowered to issue search warrants under s. 46 of the Act. FORSYTH v WILSON, 20 C. 670.

(9)—Ss. 46, 72—Common gaming house—Presumption under s. 46 of the Calcutta Police Act, under what circumstances it may arise—Existence of a warrant which has been executed against other persons who has since been convicted and tried, hardly a justification for arrest, when the arrest is not really made under it—Indian Penal Code, ss. 323, 332.—When a person is arrested for an offence not really under warrant, the mere fact that a warrant had been issued for his arrest, which warrant had been executed against other persons, who have since been convicted, can hardly be put forward as a justification for the arrest. Where an arrest of a person, who was gambling in an open place in view of the police, is sought to be justified as having been made under s. 74 of the Calcutta Police Act, it must be found that the place where the gambling was taking place was a common gaming house. The presumption referred to under s. 46 of the Calcutta Police Act, cannot arise in a case where the arrest is not made on a warrant. ABDOOL KARIM v. EMPEROR, 4 C L J. 92 = 4 Cr. L J. 71.

(10)—S. 62-A, cls. 4, 6, s. 102— Calcutta Suburban Police Act (II B.C. of 1866), s. 39-A, cl. 4, s. 49 A—Calcutta and Suburban Police (Amendment) Act (III, B.C of 1910), s. 16—Power of the Commissioner of Police to prohibit procession or public assembly, scope of, and how to be exercised—Indian Legislatures, competency of, to make such regulations.—A power such as that conferred by cl. 4 of s 62-A of the Calcutta Police Act and cl. 4 of s 39-A of the Suburban Police Act as amended by the Calcutta Suburban Police (Amendment) Act must be exercised strictly according to the terms of the Statute. It is one thing to say that a procession will not be allowed, and quite another thing to say that, if a procession is formed, particular individuals are not to join therein. The law does not give the Commissioner of Police power to discriminate between individuals in this way. Held, further—cl 4 of s. 62 A of the Calcutta Police Act and cl. 4 of s. 39-A of the Suburban Police Act require that an order made thereunder should be in writing, but do not require that public notice should be given of it. The Indian Legislatures are competent to make Police regulations of this kind in the interest of the public peace and safety. LEAKAT HOSSAIN v. KING-EMPEROR, 17 C W.N. 505 = 18 Ind. Cas. 685 = 14 Cr.L.J. 125 = 40 C. 470.

(11)—S. 72—See No. 9, supra.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1866 (Calcutta Police)—concluded.

(12)—S. 99 (1)—Term "prosecutions" explained—Inspector detaining persons in custody for police enquiry.—The word "prosecutions" in cl. (1) of s. 99 of the Calcutta Police Act means "criminal prosecutions;" and the clause, so far as the rule of limitation goes, articles to criminal prosecutions as well as to civil actions. Where a Police Inspector in Calcutta, purporting to act under a circular order issued by the Commissioner of Police, detained a person in custody for the purpose of police inquiry, held that the act of the Inspector was done or at least intended to be done under the provisions of the Calcutta Police Act, in the absence of any evidence to show that he did so in abuse of his authority and under colour of it for the purpose of harassing or injuring the accused. Therefore, a prosecution of the Police Inspector under s. 342, I P.C., after expiry of three months from the date of the commission of the act is barred by cl. (1) of s. 99. BIJOYENDRA LALL MITTER v. EMPEROR, 7 C.W.N. 883. (23 C. 55, 22 Ch. D. 511, R.)

(13)—S. 102—See No. 10, supra.

Act VI of 1866 [Calcutta Municipality (amending Ben. Act VI of 1863).]

[REP., BEN. ACT IV OF 1876.]

See SENTENCE—FINE, 1 B.L.R.O. Cr. 41 = 18 W.R. Cr. 44, Note.

Act II of 1867 (Gambling).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, BEN. ACT I OF 1903, S. 1, AMENDED BEN. ACT III OF 1897, SS. 1, 14, 16, REP. IN PT., S. 17 REPEALED ACT I OF 1903, REP. (IN ASSAM), ACT XII OF 1891. DECLARED IN FORCE IN SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

See ACT III OF 1867.

See BOM. ACT III OF 1866.

See BOM. ACT IV OF 1887.

See BUR. ACT XVI OF 1884.

See BUR. ACT I OF 1899.

(1)—Instruments of gaming—Public place—Horse raising machine called "little horses"—"Public place," defined.—The acused kept a machine known as "little horses" which consisted of metal figures of horses which could be made to move in concentric circles by turning a handle. The horse which occupied a certain position when the machine halted after being thus set in motion, is the winning horse. The public staked their money on any of the horses before the machine was started. The accused took all the stakes returning four times their stakes to those who had staked on the winning horse. The place, in which the machine was kept, was an open piece of ground near a bazaar and was not separated from it by any wall or fence, although it was private property. Held, that the machine was an instrument of gaming and the place was a public place. A place may be a public place, though it may be the private property of an individual. Where a place is in any way dedicated to the use of the public, it is of course a public place. But when it is owned privately, and such dedication has taken place, the question whether it is a public place seems to depend on the character of the place itself and the use actually made of it. If the place is an open piece of ground, the presumption that it is a public place is naturally more easily created than where it is a building, or is surrounded by a wall. HARI SINGH v. JADU NANDAN SINGH, 31 C. 542 = 8 C.W.N 458 = 1 Cr. L.J. 349. [R., 39 C. 968 = 16 C.L.J. 250 = 16 C.W.N. 858 = 13 Cr. L.J. 603 = 16 Ind. Cas. 171, 9 N.L.R. 164 = 21 Ind. Cas. 910 = 14 Cr. L.J. 670, 9 P.R. 1905, Cr. = 123 P.L.R. 1905 = 2 Cr. L.J. 46.]

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act II of 1867 (Gambling)—continued.

(2)—Act not extended to Jungipore—Conviction under Act illegal.—Case where, in consequence of the Government Notification extending Bengal Act II of 1867 to Jungipore not having been published in three consecutive numbers of the Government Gazette, a sentence of rigorous imprisonment in default of payment of fine passed under such Act was cancelled. QUEEN v. ZOHUR SHEIKH, 18 W.R. Cr. 41.

(3)—See PENAL CODE, s. 218, 27 C. 144.

(4)—Ss. 1 and 6—Instruments of gaming—Coins and cowries.—Although coins and cowries may not necessarily be implements of gaming, yet, when it is found that they are actually used in gaming, they do become within the meaning of the Act "instruments of gaming." AMRIT SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR, 5 C.W.N. 503.

(5)—S. 2—Government notification—Subsequent notification.—The notification issued by Government under the above section should specify the limits of any town to which it is intended the Act should apply, and must be published in three consecutive Gazettes. Where a first notification, which extended the Act to a town with specification of limits to which it was intended to be applied, was published only once, and a subsequent notification, published three times, extended the Act to the town without specifying the limits to which the Act was to apply, it was held that the subsequent notifications were not sufficient, but that did not prevent the operation of the Act in places which are shown to be undoubtedly within the town according to its ordinary designation. In re BANEE MADHUB KUNDOO, 21 W.R. Cr. 23.

(6)—Ss. 3, 10—Game of chance, of skill—Ring game — Chief element, skill — Certain amount of chance—No offence.—If a game is one of skill, it is not an offence under the Gaming Act; if it is a game of mere chance, it is; where the chief element of a game is one of skill, the game is not an offence, although there is an element of chance in it. HARI SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR, 6 C.L.J. 708 = 6 Cr. L. J. 421. [Diss., 23 Ind. Cas. 484 = 15 Cr. L. J. 276; R., 40 C. 702 = 17 C.W.N. 883 = 14 Cr. L. J. 452 = 20 Ind. Cas. 612; D., 34 A. 96 = 8 A. L.J. 1262 = 12 Cr. L.J. 612 = 12 Ind. Cas, 988.]

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act II of 1867 (Gambling)—continued.

(7)—S. 4—Gambling — Common gambling house.—Where the premises of Messrs. J. and Co., were used, during the night, when they were deserted for business purposes, for the purpose of gambling for months together, to the profit of the durwans left in charge thereof, held that the premises could not be regarded as a "common gambling house," even though the durwans might have made some profit out of the gambling which went on there. MOHESH NARAIN PANDAY v. EMPEROR, 11 C.W.N. 972 = 6 Cr. L J. 228.

(8)—S. 4—What constitutes offence under the section.—To sustain a conviction under s. 4 of the Act, two things have to be established, first, that the accused were found gaming, and, second, that the place where they were found was a common gaming house within the meaning of the Act. The mere fact of gambling having taken place in the house on previous occasions is not sufficient to make it a common gaming house within the meaning of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAKUND RAM, 25 C. 432.

(9)—Ss. 5 and 6—Gambling—Unauthorised entry and arrest.—A Magistrate can convict persons under s. 5 of Act II of 1867 (B.C.) even on an unauthorised and illegal arrest by a police officer, provided there is proof, independent of the presumption raised in s. 6 of the Act, that the house, where the arrest was made, is a gaming house. NAZIR KHAN v. PROLADH DUTTA, 4 C. 659. [F., 12 Cr. L.J. 28 = 8 Ind. Cas. 1127 = 6 N.L.R. 168; R., U.B.R, 1892—1896, Vol. I, 123.]

(10)— Ss. 5, 6—Sub-Inspector's power of arresting—Gambling.—Where a Sub-Inspector of Police, not authorised to do so by the District Magistrate or Superintendent of Police, under s. 5 of the Act, enters an alleged gambling-house and arrests persons, a Magistrate cannot convict them, even the presumption of evidence created by s. 6 not arising in such a case. SRERAM CHANDRA LERKAN v. BIPINDASS, 4 C. 710. [F., 12 Cr. L.J. 28 = 8 Ind. Cas. 1127 = 6 N.L.R. 168.]

(11)—S. 6—Common gaming house.—A house cannot be considered, as exclusively private in its character, which is used for the purpose of gaming, by a large party of people of different social position and standing who would not ordinarily be friends or guests of the owner. S. 6 would raise a presumption that such a house in which coins and cowries were found was a common gaming-house. AMRIT SINGH v. KING-EMPEROR, 5 C.W.N. 503.

(12)—S. 6—Cowries—Instruments of gaming — Presumption.— Although coins are not instruments of gaming, yet, cowries being different from coins, may be treated as instruments of gaming, when they are used as counters, or as a means to carry on gaming. The finding of cowries, in a house upon search made under a warrant, will, under s. 6 of the Act, raise a rebuttable presumption that the house is used as a common gaming house. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAKUND RAM, 25 C. 432.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act II of 1867 (Gambling)—continued.

(13)—S. 6—See Nos. 4, 9, 10, supra.

(14)—S. 10—See No. 6, supra.

(15)—Ss. 10, 11—Gambling — Ring-game — Game of mere skill—Meaning of "mere" — Evidence Act, s. 105—Onus that game is game of "mere" skill.—The words "mere skill" in s. 10 of the Bengal Gambling Act of 1867 import the meaning "pure skill." No form of the ring game can be a game of pure skill. (6 C.L. J. 708 = 6 Cr. L.J. 421, Diss.) The games of skill spoken of in s. 10 obviously refer to games where there are two parties sitting their skill against each other. Therefore, a ring-game kept for the profit of a man who does not play himself and does not pit his skill at all against anybody cannot fall within the exception to s. 10 of the Act. The onus to show that any offence falls within a general exception of the Gambling Act, is upon the accused and it is for him to show, in order to bring the case under s. 10 of the Gambling Act, that the game played is a game of mere skill. Where in a ring-game it was found that the particular position in which the table was slanted rendered it a matter of almost mere chance whether any ring alighted on the peg or encircled the coin: Held, that the game was not a game of mere skill and did not fall under s. 10 of the Gambling Act. RAM NEWAZ LAL v. EMPEROR, 15 Cr. L.J. 276 = 23 Ind. Cas. 484.

(16)—S. 11—"Place," meaning of—Confiscation.—The word "place" in s. 11 cannot but be a public place, and is evidently ejusdem generis, with the other words in the section, public market, fair, street, or thoroughfare. A place within a thakurbari surrounded by a high compound wall is not a public place. [R., 8 C.W.N. 458 = 31 C. 542, 31 C. 910 = 8 C.W.N. 592, 8 Bom. L.R. 22 = 30 B. 348 = 3 Cr. L.J. 216.] If the conviction under s. 11 cannot be sustained, the order for confiscation must also fall. KHUDI SHEIKH v. KING-EMPEROR, 6 C.W.N. 33. [R., 10 Cr. L.J. 16, 14 Cr. L.J. 670 = 21 Ind. Cas. 910 = 9 N.L.R. 164.]

(17)—S. 11—Public place—Osara enclosed on all sides with doors opening towards the road.—The accused were convicted under s. 11 of the Bengal Gambling Act. The place in which the gambling was held, was an osara, enclosed on all sides, with doors opening towards the road, and with a platform between the osara and the road, and was a part of a building, the private property of certain individuals. It was used during the day as a shop, but not so in the night. The gambling in question took place after midnight on a certain day. Held, that the place was not a public place within the meaning of s. 11 of the Act. DURGA PRASAD KALWAR v. EMPEROR, 31 C. 910 = 8 C.W N. 592. [R., 10 Cr. L.J. 16.]

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act II of 1867 (Gambling)—concluded.

(18)—S. 11—Public verandah of a private house.— Gambling in an osara (verandah) belonging to a private owner would not be an offence under s. 11 of the Act, if the verandah is not used as a common gaming house, although the verandah may be accessible to the public in the sense that there is no physical obstruction to a person desirous of stepping on to it. EMPRESS v. RAGHOONANDAN SING, 31 C. 912, Note.

(19)—S. 11—See No. 15, supra.

Act VI of 1868 (District Towns).

[REP. BEN. ACT V OF 1876.]

Sch. K, cl. (1).—See JUDICIAL OFFICERS, LIABILITY OF, 14 B L.R. 254 = 21 W.R. 391.

Act VIII of 1869 (Landlord and Tenant Procedure).

[SS. 14, 20, 76, REP. IN PART, ACT VII OF 1870. REP. (IN BENGAL AND EASTERN BENGAL), ACT VIII OF 1885].

(1)—Suit against agent for rent received and misappropriated.—A suit will lie against an agent under the Rent Act for rents received by him, whether or not he has committed in respect of such rents an offence under the Penal Code SKINNER & CO. v. RUJUB ALI KHAN, 2 W R. Act X, 105.

(2)—Fraudulent removal of property—Decree of Collector's Court—Penal Code, s. 206—Act X of 1859, s. 145 (B.C.).—A person, who fraudulently removes property, intending thereby to prevent that property from being taken in execution of a decree made by a Collector, commits an offence, and is punishable under s. 206, I.P.C., and not under s. 145, Act X of 1859. GOUR CHUNDER CHUCKERBUTTY v. KISHEN MOHUN SINGH, 10 W.R. Cr. 46 = 2 B.L.R. S.N. 4.

(3)—S. 6—See WRONGFUL DISTRAINT, 8 C.L.R. 204.

(4)—Ss. 72, 74, 76—See CRIMINAL TRESPASS, 7 C. 26.

(5)—S. 74—See No. 4, supra.

(6)—S 76—See No. 4, supra.

(7)—S. 101—Procedure—Wrongful restraint.—When proceedings are taken before a Munsiff under the above section, he is bound first to inquire whether an offence has been committed and if he is satisfied that it has, the only order he can make against the offenders (not being tenants) is that they shall pay the value of the crops distrained. PREMCHAND LAHA v. ADDOITO DOSS, 20 W.R. 445.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1869 (Landlord and Tenant Procedure)—concluded.

(8)—S. 101—Act X of 1859, ss. 145 and 160—Complaint—Suit.—A complaint under s 145 is not a suit within the description of suits in which, under s. 160, an appeal was given to the Zillah Judge. In the matter of AMANATULLA, 6 B.L.R. 569 = 15 W R. 136

Act VI of 1870 (Village Chaukdari).

[SS. 2, 21, 26 AM., OTHER SS. SUPPLEMENTED, BEN. ACT I OF 1871; APPLICATION OF PART II EXT.—(LOCALLY IN ASSAM), BEN. ACT V OF 1876, S. 375; (IN BENGAL AND EASTERN BENGAL AND LOCALLY IN ASSAM), BEN. ACT III OF 1884, S. 364; SS 6, 8, 9, 22, 41, 42, 43, 44, 45 AM., SS 9A, 9B, 46B. INS., BEN. ACT I OF 1886; "DISTRICT MAGISTRATE" SUBSTITUTED FOR "MAGISTRATE OF THE DISTRICT" AND "MAGISTRATE" SS 1, 5 REP IN PT., SS. 3, 4, 11—14, 35, 39, 42—44, 62, SCH. B., AM., SS. 3A, 46A, INS., SS. 36, 37, REP., S. 64 REP. IN PT. AND AM., BEN. ACT I OF 1892.]

(1)—S. 8—Fine imposed by Sub-Divisional officer on a member of village punchayet—Nature of the order—Revision by High Court.—An order under s. 8 of the Act imposing a fine on the collecting member of a punchayet is an order by the Magistrate in his judicial capacity. The order being made under the provisions of an Act of the Bengal Council, the person on whom the fine is imposed is guilty of an offence (s. 4 (p), Crim. Pro. Code), and the fine is realisable under the provisions of the Penal Code and Crim. Pro Code. Such a person could, therefore, be sentenced to imprisonment in default of payment of the fine. An order of this nature is, therefore, a judicial order, and consequently subject to revision by the High Court. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ASHWINI KUMAR GHOSE, 23 C. 421. [R., 35 C. 1036, Note = 9 Cr. L.J. 187.]

(2)—S. 39 — See CRIM. PRO. CODE 1898, s. 56 (1), 10 C.W.N. 287 = 3 Cr. L J. 201.

(3)—S. 39, cl. (2)—Daffadar's authority to arrest—Continuing offence—Theft—Offence, how long continues.—Under s. 39, cl. (2), of Act VI B.C. of 1870, a daffadar is only entitled to arrest a person for theft committed in his presence. One R after having cut down some plantain trees belonging to J with the intention of dishonestly taking them, loaded them in a cart and was driving away the cart J pursued the cart and on his crying out that R had cut and was taking away his plantain trees, a daffadar came up and arrested R. Held, that the offence of theft did not continue when the daffadar came up and as the offence of theft was completed before the daffadar came up, and arrested R, the arrest was illegal and therefore the rescue of R from the daffadar's custody was not an offence. BALAI DEY v EMPEROR, 12 C. W.N. 367 = 7 Cr. L.J 188 = 35 C. 361.

(4)—S. 45—See PENAL CODE, s. 186, 14 C. W.N. 282 = 37 C. 122.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1871 (Bengal Civil Courts Act).

[REP., ACT XII OF 1887].

(1)—S. 24—Evidence Act, s. 57 (1)—Judicial notice of Mahomedan Ecclesiastical law—Penal Code, ss. 79, 296—Disturbing a religious assembly.—In masjid used by the members of the Hanifi sect, who use the word "amen" in their prayers in a low tone of voice, the accused, a Muhammadan of another sect called out "amen" in a loud tone of voice, according to the tenets of his sect, and was convicted of an offence under s. 296, I P.C., held by the Full Bench (Mahmood, J., dissenting). The Magistrate should re-try the case, having regard to the following questions. Was there an assembly lawfully engaged in the performance of a religious worship? (2) Was such assembly in fact disturbed by the accused? (3) Was such disturbance caused by acts and conduct on the part of the accused by which he intended to cause such disturbance, or which acts and conduct at the time of such acts and conduct, he knew or believed to be likely to cause such disturbance? Per Mahmood, J.—(a) To say that the utterance of the word "amen" aloud, after the Imam has recited the "Surai, Fateha" causes a disturbance in the prayer of a congregation, some or many of whom say the word in a low tone, is to contradict the express provisions of the Muhammadan Ecclesiastical Law as explained by the four orthodox Imams.—(b) A mosque once consecrated by public worship cannot in any case revert to the founder, and every Muhammadan has the legal right to enter it, and perform devotions according to his own tenets, so long as the form of worship is in accord with the recognized rules of Muhammadan Ecclesiastical Law. (c) The discussion said to have taken place after the act of the accused, could have only taken place during the interval when the prayers were not going on, and would not, therefore, fall under the purview of s. 296.—(d) The accused, being fully entitled by law to enter the mosque, to join the congregation, and to say the word "amen" aloud, was justified by law in exercising his right of worship within the meaning of s. 70, I.P.C., Per Mahmood, J.—The Courts are bound to take judicial notice of the Muhammadan Ecclesiastical Law, and the rules of the law need not be proved by specific evidence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMZAN, 7 A. 461, F.B.=A.W. N. 1885, 117. [R., 12 A. 494, F.B., 18 C. 448, P.C., 13 A. 419, F.B., 1 C.W.N. 76, 15 P.R. 1902, F.B. Cr.=104 P.L.R. 1902, 35 C. 294=12 C.W.N. 289=7 C.L.J. 433=3 M.L.J. 191.]

Act II of 1872 (Jute Warehouse and Fire Brigade).

[REP., BEN. ACT V OF 1879].

(1)—Ss. 4 and 34—Procedure—Storing jute—License.—Before a conviction for storing jute in a ware-house without a license can be had under s. 4, proceedings should be taken under the provisions of Ch. XV of the Code of Criminal Procedure, 1861, as required by s. 34 of the former Act, In re BHUGWAN CHUNDER KOONDOO, 19 W.R.Cr. 4.

(2)—S. 34—See No. 1, supra.

Act V of 1875 (Bengal Survey).

[S. 57—(REP. BEN. ACT VII OF 1880. S. 1, REP. IN PART ACT I OF 1903. REP. (IN ASSAM), ACT XII OF 1891. DECLARED IN FORCE IN ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3).]

(1)—S. 41—See SURVEY, 11 C.L.J. 417.

(2)—S. 45—Obstruction to Canongoe appointed by Settlement Officer—Penal Code, s. 186—Where a Canongoe appointed by a Settlement Officer in connection with the settlement of certain khas mehal belonging to Government was obstructed in his attempt to drive some pegs in the land by way of demarcating the boundary, held, that he was not acting in the discharge of any public function within the meaning of s. 186, as either of the two conditions required by the Act had not been proved. MOULA BUX v. KING-EMPEROR, 6 C.W.N. 120.

Act I of 1876 (Registration of Mahomedan Marriages and Divorces).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT I OF 1903].

See PENAL CODE, S. 419, 17 C. 606.

Act IV of 1876 (Calcutta Municipal Consolidation).

[REP., BEN. ACT II OF 1888].

(1)—Prosecution by Corporation—Competency of its servant to try as Justice of the Peace.—A servant of the Calcutta Corporation was held to have such an interest in the result of a prosecution by the Corporation (under s. 77 of Act IV of 1876) as to disqualify him from trying it as Justice of the Peace. WOOD v. CORPORATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA, 7 C. 322=9 C.L.R. 193. [R., 9 C. 397; Compared, 34 M. 130 =20 M.L.J. 773=7 Ind. Cas. 743=11 Cr. L.J. 521=8 M.L.T. 305.]

(2)—Ss. 11 and 12—Person having no beneficial interest in the property for which he paid taxes, whether qualified under above sections.—Where it is found that a certain person has himself no beneficial interest in the property for which he paid rates and taxes, he being simply the manager and trustee of such property, held, that he was not qualified under the above sections. If his name has been entered in the list of candidates eligible for election as Municipal Commissioners, the Chairman will be directed to expunge his name from the list. In the matter of RAJENDRA LAL MITTRA, 19 C. 195, Note. [R., 19 C. 192.]

(3)—S. 12—See No. 2, supra.

(4)—Ss. 75 and 79—License—Assessment—Finality of.—It is only where any person, by reason of his exercising a specified profession, is admittedly under a duty to take out a license under s. 75 of Bengal Act (IV of 1876), that an assessment should be made; and the finality of the Chairman's decision referred to in s. 79 has reference only to such cases. The language of s. 78 does not authorize the Chairman to determine (when the fact is denied), whether a particular person is bound to take out a license under s. 75. If that person denies his liability, the question can only be determined judicially, i.e., after taking evidence by a competent Court in a prosecution under s. 77. WOOD v. CORPORATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA, 7 C. 322 = 9 C.L.R. 193. [R., 9 C. 397; Considered, 34 M. 130 = 20 M L.J. 773 = 7 Ind. Cas. 743 = 11 Cr.L J. 521 = 8 M L.T. 305.]

* These Local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1876 (Calcutta Municipal Consolidation)—continued.

(5)—Ss. 75, 79—See TRANSFER OF CRIMINAL CASES—MISCELLANEOUS CASES, 2 C. 290.

(6)—S. 77—Condition for conviction—Sentence of fine.—For a conviction under s. 77 of Bengal Act IV of 1876 for keeping a boarding-house without a license, there must be proof of the accused having held himself out to the public as one whose business or profession it is to receive boarders for profit. A proper sentence of fine under s. 77 of Bengal Act IV of 1876 should be supported by evidence of the assessment on the accused's place of business and the amount payable for the license. In the matter of the HIGH COURT'S CRIMINAL PROCEDURE ACT X OF 1875, WOOD v. THE CORPORATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA, 8 C. 891 = 11 C. L.R. 357 = 4 Shome L.R 288. [Expl., 10 C. 194].

(7)—S. 77—Prosecution under section—Refusal to hear evidence—Legality.—Where, in such a prosecution, the accused denied his liability, a refusal to hear evidence on the point, on the ground of the finality of an (improper) assessment by the Chairman of the Corporation, is illegal. WOOD v. CORPORATION OF THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA, 7 C. 322 = 9 C.L R. 193. [R., 9 C. 397; Compared, 34 M. 130 = 20 M.L.J. 773 = 7 Ind. Cas. 743 = 11 Cr. L.J. 521 = 8 M. L.T. 305.]

(8)—S. 79—See Nos. 4 and 5, supra.

(9)—S. 88—Annual value — Meaning.—"Annual value," in the above section, means "annual letting value." Per Wilson, J. NUNDO LAL BOSE v. CORPORATION FOR THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA, 11 C. 275.

(10)—S. 104—Scope of section—Quære.—Whether the above section ought to be regarded as an interpretation clause, or as only directory as containing instructions to the Commissioners how to proceed when exercising the jurisdiction under s. 88 of the Act. NUNDO LAL BOSE v. CORPORATION FOR THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA, 11 C. 275.

(11)—S. 117—Certiorari.—The High Court will interfere and quash proceedings on certiorari, notwithstanding the provisions of the above section, if it appears that that the Commissioners have acted without or in excess of jurisdiction. NUNDO LAL BOSE v. CORPORATION FOR THE TOWN OF CALCUTTA, 11 C. 275. [R., 35 C. 859 = 12 C.W.N. 709 = 7 C.L. J. 631, 36 M. 72 = 13 M.L.T. 367 = 13 Cr. L.J. 723 = 16 Ind. Cas. 755 = 23 M.L.J. 393 = 1912 M.W.N. 1012.]

(12)—S. 248—Conviction for keeping animals without licenses—Continuance of same offence before conviction.—Under s. 248 of Beng. Act IV of 1876, a milkman, who has been convicted and fined under the section for keeping an animal without a license, cannot be again prosecuted for the continuance of the same offence before the date of the conviction. Nor can such a milkman be separately prosecuted for the offence, for each day the offence is continued as a separate and distinct offence under the above section before conviction. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. MATOO BEWAH, 13 C. 108.

Act V of 1876 (Bengal Municipality).

[S. 159; REP. IN PART BY ACT II OF 1901. REP. (IN BENGAL AND EASTERN BENGAL LOCALLY IN ASSAM), BEN. ACT III OF 1884.]

(1)—S. 216, prosecution under—Bench of Magistrates, power of — Omission to remove obstruction.—In a prosecution under s. 216 of Bengal Act V of 1876, a Bench of Magistrates has jurisdiction to determine whether the order that had not been carried out was a proper one or not. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF DACCA v. SOMEER, 9 C. 38 = 5 Shome L R. 79 and 92.

(2)—S. 256—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 556, 10 C. 1030.

(3)—S. 313—Bye-law ultra vires under Bengal Municipal Act (Bengal Act V of 1876)—Effect of s. 2 of Bengal Municipal Act (Bengal Act III of 1884—Bye-law 83—Validity.—The word "prescribed" in s. 2 of Act III of 1884, must mean "duly" or lawfully prescribed, and the section cannot make intra vires a bye-law which is obviously ultra vires under Act V of 1876. The bye-law 83 purporting to be made under s. 313, Bengal Act V of 1876, and sanctioned by the local Government provides that persons failing, after service of notice, to trim trees overhanging tanks, which are likely to foul the water thereof shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 10 and to a daily fine not exceeding Rs. 2 until such requisition be complied with. Held that the bye-law was ultra vires. BENI MADHUB NAG v. MOTI LAL DAS, 21 C. 837.

Act VII of 1876 (Land Registration).

[S. 55, AM., BEN. ACT V OF 1878; S. 82 REP. IN PT., BEN. ACT VII OF 1880; S. 1 REP. IN PT., S. 2, SCH. REP., ACT I OF 1903; SS. 3, 13, 15, 24, 28, 30, 31, 53, 64, 70, 77, 83, AM. SS. 5, 23 REP. IN PT., SS. 19 A, 19 B, 53 A. 74 A, INS., S. 25 REP. (IN BENGAL), BEN.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1876 (Land Registration)—concld.

ACT II OF 1906; SS. 7 (e), 8 (e) REP. LOCALLY, AND SS. 8 (b), 18 (a). (d) REP. IN. PT. LOCALLY (IN BENGAL), E.B. & A. ACT I OF 1907; SS. 7 (e), 8 (e) REP. LOCALLY, AND SS. 8 (b), 18 (a), (d) REP. IN PT. LOCALLY (IN EASTERN BENGAL), WHEN ORDER ISSUED, E.B. & A. ACT I OF 1907; DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

(1)—Ss. 52, 53, 84 — See PENAL CODE, ss. 191, 193 (2), 9 C.W.N. 127.

(2)—Ss. 52, 88—Rules framed by Board under—Validity—Force of Law—See PENAL CODE, ss. 191, 193, 38 C. 368 = 11 Ind. Cas. 595 = 12 Cr. L.J. 411.

(3)—S. 53—See No. 1, supra.

(4)—S. 56—See PENAL CODE, ss. 174, 175, 186 and 188, 29 C. 236 = 6 C.W.N. 141.

(4-a)—S. 84—See No. 1, supra.

(5)—S. 88—Board of revenue, rule passed by—How far binding—Evidence—Admissibility—Deposition before Land Registration Deputy Collector not taken in accordance with the provisions of Civ. Pro. Code.—Rules passed in the course of a proceeding of the Board of Revenue, and not drawn up by the Board under s. 88 of the Land Registration Act (VII B.C. of 1876), have not the force of law. Where the Deputy Collector, in a proceeding under the Act of 1876 recorded the deposition of a witness, which was not read over and interpreted to the witness, held, that the deposition was not inadmissible in evidence, as the rule of the Board of Revenue, which directed that "the depositions of witnesses are to be taken as directed in the Civ Pro. Code, by the presiding officer, and not by the amla of the Court," was passed in the course of the Board's proceeding, and not drawn up by the Board under s. 88 of the Land Registration Act, and, therefore, has not the force of law. DEBI SARAN MISSER v. EMPEROR, 11 C.W.N. 470 = 5 Cr L.J. 281. [R., 38 C. 368 = 11 Ind. Cas. 595 = 12 Cr.L.J. 411.]

(6)—S. 88—See No. 2, supra.

Act VIII of 1876 (Estate's Partition).

[REP. BEN. ACT V OF 1897.]

(1)—Ss. 112 and 116—Functions of a butwari amin—Penal Code, s. 186.—S. 112 of the Act is limited to those cases where the community of interest in the land in dispute between the proprietors of the estate under partition as a body and the proprietors of other estates is admitted. Where there is no such community of interest, it will not be within the legitimate functions of a butwari amin to proceed to measure the lands without a special order from the Collector, made after a preliminary enquiry. LILLA SINGH v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 22 C. 286.

(2)—S. 116—See No. 1, supra.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1878 (Bengal Excise and Licensing).

[S. 36, REP. IN PT., BEN. ACT VII OF 1880; SS. 4, 9, 19, 61, 75, 82, AM., SS. 17A, 61A, INS. S. 58, REP. IN PT. AND AM., S. 64, REP., BEN. ACT IV OF 1881; SS. 4, 15, 17, 26, 29, 30. 53, 60, 61 AM., SS. 10A, 19A, INS., BEN. ACT I OF 1883; S. 18 AM., ACT IX OF 1885, S. 3; S. 81 (PROVISO) REP., ACT XIII OF 1889; SS. 18, 19 AM., ACT XIII OF 1890, SS. 6, 7; S. 2 REP. IN PT., ACT V OF 1897; SS. 3, 51 REP. IN PT. ACT I OF 1903. TITLE, PREAMBLE, SS. 1, 11, 27, 28, 67 AM., S. 27A, INS. (FOR BENGAL AND EASTERN BENGAL), BEN. ACT II OF 1903. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE ANGUL DISTRICT, REG. I OF 1894, S. 3.]

(1)—Vendor of spirits—Breach of condition of license—Conviction of servant—Rank of excise officer.—The conviction of the servants of a licensed vendor of spirits for a breach of the license is not necessarily illegal; and a Magistrate is competent to punish more than one such servant, if each of them was guilty of a breach. [F., 9 C. 847; R., 17 C. 566, 1 N.L.R. 81.] The excise officer, to whom a licensed vendor of spirits is bound to produce his license, must be of the higher grades and not any Police officer exercising the powers of an Excise officer. In the matter of the petition of BANEY MADHUB SHAW; EMPRESS v. BANEY MADHUB SHAW, 8 C. 207 = 10 C.L.R. 389 = 4 Shome L.R. 282. [Overruled, 29 C. 606 = 6 C. W.N. 674, F.B.]

(2)—Ss. 4, 40 and 75—Foreign excisable article—Gujrat-Ganja—Penal Code, ss. 99, 147 and 353—Resistance to a public officer acting without legal authority.—Where the accused offered resistance to an Excise Sub-Inspector in his attempt to search the house of one of the accused persons for Gurjat-Ganja, held, that Gurjat-Ganja was a foreign excisable article, as defined in s. 4 of Act VII of 1878, as amended by Act IV of 1881, and consequently the excise officer had no legal authority to enter and search the house and that the accused were, therefore, not guilty of an offence either under s. 147 or 353, Penal Code. Held, also, that s. 99 of the Penal Code could not protect the officer as his conduct was altogether illegal. JAGARNATH MANDHATA v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 24 C. 324 = 1 C. W.N. 233.

(3)—S. 14—Selling toddy to European soldiers—Power to cancel license—Act III of 1880, s. 14.—The words "spirituous liquors," in s. 14 of the Bengal Excise Act, must be interpreted in their popular sense. So taken, fermented toddy comes within the words of s. 14 of the Act, which forbids the sale of any spirituous liquor, wine or intoxicating drug to European soldiers. In his judicial capacity, a Cantonment Magistrate has no authority to cancel the license of a person convicted of an offence under s. 14 of the Act, as the power to cancel licenses belongs to the revenue authorities. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMDHANI PASSI, 15 C. 452.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1878 (Bengal Excise and Licensing) —continued.

(4)—S. 15—Sale by wholesale, what is.—Under s. 15 of the Bengal Excise Act, a sale of more than twelve quart bottles of spirituous or fermented liquors of the same kind, made at one transaction, is a sale by wholesale. EMPRESS v. NUDDIAR CHAND SHAW, 6 C. 832 = 8 C L.R. 152.

(5)—S. 15—See No. 21, infra.

(6)—Ss. 15, 17 and 61—Specified quantity of spirits—Maximum amount.—Any lesser quantity of country spirits, which the Chief Commissioner of Assam, exercising the powers of the Board of Revenue, may have declared to be the maximum quantity, by any rule or order made by him under the provisions of s. 15 of the Act, cannot be deemed to be "the quantity specified in s. 15, within the meaning of s. 61." EMPRESS v. KOLA LALANG, 8 C. 214 = 10 C. L.R. 155. [F., 9 C. 847.]

(7)—S. 17—See No. 6, supra.

(8)—Ss. 17 and 61—Possession of liquor.—Certain liquor was consigned to a company of licensed vendors at Agra from Europe. The petitioner, at the request of the consignee, cleared this liquor at Calcutta by paying the duty and landing charges. The Abkari authorities seized it, while it was being conveyed to Howrah station for despatch to the consignee at Agra, and the petitioner was convicted of having the liquor in his possession in contravention of ss. 17 and 61 of the Excise Act, held, that the conviction was wrong. In the matter of HENRY KYTE, 11 C.L.R. 427.

(9)—Ss 39 and 40—Arrest under the Act, when a lawful one.—Where an excise Sub-Inspector arrested some persons found illicitly distilling liquor and took them to a neighbouring village and asked for the assistance of a Punchayet who, instead of giving assistance, collected men and rescued them, held, that the arrest was a lawful one. HRIDOY MONDAL v. JAGANANDA DAS, 4 C.W.N. 245. (16 C. 442, F.)

(10)—S. 40—See Nos. 2, 9, supra.

(11)—S. 53—Sale in presence of master—Liability of servant.—The accused, a servant in the employ of a licensed retail vendor, sold to a person a quantity of Puchwai in excess of the quantity allowed to be sold by the master's license, in the presence of his employer and at his request. He simply handed the liquor to the vendee. Held that the accused could not be convicted under s. 53 of the Bengal Excise Act, as the facts proved did not establish a sale by the accused, and the mere mechanical act of handing the liquor could not be regarded as a sale by the accused. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HARRIDAS SAN, 17 C. 566. [D., 29 C. 496.]

(12)—S. 53—Ganja sold by master in contravention of the terms in the presence of servant—Receipt of money by servant — Penal Code, ss. 34 and 114.—Where a servant received the money for ganja sold by his master in contravention of the terms of his license, master and servant both being present at the sale, held, that the servant was guilty of the offence by the provision of s. 34, Penal Code, and not as an abettor of s. 114, Penal Code, not being applicable to the case. KESHWAR LAL SHAHA v. GIRISH CHUNDER DUTT, 29 C. 496. (17 C. 566, D.)

(13)—S. 53—Term, "spirituous liquor" explained.—Although the term "spirituous liquor" is not defined in the Act, it does not include a medicinal preparation, merely because it is a liquid substance containing alcohol in its composition. The case would be different, if a person has been found manufacturing alcohol or spirits separately for the purpose of being used in the preparation of a medicine. GONESH CHUNDER SIKDAR v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 24 C. 157 = 1 C.W.N. 1. [R., 13 Cr. L. J. 545 = 15 Ind. Cas. 961 = 16 C.W.N. 785 = 39 C. 1053.]

(14)—Ss. 53, 59—Prosecution under s. 59.—The person prosecuted under s. 59 for breach of license should be the licensed vendor, and not his servants. In the matter of NOMULLU AKUND, 11 C.L.R. 416.

(15)—Ss. 53, 59, 60—S. 53, when applicable.—S. 53 does not apply to sales by a licensed vendor contrary to the terms of his license; but provides for a breach of the conditions of a license not covered by the second clause of s. 59. EMPRESS v. NOBOCOOMAR PAL, 6 C. 621. [R., 7 Cr. L.J. 344 = 12 C.W.N. 461 = 7 C.L.J. 377.]

(16)—Ss. 53, 59 and 61—Offence under ss. 53 and 61—License for sale and possession at a certain place—Sale at a different place—S. 59 of the Excise Act, offence under—Servant's liability for the master's act.—The servant, who delivers ganja to purchasers at the bidding of his master and who sells it and receives the price, cannot be convicted of offences under ss. 53 and 61 of the Excise Act (VII, B.C. of 1898). When a person having a license for the sale and possession of ganja at a certain place sells it at a different place, he commits an offence under s. 59, and not under ss. 53 and 61 of the Excise Act. GOSHTA BEHARI SAHA v. EMPEROR, 12 C.W.N. 461 = 7 C.L.J. 377 = 7 Cr. L.J. 344.

(17)—S. 54—Cultivation of Ganja—Area not covered by license.—The license mentioned in s. 54 of the Excise Act is a license to a person, and not a license for a specific area. AROJ ALI MANDAL v. KING-EMPEROR, 13 C.L.J. 217 = 9 Ind. Cas. 707.

(18)—S. 58, Award of maximum sentence under — Additional alternative sentence of imprisonment — Competency of Magistrate — Conditions of offence under s. 58.—When the accused were sentenced under s. 58 of the

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1878 (Bengal Excise and Licensing) —continued.

Bengal Excise Act to the maximum term of imprisonment awardable under the section and were, in addition, sentenced, under s. 74, to an alternative sentence of imprisonment, held, the Magistrate had not thereby exceeded his powers under s. 12 of the Presidency Magistrates' Act, as the additional sentence could not affect his powers in respect of the original sentence under s. 58. To constitute an offence under the latter part of s. 58 the offender must have introduced or attempted to introduce for sale spirituous liquors manufactured at another place into the limits fixed for the consumption of such liquors manufactured at a distillery established under s. 9 of the Act, without a special pass from the Collector; where, therefore, such limits have not been fixed under the section, a conviction is bad. RAM CHUNDER SHAW v. EMPRESS, 6 C. 575 = 8 C. L.R. 250.

(19)—S. 59—Licensed manufacturer or vendor —Breach of license by servant—Servant, whether liable.—The servant of a manufacturer or vendor under Bengal Act VII of 1878 is not liable under s. 59 of the Act to the penalty provided by that section for the commission of an act in breach of any of the conditions of the license of such manufacturer or vendor not otherwise provided for in the Act. In the matter of KALU MAL KHETRI, 29 C. 606 = 6 C. W.N. 674, F B. (6 C. 832, 11 C.L.R. 416, appr.; 19 W.R. Cr. 34, D.; 8 C. 207, overruled.)

(20)—S. 59—See Nos. 14, 15, 16, and supra.

(20-a) - S. 60—See No. 15, supra.

(21)—Ss. 60 and 15—Sale by servant—Liability.—The licensed retail vendor is the only person liable to conviction under s. 60, and not the servant of such vendor. Quære—Whether a sale of twelve quart bottles of one kind and three of another, at the same time, comes within the prohibition in the Explanation clause of s. 15? EMPRESS v. NUDDIAR CHAND SHAW, 6. C. 832 = 8 C.L R. 152. [Diss., 8 C. 207; Appr., 29 C. 606, F.B.; R., 17 C. 566.]

(22) S. 61—Imported liquor — Possession without pass by Agent of consignee —The possession of liquors by an agent, authorised to land and forward them to the consignees, would not constitute sufficient possession to justify a conviction under s. 61 of Bengal Act VII of 1878 for being in possession of them without a pass. In the matter of petition of HENRY KYTE; CROWN v. HENRY KYTE, 9 C. 223 = 11 C.L.R. 427 = 5 Shome L R. 78.

(23)—S. 61—Sale by servant of licensed vendor—Cooly employed by servant—Conviction under s. 61.—The conviction of a cooly, who carried eight quart bottles of country spirit sold by the servant of a licensed vendor, under s. 61 of Bengal Act VII of 1878, is illegal and must be set aside. But the conviction of the servant would be proper; whether it is under s. 53 or s. 60 is immaterial. EMPRESS v. ISHAN CHUNDRA DE, 9 C. 847 = 12 C.L.R. 451. (19 W. R. Cr. 34, 8 C. 207 = 10 C.L.R. 389, F.) [R., 17 C. 566, 1 N.L.R. 81.]

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1878 (Bengal Excise and Licensing) —concluded.

(24)—S. 61—See ACT IV OF 1889, ss. 6 and 7, 23 C. 174.

(25) -S. 61—See Nos. 6, 8 and 16, supra.

(26)—S. 74—Provision for additional punishment.—S. 74 providing for additional punishment in the case of a "previous conviction for a like offence" merely contemplates the conviction for an offence punishable with a fine of Rs 200 or upwards, and another conviction for another offence punishable similarly, it not being necessary that the previous conviction should have been for the same offence. RAM CHUNDER SHAW v. EMPRESS 6 C. 575 = 8 C.L.R. 250. [F., 16 C. 799; R., 4 C.L.J. 408 = 33 C. 1036.]

(27)—S. 74—Selling wine by retail with a wholesale license.—The offence of selling wine by retail, with a wholesale license is an offence like to the offence of selling wine without a license at all; it is equally the offence of selling wine without having a license so to sell it. SCHEIN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 16 C. 799. (6 C. 575, F.)

(28)—S. 75, interpretation of—Excise law—Confiscation in the owner's absence.—The boat, in which excisable articles are carried in contravention of the excise law, should not be confiscated under the provisions of s. 75 of the Bengal Excise and Licensing Act (VII B.C. of 1878), unless it is found that the owner of the boat was in some way implicated in the offence under the excise law. GOLAP SAHA v. EMPEROR, 12 C.W.N. 139.

(29)—S. 75—See No. 2, supra.

(30)—S. 16—Nature of license under—Perjury—Sanction for prosecution—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 195, 9 Ind. Cas. 115 = 15 C.W.N. 169 = 12 Cr. L.J. 11.

Act IX of 1880 (Cess).

[SS 64A, 64B INS., ACT VII OF 1881; S. 9 AM. (IN BENGAL), SS. 10, 13, 42 (1), 43, 44, 45, 46 (3), 108, SCHS. A AND C AM., S. 40A INS. (IN BENGAL AND EASTERN BENGAL), BEN. ACT II OF 1881; SS 110—181 AND S. 182 (a), (b), (c), (e), (g) AND (h) REP., SS. 9, 40, 108 REP. IN PT., SS. 4, 38, 82, 83, 98, 109 AM. (IN EASTERN BENGAL AND IN PLACES IN EASTERN BENGAL IN WHICH BEN. ACT III OF 1885 IS DECLARED IN FORCE), BEN. ACT III OF 1885, S. 2; S. 1 REP. IN PT., S. 20, EXAMPLE B AM., ACT I OF 1903; S. 109 AM. (IN PLACES IN BENGAL IN WHICH BEN. ACT III OF 1885 IS IN FORCE), BEN. ACT V OF 1908, S. 64.]

(1)—Ss. 14, 94 and 95—See PENAL CODE, s. 177, 11 Cr. L.J. 10 = 13 C.W.N. 191 = 5 M. L.T. 93 = 4 Ind. Cas. 578.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act IX of 1880 (Cess)—concluded.

(2)—S. 94—See No. 1, supra.

(3)—S. 95—See No. 1, supra.

Act IV of 1881 (Excise Amendment).

[S. 1, REP. IN PART, S. 2 REP. BY ACT V OF 1897. DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

See BEN. ACT VII OF 1878, ss. 4, 40, 75, 24 C. 324=1 C.W.N. 233.

Act II of 1882 (Embankment).

[S. 16 REP., S. 17 REP. IN PART, ACT IX OF 1890; SS. 1, 2, 46, REP. IN PART BY ACT I OF 1903.]

(1)—Ss. 6, 76, 80—Failure to comply with the provisions of ss. 6 and 80, effect of—Commission of acts prohibited by s. 76 (6).—The direction in s. 6 as to the publication of the notification in the manner directed by s. 80 is merely directory and intended to inform people living in the locality. The further directions in s. 80, as to the publishing of the proclamations and the issuing of notices are intended to serve the same purpose. Failure to comply with either provisions cannot override the declaration in s. 6 that the provisions of the notification shall take effect one month from the publication of the notification. But compliance with such provisions would be most material on the question of punishment in a prosecution under s. 76. On the principle that ignorance of law is no excuse, a person who has committed any of the acts prohibited by s. 76 (6), one month after the publication of the notification in the Gazette, cannot escape prosecution by denying all knowledge of the publication. BRINDABUN GHOSH v. EMPEROR, 7 C.W.N. 286.

(2)—Ss. 6, 80—Notification—Manner of publication.—The notification referred to in s. 6 of the Act must be published in the manner provided by s. 80; so that a publication of it in the Calcutta Gazette alone would not be sufficient. GOVERDHAN SINHA v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 11 C. 570.

(3)—S. 76—Offence under—Adding to embankment.—S. 76 of the Bengal Embankment Act prohibits, not only the construction of new bundhs, but also adding to old bundhs so as to obstruct the flow of water. DWARKA NATH MANJI v. EMPEROR, 12 C.W.N. 344=7 Cr.L.J. 185=7 C.L.J. 239.

(4)—S. 76, cls. (a) and (b)—Making addition to existing embankment—Sanction of Collector—Proviso.—There is no such proviso attached to cl. (b) of s. 76 of the Act as is attached to cl. (a). The only offence constituted by cl. (b) is that of omitting to obtain sanction of the Collector to making any addition to an existing embankment within the prohibitory area. The ruling in 11 C. 570 has been distinctly and clearly overruled, as far as the interpretations of the words "existing embankments" in both the cls. (b) and (a) are concerned, by the Full Bench case in 30 C. 481. RAMA NATH v. EMPEROR, 12 Cr. L.J. 65=9 Ind. Cas. 360=13 C.L.J. 333=38 C. 413.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act II of 1882 (Embankment)—concluded.

(5)—S. 76, cl. (b)—"Shall add to existing embankments," meaning of.—The words "shall add to existing embankments" in s. 76 of the Act, are not intended to mean any repair to an existing embankment, even if the effect of such a repair be to make the embankment higher or broader; they only mean an extension in the length of an existing embankment. GOVERDHAN SINHA v. QUEEN EMPRESS, 11 C. 570. [Overruled, 30 C. 481=7 C.W.N. 284, 38 C. 413=9 Ind. Cas. 360=12 Cr. L.J. 65=13 C.L.J. 333.]

(6)—S. 76—See No. 1, supra.

(7)—Ss. 76 (a), 79—Addition to the height of an embankment.—The words "shall add to any existing embankment" in s. 76 (a) of Act II (B.C.) of 1882, include an addition to the height of an embankment. AJODHYA NATH KOILA v. RAJ KRISHTO BHAR, 30 C. 481=7 C.W.N 284, F.B. (11 C. 570, overruled.) [Overruled, 38 C. 413=12 Cr. L.J. 65=9 Ind. Cas. 360.]

(8)—S. 77—Sand bank artificially formed—Public embankment.—A bank of sand which has artificially formed between the two spurs erected by Government for the protection of an embankment is not an embankment, nor is it a public embankment. The cutting through of such a sand bank for the protection of one's own cultivation is not an offence under s. 77 of the Act. BISSUMBHUR SINGH v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, 5 C.W.N. 108.

(9)—S. 79—See No. 7, supra.

(10)—S. 80—See Nos. 1 and 2, supra.

Act III of 1884 (Municipal).

[S. 251 AM., SS. 251A TO 251D INS., BEN. ACT. III OF 1886; SCH. 2 REP. IN PT., BEN. ACT II OF 1888; S. 261 REP. IN PT. (IN BEN.), BEN. ACT 1 OF 1893, S. 46; SS. 2, 9, 14, 15, 17, 20, 22, 23, 24, 26, 27, 28, 30, 38, 58, 59 (a), 68, 82, 86, 89, 97, 98, 99, 113, 114, 121, 125, 127, 186, 187, 199, 200, 208, 210, 212, 217 (4), 218—220, 236—242, 243, 261, 262, 270, 271, 273 (1), 279, 290, 307, 321, 322, 339, 350, 353, 365 AND SCH. V AM., S. 101 AM. (IN BEN.), S. 6, CL. (14A), INS., SS. 9A, 9B, 25A, 26A, 26B, 27A, 29A, 37A TO 37M, 66A, 97A, 111A, 141A, 147A, 199A, 210A, 223A, 242A, 256A, 256B, 260A, 262A, 318A, 334A, 349A, 349B, 350A, 351A INS., SS 11, 12, 18, 327, 328 REP., SS. 46, 57, 76, 85, 87, 320, 351 REP. IN PT, AND AM., SS. 116, 142 (c), 263, 294 REP. IN PT., BEN. ACT IV OF 1894; SS. 15, 37L, 39, 42, 69, 70, 131, 142, 238, (1), 279, 321, 322 (3), 350, 351A AM., SS. 69A, 69B, 140B, 147B, INS., S. 141A REP. IN PT., S. 147A REP. IN PT. AND AM., BEN. ACT II OF 1896; SS. 37J, 219 AM., ACT V OF 1897; IN HOWRAH, REP. IN PT., BEN.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1884 (Municipal)—continued.

ACT III OF 1899, S. 642; IN DARJEELING, S. 6, CLS. (20) TO (35) ADDED, SS. 6A, 182A, 182B, 201A TO 201G, 207A, 210B, 210C, 224A TO 224C, 229A, 244A TO 244Z, 248A TO 248E, 272A TO 272E, 350B, 351B TO 351H INS., SS. 175 TO 182 BARRED, SS. 191, 201, 207, 220 227, 228, 236 TO 244, 350A AM., SS. 208, 232, 267, 270 (4), (5) REP., SS. 218, 224, 229, 271, 272 (2), 273 (1) REP. IN PT., SCHS. A TO D ADDED, BEN. ACT I OF 1900, S. 168, REP. IN PT., ACT II OF 1901; SS. 1, 2 REP. IN PT., ACT I OF 1903. DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.

(1)—S. 2—" Prescribed," meaning of—See BEN. ACT V OF 1876, s. 313, 21 C. 837.]

(2)—Ss. 6 (13), 30 and 217 (5)—Obstructing road not vested in the Municipality.—The word "road" in cl. 5 of s. 217 is not limited to roads vested in the Municipality. A path through a paddy field, over which the public has a right of way, would amount to a "road" within the definition of the term in s. 217 (5). RAM CHANDRA GHOSE v. BALLY MUNICIPALITY, 17 C. 684.

(3)—S. 30—See No. 2, supra.

(4)—S. 45—Delegation of powers of Chairman to Vice-Chairman—Written order of delegation.—The proviso to s. 45 of the Act must not be understood as altogether over-riding the body of the section. It, merely, relates to specific acts in which an express or implied consent may have been given, or held to have been given. A general authority given orally by the Chairman to the Vice-Chairman to institute prosecutions under the Act, without any written order, does not come under s. 45 of the Act and is not a valid delegation of the power. The law requires not express consent, but a written order, where such general powers are delegated by the Chairman. KHERODA PROSAD PAUL v. CHAIRMAN OF THE HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY, 20 C. 448. [R., 13 Cr. L. J. 524 = 15 Ind. Cas. 796 = 16 C.W.N. 934.]

(5)—S. 133—Application for license—False statement—Magistrate's power to take cognizance of offence on his own motion—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 191 — Penal Code, ss. 182, 199, 417 and 511—Applicability of Penal Code to offences under Act.—Where a Deputy Magistrate instituted proceedings, of his own motion, against an accused for making a false statement, regarding the number of horses in his possession, in an application to a Municipality for a license, and charged the accused under ss. 182, 199 and 417 read with s. 511, held, on an application to the High Court during the hearing of the case, that the proceeding was not properly instituted, as there was no private complaint before the Magistrate and as he was not empowered to take cognizance of offences of his own motion in the manner prescribed by cl. (c) of s. 191 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Held that s. 182, Penal Code, was not applicable to the case, as the applicant could not be said to have tried to dishonestly induce the Municipality to omit to inspect his premises under s. 140 of the Municipal Act, merely by presenting his application in that form. For, under the section, the Commissioners had no power to inspect them at all, unless there was some other reason which justified their doing so, and that, for the same reason, the accused was not guilty of the offence of attempting to commit cheating under s. 417 read with s. 511 of the Penal Code. Held, further, that the accused was not guilty of an offence under s. 199 of the Penal Code, as the statement made by the accused for the purpose of taking out the licenses was no evidence at all against any one but himself, and could only be evidence against himself as proving an admission by him. Whenever there is an intention to apply the provisions of the criminal law to acts authorized or required by particular statutes, that intention is always made clear by express words to that effect. As there is no such provision in the Bengal Municipal Act, the Act is intended to be complete in itself as regards offenees committed against the Municipality. No penalty is attached to the omission to make a return under s. 133, and there are no words in the Act constituting the making of a false return a penal offence. CHANDI PERSHAD v. ABDUR RAHMAN, 22 C. 131. [R., 38 C. 68 = 13 C.L.J. 43 = 7 Ind. Cas. 747 = 11 Cr. L J. 525, 5 C.L J. 47 = 11 C.W N. 100.]

(6)—Ss. 142 and 146—Non registration of carts—Meaning of the words " habitually used."—The word "habitually" in s. 142 imports some degree of frequency, and, in order that a cart may be said to be "habitually used" within the limits of any Municipality, it must be used within those limits oftener than it is not, regard being had to the total extent of the use within and without the Municipality to which, in due course of business it is, or might reasonably, be put. Therefore, a person, living and keeping a cart outside a Municipality, cannot be said to be habitually using the cart under s. 142 of the Act, merely because he brings it within the limits twice a week throughout the year. THE LEGAL REMEMBRANCER v. SHAMA CHARAN GHOSE, 23 C. 52.

(7)—S. 146—See No. 6, supra.

(8)—Ss. 155 and 156—Meaning of the term "ferry"—Plying ferry without license within prescribed limits Unlicensed boat—Rights of ferryman to demand tolls from passengers.—A ferry, under the Act, means the exclusive right to carry passengers across a stream from one bank to the other, on payment of prescribed tolls, and the object of s. 155 is to prevent the crossing of passengers from one bank of the river to the opposite bank by a boat plying for hire without a license within the prescribed limits. The crossing of the bar of a stream so as to enter another stream would constitute no breach of ss. 155 and 156, and a Magistrate will not be right in adopting, as a matter of law, the precedent of an erroneous judgment of the Sessions Judge holding that the crossing of the bar at the mouth of a khal so as to enter a river and to land passengers on the opposite bank constituted a breach of the Municipal Act. A ferryman has, under no circumstances, authority to demand tolls from persons who are merely passengers in an unlicensed boat; his remedy lies under s. 156 against the person who keeps the ferry boat without a license. GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL v. SENAYAT ALI, 27 C. 317 = 4 C.W.N. 348 [R., 28 M. 517 = 15 M.L.J. 466.]

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1884 (Municipal)—continued.

(8-a)—S. 156—See No. 8, supra.

(9)—Ss. 202, 218—Removal of a wall and a privy—Owner or lessee—Requisition or notice to remove—Service on person who has built—Failure to comply with requisition—Liability.—The notice contemplated by s. 202 of the Bengal Municipal Act (III of 1884) for the removal of any wall or other obstruction erected on any road or drain should be served upon the person, who may have erected the same, and on failure to comply with such requisition, he alone is liable to a prosecution under s. 218 of the Act. So, where a wall and a privy were erected by the lessee, and not the owner of a land or building, the lessee alone is liable to a prosecution for non-compliance with a requisition issued to remove such wall and privy. SHAMA BIBEE v. JADAB CHUNDER BANERJEE, 2 C.L.J. 226 = 2 Cr.L.J. 613.

(10)—S. 201—Construction of the Act.—This section applies only to the case of a projection, which is caused by a building which is new, i.e., erected after the passing of the Acts referred to in this section, and it does not apply to the case of a projection forming part of a building which is merely in substitution for an old building, which had existed upon the same site, before the passing of the Acts mentioned in the section. [Appr., 23 B. 248.] The words "which may have been so erected or placed," in this section mean erected or placed for the first time. ESHAN CHUNDER MITTER v. BANKU BEHARI PAL, 25 C. 160 = 1 C.W.N. 660. [R., 6 Ind. Cas. 431 = 6 N.L.R. 53.]

(11)—S. 217, cl. 5—See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL JURISDICTION, 23 C. 44.

(11-a)—S. 217—See No. 2, supra, and No. 30, infra.

(12)—S. 218—See No. 9, supra.

(13)—Ss. 218, 353—Obstruction to drains—Removal—Limitation.—Although the offence of erecting culverts on pucca drains may be continuous in its nature, a prosecution for that offence cannot be instituted, under s. 353, more than six months after the commission of the obstruction was brought to the notice of the Chairman. S. 218 is not applicable to such a case. LUTTI SINGH v. BEHAR MUNICIPALITY, 1 C.W.N. 492.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1884 (Municipal)—continued.

(14)—Ss. 224, 246—Notice under s. 246.—Regard being had to the fact that the Municipality is empowered to issue a notice under s. 224, the notice here under s. 246, re the demolition of a pucca privy, was held to be a substantial compliance with the provisions of the law. DUKE, CHAIRMAN, HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY v. RAMESHWAR MALIA, 26 C. 811 = 3 C.W.N. 508.

(15)—Ss. 230, 231, 270—Nature of the offence of constructing a latrine in contravention of the provisions of ss. 230, 231.—The offence under sub-s. 3 of s. 270, namely, the construction of latrines in contravention of the provisions of ss. 230 and 231, is not a continuous offence. BIDHU BHUSAN MULLICK v. ASSENSOLE MUNICIPALITY, 6 C.W.N 167.

(16)—S. 231—See No. 15, supra.

(17)—Ss. 236 and 273 (1)—Commencement of building second storey without permission, whether an offence under s. 273 (1)—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 438 and 439.—Where a Subdivisonal Magistrate, who was also the Chairman of the Municipality, had in one order convicted the accused under s. 273 (1) of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, and, in addition to sentence, had, as Chairman, in the same order directed the demolition of the second storey commenced to be built without permission, held, that the whole order should be set aside as the case did not come under s. 273 (1) and as there was no necessity for permission to build a second storey, the act not amounting to building or rebuilding a house, nor to obstruction or encroachment on roads. EMPEROR v. MATHURA PRASAD, 29 C. 491.

(18)—Ss. 237 and 238—Notice of intention to build—Commencement of building in anticipation of sanction—Refusal of sanction—Effect.—Although a person commencing to build a house after giving the notice required by s. 237, without waiting for the six weeks mentioned in it, does not necessarily contravene the law, yet, when he so acts, the reasonable view must be that he does it at his risk, his act being liable to be treated as one in contravention of any legal order of the Commissioners issued within the statutory period of six weeks, if such order does not sanction the proposed building. CHUNDRA KUMAR DEY v. GONESH DAS AGRAWALLA, 25 C. 419.

(19)—S. 238—See No. 18, supra.

(19-a)—Ss. 238, 240, 273, sub-s. (1)—Building of new masonry wall, whether erection of house—Erection without sanction, whether offence—"Building," meaning of.—The building of a new and additional masonry wall which materially enlarges a courtyard constitutes the erecting of a house within the meaning of ss. 238 and 240 of the Bengal Municipal Act, and its erection without the sanction of the Municipal Commissioners is an offence under s. 273, sub-s. (1) of the Act. The word "building," in the absence of any specific definition in the Act, should be construed in its ordinary sense and as including erections, structures, or buildings such as masonry walls. MAHANT MOHABIR DAS v. GAYA MUNICIPALITY, 16 Cr. L.J. 59=26 Ind. Cas. 651.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1884 (Municipal)—continued.

(20)—Ss. 238, 273—Sanction to build not given in proper time—Right to build without sanction.—A person building according to his own plans six weeks after his submission of plans and specifications for the sanction of the Municipal Commissioners cannot be convicted under s. 273, for building without a sanction. The fact that certain alterations were made after such period at the suggestion of the Municipality, would not make him forfeit his rights, under s. 238, to build on his own plan. SEWANANDAN RAI KAYAL v. VICE-CHAIRMAN OF THE DARJEELING MUNICIPALITY, 5 C. W.N. 42.

(20-a)—S. 240—See No. 19-a, supra.

(21)—Ss. 243, 244, 267—Hut, erection of, without notice to Commissioners, offence—Notice to remove hut, not condition precedent to conviction.—S. 243 of the Bengal Municipal Act forbids the erection of a hut within a Municipality, without a month's notice to the Municipal Commissioners. When, therefore, a person was prosecuted under s. 267 of the Act for having erected a hut without such notice, and it was found that the hut was so erected: held, upon the facts found, the accused ought to have been convicted, held, also, s. 267 of the Act provides for two distinct classes of offences, namely, (1) erecting a hut without a month's notice to the Commissioners, and (2) failing to remove a hut, erected without such notice, when required to do so, the latter only being an offence of a continuous nature, liable to be punished with a daily fine. Notice to remove the hut is not a condition precedent to a conviction for the first class of offences mentioned above. CHAIRMAN, HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY v. GOLAPI BEWA, 10 C L J. 16=10 Cr. L.J. 191 =2 Ind. Cas. 939

(22)—S. 244—See No. 21, supra.

(23)—Ss. 245, 246—Suit against Municipality—Civil Court's jurisdiction for challenging acts of Municipality, when they are in conformity with statutory powers.—A Civil Court can restrain a Municipality from doing anything ultra vires. but it has no jurisdiction to try the question whether the Municipality, when it was acting within the limits of its statutory power, was right in its judgment that a certain thing should be done. If a Municipality having proceeded in accordance with the provisions of ss. 245, 246, Bengal Municipal Act (III of 1884), decides that certain works are necessary, that conclusion, in the absence of mala fides, or fraud or considerations of that nature, cannot be successfully challenged and cannot be gone into, in a Civil Court. DUKE, CHAIRMAN, HOWRAH MUNICIPALITY v. RAMESHWAR MALIA, 26 C. 811=3 C.W.N. 508. [R., 6 Ind. Cas. 431=6 N.L.R. 53, 16 Ind. Cas. 449=8 N L.R 107. 58 P.R. 1907=196 P.L.R. 1908 =136 P.W.R 1907.]

(23-a) S. 246—See No. 23, supra.

(24)—Ss. 261, 273, cl. 2—*Carrying an offensive or dangerous trade—Scope of s. 261—Fixing of local limits a condition precedent to prosecution under s. 272—Proceedings of Municipal bodies how to be proved—Presumption as to the regular performance of official acts, if applies to supply deficiency in proof—Evidence Act, ss.*78 (5), 114, Ill. (e).—Where the petitioner was convicted under cl. 2 of s. 273 of the Bengal Municipal Act for having used without a license certain premises within the Cuttack Municipality for the purpose of storing hides in contravention of s. 261 of the Act, but no resolution passed by the Commissioners at a meeting fixing the local limits within which licenses should be required under s. 261 for offensive or dangerous trades was on the record, nor was there any secondary evidence of any such resolution: Held—that the conviction must be set aside, as the prosecution had failed to prove the existence of the resolution, and if, from other circumstances, it were assumed that such a resolution was passed, the prosecution had failed to prove its purport in the manner required by law. The presumption that official acts have been regularly performed (s. 114, Evidence Act, Ill. (e)) cannot supply the deficiency in the proof. As a rule the contents of documents cannot be proved inferentially. A legitimate way of proving the proceedings of a Municipal body in British India is by a copy of such proceedings certified by the legal keeper thereof or by a printed book purporting to be published by the authority of such body as laid down in cl. 5 of s. 78 of the Evidence Act. The language used in s. 261 of the Bengal Municipal Act is wide enough to enable the Commissioners of the Municipality to apply the section to all places within the Municipal limits or the entire area within the Municipal boundaries. Quœre—Whether the penultimate clause of s. 261 empowers the Commissioners to do more than withhold the license in individual cases, each case being considered on its own merits. SYED MOKRAM ALI v. CUTTACK MUNICIPALITY, 17 C.W.N. 531=14 Cr L.J. 91 =18 Ind. Cas 651.

(25)—Ss. 263 and 273—Keeper of hackney carriages—Milk man.—Where a person had a number of ponies and also some cows and sheep and let out a carriage and pair on monthly hire, keeping the same in his stable, and also kept other ponies for sale, and supplied milk to others out of his cows, held, that the facts found did not render him liable within the terms of s. 273 FAIRWEATHER v. SURESH CHUNDER DUTT, 5 C.W.N. 331.

(25-a)—S 270—See No. 15, supra.

(26)—Ss. 271, 272—Conviction under the sections, when awardable.—In the absence of any finding or material in the judgment to show that the requisition was served upon the accused and what the requisition was about, a conviction either under s. 271 or s. 272, cannot be maintained. BIDHU BHUSAN MULLICK v. ASSENSOLE MUNICIPALITY, 6 C.W.N. 167.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1884 (Municipal)—continued.

(26-a)—S. 272—See No. 26, supra.

(27)—S. 273—Period of sanction, computation of.—The period of six weeks during which the Municipal Commissioners should sanction an application to build, is to be computed from the date when complete plans and specifications are submitted in such a form as to make it possible of being considered by the Commissioners. SEWANANDAN RAI KAYAB v. VICE-CHAIRMAN OF THE DARJEELING MUNICIPALITY, 5 C.W.N. 42.

(27-a)—S. 273—See Nos. 17, 19-a, 20, 24 and 25, supra.

(28)—Ss. 320, 321—Liability for keeping a factory in a filthy state—See ACT XV OF 1881, s. 15, 25 C. 454.

(28-a)—S. 321—See No. 28, supra.

(29)—Ss. 337, 338, 344 and 339—Resolution extending provisions of s. 337 to a Municipality —Order as contemplated by s. 337—Power to grant license— Jurisdiction of Courts.—The Municipal Commissioners of Madaripur at a meeting passed the following resolution:— "That the provisions of s. 337 of the Act be extended to this Municipality." But it also appeared that Part X of the Act, which includes the section, had been previously extended to the Municipality by an order of the Government of Bengal. Held, that the resolution of the Municipality was not such an order as was contemplated by s. 337, and its terms were not sufficiently precise, so as to convey a definite meaning, and it merely purported only to do what the Bengal Government had already done some time previously. Therefore, the conviction of a person, under s. 344 of the Act, for holding a market on his land, after the passing of the resolution, without any license, was set aside. It is entirely within the discretion of the Municipal Commissioners, under the provisions of s 339 of the Bengal Municipal Act, to grant or refuse a license, and the Courts have no longer any jurisdiction to control such power, however arbitrarily exercised. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MUKUNDA CHUNDER CHATTERJEE 20 C. 654. (17 C. 329, appr.)

(29-a)—S. 338—See No. 29, supra.

(29-b)—S. 339—See No. 29, supra.

(29-c)—S. 344—See No. 29, supra.

(29-d)—S. 353—See No. 13, supra.

(30)—Ss. 353, 217—Municipal offence, prosecution for—Consent of the Commissioners to prosecution how to be evidenced—Sanction of prosecution, by public authority, if should be in writing signed and sealed by the authority.—

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1884 (Municipal)—concluded.

The only evidence of sanction of prosecution of a public authority is a writing under the seal and signature of that authority. Where the Vice-Chairman of a Municipality, in starting two prosecutions against the accused under s.217 of the Bengal Municipal Act and Municipal Bye-law No. 50 respectively, merely signed two "Forms" called "Forms of prosecution," in the remarks column of one of which was written "I have seen myself" and in that of other "prosecute." Held—that neither of these documents disclosed any authority written or otherwise showing the consent of the Commissioners or the Vice-Chairman on their behalf to a prosecution. RASUL BUKHSH v. MUNICIPAL BOARD OF CHAPRA, 16 C.W.N. 934=15 Ind. Cas. 796=13 Cr. L.J. 524.

Act I of 1885 (Ferries).

[S. 18 REP. IN PT. BY ACT II OF 1901. DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

(1)—Ss. 6, 16, 28—Declaration of ferry being public—Private ferry not to ply within specified distance of public ferry.—Where a ferry has not been declared to be a public ferry under s. 6 of the Bengal Ferries Act, no conviction under ss. 16 and 28 of the Act can take place for plying a private ferry, within the specified distance of the ferry. MAHARAJ MANDAL v. POKAK SINGH. 6 Ind. Cas. 198=37 C. 543=11 Cr. L.J. 293=12 C.L.J. 21.

Act III of 1885 (Local Self-Government).

[S. 45 AND SCH. II AM., ACT I OF 1903; SS. 1, 6, 25, 73, 103 REP. IN PT., SS. 5, 7, 10, 11, 13, 15, 17, 19, 22, 25—27, 29, 32, 33, 35, 36, 44, 48, 50, 52, 53, 56, 58—61, 63, 65, 67, 73, 82, 86, 91, 99 (AND HEADING THERETO), 100, 104—111, 114—119, 130—134, 138, 139, 142, 144, SCH. II, AM., SS. 16, 24, 34, 72 REP., S. 18 REP. IN PT. AND AM., S. 18-A, 19-A, 23-A, 26-A, 29 A, 35-A, 41-A, 53-A, 64-A, 65-A, 65-B, 78-A, 86-A TO 86-M, 88-A, 99-A, 118-A TO 118-D INS. (IN BENGAL), BEN. ACT V OF 1908.]

(1) Bye-laws—District Board roadside land, encroachment on — Acquisition of right by District Board over land adjacent to road, how to be made.—A District Board can only take action and acquire right over a zemindar's land adjacent to its road under Act III (B.C.) of 1885. Where some accused were convicted under ss. 15 and 19 of the District Board Bye-laws for having encroached upon and cultivated land claimed by the District Board to be their roadside land from which its officers had been taking earth, although there had never been any formal acquisition of these lands by the District Board: Held, that the conviction must be set aside. JADU GHOSH v. DISTRICT BOARD OF MURSHIDABAD, 15 Cr. L.J. 267=23 Ind. Cas. 475=19 C.L.J. 635.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1885 (Local Self-Government)—ctd.

(2)—S. 76—Channel—Property of private person—How can be brought under District Board.—A District Board can only bring a private channel under its control and administration by making an agreement with the person in whom the property in any channel is vested, under s. 76 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act. Where a District Board had a certain private channel entered on its books and had spent some money on its up-keep: Held, that this was not sufficient to bring the channel under the control and administration of the District Board, and that the persons erecting weirs and fishing in it, with the permission of the owners, committed no offence against the District Board's bye-laws. SHASHI BHUSHAN GUPTA v. EMPEROR, 13 Cr. L J. 580 = 15 Ind. Cas. 996.

(2-a)—S. 78—See No. 4, infra.

(3)—S. 139—Bye-law—Encroachment, what is—Highway—District Board road—Right of user by public—Hanging verandah, if invade right of user of public—Obiter.—An encroachment is an unlawful gaining upon the right or possession of another man. (L.R. 7 Q.B. 69 (73) = 41 L.J. M.C. 25 = 25 L.T. 586 = 20 W.R. 203, Rel.) In the case of a District Board road, the right to the soil ordinarily rests with the owner of the land adjoining the road. But the public have an extended right of user in the road for the protection and control of which the District Boards were created. A hanging verandah, therefore, would be an encroachment if it amounted to an unlawful gaining upon the right of user by the public. That right extends to all forms of traffic which have been usual or customary, and also all that are reasonably similar or incidental thereto. (2 F. and F. 570 = 121 R R. 816, Rel.) The question whether a hanging verandah amounts to an encroachment would depend in each case upon the question whether in the particular circumstances it constitutes an invasion of the public right of user as described above. The public have a right of user not merely on the roadway, but also on the side lands attached to the road. HIRJI BALDEO v. MANBHOOM DISTRICT BOARD, 15 Cr. L.J. 187 = 22 Ind. Cas. 763 = 18 C.W.N. 1120.

(4)—Ss. 139 and 78—Bye-law made under—Authority of the District Board to make the bye-law not ultra vires.—Where the bye-law of a District Board, made under s. 139 of the Bengal Local Self Government Act, was in these terms:—"Whoever encroaches on any road by cultivating crops or by ploughing it up for cultivation, or by the construction of any building or structure thereon, except by the permission of the Chairman of the District Board, shall be liable to a fine not exceeding Rs. 50 and to a further fine not exceeding Rs. 2 for every day on which the offence is continued." held that the bye-law was not ultra vires of the District Board, which had power, under s. 139 read with s. 78 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, to make such a bye-law. The building of the part of a house over part of a public road, without the permission of the Chairman of the District Board, is punishable under the bye-law. RAMANTAR SAHU v. ARRAH MUNICIPAL BOARD, 11 C.W.N. 1099 = 5 Cr. L.J. 319.

(5)—S. 140—Encroachment—Erection of a fence on the roadside land—Passage along the road not impeded—Offence—Proprietary right of the District Board over roadside land—Continuing offences likely to be committed after proceeding—Daily fine—Legality.—Where a bye-law made under s. 140 of the Bengal Local Self-Government Act, 1885, enacted that "no person shall damage or encroach on any part of a road, its slopes or side ditches, by placing a fence thereon," and where a person erected a fencing that stood upon the roadside land and thereby encroached upon such land. Held that the encroachment, though it did not impede the passage along the highway, was an offence. The fact that it was admitted that the District Board has no proprietary right in the road or in the land on which its slopes or side ditches stand, and that its rights are confined to maintaining the road, does not affect the question. A sentence of a daily fine, imposed in respect of a continuing offence, which may be committed after the date of the proceeding, is illegal. NILMANI GHATAK v. EMPEROR, 37 C. 671 = 7 Ind. Cas. 931 = 11 Cr. L.J. 540.

Act VIII of 1885 (Bengal Tenancy).

[SS. 12 (2), 13 (1), (2) AM., ACT VIII OF 1886. SUPPLEMENTED, BEN. ACT III OF 1895, SS. 20, 28—32, 36 (c). SS. 30 (a), 31, 39 (6), 52, CH. X, and S. 119 AM., SS. 31A, 31B, INS., BEN. ACT III OF 1898. CERTAIN TRANSFERS UNDER SS. 12, 13, 17 OR 18 VALIDATED, PROVISIONS OF THOSE SECTIONS AS TO FEES AM., S. 106 AM., BEN. ACT I OF 1903. SS. 1 (3), 3 (5), (10), 12 (2), (3), 13 (1), (2), 15, 16, 19, 22, 40, 52, 58, 67, 69 75, 88, 101 (2), 102, CH. X, PT. II (HEADING), SS. 104, 104H (g), 105 (2), 106, 107, 108, 109, 109A, 111, 112, CH. XI (HEADING), SS, 116, 120, 148, 153, 158 (1), 161, 168 (1), 169 (1), 170, 174 (2), 178, 189, 192, SCH. III AM., SS. 14, 45 REP., CH. IVA (SS. 18A TO 18C), SS. 40A, 102A, 103B, 105A, 108A, 109B, 109C, 109D, 111B, 115A, 147A, 147B, 148A, 153A, CH. XIIIA (S. 158A), SS. 158B, 186A, 188A INS., S. 114 REP. IN PT. AND AM., SS. 149, 150 REP. IN PT. (IN BENGAL), BEN. ACT I OF 1907; SS. 1 (3), 3 (5), (10), 12 (2), (3), 13 (1), (2), 15, 16, 19, 22, 40, 52, 58, 67, 69, 75, 101 (2), 102, 103B, CH. X, PT. II (HEADING), SS. 104, 104H (3), 105, 106, 107, 108, 109, 109A, 111, 112, CH. XI (HEADING), SS. 116, 120, 148, 154, 158 (1), 161, 168 (1), 169 (1), 170, 174 (2), 178, 189,

* This local Act was passed by the Imperial Legislature.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1885 (Bengal Tenancy)—continued.

192, SCH. III AM., SS. 14, 45 REP., CH. IVA (SS. 18A TO 18C), SS. 40A, 102A, 105A, 108A, 109B, 109C, 111B, 115A, 147A, 147B, 148A, 153A, CH. XIIIA (S. 158A), SS. 158B, 186A, 188A, INS., S. 114 REP. IN PT., AND AM., SS. 149, 150 REP. IN PT (IN EASTERN BENGAL), E.B. & A. ACT 1 OF 1908. S 84 DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SANTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

(1)—Ss. 3 (16), 58 (3)—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 476, 17 C.W.N. 571 = 14 Cr.L.J. 139 = 18 Ind. Cas. 891 = 40 C. 465.

(2)—S. 58(3)—Crim. Pro Code (1898), ss. 4 (o), 29 (2)—Jurisdiction of Magistrates to try a landlord for the act specified in s. 58 (3).—Reading the definition of "offence" in s. 4 (o) with s. 29 (2), and the last entry in Sch. II, Crim. Pro. Code, a Magistrate has jurisdiction to try a landlord for the act specified in s. 58 (3) of the Bengal Tenancy Act, namely, failure to prepare and retain counterfoils and rent receipts. But the trial of such offences must be conducted with the ordinary procedure. A conviction under s. 58 (3), Bengal Tenancy Act, based merely on an admission alleged to have been made by the accused, and recorded in a report written by a Police officer in another case, after the examination of the accused on oath, was held to be irregular. EMPEROR v. MOHUNT RAMDAS, 9 C.W.N. 816 = 2 Cr. L.J. 532.

(3)—S. 58 (3)—See No. 1, supra.

(4)—S. 69—Penal Code, s. 186 — Person nominated by Collector under s. 69 of the Act—Public servant. — A person nominated by a Collector, under s. 69 of the Bengal Tenancy Act, for the purpose of making a division of crops between the landlord and tenant is not a public servant within the meaning of the Penal Code. CHATTER LAL v. THACOOR PERSHAD, 18 C. 518. [D., 26 C. 158.]

(5)—Ss. 69 and 70—Crim. Pro Code (1882), s. 195 — "Court," meaning of — Collector acting under ss. 69 and 70 of the Act.—The word "Court" is not defined in the Crim. Pro. Code, but it certainly has a wider meaning than a Court of Justice as defined in the Penal Code. Having regard to the obvious purpose for which s. 195 was enacted, the widest possible meaning should be given to the word "Court," as therein mentioned and it will include a tribunal empowered to deal with a particular matter and authorised to receive evidence on that matter, in order to arrive at a determination. A Collector, acting under ss. 69 and 70 of the Bengal Tenancy Act is such a tribunal, and is, therefore, a 'Court' within the meaning of s. 195 of the Crim. Pro Code. RAGHOOBUNS SAHOY v. KOKIL SINGH, 17 C. 872. [F., 37 B. 365 = 15 Bom L.R. 45 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 1 = 18 Ind. Cas. 408 = 14 Cr. L.J. 72; Rel. on, 10 Cr. L.J. 395 = 3 Ind. Cas. 886 = 3 S.L.R. 66; R., 37 C. 52 = 5 Ind. Cas. 62 = 14 C.W.N. 132 = 11 Cr. L.J. 45, 24 M. 121 = 2 Weir 170.]

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1885 (Bengal Tenancy)—concluded.

(6)—S. 70—See No. 5, supra.

(7)—Ss. 90, 188—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 107, 9 C.W.N. 618 = 2 Cr. L. J. 338.

(8)—S. 95—Penal Code, ss. 193 and 199—Proceedings without jurisdiction—False statement given in such proceedings.—There is no provision in the Bengal Tenancy Act authorising a District Judge to direct a person to deliver certain accounts and papers belonging to an estate to a common manager appointed under s. 95 of the Act, nor is there any power given to him to institute a proceeding on the person's failure to comply with the order and to examine him on oath in such proceeding. Therefore, a person making a false statement in that proceeding cannot be convicted under s. 193 or s. 199 of the Penal Code. ABDUL MAJID v. KRISHNA LAL NAG, 20 C. 724. [F., 35 A. 58 = 10 A.L.J. 462 = 13 Cr. L. J. 769 = 17 Ind. Cas. 401.]

(9)—S. 123—Public servant, obstruction to—Warrant—Cutting crops distrained under s 123 of the Act—Penal Code, ss. 143 and 186 —Absence of complaint by public servant concerned—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 4 and 195. —A person, acting under the orders of a Munsiff, was cutting crops which were distrained under s. 123, Bengal Tenancy Act. While doing so with the assistance of a number of labourers, the petitioners in a mob threatened the labourers and prevented the peon from having the crops cut. The peon lodged information of the occurrence, and the petitioners were convicted under ss. 186 and 143, Penal Code. Held, that the conviction under s. 186, Penal Code, should be set aside as there was no complaint of the public servant concerned with s. 195, Crim. Pro. Code, taking complaint as defined in s. 4, Crim. Pro. Code. KAILAS KURMI v. EMPEROR, 30 C. 285. [R., 8 C.W.N. 17 = 30 C. 910.]

(10)—S. 188—See No. 7, supra.

Act II of 1888 (Calcutta Municipal Consolidation).

[REP., BEN. ACT III OF 1899.]

(1)—List of Voters—Chairman's duty.—The Chairman's duty is to publish the general or original list of voters, 60 days before the day for each general election, and, if, required, to revise the list in the manner laid down in s. 22 of the above Act. In the matter of CORKHILL, 22 C. 717.

(1-a)—See BEN. ACT III OF 1899, ss. 449, 452, 579, 7 C.W.N. 551.

(2)—Ss. 8 and 19 — Exercise of power of voting.—There is nothing specific in the Acts, which prevents or disentitles a person who is qualified to vote under s. 8, from exercising his right in the event of his name not appearing in the revised list of voters. The only prohibition of this nature which exists is that found in the rules of the Local Government issued under s. 19 of the Act. In the matter of CORKHILL, 22 C. 717.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act II of 1888 (Calcutta Municipal Consolidation)—continued.

(3)—Ss. 14 and 24—Right of Hindu joint family to empower one to vote on its behalf.—The portion of the Municipal Act, which deals with persons qualified to be elected, is to be found in s. 14 of the Act. The right of a Hindu joint family to empower a person to vote on its behalf is given by s. 24, which does not precede s. 14. In the matter of MUTTY LALL GHOSE, 19 C. 192. [Appl., 22 C. 717.]

(4)—S. 19—See No. 2, supra.

(5)—Ss. 19, 21, 22, 23—Revised list of voters—Supplementary list.—Neither the above Act, nor the Local Government's Rules issued under s. 19 of that Act, require that the names of either the candidate or his proposer, seconder, or approvers, should appear in the revised list of voters, prepared under ss. 21, 22 and 23 of the Act. There is no sanction for the issue of any supplementary list of voters to be found either in the Act or under the rules issued by the Local Government under s. 19 of the Act. The Chairman cannot even revise the original list of voters on his own motion at any time. He can only do so in the manner stated in s. 22, or, on an application made under s. 21, or in pursuance of orders made by the Presidency Magistrate under s. 23. In the matter of CORKHILL, 22 C. 717.

(6)—S. 21—See No. 5, supra.

(7)—S. 22—See No. 5, supra.

(8)—S. 23—See No. 5, supra.

(9)—S. 24—See No. 3, supra.

(10)—Ss. 24 and 25—Interpretation of the Act.—The Legislature intended to provide that a family, firm, company, or association should be represented by one of their own members, on whom they could rely and who would do as they desired, and that, although the omission so to provide appeared to be a grave defect in the Act, which the Legislature might well take into consideration, still, it is not possible to introduce into the above section, words which were not to be found in such section, namely, "such person being a member of such joint Hindu family, etc." Therefore, in this case, the Court reluctantly came to the conclusion that it would not be justified in putting such an interpretation on the Act as would involve the addition in the Act of words which the Legislature had left out. In the matter of the ELECTION OF MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONERS FOR WARD No. 10, CALCUTTA, 19 C. 198, Note.

(11)—S. 25—See No. 10, supra.

(12)—S. 31—Compliance with the section—Chairman's power—Duty of candidate standing for election.—Where there is a prima facie compliance with the above section, the Chairman has no power to go further and determine questions affecting the status of persons claiming to be candidates duly qualified under the Act, and he has no judicial discretion to interfere with the list of candidates. (19 C. 192, Appr.) It seems, in such cases, the High Court has jurisdiction, by a proceeding in the nature of a quo warranto, to restrain a person duly elected from exercising the functions of a duly elected commissioner. According to the above section, a candidate for election must, within the time mentioned, send in his own name, together with the names of the proposer, seconder, and approvers. This rule cannot be waived by the Chairman. In the matter of CORKHILL, 22 C. 717.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act II of 1888 (Calcutta Municipal Consolidation)—continued.

(13)—S. 31—Interference with list of candidates for election as Municipal Commissioners.—No order can be made, under s. 45, Act I of 1877, unless, amongst other things, it is shown that the doing, or the forbearing to do an act by any person holding a public office or by any corporation or inferior Court, is clearly incumbent on such person or Court in his or its public character, or on such corporation in its corporate character. The Chairman of a Municipality cannot be ordered to show cause why the name of a particular person should not be removed from the list of candidates for election as Commissioner, since the above section does not impose on the Chairman of the Municipality the duty of exercising any judicial discretion or taking any judicial action on the list of candidates prepared under that section. In the matter of MUTTY LALL GHOSE, 19 C. 192. [Appr., 22 C. 717.]

(13-a)—S. 87 and the second Schedule—Insurance Companies registered in England—Business in India carried on through agency of general merchants.—An insurance Company, which is registered in England, with a paid up capital of £100,000, which issues policies, and carries on the general business of insurance in Calcutta, through the agency of general merchants there, is not liable to the license tax imposed by s. 87 of the Act, as such company does not come either under the section or any of the classes mentioned in the second schedule of the Act. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. STANDARD MARINE INSURANCE COMPANY, 22 C. 581. [Appl., 21 M. 5; R., 24 M. 205; D., 25 C. 483.]

(14)—S. 87 and Sch. II, Rule 7 (6)—License-tax—Liability of Joint-Stock Company having no registered place of business.—A joint-stock company, having no registered place of business in Calcutta, but carrying on, through an agent, a business prescribed in the second schedule of the Act, comes within the scope of s. 87 and is bound to take out a personal license, although it is not liable to take out a local license. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. EASTERN MORTGAGE AGENCY COMPANY, LTD., 25 C. 483=2 C.W.N. 328. (22 C. 581, D.)

(15)—Ss. 236, 241—Material alterations of the structure of a house—Sanction.—The words

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act II of 1888 (Calcutta Municipal Consolidation)—continued.

"material alteration of the structure of any house" in s. 236, contemplate the erection of any thing on a site attached to, or detached from, any building standing on it, so as to alter the structure of the house, that is to say, of the house with all the building standing on that site. Sanction is necessary for such building, and failure to obtain the same entails the liability under s. 241. But an order of demolition under s. 449 of Act III of 1899 is not legal. KESHUB CHANDRA SEN v. CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL CORPORATION, 7 C.W.N. 374.

(16)—S. 241—See No. 15, supra.

(17)—Ss. 307, 336, r. 6, sch. II—Keeping animals without license—Premises in lessee's possession—Validity of prosecution of owner.—The words of s. 336, though apparently general, must be read with this limitation, namely, that the penalty under the section attaches to the owner for permitting any animals to be kept thereon for profit without taking out a license when he has direct possession of the premises in question; but when the property is let out, it is the duty of the lessee to obtain the license. In the latter case, the owners of the premises cannot be prosecuted under s. 307. ABHOY CHARAN DASS v. MUNICIPAL WARD INSPECTOR, 25 C. 625 = 2 C.W.N. 289.

(18)—Ss. 335 and 336—License—Cow-shed.—By paragraph 2 of s. 335, the owner of a cow-shed is allowed time up to the 1st June of every year to take out a license. Therefore, a person cannot be prosecuted under s. 336 of the Act before the 1st June for keeping an unlicensed shed. AUKHOY CHUNDRA HATI v. CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL CORPORATION, 24 C. 360.

(19)—S. 336—See Nos. 17, 18, supra.

(20)—S. 364—Sale of adulterated mustard oil.—Where a person was charged with having sold mustard oil mixed with other kinds of oil on the evidence of a chemical analyst, and he proved that what was known as mustard oil in the market was ordinarily prepared in the same manner as the specimen, held, that the accused was protected under the first proviso to s. 364 of the Act. BAISHTAB CHARAN DAS v. UPENDRA NATH MITRA, 3 C.W.N. 66.

(21)—Ss. 381 and 382—Certificate prohibiting the use of a burial ground.—S. 381 of the Act requires that, in stating the period on a certificate under the section (e.g., prohibiting the use of a burial ground), the point of time from which the period is to run must be mentioned; in the absence of any express mention of the point of time from which the period is to run, it cannot be taken to run from the date of the certificate itself. LUTFUR RAHMAN NUSKUR v. MUNICIPAL WARD INSPECTOR, 25 C. 492 = 2 C.W.N. 145.

(22)—S. 382—See No. 21, supra.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act II of 1888 (Calcutta Municipal Consolidation)—concluded.

(23)—Ss. 412 and 417—Power of the corporation to make bye-laws for taking out permit—Bye-laws (C), 4, 6—Failure to take out permit.—Quære.—Whether it was competent for the Municipal Commissioners to make bye-laws, under s. 412 of the Act, creating the duty or obligation of taking out a permit, and whether disobedience to such bye-law would constitute a punishable offence. Where a milkman having been convicted, for not taking out before the 1st December, a half-yearly permit in accordance with bye-laws (C), 4, 6, made under the provisions of s. 412 of Bengal Act II of 1888, by the Municipal Commissioners of Calcutta, was charged again with continuing the offence by failing, for the space of seven days subsequent to the said conviction, to take out the permit for the same half-year, whilst still carrying on the business as a milkman, held, that the offence of not taking out a permit, on or before the 1st December, was complete, when that day had passed, and that, as he had already been punished for it, he could not be again convicted for the same offence. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. GADUB DOOLEY, 20 C. 605.

(24)—S. 417—See No. 23, supra.

(25)—Sch. II, r. 6—See No. 17, supra.

(26)—Sch. II, r. 7 (6)—See No. 14, supra.

Act II of 1889 (Private Fisheries Protection).

[SUPPLEMENTED ACT IV OF 1897].

(1)—S. 3—Fishing in private waters—Bona fide dispute as to boundaries—Jurisdiction of Criminal Courts.—Where, in a charge under s. 3, of having fished in the waters of another person, the accused pleaded a bona fide claim to it and it was shown that there had been dispute and litigation between the parties, held, that the matter should not be tried by Criminal Court and still less in a summary way. SRI RAM CHANDRA ROY v. DINA NATH MUKHOPADHAYA, 4 C.W.N. 247.

(2)—S. 3—Fishing in private waters—Bona fide claim of right.—Where a person has a bona fide claim of right of fishing in private waters upon the basis of a lease, he cannot be convicted of an offence under s. 3. The question, whether the lessee ought to have satisfied himself thoroughly that the lessor has a good title to the property, is not a matter that properly comes under the Fisheries Act. NAZIR MALITA v. HARI CHARAN PARUI, 6 C.W.N. 118.

Act I of 1892 (Village-chaukidari Amendment).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT I OF 1903, S. 3 REP. IN PT., ACT V OF 1897. SS. 2 (1), 6, 12, REP., ACT I OF 1903].

(1)—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, ss. 25 and 26, 2 C.W.N. 637.

(2)—S. 13—See CHOWKIDAR, 27 C. 366 = 4 C.W.N. 252.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act I of 1895 (Public Demands Recovery).

[SS. 2, 16, 23 (1), REP. IN PT, SS. 4 (3), 6 (2), 7—9, 14, 15, 17 (c), 18—22, 23 (3), 26, 27, 29, 30, 32 AM., S. 33 AND FORM 2 IN SCH. REP. IN PT. AND AM., BEN. ACT I of 1897; S. 1 (3) REP., ACT I OF 1903; S. 7 (1) (d) REP. IN PT., ACT IV OF 1907; APPLIED TO RECOVERY OF RENT DUE TO LANDLORDS—IN BENGAL, ACT VIII OF 1885, S. 158-A (INS. BEN. ACT I OF 1907, S. 49), IN EASTERN BENGAL, ACT VIII OF 1885, S. 158A (INS. E.B. & A. ACT I OF 1908, S. 49); DECLARED IN FORCE IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3.]

(1)—Certificate under the Act—Powers of Court.—The Court issuing the certificate, under the Public Demands Recovery Act, is vested with all the powers conferred by the Law on a Civil Court to enforce a compliance with the certificate by the payment or by realization through distress of the amount so declared to be due. SUNDER DASADH v. SITAL MAHTO, 28 C. 217=5 C.W.N. 291.

(2)—See PENAL CODE, s. 206, 28 C. 217=5 C.W.N. 291.

Act I of 1899 (Bengal General Clauses).

[S. 2, REP., SS. 3 (6), 25 AM., ACT I OF 1903; REP. (IN EASTERN BENGAL AND ASSAM), E.B. & A. ACT I OF 1909. DECLARED IN FORCE—IN THE SONTHAL PARGANAS, REG. III OF 1872, S. 3, AS AMENDED BY REG. III OF 1899, S. 3; IN THE CHITTAGONG HILL-TRACTS, REG. I OF 1900, S. 4.]

S. 8—See BEN. ACT III OF 1899, ss. 449, 452, 579, 7 C.W.N. 554.

Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipal).

[S. 467 REP. IN PT. BEN. ACT I OF 1893, S. 46—See BEN ACT I OF 1899, S. 10, SS. 1, 2 (1) REP. IN PT., S. 60 (1) REP., ACT I OF 1903.]

(1)—S. 3, cls. (3), (39) (a)—Ss. 351, 449 (ii)—Re-erection—Building—Tin-shed with posts.—Before the building line was laid down, a shed consisting of four posts and a tin roof stood on identically the same spot as they did subsequently. After the building line was laid down, the owner had occasion to take the roof off, and eventually he put up a roof either made of new tin or repaired:—Held, that this was not a re-erection within the meaning of s. 3 (39) (a) of the Calcutta Municipal Act, that the roof with four posts was not a building and that the re-placing of the roof upon the same posts did not infringe s. 351 of the Act, as no portion of any building or wall abutting on any street had been constructed within the building line. TRIPUNDESHUR MITTER v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 12 Cr.L.J. 461=16 C.W.N. 23=11 Ind. Cas. 997.

(2)—S. 3 (25)—"Building" defined—Masonry wall.—The word "building" in the term "masonry building" is applied to that which can be used as a warehouse or dwelling-house or a public hall, or hospital, or for like purposes. A detached wall built of masonry is not a "masonry building." CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. JOGESWAR LAHA, 8 C.W.N. 487.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipal)—contd.

(3)—S. 3, cl. (29)—Nuisance—Putting up posts to prevent wheel-traffic passing through busti, if nuisance.—The owner of a busti put up certain posts which had the effect of preventing the wheel-traffic passing through the busti from east to west, and from north to south, leaving the opening on to the main road open and free at all times for any cart which had business in the butsi and could go all over it and all round it and out again by the same passage by which it came in; but the cart could not get in and out of this busti by the shortest route as it had to go back by the way it came in: Held, that, although it may be inconvenient to the municipal servants and although it may add to the expense of cleansing the busti, the act of the owner cannot in any way interfere with the effective cleansing of the busti, which it is necessary to establish before it can be held to be a nuisance. NARENDRA NATH v. CHAIRMAN, CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 8 Ind. Cas. 17=11 Cr.L.J. 556=15 C.W.N. 100.

(3-a)—S. 3 (32)—See No. 15-a, infra.

(4)—S. 3, cl. 29 and s. 632 — Nuisance—Building wall to prevent neighbour from acquiring easement, if nuisance—May be otherwise nuisance—Duty of Court in abating nuisance.—The building of a wall, however high on a man's own property, for the purpose of preventing his neighbour from acquiring rights of easement over his land, is not in itself a nuisance under the Calcutta Municipal Act. But although the height of the wall may not be a nuisance, yet the accumulation of filth and want of space to clear the drainage between it and the neighbour's house may cause it to be a nuisance. The Court should not pull down the wall to a lesser height, but should consider whether the nuisance may not be abated by some means of clearing the space. KHAGENDRA NATH v. BHUPENDRA NARAYAN, 8 Ind. Cas. 530=11 Cr. L.J. 665=15 C.W.N. 316.

(5)—Ss. 3, sub-s. (30), 408, 575, 622, sub-s. (3) 645—Owner—Lessee—Occupier—Property leased in actual occupation of lessee's tenants—Proceeding by owner for facilities to effect improvement—Obstruction by lessee—Owner's liability, if discharged. — The petitioner was sentenced under s. 575, read with s. 408 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, for repeated failure to comply with a notice served upon him requiring him to make improvements upon certain property which he owns in Calcutta. The petitioner had, before the service of the notice, leased the property which was, consequently, in the possession of the lessee and his tenants. The petitioner had instituted a proceeding against the lessee under s. 622 of the Act and had obtained an order from the Chief Judge of the Calcutta Small Cause Court requiring the lessee to give him reasonable facilities to carry out the improvements required of him, but his contractors had been obstructed by the tenants of the lessee. Held, that the word "occupier" in s. 622 of the Act did not mean only the person in actual occupation: that the lessee was an occupier within the definition of the word in sub-s. (30) of s. 3 of the Act; that the case under s. 622 was, consequently, rightly brought against the lessee and that, so long as the lessee refused to provide reasonable facilities, the petitioner was discharged from liability under s. 622, sub-s. (3). BENODE LAL GHOSH v. THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 14 Cr. L.J. 490 = 20 Ind Cas. 746 = 41 C. 164.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipal)—contd.

(6)—Ss. 3 (32), 408, 574, 575—Bustee land —Debutter property—Shebait not in possession, of an "owner."—When the petitioner, being one of several shebaits who had his last turn of Worship in 1906 and had since then no hand in the management of the debutter properties, was convicted under s. 575/408 of the Calcutta Municipal Act for non-compliance with a notice under s. 408 calling upon him to carry out certain improvements in a bustee which was one of the debutter properties: Held, that the petitioner was not an owner within the meaning of s. 3, sub-s. 32 of the Act, inasmuch as, though he might be regarded as a manager for the deity, yet he was not receiving the rent. RATENDRO LAL MITTER v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA. 17 C W.N. 1084 = 21 Ind. Cas. 169 = 14 Cr. L.J. 569 = 41 C. 104.

(7)—Ss. 3, cl. 35, 361, 416 (1), (5), 419—Roadway in bustee land—Public exercising right of way—Applicability of s. 361—Definition of "street" if includes "passage"—Conditions necessary to create public right of way —Crim. Pro. Code, s. 439—Order of acquittal, revision of.—A roadway less than 20 ft. wide was originally made as part of a bustee and in accordance with the standard plan approved by the General Committee. The owner of the bustee sold the land covered by the bustee to various persons who built residences on the land. At the instance of the Chairman of the Corporation, the opposite party, whose house abutted on the roadway was prosecuted for failure to comply with a direction under s. 361 of the Act to improve the roadway. The Magistrate found that the public exercised a right of way over the road and acquitted the accused. There was no agreement between the General Committee and the owner as to the road being made public. Held—That the roadway in question was a private street to which s. 361 of the Calcutta Municipal Act applied. That the definition of the word "street" in the Act includes a passage, and the fact that the roadway was not 20 ft. wide did not make s. 361 inapplicable. That the meaning of s. 416 read with s. 419 is that a street like the one in question remains a private street until the owner of the bustee initiates a proceeding under s. 419 That, in order to create a public right of way over a road, there must be a dedication by the owner, and in the present case under s. 416 (1) the owner could not dedicate without the consent of the General Committee. That the Chairman of the Corporation was competent to initiate the prosecution. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. SREMUTTY MOHAMAYA DEBI, 17 C W.N. 1250 = 14 Cr. L J. 511 = 20 Ind. Cas. 991.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipal)—contd.

(8)—S. 3, cls (35) and (37) and sch. XVII, r. 2—Private street—Pathway made by owner —Height of building—Where there are four buildings owned by four different persons bearing four different assessment numbers, which abut on a passage which is not a public street; held, that it was a pathway made by the owner of a building on his own land to secure access to, or the convenient use of, such building, and that the provisions of r. 2 of sch. XVII of the Calcutta Municipal Act did not apply. HARI MATI DASI v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 8 Ind. Cas. 891 = 11 Cr.L.J. 728 = 13 C L.J. 219.

(9)—Ss. 102 (1) (c), 391—Sanction to alteration of buildings—Sanction to alteration of plan —Power of District Surveyor—Initiation of proceedings by Secretary, validity of—Irregularity. —S. 391 of the Calcutta Municipal Act applies only to alterations of, and additions to, existing buildings, and a supplementary application proposing an addition to an already sanctioned plan of a contemplated building cannot be held to fall within its scope, and need not be sanctioned by the General Committee, and such an application may be lawfully sanctioned by the District Surveyor under powers delegated to him by the Chairman. Obiter dictum:—Even if the Secretary to the Corporation, who is also the Secretary to the General Committee, has no power to make any application complaining against any person, for having erected any building without a valid sanction, the defect or irregularity is covered by s. 102 (1) (c) of the Calcutta Municipal Act. KISHORI LAL JAINI v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 6 Ind. Cas. 172 = 11 Cr. L.J. 255 = 12 C.L.J. 24 = 37 C. 585.

(10)—Ss. 198, 199, 466, 466 (1) and 574—Sch. II, and Rule 7 of the Act—Trade license, and license for storing lime—Liability to take out both the licenses—Licenses under ss. 198 and 466—Connection between.—The purposes, for which the licenses under ss. 198 and 466 of the Calcutta Municipal Act are necessary, are widely different, and there is no necessary connection between the two licenses. The taking out of the license under s. 198 of the Act is itself no excuse for not taking out another license under s. 466, The scheduled rules that apply to the one have no application to the other. Where a person carried on the business of lime-trader and used a certain premises for storing lime, held he was bound to take out a trade license under s. 198 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, as well as a license under s. 466 for storing lime, and his omission to take out a license under the latter section is punishable under ss. 466 (1) and 574 of the Act. BIPIN BEHARI GHOSE v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 34 C. 913=6 C L.J. 183=6 Cr. L.J. 148=11 C.W.N. 885.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipal)—contd.

(10-a)—S. 199—See No. 10, supra.

(10-b)—S. 270—See No. 16, infra.

(11)—Ss. 299, 574—Drainage—"Place lawfully set apart," meaning of.—A place "lawfully set apart" for the use of the public by the Corporation within the meaning of s. 299 of the Act, must be a place over which the Corporation have acquired, by some procedure under the statute, a right to make use of private property as a public drain. Where every hut in a busti had a surface drain connected with the private common drain of the landlord and this latter drain discharged into the Municipal sewer at a distance outside the statutory limits Held, that this private common drain of the landlord cannot be presumed to be a place lawfully set apart for the discharge of drainage within the meaning of s. 299, that a tenant of one of the huts in the busti cannot be called upon to alter his connecting drain to suit the convenience of the Corporation, and that he cannot be fined for neglecting to do so. GOBINDA CHANDRA ADDY v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 8 Ind. Cas. 706=13 C.L.J. 327=15 C.W.N. 412.

(12)—Ss. 320 and 574—Receiver appointed by Court, whether "owner" of premises he is holding.—A Receiver appointed by the High Court is not the "owner" of the premises he holds as a Receiver, within the definition of the term "owner" in the Municipal Act. If he receives rent for such premises, he does not do so on his own account, or as agent, or trustee for any person or society, or for any religious or charitable purpose, but as an officer of the Court and as manager of the property on its behalf. FINK v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 30 C. 721=7 C.W.N. 106. (30 C. 593=7 C.W.N. 390, R.) [R., 38 C. 714=15 C.W.N. 1002=12 Cr. L.J. 361=11 Ind. Cas. 129.]

(13)—Ss. 320, 574—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 197, 423, 30 C. 927=7 C.W.N. 750.

(14)—Ss. 325, 574—Consolidation of cases based on different facts, irregular—Magistrate dictating judgment to clerk, not in accordance with law — Liability of plumber to prosecution for defect in work not absolved by subsequent sanction granted.—Where two separate prosecutions were started by the corporation against a licensed plumber for defect in his works in connection with two different premises, and the Municipal Magistrate consolidated the two cases together: held, that such a procedure was irregular. Where the Magistrate did not write the judgment himself but dictated and signed it, held, that the dictation of the judgment contravened the provisions of s 367 of the Crim. Pro. Code. Where the work of a licensed plumber was found, on inspection after submission of the completion report, to be defective and in contravention of Rule 4 of Sch. XV of the Calcutta Municipal Act, held, that the plumber was liable to prosecution notwithstanding that the defects were subsequently remedied and the officers of the Corporation subsequently sanctioned the requisite connections. Laxity in the administration of the Rules and Bye-laws of the Municipality by the officers thereof condemned. MANIK LAL MULLICK v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 4 C L.J. 411=4 Cr. L J. 394.

(15)—Ss. 341, 450, 574, 631—Fixture—Demolition—Limitation period in s. 631, whether applies to demolition order.—Where, a notice under s. 341 of the Calcutta Municipal Act having been served in January 1907, upon the petitioner to remove a certain fixture, proceedings were instituted against the petitioner in 1907 under s. 450, and on the 30th October, 1909, the Municipal Magistrate ordered under s. 450 (b) that the fixture should be demolished by the Chairman of the Corporation at the expense of the petitioner, held—that s. 631 has no application to the order of the Magistrate, and the order of the demolition was not illegal on the ground of having been made after the limitation period prescribed by the section. SARAT CHANDRA MUKERJEE v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 14 C.W.N. 591=37 C. 384=5 Ind. Cas 644=11 Cr. L.J. 183.

(15-a)—Ss. 343, 442 and (32)—Notice for removal of dilapidated hut belonging to tenant if can be served on the landlord.—The definition of owner of land as given in s. 3, sub-s. (32), includes both the landlord and the tenant and a notice under s. 343 for the removal of a hut belonging to the tenant can be served upon the person who is the owner of the land, and such person having had a notice served upon him is liable to comply with the terms thereof. S. 442 of the Act which contemplates a different set of circumstances does not in any manner abridge the power conferred by s 343. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. MONMOTHA NATH SHETT, 19 C.W.N. 391.

(16)—Ss. 350 and 270—Bye-law No. 64 made under s. 350—Ultra vires—Reasonable construction—Interference with private property by Municipality—Tethering bullock by a private drain—Allowing offensive matter to be thrown into a private drain.—The road or drain referred to in cl. (2) of s. 270 of the Bengal Municipal Act is a road or drain belonging to the Municipality. If the bye-law No. 64, made under s. 350 of the Bengal Municipal Act, authorises the Municipality to interfere with private property, it is ultra vires. MAHESH CHANDRA PANDEY v. BASANTA KUMAR DAS, 10 C.W.N. 667=3 Cr.L.J. 450.

(16-a)—S. 351—See No. 1, supra.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipal)—contd.

(16-b)—S. 361—See No. 7, supra.

(17)—Ss. 372, 383 and 449 (1)—Demolition of a building erected without sanction—Notice under s. 383, whether condition precedent to the passing of order for demolition.—No notice under s. 383 of the Calcutta Municipal Act (III, B. C. of 1899) is necessary, before an order under s. 449 (1) of the Act, directing the demolition of a building erected without sanction in contravention of s. 372, can be passed. SRIMATTY SUSARMOYEE DEBI v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 12 C W.N. 271=7 Cr. L.J. 110=7 C.L.J. 243. (7 C.W.N. 554, F.)

(18)—Ss. 374, 376, 631, 580—Application for permission to execute a work neither refused nor granted by chairman—Remedy of applicant—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine, whether legal under the Act—Offence under the Municipal Act whether falls within s. 64 of the Penal Code (Act XLV of 1860).—S. 374 of the Calcutta Municipal Act is governed by s. 376. When the Chairman does not refuse or grant permission to execute any work, the only remedy of the applicant for such permission is to apply to the General Committee by a written request for permission to execute the work. The applicant could not under the law prefer an appeal to the General Committee unless the Chairman has refused permission. There is no authority under the Calcutta Municipal Act to impose imprisonment in default of payment of fine, at any rate for such offences to which a daily penalty is assigned in addition to the substantive fine.—Semble :—All "offences" under the Calcutta Municipal Act may not be offences within the meaning of s. 64 of the Penal Code. BASANTA KUMARI DEBI v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 15 C.W.N. 906 =11 Ind. Cas. 143=12 Cr. L J. 375.

(18-a)—S. 376—See No. 18, supra.

(18-b)—S. 383—See No. 17, supra.

(19)—Ss. 383, 449—Notice before taking proceedings under sub-s. 1 of s. 449.—There is nothing in the Act making a notice under s. 383 a condition precedent to a proceeding under the first sub-section of s. 449. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. AMIRTA LAL MUKERJEE, 7 C. W.N. 554. [F., 12 C.W.N. 271=7 Cr. L.J. 110=7 C.L.J. 243].

(19-a)—S. 391—See No. 9, supra.

(20)—Ss. 391, 449—Scope of the Act.—The Calcutta Municipal Act relates only to acts done after the commencement of that Act, including acts done to complete a building commenced before the Act came into operation. KESHUB CHANDRA SEN v. CALCUTTA MUNICIPAL CORPORATION, 7 C.W.N. 374.

(21)—Ss. 406, 407, 408 and 574—Notice under s. 408—Standard plan—Necessity of attaching a copy of the plan to the notice—Bustee improvement—Power and duty of the Corporation in respect thereof.—The duty of the corporation in improving bustees is a most important one and they have been invested with the most ample power, but when certain penal sections enforced by the Criminal law are put in motion on the report of the servants of the Municipality, it is incumbent on the Magistrate and the authorities of the Corporation to see that the legal procedure, which is a condition precedent to any conviction, is strictly and properly carried out. Where a letter was issued by the Deputy Chairman requiring the petitioners to do certain works, but no notice under s. 408 was issued directing them to specifically carry out the works. Held, the conviction of the petitioners under ss. 574, 408 of Act III (B.C.) of 1899 for neglecting to carry out the works, cannot stand. When the Municipality directs one of several owners of a bustee to carry out certain improvements and issues a general notice under s. 408 of Act (B C.) of 1899, it is the duty of the Municipality to serve him with a copy of the standard plan approved by the General Committee, under s. 407, and point out to him on that plan what work he is to do. KANAI LAL JALAN v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 11 C.W.N. 508=5 Cr. L J. 293.

(22)—Ss. 406, 408, 409, 574—The power of the General Committee to proceed either under s. 406 or s. 408—Sub-Committee's power to sanction amendment of the original plan—Officers who should inspect a bustee and submit report—Objections of the owners of a bustee to standard plan, how to be made.—The standard plan prepared on a report made by two officers—the medical officer and the engineer—on an inspection of a bustee under the provisions of s. 406 of Act III (B.C.) of 1899 does not become bad in law, because one of the officers, the engineer, was not a permanent servant of the Municipality. Notices under s. 408 of Act III (B.C.) of 1899 having been served upon all the owners of land of a bustee, one of the owners objected to a certain proposed road in the standard plan going in a certain direction and on his objection, the Sub-Committee decided that the road be deflected. The standard plan thus modified was approved by the General Committee, who served a notice upon the petitioner to carry out the improvements according to the standard plan so modified, and for her non-compliance they prosecuted the petitioner. Held, that the petitioner was not entitled to a fresh notice with regard to the deflection of the road, in order to enable her to urge her objections to the deflection, before the General Committee. The law contemplates that all persons interested will be present before the Sub-Committee, and will present not merely their own objections to the scheme but also any objection which they have to any modification of the scheme on the objections raised by others. It is the duty of each of the persons, at the time when the matter is before the Sub-Committee, to ascertain what the various objections of the other persons are, and then to oppose those objections if necessary.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipal)—contd.

Under the Calcutta Municipal Act, the Sub-Committee have power to sanction any amendment of the original plan, even though the amendment be necessary for the purpose of avoiding expense, and not for the purpose of improving the bustee. The Calcutta Municipal Act gives the General Committee full discretion to proceed either under s. 406 or under s. 409. SREEMATI ATARMANI DASI v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 12 C.W.N. 1116 = 8 C.L.J. 507.

(23)—Ss. 406, 408, 574, 645—Power of the General Committee of Calcutta Corporation to determine the owner for carring out improvements under the Act—High Court's power of revision.—Under s. 645, the General Committee of the Calcutta Corporation has power, where there are gradations of owners or persons, to determine who may be regarded as owners, or where there is a doubt as to who is the owner bound to perform the duty, to determine which of such owners shall be deemed to be bound to carry out the improvements. That discretion having been by law vested in the General Committee, the High Court has no power, in the exercise of its Revisional Criminal Jurisdiction, to set aside or question the acts done in the exercise of that discretion, if these acts have otherwise been done in accordance with the provisions of laws. Where there is no stipulation in a lease, providing by which party (i.e., lessor or lessee) any improvements ordered by the Corporation under the Act or to be carried out, the obligation cast upon the owner to carry out such improvements will remain prima facie unaffected by the terms of the lease. SHAMUL DHONE DUTT v CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 34 C. 30 = 5 Cr.L.J. 137 = 11 C.W.N. 671.

(23-a)—S. 407—See No. 21, supra.

(24)—Ss. 407, 408, 574—"Owner" in s. 407, meaning of—Owner of land—Owner of busti—Notice—Standard plan.—The word "owner" in s. 407 of the Act does not include "owner of huts" also, so as to make it obligatory on the General Committee to hear the objections of "owners of huts" under s. 407 before the approval of the standard plan. The Municipality does not proceed against any body under s. 408. They issue notices in three different kinds of cases. If huts belonging to the occupiers have to be removed, a notice need be issued to them; if they disobey, they are liable to prosecution under s. 574. If improvements are to be done which can be exclusively done by the owners of the land, the same rule applies. If the standard plan includes work which has to be done partly by the owners of the huts and partly by the owner of the land, and a notice is issued under s. 408 on either or both of them, and it is disobeyed, the party in default is still liable to be prosecuted under s. 574. If the whole of the work has to be done by the owners of the huts, then the cancelling of the notice on the owner of the land does not oust the jurisdiction of the Municipality under s. 409. If, on the other hand, the Municipality have cancelled the notice on the owner of the bustee land but still require him to carry out any portion of the work, it is clear that they must serve fresh notice on the owner of the bustee before they become vested with any jurisdiction under s. 409. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. MUZAFFAR HUSSAIN, 8 Ind. Cas. 53 = 11 Cr. L.J. 558.

(25)—S. 408, notice under, served upon the owner, when the property under the management of a Receiver—Owner's duty.—Where a notice under s. 408 of Act III, B.C. of 1899, was served upon the owner, with respect to a property under the management of a Receiver appointed by the High Court:—Held—that it was incumbent on the owner to request the Receiver to comply with the notice and, on his failure to comply, to apply to the High Court making the Receiver a party to his application. The owner must satisfy the Magistrate that he used all due diligence to carry out the requisition of the notice under s. 408; but he would not escape liability by pleading his inability to carry out the requisition on account of the property being under the management of the Receiver. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. HAJI KASSIM ARIFF BHAM, 15 C.W.N. 1002 = 12 Cr. L J. 361 = 38 C. 714 = 11 Ind. Cas. 129.

(25-a)—S. 408—See Nos. 5, 6, 21, 22, 23, 24, supra.

(26)—Ss. 408, 419 and 575—Bustee improvement—Failure to make road as in standard plan of bustee—Bustee ceasing to be so.—After huts have been removed from a bustee land, the land ceases to be a bustee land and the provisions of s. 408 of the Calcutta Municipal Act can then no longer have any operation on the owner. ABINASH CHANDRA GANGULI v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 12 C.W.N. 72.

(27)—Ss. 408, 419, 574 and 631—Limitation for starting prosecution under ss. 408 and 574—S. 419, effect of, in enlarging time after the commission of the offence.—Where a notice under s. 408 of the Calcutta Municipal Act was served upon the petitioner, on the 3rd March, 1906, requiring her to make certain improvements in a bustee within three months, and on her non-compliance with the notice within the time, a remainder was sent by the Corporation on the 21st June, 1906, and then on the 2nd July, 1906, a notice under s. 419 of the Act was sent by the petitioner to the Chairman, and on the expiry of six months from the date of this notice, prosecution was started against the petitioner on the 23rd January, 1907, with the result that she was convicted under ss. 408 and 574 of the Act and sentenced to a fine of Rs. 25, held that the conviction and sentence were bad in law and must be set aside, as the prosecution, having been started more than three months after the expiry of the notice under s. 408 of the Act, was barred by limitation; that the notice under s. 419 of the Act, having been served after the offence of the petitioner under ss. 408 and 574 had been committed, could not have the effect of enlarging the time by six months. A notice under s. 419 of the Act, in order to be effectual, must be served before the offence is committed. KUMUD KUMARI DASSI v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 11 C W.N. 1097 =34 C. 909=6 Cr. L.J. 317.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipal)—contd.

(28)—Ss. 408 and 574—Notice to owners of property pending litigation, failure to comply with, whether amounts to an offence under the sections.—At the time when the General Committee of the Corporation caused a written notice to be served upon the owners of the property in question, calling upon them to carry out improvements under s. 408 of the Act, the property was under litigation, viz, a suit for partition, during the pendency of which it was not open to the owners, either individually or collectively, to alter the property by carrying out the improvements, which they were called upon, by the Corporation, to make. Held, setting aside the conviction of the owners under ss. 408 and 574 of the Act, the former section must reasonably be construed and when the directions given to the owner were such as he was not in a position to carry out, the failure to comply with the notice containing such directions could not amount to an offence under the said sections. PURNA CHAND BURAL v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 33 C. 699 =4 Cr.L J. 47.

(28-a)—S. 409—See No. 22, supra.

(28-b)—S. 416—See No. 7, supra.

(28 c)—S. 419—See Nos. 7, 26, 27, supra.

(28-d)—S. 442—See No. 15-a, supra.

(29)—Ss. 444 (2), 574—Using a house found unfit for human habitation—Joint penalty imposed on several accused, if legal—A joint conviction and a joint penalty were passed against the owner of a house and a person occupying it with him, under s. 444, cl. (2), read with s. 574 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, for disobeying an order prohibiting them from using a house found to be unfit for human habitation: Held that the act of disobedience in each of the accused was a separate offence, and there was no provision of law justifying the passing of a joint penalty. BHAIRAB CHANDRA KOLAY v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 14 C.W.N. 911=6 Ind. Cas. 874=11 Cr. L.J. 412=37 C. 895.

(30)—S. 449—Demolition of building, order for—Deviation from plan sanctioned—Assessment on the deviation—Acquiescence—Order made long after notice—Order, if proper—Order, propriety of—High Court, jurisdiction of, to revise such order—Crim Pro. Code, 1898, s. 435—Revision, power of—Discretion of Magistrate.—The General Committee, if satisfied, of the existence of the circumstances mentioned in s. 449 of the Act, may or may not make an application to the Magistrate for the demolition of a building or a portion of it, erected in violation of, or contrary to the plan sanctioned by the Municipality, but when such an application is made to the Magistrate, he also has a discretion either to make or refuse the order under s. 449 of the Act. When a Magistrate has not properly exercised his discretion, the order is not a proper order and the High Court has power to set it aside. SHEIKH ABDOOL SAMAD v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 3 C L.J. 90 =33 C. 287=10 C.W.N. 182=3 Cr. L.J. 211. [R., 34 C. 341=4 Cr.L.J. 403=11 C.W.N. 30.]

(31)—S. 449—Order of demolition--Acceptance of rates in respect of the premises pending negotiation, if acquiescence.—The acceptance, by the Municipality, of rates in respect of premises which have been ordered to be demolished under s. 449 of the Act, does not amount to an acquiescence by the Municipality to disobedience of the order for demolition. LUCHMI NARAYAN MAHTO v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 14 C.W N. 912=6 Ind. Cas. 800=11 Cr.L.J. 406=37 C. 833.

(32)—S. 449—Demolition of building—Deviation from sanctioned plan—Building existing for long time and not coming under the sanction—Order directing the demolition of building, whether legal.—Authority is not given by s. 449 of the Act to a Magistrate to direct the demolition of the whole or a part of the building, which has been in existence for years before the sanction was given. The magistrate is only empowered to direct the demolition of buildings erected in contravention of the plan submitted and sanctioned by the corporation. JOSEPH ISAAC HYAM v. CALCUTTA CORPORATION, 10 C.W.N. 1004=33 C. 646=3 C.L J. 571=3 Cr L.J. 465. [R., 33 A. 147=7 A.L.J. 1075= 11 Cr.L J. 681=8 Ind. Cas. 569.]

(33)—S. 449—See Nos. 1, 17 19, 20, supra and No. 45, infra.

(34)—Ss. 449, 450, 452, 579—Demolition of building, order for—Discretion of Magistrate—Analogy to case of mandatory injunction—Difference—Waiver, acquiescence and delay, effect of—Danger to public—Cumulative penalty—Fine and demolition.—It is discretionary with the Municipal Magistrate to make or not an order of demolition under s. 449 of the Calcutta Municipal Act. This discretion is to be exercised after receiving evidence and hearing the defence. The Municipal Magistrate should exercise the discretion vested in him under ss. 449, 450 and 452 of the Calcutta Municipal Act with due regard to those rules which guide Courts of Equity in granting injunctions—with this difference that he has also to consider whether or not a building ought to be demolished on the ground of is being a danger or obstruction to the public. It is the duty of the Municipal Corporation to procure the demolition of a building which is a danger or obstruction to the public. In other respects, the Corporation stands, unless the law expressly directs, in practically the same position as a private individual wronged by a tortious act. Although the Municipal Act does not prescribe any period of limitation for an action under s. 449 or 450 of the Act, the Court in directing demolition should consider how far the delay in the institution of the proceeding has affected the action. The fact that in respect of the same deviation from the sanctioned plan of a building, the Municipal Corporation instituted two different proceedings at different times, viz., for fine under s. 579 and demolition under s. 449—cannot deprive the Magistrate of his discretion under s 452 of the Act. This section applies even when the two proceedings are not simultaneous. CHUNI LAL DUTT v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 34 C 341 = 11 C.W.N. 30 = 4 Cr. L J. 408. (33 C. 287 = 10 C.W.N. 182, R.)

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipal)—contd.

(35)—Ss. 449 (1), 451 and 574—Rule No. 2 of Part II, sch. 17 of the Act, interpretation of —Height-limit of building facing street and an open platform—Angle of 45 degrees whence to be drawn.—On one side of a street was a bathing platform open to the sky. On the opposite side, a building was erected facing the street and the platform ; held, in determining the height-limit of the building in accordance with Rule No. 2 of Part II, sch. 17 of the Calcutta Municipal Act (III, B.C of 1899), the angle of 45 degrees must be drawn from the street alignment on the side of the street and not from the side of the platform farthest from the street. SHEOMALL GOENKA v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 13 C.W.N. 74 = 9 Cr. L.J. 302.

(36)—Ss. 449, 452, 579—Sanction for building under the old Act, II of 1888—Deviation from the plan, effect of—Bengal Act I of 1889 (General Clauses), s. 8—Question of penalty.—If the building as constructed was a deviation from the plan as sanctioned under the old Act so as to render the owner liable to a penalty under the old Act, then, he cannot show that he had acquired under the old Act, before the new Act came into force, a right entitling him to build in contravention of the provisions and rules laid down by the new Act, so as to bring himself within cl. (c) of s. 8 of the Bengal General Clauses Act ; he will then be liable to a prosecution under the new Act. The question of what penalty should be enforced under ss. 449, 452 and 579 of Act III of 1899 is in the discretion of the Magistrate, and is not a question of law which the High Court will answer. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. AMRITA LAL MUKERJEE, 7 C.W N. 554. [F., 12 C.W.N. 271 = 7 Cr. L.J. 110 = 7 C.L J. 243.]

(37)—Ss. 449, 575—Acquittal under s. 575—Refusal to return a plan to which sanction has been obtained by misrepresentation and fraud—Order precluding the petitioner from building according to such plan—Magistrate not competent to make such order.—Where, in a prosecution under s. 449 of the Act, the Magistrate acquitted the accused under s. 579, but found that the sanction to the plan had been obtained by misrepresentation and fraud, and made an order prohibiting the petitioner from building the second storey on the basis of such plan and directing that the sanctioned plan filed by him be not returned to him ; held, that the Magistrate was not competent to make an order of that description. NOGENDRA NATH SADKHAN v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 3 C. L.J. 138 = 3 Cr. L. J. 215.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipal)—contd.

(38)—Ss. 449 and 580—Sanction for erection of a building under misapprehension—Scope of sections.—A sanction given by the Municipal Corporation for the erection of a building under a misapprehension due to the applicant's omission to draw the attention of the Corporation to all the necessary facts connected with the position and surroundings of the proposed building will not exonerate the applicant from liability under the Act, if the building be afterwards found to have been constructed in contravention of the provisions of the Act. S. 580 of the Calcutta Municipal Act does not merely provide for the punishment of offences committed under s. 449 of the Act. It itself creates the offences, both the primary offences, consisting of default in carrying out an order under s. 449 and the secondary or continuing offence committed on each day thereafter by reason of the continuance of the default. NANI LAL SETT v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 7 C.W.N. 853.

(39)—Ss. 449, 628, 629 and 631—Demolition of unsanctioned building—Punishment of the offender—Civil suit—"Magistrate," scope of the term.—The Municipal Act provides a means both for punishing the offender and securing the demolition of an unsanctioned building. The Corporation will be ill-advised to abandon their remedy under the Act in favour of a civil suit which would possibly not lie before the remedy has been exhausted. The words, "a Magistrate" in s. 449 mean any Magistrate having jurisdiction in Calcutta, and includes a Municipal Magistrate. He has, therefore, power not only to try offences, under the Act, but also to make an order for the demolition of an unsanctioned building. SEW PROSAD PODDAR v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 9 C.W.N. 18. (8 C.W.N. 142, D.)

(40)—Ss. 449 and 631—Scope of the section—Nature of the proceedings—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 432.—The limitation for the prosecution of offences, prescribed in s. 631 (1) has no application to proceedings taken under s. 449. S. 631 only applies to complaints made before a Magistrate in order to the punishment of a person for an offence against the Act or any rule, or bye laws, or regulation under the Act. [R., 9 C.W.N. 18.] S. 449 provides for applications to be made to a Magistrate by the General Committee in order to the issue of an order directing the demolition or alteration of work which has been unlawfully executed under certain circumstances. Proceedings under that section are not instituted on a "complaint," nor is the demolition of an unlawfully executed work a "punishment" within the meaning of s. 631, sub-s. 1. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA v. KESHUB CHUNDER SEN, 8 C.W.N. 142.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipal)—contd.

(40-a)—S. 450—See Nos. 15, 34, supra.

(40-b)—S. 451—See No. 35, supra.

(40-c)—S. 452—See Nos. 34, 36, supra.

(40-d)—S. 466—See No. 10, supra.

(40-e)—Ss. 466 and 574 and sch. XVIII, cl. 8—Iron includes steel.—The petitioner stored steel joists, etc., without a license. He was convicted under s. 574 of the Calcutta Municipal Act for not taking out a license under s. 466 (1). Held that as the term "iron" as used in sch. XVIII, cl. (8) of the Act includes "steel" the conviction is right. GANGA NARAIN PAL v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 10 C L J. 486 =4 Ind. Cas. 438=11 Cr. L J. 277.

(41)—S. 495—Sale of mustard oil adulterated with til oil.—Where, on a prosecution by the Food Inspector, the accused was convicted under s. 495 of Bengal Act III of 1899, for having sold mustard oil adulterated with til oil, held, that the accused was rightly convicted, inasmuch as it was not necessary for the purpose of manufacturing mustard oil to use any hard seed (such as til oil) to assist in expressing the oil, as what was commercially known as mustard oil was the pure oil and not oil adulterated with til or other oil, and as such adulteration was to the prejudice of the purchaser. MOTILAL PAL v. THE CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 30 C. 643= 7 C.W.N. 637. (3 C.W.N. 66, D.)

(42)—Ss. 495, 507, 574—*Sale of adulterated food by servant, liability of master—Sale by partner--Liability of co-partner, S.507,"seller," meaning of.*—S. 495 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, like the corresponding section of the English Statute, is positive in its prohibition of the sale of adulterated articles, and when a servant sells such articles, it is the master, firm or the beneficial owner who is liable to punishment, and this would be so even when the servant adulterates the articles himself and sells without the knowledge or connivance of the master, firm or owner. (17 Cox. C.C 509 (Q.B.D.); 61 L.J. (M.C.) 110 [(1892), F.)—Where the person who sells is one of two partners of the firm, the conviction of the other partner would be equally legal. SEW KARAN v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 16 C.W.N. 455 =14 Ind. Cas. 205=13 Cr. L.J. 205=39 C. 682.

(43)—Ss. 502 and 505—Order under s. 505, when can be made.—In order to justify an order under s. 505, Calcutta Municipal Act, the Magistrate has to be satisfied that the article directed to be destroyed comes within the provision of s. 502 of the Act. He is to be satisfied that the article is either exposed, or hawked about, for sale, or brought to any place for the purpose of sale, or of preparation for sale and is intended for human food. Before a Magistrate could order the destruction of damaged rice, the judgment should contain an affirmative finding that the rice was brought for the purposes of sale, or that it was intended for human food. CHUNDRA COOMAR BISWAS v. CALCUTTA CORPORATION, 30 C. 421=7 C.W.N. 27.

(43-a)—S. 505—See No. 43, supra.

(43-b)—S. 507—See No. 42, supra.

(44)—Cl. (18) of ss. 559, 561 (b), 631—Bye-laws, s. 1—Encroachment on a public street by raising pillars—Obstruction, removal of, notice for—Notice, disobedience to the requisition of—Proceedings institution of three months after the expiration of the period of the requisition—Limitation—Offence, if continuous.—A bye-law must conform with the provisions of the enactment under which it purports to be made. Bye-law, s. 1, so far as it relates to obstruction, comes within the provisions of clause (18) of s. 559 of the Calcutta Municipal Act (III of 1899). S. 561 (b) only authorises the penalty for the continuance of a breach, where notice follows breach. The penalty is attached to a breach, which only arises after the notice, and there is no provision for any subsequent notice, which could come within the provisions of s. 561, requiring that there should be notice after breach. The bye-law purports to create a continuous breach, which is outside of and fails to comply with the provision of s. 561, clause (b), under which alone it can claim vitality. There is, therefore, no provision for a continuing breach, that could take the case outside the provision of s. 631 of the Calcutta Municipal Act. NARAIN CHANDRA CHATTERJEE v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 37 C. 545=10 C.L.J. 623=14 C.W.N. 614=10 Cr. L. J. 522=4 Ind. Cas. 259.

(44-a)—S. 561—See No. 44, supra.

(44-b)—S. 574—See Nos. 6, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 21, 22, 23, 24, 27, 28, 29, 35, 40-e, 42, supra.

(44-c)—S. 575—See Nos. 5, 6, 26, 37, supra.

(44-d)—S. 579—See Nos. 34, 36, supra.

(44-e)—S. 580—See Nos. 18, 38, supra.

(44-f)—S. 622—See No. 5, supra.

(44-g)—S. 628—See No. 39, supra.

(44-h)—S. 629—See No. 39, supra.

(44-i)—S. 631—See Nos. 15, 18, 27, 39, 40, 44, supra.

(44-j)—S. 632—See No. 4, supra.

(45)—Ss. 632, 449—"Nuisance," building sanctioned by Municipality, if may be—Nuisance, if must be public—Building in contravention of regulations, if to be proceeded against only under s. 449—Partition decree, effect of.—The term "nuisance" in s. 632 of the Calcutta Municipal Act does not refer only to nuisances affecting the public generally. It applies as well to nuisances affecting an individual. The mere fact that the Municipality could have proceeded against a building erected contrary to the building regulations under s. 449 of the Act does not preclude the Municipal Magistrate from interfering with it under s 632, at the instance of the person whose house has been deprived of light and air by the building. If a building is a nuisance, it is no answer in a proceeding under s. 632 to say that the Corporation had sanctioned it. Whether erected with or without sanction, or in contravention of the building regulations or not, any person residing in Calcutta affected by it can move the Magistrate, and it is within the jurisdiction of the Magistrate to pass an order under s. 632, if in his discretion he is so advised. A partition decree previously passed, which purported to specify the easements reserved to the portion which fell to the complainant, cannot be held to override the provisions of the Calcutta Municipal Act, which is directed to provide for public sanitation among other public considerations. BHAGWAN DAS v. RASH BEHARI MULICK, 14 C W.N 637=6 Ind. Cas. 595. [R., 15 C. W. N. 316 ; Expl., 38 C. 296=11 Cr. L.J. 665=8 Ind. Cas. 530.]

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1899 (Calcutta Municipal)—concld.

(45-a)—S. 645—See Nos. 5, 23, supra.

(45-b)—Sch. II, r. 7—See No. 10, supra.

(45-c)—Sch. XVII, r. 2—See No. 8, supra.

(46) Sch. XVII, r. 17—Demolition of buildings outside sanctioned plan and existing for a long time, illegal.—What a Magistrate is empowered to direct to be demolished, under s. 449 of the Calcutta Municipal Act, is work which forms part of the plan sanctioned, and which contravenes some provision of the Act or of the bye-laws in force, with reference to the erection of buildings, and not buildings outside such sanctioned plan and existing for a long time. JOSEPH ISAAC JOSEPH HYAM v. CALCUTTA CORPORATION, 3 C. L. J. 571=3 Cr. L. J. 465=33 C. 646=10 C. W. N. 1004.

(47) Sch. 17, rr. 22 and 24—Construction of the rules.—An open square or the like to come within r. 24 must at least be four feet wide. If the open space is not less than four feet wide on the other side, the owner of the house is to leave at least four feet of open space more as indicated by cl. (b) of paragraph 2 of the r. 24. NONI LAL SETT v. CORPORATION OF CALCUTTA, 7 C. W. N. 853.

(48)—Sch. XVII, r. 24—See No. 47, supra.

(49)—Sch. XVIII, r. 8—See No. 40-e, supra.

Act VI of 1901 (Assam Labour Emigration).

[SS. 91, 218, AM., ACT II OF 1908.]

(1)—Charge of recruiting coolies from Agency tracts prohibited by a Government Order—Application of accused to summon witnesses refused by Magistrate—Procedure illegal.—

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1901 (Assam Labour Emigration)
—concluded.

Where an accused, charged with recruiting coolies from Agency tracts, applies to the Magistrate trying the case to summon certain witnesses cited by him to prove his defence, and the Magistrate refuses such an application, the procedure is illegal and the conviction is one liable to be set aside. LUNMO OF MAHALUNMA v. EMPEROR, (1911) 2 M.W.N.472=12 Cr. L.J. 566.

(2)—Ss. 2 (n), 161, 164—"Magistrate," meaning of—Re-patriation, order for, at cost of owner of garden—Order made by Sub-Deputy Magistrate, if legal—Employer not called upon to show cause — Undue influence or coercion, absence of.—A Sub-Deputy Magistrate, not appointed by the Local Government to perform the functions of a Magistrate under the Assam Labour and Emigration Act, 1901, acquitted certain persons of offence under s. 164 of that Act, but at the same time passed an order that the proprietor of the garden for which the coolies were recruited should deposit the expenses of repatriation of the coolies. There was nothing to show that there had been any undue influence or coercion and the employer was not called upon to show cause as required by s. 161 that the order was a bad one. Held, that the order of repatriation at the cost of the employer was bad. EMPEROR v. RITU CHAMAR, 15 Cr. L J. 195=22 Ind. Cas. 979=18 C.W.N. 1143.

(3)—S. 161—See No. 2, supra.

(4)—S. 164—"Emigrate", meaning of—Inducement to emigrate to Fiji—Subsequent inducement at another place to emigrate to Sylhet—Place of trial—Jurisdiction of Criminal Court—Emigration.—Where the accused induced L to leave Cawnpore in order to go to Fiji for work, and, on the way at Arrah, told him that he would have to go to Sylhet, and placed him in a train bound therefor, held that the Magistrate at Arrah, and not the Magistrate of Cawnpore, had jurisdiction to try the case. L was not induced to leave Cawnpore in order to go to Sylhet, but in order to go to Fiji, and no offence was therefore committed at Cawnpore. The inducement to go to Sylhet was made at Arrah, and so the Arrah Court alone had jurisdiction. FAIZ ALI v. EMPEROR, 37 C. 27.

(5)—S. 164—See No. 2, supra.

Act III of 1903 (Bengal Motor-car and Cycle).

(1)—Liability of principal for acts done by agent or servant—See ACT VIII OF 1899, ss. 11, 15 (a), 17 C.W.N. 207=17 C.L.J. 390=13 Cr. L.J. 792=17 Ind. Cas. 536=40 C. 356.

(2)—See MASTER AND SERVANT, 12 Cr. L. J. 89=15 C.W.N. 390=9 Ind. Cas 480=13 C. L.J. 335=38 C. 415.

Act VII of 1905 (Bengal and Assam Laws).

Effect of repeal of—See BEN. ACT VIII OF 1912, ss. 3, 8, 19 C.L.J. 92.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act III of 1906 (Bengal Disorderly House).

[REP. IN MUNICIPALITIES CONSTITUTED UNDER BENGAL ACT III OF 1884, IN WHICH BEN. ACT II OF 1866, IS IN FORCE, BEN. ACT III OF 1907, S. 3.]

S. 2 — Dancing girls — Singing obscene-songs — Brothel — Habitual prostitution.—In order to bring a case under s. 2 of Act III (B.C.) of 1906, it must be shown, first, that the house is in the vicinity of an educational institution or a boarding house, hostel or mess, and secondly, that it is used as a brothel for the purpose of habitual prostitution or is used by disorderly persons of any description. Where a house is occupied by a male and the members of his family, two of the members of which are dancing girls, who are kept mistresses of gentlemen and who sing songs sometimes of an obscene character, held, that the house is not used as a brothel or for the purpose of habitual prostitution. KOKIL RAM v. EMPEROR, 6 C. L. J. 710 = 6 Cr. L. J. 423.

Act II of 1907 (Eastern Bengal and Assam Disorderly Houses).

(1)—Ss. 2, 3, 6—Offence under—Procedure of the Magistrate in making inquiry under the Act—Criminal Court, whether a Magistrate acting under s. 2, is—Irregularity in the proceedings, effect of — Revision — Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 435, 439, —A Court acting under s. 3 of the Eastern Bengal and Assam Disorderly Houses Act (II of 1907) is a Criminal Court within the meaning of s. 435, Crim. Pro. Code, and the High Court has jurisdiction to interfere under ss. 435 and 439, Crim. Pro. Code. Ss. 2 and 3 of the Act do not create any offence and the only offence created by the Act is that created by s. 6. The power conferred by ss. 2 and 3 is not a power to hold a Criminal trial or to take any preliminary proceedings under the Criminal Procedure. It is a power similar to those conferred on Criminal Courts by Chaps. VIII, X, XI and XII of the Code. The Eastern Bengal and Assam Disorderly Houses Act does not prescribe any particular procedure except such as is indicated by the last paragraph in s. 2 and ss. 4 and 5. The Magistrate may make his enquiry under ss. 2 and 3 in any way that does not violate ordinary rules of fairness and propriety, and in making the enquiry he performs an administrative duty and not a judicial duty. Where, in any inquiry under s. 2 of the Act, it was contended that the Magistrate had erroneously administered oaths to witnesses, held that, the proceedings of the Magistrate having been perfectly fair and reasonable in themselves, the error, if any, did not vitiate them. RAJANI KHEMTAWALI v. PRAMATHA NATH CHOWDHRY, 37 C. 287 = 14 C.W.N. 404 = 11 C.L.J. 297 = 11 Cr. L.J. 1.2.

(2) Ss. 2, cl. (b), 7—House, use of, as brothel or for habitual prostitution—S. 7, object of—Order under cl. (b) of s. 2, effect of—Proceedings under, how instituted—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 190.—S 7 of Act II of 1907 (E. B. and Assam) is an enabling section and is not a necessary part of the procedure of the Act prior to the prosecution being instituted. It is not necessary to have recourse to that section if the Magistrate can be satisfied in other ways that the nuisance complained of is continuing. S. 6 of the Act creates an offence under a local law, and proceedings relating to such offence should be taken under s. 190 of the Crim. Pro. Code. Where a Magistrate authorised an Inspector of Police to enter and inspect the houses and the Inspector asked the Sub-Inspector to make the enquiry. Held that the Magistrate has no jurisdiction to take cognisance of the case on the Sub-Inspector's report The Magistrate could either treat the Sub-Inspector's report as a complaint under S. 190 (a), in which case he would have to call upon the Sub-Inspector to appear and substantiate the report on oath : or under s. 155 direct the Police to investigate the case and submit a charge-sheet if they thought proper. Where the Sub-Inspector stated in his report that he was satisfied that a woman "was going on with her profession of prostitution" but did not say that she was using her house to the annoyance of the inhabitants of the vicinity. Held, that, although the report might furnish a basis to the Magistrate to call upon the Sub-Inspector to depose on oath as complainant, the report itself did not disclose a complete case under s. 2 of the Act. FEROJA PESHAKAR v. AMIRUDDIN 16 C.W.N. 1049 = 13 Cr. L J. 691 = 16 Ind. Cas. 499.

(3)—S. 3—See No. 1, supra.

(4)—S 6—See No. 1, supra.

(5)—S. 7—See No. 2, supra.

Act V of 1909 (Excise).

(1) Liability of principal for acts done by agent or servant.—See ACT VIII OF 1899, ss. 11, 15 (a), 17 C.W.N. 205 = 17 C.L.J. 390 = 13 Cr. L.J. 792 = 17 Ind. Cas. 536 = 40 C. 356.

(2)—Ss. 2, (14), 2 (20), 9 (2), 10, 46, 52, 55, 57—Medicinal drugs if necessarily exciseable because spirit is an ingredient—Importing of excisable articles, offence of, when committed—Transport—Possession—Taking orders to supply, if abetment of transport—Delivery when takes place—Cocoanut, milk of, if excisable.—The unreported decision of O'Kinealy and Ameer Ali, JJ., that spirits of wine sold by a chemist for medicinal purposes are not liable under the Excise Act, has been overruled by the enactment of the new Excise Act (V. B. C. of 1909) but that the decision at 24 C. 157 is no longer good law is not so clear. Semble (without deciding the question) : The meaning of the Legislature in amending the Act was to prevent chemists and vendors of drugs selling intoxicating liquors or otherwise dealing with them as medicinal preparations, and not to declare that all drugs bona fide prepared in accordance with the British or other recognized Pharmacopœias are excisable merely because alcohol is used in their preparation, and the notifications of the Board of Revenue, if they declared that spirit found in the prepared drugs rendered the drugs themselves exciseable, would be ultra vires. (24 C. 157, Cons.) Liquor as defined in s. 2 (14) of the Bengal Excise Act must be intoxicating liquor and the enumeration of all the liquids that follows does not make them liquor unless they are intoxicating. Held, that, if articles, which are subject to both customs and excise duties escape the customs, they can be dealt with by the Excise authorities either in transport or when an attempt is made to export them, but the Excise duty on imports does not apply to articles that are liable to a similar duty in the customs. Where medicinal drugs containing spirits which had been manufactured in Chandranagore within French territories were consigned from Chandranagore station by rail to Howrah and from there taken to a Calcutta shop, in pursuance of orders given to the manufacturer by the manager of the Calcutta shop; Held, that, assuming that the articles were excisable after they had passed undetected by the custom authorities, no charge could be framed at the instance of the Excise authorities against persons concerned in the transaction of importing exciseable articles, but the Excise authorities could proceed for illegal transport or export or possession of the articles imported Held, on the evidence, that delivery of the articles to the Calcutta firm had taken place before the transport of the same commenced, and the mere fact of the persons who despatched them from French Territory having arranged that an agent of theirs should be present at the Calcutta shop to see that the goods were in order when opened, did not prevent possession passing to the Calcutta firm; and they were not liable to conviction for illegal transport or possession of excisable articles. Taking an order for foreign goods which are excisable may constitute abetment of their import but not of their transport. The expression "juice drawn from any cocoanut" in s. 2 (20) of the Excise Act does not mean the milk of the cocoanut but the juice of the tree. EMPEROR v. MOTI LAL CHANDER, 16 C.W.N. 785 = 15 Ind. Cas. 961 = 13 Cr. L J. 545 = 39 C. 1053. [R., 15 Cr. L.J. 73 = 19 C.L.J. 53 = 22 Ind. Cas. 425]

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act V of 1909 (Excise)—continued.

(3)—Ss. 2, cls. (6), (7) and (14), 46, 48—'Denatured spirit'—'Manufacture'—Denatured spirit, dilution of, with water—Appeal—Crim. Pro. Code, applicability of—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 233, 410—Charges, misjoinder of—Summons case—Applicability of Crim. Pro. Code, to trials under Act V of 1909 (B. C.).—To support a conviction under s. 48 of the Bengal Excise Act, two elements must be established, namely, first, that the spirit is denatured spirit, and, secondly, that the accused has attempted to render such spirit fit for human consumption. The definition of 'denatured spirit' in cl. (6) of s. 2 of the Bengal Excise Act considered. The essence of 'manufacture' as defined in cl. (15) of s. 2 of the Bengal Excise Act is, that it is a process. A mere dilution of denatured spirit with water is not a process for the manufacture of an excisable article. The Code of Criminal Procedure, subject to specified restrictions, is applicable to trials under the Bengal Excise Act, before a Magistrate. The fact that the trial has taken place as a summons case, does not exclude the application of s. 233 of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Manufacturing excisable article seized and brought into Court, bottling it, possessing it, selling from time to time various other articles not before the Court, and attempting to render denatured spirit fit for human consumption, do not constitute one transaction. Quære.—Whether a spirit diluted with water is excisable article or intoxicating liquor within the meaning of cls. (7) and (14) of s. 2 of the Bengal Excise Act U.N. BISWAS v. KING-EMPEROR, 19 C. L. J. 53 = 18 C W. N 486 = 22 Ind. Cas. 425 = 15 Cr. L J. 73 = 41 C. 694.

(4)—Ss. 2 (12), 46, 52, 61—"Possession"—Constructive possession — Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 236, 237.—The petitioner was in possession of an invoice and bill of lading which purported to cover old wearing apparel exported by Porter & Co., of London to Rasu Prosad at Dharjeeling. The bill of lading with endorsement by Porter & Co., and Rasu Prosad were made over by the accused to Cox & Co., in order that the goods might be cleared and passed through the Customs House. The goods were found to contain a large quantity of cocaine which was sought to be illicitly exported in contravention of the provisions of the Excise Act. The accused, when apprised of the discovery, professed to be acting on behalf of Rasu Prosad. Held, that the accused committed an offence falling under s. 61 read with s. 46, cl. (a) and s. 2, cl. (12) of the Bengal Excise Act, of attempting to bring cocaine into Bengal in contravention of the provisions of the said Act, and not under ss. 46 and 52, as he could not be said to be in "possession" of the cocaine. (32 C. 557, 36 C. 1016, D.) The doctrine of constructive possession is to be very cautiously applied, specially in the department of criminal jurisprudence. Ss. 236 and 237 of the Code of Criminal Procedure applied. KALI CHARAN MOOKERJEE v. EMPEROR, 18 C.L.J. 514 = 18 C.W.N. 309 = 41 C. 537 = 22 Ind. Cas. 148 = 15 Cr. L.J. 4.

(5) Ss. 2 (12), 46, 61—Meaning of "import"—Articles intercepted by Customs House, if can be said to have been brought into Bengal. —See EVIDENCE—ADMISSIBILITY OF EVIDENCE, 18 C.L.J. 567.

(6)—S. 9—See No. 2, supra.

(7)—S. 10—See No. 2, supra.

2.—Bengal Acts—continued.

Act V of 1909 (Excise)—continued.

(8)—S. 46 -Cocaine—Illicit possession—Possession of cocaine exceeding five grains—Burden of proof of authority under which cocaine was obtained.—Under the Government Notification of November 20th, 1911, it is an offence for any person other than those specified to have any cocaine at all except with medical man's prescription, and then only five grains. In all cases, the burden of proof to show under what authority he obtained cocaine lies on the accused. MAKUND SAHU v. EMPEROR, 15 Cr. L.J. 262 = 23 Ind. Cas. 470 = 18 C.W.N. 1023.

(9)—S. 46—See 2 to 5, supra.

(10)—Ss. 46, 56—Servant leaving shop and trying to export ganja—Master if may be punished.—A servant employed in the petitioner's ganja shop left the shop and was found travelling with $2\frac{1}{2}$ seers of ganja from the District of Arrah to Bindhyachal and was convicted under s. 46 of the Excise Act. Held, that the petitioner could not be punished for the servant's act under s. 56 of the Act, when it did not appear that the servant was acting for the petitioner's benefit and within the scope of his employment. UTTAM CHAND v. KING-EMPEROR, 16 C.W.N. 551 = 15 Ind. Cas. 1007 = 13 Cr. L J. 591 = 15 C.L.J. 401 = 39 C. 344.

(11)—S. 48—See No. 3, supra.

(12)—S. 52—See Nos. 2, 4, supra.

(13)—Ss. 54, 56—Misjoinder of charges—Crim. Pro. Code, Ss. 234, 235 (2), 239—Abettor — Accomplice—Obiter : — A licensed vendor, who is punishable by implication under s. 56 of the Bengal Excise Act, can be tried together with his agent who commits the offence. The case is one of abetment by implication, and s. 239 of the Code of Criminal Procedure allows an abettor to be tried in the same trial as the principal. Where a person was convicted of a different offence before a trial and he had nothing to gain or lose by the evidence he gave in Court, he could not be said to be an accomplice in law. Other persons who were directly concerned in the crime as principals might be considered as accomplices, even though convicted. PRIYA NATH BISAI v. KING-EMPEROR, 15 C.L.J. 692 = 13 Cr. L.J. 255 = 14 Ind. Cas. 607.

(14)—S. 55—See No. 2, supra.

(15)—S. 56—See Nos. 10, 13, supra.

(16)—S. 57—See No. 2, supra.

(17)—S. 61—See Nos. 4, 5, supra.

(18)—S. 67—Excise officers assaulted before they entered any house or made any arrest or search—Rioting—Separate sentence—Penal Code, ss. 147, 353.—A Deputy Inspector of Excise received information, that he would find certain persons in the act of illicitly distilling liquor, if he went to a certain village. He accordingly went with two Sub-Inspectors and a large number of peons, who actually saw the accused and their men removing the distilling apparatus. But before they had time to enter the house and arrest those persons or to make any search whatever, the accused sallied out and proceeded to beat the peons. The accused were convicted of rioting and using criminal force to deter a public servant from the discharge of his duty : Held, that the assault upon the officers was wholly unjustifiable and the riot was one of a very serious and lawless nature, that the Excise Officers were acting under s. 67 of the Excise Act (V of 1909 B.C.) ; that before they had time to do anything lawful or unlawful in respect of any search, they were wantonly assaulted by the accused, and that as there was no search, it could not be said that there was a search not in accordance with law. A separate sentence should not be passed upon people convicted of rioting for the offence which is specifically stated to have been the common object of the assembly, unless a specific charge is laid against the individual members of committing such an offence. Therefore, persons who are shown to have committed a separate offence under s. 353, Penal Code, should receive a separate punishment, even although the common object of the riot was to commit that offence. PRAKASH CHANDRA KUNDU v. EMPEROR, 15 Cr.L.J. 251 = 23 Ind. Cas. 203 = 41 C. 836 = 18 C.W.N. 918.

Act I of 1910 (Eastern Bengal and Assam Excise).

(1)—Ss. 36, 53, 72 —Medicated article containing Bhang—Kameshwar Modak—Manufacture and sale by medical practitioner for medicinal purposes if protected—S. 72, effect and scope of—Notification by Local Government—Rules by Board of Revenue.—The petitioner, who was a Kabiraj, was charged under s. 53 of the Eastern Bengal and Assam Excise Act with the manufacture and sale of an excisable article, namely, a mixture called Komeshwar Modak, which contained Bhang and which admittedly was a medicated article prepared by the petitioner for medicinal purposes :—Held, in regard to the manufacture and sale of the article in question, the petitioner was protected by s. 72 of the Act, the language of which is wide enough to take any case, to which it applies without restriction, out of the Act. SATISH CHANDRA ROY v. KING-EMPEROR, 17 C.W.N. 939 = 14 Cr. L.J. 300 = 19 Ind. Cas. 956.

(2)—S. 53—See No. 1, supra.

(3)—S. 72—See No. 1, supra.

Act III of 1910 (Calcutta and Suburban).

S. 16—See BEN. ACT IV OF 1866, s. 62-a, cls. 4, 6, s. 102, 17 C.W.N. 505 = 18 Ind. Cas. 685 = 14 Cr.L.J. 125 = 40 C. 470.

Act VIII of 1912 (Bengal, Bihar, Orissa and Assam Laws).

(1)—Ss. 3, 8, effect of—Honorary Magistrates, differences of opinion between, settlement of—

2.—Bengal Acts—concluded.

Act VIII of 1912 (Bengal, Bihar, Orisa and Assam Laws)—concluded.

New Rule under Government Notification, 1906, if extends to Eastern Bengal—Bengal and Assam Laws Act (VII of 1905) repeal of, effect of —Crim. Pro. Code, s. 16.—In Eastern Bengal, the old notification under which a difference of opinion between two Honorary Magistrates forming a Bench is to be settled by the casting vote of one of them, namely, the Chairman, is still in force. The provisions of s. 3 of Act VIII of 1912, are applicable to notifications which derived their force in the former Province of Eastern Bengal and Assam, from the Act of 1905. UTFAL SHAIKH v. KING-EMPEROR, 19 C.L.J. 92.

(2) Ss. 3, 8—Difference of opinion between Chairman and colleague — Procedure—See BENCH OF MAGISTRATES, 14 Cr. L.J. 684= 21 Ind. Cas. 1004.

(3)—S. 8—See Nos. 1, 2, supra.

3.—Bombay Acts.

 Act XXVII of 1837 (Salt).

[REP. (EXCEPT IN SIND), BOM. ACT VII OF 1873.]

(1)—Salt thrown overboard to avoid measurement—Presumption—Salt removed in excess of the permit—Confiscation.—In a case where a vessel was seized on suspicion of having a greater quantity of salt than was allowed by its permit, and immediately afterwards, a number of men boarded the boat and threw some of the salt overboard, held that, from the above circumstances, a presumption arose that there was, at the time of the seizure, an excess of salt on board the vessel, beyond that allowed by the permit. Where a vessel, holding a permit to pass a certain quantity of salt on which duty had been paid, removed a larger quantity, the whole of such salt must be considered as removed contrary to the provisions of the above Acts; and the whole of such salt, and not merely the exception, is liable to confiscation. FRAMJI HORMASJI v. THE COMMISSIONER AND DEPUTY COMMISSIONER OF CUSTOMS, SALT AND OPIUM, 7 B.H C.A.C.J. 89.

(2)—S. 7—Act XXXI of 1850—Removal of one's own salt—Detention.—Removal of one's own salt from the bed of a creek, not forming part of any salt-work, is not an offence under the Penal Code nor under either Act XXVII of 1837 or Act XXXI of 1850, though, under s. 7 of the former Act made applicable by s. 8 of the latter, the salt removed becomes liable to detention. REG. v. FAKIRA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 66=Cr. Rg. 12-9-1872. [R., 10 B.H. Cr. A.C. 74.]

(3)—S. 7—Dishonest removal of salt naturally formed in a creek.—A dishonest removal

* This Local Act was passed by the Imperial Legislature.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act XXVII of 1837 (Salt)—concluded.

of salt naturally formed in a creek, which was under the supervision of an officer belonging to the Customs Department, constitutes that, the salt have been legally appropriated by such officer. (Per Bayley and West, JJ.) REG. v. MANSANG BHAVSANG, 10 B. H. C. A C. J. 74.

Act XIX of 1838 (Coasting Vessels, Bombay).

[S. 1 REP. IN PART, ACT XIV OF 1870. FORMAL WORDS IN SS 2 TO 14 REP., ACT XVI OF 1874; SS. 9, 15, REP., SS. 12, 13, REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1876. DECLARED IN FORCE THROUGHOUT THE PRESIDENCY OF BOMBAY, EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 5.]

(1)—Ss. 4, 7, 13 — Certificate of Registry—Certificate in father's name—On father's death, his son though joint and carrying on business in the same name must obtain new certificate.—A certificate of registry of a craft was issued, under s. 7 of the Coasting Vessels Act, in the name of a person who traded jointly with his son. On his death, the son carried on the business as before in the father's name, and did not obtain a fresh certificate for the craft. He was accordingly prosecuted for plying the craft without a certificate under s. 13 of the Act, but was acquitted by the Magistrate. The Government having appealed :—Held, that the craft having been registered in the father's name as sole owner. The ownership passed in the event of his death to his son who was bound to obtain a certificate under s. 4 of the Coasting Vessels Act, and that the son had, therefore, committed an offence punishable under s. 13 of the Act. EMPEROR v. HARIDAS LAKSHMIDAS, 15 Bom. L R. 994=2 Bom. Cr. C. 161= 14 Cr. L.J. 653=21 Ind. Cas. 893=38 B. 111.

(2)—Ss. 4, 13—See ST. 17 AND 18 VIC., C. 104 ss. 24 and 26, 14 B. 170.

(2-a)—S. 7—See No. 1, supra.

(3)—S. 13—Using boat without number and certificate of registry—Jurisdiction.—A full power Magistrate alone has jurisdiction to convict an accused person under s. 13 of Act XIX of 1838. REG. v. KASANJI valad HAMINJI MHASKAR, 5 B. H. C. Cr. 6. [R., Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 134.]

(4)—S. 13—See Nos. 1, 2, supra.

Act XI of 1843 (Hereditary Officers, Bombay).

[REP., BOM. ACT III OF 1874.]

S. 8—See CONTEMPT OF COURT, 8 B.H. C. Cr. 19.

Act XI of 1846 (Khandesh and Ahmednagar).

[REP., AS TO KHANDESH, ACT XIV OF 1874; REP., AS TO AHMEDNAGAR, ACT XII OF 1876.]

* These Local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

3.--Bombay Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1846 (Khandesh and Ahmednagar) —concluded.

(1)—Jurisdiction of High Court to deal with cases under the Act.—The High Court of Judicature at Bombay has the same jurisdiction as was possessed by the Sudder Fouzdari Adawlat to deal with cases under Act XI of 1846, either by way of confirmation or of appeal. QUEEN EMPRESS v. RATNYA RAJA, Rat Un. Cr. C. 939.

(2)—S. 3—Jurisdiction — Appeal to High Court.—Rule 44 of the rules framed under s. 3 of Act XI of 1846 was held to be ultra vires, as no power was given by Act XI of 1846 to the Government to confer appellate powers on the Sadar Fouzdari Adawlat,as was practically done by the rule. Act XI of 1846 being repealed in the Mehwassi Village by Act XIV of 1874, rule 44 could not be continued either by the notification published in the Bombay Government Gazette for 1879, Pt. I. p 115, or by the notification published in the Bombay Government Gazette for 1887, Pt. I, p. 19. In this case the accused were convicted, under s. 201, I.P.C., of an offence committed in the village of Gulamba in the Mohwasi Estate of Nal, in the Khandesh District, and each of the accused was sentenced by the Agent to the Governor to suffer rigorous imprisonment for five years. The Agent tried the cases under the rules framed under Act XI of 1846. The accused appealed to the High Court under Rule 44 of the rules framed under s. 3 of Act XI of 1846. Held, no appeal lay to the High Court. QUEEN EMPRESS v. SARYA, 15 B. 505. [Diss., 25 B. 667 ; R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 939.]

(3)—S. 3, Scheduled Districts Act IV of 1874 —Rule 35 of the rules framed under Act XI of 1846—Reference to High Court from conviction in Scheduled District.—The Collector of Khandesh, acting in his capacity as Political Agent for the Mehwasi Estates, tried the accused on the charge of the murder of his wife at a village in a Scheduled District, and sentenced him to transportation for life, subject to the confirmation of His Excellency the Governor in Council. The accused also presented a petition of appeal to the same authority. The Government directed the Political Agent to submit the proceedings to the High Court, and the reference was accordingly made by the Political Agent under Rule 35 of the Rules promulgated in July 1855, under the powers conferred on Government by s. 3 of Act XI of 1846. The accused's appeal also was forwarded to the High Court. Held that the High Court had jurisdiction to hear and determine the reference. IMPERATRIX v. RATNYA, 25 B. 667.

 Act XXXI of 1850 (Salt Revenue, Bombay).

[REP. BOM. ACT VII OF 1873]

(1)—Crim. Pro. Code (1861), s. 45—Applicability of s. 65, I.P.C.—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—S. 45, Crim. Pro. Code, 1861, makes applicable the provisions of s. 65, I.P.C., to every case in which a Magistrate has jurisdiction under s. 21, Crim. Pro. Code. Where an accused person convicted under s. 3, Act XXXI of 1850, was sentenced to pay a fine of ten rupees, or in default to suffer one month's simple imprisonment, the imprisonment in default was reduced to three weeks' simple imprisonment. REG v. VITHOBA bin SOMA, 5 B.H C. Cr. 61.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act XXXI of 1850 (Salt Revenue, Bombay) —concluded.

(2)—See BOM. ACT XXVII OF 1837, 7 B.H. C.A C.J. 89.

(3)—S. 3—See PENAL CODE, ss. 69, 70, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 40=Cr. Rg. 15 9-1870.

(4)—S. 8—See THEFT—THINGS IN RESPECT OF WHICH THE OFFENCE OF THEFT CANNOT BE COMMITTED, 10 B.H.C. 74, (note).

 Act XXXV of 1850 (Ferries, Bombay).

[REP., BOM ACT II OF 1868.]

(1)—S. 9—Jurisdiction— Zillah Magistrate— Reg. XII of 1827.—A full power Magistrate has no jurisdiction to convict for an offence under s. 9 of the Bombay Ferries Act, since only a Zillah Magistrate as defined by Reg. XII of 1827 has jurisdiction in such cases. REG. v. PRABHAKAR N. SOMAN, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 11.

(2)—S. 14—Construction.—Conveying for hire passengers from an island in the harbour to the mainland of Bombay is not an offence under s. 14 of the Bombay Ferries Act. REG. v. MALHARI bin SHIVJI, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 41.

(3)—S. 16—Appeal from Zillah Magistrate's decision—Reg. XIX of 1827, s. 14—Time for appeal.—An appeal lies to the Sessions from the summary decision of the Zillah Magistrate under s. 16 of the Bombay Ferries Act. Such an appeal need not be preferred within eight days as required by s. 14 of Reg. XIX of 1827. REG. v. MALHARI LAUJI ET AL, 6 B.H.C. Cr. 45.

 Act III of 1852 (Spirituous Liquors, Bombay).

[REP., BOM ACT V OF 1878.]

Penal Code, s. 205—Prosecution under Act III of 1852.—A prosecution under Act III of 1852 is a criminal prosecution within the meaning of s. 205 of the Penal Code. REG. v. GANGA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 59=Cr. Rg. 14 12-1871.

 Act XIII of 1856 (Police, Presidency Towns).

[REP. IN CALCUTTA BEN. ACT IV OF 1866, REP. IN MADRAS, ACT VIII OF 1867, S. 81, REP. IN BOMBAY, BOM. ACT IV OF 1902.]

* This Local Act was passed by the Imperial Legislature.

* These Local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act XIII of 1856 (Police, Presidency Towns) —concluded.

(1)—S. 35 (1)—Fraudulent possession of property reasonably suspected to be stolen.—The Police Act being a penal enactment which shifts the burden of proof of innocence at a certain point on the accused, it has to be construed strictly. Before the accused can be called on to account for the property under s. 35 (1), there must be evidence amounting to proof to the satisfaction, not of the police officer or witness, but of the Court, that the accused possessed or conveyed a thing of which, after judicial consideration by the Court, it may be said that it "may be reasonably suspected of being stolen or fraudulently obtained." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DHANJIBHAI EDULJI, 20 B. 348.

(2)—Ss. 57, 58—Act XLVIII of 1860, s. 15—Recital in warrant—Evidence—Found gaming.—S. 15 of Act XLVIII of 1860 does not render the recitals in a warrant to the effect that information of gaming has been given on oath to the Magistrate, prima facie evidence of the use of the room. The proper construction to be put on the section does not require that the accused should be actually arrested in the place where the gaming has been going on. It is enough that gaming was seen to take place there. REG. v. NANA MOROJI, 8 B.H.C.R. 1.

(3)—Ss. 57, 58, 111—Form of warrant—Irregularity—Effect.—A warrant issued under s. 58 of the Police Act should be addressed, not to all constables and peace officers, but to some one or more superior officers of Police, or at least to superior officers of Police generally. But this defect in the warrant is not such an irregularity, having regard to s. 111 of the same Act, as to vitiate a conviction on the merits for an offence under s. 57. REG. v. NANA MOROJI, 8 B.H.C Cr. 1.

(4)—S. 58—See Nos. 2, 3, supra.

(5)—S. 77 — Power of Commissioner of Police to prohibit procession—Quære.—Whether, under s. 77, Bombay Act XIII of 1856, the Commissioner of Police has power to issue orders prohibiting processions altogether. EMPRESS v. TUCKER, 7 B. 42=7 Ind. Jur. 202.

(6)—S. 111—See CERTIORARI, WRIT OF, 10 B.H.C.R. 102.

(7)—S. 111—See No. 3, supra.

Act XLVIII of 1860 (Police, Presidency Towns, Amending Act XIII of 1856).

[REP. (IN CALCUTTA) BENGAL ACT IV OF 1866, REP. (IN MADRAS) MADRAS ACT VIII OF 1867, S. 81 (IN BOMBAY) BOMBAY ACT IV OF 1902.]

(1)—S. 2—Police office—Clerk of Magistrate of Police.—The words "Police office" in this section did not apply to a Police Magistrate. In re JUDO NATH MOOKERJEE, Bourke O. C. 186.

3 —Bombay Acts—continued.

Act XLVIII of 1860 (Police, Presidency Towns, Amending Act XIII of 1856).—continued.

(2)—S. 8—Escape from custody—Arrest under Civil process—Offence.—Down to 1856, escapes from custody under civil process in the mofussil, and down to the end of 1855, such escapes in Bombay, were not by any legislation rendered punishable. Nor could it be held that, under s. 8 of Act XLVIII of 1860, "legal custody" meant custody under civil process and escape therefrom is not an offence. It is doubtful whether in England it was punishable criminally, and even if it was, it would be only a misdemeanour. REG. v. JOHN CONNON, 6 B.H C. Cr. 15.

(3)—S. 10, Presidency Town Police Act—Order for maintenance—Muhammadan—Divorce—Effect.— An order for maintenance validly made against a Muhammadan husband under s. 13 of the Presidency Town Police Act Amendment Act, can no further be executed after the divorce of the wife by the husband. In re KASAM PIRBHAI, 8 B.H C. Cr. 95. [F., 5 A. 226, 7 B. 180, 5 C. 558; R., 19 A. 50, 12 B.H. C. 281, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 145; D., 15 A. 143.]

(4)—S. 11—Boarding-house — License.—A boarding-house, where regular customers take their meals at specified hours, requires a license under s. 11 of Act XLVIII of 1860. KING-EMPEROR v. SACOOBAI, 3 Bom. L.R. 765, F.B.

(5)—S. 11—Refusal of license.—The sole circumstance that the Police Commissioner refused to grant license to the accused under s. 12 of Act XLVIII of 1860 is no good defence to a prosecution under s. 11, when it is proved that the accused keeps such an eating house as is described in that section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ELLAHIBAX, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 835=Cr. Rg. 1 of 1896.

(6)—S. 11, cl (2)—"Hotel, tavern, shop or place," construction of words.—The words "hotel, tavern, shop or place," in cl. 2, s. 11 of Act XLVIII of 1860 are wide enough to include every place mentioned in the first clause of the section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHERIAR ARDESEER ERANI, 15 B. 530.

(7)—Ss. 11, 12—Discretion in granting licenses—Act I of 1877, s. 45—"Personal right," meaning of.—Where a person, who purchased the business and stock in trade of an eating house which was carried on under a license granted by the Commissioner of Police, Bombay, under Act XLVIII of 1860, subsequent to his purchase, applied to the Commissioner of Police for a transfer of the license to his name, which was refused, and thereupon applied to the High Court, under s. 45, Specific Relief Act, for an order directing the Commissioner to grant a license to him: held, that no order could be made under s. 45. Specific Relief Act, as the Commissioner of Police, had, under ss. 11 and 12, Act XLVIII of 1860, a discretion in the matter of granting licenses. The five conditions mentioned in s. 45, Specific Relief Act, are not disjunctive, the effect of which is that, if any one of them is not complied with, the section cannot be put into operation. The words "personal right" in s. 45 (a), Specific Relief Act, are intended to cover rights in rem such as every human being in a civilised society possesses independently of any act of his own. In re RUSTAM JAMSHED IRANI, 3 Bom.L.R. 653.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act XLVIII of 1860 (Police, Presidency Towns, Amending Act XIII of 1856)—concluded.

(8)—Ss. 11, 12—Meaning of "shall" in s. 12 —Granting of license for eating-house in Bombay town, if in absolute discretion of Commissioner of Police.—The conditions set forth in s. 45, Specific Relief Act are cumulative. The word "shall," used as it is in s. 12, Act XLVIII of 1860 (Town Police), is prima facie imperative. The first part of s. 11, in effect, means, first, that the Commissioner of Police shall grant licenses, and, secondly, that he shall grant them upon the conditions indicated. The Commissioner of Police in Bombay is not, therefore, vested with any absolute discretion to refuse to grant licenses, for eating houses within the town of Bombay, under Act XLVIII of 1860. If they be a legal nuisance, then, any resident prejudicially affected will have his proper remedy, but the mere apprehension of the residents is no justification for refusing a license under the Act. RUSTOAM JAMSHED IRANI v. HARTLEY KENNEDY. 4 Bom. L. R. 1=26 B. 396. (5 Moo. P.C. 296=11 Jur. 857, F.)

(9)—S. 12—See Nos. 7, 8, supra.

(10)—S. 15—See BOM. ACT XIII OF 1856, ss. 57, 58, 111, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 1.

(11)—S. 21—See ACT XI OF 1890, s. 3 (b), 26 B. 609=4 Bom. L.R. 290.

Act V 1862 (Bhagdari and Narwadari Tenures).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1873; ACT XII OF 1876; BOM. ACT III OF 1886, DECLARED NOT TO BE IN FORCE IN THE PANCH MAHALS, ACT VII OF 1885.]

Contempt — Bhagdaree and Narvadaree Tenures Act (Bom.) V of 1862—Mamlatdar—Summons.—Bombay Act V of 1862 does not provide for the attendance of persons before the Mamlatdar for the purposes of an enquiry held under that Act. So, a conviction for disobeying a summons issued by the Mamlatdar under that Act is illegal. REG. v. MAHOMED ISMAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 70=Cr. Rg. 17-4-1873.

Act V of 1863 (Gas Companies).

[REP. IN PART, BOM. ACT III OF 1886, AMENDED, ACT XVI OF 1895.]

—See BOM. ACT III OF 1888, ss. 429, 430, 7 Bom. L.R. 460=2 Cr. L.J. 439.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1863 (Public Conveyances).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1873; ACT XII OF 1876; BOM. ACT III OF 1886; BOM. ACT III OF 1888. AMENDED, ACT XVI OF 1895; BOM. ACT V OF 1887.]

(1)—See ACT XVI OF 1861, s. 7, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 327=Cr. Rg. 17 of 1887.

(2)—S. 1—Tonga used for carrying Her Majesty's mails.—A tonga, when used for carrying Her Majesty's mails, is not a public conveyance within the definition contained in s. 1 of the Bombay Public Conveyances Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NARAYAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 521=Cr. Rg. 46 of 1890.

(3)—S. 1—Public conveyance—Hand-drawn lorry.—A hand-drawn lorry for the conveyance of goods is a public conveyance within the meaning of the Public Conveyances Act. EMPEROR v. BANUBHAI, 15 Bom. L R. 66=14 Cr. L. J. 78=18 Ind. Cas. 414=2 Bom. Cr. C. 22=37 B. 374.

(4)—S. 2—Essentials for conviction. — To support a conviction under s. 2 of the Public Conveyance Act, it must be proved that the carriage was a public conveyance, and that the accused kept or let it for hire. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ABDUL RAHIMAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 900.

(5)—S. 2—Licensed conveyance—Unlicensed horse—Yoking of—Penalty.—A person who yokes a pony, which is not licensed, to a licensed conveyance and plies it for hire, commits the offence punishable by s. 2 of the Public Conveyances Act. EMPEROR v. HARI TANAJI, 15 Bom. L.R. 700=2 Bom. Cr. C. 107=14 Cr. L.J. 458=20 Ind. Cas. 618.

(6)—S. 4—License — Maximum weight.—S 4 of Bombay Act VI of 1863 does not require that licenses granted under the Act shall contain any particulars as to the maximum weight of goods to be carried in a public conveyance. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JHINA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 415=Cr. Rg. 81 of 1888.

(7)—S. 6—Refusal of license to carriage not on sealed pattern.—The Commissioner of Police cannot refuse a license to a public conveyance on the ground that the fashion on which it is built is obsolete or objectionable, unless the Commissioner can also say that, in the particular instances before him, he has satisfied himself that the defects appearing in the pattern have been reproduced in the conveyance in question, which renders it unfit for public use. HERBERT GEORGE GELL v. TAJA NOORA, 5 Bom. L. R. 133. (On appeal from 4 Bom. L.R. 768). [R., 2 Bom. Cr. C. 107=15 Bom. L. R. 700=20 Ind. Cas. 618.]

(8)—S. 6—Public conveyances not conforming to Police Commissioner's sealed pattern.—The Commissioner of Police at Bombay is not justified, by s. 6 of Bombay Act VI of 1863, in refusing licenses for hack-victorias, which were so constructed as not to comply with his

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1863 (Public Conveyances)—contd.

"sealed pattern," though they might otherwise be most perfect and up-to date carriages. In re TAJA NOORA, 4 Bom. L. R. 768. (On appeal 5 Bom. L. R. 133.)

(9)—S. 18—Licensed drivers—List of fares—Omission to carry the list—Demand for it by police officer.—The driver of a public conveyance was unable to produce the list of fares when required to do so by a police officer. He was, thereupon, proceeded against under s. 18 of the Public Conveyances Act, 1863, but was acquitted by the Magistrate. Held, upholding the order of acquittal, that the penalty under s. 18 of the Public Conveyances Act, 1863, can be imposed only when the list is not produced on demand by the hirer or passenger. EMPEROR v. ALIBHAI MIABHAI, 14 Bom. L R. 875 =1 Bom. Cr. Cas 171=17 Ind. Cas. 531=13 Cr. L.J. 787

(10)—S. 22—Meaning of "stand to ply."—The expression "stand to ply for hire" has not been defined in the Public Conveyances Act. The question, therefore, whether drivers of public conveyances are liable under s. 22 of the Act for driving slowly along the road to pick up a fare, is one of fact and not of law. QUEEN EMPRESS v TAJA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 539=Cr. Rg. 10 of 1891.

(11)—S. 22—See BOM. ACT III OF 1888, ss. 429, 430, 7 Bom. L.R. 460=2 Cr. L.J. 135.

(12)—Ss. 22 and 25—Application of the Act outside Municipal limits—Refusal to drive—Receiving pre-payment of fare—Order ultra vires —Power of High Court to interfere—Use of preamble.—The journey, to which s. 22 refers, must be a journey within the limit to which the Act applies. It is no offence to demand pre-payment of fare for a journey outside the said limits. The accused's refusal to proceed to a place outside the Municipal limit is not an offence under s.22. Where the facts found by a Magistrate do not constitute an offence under the Act, the conviction is not under the Act, and will be ultra vires, and s. 25 of the Act is no bar to the interference of the High Court in revision. When the words of a section are ambiguous, the preamble of the Act may be consulted. IMPERATOR v. KHAMISO, 2 S.L. R. 20 Cr.=10 Cr. L J. 233.

(13)—Ss. 22 and 35—Omission to fufil engagement by driver.—The driver of a public conveyance, who had been engaged beforehand to call in the evening at a gentleman's house and take him out to dinner, omitted to fulfil the agreement. Held that the omission was not punishable under s. 22, as the driver, when he entered into the agreement, was not 'plying for hire;' also, that s. 35 debars the High Court from reversing an improper conviction under the Act. In the matter of DASTGIR, Cr. Rg. 24th March 1881.

(14)—S. 25—See No. 12, supra.

(15)—Jurisdiction of Magistrate of Hubli.—Under a Notification issued by the Bombay Government under s. 34 of the Bombay Public Conveyances Act, the second class Magistrate of Hubli alone is empowered to try cases under that Act. QUEEN EMPRESS v. RAMA bin NAGAPPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 921=Cr. Rg. 26 of 1897.

(16)—S. 35—See No. 13, supra.

Act IX of 1863 (Cotton-Frauds).

[REP., BOM. ACT VII OF 1878.]

(1) S. 2—Adulteration of cotton.—Possession of adulterated cotton, even though accompanied by the knowledge that the cotton was adulterated, would not be sufficient to sustain a conviction, unless accompanied by the offering of it for sale or compression. REG. v. HANMANT GAVDA, 1 B. 228.

(2)—*S.*2—Jurisdiction—Crim. Pro. Code, Act XXV of 1861, s. 411—Appeal.—Where there was no evidence of mixing of cotton or that such mixing, if any, was done within the jurisdiction of the trying Magistrate, held that the conviction under s. 2 of Bombay Act IX of 1863 was illegal. Quære:—Whether, under s. 411 of the Crim. Pro. Code, there is an appeal to the Sessions Court against such a conviction? REG. v. JIVAN USMAN, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 12.

(3)—S. 2—Mixing cotton.—Ginning two varieties of cotton, which had already been mixed together by another person, is a continuation of the process of mixing, and is an offence under s. 2 of the Bombay Cotton Frauds Act. REG. v. CHOUTHMAL LACHIRAM, 11 B.H C. 144.

(4)—Ss. 2, 8—Proof of fraudulent intent or knowledge.—In order to convict a person of the offence of offering adulterated cotton for compression, it is not necessary for the prosecution to prove that the accused had a fraudulent intention, or that he knew that the cotton was either adulterated or deteriorated. REG. v. PREMJI BHAGVAN, 10 B H C. 295.

(5)—S. 8—See No. 4, supra.

Act II of 1864 (Civil and Criminal Justice, Aden.)

[REP., IN PART, ACT XVI OF 1891.]

(1)—Island of Perim—Jurisdiction of Resident at Aden.—1. By a Government Notification No. 2336, dated 6th May, 1884, the island of Perim was included within the Sessions Division and District of Aden; and the officer in command of the troops stationed at Perim was empowered to commit persons for trial to the Court of Sessions at Aden. Held, that, notwithstanding the notification, the resident had no jurisdiction over the island of Perim, and the resident had never been appointed a Judge of a Court of Session for that island. Where a person charged with murder was committed for trial before the Court of the Resident at Aden, and was convicted and sentenced to death, the High Court annulled the conviction and directed the prisoner to be tried before a Court of competent jurisdiction. Act II of 1864 (Aden Act) does not by its own force extend to Perim, as it cannot be regarded as part of Aden. The Court created by Act II of 1864 was the Court of the Resident; the powers of that Court and a Court of Session were not made commensurate, as appears clearly from s. 20 and other sections. In order to properly carry out the intention of the Legislature, a Court of Sessions for a Sessions Division, including Perim, remains to be created, and a Judge appointed thereto by the Local Government. QUEEN EMPRESS v. PRIVATE MONGOL TEKCHAND. 10 B. 263. [R., 96 P.L.R. 1901, Rat. Un. Cr. 825.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act II of 1864 (Civil and Criminal Justice, Aden)—continued.

(2)—Reg. II of 1891—Village of Shiekh Othman—Aden.—For the purposes of Act II of 1864, the village of Sheikh Othman is, by Reg. II of 1891, made a part of the Settlement of Aden and subject to the jurisdiction of the Resident at Aden. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NURADIN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 325 = Cr. Rg. 67 of 1895. (10 B. 258, R.)

(3)—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 1, 3, 7, 9—Aden Act, II of 1864—Island of Perim—Jurisdiction of Resident at Aden.—The island of Perim, having been occupied with a view to its permanent retention, is a part of British India under 21 and 22 Vic., Chap. 106 and of the Presidency of Bombay. The Penal Code and Criminal Procedure Code are in force in that island. For certain purposes, the Court of the Resident at Aden, established under Act II of 1864, may be regarded as a Court of Sessions, and the local area, to which that Act applies is a Sessions Division. It is doubtful whether the Court of the Resident could be held to be a Court of Session within the intention of the Code, for the trial of cases arising in the island of Perim, and also whether the Resident could be held to be a Sessions Judge within the meaning of the Code for the trial of such cases. The High Court intimated a wish to have these points argued by counsel, and subject to further argument on the whole question of jurisdiction, admitted the appeal by a person convicted by the Resident at Aden for an offence committed in the island of Perim. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MANGAL TEKCHAND, 10 B. 258. [R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 825, 96 P.L.R. 1901.]

(4)—See ACT XIV OF 1874, ss. 3, 5, 6, 10 B. 274.

(5)—S. 20—See TRANSFER OF CRIMINAL CASES—GENERAL, 29 B. 575 = 7 Bom.L.R. 104.

(6)—Ss. 29, 30—Court of Resident at Aden—Review of criminal case by Bombay High Court—Certificate of the Advocate-General—High Court can go only into questions of law—Penal Code, s. 161—Public servant taking illegal gratifications—Bribery—" In the exercise of his official functions "—" As a motive or reward."—There is nothing in s. 29 or 30 of the Aden Courts Act, 1864, which can operate either by express words or by necessary implication, to limit the application of those sections to cases tried by the Resident as a Court of Session or to exclude appeals from their purview. S. 30 of the Act empowers and requires the High Court of Bombay to review the case, or such part of it as may be necessary, with reference only to the points of law specified in the certificate of the Advocate-General, and the section does not contemplate that any decision by the Resident on a point of fact should be questioned in review, save in so far as such decision may be dependent, for its validity, on the determination of a point of law mentioned in the certificate. S. 161 of the Indian Penal Code requires proof that an official has obtained as a motive or reward for official conduct an illegal gratification for himself or another. That other may or may not be an official and, therefore, may be wholly unconnected with official conduct. The conduct which is contemplated as the consideration for the bribe, must be that of the official obtaining it. To obtain a bribe, as a motive or reward for another's conduct, does not fall within the section, though it may be an abetment of that offence or cheating. The performance of the act which is the consideration for the bribe is not essential. But it is essential that the bribe should be obtained "as a motive or reward." That phrase evidently means 'on the understanding that the bribe is given in consideration of some official act or conduct.' Such an undertaking need not be proved by explicit evidence of any precise agreement. It may be inferred from circumstances. EMPEROR v. BHAGWANDAS KANJI, 9 Bom. L.R. 331 = 31 B. 335 = 5 Cr.L.J. 309.

(7)—S. 30—See No. 6, supra.

Act V of 1864 (Mamlatdars' Courts).

[REP., BOM. ACT III OF 1876.]

(1)—Disobedience of illegal order by Mamlatdar—Penal Code, s. 188.—A Mamlatdar was not legally empowered under Act V of 1864 (Bombay) to promulgate an order directing one person not to obstruct another in going and coming by his gateway, and to keep it open. Disobedience to such an order was not, therefore, punishable under s. 188, I.P.C. REG. v. KHANDOJI bin TANAJI, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 21.

(2)—Order directing accused to keep open right of way to privy — Jurisdiction — Penal Code, s. 188.—An order by a Mamlatdar directing the accused to keep open a right of way to a privy was held to be an injunction to refrain from disturbing the possession of the parties and, therefore, within the jurisdiction of the Mamlatdar. A disobedience of such order was, therefore, punishable under s. 188, I.P.C. REG v. KRISHNASHET bin NARAYANSHET, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 46.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1864 (Mamlatdars' Courts)—concld.

(3)—Penal Code, Act XLV of 1860, s. 188—Mamlatdar's jurisdiction. — A Mamlatdar, under Bombay Act V of 1864, has no jurisdiction to make an order of the nature described in s. 188 of the Penal Code. REG. v. BHAN bin VITHU, 3 B.H.C. Cr. 53.

(4)—See MISCHIEF, 8 B.H.C. Cr. 63.

(5)—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE, CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION —NECESSITY, SUFFICIENCY AND VALIDITY OF SANCTION. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 118=Cr. Rg. 21-11-1876.

Act I of 1865 (Survey and Settlement).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1873; ACT X OF 1876; BOM. ACT IV OF 1868, SS. 16, 20. SUPPLEMENTED, AND APPLICATION DECLARED (LOCALLY), BOM. ACT IV OF 1868. AMENDED, BOM. ACT I OF 1875. REP. LOCALLY (EXCEPT SS. 37 AND 38), BOM. ACT V OF 1879. SS. 37 AND 38 REP. (LOCALLY), BOM. ACT I OF 1880.]

(1)—Ss. 10, 14—City Surveys Act (Bom.) IV of 1868—Sanad—Omission to attend—Offence. —An omission to attend to receive a sanad, which, it is incumbent on the Collector to issue under s. 12 of Bom. Act IV of 1868, is not an offence, the purpose being not one of those specified in ss. 10 and 14 of Bom. Act I of 1865. REG. v. GAJANAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 67=Cr. Rg. 13-11-1872.

(2)—S. 11—See SURVEY, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 51.

(3)—S. 14— See INSPECTION OF DOCUMENTS, 11 B.H.C. 231.

(4)—S. 14—See No. 1, supra.

Act II of 1866 (Divesting Revenue—Courts of certain suits).

[REP., ACT X OF 1876.]

See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION —NECESSITY, SUFFICIENCY, AND VALIDITY OF SANCTION. Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 118=Cr. Rg. 21—11—1876.

Act III of 1866 (Gambling).

[REP., BOM. ACT IV OF 1887.]

(1)—S. 1, cl. 2—"Three miles,' meaning of.—The expression "three miles" in s. 1, cl. 2 of Bombay Act III of 1866 must be taken to mean three miles measured in a straight line along the horizontal plane. REG. v. BHIKOBA VINOBA, 4 B.H.C. Cr. 9. [F., Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 138.]

(2)—Ss. 3, 4, 5 and 9—Search warrant—Complaint on oath—Finding of instrument of gaming.—Although under s. 5 of Act III of 1866, a complaint on oath was necessary in order to authorise the issuing of the warrant, yet, if there was sufficient evidence otherwise from which the Magistrate might find the accused guilty of the offence charged, a search warrant might be issued. It is not necessary to make use of the finding of instruments of gaming in a house as evidence that the house was used as a common gaming-house, and that the persons were present there for the purpose of gaming. REG. v. NARAYAN SUNDAR, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 1. [F., 12 Cr. L.J. 28=8 Ind. Cas. 1127 =6 N.L.R. 168.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1866 (Gambling)—concluded.

(3)—S. 4—See No. 2, supra.

(4)—S. 5—See No. 2, supra.

(5)—S. 6—Common gaming-house.—A house suspected to be used as a common gaming-house, in which any instruments of gaming are found, and which is entered in the warrant issued under the provisions of the Bombay Gambling Act, is presumed to be a common gaming-house until the contrary is proved. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANGARAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 216=Cr. Rg. 8-10-85.

(6 & 7)—S. 6—Statement that a person keeps a gaming house—Magistrate exercising powers under—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 4, 190 (1) (c), 8 S.L.R. 66=15 Cr. L.J. 657=25 Ind. Cas. 985.

(8)—S. 9—See No. 2, supra.

(9)—S. 11—Coin—Instruments of gaming.—An instrument of gaming means an implement devised or intended for that purpose. A coin is not an instrument of gaming within the meaning of s. 11 of Bombay Act III of 1866. IMPERATRIX v. VITHAL BHAICHAND, 6 B. 19. [F., Rat. Un. R. Cr. Cas. 314; Appl., 16 B. 283; R., 18 A. 23; D., 25 C. 432.]

(10)—S. 11—Coin, not an instrument of gaming.—A coin is not an instrument of gaming, which means an implement devised or intended for that purpose. REG. v. RAMA ZILU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 75=Cr. Rg. 19-6-1873. [F., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 314.]

(11)—S. 11—Pieces of title.—Pieces of title are not instruments of gaming within the meaning of s. 11 of the Bombay Gambling Act, 1866. QUEEN EMPRESS v. MAHOMED, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 314=Cr. Rg. 72 of 1886.

(12)—S. 14 — Gambling-house, what is—Penal Code, s. 268.—A common gambling-house is one kept for the profit or gain of the person keeping such house, and such a house may be a public nuisance. But, in the absence of evidence that it was so kept, or in such a manner as to cause a public nuisance within the meaning of s. 268 of the Penal Code, it cannot be held that every person who admits gamblers into the house and every person who goes in is guilty of the offence of public nuisance. REG. v. HAU NAGJI ET AL, 7 B.H.C. Cr. 74. [R., L.B.R. 1872—1892, 59.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1866 (Sale of Poisons).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1873; ACT XVI OF 1895; BOM. ACT III OF 1886. REP. ACT I OF 1904, FROM DATE NOTIFIED UNDER S. 11, THEREOF.]

(1)—S. 11—Scope.—A conviction under s. 11 of Bombay Act VIII of 1896 can only be had before a Magistrate of the first class. EMPRESS v. IMAMBU, 4 B. 167.

(2)—S. 13—Omission to keep accounts for sales of poison—Jurisdiction.—A first class Magistrate alone can try an offence of omitting to keep accounts of the sale of poisons under s. 13 of the Bombay Poisons Sales Act, and a second class Magistrate has no jurisdiction to try such a case. QUEEN EMPRESS. v. SHRIRAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 292 = Cr. Rg. 35 of 1886.

Act XII of 1866 (Courts, Sindh.)

[REP. IN PT., ACT XII OF 1873; REP. IN PT., ACT XVI OF 1895; REP. IN PT., BOM. ACT III OF 1886. AM., BOM. ACT III OF 1868. "LOCAL GOVERNMENT" SUBSTITUTED FOR "GOVERNOR IN COUNCIL," "GOVERNMENT OF INDIA" SUBSTITUTED FOR "GOVERNOR GENERAL OF INDIA IN COUNCIL," SS. 1, 2, 6, 9, 10, 16, 17, 21 (PROV.) AM., SS. 1A, 9A, 9B, 9C, 9D, 9E, 15 A, INS., S. 7 REP., BOM. ACT I OF 1906.]

S. 16—Pleader signing and executing vakalat for accused—Deception on Court—Professional misconduct.—G, a pleader, was approached for the defence, in a criminal case, by the relatives of the accused, who refrained from coming themselves, as warrants were out for their arrest. G drew up and handed over to the relatives an application for copies together with a Vakalatnama purporting to have been executed in his favour by the accused themselves, but as a matter of fact executed for them by himself, to enable them to obtain copies from the Court. Held that it was the duty of the pleader to inform the relatives that he could do nothing without a Vakalatnama executed by the accused themselves, and that his act amounted to a deception on Court. Such attempted deception cannot be too strongly condemned on the part of a pleader, whose bounden duty it is as an officer of the Court not deceitfully to circumvent but honestly and loyally to uphold the practice of the Courts. Re PROFESSIONAL MISCONDUCT OF MR. G.A., PLEADER 4 S.L.R. 242, F B. = 11 Ind. Cas. 234 = 12 Cr. L J. 390.

Act III of 1867 (Bom. Cantonment).

[REP., ACT XIII OF 1889.]

See ACT XIII OF 1889.

(1)—S. 9—Rules—Sanction of Committee and declaration of Magistrate.—Any temporary construction within the limits of a Cantonment is an offence only if it shall be declared to be objectionable by the Cantonment Magistrate with the sanction of the Cantonment Committee, according to the rules framed under Act III of 1876. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOVIND BAPUJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 875 = Cr. Rg. 54 of 1896.

(2) S. 10—Cantonment Rules, r. 3—Closing of public road — Interpretation.—Though the Rules framed under the Cantonment Act should be construed so as to uphold their legality, yet, it cannot be held that s. 10, cl. 6 of the Act intended to authorize the Commanding Officer to altogether close a public road to traffic at all times. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SUCKOO, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 476 = Cr. Rg. 35 of 1889.

(3)—S. 11—Cantonment Rules—Public nuisance—Drum-beating.—The beating of a drum at a certain specified time does not amount to a public nuisance and does not fall within s. 11 of Bombay Act III of 1867. A rule prohibiting such an act goes beyond the powers conferred by the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHAYA RAMRATAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 480 = Cr. Rg. 45 of 1889.

(4)—S. 11, r. 39—Admixture of water with milk—Penal Code, s. 420.—The mere admixture of water with milk, not being ordinarily sufficient to render it noxious as drink, cannot be punished as an offence of adulterating milk by mixing water with it so as to render it noxious as drink as contemplated by r. 39 of the rules but such cases (that is, cases in which there is no proof that the adulteration is noxious) when penal, are generally so on account of their involving the offence of cheating, and should be dealt with under s. 420, I.P.C. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HIRI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 367 = Cr. Rg. 14 of 1888.

(5)—S. 11. r. 57—Cantonment — Repair of house, neglect of.—It is not an offence punishable under r. 57, ch. III of the Cantonment Rules, to neglect to repair a house within the Cantonment limits. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NAVALMAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 636 = Cr. Rg. 11 of 1893.

(6)—S. 11, r. 75—Act XIII of 1889, s. 2 (2)—Common gaming-house.—In order to constitute a house a common gaming-house, it should be found that the instruments of gaming were kept for the benefit or gain of the person keeping the house, whether by way of charge for the use of the instruments of gaming or of the house, room or place, or otherwise howsoever. A house rented by some members of the Joanese community in the name of one of the persons who kept the house, restricted to the use of the members only, is not "a common gaming house" by the mere fact of the members playing for money with cards, in the absence of proof that the member keeping the house was making any profit by way of charge for the use of either the cards or the house. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ANTONE FERNANDEZ, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 706 = Cr. Rg. 39 of 1894.

(7)—Ss. 11, 12, 14—Conviction without complaint—Report of police and medical officers—

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1867 (Bom. Cantonment)—contd.

Simultaneous sentences of fine and imprisonment.—The report of a police officer and a medical officer that a prostitute, having been served with notice, did not appear for examination by the Civil Surgeon as required by s. 11 of Bombay Act III of 1867, is no proper substitute for a complaint on oath, and a conviction thereon is illegal. Simultaneous sentences of fine and of imprisonment in default of payment of fine, under s. 12, Bombay Act III of 1867, are illegal. Imprisonment can only be awarded under s. 14 of the Act in the event of no property sufficient for the payment of the fine being found. REG. v. LADU, 7 B.H C. Cr. 87.

(8)—S. 12—See No. 7, supra.

(9)—Ss. 13 and 14—Default of payment of fine—Imprisonment—Penal Code, ss. 40, 64—Notwithstanding the amendment, by s. 1 of Act VIII of 1882, of s. 40, I.P.C., and the amendment by s. 2 of the Act of s. 64 of the Code, the provisions of ss. 13 and 14 of Bombay Act III of 1867, which is a special and local law, still remain unaffected under s. 5, I.P.C. The ruling in Reg v. Lallu (8th August, 1870) that, in cases coming under the Cantonment Act, 1867, simultaneous sentences of fine and imprisonment in default of payment of fine, are illegal, was held to be still in force. QUEEN EMPRESS v. BIRAIN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 221.

(10)—Ss. 13, 14—See ACT XIII OF 1889, s. 27, Rat. Un. Cr Cas. 563=Cr Rg. 36 of 1891.

(11)—S. 14—See Nos. 7, 9, 10, supra.

(12)—S. 21—Act XIII of 1889 (Cantonment), ss. 2 and 13—Punishment of whipping.—Since the repeal of s. 21 of Bombay Act III of 1867 by XIII of 1889, which substitutes a new s. 13 containing no mention of whipping, that punishment is not kept alive by s. 2 of Act XIII of 1889. QUEEN EMPRESS v. LAKSHMAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 682=Cr. Rg. 49 of 1893.

(13)—R. 17—Bombay Act III of 1867—Butcher taking diseased cattle to Inspector—Offence.—Where the accused, butchers, took diseased cattle to a public slaughter-house for getting them passed by the Inspector as fit for food, held this act was not punishable under r. 34 of the Cantonment Rules as that Rule applies only to owners or occupants of places used as slaughter-houses who have killed a diseased animal therein or have failed to report that such an animal had been taken there for being killed. QUEEN EMPRESS v. RAMJAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 471=Cr. Rg. 28 of 1889.

(14)—R. 29—See No. 4, supra.

(15)—*R.*48—Offensive trades—Declaration.—In the case of offensive trades, the Cantonment Magistrate should, before instituting proceedings, make the declaration specified in r. 48 of the Rules framed by the Bombay Government under Act III of 1867. REG. v. SHAIKH CHEGAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 54=Cr. Rg. 17-8-1871.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1867 (Bom. Cantonment)—concld.

(16)—R. 57—See No. 5, supra.

(17)—R. 71—Lock Hospital—Public place.—A lock hospital is not a public place within the meaning of r. 71 of the Cantonment Rules. QUEEN EMPRESS v. CHANDRI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 361=Cr. Rg. 4 of 1888.

(18)—S. 75—See No. 6, supra.

(19)—R. 76—Omission to appoint resident agent—Offence.—R. 76 of the Cantonment Rules, which requires every absent owner of property within the limits of a Cantonment to appoint a resident agent, is a rule of procedure and convenience only, and an omission to comply with it is not penal under s. 11 of the Cantonment Act. QUEEN EMPRESS v MOTI LAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 497=Cr. Rg. 3 of 1890.

Act VII of 1867 (Bombay District Police).

[S. 31, REP. IN PART AND AMENDED BY BOM. ACT III OF 1886, REP. (SAVE SS. 33, 34), BOM. ACT IV OF 1890, SS. 33, 34, REP. (LOCALLY AND TEMPORARILY) BOM. ACT I OF 1889.]

(1)—British-born subject in Mofussil—Jurisdiction.—The Bombay District Police Act passed by the Governor of Bombay in Council, is ultra vires in so far as it confers criminal jurisdiction upon Magistrates in the mofussil, being also Justices of the Peace, over British-born subjects. The Acts of Parliament, under which the High Court is constituted, confer exclusive jurisdiction on the High Court in this matter except as limited by 53 Geo. III, c. 155, s. 105, and certain subsequent Acts of the Government of India. Though the East India Company had power, under the Charter of 1661 and 1668 of Charles II, to legislate about British-born subjects, yet this power ceased at the time of Queen Anne, and from that time up to 1834, when the Governor-General's Council became the sole legislative power in India, no authority was given to the Indian Governments to legislate about such subjects except within the local limits of Presidency towns. REG v. EDWARD REAY, 7 B. H. C. Cr. 6. [R., 7 B.H.C. Cr. 77.]

(2)—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 555—Applicability—Personal interest.—Though s. 555 of the Crim. Pro. Code does not apply to village police officers, the principle contained therein does, and a Police Patel cannot try a case in which he is personally interested. QUEEN EMPRESS v. BAI KUSA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 433.

(3)—See PENAL CODE, s. 188, Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 81=Cr. Rg. 11-6-1874.

(4)—S. 3—Duties of Police—Duty of destroying stray dogs.—The duties of the police are divisible into three heads:—(1) those imposed upon them by the rules framed by the Commissioner and approved by the Government, (2) those imposed by the rules or orders which the Commissioner may make preventing abuse or neglect of duty and (3) those imposed by law.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1867 (Bombay District Police) —continued.

The duty of destroying stray dogs is one which can only be brought under the first of these heads, and, as the rule relating to it, though it has been in force for many years, is stated not to have received the approval of the Government, it is on this account invalid and a conviction for a breach of it is illegal. REG v. JETHYA ALLIAJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 107.

(5)—S. 7 – Village Mahars — Patel's order to assist the Public Works Department.—A Police Patel has no authority, under s. 7 of the Bombay District Police Act, to order the village Mahars to assist a subordinate officer of the Public Works Department in measuring the road. And the Mahars cannot be convicted under cl. 1 of s. 15 for refusing to obey such an order. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DHAVLYA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 509 = Cr. Rg. 28 of 1890.

(6)—Ss. 7, 26—District Police.—Jurisdiction—A Superintendent of Police, even if he is also a full power Magistrate, has no jurisdiction to try a Police officer for an offence under s. 26 of the Bombay District Police Act in having permitted prisoners to escape from his custody and not reporting the same to his superior. REG. v. SYAD UMAR, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 29 = Cr. Rg. 10-2-1870.

(7)—S. 8—Sanction of Government.—An Inspector of Police being an officer who may be removed from office, under s. 8 of the Bombay District Police Act, without the sanction of the Government, the sanction of the Government is not necessary in order to give a Magistrate jurisdiction to entertain a complaint against him of an offence committed in his capacity as a Police Officer. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANPAT, Rat, Un. Cr. C. 142.

(8)—S. 9—Railways Act XVIII of 1854, s. 27—Railway Police.—Members of the Railway Police, though they hold commissions from the Commissioner of Police under s. 9 of the District Police Act, are amenable to the provisions of the Railways Act for neglect of duty. REG. v. SAYAD KAZI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 51 = Cr. Rg. 15—6—1871.

(9)—S. 9—See ACT XVIII OF 1854, s. 27, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 51 = Cr Rg. 15—6—1871.

(10)—S. 16—Police Patels—Remission of fine by District Magistrate—High Court.—A District Magistrate cannot remit any portion of a fine inflicted by a Police Patel under s. 16 of the Bombay Village Police Act, so as to make it conform to law, but must refer the matter to the High Court. Police Patels have always been treated as subject to the superintendence of the High Court QUEEN EMPRESS v. HARGOWIN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 478 = Cr. Rg. 41 of 1889.

(11)—S. 23—Right of police officer to examine witnesses.—S. 23 of Bombay Act, XII of 1867, does not give any right to a police officer to examine or cross-examine witnesses in a Criminal Court. REG v. TEESLA TOOKA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 28.

(12)—S. 23, Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 495—Power of Police officer below the rank of Inspector to prosecute.—The special local law, Bombay Act VII of 1867, has been preserved by the Code, whether intentionally or through oversight. Therefore, a prosecution instituted by a police officer, below the rank of an Inspector, that is to say, a chief constable, was held to be valid. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HONKERAPA, 8 B. 534.

(13)—S. 26—Police officer overstaying leave.—A police constable overstaying the casual leave granted him, without permission, withdraws from the duties of his office without permission and commits an offence within the meaning of s. 26 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHEIK SULTAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 279 = Cr. Rg. 17 of 1886.

(14)—S. 26—See No. 6, supra.

(15)—S. 27—Prohibition by police of music in private houses.—S. 27 of Bombay Act VII of 1867 does not empower the police to prohibit the use of music in a private house. REG. v. LUKHMAVIEW CHANGO, 9 B.H.C. 153, A.C.J.

(16)—Ss. 27, 29—Powers of District Superintendent to prohibit the carrying of sticks.—A Police Superintendent cannot, under s. 27 of the Bom. District Police Act, 1867, legally make an order forbidding sticks to be carried by persons attending a certain jatra (fair). Hence, a person who, in contravention of such an order, carries a stick at the jatra, is not guilty of an offence under s. 29 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SANGAPPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 394 = Cr. Rg. 51 of 1888.

(17)—S. 28—Power to issue general order.—The police have power, under s. 28 of Bombay Act VII of 1867, to issue a general notification ordering people to drive on the proper side of the road. REG. v. KHODA BHARTHE, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 35 = Cr. Rg. 15-6-1870.

(18)—S. 28—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 190, Rat. Un. Cr.C. 355 = Cr. Rg. 44 of 1887.

(19)—Ss. 28, 29—Written order if necessary.—An order issued under s. 28 of the Bombay District Police Act need not be in writing. Disobedience of an oral order is punishable. REG. v. BAPUJI GANGARAM, 7 B.H.C. Cr. 2.

(20)—Ss. 28, 29—Warning against going along a road.—The warning or advice given by the Police to certain persons not to go alone on a particular road, as the country was believed to be infested with dacoits, is not such an order as can be legally passed, under s. 28 of the Bombay District Police Act and non-compliance with it is not punishable under s. 29 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 385.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1867 (Bombay District Police) —continued.

(21)—S. 21—See Nos. 16, 19, 20, supra.

(22)—S. 31—Magistrate on tour—Resident.—The words "Magistrate resident" in s. 31 of Bombay Act VII of 1867 do not include a Magistrate who happens on his tour to stay a few days at a place. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAHADU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 483=Cr. Rg. 49 of 1889.

(23)—S. 31 (3)—Committing nuisance, not an offence under cl. 3 of s. 31, but only under cl. 4.—A person committing nuisance on or close to, and within sight of, any public road, street or thoroughfare, is liable to be punished under cl. 4 of s. 31, but cannot be legally convicted of depositing dirt under cl. 3 of the section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHIVA KASHIRAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 521=Cr. Rg. 45 of 1890.

(24)—S. 31 (3)—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine, nature of.—The punishment of imprisonment in default of payment of fine inflicted upon a person convicted under s. 31, cl. 3 of Act VII of 1867 (Bombay) should be simple and not rigorous. REG. v. BECHAR KHUSHAL, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 43.

(25)—S. 31—Resident Magistrate—Need of Government Notification.—S. 31 of Bombay Act VII of 1867 became at once operative at places, where there was a Magistrate resident, without being specially extended by Government by Notification. REG. v. KERU bin RAMSHET, 5 B.H.C. Cr. 100.

(26)—S. 31—Cruelty to animals.—A man who, after firing at a dog, refrains from again firing at it to put it out of pain, does not commit an offence under s. 31 of Bom. Act VII of 1867. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. FRANCIS, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 183.

(27)—S. 31—"Nuisance" defined — Penal Code, s. 268.—The expression "commits nuisance," in s. 31 of the Bombay District Police Act, does not mean a nuisance within the definition of the term in s. 268 of the Indian Penal Code, but a nuisance within the meaning of the common notice to the public to "commit no nuisance." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NILKANTH, QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANESH, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 134=Cr. Rg. 8-4-1878.

(28)—S. 31 (2)—Prohibitory notice—River, if a watering place.—A conviction under s. 31, cl. 2 of Bombay Act VII of 1867 is illegal, if the prohibitory notice specified therein has not been issued. A river is not a watering place within the meaning of the above clause. REG. v. CHHOTIRAM BHASKER, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 55=Cr. Rg. 31-8-1871.

(29)—S. 31 (4)—Making water in a public street.—To perform the offices of nature, as, e.g., to make water in a public street, is an offence punishable under s. 31 (4) of the Bombay District Police Act, provided there be evidence of annoyance to residents or passengers. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MULLA, Rat. Un. Cr. 305 =Cr. Rg. 56 of 1886.

(30)—S. 33—Structure contemplated by section, what amounts to—"Booth," defined.—The accused owned a house on each side of a street and put bamboos across the street from the top windows of one into the top windows of the other house, and laid a covering of cloth over the bamboos, thus making a canopy, roof or awning over the street. The structure was at such a height that no obstruction or inconvenience whatever was caused to persons or animals passing along the street. Held that the structure could not be considered to have been constructed on the road, as the use of the word "on" would seem to imply that the structure complained of must be on the road itself and cause some nuisance. Held, also, that it was not a booth. S. 33 of the Bombay District Police Act did not, therefore, apply. In Webster's dictionary, the word "booth" is said to mean "a house or shed built of boards, boughs of trees or other light materials for temporary occupation." In Latham's dictionary, it is said to mean "a temporary house constructed with boards or boughs or canvas." In re NAHAL CHAND MOTIRAM, 22 B. 742.

(31)—S. 33—Scope—Structures of temporary character—Crim. Pro. Code, 1898, s. 133 — Per Chandavarkar, J.—In s. 33 of the District Police Act, the Legislature intended to deal with structures of a temporary character, e.g., cases where a person, without intending to appropriate a public thoroughfare permanently to his own purposes, builds a temporary structure for a temporary purpose such as a booth, shed, stable or the like. Where, however, a person appropriates a public thoroughfare permanently to his own purposes and builds a pucca wall, he is liable to be proceeded with under s. 133, Crim Pro. Code, or punished of offences under s. 269, I.P.C., Per Aston, J.—Where a person builds a wall on ground forming part of a public street, he can be dealt with under s. 33, District Police Act. EMPEROR v. DEWRAO CHAPAJI, 6 Bom. L.R. 358.

(32)—S. 33—Nuisance committed by children outside school—Criminal liability of teacher.—The masters of a school were convicted of wilfully permitting a common nuisance to continue, by allowing some two hundred pupils to obey the calls of nature daily in a plot of ground within the town and close enough to other houses to cause annoyance and danger to health. Held that children once outside the school are not so under the control of the master so as to make the latter criminally responsible, as their parents might be, for a nuisance committed by their children. If a school is so conducted as to be a nuisance, the complainant can get a remedy by injunction. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAVANSHIDAPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 291=Cr. Rg. 32 of 1886.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1867 (Bombay District Police) —concluded.

(33)—S. 42—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 54—Penal Code, s. 342—Prosecution of Police officer for wrongful confinement without warrant.—The provisions of s. 42 of Bom. Act VII of 1867 must be held to apply to criminal prosecutions as well as to civil actions, notwithstanding the use of the word "decree" in s. 43 in connection with prosecutions. The prosecution of a Police Officer for an alleged offence of wrongful confinement, punishable under s. 342, I. P. C., the Police officer having, without a warrant, arrested and detained in custody the person in whose possession he found property which he suspected to be stolen, is a prosecution for a thing done or intended to be done under Bom. Act VII of 1867, inasmuch as s. 21 of the Act authorizes every Police officer to apprehend all persons whom he is legally authorized to apprehend, and s. 54 of the Crim. Pro. Code, authorises the arrest by a Police officer without warrant of any person in whose possession any thing is found which may be reasonably suspected to be stolen property, if the person may be "reasonably suspected of having committed an offence with reference to such thing." Authority given to arrest in such cases implies authority to detain. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMCHANDRA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 220=Cr. Rg. 26-11-85.

(34)—S. 42—Absence of notice—Official act done in good faith.—Where two Police constables were prosecuted for having severally beaten the complainant in the course of a night patrol duty, but under circumstances apparently showing a complete absence of authority or jurisdiction, without the notice required under s. 42 of the Bombay District Police Act, held that such notice was not a condition precedent to the prosecution, and that the protection thereby extended to official acts done in good faith, though in excess of authority, does not exist where there is a total absence of authority. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 486=Cr. Rg. 51 of 1889.

Act VIII of 1867 (Village Police).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1873; ACT XII OF 1876; BOM. ACT III OF 1886; REP. IN PART (LOCALLY AND TEMPORARILY), BOM. ACT I OF 1889. AMENDED, BOM. ACT I OF 1876; BOM. ACT. III OF 1886 (AS AMENDED BY BOM. ACT I OF 1891). SUPPLEMENTED, BOM. ACT IV OF 1890, S. 58, S. 9, AMENDED BOM. ACT IV OF 1905.]

(1)—Powers of Police patel.—A police patel has no authority, under the Village Police Act, to prevent persons from performing tamashas in their houses. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. TUKARAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 287=Cr. Rg 24 of 1886.

(2)—Inquest—Police Patel.—The omission of Police patel to hold the inquest, as required by Bombay Act VIII of 1867, should be pointed out by the Courts to the District Magistrate. In re GHARYA, Cr. Rg. 44 of 1894.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1867 (Village Police)—continued.

(3)—See CORONER, Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 771=Cr. Rg. 35 of 1895.

(4)—See CRIM PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 60, 61, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 22=Cr. Rg. 14-9-1869.

(5)—See INQUEST REPORT, 6 B H.C. Cr. 75.

(6)—See BOM. REG. XII OF 1827, s. 52, 6 B.H.C. Cr. 75.

(7)—See SUDDEN DEATH, Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 792=Cr. Rg. 50 of 1895.

(8)—Ss. 6 and 14—Police patel—Judicial proceedings before the Police patel—District Magistrate's power to transfer the case to another Court—Transfer of case—High Court—Superintendence—Letters Patent, cls. 26 and 27.—The duties which are enumerated in s. 6 of the Village Police Act, 1867, are the executive duties of the Police Patel: they are duties imposed upon him quite independently of the authority which he has given to him under s. 14 to try and punish in cases of petty assault and abuse. The authority given to him by s. 14 is a judicial and not an executive authority. S. 6, therefore, does not justify the District Magistrate in stopping the judicial proceeding which is already in progress before the Police Patel. Apart from the power expressly conferred by the Act upon the Magistrate in that connection, the only right of superintendence over the judicial functions of the Police Patel created by the Village Police Act, is vested in the High Court by cls. 26 and 27 of the Letters Patent. In re DAYAL KANJI, 10 Bom. L.R. 630=8 Cr.L.J. 141.

(9)—Ss. 6, 15—Patel's authority to summon.—A Police Patel has authority to summon a person to appear before him in reference to an offence of which he can take cognizance. If the summons is signed by the Patel, refusal to obey it is an offence under cl 1 of s. 15 of the Village Police Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RATNIA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 550=Cr. Rg. 25 of 1891, [F, 3 Cr. L.J. 239=8 Bom. L R. 118.]

(10)—S. 9—Police Patel—Not reporting encroachment—Conviction of Police Patel—Legality.—The duty of reporting encroachments by villagers on the public road is not a duty cast on a Police Patel under Act VIII of 1867, and a conviction under s. 9 for not reporting such a matter is illegal. REG v. UKHA SAV, 7 B. H. C. Cr. 88.

(11)—S. 9—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION, ETC., 4 B. 357.

(12)—Ss. 10, 11, 12—Duties of Police patel in cases of unnatural and sudden death.—The ancient village system of Police, regulated formerly by Reg. IV of 1818 and Reg. XII of 1827 and now by Bombay Act, VIII of 1867, remains unaffected by the Code of Criminal Procedure, except where the Code contains a special provision. Under the local law, the Police patel has to do much more than merely inform the District Police under s. 10 thereof, or under s. 45 of the Code. Under s. 10, he has himself to investigate the matter of a crime and obtain all procurable evidence. Under s. 11, if any unnatural or sudden death occur, or any corpse be found, the police patel shall forthwith assemble an inquest and investigate with the panch the causes of death and all the circumstances of the case, and make a written report of the same. If, from the inquest, it appears that the death was unlawfully caused, he must give immediate notice to the Police station, and, if the state of the corpse permits, he shall at once forward it to the Civil Surgeon or other appointed Medical Officer. Under s. 12, the Police patel can make arrests, and under s. 13, he can take evidence on solemn affirmation and hold searches. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAGHO MAHADU, 19 B. 612. [R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 792, Rat Un. Cr. C. 854.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1867 (Village Police)—continued.

(13)—S. 11—Duty of Police Patel—Inquest—Object of—Coroner's inquest.—The law, which imposes on the Police Patel the duty of holding an inquest and arresting murderers and empowers him to take evidence on oath, is obviously intended to make justice effectual by means of prompt enquiry in the face of all villagers, and by delivery of the verdict of men not open to the suspicions of undue zeal often cast on the District Police. Like the Coroner's inquest, it also records the evidence and circumstances justifying the accusation of the person denounced or appearing to be the murderer. Like the Coroner's inquest, it saves the innocent from false charges, as people are not likely to bring charges, against an innocent man when they have kept silence at the inquest. The inquest must be held forthwith, so that all the circumstances of the murder may be reported forthwith to the District Police. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VASTA JEBHAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 740=Cr. Rg. 8 of 1895.

(14)—S. 11—See No. 12, supra.

(14-a)—S. 12 (1)—Arrest—Bail.—S. 12 (1) of the Village Police Act authorizes Police patels to arrest for "any serious offence." The power of the Police to take bail being regulated by the Crim. Pro. Code, the Court cannot empower a Police constable to take bail for persons sent to him by Police patels under Act VIII of 1867. KULLADGHEE MAGISTRATE'S LETTER NO. 444 OF 1869, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 26=Cr. Rg. 12-10-1869.

(15)—S. 12—See No. 12, supra.

(16)—S. 13—See FALSE EVIDENCE, 4 B. 479.

(17)—S. 14—Term "assault" defined.—The word "assault" used in s. 14, Bombay Village Police Act, is not confined to the definition given in s. 351, I.P.C., but means what is colloquially called an assault, namely, any unlawful attack upon the person of another, and includes, therefore, what under the Penal Code would amount to the use of criminal force. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAGANNATH BIJLAL MARWADI, 1 Bom. L.R. 687.

(18)—S. 14—Powers of Police Patel.—Under s. 14 of the Bom. Village Police Act, 1867, the Police Patel, on convicting a person of abuse, has authority to punish him with confinement in the Village Chowri for a period not exceeding 24 hours; but has no authority to inflict a fine. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAGHO NANASING, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 187=Cr. Rg. 11—1—83.

(19)—S. 14—See No. 8, supra.

(20)—S. 15—Power of Village Police Patel to order imprisonment in default of fine—Penal Code, s. 64—Bombay General Clauses Act (III of 1886), s. 12.—A Village Police Patel has, under s. 15, jurisdiction either to impose a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 on a person convicted by him of theft under that section, or to confine him in the village Chowri for a period not exceeding forty-eight hours, but has no jurisdiction to sentence the accused to confinement in default of payment of fine, s. 64, Penal Code, not being made applicable by the Bombay General Clauses Act to proceedings under the Bombay Village Police Act. EMPEROR v. FUNA LAXMAN BHIL, 6 Bom. L.R. 357.

(21)—S. 15—Police Patel—Verbal order by a Police Patel sent through a messenger asking a person to be present before him personally.—A verbal order sent through a messenger by a Police Patel, under s 15 of the Act, asking a person to present himself before him to answer an accusation, is not a lawful order issued by the Police Patel personally within the meaning of s. 15. EMPEROR v. SHIVOO GOWRI, 8 Bom. L R. 118=3 Cr. L J. 239. (Rat. Un. Cr. C. 550, R.).

(22)—S. 15—Non-cognizable offence—Patel's authority to summon.—A Police Patel has no authority to order the accused to attend at his office in a case of an offence not cognizable by him. Refusal to obey such an order is not an offence under s. 15 of the Act QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VENKATESH, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 551=Cr. Rg. 26 of 1891.

(23)—S. 15—Omission to obey Patel's order.—A mere omission, which is not a refusal, to obey a Police Patel's order, is not punishable under s. 15 of the Bombay Village Police Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NATHU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 624=Cr. Rg. 49 of 1892.

(24)—S. 15—Power of Police Patel to order removal of wood lying on public road.—A Police Patel has, under the Bombay Village Police Act, no power to order the removal of a piece of wood lying on a public road; disobedience of such an order, therefore, is no offence under s. 15 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DAMA GHELA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 980.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VIII of 1867 (Village Police)—continued.

(25)—S. 15 (1)—Refusal to answer questions —Police Patel.—The refusal to answer questions put by a Police Patel in a Criminal proceeding is not "refusal to obey a lawful order issued by a Police Patel personally" within the meaning of s. 15 (1) of the Bombay Village Police Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAVAJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 610=Cr. Rg. 30 of 1892.

(26)—S. 15—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 6, 545, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 317=Cr. Rg. 2 of 1887.

(26-a)—S. 15—See PENAL CODE, s. 64, 6 Bom. L.R. 357.

(26-b)—S. 15—See No. 9, supra.

(27)—Ss. 15 and 16—Police Patels—Jurisdiction to punish for nuisance or disorderly act.—The jurisdiction to punish for nuisance or disorderly acts under s. 16 of the Village Police Act, is expressly confined to Police Patels duly empowered under s. 15, cl. 1, and does not extend to their official superiors (the Magistrates in charge of the talukas within which they are Patels). QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HANMANTA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 196=Cr. Rg. 6-3-1884.

(28)—Ss. 15 and 16 (3)—Refusal to serve at inquest—Unyoking and feeding bullocks on a road, if an offence.—A refusal to serve on an inquest, when called on by a Police Patel specially empowered under s. 15 of the Bombay Village Police Act, is punishable by the Patel himself. The unyoking of bullocks and feeding them on a road is not punishable under s. 16 (3) of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMASHETTI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 614=Cr. Rg. 35 of 1892.

(29)—S. 16 (2)—Offences re-rivers.—S. 16 (2) of the Bombay Village Police Act does not apply to offences regarding rivers. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PUNJA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 609=Cr. Rg. 27 of 1892.

(30)—S. 16 (3)—Nuisance outside a house—Liability of the head.—It is a general principle that the head of the house is responsible for all nuisances which emanate from his house. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NARAYAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 338=Cr. Rg. 29 of 1887.

(31)—S. 16 (5)—Refuse or filth—Milk bush. —Milk-bush put in a river for the purpose of catching fish is not refuse or filth within the meaning of s. 16, cl. 5 of the Village Police Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DAGDU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 379=Cr. Rg. 30 of 1888.

(32)—S. 16—See Nos. 27, 28, supra.

(33)—Ss. 28, 29—See MAGISTRATE, JURISDICTION OF—GENERAL JURISDICTION, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 321=Cr. Rg. 7 of 1887.

(34)—S. 29—See No. 33, supra.

(35)—S. 31—Easing oneself in a public road. —To ease oneself close to a public road is not an offence under s. 31 of the Bombay Village Police Act, 1867, unless the act is committed within sight of a public road so as to cause obstruction, annoyance, risk, danger or damage to residents or passengers. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHIKA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 161.

(36)—S 61—Police—Arrest without warrant. —The Police have no power to arrest without warrant for an offence under s. 61 of the Bombay Village Police Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MEHMAN, Rat. Un.Cr. C. 533=Cr. Rg. 1 of 1891.

Act II of 1868 (Bombay Ferries).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1873; ACT II OF 1901; BOM. ACT III OF 1886; REP. IN PART (EXCEPT IN ADEN AND THE CITY OF BOMBAY), BOM. ACT I OF 1884. AMENDED, BOM. ACT II OF 1878.]

(1)—S. 14—Conviction—Order for sale of boat, under s. 517, Crim. Pro. Code—Compensation to complainant.—When a person is convicted under s. 14 of Bom. Act II of 1868, it is not competent to a Magistrate to order sale of the boat under s. 517, Crim. Pro. Code, and to award out of the sale-proceeds compensation to the complainant under s. 545, Crim. Pro. Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BEERA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 688=Cr. Rg. 10 of 1894.

(2)—S. 14—Construction.—For an offence under s. 14 of the Public Ferries Act, it is not necessary that both the starting point and the arriving point should be within three miles of the ferry. It is only the latter which has got to be considered. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HARI APPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 901=Cr. Rg. 10 of 1897.

Act IV of 1868 (City Surveys and Survey and Settlement Amendment Act).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1873, RESIDUE REP. (LOCALLY), BOM. ACT V OF 1879].

(1)—S. 10—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, s. 33, 15 B. 516.

(2)—S 12—See BOM. ACT I OF 1865, ss. 10, 14, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 67=Cr. Rg. 13-11-72.

(3)—S 14—See INSPECTION OF DOCUMENTS, 11 B H.C. 231.

Act III of 1872 (Bombay Municipal Act).

[REP., BOM. ACT III OF 1888.]

(1)—S. 220, as amended by Act IV of 1878—Scope—Power to order structural alteration—Contents of notice.—The legislature, in enacting s. 220, could not have intended and did not intend, to invest the Municipal Commissioner with the power of directing structural alterations. A notice requiring the owner of a range of buildings to provide ridge ventilation is not legal, and disobedience of such notice is not an offence. When a notice is required by law, it cannot prescribe something which the law itself does not contemplate or involve. EMPRESS v. SADANAND SHRIKRISHNAJI, 8 B. 151= Rat. Un. Cr. C. 192.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1872 (Bombay Municipal Act)—cld.

(2)—S. 225—Storage of wool, without license.—The accused was charged with using a place within the city of Bombay for the storage of wool, without a license from the Bombay Municipal Commissioner, and fined Rs. 10 under s. 225 of Bombay Act III of 1872 as amended by Act IV of 1878. Held, that, notwithstanding that there is mention of "wool" for purposes of washing and drying in the first part of the section and none later on, the words "other articles" may include the case of the storage of wool. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CURRIMBHOY, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 297=Cr. Rg. 43 of 1886.

(3)—S. 226—See ACT III OF 1880, s. 22, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 413=Cr. Rg. 80 of 1888.

Act VI of 1873 (Bom. District Municipalities).

[REP., BOM. ACT III OF 1901.]

(1)—See SENTENCE — IMPRISONMENT — IMPRISONMENT IN DEFAULT OF PAYMENT OF FINE ETC, Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 91=Cr. Rg. 21-6-1875.

(2)—S. 3—Building or enclosure—Wattle-fence.—The "building" or "enclosure" referred to in s. 3 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, is of a substantial kind. A mere wattle-fence does not fall within the definition. In re SALOMIBAI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 428=Cr. Rg. 92 of 1888.

(3)—Ss. 3 and 66—Term "place" explained—Market—Selling vegetables.—The word "place" as defined in s. 3 of the Act does not include a house or an ota of a house. Selling vegetables on the ota of one's house is not using it as a market, but only as a shop, and is not an offence under s. 66. In re the petition of RAJA PABA KHOJI, 9 B. 272. [Appl., Rat. Unrep. Cr. Cas. 399; R., 10 M. 216=1 Weir 741, Rat. Unrep. Cr. Cas. 797; Expl., 11 B. 106.]

(4)—Ss. 11, 26—Police officer—Suspension—Other employment.—Though a police officer, under ss. 11 and 26 of Act VI of 1873, should not engage himself in any other employment, yet, there is no objection to his doing so for his maintenance during his period of suspension, till he is restored to duty. REG. v. DOSA UMAR, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 53=Cr. Rg. 3-8-1871.

(5)—Ss. 14, 82 — Rules—"Payable in advance"—Meaning.—The words, "payable in advance," in r. 1 in s. 5 of Appendix B to the Rules framed under s. 14 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, do not mean that the taxes are payable on the first day of the year, but on demand at any time of the year. QUEEN EMPRESS v. RAJA valad HUSEN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 868.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1873 (Bom. District Municipalities) —continued.

(6)—Ss. 21, 27, cl. (7) 32—Tax when becomes payable — Resolution at a Municipal special meeting—Permission of presiding authority.—A tax can only be made payable from the date of its levy being sanctioned by Government under s. 21 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, and, under s. 32, it is payable duly at the expiration of the period for which it is declared payable. The liability to pay a tax arises only at the beginning of the official year next following the rule or law sanctioning it.—(Per Jardine, J., Parsons, J. contra). (7 M.H.C. R 249 and 1 M. 158, R.). Where some indication is given of the business of a Municipal special meeting, and a resolution is passed at such meeting where almost all the members of the Council are present, it must be assumed that the permission of the presiding authority was expressly or tacitly given. QUEEN EMPRESS v. RAMCHANDRA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 574 =Cr. Rg. 39 of 1891.

(7)—Ss. 23, 35—See APPEAL—ACTS, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 672=Cr. Rg. 37 of 1893.

(8)—S. 26—See No. 4, supra.

(9)—S. 27—See No. 6, supra.

(10)—S. 32—See No. 6, supra.

(11)—S. 33—Power of Municipality to call for sannad under City Survey Act (Bombay Act IV of 1868).—Under cl. 1 of s. 33 of Bombay Act, VI of 1873, a Municipality is empowered before granting permission to build, to call on the applicant to furnish information as to the limits, design, and materials of the proposed building. But it is not empowered to call for any sannad issued under s. 10 of the City Survey Act (Bombay Act IV of 1868), although it may contain information as to the limits and tenure of applicants' holding. In re JAMNA DAS DULABDAS, 15 B. 516. [F., 19 B. 27.]

(12)—S. 33—Act III of 1901, ss. 48, 96—Permission to erect a building—Condition.—A Municipality in granting permission to a person to erect a building can legally impose a condition that he should leave a gully of certain dimensions. MUNICIPALITY OF THANA v. FAZAL KARIM, 3 Bom. L. R. 842. [F., 27 B. 221.]

(13)—S. 33—Re-building on old foundations without notice to Municipality.—A person who, without giving notice to the Municipality, merely re-erects on the same foundation the part of a wall which has fallen down, does not contravene the provisions of s. 33 of the Act, as he does not, by so re-erecting it, begin to erect any building or to alter externally or to add to any existing building within the meaning of that section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. TIPPANA. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 402=Cr. Rg. 63 of 1888. [R., 35 B. 236=12 Bom. L.R. 1060= 12 Cr. L. J. 1=8 Ind. Cas. 1050.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1873 (Bom. District Municipalities) —continued.

(14)—S. 33—Re-erection of fallen wall on same foundation.—The re-erection on the same foundation of a wall which has fallen down is not an offence under s. 33. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. UMAR JAMAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 932.

(15)—S. 33—Extended door-step.—A katta, which is permanent in character and which serves as a broad extended door-step or raised platform in communication with the road, is an addition to the existing building within the meaning of cl. 1, s. 33 of the Bombay District Municipal Act. In re DEVENDRAPPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 483 = Cr. Rg. 47 of 1889.

(16)—S. 33—Wall—Bamboo fence.—It is a question whether a bamboo fence can be properly described as a wall so as to come within the terms of s. 33, Bombay Act VI of 1873. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. UMAR JAMAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 932.

(17)—S. 33 (1)—"Building"—Reed fencing.—A karvi or reed fencing is not a building within the meaning of s. 33 (1) of the Bombay District Municipal Act, 1873. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JANARDHAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 145.

(18)—S. 33 (2)—Scope.—The effect of cl. 2 of s. 33 which permits a person to erect the building, of which he has given notice, if, within the period prescribed, the Municipality has failed to issue written orders, is by implication to prohibit the erection of any building within such period, unless in the meantime written orders have been passed. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANPATRAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 657 = Cr. Rg. 22 of 1893.

(19)—S. 33 (3)—Order under the section—Non-compliance—Duty of Magistrate.—In dealing with a case of non-compliance with a legal order made by a Municipality, under s. 33 (3) of the Bombay District Municipal Act, a Magistrate has no right to review the order from the stand-point of its propriety, and to consider what kind of structure would be sufficient for the purpose in view. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MORU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 310 = Cr. Rg. 63 of 1886.

(20)—Ss. 33 (2), 39 (2)—Plan of building—Objection to site of privy—Building privy on the site proposed by applicant after one month.—The accused gave a notice to the Bandora Municipality, under s. 33 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, of his intention to build a house and submitted a plan of the proposed building. The Municipality replied that the site for the privy shown in the plan was objectionable, and that the plan was, therefore, returned with a view to an amended one being submitted. The accused built a privy on the proposed site after one month had expired. Held that the action of the accused in building the privy came within the words of the penal clause of s. 39 (2) of the Act, as there was the construction of a privy, which was, as regards its site, contrary to the directions of the Municipality, and that the action of the accused properly came within the mischief at which s. 39 (2) strikes. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HARIKISONDAS NAROTAMDAS, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 819 = Cr. Rg. 65 of 1895.

(21)—Ss. 33, 74—External alteration, what amounts to.—Opening a new external door is an external alteration of the building in which the door is opened, and such an act done without notice to the Municipality, contemplated by s. 33 of Bombay Act VI of 1878, is an offence punishable under s. 74 of the Act. But where such an act does not cause any inconvenience to anybody, a nominal fine is an adequate punishment. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GUJRIA, 9 B. 568. [R., 2 Bom. L.R. 572.]

(22)—Ss. 33, 74—Permission to build—Exceeding time allowed.—The accused obtained permission from the Surat Municipality to make some alterations in his house under a razachitti, dated 12th May, 1892, which allowed him a year in which to carry out his work. There was no bye-law under s. 33 of the District Municipal Act, providing a period within which works were to be carried on. Held that the accused could not be convicted of an offence under ss. 33 and 74 for having exceeded the period of one year. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. THAKORDAS, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 684 = Cr. Rg. 52 of 1893.

(23)—S. 35—See No. 7, supra.

(24)—S. 36—Omission to have printed copies of rules in vernacular—Act II of 1884.—The omission by a District Municipality to keep printed copies of the rules in the vernacular for sale, as required by s. 36 of the Municipal Act, does not affect the validity of the rules. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BAHADAR SHAH, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 615 = Cr. Rg. 37 of 1892.

(25)—Ss. 36, 39, 74—Notice issued under s. 36 or s. 39 (1)—Non-compliance, whether punishable.—Clause 1 of s. 74 of Bombay Act VI of 1873 applies only to the second clause of s. 39. Non-compliance with a notice issued under s. 36, or s. 39 (1) is not, therefore, punishable under the Act, as s. 74 (1), does not apply to either of these provisions. In re TUKARAM VITHAL, 2 B. 527.

(26)—S. 39—See Nos. 20, 25, supra.

(27)—Ss. 39 and 74—Notice—Owner.—Where a notice requiring the owner of a house to whitewash the privy was received and the receipt signed by his nephew, held, that the nephew could not be convicted for not having complied with the notice, as the Municipal Act concerned itself only with the owner of the house. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NATHUBHAI NAHALCHAND, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 973 = Cr. Rg. 28 of 1898.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1873 (Bom. District Municipalities) —continued.

(28)—S. 48—Trial for an offence under the section in the absence of the accused—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 4, 205.—A woman was charged with causing obstruction, under s. 48 of Bom. Act VI of 1873. In her absence, her mother-in-law appeared in Court on her behalf and the Magistrate proceeded with the case and convicted her. Held, that the conviction was wrong, as the accused was neither present, nor duly represented in the case by a pleader. QUEEN EMPRESS v. VITHI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 205 = Cr. Rg. 7-8-1884.

(29)—S. 48—Re-erection of old structure.—The words used in s. 48 of Bombay Act, VI of 1873, should be so construed as referring to the erection of a thing for the first time, and not to the simple re-erection of an old structure which had been taken down for a temporary purpose only. KALA GOVIND v. MUNICIPALITY OF THANA, 13 B. 248.

(30)—Ss. 48, 74—Allowing carriage with horses to stand on public road—Object of Municipal Act and nature of sentences.—As a carriage with horses is not one of the things contemplated in s. 48 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, a person cannot be convicted, under ss. 48 and 74, of causing obstruction to passers-by in having allowed his carriage to stand half an hour in a public street. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LADBA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 324 = Cr. Rg. 11 of 1887.

(31)—Ss. 48, 74—Object of Municipal Act and sentences under the Act.—The Municipal Act is intended to check many offences petty in their nature, but which may cause grievous injury to the neighbourhood as by facilitating fires or serious annoyance when a house-holder blocks a street. The sentence passed ought to be not only punitive but also deterrent, and the fine should also bear some proportion to the amount awardable at law. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAMNADAS, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 719 = Cr. Rg. 45 of 1894.

(32)—Ss. 51, 74—Conviction under s. 51—Appeal.—Where a second class Magistrate has dealt with a case as a Magistrate and convicted the accused under s. 51 of Bombay Act VI of 1873, and sentenced him to pay a penalty under s. 74, the District Magistrate should not refuse to hear an appeal from the conviction and sentence. If the conviction does not properly fall within s. 51, that is a ground for reversing it and not for refusing to entertain the appeal. In re KARUNARAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 363 = Cr. Rg. 6 of 1888.

(33)—S. 53—Obeying calls of nature—Street.—To obey the calls of nature elsewhere than in a street is not an offence under s. 53 of the Bombay District Municipal Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DIGAMBUR, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 507 = Cr. Rg. 24 of 1890.

(34)—S. 53—Dirt—Back of house.—A person cannot be convicted under s. 53 of the Bombay District Municipal Act for depositing dirt at the back of his house, since it is not "a street, public quarry, jetty or landing place, or any part of the seashore or bank of a tidal river," as described in the section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 477 = Cr. Rg. 37 of 1889.

(35)—S. 53 (1)—Cattle—Members of family.—Cattle are not members of a family or household within the meaning of s. 53 (1) of the Bombay District Municipal Act, and a person cannot be convicted of an offence under cl. 2 of the section for tying his bullock near the street gutter so as to allow the dung, etc., to drop there. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HARI KHUSAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 412 = Cr. Rg. 78 of 1888.

(36)—S. 54—Offensive water, what amounts to.—The word "offensive" in s. 54 does not include mere waste or dirty water. A person, therefore, who allows mere waste or dirty water to pass to the public street is not liable to the penalty under s. 54 of the Act. In re GULABDAS BHAIDAS, 20 B. 83. [D., 30 B. 558 = 8 Bom. L.R. 457 = 4 Cr.L.J. 23.]

(37)—S. 61—Washing dirty clothes in a river.—A person cannot be convicted under s. 61 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, on account of his wife having washed some dirty cloths in a river, without finding (1) that the river in question was a stream, etc., belonging to the Municipality, or (2) that the accused caused clothes to be washed by his wife in such stream, if it appeared that he had simply told his wife to wash the clothes, without saying where they were to be washed. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. FATEH MAHOMED, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 399 = Cr. Rg. 59 of 1888.

(38)—S. 66—Sale of fruits in private shop—Market.—What the Municipality have authority to direct under s. 66 of Bombay Act VI of 1873 is, that no place, other than the Municipal markets or other places licensed as markets, should be used by anybody as a market. They have no authority to issue a notification affecting other places which may be used for selling vegetables, etc., otherwise than as a market. The act of selling fruits without a license in a private shop within six hundred yards of the Municipal market, even if it could be held to be using the shop as a market, is not a violation of the provisions of s. 66, as the section contains nothing to warrant the inclusion of the case of fruit selling within it. The Municipality of Ahmedabad issued a notification to the effect that no one was to use, within six hundred yards of the Municipal market, any place as a market, and that, if any one acted in contravention of this notification, he would be dealt with according to law. Held, that if the prohibition of the Municipality was meant to affect the private rights of persons to use their own places for selling any commodity, that would amount to an excess of the authority conferred by the Bombay Municipal Act. [Appl., 10 M. 216= 1 Weir 743 ; R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 797.] To constitute the use of a place as a market so as to interfere with any other market, it is not sufficient that it is used as a shop, but there must be something in addition to show that there has been a disturbance of the market rights. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAGAN HARJIVAN, 11 B. 106. (9 B. 272, Expl. ; 49 L.J. Q B. 144; L.R. 22 Ch. Div. 287, F.). [Appl., 10 M. 216=1 Weir 741; R., Rat. Un. Rep. Cr. Cas. 797, U.B.R. 1903, Municipal, p. 1.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1873 (Bom. District Municipalities) —continued.

(39)—S. 66—Selling fish on roadside.—A person who sold a small quantity of fish on the roadside on her way to the market cannot be convicted under s. 66 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, where it did not appear that the Municipality had issued an order that no place except the licensed one should be used as a market. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SANTU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 606=Cr. Rg. 24 of 1892.

(40)—S. 66—Slaughter-house, what amounts to.—A person who kills a goat in his own house for his own consumption cannot be said to use the place as a slaughter-house within the meaning of s. 66, Bombay District Municipal Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHIVA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 399.

(41)—S. 66—See No. 3, supra.

(42)—Ss. 66 and 67 (2)—Selling meat at one's own house and at another's platform—License.—The selling of meat in one's own house would not, but the selling of meat on another person's platform abutting on a public road would be an offence under s. 67 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, 1873. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAJYA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 209.

(43)—S. 67 (2)—Selling meat in one's own house.—A person selling meat not in a public market, but at his house without permission or license from the Municipality, cannot be punished under s. 67 (2). QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LAKSHMAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 397=Cr. Rg. 57 of 1888.

(44)—S. 67—See No. 42, supra.

(45)—S. 68—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 29—Jurisdiction of Third Class Magistrate.—S. 68 of the Bombay District Municipal Act makes the offender liable to the penalty provided by s. 273, I. P. C. A Magistrate of the Third Class has under s. 29, Crim. Pro. Code, jurisdiction to try an offence under s. 68 of Bom. Act VI of 1873. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NARAN NARSING, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 763=Cr. Rg. 24 of 1895.

(46)—Ss. 69, 74—Order against future continuance of offence.—An order cannot be made under s. 74 (2) in respect of a possible future continuance of the offence for which an accused person has been punished under cl. (c) of the section. In respect of any such offence, a fresh prosecution is necessary. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BAWAJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 396=Cr. Rg. 55 of 1888.

(47)—S. 70—Act II of 1884, s. 33—Bye-law prohibiting sale of fish or meat outside market.—A bye-law prohibiting the sale of fish or meat outside the market, purporting to be made by a Municipality under repealed s. 70 of Act VI of 1873, is ultra vires of that section and also of s. 33 of Act II of 1884. The bye-law cannot be treated as a direction under s. 66 (1), directing that no place shall be used as a market, as it does not allude to any such use, there being no evidence that the road in question on which fish were sold was used as a market. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOOKI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 797=Cr. Rg. 55 of 1895. [R., 14 Cr.L.J. 432=20 Ind. Cas. 416=7 L.B.R. 26.]

(48)—S. 72—Duty of giving information as to birth of child.—The duty of giving information to the Municipality about the birth of a child is imposed on the parent or guardian of a child, or in the case of the death, illness or inability of the parent or guardian, on the occupant of the house in which the child is born, and not on the servant of such occupant. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOVINDA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 373=Cr. Rg. 20 of 1888.

(49)—S. 73—Scope—Power to interdict caste-feast on the outbreak of cholera.—S. 73 of the Bombay Municipal Act (VI of 1873) empowers any Municipality "threatened or visited with an outbreak of any epidemic disease," "to take such measures as may be deemed necessary to prevent, meet, mitigate or suppress any such outbreak," with the previous sanction of the Governor in Council or any officer authorized by him. The words "take such measures, etc." imply in themselves something actively to be done by the Municipality, rather than any limitation to be imposed on the private rights of citizens in their relations of daily life. Special measures for the health of the town—such as sulphur fumigation, daily flushing of sewers, insistence on good house sanitation, isolation of infected districts and other similar steps to be taken by the authorities themselves come naturally within the meaning of the terms of the section. Under that section, a Municipality cannot prohibit the giving of caste-dinners within Municipal limits when more than thirty persons are to assemble. A person disobeying such an order cannot be convicted under s. 188, I.P.C. The Court ought not to strain an act in favour of an interference with private rights which is not justified by the primary sense of the language. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HARI LAL, 14 B. 180.

(50)—S. 74—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 245—Sentence must follow conviction.—A Magistrate, proceeding under s. 74 of the Bombay

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1873 (Bom. District Municipalities) —continued.

District Municipal Act, is bound by the provisions of s. 245, Crim. Pro. Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. HANMANTDAS, 2 Bom. L.R. 611.

(51)—S. 74—See Nos. 21, 22, 25, 27, 30, 31, 32, 46, supra.

(51-a)—S. 82—Right of private person to complain.—S. 82 of the Bombay District Municipal Act does not prevent a private person from making a complaint to a Magistrate where an offensive liquid was allowed to flow from the premises of the accused into the street without the permission required by s. 54. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BAI REVA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 630. (Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 355, F.)

(52)—S. 82—See CRIM. PRO. CODE 1898, s. 190, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 355=Cr.Rg. 44 of 1887.

(53)—S. 82—See No. 5, supra.

(54)—Ss. 82, 84—Bom. Act II of 1884, s. 49 (i) —Failure to pay arrears of tax—Offence—Time.—The effect of the amendment of s. 84 of Bom. Act VI of 1873 by s. 49 (i) of Bom. Act, II of 1884, is to make a failure to pay arrears of taxes an offence under s. 82 of the former Act. An information of such failure laid before a Magistrate, though not asking for imposition of penalty, must be laid within three months after the date when the taxes were due and not paid. In re KARUNASHANKER, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 420=Cr. Rg. 86 of 1888. [R., 30 B. 241=7 Bom. L.R. 951.]

(55)—S. 84—Scope of.—The sums that may be due under a contract to collect a tax due to a Municipality do not come within any of the matters provided for by s. 84 of the Bombay District Municipal Act. In re JAGU SANTRAM, 22 B. 709. [F., 26 M. 475=1 Weir 752; R., 130 P.L.R. 1903=23 P.R. 1903, Cr.]

(56)—*S.*84—Proceedings under section, nature of—Scope.—Proceedings before a Magistrate under s. 84 of Bombay Act, VI of 1873, are criminal prosecutions. Such prosecutions must be conducted according to the rules applicable to summary trials prescribed in Ch. XXII of the Code The Magistrate is bound, therefore, before sentencing a defaulter to pay a rate, to satisfy himself as to the extent of his legal liability. MUNICIPALITY OF AHMEDABAD v. JUMNA PUNJA, 17 B. 731. [F., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 559, 30 B. 241=7 Bom. L.R. 951; Appr., and D., 23 B. 446; R., 109 P.L.R. 1909=23 P.W.R. 1909; D., 22 A. 111.]

(57)—S. 84—Power of Magistrate to impose penalty.—Although under s. 84 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, a Magistrate has power to inflict, in addition to arrears of cess or other taxes, a penalty, not exceeding in any case one-fourth of such arrears, he has no power to levy any penalty computed as an addition to the expenses. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SYED MAHOMED, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 692=Cr. Rg. 19 of 1894.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1873 (Bom. District Municipalities) —continued.

(58)—S. 84—Liability to penalty on non-payment of taxes—Penalty, meaning of the word—Imprisonment in default—Penal Code, ss. 40, 64. —As non-payment of Municipal taxes entails liability to a penalty, it appears to be an offence under s. 40, I.P.C. There is no distinction between the word "penalty" in the Bombay District Municipal Act and the word "fine" in s. 64, I.P.C. The word penalty is used in many places in the Municipal Act as equivalent to a fine or pecuniary punishment for an offence. Imprisonment can, therefore, be awarded in default of payment of the penalty. In re LAKMIA, 18 B. 400.

(59)—S. 84—Penalty in addition to arrears of rent.—S. 84 of the Bombay District Municipal Act allows penalties to be imposed in addition to arrears of cesses or other taxes, but it does not provide for the imposition of a penalty in addition to arrears of rent. In re RANGU, 22 B. 708.

(60)—S. 84—Fine—Payment of rent.—S. 84 of the Bombay District Municipal Act does not permit a Magistrate to impose a fine in addition to the payment of arrears of rent. QUEEN EMPRESS v. PANDU MAHADU, 2 Bom. L.R. 674.

(61)—S. 84—Non-payment of house-tax—Fine — Penalty — Process fee—Arrears of rent — Want of rules on the subject.—The accused was convicted under s. 84 for non-payment of house-tax, and ordered to pay Rs. 10 for house-tax, and a fine of Rs. 2-8-0 and one anna as process fee, but it appeared that there was no rule on the subject framed by the Municipality. Held, ordering the return of the penalty and the tax levied, that, as admittedly the Municipality had not framed a rule for the sanction of Government as required by the Acts, and as nothing has been submitted to Government, except some general proposals sent up by the Collector, the conviction was illegal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LAKSHMAN, Rat. Un. Cr.C. 694=Cr. Rg. 21 of 1894.

(62)—S. 84—Octroi duties on certain articles within Municipal limits.—A certain Municipality passed a rule or bye-law imposing an octroi duty on certain articles when imported within Municipal limits. Where goods merely passed through the Municipal limits in the course of transit to Bombay, held, that the goods were imported, within the meaning of the section, and were liable to the duty. The only remedy was to claim a refund of the duty paid. In re RAHIMU BHANJI, 22 B. 843.

(63)—S. 84—Annual letting-value of house made by Municipality—Jurisdiction of Magistrates.—By the rules framed under the Bombay District Municipal Act, the Municipality is empowered to levy house-tax on a certain scale according to the annual letting-value of the house. The "letting value" is defined to mean the annual rent for which the house might be reasonably expected to let from year to year, if the tenants were liable for all repairs; and r. 3 provides that an estimate of the annual letting-value of each house shall be made by the Managing Committee and published not later than the 15th March in each year, and that applications for the reduction of the estimate by persons made liable may be presented to, and shall be disposed of by the Managing Committee. Held, that the Magistrate should accept as conclusive the amount found by the Managing Committee to be the letting-value of the house and to hold the legal liability of the accused to pay the tax based on this amount to be proved. He has no power to review the decision of the Managing Committee and reverse it on fresh evidence taken before himself. MUNICIPALITY OF WAI v. KRISHNAJI GANGADAR, 23 B. 446. [Appl., 24 B. 607; R., 35 C. 859=12 C.W.N. 709=7 C.L.J. 631.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VI of 1873 (Bom. District Municipalities) —continued.

(64)—S. 84—Pendency of prosecution under the old Act, how affected by the passing of the new Act—General Clauses Act, Bombay Act III of 1886, s. 8—Bombay Act III of 1901, s. 2 (1) (a), (b).— A Municipality instituted proceedings under Bombay Act VI of 1873. During the pendency of the proceedings, the Act was repealed and replaced by Act III of 1901. The Magistrate, thereupon, acquitted the accused on the ground that, under the new Act, he had no jurisdiction to dispose of the complaint. Held, reversing the order and directing the Magistrate to rehear the complaint, that, in the absence of any contrary intention in the new Act, the repeal of the old Act could not be deemed to affect any proceedings commenced before the new Act came into force; that the Magistrate was bound to conclude the proceedings which had already been instituted before him under the old Act, and that he could not disclaim jurisdiction, because the procedure laid down for proceedings instituted under the old Act was entirely different. MUKUND RAMCHANDRA KARKUN v. LADU GOVIND PEDNEKAR, 3 Bom.L.R. 584.

(65)—S. 84—Entries in shipping bills and manifests.—A person who imports timber by sea into a Municipal District is not bound by the entries in shipping bills and manifests as to its weight and measurement, for the purpose of calculating the duty payable. He may dispute them and is entitled to demand a fresh weighment, but, if he does not do so and fails to prove their incorrectness, he is bound by the entries. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMCHANDRA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 541=Cr. Rg. 15 of 1891.

(66)—S. 84—Jurisdiction of Magistrate to inquire into correctness of cess claimed.—In a prosecution under s. 84 of the Bombay District Municipal Act for recovery of a tax, the Magistrate has jurisdiction to determine whether the amount claimed is correct and to inquire into all the conditions on which the rate of tax fixed is based. It is nowhere laid down that the statement of amount by the Municipality should be accepted as final. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NATHEE, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 559=Cr. Rg. 35 of 1891.

(67)—S. 84—Payment of arrears before hearing—Infliction of penalty.—A Magistrate cannot inflict a penalty under s. 84 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, if the arrears are paid before the case comes on for hearing. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANESH, Rat.Un.Cr.C. 618=Cr. Rg. 42 of 1892.

(68)—S. 84—Cess upon houses—Term "yielding a yearly rent" explained.—Where a rule prescribes the levying of cess on "every house yielding a certain annul rent," the expression means "capable of yielding a yearly rent." QUEEN EMPRESS v. MAHADU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 658=Cr. Rg. 23 of 1893.

(69)—S. 84—See No. 54, supra.

(70)—S. 99—Approval by Revenue Commissioner.—The approval by the Revenue Commissioner of the rules is tantamount to approval by the Governor-in-Council within the meaning of s. 99 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BAHADARSHAH, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 615=Cr. Rg. 37 of 1892.

Act VII of 1873 (Salt).

[REP., BOM. ACT II OF 1890.]

(1)—Officer of Salt Department whether Police officer—Evidence Act, s. 125.—Having regard to the distinction drawn throughout Act VII of 1873 (Bombay) between a Police officer and an officer of the Salt Department, the latter cannot be considered a Police officer within the meaning of s. 125, Evidence Act, and may, therefore, be compelled to say whence he obtained information as to the commission of an offence. REG v. GOWLIA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 183 =Cr. Rg. 20-7-1882.

(2)—Ss. 3, 18, 19, 49—Peon—Possession of naturally formed salt.—S. 18 of the Bombay Salt Act does not apply to the case of a peon of the Salt Department being in possession of naturally formed salt for his private use. The act is, however, punishable as an offence under ss. 19 and 49. REG v. FAKIO PARSHOTTAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 101=Cr. Rg. 10-1-1876.

(3)—S. 18—See No. 2, supra.

(4)—S. 19—See No. 2, supra.

(5)—Ss. 35, 37,—Distance of ten miles, how to be measured.—The distance of ten miles mentioned in ss. 35, 37 of the Bombay Salt Act is to be measured in a straight line "as the crow flies," i. e., along the horizontal plane and not by the nearest mode of practical access. QUEEN EMPRESS v. ADRASHAPPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 138=Cr. Rg. 20-2-1879.

(6)—S. 37—See No. 5, supra.

(7)—S. 49—See No. 2, supra.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1873 (Salt)—concluded.

(8)—S. 54—Charge under the section.—S. 54 of the Bombay Salt Act, 1873, is not an enactment under which, by itself, a charge can be laid. There must, in addition, be reference to some other provision of the Act or some rule in pursuance thereof according to the actual character of the offence imputed. Nor can a mere loose description of salt as contraband satisfy the requirements of the law as to what is contraband salt for the purposes of the penal sections of the Salt Act. The definitions given in s. 3 must, in each case, be satisfied by evidence of facts giving to the salt the character there indicated. QUEEN EMPRESS v. DHARAMDAS, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 295 = Cr. Rg. 40 of 1886.

Act I of 1874 (Tramways).

[REP. IN PART, BOM. ACT III OF 1886, REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, BOM. ACT II OF 1895, S. 6. AMENDED, BY S. 9, REP. IN PART, AND AMENDED BOM. ACT I OF 1907.]

S. 24—Regulation for regulating the conduct of the Company's servants.—The words "regulating the travelling" in s. 24 of Bombay Act I of 1874, can only mean laying down rules as to how persons shall travel, that is to say, rules for the conduct and behaviour of the persons who travel, and cannot be held to include rules for the conduct of the Company's own servants, prescribing what they shall do or what they shall not do, in the matter, for instance, of the issue of tickets, which rules are only framed by the Company for their own protection against the possible fraud or dishonesty of their servants. MANOCKJI DODABHAI v. BOMBAY TRAMWAY COMPANY, 22 B. 739.

Act II of 1874 (Jails).

[REP. IN PART, ACT IX OF 1894; BOM. ACT III OF 1886, AMENDED, BOM. ACT II OF 1882.]

S. 30—Duties of jailor.—The jailor is, under Bombay Act II of 1874, s. 30, responsible for the execution of a warrant for punishment, unless it be one not within the competence of the Court. If any thing prevents his executing a warrant, he should make a return or report to that effect to the Court whence the warrant issued. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAHADU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 136 = Cr. Rg. 5-8-1878.

Act III of 1874 (Hereditary Offices).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XII OF 1876; REP. IN PART, BOM. ACT III OF 1886, REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT XVI OF 1895; BOM. ACT V OF 1886, REP. IN PART, AMENDED AND SUPPLEMENTED (LOCALLY), BOM. ACT VI OF 1887.]

S. 85—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE, CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION, ETC., Rat. Un. Cr.C. 147 = Cr. Rg. 17-6-1880.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1876 (Mamlatdars' Courts).

[REP. BOM. ACT II OF 1906.]

(1)—See PENAL CODE, ss. 99, 186, 13 B. 168.

(2)—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—CONDITIONS REQUISITE FOR GRANT OF SANCTION, ETC., 5 B. 137.

(3)—S. 10—Jurisdiction of Mamlatdar to try possessory suits—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 145.—The jurisdiction of a Mamlatdar to entertain a possessory suit, under Bombay Act III of 1876, is not taken away by the fact that the Magistrate has previously passed an order, regarding the same property, under s. 145 of the Crim. Pro. Code. NAGAPPA v. SAYAD BADRUDIN, 26 B. 353 = 3 Bom. L.R. 919. [R., 7 C.L.J. 547 = 12 C.W.N. 696.]

(4)—S. 17—See PENAL CODE, s. 166, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 764 = Cr. Rg. 27 of 1895.

Act IV of 1878 (Bom. Municipal Act, Amendment and Continuance).

[REP., BOM. ACT III OF 1888.]

See BOM. ACT III OF 1872, s. 225, Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 297 = Cr. Rg. 43 of 1886.

Act V of 1878 (Bom. Abkari).

[REP., IN PART, ACT XVI OF 1895, REP. IN PART AND AMENDED. BOM. ACT III OF 1886, AMENDED, BOM. ACT III OF 1892; BOM. ACT V OF 1901, S. 3, AMENDED BOM. ACT I OF 1903, S 18-A AMENDED BY BOM. ACT III OF 1905, S. 45, AMENDED BOM. ACT IV OF 1905.]

(1)—Possession of liquor in greater quantity than prescribed. — The Bombay Abkari Act renders a man punishable for the offence of possessing more than a particular quantity of liquor within a certain local area or place, except under the authority of some license, permit or special order, obtained under that Act. It is, therefore, immaterial to consider whether the possession in any case was illegal before the Act came into force. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SORABJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 144 = Cr. Rg. 7-8-1879.

(2)—" Chandul "—Preparation of opium — Opium Act.—Chandul is a preparation of opium, and the provisions of the Bombay Abkari Act, V of 1878, cannot be applied to a person found in possession of it. He can, however, be dealt with under the Opium Act. IMPERATOR v. JAN MAHOMED, 9 Cr. L. J. 254 = 1 S. L. R. 8, Cr.

(3)—Trial for offence under Bombay Abkari Act and acquittal—Re-trial, when allowed--Jurisdiction of Magistrate.—All offences against the Bombay Abkari Act being cognizable by a Magistrate of the second class, a person tried for any such offence by any such Magistrate and acquitted is not liable to be tried again for the same offence, unless the acquittal has been set aside by the High Court on appeal by the

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1878 (Bom. Abkari) – continued.

Government. The jurisdiction conferred by the Code of Criminal Procedure (Act X of 1882) does not affect any special jurisdiction or power conferred by any law in force at the time when the Code came into force. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GUSTADJI BARJORJI, 10 B. 181. [R., 1 Bom. L.R. 15.]

(4)—Third Class Magistrate, Jurisdiction of, to try cases under.—A third class Magistrate has no jurisdiction to try cases under the Abkari Act, 1878. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BAPU PUNJA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 184=Cr. Rg. 5-10-1882.

(5)—Prosecution under—Distillery Inspector's report—Evidence.—In a prosecution under the Bombay Abkari Act, the report of a Distillery Inspector to the effect that certain liquor was illicit is not admissible in evidence, and there must be independent evidence to show that it was illicit. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MOHAN LALL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 298=Cr. Rg. 45 of 1886.

(6)—Breach of license—Keeping toddy where it was drawn.—Where the license provided that toddy drawn should be taken to the shop or distillery by a direct route, no obligation is imposed on the licensee to take the toddy at once. Keeping it at the place where it was drawn is not a breach of the license. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANESH, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 552. (Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 290, R.)

(7)—Juice in toddy-producing tree, if spirit.—Juice in toddy-producing tree is not spirit, which includes toddy in a fermented state only. NARAYAN VENKU KALGUTKAR v. SAKHARAM NAGU KOREGAUMKAR, 9 B. 462. [F., 20 B. 764 ; R., 20 B. 803.]

(8)—Ss. 2 (8), 43 (a)—Liquor manufactured in Native States.—S. 43 (a) of Bombay Act V of 1878 makes punishable the importing or exporting of foreign liquor, and the term, as defined in the Act, does not include liquor manufactured in the Native States. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAWARSA bin KRISHNASA, 1 Bom. L.R. 158.

(9)—Ss. 3 (5), 56—See AUTREFOIS ACQUIT, PLEA OF, 10 B. 181.

(10)—Ss. 3 (9), 62—Cocaine—Intoxicating drug—Medicated article.—(a) The term "medicated article" in s. 62 of Bombay Act V of 1878, applies to something which is manufactured and by such manufacture is imbued with certain medicinal properties. Cocaine does not fall within that term as it is a medicine per se. (b) The word "intoxicating" as used in s. 3 (9) cannot be confined to its derivative meaning, namely, "poisonous," but must be taken in its popular sense. Cocaine is an intoxicating drug in the popular sense. EMPEROR v. JAMSETJI CAWASJI CAMA, 27 B. 551=5 Bom. L.R. 498.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1878 (Bom. Abkari)—continued.

(11)—Ss. 3 (10), 9 and 43—'Import' meaning of—Sea Customs Act (VIII of 1878), s. 19.—The intention and requirement of s. 9 of the Abkari Act in the case of articles liable to duty are that the duty shall be paid. That intention and requirement can only be contravened, when reasonable opportunity to pay the duty has been afforded and evaded. The mere entry into the Bombay harbour of a ship conveying the dutiable goods, or mere tying up of such ship against the dockwall, is not importing goods, under s. 43 of the Abkari Act, in contravention of the Act, that is, in contravention of the obligation to pay duty. The word 'import' in the Abkari Act includes the conveying into any part of the Presidency of Bombay by sea. EMPEROR v. DE SYLVA, 11 Bom. L.R. 221=1 Ind. Cas. 343=9 Cr. L J. 291=33 B. 380.

(12)—Ss. 3 (11), 43 — Drawing toddy, not manufacturing liquor.—Drawing toddy is not manufacturing liquor as defined in cl. 11 of s. 3 of Bombay Act V of 1878. The mere possession of implements for the purpose of drawing toddy is not an offence punishable under cl. (f) of s. 43 of Bombay Act, V of 1878. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PIRIO KALIO, 18 B. 428.

(13)—Ss. 4, 7—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—In passing a sentence upon conviction of more than one person under s. 4, the proper course is to direct that the fine be paid by the prisoners generally, and that, in the event of non-payment by all co-partners, each should suffer the same term of imprisonment, whether it be the full period or any reduced period on part-payment of the penalty, and not to award payment in equal or unequal fixed portions. In re LAKHE, Cr Rg. 23-11-1870.

(14)—Ss. 6, 43 (a) and (f)—Importation of bhang in Native State—No cession of territory—Offence.—Where an applicant was charged with having imported bhang into the Bombay Presidency, owing to a parcel containing bhang and bearing his name and address being received at Kalol, a railway station in a Native State, it appeared that the criminal jurisdiction along the line of the Railway was ceded to the Government of India, but there had been no cession of territory. Held, that no offence was committed unless the importation was into the Bombay Presidency, that is, in territories which formed part of British India ; and, if the land upon which the offence was alleged to have been committed had not actually been ceded, it could not form part of British India. EMPEROR v. RAGHUNATH RAO VINAEKRAO, 5 Bom. L.R. 873.

(14-a)—S. 7—See No. 13, supra.

(15)—S. 9—Importation of liquor—When complete.—Under s. 9 of the Abkari Act, the importation of liquor into a port is not complete till the person importing it has had an opportunity of paying the duty thereon at the Customs House. QUEEN EMPRESS v. ASCENSA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 503=Cr. Rg. 17 of 1890.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1878 (Bom. Abkari)—continued.

(16)—S. 9—See Nos. 11, 12, supra and No. 80, infra.

(17)—Ss. 9, 13, 43—Cocaine—Forwarding of cocaine from Lucknow to Bombay bp rail without transhipment — Crossing the frontier.—Where the accused forwarded a large consignment of cocaine from Lucknow to Bombay through railway, and the consignment reached Bombay direct without transhipment and traversed British territory the whole way, it was held that neither the mere fact that cocaine was consigned from Lucknow to Bombay city and conveyed thereto without transhipment at the frontier of the Bombay Presidency, nor the mere fact that the journey from Lucknow to Bombay was, throughout, through British territory, prevented cocaine from coming within the provisions of the Act, as soon as it crossed the frontier. EMPEROR v. TYABALLY CARIMBHOY, 8 Bom. L R. 601.

(18)—Ss. 9, 43—Carrying liquor from one village to another in a Native State through British India.—The bringing into British India from a Native State, of liquor without a pass or permit authorised by the Abkari Act is an offence punishable under it, notwithstanding that it was so brought only for the purposes of taking into another village of the same State; but where the importing of liquor is not from one portion of British India to another, there cannot be any offence of transporting liquor from one place to another within British India. QUEEN EMPRESS v. JERIA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 313 = Cr. Rg. 67 of 1886.

(18-a)—S. 11—See No. 80, infra.

(19)—S. 13—See No. 17, supra.

(20)—Ss. 14, 20, 64; 65, 66, and 67—"Tree" —"Toddy-producing tree" meaning of.—The words "any tree" in s. 14 and "every toddy, producing tree" in s. 20 of the Bombay Abkari Act, V of 1878 mean all trees in the Bombay Presidency to which the Act applies, from which toddy is drawn or produced. These words do not mean merely those in regard to which no special rights of drawing toddy previously existed. ARDESIR JEHANGIR FRAMJI v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 6 B. 398.

(21)—S. 16—Selling toddy for liquidating a debt, if breach of license.—Where toddy is not sold but is given in liquidation of a debt, there can be no breach of the license, which provides that the licensee "shall not receive wearing apparel, or ornaments; or any consideration, except coin for any toddy he may sell." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KANJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 586 = Cr. Rg. 47 of 1891.

(22)—Ss. 17, 47—Mere possession of liquor.—Mere possession of liquor on which no duty has been paid, is not an offence under s. 47 of the Bombay Abkari Act, irrespective of the quantity fixed by s. 17. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RANCHOD, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 593 = Cr. Rg. 8 of 1892.

(22-a)—S. 18-a—See No. 46-b, infra.

(23)—S. 20—See No. 20, supra.

(24)—S. 38—Accused found with a bottle of liquor when travelling—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 103—Evidence Act, s. 91.—An Abkari officer searched the cart in which the accused was travelling and found a bottle of liquor. The trying Magistrate found that the search was not made in the presence of two or more persons or any list prepared of the things found, as required by s. 103, Crim. Pro. Code, extended to Abkari cases by s. 38, and, considering that under s. 91 of the Evidence Act, oral evidence was inadmissible, acquitted the accused. Held that a cart is not such a place as is contemplated in s. 103, and, therefore, its provisions cannot be applied to the search of a cart. In the matter of MAKAN KHOSHAL, Cr. Rg. 18-6-1885.

(25)—S. 43—Growing ganja without permit.—To grow ganja without a permit is not an offence within the meaning of s. 43 of the Act. QUEEN EMPRESS v. NARAYAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 190 = Cr. Rg. 26-4-1883.

(26)—S. 43 — "Sell," meaning of. — The Abkari Act being a penal statute, it should not be strained in its interpretation against the subject. The word "sell" in s. 43 does not include exchange. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JANKI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 415.

(27)—S. 43 (2)—Possessing apparatus and material—Separate convictions.—The possession of apparatus and materials for the purpose of manufacturing liquor without a permit is one transaction, and there can be no separate conviction for the possession of distinct materials. QUEEN EMPRESS v. LAKSHMAN BHIMA. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 878.

(28)—S. 43 (a)—British India—Wadhwan Civil Station—Bhang—Carrying it from Wadhwan Civil Station to Viramgam—Importation into British India of intoxicating drug.—The Civil Station at Wadhwan is not part of British India. A person who carries bhang from Wadhwan Civil Station to Viramgam is guilty, under s. 43 (a) of the Bombay Abkari Act, 1878, of importing the intoxicating drug inte the Presidency of Bombay. EMPEROR v. CHIMAN LAL, 14 Bom. L.R. 876 = 1 Bom. Cr. Cas. 172 = 13 Cr. L.J. 790 = 17 Ind. Cas. 534 = 37 B. 152. (10 B. 244, Diss.; 10 B. 186, F.)

(29)—S. 43 (b)—Transporting toddy—Temporary custody by a girl—Latter's liability—Removal of ganja from one field to another.—The accused, a girl of about 16 years of age, was charged with transporting toddy without a pass under s. 43 (b) of the Bombay Abkari Act, and, on conviction, was fined eight annas. Her uncle, who held a pass for tapping toddy trees and carrying toddy to the shop, had told her to drive a buffalo laden with toddy, while he himself was busy searching for a runaway pony. For doing so, she was convicted. Held that the girl should not have been considered as herself transporting toddy, seeing that her uncle who had but momentarily withdrawn, might be deemed as still controlling the buffalo laden with it. QUEEN EMPRESS v. NAGOWA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 306 = Cr. Rg. 57 of 1886.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1878 (Bom. Abkari)—continued.

(30)—S. 43 (b)—Removal of ganja from one field to another—Where the accused removed ganja grown in one survey number to a threshing floor in the adjoining number for the purpose of preparing it, held that the act was not punishable under s. 43 (b) of the Bombay Abkari Act. QUEEN EMPRESS v. SATWA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 465 = Cr. Rg 23 of 1889.

(31)—S. 43 (c)—Ganja cultivation—"Manufacture," meaning of.—Mere cultivation of ganja plants is not a process of manufacturing intoxicating drugs within the meaning of s. 43 (c) of the Bombay Abkari Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DADU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 415 = Cr. Rg. 82 of 1888.

(32)—S. 43 (c) —"Manufacture" meaning of—Making of Eau-de-Cologne.—The word "manufacture" in the Bombay Abkari Act includes the preparation of a spirituous liquor by admixture and is not limited to processes which result in the production of alcohol. The making of Eau-de-Cologne by adding some essential fragrant oils to rectified spirit water is manufacture of liquor within the meaning of s. 43 (c). QUEEN-EMPRESS v. YESHWANTA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 834 = Cr. Rg. 77 of 1895.

(33)—S. 43 (c)—Selling of mhowra flowers.—It is no offence to sell mhowra flowers, except in the area in which Bombay Act III of 1892 is in force. The mere fact of a sale would not be in itself sufficient to justify a conviction for abetment of the offence of manufacturing liquor, mentioned in s. 43 (c) of the Bombay Abkari Act, 1878. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHEKH CHAND, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 949 = Cr. Rg. 1 of 1898.

(34)—S. 43 (c)—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine—I P.C., s. 65.—The accused was convicted of an offence under s. 43 (c) of the Bombay Abkari Act and sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 75, or, in default, to suffer rigorous imprisonment for three months. Held, altering the sentence of imprisonment in default of payment of fine to six weeks, that the sentence passed was illegal under s. 65, I.P.C., the maximum term of imprisonment fixed for the offence being six months. QUEEN EMPRESS v. BHIKARAO, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 979 = Cr. Rg. 37 of 1898.

(35)—S. 43, cls. (c) and (f)—Separate convictions and sentences under both clauses—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 35.—A person was convicted under the Bombay Abkari Act, s. 43 (c) for the manufacture of liquor, and under s. 43 (f) for being in possession of utensils for the manufacture of liquor, and was sentenced separately for each of these offences. Held, reversing the sentence under s. 43 (f), that the second offence was included in the former, and, under the explanation to s. 35 of the Crim. Pro. Code, they were not distinct offences. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHAWA SARDAR, 1 Bom. L.R. 344.

(36)—S. 43 (e) (f)—Manufacturing country liquor—Possession of apparatus—Separate offences.—The accused was charged with manufacturing country liquor from mhowra flowers, and keeping in his possession soaked mhowra flowers and apparatus for the purpose of manufacturing liquor from them. He was convicted and sentenced separately for each of the offences under cls. (e) and (f) of the Bombay Abkari Act. Held, that the accused could, under the circumstances, only be convicted and sentenced for the offence of manufacturing country liquor from mhowra flowers. EMPEROR v. RANIO BHIKHLO, 4 Bom. L.R. 720.

(37)—S. 43 (e) (f)—Possession of materials for manufacturing liquor—Manufacturing liquor—Distinct offences — Separate sentences.—The possession of materials for manufacturing liquor and the act of manufacturing liquor are two distinct offences punishable under cl. (f) and cl. (g) of s. 43 of the Bombay Abkari Act, and separate sentences may, therefore, be passed on conviction for both offences. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHIVDIA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 523 = Cr. Rg. 52 of 1890.

(38)—S. 43 (d)—Drawing juice from cashewnut tree.—The drawing of juice from a cashewnut tree does not constitute the offence of drawing toddy, punishable under s. 43 (d) of the Bombay Abkari Act, under the definition of toddy as given in the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAHADOO, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 308 = Cr. Rg. 60 of 1886.

(39)—S. 43 (d)—Payment of fees—Tapping toddy trees without license.—There is no provision in the Bombay Abkari Act which authorises a Magistrate, who convicts an accused person under s. 43 (d) of the Act, to order the payment by him of any fee that may be leviable in respect of trees tapped by him without a license. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAGHO, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 533 = Cr. Rg. 4 of 1891.

(40)—S. 43 (f)—Possession of apparatus — Intention—Responsibility of head of house.—To support a conviction under s. 43 (f) of the Bombay Abkari Act, it is not enough to prove the possession by the accused of apparatus which can be used for manufacturing liquor, but it must also be proved that he had such apparatus for that purpose. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MUKUND, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 510 = Cr. Rg. 29 of 1890. (9 B. 556, R.)

(41)— S. 43 (f) — Possession of apparatus — Father and son. — Where apparatus for the manufacture of liquor is found in a house, the question who is to be proceeded against for the offence is not one to be decided by the principle of civil responsibility, but one of fact. It is possible that a son may contravene the provisions of the Abkari Act. while the father, the head of the house in which the apparatus was found may be innocent. GOVERNMENT OF BOMBAY v. DHAGO, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 504=Cr. Rg. 18 of 1890.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1878 (Bom. Abkari)—continued.

(42)—S. 43, cl. (g)—Sale of liquor by servant of licensee without permit, and at rates not specified.—The penalty prescribed by s. 43, cl. (g) of the Bombay Abkari Act, 1878, attaches to the servant of a licensee, who sells liquor without a permit from the Collector. EMPEROR v. BALLA SAKHARAM KOREGAONKAR, 11 Bom. L.R. 746=3 Ind. Cas. 778=10 Cr L J. 382.

(43)—S. 43 (g)—Sale of liquor by servant at rates other than those specified.—The servant of a license-holder under the Bombay Abkari Act selling liquor at rates other than those specified in the license is guilty of an offence under s. 43 (g) of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. FRAMJI BAMANJI KELAWALA, 2 Bom. L.R. 663. [R., 8 Bom. L.R. 947.]

(44)—S. 43 (g)—Transfer of ganja from one shop to another.—A transfer of ganja from one shop to another, both shops belonging to the same licensee, does not constitute an offence under s. 43 (g) of the Bombay Abkari Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MOHAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 214=Cr. Rg. 1st Oct. 1885.

(45)—S. 43 (h)—Finding of ganja plants—Inference of accused being its cultivator.—The mere fact that three ganja plants were found growing in the accused's compound, without any proof of its having been cultivated by him, is not an offence under s. 43 (h) of the Bombay Abkari Act, as it could not be inferred therefrom that he cultivated them. The inference which might be justifiable, if a large number of plants were found, did not arise from the existence of three plants alone. KING EMPEROR v. IMAM, 4 Bom. L.R. 98.

(46)—S. 43 (g)—Illicit possession of cocaine—Sentence — Enhancement of sentence — High Court—District Magistrate can move for enhancement—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 439.—Cases where cocaine is found to have been secretly possessed and sold without a license must be dealt with so as to produce a deterrent effect. The Magistrate should pass a sentence of imprisonment in cocaine cases, where a mere sentence of fine fails to check the evil of its illicit sale and possession. It is not necessary that Government should instruct the Government Pleader to move the High Court to enhance sentences. It is competent to District Magistrates to bring to the notice of the High Court cases of inadequate sentences. The High Court has, under its revisional powers, jurisdiction to enhance sentence, howsoever the case comes to its notice. EMPEROR v. ROGER DE SILVA, 13 Bom. L.R. 1185=12 Ind. Cas. 980=12 Cr. L.J. 604.

(46-a)—S. 43—See Nos. 8, 11, 14, 17, 18, supra.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1878 (Bom. Abkari)—continued.

(46-b)—Ss. 43 (a), (b) (2) and 18-A—Mhowra flowers—Consignment from one place to another by railway—Goods transhipped by railway at a place in a prescribed area—Liability of consignor for possession of the Mhowra flowers.—The accused consigned certain Mhowra flowers partly at the Nadiad and partly at the Umreth stations of a Railway Company for conveyance to Nandod in the Rajpipla State. The goods were taken possession of by the Railway Company and were conveyed to Ankleshvar, for being transhipped into the Rajpipla State Railway. Ankleshvar was a place in a prescribed area within which even the possession of Mhowra flowers without a permit was unlawful (s. 18-A of the Bombay Abkari Act). The Mhowra flowers were attached at the Ankleshvar Railway station and the accused was convicted and sentenced under S. 43 (2) of the Act. The accused having applied to the High Court:—Held, that the accused had not committed any offence, for he personally did not possess the Mhowra flowers within the prescribed area or transport them within or import them into or export them from that area. EMPEROR v. CHUNILAL MANILAL, 17 Bom. L.R. 72=3 Bom. Cr. C. 5.

(47)—Ss. 43 to 46, 53—Servant's offences—Licensee, if liable.—The holder of a license under the Bombay Abkari Act can be held criminally liable for his servant's act, under s. 53, only when the act, if committed by the master, would have been a breach of the conditions of the license. (Per Birdwood, J.). The second para of s. 53 applies only to acts, which would be offences under ss. 43 to 46, if done by a person when actually in the employ or acting on behalf of a holder of a license, pass or permit. (Per Parsons, J.) QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VIRBAIJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 542=Cr. Rg. 17 of 1891.

(48)—Ss. 43 (g), 45 (c)—Conviction of licensee and gomasta.—Where a licensee and his gomasta were both convicted under s. 45 (c) of the Bombay Abkari Act of selling a larger quantity of toddy than permitted by the rules, the High Court declined to interfere since the gomasta was punishable at least under s. 43 (g). QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DORABJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 616=Cr. Rg. 38 of 1892.

(49)—Ss. 43 (g), 45 (c)—Liability of servant holding a Naukarnama from his master.—The servant of a country spirit farmer holding a naukarnama issued by his master and countersigned by the Collector, but not himself holding a license under the Act, is not liable to be convicted under s. 45 (c) of the Bombay Abkari Act, but can be convicted under s. 43 (g) of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BALAPA. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 671=Cr. Rg. 34 of 1893.

(50)—Ss. 43, 47—Illegal importation and possession of liquor, when distinct offences.—A man who illegally imports liquor may keep it in his possession for some time after he imports it. The importation and possession in such a case would be distinct offences. But where the importation involves possession of liquor, the accused, if convicted already for possession, cannot again be convicted for the importation. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHAND valad KITAB, 14 B. 583.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1878 (Bom. Abkari)—continued.

(51)—Ss. 43 (b), 47—Cocaine—Illegal possession—Removal—Transportation of cocaine.—Accused No. 1, who was illegally in possession of cocaine, brought it from his room and gave it to accused No. 2, who stood opposite to his house. The latter carried it to some distance and delivered it to a Purdeshi. The two accused were, under these circumstances, charged with transporting cocaine, an offence punishable under s. 43 (b) of the Bombay Abkari Act, 1878. The Magistrate, however, acquitted them of the offence and convicted them of illegal possession of cocaine, under s. 47 of the Act. Against this order of acquittal, the Public Prosecutor appealed to the High Court. Held, that the Magistrate was right in declining to convict the accused under s. 43 (b) of the Bombay Abkari Act, 1878, inasmuch as the accused's offence consisted, not in moving the cocaine from one place to another, but in the unauthorised possession of it at any place in contravention of the Act. S. 43, cl. (b), seems to contemplate rather the case of a person who is in lawful possession of cocaine at one place, but is by law forbidden to remove it either partly or wholly to another place. EMPEROR v. BALVANTRAO ANANTRAO, 12 Bom. L.R. 124.

(52)—Ss. 43, 47, 53—Possession of liquor not accounted for.—If the evidence had shown that the accused had manufactured toddy, or been in possession of a still, or had transported toddy from one place to another, then there would be ground to presume such manufacture or transport to be illegal, and the case would come under s. 43. The sole fact that the accused was in possession of liquor, in excess of that permitted by law, without being able to account for its possession, would only lead to a presumption that the possession was not legal, thereby constituting an offence under s. 47. QUEEN EMPRESS v. BYRAMJI KHURSEDJI, 14 B. 93.

(53)—Ss. 43, 53—Possession of distilling materials.—Mere possession without a license of utensils for distilling liquor is not an offence punishable under s. 43. It is only in cases where such possession is not satisfactorily accounted for, that under s. 53, it is to be presumed, until the contrary is proved, that the accused person has committed an offence under s. 43. QUEEN EMPRESS v. PRESTANJI BARJORJI, 9 B. 456. [F., L.B.R. (1872-1892), 597.]

(54)—Ss. 43 (f), 53—Possession of mhowra flowers.—Where the accused, a dealer in mhowra flowers was proved to have sold the flowers to a person who made an illegal use of them, held, that he was not liable to be punished under s. 43, Bombay Act V of 1878, if there was no proof that he had used those flowers for the purpose of manufacturing liquor. In the matter of the petition of LIMDA KOYA, 9 B. 566. [F., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 510.]

(55)—Ss. 43 (a), 54—Importation of liquor —Conviction.—The accused was convicted of importing liquor from Goa into British India without a permit. The bottle and the liquor were ordered to be confiscated but no other sentence was passed. Held, that the Magistrate was bound to have passed some sentence, however small, after convicting of the offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAKIN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 291 = Cr. Rg. 33 of 1886.

(56)—S. 44—See No. 47, supra.

(57)—Ss. 44 (a) and 45 (c)—Hydrometer, failure to keep it an offence, Quantity of liquor. —Accounts—The failue to keep a hydrometer is an offence under s. 44 (a) of the Bombay Abkari Act. The omission to keep the prescribed quantity of liquor and to keep accounts is not punishable under s. 45 (c) of the Act, since these are not acts committed in breach of the terms of a license but mere omissions. In re GANGARAM. Rat. Un. Cr. C. 617. (Rat. Un. Cr. Cas. 284, R.)

(58)—S. 45—Holder of license—Servant.—To a servant not being the holder of a license, s. 45, Act V of 1878 (Bombay Abkari) has no application. Under that section, the servant of the holder of a license is not made liable for any breach of the conditions of the license. Though s. 53 of the Act provides that "the holder of a license under the Act shall be responsible, as well as the actual offender, for any offence committed by any person in his employ or acting on his behalf under s. 43, 44, 45 or 46, as if he had himself committed the same, unless he shall establish that all due and reasonable precautions were exercised by him to prevent the commission of such offence," yet s. 45 does not make "the actual offender," if he be the servant of a licensee, punishable, unless he is himself the holder of a license granted under the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMACHANDRA MATADIN, 15 B. 45. [R., 2 Bom. L.R. 663, Rat. Un.Cr. C. 542.]

(59)—S. 45—Delivery of juice by licensee to servant of farmer instead of farmer himself.—A licensee was convicted of having broken the conditions of his license, which provided that the licensee should deliver the juice of the trees drawn to the farmer, inasmuch as he delivered the juice to a servant of the farmer who came for the juice on behalf of the farmer as his agent. Held that the conviction was bad, since, under the terms of the license, a delivery to the farmer in person was not essential, but that the latter could depute a servant, or agent to take delivery of the juice drawn. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHAPURJI RATANJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 754 = Cr. Rg. 17 of 1895.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1878 (Bom. Abkari)—continued.

(60)—S. 45—Omission to open shops and to keep accounts—Penal Code, s. 33. —The accused, a licensee under the Bombay Abkari Act, omitted to open shops at certain places and to keep accounts; he was, thereupon, convicted of a breach of license under s. 45 (c) of the Act. Held that neither omission was an "act" in breach of any condition of the accused's license, s. 33, I.P.C., having no application to the case. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NANA MAHADEV, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 284 = Cr. Rg. 19 of 1886. [R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 617.]

(61)—S. 45 (c)—Omission to have minimum quantity of liquor.—The accused was convicted of not keeping, according to his license, the minimum quantity of certain kinds of liquor. The District Magistrate was of opinion that the negligence of the accused amounted to an omission, and not an act, and that, under s. 45 (c) of the Bombay Abkari Act, an act, but not an illegal omission, was punishable. Held that the conviction should be upheld, and that an act failing to comply with the terms legally imposed is illegal in the affirmative as well as in the negative sense. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PEDRU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 323 = Cr. Rg. 9 of 1887.

(62)—S. 45 (c)—Omission to keep minimum quantity of liquor in shop.—The omission of the accused to keep the minimum quantity of liquor in his shop is not "an act in breach of any of the conditions of his license" within the meaning of s. 45 (c) of the Abkari Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOVIND, 16 B. 669. [Appl., 1 Bom. L.R. 164, 1 Bom. L.R. 690.]

(63)—S. 45 (c), to whom applies.—S. 45 (c) of the Bombay Abkari Act applies only to the "holder of a license" and not to a mere servant of the licensee. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GAFFUR, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 214 = Cr. Rg. 6-8-1885. [R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 396.]

(64)—S. 45 (c)—Breaches of license by licensee's servants—Liability of licensee's agent and that of servant.—An agent of a license-holder cannot be saddled, under s. 45 (c) of the Act, with responsibility for the acts of the licensee's servants. Only the license-holder is responsible for such breaches by his servants. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. JAMSHEDJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 668 = Cr. Rg. 26 of 1893.

(65)—S. 45 (c)—Liability of servant.—Under s. 45 (c) of the Bombay Abkari Act, the servant of the holder of a license granted under the Act cannot be made liable for breach of the conditions of the license. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAMJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 416 = Cr. Rg. 83 of 1888.

(66)—S. 45 (c)—Liability of the servant.—Under s. 45 (c), the servant of a license-holder cannot be made liable for breach of the conditions of the license. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOPAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 406 = Cr. Rg. 69 of 1888.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1878 (Bom. Abkari)—continued.

(67)—S. 45 (c)—Liability of servant.—Under s. 45 (c), the servants of the holder of a license granted under the Act cannot be made liable for breach of the conditions of the license. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOPAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 396 = Cr. Rg. 54 of 1888.

(68)—S. 45 (c)—Failure to open toddy shop, etc.—The accused was convicted of a breach of the license under s. 45 (c) of the Bombay Abkari Act, in that he did not establish toddy shops at certain places within a certain time. Held, reversing the conviction, that the license, by not specifying any time for opening of shops, left the matter to subsequent adjustment between the Collector and the contractor who finally came to terms. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAJA RAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 290 = Cr. Rg. 30 of 1886. [R., Rat. Un. Cr. C. 552.]

(69)—S. 45 (c)—Omission of liquor contractors to open shop, to affix board and to keep accounts.—The omission by licensed liquor-contractors to open a shop, to affix a board and to keep accounts, does not come within the meaning of s. 45 (c) of the Bombay Abkari Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PHEROJSHOB HORMUSJEE, 1 Bom. L.R. 164. (16 B. 669, F.)

(70)—S. 45 (c)—Omission to keep accounts.—Breach of conditions of license.—The omission to keep true accounts is a breach of the conditions of the license. The receiving into the shops of liquor without keeping true accounts is an act in breach of such conditions. EMPEROR v. MASCERENAS, J. B., 6 Bom. L.R. 253.

(71)—S. 45—Act in breach of the conditions of the license.—A licensee holding a license under Bombay Act V of 1878, who omits to pay the sum fixed by the Collector on account of the costs of the Government establishment on the first of the month as required by cl. 15, is not liable to punishment under s. 45 (e), as the omission does not amount to an "act in breach of the conditions of the license." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VENKATESH BAL SHENVI, 1 Bom. L.R. 690.

(72)—S. 45 (c)—Breach of conditions of license—License Rule 20—Sale - Sub-letting of contract—Construction of rule.—The accused agreed with the complainant to allow his name to be used as a contractor from Government, for two shops for the sale of country liquor. The funds for the contract proceeded from the complainant, and the accused was to be paid a certain sum by the complainant, for allowing his name to be used. The contract was knocked down to the accused; and the licenses were issued in his name. One of the conditions of the licenses was as follows: "The licensee shall not sell, transfer or sublet his right of sale of country spirits under this license, nor enter into any agreement in connection with the exercise of the said right, which, in the opinion of the Collector, is in the nature of sub-lease." The shops remained in the complainant's possession and were managed by him. On these facts, the accused was proceeded against under s. 45 (c) of the Act, for the breach of a condition in the license. It was contended on behalf of the accused that the right of sale conferred by the license had been obtained through him as a benamidar (and not from him as a person who had acquired that right for himself), and that, therefore, the offence charged had not been committed. Held negativing the contention, that, though, by supplying the necessary funds, a person, other than the licensee named in the license, might acquire a beneficial interest in the proceeds or profits of sales, he could not, by so supplying funds, acquire the right of sale through the licensee named—such right being conferred by virtue of the Act only upon the person named, and that the person named in the license could not set up as a defence that another person had acquired the right of sale through him as an agent or benamidar—instead of from him as the person who had that right in himself. EMPEROR v. MAHADEVAPPA, 8 Bom. L.R. 990=5 Cr. L.J. 10.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1878 (Bom. Abkari)—continued.

(72-a)—S. 45—See Nos. 47, 48, 49, 57, supra.

(73)—Ss. 45(c), 53—Breach of license by servant—Liability of master.—The holder of a license for the sale of country liquor cannot be convicted of a breach of license, merely because his servant, a liquor shop-keeper, has given short measure to a customer, where it is proved that the licensee has taken all reasonable precautions such as reasonable men would use to prevent the commission of such offences by his servants. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DADABHOY, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 691=Cr. Rg. 15 of 1894.

(74)—*S.*46 (a)—Mixing water.—Mixing water with liquor is not an offence under s. 46 (a) of the Bombay Abkari Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHIMA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 597=Cr. Rg. 16 of 1892.

(75)—S. 46—See No. 47, supra.

(76)—S. 47—Possession of more than one gallon of liquor without permit.—The accused was convicted of the offence of being in possession of more than a gallon of country liquor without a permit or pass from the Collector, under s. 47 of the Bombay Abkari Act. Held that the conviction was, on its face, unsustainable, as the section did not make the possession of more than one gallon of country liquor penal. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KANA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 310=Cr. Rg. 62 of 1886.

(77)—S. 47—Casual presence in and charge of shop—Possession of more than prescribed quantity.—Mere casual presence in and charge of a building containing liquor in illegal quantity does not constitute possession within the meaning of s. 47 of the Bombay Abkari Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. PANDURANG, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 436.

(78)—S. 47—Possession of Mhowra liquor—Quantity—Liability of head of family—Number of the family members not material.—Under s. 47 of the Bombay Abkari Act the possession of 2 gallons and 2½ seers of mhowra liquor is illegal, in the absence of any license, permit, pass or special order, and the law does not allow the head of a family to exceed that limit, merely because he has a family of ten or twelve members, of whom five are adults. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. FARSU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 292=Cr.Rg. 34 of 1886.

(79)—S. 47—See Nos. 22, 50, 51, 52, supra.

(80)—Ss. 47, 9 and 11—Kaju liquor—Country liquor—Possession of the liquor—Mere possession of the liquor under the maximum limits is no offence.—The mere possession of Kaju liquor, on which no duty has been paid, but which is under the quantity fixed by s. 17 of the Abkari Act, is not punishable under s. 47 of the Act. EMPEROR v. DATTA KHETAR DESAI, 10 Bom. L.R. 284=7 Cr. L.J. 307.

(81)—S. 53—Principle to be applied to cases under the Act—Mens rea—Master's liability for servant's defaults.—The principle with regard to the Abkari Act, 1878, is that licenses to keep shops are only granted to persons of good personal character, and it is obvious that the object of so restricting the grant of licenses would be defeated, if the licensed person could, by delegating the control and management of the house to another person who was altogether unfit to keep it, free himself from responsibility for the manner in which the shop was conducted. Mens rea is not required where the acts prohibited by a statute are not criminal in any sense, but are prohibited in the public interest, under a penalty. This principle is substantially adopted in s. 53 of the Abkari Act, with the exception, that it is open to the license-holder, according to the section, to prove facts to show that he is not liable for his servant's defaults or acts. EMPEROR v. WAMAN DHANRAJ, 10 Bom. L.R. 171=7 Cr. L.J. 191.

(82)—S. 53—See Nos. 47, 52, 53, 54, 73, supra.

(83)—S. 54—See No. 55, supra.

(84)—S. 55—Order of confiscation, when and by whom to be made.—Under the provisions of the Bombay Abkari Act, s. 55, the Collector cannot make a valid order of confiscation before the expiration of one month from the date of seizure of the articles. FRAMJI MANEKJI PUNJAJI v. THE SECRETARY OF STATE FOR INDIA IN COUNCIL, 17 B. 154.

(85)—S. 55—Magistrate, powers of—Order of confiscation.—A Magistrate is not competent to order confiscation under the Bombay Abkari Act, the Collector alone being invested with such power by s. 55 of the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BASLINGAPA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 149=Cr. Rg. 22-7-1880.

(86)—S. 56—See No. 9, supra.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1878 (Bom. Abkari)—concluded.

(87)—Ss. 56, 60—Land Revenue Code, Bom. Act V of 1879, s. 209—Conviction under s. 60 of former Act—Appellate Court convicting under latter Act—Validity of convictions.—The accused was convicted by a second class Magistrate of the offence of breach of a license under the Bombay Abkari Act, and fined Rs. 10. In appeal, the first class Magistrate, under s. 60 of the Act and s. 209 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code, enhanced the fine to Rs. 100. Held that s. 60 of the Bombay Abkari Act did not apply. The accused was convicted by a Magistrate under s. 56 of the Act, and, in appeal, the first class Magistrate could not make any order under s. 209. Land Revenue Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MIYA SAHEB, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 254 = Cr. Rg. 14 of 1886.

(88)—S. 59—Reward—Apportionment of.—Under the rule under s. 59 of the Bombay Abkari Act, a Magistrate is bound to name each person to whom a portion of the fine is to be given by way of reward. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BALYA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 482 = Cr. Rg. 46 of 1889.

(89)—S. 60—See No. 87, supra.

(90)—S. 62—See No. 10, supra.

(91)—S. 64—See No. 20, supra.

(92)—S. 65—See No. 20, supra.

(93)—S. 66—See No. 20, supra.

(94)—S. 67—See No. 20, supra.

Act VII of 1878 (Bom. Cotton Frauds).

[REP., BOM. ACT I OF 1882.]

(1)—Ss. 6 and 14, Act VII of 1878 (Cotton Frauds Bombay), effect of.—The effect of the new Cotton Frauds Act (Bombay), ss. 6 and 14, is to make possession of adulterated cotton liable to confiscation, punishable with fine, and it is immaterial where the adulteration takes place. IMPERATRIX v. KHIM CHAND NARAYAN, 3 B. 384.

Act V of 1879 (Bombay Land Revenue Code).

[REP. IN PT., BOM. ACT III OF 1886. REP. IN PT. AND AM.—ACT XVI OF 1895; BOM. ACT, VI OF 1901; (LOCALLY) BOM. ACT I OF 1880, S. 39; (LOCALLY) BOM. ACT VI OF 1888, SS. 3, 33, AS AM. BY BOM. ACT II OF 1905. AM. BOM. ACT VII OF 1879, S. 2; AM. BOM. ACT IV OF 1886, SS. 3 (1), 38, 43, 52, 80, 187, 214, HEADING ABOVE S. 40, SCH. B, AM. S. 144; REP. IN PT., BOM. ACT IV OF 1905. REP. (IN COORG), REG. I OF 1899. S. 85 AND PART OF S. 58 DECLARED NOT TO BE IN FORCE IN THE PANCH MAHALS ACT VII OF 1885.]

(1)—Ss. 12, 87 — Distraint by Karkoon—Resistance — Proceedings of Lower Court—Presumption by High Court on review—See PENAL CODE, s. 183, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 325 = Cr. Rg. 13 of 1887.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1879 (Bombay Land Revenue Code)—continued.

(2)—S. 37—See CRIMINAL TRESPASS, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 393 = Cr. Rg. 49 of 1888.

(3)—S. 87—See No. 1, supra.

(4)—Ss. 125, 214, 215—Rules 101 and 111 made under s. 214—Digging earth close to a boundary—Boundaries and boundary marks—Jurisdiction.—Rule 101 of the Rules made by the Government of Bombay under s. 214, Land Revenue Code, providing that "the digging of earth close around an earthen boundary-mark for the purpose of repairing is prohibited, and a space of two cubits in breadth all round each such mark is to be left untouched, so as to prevent injury to the mark from water lodging in the cavities from which earth is taken for the repairs,"—is not such a rule as can legally be made under s. 214 (g) of the Code. It is not a rule "for the administration of survey settlement." Such a settlement is a settlement of the land revenue, and relates only to such matters as are referred to in chap. VIII of the Code, and not to boundaries and boundary-marks. Boundaries and boundary-marks are dealt with in chap. IX, and penalties for injuring boundary-marks are specially provided by s. 125 of the Code, which gives no jurisdiction to Magistrate. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. IRAPPA, 13 B. 291.

(5)—Ss. 141, 142—See PENAL CODE, ss. 379, 424, 1 Bom. L.R. 515.

(5-a)—S. 142—See No. 5, supra.

(6)—S. 189—Inquiry for appointing Police Patel—Mamlatdar—Summons to attend—Penal Code, s. 174.—S. 189 of the Bombay Land Revenue Code does not empower a Mamlatdar to summon any person to attend before a Deputy Collector who is making certain inquiries about the appointment of a Patel for an inam village. A failure to attend in obedience to such a summons is not an offence under s. 174 of the Penal Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VIDIADHAR, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 488 = Cr. Rg. 52 of 1889. (5 B.H.C. Cr. 33, R.)

(7)—Ss. 189, 197—Mamlatdar holding enquiry relating to record of rights under—Whether a Revenue Court—Sanction to prosecute—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 195 (1) (c), 16 Bom. L.R. 678 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 243.

(7-a)—S. 197—See No. 7, supra.

(8)—S. 209—See BOM. ACT V OF 1878, ss. 56, 60, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 254 = Cr. Rg. 14 of 1886.

(9)—S. 214—Removing stones with occupant's permission.—A person who has dug and removed stones from land in the possession of a person having occupancy rights therein under the Land Revenue Code with such person's permission, cannot be convicted under cl. (d) of Rule III framed under s. 214 of the Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BHOJILAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 531 = Cr. Rg. 68 of 1890.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1879 (Bombay Land Revenue Code) —continued.

(10)—Rule III, cl. 1 (d)—Offences under the Rule—Jurisdiction — Bom. General Clauses Act (1886) s. 3 (13).—An offence committed in contravention of Rule III, cl. 1, item (d) of the rules framed under s. 214, Land Revenue Code, 1879, is triable, having regard to the provisions of s. 3 (13) of the Bom. General Clauses Act, by any person exercising Magisterial powers under the Code of Criminal Procedure. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BAI EMMA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 681 = Cr. Rg. 46 of 1893. (8 B. 591, Overruled).

(11)—S. 214—Offence under, by whom triable.—An offence under Rule III, cl. 1, item (d) of the rules under s. 214 of the Land Revenue Code is only triable by a Magistrate of the first class. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHIVRAM, 8 B. 591. [Diss., Rat.Un.Cr.C. 68.]

(12)—S. 214, r. III (b)—Cutting of trees from assessed occupied survey number.—A person cutting a tree from an assessed occupied survey number cannot be punished under Rule III (b), framed under s. 214, of the Bombay Land Revenue Code. EMPEROR v. VENKAPPA, 4 Bom. L.R. 625.

(13)—S. 214, r. III, cl. 1—Trees—Question of right.—There can be no conviction under cl. 1 of r. III made under s. 214 of the Land Revenue Code when there is no direct evidence to the ownership of the trees being in the Government. The fact that the Government has asserted ownership in other trees in other parts of the village is not such evidence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GANESH RAGHUNATH, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 828 = Cr. Rg. 71 of 1895. (18 B. 670, R.)

(14)—S. 214—See No. 4, supra.

(15)—S. 215—See No. 4, supra.

(16)—Rules 48 and 111, cl. (2) (a)—Encroachment on public road. — The accused encroached on part of a public road and enclosed it in its own field with an embankment and cultivated it; he was thereupon convicted of an offence under the Land Revenue Code s. 214, Rule 48, and sentenced to pay a fine of Rs. 10 under Rule 111, cl. 2 (a) framed under the same section. Held that, as the land encroached upon by the accused did not fall under the prohibition contained in Rule 48, the conviction was illegal QUEEN-EMPRESS v. YADU bin ARJUNA, 1 Bom. L R. 161.

(17)—Rules 103 (1) and 40, Breach of.—Where a person removed stone from the earth for making lime, without the permission of the Revenue authorities, and was convicted under Rules 103 (1) and 40 of the Land Revenue Code. Held, reversing the conviction, that Rule 40 was permissive and merely conferred certain privileges on persons obtaining permission under it, and that failure to apply for such permission did not amount to a breach for the Rule. CROWN v. MANGHO walad VENSI, 9 Cr. L.J. 258 = 1 S.L.R. 16 Cr.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act V of 1879 (Bombay Land Revenue Code) —concluded.

(18)—Rule III, cl. (2) (d)—Excavating foundation and building wall in village site without permission.—Excavating, without permission, a foundation on the site of a village and building a wall upon it is not an offence under Rule III, cl. (2) (d), of the Rules under the Land Revenue Code. The act of unauthorised occupation can be taken notice of by the Revenue authorities and not by a Magistrate's Court. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHESHIBHAT, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 200 = Cr Rg. 8-5-1884.

Act VII of 1879 (Bombay Irrigation).

[REP. IN PT. ACT XVI OF 1895; BOM. ACT III OF 1880; BOM. ACT III OF 1886.]

(1)—S. 61, cl. 10—Conviction—Court's duty to specify the sub-section—Practice.—Under cl. 10 of s. 61 of the Bombay Irrigation Act, a person cannot be convicted, unless it is found that (1) he was responsible for the maintenance of a water-course or used of water-course and (2) that there were certain proper precautions which should have been taken by him for preventing the waste of water, and that he neglected to take these precautions. Held, further, that, in all convictions under a section of an Act which contains several sub-sections, the sub-section under which the accused is convicted must be stated in it, and it must be shown clearly how the act or omission complained of is an offence. CROWN HAJI v. MIR MAHMAND walad HAJI SADNALLAH, 9 Cr. L J. 271 = 1 S L.R. 32 Cr.

 Act XVII of 1879 (Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief).

[REP. IN PT. ACT XII OF 1891; ACT XVI OF 1895, REP. IN PT. AND AMENDED —ACT XXIII OF 1881; ACT XXII OF 1882; ACT XXIII OF 1886; ACT VI OF 1895. PROVISO ADDED TO S. 59, BOM. ACT I OF 1902, SS. 10A, 22A, INSERTED BY BOM. ACT II OF 1907.]

(a)—S. 2 (2) (4)—See No. 2, infra.

(1)—S. 64—Person to grant receipt.—Under s. 64 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act, the person to whom the payment is made is the person who is to tender the receipt. A clerk of a firm, to whom payment is made, is authorised to grant such receipt. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. RAJMAL, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 903 = Cr. Rg. 12 of 1897.

(2)—Ss. 64, 67, 2 (2) (4)—Bullocks, sale of—Passing of receipt—Money includes bullocks.—A person purchasing bullocks from an agriculturist is bound to pass a receipt under s. 64 of the Dekkhan Agriculturists' Relief Act, for the word "money" as used in that section includes bullocks. EMPEROR v. GOVINDA BABAJI BABDE, 16 Bom. L.R. 683 = 2 Bom. Cr. Cas. 248.

(3)—S. 67—See No. 2, supra.

* These Local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act II of 1884 (District Municipalities Amendment).

[REP., BOM. ACT III OF 1901.]

(a)—See STREET, 20 B. 83.

(b)—S. 32 (h)—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, s. 84, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 694 = Cr. Rg. 21 of 1894.

(1)—S. 33 (b)—Act III of 1901, s. 48 (b) (iii) —Scope of section.—A bye-law framed by a District Municipality provided that "Every place used for drying fish or fins shall be surrounded by a wall not less than six feet in height or with a fence made of bamboo mats or double cadjan leaves." Held, that the bye-law was ultra vires of the powers conferred by s. 33 (b) of Bombay Act, II of 1884, and s. 48 (b) (iii) of Bombay Act, III of 1901, as both these sections extended only to the regulation of business within the place used and gave no authority to require external structures. EMPEROR v. RAGHUNATH JIWABA, 4 Bom. L.R. 585.

(1-a)—S. 33—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, s. 70, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 797 = Cr. Rg. 55 of 1895.

(2)—S. 36—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 615 = Cr. Rg. 37 of 1892.

(3)—S. 49—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, ss. 82, 84, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 420 = Cr. Rg. 86 of 1888.

(4)—S. 61—Appearance of accused by her ather-in-law—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), ss. 4 and 205.—A woman was charged with the offence of fouling water under s. 61 of the Bombay District Municipal Act. She being unwell, her father-in-law appeared in Court on her behalf and the trying Magistrate proceeded with the case and convicted her. Held, that the father-in-law of the accused might probably have been received by the trying Magistrate as a person appointed by her to act in the proceedings before him consistently with s. 4 of the Crim. Pro. Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHANDRABHAGA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 206 = Cr. Rg. 26th Aug. 1884.

Act III of 1886 (General Clauses).

[REP. IN PART, AS TO BOMBAY REG. XII OF 1817, BOM. ACT IV OF 1890. REP. (EXCEPT SO MUCH OF SCH. B AS RELATES TO UNREPEAL ENACTMENTS) BOM. ACT I OF 1904, AS AMENDED BY BOM. ACT IV OF 1905.]

(1)—Ss. 6, 43 (a), (b)—Importing of bhang into British territory—Receipt in a Railway Station in Native State—No cession of territory to Government—Offence.—The applicant was charged with having imported bhang into the Presidency of Bombay, inasmuch as a parcel containing bhang and bearing his name and address was received at a Railway Station in a Native State. It appeared that the criminal jurisdiction along the line of the Railway was ceded to the Government, but there had been no cessation of territory. Held, that no offence was committed unless the importation was

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1886 (General Clauses)—concluded.

into the Presidency of Bombay, that is, into territories which formed part of British India, and, if the land upon which the offence was alleged to have been committed had not actually been ceded, it could not form part of British India. EMPEROR v. RAGHUNATH RAO VINÆKRAO, 5 Bom. L.R. 873.

(2)—S. 8—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, s. 84, 3 Bom. L.R. 584.

(3)—S. 12—See BOM. ACT VIII OF 1867, s. 15, 6 Bom. L.R. 357.

(3-a)—S. 12 — See PENAL CODE, s. 64, 6 Bom. L.R. 357.

(4)—S. 43 (a) (b)—See No. 1, supra.

Act IV of 1887 (Prevention of Gambling).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XVI OF 1895. AMENDED, BOM. ACT I OF 1890.]

(1)—Amending Act I of 1890—Gaming includes wagering.—The word 'gaming' in the Act has now, under the provisions of Bombay Act I of 1890, to be read as including wagering. KING-EMPEROR v. AHMED HAJI, 4 Bom. L. R. 297.

(2)—See BOM. ACT I OF 1890, s. 12, 16 B. 283, F.B.

(3)—S. 3—Instrument of gaming—Paper for registering wager.—A single page of paper used for registering wagers is an instrument of gambling within the meaning of s. 3 of Act IV of 1887. EMPEROR v. LAKHAMSI MALSI, 29 B. 264 = 6 Bom. L.R. 1091.

(4)—S. 3—Common gaming house—Evidence. —In the absence of evidence that a house is used for profit or gain, it cannot be held to be a common gaming house as defined in Bombay Act IV of 1887, s. 3. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MAGAN KALA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 840 = Cr. Rg. 9 of 1896.

(5)—Ss. 3 and 4—Rain betting.—The accused kept a certain shed. The people frequented the shed to bet on the quantity of rain which may fall in a given time. The instruments kept there and used for such purpose were a rain guage and a gutter. The rainfall used to be registered by the accused, who, after deducting a commission on each bet, paid over the money to the winner. Held that, although the place was used as a common betting house and the instruments were those of betting, there was no gaming, as there was no contest, no players, and no participation by the players, save as onlookers; and the place was not a common gaming house. The accused was not, therefore, guilty of an offence under s. 4 (b) and (c) of Bombay Act IV of 1887. It would be an undue straining of the word "gaming" to hold that it covered "rain-betting." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NAROTTAMDAS MOTIRAM, 13 B. 681. [R., 16 B. 283, 39 C. 968 = 13 Cr. L.J. 603 = 16 C.L.J. 250 = 16 C.W.N. 856 = 16 Ind. Cas. 171; D., 31 C. 542 = 8 C.W.N. 458, 4 Bom. L R. 297.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1887 (Prevention of Gambling) —continued.

(6)—Ss. 3, 4, 5—Betting on figures of auction at Calcutta—Books of accounts for registering bets—Telegrams announcing winning number—Instruments of gaming.—Wagering was carried on the figures which denoted the prices in Calcutta of the auction sales of opium cheats. The wagers were recorded in books, the different pages of which had the various units at the top of each page, and the betters were invited to inscribe their names under the various units, stating the amounts of their wagers. The winning numbers were communicated by means of telegrams from Calcutta. Held, that the books and telegrams were "instruments of gaming" within the meaning of s. 3 and that the persons dealing with these were guilty under s. 4. Held also, that this particular wagering was not a 'game' within the meaning of s. 5, and that, therefore, the presumption allowed by s. 7 of the Act was not applicable and that the accused could not be convicted under s. 5 of the Act. EMPEROR v. TRIBHOVANDAS BRIJBHUKANDAS, 26 B. 533=4 Bom. L.R. 271. [R., 29 B. 264=6 Bom. L.R. 1091, 5 Bom. L.R. 129, 6 Bom. L.R. 249.]

(7)—S. 4—Instrument of gaming—Ank satta book—Inference.—During the course of a search instituted under s. 6 of the Prevention of Gambling Act, an ank satta book was founded in the house of the accused. Held, that the book was an "instrument of gaming," and that the book having been found in the house of the accused, his house was a common gaming house. EMPEROR v. JAMNADAS HIRACHAND, 5 Bom. L.R. 129. [F., 5 Bom. L.R. 1047; R., 29 B. 264=6 Bom. L.R. 1091, 6 Bom. L.R. 249.]

(8)—Execution of warrant — Betting—Ank Satta book—Instrument of gaming— Evidence.—In execution of a warrant issued under s. 6 of Act IV of 1887, an ank satta book was found in the house of the accused. It appeared that there was betting in the house and that the bets were recorded in the book in his handwriting. It was also shown that he got one per cent. on the bets; and he himself admitted that the book was used for betting. Held, (1) that these circumstances put together justified the conclusion that the book was an instrument of gaming kept and used in the house for the purpose of profit by the accused, within the meaning of s. 4 (a); (2) that direct evidence was not necessary to prove the use of the book in the house; but such use might be inferred from the facts and surrounding circumstances found to exist. EMPEROR v. NAROTAM MOTIRAM, 5 Bom. L.R. 1047.

(9)—S. 4—Place where Jota business is carried on—Common gaming house.—A person keeping for his profit a place where brokers and others carry on Jota business, i.e., wagering from day to day on the total sale of cotton bales in Liverpool, and where the wagering books are kept or used, is guilty of keeping a common gaming house and is liable to be punished under s. 4 of Act IV of 1887. EMPEROR v. CHAGANLAL JIWRAJ, 6 Bom. L.R. 249. (26 B. 553=4 Bom. L.R. 287, 5 Bom. L.R. 129, R.) [R., 29 B. 264=6 Bom. L.R. 1091.]

(10)—S. 4 (a), (c)—Place—Chok—Interpretation.—The term 'place' as used in s. 4 of the Bombay Prevention of Gambling Act, includes a small open space surrounded by houses on all sides, accessible by a narrow lane having a sign board pointing to the space, and appropriated by the lessee in occupation for the business of betting. EMPEROR v. FATTU MAHOMED SHER MAHOMED. 15 Bom. L. R. 689=2 Bom. Cr. C. 96=14 Cr. L.J. 449=20 Ind. Cas. 609=37 B. 651.

(11)—S. 4—See Nos. 5, 6, supra.

(12)—Ss. 4 and 5—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—In awarding imprisonment in default of payment of fine under ss. 4 and 5 of Bom. Act IV of 1887, the Court should keep in view the provisions of s. 65, I.P.C. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VENKATA bin TIMANNA, 2 Bom. L. R. 1081.

(13)—Ss. 4, 5—Common gaming house.—The accused opened a shop wherein he kept a table with a cover on it. The cover had on it numbers 6 to 36. They were not consecutive numbers. On each number was placed an article such as a clock, a watch, etc., of the values ranging from Rs. 1-8 to Rs. 15. Any customer who paid Rs. 2 was given by the accused six dice. The dice had six sides, each of which bore marks ranging from one to six. The customer was allowed one throw of the dice, and the number of points thus obtained was to entitle him to obtain the article placed on the corresponding number on the cloth. Held that the shop was a common gaming house, and the persons keeping the house and playing therein were punishable under ss. 4 and 5 of Bom. Act IV of 1887. KING-EMPEROR v. AHMED HAJI, 4 Bom. L.R. 297.

(14)—Ss. 4 and 5—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 4 (l), 4 Bom. L.R. 271=26 B. 533.

(15)—Ss. 4, 5, 6, 7—Keeping a common gaming house—Gaming in a common gaming house—Power to order search and arrest—Presumption under s. 7 of the Act—Criminal Procedure Code (Act V of 1898), ss. 65, 105.—The presumption under s. 7 of the Bombay Prevention of Gambling Act, 1887, only arises where there has been an arrest and search under s. 6 of the Act. Under s. 6 of the Act, as a first-class Magistrate has power to give authority under a special warrant, to a Police officer of the class designated in the section, to make the arrest and the search, the legislature must be presumed to have intended that the Magistrate, First Class, should have the authority to make the arrest and the search himself, if necessary. For, when the legislature empowers an officer to delegate an authority to do a certain act to another person, it necessarily implies that the original authority to do such act is fully and completely in the officer himself, but that it is necessary for the exigencies of business that it should be done in the majority of cases by persons acting under authority derived from him. Where the Bombay Prevention of Gambling Act has provided for the manner or place of investigating or inquiring into any offence under it, its provisions must prevail, and the Criminal Procedure Code must give way. Accordingly, no provision of the Code as to the authority empowered to issue a warrant for arrest or search, or the persons to whom and the conditions under which such warrant may be issued, can apply for the purposes of s. 7 of the Gambling Act. The authority, the persons and the conditions must be respectively those specifically mentioned in s. 6 of the Act and no other. But the special provision in s. 6 of the Bombay Act would still be subject to the general provisions of ss. 65 and 105 of the Code. When a Magistrate, First Class, or other officer mentioned in s. 6 of the Act, himself acts under its provisions, instead of acting through an officer of the particular class prescribed therein under a special warrant, he must act strictly in compliance with those provisions. The first condition necessary to make an arrest and seizure under the section legal, so as to bring in the operation of s. 7, is that, where the Magistrate is acting on information, there must be a complaint made before him on oath to set him in motion. When a Magistrate, First Class, or other officer mentioned in s. 6 himself does the act specified in cl. 3 of the section, instead of issuing a special warrant, he must give evidence, because he supplies the place of the warrant and the warrant is necessary part of the evidence for the prosecution. Where a Magistrate, First Class, himself makes an arrest and seizure under s. 6 of the Act, he must himself "enter" the "house, room or place" with, of course, the assistance of such persons as may be found necessary. S. 6 of the Act must be construed strictly, because s. 7 gives to an arrest and seizure under it an operation different from that of the general presumption of innocence in criminal cases. EMPEROR v. KAITAN DUMING FERNAD, 9 Bom. L.R. 695 =6 Cr. L.J. 60=31 B. 438. [R., 12 Cr.L.J. 149=9 Ind. Cas. 895=5 S.L.R. 40, 37 B. 402 =2 Bom. Cr. Cas. 29=15 Bom.L.R. 106=14 Cr. L.J. 204=19 Ind. Cas. 204.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1887 (Prevention of Gambling) —continued.

(16)—Ss. 4, 5, 6, 7—Presumption under s. 7 —Warrant under s. 6—Delay in execution of warrant—Previous conviction—Proof of—Crim. Pro. Code (Act V of 1898*), s.* 342—Evidence Act (I of 1872*), ss.* 10, 54.—Held by Chandavarkar and Aston, JJ., (Jacob, J., dissenting) that (1) the presumption created by s. 7 of the Prevention of Gambling Act (Bombay Act IV of 1887) can be applied to cases falling under s. 5 as well as to those falling under s. 4 of the Act. (2) Where a long interval elapses between the issue of a warrant under s. 6 of the Prevention of Gambling Act, 1887, and its execution, the applicability of s. 7 of the Act is not by that alone taken away. (3) In a trial for the offence of keeping a common gaming house under s. 4 of the Prevention of Gambling Act, 1887, evidence that the accused had been previously convicted of the same offence is admissible to show guilty knowledge or intention. Held, by Jacob, J., dissenting, (1) that the presumption created by s. 7 of the Prevention of Gambling Act, 1887, is sufficient for the purposes of s. 5. It is also sufficient for the purposes of s. 4 (a) so far as regards the fact that the house, etc., is so used, but it is not alone sufficient for the purpose of showing that the house was so kept or used by any specified person; (2) that in a trial for an offence under s. 4 (a) of the Prevention of Gambling Act, 1887, the evidence that he was previously convicted of a similar offence cannot be let in either under s. 54 or s. 11 of the Evidence Act, 1872. Per Aston, J.—"It is open to an accused to ask the Court to treat what the Legislature declares in s. 7 of the Prevention of Gambling Act, 1887, to be incriminating 'evidence' to be reduced in weight by any unreasonable delay which may take place between the issue of a warrant under s. 6 and its execution." "It is not competent to a Magistrate to ask an accused, under s. 342 of the Crim. Pro. Code, 1898, before his conviction, about the previous conviction, either with a view to take it into consideration for the purposes of conviction or with a view to dispense with formal evidence as to the alleged previous conviction and as to identity of the accused, in the event of conviction." EMPEROR v. ALLOOMIYA, 5 Bom. L.R. 805= 28 B. 129.

(17)—Ss. 4, 5, 7—Common gaming house.—In order to establish an offence under s. 4 of keeping a "common gaming house," it is necessary to show, in the first place, that the person charged is the owner, or occupier or a person "having the use" of the place in question. It is not sufficient to show that the accused used the place for the purpose of gambling there. EMPEROR v. WALIA MUSAJI, 29 B. 226=7 Bom. L.R. 16=2 Cr. L.J. 26. [R., 167 P.L.R. 1905.]

(18)—Ss. 4, 6—Common gaming house — When Police officer can arrest under the Act— Conviction under section, when sustainable.— A conviction under s. 4 will be sustained, only if it be shown that the house in which the accused were found was a common gaming house. EMPEROR v. MULCHAND, 4 Bom. L. R. 946.

(19)—Ss. 4, 12, object of—Gambling in Machwa hired by accused in harbour for the purpose.—Gambling in a Machwa, which was chartered by the accused and was used by them for the purpose in the Bombay Harbour, could not be said to be gambling in a public place, street, or thoroughfare, within the meaning of s. 12, Bombay Gambling Act. In s. 4, Bombay Gambling Act, the mischief aimed at is the practice of individuals making a profit by providing a spot of their own selection, known as a place where gambling is to be carried on, and making a livelihood by attracting people to a place which they would not otherwise frequent. In s. 12 of the Act, however, the offence is, not that the individual members are making a profit at all, but simply that they are carrying on their gambling with such publicity that the ordinary passer-by cannot well avoid seeing it and being enticed—if his inclinations lie that way—to join in or follow the bad example openly placed in his way. In the one case, comparative privacy for profit, in the other, bad public example and accessibility to the public. would seem to constitute the gravemen of the offence. S. 12 aims at gambling in a public place or thoroughfare and ordinarily applies to persons sitting on or near a road or public place with no intervening obstruction to the public view where there is voluntary publicity. EMPEROR v. JUSUB ALLY, 29 B. 386 = 7 Bom. L.R. 333 = 2 Cr. L.J. 252. (17 A. 166, R.) [R., 30 B. 348 = 8 Bom. L.R. 22 = 2 Cr. L J. 216, 14 Cr. L.J. 670 = 21 Ind. Cas. 910 = 9 N.L.R. 164.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1887 (Prevention of Gambling) —continued.

(20) – S. 5—Common gaming house.—S. 5 of Bom. Act IV of 1887 refers to persons found in a common gaming house ; it does not refer to persons who are in the habit of assembling in various places for the sole purpose of gambling. QUEEN EMPRESS v. SHEKH AHMEDBHAI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 763 = Cr. Rg. 25 of 1895.

(21)—S. 5—See Nos. 6, 12 to 17, supra.

(22)—Ss. 5, 6, 7—Common gaming house—Search without warrant under s. 6—Presumption under s. 7 cannot arise on such search.—A Police Officer qualified to act under s. 6 of the Bombay Prevention of Gambling Act, without a warrant issued under s. 6, raided a house in the City of Bombay, and arrested the accused who were found there with cards and small coin lying near them. They were tried by a Magistrate for gaming in a common gaming house, who, applying the presumption raised by s. 7 of the Act, found them guilty under s. 5 of the Act ;—Held, (1) that the Police Officer was entitled to make the search he did, even in the absence of a warrant under s. 6, for he had authority to make the arrest and the search himself which he could have empowered a Subordinate Officer to do under a warrant under his hand ; (2) that, in the absence of the warrant issued under s. 6, the presumption established by s. 7, that the mere finding of cards or dice was evidence that the house was used as a common gaming house, could not be applied ; (3) that, therefore, the convictions of the accused were unsustainable. EMPEROR v. JAFFUR MAHOMED, 15 Bom. L. R. 106 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 29 = 14 Cr. L.J. 204 = 19 Ind. Cas. 204 = 37 B. 402. (31 B. 438 = 9 Bom. L.R. 695, (1897) A.C. 22 (38), R.)

(23)—Ss. 5, 12—Gambling in a public place —Presumption under s. 5—Presumption cannot be applied.—The presumption mentioned in s. 5 of the Prevention of Gambling Act, cannot be applied to cases falling under s. 12 of the Act. EMPEROR v. HIRALAL MOTILAL, 15 Bom. L.R. 331 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 74 = 20 Ind. Cas. 143 = 14 Cr.L.J. 383.

(24)—S. 6—Arrest by Police officers.—A Police officer cannot arrest a person, under the Act, unless he holds a warrant under s. 6 of the Act. EMPEROR v. MULCHAND, 4 Bom. L. R. 946.

(25)—S. 6—Endorsement of warrant by an officer named therein to another, whether valid —Authority under warrant cannot be delegated. —Where the officer, to whom a warrant was issued under s. 6 of the Act, endorsed it to another officer, held, that the warrant should specify the officer to whom the authority is given and that he alone can execute the warrant. A "special warrant" is a warrant, which specially authorizes an officer to do a particular act or acts. CROWN v. MITHU, 3 S.L.R. 56 Cr. = 2 Ind. Cas. 371.

(26)—S. 6—Inquiry by Magistrate—Issue of warrant—Whether informant should have knowledge—Money found on person of accused—Confiscation.—S. 6 of the Bombay Gambling Act does not make it obligatory on a Magistrate, before issuing a warrant, to make inquiry after receiving information. This section only enjoins the Magistrate to make "such enquiry as he may think necessary," and the words do not mean that he is to make an inquiry, even though he may not think it necessary to do so. This section does not require that the informant should have knowledge ; it is sufficient if the informant testifies to a reasonable suspicion that any house, room or place is used as a common gaming house. On the conviction of the accused, the Magistrate cannot order the money on their person to be confiscated. IMPERATOR v. HIRO wd. BHOJRAJ, 1 S.L.R Cr. 64 = 8 Cr. L J. 182. (26 B. 641, F.)

(27)—S. 6—Search—Police officer.—A police officer of a lower rank than a Chief Constable cannot, under s. 6 of Bombay Act IV of 1887, enter a house with a search warrant. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SUBBABHATTA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 825 = Cr. Rg. 68 of 1895.

(28)—S. 6—Warrant—When valid.—Where a warrant, issued by the Commissioner of Police under s. 6 of the Bombay Prevention of Gambling Act, contains a sufficiently accurate description of the house or room to be searched, it is not illegal, merely because it does not correctly specify the locality of the house or room to be searched. EMPEROR v. KRISHNA RUTNA DALVI, 6 Bom. L.R. 52.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1887 (Prevention of Gambling) —continued.

(29)—S. 6—See Nos. 15, 16 and 18, supra.

(29-a)—Ss. 6, 7.—Presumption under s. 7, dependent upon proper warrant under s. 6—Defence, duty of.—Where the conviction was based upon the fact that instruments of gambling were found on the premises, such fact being treated as evidence that the premises were used as a common gaming house under the special provisions of s. 7, but the sworn complaint had not been put in, except that the Police Inspector had stated that the warrant under s. 6 was issued on information given on oath to the Magistrate, held, that the mere assertion of the Police Inspector that information was given on oath to the Magistrate granting the warrant, was not sufficient material for the trying Magistrate to come to the conclusion that the warrant was properly issued under s. 6, and to apply the provisions of s. 7 to the case. The mere finding of instruments of gambling in the house entered under the warrant is not proof that it was used as a common gaming house. KING-EMPEROR v. KADIR, 3 S.L.R. 78 = 3 Ind. Cas. 893. [Diss., 82 Cr.L.J. 149 = 9 Ind. Cas. 895 = 5 S L.R. 40.]

(30)—Ss. 6 and 7—Validity of warrant disputed—Proof.—Held, that before any presumptions of guilt can be drawn against the accused under s. 7 of the Gambling Act, it is incumbent on the trying Magistrate to be satisfied that the warrant issued by the Police Officer under s. 6 of the Act was a valid one. And where the Magistrate had merely referred to an uncertified copy of the statement made by the informer, without calling for further proof, held, that he had no sufficient materials to hold that the warrant was a valid one. CROWN v. SEJU walad CHATU, 9 Cr. L. J. 267 = 1 S L.R. 27, Cr.

(31)—Ss. 6, 7—Warrant—Search—Complaint on oath—Evidence Act (I of 1872), s. 114 (e)—Evidence.—Though it is desirable to formally produce in evidence a warrant issued under s. 6, yet where the complainant states that he searched the house under warrant, and such warrant and his complaint on oath appear in the proceedings of the Magistrate, and it is not alleged that the complainant searched the house under any other warrant, or that the warrant was not regularly issued under the said section, the High Court will not exercise its discretionary powers of revision. (28 B. 533, 6 Bom. L.R. 379, 1 Cr. L.J. 390, R.) The complaint on oath is not a necessary part of the evidence of the prosecution; ordinarily, it would be sufficient to rely on the maxim "omnia rite esse acta" after formal proof of the search-warrant. ABDULLAH v. EMPEROR, 9 Ind. Cas. 895 = 12 Cr. L.J. 149 = 5 S.L.R. 40. (1 S.L.R. 27, 1 S.L.R. 67, 3 S.L.R. 78, 3 Ind. Cas. 893, 3 S.L.R. 84, 3 Ind. Cas. 895, Dissented from.)

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1887 (Prevention of Gambling) —continued.

(32)—Ss. 6, 7 and 11—Warrant—Further inquiry by Magistrate before issuing one—Presumption under s. 7, when will arise—Duty of Magistrate—Motives of informant, relevancy of.—S. 6 of the Bombay Gambling Act does not make it obligatory on a Magistrate to make, before issuing a warrant, further inquiry after a complaint was made to him if he thinks it not necessary to do so. The presumption under s. 7 will not arise, unless it is shown that the warrant was issued under the provisions of s. 6, and, therefore, in every case it is necessary that the Magistrate should exhibit and bring on the record the complaint on oath and the warrant. The motives of the informant of an offence under the Bombay Gambling Act are altogether irrelevant, and s. 11 of the Act shows that the Legislature recognized that the informant might be actuated only by the hope of reward. IMPERATOR v. PAMAN, 1 S.L.R. 67 Cr. = 8 Cr. L.J 185. (1 S.L.R. 64, Cr., R.) [Diss., 12 Cr. L.J. 149 = 9 Ind. Cas. 895 = 5 S.L.R. 40.]

(33)—S. 7—Onus of proof—Construction of Act.—Bombay Act IV of 1887 must be strictly construed, as s. 7 departs from the ordinary rules of evidence and places the burden of proof on the accused. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SUBHABHATTA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 825 = Cr.Rg. 68 of 1895.

(34)—S. 7—Common gaming house—Presumption.—Where 13 persons were found in a room in the upper story of a house, sitting in a circle gambling with dice, and having a quantity of cowries and money before them, held, that the above facts would be evidence under s. 7 of Bombay Act IV of 1887, until the contrary was proved, that the room was used as a common gaming house and that the persons found therein were then present for purpose of gaming. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BAI VAJU, 22 B. 745.

(35)—S. 7—Documents not formally exhibited, though in possession of Court—Duty of Court.—Where both the complaint made under s. 6 and the warrant issued thereon are actually on the file of the proceedings, if they are not formally exhibited and put on the record as evidence, the Magistrate should, in the exercise of a wise discretion, before the close of the prosecution case, draw the attention of the prosecution to the fact that the documents have not been exhibited, and ascertain whether or not they are to be regarded as having been produced as evidence for the prosecution under s., 244, Cr.P.C. CROWN v. GHOLAM HOOSEIN KARIMBUX, 3 S.L.R. 84 = 3 Ind.Cas. 895. [Diss., 12 Cr. L.J. 149 = 9 Ind. Cas. 895 = 5 S L.R. 40.]

(36)—S. 7—Search warrant— Presumption, nature of and when it arises.—Where a search warrant has been issued under the provisions of s. 7, it is for the accused to prove that the house was not a common gaming house and that the articles found therein were not there for the purpose of gaming. KING EMPEROR v. AHMED HAJI, 4 Bom. L.R. 297.

3.—Bombay Acts*—continued.

Act IV of 1887 (Prevention of Gambling) —continued.

(37)—S.7—Instruments of gaming—Presumption—Rebuttable—Search warrant.—Where the convicion was based upon the fact that instruments of gaming were found on the premises, held, that the presumption under s. 7 was rebuttable, and was rebutted in this case by the fact that the warrant for search was issued, on the sworn information of an avowed gambler, that the accused all belonged to the same caste, and were, at the time of search, preparing tea, that cricketting things were found, as well as a money box with a little cash, and that the accused alleged that the premises were used by them as a club. TYAB ALI MOHAMUD ALI v. CROWN, 3 S.L.R. 80.

(38)—S. 7—Warrant—Common gaming house—Presumption—Proof.—A Magistrate issued a warrant under the Act to a Mukhtiarkar to arrest the appellant. Held, as the warrant was not issued to a Police officer, no presumption under s. 7 of the Gambling Act arises, and that the prosecution must prove that the house in question is a common gaming house. CROWN v. CHELLARAM, 2 S.L.R. 40, Cr. = 10 Cr. L.J. 205.

(39) S. 7—Bagatelle—Billiard balls—Game of skill—Game of chance—Presumption.—A bagatelle board and billiard balls are capable of being used both for games of skill and games of chance, and no presumption can be drawn under s. 7 of the Prevention of Gambling Act, QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MASUKH RAICHAND, Rat. Un. Cr. C 923 = Cr. Rg. 28 of 1897.

(39-a)—S. 7—See Nos. 15, 16, 17, 22, 29, 30, 31 and 32, supra.

(40)—S. 8—Seizure of money found on person in gambling house.—The power of seizing money, under s. 8 of Bombay Act IV of 1887, does not extend to that found on the persons of those who may be at the time in the gambling house. EMPEROR v. WALLI MUSSAJI, 26 B. 641 = 4 Bom. L R. 427. [R., 7 A.L.J. 404 = 6 Ind. Cas. 586 = 11 Cr. L.J. 373, 8 Cr. L.J. 182 = 1 S.L.R. 64.]

(41)—S. 11—See No. 32, supra.

(42)—S. 12—Conviction—Sentence.—Where a person is convicted of an offence under s. 12, Prevention of Gambling Act, he can be sentenced to pay a fine or to undergo imprisonment, but not to both. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. TUKARAM, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 686 = Cr. Rg. 5 of 1894.

(43)—S. 12—Public place, street or thoroughfare—Gambling in a second class compartment in a special Race Express running through—Accused found gambling at the reversing Station, where the train stopped for engine purposes—Public place — Interpretation.—The word "place" in s. 12 of the Act is qualified by the word "public" and having regard to its context, and its position in that context, it must mean a place of the same general character as a "road or thoroughfare," else it was pointless to use the words "street or thoroughfare" as they are there used. A railway carriage forming part of a through special train is not a public place within the meaning of s. 12 of the Act. Per Jenkins, C.J.—"I would be slow to place on the section (s. 12) an interpretation that would curtail its legitimate scope, but I am unable to regard the railway carriage, in which the accused were, as possessing such characteristics of, or bearing such a resemblance to, a street or thoroughfare as to justify us in holding that it was a public place within the meaning of s. 12." Per Russell, J.—"I am of opinion that to call or describe either the Railway line at the spot in question (i.e., at the Reversing Station, where the train stopped for engine purposes only and where the public would not have any right, without the permission of the Railway Company, to be on the line at all) or the carriage (in a special train, which took no passengers between the two termini of the journey) in which the accused were playing, as coming within any of the terms 'public street, place or thoroughfare' (in s. 12 of the Act) would be to place a wrong interpretation upon those words." EMPEROR v. HUSSEIN NOOR MAHOMED, 8 Bom. L R. 22 = 30 B. 348 = 3 Cr. L.J. 216. [R., 10 Cr. L.J. 16, 14 Cr. L.J. 670 = 21 Ind. Cas. 910 = 9 N.L.R. 164, 15 Cr. L.J. 468 = 24 Ind. Cas. 348 = 4 P.R. 1914, Cr. = 155 P.L.R. 1914, 19 Ind. Cas. 167 = 15 Bom. L.R. 101.]

(44)—S. 12—Public place—Swami's Math.—The accused were found playing for money with cards in a Math, which was enclosed in a compound wall and off the highway. It was managed by a Swami of the Lingayet community and was open to all Lingayets and to other castes, subject to certain restrictions. The Swami could, if he chose, keep the people out. Under these circumstances, the accused were convicted of an offence punishable under s. 12 of the Prevention of Gambling Act. Held, setting aside the convictions and sentences, that the 'Math' could not be regarded as a public place within the meaning of the Act. EMPEROR v. CHENAPPA, 15 Bom. L.R. 101 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 24 = 19 Ind. Cas. 167 = 14 Cr. L.J. 167.

(45)—S. 12—See Nos. 19, 23, supra.

Act III of 1888 (City of Bombay Municipal).

[REP. IN PT., ACT II OF 1901; REP. IN PT., BOM. ACT I OF 1897; REP. IN PT. AND AM., ACT XVI OF 1895; BOM. ACT IV OF 1888; AM., BOM. ACT I OF 1894; AM., BOM. ACT II OF 1899, SS. 5 (1), 5 (3), 6 (1); AM., BOM. ACT II OF 1900; AM., BOM. ACT II OF 1901. SUPPLEMENTED, ACT XII OF 1888;

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1888 (City of Bombay Municipal) —continued.

SUPPLEMENTED, ACT II OF 1889; SUPPLEMENTED, BOM. ACT V OF 1890; SUPPLEMENTED, BOM. ACT I OF 1898; SUPPLEMENTED, BOM. ACT II OF 1899. S. 74 (2) (c) AM., BOM. ACT V OF 1903. SS. 3 (u), 26 (j), 28 (c), (m), (p), 33 (1), (2), 68 (2), 77 (d), 118 (c), 120, 220, 221, 228, 229, 230 (1), (4), 231, 232, 233 (1), (2), 234 (2), 236, 238 (1), 239, 241, 242, 244, 246 (c), 247, 248, 253, 255, 256, 257, 258, 260, 272, 273, 281, 287 (2), 297, 302, 303 (1), 304 (1), (2), 338, 342, 344 (2), 347, 379, 470, 471, 472, 489 (2) AM., SS. 220-A, 232-A, 233-A, 246-A, 249-A, 251*A*, 251-B, 257-A, 259 A, 273-A, 287-A, 344-A, 349-A, 349-B, 349.C, 353-A, 354-A, 379-A, SCHS. S. & T. INS., SS. 226 259 (2) REP., SS. 337 (1), 343, 348 (1), 461 REP. IN PT. AND AM., BOM. ACT V OF 1905. SS. 39 (1), (5), (6), 10), 40 AND 121 AND HEADING THERETO REP. IN PT., SS. 39 (3), (7), (8), 80, 92, 118, 518 (1) AM., SS 39 (9), 461 (u) REP. IN PT. AND AM., SS. 62-A, 62-B, 62-C, 68-A, 76*A*, 76-B, 89-A TO 89-F, SCHS. U & V INS., BOM. ACT III OF 1907, WHEN NOTIFIED. SS. 61, 62, 111 AM, S. 62-D INS., S. 63 (a) AND S. 120 AND HEADING THERETO REP., BOM. ACT III OF 1907.]

(1)—S. 3, cl. (w)—Street—Passage kept open having houses on both sides of it.—The owner of a large piece of land divided it into several small building sites which were sold to different persons. These sites were ranged on either side of two proposed roads, which ran through the land and which touched a high road at the one end and a dead wall on the other. Each of the purchasers entered into a covenant with the owner, whereby he agreed to prepare and keep free, for passage, so much of the road as lay in front of his site. Under these circumstances, the question arose whether the proposed road fell within the meaning of the term "street" as used in the Act. Held, that the proposed road would constitute a "street" within the meaning of the Act. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER OF BOMBAY v. MATHURABAI, 8 Bom. L.R. 457 = 30 B. 558 = 4 Cr. L.J. 23.

(2)—S. 3 (10), 61 (b) — Public street—Stopping of rat-holes and re-setting of stones.—The stopping up of rat-holes and putting stones right by the Health Department of the Municipality is no proof of repair within the intent of the definition of "public street" in s. 3 (10) of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, but comes more appropriately under s. 61 (d) of the Act, the Corporation having to make many sanitary provisions and generally the abatement of all nuisances. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER OF BOMBAY v. VINAYEK RAMACHANDRA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 802 = Cr. Rg. 58 of 1895.

(3)—Ss. 3, 305—Public street—Private street—Sewer—Drain-pipe to carry off sullage water from adjoining houses.—The applicant owned a house abutting on a street which contained a drain-pipe laid by the Municipality. The drain pipe carried only sullage from the houses on either side of the street, and did not carry any rain-water or other water or sullage or anything else from the street itself. The Municipal Corporation of Bombay issued a notice on the applicant under s. 305 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, calling upon him to level, metal or pave, drain and light the street running by his premises. The applicant was, for disobedience of this notice, convicted under s. 471 of the Act. It was contended in defence that s. 305 did not apply, because the street in question was not private but public, owing to its having been sewered by the drain-pipe laid by the Municipality; Held that the srteet in question was not public, for it could not be said to be 'sewered' merely because there ran under it a pipe, which, though carrying off sullage water from certain houses, had no direct connection with the surface of the street. EMPEROR v. EDALJI K. PATEL, 14 Bom. L.R. 1169 = 1 Bom. Cr. C. 240 = 18 Ind. Cas. 267 = 14 Cr. L.J. 43.

(4)—S. 24—"City," meaning of.—In this section, "city" is not equivalent to the City of Bombay or the whole area to which the Municipal Act applies. EMPEROR v. BUDHOOBAI, 30 B. 126 = 7 Bom. L.R. 726 = 2 Cr. L. J. 604. [R., 9 Bom. L.R. 1321.]

(5)—S. 61—See No. 2, supra.

(6)—Ss. 63, 231, 471, 517—Municipal offence—Competency to complain.—The Municipal Commissioner is the only person empowered under the City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888, to take proceedings against any person who is charged with any offence against the Act. He has powers under s. 68 to delegate his functions under s. 517 (a) to any Municipal Officer by writing in this behalf and then such person can take proceedings, but no one else can. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NADIRSHAW H. SUKHIA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 987 = Cr. Rg. 45 of 1898.

(7)—S. 231—See No. 6, supra.

(8)—Ss. 231, 471—Failure to comply with notice to construct drain—Limitation—Protest against notice and reply thereto—Scope of s. 231.—The accused was convicted of an offence punishable under s. 471 of Act III of 1888, i.e., of failing to comply with the requisition of the Municipal Commissioner under s. 231, asking the accused to construct an open drain from his premises and connect it with the Municipal drain. The notice directed the accused to construct the drain in a particular part of his house and close to a particular wall thereof. The accused protested against the notice and the Municipal Commissioner replied that he would make enquiries. Finally, the Commissioner, seeing no reason to cancel the notice issued another notice asking the accused to carry out the work mentioned in the first notice; the accused's failure to comply with this notice resulted in the conviction in question. Held (1) that the complaint was not barred, the combined effect to the protest on the part of the accused and the reply on the part of the commissioner, stating that he would make further enquiries, being to keep the first notice in abeyance pending further enquiries, and it being competent to the Commissioner, when the result of the enquiries was adverse to the accused, to start proceedings against him and issue a fresh notice ; time, therefore, began to run only from the second notice ; (2) that it was not competent to the Commissioner, under s. 231 (a), to direct the accused to construct a drain so as to adjoin any particular part or wall of his premises. Cl. (a) of s. 231 of the Act merely gives the Commissioner power to require that a drain should be made " of such material, size and description, and laid at such level and with such fall and outlet as may appear to the Commissioner necessary, emptying into such Municipal drain or place aforesaid." There is nothing in the language of the section authorising the Commissioner to direct that a drain should be made so as to adjoin any particular part or wall of the premises. The requisition was so far ultra vires of the Commissioner, and the notice was illegal. EMPEROR v. NADIRSHA H. E. SUKHIA, 29 B. 35 = 6 Bom. L.R. 667.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1888 (City of Bombay Municipal) —continued.

(9)—S. 248 — Liability of fazendar.—Per Jardine, J.—The word " owner " in s. 3 of Bombay Act, III of 1888, does not primarily include the owner in fee entitled to ground-rent or quit-rent, where there is a lessee or other person in beneficial occupation actually getting the rent or capable of getting it, if he chooses to let the premises. Therefore a fazendar, who owns the lands on which a house is built, is not the person liable, as the owner of the premises, to provide the privy accommodation, the beneficial owner of the house built on the fazendar's land being the owner within the meaning of the statutable provision. Per Ranade, J.—The decision of the question depends not so much upon the proper construction of the word " owner " by itself, but on the words " owner of such premises " used in s. 248 of the Municipal Act. If the word " owner " stood by itself, it might, as defined in cl. (m) of s. 3, apply equally to the fazendar who owns the land as to the owners of the huts built on it, for, he receives the rent of his land just as much as the owners of the huts might receive the rent of the huts, if they let them to others and did not occupy them. Ss. 247, 249, 250, 251, seem to confine and narrow the more general meaning of the word " premises " used in s. 248 to buildings, i.e., the huts on the land in dispute. The words " such premises " must, therefore, be construed to refer to the huts for whose residents privy accommodation is necessary. A fazendar is not, therefore, liable under s. 248. MUNICIPALITY OF BOMBAY v. SHA PURJI DINSHA, 20 B. 617 = Cr. Rg. 32 of 1895.

(10)—S. 249—Construction.—The words " are employed " in s. 249 of the Bombay Municipal

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1888 (City of Bombay Municipal) —continued.

Act refer to employment of any kind or for any length of time. MUNICIPALITY OF BOMBAY v. AHMEDBHAI HABIBHOY, 23 B. 528 = 1 Bom. L.R. 12.

(11)—S. 249—Theatre—Place of public resort — Latrine accommodation.—A theatre is a place of public resort within the meaning of s. 249 of the Act. EMPEROR v. DWARKADAS, 8 Bom. L.R. 115 = 3 Cr. L.J. 236 = 30 B. 392.

(12)—S. 249—Notice to construct an urinal—Legality of notice.—Where a notice issued under s. 249, Bombay Act III of 1888, required a person to construct urinals in a particular place in his market, held, that the notice was ultra vires of s. 249, inasmuch as it required the accused to construct the urinals in a particular place in his premises, and that the accused could not be convicted for disobeying such notice. In re KHIMJI JAIRAM, 24 B. 75 = 1 Bom. L R. 431. [R., 29 B. 35 = 6 Bom. L. R. 667.]

(12-a)—S. 302—See No. 14, infra.

(12-b)—S. 303—See No. 14, infra.

(12 c)—S. 304 —See No. 14, infra.

(13)—S. 305—See No. 3, supra.

(14)—Ss. 305, 302 to 307—Private streets — Levelling and draining of — Owner of several premises—Premises—Owner dividing a large plot of ground into several building sites—The building sites let out on long terms to lessees —Lessees building houses and receiving rents—Lessees are owners of the premises—Construction of statutes.—The mere owner of land, who has let it out under a building scheme for building purposes, is not the owner of the property, within the meaning of s. 305 of the city of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888, because the property contemplated by the section necessarily embraces buildings, whether erected or to be erected ; and the legislature regards him as the owner of the premises who has the right to receive rent in respect of that property. It would, therefore, include a lessee from the original owner of vacant site, who leases the building site on a long term and erects a building upon the site. The word " premises " occurring in s. 305 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act must be presumed to have been used by the legislature in its legal sense, as referring to the particular kind of property which forms the subject-matter of the group of the immediately preceding sections of the Act (ss. 302—307). That group has reference to streets made for the use of buildings or building sites. The dominant idea running through the ss. 302 to 304 is that of buildings either erected or projected : that is the kind of property dealt within what has gone before s. 305 ; and, therefore, that is its " præmissa." It is a primary rule of interpretation that a word having a popular meaning ought to be construed in that sense. There is one exception to this rule, viz., unless there is something to the contrary in the context, words of known legal import are to be considered as having been used in their technical sense, when the law has attached that sense to them. EMPEROR v. RAMACHANDRA BHASKAR MANTRI, 12 Bom. L.R. 669=34 B 593=7 Ind. Cas. 935=11 Cr. L.J. 544.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1888 (City of Bombay Municipal) —continued.

(15)—S. 306—See No. 14, supra

(16)—S. 307—See No. 14, supra.

(17)—Ss. 308, 309, 342—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 236, 237,403 (1)—Acquittal on charge under s. 342.—The accused was prosecuted by the Bombay Municipality under s. 342 of the Bombay City Municipal Act, for adding two balconies to his house without the permission of the Municipality. He was acquitted. The Municipality then served a notice upon the accused under ss. 308 and 309, asking him to remove the two balconies and also two others which were not new; and on the accused's failing to comply with the notice, the Municipality prosecuted him again. The Magistrate referred to the High Court the question whether the previous acquittal of the accused precluded the Municipality from bringing the second charge against him. Held, that there was no bar to the second prosecution, as ss. 403 (1), 236, 237, Crim. Pro. Code, had no application. The second offence could not have been committed until the notice to remove was served on the accused, and this notice was not served on the accused till the year following that in which he was acquitted under the former charge. MUNICIPALITY OF BOMBAY v. JAVER JAGJIVAN, 4 Bom. L.R. 575.

(18)—Ss. 308, 315—Scope of sections.—Ss. 308, 315 of the Act apply to private and public streets, so that the use by the Corporation of its powers to remove projections and obstructions is not evidence that the street is a public street. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER OF BOMBAY v. VINAYAK RAMCHANDRA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 802=Cr. Rg. 58 of 1895.

(19)—S. 309—See No. 17, supra.

(20)—S. 315—See No. 18, supra.

(21)—Ss. 337 (2), 342, 349-C—To erect a building—"To re-erect," "To re-construct"—Frame buildings—Height of—Notice to Municipality.—The term "re-erection" applies to all buildings which are not included in s. 337 (2) of the Bombay City Municipal Act, 1888. A building with a ground floor, to which, after it has been in existence for some years, the owner wants to add one or more storeys, would fall within "re-erection," provided it is not of the description mentioned in the definition of erection. EMPEROR v. NANABHOY BEZANJI CHOKSEY, 9 Bom. L.R. 932=6 Cr. L.J. 236.

(21-a)—S. 342—See Nos. 17 and 21, supra.

(22)—S. 349-B—Height of buildings with reference to width of streets—Construction of statute—Casus omissus.—The accused erected a building, which touched, on either side of it, public streets which ran parallel to each other. The height of the house having exceeded the permissible limits, the Municipality required the accused to reduce the height, conformably to the provisions of s. 349-B of the City of Bombay Municipal Act. The accused disobeyed the requisition; and he was convicted and sentenced for the disobedience. Held, (1) that the building of the kind in question must, at all events, fulfil the conditions prescribed in cls. 1, 2 and 3 of s. 349—B with reference to both the streets on which it abuts, even if it did not fall within cl. 4 of the section, (2) that the provisions in question of the Act were intended in the interests of public health, and the Court ought to so construe them as to advance that object. It is not permissible to create a casus omissus by interpretation save in some case of strong necessity. EMPEROR v. RUSTOMJI J. GHORKHODU, 9 Bom. L.R. 633 =5 Cr. L.J. 338.

(23)—S. 349-B—Limit of height of buildings—Reconstructing a house burnt down—Abutting on street.—Where the owner of a house destroyed by fire pulls down its remaining walls to six feet above the plinth, and the house abuts on a street, the height, to which he can raise his new building, is governed by the provisions of s. 349-B of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888. Where, in reconstructing a house, the owner set it back by five inches from the street on which it originally abutted; held, that the house should be taken as abutting on the street notwithstanding the set-back. In re ALI MAHOMED, 9 Bom. L.R. 737=6 Cr. L.J. 80.

(24)—S. 349-C—See No 21, supra.

(25)—S. 353—Scope "Completion"—Meaning.—The word "completion" in s. 353, Bombay Act III of 1888, must be taken in its ordinary meaning, and the Court must not read into the section "in accordance with sanitary regulations" or "Sanitary officers' opinions." In re RAGHUNATH MAKUND, 19 B. 372.

(26)—S. 377 — Municipal Commissioner—Neglected premises—Notice to remove nuisance—Magistrate's discretion.—The accused was served with a notice of requisition under s. 377 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888, requiring him to remove filth, rubbish, heaps of cutchera and stable refuse from a large piece of vacant land belonging to him. He failed to comply with the requisition, and a prosecution was instituted against him. The Magistrate viewed the premises; and having so viewed them, but without hearing any evidence, acquitted the accused, as the premises did not appear to him to be in a filthy condition. Held that the premises having appeared to the Commissioner to be in a filthy condition, the notice was validly issued under s. 377 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888; and that, there having been a non-compliance of the notice, the offence was complete. Held, further, that the Magistrate was wrong in acquitting the accused on the sole ground that the premises did not appear to him to be in such a condition as to justify the issue of a notice under s. 377. S. 377 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888, enacts, that the only condition precedent to the valid issue of a requisition is that it shall appear, not to the Magistrate, but to the Commissioner, that the premises are in the condition specified in the section. EMPEROR v. RAJA BAHADUR SHIVLAL MOTILAL, 12 Bom. L.R. 126.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1888 (City of Bombay Municipal) —continued.

(27)—S. 379-A—Over-crowding of a house—Notice to abate over-crowding—Owner to be served with the notice.—Where the owner of a building lets his rooms separately to individual tenants, and these cause over-crowding, the notice to abate the same, under s. 379-A (1) of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888, must be given to the owner and not to the tenants. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER v. MATHURADAS GOKALDAS PASTA, 13 Bom. L.R. 640 = 11 Ind. Cas. 995 = 12 Cr. L.J. 459.

(28)—S. 381—Commissioner's power to require the owner to fill up low ground.—S 381 of Bombay Act III of 1888 empowers the Commissioner to require the owner of a low ground to cleanse and fill up the same; but it does not permit him to issue an order that an indefinite quantity of low-lying ground shall be filled up, much less that it shall be filled to some particular level or filled up with sweet earth, or that it shall be sloped in a particular direction. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER FOR THE CITY OF BOMBAY v. HARI DWARKOGI, 24 B. 125 = 1 Bom. L.R. 518.

(29)—S. 390—Factory, establishing of—Municipal Commissioner, Permission of.—The accused obtained the Municipal Commissioner's permission under s. 390 (1) of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888, to establish a hand-loom factory worked by an oil-engine: but by means of this oil-engine he also established a flour mill without any permission. The accused was, therefore, charged with the offence under s. 390 (1) of the Act. Held, that the accused was guilty of a technical offence under s. 390 (1) of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888; for, although the accused had leave to establish the hand-loom factory, he had no leave to establish the flour mill factory, which was, not the less, another and a separate factory, because it happened to be worked by the same power which it was proposed to employ in the permitted factory. EMPEROR v. MULJI DAMODARDAS, 12 Bom. L.R. 122.

(30)—S. 394—Scope—" Storing "—Intention—Exemptions.—The wording of the section requires that the premises, in order to attract the operation of the section, should be used for the purpose of storing. The phrase " for the purpose " indicates that it must be the intention of those using the premises to store, that storing must be the object aimed at, the final cause for which the premises are used. The actual use is by itself insufficient, in the absence of proof as to the object aimed at. The purpose to store must be the dominant motive. There is nothing in the exemption, which sub-s. 3 declares in favour of the specified mills, to imply that sub-s. 1 was intended to include any use to which they might be put, which was merely incidental or subsidiary to the paramount purposes to which the premises are devoted. Where articles are kept on the premises, not because of the purpose of storing them, but merely because they have not been consumed as rapidly as anticipated or for other similar reasons, it cannot be reasonably said that the premises are used on purpose for storing. The purpose or intention is the test sub-s. 3 of s. 394 is clearly intended only to give an exemption to mills for spinning or weaving cotton, wool, silk or jute, in respect of those particular articles with which those mills are concerned, and is not intended to touch or in any way affect their liability in respect of any other articles mentioned in Sch. M EMPEROR v. WALLACE FLOUR MILL COMPNAY, 29 B. 193 = 6 Bom. L.R. 735 = 1 Cr. L.J. 835. (20 C. 626, R.) [R., 14 Cr. L J. 103 = 18 Ind. Cas. 663 = 13 M.L T. 144 = 1913 M.W.N. 74.]

(31)—S 394—License—Stabling carts, etc.—An owner of premises, who, without a license, allowed cartmen to stable their carts and bullocks thereon receiving a fee of one rupee for each cart and a pair of bullocks, should be considered to use his premises for that purpose, and so to contravene the provisions of the section. CRIMINAL REFERENCE NO. 105 OF 1897, 4 Bom. L R. 945, Note. [R, 1 Bom. Cr.C, 178 = 14 Bom. L R. 882; D., 4 Bom. L.R. 943, 14 Bom. L R. 885-N = 13 Cr.L.J. 785 = 17 Ind. Cas. 529.]

(32)—S. 394—Term " premises " explained.—The meaning of the word " premises " in s. 394 is not restricted to buildings; it must also include open ground. S. B. MASTER, v. DHARAMSI JETHA, 3 Bom. L R. 43.

(33)—S. 394—Storing wood for bake-houses.—In s. 394 of Bom. Act III of 1888, the word " domestic " means " household " and connotes "dwelling" as opposed to manufacture or bake-house. The section aims at punishing people who, without a license or contrary to its terms, use premises in a way likely to endanger life, health, or property, or to create what the Act defines as a nuisance. When a baker having a bake-house in his dwelling stores so much fire-wood in excess of his domestic requirements as may lead to such danger or nuisance, he may be punished, as the intention of law about licenses is to bring trades-factories and bake-houses under the eyes of the Commissioner in order that he may protect the public. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER OF BOMBAY v. PROPRIETOR OF PRINCE ALBERT VICTOR BAKERY, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 793=Cr. Rg. 5 of 1895.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1888 (City of Bombay Municipal) —continued.

(34)—S. 394—License—Stabling of bullocks for hire—Liability of owner of land.—The accused was the owner of certain premises, which he had let out: and the sub-tenants of his lessee used the place for the purpose of stabling bullocks used for hire. No license was obtained for the purpose from the Municipal Commissioner. The accused was therefore convicted of an offence under s. 394 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, 1888. Held, that the accused was rightly convicted, for he must be held to have allowed the cattle to be stabled by his tenant in contravention of the provisions of the law. EMPEROR v. DADABHAI FRAMJI LAMA, 14 Bom. L.R. 882=1 Bom Cr. C. 178=13 Cr. L.J. 788=17 Ind. Cas. 532.

(35)—S. 394—Keeping bullocks for hire—Bullocks kept by tenants in huts and in open—Liability of owner.—A was joint owner of a place, part of which was let out to several tenants. The tenants kept bullocks on the place, some in the huts and some in the open. The bullocks were plied for hire, but the place was not licensed by the Municipal Commissioner under s. 394 of the Bombay Municipal Act. A knew that the bullocks were kept on the land and allowed it. Held, that A was guilty of an offence under s. 394 of the Act, whether the bullocks were kept upon leased land or on waste land not leased out. IMPERATOR v. TYABALI CURIMJI, 13 Cr. L.J. 785 =17 Ind. Cas. 529=14 Bom. L.R. 885, Note. (14 L.T.N.S. 600, Rel ; 4 Bom. L.R. 943, D.)

(36)—S. 394 (1) (c)—Scope.—S. 394 (1) (c) of the City of Bombay Municipal Act is not intended to reach the landlord, but it aims at the actual occupier or a tenant of the premises who converts them to the use mentioned in the section without a license. EMPEROR v. MIRZA MAHOMED SHIRAZI, 4 Bom. L R. 943. [R., 1 Bom. Cr. C. 178=14 Bom. L R. 882 ; D., 13 Cr. L J. 785=14 Bom. L.R. 885, Note=17 Ind. Cas. 529.]

(37)—S. 394—See ACT IX OF 1890, s. 7, 11 Bom. L.R. 1181=34 B. 252=10 Cr. L.J. 543.

(38)—Ss. 394 (1), 471—Unlicensed use of premises for purposes mentioned in sub-s. 1 of s. 394.—A Presidency Magistrate may, under s. 471, convict and punish any person contravening any provision of s. 394, sub-s. 1, as, for instance, using any premises for any of the purposes mentioned in that sub-section without a license from the Commissioner. The questions whether the Municipal Commissioner refused the accused a license and whether the refusal was legally justified are irrelevant to the determination of a case under the section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. OOMER, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 729= Cr. Rg. 57 of 1894.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1888 (City of Bombay Municipal) —continued.

(39)—Ss. 398, 410—Selling or exposing for sale fish intended for human food—Sale from a basket placed on the foreshore of Chowpatti—Place between high and low water-mark—Private market—Burden of proof—City of Bombay—Bombay General Clauses Act (I of 1904), s. 3 (10).—The accused was charged with selling or exposing for sale, without license from the Municipal Commissioner, fish intended for human food on the Chowpatti foreshore, contrary to the provisions of s. 410 (1) of the Bombay Municipal Act, 1888. The sale was from a basket which the accused had placed on the sand at some distance from the water, the place between the high and the low water mark. The fish sold was fresh fish and it had been recently brought from one of the boats then in the back bay. Held, that the accused was liable under s. 410 (1), since it was impossible to say that fresh fish was sold from a vessel, when, as a matter of fact, it had been sold from the basket on the shore, it having been brought from the vessel which was in the water. Held, in answer to the contention that the place where the fish was sold was a private market, that it was difficult to see how a place like the whole of the foreshore of Chowpatti could be held to be a private market; and, even if this were not so, since the Municipality started their case by showing that the place in question was the foreshore of Chowpatti, that was sufficient to throw the onus upon the accused to show that the foreshore of Chowpatti was a private market within the meaning of s. 398 of the Bombay Municipal Act, 1888. Held, also, that the Bombay Municipal Act, 1888, applied to the spot in question. EMPEROR v. BADHOOBAI, 7 Bom. L R. 726=30 B. 126=2 Cr. L.J. 604. [R., 9 Bom. L R. 1321.]

(40)—Ss. 402, sub-ss. 1 and 2, 471—Punishment.—The words of s. 471 of Bombay Act III of 1888 provide a punishment for contravening any provision of s. 402, cl. 1. A person, who does, what is so distinctly prohibited by cl. 2, does, by usurping the powers vested in the Corporation by cl. (1), contravene the last-mentioned clause. The two clauses must be read and interpreted together in order to give effect to the policy and object of the Legislature. MUNICIPAL COMMISSIONER OF BOMBAY v. CAWASJI BYRAMJI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 733=Cr. Rg. 64 of 1894.

(41)—S. 410—See No. 39, supra

(42)—Ss. 429, 430—Bombay Public Conveyance Act VI of 1863—Penal Code, s. 269—Carrying person suffering from dangerous disease in a public conveyance.—The driver of a public conveyance in the City of Bombay who carries, in his conveyance, a person suffering from small-pox, offends against the provisions of s. 430 (3) of Bom. Act III of 1888. Semble :—There exists an apparent antimony between s. 22 of Bom. Act VI of 1863 and ss. 429 and 430 of Bom. Act III of 1888. EMPEROR v. MYAJI ALIJI, 7 Bom. L. R. 460 = 2 Cr.L.J. 435.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1888 (City of Bombay Municipal) —concluded.

(43)—S. 430—See No. 42, supra.

(44)—S. 461 (d)—Bye-low relating to height of building on site previously built upon—Bye-law 30.—The Municipality of Bombay has the power, under bye-law 30, to restrict the height of a new building on a site which has been previously built upon. MUNICIPALITY OF BOMBAY v. SUNDERJI, 22 B. 980.

(45)—S. 471—See Nos. 6, 8, 38 and 40, supra.

(46)—Ss. 471, 472—Prospective punishment for continuing offence—Legality.—S. 174 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act requires a separate prosecution for a distinct offence, a prosecution in which a charge must be laid for a specific contravention for a specific number of days, and for which charge, if proved, the Magistrate is to impose a daily fine of an amount which is left to him in his discretion to determine. Where a Presidency Magistrate, having convicted certain accused persons and fined them under s. 471 of the City of Bombay Municipal Act, proceeded in the same order, purporting to act under the provisions of s. 472, to fine them so much a day in case they continued the offence, held, that the order was illegal. In re LIMBAJI TULSI RAM, 22 B. 766. [F., 22 B. 841 ; D., 7 C.W.N. 853.]

(47)—S. 472—See No. 46, supra.

(48)—S. 517—See No. 6, supra.

(49)—S. 521—See PUBLIC SERVANT, 6 Bom. L.R. 54.

Act I of 1890 (Gambling, amending Bom. Act IV of 1887).

(a)—See BOM. ACT IV OF 1887, 4 Bom. L. R. 297.

(1)—S. 3—Instruments of gaming—Common gaming house.—A thing may be an "instrument or means" of gaming or wagering, although not "devised or intended for that purpose," or "primarily used for that purpose," or "destined for that purpose." Any article that is made use of as a subject or means of wagering, no matter of what nature that article may be, comes within the definition of instruments of gaming or wagering. [R., 26 B. 533, 28 B. 129.] To bring a place under a "common gaming house," as defined in s. 3 of the Gambling Act, the instrument of wagering must be in the place itself, either kept there or brought there, and used there for profit or gain, and it is not sufficient that wagers are made in the place upon or by means of some article or other which is outside the place. QUEEN EMPRESS v. KANJI BHIMJI, 17 B. 184.

(2)—S. 12—Coins, whether instruments of gaming—Powers of police to arrest without warrant—Construction of Act.—The provisions of s. 12 of Bombay Act I of 1890 apply only to instruments of gaming "used in playing any game not being a game of mere skill." The interpretation of the expression "instruments of gaming" as qualified by the words which follow it in the section is implements devised or intended for that purpose. A coin is not an instrument of gaming. [R., 17 B. 184, 26 B. 533.] It is not lawful for a police officer to arrest without warrant the persons he finds playing, unless they are playing for money or other valuable thing. The Gambling Act must be construed strictly, because it interferes with the liberty of the subject, and because in some of its provisions, it shifts the burden of proof on the accused. Moreover, if the words are ambiguously and obscurely worded, the interpretation is ever in favour of the subject. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. GOVIND, 16 B. 283, F.B. (6 B. 19, R.) [R., 28 B. 129.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act I of 1890 (Gambling amending Bom. Act IV of 1887)—concluded.

Act II of 1890 (Salt).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XVI OF 1895. AMENDED, BOM. ACT II OF 1892 ; BOM. ACT I OF 1901. FIGURE "(1)" IN S. 58. REP., BOM. ACT IV OF 1905.]

(1)—S. 3 (g)—Manufacture—Evaporation for purification.—The accused bought some dirty salt in the bazaar, dissolved it in water, removed the dirt and obtained a pure dry salt by evaporating the brine Held that this was manufacturing salt within the meaning of s. 3 (g) of the Bombay Salt Act of 1890, but that the offence was of a very light character. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DEOKI, QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MALAMMA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 528 = Cr. Rg. 60 of 1890.

(1-a)—S. 3—See No. 6, infra.

(2)—Ss. 3, 47—Liability of principal for acts of agent.—Where it is not established that a principal has knowledge of or connivance in the illegal act done by the agent, on the principal's account, he cannot be held liable under s. 47 of the Bombay Salt Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. BALU MIYA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 576 = Cr. Rg. 40 of 1891.

(3)—S. 47 (a)—Possession of salt water.—The mere possession of salt water with the intention of manufacturing salt therefrom is not made an offence under the Bombay Salt Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DABHAI KABHAI, 23 B. 788 = 1 Bom L.R. 345.

(4)—S. 47 (a)—Gist of offence.—The provisions of s 47 (a) of the Bombay Salt Act, 1890, do not, in express terms or by necessary implication, make intention or knowledge an essential ingredient of the offence ; hence, to support a conviction under the section, it is not necessary to prove dishonest intention on the part of the accused. EMPEROR v. MAGAN LAL DULABHAI, 28 B. 346 = 6 Bom. L.R. 93.

(5)—S. 47—See No. 2, supra.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act II of 1890 (Salt)—concluded.

(6)—Ss. 47 (c), 3 (m)—Bom. Act I of 1901—Possession of contraband salt.—It is illegal to possess, as well as to transport contraband salt, however small in quantity. KING-EMPEROR v. SAWLO KUNDLIK, 4 Bom. L.R. 83.

(7)—S. 52—Order of confiscation—Power of District Magistrate to alter, in appeal.—It is not competent to a District Magistrate to alter or vary an order of confiscation in confirming a conviction recorded by a Subordinate Magistrate under the Bombay Salt Act, 1890. EMPEROR v. LALA VAHALA, 4 Bom.L R. 459

Act IV of 1890 (District Police).

[REP. IN PT. ACT XVI OF 1895, AMENDED, BOM. ACT III OF 1898.]

(1)—Ss. 3, (e), 6 (i)—Street—Gambling in street.—The definition of the word "street" in s. 3 (e) of the Bombay District Police Act, 1890, is inclusive in its terms. The expression "accessible to the public" means that any member of the public, as such member of the public, has access to the land; and "access" means unimpeded entrance upon the land. EMPEROR v. MANILAL MOHANLAL, 14 Bom. L.R. 499 = 15 Ind. Cas. 785 = 13 Cr. L J. 513 = 1 Bom. Cr. C. 144.

(2)—Ss 34, 36—Withdrawal from duty -Meaning.—A Police officer who, having been transferred from one place to another, remains at the former place doing duty expecting a reply to a petition sent by him to his superiors, does not commit a "withdrawal from duty" within the meaning of s. 34 of the Bombay Police Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. TATIA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 555 = Cr. Rg. 31 of 1891.

(3)—S. 36—Absence without leave.—A Police officer, who absents himself from his duties for a day without leave, commits an offence under s. 36 of the Bombay District Police Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHAND, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 585 = Cr. Rg. 45 of 1891.

(4)—S. 36—Police officer leaving the hospital without permission.—A police officer leaving the hospital, where he was placed being sick, is not guilty of an offence under s. 36 (d) of Bombay Act IV of 1890, because he cannot be considered to be on duty while in a hospital. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NANU JABU, 1 Bom.L R. 685.

(4-a)- S. 36—See No. 2, supra.

(5)—S. 41—Brothel—Meaning—Ingredients of the offence under the section—Nuisance not an element.—The facts that a woman plies the trade of a prostitute in her own (i e., her husband's) house does not make the house 'a brothel.' In order to constitute a brothel, the prostitute or prostitute must be strangers to the occupancy. (L R, 1 Q.B.D. 607, R) S. 41, Bombay District Police Act, contains two ingredients, viz. :—(1) The character of the house, (i.e.,) the use of the house as a "common brothel or lodging house or place of resort for prostitutes or disorderly persons of any description;" and (2) the nuisance, i.e., "the annoyance of the respectable inhabitants of the vicinity." Nuisance or no nuisance is not an element in the definition of a brothel. THE CROWN v. VERSIMAL, 6 S L.R. 224 = 14 Cr. L.J. 282 = 9 Ind. Cas. 514.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1890 (District Police)—continued.

(6)—S. 41—Frivolous complaint under—Jurisdiction to award compensation—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 4 (o), 250, 6 S.L.R. 254 = 19 Ind. Cas. 1008 = 14 Cr. L.J. 320.

(7)—Ss. 42, 68 (a) — District Magistrate — Order for prevention of disorder - Promulgation of the order—Personal presence of the Magistrate—Area within which the order is to operate—Ultra vires.—A District Magistrate, acting under the provisions of s. 42 of the Bombay District Police Act, prohibited the circulation of certain pictures throughout the whole district. At the time when he issued the notification, the District Magistrate was at a considerable distance from the village where the accused lived and where he was charged with having disobeyed the prohibition. The notification in question was promulgated in taluka head quarters, the nearest of which was nearly twelve miles distant from the village. The accused was punished under s. 68 (a) of the Act for his disobedience. Held, setting aside the conviction and sentence, that the notification in question could not be upheld under s 42 of the Act, inasmuch as the order was not confined on its operation to a "town or village" but operated over the whole district; and the District Magistrate was not, at the time of its promulgation, present in the vicinity of the place. For the exercise of jurisdiction conferred by s. 42, the preliminary conditions essential under its provisions are these; first, the jurisdiction is conferred on the Magistrate of the District, or,in his absence and subject to his order, the Magistrate of the First Class; secondly, they must have jurisdiction in the town or village where the jurisdiction is intended to operate; and thirdly they must be presented in such town or village or in the neighbourhood thereof at the time the jurisdiction under the section is set in motion. The intention of the Legislature appears to have been that such a proclamation as is contemplated by s. 42 should be issued in such a manner as to give full publicity to its terms on the responsibility of the District Magistrate or Magistrate of the First Class, who must be personaly in the place to satisfy himself that there is necessity for the proclamation. EMPEROR v. DATTATRAYA LAXMAN SARPOTDAR, 14 Bom. L.R. 158 = 14 Ind. Cas 974 = 1 Bom. Cr. C. 99 = 13 Cr. L J. 430 = 36 B. 504.

(8)—S. 43—Crim. Pro. Code (1882). s. 435—Jurisdiction of High Court.—The High Court has no jurisdiction to interfere with an order duly made by a District Magistrate under s. 43 of the Bombay District Police Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KAJI SULTAN, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 540 = Cr. Rg. 13 of 1891. [R., 12 Bom. L. R. 1029 = 11 Cr. L.J. 705 = 8 Ind. Cas. 747.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1890 (District Police)—continued.

(9)—S. 44—Religious procession—Exhibition of an emblem—Vyasantol emblem—Lingayats—District Magistrate — Order permitting the carrying of emblem—High Court—Revisionary powers—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 435—Jurisdiction.—An order passed by a District Magistrate under s. 44 of the Bombay District Police Act, 1890, being a mere executive police order, cannot be interfered with by the High Court under its criminal revisional jurisdiction. It is competent to a District Magistrate, acting under s. 44, to order that persons forming a religious procession on a particular day and on specified roads may carry a particular emblem. In re PANDURANG SHIDRAO, 12 Bom. L.R. 1029 = 8 Ind. Cas. 747. (12 Bom. L.R. 378, R.)

(10)—S. 44—See PUBLIC NUISANCE, 11 Bom. L.R. 372 = 2 Ind. Cas. 494.

(11)—Ss. 44, 68 and 71—Order under s. 44—Valid order, what amounts to—Abetment.—Where the order of a Magistrate under s. 44 of Act IV of 1890 (Bombay District Police) clearly indicates that it is dealing with an existing dispute, between Hindus and Muhammadans of a certain place, about music in religious processions, likely to cause a disturbance of the public peace, the order is made within the ordinary lawful duty of the Magistrate to prevent a particular disturbance of the peace, and there is no occasion to construe it as an edict usurping the functions of the Legislature. The order does not interfere with the general rights of the subject for an unlimited time. The accused cannot go behind the order or question its expediency. In order to punish a person for an offence under s. 68, Act IV of 1890, it is only necessary to prove the disobedience and not the existence of danger or other occasion for making the order. Although the complaint was only under s. 68 of the Bombay Police Act, held that it was not unlawful to convict under s. 71 of the Act. The mere presence of a person at a procession in which music was played in contravention of an order of the District Magistrate under s. 44, Bombay Police Act, does not by itself constitute the abetment of an offence under the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VISHWANATH, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 708 = Cr. Rg. 41 of 1894.

(12)—S. 46—Order duly made under section—Power of Sessions Judge to call for proceedings under s. 435, Crim. Pro. Code (1882).—Where an order has been duly made under the jurisdiction conferred by s. 46 of Bom. Act IV of 1890, the Court of Sessions has no power to call for such proceeding under s. 435, Crim. Pro. Code. As the person aggrieved by the order can petition the Governor-in-Council under whose control the prerogative of keeping the peace is worked by the Magistracy, it is unnecessary to determine the powers of the High Court. In re HAIBATI, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 692 = Cr. Rg. 18 of 1894.

(13)—S. 47—Authority of police officer to be present at a race ground—Resistance—Penal Code, s. 353.—At a race meeting held at Poona, under the auspices of the Western India Turf Club, on enclosed ground lent for the purpose by the Military authorities, the complainant, an Inspector of Police, who was present there on duty in that capacity, came into the first enclosure over the ropes which were used to fence the enclosure, passing through the pickets of soldiers who were stationed along the ropes to prevent people from entering and leaving the enclosure otherwise than by one of the regular entrances provided. This entrance being reported to the Honorary Secretary of the Club, he directed two soldiers to put the Inspector outside the enclosure. These men took hold of the Inspector, then let him go at his request, and escorted him outside the enclosure. Held that the Secretary was liable to be convicted under s. 353, I.P.C., as s. 47 of the Police Act empowered the Police Inspector to be present at the race ground, a place of public amusement and resort, for the purpose of preserving peace and order. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. ROSS, 22 B. 746.

(14)—S. 48 (a) (1)—"Conduct"—Order as to costume.—The word "conduct," in s. 48 (a) means the act or method of leading, guiding or managing, the guidance or management (of a procession or assemblage), and does not mean the mode of action or behaviour of an assembly. The clause, therefore, does not confer a power to direct what costume shall be worn or not worn by the members of a procession. An order was issued by the District Superintendent of Police to the following effect:—"No member of any sect can be permitted to proceed naked to the tirth to bathe, nor while there to bathe naked, nor to pass the streets naked on any account; if any one does this, he will be dealt with according to law." Held, that this was not an order or command, but a piece of advice or warning to the people, telling them in what light the authorities would view certain acts. It did not prohibit the act, so as to make the commission of it punishable as a breach of the order; but it only declared that proceedings would be taken against the perpetrator, on the ground that he has committed an offence by reason of the commission of the act itself. In re HUKUMPURIBAVA GOSAVI, 22 B. 715.

(15)—S. 48 (b)—Power of Police to regulate the playing of music in private houses.—The words about music "in the streets of towns on occasion of festivals and ceremonies" in s. 48, cl. (b), do not empower a District Superintendent or Assistant Superintendent of Police to regulate the playing of music in private houses. The word "near a street" should be construed as meaning open spaces by the sides or at the ends of streets. In re JAMNA DAS BHUKHANDAS, 19 B. 737.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1890 (District Police)—continued.

(16)—S. 51—Information laid by Police officer is a complaint—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 4 (h), 250, 173, 6 S.L R. 82=17 Ind. Cas. 64=13 Cr. L.J. 752.

(17)—S. 52—"Respondeat superior"—Duty of police officer to shelter prisoner in custody.—Nothing but fear of instant death is a defence for a policeman who tortures a man or woman by superior order. The maxim respondeat superior has no application to such a case; the law is the only superior. A person legally bound to act in a certain manner by illegally omitting so to act is liable to punishment. Under s. 52, Bombay Police Act IV of 1890, every police officer is bound to shelter every person in custody and to arrest persons committing assaults likely to cause grievous bodily injury and an omission to perform this duty will make him guilty of abetment. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. LATIFKHAN, 20 B. 394.

(18)—Ss. 52 (2) and 65—Refusal to attend to make a panchnama.—Refusal to attend to make a panchnama regarding the obstruction to a public road, caused by a person in keeping his grain bags on the road, is not an offence punishable under s. 53 (2) or s. 65 of the Police Act. In re BHOLASHANKAR, 22 B. 970.

(19)—Ss. 57, 58—Finder of property—Police requiring the property to be produced—Right of Magistrate to declare the property to be at the disposal of Government.—Where property is found by any person who, on reporting the matter to the Police, is required to produce it, it is not competent to the Magistrate, under s. 58, cl. 2, of the Bombay District Police Act, to declare such property to be at the disposal of Government. In re Alimia, 14 Bom. L R. 305=15 Ind. Cas. 647=13 Cr. L J. 503=1 Bom. Cr. C. 113.

(20)—S. 58 -See No 19, supra.

(21)—S. 61 (d)—"Contrary to Regulation"—meaning of.—The words, "contrary to any Regulation," in cl. (d) of s. 61 of the Bombay District Police Act, refer to the words "or by driving," etc., and not to the words "causes obstruction or injury," etc., in the first part of the clause. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MANYA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 654=Cr. Rg. 7 of 1893.

(22)—S. 61 (m)—Fishing in tank—Offence.—The mere act of fishing in a public tank, without proof that the bait is of a defiling character, is not an offence under s. 61 of the Bombay District Police Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MULAN KALAMIA, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 865=Cr. Rg. 30 of 1896.

(23)—S. 61—See No. 1, supra.

(24)—S. 62—Conviction under section—Evidence required.—To support a conviction under s. 62 of the Bombay District Police Act, it should be found as a fact that pain or suffering has been inflicted. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. DHONDI MANKU, Rat. Un. Cr. C. 738=Cr. Rg. 6 of 1895.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1890 (District Police)—concluded.

(25)—S. 65—See No. 18, supra.

(26)—S. 68—See Nos. 7, 11, supra.

(27)—S. 71—See No. 11, supra.

(28)—S. 90—See CRIM. PRO. CODE (1898), s. 250, 26 B. 150=3 Bom. L.R. 586, F.B.

Act II of 1891 (Bombay Boiler Inspection).

[REP. IN PT. ACT XVI OF 1895, AM., BOM. ACT II OF 1897, s. 1 (3); AM. BOM. ACT II OF 1903.]

(1)—S. 29 (1) (b)—"In direct and immediate management and charge"—Construction.—The words "in direct and immediate management and charge" in sub-s. (1) (b) of s. 29 of the Bombay Boiler Inspection Act, II of 1891 (as applied to Berar), were not intended to mean that the qualified person or the Engineer should always be in the immediate presence of the boiler and have his eyes fixed on it for the whole day. In every case, it is a question of fact, to be decided from the circumstances, whether the Engineer can be said to be in direct and immediate charge. One may not take into consideration in interpreting an Act the proceedings of the Legislative Council which enacted it. EMPEROR v. RAMU BEHARI LAL, 4 N.L. R. 95=8 Cr. L.J. 31

Act I of 1901 [Salt (amending Bom. Act II of 1890)].

See BOM. ACT II OF 1890, s. 47 (c), 3 (m), 4 Bom. L.R. 83.

Act III of 1901 (District Municipality).

[SUPPLEMENTED, BOM. ACTS V OF 1890, AND II OF 1899, (SAVED BY S. II, (c), OF BOM. ACT III OF 1901), AMENDED BY BOM. ACT III OF 1902, S 52, REP. IN PART BY SS. 188 (1), 189, AMENDED BY BOM. ACT III OF 1903, SS. 25, (A), 48 (1), 83 (1), (B), 84 (3), 113 (1), 122, AMENDED SS. 46 (e), 59, PROVISO, (c), 96 (c), 174 (1), REP. IN PART BY BOM. ACT IV OF 1904].

(1)—S. 2 (1) (a) (b)—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, s. 84, 3 Bom. L.R. 584.

(1 a)—S. 3—See No. 9, infra.

(2)—S. 22—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 195—Penal Code, ss. 193, 511 — Court — Sanction for prosecution—False evidence given before District Judge acting under s. 22 of the District Municipalities Act.—A District Judge determining the validity of elections under s. 22 of the District Municipalities Act is a 'Court' within the meaning of cl. (b) of s. 195, Crim. Pro. Code, (17 C. 872, F.). A prosecution for attempting to fabricate false evidence (ss. 193, 511, Penal Code) before the District Judge when so acting cannot lie in the absence of sanction under s 195, Crim. Pro. Code. In re NANCHAND, 15 Bom. L.R. 45=2 Bom. Cr. C 1=18 Ind. Cas. 408=14 Cr. L.J. 72=37 B. 365.

(3)—S. 48 (b) (iii)—See BOM. ACT II OF 1884, s. 33 (b), 4 Bom. L.R. 585.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1901 (District Municipality)—ctd.

(4)—Ss. 48 and 96—See BOM. ACT VI OF 1873, s 33, 3 Bom. L.R. 842.

(4-a)—S. 82—See PENAL CODE, ss. 21, 186, 10 Bom. L.R. 761 = 33 B. 213 = 8 Cr. L.J. 269 = 1 Ind. Cas. 869.

(5)—S. 86—Recovery of Municipal claims—Notice of demand—Appeal—Magistrate—High Court—Revision—Crim. Pro. Code (Act V of 1898), s. 435.—Under s. 86 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, 1901, a Magistrate hearing an appeal of the kind mentioned in the section, is merely an appellate authority having jurisdiction given by the Act to deal with the question of a civil liability. He is, therefore, not an inferior Criminal Court, to which alone the revisional jurisdiction of the High Court applies under s. 435 of the Criminal Procedure Code. In re DALSUKHRAM HURGOVINDAS, 9 Bom. L.R. 1347 = 6 Cr. L.J. 425.

(6)—S. 96—Notice of new building—Erecting a building—Re-building a wall that had been fallen down— Material re-construction.—One of the walls of the house of the accused having fallen down, he applied on the 19th April, 1910 to the Municipality for leave to re-construct it. Without having received the leave or without waiting for it for one month from the date of its application, he re-built the wall on the 11th May, 1910. On the 13th idem, the Municipality issued an order to the accused prohibiting him from making the re construction. The accused was upon these facts prosecuted under s. 96 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, 1901, but was acquitted by the Magistrate. The Government having appealed:—Held, reversing the order of acquittal, that the accused had erected a building within the meaning of s. 96 of the Act, inasmuch as in re-building the whole wall which had fallen down, there was a material re-construction or an erection of a building as defined in the explanation to the section. EMPEROR v. KALEKHAN SARDAR KHAN, 12 Bom. L.R. 1060. (Rat. Un. Cr. C. 402, R).

(7)—S. 96—Jurisdiction of Municipality to call for information as to ownership—Time for commencing construction.—The question whether, under s. 96, the Municipality has jurisdiction or right to call for information regarding ownership must be decided on the circumstances of each case. Where a person produces the title-deeds and furnishes the information asked for, he is bound to wait for one month from that date for the orders of that Municipality before he proceeds to begin the intended construction. EMPEROR v. PRANSHANKER GAVRISHANKER, 6 Bom. L R. 581.

(8 —S. 96—See No. 4, supra.

(9)—Ss. 96, 3 (7)—Notice of new buildings—Building, interpretation of—Constructing the side wall of a house on its old foundation.—The accused was charged with the offence of erecting a building without the permission of the Municipality under s. 96 of the Bombay District Municipal Act, 1901, in that he built up one of the small walls of his house on its old foundation without having previously obtained the permission of the Municipality: Held, that the accused committed no offence under s. 96, for it could not be said as a matter of law that the material re-construction of a small wall must constitute "the erection of a building" (12 Bom. L.R. 1060, D.). Where a term is interpreted in a statute as 'including,' &c., the comprehensive sense is not to be taken as strictly defining what the meaning of the word must be under all circumstances, but merely as declaring what things may be comprehended within the term where the circumstance require that they should. EMPEROR v. BRAZ H. DE SOUZA, 13 Bom. L.R 494 = 11 Ind. Cas. 610 = 12 Cr. L.J. 426 = 35 B. 412. (7 Ad. and E. 480, 491, 7 E. and Ir. 481, 493, 10 App. Cas. 364, 375, F.)

(10)—Ss. 107, (2), 155—Cess-pool—Order to remove—Disobedience of the order.—A District Municipality issued a written notice under s 107 (2) of the Bombay District Municipal Act, 1901, to the accused, stating that the cesspool of his house was a nuisance, and that, therefore, within seven days from the receipt of the notice, the pipe and the drain of the cesspool should be removed, and that, if no steps were taken as directed within the time fixed, steps would be taken according to law. The accused disobeyed this notice, for which he was prosecuted under s. 155 of the Act. Held, that, as there was no power given under s. 107 (2) of the Act to the Municipality to lawfully direct an owner or occupier to demolish or close a cesspool himself, there was no disobedience of any lawful direction on the part of the accused under s. 155 of the District Municipal Act. EMPEROR v. LADURAM MANORMAL, 11 Bom. L.R. 1349.

(11)—S. 122—Projection into public street—Building divided into two portions—Distinct offences.—A shop keeper affixed to his shop a board which projected into the public street. The shop was divided into two portions; one of them was occupied by the shop-keeper himself and the other was let by him to a tenant. The shop-keeper was tried separately regarding the two projections and convicted and sentenced separately. Held, that the Magistrate was wrong in trying the two cases as two distinct offences; it was one offence, because it related to one board. EMPEROR v. ATMARAM MANOR, 4 Bom. L.R. 942.

(12)—S. 122—Obstruction to or encroachment on public street—Existence of bona fide dispute as to ownership of encroached portion — Effect—See PENAL CODE, s. 186, 15 Bom. L. R. 315 = 2 Bom. Cr. C. 66 = 14 Cr. L J. 251 = 19 Ind. Cas. 507.

(13)—Ss. 122 and 161—General authority to institute prosecution under Act given to Municipal Secretary—No special direction given to institute particular prosecution—Validity of prosecution—Offence falling under two sub-divisions of same section—Construction, principle of.—S. 161 of the Bombay District Municipalities Act is merely a section empowering the Municipality to expend Municipal funds on the prosecution of Municipal offences and nuisances generally. The prosecution of such offenders is one of the means by which the Municipality performs its duties in matters of conservancy and the protection of public health and convenience. There are no negative words directing that a prosecution may not be instituted in any other way. The general rule is that any person having knowledge of the commission of an offence may set the law in motion by complaint. In Bombay Act III of 1901 there are no words which either directly or by implication take away the right that any member of the public has to set the law in motion by a complaint. It may be that it is more desirable that the general power to prosecute should not be delegated by the Municipality, but that is merely a matter of Municipal administration. The accused could have appealed to the general Board against the Secretary's action and asked that he be ordered to withdraw the complaint. The Magistrate, therefore, had jurisdiction as soon as the complaint was filed by the Secretary. Though the offence of building a landhi on a public road without permission is covered by the more general words of cl. 3 of s. 122, yet as the more specific and particular words of the first-clause do so also, the clause containing the more specific and particular words should, as a principle of a construction be held to govern the case, and the accused should be convicted under s. 122 (1). IMPERATOR v. HASOMAL walud SHAMDAS, 1 S.L R. 88 Cr. = 8 Cr. L J. 213.

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act III of 1901 (District Municipality)—ctd.

(14)—S. 125—Master's liability for acts of servant.—Where a person had a permit for the deposit of building materials within a certain area, but the contractor employed by him stored things outside those limits, and he was convicted under s. 125, Bombay Municipal Act. Held, that the could not be held responsible for the criminal act of his contractor. CROWN v. TYEBJI MULLA MAHOMED BHY, 9 Cr. L.J. 257 = 1 S.L.R. 15, Cr.

(15)—Ss. 131, 135, 155—Notice by Municipality— Alloo plantation — Nuisance.—S. 131 of the Bombay District Municipal Act renders the owner liable for non-compliance with a notice issued under it, not when the Municipality considers vegetation to be rank or noisome, but only when the vegetation is actually so. To support a conviction under the section for non-compliance with a notice, the prosecution must establish affirmatively the objectionable character of the vegetation. To support a conviction for non-compliance with a notice issued under s. 135 of the Act, it must be shown that there is some pool, ditch, tank, hole, water-channel, receptacle of foul water, etc., of the kind mentioned in the section, the filling, cleansing, drawing or removal of which the Municipality has directed by notice, or with regard to which, the Municipality has directed such measures to be taken, as it considers necessarily to abate or remove the nuisance. EMPEROR v. ANANDRAO KHANDERAO RASTE, 9 Bom. L. R. 247 = 5 Cr. L.J. 252.

(16)—S. 135—See No. 15, supra.

(17)—S. 142—Prosecution by the Secretary having no authority under s. 142—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 537, Explanation — Whether merely irregular or affects jurisdiction — Validity.—Where the Secretary of a Municipality, who was not authorised for that purpose under s. 142 (2) of the Bombay District Municipal Act (III of 1901), prosecuted certain persons for selling as ghi an article which was not ghi, and it was objected that the prosecution was illegal, on the ground that the Secretary had no authority to institute the prosecution, held, that the objection raised is not an averment of an irregularity to which the Explanation to s. 537, Crim. Pro. Code, applies, but one of jurisdiction, and that, as the Municipal Secretary was acting unauthorisedly, the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to convict the applicants. TIKAM WD. KUNDANMAL v. CROWN, 3 S.L.R. 13.

(18)—S. 155—See Nos. 10, 15, supra.

(19)—S. 159—Notice under the section containing certain directions—Validity.—There is nothing in s. 159 of Bombay Act III of 1901 authorising a Municipality issuing a notice under that section to give any direction to the person to whom the notice is given to do anything that they may require. The notice has to be simply an intimation to the occupier of land that the Municipality will enter for the purposes mentioned in the section at a specified hour on a specified day. The power of the Municipality to enter no doubt carries with it, by necessary implication, an obligation on the part of the occupant of the land to whom the notice is given to give every reasonable facility to the Municipality to enter and not to obstruct. But, if the occupant does anything to prevent the entrance, it cannot be said that he disobeys the notice, for, the notice is a mere condition precedent to the right of the Municipality to enter. Once the notice is given, the right arises, and if the occupant does any act to prevent its exercise, his act may amount to wrongful restraint or wilful obstruction, but it has nothing to do with the question of obeying or disobeying the notice. EMPEROR v. PURUSHOTTAM GOPALSHET GANDHI, 6 Bom. L R. 538.

(20)—S. 161—See No. 13, supra.

Act IV of 1902 (City of Bombay Police).

[S. 44, AM., BOM. ACT IV OF 1905.]

(1)—Ss. 12, 16—Commissioner of Police—Orders issued by Police Commissioner in relation to discipline and general government of the police force — Construction of statute.—The order, which the Commissioner of Police is competent to issue under the head of discipline and general government, under s. 12 of the Bombay City Police Act, 1902, must be one having reference to the conduct of the Police Officers in their capacity as such officers. Over their conduct in other relations of life, his disciplinary power does not extend, so long as no element or question of their police duty enters into those relations. If it does enter, the controlling authority of the Commissioner comes into play and it becomes a matter of police discipline. The meaning of s. 16 of the Act is that, even when a Police officer is not actually at his post discharging the duty assigned to him, he is, for the purposes of the Act, to be regarded as being at that post, with all the rights and obligations of his office attaching to him. In construing an expression of doubtful import occurring in a statute, the Court may well have regard to considerations outside the language of the Act. EMPEROR v. ATMARAM GOVIND, 31 B. 480=9 Bom. L.R. 681=6 Cr. L.J. 47. [R., 10 Bom. L.R. 26=7 Cr. L.J. 32=3 M.L.J. 122].

3.– Bombay Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1902 (City of Bombay Police)—ctd.

(2)—S. 16—See No. 1, supra.

(3)—Ss. 28, 129 — Conditions for issuing notice to prostitutes—Act I of 1877 (Specific Relief), s. 45.—The Commissioner of Police at Bombay issued, under s. 28, Bombay City Municipal Act, 1902, a notice upon the applicants calling upon them to vacate the premises occupied by them, and notifying that "failure to comply with this notice will render you liable to punishment under s. 129," of the Act. The applicants moved the High Court, under s. 45, Specific Relief Act, 1877, for a rule against the Commissioner of Police to show cause why the notice should not be cancelled and why he should not be restrained from carrying the same into effect. Held that the cancellation of the notice or the non-enforcing of it was an act clearly incumbent by law upon the Commissioner of Police, so as to bring it within s. 45 (b), Specific Relief Act, 1877. Under s. 28, the Commissioner of Police can only serve the notice upon the person who comes within the scope of s. 28. He is not entitled to serve it upon any person whom he merely suspects to be guilty of the conduct therein referred to. The misconduct, or immoral conduct, must be a matter of fact and not a mere matter of suspicion. A Magistrate would not be justified in convicting any person under s. 129, unless and until he is satisfied that the notices were not only served and that they were properly and validly served, that is to say, until he is really satisfied that the women had really conducted themselves in the manner imputed to them under s. 28. In re TARABAI IBRAHIM PURKAR, 7 Bom. L.R. 161.

(4)—S 63—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 162—Evidence Act, ss. 24 and 167—Admissibility in evidence of a statement made by witness to, and taken down in writing by, a Police Officer—

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1902 (City of Bombay Police)—ctd.

Confession, admissibility of.—Held, that, having regard to s. 162 of the Code of Criminal Procedure (corresponding to s. 63 of the Bombay City Police Act, IV of 1902), a statement, taken down in writing, of a witness for the prosecution and recorded by a Police Officer, cannot be admitted or used in evidence against the accused. Per Russel, Ag. C. J.—Such a document might be used to contradict the witness, not by putting the statement in as evidence, but by putting in the hands of the Police officer who has taken down the statement, to refresh his memory therefrom and thereby to enable him to contradict the statement of the witness. Per Chandavarkar, J.—The use of the writing as evidence against the accused is opposed to the express terms of the section, but the statement contained in the writing could be used to impeach the credit of such witness in the manner provided by the Indian Evidence Act. Per Batty, J—The writing may be used for the purpose of refreshing the memory of the witness cross-examined, as to the fact of the statement either on behalf of the prosecution or on behalf of the defence, provided that it was treated by the prosecution only for the purpose of impeaching the credit, or in corroboration, of the witness who made it. Per Beaman, J.—The statement ought not to have been admitted at all, or its contents to have been allowed to be used by the prosecution, even for the nominal purpose of contradicting the witness. The distinction between the "writing" and the "statement" which is embodied in the writing is a distinction of form rather than of substance. If the "statement" might properly be admitted and used to contradict the prosecution witness who made it, then there is no reason in principle why that statement should not be provable in the usual way and by the best evidence of it, namely, the written record of it. S. 162 plainly constitutes an exception to the ordinary rule of evidence. The proviso engrafts an exception upon the exception. Before the present section was amended, statements made by witnesses to the police and recorded by the Police might not be used as evidence against the accused, but there was nothing to prevent them from being used in favour of the accused. He can only obtain access to written statements made by the prosecution witnesses to the Police, at the discretion of the Court. It is no longer a matter of right. The proviso is clearly limited to the purpose of this single concession, in derogation of the universal prohibition contained in the body of the section, to the accused. He can get a copy of the recorded statements of witnesses for the prosecution, for the only purpose of breaking down the evidence of the prosecution witnesses. The proviso does not cover the case of a witness for the defence, whose statement may have been recorded by a policeman, nor allows the prosecution to impeach the credit of such a witness by examining him upon any written statements he may have made to the police. A fortiori, the proviso could never have been intended to allow the prosecution to impeach the credit of its own witnesses for its own purposes, and against the wish of the accused, by reference to the police testimony. EMPEROR v. NARAYAN RAGHUNATH PATKI, 9 Bom L.R. 789, F.B =6 Cr. L. J. 164=2 M L.T. 414=32 B. 111. [F, 11 Cr. L. J. 117=5 Ind. Cas. 357=13 O.C. 7; Rel., 11 Cr. L J. 498=7 Ind. Cas. 601=4 S.L.R. 38; R., 36 C. 281=9 C.L.J. 193=13 C.W.N. 197=5 M.L.T. 997=1 Ind. Cas. 970, 35 M. 397=13 Cr. L.J. 352=14 Ind. Cas 896=12 M.L.T. 1=(1912) M.W.N. 549, 7 A L.J. 468=11 Cr. L.J. 235=6 Ind. Cas. 101, 16 Bom. L.R. 603, 22 M.L.J. 490=(1912) M.W.N. 207.]

3.—Bombay Acts—continued.

Act IV of 1902 (City of Bombay Police)—cld.

(5)—S. 120—" Otherwise "—Interpretation—Soliciting for the purpose of prostitution.—The words "or otherwise" in s. 120, cl. (a) of the Bombay City Police Act, 1902, must be construed as having a limited signification, following as they do words of a limited description. They mean "in a manner similar to that of words or gestures." Therefore, merely sitting at the window without any act done of the nature indicated in the section, is not an offence. EMPEROR v. NASHMIRBAI, 10 Bom. L.R. 92=7 Cr. L.J. 118.

(6)—S. 129—See No. 3, supra.

(7)—S. 163—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 162, 9 Bom. L.R. 789=6 Cr. L.J, 164=2 M.L.T. 414=32 B. 111, F.B.

Act I of 1904 (General Clauses).

[SCH. AM. (AS TO BOM. ACT III OF 1886), BOM. ACT IV OF 1905, AS FROM 30TH MAY, 1904.]

S. 3 (10)—See BOM. ACT III OF 1888, ss. 398, 410, 7 Bom. L.R. 726=2 Cr. L.J. 604=30 B. 126.

Act II of 1904 (Motor Vehicles).

[S. 4 (3) AM. BOM. ACT III OF 1907.]

(1)—S. 2—Reckless or negligent driving—Rule of the road.—The applicant, who was driving his own motor car late at night, found a horse carriage a little ahead of him crossing from the left to the right of the road. Seeing that it was safe to pass the carriage in front on the left, he tried to pass it on the left: but as he was doing so, the carriage in front suddenly swerved again to the left, with the result that the motor ran into it. The applicant was on these facts convicted and sentenced by the Chief Presidency Magistrate, under s. 2 of the Bombay Motor Vehicles Act, 1904, for driving his motor recklessly or negligently: Held, that the carriage driver having first directed his carriage towards the right was not justified in so suddenly changing his course back to the left as to place the overtaking motor in the position of difficulty which he did; and that, therefore, the applicant could not be said to be reckless or negligent in driving his car, within the meaning of the Act. Per Batchelor, J.—The mere passing of another vehicle on the left is no doubt primarily evidence of negligence, but the inference arising from this solitary circumstance may be rebutted by other circumstances appearing in the case. The rule of the road is not an invariable or inflexible rule, and a deviation from it may upon occasions be not only justified but actually necessary. In re Jehangir D Davar, 13 Bom. L R. 126=9 Ind. Cas. 945=12 Cr. L.J. 167.

(2)—S. 2—See PENAL CODE, ss. 81 and 279, 8 Bom. L.R. 414=3 Cr. L.J. 494.

(3)—Ss. 9 and 13—See ABETMENT, 9 Bom. L.R. 161=5 Cr. L J. 176.

(4)—S. 12—See ABETMENT, 9Bom. L.R. 159=5 Cr. L J. 173.

(5)—S. 13—See No. 3, supra.

Act II of 1906 (Mamlatdar's Courts).

(1)—Mamlatdar's Court constituted under—Whether a Civil Court within the meaning of s. 476, Crim. Pro. Code—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 476, 15 Bom. L.R. 53=2 Bom. Cr. C. 9=18 Ind. Cas. 416=14 Cr. L.J. 80.

(2)—S. 23—Crim. Pro. Code (1898). s. 195, cl. 7 (3)—Perjury in a possessory suit—Sanction to prosecute not given by Mamlatdar—Appeal to District Judge—Collector has no jurisdiction to hear the appeal.—An appeal, from an order passed by a Mamlatdar refusing sanction to prosecute for perjury in a possessory suit under the above Act, lies to the District Court. The Collector has only the revisional power granted to him by s. 23 of the Act, for the limited purpose specified in the clause. He does not on that account become the principal Court of jurisdiction within the meaning of the expression as used in sub.-cl. (3) of cl. (7) of s. 195 of the Crim. Pro. Code. NARAYAN DHONDIBA v. TUKARAM GOVINDSHET, 9 Bom. L.R. 896=6 Cr L.J. 225. (5 Bom. L.R. 206, F.) [F., 2 Bom. Cr. Cas. 9=15 Bom. L.R. 53=14 Cr. L.J. 80=18 Ind. Cas. 416.]

4.—Burma Acts.

 Act II of 1873 (Ferries).

[REP., BUR. ACT II OF 1898.]

(1)—S. 14—Crossing a ferry in a private boat not an offence.—It is not an offence under the Ferries Act for a man to cross the river at the ferry, or take his cattle across, in his own boat or in that of a relative not plying for hire. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KYA KAING, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 600.

Act VII of 1875 (Burma Fisheries).

[REP., BUR. ACT III OF 1905.]

(1)—S. 2—" Fishery "—Burma Fisheries Act, ss. 2 and 7 (a) and (b).—A temporary collection of water on one's own land, the result of rainfall and overflow, and not shown to be connected by any regular channel with waters of a permanent nature, cannot be said to be a fishery

* These local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act VII of 1875 (Burma Fisheries)—concluded.

within the meaning of s. 2 of the Fisheries Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. SHWE HLA, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 202.

 Act XVII of 1875 (Burma Courts).

[REP., ACT XI OF 1889.]

(1)—Transfer of case—Local Government, powers of—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 178.—The local Government has no power under s. 178 of the Crim. Pro. Code to transfer for trial to the Court of the Commissioner a criminal case duly committed for trial by the Court of the Recorder of Rangoon, but the local Government has the power to transfer a case from the District of Rangoon to the Sessions division of Pegu. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA THA MOUNG, 10 C. 643. [R., 10 B. 263]

(2)—S. 8 (1) (a) and (b)—See EUROPEAN BRITISH SUBJECT, 1 L.B.R. 158.

(3)—S. 35—Special Court of British Burma, appeal to—Crim. Pro Code (1872), s. 64.—An appeal lies to the Special Court of British Burma from a conviction and sentence by the Judicial Commissioner, in a case transferred by him to his own Court from that of the Sessions Judge, under s. 54 of the Crim. Pro. Code and s. 35 of the Burma Courts Act. EMPRESS v. TSIT OOE, 4 C. 667. [R., 10 B. 274.]

(4)—S. 80—See CHARGE TO JURY—MISDIRECTION, 11 C. 10.

 Act II of 1876 (Land and Revenue Act).

[REP. IN PART, ACT II OF 1880 ; ACT XII OF 1882 ; ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 18. AMENDED ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 16 ; BUR. ACT I OF 1901. APPLICATION OF CERTAIN PROVISISIONS EXT. BURMA ACT III OF 1905, S. 30, " LOCAL GOVERNMENT " SUBSTITUTED FOR "CHIEF COMMISSIONERS" S. 8, (B) AND HEADING OVER S. 39, AMENDED BY SS. 22-A. 38. A, 54 A. 54-B, INSERTED BY BUR. ACT I OF 1907, SS. 2-6.]

(a)—See BUR. ACT III OF 1889, s. 9 2) 4 L.B.R. 150=7 Cr. L.J. 450.

(1)—Ss. 18, 19, rr. 51, 52, 68, 69—Failure to comply with notice of ejectment—Demarcated grazing land—Admission of receipt and disobedience of notice—Prosecution bound to prove illegal encroachment—Application of rules—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 190 (c), 191—Magistrate acting on his own knowledge of fact—Failure to inform accused of his right to be tried by another Court.—In a prosecution for failure to comply with a notice of ejectment from land said to form part of demarcated grazing ground, an admission by the accused of the receipt of notice and of his failure to comply with it does not amount to an admission that he has committed an offence, as it does not imply that the accused admits his liability to ejectment. The prosecution must prove not only that the accused was served with a notice and disobeyed it but that he was actually occupying the land in contravention of rules under the Land and Revenue Act. Rr. 51 and 52 only refer to land available for temporary occupation under s. 19 of the Act, and do not apply to demarcated grazing grounds. R. 69 deals with persons who encroach on grazing grounds. Where a Magistrate acts on his own knowledge of facts under s. 190 (c) of the Crim. Pro. Code, he is bound to proceed under s. 191 and inform the accused that he is entitled to be tried by another Court. Failure to comply with this imperative rule of law in s. 191 is a defect which invalidates the proceedings. MADAR SAHIB v. EMPEROR, 13 Cr. L J. 52=13 Ind. Cas. 388=4 Bur. L.T 259. (2 L.B.R. 311, 1 Cr. L J. 1118, R.)

* These local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act II of 1876 (Land and Revenue Act)—cld.

(1-a)—S. 19—See No. 1, supra.

(2)—S. 39. cl. (c)—See ACT XII OF 1882, s. 9, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 252.

(3)—S. 57, cl. (c)—See FALSE EVIDENCE, 2 L.B R. 272.

(4)—Rule 51—See No. 1, supra.

(5)—Rule 52—See No. 1, supra.

(6)—Rule 68—See No. 1, supra.

(7)—Rule 69—See No. 1, supra.

 Act XIII of 1877 (Embankment).

[REP. IN PART, ACT XI OF 1889. AMENDED, ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 16.]

(1)—S. 3—Penal Code, s. 188.—The accused were convicted under. 188, I.P.C., of disobeying the order of a public servant and were sentenced to pay a fine of two rupees each. The order disobeyed was an order, requiring them to execute a work in connection with an embankment, purporting to have been issued under s. 3 of Act XIII of 1877. Held that s. 188, I.P.C. did not embrace cases of disobedience of orders issued under the above Act, and that the Embankment Act provideduo penalty for refusal of labour. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SHWE, U L.B.R. 1872-1892, 92.

 Act II of 1880 (Bombay District Cesses and Rural Police).

[REP IN PART, ACT III OF 1889, S. 1, (6). AMENDED ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 16. S. 9 (A) AMENDED SS. 12—21, REP. BURMA ACT VI OF 1907, SS. 27, (2)].

(1)—Confession to a police officer—Evidence Act, s. 25—Act II of 1880 (Burma Rural Police).—A confession to a village headman or gaung appointed under the Burma Rural Police Act is inadmissible under s. 25 of the Evidence Act. LU BEIN v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 479.

(2)—See CONFESSION—CONFESSIONS MADE TO POLICE OFFICERS, L.B.R. 1872--1892, 479.

* These local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

 Act V of 1880 (Boundaries).

[REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, ACT II OF 1895. AMENDED, ACT VI OF 1900, S. 47. DECLARED IN FORCE IN UPPER BURMA (EXCEPT THE SHAN STATES), ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 4].

(1)—Ss 2, 17 and 18—Burma Municipal Act, 1898, s. 94 (2)—Boundary Officer's decision—Adverse possession, plea of, to be taken in appeal against Boundary Officer's decision—Legality of want of notice under s. 11 of the Act.—A Boundary Officer confirmed the Demarcation Officer's marks, which showed the proper limit of the petitioner's land, and declared the extension of the house beyond that limit to be an encroachment. The petitioner's house was in a Municipality. The petitioner did not appeal against the Boundary Officer's order. The petitioner, having encroached beyond the limit fixed by the Boundary Officer, was prosecuted by the Municipality. His answer was that the decision of the Boundary Officer was not binding on him, because the special notice, under s. 11 of the Boundaries Act, was not served on him and because he had obtained a title to the property encroached upon, by adverse possession before the Boundary Officer's decision. Held, the Boundaries Act makes the decision of a Boundary Officer conclusive, subject to the appeals provided for under the Act; that no appeal having been preferred against the Boundary Officer's decision, it was conclusive and the petitioner lost his right by adverse possession, even if he had any, by reason of the Boundary Officer's decision. Held, further, the objection as to want of special notice under s. 11 was one which ought to have been taken against the decision of the Boundary Officer and could not be taken now. KYA NEYUN v. RANGOON MUNICIPALITY, 4 L B R. 153=7 Cr. L.J. 462.

(2)—S. 17—See No. 1, supra.

(3)—S. 18—See No. 1, supra.

 Act XIX of 1881 (Forest).

[REP., BUR. ACT IV OF 1902.]

(1)—Chap. VI—Rule under the Act — Drift timber and timber in transit.—Chap. VI of the Act applies to breaches of duties in respect of timber floated down the Salween River, which, although treated departmentally as drift timber, is not drift timber within the meaning of Chapter VII of the Act, but actually timber in transit. Whoever makes the report, under Rule No. 17 of the Forest departmental rules, is personally responsible for its correctness. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. V. M. T. T. VEERAPPA CHETTY, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 57.

(2)—S. 36—Penal Code, ss. 40 and 67—Sentence.—Imprisonment may be awarded in default of payment of a fine imposed under s. 36, but the imprisonment must be simple

* These local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act XIX of 1881 (Forest)—concluded.

and must be governed by the scale laid down in s. 67, I.P.C. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA KYWE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 410.

(3)—S. 54—See APPELLATE COURT, L.B. R. 1893—1900, 423.

(4)—S. 55 —See RESTORATION OF PROPERTY, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 20.

(5)—S. 62—Offer of money to forest subordinate — Compoundable offence — Effect—See PENAL CODE, s. 214, 6 L.B.R. 48=15 Ind. Cas. 990=13 Cr. L.J. 574.

 Act XVI of 1884 (Gaming).

[REP., BUR. ACT I OF 1899.]

(1)—S. 5—See ACT III OF 1867, ss. 3, 4, 5, 14, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 486.

(2)—S. 6—See ACT III OF 1867, s. 13, L.B. R. 1872—1892, 317.

 Act XVII of 1884 (Municipality).

[REP., ACT XIII OF 1898, s. 18.]

(1)—Ss. 27 and 145—Prosecutions under the Act—Rule 24 of the Rangoon Municipal Rules.—Having regard to the fact that the Rangoon Municipal Committee have, by rules duly issued under the Act and sanctioned by the Chief Commissioner, delegated to the President of their Committee their executive authority in respect of s. 145 of the Burma Municipal Act, their previous sanction at a meeting is not necessary to prosecutions for offences under that Act or the Rules made under it. MAHOMED MOOSAJEE GOONDAH v. RANGOON MUNICIPALITY, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 463.

(2)—S. 75—Delegation of powers by President of Municipality — "Executive authority." — When the President of a Municipality delegates his powers to the vice-president, the delegation remains in force only so long as such president and vice-president continue in office. The words "executive authority," with reference to s 75 of the Act, do not include all that a municipal committee may do under that section. The determination of the matters referred to in sub-s. (1), including the question of compensation, or deciding, under sub-s. (2), that a building should be altered or demolished, is not a matter of executive authority. MAUNG SHWE BAN v. U MAUNG, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 371.

(3)—S. 79—Slaughtering of animals not intended for sale—Slaughtering at other places.—The Municipal slaughter-house rules ought not to render a person liable to punishment for slaughtering an animal outside the slaughter-house premises. Slaughter-houses are established by a Municipality under the provisions of s. 79 and are for the slaughter of animals for sale. There is no penalty for slaughtering an animal not intended for sale at a place other than the slaughter-house, and the slaughter of an animal intended for sale at another place

* These local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act XVII of 1884 (Municipality)—concluded.

only renders the person liable to a fine. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. CHOKALINGAM, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 383.

(4)—S. 84—Interpretation of, "or."—For the sake of brevity, "or" has been used in s. 84 in the sense of "or" and also in the sense of "and." QUEEN-EMPRESS v. MA AUNG, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 348.

(5)—S. 104—Sentence—Imposition of daily fine.—A Magistrate has no power to impose a daily fine by anticipation for an offence which has not been committed when the order is made. The proper course would be to fix a near day for report, and, if it be found that the order has not been carried out, it is open to prosecute the accused, and, on conviction, the daily fine up to the date of the report may be imposed and so on until the order is complied with. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PAW HI, L.B.R. 1872--1892, 421.

(6)—S. 145—See No. 1, supra.

 Act XX of 1886 (Upper Burma Laws).

[REP., ACT XIII OF 1898, S. 18.]

(1)—S. 7 a—See PWES, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 368.

(2)—Sch. III—See ACT VI OF 1864, s. 2, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 332.

 Act III of 1889 (Lower Burma Village).

[REP., BUR. ACT VI OF 1907.]

(a)—See EVIDENCE ACT, 1872, s. 25, 3 L.B.R. 283 = 5 Cr. L.J. 421, 1 L.B.R. 65.

(1)—Offence not cognizable by Ywathugyi—Order directing attendance—Ultra vires.—Insult not being an offence cognizable by a Ywathugyi or headman under the Lower Burma Village Act, the order issued by him compelling the attendance of the accused before him is ultra vires, and is, therefore, not legally binding on the accused QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA KAUNG KYWE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 535.

(2)—Accused previously convicted of theft—Subsequent commission of an offence punishable with 3 years' imprisonment—Liability to enhanced sentence under s. 75, Penal Code.—A person duly convicted of theft under s. 7 of the Lower Burma Village Act in case of a subsequent offence punishable with imprisonment for a term of three years or upwards under Chap. XII or XVII of the Indian Penal Code is liable to be dealt with under s. 75, Penal Code. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA MAUNG GYI, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 549, [Overruled, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 378].

(3)—S. 7—See SENTENCE—ENHANCEMENT OF SENTENCE, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 378.

* These local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act III of 1889 (Lower Burma Village)—ctd.

(4)—Ss. 7, 8, 10, 28—Powers of village headman—Abuse of powers—See PENAL CODE, ss. 161, 384, 14 Cr. L.J. 413 = 20 Ind. Cas. 237 = 6 Bur. L.T. 92.

(5)—S. 8—Powers of Deputy Commissioner.—Under s. 8 of the Lower Burma Village Act, a Deputy Commissioner can fine, suspend or dismiss a village headman for neglect of duty. Where, therefore, a Magistrate, citing s. 8 of the above Act as his authority, tried, convicted and passed a sentence of fine on a village headman for neglect of duty, though not authorized by any provisions of this Act, held that the Magistrate had no jurisdiction to do so. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SAN HLA, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 186.

(6)—S. 8—See No. 4, supra.

(7)—Ss. 8, 9, 23—See VILLAGE HEADMAN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 397.

(8)—S. 9—Order of the village headman to keep pigs in enclosure—Disobedience to such order.—The issue of an order by a village headman that the villagers should keep their pigs in enclosures to prevent their trespassing on the fields and destroying the paddy crop does not appear to be one of the public duties of a village headman which every resident of a village must, under s. 9, assist him in executing. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA AUNG NE, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 490.

(9)—S. 9 (2)—Burma Land and Revenue Act, 1876—Failure to pay capitation tax at a certain place on the demand of a village headman.—The accused were ordered by a village headman by repeated notices to come and pay their capitation tax at a certain place. They failed to do so. They were thereupon prosecuted by the circle thugyi. The accused were convicted under s. 9 (2) of the Lower Burma Village Act. Held, the conviction was bad. The non-payment of a revenue is a matter that can be dealt with under the Land and Revenue Act. The provisions of s. 9 (2) of the Lower Burma Village Act are inapplicable. KING-EMPEROR v. LU PE AND TEIN THI, 4 L.B.R. 150 = 7 Cr. L.J. 450.

(10)—S. 9 (2)—Application of section.—The mere breach of one of the rules, issued under s. 6 (1) of the Act, cannot amount to an offence and does not justify a conviction under s. 9 (2) of the Act. The essence of an offence, under that section, is refusal or neglect to comply with the requisition of a headman. To support a conviction under that section, it must, therefore, be proved that the headman made a certain requisition to the accused and that the accused refused or neglected to comply with it. KING-EMPEROR v. PANZI, 3 L.B.R. 96 = 3 Cr. L.J. 22.

(11)—S. 9 (2)—See CONTEMPT OF LAWFUL AUTHORITY, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 218.

(11-a)—S. 9—See No. 7, supra.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act III of 1889 (Lower Burma Village)—cld.

(12)—Ss. 9 (2), 20 (2)—Power of Deputy Commissioner to revise ywathugyi's order.—S. 20, cl. 2, empowers the Deputy Commissioner to revise the order given by the village headman. The High Court will be in a position to deal with the conviction or sentence, under s. 9, cl. (2), only after the order of the village headman has been cancelled. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA CHO, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 147.

(13)—S. 10—See No. 4, supra.

(14)—S. 13—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine illegal—General Clauses Act (I of 1868), s. 5—Penal Code, ss. 63 to 70.—A sentence of more than one-fourth of 15 days' imprisonment in default of payment of a fine imposed under s. 13, Lower Burma Village Act, is illegal. S. 5, General Clauses Act (1868), makes ss. 63 to 70 of the Penal Code applicable, where imprisonment is awardable as well as fine. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA NYEIN, L.B. R. 1893—1900, 141.

(15)—S. 13-A—Pwe, what constitutes.—An assembly of villagers, at which there is music, and two of the village girls dance, is not a pwe under the Act as amended by Act II of 1904, unless the Local Government declare, by a specific notification under the Act, such an assembly to be a pwe. KING-EMPEROR v. NGA PYU, 4 L.B.R. 43=6 Cr. L.J. 280.

(16)—S. 13-A—Foot races not pwes.—The accused, who were concerned in a foot-race, were prosecuted for holding an unlicensed pwe, under s. 13 A of the Act, as amended by Burma Act II of 1904, and convicted and sentenced to fine : held, on a reference to the Chief Court, that the general expression " other like race," in cl. 3 of s. 13-A, cannot cover foot-races, and, though it might be open to the executive, under the last portion of that clause, to declare them by notification to be pwes in certain local areas, in the absence of such a declaration, it cannot be held that foot-races are pwes as defined in the Village Act. KING-EMPEROR v. CHAN E, 3 L B.R. 93=3 Cr. L.J. 18.

(17)—S. 13-A— Pwe, meaning of—Lower Burma Towns Act, s. 7-A.—The term "pwe" used in s. 13 A of the Lower Burma Village Act, 1889, and s. 7-A of the Lower Burma Towns Act, 1892, does not include such entertainments or gatherings as cart-races or pony-races. It merely refers to entertainments of a theatrical nature, namely, zat-pwes and yok-the-pwes. CROWN v. NGA THA DUN, 1 L B.R. 110, F.B.

(18)—S. 19—Scope of section.—S. 19 of the Lower Burma Village Act refers to a complaint of an act which constitutes an offence under the Penal Code or any other law, if such act is also punishable departmentally under s. 8 of the Lower Burma Village Act. SHWE YI v. CROWN, 1 L.B.R. 336. (L B R. 1893—1900, 397, F.). [R., 14 Cr.L.J. 413=20 Ind. Cas. 237.]

(19)—S. 20—See No. 12, supra.

(20)—S. 28—See No. 4, supra.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act XI of 1889 (Lower Burma Courts).

[REP., ACT VI OF 1900, S. 48.]

(a)—See SANCTION TO PROSECUTE—REVOCATION OF SANCTION, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 529.

(1)—Ss. 50 and 69—Criminal case.—A petition presented to the Special Court under s. 50, cl. (5), Lower Burma Courts Act, by a person considering himself aggrieved by an order of the Recorder, sitting as Insolvency Commissioner, made under s. 50 of the Insolvent Act, comes before the Special Court as a criminal case, and is, therefore, to be dealt with, in case of difference of opinion between the members of the Special Court, under s. 69, cl. (c) of the Lower Burma Courts Act. The punishment, which can be awarded under s. 50 of the Insolvent Act, is a punishment for something which the person to be punished has done, and is not inflicted in order to compel him to do something in the future, and the case in which it is inflicted is, therefore, a criminal case. YEO SWEE CHOON alias BAHU v. CHARTERED BANK OF INDIA, AUSTRALIA, AND CHINA, RANGOON, 19 C. 605. (17 C. 209, F.)

(2)—S. 69—See No. 1, supra.

(3)—Ss. 86 and 87—See LEGAL PRACTITIONERS—ADVOCATE, L.B.R. 1872—1892, 260.

(4)—S. 87—See No. 3, supra.

 Act IX of 1892 (Lower Burma Towns).

[REP., BUR. ACT III OF 1907.]

(1)—S. 5, cl. (k)—Assistance by headman of a ward—Limit of assistance.—The general assistance which the headman of a ward is required by s. 5 (k) to give to all officers of the Government and Municipal officers in the execution of their public duties must be limited to assistance within the headman's ward. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO KIN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 454.

(2)—Ss. 6 (as amended by s. 4, Act XVIII of 1895) and 8—Village headman refusing to assist—Offence triable by a Magistrate—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 4 (p).—A village headman, refusing, without good reason, to assist at a search for opium, when required to do so by an Excise Sergeant, and thereby rendering himself liable to fine for an offence punishable under s. 6 of the above Act, commits an offence within the meaning of s. 4 (p), Crim. Pro. Code. Such an offence must be enquired into and tried by a Magistrate. S. 8 of the Act has no application to orders passed in criminal proceedings for offences under the Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA ZUN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 329.

(3)—S. 7-A—See BUR. ACT III OF 1889, s. 13-A, 1 L.B.R. 110, F.B.

(4)—S. 8—See No. 2, supra.

* These local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act II of 1898 (Ferries).

[Rep. in part Act II of 1901. Amended, Bur. Act II of 1899.]

(1)—Ss. 12, 14, 15, 25 and 27.—Isolated acts of conveying goods or passengers in a boat for hire within the limits of a ferry is not punishable under the Ferries Act. Queen-Empress v. Nga Chan Tha, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 194.

(2)—S. 14—See No. 1, supra.

(3)—S. 15—See No. 1, supra.

(4)—S. 25—See No. 1, supra.

(5)—Ss. 25 and 26 (b)—Some of the accused hiring other accused to carry betel leaves from one place to another—Sampans of those hired, whether ferry boats—Neither fraudulent crossing of public ferry nor user of landing place, without paying ferry toll, shown—Whether offence under Act committed.—Where the evidence, at most, showed that the first three accused employed the other three for hire to carry their betel leaves from one place to another within the limits of a ferry. Held, that the sampans of the accused, who were hired, did not thereby become "ferry boats," i.e., plying for hire between two fixed points for all comers indiscriminately, and that no offence was disclosed under s. 25 of the Burma Ferries Act. None of the accused having been shown to have fraudulently or forcibly crossed the public ferry or used the landing place without paying the ferry toll, held, there was no evidence of an offence under s. 26 (b). Po U v. King-Emperor, 14 Bur. L.R. 22=7 Cr. L. J. 311.

(6)—S. 26—See No. 5, supra.

(7)—S. 27—See No. 1, supra.

Act III of 1898 (Municipality).

[Amended, Act VI of 1900, s. 47.]

(1)—Ss. 92 (1), (2), (3), 180—Notice of intention to build—Direction of Municipal Committee to leave space, disobedience of—Prosecution for disobedience of successive directions—Previous acquittals whether a bar to subsequent prosecution—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 403—Jurisdiction of Court to consider the reasonableness of lawful direction of Committee—Crim. Pro Code (1898), s. 403—Application of.—A, just before he began to erect a building, gave notice of his intention to do so to the Municipal Committee under s. 92 (1). After he began to build, but within six months from the receipt of his notice, the Municipal Committee issued, under s. 121-A, notice requiring A to leave space about the building for scavenging purposes. A disobeyed the notice. He was prosecuted and acquitted. Again, notice was issued under s. 92 (2) requiring A to leave space within a month. He was prosecuted for disobedience and acquitted again. Then the Committee issued a notice under s. 92 (3) requiring A to alter the building so as to leave space for conservancy and prosecuted him for disobeying such notice. A pleaded, inter alia, that (1) the two previous acquittals were a bar to the prosecution and (2) that the order of the Committee was not lawful or reasonable, there being sufficient means of access for scavenging purposes from the back, but he was convicted. Held, that, as he has now been convicted of disobeying a notice issued under s. 92 (3), the offence is not the same offence as either of the previous offences, and that he has not been convicted on the same facts for another offence for which a different charge might have been made under s. 236, Crim. Pro. Code, at the previous trial, as some of the facts constituting the present offence were not in existence at the time of the former trials, and so, s. 403, Crim. Pro. Code, does not apply. Held, also, the notice given by the Committee was a lawful one, and, when it is lawful, the Court has no jurisdiction under s. 180 to consider whether such order is reasonable or not. Obiter:—S. 403, Crim. Pro. Code, does not direct that a person shall be acquitted, but that he shall not be tried. So, an order of acquittal cannot be passed under s. 403, on the ground that the accused had been previously acquitted. Oborno Charan Chowdhry v. King-Emperor, 5 L.B.R. 12=9 Cr. L. J. 578 =2 Ind. Cas. 357.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act III of 1898 (Municipality)—continued.

(2)—Ss. 92 (3), (4), 180—Act of building without permission not punishable—Absence of any notice to the accused regarding his breach of law or bye-law — Appeal—Continuing breach.—Maung Po Tok was prosecuted under s. 180 of the Burma Municipal Act under the following circumstances. He applied for permission to erect a zayat putting in plans, which were approved of by the Municipal Committee, Bassein. He then erected the zayat in contravention of the plans, for he proceeded to erect a portico. Complaint was made and he was ordered by written notice to stop going on with the erection of the portico. After that Po Tok asked that the portico be allowed to stand, but the President of the Committee rejected the request and ordered Po Tok's prosecution for building contrary to the plan. The Magistrate found that he did not stop when ordered to do so and that no notice appeared to have been issued requiring him to pull down or dismantle the extension. He found that Po Tok had departed from the sanctioned plan without permission and that he had erected, or began to erect, in contravention of the bye-laws, the portico. He found him guilty of a breach, in contravention of s. 92 (3) (4) of the Municipal Act and bye-laws framed under the Act, and directed that he pay a fine of Rs. 50, and in case of a continuing breach a further fine of Rs. 5 a day for every day in which the erection continued to exist after seven days from the 25th May. Maung Po Tok then applied for revision of this order to the Sessions Judge who referred the case to the Chief Court: Held, that, although at first sight the order of the Magistrate might seem to be more than an order of fine of Rs. 50 only and, therefore, appealable, but that, looking at the facts, there was no continuing breach of any notice issued by the Municipality, as no notice was proved to have been issued under s. 92 (3) or (4) requiring the portico to be altered or demolished: that, therefore, that portion of the order seemed to be meaningless and inoperative and appeared to be only for Rs. 50 and was thus not appealable. S. 180 makes punishable the disobedience of a bye-law or any lawful direction given by the Committee by public notice under the powers conferred upon it by Chap. VI, or any notice in writing lawfully issued by it under the powers so conferred, or failure to comply with the conditions subject to which any permission is given by the Committee under those powers. An erection in contravention of plans is not in itself or by itself alone punishable, as there is no bye-law rendering punishable the mere erection of a building in contravention of a plan. EMPEROR v. MAUNG PO TOK, 8 Ind. Cas. 983 = 11 Cr. L J. 745.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act III of 1898 (Municipality)—continued.

(3)—S. 94 (2)—See BUR. ACT V OF 1880, ss. 2, 17, 18, 4 L.B.R. 153 = 7 Cr.L.J. 462.

(4)—Ss. 99, 100 and 154—Points to be proved by prosecution.—In a prosecution under ss. 99, 100 and 154, Burma Municipal Act, for slaughtering an animal within the limits of a Municipality in a place not licensed for that purpose, the prosecution must prove not only that the animal was slaughtered in such a place, but it was slaughtered for the sale of its flesh. ALLY HOSSAIN v. KING-EMPEROR, U.B.R. 1904, 2nd Quarter, Municipal 1.

(5)—S. 100—See No. 4, supra.

(6)—S. 121—Scope of section.—This section empowers the Committee to require an owner to allow the servants of the Committee reasonable access to, or passage over, his land for scavenging purposes, whether these purposes concern the land in question or other land. MAPARA v. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF MANDALAY, U.B.R. 1897—1901, 230.

(7)—Ss. 130, 147 and 180—Premises unfit for human habitation—Notice by Municipal Committee prohibiting use of premises until further orders— Renting of premises — Prosecution—Legality of order of Municipal Committee—"Called in question" — Ultra vires—Magistrate not Municipal Committee to decide if premises fit for habitation."—An owner of a building was required by the Rangoon Municipal Committee under s. 130 of the Burma Municipal Act to refrain from using it as it was unfit for human habitation in consequence of its insanitary condition, until the Committee should be satisfied that the said premises had been rendered fit for such use. The owner carried out some repairs and reported that the house had been thoroughly cleaned and painted and was open to inspection. The Health Officer replied that something further was required to make the building sanitary but the owner let the house to a tenant. He was prosecuted under s. 180 of the Burma Municipal Act for disobedience of the notice and was convicted, the Magistrate holding that s. 147 enacts that no order made under s. 130 should be liable to be called in question otherwise than by an appeal to the Commissioner under s. 147. Held, that the words "no such order shall be liable to be called in question otherwise than by such appeal" in s. 147 of the Act should not be interpreted as preventing an accused person from challenging the order as ultra vires by way of defence to a criminal charge: held, also, reversing the conviction and sentence that the portion of the Committee's order prohibiting the use of the house "until such time as the said Committee is satisfied &c," was ultra vires. S. 130 did not make the Committee the judge of the question whether the house had been made fit for habitation. It was a question of fact to be decided by the Magistrate if the Committee saw fit to prosecute. BRETTO, J.F v. RANGOON MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE, 4 L.B.R. 144 = 14 Bur. L.R. 125 = 7 Cr. L J. 441.

(8)—Ss. 133 (1) and 160—Construction of term "wood."—S. 133 (1) of the Act prohibits the storage for trade purposes of wood in an inflammable condition, and it is immaterial whether it is in a manufactured or unmanufactured shape. NAGORE MEERA v. RANGOON MUNICIPALITY, 2 L.B.R. 70.

(9)—Bye-law (2) under s. 142 (e), s 180—Unlicensed pawn-broker- Definition of pawn-broker — Indian Contract Act, Ch IX.— The mere taking of goods as security for money lent would not make the lender a pawn-broker. To show that a person comes within the definition of pawn-broker, it must be proved that he carries on the business of lending money on the security of goods pledged to him, and that he holds himself out to lend money on such security and is in the habit of doing so. Where a person took goods in pawn for two loans of Rs. 20 and Rs. 10 and took also an "on demand note" for the loan of Rs. 20, but not for that of Rs. 10, which was explained by the fact that he was not in the habit of taking such a receipt for loans of less than Rs. 20 when property was kept with him as collateral security, held, that the fact that the accused belonged to the Chetty community, who carry on the business of money-lenders and hold themselves out as such, and also the admission of the accused, made the accused a pawn-broker, and, as such, he was guilty of an offence punishable under s. 180 of the Burma Municipal Act, in not having obtained a license from the Municipal authorities. In India, the English Law on the subject of pawning and pawn-brokers is not applicable. But Ch. IX of the Indian Contract Act is the law in force in India. According to Indian Law, there can be a taking in pawn even though no fixed time be agreed on for repayment of the loan, on account of which goods are deposited as security. KING-EMPEROR v. KANNAPPA CHETTY, 4 L.B.R. 8=6 Cr. L.J. 118.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act III of 1898 (Municipality)—continued.

(10)—Ss. 142 (f), 180—"Market," test of.—The test to find whether a market has been established without sanction in contravention of the bye-law is whether the use of the place constituted a disturbance of market rights. When a zayat is partitioned off into stalls, and the public are allowed to come there, and occupy stalls for daily fees for the purpose of sale of goods, that constitutes a disturbance of the market rights of the Municipality. It does not matter whether the number of sellers is three or thirty. If three can do so without question, there is no reason why thirty should not do the same. The only difference is that the disturbance of market rights is more apparent in one case than in the other. KING-EMPEROR v. NGA BA, 1 U B.R. 1902—1903, Municipal, 1. (11 B. 106, F)

(11)—Ss. 142 (d), 180, 202, Bye-laws, 19, 20 framed thereunder—Ultra vires—Punishment for breach of bye-law No. 19—Notice must require alterations that are reasonable and possible.—Clause (c) of by-law 19 framed by the Rangoon Municipality requiring the owners of lodging houses "to make such alterations in the construction and in the sanitary appliances and water supply of the building as may seem necessary for keeping the building in a wholesome condition" is not ultra vires, as the framing of such a clause is authorized by sub-cl. (iii) of s. 142 (d), which mentions one of the objects of such bye-laws to be to promote cleanliness and ventilation in lodging houses, and rules for promoting ventilation must by their nature provide for the necessary structural alterations when the purposes of the bye-law cannot be attained without them. A notice to be valid must be reasonable and possible to comply with. It is not reasonable to require a house owner to remove the latrines to a site outside and quite separate from the main building when no such site is available, nor to require him to close the latrines without the provision of any others. PARTIAL MAISTRY v. EMPEROR, 14 Cr. L J. 484=20 Ind. Cas. 740=6 Bur. L.T. 138.

(12)—S. 147—See No. 7, supra.

(13)—S. 154—See No. 4, supra.

(14)—S. 160—See No. 8, supra.

(15)—S. 162-B —"Driving a vehicle"—Riding a bicycle—"Vehicle"—"Driving"—A man riding a bicycle may properly be said to drive a vehicle within the meaning of s 162-B of the Municipal Act, and he is guilty of the offence of "driving a vehicle after dark without lamps" when he is found riding his bicycle without a light after dark. The word 'vehicle' includes a bicycle driven by human energy; the word 'drives' includes application of human energy to the pedals of a bicycle. EMPEROR v. NGA THA ZAN, 12 Cr. L J. 573=12 Ind. Cas. 837=4 Bur. L.T. 134.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act III of 1898 (Municipality)—concluded.

(16)—S. 163—Mere letting off a fire-balloon, whether an offence.—The letting off a fire-balloon within a municipal town is not of itself an offence, as s. 163 of the Municipal Act merely requires that the consent of certain officers shall be obtained previous to doing so, showing that the act in itself, under permission, is not a dangerous one. The mere letting off of a fire-balloon, therefore, in the absence of proof of rashness or negligence cannot be a ground of conviction. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA BO GALE, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 628.

(17)—S. 180—Disobedience to notice.—In prosecutions under s. 180, for disobedience to a notice issued under s. 114, legal evidence of the terms of the notice and of the period allowed by the notice for complying with it ought to be given. A Magistrate ordering a person to obey a notice issued by the Municipality under s. 114 acts ultra vires. KING-EMPEROR v. ABDUL GANI NAIKWAYA, 1 U B.R. 1902—1903, Municipal, 3.

(18)—S. 180—See Nos. 1, 2, 7, 9, 10, 11, supra.

(19)—Ss. 180 (1), 195—Prosecution for not obeying order of Municipality—Conviction—Fine for a contingent offence—Legality.—In convicting a person under s. 180 (1) of the Act for not obeying an order of the Municipal Committee to vacate his house in forty-eight hours, the Magistrate ordered the accused to vacate the house in five days, failing which to pay a fine of Rs. 5 for every day of non-compliance. Held, (1) the Magistrate had no authority to extend the time granted by the Municipality, and to give five days' time for the accused to vacate. (2) He had no authority to inflict a fine contingent on future events. If the disobedience continued, a fresh prosecution might be instituted, and, if convicted in such prosecution, the Magistrate could inflict a fine not exceeding Rs. 5 for every day of disobedience. KING EMPEROR v. PO NAN, 4 L.B.R. 44=6 Cr L J. 281. [R, 8 Cr. L.J. 505=14 Bur. L. R. 250=4 L.B.R. 300.]

(20)—S. 195—Prosecutions when legal.—No Court can take cognizance of any offence punishable under the Act except on the complaint of a person authorised by the Committee. KING-EMPEROR v. ABDUL MAWZIT, 2 L.B.R 124.

(21)—S. 195—See No. 19, supra.

(22)—S. 202—See No. 11, supra.

Act I of 1899 (Gambling).

[SS 6, 8, 9, 12, 14, AM., BUR. ACT I OF 1905]

(1)—Abuse to which it may be put—Care required of Magistrates in administering it.—There is great danger that the gambling law as it stands may be made a means by unscrupulous persons of harassing and oppressing persons on charges of gambling, and Magistrates should be careful to see that precautions are used to avoid unnecessary hardship, and to follow strictly the procedure laid down by law. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA LU GYI, 1 L B.R. 49.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act I of 1899 (Gambling)—continued.

(2)—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 4 (1) (b) and 190 (1) (b), 2 L.B.R. 146.

(3)—S. 3—Ti Game — Raffle.—Though a game of Ti is not specifically defined in the Act, a raffle game comes within the definition of "Ti or other game or pretended game" of a like nature in s. 3, sub-s. (3), cl. (b) of the Act and is, therefore, equally punishable with a game of Ti. MAUNG PO THA v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 112.

(4)—Ss. 3 (a), 5, 10—Arrest of gamblers by village-headman illegal—Coins not necessarily instruments of gaming.—A village headman not being a police officer is not empowered to arrest people whom he finds gambling in a public place, and it is illegal for the police to take cognizance of the offence on the headman's report. Coins are not necessarily instruments of gaming, but may be so in certain conditions. Coins found in the possession of a person arrested under s. 5 of the Act are not liable to seizure and forfeiture unless there is evidence to show that they were used or intended for the purpose of gaming. The fact that the arrest is illegal does not invalidate a trial. KING-EMPEROR v NGA THU DAW, 2 L.B R. 60. (L B.R. 1872--1892, 281, L.B.R. 1893--1900, 547, 1 L.B R. 65, 1 U B.R. 211, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 369, R.). [R., 14 Cr. L. J. 413=20 Ind. Cas. 237.]

(5)—Ss. 3, 6, 7—S. 103 of the Crim. Pro. Code — Common gaming house.—Though the Inspector of Police should not have added any new items to the list of things seized at a search held under s. 103 of the Crim. Pro. Code, held, that his doing so was not a breach which could invalidate the search. Though the profits of gambling were devoted to Club Premises and not for the profit or gain of the Club, the place might still come under the definition of "common gaming house" under s. 3 of the Act. HTAUNG v. KING-EMPEROR, 7 Bur L. T. 163=15 Cr.L.J. 523=24 Ind. Cas. 835.

(6)—Ss. 3, 7, 11, 12—Common gaming-house—Presumption on finding gaming instruments.—The definition of common gaming-house in s. 3 of the Burma Gambling Act applies to private as well as to public houses and places, and ss. 11 and 12 render players in, and the owners, occupiers and users of, common gaming-houses liable to punishment. Where a house is entered and searched under s. 6 of the Act, and gaming instruments found therein, the presumption mentioned in s. 7 arises, although there is no proof of any payment of commission by the players to the keeper. EMPEROR v. PO YIN, 12 Cr.L.J. 80=9 Ind. Cas. 450.

(7)—Ss. 3, 7, 12—"Common gaming-house"—Presumption under s. 7—Whether rebutted by circumstances — Revision —Power to interfere with sentences of persons who have not appealed.—Where there is no independent evidence as to the actual taking of the commission by the accused and the conviction of the accused rests on the bare presumption coupled with the discovery of the instruments of gaming under s. 7 of the Burma Gambling Act, it is necessary to consider very carefully whether the legal presumption is rebutted by the circumstances of the case and by the evidence produced for the defence. In exercise of its revisional jurisdiction, the High Court can, on the appeal of one accused, deal with the sentences passed on the other co-accused who have not appealed. T. R. S. CHARI v. EMPEROR, 12 Cr. L J. 250 =10 Ind. Cas. 792.

(8)—S. 4—Game of skill.—In the games of thonbonpe or dominoes, as played in Burma, the element of chance is so subordinated to the element of skill that the game must be looked upon as a game of the kind contemplated by s. 4 of the Burma Gambling Act. EMPEROR v. TUN ZUN, 8 Ind Cas. 451=3 Bur. L.T. 66.

(9)—Ss. 4, 10, 11 and 12.—Game of gonnyin.—The game of gonnyin is one of pure skill and does not, therefore, come under the provisions of the law against public gaming. QUEEN-EMPRESS v NGA SHWE ZIN, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I. 209.

(10)—S. 5—Gambling in a public place—Power of police to arrest without warrant.—The procedure of a police officer in arresting an accused without warrant on the mere report of an Ayalok was held to be illegal. Under s 5 of the Gambling Act, a police officer, who finds people gambling in a public place, may arrest them He has no power to arrest without warrant people who are reported to him to have so played, when he himself has not come upon them in the act, CROWN v. THA DUN, 1 L.B.R. 267.

(11)—S. 5—See No. 4, supra.

(12)—Ss 5 and 10—Power of police officer to arrest.—If a police officer sees a man gambling in a place to which the public have access, he himself may arrest him then and there, or, if he escapes for the time, subsequently. But it would not be legal for a police officer, who should come upon a number of persons gambling, subsequently to arrest persons reported to have been present but whom he himself did not see or recognise. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SU, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 211.

(13)—Ss. 5 and 10—Gambling in licensed toddy-shop—Toddy shop not a public place.—A licensed toddy-shop is not a place to which the public have access within the meaning of ss. 5 and 10 of the Burma Gambling Act, 1899. Ss. 5 and 10 of the Gambling Act are aimed at gambling in streets and thoroughfares and other similar places to which the public have access, and gambling in houses is dealt with in other parts of the Act and under different conditions. AH KON v. KING-EMPEROR, 2 L.B.R. 195. (4 B.L.R. 99, L.B R. 1872—1892, 317, R.) [R, 11 Cr. L.J. 737=8 Ind. Cas. 949=3 Bur. L. T. 121, 4 Bur. L.T. 71=10 Ind. Cas. 775.]

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act I of 1899 (Gambling)—continued.

(14)—S. 6—Issue of warrant—Further procedure.—When a warrant is issued under s. 6 of this Act, it should be executed in accordance with the provisions of that section. All the persons found in the common gaming-house are not to be indiscriminately taken into custody and brought before a Magistrate for trial. MAUNG PO THA v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 112.

(15)—S. 6—See No. 5, supra.

(16)—Ss. 6 and 7—Issue of warrant under sections.—Before the presumption under s. 7 can be drawn, it must be shown that the search was made in strict accordance with the provisions of s. 6. The warrant must be issued after the information has been recorded, and the provisions of s. 103, Crim. Pro. Code, must be observed in the search. Held, also, that, as a matter of practice, the information and grounds of belief recorded under s. 6 should always be filed with the record of the trial. NGA PYI v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 213.

(17)—Ss. 6 and 7—Lower Burma Towns Act, s. 4—Officer executing search warrant—Necessity for two respectable inhabitants of locality to witness search—Headmen of wards, whether proper witnesses — Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 103.—A house cannot be deemed to be entered under the provisions of s. 6 of the Burma Gambling Act, unless the Police Officer authorised by the warrant be accompanied by two respectable inhabitants of the locality within the meaning of s. 103, Crim. Pro. Code. The intention of the Legislature in framing s. 103, Crim. Pro. Code, should be considered in deciding whether the word "inhabitants" should be taken in its widest and ordinary sense, or whether it should be restricted so as to exclude a certain class of "inhabitants." The intention of the enactment seems to have been beyond doubt to ensure that searches are conducted with decency and in order, and that no wrong-doing, such as the planting of articles by the Police in the house searched, should take place. The regularity and proper conduct of the search was to be secured by two or more witnesses, and, this being so, it seems to be obvious that the intention was that only those should be chosen as witnesses, who can be reasonably relied on to secure the desired result, and whose trustworthiness and ability towards the carrying out of the particular duty required of them, can be felt. The intention, therefore, was to exclude from the category of inhabitants, those in whom confidence could not be felt and those against whom a reasonable suspicion arises that they may not carry out the duty required of them. Headmen of wards in the City of Rangoon are appointed by the Commissioner of Police, and it has become the practice to constantly use them as witnesses of searches. They further have certain police duties to do. They may be good and respectable men, but, under the circumstances, it would be dangerous to hold that they are of the class of those whom the law intended to be called as witnesses of searches, While they have police duties, are constantly called on to attend searches, and are appointed by the police, there cannot be that confidence in their doing the duty required of them which there ought to be, and they belong to that class which the law never intended witnesses to be chosen from. The house, entered in the present case, therefore, was not entered under the provisions of s. 6 of the Burma Gambling Act and the presumption under s. 7 of the Act cannot be drawn, KING-EMPEROR v. KWE HAN, 14 Bur. L.R. 81=4 L.B.R. 213=7 Cr. L J. 479.

(18)—Ss. 6 and 7—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), ss. 102 and 103—Presumption from discovery of instruments for gaming — Common gaming-house—List of things seized in search.—The accused were convicted under the Gambling Act, some under s. 11 for being present in a common gambling house for the purpose of gaming, and others under s. 12 for keeping a common gaming house. When a house, entered under the provisions of s. 6 of the Act, is found to contain any instruments of gaming, the presumption under s. 7 is that such house is a common gaming house and that the persons found therein were then present for the purpose of gaming. Under s. 6, the search must be made in accordance with the provisions of ss. 102 and 103 of the Crim. Pro. Code. Under s 103 of the Code, unless the list of the things seized is signed by the witnesses mentioned in the section, the search would not be legal. In the present case, a list was made upon three separate sheets of paper, the first of which was signed by the witnesses, while the rest were not signed. The first sheet did not contain any instruments of gaming. The search being thus illegal, the presumption under s. 7 does not arise and the convictions must be set aside. ANA DEWA SING v. KING-EMPEROR, 4 L.B.R. 134=7 Cr. L J. 411.

(19)—Ss. 6 and 7—Search—Presumption—Article-liable to seizure.—In cases under ss. 11 and 12, Gambling Act, it is only when the provisions of s. 6 are strictly followed that the presumption under s. 7 arises. The record containing the information received and the grounds of belief prepared under s. 6, Gambling Act, must form part of the trial record. Only articles specified in s. 6 can be seized in execution of a warrant under that section. CROWN v. TUN WA, 1 L.B.R. 289.

(20)—Ss. 6 and 7—House irregularly entered.—The provisions of sub-s. 1 of s. 6 of the Burma Gambling Act are all important, and, unless those provisions are strictly carried out, a house or place cannot be said to have been entered under the provisions of that section, and consequently the presumption specified in s. 7 cannot be made. A Magistrate or District Superintendent of Police, before he can issue a search-warrant, is required (1) to himself record in writing the substance of the information he has received, and (2) to record the grounds of his belief that the information is credible. CROWN v. MAJUN, 1 L.B.R. 120.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act I of 1899 (Gambling)—continued.

(21)—Ss. 6, 7—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 102, 103, 3 L.B.R. 229=4 Cr. L.J. 390.

(22)—Ss. 6, 7, 11—Crim. Pro. Code, ss. 103, 342—Search—Respectable persons in the locality—Stress on the words 'respectable' and not on 'locality'—Presumption under s. 7 of the Burma Gambling Act not optional—Duty of Magistrate to sift correctness of information on which they are asked to act under s. 6.—The object of s. 103 of the Crim. Pro. Code, in requiring that respectable inhabitants of the "locality" should be called to witness the search, is to ensure that false evidence may not be fabricated. The important point is that the men called in should be persons of some standing, whose word can be believed, not that they should be persons living within a stone's throw of the house which is to be searched ; the stress is on the word " respectable " and not on the word " locality. " Therefore, for the purposes of s. 103, a person living in a quarter within hail of the place to be searched may reasonably be regarded as an inhabitant of the locality, even if a river flows between. The presumption under s. 7 of the Gambling Act is not optional for the Magistrate to make. He is bound to presume that the house was a common gaming house until the contrary is proved. The house of the first respondent, Sit Nyein, in an outlying part of the Wakema Municipality, was entered by two Magistrates, who found a gambling ring of about twenty persons. The ring broke up and the gamblers fled, but the Magistrates and their companions managed to arrest nine of them. Three packs of cards and Rs. 25 in cash were found in the gambling ring. Held, that the presumption described in s. 7 of the Gambling Act arose in the case, and unless the accused proved that the house was not a common gaming house the described Magistrate was bound to convict. The provisions of ss. 6 and 7 of the Burma Gambling Act may cause great hardship, if the Magistrate, who issues the warrant, himself makes a raid and does so without good reason for believing that house to be entered is a common gaming house. It behoves Magistrates to sift information most carefully before acting under s. 6, the effect of which is to throw on the accused the burden of proving that the house which is raided is not a common gaming house. Two respondents, denied the offence charged against them under s. 11 of the Gambling Act. Held, that it was the duty of the Magistrate at the close of the prosecution to examine those persons under s. 342 of the Crim. Pro. Code, and to call upon them for their defence ; that, as those requirements were disregarded, those accused could not be said to have had a fair trial : Held, therefore, that, so far as these respondents were concerned, the order of the Sessions Court, which set aside their convictions, would stand. EMPEROR v. SIT NYEIN, 8 Ind. Cas. 988=11 Cr. L.J. 746.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act I of 1899 (Gambling)—continued.

(23)—Ss. 6 and 8—Gambling—Evidence of accomplice—House not searched—Crim. Pro. Code (1898), s. 337.—S. 8 of the Gambling Act does not enable a Magistrate to call on an accused person to give evidence in the case of a house not entered under the provisions of s. 6 of that Act, and s. 337, Crim. Pro. Code, does not apply to such cases. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO SIN, 1 L.B.R. 62.

(24)—Ss. 6, 8 and 9—Evidence of arrested person when—admissible Certificate of indemnity to be given—Scope of such certificate.—If the evidence of a person arrested under s. 6 of the Act is to be taken, he should be examined as a witness in accordance with the provisions of s. 8 of this Act, and not otherwise. The person so examined should, under s. 9 of the Act, be given a certificate absolutely freeing him from all prosecutions under the Act for anything done before that time in respect of the game under enquiry. NGA NGE v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 115.

(25)—Ss. 6, 10 (a), 15 (2), 3 (a)—Gambling in public streets—Warrant to whom to be directed and in what cases—Coins, whether instruments of gaming—Rewards.—It is only with regard to common gaming houses that it is now necessary for a Magistrate to direct his warrant to a police officer not below a certain rank. In cases coming under s. 10, he is not so restricted, and the provisions of s. 77, Crim. Pro. Code, will apply. It is not generally advisable to issue warrants to an informer for execution. Coins are now instruments of gaming under s. 3 (a) and under s. 15 (2) ; they can be seized and forfeited, even in prosecutions under s. 10 (a). Rewards can now be paid to any person who contributes to a conviction. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO NYUN, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 547.

(26)—Ss. 6, 11 and 12—Warrant to be on record—Their provisions to be strictly followed.—The warrant issued under s. 6 of this Act should be on the record as a documentary exhibit (vide Circular No. 6, Criminal, 7 (b) of 1893). The procedure laid down for the trial of offences under this Act should be strictly followed. The proceedings, as in the trial of summons-cases, should begin with the statements of the particulars of the complaint to the accused and the defence should come in after the evidence for the prosecution. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO KIN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 114.

4.– Burma Acts—continued.

Act I of 1899 (Gambling)—continued.

(27)—Ss. 6, 11, 12 and 15—Seizure of moneys in common gaming house.—There is no provision in the Burma Gambling Act, empowering any person to seize moneys found in a common gaming house which is not entered under the provisions of s. 6, nor authorising a Magistrate to order that moneys so seized be forfeited. In this case, both the seizure of moneys and the order directing it to be forfeited being illegal, the Chief Court set aside the order and directed the refund of the moneys. PO HLA v. KING-EMPEROR, 4 L.B.R. 227 = 7 Cr.L.J. 488. (3 L. B.R. 229, R.)

(28)—Ss. 6 and 14—"Report" meaning of.—The expression "report or information" in s. 14 of the Gambling Act has a very wide significance, and any report of a police officer is included in the term "report," as used in that section. PAUNG NGA v. KING-EMPEROR, 2 L.B.R. 212. (2 L B.R. 146, R.)

(29)—Ss. 6 (sub-ss. 3 and 4) and 14—Search in common gaming house—Procedure.—A District Superintendent of Police making a search on his own initiative, under s. 6 (1) of the Act, should comply with the provisions of s. 6 (4), in the same way as if he were making the search under a warrant. He has no authority to release the accused on bail. The presumption under s. 7 does not arise if the provisions of s 6 (3) are not complied with. KING-EMPEROR v. MAUNG CHO, 2 L.B.R. 43. [R., 14 Bur. L.R. 81 = 7 Cr. L. J. 479 = 4 L. B. R. 213.]

(30)—S. 7—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 103—Search —Ward headmen and Block-elders not qualified to be witnesses of search.—By the Full Bench (Ormond, J., dissenting).—The words "respectable inhabitants" in s. 103 of the Crim. Pro. Code, should not be construed to include ward-headman and block-elders who are appointed by the Deputy Commissioner (4 L.B.R. 213, 14 Bur L.R. 81, 7 Cr. L.J. 479, F.)—Per Twomey, J.—"Respectability" in this context means much the same thing as the impartiality, presumption being that all respectable people are prima facie impartial. There is no sufficient reason for holding that ward-headmen as a class should not be regarded as impartial. The genesis of the presumption under s. 7 of the Gambling Act is traceable not to the respectability or impartiality off the persons who witnessed the search, but to the sufficiency of the grounds on which the warrant was issued under s. 6 coupled with the finding of cards or other instruments of gaming in the place searched (U.B.R. 1908, Gamb. 1 ; 8 Cr. L.J. 413, F.) Per Hartnoll, J.—As the duties of the ward headmen and block-elders appointed under the Lower Burma Towns Act, 1892, or the Burma Towns Act, 1907, include duties which relate to the prevention of certain offences and the discovery of crime, and as it is part of their duty to assist all Officers of the Government in the execution of their public duties, they are not such persons as the Legislature contemplated should be called as witnesses within the meaning of s. 103 (1) of the Code of Criminal Procedure. Per Fox, C.J.—The ward-headmen and the block-elders, although appointed by a Deputy Commissioner, having the same duties to perform as wardmen appointed by the commissioner of Police, Rangoon, are not qualified witnesses to the search under s. 103 of the Code, which applies whatever the offence may be and is not confined to searches under the Gambling Act. Per Ormond, J.—The witnesses to a search should not be policemen, but there is no necessity to further limit the words "respectable inhabitants." Ward-headmen and block-elders are not policemen. The appointment or selection of the witnesses rests with the officer or person conducting the search and if the selection is not bona fide, the Court will have no difficulty in coming to the conclusion that there was no entry for search within the meaning of the Burma Gambling Act or the Code. EMPEROR v. KHAN HAW, 12 Cr.L.J. 251, F.B. = 10 Ind. Cas. 796.

(31)—S. 7— Presumption — Witnesses to search—'Respectable inhabitants,' meaning of—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 103, 15 Cr. L J. 441 = 24 Ind. Cas. 321 = 7 Bur. L.T. 143, F.B.

(32)—S. 7—See Nos. 5, 6, 7, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, supra.

(33)—S. 8—Accused found in common gaming house—House not entered without warrant—Accused persons made witnesses — Procedure illegal.—The procedure of a Magistrate, in a case where the evidence offered was insufficient, in making two of the accused persons witnesses in the trial of an offence under s. 10 of the Act, on the application of the police, was held to be illegal. S. 8 of the Gambling Act applies only to cases in which a house or place has been entered under the provisions of s. 6, that is, under a warrant issued by a duly empowered Magistrate or by the District Superintendent of Police. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SAW, 1 L.B.R. 59. [Overruled, 2 L.B.R. 146.]

(34)—S. 8—See Nos. 23, 24, supra.

(35)—S. 9—Evidence of accomplices absolved under s. 9, not invested with any special value.—Though s. 9 of the Gambling Act (I of 1899) by inference renders it admissible to examine persons who are accomplices to the accused, it does not invest their testimony with any special value beyond that which ordinarily attaches to the evidence of accomplices. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA YA PO, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 224.

(36)—S. 9—See No. 24, supra.

(37)—S. 10—Scene of offence to be a "public place."—Setting birds or animals to fight in a cultivated field is no offence under this section, as such a place is a private and not a public one. CRIM. REVISION CASE NO. 301 OF 1829, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 117.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act I of 1899 (Gambling)—continued.

(38)—S. 10—Gambling in a Zayat—Zayat is a "place to which the public have access."—A zayat must be regarded as a "place to which the public have access," and persons found gaming in it are liable to a prosecution under the said section. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SAN YE, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 215. [F., U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 216.]

(39)—S. 10—Encouraging by their presence—Whether it is "aiding and abetting"—First conviction—No maximum sentence.—Sympathetic spectators at a cock-fight, encouraging the same by their presence, shouting and gesticulation, can rightly be convicted of being present, aiding and abetting." On a first conviction under this section, the appropriate punishment is a small fine and not the maximum punishment provided for the offence, unless there is sufficient reason to satisfy that extreme severity. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA SHWE KYA, U.B R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 119.

(40)—S. 10—Abetment—" Aiding and abetting."—Meaning of the words 'aiding and abetting' in the above section do not include those who are present against their will or accidentally or for a legitimate purpose. CRIMINAL REVISION CASE NO. 82 OF 1892, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 117.

(41)—S. 10—Sentence of both imprisonment and fine, legality of.—This Act does not allow a sentence of both fine and imprisonment to be imposed on an accused person. Either the one or the other should be awarded. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO KIN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 114; CRIMINAL REVISION CASE, NO. 1357 OF 1892, U B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 118.

(42)—S. 10—Setting cocks to fight in a street—Proceedings of Legislature not an aid to interpret a statute.—The mere act of setting birds or animals to fight in a street, thoroughfare, or place to which the public have access, is an offence under s. 10 of the Burma Gambling Act. The section does not require that there should be any wagering on the result of the fight. The proceedings of the Legislature to wit, the statement of objects and reasons, which resulted in the passing of an Act cannot be referred to as an aid to the interpretation of the Act. CROWN v. NGA YEIK, 1 L B.R. 231. (22 C. 788, F)

(43)—S. 10—"Place," meaning of—First offence—Sentence.—S. 10 of the Gambling Act is not applicable to a man who merely runs away from a gambling waing. It must be shown that he actually played. The alleged gambling took place on a privately owned piece of land on which fruit trees were growing and on which land revenue was paid, but which was unenclosed, and people could pass freely through to and fro. Held, that such a place was of the same genus as a street or a thoroughfare within the meaning of s. 10. A sentence of one month's imprisonment for a first offence was considered excessive and altered to one of Rs. 30. ON BAN v EMPEROR, 8 Ind. Cas. 949 = 11 Cr. L. J. 737. (2 L.B.R. 195, 1 Cr. L.J. 461, R.)

(44)—S. 10—Place to which public have access—Fenced garden not such a place.—"The place to which the public have access" in s. 10 of the Act must be a place akin to or of the same nature as a street or a thoroughfare. A fenced garden, which is private property, cannot be held to be akin to or of the same nature as a street or thoroughfare. LU GALE v. EMPEROR, 12 Cr. L J. 245 = 10 Ind. Cas. 775. (2 L.B.R. 195, 10 Bur. L.R. 137, 1 Cr. L.J. 461, F.)

(45)—S. 10—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 190 (1) (b) and 4 (1) (h), 1 L.B.R. 18.

(46)—S. 10—Powers of village headman—Abuse of powers—See PENAL CODE, ss. 161, 384, 14 Cr. L.J. 413 = 20 Ind. Cas. 237 = 7 Bur. L.T. 92.

(47)—S. 10—See Nos. 4, 9, 12, 13 and 25, supra.

(48)—Ss. 10, 11—Gaming in Zayat in a compound in a monastery—Gambling in a zayat in the compound of a monastery is an offence punishable under s. 10, as the zayat was a place to which the public had access. KING-EMPEROR v. NGA PO SO, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 216. (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 215, F.)

(49)—Ss. 10, 11, 12—Gambling in a threshing-floor.—Gambling in a threshing floor is punishable under s. 10, such place being a place to which the public have access. NGA PO TUN v. KING-EMPEROR, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 217.

(50)—Ss. 10, 11 and 12—Card-gambling and cock-fighting under a tree near a village—Conductors thereof, nature of offence committed by.—Card-gambling and cock-fighting were carried on by the accused under a tree near a village. Most of them were convicted of gambling and setting animals to fight in a public place, under s. 10 of the Act. The others were convicted, on the same facts, with the additional fact that they acted as daings under s. 12. Held, that even if the possession of cards could convert the space under the tree into a common gaming-house, the possession of cocks could not, because birds and animals are not mentioned in s. 3 (3). The Legislature could not have intended that the person, who organises offences, under cl. (a) of s. 10, for his own profit should be punishable under s. 12, while a person, who organises offences, under the other clauses of s. 10, is not so punishable. Ss. 11 and 12 relate to offences committed in a common gaming-house, and s. 10 to offences committed in a public place. It could not be said that the primary object of the Legislature was to make the conductor of gambling in a public place punishable under s. 12. Therefore, the conviction under s. 12 was altered to one

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act I of 1899 (Gambling)—continued.

under s. 10. KING-EMPEROR v. NGA NET, U.B.R. 1905, Gambling 1=2 Cr.L J. 471. (U. B.R. 1897—1901, 217, R.) [F., 4 L.B.R. 47.]

(51)—Ss. 10, 11 and 12—Gambling in a public place, person conducting—Daing—Conviction of.—If the place of gaming was a common gaming-house, the persons who played cards for money in it ought to have been convicted under s. 11 of the Act, not under s. 10. If it was a place to which the public have access, the daings ought to have been convicted under s. 10. KING-EMPEROR v. PO WA, 4 L.B.R. 47=6 Cr. L.J. 285.

(52)—S. 11—Gambling—Evidence of informer—Necessity for corroboration.—Convictions for illegal gambling cannot safely be had on the mere word of an informer, corroborated solely by the bald statements of his near relations and by no other evidence, direct or circumstantial. NGA PA SI v. QUEEN-EMPRESS, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 218.

(53)—S. 11—See Nos. 6, 9, 22, 26, 27, 48, 49, 50, 51, supra.

(54)—Ss. 11, 12—Common gaming-house, owner of, present for gaming—Double conviction, illegal.—The owner of a common gaming-house, who was present for the purpose of gaming and who received a small commission, is not liable to a conviction under s. 11, as well as under s. 12 of the Act. Double conviction is illegal in such cases. CROWN v. SHWE PE, 1 L B.R. 178, (1 L.B.R. 33, F.) [R., 7 Cr. L.J. 76=4 L.B.R. 104.]

(55)—Ss. 11 and 12—Indian Penal Code, s. 71—House-owner taking part in the gambling—Double conviction—Legality of the sentence.—The taking part in the game by the house-owner or occupant may be and often is, a part of the method of conducting or of assisting in conducting the business of a common gaming house, and so it may be a part of the way in which the house is used as a common gaming-house for the profit or the gain of the owner or occupier. Where the Magistrate found that the accused had used her house as a common gaming-house, and, also, that she had herself played cards for money in the house, held, that s. 71 of the Penal Code applied to such a case, and that the accused was not liable to be sentenced for an offence under s. 11 of the Gambling Act in addition to being sentenced under s. 12. KING-EMPEROR v. MI THIN, 4 L.B R. 104=7 Cr. L.J. 76.

(56)—Ss. 11 and 12—Sentence under the sections—A sentence of imprisonment in default of payment of a fine, under s. 11 or 12 of the Act, is limited to one-fourth of the maximum term of imprisonment for the offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO SIN, U.B.R. 1897—1901. Vol. I, 220, (U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 221, F.)

(57)—Ss. 11 and 12—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 4 and 190, 1 L.B.R. 58.

(58)—S. 12, cls. (a) and (d)—Offences under—Punishment.—Offences under the above two clauses of this section are distinct and may be separately punished. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA YA PO, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 224.

(59)—S. 12—Common gaming-house—Magistrate, duty of—Issue of process.—A Magistrate ought, before issuing process under s. 12, Burma Gambling Act, 1899, to satisfy himself by evidence that a house is used as a common gaming-house. NGA HNAN v. CROWN, 1 L. B.R. 92.

(60)—S. 12—Limit of imprisonment in default of payment of fine—Penal Code, s. 65.—S. 65, I P.C., is intended to apply to offences punishable with imprisonment or fine, and imprisonment in default of the payment of a fine under s. 12 of Act I of 1899 must be limited to one-fourth of the maximum term of imprisonment awarded for the offence. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA TUN HLA, U.B R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 221. See, also, QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA PO LIN, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol I, 220. (U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 93, L B R. 1893—1900, 385, R.)

(61)—S. 12—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 556, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 125.

(62)—S. 12—See SENTENCE — IMPRISONMENT — IMPRISONMENT IN DEFAULT OF PAYMENT OF FINE, ETC., 1 L.B.R. 150.

(63)—S. 12—See Nos. 6, 7, 9, 26, 27, 49, 50, 51, 54, 55, 56 and 57, supra.

(64)—Ss. 12 and 14—Jurisdiction of Magistrate.—According to s. 14 of the Gambling Act (I of 1899), a Magistrate is precluded from taking cognizance of any offence under s. 12 of the Act committed more than a month before the offence is reported to him. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA YA PO, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 224.

(65)—S. 13—Stakeholder in a Ti game—Liability.—A stakeholder in a Ti game is liable to be punished under the provisions of s. 13 of this Act. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA TALOK PYU, U.B R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 122.

(66)—S. 13—Arrest—Irregularity—Proceedings, whether vitiated thereby.—As the law has prescribed no special mode of arrest as a necessary preliminary to a prosecution under this section, the manner of arrest is not an essential point of procedure, any substantial defect in which would vitiate the proceedings. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA KAN, U.B.R. 1892—1896, Vol. I, 123. (4 C. 659, R.)

(67)—S. 14—See Nos. 28, 29 and 64, supra.

(68)—S. 15—See Nos. 25 and 27, supra.

(69)—S. 16—Burma Judicial Department Notification, No. 286, dated 20*th August* 1896, Rule 7.—The Rules contained in Judicial Department Notification, No. 286, dated 20th August, 1896, do not affect the payment of rewards under the express provision of any Act, Regulation or Rule having the force of law.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act I of 1899 (Gambling)—continued.

S. 16 of the Act expressly provides for the payment of such rewards, and the limitation imposed by Rule 7 of the Rules under the former Act does not apply. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. KYIN TON, L.B.R. 1893—1900, 664.

(70)—S. 17—Order requiring security—Appeal, maintainability of—Crim. Pro. Code, 1898, ss. 110, 117, 118 and 406.—S. 17 of the Gambling Act empowers a competent Magistrate, who receives information that any person in his jurisdiction earns his livelihood, wholly, or in part, by unlawful gambling, to deal with that person as merely as may be as if the information were of the description mentioned in s. 110 of the Crim. Pro. Code and to pass an order under s. 118, Crim. Pro. Code. Held, that, inasmuch as an order under s. 17 of the Act, requiring security from a person, who has been found to earn his livelihood by unlawful gaming, is an order passed under s. 118, Crim. Pro. Code, an appeal lies against that order under s 406, Crim. Pro. Code. TET PYA v. KING-EMPEROR, 3 L.B.R. 21=2 Cr. L.J. 378.

(71)—S. 17—Procedure in demanding security with reference to s. 17—Appeal.—In demanding security with reference to s. 17, the Magistrate must be held to act under s. 118, Crim. Pro. Code, 1898, and, therefore, an appeal lies to the District Magistrate under s. 406, Crim. Pro. Code, 1898. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. NGA KYAUK MAW, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 227.

(72)—S. 17—Evidence of general repute as foundation for proceedings under—Order requiring a bond Acceptance of separate sureties improper.—The taking of evidence of general repute as a foundation for proceedings under s. 17 of the Act is warranted by the terms of the section. Where a Magistrate requires a bond for Rs. 3,000 under s. 17 of the Act, the acceptance by him of separate sureties for Rs. 3,000 and Rs. 2,000 is imporper. It will look as if the sureties were given for Rs. 5,000. All that can properly be demanded is security amounting jointly and severally to Rs. 3,000 or sureties severally bound for such sums as will make up Rs. 3,000. CASSIM v. CROWN, 1 L. B. R. 145.

(73)—S. 17—Points to be proved in prosecution under the section.—In a prosecution under s. 17 of the above Act, what has to be proved is that the applicant partially earned his livelihood by unlawful gaming, or by promoting, or assisting in the promotion, of unlawful gaming, and, under s. 117 (3), Crim. Pro. Code, these facts may be proved "by evidence of general repute or otherwise." But the statements of the witnesses, who heard this or that, are not evidence of general repute. NGA HOK v. KING-EMPEROR, U.B.R. 1897—1901, Vol. I, 228 (23 C. 621, F.)

(74)—S. 17—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 55, 3 L.B.R. 94=3 Cr. L.J. 20.

(75)—S. 17—Security for good behaviour—Single penalty—Forfeiture of bond—Liability of sureties—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 110, 514, 14 Cr. L.J. 430=20 Ind. Cas. 414=U.B.R. 1913, 1st Qr., 159.

4.—Burma Acts—continued.

Act I of 1899 (Gambling)—concluded.

(76)—S. 17—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 118 (3) and 562, 2 L.B.R. 168.

(77)—S. 17—See GAMBLING, 1 L.B.R. 71.

Act IV of 1899 (Rangoon Police).

[SS. 43A. TO 43C. INS., BUR. ACT II OF 1902, S. 3. S. 31-A INS., BUR. ACT I OF 1904. S. 8, REP. IN. PT. AND AM., SS. 8A, 36A, 41A, 43 D INS., S. 41 (15) REP. IN. PT., S. 41 (16) REP., BUR. ACT IV OF 1907.]

(1)—S. 30—See ACT XI OF 1878, s. 19 (e), 3 L.B R. 218, F. B.

(2)—S. 30, cl. (c)—Summary trial—Record must show ingredients of offence charged—Venue of trial material only where accused is prejudiced—Crim. Pro. Code (Act V of 1898), s. 531.—Where an accused person was charged under s. 30 (c) of the Rangoon Police Act for "being found between sunset and sunrise with his face covered and being unable to give a satisfactory account of himself," and where the record was silent as to what account, if any, the accused at the time of his arrest gave of himself and as to any reason there may be for considering such account to be unsatisfactory: Held, that the record omitted a most essential ingredient of the offence of which the accused was convicted and that this omission was fatal. The record in summary trials, however brief, should show the necessary ingredients of the offence charged. (3 L.B.R. 3, 2 Cr. L.J. 375, F.) Where it was contended that the accused was found within Municipal limits and not within Cantonment limits, and that his trial by the Cantonment Magistrate was consequently illegal. Held, that there would be no ground to interfere, unless it could be shown that failure of justice had in fact been occasioned by the error of venue. KET FOON v. EMPEROR, 12 Cr. L.J. 280=10 Ind. Cas. 921.

(3)—Ss. 30, 31-A—Summary trial under s.30—Order for security for good behaviour under s. 31-A, in addition to sentence of imprisonment, whether it affects the right of appeal—Provisions of ss. 414 and 415, Crim. Pro. Code, whether applicable—Appealable sentence passed on one only of the persons jointly tried—Whether others on whom no such appealable sentence passed, have also the right of appeal.—Where two persons were jointly tried at a summary trial under s. 30 of the Rangoon Police Act, and one of them was sentenced to three months' rigorous imprisonment and was further ordered under s. 31-A to give security for good behaviour, held, the addition of such order to give security for good behaviour did render the sentence appealable; and that the provision in s. 415, Crim. Pro. Code, will not apply to an order under the Rangoon Police Act, s. 31-A, since (1) s. 415 has no reference to security for good behaviour and (2) there is no corresponding provision in 4.—Burma Acts—concluded.

Act IV of 1899 (Rangoon Police)—concluded.

the Rangoon Police Act restricting the right of appeal. Held, also, when more persons than one are convicted at one trial and an appealable sentence is passed on any of them, all the persons convicted at such trial have a right of appeal. KATTAN v. KING-EMPEROR, 4 L.B.R. 359 = 9 Cr. L.J. 368. (2 L.B.R. 72, 4 L.B.R. 354, R.).

(4)—S. 31-A—See No. 3, supra.

Act II of 1900 (Burma Vaccination Law Amendment).

[S. 2 (a) AM., BUR. ACT VI OF 1908, S. 5 (WHEN NOTIFIED); REP. BUR., ACT I OF 1909 (WHEN NOTIFIED).]

See ACT XIII OF 1880, s. 17, 2 L.B.R. 279.

Act I of 1901 (Lower Burma Land and Revenue Act Amendment).

(1)—Powers of Revenue officers under—Power to order removal of Zayats built on Karer Christian burial ground—Disobedience of order—Punishment—See PENAL CODE, s. 188, 7 L.B.R. 75.

Act IV of 1901 (Lower Burma Courts Act (1900) Amendment).

(1)—S. 12—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, ss. 299 (a), 302, 303, 439, 537 (d), 3 L.B.R. 75 = 3 Cr. L.J. 1.

Act II of 1904 (Towns and Village Laws Amendment).

[REP., BUR. ACT III OF 1907.]

(1)—See BUR. ACT III OF 1889, s. 13-a, 3 L.B.R. 93 = 3 Cr. L.J. 18.

Act VI of 1907 (Village).

(1)—S. 19 (1)—Conviction under—Necessary elements of the offence.—To support a conviction under s. 19 (1), Village Act, it is necessary to show that the accused had built their houses without the permission of the Deputy Commissioner and later than the year 1908 in which year the present Village Act came into force. KING-EMPEROR v. NGA NYA, U.B.R. 1913, 3rd Qr., 180 = 15 Cr. L.J. 250 = 23 Ind. Cas. 202.

Act I of 1909 (Vaccination Law Amendment).

(1)—Ss. 4, 7—Vaccination of children under six months—Applicability of s. 7—Crim. Pro. Code, s. 537—Omission to examine complainant — Irregularity cured by s. 537.—S. 4 of the Burma Act I of 1909 applies only if the child to be vaccinated is under six months, and has been exposed to certain possibilites of infection. If it is desired to make use of the section, the second paragraph must be complied with, and no summary procedure is possible. S. 7 of the Act refers to inmates of lodging houses and persons living under other special conditions. The omission to examine the complainant is cured by s. 537, Crim. Pro. Code. EMPEROR v. NGA PO KAN, 14 Cr. L.J. 420 = 20 Ind. Cas. 404 = U.B.R. 1913, 1st Qr., 162. (4 L.B.R. 300, R.)

(2)—S. 7—See No. 1, supra.

5.—Central Provinces Acts.

Act XI of 1873 (Central Provinces Municipal).

[REP., ACT XVIII OF 1889.]

(1)—S. 21—Dividing carcass of animal within Municipal limits for cooking purposes.—To bring the carcass of an animal into the limits of a Municipality and divide it for the purpose of cooking, is not to dispose of it within Municipal limits, within the meaning of the Municipal bye-laws on that subject. POLICE v. BALDI, Colm. Dig. Cr. 84 of 1877.

(2)—S. 74—Wells within Municipal limits.—The Municipal Committee could not, under the above section, require the owner of a well to protect it, unless it was, for want of protection, dangerous to persons passing by or dwelling or working in the neighbourhood. EMPRESS v. ZORAWAR, 5 C.P.L.R. 57.

Act XVIII of 1881 (Land-Revenue Act).

[REP., IN PT. AND AM., ACT XVI OF 1889; ACT XII OF 1891; ACT XII OF 1898. SS. 77 (a), 138 (b), 141 (a) REP. IN PT., S. 143-A (c) REP. IN PT. AND AM., S. 146-A REP. IN CENTRAL PROVINCES, ACT IV OF 1907. SS. 5 6, 17, 22 (c), 23 (c), 25 AM. IN CENTRAL PROVINCES ACT XIII OF 1908. AM. IN THE TALUQAS OF NAGUR, ALBAKA AND CHERLA, REG. I OF 1909, S. 3 (2), PROV.]

(1)—Ss. 137, 141—Mukaddam appointing gumastah—Effect upon responsibility of Mukaddam—See PENAL CODE, s. 176, 7 N.L.R. 101 = 11 Ind. Cas. 785 = 12 Cr. L.J. 441.

(2)—S. 141—See No. 1, supra.

Act XVIII of 1889 (C.P. Municipality).

[REP., ACT XVI OF 1903.]

(1)—Playing music in a Municipal town, when an offence.—Where a Municipal Committee has not issued any orders or made any rule against playing music at night, a conviction, in such a case under the above Act is untenable. EMPRESS v. PURAN, 5 C.P.L.R. 92.

(2)—S. 84, prosecution under—Burden of proof—Evidence Act, s. 106.—Where an accused person is charged with omitting to report the occurrence of death within the prescribed time, a conviction should not be set aside merely on the ground that the prosecution omitted to prove that the occurrence was not reported. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE OF WARDHA v. LAKSHMAN RAO NAIDU, E , 16 C P.L.R. 63.

(3)—S. 97—Nuisance.—The accused in this case was charged, under s. 97 of the above Act, of keeping swine in insecure enclosures, in disregard of orders given by the Municipal Committee for preventing a nuisance. In addition to passing a sentence of fine, and alternative imprisonment on the accused, the Bench passed the following order:—"that he should take his swine outside the Municipal limits within 5 days and demolish his enclosures, and, in case of failure to comply with the orders, pay a fine of Re. 1 per diem." Held that the order for the removal of the swine, and the demolition of the enclosures were without jurisdiction and the order that, in case of failure to comply with that order, the accused should pay a daily fine was illegal. EMPRESS v. GANGARAM, 6 C.P.L.R. 32, Cr.

* These Local Acts were passedby the Imperial Legislature.

5.—Central Provinces Acts—concluded.

Act XVIII of 1899 (C. P. Municipality)—cld.

(4)—S. 120—Public nuisance.—The C.P. Municipal Act, XVIII of 1889, does not empower a Municipal Committee to define public or common nuisances. Rules made under the previous Act of 1873 declaring what acts or omissions within the limits of the town should be declared to be public or common nuisances cannot be deemed to be any longer in force as law. EMPRESS v. HASSU MIYAN, 12 C.P.L.R. Cr. 16.

(5)—S. 122—Penalty for disobedience to orders of Committee not punishable under any other section of Act—The continuing breach contemplated by s. 122 is a past breach and not a possible future breach.—A Magistrate cannot legally, when convicting a person of disobedience to a written notice issued by the Municipal Committee, direct that he shall obey the notice within a certain time and that, in case of non-compliance, he shall pay a certain daily fine. MUNICIPAL COMMITTEE v. DADU HALWAI, 7 C.P.L R. 4, Cr.

Act II of 1904 (C.P. Courts).

[REP. IN SAMBALPUR DISTRICT, BEN. ACT IV OF 1906.]

(1)—S. 8, sub-s. 1 (a) and sub s. 3—Rules framed under Act, when applicable—District Magistrate receiving applications for licenses under Indian Arms Act, 1878, whether a Criminal Court or executive officer.—When receiving applications for licenses under the Arms Act, 1878, a District Magistrate is not acting as a Criminal Court, that is, judically, but as an executive officer. Under these circumstances, an order by him, fining a person who writes applications for hire, as though that person had violated a rule made under cl. (a), sub-s. 1 of s. 8, Central Provinces Courts Act, 1904, is ultra vires, as he is not empowered to fine under sub-s. 3 of s. 8 of the C.P. Courts Act, 1904. The rules framed by the Judicial Commissioner's Court under cl. (a), sub-s. 1 of s. 8, C.P. Courts Act, 1904, apply only where the act complained of is done in a Court subordinate to it or in the latter Court itself. SURAJ PRASAD v. EMPEROR, 4 N.L.R. 134.

(2)—S. 15—See CRIM. PRO. CODE, 1898, s. 195, sub-ss. 7 (a), 6, 8 N.L.R. 57=13 Cr. L.J. 498=15 Ind. Cas. 642.

6.—Madras Acts.

 Act XXIV of 1839 (Ganjam and Vizagapatam).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XI OF 1901. REP. IN PART, ACT XIV OF 1870; ACT XVI OF 1874; ACT XII OF 1891; MAD. ACT I OF 1865.]

S. 3—See ACT XIV OF 1874, 14 M. 121=2 Weir 7.

 Act XVII of 1840 (Salt Laws, Madras).

[REP., MAD. ACT IV OF 1889.]

(1)—Breach of—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine, whether legal.—The award of imprisonment in default of payment of fine is not allowable under the provisions of Act XVII of 1840. QUEEN v. AMIRTAM, 4 M. 335. (4 M. 335, Note, F.B., R.).

(2)—Punishment of imprisonment as substantive sentence, whether allowed by the Act—Madras Reg. I of 1805.—Act XVII of 1840 allows of either fine or imprisonment being imposed as a substantive punishment. FULL BENCH DECISION OF 15TH DECEMBER 1879, 4 M. 335, Note, F.B. [R., 4 M. 335.]

(3)—Possession of salt-earth.—Being in possession of salt-earth from which salt may be manufactured is an offence under Act XVII of 1840. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 1ST JULY 1869, 4 M.H.C. App. 53.

(4)—Discretion of Magistrate regarding sentence of fine and imprisonment—Order of Government restricting such discretion, effect of.—An order of the Government prohibiting Magistrates from the exercise of discretion imposed on them by law as to whether they shall, in the case of certain offences, pass a sentence of fine or a sentence of imprisonment, is ultra vires, as, in the absence of any provision conferring or reserving to the Executive Government such power, the Government cannot, by an executive order, release the Magistracy from their obligation to obey the enactments of the Legislature. HIGH COURT JUDGMENT, 15TH DECEMBER 1879, 1 Weir 894, F.B.

 Act IV of 1842 (Boat Regulations, Madras Roads).

[REP., MAD. ACT I OF 1893.]

See MAD. ACT IX OF 1846, 9 M. 431=1 Weir 852.

Act IX of 1846 (Boats in Harbours, Madras).

[REP., MAD. ACT I OF 1893.]

(1)—Rule VII of Rules made under Act—Liability of owner of boat—Burden of proof—Power of Local Government to make provision for the hearing of cases cognisable under rules passed under the Act. — Under r. 7 of the Rules for the better management of boats and canoes,

* These Local Acts were passed by the Imperial Legislature.

6.—Madras Acts—continued.

Act IX of 186 (Boats in Harbours, Madras) —concluded.

plying for hire at the out-ports of the Madras Presidency, dated 30th September, 1867, the owner of a boat is liable to a fine, on proof of his "allowing" his boat to ply without the requisite complement of men. The word "allow" in the rule creates a liability more extensive than would be implied in such words, as "if the owner neglects to ensure that the boat is fully manned, and thereby contravenes the provisions of the rules, he shall be guilty of an offence under the rules, unless he proves that he has taken all reasonable means to prevent such contravention." The absence of proof by the prosecution that the owner was aware that the boat was plying without its proper crew is no bar to his conviction. Act IX of 1846 is an Act authorising the Government of Fort St. George to make, from time to time, in respect of each port or other place of anchorage in the Presidency, such regulations for the management of boats and catamarans, etc., and such other matters as are provided for by Act IV of 1842 in respect of the Madras Roads as shall seem to them expedient, "being similar in principal to the provisions contained in the said Act, but varying in detail as local circumstances required such variation." Under the provisions of this Act, it is competent for the Local Government to provide that cases involving questions as to breaches of the regulations or rules shall be cognisable by Magistrates not being Justices of the Peace. In re ROWTHAKONNI, 9 M.431 = 1 Weir 852.

Act I of 1858 (Compulsory Labour, Madras).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XI OF 1901. REP. IN PART, ACT XVI OF 1874. DECLARED IN FORCE THROUGHOUT THE PRESIDENCY OF MADRAS, EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 4.]

(1)—Labouring classes. — By the term "labouring classes" in Act I of 1858, not only persons who let their labour for hire are included, but also persons who habitually engage in manual labour, although they may, at the same time, be employers of labour. QUEEN v. MUTTU REDDI, 6 M. 199 = 1 Weir 784.

(2)—S. 1—Village "in the vicinity."— Villages seven miles away from the place where a breach has occurred are not within such distance as answers to the words "vicinity" or "neighbouring" in s. 1 of the Act. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS. 19TH MAY, 1882, No. 984, 1 Weir. 783.

(3)—Ss. 1 and 2—Right to call labourers to help in stopping or preventing a breach.—To entitle the authorities to call upon labourers of neighbouring villages to help in stopping or preventing a breach of a channel, it is only necessary to see that there has been or will be a breach. It is not necessary to see that a loss of property has occurred or will occur. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 19TH MAY 1882, NO. 984, 1 Weir 783.

* This Local Act was passed by the Imperial Legislature.

6.—Madras Acts—continued.

Act I of 1858 (Compulsory Labour, Madras) —concluded.

(4)—Ss. 1, 2 and 6—Jurisdiction of Magistrates under the Act.—The only acts or omissions, over which a Magistrate has jurisdiction under Act I of 1858, are those specified in the first section, namely, where a tank or other irrigation work has been breached or is in imminent danger of being breached. Cases under s. 6 are not cognisable by a Magistrate at all, but the section points out distinctly the only mode in which the value of the labour withheld can be assessed or recovered. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 23RD NOVEMBER, 1868, NO. 1534, 1 Weir 783 = 4 M.H C. App. 20.

(5)—S. 2—Offence under the section, what constitutes.—When persons belonging to labouring classes are duly called upon by the head of the village to labour, as provided in s. 1 of the Act, a refusal or neglect to comply with such call, without any lawful excuse, constitutes an offence under s. 2. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 14TH MARCH 1878, No. 559, 1 Weir 783.

(6)—S. 2—See Nos. 3 and 4, supra.

(7)—S. 6—See No. 4, supra.

 Act XXIV of 1859 (Police, Madras).

[SHORT TITLE GIVEN, ACT XI OF 1901. REP. IN PART, ACT XVII OF 1864; ACT XIV OF 1870; ACT XVI OF 1874; MAD. ACT I OF 1885; MAD. ACT V OF 1896. REP. IN PART AND AMENDED, MAD ACT III OF 1889 (EXCEPT IN SCHEDULED DISTRICTS), MAD. ACT III OF 1895. AMENDED, MAD. ACT V OF 1865. SUPPLEMENTED, ACT III OF 1883. SS. 1, 10, AMENDED, MAD. ACT III OF 1909. SS. 2, 3. DECLARED IN FORCE THROUGHOUT THE PRESIDENCY OF MADRAS, EXCEPT AS REGARDS THE SCHEDULED DISTRICTS, ACT XV OF 1874, S. 4.]

(a)—See PENAL CODE, s. 223, 1 Weir 197.

(1)—S. 1—See MAD. ACT III OF 1864, s. 26, 9 M. 97 = 1 Weir 630.

(2)—S. 1—See MAD. ACT I OF 1886, s. 55, 1 Weir 632 = 1 Weir 836.

(3)—Ss. 1, 8 and 11—Penal Code, ss. 21 and 353—Village talayari, whether a police officer.— Under the Madras Police Act, a person, though assuming the functions of a police officer, is not a police officer in the execution of his duty so as to affect third parties, unless he has been enrolled and has received the certificate of enrolment. A village talayari is not a police officer, unless so enrolled, and, if not a police officer, he is not a public servant acting in the execution of his office, while making an arrest of persons suspected of crime. In re VENKATIGADU, 1 Weir 342 = 1 Weir 837.

* This Local Act was passed by the Imperial Legislature.

6.—Madras Acts—continued.

Act XXIV of 1859 (Police, Madras)—contd.

(4)—S. 8—See No. 3, supra.

(5)—Ss. 8, 10, 11 and 44—Village kavalgars.—S. 44 of Act XXIV of 1859 applies only to police officers enrolled and appointed in the manner prescribed in ss. 8, 10 and 11 of the Act. Village kavalgars, not being so appointed, are not punishable under s. 44. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 11TH MARCH 1872, 1 Weir 836 = 7 M.H.C. App. 4.

(6)—S. 10—See No. 5, supra.

(7)—Ss. 10 and 44—Departmental punishment, whether a bar to a prosecution under the Act.—Where the Government has not framed any rules under s. 10 of Act XXIV of 1859, the mere fact of departmental punishment having been awarded is not sufficient to exonerate from liability under s. 44, though the circumstance may be taken into consideration in passing sentence. QUEEN EMPRESS v. FAKRUDEEN, 17 M. 278 = 1 Weir 839.

(8)—Ss. 10 and 44—Police constable leaving his post, when on duty at the central jail, if liable to punishment.—Where a police constable, who was on duty at the outer gate of a central jail, quitted his post inside the gateway and, leaving the gate open, slept outside, held, that he was properly punished under s. 44. and that s. 10 did not apply to the case. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 13TH JUNE 1872, No. 1074, 1 Weir 837 = 7 M.H.C. App. 7. [F., 1 Weir 838.]

(9)—Ss. 10, 44 — Constable posted as sentry going to sleep.—Where a constable posted as a sentry over the jail went to sleep, while on guard, held that he was guilty under s. 10 and not under s. 44. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS OF 9TH AUGUST, 1871, 1 Weir 837, note = 6 M.H.C App. 31 [Overruled, 7 M.H.C. App. 7 = 1 Weir. 837.]

(10)—Ss. 10, 44—Constable while on guard going to sleep —A police constable falling asleep, while on guard, is guilty of a grave violation of duty and should, therefore, be dealt with under s. 44 HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 3RD OCTOBER 1878 No. 1601, 1 Weir. 838. [F., 17 M. 278 = 1 Weir 839.]

(11)—Ss. 10, 44—Temporary absence from duty.—The temporary absence of a constable from duty is not such a cessation of duty as to be covered by the provisions of s. 44. The offence is clearly one punishable under s. 10 of the Act In re ELLIAH NAIDU, 1 Weir 840. [D., 1 Weir 841.]

(12)—Ss. 10, 44—Wilful disobedience of an express lawful order.—Where a Police constable, who was directed by the Station House Officer, to guard a certain place with instructions not to leave his post until a week expired or until relieved meanwhile, left his post and was found at the police station, held, that the accused was guilty under s. 44, inasmuch as he wilfully disobeyed an express lawful order given to him and that s. 10 did not apply. In re (SHAIKH) MEERAH, 1 Weir 841.

(13)—S. 11—See Nos. 3, 5, supra.

(14)—Ss. 11 and 44—Police officer—Appointment.—No person, who has not been duly appointed under s. 11 of Act XXIV of 1859, can be held to be a "Police officer" within the meaning of s. 44 of the Act. The distinction between the general Police and the village Police has been fully recognized in the Act. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 28TH JUNE 1867, 1 Weir 836.

(15)—Ss. 21 and 49—Procession likely to cause breach of the peace—Powers of police—Removal of banners from persons in the procession.—Where a procession of Hindus carrying certain banners made the Superintendent of Police apprehend that a breach of the peace would be occasioned, if these banners continued to be displayed, and, for the purpose of preventing such breach of the peace, he bona fide took away the banners from certain persons in the procession, held, that the action of the Superintendent of Police was not justified by the Madras Police Act, ss. 21 and 49, and that he was accordingly liable for trespass. RANGANAYAKULU v. PRENDERGAST, 17 M. 37 = 3 M.L J. 276.

(16)—Ss. 23 and 44—Omission to bring a person in custody without a warrant before a Magistrate.—The defendant, a deputy constable, was convicted under s. 44, Act XXIV of 1859, for neglect to bring a person in custody without a warrant before a Magistrate. On appeal, the conviction was set aside on the ground that the clause in s. 44 had been virtually repealed by the repeal of s. 23 in which the duty in question was provided. Held, that the words "as hereinbefore provided" in s. 44, referring to s. 23, should be treated as mere surplusage and that s. 44 should be read as providing for the punishment of a police officer, "guilty of any wilful neglect of duty in not bringing any person who shall be in his custody without a warrant before a Magistrate." Held, therefore, that the accused was guilty under s. 44. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 31ST OCT. 1865, 1 Weir 837.

(17)—S 44—Scope of the section.—The provisions of s. 44 of Act XXIV of 1859, are intended rather for the punishment of departmental offences than of offences which can be properly brought under the Penal Code. In re ESOFF KHAN, 1 Weir 842.

(18)—S 44—Offence under the section—Jurisdiction.—A Sessions Judge has no jurisdiction to try a person accused of an offence under s. 44 of the Police Act The trial should be before a Magistrate. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 29TH MARCH 1878, No. 655, 1 Weir 841.

6.—Madras Acts—continued.

Act XXIV of 1859 (Police, Madras)—contd.

(19)—S. 44—Police constable staying away after expiry of casual leave, guilty of the offence under—Object of section.—If a police constable is granted casual leave for a limited period and does not, at the end of that period, resume his duties, but stays away without obtaining fresh leave, he withdraws himself from his duties and "ceases to perform the duties of his office without leave" within the meaning of the above s. 44. The intention of the section is to render Police constables liable to punishment for such neglect or breaches of duty as are not punishable under s. 10 of the Act, such as desertion. Prima facie, a constable, absent without leave is guilty, under the said s. 44, of 'ceasing to perform his duty,' and the fact that he has been permitted to be absent on casual leave for a time immediately anterior to his absenting himself from duty, can make no difference in his offence. EMPEROR v. RAMASWAMY RAJU, 29 M. 192=3 Cr. L.J. 463.

(20)—S. 44—Omission to go on beat.—Where the petitioner neglected to go on beat, when ordered to do so, and produced a false beat ticket alleged to have been attested by a Village Munsif to the effect that he had visited a certain village, whereas, in fact, he had not done so, held, that the petitioner's conduct was something more than remissness or negligence in the discharge of duty, punishable departmentally under s. 10 of the Act, and was properly punishable under s. 44 of the Act. In re PONNUSAMI, 1 Weir 840.

(21)—S. 44—Refusal by constable on sufficient grounds to search a house, if a violation of duty—Duty imposed without any authority—Violation—Liability.—Where a constable is asked to search a house, he has also some discretion in the matter. If there are sufficient grounds for thinking that a search is not justified, he can refuse to search a house, and the refusal will not amount to a violation of duty. Where a constable, apparently without any authority, asked another constable to watch a house, held, that the latter who left the place, after some time, without having been relieved, was not guilty under s. 44 of the Act. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 19TH FEBRUARY, 1880, No. 332, 1 Weir 841.

(22)—S. 44—See Nos. 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 14, 16, supra.

(23)—S. 46—Section construed—Gist of offence.—Under s. 46, it is an offence for any police constable to extort, exact, seek or obtain a bribe, etc., by means of any illegal threat or pretence. Further, it is also an offence for any Police officer to extort, exact, seek or obtain a bribe, etc., for doing or omitting to do any act which it may be his duty to do. The gist of the offence is the obtaining a bribe, not the neglect of duty, which last is punishable under s. 44. Under s. 46, it must be shown that the bribe was taken for omitting to do an act which it may be the duty of the officer to do. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 21ST JULY, 1879, No. 967, 1 Weir 842.

(24)—S. 46—Conviction under the section, when allowable.—In order that a conviction under s. 46 of Act XXIV of 1859 can be supported, it must be shown that the accused obtained a bribe on the pretence that he would omit to do a thing. In re GOPALASAMI NAIDU, 1 Weir 844.

(25)—Ss. 46, 50—Charge of dacoity under s. 389, Penal Code—Acquittal—Conviction under s. 46 of the Act—Validity.—A police officer was charged under s. 389, Penal Code. He was acquitted of that offence, but was convicted of an offence under s. 46 of the Police Act. The actual charge framed against him under s. 46 of the Police Act was the same as the charge framed against him under s. 389, Penal Code, i.e., extortion, of which he was acquitted. Held, that, having regard to s. 50 of the Act, the conviction was bad. In re GOPALASAMI NAIDU, 1 Weir 844.

(26)—S. 47—Sanction whether necessary for lodging a complaint.—No sanction is necessary for the entertainment of a complaint under s. 47 of the Police Act. In re RAMANUJA CHARI, 1 Weir 845.

(27)—S. 48—"Town," definition of.—There is no Act of the Legislature which empowers either the Magistrate of the District or the Local Government to define a "town" for the purposes of s. 48, Act XXIV of 1859. In the absence of any provision of law defining a "town," it rests with Magistrates to determine, on a reasonable consideration of the circumstances, whether or not a place is a town. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 25TH AUG. 1871, 6 M. H.C. App. 34.

(28)—S. 48, offences under—Crim. Pro. Code (1882), s. 261—Jurisdiction of Benches of Magistrates.—S. 48 of the Police Act, which relates to obstruction and nuisances in roads (within the limits of towns) is a general conservancy clause, and the offences committed thereunder are within the cognisance of a Bench of Magistrates. QUEEN EMPRESS v. OOLAGANADA, 13 M. 142=1 Weir 910=2 Weir 327.

(29)—S. 48—Powers of special Magistrate conferred upon Sub-Registrar—Whether the power continues on transfer of Sub-Registrar to another place.—A Sub-Registrar, who was invested with third-class powers for the trial of offences under s. 48 of Act XXIV of 1859 in a certain place was transferred from that place to another. In the latter place, he took up cases in his file and tried a certain number of them. Held, that the Sub-Registrar was competent to exercise, on his transfer to another place, the powers conferred upon him as Sub-Registrar of the place from which he was transferred, unless the Local Government directed him not to exercise them. QUEEN-EMPRESS v. VIRANNA, 15 M. 132 = 2 Weir 36.

6.—Madras Acts—continued.

Act XXIV of 1859 (Police, Madras)—contd.

(30)—S. 48—Punishment under the Act—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine—Penal Code, ss. 48 and 64—Act V of 1865.—Persons punished under s. 48 of the Police Act cannot be sentenced to pay a fine with a period of imprisonment in default of payment. The procedure to be followed in enforcing the fine, or in awarding imprisonment in default, is that laid down in Madras Act V of 1865, by which a Magistrate can only order imprisonment on being satisfied that the accused has not sufficient property whereon the fine can be levied. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 7TH DEC. 1866, 3 M.H C App. 9. [F., 7 M.H.C. App. 22; D., 18 M. 490 = 1 Weir 909.]

(31)—S. 48—Offence by a European British subject—Trial.—The Contonment Magistrate has no jurisdiction to try a European British subject for an offence under s. 48 of Act XXIV of 1859. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 13TH JUNE 1870, 5 M.H.C. App. 25.

(32)—S. 48—Rigorous imprisonment under, if legal.—Under s. 48 of the Police Act, the award of rigorous imprisonment is not legal. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 31ST AUG. 1870, 5 M. H.C. App. 34.

(33)—S. 48—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine.—Imprisonment in default of payment of fine for an offence under s. 48 of Act XXIV of 1859 is irregular. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 24TH APRIL 1873, 7 M.H.C. App. 22.

(34)—S. 48—Whipping, sentence of, if legal under the Act.—The Whipping Act only authorises the punishment of whipping for offences of which the accused is convicted under the Penal Code, and s. 5 of the Whipping Act provides for juveniles convicted under the same. Therefore, a sentence of whipping cannot be passed for an offence under the Police Act. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 10TH MAR. 1880, No. 485, 1 Weir 845.

(35)—S. 48 (s. 3 of the Towns Nuisances Act) spreading raggi stalks in a public street.—The mere spreading of raggi stalks to dry in the streets of a village is not an offence under s. 48 of Act XXIV of 1859 (s 3 of the Towns Nuisances Act). In re SINNAPPUDAYAN, 1 Weir 912.

(36)—S. 48 (1)—Town Nuisances (Madras Act III of 1889), s. 3 (1)—Riding on untrained bullock in public streets.—Riding an untrained bullock on a public road, which the rider could not control, is an offence under s. 48 (1) of Act XXIV of 1859, and under s. 3 (1) of Act III of 1889. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS, 14TH AUGUST 1872, 1 Weir 845 = 7 M.H.C. App. 10 = 1 Weir 911.

(37)—S. 48, cl. 3—Applicability of the section to the causing of obstruction by spreading fishing nets—Penal Code, s. 283—Cl. 3, s. 48 of the Police Act refers to obstruction of roads or streets caused by cattle or by conveyances, in certain circumstances therein detailed. The act of spreading fishing nets by the side of the road is clearly not punishable under that clause, nor is it punishable under s. 283, Penal Code, without proof that obstruction is caused to a particular person or persons by such act. QUEEN v. KHADER MOIDIN, 4 M 235 = 1 Weir 911 = 1 Weir 232. [F., 25 C. 275 ; R., 1 Weir 232.]

(38)—S. 48, cl. 5—Heap of dirt kept in town, when amounts to an offence—Act I of 1885.—It is not the intention of the legislature to make it penal to lay down a heap of dirt or materials for building, in convenient places within the limits of a town. The last sentence in cl. 5, which makes it penal to cause any offensive matter to run from a dung heap into the street, contemplates the deposit of a dung heap near a street, or within the limits of a town as otherwise than penal. QUEEN-EMPREES v. APPATHORAI, 9 M. 167.

(39)—S. 48—See MAD. ACT III OF 1889, S. 3, 1 Weir 912.

(40)—S. 48—See MAD. ACT III OF 1889, S. 3, cl. 9, 1 Weir 913, 914.

(41)—S. 48—See JURISDICTION OF CRIMINAL COURTS—JURISDICTION OVER EUROPEAN, 5 M.H.C. App. 25.

(42) — S. 49—Processions — Powers of the Police.—Per Collins, C.J.—S. 49 of the Madras Police Act defines the powers of the police. They may direct the conduct of all assemblies and processions in the public streets, prescribe the routes by which and the time at which such processions may pass, keep order in the public streets and prevent obstructions; they may also regulate the use of music in the streets on the occasion of native festivals and may direct crowds of twelve of more persons to disperse, when they have reason to apprehend any breach of the peace. The powers thus given to the police are large and set out with particularity, but the Superintendent of Police has no power to remove from the processionists any banner belonging to them and order those banners to be taken to the Police Station. The Superintendent in taking possession of the banners commits a tortious act. Per Shephard, J.—Under the Madras Police Act, although the Superintendent may, as occasion requires, do certain things with regard to processions, yet, the Act does not say that he may take flags or obnoxious devices carried by members of the procession, nor does the Crim. Pro. Code confer any such power. PANCHAKARLA RANGANAYAKULU v. SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE, 3 M.L.J. 276.

(43)—S. 49—See No. 15, supra.

(44)—S. 50—Proviso to the section, whether made inoperative by the provisions of Madras Act III of 1865.—S. 1 of Madras Act III of 1865, renders inoperative the proviso in s. 50

6.—Madras Acts—continued.

Act XXIV of 1859 (Police, Madras)—concld.

of Act XXIV of 1859. Therefore, a native Magistrate has jurisdiction to try Police officers above the rank of a private charged with offences under Act XXIV of 1859. HIGH COURT PROCEEDINGS. 7TH JULY 1869, No. 1211, 1 Weir 846 = 4 M.H.C. App. 54. [F., 1 Weir 846.]

(45)—S. 50—See No. 25, supra.

(46, 47)—S. 53—Power of native Magsitrate to try police officer—Act III of 1865—Scope of the section —After the passing of the Act III of 1865, native Magistrates have power to try a Police officer above the rank of a private for an offence under Act XXIV of 1859. S. 53 has reference only to acts done or intended to be done under colour of the Act, but does not apply to any acts not professedly done in the exercise of any power conferred by the Act. In re CHENDRIAL, 1 Weir 846.

(48)—S. 53—Inspector withholding pay of Head-constable—Suit for recovery of the same. —The plaintiff, a Police Head-constable, sued the defendant, a Police Inspector, for his pay, which he alleged that the latter kept back. It appeared that, before resorting to the Court, the plaintiff complained of this to the Head Assistant Magistrate, who dismissed the complaint because the plaintiff's allegations did not amount to an offence under the Penal Code. After being discharged from the Police, the plaintiff give notice to the Superintendent of Police, under s. 53 of the Police Act, asking him to direct the defendant to pay the money, but he declined to interfere. Hence,the present suit was instituted. The defendant pleaded limitation under s. 53, Act XXIV of 1859, and that the plaintiff was estopped from denying that the section applied by reason of his admission in his notice to the Superintendent. Held, that the suit was maintainable as the act alleged to have been done had nothing whatever to do with police duties and that the plaintiff was not estopped from standing on his legal rights, because he gave a notice under the Act, when it was not necessary GUNDAN VENKATASAMI v. CHINNAM PURUSHOTTAMA, 1 Weir 847 = 5 M.H.C. 466.

(49)—S. 53 — Conviction under the Act—Limitation.—A conviction under the Act is illegal if the prosecution is time-barred under s. 53 of the Act. In re SESHAGIRI ROW, 1 Weir 848.

Act I of 1863 (Subordinate Magistrates, Second Class).

